

2 ALL-NEGRO CONTESTS

Did Envy, Jealousy Help Kill Off Willis?

The Rev. James M. Lawson, Jr., civil rights leader and pastor of Centenary Methodist Church who failed to win a seat on the City School Board last Thursday, charged in a talk Friday morning at LeMoyné College that envy and jealousy were major factors in A. W. Willis' poor showing in the mayoralty race.

Willis, one of three Negro State Legislators from Memphis, failed to make the run-off, coming in fourth with 17,774 votes behind Sheriff William N. Morris, Jr., 30,979; incumbent Mayor William B. Ingram, Jr., 36,074, and former mayor Henry Loeb III, 47,778.

Loeb entered the run-off without the help of Negro voters whereas Ingram made the No. 2 spot because of his strong Negro support.

Willis, a successful young lawyer and business-man, was fighting for 85 percent of the Negro vote. In his campaign speeches, he predicted victory for himself in last Thursday's primary.

At his campaign headquarters Thursday night, after most of the votes were in, the disappointed Mr. Willis said "Actually, I had hoped it didn't do."

Why didn't more Negro voters rally to Mr. Willis, one of their own? Why did so many Negroes cast their ballots for incumbent Mayor Ingram? And, why did nearly half of the qualified Negro voters decide to "go fishing" on election day?

Rev. Mr. Lawson's charge that envy and jealousy helped defeat Attorney Willis packs a lot of truth. It is not the major factor, it was one of the factors.

Mr. Willis is a success story. He is on top. He controls money and ranks high in state political affairs. Because he is all of this, some Negroes believe he is "too big."

But, perhaps a stronger factor that brought on defeat for Mr. Willis, is the Ingram story. The Negro voters elected Ingram, then a city court judge, to the Mayorship four years ago because Judge Ingram gave them hope in his courtroom by reprimanding white policemen who had over-stepped their bounds in making Negro arrests.

And, now, four years later, thousands of Negro voters still love Mayor Ingram. They refuse to for-

Hectic Battle Starts

The Nov. 2 run-off will give Memphis two Negro Councilmen, one from District 6 and another from District 7, and possibly a third Negro Councilman from District 4.

Insurance executive Charlie F. Morris Sr. and State Representative J. O. Patterson Jr., who waged a hectic battle to the finish in the primary, will be doing it all over again for the next three weeks in the District 7 contest.

Another heated primary contest was in District 6, with the Rev. James L. Netters of Mount Vernon Baptist Church and insurance executive Cuba Spain Johnson fighting it out and earning the right to appear in the run-off.

Fred L. Davis, a county employee and civil rights leader, came out on top in the District 4 primary race but faces a white candidate, Atty. Elmer B. Vaughn in the run-off.

Patterson polled 2,877 votes to Morris' 2,466 in the primary last Thursday. They tested two other Negro candidates, O. W. Pickett, 1,158, and E. T. Hunt, 664, and outpolled three white candidates, James L. Cotter, 1,763; Floyd Nobles, 850, and Nelson E. Shrodt, 866.

Morris showed considerable strength on voting machines located in Voltline Baptist Church, Klondike School, Mt. Olive CME Church, the Red Cross Building, Crump Stadium, Fire Station No. 15 and Lamar Terrace.

Patterson received heavy votes on machines at Leath School, Owen College, Harris Memorial Methodist Church, Locke School, Foote Homes, Grant School, Fire Station No. 6, Lamar Terrace and Carnes School.

Both Morris and Patterson are now attempting to hold on to the votes they received in the primary and, at the same time, win over the voters who supported their opponents.

The big pitch by Morris and Patterson will be for the thousands of qualified voters in the district who did not bother about going to the polls last Thursday. District 7 boasts total of 28,974 voters, 17,152 Negro and 11,822 white, but only 10,588 voted.

In the District 6 primary race, Rev. Mr. Netters was on top of the all-Negro 8-man race with a total of 4,980. Mr. Johnson came in second with 3,923.

Netters' strength was shown on voting machines located at the Gaston Community Center, A. B. Hill School, LeMoyné College, Walker School, Cummings School, Bellevue Park, Pine Hill School, Lincoln Elementary School, Riverview and Carver schools and in polling places at 481 E. McLamore and 1098 Wellington.

Johnson was strong in voting spot located at Kansas School, Lincoln Jr. High School, Florida Street School, Allen Pumping Station, Pine Hill School Elementary, Riverview and Carver schools.

Defeated by Netters and Johnson in the primary were Rev. J. W. Beck, 490; Roscoe Dixon, 159; Atty. Ira H. Murphy, 1,883; Mrs. Josephine Terrell, 500; Dan Thomas, 472; and Joseph B. Trotter III, 829.

Both Netters and Johnson are out to take over the large Murphy vote. And, as in District 7, Netters and Johnson will be seeking the votes of thousands who did not cast ballots on the primary elect-

Murder Total Still Going Up

Kill, kill, kill is fast becoming the Memphis theme. Two persons, a man and a woman, went out by the homicide route over the weekend and the murder total for 1967 now stands at 55. This time last year, the total was 31.

Washington And Tough Douglass To Tangle On Grid

The high-flying Hamilton Wildcats will take on the somewhat subdued Messick eleven in one of the week's big prep attractions tonight (Thursday) on the Crump Stadium turf.

Hamilton smothered Trezevant 33-0 last week while Catholic was smashing Messick 65-0.

Another tough one this Thursday night will find Douglass going against Washington at Washington. Douglass surprised last week by trouncing Melrose 40-14.

Stabbed to death with a broken beer bottle Sunday in the Weaver Road schoolyard was 24-year-old Miss Louise Thomas of 3500 Weaver Road. She was dead on arrival at John Gaston Hospital shortly after the 4 p. m. stabbing.

Arrested in connection with the slaying was Miss Frances Merle Brooks, 22, of 1008 Walls Road. Police quoted her as saying she argued with Miss Thomas over the attentions of a man. The argument took place across the street from the house where she said the man lived.

Miss Thomas was stabbed once in the neck. In the city slaying, the accused man, Jesse Thomas McNeal, 35, of 2345 Cable, a driver for John A. Denies Co., was free under $5,000 bond. He is charged with the fatal shooting Friday night of Robert Lee Dean, 20, of 854 Baltimore.

Dean died early Saturday of a gun wound in the stomach. McNeal surrendered to police Sunday. Witnesses told police the two men argued in a cafe on Carnes, then began fighting on the sidewalk. They said Dean knocked McNeal down and ran, with McNeal firing at Dean as he fled.

Arrested with Miss Brooks in connection with the Thomas slaying was a man described as her boyfriend, J. C. Sherrod, 34, also of 1008 Walls Road. Both have been bound over to the Shelby County grand jury on first-degree murder charges. Bond for Miss Brooks was set at $5,000. No bond had been set Monday for Sherrod.

Bro. Wade In Contest Lead!

Popular Brother Wade, fast-talking gospelman at WDIA, moved out front this week in the D-J contest sponsored by the Memphis World. He passed one of his DIA cronies, A. C. Williams.

Brother Wade, with 80 points, is not too far out front, however, Herb (The K), also of DIA, moved into a second place tie with Williams, both with 70 points each, and Moon Man, one of the top record spinners at WLOK, made a big leap to gain a third place tie with Joan (Golden Girl) Golden, also of LOK.

Votes should be sent to the Memphis World at 546 Beale. Here's how they stack up: Bro. Wade (DIA) 80 pts. A. C. Williams (DIA) 70 pts. Herb 'The K' (DIA) 70 pts. Joan Golden (LOK) 60 pts. Moon Man (LOK) 60 pts. Ford Nelson (DIA) 30 pts. Honeybun Garner (DIA) 20 pts. Honeyboy Thomas (DIA) 20 pts.

Public Welfare Department To Move On Weekend

The Department of Public Welfare will move from the M. and M. Building, South Main at Beale, to the new State Office Building, 170 North Main, with entrance on the Popular Avenue side, announced George G. Latham, County director. The move will begin this Friday, Oct. 13.

The new telephone number for the Family Service section is: 534-6141; for the Child Welfare Services, 534-6811.

Except for the Food Stamp division, the office will be closed Friday, Oct. 13, and again on Monday, the 16th. The office will be open for business on the 17th.

The Food Stamp office will remain open at 200 S. Main Friday, moving over the weekend to the location where it will be open Monday, October 16.

LeMoyné Honors Board Chairman

LeMoyné's faculty and staff honored three prominent persons last week. A reception was given for the chairman of the college's board of trustees, Edwin Dalstrom and Mrs. Dalstrom, upon their 60th wedding anniversary, and a luncheon was conducted for a former librarian of LeMoyné, Miss Bessie K. Meacham.

Gifts were presented to the three honorees following brief ceremonies in the faculty lounge and dining room of the Alma C. Hanson Memorial Student Center. Mr. and Mrs. Dalstrom are Memphians and Miss Meacham is now residing in Eastford, Conn.

Praising the contributions of Mr. Dalstrom were two other trustees of the college, the Rev. S. A. Owen and T. R. McLemore. Others saluting him were the Rev. Blair T. Hunt, the Rev. J. A. McDaniel and J. A. Beauchamp. Mrs. Hollis F. Price hosted the affair.

Mr. Dalstrom's outstanding contributions to the Negro community include his work with LeMoyné, the Memphis Urban League and the Boy Scouts.

Nigerian Gov't Claims Control Of Eastern Rebels

LAGOS, Nigeria — UPI — The Nigerian federal government Friday claimed complete control of the rebellious Eastern Region capital of Enugu for the first time since Lt. Col. Odumegwu Ojukwu seceded the region and proclaimed it the Republic of Biafra more than three months ago.

The government said final resistance in Enugu collapsed at midnight Oct. 5, 7 p.m. EDT. It said rebel troops fled in panic after being routed from a hilltop fortress by federal soldiers.

U. S. officials in Washington said they were unable to confirm the reports. They said American diplomats had been evacuated earlier from Enugu because their safety could no longer be assured and had reached the eastern city of Port Harcourt.

