Benson Charged With Reckless Driving; Fined

Jackson R. Benson, 28, of 9811 Wayne, driver of the city fire truck that struck the rear of the parked car of Mrs. Clara Howard, 39. of 2032 Benford at Madison and Willett on October 23, was fined $16 in Traffic Court Tuesday on a charge of reckless driving.
Officer G. D. Hester testified that

Benson was driving a fire pumper from Engine Station No. 11 at Union and McLean, enroute to the scene of a grass fire, when he struck Mrs. Howard's car.
The officer said Mrs. Howard, heard the truck's siren and pulled over to give the fire truck the right of way just as the truck pulled to the curb at the same spot, the scene of the fire.

"I didn't see any fire and I pull-ed over to let him go by," said Mrs.

Police said damage was considerable with Mrs. Howard and a com-panion, Mrs. Hazel Gordon, 42, of 1486 Arkansas being treated at John Gaston Hospital for Injuries they

Malan Wants To Take 3 African Protectorates

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (ANP)-Daniel F. Malan, South Africa's white supremacist prime minister, wants three African countries turned over to his country, despite the opposition of Africans in these countries.

He said the countries-now der British protection—must be transferred to South Africa within the next five years. The coun tries, Bechuanaland, Besutoland and Swaiziland, have a combined population of 1,000,000 Negroes and 7,000 whites and a total area of 293,421 square miles.

Malan based his demands on an agreement in 1910 which called for the eventual incorporation of the three countries in the South African Union. However, Great Britain has maintained that transfer was impossible without the consent of the Negroes in the areas. The latter have stated their opposition to such a move.

In reference to consulting the Negroes, Malan disagreed saying that Britain did not find it neces-sary to do so when it proposed the establishment of the Central African Federation. The South Afrlcan leader pointed out that in the case of the federation, the present British government had rejected unanimously protests of Negroes.

INS Staff Correspondent

HOT SPRINGS, Va. - (INS) -Southern Governors gareed Tues day in a discussion of public school financing that racial segregation is a tremandously expensive item.

That was the underlying theme, if not directly expressed, in the conclusion that schools for Negroes are being placed on a par with those for white children.

Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina said that 70 per cent of the state's 86 million dollar building program has been earmarked for Negro schools. He recalled how his 1951 promise to finance this expansion through a sales tax bond issue drew fire from the Ku Klux Klan and the National Association for the Ad-vancement for Colored People "I knew that when both extre-mists opposed me, I must be right. And we prevailed even though the now extinct KKK and the NAACP

FIGHT? REASONS ARE STILL UNKNOWN

For many years teenagers have been fighting. That is double team fighting. But only recent did gang

Today gang fighting is getting to be a public problem. Trenagers are getting to the place where they can't go any place for fear of being fought. It isn't always their fault. Its most of the time what a person hears or imagines he hears which start fights.

If we destroy the privileges that are given because of gang fights its roing to take a long time to rebuild faith in people who own these teenage places also the community will start complaining. Most gang lights start at public places, such as the theatre, school, dance or any public organization where people of all types gather.

Really there are no bad people in the world. People who are filled with the sin to fight when it isn't necessary are usually offbalance and need a doctor's atten-tion. So people we are all brothers and sisters lets not fight each other. Lots help our fellowman.

Under the leadership of Docto Charles H. Wesley of Central State College, Wilberforce, Ohio, as president, the association heard speeches and papers from outstanding leaders and scholars; examined its fi-nancial obligations and made definite plans to retire them; approved the reorganization of the staff; set its aims to shed new light on neglected aspects of American history and re-elected all officers. Dr. John Hope Franklin of Howard University, Washington, D. C., was elected to the executive council; and Mrs. Vassie D. Wright, president of the Author's Study Club of Los Angeles, California, was made national director of local groups and clubs. Mrs. Wright's office was created as a part of the association's program to reactivate local groups and clubs in its general plan to revitalize all of its activities.

The Tennessee Committee for the entertainment of the association pre sented the national body with a gift of $410.80 at its closing session to aid in the work it is doing. Dr. J. H. J. M. Spaulding.

Spaulding, Negro county agent for the Agricultural Extension Service, says many of the farmers of his area are more than just interested in treating tobacco plant beds for weed and disease control. Many of the farmers he has talked to re-cently are interested in controlling root knot nematodes, the tiny orroots of certain plants. Tobacco is a favorite of the root knot nema-

Several farmers are planning to use MC-2 gas in treating their plant beds this fall. This chemical de-stroys weeds and insects and reduces the nematode population of a plant bed — all in a few hours. Older methods of controlling weeds in plant beds require 60-90 days to be effective.

