School Board Refuses NAACP Request For Integration Plan

SAYS IT DOESN'T RECOGNIZE "SPECIALIZED INTEREST" GROUPS

The Board of Education this week refused to come up with a plan for immediate integration of the city schools on all levels as had been requested by the local chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

British Navy Salutes Ike Near Africa

ABOARD U. S. S. ESSEX IN MEDITERRANEAN — (UPI) — President Eisenhower, sailing from Europe to Africa on his peace mission, received a 21-gun salute at sea Wednesday when his sixth Fleet task force rendezvoused dramatically with the flagship of Britain's Mediterranean fleet.

In a letter to Dr. Vasco A. Smith, Jr., chairman of the NAACP's education committee who wrote the Board last week and requested a desegregation plan for Memphis schools, School Board President Walter P. Armstrong said, "Our (the Board of Education's) responsibility is to the citizens of Memphis as a whole, (and) for that reason we cannot recognize any group representing specialized interests as a representative of the public at large, and have consistently refused to meet with such groups upon that basis."

"WE SHALL NOT BE MOVED"—Buffalo, N.Y.—The Dante Tenants Defense League stormed the chambers of the Buffalo Common Council on December 8 in protest against a proposal to drive out 616 families from the low-income Dante Place Project and convert it into a privately owned housing development.

SUPREME COURT VOIDS ARK. ACTS

Appeals Involved Laws Passed To Close Schools

WASHINGTON, D. C. — (NNPA) — The Supreme Court Monday affirmed the decision of a three-judge federal court holding unconstitutional and enjoining enforcement of two acts of the 1958 special session of the Arkansas General Assembly.

The affirmation was based on a motion filed by the NAACP in opposition to an appeal by Gov. Orval E. Faubus. The appeals involved the constitutionality of the two Arkansas school closing laws which Faubus signed on the same day that the Supreme Court upheld the decision of the United States Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals denying a suspension of two and a half years of the Little Rock Board of Education's desegregation plan.

NAACP TO MEET

The local NAACP had written the letter requesting school integration to the school board along with a petition signed by 100 parents of 175 children of school age. Dr. Smith said the board's refusal to come up with a plan for integration will have to be considered by the NAACP Board of Directors before any comment is made.

The NAACP had accused the school board of "openly and notoriously ignoring the Constitution of the United States as interpreted by the United States Supreme Court... In the desegregation cases of 1954 and 1956, it stated that school desegregation is 'already operating smoothly in some districts in Tennessee' and

B T W Teachers Rescue Five Children From Burning Frame House

BY BOOKER T. WADE AND WILLIAM HIGGINS

Five small children were rescued from a flaming three-room frame house by Booker T. Washington high school teachers about 10 a. m. Wednesday morning.

Dorothy Parker 24, said she left the children alone while she went out to buy a heater for the house, which she moved into the day before, according to a next door neighbor, Mrs. Bessie Riley. It is believed that the fire was started after one of the children lit some paper in attempt to get warm. The fire was discovered after smoke was smelled by teachers at the high school. It is believed that the children were overcome by fumes from the smoke because they did not attempt to leave the house or cry out. The children were taken to juvenile hospital.

Calif. National Guard Breaks Up Last Segregated Battalion

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — Governor Edmund G. Brown announced this week that the California National Guard, acting under his instructions, is breaking up its last segregated unit, the 119th Military Police Battalion Headquarters group stationed in Los Angeles.

He also reported that Adjutant General Earle M. Jones is issuing a flat anti-segregation, anti-discrimination directive to all unit commanders — the first such all-inclusive directive in the Guard's history in California.

More Methodist Churches Become Interracial

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Scores of Methodist churches have become interracial in the last five years, and the rate is accelerating.

This was announced here by the Rev. Dr. A. Dudley Ward, Chicago, general secretary of the Board of Social and Economic Relations of The Methodist Church. He was a speaker at the annual meeting of the national Methodist Curriculum Committee December 7-11 at the Methodist Publishing House.

Chicago Minister, Former Georgian, Slain In Pulpit

CHICAGO — (ANP) — Approximately 25 worshippers were stunned late Sunday evening as an irate man crashed the services at the Central Park Baptist Church and slew the pastor in a hail of bullets.

Spiritual Singers Club Scheduled Appearances

By FRANK PERKINS

The Spiritual Singers Co-Operative Club of America has planned a "Benefit" program for its treasurer, Eddie Whitaker, who is at the present unemployed.

With only eight days more before Christmas day, I'm sure that his lovely wife Mrs. Savannah Whitaker would like very much to join the Christmas Shoppers' Parade, to keep the spirit of Christmas alive at their house this year.

This affair will be held at the Golden Rule B. Church, 584 Pontotoc Ave. Saturday Dec. 19, time 7:30 p. m. All members are asked to be present and bring a friend, so ole Santa won't forget the Whitakers Dec. 25.

I'm very proud to announce that the "Spiritual Singers Co-Operative Club of America" will sponsor WDIA's own Ford (The Host With The Most) Nelson's big appreciation program, Sunday Dec. 20 at 7:30 p. m. At The New Pilgrim B. Church, 652 North Second St.

Everybody is asking about the Sons of Jehovah's "dynamic" lead singer, Melvin Rodgers.

Where is he?
When will he be able to sing?
What is Wrong With Him?
Well, Melvin Rodgers is recovering from an accident that occurred at his home Nov. 5. While helping his wife, Mrs. Virginia Rodgers catch up on some home work, his right hand accidentally caught in their washing machine wringer. Mr. Rodgers said that he was so excited until it took him several minutes to cut-off the switch. The results was a third degree burn at the wrist. He was admitted to John Gaston Hospital where he underwent surgery Nov. 10. He had a relapse and reentered the hospital Sunday Nov. 30, where he is now, on the fifth floor in Ward 265. Doctors said that he may be able to spend Christmas at home with his family but he would have to reenter the hospital to undergo two operations by Jan. 7. Doctors say that Rodgers may not be able to have normal use of his right hand again. At the time of the accident Rodgers was home alone.

The President is asking all members to be present at a special business meeting at the Golden Rule B. Church 584 Pontotoc Ave. Monday Dec. 21 at 7:30 p. m.

BASKETBALL

The Lester "Lions" both A and B teams, played Carver at their gymnasium Monday night at 7 p. m. The "Lions" were at their best, as usual, and won one and lost one game to Carver. Of course, we give credit to them for having a good team and sparing our boys into even better action. The score of the A-game was 70-69 (in favor of Lester) and the highpoint man was Leon Strother; the B-game was 38-37 (in favor of Lester) and the high-point man was Melvin Barnett.

The "Lions" are giving the other teams a rest until after Christmas but beware of us December 28 in the Holiday Tournament at LeMoine College.

CLEVELAND COUPLE ARE WED IN MEMPHIS
Miss Ulliah M. Elmore Pledges Vows
The marriage of Miss Ulliah M. Elmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hayes Elmore of Memphis, and Edward Davis, Jr., son of Bishop and Mrs. Edward Davis, Sr., of Los Angeles was beautifully solemnized at 5 last Saturday evening at the Meritt Avenue residence of the bride's parents. With a few friends and relatives attending, Rev. Eugene Bates officiated, using the impressive double ring ceremony. The home was beautifully decorated with ferns and white stock in the hall, and the bride and groom holding an unusually lovely background for the ceremony.

The pretty young bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an exquisite wedding gown of imported Italian lace sprinkled with rhinestones, over silk tulle and satin. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held by a Juliette cap, and she carried a bouquet of white gardenias.

Mrs. Katherine Elmore Shipp was her sister's matron-of-honor. She wore a becoming kelly green tulle tulle ballerina length frock fashioned with a full skirt and green opera pumps to match the frock. She too carried a bouquet of pink gardenias.

Mr. Dy-Arthur Jeans was best man.

The bride's attractive mother wore a stunning gown of native satin studded with iridescent sequins and seed pearls.

WEDDING DINNER AND FULLER PARK CLUB HOUSE RECEPTION FOLLOW AT
Mr. and Mrs. Elmore entertained with an elaborately wedding reception and dinner given at the Fuller Park Club House. The receiving line was formed in the front of the club before greenery and arrangements of white stock. The bride's table at the end of the club was lovely with a tiered wedding cake, encircled with gardenias and tuberoses. The table was overlaid with a cloth of bridal satin, swathed with white maline, which was caught up in soft folds of gardenias.

Another table, that cradled the floor, was laid for the champagne wedding dinner. Just for members of the bridal party, pink gardenias encircled the table, and glowing white candles held by silver candelabra, cast a soft light over the scene. Other guests were served buffet style.

Congratulating the radiant young couple were Miss Lillian Woods, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. McKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Hall, Mrs. Charles Elmore, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chamption, Mr. and Mrs. James Nesbitt, Mr. and Mrs. John Cummings, Mrs. Ruby Moore, Miss Helen Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Freeland Brown, Mrs. Alberta

Meharry College President Addresses Memphis' New Alumni Association Chapter
DR. JAMES BYAS ELECTED PRESIDENT OF LOCAL CHAPTER.
The newly organized Memphis College Alumni Association was addressed by the president of the college, Dr. Harold West, during a dinner-meeting at Universal Life Insurance Building, Tuesday evening.

Dr. West, who addressed the Memphis alumni association minutes after it was formerly organized and held election of officers, talked about the 10-year capital improvement plan which the college has proposed. He said that attempts are currently being made to institute the proposed plans by setting up a series of "Meharry Dinners" throughout the United States. "At these organizational dinners we are attempting to participate in the 10-year proposal," said the president.

Elected president of the Memphis chapter was Dr. James Byas. Other officers include: Dr. Fred Rivers, vice president; Mrs. Andrewetta H. Jones, Secretary; Dr. John E. Jordan, treasurer; Dr. Leonard Atkins, archivist (reporter); and Miss Jessie Venson, corresponding secretary.

Dr. West continued "we are having excellent response from alumni. Most of them appear extremely excited and interested in the proposed project. We will probably launch this $20-million-dollar campaign in April."

He said that most of the funds would be used for additions to the college's hospital in Nashville, research, educational facilities. "However, the major part would be used for endowments... for teacher's salaries, additional teachers, new buildings and equipment and for enlargement of student-quotas."

