SEAL OF SOUTHWESTERN AT MEMPHIS

Circular in form, the red and black seal of Southwestern is centered by a black shield representing faith. Quartering the shield is a St. Andrew's Cross denoting Christianity, and in the middle of the cross lies an open Bible, the heart of Southwestern's being. Each of the shield's four divisions bears a symbol representing a period in the college's history—as a Masonic College at Clarksville, founded in 1848, as "Stewart College" (1855-75); as "Southwestern Presbyterian University" (1875-1925); and finally as "Southwestern At Memphis" when it was moved to Memphis.

The intertwined sprigs of oak and laurel under the shield signify strength and victory. Surrounding the shield on the other three sides are the words "Truth, Loyalty, Service"—the fundamental precepts of Southwestern.

SOUTHWESTERN'S ALMA MATER

Dear Alma Mater, kind the fate
That links our lives with Thee.
For God's own power that made Thee great
Is the truth that makes us free;
Thy torch has touched our hearts with flame.
Our yearning souls refined;
Through Thee we learn the higher aim,
And train the truer mind.

Thy stalwart towers of solid stone,
Thy vaulted arches strong.
Inspire our loyal hearts each one
To fight against the wrong;
Our lives reflect the beauty of
Thy stately cloister'd halls,
And characters grow genuine
That dwell within Thy walls.

O Leader to the larger light,
Southwestern, 'neath Thy wings
Thy sons in reverent love unite,
And each his tribute brings;
And dreams such dreams as old men dream,
And visions young men see,
Keep lighted in our hearts the flame
Once kindled there of Thee.

SOUTHWESTERN'S FIGHT SONG

— ON THE PROWL —

Southwestern will win the vict'ry again;
The Lynx cats are on the prowl.
We follow the law of the fang and the claw,
And the Red and Black will leave their track
All over the foe, wherever we go.
Tonight's our night to howl!
We're leavin' our lair, you'd better beware
For the Lynx cats are on the prowl!

MEMPHIS ON THE MISSISSIPPI

No longer do the old sternwheelers with their callopies playing tunes of yesteryear dock at the bottom of the cobblestone levee. No longer do they unload their bales of cotton from Vicksburg and Natchez. No longer is cotton "The King." For Memphis is a changing city.

Tennessee was a fledgling, 23-year-old state when Memphis was laid out by Andrew Jackson and John Overton of Nashville in 1819. Situated on the Chickasaw Bluffs, Memphis was incorporated in 1826, with a population of 500. Today, Metropolitan Memphis has a population of over 800,000 and is surpassed by only 19 other cities.

It was Andrew 'Old Hickory' Jackson who named Memphis for the Egyptian city of the same name located on the Nile. The name meaning "Place of Good Abode," has the same meaning for today's Memphis.

Good abode has won for Memphis repeated acclaims in cleanliness, safety, and noise abatement. If you hear no car horns, it's because of an anti-noise ordinance prohibiting unnecessary honking of car horns. Memphis has been called the cleanest city in the U.S.A. In 1951, Memphis became the first three time winner of the title of Nation's Cleanest City. Again, in 1961, Memphis won the title. For many years Memphis has boasted of having more churches than service stations. The city directory lists 660 churches and 559 service stations.

The heyday of 'King Cotton' is past, for the key to the Memphis economy is diversification. Location, agriculture, transportation, and industry make Memphis great. Located in the middle of one of America's richest agricultural regions, Memphis 'The Cotton Capital of the World' is the hub of the agricultural activity of the Mid-South. In the Cotton Exchange on Front Street, one-third of the nation's cotton crop is bought and sold. Practically every major money crop grown in the Mid-South—rice, soybeans, and even fish farming have been introduced. Essential to the Memphis market is transportation, and Memphis has rail, river, motor, and air links with every part of the nation.

Memphis too, has become the cultural center of the Mid-South. Contributing to the city's cultural life are the Memphis Symphony Orchestra, Front Street Theatre, Civic Ballet, Memphis Academy of Arts, Brooks Memorial Art Gallery, and Memphis Opera Theatre.

THE COLLEGE

Southwestern is a fully accredited, privately supported, co-educational college of liberal arts and sciences. Southwestern as an entity is composed of a managing administration headed by the President and a faculty of 75, of which 76% have their Ph.D. degrees. The student-faculty ratio is twelve to one. Twenty directors, elected by the Synods of Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana of the Presbyterian Church, determine the policies of the college.

The College was founded when the Clarksville Academy conveyed its property to the Masonic Lodge of Tennessee, and was merged into the new Masonic University of Tennessee. The curriculum was expanded from that of the Academy, Latin and Greek, with reading, writing and arithmetic added in the interest of a well-balanced curriculum. A prominent Mason and Presbyterian, W. M. Stewart, was chosen as the first President. Later, when the Synod of Nashville began supporting the school, it was renamed in his honor.

In 1861 the school became a college of the Presbyterian Church in the United States. Prior to the Civil War there was a Presbyterian College in each synod. However, the effects of the war were pitifully destructive, and the hardships of the reconstruction era intensified the burdens. There was nothing but desolation and poverty. The colleges were closed; in some cases the buildings were literally torn down and the equipment destroyed. But the Presbyterians were determined to rebuild their schools along with their homes, their churches and their fortunes.

In view of this poverty and the consequent impossibility of reestablishing all of the educational institutions owned by the Presbyterian Church before the war, Dr. B. M. Palmer, of New Orleans, and other church leaders suggested that all the synods unite and build one university for the whole territory. This plan was finally approved, and after years of agitation and endeavor, Southwestern Presbyterian University came into being in 1875, having taken over as a nucleus the properties of Stewart College.

About 1900 the church came to realize that the institution was badly located for the territory it was presumed to serve, and an attempt was made to move it. That proposed removal was defeated by the action of the court, and as a result the Church lost much of its enthusiasm for the college and neglected it. The tide was at a low ebb, but then it was found that Memphis wanted the college and the Synods wanted Memphis to have it. Thus it was, in 1925, under the leadership of President Charles I. Diehl, that Southwestern came to Memphis. Also under the Diehl administration the College became co-educational. A crossflow of stimulus between the College and the city has characterized its Memphis history and both have gained vitality and prestige from the association.

Dr. Peyton N. Rhodes became President in 1949 and served until 1965. He carried forward the original ideas of quality into the College's many new phases of development and expansion. Campus facilities nearly doubled under the Rhodes administration and adult education was expanded, with Southwestern being singled out as the leading college in the nation in the field of continuing education. Dr. Rhodes exemplified through his campus administration, as well as through his other local and national interests, the Southwestern tradition of service to church and community.

