

Green Castle To Have Formal Opening Sat., Sunday, Feb. 19-20

At last the Colored population of Memphis and the Mid-South have a place to meet and eat... at last the Colored population can come and enjoy the last word in food and foundation service at the beautiful new bright spot — the GREEN CASTLE.

The GREEN CASTLE is located at 322 Beale, next door to the newly remodeled Palace Theatre, fills a long time need where you can come among pleasant surroundings. We feature food truly "Fit for a King". Our daily menu features the best and freshest foods obtainable, cooked and flavored to perfection by our super head chef James Wilson, who in the past 25 years has prepared food in some of Memphis and the country's largest and most exclusive eating places. We also feature a variety of ready prepared dinners, also chops, steaks, home-cooked vegetables and the world's best pure hamburger.

Our fountain styled in the latest manner, can serve you any kind of drink — your heart desires namely: sodas, sundaes, banana splits, any flavor fountain drinks, all made with that best blend of ice cream obtainable. Taylor's Aristocrat — made by Robert S. Taylor's Ice Cream Company, another home town organization that has made Memphis and the Mid-South good ice cream constantly for a number of years.

All of our personnel is hand picked and trained to do the job assigned them. We pride ourselves in saying our girls, waitresses, fountain operators and grill operators are second to none in looks, personality, and efficiency. They in turn want you to come eat at this place.

The fixtures and equipment represents the last word in design and appearance. All colors and fixtures are of nice quiet tones — truly a place to be proud of. Come, relax, enjoy a snack or meal. Truly a place designed — with you in mind.

CENTRAL BAPTIST CELEBRATES PASTOR'S 12TH ANNIVERSARY

REV. AND MRS. ROY D. MORRISON—Central Bpt. Church Mississippi Boulevard, and Alston, will observe the twelfth anniversary of its pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Roy D. Morrison, during the week of February 27 through March 6.

During the twelve years of services rendered by Rev. Morrison, he has permitted the church to celebrate his anniversary only two years. This year, having completed the building in every way, Rev. Morrison has given the permission to go ahead, and the members are happy to take this opportunity to show the respect and esteem they feel for their pastor and his family.

Pastors and congregations of other churches in the city will worship with the membership of Central Baptist during the week; Monday night, Rev. L. A. Hamblin; Tuesday, Rev. L. D. Sanders; Wednesday, Rev. H. C. Nabrit; Thursday, Rev. W. E. Rasdale; Friday, Rev. A. L. McCargo, and Sunday afternoon, Rev. J. L. Campbell.

The weeks festivities will be climaxed with a banquet at the church Monday night, March 6, with the public invited to attend and share in the celebration.

BY MILDRED A. JONES

Not even a sudden shower of rain could dim the sparkle of a brilliant reception given Sunday in honor of Mrs. Lydia Adams Elligan of Chicago, Ill. and Denver, Colo.

Artistic and beautiful was the lovely dining room at the home of Mme. Gold S. Morgan Young, decorated with lovely flowers for a large reception.

The dining table was really a picture overlaid with a white Irish linen hand made table cloth and centered with jonquills, daisies and lilies with other groupings of white blossoms and glowing candles at the sides. Coffee and tea were served from an elaborate silver service.

Presiding at the table were Mrs. Cooper E. Taylor who was charming in a crepe coffee beaded dinner dress and Mrs. Idella McNichols adorned in a black crepe evening dress and wearing an attractive new colifore.

Presiding at the cocktail table which was elegantly decorated were Mrs. M. S. Stuart charming in navy blue and Mr. C. M. Walton.

The honoree was radiant in a beautiful black taffeta evening dress with a full skirt and fitted bodice trimmed with red velvet and accented with a lovely corsage of gardenias and wearing a very attractive pompadour parted in the center. Escorting the honoree was her husband, Mr. Henry Duke Elligan a very prominent young lawyer of Denver.

Assisting Mme. Young were Mrs. Hannah King charming in a black net evening gown over blue lace and Miss Mary E. Moore who looked very pretty in a lovely black dress highlighted with rhinestones and a lovely black velour felt hat to match.

Greeting the guests as they arrived were Mrs. Beatrice Smith, our Physio Therapy instructor who was most charming in a lovely green cocktail suit with a lovely off the face seret hat. She wore brown lizard as her accessories.

