Seat In Cabinet

LOCKARD GIVEN POWERFUL POST!

Rev. Blair T. Hunt's Annual Xmas Message:

Christmas is God coming down to earth and taking the best picture God ever took. Christmas is a visit of "spring day from on high." Christmas is a star of hope shining in the sky for all humanity. Christmas is "glory to God" and "joy to the world." Christmas is "peace on earth." Christmas is a gift of love wrapped in human flesh. Christmas is the warmth of a straw-lined manger. Christmas is a green tree which serves as a family altar. Christmas is a ringing bell calling a disturbed world to joy and hope. Christmas is carol and oratorio singing. Christmas is gift giving to the needy. Christmas is the sparkle of a little child's eyes in appreciation of a real Santa Claus. Christmas is an altar to which humanity can bring its heartaches for comfort. Christmas is a religious feast, not only a holiday but a holy day. Christmas is all this and more than human mind can comprehend.

Christmas is a matter for the heart to receive and believe. Christmas is God's greatest gift to mankind. Paul calls it an unspeakable gift. He declared to the Corinthian Christians, "thanks be to God for His unspeakable gift." Indeed Christmas is God's great gift, indescribable, unexpressable.

God's gift is unspeakable because it transcends our powers of comprehension. If we could comprehend it, we could find no language to express it. If we could comprehend it, and could find language to express it, we would be so overwhelmed by the glory and wonder of it that our lips would refuse their office and our tongues would find speech impossible.

Christmas is God offering us a gift. What are we going to do about it? We may ignore it, act as if we had never heard of it.

We may decline it; so many do. We may formerly accept, as one who accepts a book that he never intends to read or a trinket that he never intends to wear. Best of all and the only saving way, we may wholeheartedly accept it as a thirsty man accepts a glass of water or as a drowning man accepts a life buoy. We may accept it with a grateful heart, determined to enjoy it, use it, share it. Pray do so.

Let us thank God for what Christmas is. His unspeakable gift was born in poverty, that we may know that none of God's children is ever denied this unspeakable gift.

Let us thank God that at Christmas wherever hearts are willing to receive the unspeakable gift, the Christ Child comes to dwell.

We pray you to keep Christmas in the spirit of love. To do so, we will find we have kept Christ, and are kept of Him.

"A MERRY CHRISTMAS TO YOU"

But for some people, doubtless, this will not be a Merry Christmas. There is a grave in God's acre that was not there a year ago. Some sons, fathers, and husbands are fighting and dying in the jungles of Vietnam. Some are feeling the pinch of poverty. Some are forgotten and so lonely, this makes them so afraid. For these our prayers ascend and our tears fall. What about some token of love for them, what about love itself? Let us give to them friendship and understanding and a helping hand and a smile, and a prayer.

Rises To No. 1 Spot

Expected Call From Governor-elect Ellington Cheered

H. T. Lockard, lawyer, politician, civil rights leader, churchman and sportsman, has become another "first."

He was a "first" in 1964 when elected to the Shelby County Court.

And now, he is the first Negro in Tennessee ever appointed to a Governor's cabinet.

The call confirming the appointment came through last week from Governor-elect Buford Ellington.

Mr. Lockard, 45, will be Administrative Assistant to the Governor. His salary will be $17,500 a year, $1,000 less than the Governor will receive.

He will take over his new position, Jan. 16.

There had been much speculation in the air for several weeks about Mr. Lockard. It was almost a sure thing that he would receive an appointment, but what it would be was the big question. Some speculated that he would be named a judge or a commissioner.

The appointment of Administrative Assistant is a deserving one. Mr. Lockard served as Mr. Ellington's state co-chairman during the August primary and was one

Scholarship Gift

A scholarship gift for little children has been made in memory of Walt Disney to the Prospect Methodist Day Care Center. Marvin Ratner, treasurer, announced that a check for $400 will be used, as the anonymous donor has requested, to establish the Walt Disney Memorial Scholarships to pay part tuition for those who cannot pay the full fee.

