NAACP Wants Bank's Branch Manager Fired!

The local NAACP has called for the dismissal of a branch manager of First National Bank, charging that he slurred the Negro race while reporting a holdup in which three Chicago men were arrested. In her letter to First National Bank President Allen Morgan, the NAACP executive secretary, Mrs. Maxine A. Smith, said:

"The Memphis Branch, NAACP, wishes to lodge a vigorous protest against the use of the words 'nigra' and/or 'nigger' by the manager of your Linden Avenue Branch in reporting on the attempted bank holdup, Tuesday, June 4.

"The use of either or both of these words is an insult not only to your Negro depositors but also to every Negro in this area.

"Recently, our branch launched a campaign designed to eradicate the use of both of these words. Our position is that a man who can say 'grow' can certainly say Negro.

"Your bank will not permit one of its officers to make a slur against minority elements in the white community; we insist that this must not be done to Negroes.

"We, hereby, call upon your bank (1) to dismiss the manager of your Linden Avenue Branch (2) to issue a public apology to Negroes for this insult and (3) to issue instructions to all of your officers and employees that the use of the words 'nigra' and/or 'nigger' will not be tolerated.

"We have received numerous complaints regarding this incident, both from First National employees and enraged citizens. Accordingly, we shall appreciate your prompt consideration."

13-Year-Old Girl Is Murdered By Teenage Rival

Funeral services will be held Sunday for a 13-year-old baby-sitter who was knifed to death early last Saturday morning by another 13-year-old girl. The killing took place at 491-1 Vance.

Mae Pittman, who would have been in the ninth grade at Porter Junior High School, was stabbed to death by Annie Lavon Akins of 906 South Lauderdale.

Willie Mae was at the Vance Avenue address baby-sitting for her sister, Mrs. Juanita Dean, when she was killed.

The dead girl, resided at 752 Fleet Place with her mother, Mrs. Mary Pittman, and on occasions with her father, Willis Moore, who lives at 757 Fleet Place.

Homicide Capt. R. A. Cochran

Homicide detectives said Willie Mae had been arguing over boyfriends before the killing took place.

Annie Lavon was turned over to Juvenile Court authorities and charged with murder.

It was learned this week that a 21-year-old woman and a teenage boy were arrested in connection with the killing.

Funeral for Willie Mae is to be held at St. Matthew Baptist Church, 643 Wicka, pastored by the Rev. H. H. Harper. Southern is in charge of arrangements.

The slaying occurred at 12:15 Saturday morning.

The dead girl was also the sister of Mrs. Bertha Jones, Mrs. Doris Pittman and Marshall and Tillman Suggs of Chicago, and Suggs of Morristown, Tenn. Alfonso Moore of California, and Vergine Moore of Memphis.

Ministers' Gift To Dr. Owen Is Trip To Vietnam

Dr. Samuel A. Owen, longtime minister of Metropolitan Baptist Church, will soon go on a good-will tour of the Holy Land and the battle zones of Vietnam.

He will be sent on the tour by the Interdenominational Ministers Alliance of Memphis and Shelby County.

Announcement of the planned tour was made Friday night by the president of the Alliance, the Rev. H. L. Starks, at an Honor Program given for Dr. and Mrs. Owen.

About $500 was received Friday night and was deposited in Tri-State Bank for the tour. It is estimated that $3,000 will be required to meet the expenses of the trip. Contributions will be accepted throughout the city.

A plaque was presented to Dr. and Mrs. Owen by Rev. Mr. Starks. In accepting, Dr. Owen said "I'll go to Jerusalem and Vietnam if you say so. I'm happy tonight to accept this plaque."

Witnessing the program were Mayor William Ingram and City Commissioners Hunter Lane and Pete Sisson. Mayor Ingram presented the key to the city to the honoree and proclaimed him an 'Ambassador of Goodwill at Large' for Memphis during his tour of the Holy Land and Vietnam.

An audience of about 50 was present for the program arranged by the Alliance. The sponsoring pastors named Dr. Owen 'Minister of the Year of 1966.'

Dr. John Charles Mickle, pastor of Second Congregational Church, said: "Rev. Owen is one of the great men of our century. If every man lived as he did, Earth would be paradise."

Rev. Mr. Starks said Dr. Owen "is the most complete individual I have ever met. Today he stands without a peer. He gave himself as a servant to all mankind."

The Rev. DeWitt T. Alcorn, an officer of the CME Church, was chairman of the program and served as master of ceremonies.

Principal speaker of the evening was Dr. Hugh M. Glover, a native Memphian who has been elected president of Morehouse College in Atlanta. Dr. Owen is a graduate of Morehouse and one of his early grade teachers in Memphis, Tenn. was Dr. Glover's mother.

Dr. Glover, a graduate of LeMoyné Junior College, reviewed the life of Dr. Owen and referred to him as a gentleman and a minister. "When will there be another?" he asked.

The program was held at Metropolitan, a church that was erected under the direction of Dr. Owen.

Memphian's Book Is Off The Press

Clifton L. Moseley of Memphis has done what most individuals would like to do. He has written a book and it has been published under the title of "The Torch Glows" by Carlton Press, Inc. of New York City. The book sells for $4.75.

Mr. Moseley, who resides at 1382 Lyceum Road, is a graduate of LeMoyné College (1938), holds a law degree from Howard University in Washington, D. C., and earned the master's degree in school administration at Columbia University.

Presently, he is a teacher of social science at Mitchell Road High School in Shelby County. He has held this position six years. He has been in the Shelby County School System about 13 years, part of it at Geeter High School.

Although Mr. Moseley was only two years writing "The Torch Glows," he began putting it together in his mind during the years of 1943-1954 when he served as principal of The Baptist Industrial School at Hernando, Miss., for many years the only high school for Negroes in Desoto County.

He did a lot of thinking about material for the book in 1943 when he took a lone walk instead of riding because buses were so crowded in those days that Negroes in Mississippi found it hard to find seats even in the rear of the public vehicles.

Much of Mr. Moseley's book is about educational facilities provided for Negroes in Hernando and Desoto County during those days.

Harvard Invites Two LeMoynites

Two LeMoyné College students have been chosen to attend the Harvard-Yale-Columbia Intensive Studies Program during the summer.

Miss Johnnie Milan, a junior of 2385 Silver Cove, and James E. Robinson, a senior of 725 Hastings, will attend the summer session at Harvard, July 3-August 25.

Miss Milan, a history major, and Mr. Robinson, mathematics, are among the 200 accepted for the program. There were more than 650 applicants from colleges throughout the nation.

Scholarships covering all expenses, including travel, are provided for the participating students.

Dr. Lionel A. Arnold, academic dean at LeMoyné, said the program is designed to seek out students with a potential for future graduate study from predominantly Negro colleges.

Male Chorus Day At St. Peter Baptist

Sunday, June 18, will be observed as "Annual Male Chorus Day" at St. Peter Baptist Church, 1410 Pillow St. Male choruses from Morning View, Trinity, Mt. Olive CME, Mt. Zion, Olivet, St. John, Mt. Vernon and Gospel Temple churches will participate.

Joe Ingram is president of St. Peter Male Chorus, and the Rev. C. J. Gaston is pastor of the church.

It is not a novel. It is straight-from-the-shoulder writing and Mr. Moseley does an excellent job of explaining what went on in Desoto County and other Mississippi counties before the U. S. Supreme Court handed down its famous decision in 1954.

Desoto County now has three public high schools catering to Negro students and The Baptist Industrial School is slowly easing off the scene. It is now a seminary.

Although many passages of Mr. Moseley's book deal with historical facts and methods used by Negro leaders in setting up the private schools in Hernando, he doesn't hesitate to point out faults of whites and Negroes holding high places in the State's educational system.

Repeatedly, the book refers to the power-hungry Negro principal and how he becomes an dictator, especially over his teachers and the community. One passage in the book reads: "The teacher fears the principal; the principal fears the superintendent; the superintendent fears the parents; the parents fear the children; the children fear no one."

The chapter dealing with the organization of The Baptist Industrial School is a touching one, pointing up the great desire on the part of parents to give their children a high school education.

Mr. Moseley writes: "The torch of education was left entirely upon the will and initiative of the Negroes themselves. Before the Negroes could organize their efforts, they taught and studied on their own, the success of which was referred to as 'self-made.' It was these Negroes, whether preachers or missionaries, who kept the torch burning during these years of total neglect by the school system toward Negro education."

Actually, the book is a tribute to ministers, laymen and parents who raised enough money to start The Baptist Industrial School and kept it going for years, especially during the time when the white power structure in Desoto County gave very little thought to secondary education for Negroes.

Morris Endorsed By Shamrock Club

Charles Morris, candidate for City Council from District 7, has been endorsed by The Shamrock Socialists. The endorsement came at the club's meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Harraway on Shankman Circle.

Mr. Morris spoke briefly on the Anti-Poverty Program and the need for jobs for persons over 35.

The club donated "hot" stoves to Goodwill Homes to be used by the girls for pressing their hair.

President of the club is Mrs. Dorothy Pickens.

Birthday gifts were presented to Mrs. Etta Mae Flowers.

Members attending were Mrs. Sarah Miller, Mrs. Jennete Harraway, Mrs. Teresa Watson, Mrs. Thelma Hall, Mrs. Elizabeth Reams and Mrs. Magnolia O'Neal. Mrs. O'Neal will host the next meeting.

Club reporter is Mrs. Pricilla Burke.

National Teacher Exams At LeMoyné

LeMoyné College has been designated as a test center for administering the National Teacher Examinations. July 1, it was announced this week by Dr. Lionel A. Arnold, LeMoyné's academic dean.

Eligible to take the examinations are college seniors who are preparing to teach and college graduates who are applying for positions in school systems.

DR. HOLLIS F. PRICE

Dr. Price Ending 2-Year Term As Nat'l Moderator

Dr. Hollis F. Price, president of LeMoyné College in Memphis, will preside at all business sessions of the 8th General Synod of the United Church of Christ scheduled to convene June 22-29 at the Netherland-Hilton Hotel in Cincinnati.

Dr. Price is the outgoing national moderator of the General Synod which meets every 2 years. He was elected to the post, unopposed, in Chicago in June 1965.

He is the first Negro to serve in this position, the highest honorary office provided by the United Church of Christ.

During his two years as moderator he has visited and spoken at

Memphis' Bob Lee In Hall Of Fame

Memphis-born Robert (Bob) Lee, a graduate of LeMoyné and one of the college's "Mad Magicians" of the 30's, has been inducted into the NAIA Hall of Fame.