Witnesses said the end came after bitter fighting by some 12,000 rebel troops dug in on a hilltop outside the city of 70,000 which was the stronghold of the Republic of Biafra, proclaimed by Ojukwu on July 5.

The federal troops combined air

Declines To Reconsider Dr. King's Case

The Supreme Court Monday reversed the conviction of Preston Cobb, a Negro sentenced to die when he was 15 years old for the slaying of a white man.

The court heard no arguments, and issued no opinion, in the case. It merely announced its action in a brief order that cited a Jan. 23, 1967, case in which it found discrimination against Negroes in the selection of a jury.

The court's action was taken on an appeal from Cobb's second conviction, in Bibb County.

It is up to Georgia officials to decide whether to try Cobb yet a third time.

Cobb was convicted in Jasper County in 1961 for the murder of his 70-year-old white employer, Frank Dumas Jr. He was sentenced to die, and his case received worldwide attention because of his age and race.

His court-appointed attorney at the trial in Monticello did not object to his absence of Negroes on the jury, and Cobb was convicted and sentenced to die.

The NAACP Legal Defense Fund later appealed the conviction and the 5th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals overturned the conviction on grounds that Negroes had been systematically excluded from the jury.

He was retried in Bibb County, convicted and sentenced to life in prison in January, 1965, after receiving a change of venue from Jasper County. The conviction was upheld by the Georgia Supreme Court.

The case was on appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court on grounds that jury discrimination still existed in Cobb's case.

The second action turned down a challenge of a Pennsylvania law which permits the use of public school buses by parochial or non-profit private school students. The

Ask Federal Court To Stop Segregated Public School Sports

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — An attorney for two Tampa Negro high school football players said Sept. 28 a suit was filed in federal court seeking to enjoin white and Negro athletic associations from sponsoring segregated competition between junior and senior high school teams.

James B. Sanderlin of St. Petersburg said he mailed the suit on behalf of David G. Walker of Middleburg High School and Anthony C. Harris of Blake High School.

Federal court officials said the suit probably would not arrive until Friday.

Sanderlin said the suit filed by the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, was aimed at eliminating bars that prevent Negro teams from playing in the same conferences with white teams in Florida.

Sanderlin said a Negro high school may be allowed to be a member of the State High School Activities Association, yet on the local level be forced to play with a Negro conference, and such was the case with both Middleburg and Blake schools.

Supports A Pay Increase, Thompson Tells Postmen

HAVEVILLE -- Georgia Fifth District Congressman, Fletcher Thompson, a member of the Post Office and Civil Service Committee, told the National Association of Letter Carriers here on Saturday that he "absolutely" supports a pay increase for federal postal workers.

Addressing a meeting at Holiday Inn South, the Atlanta-area Congressman declared that, "It is absurd to attempt to make federal employees suffer because of past deficit spending which has increased the inflationary pressures on their paychecks."

"We cannot close our eyes to your needs when we know that your checks are being eroded by inflation," the Atlanta-area Congressman asserted.

Thompson declared that although he is "an advocate of a balance budget and fiscal responsibility, if we are to have a deficit then I would rather it be brought about by paying adequate salaries to our federal employees than by foreign aid give-aways and expensive spending programs which do not work."

Outlining his position on salary legislation which has been under consideration by his committee, Thompson said that the "federal government can never expect efficiency from its employees when present pay scales require an employee to work 13 years before reaching a pay scale equivalent to the starting salary of Washington."

Thompson continued to stump for the adoption of a "truth in mailing" provision in the present Postal rates bill. He said his amendment to require disclosure of postal subsidies in the current postal rate bill lost by one vote, 13 to 10, in the committee.

The press has been advocating that we have truth in campaign disclosure, truth in lending, truth in packaging, and I certainly agree with this," Thompson said. "I also believe we should have truth in mailing so that the public will know which classes of mail are not paying their full way through postal rates."

Thompson contended that even after the proposed postal rate increase bill is adopted that certain classes of mail will still be receiving a subsidy in that the postal rates they pay will not cover the full costs of mailing. He said first class and air mail would pay 128.1 percent of its cost, second class--including newspapers and magazines--would pay 28.4, third class book mail 80.3 percent, and fourth class 91.1 percent. He said government mail, including Congressional "franked" mail would pay 124.9 percent.

He said his amendment would require that mailers show under their mailing permit stamp the amount of subsidy they receive.

Dr. Tate Declares Negro Principal Eliminated Under Guise Of Integration

By GEORGE M. COLEMAN
ATLANTA, Ga.—(SWS)—

Georgia was accused on Oct. 4 of "eliminating Negroes under the guise of integration," and Mayor Ivan Allen was suspected of seeking a merger of city and county government to keep control from possibly falling into the hands of Negro leaders.

These charges were made by Dr. Horace E. Tate, member of the Board of Education of Atlanta, during a hard hitting address to the Hungry Club of the Butler Street YMCA.

Dr. Tate spoke from a theme of "Integration with the Negro," while many of the persons involved in the current controversy with the Atlanta Board listened.

Dr. Hillard Bowen, who has been named assistant Supt. of School, and J. Y. Moreland, newly appointed Area 1 Supt., sat at the speaker's table.

The Rev. Samuel Williams, one of the active participants in the controversy, attended with WSB-TV News Director Ray Moore. Jesse Hill and Hosea Williams both attended also.

FOR ALL THE PEOPLE
Dr. Tate, who has led the fortunes of the GTEA, was critical of the method used by white leaders in education in the state.

His opening declaration went like this:

"Our nation must realize that white Americans, and black Americans share the same ideas" and will finally work out those solutions of the "American ideal."

He placed one ideal "above all" and declared this was the "right" to voice and represent in all matter.

"Nobody can argue that all Americans enjoy the same rights and privileges even here on October 4, 1967," he said.

Yet, under the American system equal rights and privileges are the law, he added.

Dr. Tate declared this:

"Integration does not belong solely to the Mayor.... Integration does not belong solely to the aldermanic board.... Integration does not belong solely to the board of education.... Integration belongs to all the people, and if it is to work must be shared by all the people."

"If a racially integrated society is the desired goal, there must be on our board more than one Negro among ten whites.... There must be equality to the extent that it is difficult to label a board black or white."

Los Doce Amigos Present Fashion Show at the Sheraton Peabody

Los Doce Amigos presents a fashion show at the Sheraton Peabody on Sunday night, Oct. 15. The show is being presented by members of Los Doce Amigos Club from the Penecostal Church which was the largest seen in Memphis for many a year and perhaps the grandest show of all given by Los Doce Amigos.

A formal dinner followed in the Louis XVI Room. "We just thought it would be a perfect time to entertain Martha Jean and our models," said members of the group who put the show on every year.

Los Doce Amigos plans for a full time "Child Care Center." Their philosophy being "What's Mine is your if you need it. This came as a result," said Bishop J. O. Patterson, of seeing so many neglected children who have only their mother's care. Bishop Patterson gave these remarks before he gave the "Welcome."

The first page of their souvenir program was dedicated to the late Bishop C. H. Mason. "I quote: 'We are so thankful to God for having bequeathed us to be the children of a man who dedicated his entire life trying to save the souls of others. Even though he has passed, we still feel his presence. Prayers, and even see evidence of his works. No children could be more proud of their father' and two of his children are members of this club, Mrs. J. O. Patterson, Sr. and Mrs. Julia Atkins. Other Mason Children signed the book with an ad."

MARTHA JEAN STEINGBERG was commentator for the brilliant event. She was gracious and the good-looking Martha Jean, who was radiant in her outfits, has posed and was vibrant in her comeliness. She changed twice. Both outfits were out of sight, but the cocktail frock was of unusual beauty. Her fur hat (worn in the first scene) matched the fur on the sleeves of her frock.

Models for the show are Judy Finda a designer in her own right, who made many of the outfits. Doris Bowers, Birdeen Golden, Denise Hawkins, Chairman of the Show and a member of the club. Ruthy LaGrone (a well known model). Mrs. P. L. Rowe, Lorette Vanpelt and Gwendolyn Walton who is also a well known model.

The ball room (lately redecorated in blue and white) was set off by blue velvet drapes and a blue velvet color scheme was equally as pretty. Many of the frocks and hats came from Unis of Memphis and Miss Eunice Carruthers was there with all of the salesladies of her shops.

Members were presented by A. O. Williams, Program Director at Station WDIA who also presented Mrs. Steinfberg. Members stood and sat at the entrance on the Mezzanine greeting guests. Assisting them were Mrs. C. H. Mason, Sr., wife of the late Bishop Mason and her sister, Mrs. Harold Jamison. Other members mingled through the huge crowd greeting guests. Adding much interest to the evening was the giving of more than 80 prizes to guests and they were lovely gifts.

Members are Mrs. Julia Atkins, president; Mrs. Blise Hawkins, General Chairman who both did terrific jobs as did other members who are Mrs. Joan Golden, Mrs. Geraldine Miller, Miss Ann Fletcher, Mrs. Bernice Harris and Mrs. J. O. Patterson, Sr.

Properly across the street from Penecostal (a beautiful new brick building) has been purchased by the church and it has been decided to use it as a "child care center." All profits for the past three years have been deposited in the Penecostal Child Care Center Account.

MRS. W. A. BISSON ENTERTAINS FOR DR. BESSIE B. SMALL

Former National President of Medical Auxiliary Comes To Memphis. Mrs. W. A. Bisson, Mistress of one of Memphis most beautiful residences, was hostess on last Tuesday to members of the Medical Auxiliary and to a few friends when she asked them in to meet a national president of the Medical Auxiliary.

It was Mrs. Bisson, a hard worker in the auxiliary, who asked Dr. Bessie B. Small, a Denton, Ohio matron and former president of the Women's Auxiliary of the National Medical Association to Nashville last week to present an award to a Meharry student.

The Alma Wells Givings Scholarship Award originated under the able administration of Dr. Small with $500.00 being given annually to Meharry Medical College and to the Howard University School of Medicine.

