

TRAIN KILLS HAMILTON STUDENT!

Girl, 13, Dies On Tracks

Thousands of Memphians were stunned and shocked by the tragic death Saturday evening of a 13-year-old Hamilton Junior High School student.

Cheryl Denise Cochran, 13th grader, was killed when she rode her bicycle into the path of a train at Castalia and Person.

She was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cochran of 1000 South Cooper.

Mrs. Cochran was in Los Angeles but returned to Memphis by plane late Sunday.

Mr. Cochran, who participated in the Korean conflict, is a disabled veteran.

Cheryl was a member of Magnolia Baptist Church.

She was going to a cleaning establishment to get her dress out for Sunday School when she rode onto the railroad crossing and into the path of the approaching train. The fatal accident occurred at 7:15 p.m.

The young Hamilton student dragged an estimated 300 feet before the engineer, Joe Moore, was able to stop the 28-car freight train. The train was enroute to Memphis.

Mr. Moore said the train was traveling 20 miles an hour when it reached the crossing.

Police said it looked as though Cheryl tried to beat the train to the crossing.

Homicide Lt. J. B. Williams said Cheryl, wearing a green raincoat, was riding her bicycle west on Person. The train also was approaching the crossing from the west.

The guard gates were down but they reach only half way across the road.

A witness to the tragedy, Sam Turner of 250 East Parkway, was sitting in his stopped car at the crossing waiting for the train to pass. Investigating officers quoted him as saying, "The train was coming up to the crossing. The guard gates were down, the signal lights were flashing and the train was blowing its whistle."

Insurance Firms Nearing Big Goal

Negro-owned life insurance companies moved closer to the two-and-a-half-billion-dollar mark in life insurance in force this week, reporting an estimated $80 million in sales between May 3 and May 13.

The surge in business is equal to a third of last year's net income. It was chalked up in a concentrated "National Insurance Week" effort. The sales push involved some 8,000 men in 500 district and branch offices in 25 states.

Pending formal tabulation of 10th Week sales, a spokesman put the amount of insurance in force with members of the National Insurance Association at $2.4 billion. Insurance in force is the face value, or the amount the company agrees to pay to beneficiaries of an insurance policy.

The promotion was designed by a committee headed by Earlman Fort, director of agencies for Memphis Life Insurance Company, Louisville, Ky. Its theme — "Security, Who Needs It?" — was carried out in posters and publicity in all offices of the 46 company members of NIA.

'Head Start Not Just For Negro Children' -- Turner

Jesse H. Turner, president of the Memphis NAACP, this week praised a regional OEO official for insisting that local school boards bring more white children into the Head Start Program.

Mr. Turner's praise went to Dr. Frank Sloan of Atlanta, the regional director of the Office of Economic Opportunity.

In his letter, Mr. Turner said: "We wish to commend the Office of Economic Opportunity for insisting that the city and county boards of education come up with a realistic 'Head Start' program designed and operated for all the children in the county, both Negro and white.

"We find in our community that both boards of education have used every means possible to maintain racial segregation, including the 'bussing' of schools in the heart of Negro or white neighborhoods. We feel that they have neither complied with the letter nor the spirit of the law. They find ways to get adequate participation of their students in any program they earnestly desire and, in our opinion, they can get a representative number of white students in this program if they wish.

"It is indeed regrettable that so many citizens think of the anti-poverty programs as being designed primarily for Negroes when over 75 percent of the poverty-stricken people of the country are white. We feel that the type of action you have taken in the Memphis situation will tend to destroy this erroneous idea and will make the entire anti-poverty programs more acceptable, politically.

"Along with our commendations, we urge that you stand firm in your position."

3 Bandits Hijack Brink's Of $430,000

By DAVID HASKELL
(United Press International)

BROCKTON, Mass.—(UPI)— Three submachinegun-carrying bandits stole $430,000 in a Brink's armored car hijacking Tuesday after hiding inside a bank where they ambushed two guards and a bank employee.

The stocking-masked gunmen apparently used a key to enter the First County National Bank and concealed themselves until the armored car pulled up with its two guards and the bank employee. Police said the branch bank in a shopping center showed on sign of forcible entry. The bank doors were not linked to the burglar alarm system, officials said.

One of the bandits hid in a side room and the other two crouched behind a teller's cage and a desk. They accosted the guards and the bank man, trussed and gagged them and locked them in a room before roaring off in the armored car.

A bank official said the booty included $230,000 being transferred from the First National Bank to the Plymouth Home National Bank and $200,000 in receipts from Monday night's races at Raynham Park dog track at nearby Raynham.

The holdup was the second armored car robbery on Massachusetts' South Shore in less than two months and the sixth in Massachusetts in the past 14 months.

In the previous holdup, April 1, three gunmen - who still are at large - stole $600,000 from an armored truck at a Quincy shopping center 15 miles north of here. Federal Bureau of Investigation FBI agents and state and local police began a massive manhunt for the bandits in the latest holdup which at one point almost was spiced by a policeman on routine patrol.

William Donaldson, a policeman of nearby Abington, was cruising a wooded area of Abington when he came upon the armored truck parked in a clearing.

Rep. Thompson Pleads For Racial Harmony

ATLANTA, Ga.—(SNS)— Fletcher Thompson, congressman from Georgia's fifth district, said that "polarization is taking place between our races. Some are going around the country, in the name of civil rights, stirring up civil violence."

The congressman pleaded for harmony between Negroes and Whites during brief remarks at the "Fletcher Thompson Victory Dinner at the Regency-Hyatt House Hotel Thursday night.

Cong. Thompson went on to explain that some people deliberately attempt to stir riots to bring about dissension, hoping to get the races fighting.

He warned "We must not equate the actions of a few persons of a race with that of an entire group of people."

The representative revealed that on Tuesday, May 23, he will introduce a resolution to enforce laws (12-A of the Selective Service Act) which makes it illegal to aid, abet, to avoid or counsel others to evade the draft, which is punishable by a fine of $10,000 and of five years in prison.

Thompson said the resolution, "Sense of Congress," will call on Congress to urge the President to request the Justice Department to enforce the law. He added, "this appeals a number of congressmen."

The action is aimed at Stokely Carmichael, former chairman of SNCC, whose national headquarters are here in Atlanta. Thompson said he felt that it is his responsibility to introduce the bill since Carmichael lives in his district.

More than 300 Republicans attended the $50-a-plate fund-raising dinner which was sponsored by the Fulton County Republican Party to pay off the party's debt which goes back to 1964 and to pay off the remainder of Thompson's campaign expenses.