Lee, former head baseball coach at Southern University in Baton Rouge, La., was cited at the annual NAIA Baseball Hall of Fame banquet in St. Joseph, Mo.

Known to his Memphis friends as "Roundhead," Mr. Lee has 33 years of experience as a coach of baseball, basketball and football at Southern.

He was inducted into the NAIA Hall of Fame with Dave Bristol of the Cincinnati Reds and Wayne Causey, a Chicago White Sox infielder. Causey is a graduate of Northeast State College in Monroe, La.

Lee was honored by NAIA as coach of the year in 1961.

Also honored at the banquet was Dr. R. W. E. Jones, president of Grambling College in Louisiana. Dr. Jones, who coaches baseball as a hobby at Grambling, was named NAIA coach of the year. He was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1963.

Like Coach Jones, Lee ranks as one of the most successful men in his profession. His Southern squad won the NAIA world series in 1959. Lee's baseball team won eight Southwestern Athletic Conference championships and his basketball club won five titles. One of his star players on the '59 team was Lou Brock, St. Louis Cardinal star. Although he relinquished the job as head coach two years ago Lee still remains active as an assistant in the games he loves.

First Negro In U.S. History Appointed To Highest Court

By ALVIN SPIVAK
(United Press International)

WASHINGTON—(UPI) — Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall was named Tuesday to be the first Negro member of the Supreme Court.

President Johnson appointed the pioneer civil rights lawyer to succeed Justice Tom C. Clark, who retired Monday.

The 58 year old great grandson of a slave sat beside the President on a White House sofa when Johnson personally announced the appointment, which is subject to senate confirmation.

Marshall, who lost only three of 32 cases he argued before the Supreme Court as a civil rights attorney, scored his biggest legal triumph in 1954 when the court ruled that public school segregation was illegal. This and previous court victories won while he was general counsel for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People NAACP earned him the name of "Mr. Civil Rights."

LITTLE OPPOSITION
Although Marshall had some difficulty in securing Senate confirmation after President John F. Kennedy named him to the U. S. Second Circuit Court of Appeals in 1962, there was virtually no opposition when Johnson appointed him solicitor general in 1965. Little, if any, Senate opposition is foreseen to his Supreme Court nomination.

Raise In Salary For City Teachers

Memphis City School teachers will be given a raise in salary despite the fact the Board of Education had to cut its proposed budget more than $2 million after the State Legislature approved the lower figure.

The raises were announced last week at a special meeting of the board and range from $200 a year for starting teachers with a bachelor's degree to $1,100 a year for 20-year teachers with a doctorate.

The final budget figure approved by the board was just over $17.9 million. The proposed figure presented to the state legislature last month was about $50 million.

Board President Hugh Bosworth said the raises for teachers were not as high as they would have been under the proposed budget but "we felt they deserved a raise and did everything we could to get as much as we could."

"Many proposed programs and additions in personnel had to be dropped entirely."

Free Performances On LeMoyné's Stage

The Free Southern Theater of New Orleans is presenting afternoon performances this week in the Little Theatre located in LeMoyné College's new Student Center.

The performances start at 2:10 each afternoon and will continue through Friday. The public is invited and each presentation is free.

The FST group is presenting Douglas Turner Ward's "Happy Ending" and Eugene Ionesco's "The Lesson." Two narrative poems also are being performed in ensemble.

Hooker To Help Morris' Kickoff

Kickoff for Charles E. Morris' campaign for a seat on the City Council from the 7th District has been scheduled for Sunday, June 25, at Keel Avenue Baptist Church, 778 North Bellevue (north of Jackson). It is scheduled to start at 3 p. m.

Atty. John Hooker of Nashville will be the principal speaker.

The energetic campaign manager for Mr. Morris is his wife, Alma, a well-known barber on the Northside.

Mr. Morris is staff manager of North Carolina Mutual Insurance Co. in Memphis. He is a member of Greater St. Luke Baptist Church where he is assistant superintendent of Sunday School, a deacon and trustee.

Mr. Morris says he knows the poor man's problems and is an advocate of the Anti-Poverty Program.

"If elected, he will be able to help all persons regardless of race, creed or color," his campaign manager said. Mr. Morris said donations "will be appreciated and should be sent to Morris' Campaign Headquarters at 981 Alaska."

Gilliam Jr. Earns Masters At UM

H. A. Gilliam Jr. received the master's degree in actuarial science during commencement exercises June 2 at University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

He entered the graduate school of University of Michigan after graduating from Yale University in 1963.

After his first year at University of Michigan, he entered the Air Force Reserve and worked here at Universal Life Insurance Co. He returned to Michigan in 1966.

Presently, he is working in the accounting office at the university. He will return to Universal Life in September.

Mr. Gilliam is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilliam Sr. Mr. Gilliam Sr. is a vice president of Universal Life.

Inside Memphis

ABOUT 35 PERCENT of the 2,500 RCA employees laid off this week are Negroes.

LETTERS ARE BEGINNING to pour in from all over the country to help swell the fund that will pay for Dr. S. A. Owen's tour of Vietnam and the Holy Land.

MANY OF THE MELROSE students who shocked the Board of Education by making high scores on a national Spanish test agreed to take the exam over because they wanted to attend summer school. The Board will not release report cards until the test is retaken. At least 12 students, under the wing of the NAACP, are holding out.

ZION HILL BAPTIST CHURCH

1448 Boland Street
Rev. R. W. Taylor, pastor

The official staff and members of Zion Hill celebrated the birthday of the pastor, the Rev. R. W. Taylor, June 13. The affair was largely attended and enjoyed by the honoree as well as the members.

Plans continue underway by the Sisterhood of Zion Hill. Their activities will be culminated in August with Women's Day.

The Youth Department of New Salem are busy making plans for their annual Young People's Day Miss Mildred Scott is chairman, assisted by Frank Smoots. Captains who are already working diligently are: Alex Hanna, Alphonse Davis, Vernon Davis; Misses Phyllis Jones, Opal Hart, Patricia Jackson, Joyce Mitchell, Margaret Few, Selena Moore, Fay Porter, Mary Moore, Toni Jones, LaDoris Black and Jo Ann McKinney.

Final rites were held at the church for the late John Young. Mr. Young was one of the oldest members of the church. He had served quietly and efficiently for many years in the Sunday School and on the deacon board.

Surviving him is a sister, many grandchildren and great-grandchildren. He was interred at Hollywood Cemetery.

Mrs. Alma Hawes Black will be speaking June 18 at the Howe Chapel C. M. E. church, Como, Miss., in observance of their annual Men and Women's Day. Their theme centers around "An Entangled World and our Role as Christian Men and Women in Meeting the Challenge." Some of the leaders at the church have worked diligently to plan a stimulating program. Among them are: Mr. and Mrs. Alec Gault, Mrs. Callcutt, Mr. and Mrs. Willie B. Dillard, and others. The Rev. Charles Jones of Memphis is minister.

Upholds Contempt Charges Against Dr. King

Court Strikes Down State Laws Prohibiting Mixed Marriages

By CHARLOTTE HOULTON United Press International

WASHINGTON — UPI — The Supreme Court Monday struck down state laws prohibiting racial-mixed marriages, upheld a contempt conviction against the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. and added fuel to the legal dispute over electronic eavesdropping.

In a flood of decisions ending its 1967 term, the court also set aside a $500,000 damage award won by former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker from the Associated Press and affirmed a $460,000 libel judgment against the Saturday Evening Post in favor of Wallace Butts former athletic director of the University of Georgia.

In so doing, a majority of the nine justices made clear they felt there was no difference between a "public figure," such as Walker, and a public official, who the court had ruled earlier must prove "actual malice" in suing for libel.

COURT RECESSES

After the court handed down decisions on some of the most difficult and far-reaching issues of the session, Chief Justice Earl Warren pad tribute to Justice Tom C. Clark who is retiring after 18 years and Justice Hugo L. Black, celebrating his 30th year on the bench. The court then recessed until October.

The justices ruled unanimously that a Virginia law banning marriage between Negroes and whites was unconstitutional, thus nullifying similar statutes in 15 other states.

The decision came in a case involving Richard P. Loving, a white construction worker and his Negro Indian wife, Mildred, who were married in the District of Columbia in 1958 and arrested on their return to their native Caroline County, Va.

The Lovings were charged with trying to evade Virginia's anti-miscegenation law and were given a suspended sentence of one year in prison on condition that they leave the state. The couple decided in 1963 to return home and fight banishment, with the help of the American Civil Liberties Union.

CONVICTION UPHELD

In a 5-4 ruling, the court upheld contempt convictions against King and seven other civil rights leaders for violating a Jefferson County, Ala., Circuit Court injunction forbidding demonstrations in Birmingham during Easter week of 1963. Each was sentenced to five days in jail and a $50 fine.

King and his companions had argued that the ordinance and the injunction interfered with their rights of free speech. King was not immediately available for comment.

In the eavesdropping case, the court declared unconstitutional, by a 5-4 vote, a New York state law permitting court approved "bugging" in criminal cases. It cited the 4th Amendment prohibition against "unreasonable searches and seizures."

The court reversed the conviction of Ralph Berger, a public relations man convicted in 1964 of scheming to bribe a New York state official. In the case, microphones were concealed in telephone boxes in the offices of two New York lawyers. The prosecution stipulated it would have no case against Berger without the evidence obtained from eavesdropping.

Parkway Gardens Ladies Attend Church Retreat

Eight ladies of Parkway Gardens Presbyterian Church spent an inspirational weekend at the "Business Women's Retreat" at N. CoMe. Attending were Mesdames Zamma Jones, Frances Meadows, Verenstine Simon, Elaine Campbell, Lillian Anderson, Buelah Jeans, and Minnie Robinson, the president.

Theme of the meeting was "The Holy Spirit In Our Life Today." There were 105 ladies attending this meeting from Nashville, Columbia and Memphis. The first session was held with Mrs. William Hindsworth, chairman, from Nashville presiding.

The first message was given by Mrs. Mary L. Lacy of Virginia. Following Mrs. Lacy's message, Mrs. O. G. Henry presented some of the recent books that are being offered as helpful reading materials.

Since the ladies like to be informed on all subjects of the world, Chaplain Robert Porter told them of his experiences as a minister in Viet Nam.

The highlights of the 7 p.m. session included a series of skits demonstrating some phases of women's work in the church and a film of colleges and universities of Japan that have received aid from the annual "Birthdays Program."

Following the birthday objective the Rev. Lucius Dubose climaxed the Saturday session with a short talk and "talk back" period. He used as a subject "Our Life Today."