For the past five years Mrs. Bisson has awarded the scholarship to a worthy Meharry student but because this was the 25th Anniversary she asked Dr. Bessie Small to come to Nashville to present the award.

DR. SMALL COMES TO MEMPHIS
Dr. Small came home with Mrs. Bisson on Monday evening and it was Tuesday from 7 to 9 in the evening that a few friends and Auxiliary members came in to meet the distinguished physician at the Bisson's Park Avenue residence.

Guests mingled from the downstairs living and dining area to the upstairs living area on up to the bar in the third floor Pent House.

Among those present were Mrs. A. Ross, Mrs. Beulah Lewis, Mrs. N. M. Watson, Mrs. T. H. Watkins, Mrs. Zona Ward, Mrs. Earl Greene, Mrs. Charles Ogleby, Mrs. Winnie F. Hill, Mrs. E. M. Reed, Mrs. W. O. Speight, Jr., Dr. Clara Brawner, Mrs. T. J. Johnson, Mrs. Aretta J. Pope, Mrs. James S. Bas, Mrs. Lawrence Patterson, Mrs. Mary A. Butler, Mrs. Bisson's sister, Mrs. Jesse Lockard, Mrs. Linkwood Williams, Miss Ramelle Barbes, Mrs. John Parker and Mrs. Zenobia Pierce.

It was of much significance that Dr. Small gave Mrs. Bisson the Outstanding Service Award of the year.

"IN THE HEAT OF THE NIGHT"

CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK: Looking Back to 1867

43-C The Secretary of War's annual report had been most premature in its judgment of post operations, for it said Fort Whipple was no longer needed save as a depot, and that from then on it would be regarded as only a depot garrisoned by a few extra duty men. In January this order took place." Ray Brandes recalls in his history, Frontier Military Posts in Arizona (Pub. by Dale Stuart King, Six Shooter Canyon, Globe, Arizona).

How premature indeed that Secretary of War's appraisal of a military situation became evident a half-year later. In midsummer 1867, intense activity was necessary by cavalry and foot-slogging soldiers from both Camp Wallen, on Bobocamara Creek, 10 miles west of Tombstone, and Fort Whipple, on Granite Creek, two miles from Prescott. Cochise's warriors were hit-and-run raiding in all directions. Wagon trains to and from the mines were being attacked, looted, burned, their horses stolen. Cattle were stolen from settlers. One band of Chiricahua Apache even jumped the Wallen post herd of about 100 cattle and horses and drove them off.

The ill-chosen location of Camp Wallen (established 1866) produced much fever that summer. Men actually unfit for duty were sent of necessity in detachments against Cochise's bands. Many desertions began at Fort Whipple," Mr. Brandes discovered in post records. For example, "On Sept. 13, 1867, five men deserted from Company Eye, 8th Cavalry, and a night earlier, five men of the 14th Infantry had deserted."

The campaigns against Cochise's Chiricahuas were effective only temporarily. Guerrilla warfare was to go on and on intermittently, with scant acknowledgment in reports of the Secretary of War.

CLARK KENNAIRD

Photograph of Cochise, who was described by a white biographer as "Apache chief of the Chiricahua band in Arizona from before 1860 until 1874; noted for his integrity, courage and military skill." Remarkably, while still fighting settler intruders and soldiers, Cochise made and kept a pact with T. J. Jeffords, who had the mail contract from Silver City to Yuma, to let carriers go through without harm from Chiricahuas. LOU LUTOUR GUEST AT LONDON HILLTON EVENT

LONDON, England — Lou Lutour won new plaudits here in London as Guest of Honour of the "EFO" College at the Graduation exercise and Dinner Saturday night September 30th, 1967 at the London Hilton Hotel when she addressed the Graduates on "The Value of Life-Learning-Service and Human Relations" in all walks of life. Mr. and Mrs. Neville Garcia, owners and directors of the College which has two branches—along with their students and the dinner guests were heard in their praises for Mrs. Lutour who dedicated a poem to the "EFO" College and then presented one of her poems from her book "The Power and the Glory". London's most popular Toastmaster, Mr. Sam Maurice paid high tribute to Lou Lutour as the Guest of Honour from the USA and also to Deputy High Commissioner, Mr. J. Harper who escorted Miss Lu-tour to the Head Table. Other special guests at the Head Table included Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kay - the Editor of DIB - whose daughter, Melinda was among the dinner guests; Mr and Mrs. M. K. Gandhi - he a noted Astrologer and Priest - whose son Jarulwal was also among Fair'keepers; and Mr. and Mrs. A. Williams.

Twenty-eight students received Graduation Certificates from either Mr. or Mrs. Garcia. Several students were presented silver trophies as awards from Lou Lutour and Deputy High Commissioner, Mr. Harper - for outstanding work in various areas.

The week following the Graduation Miss Lutour conducted a Human Relations Workshop for students of the "EFO" College and returned to the States October 8th, '67.

NEW YORK — Gloster B. Current, director of branches and field administration for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, is encouraging response from the field in support of the Association's intensive year-end membership drive.

A goal of 200,000 additional members between now and the end of the year has been set so that the nation's oldest and largest civil rights organization may surpass last year's nationwide membership of more than 440,000.

This week the National Office received additional pledges from state conference president J. J. Simmons, Jr., Oklahoma, who will have Dr. John Montgomery and Amos T. Hall as his aides; from Charles E. Brown, Virginia, working with Mrs. Virginia Carrington, Mrs. Bertie Huggard and David E. Gunter.

In Wisconsin, Rev. Walter B. Hoard will work with Julian Thomas, Marshall Colston and Alan Dale, while in Ohio, Nathaniel Lee has appointed Mrs. Miley Williamson and Roland Alexander to rally his state's membership.

From the West Coast, John Mance, president of the Southern Area Conference, reports that he has appointed Douglas Dollarhide and James McAnn to work on the NAACP's Fall Renewal Campaign committee there.

In Louisiana, Raphael Cassimero has made membership the No. 1 project. "The password is membership," he asserts. "The watchword is membership. The need is membership. Your duty is membership."

West Coast Region Chairman viable membership in the NAACP Donald P. McCullum has told the branches in his area that "a large is absolutely necessary to continue pressure for action to erase the humiliating injustices that pervade the lives of Negroes, Mexican Americans and poor whites in the West Coast Region."

And in the South, S. S. Hamilton pleads from Augusta, Ga. "Memberships will help to strengthen the effort to make America the democracy we read about."

Allentan Get High Praise From Colonel

HENRY D. DICKERSON

U. S. AIR FORCES Thailand Airman First Class Henry D. Dickerson, son of Mrs. Eddie M. Dickerson, of 95 Stafford St., Atlanta, recently received high praise from the U. S. Air Force's top MIG-17 fighter pilot, Col. Robin Olds, commander of the 8th Tactical Fighter Wing at Ubon Royal Thai AFB, Thailand. "I consider the maintenance men of our 'Wolf Pack' wing the finest with whom I have served," Col. Olds said on the occasion of the wing's 50,000th combat flying hour.

Airman Dickerson, a jet engine mechanic at Ubon, was on the flight line the day the colonel taxied back after his pilots had downed seven MIGs in aerial combat. "You're the real hero!" Olds shouted at the sea of publicity maintenance men who rushed up to his plane to hear the news that their combined aerial ground force had boosted the wing's total victories to 24 MIGs. Airman Dickerson has served in Vietnam.

He is a 1964 graduate of Booker T. Washington High School. His wife, Rosalia, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Annie C. Knollon of Atlanta.

Labor Dept. Programs Help Delinquency "Candidates"

WASHINGTON—The Department of Labor's youth manpower programs are helping youngsters who "would seem to be prime candidates for juvenile delinquency," according to Mark Battle, Administrator of the Department's Bureau of Work Programs.

Mr. Battle explained that enrollees in the Department's Manpower Development and Training Act special youth programs and Neighborhood Youth Corps projects focus on young people who need special help before they can find jobs.

"All of the enrollees are economically disadvantaged," he said. "Some are school dropouts. Others attend school precariously and are in danger of dropping out. A heritage of hopelessness and alienation from society characterize the youth who enter these programs."

Mr. Battle made the statements while testifying before the Senate Subcommittee on Employment, Manpower and Poverty in favor of a proposed "Juvenile Delinquency Prevention Act of 1967."

The bill proposes programs for rehabilitation aimed at delinquent youth and preventative services for youth in danger of becoming delinquent.

Dr. Robinson, New President At St. Augustine's College

RALEIGH, N. C. — The inauguration of Dr. Prezell R. Robinson as the eighth President of Saint Augustine's College will take place on Saturday, November 4, at 11:00 a. m. in the Emery Health and Fine Arts Center.

Preceding this special event will be a week of activities on Saint Augustine's campus as follows: Sunday, October 29, a Presidential Inaugural Art Exhibit showing the paintings of Joseph Cox, in the new Benson Library; Tuesday Oct. 31, Dr. Stephen J. Wright, president, United Negro College Fund, New York City, will speak at the 11:00 a. m. assembly in the Emery Health and Fine Arts Center. Wednesday, November 1, will feature a Carolina Symphony Orchestra. Thursday, November 2, at 8:00 p. m. students of various colleges in this area will participate in a symposium on the topic: "Are Our Colleges Preparing Students for Adequate Citizenship?" Friday, November 3, is designated as Homecoming Day. In addition to other activities planned for the alumni and students, will be an informal dance to be held Friday night in the Raleigh Memorial Auditorium.

The President's Inaugural Ball will take place beginning at 8:30 p. m. on Saturday, November 4, also at the Memorial Auditorium. Dr. Robinson assumed his duties as Saint Augustine's eighth President on February 27, 1967.

He is a native of Batesburg, South Carolina. He was graduated from Voorhees High School and Junior College in Denmark. His college degree was earned at Saint Augustine's College in 1946 where he majored in history-social science.

Dr. Robinson holds the M. A. and Ed. D. degrees in social science educational psychology, and sociology-educational administration, respectively from Cornell University.

President Robinson has had varied and wide experiences as college teacher, registrar, director of public relations; a high school principal.