Dr. John David Alexander, a Southwestern graduate, has been chosen as the new president. Under his most capable leadership the excellence of the College is being carried forth.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Welcome to Southwestern.

Unlike many colleges in our day and age, Southwestern insists on the ancient ideals of community and corporate responsibility. We believe that these ideals are more conducive to learning—at least true learning—than the disengagement of uncaring people going their separate ways.

For example, the honor code demonstrates our concern for this sense of interdependence, and everything in the society which we share at Southwestern is aimed toward the end of rigorous learning within a climate of compassion.

I wish you well and I hope that your study—both within the classroom and without—will stretch your minds, expand your horizons, and open your hearts.

Yours sincerely,

David Alexander, '53

GENERAL INFORMATION

Academic

The Bachelor of Arts, Sciences, or Music degree is granted on the basis of 120 semester hours of college work with a theoretical C average, or 120 quality points. Quality points are given by grades as well as hours. An "A" counts three quality points per hour, a "B" two, a "C" one and a "D" or "F" count none. The grade point system of averages counts "A" as four points "B," as three, "C" as two, "D" as one, and "F" as none.

No more than 17 hours nor less than 14 hours may be taken in any one semester without approval of the classification committee. No student may carry more than 20 hours credit in a semester.

In order to change a course, a student must have the permission of the instructor and the dean. If any irregularity is involved in the course change, a student must present a petition, with his faculty adviser's signature on it, to the Classification Committee. More information may be obtained in the catalogue.

Class Attendance

Regular attendance is essential for success in academic work and is required of all students. Each instructor will take attendance rolls daily. Students should present to their instructors a written explanation of absences they consider necessary. When and if a student's absence from class seems to the instructor to jeopardize the student's work in the course or is so persistent as to justify a formal inquiry, the instructor will call the matter to the attention of the Dean of Men or the Dean of Women who will, when necessary, bring in the student's advisor in investigating and judging the situation. Notice will then be sent to the student, the parents, and the instructor as a warning that further absences may lead to suspension from and failure in the course. If and when a student's absences seem to the instructor to make the student unfit to continue in the course, the instructor will make a written recommendation to the Dean of Men or to the Dean of Women that the student be dropped from the course. On recommendation from a committee composed of the Dean, the Dean of Men and the Dean of Women, the Registrar will drop the student from the course. If a student is recommended for exclusion from as many as two classes, his parents will be urged to withdraw him from college; if he is recommended for exclusion from as many as three classes, he will be required to withdraw from college.

The above provisions apply to all students. The following and additional regulations apply to freshmen only. The faculty will report to the Registrar all freshmen absences not later than the Monday after the absences occur. Freshmen seeking excuse for absence must present a written request to the Dean of Men or the Dean of Women within one week after their return to classes. Absences on the two days before and after holidays count double.

In case of excessive absences, academic credits will be added to the number required for graduation on the basis of one-third credit for each unexcused absence in excess of the unpenalized number of absences, which number is the same as the number of semester hours represented by the course. If the fractional deductions exceed one half-hour, they will be counted as a full hour.

In the case of students absent when representing the college officially, the responsible official will report their absences to the Dean of Men or the Dean of Women for excuse.

Convocations

College convocations are regularly held at 10:00 A.M. each Tuesday, and Wednesday in Mallory Gymnasium and Thursday in Evergreen Church. These convocations are for worship, lectures, concerts, and other programs of an entertaining and educational nature. All students are required to attend three chapels a week except seniors who must attend only two. On those weeks when a speaker is obtainable on some other day than Tuesday, the convocation schedule will be rearranged to accommodate him. Students should watch for notices announcing such changes. Some weeks there may be more than three convocations. At such times students may attend any three of their choice.

Residence Halls

The women's residence halls, Townsend, Voorhies, and East Halls are under the jurisdiction of student governing boards. A copy of the residence hall's rules is mailed to all women students who plan to live in the residence halls.

Women may receive callers at their dormitory beginning at 9:00 A.M. Sunday through Thursday, the women's residence halls close at 11:00 P.M.; Friday the closing hour is 12:00 P.M.; and Saturdays 1:00 A.M. No telephone calls, unless they are long distance, will be taken in the women's dormitories after 11:00 P.M. on any night.

The Resident Head of Voorhies is Mrs. A. H. Cable. Mrs. Paul M. Watson is the Resident head of Townsend and East Halls. Miss Tandy Goodlett is the assistant resident head in Townsend Hall. Miss Amelia Duquette and Miss Patricia Meeks are the assistant resident heads in East Hall. Miss Elizabeth Pevsner is the assistant resident head in Voorhies Hall. The Executive President of the dormitories is Miss Ann Thacker. President of Voorhies Hall is Miss Sarah Gay Edwards and President of East Hall is Miss Susan Lucas.

The five men's residence halls are governed by a president in each hall elected by the resident men. These presidents are: Don Hollingsworth, Ellet Hall; Tommy Moore and Arnold Pittman, Bellingrath Hall; Mike Whitaker, and Currie Johnston, North Hall.

Parking of Cars

Parking areas have been provided by the college north of the Science Building and Palmer Hall, for faculty and staff members and east of Burrow Library, south of Bellingrath Hall and west of Mallory Gymnasium for students. Random parking of cars on the college grounds is prohibited at all times. Penalty for parking in other than designated places, $2.00 Fine.

The Thomas W. Briggs Student Center

The Briggs Student Center was completed in May of 1966. This latest addition to the College's physical plant will provide many services for the students and other members of Southwestern community. Located in the building are the Lynx Lair, Dobbs House Grill, school publication offices, campus bookstore, two lounges, and various other offices and meeting rooms. Manager of the Student Center is Ed Stock.

COLLEGE REGULATIONS

Rules are kept to a minimum at Southwestern. The following are traditional properties and customs.

Conduct befitting a lady or a gentleman is expected of all Southwestern students. Rowdiness, drunkenness, and other improper conduct will result in disciplinary action of all persons involved. No intoxicants are to be served at any dance, party, or other function given by any college organization, nor are they to be brought into any building or kept anywhere on the campus. Students are not allowed to have guns on the campus or to keep animals in their rooms or on the campus.