In accepting the gift, the president of the center, Dr. W. B. Dunham, said, "These funds are particularly needed at this time. The Prospect Center is an experiment in self-sufficiency. Although some parents in the neighborhood of the center have professional positions and pay the full tuition, many are not able to pay more than a portion and must be accepted on a scholarship basis. The Center would be self-supporting if all families paid the full fee. The Walt Disney Scholarships will help meet the difference. This initial gift is about one fifth of the total needed for this year. Gifts to the Prospect Center are greatly needed. Checks can be made out to the Prospect Methodist Church Day Care Center, 1297 Gausco and designated for Walt Disney Scholarships. We hope that the initial gift will be one of many from the public honoring this "friend of children."

The Prospect Center was started a year ago under the guidance of the Day Care Federation. It is non-denominational and now serves 30 children aged 3, 4 and 5. The program is devised to give the children good developmental experiences. Mrs. H. H. Jones, the director, said, "We try to build character at this early age by teaching to share

GORINE COLLEGE

By JOHN CASH
Hot! Butcher the world, great events, news and topics for the GUESTS — The trustee board of cosmetology from Nashville, visited our school and appeared pleased with the improvements of our teaching system as well as the styling of human hair and wigs.

XMAS PARADE — Boy! This was exciting for both the young and old here at Gorine. Our dance class performed beautifully as pink pussycats. Senior dancers were dressed as satin dolls. We are proud to have had the only Negro queen in the entire parade.

CORONATION — was held in November. Competing for queen of dance school was Mary Lott and Annette Hennings. Miss Hennings was the dashing doll of 1966-1967.

FASHION SHOW — Now this was something that was tops as far as I'm concerned. Lester Phillips, charm and dance instructor here at Gorine, represented Gorine with top fashions and screaming exotic hairdos. Mr. Phillips also presented to the crowd of 285 persons a song, act, dance and art skit, portraying the part of an old lady thinking of her young days and stripping years back to beauty.

STYLE DEMONSTRATIONS — We appreciated the invitation from Vogue Beauty Supply on Beale St. to see the demonstration of a "Frost" hairdo, which was given by Miss Turner of Atlanta.

SPOTLIGHT — One of the most important things in this space age time in which we live is to be important, but it is just as important to be nice. This week we spotlight Betty Moody, one of our new students, who has done wonderful work as a freshman. We are happy to smile, laugh and talk with such a marvelous personality. Miss Natalie Siggers is spotlighted as our student beautician and a registered Nurse at Collins Chapel Hospital. Miss Emma Turner is the most studious and the most artistic student at Gorine College of Cosmetology.

Marines Playing Santa For Wards

Two children sing Christmas Carols. A small girl colors Christmas scenes. Several babies lie sleeping in cribs.

This scene could be typical of many homes with only days remaining until Christmas. And these children like others around the world anxiously await the arrival of Santa Claus.

These children however are less fortunate than others. They are wards of the Memphis Juvenile Court. And this is not a typical "home." It took place in the Memphis Juvenile Home where children are placed for various reasons including abandonment, arrest of parents, and removal from unsuitable homes.

But Thursday, December 15, their faces will light up like all other children when a very special "Santa" pays them a visit.

That Santa represents the local Marine Corps Reserve "Toys for Tots" program which provides toys annually for unfortunate children of the Mid-South area.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — James Waller, a Knoxville College junior from Memphis, worked as a park commissioner for the Youth Guidance Commission in Memphis last summer.

He attended a luncheon Dec. 16 at the Memphis City Hall at which time he was promoted to playground coordinator for next summer. In this capacity he will supervise five playgrounds.

Waller is president of the junior class at Knoxville College, a history major, first string full-back on the KC football team, and a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes Club.

He is the son of Mrs. Gladys Waller, 196 Boyk, Memphis.

Leontyne Price Featured By Ebony

Gracing the cover of the December issue of Ebony, Miss Leontyne Price often called the "voice of the century," stands out as the "prima donna assoluta" of the international music world.

The 1966 opening of the Metropolitan Opera in New York City was historic in almost all respects. The $45.7 million super-house in Lincoln Center had been completed; Samuel Barber's "Anthony and Cleopatra" was being given its world premiere, and an American Negro had been chosen as prima donna of the spectacular cast.

The choice of Miss Price was unique in that it has only been 11 years since the first Negro, Marian Anderson, set foot on the Metropolitan Opera stage.

According to Ebony, however, "Anthony and Cleopatra" is simply the latest of a series of firsts for Miss Price and what she chooses to call "my people."