However, the bandits, who were transferring the money to two cars, got the jump on Donaldson, disarmed him and made him lie on the ground. Two of the bandits wanted to take Donaldson as a hostage but were overruled by the apparent ringleader bandits fled after ripping out the radio wires in Donaldson's cruiser. Bill Brock of Chattanooga, congressman from the third district in Tennessee.

Rep. Brock blasted the EOA program. Instead of an EOA program he suggested a "Human Investment" program where individuals can obtain confidence in himself and build up self respect.

He said that a "Big Brother" program can wipe out poverty in a community as well as reduce the likely drop-out problem before it becomes a problem. He said "this can wipe out problems overnight if churches will help."

Brock said "let us address ourselves to problems of our hometown, which is one of the purposes of a political party. The speaker went on to say that "we have built the greatest society ever seen on the face of the earth. We have done more to fight poverty in the last 20 years than the rest of the nations of the world in their entire history."

In explaining the "Human Investment" program he said it would provide jobs instead of training in expensive away-from-home camps like the Democratic Job Corps. An employer would pay a welfare recipient "what he was worth" while being trained for a job and the federal government would supply the difference between the wage and the federal minimum rate.

Rep. Brock expressed an opinion about the demonstrators against the United States' policy in the

NFL OFFICIAL COMES TO MEMPHIS

Royalty came to town last week when Burl Toler came to Memphis from the West Coast. Also coming to Memphis to be with his father, the late Mr. Arnold Toler, retired Pullman Porter who gravely ill and later passed away, were Mr. Toler's sister, Miss Gwendolyn Toler, a Berkeley Business and another brother, Mr. Earl Toler.

In 1965, Ebony carried six pages on Burl Toler, an Ex-Football star of his family.

Toler, a native Memphian who attended both elementary and high school at Manassas, was named the first Negro Professional football official in the National Football League. Mr. Toler was also the first Negro named as assistant principal of a Junior High School in the city of San Francisco with a top salary. Before this appointment Mr. Toler had been on the faculty at Benjamin Franklin School for 11 years.

I read in Ebony and I quote: Toler was an idol at the University of San Francisco where he majored in Business Administration and Physical Education. He holds a Masters in Education from the university and during his college days set a high academic record for students. They described him as big, fast and smart and Burl was all of this even when in my home room and history class in Junior High School at Manassas.

But then came the College-All Star Game in Chicago (where I saw him play) where he suffered a broken-leg and was taken off the field in an ambulance to a Chicago Hospital. He collapsed and he did his career in football for a number of years.

But Burl has the determination of his stately and wonderful mother who once had a laundry at their home but now owns and operates a grocery store on Woodlawn and of his late father, a retired Pullman Porter.

Mr. Toler was signed up as Head Linesman of the NFL and named the first Major League Official in any Professional sport with a terrific salary that I won't quote. He is married and has six children. He is thrilled to be home and spent much time with old friends, especially John Gordon and Emerson Able.

David Toler, who also played football at Manassas and San Francisco College is on the San Francisco Bridge.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Toler (who is charming and very cultured in her manner) operates three businesses for her uncle... a Liquor Store, a Motel and a group of Apartments. Her aspiration all through high school and the university of San Francisco was to become a medical doctor, but the business thrust upon her changed her mind. I felt close to Gwen from her early childhood. She always stayed with my mother when I was out of town and with me when mother was away. It was with pride and mixed emotion that I took Burl and Gwendolyn to the airport on Saturday evening. I must say that Gwen was always a G-getter too.

NEW CLUB MEETS AT WAT YEN'S CHINESE RESTAURANT

The No. Mass. until then or whatever they may decide to call themselves met Saturday evening at Wat Yen's Restaurant.

There are eighteen of these young socialites and attending the meeting in the oriental setting were Mrs. Elsie (Ted) Branch in a black and white silk shirtwaist... Modene (Mrs. Harry) Thompson, sophisticated in a white belted suit... Sarah (Mrs. Horace) Bradford in a brown checked dress... Velma Jones in a colorful silk print.

Using chopsticks and sipping tea with various Chinese dishes were Julia (Mrs. Jacques) Wilmore, demure in beige... Cecelia (Mrs. Lawrence) Westley, striking in a black sheath with a matching coat.

Marie (Mrs. Charles) Pinkston, dramatic in a boldly striped black and white tent dress... Dol (Mrs. Walter) Evans, named Memphis Best-Dressed by Ebony, wearing a blue and red striped suit that featured a long striped coat matching her skirt... Marie Bradford in a kelly green summer knit... Evelyn (Mrs. William) Robertson in a smart blue sheath... Ernie (Mrs. C. O. Horton) in a smart pink frock... Gloria (Mrs. Willie) Lindsey who also wore pink... Joyce (Mrs. Howard) Pinkston in a pretty Chinese red and blue checked suit and Erma Lee Laws who wore a pink silk suit.

Members male... Members made plans to attend the Pope Concert of the Memphis Symphony Concert, June 3rd. Members unable to attend were Gladys (Mrs. Edward) Reed, Mrs. Lealer Mason and Delores (Mrs. Harold) Lewis.

Again MEMPHIANS were shocked and saddened over the passing away of a former Memphian, MR. LOUIS JOHNSON, Manager of Johnson's Publication on the West Coast (Ebony and Jet magazines) who was gravely ill for two months or more before the end came at his Los Angeles home. Mr. Johnson was known by two trademarks that were characteristic of him. One was his ever-ready smile... and business man... having owned and operated a Sundry Store in North Memphis. Frindliness and kindness were virtues that he possessed in full measure. He was happiness when in Memphis after having moved to the west coast... Funeral services were held in L. A. last week at Holman Methodist Church. Burial was in Forest Lawn Memorial Park with Harrison-Ross Funeral Home in charge. He is survived by a devoted wife, Mrs. Ruby Johnson and a daughter both of L. A.

Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Stanley Ish, Sr., came to Memphis over the week-end from their home in Little Rock. The couple heard their daughter, Mrs. Maceo Walker speak at the Christian Church Sunday when their grand-daughter Mrs. Harold Shaw served as chairman.

New Government To Be Discussed

William Hamilton, executive assistant to the mayor of Birmingham, will be in Hardie Auditorium at Southwestern this Thursday night, May 25, to discuss the problems of transition from the commission form of government to the mayor - council form. He will speak at 7:15.

Mr. Hamilton's talk will be made at the annual meeting of the Citizens Association of Memphis and Shelby County.