He was appointed Dean of the College and Professor of Sociology at Saint Augustine's College in 1966; executive dean in 1964, and acting president of Saint Augustine's College, June 1, 1963.

The new president is actively involved in religious and civic programs. He is affiliated with many professional organizations. Honors and recognition have been given him, as an outstanding teacher, by Saint Augustine's College; university fellowships from Cornell University; and a U. S. Fulbright Fellowship to lecture and study in India.

Dr. Robinson has published articles in several professional journals.

Other participants in the inauguration ceremony will be announced later.

Crackdown On Ga., Florida Liquor Hinted

CAIRO Mayor J. Norwood Clark says he might consider legal action to halt a crackdown by state revenue agents on persons who bring Florida liquor across the Georgia line.

"I think it's about time someone does something on this," said Clark. "There have been very frequent arrests made and searches of cars and people with and without warrants."

He said Thursday the revenue agents are "embarrassing" Cairo — the hometown of Lt. Gov. George T. Smith — and that the crackdown has discouraged traffic through the city.

Only sales of beer are allowed in Grady County. State revenue agents apparently have been stopping persons transporting alcoholic beverages which were purchased legally in Florida.

State Revenue Commissioner Peyton Hawes says the Cairo mayor should recommend an election on liquor sales to the county grand jury and "they'll solve all their problems."

Hawes said his agents are just trying to enforce the law.

"If local officials ask us, we'll remove our agents tomorrow," he said he didn't know if his agents are searching without warrants.

The commissioner said an isolated liquor store in adjoining Leon County, Fla., chalked up $1.6 million in liquor sales last year. His agents, said Hawes, are concentrating on case lot shipments and sales to minors.

Eugene Patterson Charter Day Speaker at A. U.

Eugene Patterson, editor of the ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, will address the Convocation on the occasion of the 24th Charter Day convocation and the 192nd anniversary of the founding of Atlanta University Sunday, Oct. 15, at 2 p. m. in Sister Chapel, Spelman College campus. The annual Charter Day banquet will be held in the University Dining Hall at 7 p. m. at which time the new faculty and staff members will be honored.

Mr. Patterson, who is a native of Adel, Georgia, grew up on a farm in Cook County. He received his A.B. degree at the University of Georgia and holds honorary doctorates from Emory University, Tuskegee Institute, and Oglethorpe and Tusculum colleges. Working as a reporter in Temple, Texas and Macon, Georgia, Mr. Patterson became UPI manager in South Carolina, their night bureau manager in New York, and in 1963 the London Bureau manager and chief correspondent for the United Kingdom.

He returned to Atlanta in 1965 to become executive editor of the ATLANTA JOURNAL and CONSTITUTION and was named editor of the CONSTITUTION in 1960 upon Ralph McGill's promotion to publisher.

The Thought

BY GORDON B. HANCOCK
THE COLLAPSE OF NEGRO LEADERSHIP
Great leadership explains the greatness of nations and peoples and movements. When we see great things happening, they are happening in response to some great leadership. Great things do not happen of themselves, but only under the aegis of some great leader.

With the Negro race in this country in a state of crisis, it becomes all the more desirable to see what is to all intents and purposes a collapse of Negro leadership; for without great Negro leadership, the course of the race is left in the dark.

Just as Negro Methodism divided and subdivided in the past, and the Negro Baptists are currently dividing and subdividing, Negro leadership is currently dividing and subdividing. Once a Negro feels the "leadership" urge, he will no longer follow anyone; so it has come about that the Negro race is split into so many splinter groups led by so many splinter leaders. And the tragedy is each Negro seems to be lost in doing his own way.

Currently we have the two columns on the editorial page for that newspaper; in 1966, that column won the Pulitzer Prize for editorial writing.

Music at the convocation will be provided by the Atlanta — Morehouse — Spelman Chorus under direction of Dr. Wendell P. Whalum. The public is invited to attend.

While keeping the white man's face washed is in order, this in itself does not constitute a constructive program for Negro advancement. It is strictly necessary to have someone to talk "up to" and "back at" the white man we need somebody to "talk straight" to the Negro.

We are evidently waiting for the white man to bring forth a program for our deliverance. It is simply not going to happen!

The program for Negro themselves. Without colleges burning at the seams with Negroes on high degrees, it seems preposterous to expect the white man to bring forth the program for Negro deliverance.

This column has long since deplored the fact that aside from the program of education which has left out provisions for the masses, the Negro leaders simply have no program. The Negro masses have been practically abandoned by the Negro leaders, who all the attention has been heaped upon the Negro classes.

In Roy Wilkins' dialogue in 14 columns of United States News and World Report of recent date he was asked, "Do you advocate government program for solving the problems of the city as means of solving the Negroes' problems?"

Wilkins replied in part "This could help to solve the Negro problem." Mr. Wilkins intimated to do all of our leaders a deep reverence on what the Government must do. The problem of financing a program is and should be the Government's but the formulation of a program is the Negro's!

A government sponsored and financed program amounts to handout and if there is anything

MISSING HEIRESS FOUND BY ART LINKLETTER ON NETWORK "HOUSE PARTY" TV SHOW

Mrs. Lucille Gaines Dickerson, of 349 Emma Street, Mira Loma, Calif., was a "missing heiress" until last week when Art Linkletter's CBS-TV and radio "House Party" show announced her name on his daily show.

The $11,500 estate was discovered by the Linkletter "House Party" show which has employed the services of a private investigator to search files across country for missing heirs. Linkletter then announces the clues on his show, and usually, within seconds, the switchboard lights up like a Christmas tree with callers who know the whereabouts of the missing heir.

Travel OK Sought For H. Rap Brown

RICHMOND, Va. — UPI — At even allowed bond but the state had to go along with the lower federal court's decision.

Harp said if Brown wanted bond under which he could travel freely, all he had to do was waive extradition to Cambridge, Md., where he faces charges of inciting to riot and arson. Cambridge officials said Brown would be allowed to post $50,000 bond.

He was arrested last July at Washington National Airport near Alexandria. Gov. Mills Godwin ordered him extradited to Cambridge but Kunster is fighting the order on grounds Brown's arrest allegedly was unconstitutional.

Kunster said restricting Brown's movement was severely hurting his organization, the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee SNCC.

The judges, Clement Haynsworth Jr., Albert V. Bryan and Harrison Winter, took the case under advisement.

Assistant State Atty. Gen. Ross S. Harp III argued that Brown should remain confined to southern New York and added that under Virginia law Brown was not the Negro does not need "a hand-out." When a leader peaks of Government help in the form of bursas, they should make sure that they are not expecting or asking for billions in aid, but billions in opportunity. The Negro needs opportunity and not hand-outs. Moreover, he should have resolve that whatever program we devise should be based with emphasis on the Negro masses and not the Negro asses.

SOUTHERN U. WITHDRAWING FROM SWAC

Southern University, Baton Rouge, La., is considering withdrawing from the Southwestern Athletic Conference or becoming a partner in a new group which might include colleges outside the circuit. Morris Brown College will be the homecoming foe for Florida A&M University, Oct. 14. The 1966 NAIA championship Waynesburg College, Pa., is top-ranked in the small college poll.

Dr. Felton G. Clark, president of Southern University, has confirmed SWAC withdrawal which has rumored that the Jaguar Cats, were withdrawing from the circuit and becoming partners in a new group.

Dr. Clark in a statement said: "Times and circumstances have changed greatly since the Southwestern Athletic Conference was formed. There are newer and larger opportunities and there is a changed point of view concerning the place and importance of intramural athletics in college competition."

Dr. Felton continued: "We need a freshness that wider, newer and comprehensive competition would give us. We need, as it true for all schools which have been competing among themselves for years to rid ourselves of the deep emotional involvement and the rivalries which are inherent in such a situation."

"In its proper perspective in an athletic community," Dr. Clark said, "we need to make athletics a respectable vehicle for growth, understanding and fellowship among people of climes, geography, cultures, races and environments."

Dr. Clark concluded: "That is what our colleges are doing in other fields so why not athletics?"

How Southern University makes its move in this new direction, was not indicated, however, there is no doubt that the institution has been doing some serious thinking about new direction of its intercollegiate athletic program.

NAIA PACESETTER — The 1966 NAIA National Football Champion Waynesburg College (Pa.) — # 1 — the top — rated team in the first football poll of the 1967 season released today by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA).

The Carl DePasqua-coached Yellow Jackets have rolled over three opponents (Slippery Rock, Susquehanna and Ohio Northwestern) by a combined score of 189 to 20, and a combined score of 189 to 20, and most of the time it has been done without the services of the injured All-America halfback Rich Dahar. DePasqua is now 14-0 as a head coach, all at Waynesburg.

Waynesburg picked up 11 first-place votes and 135 points from the NAIA's 15-member board of coaches. Northwestern Louisiana (3-0) received three first-place votes and 91 points to rank second, followed by Northern Michigan (4-0) (72), Kearney State of Nebraska (4-0) (62), and New Mexico Highlands (3-0) (61).

Southwest Texas State (3-0) is sixth with 39 points, Ottawa of Kansas (3-0) is seventh with 38 points, Arkansas AM and N (3-0) is eighth (38), Central of Iowa (3-0) is ninth (32) and Concord of West Virginia (3-0) rounds out the top 10 with 30 points.

All teams in the top 20 are undefeated and untied through the first month of the season. Eighteenth-ranked Linfield (Ore.) is the fourth period to overcome the Bulldogs and went ahead in the ebbing minutes of the game.

For three periods the overhead attack of the Bulldogs, led by the Normalite All-SIAC Quarterback Eric Jackson and the aggressive defensive play of the Alabama baffled the invaders.

Unofficial statistics showed the Bulldogs with 28 first downs to 21 by the Rattlers.

Premier Performance — J. I. P.'s A Hit

The premiere performance in Albany of Joe's Impassable Personalities on last Friday night was a smashing success.