Ebony recalls that in 1955 Miss Price became the first Negro to appear in an opera on television.

In 1961, she performed at the Met for the first time and received the longest ovation ever witnessed at the house. That same year she was named "Musical of the Year." In 1962 she became the first Negro to open the season at the Met.

In 1964, she was awarded the Freedom Medal, the highest American civil honor, and was the only American to accompany the La Scala Opera on its visit to Russia. And last year she was presented with the Italian Award of Merit for "the contribution she made to Italian music."

"All other great moments were eclipsed as she opened the new Met, however," said Ebony. Even though the production was denounced as being "overly sensational and gimmicky," indeed, Miss Price's singing surmounted the furor.

Not once or twice in our rough island story.

The path of duty was the way to glory.

-Tennyson.

Hope In Vietnam

A glimmer of hope has been raised in Vietnam by indications that the Communists may be shying away from large-scale battles with U. S. divisions. There are some who believe the Communists now realize they can't win large-scale actions on the battlefield and are, as a result, being forced to concentrate on guerrilla actions.

If this is true, it does not mean an end to the war in Vietnam is in sight but it might mean the scale of the fighting will be reduced. Only time will provide a definite answer but the fact that there are some who believe this is the present trend - including the U. S. Army Commander, General William C. Westmoreland - is reason for limited, tentative hope that casualties can be reduced.

The discouraging side of the Asian picture is that guerrilla fighting in Thailand is erupting, as it has begun in other Asian lands since World War II, and has become such a problem that U. S. Army helicopters and technicians are actively aiding Thai defenders. Thus Thailand could be the next battleground.

Whether we will become as involved in Thailand as we have in Vietnam is a question but chances are against it, since Thailand is not a divided country, nor has that nation experienced civil war for twenty years as has been the case in Vietnam.

The End Of Fall

The end of fall is near; we have moved into the last month of autumn, 1966. Winter officially arrives on December 22, at 2:29 in the morning, after which we will have nine days of winter before the year ends.

Fall was dry in many parts of the nation, especially in the eastern areas and winter is expected to be a cold one for most parts of the country.

Summer and fall produced wonderful weather (though hot) for many months this year. The belief of many experts, however, is that our climate is in a cooling cycle or trend.

If that is true we can expect another cold winter. Some can go to the animals and worms and other signallers of nature to check on that.

Negroes Outstanding In Southeast Powerlift And Physique Contests

By HARMON G. PERRY

ATLANTA, Ga. (SNS) —

Results from the recent AAU sanctioned Georgia State Powerlift Championship meet and the Mr. Southeast physique contest give further impetus to the desire Negroes have made in the past decade in the two less popular sports.

It was only some five or six years ago that Negroes made a significant breakthrough locally and in the Southern area in weightlifting, and more recently began to show some signs of potential in physique competition.

Last week's finish in an area meet held at the Butler Street YMCA came up with all-Negro Atlanta Barbell Club earning first place among team competition, and a massive young Negro a second and third place winner in the symmetry and most muscular competition respectively.

The Atlanta Barbell Club, organized only a few months ago, won plaudits mainly through the strength of James Milsap, Willie Hunter, James McClain, and Jesse Glenn.

Milsap, who made the switch from physique to powerlifting, competition, lifted for first place in the 148 lbs. class, while Hunter, a high school coach, lifted to first place honors in the heavyweight class.

McClain placed second in the 181 lbs. class, while Glenn placed third in the same class.

The appearance of Oscar Hudson among some of the most heralded and accomplished body builders in the Southeast, brought raves and praises from officials and judges of the meet.

As a 21-year-old former serviceman with only four years of serious training behind him, Hudson shows signs of potential which could pave the way for national exposure, according to Harold Johnson, a former Mr. America from Atlanta, and Karo Whitfield, a builder of champions.

Hudson, who sees his recent showing as further encouragement to aim for the Mr. America title, says he started out in body building as an experiment to prove he could develop himself like the photos in the physical magazines. "But as I continued to train it became less of an experiment and a more serious obsession, said the massive Mr. Butler Street YMCA of 1963.

Hudson lists a number of training and eating habits which he

Mr. Lockard opposed strong Democrats like Sugarman and Willis, who backed John Jay Hooker for the governorship, and was able to split the Negro vote and throw some of it to Mr. Ellington.