Dr. West, accompanied by Walter Boyd, alumni liaison officer, was scheduled to go to Detroit and Chicago this week on their tour of the country. Other cities on their itinerary were: Cleveland, Ohio, St. Louis, Buckeye, Ala. Atlanta, Ga., Kansas City, Mo., Los Angeles, San Francisco, Baltimore, Md., Dayton and Cincinnati, Ohio.

The president added "I will go to as many cities as we can find a concentration of Meharry graduates."

The local committee who arranged the dinner-meeting included: Dr. Frederick Rivers, Dr. Clara Branner, Dr. W. O. Speight, Jr., and Dr. Ray Anderson.

YOU ASKED IT

By GRACE WILLIAMS

Dear Grace:
I have just learned that I have diabetes. My doctor put me on a very strict diet. He told me to use saccharin instead of sugar. But I have a friend with diabetes and she said that I can use sugar as long as I drink lemon juice with it. Is this true? She does it.

Your friend is courting trouble. Lemon juice does not reduce the caloric value of sugar even if it does help to lessen the sweet taste. Consuming the number of calories your doctor has prescribed is most important.

Dear Grace:
Sometime ago I went to a child's birthday party and the mother served some peppermint ice cream that was real good. I remember she said that it was made of peppermint candy and milk. I do not remember the other ingredients. Have you a recipe for this type of ice cream. I am planning a children's party for the holidays, and would like to serve it.

Here is the recipe for peppermint candy ice cream. I believe your children will be delighted by it if you garnish it with pieces of the candy. It will be very "Christmasy" too.

PEPPERMINT STICK ICE CREAM
Makes 1 1/2 Quarts
Grind or crush 1 lb. peppermint stick candy. Soak it 12 hours in 2 cups water, add to it, 1 pint cream (2 cups).

If the cream is heavy, whip it by all means. Freeze in a mechanical freezer or in the freezer compartment of your refrigerator.
Dear Grace:
I've had a rabbit in my freezer for two weeks. My husband killed him while hunting. Now, I have heard that wild rabbits are not fit to eat. Is this true?

Statistics show that ninety percent of the cases of the disease tularemia is caused by wild rabbits. This disease is defined as an infectious disease caused by the bacterium tularemia, found in nature and transmitted to man by an infected blood sucking fly or tick or by contact with an infected animal.

This may account for what you have heard. However, your rabbit may be rendered harmless by thorough cooking. There is more danger in dressing the rabbit than there is in eating it after it is cooked.

It is a good precaution to wear rubber gloves when cleaning wild game.

HINT TO THE WIVES
Hospitality is an American privilege. When holiday guests come calling have plenty of smooth, delicious eggnog fresh from your favorite dairy. If you like yours thick, the kind you eat with a spoon, fold in lots of creamy whipped cream.

Kick-Off Meeting For 1960 March Of Dimes

TAYLOR C. HAYES LOCAL CHAIRMAN
The 1960 March of Dimes will add "New" to its title at the same time it prepares to fight two other diseases besides polio, it was disclosed here Tuesday night at a kick-off dinner - meeting which was addressed by Samuel B. Ethridge, assistant chief of the inter-group relations division of the National Foundation of New York City.

Ethridge was introduced to the local volunteer campaigners by Taylor C. Hayes, local chairman of the 1960 drive. The dinner was held at the Vance Avenue Branch YWCA.

Showing a film of the crippling diseases was E. L. Williams, a local representative of the National Foundation.

Ethridge explained that the addition of the word "New" is for purposes of giving emphasis to the entry of The National Foundation into the fields of birth defects and arthritis as well as continuing its work in polio.

The March of Dimes volunteer reported that Dr. Kenneth Lane, medical consultant to The National Foundation, predicted that there would be polio outbreaks next summer because of the large numbers of unvaccinated people.

"Perhaps the greatest problem connected with polio right now is overcoming the apathy and indifference of vast numbers of people," the local civic leaders said. "The more people we can get vaccinated right now, the less the polio incidence figures will be next summer."

Amount needed to carry through the program objectives of the 1963 New March of Dimes is $65,000,000.

the volunteer reported, which will be used for a three-pronged attack through research, professional education and patient aid.

"These three problems cause millions of people pain and anguish," the civic leader said. "Arthritis and rheumatism afflict upwards of 11,000,000 people in this country. More than 250,000 children are born each year with a significant birth defect. There are still more than 50,000 paralytic polio patients on national Foundation Chapter rolls. These figures show how vital it is for the New March of Dimes to achieve this $65,000,000 figure. This amount is needed to do the job — as it should be done — against birth defects, arthritis and polio."

Among the volunteer workers attending were: Mrs. Cooper Taylor, Miss W. T. Fort Mrs. A. Suele, Mrs. Zephia Henz, Mrs. Marie L. Adams, Mrs. Lillian G. Smith, Mrs. Carlotta Stewart Watson, James B. Pinkney, Mrs. Geraldine Smith, Mrs. May J. Noon, Mrs. Marjorie Brinkley, Mrs. Zettie Miller, Miss Carrie Elna Jackson, Robert D. Thomas, Mrs. Lula Terry, Mrs. Lizzie Mae Williams, Mrs. Emma Carol Williams, Mrs. Katie Sexton, Mrs. Elna M. Milun, Mrs. Freddie Galin, Rev. and Mrs. O. C. Crivens and Miss Akreasa Greene.

Launch Drives To Aid Bates Of Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (ANP)—A two-pronged campaign to raise funds for Lucius and Daisy Bates, militant publisher of the bankrupt Arkansas State Press and leaders of the Little Rock school integration fight was underway last week. One aimed at collecting an appreciation gift to the Bates by Christmas, is headed by H. W. Sewing, president of the Douglass State Bank in Kansas City, Kansas. The other which has no specific time limit was launched in Philadelphia by E. Washington Rhodes, editor of The Philadelphia Tribune which recently celebrated its 75th anniversary. Leaders of both funds are canvassing national organizations throughout the country for contributions to relieve the immediate debts of the Bates, said to amount to almost $75,000.

Unions, CORE Protest Air Bias; Seek More Hiring

NEW YORK (ANP)—Trade union leaders last week joined with the New York Core (Congress of Racial Equality) chapter, in calling upon New Yorkers to Break the Color Barrier in the hiring of flight crews. Leaders of Hospital Local No. 420, State, County and Municipal employees union, and of the Transport Workers union helped Core members pass out 10,000 leaflets to patrons of the airlines ticket office and other. The leaflets pointed out that in their hiring policies, America's airlines are still earth-bound. Discrimination is the order of the day with but few exceptions. ASKS PASSENGERS' HELP The leaflets urged, "You, the flying public, can demand that all airlines open up the skies for democracy. You can demand that all airlines break the color barrier now. Write to the major airlines with all-white flight crews, expressing your disapproval of their undemocratic hiring policies. Let them know how you feel when you make your plane reservations. Better still, when you fly, use only those airlines, including TWA, which have broken the color barrier."

Tom Roberts, chairman, New York Core, said, "Negroes should apply for jobs on all major airlines. It is only a matter of time until the discriminatory policies are eliminated. Jobs as pilots and flight engineers are at the top of the ladder and should attract many qualified Negroes. Attractive young Negro women should apply for the high prestige stewardess positions. Those who can meet the requirements should apply now."

Income Tax Aids Are Available

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Started to worry about your income tax yet? Well, the government issued a reminder Friday that it prints four booklets to help folks out with that annual headache. For the average taxpayer there's "Your Federal Income Tax," a 144-page affair which can be obtained from local offices of the Internal Revenue Service for 40 cents a copy. Available at the same price is a "Tax Guide for Small Business." The government provides free of charge a "Farmers Tax Guide" and a "Tax Guide for U. S. Citizens Abroad."

Subway Clerk Robbed, Raped in New York

NEW YORK (UPI)—A young Negro clerk in a subway change booth was raped by a white man Saturday after he forced her to accompany him to a garage and undress in the manner of a striptease dancer. Police said the man first held up the clerk and robbed her of $84 in her booth in a Brooklyn subway station. Then he took her to the garage

BOOKS FOR OVERSEAS USE—Washington, D.C.—The People-to-People book project undertaken by the residents of Cook Hall, a men's dormitory at Howard University, is explained by Dormitory Director Carl Anderson to Sidney V. Petersen (right), South African educator and poet who lectured at Howard last month. Stacked on the table are a few of the 10,000 books which are being inspected, sorted and packed by the student volunteers for overseas shipment and distribution. The books are contributed by individuals and groups throughout the United States, and are sent to Post Office box 1950, Washington, D.C. From there, they are delivered to Cook Hall, which is the Washington area clearing house and packing agent for the Book Committee of the People-to-People program. Also shown around the table are Hollis Hodges (left), U.S. Information Agency representative, and Mr. Anderson's son, Carl, Jr., who is examining one of the children's books.

UN Increases Aid To Africa

By SAMUEL P. PERRY, JR. UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (ANP)—With the rising share of Africa in the Technical Assistance Program, "it is only to be expected that there would be some concentration of new projects within the continent."

"In Guinea, new projects — some having been started as contingencies this year — include the provision of experts in public finance, economic and financial statistics and demographic statistics."

The UN has provided the Republic of Guinea with a public finance expert who will aid the government in the formulation of fiscal and monetary policies, with particular reference to the establishment of the national currency. STUDY SERVICES

Guinea will receive assistance in manpower organization. The aid will include the study of the organization of government employment services and another expert will advise on the organization and operation of the meteorological service.

Further, the UN has made a provision for an expert to help in the initial stages of establishing an efficient vocational training program. Another project of high priority involves the survey and implementation of a program of environmental sanitation.

Ghana is currently receiving UN assistance in vocational training, "specifically for the training by in-service methods of the staff of the Labor Division, engaged in youth employment work, in the application of methods of vocational guidance suited to local conditions."

Navy Journalist To Complete Course

GREAT LAKES, Ill. (ANP)—The Navy's first Negro Journalist, Richard A. Graddick, graduate on December 18, from the Navy's post-graduate course in journalism here at Great Lakes. The course, equivalent to two post-graduate studies in journalism, covers advance work and public relations. The course, taught in an eight week period, qualifies senior journalists for independent duty as public information assistants.

Juvenile Delinquency

The problem of incorrigible and delinquent behavior within the confines of the walls of the public school system has reached its greatest proportions in New York City.