The Sunday morning communion services were indelibly impressive. The services were held in the open air chapel by Rev. Mr. Dubose and O. G. Henry.

The 11 a.m. worship services were presided over by Mrs. A. O. King, from Memphis. A morning offering was taken that amounted to $100 and was contributed to the Birthday Objective.

Rev. Mr. Dubose spoke on the "Holy Spirit, Of Life Today." During the lunch period the officers for 1967-68 were presented to the group. After lunch the ladies departed for home.

Soviet Wants Israeli Forces Out Of UAR

By BRUCE W. MUNN (United Press International)

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — (UPI) — The Soviet Union Tuesday demanded an immediate emergency session of the General Assembly to force Israeli forces to pull back from Arab territory.

The Soviets indicated Premier Alexei Kosygin, and possibly other Kremlin leaders, might come to a General Assembly session. The Russians sought a meeting of the 122 member assembly within 24 hours.

Reports circulated that the Soviet Union had requested clearance for a government plane to land at New York's John F. Kennedy Airport on Thursday.

FACE HURDLES

Procedural hurdles remained to be cleared before the assembly could be convened by Secretary General Thant, to whom a request signed by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko was delivered by Soviet U.N. Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko.

"The Soviet government would inform you that it will send a delegation including leading statesmen of the Soviet Union to the General Assembly," Gromyko's letter said.

Russia earlier abandoned its efforts to gain Security Council condemnation of Israel for the Middle East war.

At a Tuesday night meeting of the 15 nation council, Ambassador Muhammad H. el Fara of Jordan accused Israel of genocide. He maintained that Jordanians were still being driven from their home despite the U.N. cease fire in the Mideast.

NEED NINE VOTES

Fedorenko sat silently Tuesday night while Ambassador Janil M. Baroudy of Saudi Arabia and special Israeli representative Mordecai Kidron delivered lengthy speeches. Kidron was sitting in for Israeli Ambassador Odeon Rafael, recalled to Israel for consultations.

An emergency meeting of the General Assembly can be convened by a vote of any nine members — with the veto not applying if the council, "because of lack of unanimity of the permanent members, fails to exercise its primary responsibility for the maintenance of international peace and security."

Fedorenko asked for an immediate council vote on a revised version of a Soviet resolution introduced earlier, calling for condemnation of Israel. The resolution also demanded that Israel halt military activity immediately and withdraw from Arab territory to behind previous truce lines.

The Russian was aware this would not muster the required nine votes for passage but it was felt he would argue that this would constitute "lack of unanimity" required to send the Mideast crisis to the full assembly.

The Conference maintains headquarters in Chicago and a Southern Field Service project with offices in New Orleans. Services of the Conference are available to anyone regardless of ethnic group.

Dodd Challenges Senate To Expel, Not Censure Him

By STEVEN GERSTEL United Press International

WASHINGTON - UPI - Sen. Thomas J. Dodd went on trial for his political life Tuesday with an emotional challenge for Senate colleagues not to censure, but to expel him "if you judge me to be a thief."

"I am not guilty," the silver haired Connecticut Democrat declared in a prepared speech.

"By any honest accounting, I have not profited one penny from public office."

But as the Senate began prolonged debate on a censure resolution against Dodd, his old friend and chief investigator, Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., sadly told colleagues they must condemn Dodd for financial misconduct or risk undermining the integrity of the Senate itself.

MULTIPLE FINANCE CHARGES
Stennis is chairman of the Senate Ethics Committee which, after a 14-month inquiry, accused Dodd of diverting campaign contributions and receipts from testimonial dinners for personal use as payment of federal taxes and loans, home repairs, club dues and overseas travel.

IN HISTORY
Dodd pictured himself the victim of "the most unscrupulous character assassins ever spawned by the American press" - columnists Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson - and several former employees with a "pathological desire for vengeance" who stole documents that provided for the charges against him.

Dodd heatedly denied he was responsible in any way for the double billings, blaming them on former office employe Michael O'Hare, whom he described as "an incredibly inept bookkeeper."

The Senator said: "If I should come to the conclusion that some business were guilty of a deliberate attempt to defraud the government of this country, I would not urge that he be censured. I would urge that he be expelled."

On the testimonial dinners, Dodd said this was a cloudy area in which there was "an urgent need to establish a code of ethics for the guidance of Senators."

Senators peppered Stennis with questions not about the charges against Dodd but about what the Justice Department and the committee had done about the former Dodd employe who removed documents from his files and gave them to Pearson and Anderson.

Stennis said the removal was "reprehensible" but that the committee felt the Senate had no mandate to act.

There was no indication of the length or outcome of the Senate debate. Long Senate Democratic whip and Dodd's leading supporter, said that if a censure vote were taken immediately, Dodd would have about a dozen backers on the floor.

"But we'll have 60 or 80 votes before this is over," he said. "It takes a simple majority of 51 of the 100 senators to vote censure."

Rockefeller's Star

One stimulating election prospect for Republicans these days is the likelihood that the Vietnamese War, rather than being ended by 1968 will be hotter than ever, with heavier and heavier casualties.

With chances that such a situation will exist in 1968 increasing month by month the smell of victory grows stronger and stronger among Republicans.

As this prospect unfolds, sentiment is concurrently developing for Governor Nelson Rockefeller of New York, as the man most likely to poll the greatest vote against Johnson.

Rockefeller is a positive personality, a successful Governor and a man with vast financial resources. He has said he is not running but if neither Romney nor Nixon capture the nation's fancy, his vote-getting ability, his ability to win, could suddenly be the attraction that sweeps through the convention.

For Legal Abortion

The American Baptist Convention, meeting in Pittsburgh recently, passed a resolution endorsing legalized abortion in the United States. It was a highly significant action because most state legislatures have not yet enacted laws to allow abortions in extreme cases.

Baptists are the largest single Protestant denomination in the United States, trailing only Roman Catholics in number. (The combined membership of Protestant churches is almost twice that of U.S. Roman Catholic church membership, now more than 40,000,000.)

While there are several Baptist church bodies in the nation, nevertheless the action of the American Baptist Convention, though smaller than some, is significant. It no doubt reflects the sentiment of other Protestant bodies, within Baptist groupings and of other denominations.

Following a recent poll of doctors in the nation, which revealed that about ninety per cent of those from all faiths who answered favored laws to allow abortions to be legally performed in extreme cases, the resolution will likely lessen the interval of time before completely prohibitive laws (not now enforced in most states) are modernized, laws which will wipe out the illegal trade and unnecessary deaths it produces each year.

named attorney general. The President said he consulted with the American Bar Association and that it considered Marshall "highly acceptable."

Marshall, the son of a country club steward, was born in Baltimore July 2, 1908. He graduated cum laude from Lincoln University in Pennsylvania in 1929 and received his law degree at Howard University in Washington, in 1933.

Known in private life as a high spirited, gregarious man, he said he could not comment on his appointment until after the Senate acted. He said his nomination was "not something you'd expect, but something you hope for."

Johnson noted that Marshall had argued 32 cases before the Supreme Court while in private practice and 19 more while solicitor general. "Out of 50 cases," the President said, "he lost only eight."

"Hardly any other living man has argued as many cases before the court," Johnson added. He said Marshall was "best qualified by training."

Johnson told reporters he had received "very little pressure of any kind" in his selection of a successor to Clark, who stepped down after his son, Ramsey Clark, was

Debate Draft Bill To Defer College Men From Service

WASHINGTON - (UPI) - The Senate began Monday on a new draft bill that would defer college men from military service regardless of their grades while they complete four year courses.

The compromise measure, expected to be approved quickly by both the house and Senate, would extend military conscription thru 1971. The current draft law expires July 1.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., told the Senate the bill, final product of a year's national debate on ways to improve induction processes, was "less satisfactory than the existing law and I intend to vote against acceptance of it."

Kennedy did not attack the bill's chief provision, which would guarantee any college student uninterrupted study and deferral from the draft until he received a bachelor's degree, drops out of school or reaches age 24-whichever comes first.

He confined his attack to five other provisions, including a section that would stop President Johnson from instituting his proposed Fair and Impartial Random selection system.

FAIR - a lottery like plan to determine the order of induction. Kennedy said the bill's requirement that Johnson seek additional legislation to authorize the FAIR system was "unnecessarily cumbersome."

Johnson is planning to draft 19-year olds first - a reversal of the current order of induction, in which the oldest eligible men are the most likely to be drafted. Under the FAIR system, the names of non-exempt 19 year olds would be thrown into a fishbowl and draftees selected by lot.

By guaranteeing a college student four years of uninterrupted study, the bill eliminates controversial student classification tests and the practice of sending the class standings of students to their local draft boards.

But after the student finishes college, he would be exposed for induction on the same basis as a 19 year old who did not go to college.

The provision would take effect after July 1.

Besides the congressional ban on a draft lottery, Kennedy attacked provisions narrowing the grounds for exemption as a conscientious objector, designating the top level National Security Council as the agency for determining what occupations should be draft exempt and lifting the exemption of Peace Corps physicians.

NAACP Condemns Vigilante Group

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. - Upon learning of the creation of a "Citizens Patriotic Police Council and Patrol," NAACP leaders here met with both the Director of the Safety Board and the local Police Chief to condemn the organization and demand its investigation.

NAACP Youth Field Director William H. Hardy stated, "We do not need vigilante - type protection. We want a stronger police department with more training, not a citizens group with unmarked cars, tear gas and that sort of thing."

The Association's metropolitan council president, Andrew J. Ramsey, asserted, "We view this situation with a great deal of alarm. It is certainly not along the lines of the police - community relations program we've been discussing with Police Chief Daniel T. Vez." Safety Board Director Arthur J. Sullivan assured the NAACP representatives that he would recommend police investigation of the group which claims to have 150 members and a sufficient supply of tear gas, guns, ammunition and communication facilities to "take care of trouble," as its leader says.

Mr. Hardy added, "We'll have to take other steps unless we have assurance that this group can be stifled before it causes more trouble."

Negro County Commissioner Sought By Savannah NAACP

SAVANNAH, Ga. - The local branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has requested that a Negro be considered to fill a vacancy on the seven-member County Commission.

In a letter to the commissioners, Savannah NAACP President W. W. Law said:

"Although you have had numerous opportunities to do so, not once have you favorably considered a Negro for appointment to the County Commission.

"This is unfair and undemocratic and, furthermore is a rejection of a large reservoir of talent that should be available to the community."

The Westside Youth Council of the NAACP also called on Mayor Curtis Lewis and the aldermen to provide more jobs and recreation for young Negroes.

