•The Admissions Office reports that they had a very successful May 1st enrollment deadline. As of May 2nd, the college has met its enrollment goals for the incoming Class of 2012. This Fall, we can all look forward to greeting a new class of students representing 38 states. The new class to-date boasts yet another strong academic profile and a record 19% students of color. These new enrolling students will soon be attending one of four Open Rhodes orientation programs this summer, and will be moving into our community on August 21st. Congratulations to the Admissions team and to the entire Rhodes community of students, faculty and staff who have worked all year to help bring in another great class for the college!

•Two of our students, Eddie Han '09 and Elizabeth Welch '09, learned last week that they are the recipients of prestigious summer internships. Eddie, a biology major from Germantown, has been appointed to represent the United States in the 2008 Olympics as a volunteer. Elizabeth, an art major from Austin, will be working at the National Portrait Gallery in the Center for Electronic Research and Outreach Services in Washington.

•The Student Services Reengineering Team held an open meeting last Wednesday to update members of the campus community on progress toward meeting their goals. Two sub-groups, the Relationships Management Team and the Operations Management Team, gave reports and answered questions. If you were unable to attend the meeting and would like copies of the reports, contact any member of the Design and Implementation team—Dorothy Brownyard, Carol Casey, Jay Eckles, Richard Huddleston, John Kaltner, Amy Oakes and Richie Trentham. Tracy Adkisson, who is also a member, is on maternity leave.

•The Office 2007 New Features Workshops will go into full swing this week. If you haven't already signed up, please log onto Moodle and do so.