1. No smoking is permitted in the halls, cloister, classrooms, laboratories, or dining halls.

2. There will be no card playing in the social room of Palmer Hall.

3. Boarding students may keep cars on the campus only by strict adherence to the rules set forth in the catalogue.

4. Shorts and slacks are not to be worn on the campus by women students, except when participating in athletics or decorating.

5. Non-resident women may spend the night in the women's residence halls three (3) nights a month. This means that a town woman may spend three (3) nights in East a month, or two (2) nights in one residence hall and one (1) in another during a stated month. The resident students must sign the guest in and out properly and, if the guest breaks any residence hall rules, will have to take the penalty. Any guest who spends more than the allotted three nights in the women's residence hall will not be allowed to spend the night there for a stated period of time.

6. Cars shall be parked on the college grounds only in those parking areas provided by the college.

Students should check specific sections of the Handbook for regulations pertaining to chapel attendance, class attendance and certain aspects of academic life.

BURROW LIBRARY

Hours: Monday through Friday, 8:00 A.M.-10:00 P.M.
Saturday, 8:00 A.M.-5:00 P.M.
Sunday, 2:00 P.M.-10:00 P.M.

The library staff extends a warm welcome to you to use the materials and services of the Burrow Library in the happiest possible manner. To help you get the most from these, your librarians are always ready to be of assistance.

Location of Books

It is your privilege to locate any book in the library's holdings by looking it up under author, subject, or title, in the alphabetically arranged card catalogue. A modern catalogue for phono-records enables you to locate listening materials. In the reference room many volumes will lead you to articles and facts on every conceivable subject. The latest issues of periodicals are in the periodical room, while back issues are available at the center desk, if unbound, and in the main stack area if bound.

"Open shelf" is the rule on the books in the stacks which are distributed on the various floors as shown on cards at the doorways to the stacks and elsewhere. If the book you wish is out, you may leave a request for it at the desk. When it is returned you will be notified how long it can be held for you.

In addition to regular circulating books which can be checked out for two weeks, there are many "reserved books." These, placed "on reserve" by the various professors, may be obtained at the desk for two hour periods.

Monday through Friday, after 4:30 P.M., they may be checked out over night, and are due the next morning at 10:00. Reserve books may be checked out Saturday after 10:15 A.M. and are not due until Monday at 10:00 A.M.

A fine of $.25 for the first hour and $.05 for each additional hour is levied on late reserve books.

The fine on regular books is $.05 per day. However, the total amount due will be cut in half if the fine is paid when the book is returned. This policy does not apply to reserve books.

On the lower level of the building are the record rooms and the adult education center (AEC) with facilities for discussions, movies, and exhibits, as well as a large assortment of paperback books for sale.

THE STUDENTS

Southwestern was founded and planned primarily for its students. As President Diehl said "the fundamental principle upon which all of our planning shall proceed is the welfare, especially the moral welfare, of the students, for whom the institution exists."

The primary concern of Southwestern students whom President Diehl called "these awkward, careless, foolish, thoughtless, but lovable boys and girls," is the pursuit of excellence. Excellence can apply to all activities. Therefore the students here have other concerns besides scholastic ones. This is in agreement with the purposes of a liberal education, for as President Diehl said so long ago: "The college we were planning for was to attempt to teach to students something of human life, man and the world, and to lead them to master human life; to know it as a whole."

The Southwestern student, in pursuit of excellence is interested not only in books but also in people. Thus the Danforth Program, through its various service projects, provides the Southwestern student a chance to serve people. And for those students whose only contact with the outside world is "news at fifty-five," as well as others, the International Studies and Political Science Departments present the Free World Issues speakers. And held annually is the student sponsored symposium, Dilemma, bringing to the campus leaders in the various fields of arts and sciences.

Southwestern has through the years given to its students almost complete freedom and its accompanying responsibility. Students conducted this past year a course evaluation in which students judged their teachers according to their strengths and weaknesses. That such an evaluation was a success testifies to the close relationship between students and faculty, a characteristic of Southwestern.

The opponents have changed from the days when Southwestern defeated such football powers as Ole Miss and teams like Vanderbilt. However the cardinal principle, characteristic of the College's athletic program, that sports are played for the development of the individual and the enjoyment of the game, remains the same.

Southwestern co-eds wear shorts on campus only under a raincoat, but they have, to the delight of all retained the right to "bear arms." Among men students dress is casual and leisurely, but on the whole conservative. However, warm weather often brings changes, as men possibly not to the delight of all, retain the right to "bear feet" and socklessness prevails with the summer. And perhaps it should here be noted that at Southwestern the presence of summer is told by the smell of suntan lotion in the halls, as Southwestern students, whether in Egyptian studies or not, turn to the worship of Omen Ra.

Southwestern co-eds too have often been recognized for their excellence. Miss Linda Harkrider was selected as a runner up in the national best dressed contest sponsored by Glamor magazine and Southwestern co-eds have often attended the Miss America pageant, most recently in the person of Miss Judy Simono, Miss Mississippi of 1964. But on the other hand the typical Southwestern co-ed drops her dignity to crawl, fight, and run during Derby Day activities each year.

In the spring Mortar Board, an organization for the recognition of outstanding senior women holds its tapping ceremony. Also at this time the outstanding sophomore woman is honored.

Twice a year, tappings are also held for Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary fraternity for male campus leaders. Newly tapped members are presented ODK keys.

Halliburton Tower, named for the noted author, traveler, and adventurer, Richard Halliburton, is perhaps Southwestern's most prominent landmark. The first floor of the tower contains a display of books, papers and memorabilia relating to Halliburton's life. The year 1965, otherwise a rather ordinary year, saw the Tower chipped by lightning. Some saw this "chip off the old block" as punishment for the Tower's hubris, while others saw in this event, falling the day before final examinations, even more ominous significance, but to all it presaged ill omens. It perhaps should also be noted that the Tower bell chimed the time none too accurately before this incident, but since has gone through sporadic periods of violent malfunctioning. These have caused the old saying, "regular as clockwork" to be amended to "regular as clockwork except at Southwestern."

However, the oldest and most important tradition at Southwestern is an academic one, the Honor System, which has been in operation since the earliest days of the College. The student is expected to be honest not only in tests and examinations, but in all of his undertakings. This honor is not something enforced from the outside by proctors or watchdogs, but relies upon an inner code, the desire of the student to be honest. Professors frequently leave the room during tests; students pledge when finished that they have neither given nor received help. The students take pride in this system, and the Honor Council, though quite thorough, has a very low record of accusations. The responsibility for administering the system is entirely in the hands of students.