The problem in New York is a pressing one with nationwide implications. It arose when the schools were forced to assume custodial duties for large numbers of delinquent and emotionally disturbed children because there were not enough facilities in the city or state to which the courts could refer them.

In New York, as elsewhere in the country, delinquency rates are rising and new, additional treatment facilities have not kept up with this increase.

On the other hand, legal and public opinion is against expelling children from school because they are problem students.

As in Washington, D. C., with no other alternative, the schools are forced to take care of them.

When the inevitable happens when these children begin to wreak havoc with classroom procedure, upsetting the more law-abiding students, threatening and actually engaging in violence, all sorts of theories begin to arise as to the reasons for the situation.

Depending on any person's or group's predilections, they have at different times blamed the race problem, progressive education, and a number of other so-called causes, which somewhat related, are far from the actual cause of the trouble.

The situation becomes further aggravated by the fact that, because of the institution shortage, disciplinary actions taken by officials are often ineffective, especially when dealing with the very maladjusted or extremely troublesome pupil.

If the child's action required court proceedings, he was many times returned to the school system on probation because of the lack of enough custodial facilities.

The New York City Board of Education admitted that there were 356 children in the school system on probation who should have been in custodial care.

When a child is returned to school under these conditions, he is treated as a hero and becomes an example for other students.

Artists Being Booked For South America

NEW YORK (UPI)—With an unlimited bankroll estimated to be over $100,000, at his disposal, C. B. Atkins, husband-manager of singer Sarah Vaughn told reporters upon his arrival at Idlewild from South America that he was in the market to purchase top theatrical talent to appear at various cities in Brazil and Argentina.

Commissioned by Paulino De Carvalho Filho, a South American millionaire who owns Radio Records and a string of amusement palaces and TV stations, Atkins will act as his agent in America. Within a few minutes after his arrival from Sao Paulo he was on the way to Los Angeles to negotiate with Sammy Davis, Jr., for an early appearance below the border.

Among the list of famed entertainment celebs that he will seek to book are Frank Sinatra, Doris Day, County Basie's band, Miles Davis, Max Roach, Dorothy Dandridge and Pearl Bailey. Several American booking agencies had been after this exclusive contract but Atkins beat them out to land the lucrative pact which places him in an influential position in the world of show business.

Fortunes Lost Through Ignorance Of Benefits

Writer Deplores Fact Many Do Not Know Rights

By VICTOR CALVERTON (For The Associated Negro Press)

No one knows how many thousands of dollars Negroes and their families have lost because they failed to take advantage of benefits offered in pensions and other financial aid and service which were and are available to veterans or relatives of veterans who died in the services of their country or were partially or permanently incapacitated as a result of war connected injuries or accidents.

The average Negro family doesn't know what rights and benefits a veteran has, and many vets are unaware of government benefits for them and their families. And some who know the Veterans Administration has to offer fail to take advantage of these benefits.

The following account of the experience of a Negro family in Virginia could be cited again for other Negro families all over the South and other parts of the country:

TWO SONS IN WORLD WAR I

This family had two sons in World War I. The younger son died from an ailment which was aggravated by service in the U. S. Army in France. He died at Walter Reed Hospital in 1920 without ever returning home. He had $10,000 worth of insurance and his mother was the beneficiary. She knew he had the insurance, but didn't know how to execute the papers to get her benefits.

The Veterans Administration sent her the blanks to fill out and information as to what she could expect. She didn't even read the letter carefully to find out what it said. Fortunately, she didn't throw it away, but let this piece of mail accumulate with other letters of a similar nature.

During the summer of 1928 the mother's son came home for a vacation, and one day while cleaning out the kitchen in the yard, found the letter sent from the Veterans Administration. He read it, and immediately explained to his mother what the contents were.

She was a little skeptical, but he insisted that the forms be filled out, and set a time to have a conference with his mother and father to get the information he needed. He filled out the forms and sent them to Washington.

MOTHER 'STILL SKEPTICAL'

The mother was still skeptical, but in six weeks the family received a reply asking for further information. The last problem to solve was to secure the birth certificate or furnish the information which would prove that the dead veteran's mother was the woman who was applying for the insurance benefits.

The veteran was born at a time when Virginia was not keeping vital statistics records. The next move was to have an affidavit made and notarized and witnessed by three persons who knew the mother and son and their relationship.

The affidavit was sent to the Veterans Administration. But nothing was heard from it for several weeks. Then one Saturday in August the parents were pleasantly surprised when a check for $1,734 was received in the mail for each parent. They were so thankful for their son's work that they paid $100 for his work. The son was a college graduate, and to them this was a concrete illustration of the value of an education.

Few Negro parents have trained members in the family who can help them with problems of this nature. There is a lot of detailed information the parents must have to get the help they need in applying for government benefits. The average parent or Negro doesn't know where to inquire for the information.

As a result thousands of Negro widows and orphans have resigned themselves to a difficult situation and make no effort to get the benefits due them from the government. This is a sad picture, and something should be done about it.

'VICTORY' SMILE — Rev. Edward V. Hill and campaign manager Atty. Carl Walker maintain a victory smile even though Rev. Hill, the only Negro candidate, lost in his attempt to win a city council seat. Rev. Hill led the field of seven candidates in the first primary last month but polled only 22,031 of the 57,615 votes for councilman-at-large position number 2 in the runoff election Tuesday. He said, "When you give a campaign all that you have, you win even when you lose."

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

A NEW EMPHASIS ON THE SUPERNATURAL

I have a positive conviction on an important subject. I sincerely believe that there will be a new world-wide emphasis on healing and supernatural deliverance. This will shortly come to pass in: (1) the established churches, (2) in the medical profession, and (3) among mankind generally.

Already this has begun. Miracles, healing, supernatural deliverance are the talk of spiritual leaders everywhere. A new wave of it is sweeping Scotland and England. Sometime ago, we sent our film, "Venture Into Faith," to Berlin for its German premiere. On the opening night 2,500 were present. This film has caused an amazing revival of healing and supernatural deliverance in South Africa, Israel, Trans-Jordan, Switzerland, England, Germany, Philippine Islands, and in other foreign lands.

Doctors are opening their minds more and more to healing by faith. Many of them are attending our crusades, often sending their patients for prayer.

Mankind everywhere is becoming more conscious of God's supernatural power of deliverance. I urge you not to lag behind in your thinking and believing. A few years ago I did not know the Lord as He really is. I knew Him as the Redeemer of my own life, but not as the Deliverer of humanity. Now, I see His infinite tenderness, His constant concern for men's souls and bodies.

The reading of the four Gospels and the Books of Acts brought Jesus into focus for me to see. Jesus came against four enemies of mankind: sin, demons, disease and fear. He was a healer and miracle-worker. He spent two-thirds of His time healing the sick. He looked on sickness as a criminal power and all His power was against it.

What He did, He wanted His disciples to do. He transmitted His power and authority to them. They went forth healing the sick and preaching the gospel. With His authority they brought deliverance to the souls, minds and bodies of the people. He still expects His followers to do the same things. His orders haven't been changed, and He hasn't given the signal to stop working.

The second day that I was in the Holy Land, I visited the garden tomb where Jesus rose from the dead. The man in charge of the tomb had broken his leg and had it in a cast. I said to him, "Sir, I would like to pray for you." He said, "Why, of course." I then laid my hand on his leg and asked God to heal the broken bones.

When I came out of my hotel room the next day, the street was full of people who were seeking my prayers. I had never seen them before, but they had heard of the miracle of the empty tomb the previous night. The caretaker had been completely and miraculously healed.

Says Africa Needs Pure Technical Aid

WASHINGTON, D. C. — (ANP) — During a recent session of the Society for International Development, which was formed in the early part of 1959, C. O. Ifeagwu of the Nigeria Liaison Office voiced an opinion current among competent Africans.

"Most of the undeveloped countries," Mr. Ifeagwu said, "would like to receive technical and economic aid for its own sake, not for political or military reasons. Overemphasizing these aspects detracts a good deal from the main purpose of the economic aid."

"There are a great many developed countries and most of them have their own aims. They have sometimes been working at cross purposes or against one another's interests in the underdeveloped countries. Instead of clarity, this brings confusion."

Mr. Ifeagwu expressed the view that it would be a great help if the Western countries had some kind of coordinated effort to assure that whatever assistance is given to a country is in the general interest of that country and not for a particular interest of a country that is trying to help. "The underdeveloped countries," he concluded, "need capital, but the capital they need is venture capital, enlightened capital. The viewpoint is understandable because of their past experience."

Bethune-Cookman College Receives $600,000 Gift

Dr. Richard V. Moore, President of Bethune-Cookman College announces a gift of $600,000 to the College.

The money comes from the estate of Harrison Rhodes, an author who had a home in Daytona Beach and was a trustee of the college for many years.

Since Rhodes' death in 1929, the money has been in stocks and securities under the direction of a trust. The income from the investments went to his sister, Margaret, until her death last July.

The trust was dissolved at recent hearing in West Palm Beach and the principal was released to the college. Atlantic National Bank of West Palm Beach was one of the trustees.

About $50,000 from the estate will go to other charities including

Harvard University. Thomas T. Cobb, attorney for Bethune-Cookman, yesterday said he expected the money by the first of the year.

"Not less than $500,000 will be added to the college's endowment fund. The Executive Committee will formulate a plan for expenditure of such funds as are necessary to put the physical plant of the college in proper condition," Cobb said.

"Most of the money is in high grade stocks. The college board of trustees made these plans for the money at its last meeting," he said.

The Rhodes family came to Daytona Beach in the early 1880's and owned a house on South Beach Street. Harrison Rhodes was an author and playwright. Neither he nor his sister ever married.

NEW DEVELOPMENT IN DEERFIELD HOUSING ROW

DEERFIELD, Ill. (ANP)—Opposition to the plans to construct an interracial housing development went past the stage of letters and votes of opposition early last week.

The newest development was an ultimatum issued by the Deerfield park board, to builders of the proposed project, to either sell or face condemnation proceedings.

Just how much the opposition snowballed into a major stumbling block for the development, is evidenced by the fact that letters from the park board offering to buy three separate tracts of land were delivered to representatives of the Progress Development corporation, builders, by members and officers of the North Shore Residents association, the citizens group spearheading the opposition.

Separate letter bids were made for each of the tracts involved, each quoting a price and carrying a clause which set a deadline for acceptance in writing of Dec. 23. If the offer is not accepted by that time, the letters each noted it will be assumed you have rejected this offer and condemnation proceedings will be instituted.