"The poverty of many families in the area is of such that... the youths must find work to help secure clothing and other essentials in order to re-enter school in Sept.," the council said.

Registration For National Beauty Culturists League Hits 2,000

The registration for attendance at the annual sessions of the National Beauty Culturists' League and the National Institute of Cosmetology, has passed the 2,000 mark, according to Dr. Katie E. Whickham, national president.

The institute and convention are to be held in Atlanta, Ga., July 27 to Aug. 3 and from Aug. 2 to Aug. 6 respectively. Delegates of the 100,000-member organization are registered from all over the Western Hemisphere, North America, South America, Bahamas, Central America and the islands.

Officers of the convention represent every state and section of the area covered by the membership. In addition to Dr. Whickham, who hails from New Orleans, national officers include Mrs. Maude Gadsden, New York City; Mrs. Ruth Valentine, Norfolk, Virginia; Mrs. Aline Jefferson, Kansas City; Mrs. Mary Meyers, Columbus, Ohio; Mrs. Georgia M. Brown, Los Angeles; Mrs. Madeline Oliver, Chicago; Mrs. Gladys Carr, Dallas, vice-president.

Also Mrs. Margaret Mitchell, Baltimore, recording secretary; Mrs. Josephine Thompson, Washington, D. C., financial secretary; Mrs. Doris A. Clarke, Washington, D. C., treasurer; Mrs. Cole Holmes, Little Rock, chaplain; Mrs. Vernice H. Mark, Detroit, historian.

Members of the executive board consist of the following: Mrs. Minnie B. Hurley, New York, advisor to the president; Mrs. Margaret Trowel, Frankfort, Ky.; Mrs. Roberta Jackson, West Memphis; Mrs. Pauline Humphrey, Des Moines; Mrs. Mary A. Clark, Dallas; Mrs. Marie Smith, Philadelphia; Mrs. Mary F. Myler, Detroit; Mrs. Mada P. Edwards, New Orleans; Mrs. Maurine Mink, Oklahoma City; D. A. Julius, Miami; Mrs. Thelma Parker, Detroit; Mrs. Vivian Hassey, Winston - Salem; Mrs. Henri Anna Carroll, Monro, La.; Mrs. Catherine Ross, Tampa.

Senior trustees of the organization are as follows: Mrs. Serena B. Patterson, Philadelphia, chairman; Mrs. Sophia Smith, Louisville; Mrs. Edith Wilkins, Cleveland, O.; Mrs. Blanche Brown, Flint, Mich.; Mrs. Florence Elerbee, Jamaica, N. PICKET LINE DEMONSTRATION

A picketline demonstration to defend Muhammad Ali took place in Cleveland, Ohio, on Saturday, June 3rd. Over 60 people who supported the heavyweight champion's stand against the draft and the war in Vietnam marched and chanted and disturbed leaflets in front of the Federal Building downtown.

The demonstrators wholeheartedly agreed with the statement made by Muhammad Ali when he refused induction into the armed forces: "I am not going 10,000 miles from here to help murder and kill and burn another poor people simply to help continue the domination of white slave masters over the darker people the world over."

But if I remain silent and put on the uniform and went along, this would be an ugly sell-out to my people, and no matter what it costs me, whether fall or my life, I will not disgrace my religion, my people or myself."

This demonstration was sponsored by four organizations which participate in the broad anti-war movement in Cleveland. They are the: Draft Resisters Union, Committee Against War and Fascism, United Black Youth, and Cleveland Committee to End the War in Vietnam.

20 United Appeal Leaders To Tour 2 Local Homes

ATLANTA, Ga. - (SNS) - Twenty United Appeal campaign leaders and their wives will attend a novel sea for yourself tour Tuesday afternoon, June 13, as guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Livezey. Following the tour, they will return to the Livezey home for a buffet supper.

Mr. Livezey is general manager, Catalog Order Plant, Sears, Roebuck and Company, and general chairman for this fall's United Appeal campaign.

Convinced that seeing is believing, the Livezeys have engaged a bus for the afternoon to take their guests for a leisurely visit to two of the 45 United Appeal agencies.

First stop will be the A. G. Rhodes Home on Boulevard Drive, S. E., where more than 100 elderly men and women make their home and receive the nursing care they need.

Next the group will visit the Warren Memorial Boys' Club on Berne Street, S. E. where hundreds of boys from low-income families enjoy sports and crafts, and find an understanding adult with whom to discuss their problems.

Death-Of-God Theologians Challenge Christian Workers

The Christian "strive to make a world which God ordained the world to be: a world without fear, want, oppression and injustice."

"This is what the vociferous 'death of God' debate boils down to, says a professor in a leading denominational magazine.

It must be conceded, argues Dr. Robert L. Perkins, that "God is dead" - in so far as the work of the world goes without him."

However, he is emphatic in adding that this statement is false "in so far as the Christian man is under orders."

The assertion that God is dead "is NOT a statement about the real existence or nonexistence of God," Dr. Perkins points out in the June 1 issue of the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

Rather, he terms it "a rhetorical device used to describe the phenomena of our personal and corporate existence."

"The Incarnation," Dr. Perkins explains, "means that God has acted as a person in history and culture of redeem history and culture by his own act of redeeming persons."

Interpreting the arguments of the "death of God" theologians, Dr. Perkins shows that most persons "simply behave as though God were dead" - all practical, personal, business and public affairs are acted without considering God's will "as revealed most lucidly in Jesus Christ."

"Far from being the death knell of God, the slogan is a stern prophetic warning" that people ignore

God in day-to-day dealings with friends and enemies, says Dr. Perkins, chairman of the philosophy department at the University of South Alabama in Mobile.

In his analytical article, THE DEATH OF GOD: ONTOLOGY OF PHENOMENOLOGY, he cites the jolting phenomenologist's questions: "What are the fundamental 'is-nesses' that move man?"

There is no question of existence or nonexistence in this realm, but a soul - searching probing to find out "What will a man sacrifice his financial security or his social status over?"

What can a devout individual do in the face of stark truth about human conduct and searing questions?

The suggestion, "that we reject pragmatism as the will of God is perhaps the latest phase and significance of Luther's doctrine of labor and vocation," Dr. Perkins comments in the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, Methodist bi-weekly magazine for ministers and other church leaders. (Martin Luther argues that righteousness and the certainty of salvation, once experienced by an individual, lead to "works," to new obedience, and to serving God joyfully by serving one's neighbor.)

"The inwardness of the Christian man," Dr. Perkins states, "must meet the worldness of the world" - not in opposition to the world, but by striving to create or recreate worldness "in God's own image."

Appropriations Lag Behind Some Needs

Denver, Colo. - Although some 400 Planned Parenthood clinics from Maine to Florida, and from the Atlantic to the Pacific served more people than ever in their 50-year history, the time for cheering has not yet come.

The record 315,000 women who received family planning help from the voluntary agency, are a drop in the bucket when the number of women needing such help is considered, Dr. Alan F. Guttmacher, obstetrician-gynecologist, who is president of the national voluntary birth control organization, told a recent meeting here.

Still waiting to be served, Dr. Guttmacher told Women's Medical News Service, are no fewer than 85 percent of an estimated 5,000,000 poor women who need family planning services but can't afford them.

"According to a recent report in SCIENCE, the money allotted to family planning by various government agencies comes to only to be about $17,000,095 if all the medically indigent are to be reached.

"To put it bluntly," the distinguished physician told Women's Medical News Service, "the missing link is money. Money stands in the way of our guaranteeing that all children will be wanted; that mothers will enjoy better mental and physical health; that our appalling infant mortality rate will be lowered; that families will have a better chance of recapped, the emotionally ill and the troubled, in our five-county metropolitan community." Mr. Livezey said, "Last year, more than 383,889 people right here at home were helped. Meeting some of these people and seeing for ourselves how much the United Appeal means to them, makes us want to do everything we possibly can to make certain these services will be continued."

The United Appeal campaign opens October 10 and will continue through November 16. Before Labor Day, Mr. Livezey will recruit more than 20,000 volunteers to help raise operating funds needed by member agencies.

A Anderson Huber, vice-president, The First National Bank of Atlanta, is associate campaign chairman. Sixty-two unit, division and special committee chairmen will be named within the next few weeks.

Few people have the courage to resist the crowd, even when they know the crowd is off base.

There's an old saying that money isn't everything, but there are few troubles that a little money can't lighten.

MORE ROADS TO GET STUCK ON Motorists are getting more roads every year on which to spend their Sundays in a traffic jam. Thirty-five of the 50 states have finished more than half of their allotted mileage to complete the Interstate highway system, according to National Petroleum News, a McGraw-Hill publication. Deadline for completing the entire system is 1973. It is estimated that the 41,000-mile network will carry 20 per cent of all traffic.

Boston NAACP Seeks U. S. Probe Off Radio

BOSTON, Mass. - Kenneth J. Guscott, president of the local branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has called on U. S. Attorney General Ramsey Clark to investigate "numerous complaints of malpractices" by police during the recent Roxbury riots.

Mr. Guscott, who worked with community leaders in the riot-torn area to restore order and work out solutions to longstanding grievances, said his office had received numerous complaints from Negroes charging police brutality during the four days of rioting which broke out June 2.

In a related development, John O. Cort, director of the Community Service Corps, said he saw "what seemed to me to be unnecessary firing by police" during the riot. The state official said he had had it stopped.

Mr. Cort was also highly critical of Boston's welfare system which allegedly triggered the riot.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Guscott said that his organization would soon release a program aimed at public information and legislative action to eliminate discrimination.

The program, to be presented to the 1967 NAACP annual convention here July 10-15, "will direct activities to positive social action programs which seek to create increased opportunity paths to upwards social, political and economic mobility," said Mr. Guscott.