Freshmen will find Southwestern's traditions are not the iron-bound sort to be meticulously observed. There are no taboos particularly peculiar to Southwestern, nor any places where freshmen or anybody else can't walk except when it has recently rained. Southwestern is not a school that lives in the past, and each incoming class to some degree moulds or shapes new customs and traditions. Each student brings to Southwestern his own identity and talent and in the use of them helps the College to reveal a part of its identity. Thus student life at Southwestern is one of discovery; for both the individual and the College it is a "joint adventure in learning." The only time resisting traditions at Southwestern are those of honor and excellence.

A MESSAGE FROM YOUR STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

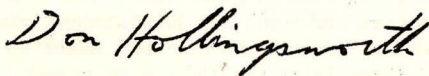

It is indeed a pleasure to welcome the Class of 1970 to Southwestern At Memphis. In September of this year, you will enter an educational community which is both unique and exciting—unique in that Southwestern is one of the best liberal arts institutions in the South; exciting in that Southwestern is entering a new era in its physical and educational development.

During your first week on campus, you will take part in an intensive orientation program. The handbook you are now reading is a supplement to this orientation, and you should familiarize yourself with the enclosed information. Due to the patient work of Brett Robbs and his staff, the handbook offers you a complete summary of campus life. (A small test on the handbook will be administered during Orientation week.)

We at Southwestern strive for excellence, whether it be in the classroom, on the athletic field or in the construction of one of our beautiful gothic buildings. In September, many challenging opportunities will be before you as you begin a new process of intellectual, physical, and spiritual growth. I sincerely hope that you will take advantage of these opportunities, always striving for the goal of excellence.

We at Southwestern truly believe in the education of the total man. I am glad you have decided to come to Southwestern and to become a liberally educated person.

Sincerely,

Student Body President

SPIRIT OF HONOR

Southwestern is noted for the spirit of honor on its campus. Though the Honor System was enacted by the students many years ago, it has not become a meaningless institution, but has grown greatly in stature. The Honor System presently is just as much a part of Southwestern as the academic curriculum itself. Under the System students assume responsibility for honorable conduct not only in tests and examinations, but also in other phases of college life. The student is put entirely on his honor to be honest in all of his undertakings.

The spirit of honor should manifest itself in every phase of life at Southwestern.

The Honor System is administered by an Honor Council which is composed entirely of students elected by their fellow students. This Honor Council operates without interference from the college administration. The Council acts as a court to try any violations of the Honor System, and disciplines any student found guilty of such violations.

Only an intelligent group of people can understand and maintain the real meaning of such a delicate system. Every student pledges himself to uphold this Honor System on entering Southwestern. Neither the student nor the Honor Council is pledged to police other students. Everyone is to be concerned with his own work and proper behavior. If a student observes the breaking of the spirit of honor and pledge in a noticeable way on the part of another student, then he is obligated to bring the facts to the council for investigation. No one is expected to be overly suspicious; but overprotection of a dishonest student cannot be tolerated.

THE HONOR COUNCIL

Article I. Name and Purpose

Section 1. The name of this body shall be the Honor Council of Southwestern at Memphis.

Section 2. The purpose of this council shall be to foster a spirit of honor at Southwestern; and to investigate and to act upon cases of cheating, stealing, and lying (in official matters) on the part of students in connection with academic work or campus life.

By Laws, Article II. Oaths and Pledges

Section 1. Each student who enters Southwestern shall sign and adhere to the following pledge:

As a student at Southwestern, I hereby pledge my full and hearty support to the Honor System. I pledge to be honest myself, and, in order that the spirit and integrity of the Honor System may endure, I pledge that I will make known to the Honor Council any case of dishonesty which I may observe at Southwestern.

Article IV. Instruction

Section 1. To insure the cooperation of the faculty in the support of the Honor System, the council shall, at the first of each semester, discuss the system with the faculty, reminding them of their obligations to report violations, asking them to request the full written pledge on their work, asking them to remind students before each test that the test is to be pledged, and to clarify in the minds of their students which work is to be pledged and which work is not to be pledged.

Section 2. To insure the full understanding and support of the Honor System by the student body, the council shall, each summer, send letters of instruction to incoming students; explain the system during freshman orientation; request that fraternities and sororities include the Honor System in their pledge training; conduct a special chapel program before semester examinations; see that each student has a copy of the Honor Council Constitution; place printed cards outlining the system in each classroom . . . and empower the president of the Honor Council to meet with the Student Council from time to time to discuss the system.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

During Southwestern's early years in Memphis, student body affairs were handled by the Boosters Club, a democratic organization whose membership consisted of the entire student body.

In 1927, the name of the organization was changed to Student Assembly, which formed the Student Council of Southwestern to simplify the handling of student affairs. The formation of this council marked the beginning of representative government at Southwestern, with the Student Council serving as the executive committee of the Student Assembly.

In the 1947-48 college year, the council was reorganized into a form similar to its present structure. Commissioners in charge of planning and executing the major aspects of campus life were elected by the student body. Each class elected a President and representatives apportioned according to the Constitution. Each of these positions represented one vote on the Council.

During succeeding years, student leaders at Southwestern began to plan for a new type of governmental structure which would meet the increasing demands for more effective student government. Finally in 1965 a new constitution was ratified by the students of Southwestern. The organization thus established was named the Student Government Association, which is synonymous with the student body.

The primary innovation in this new system was the complete separation of the legislative and executive functions of student government through the creation of the Student Senate and the Executive Council. After one full year of operation under the new Constitution, Southwestern Student Government has expanded substantially its scope and effectiveness on campus.

Section 8. The President may initiate such legislation into the Student Senate which he considers to the pursuance of the Preamble of this Constitution, and any member of the Executive Council may speak on behalf of any legislation so initiated.

Section 9. The President may veto any legislation of the Student Senate. However, the Student Senate may override his veto by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those present.

Article IV

Section 1. The Legislative power of the Student Government Association of Southwestern At Memphis shall be vested in the Student Senate.

Section 2. The members of the Student Senate shall be the Vice-President of the Student Government Association, the Presidents of the four classes, and Senators elected by their respective classes, each class being represented equally with the exception that if the enrollment of any class exceed a number to be established by the Student Senate, that class shall have an additional representative according to class enrollment based on a ratio established by the Student Senate. The President shall appoint with the approval of two-thirds (2/3) of the Student Senate one alternate for each student member he appoints, each alternate serving a term, as alternate, coinciding with his respective member. Such alternates shall be ranked as first, second and third, and shall fill for any absentee student member accordingly. Alternate members shall be ranked in order of their appointment, and in cases of simultaneous appointments, a Senior alternate shall have priority.