Mrs. Mae Frances Holmes, Cosmetology instructor, was lovely in one of Frostmann's original navy blue suit complimented with pink accessories and the cutest milk straw hat of navy blue. Mrs. Mamie Hulbert, Cosmetology instructor, was also a picture of loveliness in one of David Roth's original black skiner satin two piece suit with a pencil slim skirt with a slit in the back and complimented with a beautiful gift corsage of orchids and carnations.

Accompanied by Evans Bradshaw at the piano.

KEYHOLE KATE
Keyhole Kate, famous foreser of future love affairs, foresaw the tragedy in the tri-angle love affair of Gloria Braxton. It is needless to say that my prediction came true. This looks like an opportunity for Clifford Stockton. Poor Morris Jenkins is crazy about Ernestine Meredith but I think he's too bashful to speak up for himself. Louis Owens, why don't you give the chicks a break? Get hep to the opposite sex daddio. Mrs. Harvey's room is just like a magnet to Sylvester Mallet. But I can't blame him, there are some pretty girls in there. Florene, if you can't handle Mr. Scott, tell me because I know someone who can. Vera Williamson, have you heard from Willie Wilson lately?

Has Thelma Brown a boyfriend or does Gloria Gatlin and she go to see David Mallet? (Look out Christine) Some girls should give G. B. McCullough the eye. What made Alfred Swift quit going to see Eliza Jackson or did he stop? I just got a hot tip that Frankie Ruffin has been cutting out with Charles Moore of B. T. W. T was a lovely day Friday and James Woods proceeded to make the best of it by strolling the campus with Alpha Brawner. Miller Settles admires his voice and could have burned up when he didn't get a chance to exercise it Thursday in chapel.

Clarence Burton got caught reciting "The Highwayman" to another chick so Jean Jones cut out. Some songs are very effective because "I'll Get Along Some How" draws tears from Billie Jean's eyes. Well Thelma O. Helen Walters got him and gone. Someone tell Mr. Hayes who I am so he won't have to inquire. I'm getting complaints from Eddie Wortes, Gloria Braxton, Helen Walters and Martel Burks who say that you accuse them of being me but you got them wrong. I'm me. Girls tell boyfriends from other schools to come after school because Henry Yarbrough came to see Annie Bell and left without accomplishing his mission. When this was learned by Annie Bell, she almost broke into hysterics. Has Eula Bell quit Givand? Well so long cats and kittens gotta go. In other words I L B O N U.

Second Sentenced To Die In Augusta For Man's Murder

AUGUSTA, Georgia — The second of five Negroes charged with the torture-murder of an Augusta Chinese merchant was sentenced Tuesday afternoon to die in the electric chair.

However, following the conviction and sentencing of Charlie L. Cade, 19, defense attorneys announced they would file an appeal.

Cade's execution date was set for March 24 at Georgia's Tattall prison.

The first of the five defendants, Lincoln Mays, was convicted Monday of the murder of J. K. Joe on December 19.

Mays also is scheduled to die on March 24.

Three other alleged slayers of the merchant will be tried this week.

Highlights At Manassas

The Speakers and Writers club presented a short intellectual program in assembly Thursday. Eddie Wortes, president of the senior class, served as master of ceremonies and began the chapel exercise with a spiritual which was led by Minnie Carter.

Earl Bogan, president of the junior class, read the scripture and prayer after which there was a solo, "Sweet Little Jesus Boy," by Edward Jackson. Archie McAfee, vice-president of the senior class, introduced the guest speaker who was Mr. Hodges Honnell.

Mr. Honnell delivered a nice short speech on "Our Responsibilities in World Affairs." Gloria Braxton voiced the appreciation of the Speakers and Writers Club after the address. The finale to the program was an instrumental duet, "Twin Stars," by Floyd Shannon and Monroe Brown 4th was a blackboard demonstration taught Deacon B. L. Holmes. The sermon was delivered by Rev. L. K. Knight who used as a subject "Giving Him Power." Visitors were: Miss Bonnie Mae Jones, Sam H. Steeples, Rev. J. C. Coleman and Rev. L. K. Knight.

Each E. S. Teacher and B. T. U. worker is asked to please be present on these Tuesday night information periods. The public is invited. Deacon B. L. Holmes, Director. Mrs. Nettie M. Porter, reporter.