Their performance, which inspired the tens of scores of Albany citizens who attended, marked a sensational highlight of Georgia talent. The group is composed of ten musicians, four of which are Albanians. In the vocal department there are two lovely female voices and two males, who sound must like Sam and Dave.

Joe's Impassable Personalities, popularly known as the J. I. P.'s, presented ensembles ranging from soul music to modern jazz arrangements. All of the arrangements was from the pen of Joe himself. In addition to being a very fine young composer and arranger, he is also a fine flute player. His flute playing can rank with James Moody, Bud Shank

All of Albany is looking forward to witnessing another ingenious and spectacular performance by this talented group. Everyone will certainly agree that this is the best thing to happen to Albany in the last decade.

Philadelphia Eagles Spank Atlanta Falcons, 38 To 7

ATLANTA, Ga. (SNS) — The Philadelphia Eagles capitalized on an alert defense headed by Aaron Martin to erupt for 24 points in an eight-minute first period blitz Sunday and went on to thounce the winless Atlanta Falcons 38-7.

Martin's pass interception set up the first score of the period — a 17-yard, end-around touchdown run by Gary Ballman — and his fumble recovery set up another on a two-yard pass from Norman Snead to Mike Ditka.

In between those two touchdowns the Eagles scored on a 16-yard pass interception return by defensive end Don Holtz and on a 34-yard field goal by Sam Baker who also added the extra points during the blitz that sent the Eagles winging to their third victory against one loss.

The Falcons, who now have lost all four of their regular season games, held the Eagles scoreless in the second period but Steve Sloan broke loose from his defender and then laid the ball right in the hands at the Atlanta 30. Ballman sidestepped the only man left between him and the goal and ran in unimpeded.

Tom Woodeshick, filling in for the injured Tim Brown, tore off 121 yards rushing and scored the Eagles' final touchdown on a two-yard plunge four minutes into the final period after Snead threw a 59-yard pass to end Jim Kelly.

The Falcons, playing at home for the first time this year in a regular NFL game were stopped cold by interceptions and fumbles until late in the final period when Terry Nofsinger, their third quarterback of the day, passed them on a 30-yard march that was checked two minutes from the end of the contest when Nofsinger threw a 10-yard touchdown pass to flanker Jerry Simmons.

Atlanta started former Alabama ace Steve Sloan at quarterback because regular Randy Johnson was suffering from a rib injury. But Sloan was unable to generate any threat so the Falcons sent in Johnson, injured ad all, to try to get something started.

Johnson was impressive with his passing but only once was able to move the Falcons within scoring distance and that time, with 22 seconds left in the half, Atlanta missed a field goal attempt.

Johnson retired with five minutes left to play and Nofsinger got his first opportunity of the afternoon.

"This May Well Be Our Year" Says Morehouse's Darlington

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — "This may well be our year," Darlington last Saturday when the Morehouse Tigers brought the low the Dragons of Lane College in their own lair by a score of 14-12.

This afternoon at 2:30, when they rally forth to Herndon Stadium to do battle with the Pirates of Hampton Institute in their first home game of the season, the Tigers will strive to fulfill Coach Darlington's prediction.

Though top-heavy with freshmen and with other players who are making their premiers this season in SIAC football, the team teams with talent.

Mike Grey and LeMonte Vaughn head the list of returning veterans. Grey, a powerful, hardnosed 190-pound sophomore, was last year's SIAC pole vaulting champ who threatened the record with a vault of 14 feet. Against Lane, Grey gained 44 yards and scored the Tigers' first TD on an eight yard run.

Coach Darlington says, "Grey has a great desire to hit and the balance to continue toward his objective after he has made contact." A fair passer and a pretty good receiver. Mike is the defensive back and is also used as an emergency back — up at the quarterback position.

Vaughn, also a member of last year's track team, is the speed merchant of the squad. He ran second — leg on Morehouse's 449 yard relay team and can cover the hundred in 9.8 seconds. Because of a knee injury, he did not see much action against Lane. However, should be able to participate in the Hampton game.

From his flanker position, LeMonte is a threat on the bomb. He has good hands and the desire to win inherent in all seniors.

Sophomore Elliott Malone is one of the defensive standouts returning to the squad. Making seven unassisted tackles from the left linebacker's corner during the Lane — Morehouse game, Malone is a dead tackler. He also calls the defensive signals.

Atlanta contributed several fine athletes to the young Tigers this year. Coach Darlington is especially enthusiastic about big, 195-pound fullback Andrew Smith. Although he seldom comments on his athletes, Coach praised Smith unstintingly.

Fla. A&M Rattlers Down Ala. A&M, 45-36

Singer-Composer Woody Guthrie Is Dead At 55

NEW YORK — UPI — Folk singer-composer Woody Guthrie, hospitalized for much of the past 14 years, died Tuesday of a nervous condition in Creedmore State Hospital. He was 55.

Guthrie, who also was a major poet wrote more than 1,000 songs including "This Land Is Your Land" and "So Long, It's Been Good To Know You."

Born Woodrow Wilson Guthrie in Okemah, Okla., Guthrie began roaming the country with his guitar at the age of 18, singing for pennies in saloons and freight cars.

He described himself as "a worried man singing worried songs," 400 of which are in the Library of Congress.

Guthrie had been in and out of hospitals since 1953 and had been a patient at Creedmore for the past two years. He live in New York City until his final illness.

Against the Atlanta Falcons, the Green Bay Packers managed to shake the scourge of giveaway football that had plagued them for the first two games, but were unable to dent the Georgians goal line only twice on 8 invasions of Falcon territory. Don Chandler's string of field goals was interrupted at -- straight when a 46 yarder, the first of three unsuccessful attempts, went astray in the first period, but he still leads all Packer scorers in point production with 15.

Offensively against Atlanta, the Packers juggernaut amassed 382 yards, 171 of which came over the ground route. After three games the Packers have ground out 1,053 total yards and a rock-ribbed defense has limited enemy attacks to 450 yards and 20 points. Especially effective against aerial invasion, the Packer secondary has allowed but 79 total net yards passing in three outings while throwing opponents' passers nine times for 85 yards in losses and intercepting 3 passes.

Against the Falcons, Boyd Dowler enjoyed his best day in 4 years, catching 8 passes for 105 yards while Dale had 6 catches for 97 yards, and 2 touchdowns. Ben Wilson, acquired in an off-season trade from the Rams, had 82 yards in 13 carries to lead all Packer ball carriers.

"WHAT HE DID didn't surprise me at all — just like what Willie Richardson did the week before," said Baltimore coach Don Shula of rookie Ray Perkins' big day after replacing ailing Raymond Berry early in the first quarter vs. San Francisco last Sunday.

"He's well advanced for a rookie and really rugged for someone his size." Perkins, a 6-0, 180-pounder from Alabama, took over after Berry aggravated a pulled leg muscle and caught five passes for 110 yards and two touchdowns in the Colts' 41-7 victory.

Four of the completions, for 100 yards, came from Unitas, who hit him on a 33-yard scoring play.

The fifth was a 10-yard scoring pass from the Colts' back-up quarterback, Jim Ward. "Actually I'm more accustomed to working with Ward since normally I practice with the second unit," said Perkins. "With Unitas the short patterns weren't too much of a problem for me but long passes need much more timing."

Senate Committee Approves Increase For "Work" Bill

WASHINGTON — UPI — The Senate Appropriations Committee Thursday recommended upward revisions of House-passed public works appropriations for three southeastern states.

The committee sent to the Senate a report recommending a $48 million increase for Florida and increases totaling slightly more than $1.6 million for North Carolina and $1.4 million for Georgia.

Major Sayles Earns M.S. From AFIT

DAYTON, Ohio — Major Duval W. Sayles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo A. Sayles of 40 Jephth St., S.W., Atlanta, has been graduated with a master of science degree in logistics management from the Air Force Institute of Technology (AFIT) at Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio.

Major Sayles, a supply staff officer, was among 115 key government officials and military officers selected for the 12-month course which emphasized methods of improving the utilization of human and material resources.

AFIT provides accredited graduate level resident training as part of the Air Force's professional education program.

He was previously assigned to Upper Heyford RAF Station England.

The major, a graduate of B. T. Washington High School, received a B. S. degree in mathematics from Morehouse College. He is a member of Alpha Phi Alpha.

His wife, Jane, is the daughter of Arle O. Morland of 1350 Gladstone Drive, Atlanta.

Stray Dogs Save Life Of Boy, 3

CARTERSVILLE, Ga. — UPI — About two months ago, two stray dogs "look un" residence at the home of T. J. Hardeman near here. On October 5, Hardeman credited the male beagle and his mixed — breed female companion with saving the life of his three-year-old son.

The dogs followed Billy Hardeman, 3, in typical boy-dog fashion into dense woods about two miles from his home Monday afternoon. A massive three-day search followed.

Wednesday night, neighbor Will Rogers was separated from the 1,000 searchers and also became lost in the woods. A dog jumped

Hampton Pirates Balloon Morehouse Tigers, 40-21

BY JAMES D. HEATH
(WORLD SPORTS STAFF)
ATLANTA, Ga. — (SNS) — The Hampton Institute Pirates spoiled the Morehouse College Tigers home debut, 44-21 here Saturday afternoon at Herndon Memorial Stadium.

After being behind 7-0 for a short time, the Pirates went to work and produced scores in each quarter, taking the Maroon Tigers off the undefeated list.

Halfback Anthony Andrews led the scorers for Hampton with three touchdowns. All three TDs covered 53 yards.

Morehouse scoring was produced by freshman player products of Atlanta's high schools.

Andrew Smith, graduate of Carver High School, scored the first touchdown for Morehouse on a 1-yard plunge. Attempt for point after was good and the Tigers were leading 7-0.

Hampton bounced back with a score by Sandy Bowers carrying the mail over from the 1-yard mark. Attempt for point after failed.

The Pirates lead was increased to 14-7 when Anthony Andrews scattered 43-yards to payoff, Donald passed to Willie Halton for the point after.

Just before the first half ended, the Tigers scored again on a 7-yard run by QB Jesse Rowe. Rowe is a graduate of Atlanta's West Fulton High School. PAT was no good.