Section 3. The terms of the appointed members shall begin with the term of the appointing president. Who's Who Approximately 20 seniors, the number varying with the senior enrollment, are nominated by a committee composed of the senate and executive council members from the sophomore and junior classes, for this nationally recognized honor. In selection emphasis is placed upon the number of activities participated in, the quality of the work done and the service performed for the school and the community. The list of nominees is presented to the student body and additional names may be added to this list upon valid recommendation by the students. A faculty committee makes the final selections from these nominees.

It plans, in cooperation with the Faculty-Student Committee on Convocations and Religious Activities, the fall and spring Religious Evaluation Week. Last year the PRC opened a coffee house on certain Sunday nights, to encourage dialogue between students. It also holds worship services and discussion sessions, and co-ordinates service projects such as Thanks-Thru-Giving. Four of the Religious Organizations are represented on the PRC: Baptist Student Union, Canterbury Club, Methodist Student Movement, and Westminster Fellowship.

The Briggs Student Center will be primarily the responsibility of the Commissioner. While working with other Commissioners to plan activities, he will have the primary obligation of formulating policy. Also such things as the food in the refectory, more coat racks and student I.D. cards are ideas considered in the past.

Men's Undergraduate Board

Commissioner—Don Steele

The purpose of the Men's Undergraduate Board is to assist all men students in becoming an integral part of the Southwestern community. The Board sponsors Freshmen Counselors to help orient all Freshman Men into their environment. The Woman's Undergraduate Board, composed of a cross-section of representatives from the women's groups on campus, promotes co-ordinated activities for the women students at Southwestern. WUB's purpose is to cultivate a strong school spirit, bring attention to good scholastic standing, and foster a spirit of honor among all women students. The board sponsors, annually, the Student Counselor Program to aid new students with their adjustment to the college environment, several get together for women students on campus, a tutoring program in cooperation with Mortar Board. It also works throughout the year with Dean Caldwell toward more and better coordination of activities for women students.

It elects the editors and business managers of the various campus publications, who are responsible to the board for the financial status and the proper conduct of the publications and is responsible for publicizing all campus events excluding athletic ones. Since its founding, the Sou'wester has been tabloid size, but this year its dimensions are being expanded to a size only slightly smaller than those of the usual city newspaper. With expansion, new personnel will be needed, and there will be more space for features and news of outside events which effect or interest Southwestern students. Students are encouraged to join either the editorial or business staffs; no experience is necessary. A meeting is held during orientation week at which time applications are taken. Sou'wester offices are in the basement of the Briggs Student Center.

Educational Activities

Here at Southwestern, we believe that the truly educated person is not only one who has learned all that his books can teach him, but is also one who continually tests and strengthens his knowledge by living and working with others. The Commissioner of Education strives through his capacity as co-ordinator of educational activities to broaden the horizons of students with carefully planned extra-curricular activities. Listed in this section are various activities, some of which are not under the jurisdiction of the Commissioner of Education, but all of which provide opportunities for students to apply and use their knowledge in areas outside the strictly academic sphere.

High School Visitation Program

The High School Visitation Program has two objectives: to encourage capable students to attend college and to interest students in Southwestern as their college home. As there are two different objectives, there are also two sets of panels, with one presenting the benefits students derive from a college education and the other, whose members represent various phases of Southwestern's campus life, encouraging students to attend Southwestern. These panels are composed of four to six persons each, and visit schools in Memphis and Shelby County.

The Southwestern Panel

The Southwestern Panel, composed of students from all four classes, speaks to church groups, both youth and adult, on various aspects of college life. It has the dual purpose of encouraging students to attend a small college like Southwestern, and of informing the groups of the college's plans and accomplishments.

Students interested in working on the panel should contact the co-ordinator, Priscilla Hinkle, at the beginning of the Fall semester.

Young Democrats and Young Republicans

These two groups on the Southwestern campus are service organizations composed of students interested in local and national political affairs and in the parties after which the groups are named. The groups meet each week to discuss the decisions and problems of their respective national parties and how events on the national political scene influence the local clubs. The Young Democrats worked actively in 1964 to aid the campaign of George Grider, now freshman representative to Congress from the Ninth District. They plan to continue such work in the elections this year. The Young Republicans having participated in a number of elections this year, plan to continue this active involvement next year.

Danforth Program

In September, 1956, the Danforth Christian Service Project was established on Southwestern's campus. The program focuses on commitment and craftsmanship in order to help the student realize his role in the community as well as on the campus.

Each year, during the first week of the second semester, a recruitment program takes place, during which the Danforth Ideal is explained and three training sessions are held in order to acquaint students better with the purposes and methods of the organization. Following these sessions, applicants are placed in the agencies sponsoring the type of program in which they are interested, and there they receive guidance and further training as they work.

Dilemma

Dilemma, Southwestern's weekend symposium on topics of national significance, is organized and sponsored entirely by students. Held for the first time last year, Dilemma concerned itself with "A Society in Search of a Purpose." Speakers were chosen to represent diverse points of view and widely differing elements of American society. Included were such men as Eugene Carson Blake, president of The World Council of Churches; Jesse Hill Ford, a novelist; and Senator Thurston B. Morton, former Republican National Chairman.

In the informal atmosphere of seminars, which supplemented the lectures, there was opportunity for vigorous dialogue between creative thinkers and concerned students.

Dilemma '67, entitled "Man—His Identity in a Changing World," will be held May 3 and 4. Again all sessions will be open to students of surrounding colleges and to interested citizens of Memphis and the Mid-South. All students interested in working on the Dilemma Committee should contact Jack Burch, chairman.

Debate Club

The Debate Club is interested in promoting better speaking and logical thought, stressing persuasive speaking and speaker poise. It is also interested, however, in increasing the reputation of Southwestern in this area, where the emphasis is more academic than any other. The Southwestern Debate Team achieved this purpose last year, defeating among others, Harvard, Yale, Columbia, MIT, Princeton, UCLA, Vanderbilt, West Point, and Wayne State, which at the time of its defeat was ranked number one in the nation. The Southwestern Debate team also placed in the top ten in four of the tournaments it entered, each of which had over 100 participating teams.

Plans for next year call for the formation of a debate council and for more emphasis on the service aspect of the organization by the sponsoring of speakers and the holding of debates on topics important to both the school and the students. Those interested in joining the club should contact Professor Ray Hill, the faculty adviser, or Brad Foster.