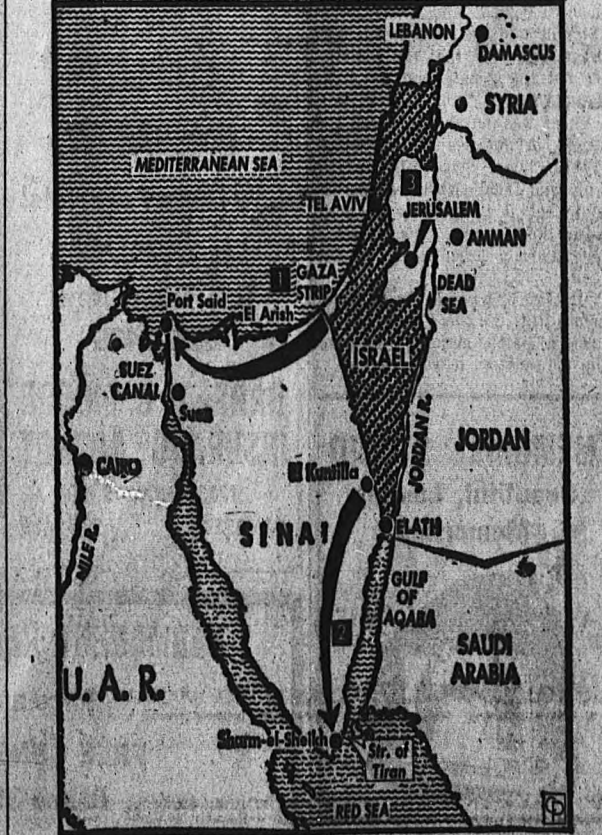

Dr. Guttmacher continued, "Traditional obstacles such as religious opposition and government apathy have been overcome; doctors are ready, willing, and able to serve; study after study shows women want family planning; the technology is splendid; what we need is money to do our job."

Seventy percent of all patients in Planned Parenthood's clinics now choose the pill as their preferred method of contraception while 15 percent select the intrauterine device.

WHAT NEXT, ISRAEL? - Arrows indicate Israel's blitz drives to the Suez Canal and the Strait of Tiran, to break Egypt's blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba. And Israel has the Syrians and the Jordanians squelched in the northeast. How will the tiny nation come out of this? Perhaps by insisting on retaining the Gaza Strip (1), the western shores of the Gulf of Aqaba (2), and land west of the Jordan River (3).

NAACP SPECIAL CONTRIBUTION FUND — Some 60 of the biggest names in the motion picture and television industry attended a recent luncheon at the Beverly Hilton Hotel Beverly Hills, Calif., in honor of Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, for the benefit of the NAACP Special Contribution Fund. The glittering array of celebrities attending the luncheon, sponsored by the Association of Motion Picture and Television Producers, included, from left: Grey Morris, star of television's "Mission: Impossible," actors Gregory Peck and Walter Pidgeon, Mr. Wilkins, Walter McClane, in charge of the corporate communications program of the NAACP's Fund; Jack Warner, chairman, Warner Brothers Studios, and Jack Valenti, president of the Motion Picture Association of America. During his remarks, Mr. Wilkins stressed the importance of Hollywood in creating a favorable climate for racial progress in America, and urged that new opportunities for employment of Negro Americans be created within the industry, not only as actors, but also in the crafts. The NAACP Special Contribution Fund was established in 1964 to provide tax-exempt programs of the NAACP, such as legal services, education, research, youth division, voter education and public information. It has a 1967 campaign goal of $1,000,000. Contributions to this fund are tax deductible.

Technical Assistance Study Aims At Job Discrimination

WASHINGTON — New programs of technical assistance to industry and unions are being prepared by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

Chairman Stephen N. Shulman announced a two-month-long $5,000 study is underway by the National Urban League to help plan the Commission's technical assistance programs.

The project is part of the Commission's new emphasis on sharing knowledge and experience with management and labor to open minority group job opportunities and to solve problems of discrimination on a voluntary basis, as well as through the enforcement program.

Title VII of the 1964 Civil Rights Act calls for such assistance by the Commission to further compliance with the law. In its first 22 months, the EEOC received more than 16,000 complaints of job discrimination based on race, religion, sex, or national origin. (Complaints are investigated in the field, reviewed for probable cause, and subject to conciliation or possible court action either by complaining parties or by Commission recommendations to the Attorney General.)

Erle Pollsar, Associate Professor in Cornell University's School of Industrial and Labor Relations, is directing the Urban League Study. It is to be completed by July 31, 1967.

The Commission's Office of Technical Assistance works with employers, labor unions, and employment agencies covered by Title VII on affirmative action programs covering problems such as recruitment, training, testing, and promotion of minority group members.

Bahama Islands Premier Winner Of Lovejoy Award

HOBSON R. REYNOLDS

Grand Exalted Ruler Hobson R. Reynolds of the Improved, Benevolent Protective Order of Elks of the World, announced that the Honorable Lynden Oscar Pindling, Premier of the Bahama Islands has been selected to receive the 1967 Lovejoy Award.

Reynolds added that the coveted Elks citation would be presented to Premier Pindling at the public meeting of the Elks Civil Liberties Department on Monday, August 28, 1967, at 2:00 P.M. during the 68th Grand Lodge Convention to be held in Los Angeles, Calif., at the Statler Hilton Hotel.

The Hon. Lynden Oscar Pindling, Premier and Minister for Tourism and Development, is the second man to head a Government in the Bahamas since the tiny Colony adopted a ministerial form of government in January, 1964, and the first to be so chosen under its new Constitution.

Mr. Pindling is the son of a Bahamian seaman's daughter and a father who emigrated to the Bahamas more than 40 years ago. Born March 22, 1930, the younger Mr. Pindling attended the Government High School in Nassau from 1943 to 1946, during which time he was the Colony's sprint champion. He left the Bahamas for the first time at the age of 18 to attend the University of London, where he received the degree of LL.B. in 1952. He was called to the English Bar, Middle Temple, as a Barrister-at-Law in January, 1953, and to the Bahamas Bar in August of that year.

Mr. Pindling joined the Progressive Liberal Party shortly after its formation in 1953 and was elected to the House of Assembly for Southern District in 1956, when he was named Leader for the Party. He was elected senior member for South Central District of New Providence in 1962 and the following year became chairman of the P.L.P. He relinquished the post of P.L.P. chairman in 1965 because of the pressure of his legislative duties, and to make room for rising talents within the Party.

Now a leading lawyer, with chambers in Nassau and Freeport, the Premier is married to the former Marguerite McKenzie, 34, of Long Bay Cays, Andros (a part of his present constituency). They have two sons, Lynden Obafemi, 7, and Leslie Oscar, 5, and a daughter, Michelle Marguerite, 4. They live in a comfortable residence on Nassau's Soldier Road.

For her part, Mrs. Pindling is taking on the mantle of leadership placed on her by her husband's success. In her own press conference, the new Premier's Lady urged Bahamian young women to become more active in public affairs.

The Lovejoy Award was conceived in 1949 during the Elks Grand Lodge Convention in San Francisco, California. It is presented each year to that person, "regardless of race, or color, judged most distinguished for service rendered humanity during the previous year."

Previous Lovejoy recipients were: New Jersey Governor Alfred E. Driscoll; Ralph Bunche; Branch Rickey; Mary McLeod Bethune; Thurgood Marshall; Marian Anderson; Martin Luther King; Philip Randolph; Lester Granger; John H. Johnson; Attorney General of Massachusetts; Connecticut State Treasurer Gerald A. Lamb; Georgia State Senator Leroy Johnson; Harry Golden - Publisher and Author; Whitney Young, Executive Director of the National Urban League, and Dr. Robert C. Weaver, First Secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Rockefeller Foundation Releases Report Of Moves In 66 Nations

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Dr. J. George Harrar, president of The Rockefeller Foundation, has made public the Foundation's operational and grant-making activities during the year 1966 in the United States and 66 countries abroad. New appropriations of $41.8 million were approved over this period (compared to $35.9 million the previous year) to carry out work in the five areas summarized below.

Toward the Conquest of Hunger: Appropriations totaling $8.6 million were made for programs designed to increase production in the developing countries of the world's basic food crops — rice, wheat, corn, sorghum and the millets, and potatoes; to improve livestock industries; and to develop new protein sources, including research into the possibilities of breeding high-quality protein into grains. (For details, see page 14 of the enclosed, President's Review.) Grants were made to help strengthen agricultural institutions for research, education, and extension in Latin America, Southeast Asia, India, Africa, and the Near East, with increasing emphasis on projects of broad regional and international usefulness. Over 50 Foundation field staff members were assigned to agricultural programs abroad. Closely associated with efforts to modernize agriculture is a Foundation research program to develop measures to control schistosomiasis, a parasitic disease endemic among agricultural populations in many of the developing countries.

Problems of Population: $3.8 million was appropriated by the Foundation for population stabilization programs and for basic research in reproductive biology and fertility control.

Eight United States universities (Columbia, Duke, the State University of New York, the University of Colorado, the University of Hawaii, the University of Michigan, the University of North Carolina, and Western Reserve) received grants to unify population studies within their medical schools and give this field the status of an independent academic discipline, relevant to contemporary medical training and practice and based on research in reproductive biology, demography, and related social sciences.

A new approach to population limitation, supported in 1966, was postpartum family planning, undertaken on a trial and demonstration basis at hospitals both in the United States and abroad. Training of medical and paramedical personnel to carry out family planning programs, particularly in the developing nations, continued to receive strong support as did training of demographers.

University Development: The Foundation's programs of assistance to developing centers of higher education, abroad followed the pattern proven effective in past years. A total of $7.8 million was appropriated for programs in seven university centers where long-range support is being concentrated.

In his review of the year's activities, Dr. Harrar announced that grants totaling $581,541 had been made in 1966 to the University of Ibadan, Nigeria; $441,305 to the University of Valle, Cali, Colombia; $719,320 to the University of the Philippines; $659,825 to universities in Bangkok, Thailand; $55,495 to the University of Khartoum, Sudan; $362,540 to a complex of institutions in Santiago, Chile; and $796,841 to the University of East Africa, which has constituent colleges in Kenya, Tanzania, and Uganda.

Visiting faculty was provided at the request of these institutions; including Foundation field staff members in the agricultural sciences, the medical and natural sciences, and the humanities and social sciences.

During 1966 about 50 Foundation staff members were in residence at university centers abroad (including 12 directing agricultural programs).

The total amount made available for visiting faculty appointments was $1,130,607. (For details, see page 52, the President's Review.)

Cultural Development: Funds for support of cultural activities within the United States amounted to $3.3 million. In the arts, the Foundation is currently concentrating assistance in the fields of music and theatre, with some support for educational television.

Several types of program were designed to encourage the composition and performance of new music; nine symphony orchestras were enabled to spend a week in residence at a nearby college or university to rehearse and present new works or give regional premiere performances of seldom heard music by contemporary American composers; small performing ensembles were supported in residence on various campuses; and a composer-in-residence program was inaugurated with four major symphony orchestras.

In the field of theatre, the Foundation supported several university-based training programs for actors, directors, and playwrights; grants were also made to individual playwrights and to experimental theatre groups.