Black shank and nematodes have become real problems on many Co-lumbus farms in recent years.

B. T. Peacock of Whiteville, Route 2, told Spaulding that MO-2 gas practically eliminated the old pracplant bed on his farm last spring. Also, with the site free of weeds Also, with the site free of weeds and disease all winter and during the important growing season, much healthier plants were produced. This gave Peacock a big head start toward a better leaf crop this year, says Spaulding.

Another important item to con sider, adds the county agent, is the cost involved. MC-2 gas is inexpensive in itself, but saves additional money in the spring because it lets the farmer get by without hiring labor for hand picking weeds.

Whatever you have done, what-ever the crime, pray and ask God to fergive you. Man, in order to maintain order and peace in our social setup must and does demand punishment for various offenses and deviations from the laws.

But you can continue to obey the rules and regulations even in prison. Pray and resolve to set your life's goal today! Resolve that you will not repeat the offense and that you will abide by not only the laws of society but by the laws of Christianity. Start today and re-solve that when you are released from prison, you will not grope but travel the "higher way." STRONGER CHURCHES-BETTER COMMUNITIES International Sunday School for November 8, 1953 MEMORY SELECTION:
"Let your manner of life be worthy of the gospel of Christ."-Philippians 1: 27. LESSON TEXT: Acts 2: 41-47; Philippians 1:

27-36; I Peter 2: 4-5, 9-10 Let's begin our study of our lesson this week with a definition of the word, "church." Just what is church and how did it come into being? The church is a divine institution which began, not before and not after, but with Christ. The church came into being when men exercised s a v i n g faith in Christ as the Son of God and their own personal Savior:

Some people see churches only as buildings- some of wood, some of brick and some of stone. Some of these buildings are rickety, about to fall, while others are handsome examples of magnificent architecture. However, the outward appearance of a church building is no indication of the condition of the church. A church is more than a building, although we should always insist that God's house be kept in as as good physical condition as possible at all times, in keeping with the financial ability of its congregation.

A study of the New Testament will reveal that the word "church" is used in several different ways In I Cor. 12: 28, it has the generic sense or is thought of as an institution.I n Acts 9:31, it has a collective sense, as the collective number of professing Christians in a giver in the universal sense, referring to all the true believers in Christ throughout all the ages. In Matt. 18: 17, Atcs 2: 47 and Rev. 1:11, it is used in the local sense to apply to a particular body of baptized believers

From the above it is easy to conclude that the church is made up of regenerated inidividuals—those who have experienced birth and have sonal faith. This fact is evident on Peter's sermon at Pentecost, when Peter told those who had become convicted of their sins and their guilt in connection with the death of Jesus "Repent, and be baptized, everyone of you for the remission of sins' Acts 2: 28). Then those who received Peter's word and believed in Christ as their Saviour "were baptized, and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand souls." The story of the activity of the early Christians is interesting. We are told that they continued in fellowship, the breaking of bread and prayers that many wonders and signs were done, and that many sold their possessions and goods in order to share the proceeds with those of their brethren who were in NEW YORK - Lena Horne, the cational job to do to make nonneed. 'Another significant thing about The NAACP, Miss Horne says, the early church was that it was a needs the support of every freedom loving American all of whom she praying church. We need to be reminded again and again that "more asks to join her "in purchasing as things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of." How differ-ent would be the attitude and many NAACP Christmas seals as atmosphere of our churches if our mouths. people prayed earnestly before, during and after the services of the NAACP last year netted $38,000 worship! How much easier would the work of our churches be if God were askcourt ruling, executive order or legistation. We have a continuing eduther campaign has been conducted. ed to be a partner in all plans!

> Then, let us ask just what part do the churches play in the life of our community. If all the churches were dismantled and all the preachers left our town, what would be the result? What would happen to the business life of this particular area? We take so much for grant-ed in this world of ours, but we sel-dom stop to think of the contribution that our churches make to the well being of our communities. Practically every institution for the betterment of society was brought into being by the church of Jesus Christ. Before the time of Christ, there were no hospitals, no public schools, no orphanages, no institutions for the care of the mental-ly ill or the physically aged. There fore, we can see that the church of Jesus Christ makes a positive contribution to the community in which it exists.

Since the church is made up of nembers and can do nothing with out the active participation of those members, the question naturally arises—just what contribution do you, as a church member, make to your church? To paraphrase the well known little verse, "If every church member were just like me, what kind of a church would my church be? Are you consecrated cooperative and willing to be used in any place in your church where your talents may be best suited? Your church is just as strong as its members and its influence is just as beneficial as the lives of its members. This reminds us of the word: of Paul to the Philippians: "Let your manner of life be worthy of the gospel of Christ."