Dr. King Tells House Committee Of Anti-Viet Stand

By JOHN A. GOLDSMITH (United Press International)

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Rev. Martin Luther King complained to Congress Thursday that the United States was spending billions on an "ill considered" war in Vietnam while its war on poverty at home amounted to "scarcely a skimish."

In testimony before a Senate subcommittee studying urban decay, the civil rights leaders said: "The security we profess to seek in foreign adventures we will lose in our decaying cities. The bombs in Vietnam explode at home; they destroy the hopes and possibilities for a decent America."

King, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, said, "The chaos of the cities, the persistence of poverty, the degenerating of our national prestige throughout the world, are compelling arguments for achieving peace agreements."

King also said:

— Under President Johnson's timetable, U. S. poverty will exist for many years longer than it should.

— The quickest and best way to reduce poverty is through a guaranteed annual income.

— Violence will result if more is not done to eliminate slums.

— The "black power" rallying cry of some militant Negro leaders was "unfortunate" and he still believed non-violence the best means of achieving equality for Negroes.

— "White backlash" represents the surfacing of fears and prejudices of the white community.

Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, chairman of the subcommittee which concluded three weeks of hearings, told a news conference he was confident that President Johnson believed his place in history would be determined by what happens in U. S. cities, not in Vietnam.

He said the subcommittee would sift through testimony from about 70 witnesses preparatory to introducing legislation in the next Congress. If new taxes are necessary to finance urban programs, "then I am for a tax increase," Ribicoff said.

Ribicoff conceded the estimated price for what he hoped to accomplish is monumental — more than a trillion dollars over the next 10 years. But he said that business and industry would find that private investment in urban rehabilitation would be profitable.

Elder Disney Vows "Show Will Go On"

HOLLYWOOD — UPI — The multimillion-dollar entertainment empire that the late Walt Disney built from the adventures of a mischievous mouse named Mickey began Friday to function without his guiding genius.

Disney's brother, Roy — the 74-year-old business brains of the firm — vowed at the showman's death Thursday that Walt Disney Productions would continue. He also promised that all projects his brother was planning would be brought to fruition.

The reassurance proved a shot-in-the-arm to investors on the New York Stock Exchange and brought a sigh of relief to the 4,000 employees at Disney's studio in Burbank, Calif., and to the work force at Disneyland in Anaheim, Calif., which fluctuates from 2,500 in the winter to 5,400 in the summer.

Shortly before his death — in St. Joseph Hospital in Burbank as the result of acute circulatory failure — Disney had been active in planning new projects.

These included a $35 million all-year resort in the rugged Mineral King area near Fresno, Calif., and a $100 million "Disney World" near Orlando, Fla.

But one of the projects closest to the heart of Disney when he succumbed the California Institute of the Arts, which is under construction at the Disney ranch in San Fernando Valley near here. It is a college-level school of the creative and performing arts.

"That's the principal thing that I hope to leave when I move on to greener pastures," he said. "If I can provide a place to develop talent of the future, I think I will have accomplished something."

Grand Jury Closes Case Of Dr. Sam

CLEVELAND — UPI — In a sharp attack on Dr. Samuel Sheppard's attorney, F. Lee Bailey, a grand jury Thursday said it found "not one iota of evidence" to support his charges Marilyn Sheppard was murdered by the jealous wife of an alleged lover.

Bailey, whose charges led to an investigation of the 12-year-old case by the Cuyahoga County Grand Jury earlier this month, said at Freehold, N. J., where he was defending Dr. Carl A. Coppolino against a murder charge:

"It's a ridiculous, damn white-wash and exactly what I expected. Cleveland is protecting itself for 12 years of sins."

Sheppard was in Chicago and unavailable for comment.

Bailey made the allegations after he successfully defended Sheppard last month at this trial in the murder of his first wife July 4, 1954. Sheppard, who served nearly nine years in prison after being convicted at a 1954 trial, was acquitted at the second trial.

The grand jury, in a final report signed by its foreman, William R. Pringle, said Bailey's allegations that Marilyn Sheppard had a lover and that the lover's wife killed her were "absolutely unfounded in fact."

Bailey said this finding by the grand jury was a "damn lie."

"From all evidence before us," the grand jury report said, "the character, fidelity and reputation of Marilyn Sheppard was of the highest."