Funds were appropriated for ov-

MARION JACKSON Views Sports of The World

SPORTS ODS AND ENDS

The Marion Girls Corps will be the feature halftime attraction of the 1967 Coaches All-America Game, Saturday, July 8th at the Municipal Auditorium. The game will be played at the French Lick Invitational Country Club, French Lick, Ind., July 21-23. The meet is promoted by Triangle Enterprises.

Triangle Enterprises, 325 W. 42nd St., Indianapolis, Ind., has a coinage problem in the Bob Hayes French Lick Invitational Golf Tournament, which will be held July 21-23. The meet is promoted by Triangle Enterprises.

Clifford Wilson Sr. is president of Triangle Enterprises. Other officers are Jacques J. Ferguson, vice president; William E. Carr, secretary; James S. Mullins, business manager; and Charles E. (Chuck) Wheeler, director of public relations.

Jim Taylor, the all-time fullback of the Green Bay Packers, is destined to wind up with the New Orleans Saints of the National Football League. The Saints, 16-member club of the circuit, is anxious to get the All-Pro.

For a club with 30,000-plus seats in the Super Bowl (Tulane Stadium), Taylor is a natural. Taylor, 33, is a graduate of Louisiana State University, and a popular favorite with Bayou State fans. Rumors that Taylor would play for the Saints have been since the Saints were awarded a NFL franchise in '66.

If Taylor does join the Saints, he would be reunited with his old running mate, Paul Hornung.

SPORTS BEAT — The Atlanta Chiefs soccer boosters, which has as its president W. Wheeler Bryan, will hold its June luncheon, today, June 14 at the Atlanta Stadium Club.

Soccer enthusiasts are invited to attend this meeting. In case you don't know, Clyde Partin is vice president; Mike Harris, second vice president; Herb Reese, secretary; and Blanchard M. Cooke, treasurer.

Members of the Board of Directors are Bill Campbell, Dean David Collins, Bill Egan, Joe Gerson, Tom Johnson, Dan Kennerly, Howard Klein, Bernie Merritt, Denis Payne and Raymond Williams.

Talk about boxing as a money-getter. Well, think again. The biggest gate bankroll in Atlanta, excepting baseball during June 4-10 was wrestling. The get-rich-quick deal was the June 9 championship fight which saw Gene Kiniski defend successfully against Lou Thesz.

A 5,000-plus crowd saw the first Kiniski-Thesz fight in May. The return crowd brought another 5,000-plus turnaway throng.

It will surprise you, but the wrestling dynasty puts boxing to shame almost nightly. Championably boxing is a rare gemstick, but seniors, will also return this summer. Records in the Director's office indicate two remarkable achievements of the Talladega Upward Bound Program: 1. Three of the pieces done by its Art students have been selected for inclusion in the national exhibit of Upward Bound Programs Art, the only selections from the state and area; and 2. better than two-thirds of last year's seniors - practically all of whom had no hopes of training beyond high school - are now ticketed either for college or trade school.

Of the 64 seniors, 51 have been accepted for admission to college - about 35 or them at Talladega; 3 of 10 who have applied to trade schools have been accepted; two are accepted at business schools and one each in schools of nursing and computer orientation. Several, in addition to the seven addition to the seven awaiting word from the schools, have applications pending for college or other training.

The Talladega Upward Bound is coordinated by Talladega and Dartmouth Colleges. John G. O'Neil of Dartmouth is assistant director. The faculty consists of 14 teachers - white and Negro from high school in the three counties, and nine teachers from the faculty of Talladega College. This staff is supplemented by over 30 student-tutors who come from Dartmouth, Colby and Talladega Colleges.

The project is funded by OEO and a supplement from Talladega College, and is operated the year around. Students are housed and fed free of charge, and are provided with $10 weekly spending money.

Bob Hayes Amateur Golf Invitational, July 21 To 23

FRENCH LICK, Ind. — The Bob Hayes Invitational Amateur Golf Tournament will be held at the magnificent French Lick Sheraton Country Club, July 21-23.

It will be a 36-hole gross and net for men and women. Pre-registers non-only Collect for $45.00. Refunds will be made of all those unable to attend until July 1.

The Bob Hayes Invitational Golf Tournament is promoted by Triangle Enterprises and sponsored by the Royal Crown Cola Company.

This is not an ordinary golf tournament. In addition to prizes and merchandise prizes there will be entertainment prizes, including a buffet dinner, bar, cocktail parties, fashion show, dances and musical activities for the kiddies.

For information, write Triangle Enterprises, P. O. Box 80473, Indianapolis, Ind.

The French Lick Sheraton Country Club is a championship course. A truly intriguing challenge to the touring pro. It was tested by the Professional Golfers Association a few years back 1963 to be exact.

Bob Turner of Cleveland, O., was medalist in the 1964 Bob Hayes Invitational Amateur golf Tournament.

Gross winners were Alton Smith, Indianapolis, Ind., Dr. Howard Campbell Indianapolis, Ind.

Gross women winners Juanita Boyd, Dayton, O., and Katherine Martin Okron, O.

Net winner, Mack McCollum, St. Louis, Mo., and runner-up Clarence Spencer, Cleveland, O.

Net winner woman Lauretta Seldom Detroit, Mich., and runner-up Eileen Jordan, Milwaukee, Wis.

The Bob Hayes Invitational tournament is limited to 200 participants.

Of that number 100 men will be playing. There will be a guest list of 40 women.

I pinpoint this, because the Morris Brown College Marching Band Workshop is June 24-25.

For the record, the Workshop Leader, William C. Moffitt is Assistant Director of bands at Michigan State University. He is responsible for planning the performance of the Spartan Marching Band. His experience includes 10 years of outstanding work with bands in the public schools of Ohio and Michigan. His drill concepts entitled "PATTERNS OF MOTIONS" have won wide acclaim throughout the country.

Braves Out Last Giants In Tenth Inning, 4 To 3

First baseman Jack Blott's second error of the game permitted Hank Aaron to score from second base in the bottom of the 10th inning Sunday with the winning run in the Atlanta Braves 4-3 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

Aaron led off the inning with a single, his fourth hit of the game, and then stole second for the third time. After Joe Torre popped out and Juan Marichal walked Clete Boyer intentionally, Denis Menke hit a sharp grounder to third baseman Jim Hart, who tried to fire.

The ball bounced off Blott's glove and then squirmed away from him as Aaron scored easily. The error enabled Danny Lemaster to post his seventh win of the season and pinned the fifth defeat on Marichal, who struck out 10 but yielded 10 hits.

Hlatt's first error in the fifth inning had led to another Atlanta run. After Lemaster singled, Gary Geiger rapped a sharp grounder off Blott's shins. Aaron singled to drive in Lemaster for a 2-0 lead. Felipe Alou's leadoff home run in the third had put Atlanta in front 1-0.

Hlatt and Willie Mays homered on successive pitches in the sixth to tie the score before back to back doubles by Boyer and Menke pushed the Braves ahead 2-2 in the bottom of the inning. The Giants evened the score again in the eighth on Jim Davenport's sacrifice fly.

A GIFT FOR THE HEART — A Milwaukee food company really put a "heart" in its gift giving last year, says International Management, a McGraw-Hill publication. Instead of giving individual customers presents, it donated a "cardiac care package" to a local hospital in the names of their customers. The package consists of a monitor cardiograph, heart alarm sentinel, heart pacer and heart defibrillator.

MAJORITY ASSURED — SEUL — UPI — The ruling party of President Park Chung Hee was assured of at least 129 seats in Thursday's elections for the 170 member National Assembly. Unofficial Saturday results gave 41 seats to the major opposition party, with two races still in doubt.

Boyer Looks At Sunny Side During Recent Road Tour

There was a time when every team in the American League was afraid of the New York Yankees. This is what the Braves' third baseman Clete Boyer says about the team he was with for eight years and in five World Series.

But Boyer recalls that even in those days his team suffered through mysterious slumps. "You have to consider," Boyer said, "that a big league team can win the pennant today while losing forty per cent of its games."

Boyer pointed out that the competition is just that close and every team has the potential to win.

With the margin between victory and defeat so slim, Boyer said it is easy for a team to lose — as the Braves did on their last road trip — several hard games in a row, an das a result, lose its "mental edge." At times like that, he added, "You don't think you'll ever start winning again, but you will. It's just a matter of time."

The Yankees, he said, always had the advantage on the other team, but didn't always have the mental edge.

"They always knew they were playing the Yankees, and knowing you have to face guys like Mantle, Maris, Howard, Ford, and Richardson should be enough to discourage any team." But he said there were times when the Yankees would start losing, and he was really discouraged.

There was one time in particular in 1964 and we were on the way to our fifth straight pennant," he asserted. "We started losing in September, and I mean losing bad. We lost six in a row that year, even close, but we came out of it and still won the pennant."

Concerning the Braves recent slump on the road, Boyer said, "The Braves are a lot like the old Yankees. With players like Alou, Aaron, Carly, Torre and Lemaster, we have to start winning big. Everyone in the league's con-

Phillies Peddle Tito Francona To Atlanta Braves

PHILADELPHIA — (UPI) — The Philadelphia Phillies sold veteran first baseman Tito Francona to the Atlanta Braves for an undisclosed amount of cash, it was announced Sunday.

Francona, acquired from St. Louis April 16, batted .189 in 27 games with the Phillies.

Atlanta announced it would acquire catcher outfielder Glenn Beck to the Phillies farm team in Reading, Pa., of the Eastern League to make room for Francona.

Clark, 28, had no hits in four times at bat for the Braves. He joined the Braves 10 days ago from Austin of the Texas League where he hit .240.

Francona previously saw service with Cleveland, Detroit, the Chicago White Sox, and Baltimore in his 11 year major league career. He will join Atlanta in Philadelphia Monday night.

The Phillies will add another pitcher to their roster Monday to complete the 25 player limit.

Bishop O. M. Kelly Named National Head Of NAACP Drive

NEW YORK — Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has appointed Bishop O. M. Kelly, pastor of the Kelly Temple Church of God in Christ, as National NAACP Coordinator for the denomination. In this capacity, he will guide the nation-wide church in taking a more active part in the work of the NAACP.

Miss Lucille Black, the Association's secretary for membership, made the announcement at a testimonial for Bishop Kelly, June 7, at the Temple. The meeting was attended by leaders of the church from New York and New Jersey. Nationally the church has a membership of 1,000,000.

Bishop Frederick D. Washington, pastor of the Washington Temple in Brooklyn, who will serve as Assistant National NAACP Coordinator, has designated June 18 as NAACP FREEDOM SUNDAY for the 132 churches in the New York - New Jersey area.