Christian church members de

have a responsibility to their church to live the type of life which will bring honor to Jesus Christ. One of the most common criticisms of the church by those without is that there is very little difference to be detected in the lives of church members and those making no such profession. Too often, howevea, that pretty picture is the beginning of a sad story. Medical science tells us that there is a close relationship between sound health and the condition of clusively that most foot troubles begin in childhood, through public ignorance of the elementary rules of foot hygiene and sound shoe fitting. And the "public" means That's why buying baby's first

The y unanimously recommend shoes made of very supple leather upper and soles to start the little toddlers off on a healthy foundation for life. Good baby shoes have roughened surfaces on the leather soles as an anti-slip protection. All leather construction is important, since leather keeps healthful tem-peratures inside the shoe and provides flexible support for tender, little feet.

Many doctors and pediatrists consider shoe superfluous or harmful until baby takes his first step. Putting shoes on infant in crib may olease grandma's vanity, as it will to make him walk prematurely. Both habits, however, may have bad results.

The most significant trend in the outlook for family living costs for the year ahead is the increasing cost of services, according to Dr. Ger-trude Weiss of the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics, U. S. Department of Agricul-ture. The costs of medical care public transportation, some utility rates, laundry and cleaning, domestic services and urban rents have ncreased recently more than have the prices of many commodities families buy. Many had their price rise in previous

Selection of an outstanding law-yer to till this post is highly important to colored people. The So-licitor General, the second highest ranking law officer of the Federal Government, is responsible for the preparation and argument of cases before the Supreme Court in which the United States is either a party or an intervence.

If Chief Judge Sobeloff should be named to the post at an early date, he would probably participate in the oral argument of the five school segregation cases which is set for December 7.

In ordering the cases reargued, the Supreme Court invited the Attorney General to take part in the oral argument and to file an ad-ditional brief if he so desires. Attorney General Herbert Brownell immediately accepted the invitation of the court

But the Solicitor General, under the direction of the Attorney General, appears for and represents the Government in the Supreme Court

Chief Judge Sobeloff, however would have the tremendous task of acquainting himself with the facts and the legal arguments contained in the briefs which have been previously filed and with the oral arguments made at the time the cases were heard last December 9, 10 and 11, as well as acquainting himself with the arguments in the briefs which are yet to be filed by both sides in the five cases and by the

The one advantage he will have is that Robert L. Stern, Acting Solicitor General, Philip Elman and other attorneys in the Justice partment who worked on the brief that former Attorney General James P McCranery filed for the United States in the school cases are still in the Department of Jusdamentals and system, in that order low team morale, and that superior tice and are working on the brief which the Government is expected to file in the next week or ten days.

The post has gone begging since the Republicans took over last January. The office has not been regularly filled since Mr. Perlman quit. Mr. Stern, a Justice Department career inweer, has been acting as Solicitor General since Mr. Perinan's resignation except for a brief period in which Walter J. Colonel For A Few Days

Tennessee's elation over the naming of Walter C. Robinson of Chattanooga as a colonel on the governor's staff has been punctured like a bubble. The whole thing seems to be a case of mistaken identity. It wouldn't have been a bad idea, however.

Clement addressed a letter to a similar named Robinson. The Chattanooga citizen received it with the information that a commission would follow later.

A newspaper sought to confirm the appointment. Then came the disclosure that the notice of appointment and the commission was intended for another Walter C. Robinson in Cleveland, Tenn. Naturally, the Chattanooga Robinson is disappointed and Still, it would have been a fine thing for Robinson, Tennessee and democracy if it had really been true.

Tuskegee Inaugurates Fourth President

The inauguration last week of Dr. Luther Hilton Foster as the fourth president of Tuskegee Institute, refreshes anew memories of this generation of the time-worn concepts upon which that your friend. In my mind that's notable institution was founded.

That institution will always remain unique in that it was the pioneer in the field of practical things and technical applied education. It had a modest beginning in a remote section of Alabama's then thinly settled black belt.

One is also reminded of the early struggles and sacrifices of Booker T. Washington, often styled "the father of a race." His sincerity, self-faith and genius for organization attracted about him some of the wealthiest minds of the nation, to build for the ages the firm foundation upon which Tuskegee rests.

Dr. Foster was selected to succeed Dr. F. D. Patterson, the successor of Dr. Robert Russa Moton. The latter was chosen to succeed the first president and founder.