Bailey, in a letter to Bay Village Police Chief Fred Drenkhan, had named the couple he accused, but the names were never made public and were not included in the grand jury report.

The report said the couple were "absolutely innocent."

Summing up, the report said there was "absolutely no evidence" warranting the indictment of any person.

The report noted that testimony given by Bailey and Sheppard before the grand jury Dec. 2 and Dec. 5 was in conflict and "Sheppard contradicted his lawyer on several important points."

It did not give the conflicting testimony.

Before defending Sheppard in his retrial, Bailey had successfully appealed the case to the U. S. Supreme Court which upset the 1954 conviction on grounds Sheppard did not receive a fair trial.

In addition to hearing from Bailey and Sheppard, the grand jury heard testimony from four police

Green Bay Ends Regular Season With A 12-2 Mark

LOS ANGELES — (UPI) — The Green Bay Packers closed out their regular season with a 12-2 record Sunday by beating the Los Angeles Rams, 27-23, largely on the passing of No. 2 quarterback Zeke Bratkowski and fine defensive work including a 75-yard runback of a pass interception to a touchdown by Bob Jeter.

The loss knocked the Rams out of a chance for the Playoff Bowl. They finished the season with an 8-6 record.

Bruce Gossett kicked three field goals for the Rams, running his season's total to 28 — a new National Football League record. The old mark of 26 was set in 1932 by Lou Michaels when he was with Pittsburgh.

Gossett put the Rams out in front in the first quarter with his first field goal, a 36-yarder, but that was the only time they led.

Officers connected with the case and from former Bay Village Mayor J. Spencer Houk and his ex-wife, Esther Houk, who had been neighbors and close friends of the Sheppards.

The Houks had asked to testify.

So far as this grand jury is concerned, the case is closed," the grand jury report said.

Buffalo Meets Kansas City In AFL Championship Game

By ALLAN RF. BRUCE
BUFFALO, N. Y. — (UPI) — The Buffalo Bills, sporting visions of a trip to pro football's first "Super Bowl", will begin selling tickets Saturday for the American Football League's title game against Kansas City here on New Year's Day.

A club spokesman said season ticket holders could begin picking up their game tickets at the club's Hotel Statler office at 9 a. m. Saturday. Sales to the general public will start at the same time at War Memorial Stadium offices.

Club officials, who spent most of the day conferring with league representatives, said customers would be limited to six tickets apiece. No mail orders will be taken.

The club plans to sell the tickets at $6, $8 and $10.

Some 25,000 of the stadium's 45,742 seats are expected to go to season tickets holders, with the rest up for general sale.

Team officials said that preference for the season goers would be given until 5 p. m. next Tuesday.

Buffalo players and the coaching staff took to their armchairs Monday for two days of rest and relaxation before beginning preparations for the Jan. 1 meeting with Western Division winner Kansas City.

Coach Joe Collier said he would run light workout schedules Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and give his players Christmas Eve and Christmas Day off.

Collier said he expected to start serious preparations for the Kansas City game next Monday.

Buffalo wrapped up the Eastern Division crown Sunday with a 38-21 win over Denver, a day after the New York Jets pitched in to knock the Boston Patriots from the top spot, 38-28.

A win over the Chiefs would give Buffalo a much-coveted spot in the Jan. 15 match against the National League champion.

Dallas and Green Bay also square off Jan. 1 to determine the NFL entry in the Super Bowl.

Most of the Bills have readily admitted that while their thoughts should be concentrated on Kansas City, they can't help but ponder the $25,000 paycheck that will go to the winners of the new pro classic in Los Angeles.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA McCORMACK United Press International

NEW YORK — UPI — Mothers with nerves taut as a violin string need drums for Christmas. That's right. Drums. To each mother — her own personal set of drums.

The mother, entertainer, recording artist, movie star, business woman who said that is Edie Adams. Nothing beats hitting the drums as a tension reliever, she says. "The coolest man I ever met,"

she said in an interview, "was a professor of philosophy from Ohio who drummed for fun several times a week. He claimed it helped restore one to human race. "Through the years I've observed that what he maintained seems true."

EDIE JOINED IN

Miss Adams, of Hollywood and New York, sometimes can't contain herself when she gets near drums. Take what happened recently when she was in Oklahoma City, Okla., presiding at the ribbon-cutting of an Edie Adams Cut and Curl Beauty Salon — one of her business interests.