REFERENDUM SET

The park board has set Dec. 21 for a referendum asking $550,000 with which to acquire six sites to be used for combination school-park developments. Included are the three sites intended for development of 51 homes priced around $30,000, of which a dozen would be offered to Negroes.

The first letter offers $23,000 for 12 lots in Pear Tree development; the other two, both for the Floral Park development, offers $89,307 for 27 lots and $54, 692 for 12 lots. The prices quoted include model homes under construction plus underground improvements already in.

The board's action followed an earlier announcement that a sampling of residents in this all-white community had voted 8-1 against integrated housing. Of more than 4,000 polled, the vote allegedly was 460 for; 3,507 against, and 56 abstentions. The balloting, however, was unofficial.

On the side of the builder, John W. Hunt, law partner of former Illinois Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson and vice president-general counsel of the builders, called the offer and threat a mere subterfuge to attempt to get around state and U. S. constitutions. If they proceed, we will fight it all the way."

Tear Gas Used To Halt Demonstration

LAGOS, Nigeria (NNPA)—Police used tear gas Dec. 10 to break up a demonstration outside the Nigerian Railway Corporation's headquarters here.

Members of the Nigerian Union of Railwaymen were protesting against the retention of Ralf Emerson as chairman of the Corporation. The union claims that too many Europeans are holding jobs for which qualified Nigerians are available.

Rights Bloc Plans Expansion Of Proposals

By LOUIS LAUTIER

WASHINGTON, D.C. (NNPA)—The Senate civil rights bloc will probably expand its proposals to include the recommendations of the Civil Rights Commission with respect to voter registrars, Senator Jacob K. Javits, New York Republican, disclosed Thursday.

The bipartisan bloc of about 16 Senators is sponsoring the most liberal civil rights bill which will be before the Congress when it convenes in January.

The steering committee of this bloc consists of Senators Paul Douglas of Illinois and Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, Democrats and Javits and Clifford P. Case of New Jersey, Republicans.

Senator Javits told a press conference that the bloc had considered so-called Part III as the major issue in the civil rights fight.

Part III would give the Attorney General authority to bring civil suits to enjoin violations or threatened violations of constitutional rights, including the right to attend a nonsegregated public school.

MAJOR ISSUE

The voter registrar recommendation of the Commission, he said, has now become a major issue.

He added that antilynching legislation may become a major issue because of the tragic lynching of Mack Charles Parker by a Masked Mississippi mob.

The Administration has not yet expressed itself on changing its civil rights package, Senator Javits pointed out. He said he much preferred the Administration proposals to those of Senator Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader.

Javits noted that the Administration proposals carries "an affirmative recognition" of the 1954 Supreme Court decision against segregated public schools.

The New York Senator has talked with Attorney General William P. Rogers and asked him "what he had in his mind." Mr. Rogers, at a recent news conference, said the Administration would have to re-study their proposals because of the Parker lynching, but did not indicate what new recommendation the Justice Department might make.

DEVELOPMENTS WATCHED

Senator Javits said Rogers told him he will "let me know as soon as it develops."

Javits is planning a number of seminars on various issues to be held at universities in New York State. The first one will be in Buffalo on civil rights.

The Senator disclosed that he has had an "enormous" amount of mail on civil rights from New York State as well as New York City.

He said one would think that this mail would be 90 or 100 per cent in favor of civil rights measures, but there is "a very substantial minority dissent."

Briton Convicted In Slaying Of African Houseboy

NAIROBI, Kenya (NNPA)—An all-white jury in Kenya Supreme Court here Thursday found Peter Harold Richard Poole, 28, a British electrical engineer, guilty of murder for fatally shooting an African houseboy, Kamawe Mungu, on Oct. 12. He was sentenced to death by hanging.

Poole, who is married and has two sons, is believed to be the first European to be sentenced to death in Kenya for the murder of an African. His conviction is to be appealed.

Asked by Chief Justice Ronald Slnchir whether he had anything to say, Poole replied: "No, my lord." His father, who an electrical engineers' business here and attended the trial each day, collapsed when he heard the sentence.

Poole, who had pleaded not guilty, did not testify. In a state ment read in court he said he shot the African in self-defense.

Jack And Jill Chapters Join Association

NEW YORK.—Three southern units of Jack and Jill Clubs of America, Inc., long-time NAACP supporters, this week gave an additional $1,495.00 to the Association.

This included two life membership subscriptions and one paid-in-full life membership for $500. In addition, the Cleveland, Ohio, chapter subscribed to a life membership.

All told, more than 30 Jack and Jill chapters across the nation have taken part in the Association's life membership campaign. Dr. Ruth B. Howard is national Jack and Jill president and Mrs. Marguerite E. Sims, is national treasurer.

Sunday School Lesson

GOOD NEWS FOR THE WORLD
International Sunday School Lesson for December 20, 1959.
MEMORY SELECTION: "I bring you good news of a great joy which will come to all the people; for to you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, who is Christ the Lord." (Luke 2: 10-11).
LESSON TEXT: Luke 2: 8-14; Acts 11: 19-30.

The purpose of today's lesson is to develop ideas about how we can share the gospel with the world. If we will only present ourselves to God, it is remarkable how he will bless and use us. Especially during the Christmas season do we think of sharing our great gift of the gospel with others.

In reading our scriptures for today we re-live again the beautiful story of the birth of Christ. And in the Book of Acts we read an accounting of the spread of Christianity and of how the disciples were for the first time called Christians. Today, just as in the Biblical days, there is room for Christianity to spread, and all Christians must answer the question: How can we share the gospel with the world?

Going back in time—to the time when the stories we are studying today occurred—we find a handful of disciples of the Lord preaching and practicing their faith among strangers. And we find those strangers feeling comfort and hope through the tenets of that—to them—foreign faith, and being converted. This had held true down through the ages. In a small hotel room many years ago, two traveling men, who were strangers to each other, found to their delight that each was studying his Bible before retiring. Out of the discussion that followed about the particular problems of traveling men, these Christians founded the Gideon Society whose Bibles are in practically every hotel room in the United States.

A widowed mother who went to her pastor some fifty years ago asking help in the care and support of her orphaned children, was the reason a program of child care was developed that built homes for thousands of families. In New York City an alert Christian, seeing thousands of foreign students not befriended or extended a helping hand, invited a group to his home for Sunday evening. For years this program went on unnoticed until others saw its possibilities and helped expand it into the great International House that are now serving foreign students in our larger cities.

If we look into the history of almost any worthy agency serving people, we will find that it grew out of the generous response of some Christian man or woman to the need of an individual or of a small group.

If those who love the Lord witness for him wherever they are, and however they can, it is remarkable how God will bless and use them. The great need is for witnesses in every walk of life among all people and in every situation.

St. Francis of Assisi once said to his companion, "Let us go and preach to the people." Together they went to the markets, the street corners, and the fields where men were at work. St. Francis greeted everyone pleasantly and returned without delivering a sermon. Asked why he had not preached as he announced he was going to do, St. Francis replied, "I have been preaching all the while. If you don't preach as you go there is no use to go to preach." Wherever Christians go they should spread the gospel by all they say and do.

Warfield Firo, a prominent surgeon in Baltimore, Maryland, has for years conducted a Bible class for medical students in the Johns Hopkins and the University of Maryland medical schools. This is preaching where you go. This is effective witnessing to those near at hand. In every profession and in all walks of life, God needs those who will witness for him.

God's work grows by the faithful witness of individuals—often spontaneous and unplanned. The work of God thus started is strengthened and extended by carefully organized and trained leadership dedicated to the work of the Kingdom. Both kinds of activity are needed and used by God to carry forward his plans. Today as never before Christian people are scattered all over the world. Two world wars have left the United States the leader of the free world. Americans are going abroad as soldiers, government employees, business representatives, tourists, and as missionaries for the gospel of Jesus Christ. Much discussion has been rife as to the effect of Europe, Asia, or other lands as modern followers of Jesus Christ? What is the influence of tourists? People who have never seen any Christians

Alphas To Meet In Cincy Dec. 26-30

CINCINNATI, Ohio (ANP)—Officers and members of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity, from all sections of the country will converge on this Queen City of Ohio, for the Alpha's 45th annual convention, set for Dec. 26-30, at the Sheraton Gibson hotel.

Cincinnati's Mayor Donald B. Clancy has extended an official welcome to delegates and visitors and general chairman of the convocation is John W. Fleming, an assistant principal in the public school system. National officers are Judge Myles A. Paige, Brooklyn, N. Y., president; Laurence T. Young, Chicago, secretary and "Jewel"; Henry A. Callis, Washington, D. C.; George S. Kelly, Troy, N. Y., and Nathaniel A. Murray, Los Angeles.

Special significance is given this year's convention because Alpha Phi Alpha was organized here in Cincinnati 39 years ago, and the 25th anniversary of the founding was also held here in the Queen City.

Dr. R. P. Daniels will be the main speaker at the public meeting, Sunday, Dec. 27, in Taft auditorium and Judge Paige will preside at the business sessions.

save those who visit their countries are bound to make judgments about our religion from the visitors in their midst. Like St. Francis on his walk, these Americans in foreign lands are preaching. Are they preaching Jesus Christ and his gospel of love and understanding, or is their message a denial of our faith? What are we preaching, each and every one of us, as we go about our daily lives?

Keep Christ In Christmas, Churchgoers Are Encouraged

By CLAIRE COX
NEW YORK (UPI)—Churchgoers are being encouraged to keep Christ in Christmas by exchanging gifts of religious significance.

There was a time when just about the only religiously inspired presents were Bibles, Rosaries or St. Christopher medals.

Now there is a wide range from which to select gifts for all members of the family.

Many Christmas items are on sale. They range from elaborate Nativity scenes costing $25 and up and a Tiffany portrait bust of the late Pope Pius XII, for $35, to modestly priced sets of paper napkins imprinted with prayers.

For automobile owners, there is a St. Christopher medallion with a built-in magnet to hold it to the dashboard. Car-companion statues of the Virgin Mary and St. Christopher are fitted with either magnets or suction cups.

INCLUDE CALENDARS, BRACELETS

Inexpensive Christmas gift items include a Scripture text calendar, with a different Biblical picture and verse for each month, and electric light switch plates for children's rooms, showing the guardian angel, a boy and a girl.