Honorary Organizations

To those people who have excelled beyond the greatest expectation in their particular field and have also maintained a great interest in the world around them, a well-earned tribute is owed. Honorary organizations serve a dual purpose: to recognize those who excel in their academic fields, and to promote interest and further knowledge in that particular field of study.

Alpha Psi Omega

Alpha Psi Omega is an honor society for those achieving a high standard of work in dramatics. It permits wider fellowship for those interested in the college theatre. Admission is gained by acquiring a total of 150 acting and production points through participation in various dramatic activities at Southwestern. In order to maintain membership, a member must earn 25 quality points a year. Students wishing to become pledges of the group and work toward membership should make application to the faculty adviser, Professor Ray S. Hill.

Chi Beta Chi

Chi Beta Chi is a national honorary scientific fraternity. It attempts to foster an interest in all branches of science, and to afford an opportunity for those students who are engaged in science to meet and exchange views and information on developments in their fields, both on the campus and in the world.

Membership is limited to students majoring in one of the sciences or mathematics. To be eligible, one must have completed 25 hours in his major and a total of 60 academic hours with at least a 3.0 average.

Each year the group honors at a banquet all those freshmen who have made an "A" for their first semester's work in mathematics or in one of the sciences.

Mortar Board

Southwestern's chapter of Mortar Board, the first and only national organization of senior college women, seeks to recognize outstanding senior women and to promote the ideals of leadership, scholarship, and service. Each candidate for active membership must have an accumulative average equal to ten percent of the highest grade on the grade scale added to the all campus average. Membership is limited to a maximum number of ten senior women who are tapped in May of their Junior year. At that time Mortar Board also honors the most outstanding sophomore woman chosen by the group.

Projects carried out by Mortar Board on the Southwestern campus are dinner discussions, visiting lecturers, a tutoring service, the "penny-a-minute" money-making project, and a scholarship banquet.

Omicron Delta Kappa

ODK, founded at Southwestern on May 25, 1927, is a national leadership honor fraternity for men. The organization is based on the idea that leadership of exceptional quality and versatility in college should be recognized, and that outstanding students, faculty and administration members should meet on a basis of mutual interest, understanding, and helpfulness.

Membership is restricted to junior and senior men and is on the basis of achievement in one of the five phases of campus life, scholarship, athletics, religious and social affairs, music, speech and dramatic arts, and publications. Men students must have an average of at least 2.4 to be tapped.

Each May, ODK honors the most outstanding sophomore man selected by the group. It traditionally sponsors once a year a visiting speaker of note, and together with the Mortar Board sponsors a scholarship banquet, honoring top scholars in each of the four classes.

Phi Beta Kappa

Phi Beta Kappa is the oldest Greek letter society in America, and, more importantly, it is the oldest (and perhaps the only) fraternal society devoted to the recognition of excellence of scholarship in the liberal arts and sciences.

The national organization was founded in 1776 at the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Virginia. The Gamma of Tennessee Chapter on campus was initiated in 1949.

Election to this organization is the highest scholastic honor which can be conferred upon a student. To be eligible, a student must have an average of at least 3.5 over seven semesters of approved college work. This past year, twelve students and one honorary member were added to the distinguished roll.

Pi Kappa Lambda

Pi Kappa Lambda, national honorary music fraternity, rewards and distinguishes outstanding work in the musical field. Alpha Epsilon Chapter at Southwestern is composed of faculty members who elect students not exceeding 20% of any one class on the basis of their records in all subjects. The chapter was established May 14, 1949, and is open only to candidates for the Bachelor of Music degree.

Psi Chi

A national honorary psychology fraternity, the Southwestern Psi Chi chapter was established in 1952. The fraternity, which is associated with the American Psychological Association, affords its members contact with the profession of psychology, in order to give them and others a greater interest in and further understanding of the science of psychology.

Membership, by invitation only, is limited to students who have at least a "B" average in twelve hours of psychology.

Sigma Pi Sigma

This national honorary physics fraternity, which was only recently established on campus, offers its members a chance to keep abreast of the latest developments in their science, both on campus and on the international scene.

A student must be a physics major in the upper third of his class in order to be eligible for induction into Sigma Pi Sigma.

Departmental Organizations

Knowledge simply learned is simply forgotten, but knowledge that is employed will become a meaningful part of the person. Such an opportunity is provided by the departmental organizations, where members meet to share and enjoy experiences discovered in learning.

LANGUAGE

Der Deutsche Verein

The German club attempts to foster an interest in German culture, sports, historical sites, and literature. Through talks by students who have spent their junior year in Germany, films, meetings with professors, and a practical usage of the language during the meeting, the club attempts to gain true insights into the culture behind the language it studies.

La Cordura

Southwestern's Spanish club affords students studying the language a chance to acquaint themselves with life in Spain and in Latin America. Monthly meetings offer native speakers, films, slides and an occasional "fiesta."

President: Peggy Hays

Sans Souci

Sans Souci, the French Club, gives students an opportunity to speak and hear French at its monthly meetings. The programs are devoted to French literature, language and customs. Sans Souci also cooperates with the L'Alliance Francaise of Memphis in various activities. Advanced French majors, and second year students with a "B" average are eligible for membership.

President: Don Windham

MUSIC

Madrigal Singers

The Madrigal Singers is a student organized and led group which specializes in music of the 16th and 17th centuries. The group performs many times during the school year for many different clubs and organizations.

President-Director: Aaron Foster

The Organ Guild

The Guild Student Group is a branch of the American Guild of Organists. All members are students who are presently taking organ lessons. The main goals of the group are learning about organ construction and music, as well as touring and playing different organs in Memphis and the Mid-South.

The Southwestern Singers

Membership in the Southwestern Singers, under the direction of Dr. Vernon Taylor, is open to any student who is interested in music and who likes to sing. In addition to singing in the weekly chapel services, they hold Christmas and Spring Vesper services, and give performances for television and various organizations in Memphis. There is also an annual choir tour.

President: Aaron Foster

SCIENCE

American Institute of Physics

American Institute of Physics is a national organization of professional physicists. The Southwestern student affiliated chapter, established in the spring of 1963, sponsors visiting lecturers in various fields of physics. Dr. Jack Taylor is faculty advisor.

President: Suzanne Troth

American Chemical Society

The American Chemical Society is a national organization for professional chemists. Southwestern's student affiliated chapter, established in the spring of 1964, has been extremely active. Programs include monthly seminars given by distinguished invited speakers, students, and faculty members; each spring a formal banquet is held. Dr. Ray Vaughn is the faculty advisor.