The Jets, a band from Western High School, supplied the music strutting about a shopping center mall with Miss Adams.

So what happens? At one point Miss Adams joined the Jets and rat-tat-tatted with the drums.

Miss Adams, widowed when Ernie Kovacs died, now is married to Marty Mills — a bachelor in the music business until he married the amateur drummer girl.

In Italy, while Miss Adams was making a movie with Rex Harrison, the star needed some special pictures.

"Marty brought a camera," she said, "and took the pictures. They turned out so well that he's now the newest professional photographer."

He's growing famous for passing out wallet-size pictures of his friends.

SOME WALLET!

Miss Adams said the "wallet size" is about the size of a typewriter table. "Maybe he means them for Texas wallets," she said.

Miss Adams, already the country's most famous cigar saleswoman, featured in television commercials, took them about her newest business connection — Cut and Curl, a pop-in, pop-out, no appointment beauty works springing up nationwide.

The quickie, low-price beauty chain had its start in New York. Miss Adams got interested because she feels in this go-go era, women don't want to spend a lot of time getting their looks curled.

EDIE LOOKS AHEAD

Elizabeth Arden and Helena Rubinstein started small and wound up being the grand dames of the beauty world. Miss Adams hasn't put a lid on her ambitions in that field.

"We are starting with Cut and Curl," she said. "And later, who knows where we'll end."

Buying into a beauty chain as an investment marks Miss Adams as one of the new breed of entertainers. She personally keeps a sharp eye on her finances and once enrolled in a tax accounting course to make her wits in that area keener.

"A woman, whatever her role, must know about everything," she said. Right now, Miss Adams is trying to learn a little about the law.

She said she and her Rolls Royce are involved in a suit.

Santa Claus is here! His pack is brimming with gifts of joy and laughter . . . gifts of happy hours . . . gifts of friendship and good will. We would like to add our warmest thanks to you, our valued customers, for your kind patronage. From jolly old St. Nick and us, Merry Christmas.

Will Try 16 Yr. Old On A Murder Charge

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—(SNS)—

A South Woodlawn youngster, who turned 16 years old 11 days after he was accused in connection to the death of another teen-ager, must now be tried as an "adult" on a murder charge, Birmingham police said.

Police said that the defendant, Leslie James Boykin, 16, of 210-A South 60th St., is charged with allegedly fatally stabbing another youngster, identified as Dennis Russell, 18, of 12 South 62nd St., during an altercation, around 12:50 p. m., Nov. 24, in front of 524 South Athens Ave.

County Deputy Coroner W. L. Allen, Jr., said that on the day of the slaying Boykin was turned over to Juvenile Court authorities because he was only 15. On the day he became 16, Dec. 4, Boykin was reclassified as an "adult" and then transferred to County Jail on a murder charge, the coroner explained further.

Detectives C. V. Garrett and Billy R. Goforth said that Russell, stabbed one time in the neck, was pronounced dead on arrival at University Hospital. Attending doctors said the stab severed a major artery in the victim's neck.

Previously unreported, this slaying ups violent deaths among Birmingham Negro citizens to 29 so far this year, the coroner's office confirms.

Davis And Sandridge Set Fast Scoring Pace For Colorful LeMoyné Cagers

Richard Davis, the 6-2 sophomore guard from Cincinnati, is the No. 1 Magician in LeMoyné College's scoring department. He has 131 points in seven games.

On Davis' heels is Captain James Sandridge, 6-1 senior guard, with 6 field goals and 32 free throws for a total of 124 points in the same number of games. Sandridge is a former Melrose High School star performer.

Bill Megett, 5-10 sophomore guard from New York City, has been rather spectacular in registering 15 field goals and 19 free throws for a total of 77 points.

Ed Hayes, the 6-6 sophomore forward from Louisville has appeared in only six games but turned in 29 field goals and 12 free throws for a total of 70.

On the weekend, LeMoyné was undefeated in SIAC competition with wins over Lane and Fisk.

Eagles Get Shot At Annual Play-Off Bowl

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Philadelphia Eagles converted two fumble recoveries and an intercepted pass into fourth quarter touchdowns to knock off the Washington Redskins 37-23 and gain the right to represent the Eastern Division in next month's second place play-off bowl.