Hampton scored thirteen more points in the third period. Fullrell dropped back and tossed a short pass to Halton who scored on a 43-yard pass-run play. Attempt for point after failed.

Taking the kick-off, the Maroon Tigers fumbled the ball and Hampton recovered on the 20 yard line. From this spot and four plays later, Andrews crossed the goal line from 3-yards out. Alfred Cheesboro booted the point after.

Morehouse scored eight in the third quarter. Atlanta Johnny Palmer was on the receiving end of a 32 yard pass tossed by Michael Grey. Grey to Roger Bell for the point after. Palmer is also a graduate of West Fulton High.

The third quarter ended, 37-21 Hampton.

Hampton placed the game on ice in the fourth period with two more touchdowns. Melvin Hardie scored on a 15 yard run and Andrews scored on a 7-yard run. Cheesboro booted one point after and the second attempt failed.

Hampton is now 3-0-0, thus far this season and Morehouse is sporting a 1-1-0 mark.

Morehouse will face the unbeaten Tuskegee Institute Friday night in Columbus, Ga., in the annual Columbus Football Classic.

Rockefeller, Reagan Slate Would Defeat LBJ-HHH

PRINCETON, N.J. — UPI — A Republican slate with New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for President and California Gov. Ronald Reagan for Vice President would overwhelm a Democratic Johnson-Humphrey ticket, the latest Gallup Poll indicated Wednesday.

If such a contest were held today, the American Institute of Public Opinion said in a copy-righted report, the Rockefeller — Reagan ticket would win 55 per cent of the vote to 41 per cent for Johnson — Humphrey, with another four per cent undecided.

The margin was the biggest Republican lead since 1956 when a similar poll gave former President Dwight Eisenhower a 59 to 42 per cent margin over the late Adlai Stevenson.

In the current poll participants also were asked which ticket they would like to see win if the candidates were Michigan Gov. George Romney as the GOP Presidential standard bearer with Reagan again in the number two spot and Johnson and Humphrey as the Democratic team.

Again the GOOP ticket came out on top but by the slim margin of only 2 per cent. The breakdown was 49 per cent for Romney-Reagan 47 per cent for Johnson-Humphrey and 4 per cent undecided.

The poll attributed the stronger showing of the Rockefeller-Reagan ticket to what it called Romney's loss of voter appeal following his recent statement that he had been "brainwashed" by the current administration on the Vietnam issue.

MARION JACKSON Views Sports Of The World

Football league attendance in three weeks of the year has already exceeded that for any full season prior to 1956. The numbers count to date totals 1,442,277 for 24 games. No. 1 sports desk request is for information on the Tennessee State-Florida A&M game, Saturday, Nov. 21, in W. J. Hall Stadium, Nashville, Tenn. L. C. Baker, veteran coach of Booker T. Washington High School, will be honored, Saturday night Oct. 21, during the halftime of the holiday game with C. L. Hornsby Trojans at S. F. Hammond Memorial Stadium.

There is no end in sight to the popularity of professional football. It coming events cast shadows before it, a record-breaking year is ahead for Organized Football. NFL attendance at the close of '67 is estimated at 24 million, a pre-war average of 10,000,000. There have been approximately 100,000 and percentage of 100 percent been in '67, when attendance surpassed five million for the first time, representing 100 percent.

Lloyd Wells, chief ivory-hunter for the Kansas City Chiefs, tells that every scout looks for different qualities in backs and linemen, but a couple of factors which every pro football player must have is size and speed.

Speaking of passing, 1967 may turn out to be known as the year of the receiver. In the first three weeks of the new NFL season, there have been 18 instances of a receiver catching a pass for 100 or more yards in a game and only four receivers have done it more than once.

The leaders with two 100-yard-plus days are Charley Taylor of the Washington Redskins, Roy Hayes of Dallas, Homer Jones of New York and Ben Hawkins of Philadelphia. Those who have had one 100-yard-plus day are Gary Ballman of Philadelphia, Bama Casey of Los Angeles, Boyd Dowler and Carroll Dale of Green Bay, Paul Warfield of Cleveland, Pat Studstill of Detroit, Billy Gammell of St. Louis, Lance Rentzel of Dallas and White Richardson and Ray Perkins of Baltimore.

Top day from a yardage standpoint was 198 yards from four receptions vs. Washington Sunday by Jones, who has caught 11 passes overall for 427 yards an average per completion of 39.3 yards.

SPORTS BEAT — Jimmy Brown, who made his film debut in "Rio O'Hara", and who since retiring his football for the Cleveland Browns, has been featured in MGM's "Dad Of The Sun", and the published London, England screenplay "The Dirty Deen". It is now working in "Joe Millionaire". The cinema will feature Rock Hudson, Ernest Borgnine and Patricia McGoohan, and is being filmed under the critical eye of John Franken.

The movie setting is a British weather station, but the production, which has scenes at the North Pole, is underway in the high 60s under white lights and the white snow.

Delaware State Rolls Over Howard U., 16-0

Coach Arnold Jeter finally got his first taste of glory Saturday at the horns of Delaware State College notched their first victory of the season over the Bisons of Howard University 16-0.

The contest was a sweet one for the Hornets although they suffered heavily in the penalty department. It also cost the Hornets a touchdown. Delaware received 175 yards in penalties versus Howard notched only 70. The Hornets picked up 230 yards rushing and 40 passing completing 5 of 14 passes. On the other hand the Bisons picked up only 75 yards on the ground and 44 through the air, 40 on the last three plays of the game.

The Hornets dominated play throughout the contest holding the pigskin 75 percent of the contest. They stayed in Howard's territory throughout the game. Only penalties kept the game from becoming a run away.

Delaware received the opening kickoff and moved to their own 29 before Louis Sanford picked off a Norris Saunders pass and returned it to the Hornets 30. The Hornets, led by Mike Carey and John Gilbert pushed the Bisons back to the 35 and on fourth down Carey blocked Stephen Nichols punt at the 48. Delaware could not move on the series of downs and punted to the Howard 10. With the ball sailing over Nichols head and into the end zone where he received and was smothered under for a safety.

Late in the first quarter the Hornets began a drive on Howard's 22 after Greg Johnson recorded a Bisons fumble. Twenty yards in penalties, led the Hornets back but the running of Leonard Hudson, Steve Deas and Ernie Anderson moved the ball to the live before Saunders and around the end for the score. The drive failed and the Hornets led 16-0 at the end of the day.

Phillies Seek Players During Winter Trades

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — The Phillies recently completed their 30-man winter roster by selling six players outright to their San Diego farm team of the Pacific Coast League and purchasing six pitchers from their farm system.

Sent to San Diego were pitchers Larry Loughlin and Mike Everett, catcher Jimmy Schaffer, infielder Chuck Hiller and outfielders Downy Clemens and Billy Cowan. Loughlin, Schaffer and Cowan both played with San Diego in 1967 and also saw limited action with the Phillies.

Hiller, who was purchased from the Mets June 11 when the Phillies sold Phil Lina to the New York club, Hiller batted .166 for the season, .302 with the Phillies.

Clemens batted .178 with the Phillies driving in four runs. As a pinch hitter, he hit .204. Purchased from San Diego was 26-year-old righthander, Jeff James, who won 11 games in a .270 rookie to a 13-8 record and 2.77 Earned Run Average. In 159 innings, he fanned 150.

From Reading the Phillies purchased righthander Steve Arlin, 22, who in June because of college. Another pitcher is righthander Barry Lench, 23, who was 8-1 with 1.68 ERA at Portsmouth after spending most of the season in the Army Reserve program. In 46 innings, he struck out 53 and walked only six.

The remaining three pitched the entire season at Spartanburg and a few games with Fort Smith. The only lefthander in the group is Ken Reynold, 20, 13-9 record, leading the league with 216 strikeouts in 166 innings. His ERA was 2.89. The righthanders are John Parker 20, who was 17-3, 1.83 league leading ERA and relief pitcher Manny Munia, 19, who was on the Phillies 1966 roster as a catcher. Converted because of a strong arm, Munia relieved 41 times, was 7-2, striking out 81 in 73 innings and posting a 2.28 ERA.

All of the six players outrighted to San Diego may go through the annual winter draft in late Nov. before they can be reacquired by the Phillies.

Braves Trade Menke, Lemaster To Houston

ST. LOUIS — (UPI) — Southern pitcher Denny Lemaster and shortstop Dene Menke were traded to the Houston Astros by the Atlanta Braves Sunday for shortstop Sonny Jackson and first baseman Chuck Harrison.

The four-man swap was announced during the third game of the World Series between the St. Louis Cardinals and Boston Red Sox.

Paul Richards completed the deal for the Braves while Spec Richardson and John Mullen did the negotiating for the Astros.

Lemaster, 28, always had been regarded as a potential 20-game winner with the Braves but never established that status with them. He was largely a disappointment to the Braves, who originally felt he would become a super-star. He batted only .227 while driving in 39 runs and hitting seven homers.

Jackson had an excellent rookie season with the Astros in 1966 but batted only .237 this year. He drove in 25 runs and stole 22 bases.

Harrison batted .242 for the Astros with 20 RBIs and two homers.

14,000 Veterans, Widows Must File For Pension Hike

Although nearly two million living veterans and widows and children of deceased veterans will receive automatic pension increases under the new Public Law 90-77, the Veterans Administration estimates that there are more than 14,000 veterans and widows who cannot receive increased payments until they apply for them.

Until the VA is contacted by or on behalf of these veterans and widows scattered throughout the nation, it has no way of knowing who or where they are.

Included in this group are certain veterans who have been receiving pensions because they have disabilities which cause them to be housebound but are not severe enough to qualify them for the higher aid-and-attendance pension payments.

The VA estimates that some 10,000 veterans in this category may be eligible for the aid-and-attendance rate of $100 a month instead of the $75 or $65 they currently receive.

The agency is also seeking to locate more than 4,000 pensioned widows of war veterans, including veterans of the Korean and Vietnam Conflicts. The VA reports that these widows are entitled to an additional $50 a month if they are in need of regular aid and attendance or if they are patients in a nursing home.

