Little Rock Desegregates 3 Hotels, Lunch Counters

LITTLE ROCK, Ask. - Public facilities in some hotels, a bowling alley, and several lunch counters have desegregated peacefully here, William Hansen, field secretary for the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, said this week.

Integration of facilities in the following places occured on Jan. 2: lunch counters in Woolsworth's, McClellan's, and Walgreen's Drug stores; a tearoom in Blass Department Store; Midway Bowling Alley, and the Marion, Grady-Manning and Lafayette hotels.

By a prior agreement, news of the desegregation was not released until Jan. 24, though an article appeared in a Pine Bluff, Ark. newspaper on Jan. 20.

Hansen reported that Little Rock facilities were integrated with only one incident: members of the Little Rock White Citizens Council picketed for three days in front of Blass Department Store with signs reading, "These Jews serve niggers," and "Gus Blass Company serves niggers out of the same plates as whites."

Picketing stopped, Hansen said, because most whites continued to patronize the store. He said many whites were quoted saying they would eat in the department store just because the White Citizens Council was picketing there.

Hansen, 23, a white student from Cincinnati, Ohlo, to Little Rock in November and was instrumental in organ this city's first massive desegregation effort since schools I grated in 1957. After Hansen and Worth Long, a SNCC es tive committee member and leader of Philander Smith lege's Student Freedom Movement, were arrested sitting-in at Walgreen's on Nov. 28, students staged protect march downtown Little Rock.

Survey Reveals Few Negroes In State Jobs

NASHVILLE, Tenn. - Negro use in jobs afforded by agencies of the Tennessee State Government was found, in a study released this week, to exhibit a pattern of low and restrictive employment, and it indicated that while Negroes comprised 16.5 percent of the state population, they held only 7.1 perent of the available state jobs.

Though not suggesting a Negro job quota based on population, the study indicated that this can be used as a standard in accessing the degree of job opportunity.

OAKWOOD CONVALESCENT OPENED FORMALLY

Many Memphians went to the new Canvalescent Center's "Open House" Sunday between the hours of 2 and 7 to see the newlycompleted center built by a group of alert Memphians to care for the convalescing, the old aged and chronically ill patients of the Tri-State area. Patients will be admitted to the Center on the order of any practising physician.

The place is truly a beautiful one staffed by skilled and experienced nurses, with Mrs. Ruby Hines, R.N. as administrator. Rooms are equipped with modern hospital beds and the very finest accessories - yet one gets almost individual treatment

There is a dramatic quality about the view from the foyer, for the sweep of the Admitting Office, a Dining area, and a Nurses Station, wheat accent by cornflower blue is revealed. There are touches. too, of turquoise, yellow and other pale colors in the floors, the draperies, bed spreads and in the walls to the rooms (all equipped with an Inter-com system and every other modern convenience). Patient's rooms overlook the back grounds through sliding glass windows Sofas and chairs in the front are of naugahyde - and the floors gleam with the outside reflection, pointing up the varied-colored blocks. The areas are separated by brick planters that grow luxuriantly under a ceiling light that also serves as a night light, since it burns continuously. Companion pieces, flanking the ultra-contemporary rooms, take the eye imnediately upon entering the building. Maple dining room furpishings are contrasted with turuoise-and contemporary chandeiers are repeated as are oversized aminated trays, Several plaques ang over pieces of furnishingsnd throughout the elaborately lanned building, is played the moern key to simplicity with bold acent-a place that's at once livable nd loveable, for its comfort and s beauty-and is sure to become popular addition to the Memphis

There we were greeted at the ntrance by Mrs. Ruby Hines, R.N., nd the Center's Administrator and ner spouse.Mr. Paul Hines. Also on hand to greet friends who came were Dr. and Mrs. Leland Atkins who were there when we arrived from the Press-Dr. and Mrs. Stan-Ish (he president of the center) Dr. and Mrs. Alfonzo Saville and Bishop and Mrs. J. O. Patterson, Jr., of the Pentecostal Church of God In Christ-under whom the clinic will be operated—even though any physician may take his patients to Oakwood ledical Center.

Others receiving were Mrs, Virginia Washington and Miss Carrie Isom, Head Nurses Vivian Ford, Bookkeeper and Mr. Ford - Mr. Terrell Aytchan, Mrs. Shirley Fstridge and Miss Jessie Jamerson, all Nurses Aides.

Mr. "Bill" Nabors was around with his Coke Bar-Pouring Cokes was pretty Miss "Ricki" McGraw -Of course, Mrs. Mildred Riley was there with Pet Milk and Mrs. | Sylvia Hoffman served coffee at the entrance for Carnation.

Flowers and telegrams came all evening in spite of the iced streets -and so did many friends and interested citizens go to see the dream that has come true for Memphians. Among those noticed were Mr.