Mr. Hamilton handled much of the campaign to change the form of government in Birmingham and is expected to give Memphians an insight into transition problems that can be expected here.

Also at the meeting nine members will be elected to the board of directors and four members to the nominating committee.

Nine proposals will be presented at the meeting by the board of directors:

- 1. The orderly transition in the City of Memphis from the Commission form of government to the Mayor - Council form and continued support of the new form of government so that it will function effectively.
2. Equitable representation of Memphis and Whitehaven area on the County Quarterly Court.
3. Comprehensive planning for Shelby County as a whole (a continuing effort). Such planning to be made along sociologically approved lines, taking into consideration among other factors, the need for parks and playgrounds, the understanding of the problems created by increasing the number of persons occupying a particular area and the need for firm guidelines to direct future use of land.

The festival featured poems and essays written by members of the section one division of the sophomore English class, under instruction of Dr. Juanita Williamson.

Students reading their works were Sherry Farmer, Bobbie Johnson, Valeria Blount, Charlice Cooley, Johnnie Milan, Joy Lynn Brandon, Eddie Scott, Edward Johnson and Robert Calico.

Awards were presented to Dorothy Morgan and Louis Harvey for recognition they received in a nationwide essay contest on "The American Indians."

The festival paid special tribute to two other students, Misses Blount and Cooley, who were national winners in a poetry contest sponsored jointly by Readers Digest and the United Negro College Fund.

Electing Presidents

Some ten States in the Far West and Midwest have already petitioned Congress in favor of an amendment to the Constitution which would change the method of electing a President. Thus it seems - after many years of discussion - that the Constitution is likely to be changed in the relatively near future.

Two proposals seem to have the greatest support. One would put Presidential elections on a direct, popular vote basis. Another would provide that the States retain electoral votes but that they be divided in exact proportion to the popular vote in the state.

Those in favor of a popular vote argue that this is the most democratic method by which to choose the nation's chief executive. Those favoring retention of the electoral vote believe the provision for electoral votes established in the Constitution should not be altogether abolished.

Supporters of both agree that the present system, which has allowed Presidents with fewer votes than their opponents to win, needs modification. The present system requires all of a State's electoral votes to be cast for the candidate who wins a majority of the electoral votes. Thus votes for the loser do not count.

For twenty-five years there has been active agitation for reform in the system and it now appears some amendment to the Constitution will be enacted in the not-too-distant future, which is only fitting in the West's major democracy.

Conceivably an election could be so close, until the victor could win by only a fraction of an electoral vote if that phase of the election is retained. So we think it would be confusing to have both the popular vote and the electoral vote involved in electing a president and vice-president.

We prefer leaving the election of a president as it is, which provides for his election on a popular vote only - with a definite percentage of the total vote - say 40 percent necessary for election. If a majority of the popular vote is required, a situation in the election of a president, could develop similar to the one which occurred in Georgia's gubernatorial election in 1966 where neither candidate received a majority of the votes cast.

MY WEEKLY SERMON

By
REV. BLAIR T. HUNT,
PASTOR,
MISSISSIPPI BLVD CHRISTIAN CHURCH
MEMPHIS, TENN.

SUBJECT: "TO OUR GRADUATES"
TEXT: "Reaching Forth Unto Those Things Which are Before, Press Toward The Mark for the Prize of the High Calling of God in Christ Jesus." - Phil. 3:13, 14.

On the night of June 14, 1967, in Ebbets Field Brooklyn, Junior Gilliam, a Negro of the Dodgers team stole home with two out in the 11th inning to give the Brooklyn Dodgers a victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Junior Gilliam had advanced to third base, two were out. The outcome of the game rested with a Negro figure that shuffled back and forth at third base, 28,000 spectators in Ebbets Field bent forward in tense expectancy.

Much as it meant to have advanced that far, third base runs are not marked on the score board. Third base is not a destination; it is the station on the road home. So, there stood Junior Gilliam, a black boy, every nerve alert, his muscular black running legs, his quick brown eyes, and quicker brain holding the fate of the game.

If Gilliam failed, it was not he alone, the team had failed with him. Concentrated on that black boy at third were the hopes and fears of thousands who seemed to hold their breath, and so still was Ebbets Field that even the breeze seemed to forget to blow.

One way to get off third is to wait for some one to bat you off. Another is to get away on your own initiative. Gilliam chose the latter. He knew the game. He knew that the catcher (Smith) called for a high ball. He knew the pitcher, McDaniels, has a slow wind-up. Knowing this, Gilliam took a long lead.

Junior knew if he would wait for the next batter to bat, the batter might fall him, ending the inning. One opening remained; make home between the moment the wind-up was begun and the moment the ball struck the catcher's mitt. It was a contest in speed between a 5-ounce ball delivered with all the force of 21-year-old McDaniels and the 175 odd pound body of Gilliam.

It was an unequal contest, for the pitched ball travels only 60 feet while the runner from third must hurl his body over a distance of 90 feet. While McDaniels was winding up Gilliam crouched like a Tiger ready to spring. There was a black streak across the field and a cloud of dust at home plate. The umpire, Baker, stood over home plate with hands extended, palms down. Ebbets baseball field echoed and re-echoed with a thunderous roar of acclaim. Every eye strained toward the black man. Gilliam was home. Brooklyn won the game. Score 2 to 1.

Only a run, made in the cause of baseball game by a Negro, but it teaches many a lesson; first - "Teeny locks and dark complexion do not forfeit nature's claim skin may differ but affection dwells in black and white the same." Don't die on third base. Graduation is third base.

Graduates, if you fall, you fall not alone. Your parents, your teachers will fall with you. Graduation is third base. Don't die on third base.

Don't wait for somebody to bat you off of third base. The next batter may fall. Get off on your own initiative.

Remember you can make it home. Remember you can make it home. Don't die on third base. Like the Apostle Paul say and believes: "I can do all things through Christ who gives me strength." Nothing is too hard for God. That graduate that has God for his friend can't be stopped.

Graduation is third base; don't die on third base. Remember who you are and make it home. God has stamped His image on your forehead; He has placed the quest of truth in your heart; He has lit a spark of divinity in your soul. Graduates you are somebody.

Mr. Evers, who spent 10 years in military service, said Negroes are willing to fight in Vietnam and "they should be represented on their local draft boards."

He called for a start in the appointment of Negroes to the all-white draft boards in the state by June 1.

The 55,000-member Youth and College Division of the NAACP had earlier called for elimination of inequities in the draft. The NAACP's national convention in Los Angeles last year called for the appointment of a committee to investigate the racial composition of the nation's draft boards.