Additional information can be obtained at any VA office. One can always be kind to people who care nothing about. — Oscar Wilde.

Fuller Tells NCC Students They Betray Black People

DURHAM, N.C. — Howard Fuller, the community organizer for the North Carolina Fund who became a controversial figure when he led demonstrations this summer in Durham, told North Carolina College students recently that they have begun betraying their black brothers in the ghetto. "You began when somebody asked you, 'Where you from, baby?' and you said 'New York' or 'Washington, D. C.' and you know you're from Craven County, or Bertie," Fuller said to the sounds of laughter and cheers.

"The brother in the ghetto feels the black middle class doesn't care about him, and it's true, not only of the students here at NCC but of many of the faculty also. They've become a part of the 'black separatist' movement — to separate themselves from their black brothers and sisters."

"But the white man ain't going to let you do it. Wherever you go, he's going to build a ghetto. The next time I turn a you know I have turned the last around your black head," Fuller said.

The speaker, who is a part-time lecturer in social work at the University of North Carolina, said the Negro's need for economic and political leverage can be summed up in two little words — black power.

"I did not come to NCC to start a riot. I have never gone anywhere to start a riot," Fuller said. "But check, I'll follow it with a right cross."

Fuller quoted Frederick Douglass who said, "If there is no struggle, there is no progress."

"Power concedes nothing without a demand; it never did and it never will," Fuller said. The question I ask tonight is are we black people ready to pay for what we get. Especially, are the black students, the black faculty, and the black administration at NCC ready?"

"When I ask that question, peo-

Albany State Routs Morris College, 73-0

ALBANY, Ga. — Albany State, held Morris College to a 73-0 rout Saturday night on the passing of Tim Everett, the catching of Sylvester Bing and the defensive prowess of Job Coleman.

The contest, the opening home game of the year for the Rams, had turned into a one-sided affair by the end of the first quarter with the Rams, blanked by Bethune-Cookman and Miles in earlier outings, forging ahead with a 27-0 lead.

Everett, a freshman from Thomasville, Ga., in his first starting call, directed the homecoming Albany State eleven to four touchdowns in the opening 15-24, connecting with Cornell Simmons on a 38 yarder and completing 5 of 10 passes for 168 yards.

Striking on drives of 76, 42, 78 and 37 yards in 28 plays, Owe O'Neal's changers forged to a 40-0 halftime before the vets went to the sidelines in favor of the freshmen.

Bing, in his unveiling before the home crowd, playing at Charley Lawrence's split end post, grabbed five passes, two of this for touchdowns. The 6-1, 160 pound Augusta, Ga. freshman, caught both of his TD tosses in the last quarter with Bob Williams at the controls. Williams connected on a third TD pass, this one to Algebron King, also a first year performer.

Coleman's scintillating performance was the real eye-opener of the game as he intercepted two series, for good gains, one of them a 49-yard return. The 5-10, 165-pound bow-legged, Thomasville, Ga. freshman, in his varsity debut, also scored on a tackle-breaking 36 yard punt return, zipping through the entire Morris defense. The Rams piled up 620 yards in total offense and picked up 21 first downs.

British Votes Open Tennis Tournaments

LONDON — (UPI) — The governing council of the British Lawn Tennis Association LTA has voted to abolish the distinction between amateurs and professionals which could see Wimbledon staging the first "open" tournament in history next year.

The council's decision has to be ratified at the annual meeting of the LTA in December, but at the moment there is no doubt it will be carried. It means that Wimbledon, the world's top tennis tournament, attracts only a handful of second-rate Britons and the touring pros.

By going against the International Lawn Tennis Federation ILTF, British players could be barred from playing overseas. Britain would not be eligible to enter teams for the Davis, King's and Federation Cups and the annual Wightman Cup clash with the United States would also have to be scrapped.

Tallahadega College Sets New Record

TALLAHADEGA, Ala. — A student body larger by 25 percent than last year and 82 faculty-staff people, both records for the institution, had Talladega College "crowded" when classes began for the 1967-68 academic year.

Tallahadega enrolled 283 new students, who joined 263 upperclassmen, with some late registrations still scheduled in both categories. Last year's top enrollment of 402 students is expected to be exceeded by at least 100.

The three dormitories for men are filled and extra male housing has been procured off campus. Foster Hall, the dormitory for freshmen and sophomore women, is filled with some sophomores assigned rooms in Ish Hall, the dormitory for junior-senior women. A few spaces are left in Ish.

The college has 28 new faculty-staff people, who, too, have used all faculty houses; two house trailers have been provided and two trailers hitherto used for other purposes pressed into service.

Tallahadega, oldest of Alabama's ethnic colleges, celebrates its 100th birthday in year-long activities which officially begin November 3. It is operated by the American Missionary Association and its president is Dr. Herman H. Long.

New professors or instructors and their assignments are: Dr. John J. Bornemissa, Economics; Jerry Breecher, Physics; Martin J. Broehuspen, Mathematics; Bruce M. W. Burns, Social Science; Father Thomas J. Grace, Biology; Everett H. Hill, History; William Hudson, Biology; Charles L. Isbell, Physical Education and basketball coach; Willie G. Jackson, History; Miss Mary C. Jones, Music; David Kelly, Mathematics; Vernon F. Lowenberg, Mathematics; Ebedrick Lyons, Speech and Drama; Mrs. Gladys T. Neal, Music; Dr. Harbans Sinah, Biology.

Thomas L. Tols, Sociology; Ronald F. Wacker, English; Mrs. Sally Macker, Physical Education and Speed Yucus, Art. Misses Carol Bishop, Viola W.

"Lum" Harris Named Manager Of Braves

By MILTON RICHMAN ST. LOUIS — (UPI) — Lumian C. "Lum" Harris, whose career always has been closely tied to Paul Richards, was named manager of the Atlanta Braves on Oct. 6 and given a one-year contract for an estimated $35,000.

The 52-year-old Harris thus assumed his third managerial role in the major leagues — each associated with Richards, now the Braves' vice president and general manager. Harris, who managed Richmond of the International League to first place this year, succeeded Richards as manager of the Baltimore Orioles on Aug. 31, 1961 when Richards took over as general manager of that club.

Then, when Richards was general manager at Houston, Harris replaced Harry Craft as manager of the Astros on Sept. 4, 1964 and continued to lead Houston through the 1965 season during which he finished ninth.

Both men were present at the news conference Friday along with Bill Bartholomay, president of the Braves.

"You obviously think he's one helluva manager," someone said to Richards, who stood two feet away from Harris.

"I'd say that's a fair statement," Richards replied.

"What was the main reason Harris was hired?" Richards was asked.

"Being facetious," he chuckled.

"I'd say he's had pretty good training. Seriously I think he did a fine job at Houston with a pretty bad ball club. He handled himself real well there and also did an excellent job at Richmond last year."

Richards said he also liked the way Harris "adjusts himself to his particular ball club." The Atlanta General Manager then was asked what he meant by a statement last week in which he said he "might toss a bombshell" at newsmen during the naming of Billy Hitchcock's successor.

At the time that was taken to mean that Richards might decide to return to managing and pilot the Braves himself next year.

"If we were not able to persuade Lumian to take the job," said Richards, "I might have tried it."

"Did it take much persuasion?" Richards was asked.

"No specific mention was made of the coaches who will serve under Harris, although Richards pointed out that Ken Silvestri is certain to be retained next year.

Harris, who let Richards go most of the talking, said, "I feel a lot better taking over this ball club than I did Houston. Potentially, this is a better club."

Tuskegee Tigers Post Win Over Clark Panthers, 44-19

By JAMES D. HEATH (WORLD SPORTS STAFF) The Golden Tigers of Tuskegee Institute remained one of the undefeated teams in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference after posting a 44-19 score on the Clark College Panthers Friday night at Herdon Memorial Stadium.

Tuskegee came to town ready to play football. The Tigers recorded points in each quarter off a well balanced offense and a very, very strong defense.

If Friday's game is a sneak preview of the SIAC championship game or the winner of Division B trophy, then Tuskegee is the team to beat.

Coach Arthur Smith's strong men started their scoring spree in the first quarter with a field goal and a touchdown. Cecil Leonard boot a 20-yard field goal and Ralph Jenkins scored on a 40-yard pass tossed by Sylvester Robinson.

The first quarter ended, 10-0 Tuskegee. Clark produced a touchdown in the second period with QB Dwight Ellison plowing his way across the goal line from 13 yards out. PAT was food.

The second quarter ended 29-7; but not until the Tigers recorded three touchdowns and one extra point, Robinson scored on a 23-yard QB keeper to end a long drive. PAT was no good. Tuskegee's Willie Pope recovered a fumble on Clark's 25 yard line and from this point Robinson tossed a 25 yard pass to James Lowe for six points. Leonard added the point after.

Thomas Ballard provided the last score of the quarter on a 25 yard pass interception and six points. PAT was no good.

Tuskegee scored seven points in the third period on a 1 yard run by Robinson and Leonard booted the point after.

Clark placed six points on the scoreboard in the third period on a 15 yard pass to Morris Broad thrown by Ellison. Attempt for point after failed and the third period ended, 36-13 Tuskegee.

The L. S. Epps Panthers made their final score in the fourth period on a 17 yard pass to Waymon Docks from QB Henry Epps. Attempt for point after failed.

Tuskegee's final score came on a 65 yard pass interception made by Henry Jones, Robinson to Gregory Hall for the point after.

During the course of the game, Tuskegee only punted the ball twice. Clark travels to Chattanooga, Tenn. Saturday for a game with Knoxville College.

Tuskegee is now 3-0-1 thus far this season and Clark is 1-1-1.

New Regional Peace Corps Office Opens In Atlanta

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The Peace Corps announced recently the opening of a new regional recruiting headquarters for the Southern states at 275 Peachtree Street, N.E., Atlanta.

The new recruiting office which opened Sept. 25, will be headed by Larry Omo, 28, director of the agency's Southern Region.