There are several bracelet charms with Christmas themes such as holly and Santa Claus about to go down the chimney, but quite a few have religious themes. Among them are a miniature St. Patrick's Cathedral, a tiny gold church with the Lord's Prayer printed inside, a reproduction of the Virgin Mary and Child, and a Bible with covers that open, revealing the Lord's Prayer.

For readers, there is a set of solid brass book ends in the shape of the Old Rugged Cross. Lamps for the library table have been fashioned with bases decorated with the Last Supper or the Garden of Gethsemane. Another artistic piece is a wall plaque with a sculpture of Albrecht Durer's "Praying Hands."

Among the religious jewelry are sterling silver crusader's crosses, either hanging from a necklace or as earrings, and romance coin, cut in half for sweethearts to wear.

RECORDS, GAMES AVAILABLE

A new kind of identification tag is also available. It is a metal disc bearing a church symbol on one side, and the name of the wearer's religious denomination on the other.

Mass. Man Freed In 'Attack' Case

BOSTON, Mass. (ANP)—Elbert C. Walker was found guilty of rape upon Mrs. Jane Davis, white.

The verdict was reached by a jury composed of 11 white persons and 1 Negro, after a hour's deliberation, in Suffolk County Superior Court.

The alleged attack occurred in July while Mrs. Davis was reportedly "grab bed hrd h rdr r h dragged me into a bedroom."

However, Walker, in counter testimony, admitted relations with the woman, but indicated that it was a necessary agreement. Mrs. Davis reported the "rape" to police six hours after the alleged incident. Mrs. Lisenby verified in testimony the time that police were called. Walker was defended by Attorney Charles H. Lewis, Jr., Presiding Judge was Frank J. Murray. The trial took place in emotionally charged atmosphere.

CONGO FREEDOM DEMAND

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo — (ANP) — Three leading African nationalist groups combined forces and issued a joint memorandum recently demanding immediate independence for the Congo and advocating the establishment of a federal republic.

The program was a fascinating one, consisting of two great standards... a less known work, and a contemporary one. The work of least acquaintance was Francesco Durante's Concerto No. 1 in F minor for string orchestra: Un poco adanta, Adante, Amoroso, Allegro assai.

The two standard publications were the powerful surging, lyric, dramatic Don Juan, Op 20 by Richard Strauss... the first composer to enlarge upon the orchestral poem as a form, created by Franz Liszt... and the Indying Franz symphony of Beethoven: Allegro con brio, Andante con moto, Allegro, Allegro.

SPORTS OF THE WORLD

BY MARION E. JACKSON

The Delta Bowl scheduled for Dec. 26 in New Orleans, La., has been interred in the graveyard of pigskin post-season games, alongside the proposed Flower Bowl, which had been scheduled for the Crescent City, Dec. 12. . . . Florida A&M will play Benedict College in the inaugural Golden Triangle Classic, Oct. 1, 1960, in Tampa, Fla. . . . Ingemar Johansson of Sweden, world heavyweight champion, will be presented the Edward J. Neil trophy as Fighter of the Year, Jan. 14, in New York City. . . .

Alvin Daste, president of the Delta Sports Association, in announcing cancellation of the Delta Bowl, blamed the demise of the promotion on "circumstances beyond our control." Cancellation, according to Daste, was due to inability to secure two of the nation's top Negro teams.

The truth is that the promoters were unable to ante up the huge guarantees demanded by the teams under consideration. Most of the colleges contacted wanted the guarantee deposited in banks in their communities prior to departure for the bowl site.

It seems as though each of the colleges contacted insisted upon this stipulation and the game was thereby doomed.

EYE-OPENER: Florida A&M having witnessed Bethune Cookman abandon Tampa, Fla.'s Phillips Field is returning there with a new promotion in '60. The game has been tabbed the Golden Triangle Classic and will feature Benedict College of Columbia, S. C.

Bethune Cookman College pulled its "Tilt of the Maroon and Gold" out of Tampa, last fall and the door was opened for the Rattlers to set up shop there.

J. R. E. Lee, Jr., founder of the Orange Blossom Classic, and vice president of FAMU, told this writer "the people wanted us to bring a game there, and we're going in there with full endorsement. Florida A&M plans to stage a giant show to mark the premiere game there. There will be on hand, the band, homecoming queens, and administrative backers.

EYE-OPENER: Miles College, Birmingham, Ala., was voted membership in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, Monday, Dec. 14th, during the 46th annual meeting of the circuit at the Morehouse College Physical Education and Health Building. T. J. Knox, athletic director of the Golden Bears, in winning approval of his team, will return SIAC football to Birmingham, Ala., following an absence of more than 20 years.

Miles College once held membership in the SIAC, either during the early thirties or during the stock market crash years of 1928-29. The institution, which is closer to Fairfield, Ala., where San Francisco Giants star Willie Mays attended school, is a city institution, lacking a boarding department. Its problems are remarkably similar to LeMoyne College since the institution has no gymnasium, track or dining and housing facilities.

Nevertheless, the SIAC by an 8-5 vote Monday permitted the Golden Bears to return to the fold.

Miles College virtually backed into the SIAC. It appears as though by agreement many colleges who opposed the Golden Bears, stayed away while the voting was going on. This apparently permitted the winning vote since there were four institutions who abstained from balloting.

It is believed that the minority vote opposing Miles College was the biggest competitors, who believe that the conference isn't strong enough presently and would further be weakened by the admission of the Golden Bears.

Next fall, Miles College will begin a full SIAC football schedule and similarly compete in conference basketball, baseball, track etc. W. A. Bell is president of Miles College and in addition to Coach Knox, assistants are James Pettus and Oscar J. Catlin.

NCWS BEAT: Branch Rickey intrigues hardbitten newsmen with his renowned oratorical skill. During the major league meet at Miami Beach, he came through with some sweeping metaphors.

An example: "I do not have to have a job. Mother (Mrs. Rickey) and I can go along all right. At the moment I amilly white in motivation, I am not accustomed to the emotions of defeat. I never have been — in St. Louis, Brooklyn or Pittsburgh. The Continental League is as inevitable as tomorrow morning."

"The present position of the major league funeral for professional baseball. I do not plan to attend that funeral. The Continental League does not intend to be a pallbearer. If we go down they will write an epitaph that 'They did their best. They died trying' But we have just begun to fight."

Four Veteran Athletic Leaders Honored At SIAC Awards Dinner

Walter H. Aiken, H. W. Crawford, R. L. Peguese and T. A. Wright Honored For Sports Service

Four pioneer athletic directors, each boasting more than a quarter of a century of service to Deep South sports, were honored by the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference at a testimonial dinner, Sunday night at Frazier's Cafe Society.

Dr. Frank Cunningham, president of Morris Brown College, was guest speaker for the awards dinner, which was attended by faculty representatives, athletic directors and coaches. R. G. Matthews, Bethune-Cookman College, served as toastmaster.

Cited were Walter H. Aiken, former Armstrong High School, Atlanta University, Fisk University and Clark coach, Harold W. Crawford, who coached at old Georgia State College, Emmett High School and the South Carolina State topkick; R. L. Peguese, who served as coach and athletic director at various institutions, and Theodore A. Wright, Sr., once mentor at Talladega, Florida A&M, Xavier and presently athletic director and head basketball coach at Savannah State College.

On Monday, Dec. 8, 1958, the SIAC cited Dr. H. C. Trenholm, J. L. Bywaters, John M. Hunt, J. R. E. Lee, Jr., and T. H. Addison, while citing posthumously Cleveland Leigh Abbott, late athletic director and head coach of Tuskegee Institute, and Henderson A. Johnson, former athletic director and head coach, Fisk University.

The honorees cited are a virtual who's who of SIAC sports. Walter H. Aiken, known throughout the sports world as "Chief," is owner of the famous Wbluhaje apartments and has huge real estate holdings in the Atlanta area. A graduate of Hampton Institute, where he played tackle and earned All-American recognition for three seasons, Aiken's coaching career includes Armstrong High School, Washington, D. C.

Atlanta University, Fisk University, Clark College and Camp Jackson during World War I.

H. W. Crawford began his athletic career as a member of the South Carolina A&M College football team from 1921 to 1922. After graduation he coached at the Georgia State Industrial College, now known as Savannah State.

His next coaching stint was at Emmett School High School from 1928 to 1930. At this position he inaugurated football and girls' basketball. In 1932 he returned to South Carolina State as assistant coach. The same year, South Carolina State became a member of the SIAC. He has been associated with athletics 35 years and is presently on the faculty athletic committee and the SIAC Executive Committee.

A DEDICATED LIFE
R. L. Peguese has dedicated his life to young people through athletic programs at various institutions. He has served as a coach and as an athletic director for a great number of years, teaching and shaping the lives of many young people.

Theodore A. Wright, Sr., a native of Baldwin, Kans., and Kansas University, where he was a standout athlete. He has coached at Talladega, Florida A&M, Xavier University, and is now employed at Savannah State College. He has also worked at Western University, Kans., and Lincoln High School, Kansas City, winning numerous professional accolades and championships.

MBC Purple Wolverines Batter M'house Maroon Tigers, 81-59

ATLANTA, Ga.—(SNS)—The Morris Brown Purple Wolverines whipped the Morehouse College Maroon Tigers 81-59 Friday night at the Morehouse Health and Physical Education Building, to register their fifth visitation win-in-a-row.

The lead changed five times as the neighborhood rivals resumed their old feud on the hardwood. Then after the score was knotted 5-5, the Purple Wolverines, who dropped both of their visitation games to the Maroon Tigers last year, 79-69 and 69-63, pulled away for an 11-6 margin in the first five minutes of play with Erwin Ross, Jimmy Ross, Robert Barnett, and James Scott doing most of the scoring.

Osborn Generette, Ike Parker and Marvin Thomas found the target as the Maroon Tigers spurred, but were unable to overcome the consistent firing of Oscar Wimberly Barnett, Ross, Scott and Wright. Morris Brown held a commanding 18-point spread (36-18) spread with 5:00 left in the first half.

MAROON TIGERS REDUCE MARGIN
Thomas and Parker started drilling-in shots late in the first stanza to reduce the margin to 38-28 at intermission.

Parker and Earle Harris combined their efforts to shave the lead to a mere seven points (39-32) early in the second half, then the Purple Wolverines started easing away again.