The NAACP has refused to link the Vietnam War with the civil rights movement, but has called for proportional racial representation on all draft boards.

Commission Warns Of Dangers Ahead

"Negroes and Puerto Ricans are in an extremely dangerous situation in the great cities of the North and West as the summer approaches."

This warning was part of a statement adopted by the United Presbyterian Commission on Religion and Race, meeting in New York April 11-12.

"We refer," the Commission said, "to the growing racial and cultural ghettos, slow public school desegregation, continued violation of fair employment practice regulations, continued neglect and cynical disregard of fair housing laws, massive underemployment and unemployment — especially among poorly-educated, frustrated Negro and Spanish speaking young people."

"Racism and honesty require that, despite all of the promises, we must concede that job training programs and available for only a few. While the standard of living of Negroes has risen, the actual economic gap between white and black people in the U. S. is widening every day. The social and spiritual reflection of this economic situation is a growing and ominous estrangement between racial and cultural minorities in the rest of the country."

"Recent events in Louisville and Nashville should give all Americans great concern. The assumption is fatuous and misinformed that any single Negro leader, organization or movement should be blamed for the revolutionary outbreaks and riots of the poor. We cannot accept the argument that social unrest in the black ghetto is the work of a few agitators. Removing and repudiating Negro leaders will not bring peace to the cities."

"The only way to solve the problem of public disorder in our cities is to dispel the mood of dejection, hopelessness, disrespect for law and psychological alienation now rampant in the ghetto. Massive poverty, ill health, miserable schools and housing and the lack of economical and political power are the root causes of what has happened already in two cities and may be grim warnings of what may come to others this summer."

Social Security Payment To Georgians $3 Million

$32,947,000 in social security benefits was paid to residents of Georgia last year, up 12 percent from the year before.

At the end of 1965, 97,146 men, women, and children in the six county Atlanta District Office area of Fulton, DeKalb, Gwinnett, Henry, Newton, and Rockdale, were receiving benefits at a monthly rate of $6,569,274. John H. Ingle, District Manager in Atlanta, reported today, 66,189 were older people, he said, receiving benefits as retired workers, the wives and husbands of retired workers and as the surviving widows or aged dependent parents of workers who have died.

"But social security is not just for older people," Ingle pointed out. 15,527 young widows and children in the six county area were receiving benefits amounting to $939,265 at the end of December. 12,275 disabled workers and dependents were receiving benefits at a monthly rate of $304,966.

"Practically every young family in this area has survivors protection, under social security that can be worth $75,000 or more, and equally valuable disability insurance protection."

The average worker, he said,

"I am chosen because my faith in God demands that I be strong, brave and bold, in exhibiting friendliness, respect, courtesy, humility and like virtues to all, in face of a spite and rejection. For not all men are strong enough, or are they able and willing to assume an overall attitude of honesty to virtue in face of extreme denial and rejection."

People of Ethiopian descent must be brought up from their earliest childhood to regard virtue, which is righteousness as the title deed of their birthright which they are to diligently seek a knowledge of from generation to generation. For herein lies the power by which they live.

Is it not commendable that a people constantly and openly plagued with sarcasm, deceit and rejections do not falter in friendship to the people from whom emit the sources of their abuses? This strength must be credited to the parents of the Ethiopian people, and an inborn desire and parental teaching that will never let him settle for less.

MOTHERS AND FATHERS MUST INSPIRE
The mother and the father must be credited with being an inspirer who endeavors to teach their offspring how to get the most out of life, and how to render service amidst exploitation, deceit, rejection and an overall attitude of unfriendliness.

LET'S US CLING TO THE LAWS OF VIRTUE
Let every one of us learn that to violate the Divine laws of virtue is to sin against wisdom, pre-empting and selecting trouble for the present and future generations of our race. Let respect for courtesy, kindness, consideration, helpfulness, patience, impartiality, justice, honesty, faithfulness and kindred virtues be calmly and divinely taught by mothers and fathers of Ethiopian descent, to the tiny babe who is just beginning to understand; let it be demonstrated daily to our children.

NAACP Appeals Dismissal Of Jackie Robinson's Golf Club Complaint

NEW YORK — A major civil rights organization has announced it will appeal the State Commission for Human Rights dismissal of a complaint of discrimination filed by a group of prominent Negroes, including former baseball star Jackie Robinson, against an upstate country club.

Robert L. Carter, general counsel of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, filed the original complaint with the anti-bias agency in January, 1966, following charges by Mr. Robinson and Harlem banker William R. Hudkins that they were discriminated against when they sought to purchase the $1,400,000 Putnam Country Club in Mahopac, N. Y.

"We received a notice on May 1, 1967, dismissing our complaint," Mr. Carter said in a letter announcing his appeal to Commission Chairman George H. Fowler. "This came after the complaint had been lingering in the Commission for over a year."

The complaint accused the country club of withdrawing the fashionable layout from the market after it learned that the prospective purchasers of the 136 - acre, 18-hole club were Negroes.

Commissioner Fowler assigned SCHR Vice Chairman Bernard Katzen to investigate the charge of discrimination on Jan. 22, 1966. Sixteen months after the complaint had been filed, Mr. Katzen announced that the charge was dismissed "for lack of jurisdiction and a determination whether probable cause exists to credit the allegation of the complaint."

Mr. Carter said his organization was appealing "on the ground that the statement of the law in the opinion (by the Commissioner) is in error. It attempts to find ways, means, and definitions which would restrict and bar the State Commission from taking action."

Much of the complaint is based on statements, letters and conversations filed by Jack Ratner, a real estate broker, whom Mr. Hudkins and Mr. Robinson, both officials of the Freedom National Bank, contacted to negotiate purchase of the club after they noticed a "for sale" advertisement in the Wall Street Journal.

The complaint also quoted a conversation between Mr. Ratner and a country club board member, who allegedly said "You must be out of your mind to think that we would sell this club to Negroes. It's out of the question."

Under rules governing the State Commission for Human Rights, Mr. Carter said, complainants have the right to apply to the Commission Chairman for a review of the dismissal of the complaint.

Sunday School Lesson

THE GOSPEL IN SAMARIA
International Sunday School Lesson for May 28, 1967.

MEMORY SELECTION: "They that were scattered abroad went everywhere preaching the word."
—Acts 8:4

LESSON TEXT: Acts 8: 2-40.