President: Mike Hendrick

Religious Organizations

Five religious denominations have groups on campus: Baptist, The Baptist Student Union; Christian Scientist, Christian Science Organization; Episcopalian, The Canterbury Club; Methodist, The Methodist Student Movement; and Presbyterian, Westminster Fellowship.

These groups try to provide an informal setting for students to meet and discover increasingly the relevance of faith for the student. They attempt to aid the student in adjusting to campus life through spiritual help.

Baptist Student Union

The Baptist Student Union here has the dual purpose of giving the Baptist student an opportunity to relate himself to others who share common ideas, and of aiding him in making a religious adjustment in his new surroundings.

To fulfill these aims the BSU plans activities of various types at Wednesday night meetings. There are often programs featuring prominent Christian speakers. There is also much time for group discussion on pertinent topics. Last year the BSU planned such activities as a Christmas party for orphans and a ski party for students in addition to its regular programs.

President: Bill May

Canterbury Club

Through Canterbury Club, Episcopal students from both out of town and Memphis have a chance to meet and discuss common questions, or problems that arise from college experiences and studies. Last year Canterbury Club saw the movie David and Lisa, and had several supper meetings such as "Pizza Bake." The club meets on Wednesday evenings and holds a communion service once a month.

President: Alex Greene

Christian Science Organization

The Christian Science Organization at Southwestern offers an opportunity for students of Christian Science to take an active part in living and understanding the Christian ideals. Weekly meetings are held throughout the school year and one lecture is sponsored each year by the organization.

President: Laurie Fraser

Methodist Student Movement

To foster a clearer and stronger understanding of God, Man, and their relationship is the underlying purpose of the Methodist Student Movement. Programs last year probed such topics as "The Death of God," "The Playboy Philosophy," "Sex and the Christian," and "The Secular City." Wednesday night discussion groups are augmented by field trips, dinners, and worship service.

President: Judy Owen

Westminster Fellowship

The Westminster Fellowship at Southwestern is reorganizing itself in order to be of greater service to the college community. Beginning next year, new approaches will be used to broaden the scope of religious influence, including dormitory cell groups, group recreation, and group opportunities for service.

Moderator, Don Steele

The Greeks

Six national social fraternities and five national sororities have active chapters at Southwestern. These sororities and fraternities contribute in many ways to the social life of the college. The Greeks hold their meetings and many of their social functions in the sorority and fraternity lodges on Sorority Row and Fraternity Row on the campus.

Pan-Olympic

Pan-Olympic, founded in 1948, is an honorary women's athletic association. It is designed to create more individual interest in intramural activities. Its members, who come by invitation only, are selected from senior women on the basis of points they have earned on a point system built around the time spent in practice for and the position gained in tournaments. The organization was founded at Southwestern in 1948.

Southwestern Athletic Union

The Commissioner of Athletics serves as president of the Southwestern Athletic Union. The commission is composed of class representatives as well as a vice president and secretary-treasurer.

Athletics

Southwestern recognizes that sports and training in physical education are of value to the individual and that intercollegiate athletic competition can be both entertaining and broadly constructive. The College, therefore, maintains both an extensive intramural and varsity program. However Southwestern still holds to the premise that these must compliment not overshadow the academic. Thus the College gives no athletic scholarships, giving every student a chance to earn a place on a team, and its admissions and academic standards require an athlete to maintain the same level of scholarship as other Southwestern students.

Southwestern is a member of the five school College Athletic Conference and its intercollegiate teams are known as the Lynx. The College enters competition in seven sports, football, basketball, tennis, golf, track and cross-country.

The intramural program is extensive and all students are encouraged to participate. Fraternity and independent teams participate in flagball, basketball, golf, track, tennis, handball, badminton, bowling, and pool, among others.

There are also various athletic organizations, whose purpose it is to create interest in athletics and to promote school spirit.

The purpose of the Southwestern Athletic Union is to provide for, increase, and maintain school spirit; to provide a campus-wide organization to which all students may belong and in which each may work towards a unified goal; to actually support through a well organized program, the total Athletic effort of Southwestern At Memphis, including varsity sports, intramural activities, and other events in which a large part of the student body participates; to encourage attendance at every athletic event; to plan and defray costs of out-of-town trips to athletic events; to plan and provide for any and all other such activities as shall be fitting to such an organization.

President: Jimmy Whittington

College Athletic Conference

Southwestern is in its fifth year as a member of the College Athletic Conference, which also includes the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn.; Washington and Lee of Lexington, Va.; Washington University of St. Louis, Mo.; and Centre College of Danville, Ky.

The purpose and principles of the conference, reflect the general athletic atmosphere of all the members: "The purpose of the College Athletic Conference shall be to provide an association through which the member institutions may encourage organized competition in intercollegiate sports among teams representative of their respective student bodies.

"It shall be a cardinal principle of this conference that all participation in sports by the members of its teams will be solely because of interest in and the enjoyment of the game. No financial aid shall be given to any student which is conditional upon, or for the purpose of encouraging, his participation in intercollegiate sports."

Sports covered by the conference include football, basketball, tennis, track and field, golf, cross-country, and baseball. Wrestling and swimming will be added as soon as feasible.

Campus Events

Though the Southwestern student "books it" during the week, on the weekends he scorns laborious days "to sport with Amarylliss in the shade and in the tangles of Naera's hair." Some of this sport has become traditional.

All-Sing

Kappa Delta sponsors an All-Sing each year to raise funds for its philanthropic work. Each Greek letter organization presents two songs, and the fraternity and sorority winners are awarded trophies.

April Fool Carnival

On the weekend nearest April 1, Southwestern celebrates April Fool Weekend with its annual carnival. On Friday evening is the performance of a play written, directed, and presented by Southwestern students. Saturday afternoon a concert is often given featuring a top flight entertainment act.

On Saturday evening, the carnival royalty, chosen by the student body, are presented. The king, queen, prince, princess, lords, ladies, and court jesters of the royal court reign over the climax of the weekend.

Beauty Revue

Each year the Lynx holds a beauty revue. The sororities and the Independent Women each enter six participants in the contest while each fraternity selects one girl to represent them. Eleven women are chosen as finalists, and of these five are selected as beauties and six as favorites. The first announcement of the final choices appears in the Lynx.