The purpose of the Institute is to improve the qualifications of individuals who are engaged in, or are teachers preparing to engage in counseling and guidance functions in elementary or secondary schools. The instructional program of the Institute will include didactic instruction, supervised experiences (inclusive of laboratory experiences, practice, and field work), case conferences, independent reading, study and research.

Vice Mayor Massell Receives Gold Key To Sydney, Australia

MARINETTA, Ga. — (UPI) — Atlanta Vice Mayor Sam Massell, Saturday accepted a gold key to the city of Sydney, Australia.

The 45th Military Aircraft Wing stationed at Robins Air Force Base here brought the gesture of good will from Sydney upon its turning from a training flight.

In addition to official greetings from Atlanta Mayor Ivan Allen Jr., the lord in port of Sydney received gifts from the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and an Atlanta baseball from the Atlanta Braves.

Israel Reaffirms Freedom For All 3 Faiths

Thousands of Israelis for nine-year years enjoyed full freedom of religious scruples to adherents of all faiths, both Jewish and Christian, who came to visit their Holy Places. The fact has been compounded repeatedly by the haste of the religious communities to bring in their own pilgrims who came from abroad.

Now, additional territories have come under Israeli administration. In highly important Holy Places are located, they said to include Jerusalem, and on most of the Christian denominations.

The Prime Minister, Mr. David Ben-Gurion, declared that the arrangement for the Holy Places would be determined by the heads of the three religions — each one for the places sacred in his faith. The Prime Minister pointed out that the battles for Jerusalem exacted human losses, in an endeavor to avoid any damage to the Holy Places.

Within the next few days the Minister of Religious Affairs will set up committees composed of the various religions, with a view to safeguarding the Holy Places and laying down suitable arrangements for them.

Red Cross Expands Aid For Vietnam Refugees

WASHINGTON, D. C. June 14 — A 150 percent increase in numbers of South Vietnamese civilian refugees to be cared for in the coming months was announced by the American Red Cross today.

In the past nine months, about 12,000 refugees have been given housing and other assistance in ten adjoining camp areas in Quang Ngai Province by an American Red Cross team and its counterpart from the South Vietnam Red Cross Society.

In the coming months, camp areas to be operated by the Red Cross teams will be expanded to 20 to accommodate more than 30,000 refugees.

The teams consist of specialists in vocational training, agriculture, welfare, sanitation, nursing, and recreation.

Improved conditions that contribute to disease are being relieved by construction of additional housing. The U. S. Agency for International Development, which is cooperating with Red Cross on the project, has provided shell aluminum to replace the inflammable rice-thatch as roofs for the huts. USAID also provides the bulk of the food supplies, from U. S. Department of Agriculture commodities.

The Red Cross workers, American and Vietnamese, are steadily improving conditions in the camps through knowledge and practice of sanitation and nursing.

An ARC male nurse and his Vietnamese counterpart are credited with reducing the high incidence of ailments that resulted from the crowding that existed before housing was increased. These illnesses included internal parasites, boils and other infections of the skin and scalp, intestinal disorders, and respiratory diseases.

Seriously ill patients are referred to the district or provincial hospitals, while minor injections are given and infections treated in the camp dispensaries by the Red Cross nurses.

The American team members are training their Vietnamese counterparts in the skills they brought with them from the United States so that the latter ultimately can take over full operation of the camps.

Also being trained are the refugees themselves. Self-help projects are being carried out in sanitation, construction, carpentry, and masonry, with the aim of increasing and improving classroom, recreational, and community facilities, and making homes more secure. The tools for these projects have been provided in many instances, through help from Red Cross chapters in the United States.

Three sewing centers have been established in the camps and ARC is sponsoring additional sewing classes at the Quang Ngai Rural Trade School, for which sewing machines and cloth have been provided.

Other training programs are being provided to give refugees "second skills" to enable them to be more self-sustaining.

For example, a barbering class was recently completed by 17 Vietnamese. All are now employed at this trade. One is at the nearby U. S. Marine base. Another has set up his own shop, and has prepared to the point of being compelled to hire an apprentice.

A typewriter repair class has also been held for other refugees. The Red Cross has provided barber implements and typewriter repair tools for the "graduates" of the two classes.

One refugee has begun a thriving business in hammocks. He has made from seven narrow threads, a large quantity of which was donated to the Red Cross by the manufacturer in this country.

Another has begun making straw sandals for sale. In all, the American Red Cross provided supplies, equipment, and services valued at more than $1-

Institute Seeks Outstanding Individuals, Organizations

As the world drinks, due to world transportation, communication and migration, international understanding is becoming more and more essential to the well-being of our age.

For this reason, the Institute of International Education annually recognizes individuals and organizations that have made outstanding contributions to international education. A slow-moving but powerful diplomatic force, the recognition for the 1968 IIE Award of Merit Foundation distinguished service awards in international education has just been announced. The award is given to individuals and organizations that have made outstanding contributions to international education through the country are being asked to submit nominations for these distinctions.

Five awards are given annually. They go to (1) a private organization with a national or international program, (2) a college or university, (3) a local community, (4) an individual, and (5) a business corporation. With the exception of the corporation, each awardee also receives $1,000.

IIE is the leading nonprofit private agency in the field of educational and cultural exchange. The Roderick Trust Foundation is the philanthropic arm of the world's most widely circulated magazine which is published in 14 languages.

Criteria for evaluating the contribution of the candidates for the IIE - RDP awards include such information as how long the nominee has participated in international educational exchange (three years minimum requirement), how many foreign or U. S. citizens and faculty members or former members have been involved in programs with which the nominee has been connected, and the amount of scholarship and other resources provided for exchange programs.

The determining factor in the selection of awardees is how the individual or group has contributed generally to international education and to the development of international understanding.

Applications for entering the competition can be obtained from the Institute of International Education, 1000 Park Ave. N. E., Atlanta, Ga. 30309. Regional directors will make preliminary selections in their areas and submit their recommendations to the IIE Awards Jury composed of prominent national educational and civic leaders.

The 1968 IIE - RDP citations went to Indiana University, Bloomington; Dr. William Ebenau, New Orleans, La.; Project HOPE, Wash., D. C.; City of Seattle, Wash.; and Sears, Roebuck and Co., Chicago, Ill. (for its educational programs in Latin America).

The 1968 awardees will be honored at a dinner to be held in January at the Institute's headquarters on United Nations Plaza in New York City.

The Regional Office: SOUTHEASTERN: 618 Peachtree St. N. E., Atlanta, Ga. 30309. (For nominations from: Alabama, Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee.)

TALKING IT OVER—Actor Sidney Poitier and the late Spencer Tracy listen attentively as producer-director Stanley Kramer (back to camera) explains a scene during filming of "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner," at Columbia Pictures Studios in Hollywood. Tracy, who stars with Poitier and Katherine Hepburn (all Academy Award winners for best acting) in "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner," had announced that this will be his last motion picture. It marks the ninth time that Tracy and Hepburn have teamed in a film, and it is in this motion picture that Miss Hepburn's niece, Katherine Houghton, makes her debut as Poitier's fiancee. Columbia's "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner," a Technicolor film, marks the third time Tracy has worked for Kramer and the second for Poitier. Tracy's death marked a loss to moviegoers of an man who has gained immeasurable stature in the film world and universal recognition as an actor's actor.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

A GROWING CHURCH
International Sunday School
Lesson for June 18, 1967
MEMORY SELECTION: "The hand of the Lord was with them; and a great number believed, and turned unto the Lord."
—(Acts 11:21)
LESSON TEXT: Acts 11: 19-30

In studying today's lesson we come to realize that the church at Antioch was a model church. It was forsighted, dedicated, and daring.
We are also confronted with the fact that out of evil intentions comes good.
Stephen — dedicated purveyor of God's Word to the unsaved died a martyr's death, yet his work did not end with his life. Rather, it was enhanced and made more effective by his untimely demise. For, out of the disruption that followed, many believers in Christ were scattered abroad in foreign communities, and out of this dispersion of Christians came the birth of missionaries — dedicated men who, today, answer the call to the far (and often war-torn) reaches of the earth — men firm in their belief that they have a message of salvation for all mankind!

Indeed, the church at Antioch was the forerunner of evangelism and missionary work as it is entrenched in our civilization today! It was indeed fortunate to have a "coalition" government, so to speak, in the persons of two outstanding leaders — Barnabas and Saul. One dedicated man can work wonders; two can work miracles! Barnabas and Saul, grided in their common faith, strengthened by their unshakable friendship and trust, the one in the other, were a telling team. So, out of Stephen's death, came the expansion of the church, and the resulting expansion of leaders. Fellowship was the keynote of the early Christian church, and fellowship was the foundation stone upon which progress was made.

Thus it was, when famine fell upon the land of Judea, the church at Antioch proved itself to be, not only a growing thing, but compassionate, as well. Christian concern for the welfare of others was ably demonstrated when Barnabas and Saul went forth with relief for the suffering people of Judea. For the church at Antioch was not merely growing in numbers — it was growing spiritually, as well.

From the modest Antioch community we can learn several telling lessons in Christian principles. We cannot blind ourselves to the effectiveness of dedicated leadership, working together for a common cause.

We cannot blind ourselves to the value of instructed membership, nor to the fact that missionary-minded churches prosper.

If we want our church to grow, and be out-reaching (in accordance with Christ's last instructions to His followers) we (the church) must be imbued with benevolence of spirit towards others, whether or not they see eye-to-eye with us (as individuals) or with our concepts and beliefs.

Jesus fed the hungry... whether they were hungry for food for their bodies, or food for their souls. The church at Antioch followed His example, and therefore furthered His cause.

How does our church compare — ever mindful of the fact that a fence is only as strong as its weakest member?

NAACP To Defend Four Accused TSU Students

NEW YORK — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will defend four Texas Southern University students indicted in the slaying of a policeman last month when rioting erupted on the campus of the predominantly Negro school.
In the aftermath of the riot which broke out on May 16, NAACP officials requested police who engaged in a "vengeful and destructive rampage" against students and property when they entered the university buildings with axes and "smashed doors, destroyed personally-owned radios and television sets, ransacked closets, and cupboards, and ripped tile from hall ceilings."
NAACP General Counsel Robert L. Carter said the NAACP would provide legal counsel for Truman, well Franklin, Jr., of Houston; Floyd Nichols, 25, Dallas; John Parker, 20, Galveston; and Charles Freeman 18, Port Arthur, Tex. all charged in the slaying of patrolman Raymond Kuba.
Also indicted in the slaying is Douglas Wayne Waller, 21, of Houston, who is reportedly being defended by a family lawyer.