The spread of the Gospel in Samaria is the subject of today's Lesson. This Lesson will serve to emphasize the importance of the Church's missionary work — no less important today than it was at the beginning of the Christian movement.

The work in Samaria was instigated by Philip, a deacon in the early Christian church; Phillip, like Stephen, the subject of our last lesson, was eminently suited to the ministry, for he possessed the ability to perform many miracles of healing amongst the populace.

It is interesting here to note that the age of miracles was an integral part of spreading the Gospel. It called attention to this startling new concept that had gained a foothold in the world. But as the growth of Christianity continued, the miracles became fewer in number, and the Christian experience became a more personal, private occurrence.

Albeit, through Philip's ministry, two-factions hitherto bitterly opposed to each other, became unified — the Samaritans and the Jews.

We cannot help but wonder how long the Samaritans would have had to wait for the Gospel had it not been for the "scattering" abroad of the saints at Jerusalem! For just as the sewer scattered his seeds in the planting season, and some took root in good soil, bearing — in the course of time — fruit, so was the seed of Christianity sown in Samaria.

It is not too long ago that the word "missionary" bore the connotation of service abroad in foreign lands, to primitive people. Now it embraces the rapidly expanding population "at home" in our own country. For every time a child is born, a new soul has to be reached. To be missionaries for Christ we do not have to "travel abroad" as did the apostles of earlier days; we have but to look around us to see the golden opportunities that come to us every day for the spreading of God's Word. For the Gospel is for everyone around us, and we are all seeking for a sense of meaning in life.

Christian witnessing is no longer the prerogative of a special and gifted class; true witnessing will seek out an opening in the most ordinary, everyday sort of circumstance. Casual conversations, over a cup of coffee on a "break" period during a work day, can lead to a personal service a personal offering . . . in Christ's name. Missionary work knows no territorial bounds; rather, it recognizes territorial horizons!

Read again the simple statement of what Phillip did when he arrived in Samaria, and consider all that followed. This great surge of the outspread of Christianity was motivated by the simple witness of a dedicated man. His influence reached Simon, the sorcerer, who although professing faith — did not really have a change of heart until he had been around Phillip and his ministrations for some time.

Times have changed greatly since Christianity was first presented to the world. We do not face the hardships of travel on foot between one city and another that Christ and His Disciples had to contend with; modern day transportation has done away with that. We have the mass media of radio and television, and the printed word, with which to reach many millions of people every day. Our contacts have widened, our needs are greater . . . the ground is fertile.

Do we have enough of the spirit of Phillip in us to take advantage of these privileges in Jesus' name?

DUKE FOSTER TO BE HONORED

Veteran Mathematics educator Claude Bernard Dansby, who was honored by the Morehouse College Physical Education Department for distinguished service to the sports program, will be immortalized when the new Physics, Mathematics and Foreign Languages Building bears his name.

C. B. Dansby, who has taught at Morehouse College since his graduation in 1922, was given a signal honor when Dr. F. L. Forbes, athletic director at Morehouse College cited him for distinguished service to the athletic program.

Dr. Forbes in his glowing testimonial to Professor Dansby told of his glowing contribution to the athletic program and his service in the front office of the athletic department, where he worked in the ticket booth, admissions, etc.

Aaron Homers Braves Past Pirates, 7-2

ATLANTA, Ga. (SWS) - Hank Aaron collected four hits Sunday, including his 10th and 11th homers of the season, to lead the Atlanta Braves to a 7-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Aaron's homers, giving him the major league lead, gave right-hander Ken Johnson all the help he needed to boost his record to 3-2. It was the first appearance in two weeks for Johnson who'd been sidelined with a virus.

Aaron's first homer in the second inning off Steve Blass was a line shot that barely cleared the left field fence after Felipe Alou was safe on an error.

In the eighth, Alou walked and Aaron followed with his second two-run homer, another shot that hit the left field fence and bounced up into the stands.

The Braves picked up a pair of runs in the first inning, chasing starter Juan Pizarro in the process. After Aaron and Joe Torre singled, Pizarro walked the next three batters.

The Braves added their fifth run in the fifth when Gene Oliver doubled and scored on a single by Denis Menke.

The Pirates scored on Johnson in the second when Willie Stargell led off with his fifth homer of the season and got an unearned run in the fourth when Maury Wills singled, went to second on an error and came home on Stargell's single.

Wills was thrown out in the eighth inning after arguing over a called third strike.

Jim Taylor Denies Signing Pact With Saints

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) - Fullback Jimmy Taylor denied Saturday he has signed a $500,000 contract with the New Orleans Saints of the National Football League.

"There's no fact in that," said Taylor. "They come up with some of the most fantastic rumors I've ever heard in my life."

The paper said Taylor signed the four-year contract Friday morning in the Saints' New Orleans office. It said the Saints agreed to pay Taylor $500,000 over a 2-year period, plus giving him an apartment in New Orleans. The paper also said Saints owner John Meom Jr. was to give Taylor's wife a new car.

To get Taylor, a free agent who played for the Green Bay Packers last year, the paper said the Saints had to give up their first round draft choices for 1968 and 1969 to the Packers.

A spokesman for the Saints also denied a contract was signed.

Josh Gibson And Ga.-Ala. Making All-Star Contest

Two of amateur baseball's three local leagues are presently making plans to present a rival all-star game, possibly next month.

Charles Grogan, speaking as the spokesman for the Josh Gibson league stated Monday that there possibly will be a match between his league and that of the Georgia-Alabama loop.

The game is in a planning stage right now but the outlook is for a June date at the Larry Bell Park in Marietta.

"I'm planning to schedule a meeting with the steering committee of the Georgia-Alabama league soon to formulate such a game," Grogan said. "Right now, nothing is concrete but we hope to know something within a few days."

For many years, there has been numerous conversations to effect between the two leagues. Players and managers of the Josh Gibson league are standing firm behind Grogan.

Certain manager contacted late Monday in the Georgia-Alabama circuit voiced their approval for such an all-star contest.

Dr. F. L. Forbes Sports Banquet Speaker At SSC

DR. FRANK L. FORBES

SAVANNAH, Ga. - Dr. Frank L. Forbes, Professor of Physical Education and Athletic Director at Morehouse College in Atlanta, Georgia, was the guest speaker Saturday, May 20 at Savannah State College's All Sports Banquet in Adams Hall.

Dr. Forbes, a former coach at Morehouse College, spoke on the topic "My Athlete." He went on to say that his type of athlete was the fellow that believes in himself and knows that this is essential if he expects to be a great competitor, and his intellectual quality and self-confidence.