Derby Day

Derby Day, sponsored by the Sophomore Class, is held each year in the fall. Each class competes in the day's track and field events and a Derby Day Dance is held that night.

Homecoming

Homecoming festivities usually fall during the month of October. The student body elects a queen and the "S" Club and football team each select a princess.

Fraternity and sorority lawns are decorated and judged on the basis of originality and appearance.

Annual events include a pep rally, bonfire, football game, fraternity open houses, and the Homecoming dance.

Student-Faculty Softball Classic

At the end of the school year, prior to examinations, representatives of each male social group challenge the faculty to a rough and tumble game of football. Following the game a picnic is held for all members of the faculty and student body.

Stunt Night.

To further its philanthropic work, Alpha Omicron Pi sponsors Stunt Night. Following presentation of original skits by each sorority and fraternity, trophies are awarded to the winning groups.

Talent Night

Zeta Tau Alpha sponsors Talent Night each year to provide funds for its philanthropic work. Each sorority, fraternity, and independent group is allowed to enter a group act and an individual act. The Mr. Talent and Miss Talent trophies are awarded to the most talented individuals. Trophies are awarded to the sorority and fraternity displaying the best talent.

SOCIAL REGULATIONS

1. Each fraternity, sorority, and independent group may have not more than one mid-week social function per semester for such events as outings, banquets, etc., which must be placed on the social calendar at least one week in advance of the event with the approval of the Commissioner of Social Activities. This includes any type of function lasting after 8:00 P.M. Any additional event during the same semester on any night except Saturday is subject to the approval of the Student Development Committee. All other functions with the exception of exclusive events (see rule 2) must be held on the particular Saturday nights on the social calendar which are designated for informal fraternity and sorority parties.

2. Petitions for the exclusive reservation of any dates must be submitted to the chairman of the Student Development Committee before the end of the first month of each semester. Events cannot be exclusive unless the entire student body is invited. On the nights of these exclusive social events, no other fraternity, sorority or independent group may hold a social function. Upon the approval of these dates by the Student Development Committee, copies of the social calendar will be filed with the dean of women in advance of the event.

3. No fraternity, sorority, or independent group may schedule any social function on a night when a varsity athletic team is playing a regularly scheduled game on the campus unless the hours do not conflict.

4. All entertainment after 8:00 P.M. which men and women students attend must be properly chaperoned. Married alumni (ae) or parents may serve as chaperons, but it is necessary to have at least one faculty couple present. The student organization responsible for each evening party must present to the Dean of Women, three days in advance of the social function, the names of those who have accepted the student's invitation to act as chaperon until the close of the party. Failure to turn in chaperons to the Dean of Women's office by 5:00 P.M. three days in advance of the event, will result in a $10.00 fine being levied on the group concerned. If the chaperons are not turned in by 5:00 P.M. on the day before the event, the event will automatically be taken off the social calendar and the group will be prevented from having the event.

5. Alumnae who have been out of college five years may serve as chaperons for slumber parties held in the sorority houses. A report on each slumber party must be handed in to the Dean of Women's office by the chaperon. Each sorority may have one slumber party in the lodge each semester. No slumber parties may be held in the dormitories. All women students and guests attending a slumber party at a sorority house must be in by 1:00 A.M.

6. Saturday parties and dances must close by 1:00 A.M. No social functions may be held on Sunday. For exceptions see rule two which governs the use of fraternity and sorority houses.

7. Within one week after evening parties, the fraternity, sorority, or campus organization sponsoring such parties must present a written report thereof to the Dean of Women's office containing the following information:

- a) the names of chaperons invited and attending.
- b) a report on the conduct of those students attending the party.

c) the hour at which the event terminated.

Also one of the chaperons present at each event will be requested by the Dean of Women's office to make a report containing this same information. These reports will be made on blanks supplied by the Dean of Women's office.

8. Afternoon teas, dances, "date suppers," showers or any afternoon parties may be given by campus organizations or classes on any days other than Sundays, but must close not later than 8:00 P.M. The recreation room of Voorhies Hall is available for such functions. (Arrangements are to be made in advance through the Dean of Women's office.)

9. A sorority or fraternity may have only one open house during the semester, and there will be only one open house during a single week. This restriction does not apply to Homecoming, or other occasions that merit open houses given by all the sororities and/or fraternities for the college as a whole.

Rules Governing Use of Fraternity and Sorority Houses

1. Both fraternity and sorority houses are to be reserved for the exclusive use of men and women respectively during the morning hours and until 12:30 P.M.

2. Whenever a sorority house is to be used after 8:00 P.M. by its members, its alumnae, or for any activity only for women, the Dean of Women must be notified in advance except for Saturday evenings when at least four women must be present.

3. On weekdays men and women students are permitted to visit fraternity and sorority houses and men's apartments between the hours of 12:30 P.M. and 8:00 P.M. Monday through Thursday and between the hours of 12:30 P.M. and 12:00 A.M. on Friday. Whenever any of the above are being visited there should be present three women students, one of whom is an upperclasswoman, and men students may visit sorority houses when there are present in the house visited three women students, one of whom is an upperclasswoman.

4. On Saturday evening when no exclusive dates are designated on the social calendar, fraternity and sorority houses may be open from 8:00 P.M. until 1:00 A.M. for informal, properly constituted, mixed groups without the necessity of chaperonage. If an exclusive date is designated, the houses may be used by the same at the conclusion of the event until 1:00 A.M. (Proper chaperonage is still required for a party, which is a planned, organized, social event.)

5. On Sundays informal mixed groups of students may use the fraternity and sorority houses between the hours of 12:30 P.M. and 5:00 P.M. and between the hours of 8:30 P.M. and 11:00 P.M.

6. Girls may study in the sorority houses each night until 10:00 as long as there are two girls there and no boys are present.

7. Any unseemly conduct in sorority, fraternity houses or apartments or failure to conform to the above regulations will result in disciplinary measures on the part of the Administrative Committee.

Use of the Gymnasium

1. The date wanted must be registered on the social calendar in the Dean of Women's office well in advance.

2. The Commissioner of Social Activities and the Athletic Department must be contacted for approval.

3. The president of the organization must call at the Dean of Women's office three days ahead of the scheduled event to fill out a permission blank and to advise the chaperons.

4. A $15 fee must be paid in the cashier's office. Also, a $10 fee must be paid to the custodian.

5. Decorating is to be done after 1:00 P.M. Saturday unless permission to begin sooner can be obtained from the physical education instructors. Decorations must be down and the gym cleaned by 9:00 A.M. the following Monday.