Dr. Foster comes into a rich heritage of service. His ripe experience in the field of education and organization are the fortifications upon which the hope of the nation looks for a continuity of those ideals that made Tuskegee famous.

In another generation, there can be no gainsaying that Tuskegee made her way. Beginning as an industrial entity, boys from all over the Southland gathered there to learn trades that fitted them for the future. Many of them were without funds and came the long way to help themselves by working out their expenses. Tuskegee once had on its masthead, "Lack of means need debar none." Many a lusty lad came that way and learned brick masonry, cooking, harness-making, tailoring, printing, animal husbandry, agriculture and carpentry. Some of these, through their trades went on to higher professions.

It is highly probable and still hardly debatable that the canning idea and nearly the whole of the Home Economic practice came from Tuskegee.

Having such a long claim on the embryo of what has given development to many forms of education, Tuskegee should take account of her great sphere in the turn of the industrial revolution that has brought us up to the technical era of bulldozing, steel shoveling; radio, television and the manufacture of technical

Tuskegee still has an enviable place in the lives of coming young people. There is still a need for printers, press operators, linotypists, radio and television experts, automobile mechanics and the like. In other words, there is great need for a technical

May Tuskegee become the mecca of that herd of young Americans who seek to be useful in the gigantic trend of an unprecedented industrial revolution.

Congratulations, Dr. Foster — you have the experience — you have the vision and you have been thrust the opportunity.

If you do, plump them in syrup to increase the sugar content. To do this pour a medium syrup with a little corn syrup added over the fruit while it is hot. One half cup of sugar and one third cup of corn syrup for each cup of water makes it just right. Let it stand a few hours, then stir in the other fruit, cover and let it stand for a day or so. that Liberia contributes a substantial portion of its total revenues to finance the economic development program. "No less important as symbols of cooperation are the road construction and sanitation programs being carried out in Liberia with funds provided by loans from the Export-Import Bank and the development of Liberia's mineral and agricultural resources of private invest ments.

THROUGH TRAFFIC

"The increasing flow of traffic through the Free Port of Monrovia since its opening in 1949 affords concrete proof of the progress being made in developing the economy of Liberia." President Tubman replied that it was "a distinguished duty" to re-ceive Mr. Locker and he did so with much pleasure and satisfac-"The joint efforts of our two countries at the present time. . . is not merely the determination of of one country to achieve for its people a higher level of living and the understanding and willingness of the other to assist in the reali-

of the other to assist in the real-zation of this goal." Mr. Tubman declared, adding: "It is more than that—it is also an attestation of the truism that peoples of different races, nationabeobies of dinerent races, nationalities, creeds and climes can harmoniously live and work together peacefully and effectively, if they apply the simple formula of the brotherhood of man, and the prin-

PAROLEE BACK TO

George E. Miller, president of the Tennessee Safety Council, made that statement recently, speaking in connection with the November pedestrian safety program being sponsored by the Tennessee Safety his horn without slowing down and Council in cooperation with the Na tional Safety Council. "The pedestrian has the most t lose in an encounter with an automobile, and should protect himelf." Miller said, "but he could follow all the rules of safe walking without checking to see if a pedesand still become the victim of motorist who didn't observe the rules of safe driving."

The Tennessee Safety Council president mentioned as one of the most common driver offenders the Crosswalk Creeper, who stops at the red light but keeps edging over sure their safety and the safety of the line. It gives walkers the jitfeel that it is just as important for a young man or woman to serve a (business) internship as it is for a of medicine," he said. MONEY NEEDED

The need for funds with which to face the problems of the League was pointed out by Dr. Howard. If the League is going to assume its right-ful role in this changing order in America it is going to require thou-sands of dollars. . Negro busi-ness in America should rise as one man and put a million dollars" in the league in the next five years, he pointed out.

CHURCH ROLE

The role of the church in making the Negro more able to meet economic problems was cited by the speaker. He admonished race ministers to "preach to us more about a balanced diet which included Tbone steaks. . while we are waiting for the diet of milk and honey and to "talk to us more about the fabrics of cotton, wool, etc., while are preparing for our golden opers. . . and long white robes" slippers. . . and long white robes" and to "talk to us about ways and means of acquiring good, roomy comfortable homes of our own. . . . while we are getting ready for the masions in the sky."

MUST TAKE LEADERSHIP

Dr. Howard said that while other national race groups serve great needs, it is the duty of the Business League and the Business Lea-gue alone to assume the economic leadership of the race.

He was introduced to the session by Dr. S. V. Totty, head of the commercial department at South ern University League Presider Horace Sudduth presided over the found him sitting in an automobile and told him he was under arrest, ordering him to raise his hands.