Dr. Forbes said that his type of athlete must be the fellow who can examine himself and be able to take what he finds and use it to his greatest ability.

A total of 63 citations were presented to football, basketball, and track participants, with the actual jackets, sweaters, and awards to be presented this week.

Judson Brown was voted the MVP by SSC's coaching staff at the close of the 1966 grid season and received the Coca Cola Helmet Award, and William Alderman, MVP in the Annual Southeastern Athletic Conference Track and Field meet held here April 22.

Platform guests at the "steak and shrimp" served fête included Dr. and Mrs. Howard Jordan Jr.,

Earl Lloyd, Clark College Athletic Banquet Speaker

ATLANTA, Ga. (SWS) - By MARION E. JACKSON - Earl Lloyd, former All-CEAA selection at West Virginia State and a star with the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association, was guest speaker at the Clark College All-Sports Banquet, Saturday night.

Mr. Lloyd has also served as assistant coach and chief scout of the Detroit Pistons. He is presently employed as sales and promotion representative of Converse Rubber Company, Detroit, Mich.

The former West Virginia State great came to Atlanta, from a speaking engagement in Nashville, Tenn. He was factual, witty and eloquent despite a cold and fatigue from his travel.

He praised the small college athlete and hammered home the thesis that every athlete should get a good education and a degree. He assailed the practice of several bigtime football powers, who permitted Negro athletes to play four years and then depart without an education or the equipment to secure or keep a job.

In a lively question and answer period, Lloyd commented on a number of provocative and topical issues.

Dr. Jonathan Jackson, college minister, gave the invocation. Mr. Lloyd was introduced by Louis Nevitt.

Ralph A. Long, made a special presentation to L. S. Epps, during the banquet.

Jim Taylor To Decide In A Week Where He'll Play

MILWAUKEE (UPI) - Fullback Jim Taylor expects to decide within a week where he will play football next season, but right now it looks like it won't be with the Green Bay Packers, it was reported Wednesday.

"I've been trying to evaluate everything and weigh all the facts. I should make a decision within a week. Things are coming to a head. Taylor said by telephone from his Baton Rouge, La., home to Chuck Johnson of the Milwaukee Journal.

The nine-year veteran played last season without a contract and became a free agent this month. This means he can sign with any team, which must give Packer head coach and general manager Vince Lombardi fair compensation. It's been rumored that Lombardi's high asking price has scared other teams from talking with Taylor.

"I think the other clubs feel like they can get a fair shake," Taylor said. "What Vince has had to say makes good print, but I don't think it will be true in the end. The commissioner will have to rule."

President at SSC, Dr. Elmer J. Dean, Chairman of the Athletic Committee and Dr. Prince Jackson, President of the College's Alumni Association, an toastmaster for the occasion.

Albert E. Frazier, Athletic Director presented the individual trophies and the Coca Cola Award.

Today's Sports

By MILTON KICHMAN - UPI Sports Writer - NEW YORK - UPI - Outsiders start all the trouble. One of them got a hassle going in a minute the other night between father and son merely by asking a simple question.

The question was: "Do you think your younger boy is a better hitter than your older one was?"

Joseph Torre, a well put together man in his 50's who scouts ball players for the Baltimore Orioles cuts his gray hair short and gives you a direct answer, didn't hesitate a second.

"Frank here, was a better hitter by far than Joey is," he said. "There isn't even any question about it. He had a better stroke and he took a longer look at the ball."

TALENTED PINKIE: Frank Torre, standing only two feet away from his father in the lobby of the Downtown Athletic Club, shook his head in disagreement.

"Joe has more talent in his little pinkie than I have in my whole mody," he said about his 26-year-old kid brother with the Atlanta Braves who is making a run at the empor league home run title and may even start making a run at Babe Ruth one of these days.

The senior Torre wouldn't buy his oldest son's opinion and he let him know it.

"That's what you say," he told 35-year-old Frank Torre, one-time member of the Braves when they still were in Milwaukee and now president of a local athletic equipment company.

"I've been scouting 15 years and I know better than you as far as judging a hitter is concerned," the father told his son.

"That's true, but..." "No buts about it," cut in the elder Torre. "You were the better hitter. You were the better hitter, the more natural one." Now it was the outsider's turn again.

UPI Sports Writer
NEW YORK — (UPI) — There used to be a fellow up in New England who ended his radio show the same way every evening.

"And remember," he'd say, "if you can't take part in a sport, at least be one, anyway." There were a number of sports in the balcony at Madison Square Garden Tuesday night but they were the wrong kind. They were bad ones. The Garden has no particular monopoly on them. You'll find them everywhere. Dick Tiger comes from Africa which, as any schoolboy can tell you, is a continent with a long unhappy history of violence.

SHEER BARBARISM

Nothing at all like Tiger experienced at the Garden Tuesday night, though, after they announced he had kept his world light heavyweight title on a split decision over Jose Torres. The spectacle which followed was one of sheer barbarism. Any schoolboy could tell you that, too.

But today nobody had any decent explanation for it. Not Garden officials, who some were blaming for not providing sufficient police protection; not Torres, whose fellow Puerto Rican supporters were being blamed by others, and not Tiger, who no one was blaming at all.

"I can't possibly understand why people would do a thing like that," said Tiger, visiting the gym for his daily message.

"This would never happen in Nigeria where I come from." That's true. His homeland happens to be on the brink of civil war with each side terrorizing the other, but at least no one is flinging whisky bottles from the balcony the way they did at the Garden Tuesday night.

SOME RIOT

On his way to the gym, Tiger was recognized on the street by several persons. Some called out greetings to him.

Generally, they didn't say, "Hi, champ. Some fight!" More often they said, "Hi, champ. Some riot!"

Tiger's day, however, was nowhere near as hectic as Harry Markson's. He's the Garden's Director of Boxing and he never got a moment's peace from the time he walked into his office and took his hat off Wednesday morning until he put it back on again Wednesday night.

Washington Track Team Wins

The Washington track team won three relay races, with new records in two of them, and the low hurdles.

Couch House Alexander of Washington had a squad of 10 men and none in the field events, which itself was competing 10 or 15 points from the start. However, the track team took the 880-yard relay in record time, the mile-relay with a new record and the 440 Dennis Goodman of Washington won the low hurdles, while other sprinters finished second and third in both the 100 and 200 yard dashes.