Trailing 21-17 as the final period opened, the Eagles took the lead or keeps after Floyd Peters grabbed a Washington fumble on the Redskins 24 and Tom Woodson punched over from the one five plays later.

Midway in the quarter, Fred Whittingham waylaid a tipped Sonny Jurgensen pass on Washington's 45 and in six plays veteran Ollie Matson swept in for the decisive score from three yards out.

Jurgensen hit on his fourth touchdown pass of the game — a 26 yarder to Charley Taylor — with about a minute and a half left to cut the Philadelphia lead to 33-23.

The Redskins recovered an on-side kick near midfield but on the first play Taylor fumbled and Harold Wells scooped up the loose ball and raced 60 yards for the score.

Philadelphia's 9-5 record puts the Eagles in a second place tie with the Cleveland Browns but the Eagles, who wound up the regular season by reeling off four straight victories, go to the Miami consolation game because the Browns have played there more recently.

Lou Saban Signs Contract As Head Coach Of Denver

DENVER — UPI — Lou Saban, a proven winner, Monday formally signed a 10-year, $500,000 contract as head coach and general manager of the Denver Broncos, one of pro football's most consistent losers.

"My only concern is to have winning football," the 45-year-old former Maryland and Buffalo Bills coach said. "This is going to take a lot of work. No question about it. This doesn't come easy."

Saban takes over "as of this minute" the longest team in the American Football League. Sunday, Denver lost its 10th game in 14 outings this season and finished in last place in the Western Division.

CLEAN SLATE
Saban told a packed press conference Monday he would hire a new coaching staff, saying "I think it is only wise that I start with a clean slate."

He said he expected to announce "two or three" assistant coaching appointments by Tuesday.

This meant that interim coach Ray Malavasi would end the team's tender thought.

Spain's Metal Workers Threaten To Strike

MADRID — UPI — The state-controlled metal workers union on Friday night threatened to call one Spain's first official strike since the Spanish Civil War.

The threat came less than 48 hours after Spaniards gave an overwhelming "yes" to a slightly liberalized constitution and shortly before a young prince who may become Spain's first post-revolution king was due to leave for a United States tour.

The social committee of the 180,000-member metal workers union decided on a two-hour strike in Madrid to protest 10,000 layoffs.

Most of the jobless were from the Barreiros Automobile Factory which produces cars under an American Dodge Motor Company concession. It was cut back production because of government anti-inflationary measures.

Unitas Passes Colts Into Play-Off Bowl

SAN FRANCISCO — (UPI) — Old Pro Johnny Unitas, back on the beam despite a sore shoulder, picked for four touchdowns passed Sunday and led the Baltimore Colts back into the Playoff Bowl with a 30-14 victory over the San Francisco Forty Niners.

It also marked the ninth straight time that the Colts have downed the Forty Niners dating back to 1952 and gave Baltimore coach Don Shula an 8-0 mark against them.

As a result of its latest win, Baltimore clinched second place in the National Football League's final Western Division standings and earned a trip to the runner-up contest scheduled for Miami Jan. 8 against the Eastern Division's second place finisher.

Unitas, who had passed for only one touchdown in the last five games, hit four different teammates in Kear Stadium against a stern Forty Niner rush.

The first tally came on an 11-yarder to Ray Berry. Unitas' teammate for the past 10 years.

Then came an 18-yarder to John Mackey, another that covered 61 yards to Jimmy Orr and a 31-yard toss to Willie Richardson.

Gale Sayers Captures '66 Rushing Crown

CHICAGO — (UPI) — Galloping Gale Sayers captured the 1966 National Football League rushing championship Sunday with a 197 yard burst which raised his year total to 1,133 in a 41-23 Chicago Bears romp over the Minnesota Vikings.

The Gale from Kansas scored 10 touchdowns, on a 90 yard return to the Vikings' own kick off, to cap a brilliant personal season but a dismal one for the punless Bears.

When the game ended only Los Angeles Dick Bass had a chance of catching the sophomore Bear halfback. But Bass could get only 19 yards against the Green Bay Packers, ending the season with 1,680. Cleveland's Leroy Kelley won the NFL rushing going in Sunday's action, had closed out his season's running with 1,141 yards and Bass before his burst against the Vikings.