Morris Brown was out front 67-46 mid-way the second half, and after jumping to a 67-51 count at the five-minute mark, went on to win with ease.

Morris Brown's Erwin Ross, ex-Price High shotmaker, and Morehouse's Marvin Thomas, product of Sumner High, St. Louis, bucketed 21 points each to share scoring laurels. The rival centers, James Scott, of Morris Brown, and Ike Parker, of Morehouse, shared runner-up honors with 17 points apiece.

CIAA Maps '60 Cage Tourney

GREENSBORO, N. C.—Plans for the 15th annual CIAA Basketball Tournament to be held here at the Greensboro War Memorial Coliseum, February 25-27, were reviewed last Sunday, December 6, by the Tournament Committee.

The group, headed by L. D. Smith, chairman, Richmond, Va., worked out preliminary details for the event and set a series of meetings to be held in Greensboro in January and February.

Following the morning session at A&T College, the visitors were welcomed to the city by Mayor George H. Roach and were conducted on a tour of the Coliseum by Robert Kent, the director.

Ellis F. Corbett, A&T public relations director, was appointed as chairman of the tournament advisory public relations committee. Smith said Corbett would be involved with publicity and promotion at all levels. He will have the cooperation of the CIAA News Service, conference service agency.

Among the committee members attending the day-long meet, in addition to Smith and Ray were: William M. Bell, athletic director at A&T; Floyd H. Brown, Durham, secretary; Joseph H. Thompson, St. Paul's College, Lawrenceville, Va.; and F. G. Burnette, conference basketball commissioner.

Humes Tops Scorers With 27 Points And Asberry Hits For 24

Trailing 13 points (48-35) early in the second half, the Morehouse Tigers started climbing on four quick baskets by George Bell, Earle Harris, Marvin Thomas, and Ike Parker, who reduced the deficit to a mere five points (48-43).

Randolph Flakes drilled-in a double-decker as the Bulldogs tried to pull away. Thomas closed the gap to 50-47, then Parker, taking passes from his mates started firing from close-range to put Morehouse in command 51-50 with 12:03 left on the big electric clock.

The Maroon Tigers continued to "feed" Parker as Morehouse pulled away for a 58-53 count. Thomas, Parker and Bell matched Robert Asberry, John Humes and Flakes basket-for-basket and Morehouse was still on top, 69-61 with four minutes left to play.

Asberry and John Humes collaborated to wipe-out Morehouse's eight-point lead and the Maroon Tigers had a slender one-point (70-69) margin with 30 seconds left to play. Parker then wrapped-it-up with a charity toss and a field goal.

It was a nip-and-tuck battle in the early stages, the Bulldogs moved out front, with Asberry and Humes ripping the strings both from long-range and from underneath, and Morehouse was behind 42-33 at half-time.

John Humes captured scoring laurels with 27 points and fast-roving Robert Asberry finished in No. 2 spot with 24. Ike Parker, with 21 points, 18 scored in the second half, was high for Morehouse and Marvin Thomas was four points back with 17.

Final Rite Held For Mrs. Velia J. Wiggins

The mortal remains of Mrs. Velia Jones Wiggins, 935 S. Lauderdale St., was put to rest in Elmwood Cemetery Sunday afternoon following rites at Pentecostal Church of God in Christ at which the pastor, Bishop J. O. Patterson, officiated. He was assisted by Rev. O. C. Crivens, pastor of St. Stephens Baptist Church.

sisters, Mrs. Estelle J. Campbell and Mrs. Etta Drake; a brother, Aaron P. Jones; niece, Mrs. Bernia Mae Gaston and Mrs. Lillian P. Campbell and a nephew, Floyd Campbell.

MRS. VELIA J. WIGGINS

Mrs. Wiggins who had been in the Memphis City School system about 45 years before her retirement during the summer of 1958, died in Crump Hospital last Wednesday night after being hospitalized one week. However, she had been in ill health about a year, which forced her to retire as Principal of Kansas Street School, a position she held about 10 years. Before the school was demolished it was known as the Virginia Avenue School.

Before becoming principal at Kansas Street School, Mrs. Wiggins had taught at Porter School many years. She also taught about 13 years at LaRose School after graduating from LeMoine Normal. She received her bachelors of science degree from LeMoine College. She received her masters degree from Tennessee State A&I University. She also did post graduate work at Fisk University and Chicago University.

Mrs. Wiggins, also noted for her religious and community work over a span of years, came from a family of public school teachers. Her late father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Jones, Sr. were teachers. Mr. Jones was a principal at Cester School in Whitehaven, where Mrs. Wiggins was born. Two sisters, Mrs. Estelle Campbell and Mrs. Etta Drake taught in the city school system until their retirement. A brother, Aaron Jones, Jr. is principal of Wells School; and a nephew, Floyd Campbell is principal of Melrose High School.

Mrs. Wiggins was an active member in St. Stephens Baptist Church many years before becoming affiliated with Pentecostal Church. She was a charter member of Omicron Sigma Chapter of Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority; a member of the Noonday Revellers and Elite Club. She was also president of the LeMoine College alumni association years ago.

Tennessee State Defeats Southern Illinois, 85-67

NASHVILLE — A tall talented Tennessee State five outran Southern Illinois five 85-67 as neophyte coach, Harold Hunter, unleashed the three-in-a-row NAIA championship Saturday, Dec. 12 for the first time Saturday night for the first time this season.

A preview of the 8-team-3-day South-Central tip-off tourney here Dec. 17, 18, 19. A near-capacity (400) crowd chanted rhythmic encouragement as the Hunter-Coached Tiger-Edition overcame Illinois' early minute lead to win their fourth straight season's win.

Opening on the road, the big Blues added Eastern Illinois and Anderson College to their list of early-season victims last week. Last Tuesday night the tall Tennessee's nipped Eastern 80-78 in Charleston, romped over Anderson 5-62 at Anderson, Ind. last Thursday an extended their string to 16 wins in downing Southern's Saluki.

ing-in shots late in the first stanza to reduce the margin to 38-28 at intermission.

Parker and Earle Harris combined their efforts to shave the lead to a mere seven points (39-32) early in the second half, then the Purple Wolverines started easing away again.

Morris Brown was out front 67-46 mid-way the second half, and after jumping to a 67-51 count at the five-minute mark, went on to win with ease.

Morris Brown's Erwin Ross, ex-Price High shotmaker, and Morehouse's Marvin Thomas, product of Sumner High, St. Louis, bucketed 21 points each to share scoring laurels. The rival centers, James Scott, of Morris Brown, and Ike Parker, of Morehouse, shared runner-up honors with 17 points apiece.

CIAA Studies Awarding Two Championships

GREENSBORO, N. C. (NNPA)—The 18-member Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association will consider the feasibility of awarding two championships in the future, the conference president, Dean Thomas H. Henderson of Virginia Union University, announced Friday.

The announcement followed a meeting of the presidents of seven member colleges and six officers of the CIAA at Virginia State College on Dec. 8 to map recommendations for the consideration of the Council of CIAA presidents and the CIAA at its annual meeting in March.

It was decided to avoid confusion by holding until later the tentative recommendations of the conference, the announcement said adding: "Primarily, consideration was given to proposals relating to scheduling, aid to athletes, and coordinating the various functions of the CIAA.

"The 13 persons present, representing 10 of the 18 member schools were unanimous in agreeing that the CIAA should not be split into two conferences, but they would consider the feasibility of awarding two championships in the future."

TOM MBOYA WINS FINE APPEAL
NAIROBI, Kenya — (ANP) — The local supreme court moved last week in favor of Tom Mboya, African nationalist leader and elected member, Kenya Legislative council, against a lower court's fine of $200, levied against Mboya last Oct. 20 in order to prevent his taking part in what officials charged an "unlawful assembly." Although the high court held it was likely that Mboya would have participated, the order was issued after the advertised time of the so-called "unlawful assembly" had passed.

Second Annual Chickasaw Invitational Tourney

4 College Basketball Teams To Compete Here

The second annual Chickasaw Invitational Basketball Tourney will be held Friday and Saturday at the Hamilton High School gym.

Three conferences will be represented by the competing teams, with one conference champion, and a conference co-champion.

Teams taking part in the tournament are Dillard University of New Orleans, co-champions of the Gulf Coast Conference; Mississippi Vocational College, Itta Bena, Miss., champions of the South Central Conference; LeMoyné College, one of the contending teams in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference; and Rust College, Holly Springs, Miss., runner-up in the Gulf Coast Conference.

Pairing for the first round of play will be made Friday morning with the first game scheduled for 7:30. The winners in Friday's games will compete for the championship Saturday night. A large crowd is expected to be on hand each night as all the competing teams are among the top teams in their respective conferences.

Along The Sports Trail

BY SAM BROWN

Some good basketball is in store of the fans who will witness the second annual Chickasaw Invitational Basketball Tournament Friday and Saturday nights at the Hamilton High School gym.

Four of the top teams in the Mid-South will participate in the tourney at Dillard University, Mississippi Vocational College, Rust College and LeMoyné College. All have been playing good ball thus far during the season, and will go all out to capture the tournament title.

Perhaps, the team to beat will be the Mississippi Vocational College Delta Devils under the guiding genius of coach Paul (Ace) Collins. Coach Collins boys have been piling up some huge scores in recent games and bring to the tourney a strong team.

Dillard has a good team which was able to finish as co-champions of the Gulf Coast Conference last season. The team has height and some of the most accurate shooters in the conference. They play the fast break and a good defense.

The Rust College Bear Cats finished as runner-ups last season in the Gulf Coast Conference, and have been going great in games this season. With seemingly renewed interest in the athletic program, Rust will continue to place emphasis on all sports.

LeMoyné College, on the strength of games played so far this season is headed for a successful season in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. Coach Jerry Johnson has assembled a team of outstanding college players who have been showing improvement in each game. Basketball fans are in for a treat in the Chickasaw Invitational Tournament.

The LeMoyné fourth annual Holiday Basketball High School Tournament will be held December 28 through 30 at the Bruce gym, according to announcement recently made.

Eleven city and county high schools teams will compete in the tourney. Among the city schools are Bertrand, Carver, Douglass, Hamilton, Lester, Manassas Meirose and Booker Washington. The county schools include Geeter Woodstock and Lauderdale County Training School at Ripley.

The tourney will start Saturday, with all games being played at night. In the past, some games had to be played in the day, but with the four nights, the day games will be eliminated.