Other teams that scored five or more points were: Chattanooga's Riverside with 11, West High of Knoxville 8, Melrose of Memphis, Manassas of Memphis, Howard of Chattanooga and Catholic High of Memphis 7, Nashville West and Red Bank 6, Chattanooga Brainard, Memphis Overton, Memphis Bertrand, Memphis Kingsbury and Battle Ground Academy 5. The West Tennessee teams won half the 16 events.

Melrose's Terry Addison finished first in the 440 but was disqualified, which kept Melrose from finishing in a tie for second place. It was a strange co-incidence as a similar incident cost Melrose a first place in the preliminaries.

So, we salute the track Warriors of Booker T. Washington High School as the track champions of the State.

In District Three, the play for the baseball title got underway Monday at Tobey Park with the Carver High Sobras taking on the Manassas Tigers in the best of three games for the championship. Carver winner in Division One had a season record of 12-0, while Manassas the Division Two Dinner had a 11-1 record.

In the opening game, the Cobras turned back the Tigers 1-0 behind the one-hit pitching of Freddie Jamison, who was engaged in a thrilling pitching duel with Manassas' William Washington, who allowed only two hits, both by center fielder Larry Stevenson, with one a double which led to the one run, while the other was a scratch hit which the second baseman knocked down, but couldn't make a play.

The lone run of the game was unearned, as Stevenson scored from second base after an attempt pick-off play in which the ball hit him on the shoulder and bounced into center field with Stevenson scoring on a close play at the plate.

Jamison was going for a no-hitter and practically had it in his grasp when with two outs in the last inning, center fielder Craig Rogers lined a single over the shortstop's head into left field for the Manassas only hit. Jamison, then fumbled the next batter's grounder for an error, but got a

ARMING UP

Many modern chairs and sofas have exposed wood frames, especially arms on which the finish tends to become easily soiled from frequent hand contact. For such furniture, a new spray polish called "Favor" is recommended by the Johnson Wax Consumer Service.

READY FOR SUMMER

Cleaning and brightening stored outdoor furniture for use in the new season is said to be easier than ever with a new spray furniture wax called "Favor." It is recommended for wooden or metal furniture, and also for the vinyl upholstery so popular on outdoor lounges. It also is designed to leave a rich wax shine and a refreshing lemon fragrance.

NEW YORK, N. Y. - Six leading economists will participate next fall in a pioneering program aimed at enriching the economics curriculum of colleges and universities affiliated with the United Negro College Fund, it was announced today by Dr. Stephen J. Wright, the Fund's president.

The program, supported by a $35,000 grant from the Chase Manhattan Bank Foundation, will enable the economists to conduct week-long seminars at selected member institutions of the Fund. Other distinguished economics professors are also being invited to participate in the program.

Professors already chosen include: Walter W. Heller of the University of Minnesota; Raymond J. Saulnier of Columbia University; Paul W. McCracken of the University of Michigan; Henry C. Wallich of Yale University; Yale Brozen of the University of Chicago and Bertrand Fox of Harvard University.

During each professor's stay on campus, he will be available to the faculty and students for consultation on improving curricula, conference on individual research projects and informal discussions on current problems and developments in the field of economics.

In announcing the program, Dr. Wright and George Champion, chairman of the Chase Manhattan Bank, said, "The presence of distinguished economics professors from the nation's top universities should be a stimulating experience for the students and faculty on the participating campuses."

Wilkins To Deliver Commencement Address At Allen U. On May 25

COLUMBIA, S. C. - Roy Wilkins, Executive Director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and recent recipient of the prestigious FREEDOM AWARD, will be the Commencement Speaker at Allen University, Thursday, May 25 (10 a. m.), in Chappelle Auditorium, it is announced by Dr. Benjamin J. Glover, president of the college.

In recognition of his laudatory achievements in the field of Civil Rights, and his "wise counseling in the struggle for justice and equality for Negroes without resorting to violence," the predominantly Negro institution will confer the honorary degree of DOCTOR OF HUMANE LETTERS upon the chief executive of the NAACP. It will mark the fourteenth such honor accorded him during his illustrious career, including those from the University of Notre Dame, Fordham University, Swarthmore College, Middlebury (Vt.) College, Manhattan College and Oakland University in Rochester, Michigan, to name a few.

Mr. Wilkins joined the staff of the NAACP in 1931 as Assistant Executive Secretary, after which he succeeded the late Walter White in the post of Executive Secretary. A few years ago, he was unanimously elected by the organization's Board of Directors to his present position as Executive Director. He has also served as editor of THE CRISIS, the official NAACP monthly organ.

Born in St. Louis, Missouri, but grew up in St. Paul, Minnesota, Roy Wilkins attended public schools in the "Twin City" and went on to earn a degree from the University of Minnesota, which later honored him with its coveted "Outstanding Achievement Award." Upon graduation from college, Mr. Wilkins worked for eight years on the staff of THE KANSAS CITY CALL, a Kansas City, Mo., weekly newspaper. He currently writes a weekly column in the N. Y. AMSTERDAM NEWS.

In addition to his executive duties with the NAACP, Mr. Wilkins has been Chairman of the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights since its establishment in 1949. The LCCR is the coordinating body for more than 100 civil rights, labor, religious, civic and fraternal organizations working to advance civil rights through governmental action at the national level. He is also a member of a number of boards and governing bodies of agencies serving the cause of human rights.

LDF To Step-Up Activities In Legal Field

NEW YORK - Last week in New York City the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc. celebrated the 13th anniversary of the May 17th U. S. Supreme Court decision outlawing school segregation in America with a day it called Convocation 1967 at the New York Americana Motor Hotel on May 16th.

Members of the NNPA (National Newspaper Publishers Association) from around the country were in attendance for the functions which included a press conference in the home office of the LDF (NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc.)

A luncheon, an afternoon civil rights panel discussion, and an evening reception in honor of southern legislators climaxed the day's activities in the Georgian Room of the New York Americana.

The Harvard Club of New York City began the round of celebrations with a private dinner Wednesday night, May 17, for the LDF special guests from the south. Sheriff Lucius B. Amerson, Macon County and state legislative candidate Rev. Fred Gray (Alabama); W. H. Alexander, Ben Brown, C. Dougherty, R. L. Dent, Rev. J. D. Grier, Jr., Mrs. Grace T. Hamilton, John Hood, Albert Thompson, and Horace T. Ward (Georgia legislature); R. J. Booker, J. O. Patterson, Russell Sugarman and A. W. Willis (Tennessee) general assembly, and Curle Graves of the Texas legislature.