Wood of Johnstown, Pa., Cadet Lieutenant James D. Fowler, Jr., of Ft. Leavenworth, Kans., and Cadet Sergeant Bobby G. Whaley of Cleveland, Ohio, during June Week activities at West Point. Cadet Fowler, son of Colonel and Mrs. James D. Fowler, is the first second-generation Negro cadet to be graduated from the Academy. His father was graduated in 1941. Cadet Whaley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cole B. Whaley, Sr., will be the first cadet in his class to be married following graduation. His fiancee is Miss Gaynell J. Belcher of 882 East Livingston St., Columbus, Ohio. The members of the Class of 1967, graduated Wednesday, June 5, and received Bachelor of Science degrees and commissions in the U. S. Armed Forces. Cadet Fowler will be commissioned as a Second Lieutenant in the Artillery Branch of the Army, while Cadet Whaley will become a Second Lieutenant in the Infantry Branch.—U.S. Army Photo

Several hundred police fired more than 3,000 rounds of ammunition into the dormitories, charged into the buildings and arrested 498 students, many in pajamas and underclothing.
Mrs. Mattie Harbert, a house mother in one of the dormitories, said that when police broke into her building and began to arrest students, "they made me lie on the floor and two or three of them (policemen) walked on me." She also reported seeing police carry "five or six students out bloody as beef."
The five students were previously charged with felony rioting. Three are still in jail. Two are free under $10,000 bonds.

Court Upholds NAACP's "Peaceful Picketing"

RICHMOND, Va. A Federal Court victory scored here by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has significantly broadened the scope of activities which may be participated in by civil rights groups, according to NAACP officials.
Judge John D. Butzner ruled, June 5, that the NAACP could lawfully conduct a nonviolent boycott against Victoria, Va., merchants who refused to denounce the anti-Negro Ku Klux Klan.
An all-white jury also dismissed the suit, in which Stanley Hornstein, owner of a retail dry goods store, sought damages of $180,000 against the NAACP, other civil rights organizations and 11 individuals.

Counsel Barbara A. Morris, and S. W. Tucker of Richmond, who served as trial lawyers in the case, noted that the U. S. Supreme Court had let stand an $85,000 judgment in a similar case in Savannah, Ga., in 1965.
The Virginia case grew out of a selective buying campaign staged in Victoria in September of 1965.
The NAACP and the Virginia Student Civil Rights Committee, both active in the community in promoting voter registration, school integration and political action programs, had charged that Victoria merchants disseminated Klan literature from their establishments prior to Klan rallies in the area.
The NAACP and the student group countered by passing out circulars in the Victoria business district urging Negroes not to spend their money in the stores "which do not publicly denounce the Ku Klux Klan."
In his suit, Mr. Hornstein charged that the boycott directed at his store infringed on his right to remain silent under the First Amendment, which protects freedom of speech.
In his charge to the jury, Judge Butzner directed the panel to consider only actual damages resulting from violence, harassment or illegal picketing.
Mr. Carter and Miss Morris said "The significance of this case is that it has broadened the scope of activities which may be participated in by the NAACP units so that they take affirmative action when the situation in their community so demands."
"As long as the method of pick-

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Can your hair be damaged from brushing, alone?

All hair becomes damaged from exposure to sun and natural elements. Certain greasy compounds and many chemicals, improperly used, also take their toll... not to mention simple attempts at beautifying the hair with any brush not made of natural bristles. The results are brittleness, breakage, dry and dull-looking hair.
Your professional beautician knows how artificial bristles actually brush away a great deal of the "lubricants" of the hair that give it body, lustre and protection. And trained beauticians claim that nothing beats Clairol® condition Beauty Pack Treatment for overcoming brittleness, dryness and breakage... leaving hair lively and easy to manage. condition™ is an easy-to-work-with creme which can even be applied during a chemical straightening retouch to prevent drying of hair that has been previously relaxed. condition™ is the ultimate in repairing deep-down damage. And, when time is a factor for their customers, hairdressers turn to new Clairol® Hair Dew™ — the lotion conditioner that penetrates so fast many think of it as an instant conditioner. When applied regularly by your beautician, Clairol Hair Dew adds body, softens and gives a glowing new look to your hair that many friends will notice and admire.
Damage can come from using brushes with artificial bristles. But damage to every woman's hair comes from so many other causes that all human hair (including wigs) needs to be revitalized periodically. Visit your professional beautician and let this expert to check the condition of your hair.
Only your professional beautician knows the answer for sure.

EAST TEAM FOR ALL-AMERICA CLASSIC LOADED WITH STARS

ATLANTA — UPI — The East team, loaded heavily with stars from the powerful Notre Dame, Michigan State, Alabama and Georgia teams of last season, was announced Saturday for the coaches' All America game at Atlanta Stadium July 8.

The East, with quarterbacks like Steve Spurrier of Florida and Bob Griese of Purdue, may have its most talented team in the history of the classic, which has been won three times by the East and three times by the West, with no ties.

Spurrier won the Heisman Trophy for his exploits last season, and Heisman runnerup Griese quarterbacked Purdue to the Rose Bowl championship.

Boxing Association Urged To Restore Clay's Title

By DALLAS BOOTH, United Press International

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — UPI — The World Boxing Association (WBA) was urged Saturday to restore Cassius Clay's heavyweight championship title on grounds he had not been convicted of criminal charges filed against him for refusing induction into the Army.

Attorney Hayden Covington of New York pleaded Clay's case before the WBA executive committee, which then went into executive session to consider the matter.

The WBA took away Clay's title April 28, when he refused to be inducted at Houston, Tex. The fighter faces trial in Houston June 10.

Covington produced a copy of a letter from a member of the WBA executive committee which supports Clay's position.

MEMBERS NOT CONSULTED

"Cassius can't find anybody to fight him so he can make any money," Covington said, adding that he blamed the WBA's action for this.

Rodrigo C. Sanchez of Panama, who was unable to attend the hearing complained in a letter to WBA President M. Robert Evans that he and at least three other committee members were not consulted before action was taken against Clay.

Sanchez said he was unable to find a provision in the WBA by-laws authorizing us to forfeit a title from a boxer because of a po-

MY WEEKLY SERMON
By REV. BLAIR T. HUNT, PASTOR, MISSISSIPPI RVD CHRISTIAN CHURCH MEMPHIS, TENN.

SUBJECT: "FATHERHOOD"
TEXT: "And Ye Fathers, Provoke not your children to wrath but nurture them in the chastening and admonition of the Lord." -- EPH. 6:4.

Every Father should realize the great obligations resting upon him in the training of the immortal soul that has been given unto his keeping. The soul of his child is of more value than all else in this world. Man has built the pyramids, the Parthenon, man has tumbled the Alps, he has dug the Panama Canal he has built great cities. Man has played his part in making the desert blossom as the rose; he has caused to be produced the finest cattle and swine, but what about his son?

An acquaintance told of attending a fair; a large group of people were gathered about a Blue Ribbon Hog. The hog was everything and one could wish a hog to be. His hair was nicely combed. His hoofs were well manured. "Surely he who raised that hog knew his hog-raising business," said one onlooker. Attending the hog was a dirty, hatchet face, chest sunken, barefoot lad, smoking a picked up cigarette butt. The father of this ragged boy and the owner of the Blue Ribbon hog was the same man. In the hog business the father was a whale of success. In the boy business he was a whale of a failure.

We wonder about our boys, we worry about our boys, lay the blame at Dad's feet nine cases out of ten. Daddy is to blame.

The Fatherhood among men is but a reflection of the Fatherhood of God; God our Heavenly Father gives good gifts to his sons and daughters. He so loved that he spilled His life-blood and gave His all for us.

Father give to your children time, your influence, your money your all if it need be. God will Bless you and that right early.

Arrest Of Carmichael Triggers Gun-Battle, 3 Sustain Injuries

By ROGER HAMMILL, United Press International

PRATTVILLE, Ala. — UPI — National Guardsmen and State Troopers, surrounded a small house in the "Happy Hollow" area of this town early Monday and ended a five hour sporadic gunbattle resulting from the arrest of black power leader Stokely Carmichael.

Three policemen and a Negro bloodhound handler were wounded.

The Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee immediately announced a "declaration of war" and said Alabama would be the battleground.

About 150 guardsmen and State Police, dispatched by Gov. Lurleen Wallace, cordoned off the "Happy Hollow" section of this town 15 miles north of Montgomery.

They surrounded a five room house and the 25 Negroes inside meekly surrendered and filed out. Ten were arrested on open charges. CLAIMS ROUGH TREATMENT

Carmichael, who resigned recently as head of SNCC to devote his time to organizing protests, was jailed Sunday on a disorderly conduct charge after he allegedly threatened an officer.

County Court Judge James Loftus set bond at $500 for Carmichael Monday, but the black power leader elected to remain in jail until the others arrested were released on bond. Loftus refused bond for the rest until Tuesday.

Carmichael told newsmen in court he was bullied by police. "You should have seen what one of these 'cracker' police men did to me," Carmichael said. "He put a Magnum revolver up against my arm. You can see the bruise." He has a bruise on one of his biceps.

The SNCC statement was released in Atlanta by H. Rap Brown, Carmichael's successor. "We are calling for full retaliation from the black community across America," he said. "We blame Lyndon Johnson.

DECLARES "BATTLEGROUND"

"It appears as if Alabama has been chosen as the starting battleground for America's race war. This is both fitting and appropriate," he said.

Carmichael was arrested when officers answered a call that a Negro had threatened a white man with a shotgun at a church where a civil rights rally was in progress. Police Chief Oble Thompson said Carmichael told an assistant chief to "take off the tin badges and I'll take care of you myself."

Thompson said Carmichael then turned to another Negro and said "hand me the gun and I'll take care of him."

After Carmichael's arrest, shots were fired at patrol cars in the area. The firing spread in the Hollow and three officers, including the dog handler, were wounded by a single shotgun blast.

House Approves Bill To Remove Silver Backing from Currency

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The House passed and sent to the White House Monday legislation to remove silver backing from all U.S. paper currency after a one year period. The vote was 234 to 109.

The measure is designed to ease the silver shortage by giving holders of silver certificates, a one year time period to turn in the certificates for silver, if they so desire.

The treasury now is holding about 26 million ounces of silver as backing for the more than $550 million in silver certificates.

Once the one year period is up, the treasury will be able to add 700 million ounces of silver to the supply.

Life would be much simpler if we didn't try to make people think we're what we're not.