The high school boys in the past have always given the fans a good exhibition of prep school basketball. Several coaches from colleges in the surrounding territory come in for a looksee at these budding prospective college players.

In some instances the tournament has served as an opportunity for some of the former LeMoyné Greats of athletics to have a reunion. It is recalled that last year, many of the former players who won fame as football players during the heyday of LeMoyné as a football power, were on hand for the finals. A good time was had by all. The tourney this year should prove just as entertaining and enjoyable.

Club Crowns Queen At Pre-Christmas Dinner, Program

The Gnosis Gilt Club, Inc. held its annual pre-Christmas dinner in the dining room of Mt. Olive C.M.E. Cathedral last Sunday. The dining room was beautifully decorated in a Christmas motif.

Immediately after the turkey dinner was served, the club's queen, Mrs. Cornelia Kelly, was crowned by Mrs. Una James, program chairman. Also present was the runner-up for queen, Mrs. Susie Hood. Samuel D. James, 14 called the Baby of club, made movies of the entire affair.

Gifts, piled high around a beautifully decorated Christmas tree, were exchanged by club members.

Among guests attending the affair were: Rev. Henry C. Bunton, pastor of the church; Rev. P. Gonyea Hentzell, Rev. C. H. Kelley, C. F. Williams and John Brown, Mrs. Elizabeth Woods, president of the club, wished a "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year" to the members and guests.

"Each Gets Gift Of Choice" Says Alpha Gamma Chi

Members of Alpha Gamma Chi Sorority met at the Vance Avenue YWCA Tuesday evening to wrap gifts for each child at the Good Will Homes. Not only were the gifts wrapped in beautiful paper with Christmas decoration, but each child obtained the gift of his choice.

Mrs. Thelma Davidson, chairman of the project, went to the Good Will home and learned the desire of each child while she was playing Santa Claus.

Also participating in the project were the following members of the sorority: Miss Maggie Newsom, Mrs. Minnie Lee Allen, Mrs. Lena Reams, Mrs. Lydia Robinson, Mrs. Halle Kanady, Mrs. Lucille Price, Mrs. Jimmie Smith, Mrs. Ann Parker, Mrs. Dorothy Small, Mrs. Margaret Clay, Mrs. Janie Arnold, Mrs. Frankelle Wand, Miss Willa Monroe and Mrs. Elizabeth J. Virse.

CO-ETTES TO GIVE CHARITY BALL — The Memphis chapter of Co-Ette Club, Inc., will give its first "Charity Ball" Wednesday night, Dec. 30 in the New Commons of LeMoyné College. Shown talking with Dr. Hollis F. Price, president of LeMoyné, about the affair are Lynn Howell, president of the Co-Ettes (left) and Sylvia Williams, chairman of the organization's board of directors. The dance will benefit United Negro College Fund drive here.

Coettes Set To Give Charity Ball Dec. 30

The Memphis Chapter of the Co-Ette Club, Inc., will give its first charity ball Wednesday night, Dec. 30, in the LeMoyné College Commons.

The event will benefit the United Negro College Fund. The ball, which will start at 8 p.m. and end at midnight, will be semi-formal. The girls will wear long or short formal and the boys will wear dark blue suits or tuxedos. Johnny London and his orchestra will provide the music. Theme of the ball will be "White Fantasy."

"Miss Co-Ette" will be crowned at the affair. Contestants for "Miss Co-Ette" are Jana Davis, Geraldine Gray, Eleanor Fay Williams, Marilyn Harris and Annie Ruth Phillips.

SPECIAL RECOGNITION

Special recognition will be given the honorary "Co-Ettes", several young ladies who have graduated from high school. Honorary "Co-Ettes" are Miss Carol Ann Latting, first president of the Memphis chapter, who is now a student at University of Southern Illinois; Crystal Strong, who attends the University of Buffalo; Danese Hancock, a student at Xavier University; and Rosemarie Whalum, a Spellman College student, Jean Latting, an associate member of the organization, will also be home.

Hamilton Invitational Will Be Home Week For MVC Five

ITTA BENA, Miss. (Special) — The Hamilton Invitational Basketball Tournament which unfolds Dec. 18-19 at Memphis' Hamilton High School will be something of "home week" for the Mississippi Vocational College Delta Devils.

The MVC eagles, flush with an important win over powerful Southern University and wins in the Arkansas State College Tournament, will bring a 14 man squad to Memphis that boast of eight Tennesseans, including four former Memphis prep stars.

The tournament also will be "home week" for MVC mentor Paul Collins who formerly was head coach at Owen College and president of the Bluff City Officials Association.

The four Memphians on the squad, Lloyd Williams, James Graham, Arthur Lawshe and Frank Boyland will probably be in the starting five for the MVC combo with Clyde Corbett, the southpaw guard sensation from Bruce, Mississippi rounding out the starters.

Other Tennesseans on the Delta Devil hardwood squad are Robert Sheehy, team captain from Galatin, Mayo Milon and George Petrus from Clarksville and Charles Smith of Millington.

a Dog's Life

HOW SHOW DOGS WORK

By Bob Bartos
Manager, Friskies Research Kennels

If you never have attended a dog show, why not try one this summer? Pack a picnic lunch and make a day of it. The whole family will find it fun. To help you understand what's going on in the ring, here's a basic outline of how dog shows work.

There are five preliminary classes for each breed, with males and females judged separately.

These classes are: 1) The Puppy Class for dogs six months old to a year; 2) The Novice Class for dogs that have never won a first prize at any show; 3) Bred-by-Exhibitor Class for all dogs over six months old, bred by the person showing the dog; 4) The American-bred Class for all dogs six months and over, born in the U.S.A.; 5) The Open Class for any dog over six months old. The winning males from each of the above classes compete against each other for "Winners Dog" and the females, do likewise.

It's at this stage of the game that dogs pick up points towards their championship. "Winners Dog" and "Winners Bitch" vie for "Best of Winners" award. The "Best of Winners" then competes against the "Specials Only" class, which is reserved for dogs that are already champions. It is from this group that the judge picks "Best of Breed" or "Best of Variety". Every dog that gets a "Best of Breed" or "Variety" win now competes against the other "Best of Breed" or "Variety" winners in his particular group. There are six such groups: Sporting Group, Hound Group, Working Group, Terrier Group, Toy Group and the Non-Sporting Group. The winner of each of these six groups is then brought into the ring and one is judged "Best Dog in Show".

Feeding Tip: You'll find that the majority of show dogs are fed a top grade of commercially prepared dog food such as Fris.

Atlanta And Little Rock

(From The Christian Science Monitor)

Neither the experience of Virginia nor of Arkansas with school desegregation is really applicable in the Deep South. There appear to be parallels and useful examples which spur hopes for less painful adjustments. But these are largely based on wishful thinking without adequate knowledge of states such as Georgia, Alabama, and Mississippi.

For instance, there is little evidence that the breakdown of "massive resistance" in Virginia will prevent widespread and possibly prolonged school closings farther south.

There appears to be a parallel between the clash of Governor Vandiver of Georgia with the Atlanta Board of Education and Governor Faubus' battle with the Little Rock School Board. Mr. Vandiver has rejected a plan the board, under court order, proposed for gradual desegregation of Atlanta schools. And in Atlanta as in Little Rock there is visible moderate sentiment.

But there is not in Georgia, as there was in Arkansas, any history of desegregation. And segregationist feeling appears to be much stronger there. The Georgia Legislature has ordered the withdrawal of state funds from any public school admitting Negroes. It even penalizes any school from which they transfer.

Atlanta's pupil assignment plan apparently is designed to cushion pressures from federal courts. For to prove that it is being used to maintain segregation may be difficult. If used to permit even token desegregation, schools will be closed. All this must be frustrating to those who expected simple legal solutions. But it should underscore the necessity for combining persuasion with law where deep-rooted customs are involved.

Judge Hooper Gives The People And The Legislature Time To Act

(From The Atlanta Daily World)

In a recent hearing on the proposed Atlanta pupil placement arrangement, Federal Judge Frank A. Hooper in clear language of positiveness laid the question squarely in the lap of the creators of the system, the legislature. In that, the issue is no longer a confinement to the Atlanta Board of Education, but a grave concern for the whole state.

Judge Hooper in his text of non-evasive catches and legal phrases that only lawyers could interpret, rose to the level of that judicial statesmanship already accorded him by stating that for him to make any other decision would be begging the question.

In this same category, he said: "The time is going to come, and how soon I do not know, and this court itself will be forced to say, that old practices cannot continue. . . ."

In further proof that the question, through the prayer of Negro parents at bar, becomes one for the state, the judge said: "If the legislature did not allow the Atlanta School System to go through with this plan and if the court said the Atlanta System must integrate as the Supreme Court and all the Appellate Courts would order this court to say eventually that you must integrate regardless of what the Georgia law says and if the Atlanta Board then integrated as ordered by the court, it is contended that under Georgia laws as they now stand, the Atlanta School System would close up."

"I felt it was the duty of this court to give the people of Georgia an opportunity to decide what they are going to do under all the facts and circumstances," stated the judge.

All in all, the Public School System is a creation of the people through their duly elected representatives in the legislature. The system can be destroyed through the same media. Judge Hooper has plainly stated the case, placing the responsibility of public education squarely at the door of its creators; from that point the question for the whole state will be resolved - from a common denominator - to comply - or not to comply.

That there be no misgivings, the Judge has boldly stated - that it was not the duty of the court to keep the schools open, but to integrate them.

Since the question of the whole state comes into the picture, of public education, it remains to be seen if the people will through their representatives elect to strengthen the System or, destroy it entirely.

Verily, there can be no misgivings that the System of education is on trial, with that dangerous symptom hanging on every doorstep in Georgia. The people are in the throes of their last hour to meet this challenge through their legal representatives, members of the legislature.

Make known your wishes to those chosen to represent you and who will be called upon to say whether your state will comply with the mandate of the Supreme Court or close the schools.

The Booker T. Washington Chapter of the HI-Y will present its annual Christmas program. The program is an annual affair of the HI-Y boys in which they give Christmas baskets to needy families. The HI-Y boys and advisor thank all home room classes for their wonderful baskets.

The program was held Friday morning in the Blair T. Hunt gymnasium. Samuel Perkins is president of the HI-Y. Roy Cheatham is secretary and Mr. Ray Thomas is the advisor.