The luncheon attended by some one thousand vips in the Imperial Room of the Americana, was presided over by Rev. Dr. M. M. Weston, with remarks by LDF director - counsel, Jack Greenberg, Judge William H. Hastie of U. S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit introduced the main luncheon speaker, U. S. Attorney General Ramsey Clark. "Equality through law, overcoming the heritage of discrimination, civil rights, the law, and the poor," were the dominate themes of the Convocation '67.

LDF officials announced a step-up in legal activities and a proposed budget increase to $2 million almost 20 percent over last year's $1.7 million.

Another section of the bill would eliminate racially discriminatory practices in the selection of juries in state and Federal courts.

Mr. Wilkins also declared that "As an indication of our concern with these developments and of our determination to educate our members and the public on the issues, we will begin this month an accelerated voter registration and education campaign. This will reinforce our year-round program of voter registration."

Mr. Wilkins was highly critical of an assertedly Republican-sponsored plan that would alter elementary and secondary education acts "so as to give the states a lump sum instead of sending Federal school aid money directly to poor school districts."

"If it has coupled with it, as is rumored, some kind of an agreement to soften the present mild guidelines for public school desegregation, Negro children and their parents will be back where they started in 1955," he added.

"It could be," said Mr. Wilkins, "that the Republicans, who freed the slaves 104 years ago, are seeking to rebuild their party in 1967 by so handicapping the Negro that at the swift pace of today's civilization, he might as well be back in servitude."

Mr. Wilkins said the nationwide drive to gain passage of the civil rights legislation would also include visits by pro - civil rights delegations to Washington during the debate on the bills.

Folk remedies often have sound basis in medical fact.

Consider the universal advice for treating muscles that are sore and aching from too much activity: "Take two aspirin tablets and a hot, soaking bath." While this may not appear to be modern therapy for this common ailment, it is exactly what many physicians recommend.

Doctors at The Bayer Company explain it this way: warm water acts on nerves directly beneath the skin, causing them to send impulses to the sympathetic nervous system in the spinal cord. This complex network responds by expanding vessels throughout the body, allowing blood to flow faster to the strained and aching areas.

Seeking A Million Signers NAACP Starts Nationwide Drive To Enact Civil Rights Legislation

NEW YORK - A nationwide drive has been launched by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to gain one million signatures from NAACP members and the general public to support enactment of the 1967 civil rights bills.

Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive director, announced at a news conference here, May 16, the distribution of printed petitions to the Association's 1,800 branches to "gain one million signatures of support for passage of this crucial legislation."

Emphasizing the need for additional civil rights legislation this year, Mr. Wilkins pointed to the long list of civil rights murders committed in the South where "no one has been convicted in these crimes."

"The pending bill, if enacted, would enable the Federal Government to prosecute such cases in the future as the slaying of Jimmy Lee Jackson in Marion, Ala., in 1965; the fire - bomb murder of Vernon Dahmer in Hattiesburg, Miss., in January, 1966; the bombing of George Metcalfe and the bomb - murder of Wharlest Jackson, both of Natchez, Miss., in 1965 and 1967, respectively," Mr. Wilkins told newsmen.

At present only states can act in suspected murders. If the states choose not to act and a conspiracy indictment is not or cannot be secured, the suspected persons remain free.

Other Titles in the 1967 bill would grant the authority to issue "cease and desist" orders to the Equal Opportunity Commission. The Commission may now find a firm guilty of racial discrimination in its employment policy, but may not order it to cease.

As an indication of our concern with these developments and of our determination to educate our members and the public on the issues, we will begin this month an accelerated voter registration and education campaign. This will reinforce our year-round program of voter registration."

NAACP Victory Blocks Bias In Ohio Building Contract

COLUMBUS, Ohio - A permanent injunction issued by a Federal court judge here against state officials could serve as a "break-through" for Negroes in every state where discriminatory employment practices exist, according to legal counsel of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Federal Judge Joseph Kinneary ruled May 17 that the State of Ohio could not enter into contracts with four companies for the construction of a $12.8 million medical science building at Ohio State University because discriminatory hiring practices were permitted by the contractors.

NAACP General Counsel Robert L. Carter and his Assistant Counsel Lewis M. Steel said the decision, which followed a suit filed by that civil rights organization, "represented a definite break-through" and added that "an attempt will be made to extend it every state."

The battery of civil rights lawyers involved in the suit also included local NAACP attorneys Ir-thus healing is promoted. And when your body is supported by water, the nervous system is not required to act upon the thousands of nerve impulses called in to play whenever you sit, stand, walk or run. In other words, you are as completely relaxed as it is possible to be.

Aspirin's role in relieving aching muscles and the local swelling that often results is more complex and not yet fully understood. Certainly it relieves pain, which in turn lessens the nervous tension that often results in headache. But also, in some manner still under intense study, eases inflammation in the muscles and joints.

Thus it is that the combination of a hot bath and aspirin, deeply rooted in everyday medicine, can ease the pain and swelling of muscles caused by overactivity.

One of the great defects of human life appears to be that as soon as man is old enough to know anything much, his life ends.

Queen Elizabeth Ends 30-Year Exile Of Duchess Of Windsor

LONDON - (UPI) - Queen Elizabeth II Thursday ended the 30-year exile from the royal court and invited to a family ceremony the former American divorcee for whom King Edward VIII gave up the British throne.

A Buckingham Palace spokesman confirmed that it was the first time the queen has extended a formal invitation to the former Wallis Warfield Simpson since she married the king who abdicated in 1936 to marry her and become the Duke of Windsor.

The spokesman said the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, now in New York, have accepted the invitation to join the royal family ceremony June 7 unveiling a plaque at Marlborough House.

Marlborough house was for years the home of the late Queen Mary, Queen Elizabeth's grandmother and the mother of her father, the late King George VI, and of the Duke of Windsor.

"Obviously Queen Mary's children and grandchildren will be invited," Windsor, abdicated.

But the invitation to the 72-year-old Duke of Windsor's wife was unprecedented. Ironically, it was Queen Mary - as much as the late Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, the Minister of England and the British public - who strongly opposed her eldest son's decision to marry "the woman I love."

Windsor's decision to abdicate and marry the American divorcee for a time rocked the monarchy. It also split the royal family, causing a wound the Queen's daughter, Thursday appeared intended to help heal.

The Duchess of Windsor won world fame and accompanied her husband on his often lonely wanderings, far from the pomp and circumstance he once commanded as King. Occasionally the Duke and his royal relatives - but never was the Duchess allowed into the royal court.

Elizabeth is the daughter of King George who took the throne when his eldest brother, now the Duke of Windsor, abdicated.