J. A. Beauchamp from the Memphis World-Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shelton. Mrs. Johns Ella Partee, Mr. Sam-Mrs. Lenise Hawkins, Mr. William F. D. A New Image For A New South Carolina

President and a top judicial figure and later United States nator, and the late Senator Benjamin Ryan Tillman (old Pitchark), one time United States Senator, had a laudable opportuny to lend their state a better climate. The prestige of South Caroina needed the best that these two men had and its people coked to them for inspiration and guidance while they fanned the fires of racial prejudice.

South Carolina itself had a powerful and enviable opportunity. It is a veritable beauty in landscape and scenery. The climate is a kin to the tropical regions of Florida and California. Its tall paknetto trees which sometimes suggest the term, the palmetto state, are known around the country for their tropical beauty and nostalgic glow.

Farmer Governor Hollings, who belongs to a later school of South Carolinians, put in one of his farewell addresses something the this "If integration is not the law of the land, it is the fact

Dr. Nabrit took the position that there is a definite trend now toward "equality of treatment and full citizenship for the Negro." However, he said:

"Three fundamental factors in our society are still heavily weighted against the Negro education, housing and employment." And he added: "Millions of Negroes are yet ill-housed, ill-clad, ill-fed, underpaid, denied jobs altogether, and ill-educated or trained.'

Gradualism, he maintained, is no solution to the problems of the Negro, and he deplored the fact that "many whites are actively working to nullify the Fmancipation Proclamation itself."

We would think it strange if we did not understand Jesus' intention. Jesus did not want the people to accept him as a miracle worker. He wanted them to see that the wonders were only testimontes to God's coming Kingdom. The miracles always point beyond themselves. Just as the parables reveal the Kingdom by hearing, the miracles reveal the Kingdom by seeing. The people were not to take the parables merly as interesting stories, but they were to understand the message the parables had to tell. So the people were not to look upon the miracles merely as interesting even's, for these were intended to witness to something

The uncertainties of life, the enxieties with which we live, the threat of death which spans our existence - all these are contrary to God's redemptive intention for man. They are the symptoms of our existence as sinners within a sinful context. Wilkins Assays Kennedy Record

WASHINGTON-President Kennedy's achievements in the civil rights field have been "notable," Poy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said here this week.

. While praising President Kennedy for some of his exective actions, the NAACP leader, neverthless pointed out that the President had failed to give his support to efforts to end the filibuster or to proposals for enactment of meaningful civil rights legislation.

Mr. Wi'kins' remarks were made on the CES network television program "Washington Report." He was interviewed on Sunday, Jan. 26, along with leaders of other organ izations on the Kennedy record after two years in office. Appearing on the program with Mr. Wilkins were leaders of industry, organized labor and liberal organizations

In the studio to comment on the apprairals made by the participants was Theodore Sorenson, special counsel to the President, who announced at the conclusion of the program that the White House would definitely submit civil rights proposals to Congress covering voting rights.

FAMU's Robert Paremore To Be Cited By 100 Per Centers

Robert Paremore of the Florida A. and M. University Rattlers will be one of the several sports figures from all over the country settling here this weekend for the 100 Per Cent Wrong Club All-Sports Jamboree.

He has been considered a great halfback on the Rattlers football team and a dasher on the track squad. The Rattlers have a lot of great gridmen, ends, tackles, guards centers, quarterbacks, halfbacks. and fullbacks.

There have been the Gallmores, the Joneses the Mirandas, and the Oriffins, Bobby Paremore has been great in his own right and unique Bobby went almost unnoticed right in the Rattlers own training camp, while he was starring for the FAMU High School Baby Rattlers. Like several athletes who join the ranks of the FAMU athletic teams, Paremore was just another halfback out to make the varsity. He knew he had to excel to hold his own with a group of top prep stars.

"I never feared that I would be cut from the squad or sit my four years out on the bench, he reveals, "all I wanted was a chance to go against competition."

Paremore went on to tell about how he had seen good football players come and go around PAMU. "Coach Gaither has always recruited the best boys in the state," he recalled.

"I knew that I had to be good in order to make the grade," he said. "Football was going to be my means of getting an education and I was going to play football." Bobby's chance came. The Rules Committee failed to return to free the other in left halfback. säsbstitution, And Rattler head coach, Jake Gaither, went to the three - team unit in '59.

LeMoyne Edges Alabama State Hornets, 97-94

MONTGOMERY, Ala. - The Le-Moyne College Magicians of Memphis, Tenn., used some precision January 25 to hand the Alabama State College Hornets a 97-94 overtime defeat in Hornet Arena before a capacity crowd.

Monroe Currin, a sophomore flash, was the big gun for the Magicians with 35 points. Currin scored 12 baskets from the floor and 11 of 12 shots from the charity line. Joining Currin in the double figure scoring were Robert Dumas 20 points, "Smokey" Gaines with 18 markers and J. Gordon who scored 11 points.