JOHN BALLENTINE - THE WARRIORS MISSED HIM A LOT
In the fall of this year the Booker T. Washington Warriors lost one of their best players during football practice. His name is John Ballentine. He is a senior and is one of the outstanding personalities on the campus.

When interviewing Ballentine, I found that he is very devoted to the game of football. After he has completely recovered, he plans to continue his efforts in the sport.

He plans to start spring training with the Warriors to keep him in shape for college football. After college he plans to become a professional grid player.

Ballentine is a member of Greater Open Door Church where he serves as Assistant secretary of the Sunday School. He is a member of the junior choir.

PORTER JUNIOR HIGH

BY DELOISE DRIVER
SPOTLIGHT:
This week the spotlight falls on Miss Carrie Evans.

Miss Evans has a beautiful personality and is liked by both teachers and students. She is a "straight A" student and has maintained this average for the first and second six weeks.

Miss Evans is the president of the Science Club and vice-president of the 9-3A class. Recently, she won first prize in the Science Fair and second prize in the Junior Academy of Science regional division.

A special congratulatory division is extended to this brilliant and lovable student.

SPORTS
We have a completely new basketball team, and its possibilities are great. Coach Williams stated if we get through the first part of the season with a few wins, "I think the ending of the season will be great. We are counting on certain fellows to carry the team, and if we can get them to come through, we're champions again."

Our football team had a banquet sponsored by the principal, Mr. A. B. Owens, Jr. All of the freshmen team members were present as was the football queen, Miss Gloria Nolen and the princess, Miss Vesta Webb.

The fellows were encouraged to continue their athletic endeavors through his school. The team have three cheer Mrs. M. A. Williams and her home economics students who acted as hostesses at the banquet. Coach Williams said, "Everything was fine - especially the chicken."

British Navy
The Des Moines in Athens Tuesday after his thunderous reception by the Greeks, slept for 10 hours and then, refreshed, worked in the flag cabin on his State of the Union message to congress.

Watches From Bridge
Eisenhower watched from the flag bridge of the Des Moines, while the 10,000-ton Tiger, Britain's most modern cruiser, rendered passing honors to Eisenhower and his imposing Sixth Fleet column.

The Tiger is the flagship of Adm. Bingley, commander of the British Mediterranean fleet and commander-in-chief of the NATO forces in the Mediterranean.

As the British cruiser passed some 600 yards to the Des Moines' starboard, the 21-gun salute boomed out and the band on the stern of the Tiger played "The Star Spangled Banner." The U. S. vessel's band returned the favor with "God Save the Queen."

Bingley's message to Eisenhower relayed "all good wishes from the Allied Mediterranean fleet and all British forces, Mediterranean," and wished the President a "Happy Christmas."

The Des Moines flashed back this reply from Eisenhower: "Thank you for your courtesy. My compliments and good wishes to you and the officers and men of your command."

CHAPTER 22
He rode the crest of the ridge away from the point before turning into a timbered pocket where a curdled dusk already lay thick, and where a small trickle of spring water broke narrowly from a rocky face and spilled into a fern-lined pool.

Here, earlier in the afternoon, Frank had set up camp, spreading his blankets and hanging his sack of food from a limb.

Now he unsaddled, watered and picketed his horse. Afer which he built a small fire, cooked and ate a frugal meal, then sat smoking by the dwindling fire while the night turned deep dark and the wind growed chill.

That night, out at Double Diamond headquarters, Jonas Dalmar listened to reports from two of his men, Sage Wingo and Wiley Goss.

"Frank didn't go back to town," Wingo stated. "Last anybody saw of him there was when he got his horse and headed for home this morning. When Bob Custer brought in the Oakdale stage I asked him if he'd seen Frank along the road, and he hadn't. So, if Frank's skipped the country he didn't take the stage road out."

"Skipped the country?" exploded Dalmar harshly. "Where in hell did you get that idea? Of course he didn't skip the country. Why should he? No, he's just off sulking somewhere."

Dalmar turned to Wiley Goss, fixing him with hard, black gaze. "Well?"

Goss shrugged. "No better luck here than Sage had. All I saw around Big Five was that Mexican handy man, Tony Diaz, chopping wood, and his wife, who cooks and keeps house there, hanging out some washing."

"No sign of Asbell?"

"How about the Vincent girl - you see anything of her?"

"She's at Running M."

"And nothing of Frank anywhere?"

"Not hide nor hair," affirmed Goss.

Bardo Sampson, listening in on it all, spoke up.

"Use your head, Jonas. Would Frank have taken blankets and grub with him if he'd figured on hiding out at some ranch? Of course not. I tell you, Frank's in the hills somewhere."

"Why would he go into the Saddlebacks?" Dalmar argued. "What's in them for him?"

"For one thing, a lot of places where he could find water and so set up a decent camp. But why all the fuss and feathers? Weren't you the one who said he'd be back when he got tired of sleeping on the ground? So back to his horse."

ing his schools," he said. "Massive resistance has crumbled in Bell-weather Virginia; former Gov. Ar-nall of Georgia has announced that unless the schools of his state are kept open - segregated or not - he will seek election on that platform in 1962."

"Alabama and Mississippi will soon be alone in futile defiance of the irresistible tide."

Those states, said Malin, are now "conspicuous, though by no means alone, in the outreach to awaken state and local bar-associations; the refusal of white law-yers to represent Negroes in even due-process or free-speech cases."

EXPRESSES CAUTIOUS OPTIMISM
Malin expressed cautious optimism concerning the outlook for civil liberties generally.

"Civil liberties can never be permanently 'out of the woods' but over ways to strengthen NATO. Technically Eisenhower will be on American territory for the next two days aboard ship.

It was the only part of his tour by water, from Washington, Rome, Ankara, Turkey, Karachi, Pakistan, Afghanistan, Ildia, Iran and Athens, the President has flown by jetliner.

They are a lot better off than they were in 1954, when the ACLU was approaching its 35th birthday," he said.

venile court by flamen.

The first four children were re-leased from a middle room. And when a neighbor pointed that 7-month-old baby was still in the house, Hoxea Alexander, head foot-ball coach for Booker T. Washing-ton, dashed back in the house and found the baby in a bed which was on fire.

Among other teachers who helped in the rescue were:

citizens "are in no mood to give comfort to a system which cheats children of education for life, robs parents of employment and other economic opportunity and which murders their brothers."

He also called upon the federal government to take action protect-ing Negroes' rights.

Speaking at a meeting of the Kansas City branch of the NAACP, Wilkins called for 1960 platform pledges from major parties and nominees that will mean it plan to Negroes "that the dead and hate-ful hand of the humiliating past is not still blocking their march."

"all enlistments, warrants, commis-sions, promotions, assignments and the organization of units and com-mands shall be without regard to race or color."

It declares that "the integration policy adopted for the control of the State military forces shall not be a passive policy, but shall be positive, direct, complete and an effective policy to be administered by every unit commander concerned."

The directive calls for quarterly reports on compliance.

added that it "would be 'sedition-ous, if not treasonous for the members of our present school board to again take oath of office for another term, swearing before Almighty God to perform their duties as members of the Board in conform-ance with the 'laws of the land,' without having sincere and honest plans to desegregate our public schools' immediately."

AWARE OF DUTIES
"The members of the Board of Education are deeply conscious of their responsibilities in regard to the school system of the City of Memphis," Armstrong told Dr Smith. "When on January 5, 1960, we again take our oath as members of that Board, I can assure you that it will be with a sincere intention of fulfilling those respon-sibilities as our best judgement in-dicates. We are aware that it is to us that the determination of the policies under which our school system is to operate has been en-trusted by the citizens of Mem-phis as a whole, with legal and reasonable limitations, and we are likewise aware of the complexity of the legal and practical consid-erations involved. We propose to carry out this mandate by carefully studying and analyzing these con-siderations, and adopting the course which ultimately in our judgement appears most beneficial to the community as a whole based upon that study and analysis."

President Armstrong's letter did not include mention of the United States Supreme Court school de-segregation decision, and was in-terpreted by some to mean that the school board will initiate de-segregation of schools only by operation of a federal court man-date.

The NAACP leaders said they preferred to ask the school board to come up with a desegregation plan rather than take the matter directly to court.

Negro.

Dr. Ward said that in Chicago there are now more Negro members in interracial Methodist churches than were all-white churches five years ago than are in the 13 Chi-cago churches of Methodism's Cen-tral (Negro) Jurisdiction. This in-cludes one Central Jurisdiction church that has a recorded mem-bership of more than 4,500.

Negro Seen Vital

"Such a change would make race relations compatible with democ-ratic and Christian doctrines. The elimination of race as a sta-tus category is the South's great-est potential weapon against the spread of the idea of Commun-ism."

The speaker continued: "The South's potential for na-tional and world leadership is in-trinsically interwoven into the realization that peace cannot be certain until all men in this coun-try have obtained first-class citi-zenship without regard to race, creed or color. . . . In order to elevate individual merit and worth to a lofty position in our hierarchy of values, in order to properly recognize the dignity of the human personality, the first essential step that must be taken by the South is to completely eradicate all legal barriers that prescribe racial in-teraction. To proclaim that legal segregation cannot be removed un-less sufficiently educated or oriented for change represents a gross mis-undertstanding of the process of social change. The gradualism of education in race relations requires the millennium and this is more time than the march of world events will allow the Western Na-tions in the struggle against Com-munism."

Dr. Cochran also said that "southern archaic stereotyped conceptions of Negroes must be modified through democratic inter-racial relations." He declared fur-ther that the South and the na-tion must change their concept of education.

"We have failed to teach mil-lions of Americans to reason and to think rationally in the face of emotionally charged racial appeals of the grass politician, demagogue and the crass opportunist," the speaker admitted. "We have failed to impress upon the minds of mil-lions of Americans the priority of American citizenship over a nebulous racial identity. . . . We must educate for integration which requires the ability to accept a per-son on the basis of individual worth. We must educate our chil-dren to face conflict situations without panicking or resorting to violence, for conflict is inevitable in a changing society."

The South's potential for na-tional and world leadership can be facilitated by freeing the lines of communication between indi-viduals of the two races," Dr. Cochran advised in conclusion.

Dr. John Reid, also an Atlanta University professor and member of the Hungry Club Committee, was moderator of the forum ses-sion.