He will supervise 27 Peace Corps recruiting officers — all former volunteers — who begin this year's nine-month college campaign by visiting 11 southern campuses this week.

By spring, Omo said, the recruiters will have traveled to over 200 schools. Southern territory includes 15 states — Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and West Virginia and the District of Columbia.

The South has provided 15 percent of the total volunteer force. Texas ranks 12th among states for total volunteers produced and the District of Columbia rates ninth in number of volunteers per capita.

Atlanta is now one of four regional recruiting bases from which 115 returning Peace Corps Volunteers are traveling. They will visit about 900 U. S. college and university campuses this year.

Offices in San Francisco and Chicago have been in operation one year; Boston and Atlanta headquarters are both new this fall.

By January 1968 the Peace Corps — already past its sixth anniversary — will have 15,150 Volunteers overseas in 58 countries.

They are working primarily in education, community development, health and agriculture programs. But over 300 skill categories need filling by Peace Corps applicants.

Omo, a 1964 graduate of Colorado State University and the son of Mrs. Nina Omo, 1713 Meadowlark, Enid, Oklahoma, was a Peace Corps Lookout, Aggie L. Williams and Mrs. Katie B. Williams, secretaries; Mrs. Martha P. Hill, Business Office assistant and mail clerk; Milton S. Hurst, returning after a three year absence as Director of Student Activities, Employment and Placement, Miss Miriam Putnam and Mrs. Juliette A. Smith, assistant librarians.

Returning from sabbatical leave is Mrs. Catherine D. Hurst, Associate Professor of English. The round trip cost per person is $500.

Songwriters, Sissle, Blake Give Manuscript To Truman Library

NEW YORK CITY (Special) — The Harry S. Truman Library was presented Oct. 3 with the manuscript and memorabilia from one of America's most memorable Presidential campaign songs, "I'm Just Wild About Harry."

Margaret Truman accepted two display cases on behalf of her father from the writers of the song, Noble Sissle, 78, and Eubie Blake, 84.

(The presentation was made at Gotham Recording Studios, 2 West 46th St., New York City, where Miss Truman tapes her syndicated radio program, "Author in the News.")

Sissle and Blake, who became partners in 1915, are the country's longest active songwriting team. "I'm Just Wild About Harry" was written in 1921 for the long-running Negro musical, "Shuffle Along." Much about the show was prophetic of former President Truman's upset victory over Thomas E. Dewey in 1948. According to Sissle and Blake, in a letter to President Truman:

"The interesting thing about 'Harry' was that it actually was written as an election song in a show whose plot was almost a parallel occurrence to the 1948 Presidential Campaign.

The story was about the race for Mayor in a small Southern town. Our hero, Harry Walton, was the underdog in his race just as you were in the Election of 1948. Although we did not have a Chicago-Tribune telling the people that his rival had been elected. It first appeared that one of the candidates opposing Harry in our race had won. Oh, yes, our Harry had more than one opponent just as you did in 1948.

"Well, a friend asked the ingenious how she felt about Harry when he'd apparently lost. She replied, 'I'm Just Wild About Harry,' and went into the song. Harry won our election and, of course, won the Election of 1948."

The presentation came about when Robert Kimball, curator of Yale University's Collection of the Literature of the American Musical Theatre, was going through the archives Sissle and Blake are giving to the Yale University Library.

Kimball discovered that the songwriters had put together some material about "I'm Just Wild About Harry" and contacted President Truman, a Chubb Fellow at Yale in 1958, who said he "would be pleased, indeed, to have this collection for inclusion in the archives of the Library."

"I'm Just Wild About Harry" became the official campaign song after the first whistle - stop tour in 1948.

This fall, Sissle and Blake are putting together a show for campus tour which will trace the Negro's contribution to the music of America. The tour is expected to begin at Yale.

The Yale Collection of the Literature of the American Musical Theatre was established in 1954 by the late Robert Barlow and a sponsoring committee of dignitaries in the field headed by Goddard Lieberson. The Collection contains more than 25,000 items in the form of manuscripts, sheet music, complete scores, phonograph records, and other materials.

Morehouse Club Sponsors Bus Trip To Columbus, Ga.

ATLANTA, Ga. — (SWS) — The Atlanta Morehouse Club will again sponsor its annual bus trip to Columbus, Ga., for the annual Morehouse-Tuskegee Football Classic to be played Friday night, Oct. 13, at Memorial Stadium.

This is the one trip hundreds of Atlanta grid fans look forward to, and interested persons should now make reservations at B. & W. Tasty Grill, 802 Hunter St. S. W. through J. Russell Simmons.

The bus will leave from the front of the Samuel Howard Archer Gymnasium on Fair St., S. W., at 5 p. m. Friday and arrive in Columbus in ample time for the kickoff.

The round trip cost per person is $500.

Urban League Fellowship Conference Slated Here

The National Urban League's Summer Fellowship Program Conference will be held in Atlanta, October 13 and 14, at the American Motor Hotel. It has been announced by Adolph Holmes, Director, Summer Fellowship Program, National Urban League.

The Summer Fellowship Program is designed to give faculty members and administrators in predominantly Negro colleges direct exposure to the workings of business and industry so that they can return to the campus and the classroom better prepared to counsel and advise students in preparation for careers in business and industry.

In 1967, the third year of the five-year program, 61 educators from 26 colleges and universities gained first-hand knowledge and experience with 27 of the nation's major companies.

Conference, beginning Friday, Oct. 13, will be devoted to review and evaluation of the program during the summer of 1967 and will be attended by approximately 75 fellows, presidents of predominantly Negro colleges and members of the Advisory Committee of the Summer Fellowship Program.

Speakers during the two-day session will include Mr. Holmes; W. J. Denlie, Manager of Benefit Plans, Employee and Public Relations Dept., American Oil Company, Chicago, Ill., and a member of the Programs Advisory Committee; Dr. J. A. Middleton, President, Morris Brown College, Atlanta; and Miss Nancy Lane, Assistant Director, Summer Fellowship Program.

1967 Summer Fellows who will participate in the program are Norman Camp, III, Professor of Chemistry, Shaw University, Raleigh, N. C. who served his 1967 Fellowship with Corn Products in Argo, Ill.; Professor Yvonne Clark, head of the Mechanical Engineering Dept., Tennessee A. and I. University, Nashville, Tenn., who served her Fellowship with Westinghouse, in Baltimore, Md.; and Dr. N. F. Davis, then Professor of Business Administration, Atlanta University, now head of the Business Administration Dept., Albany State College, Albany, Ga., who served with the DuPont Corp. in Wilmington, Del.

The meetings will be chaired by Dr. R. Grann Lloyd, Director, Division of Business, Tennessee A. and I. University, and a member of the Program's Advisory Committee.

Administrative costs of the Summer Fellowship Program are covered by a grant from the Ford Foundation. The costs of individual Fellowships are absorbed by participating companies.

Among the 26 national corporations participating in this year's program are Campbell Soup, U. S. Steel, Pifney-Bowes, Eastman Kodak, General Foods, IBM, Union Carbide, General Motors, Western Electric and Inland Steel. (For the full list, see attached list of Fellows and the corporations with which they served.)

The National Urban League, founded in 1910, is a charitable and educational organization. It is non-profit and non-partisan, and interracial in its leadership and staff.

wish. Perhaps he fears what his children will think.

Under the circumstances, it would be no more than kind of him to come here to you. Some states have certain lengths of residence after filing for the marriage license etc. Why not suggest that he come here and marry you. Then both can go north together, if you both desire.

Dear Eleanora,
A movie of El Capone was recently shown here in our city and the theatre was packed! We see so much juvenile and adult delinquency, I often wonder why people of any community should tolerate such stuff being shown at their local theatres or anywhere else. What is your opinion?
Mr. John

ANSWER:
Altho' the screens do plainly prove that the guilty one gets his punishment etc., many such plays would be better omitted. In life "we are a part of all we have met" as our great philosopher says; and many people are unable to entirely throw off the evil that the eyes take in.
All parents (especially) should know in advance the type of shows that their children see - even on TV. The various local theatre shows are briefly described in Parents Magazine and in certain other periodicals.

The sooner the world forgets about notorious characters like Al Capone, the better! He was a burden and a great curse to society.

QUOTATIONS OF THE DAY
"If a child is not disciplined and taught self-control early in the home, the grown-up world will take care of him on perhaps cruelly, and when it is too late.
A child curbed, taught abedience, spanked when he is young, rarely requires punishment when he hits his teens."

NAACP Suit Blames Hartford Officials For Civil Disorders

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — Attorneys of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People have asked the United States District Court here for a ruling declaring unconstitutional Connecticut's anti-riot and breach of peace laws and two Hartford City ordinances. They also asked for a hearing before a three-judge court.

The 18-page complaint, filed Oct. 2, on behalf of six persons arrested in connection with civil disorders in Hartford, Sept. 21-22, also seeks an order restraining Mayor George B. Kinsella and other city officials from interfering with the complainants in the exercise of First Amendment rights of free speech, assembly and petition, prohibiting prosecution under the laws cited, and requiring them to provide protection for the complainants in the exercise of their constitutional rights.

The defendant city officials are responsible "for the unrest which continues to exist in the Negro Northside today." In support of the charge, the complaint recounts a series of incidents leading up to the disturbance of last month in which police abuse, illegal arrests, excessive force in making arrests and unnecessary use of tear gas are alleged.

Named as defendants, in addition to Mayor Kinsella, are Elisha C. Freedman, city manager; John J. Kerrigan, chief of police; Benjamin Goldstein, police captain; Daniel E. Lynch, chief prosecutor of the 14th Circuit Court; and John D. Labella, state's attorney for Hartford County.

The complaint was filed in behalf of John Barber, George Foster-Bey, King L. Davis, Christine Rutherford, Johnnie Smith and Joseph D. Williams.

Representing them in this action are NAACP General Counsel Robert L. Carter and his associates, Lewis M. Steel and Richard Bellman, all of New York City, and Mark Gassner of Hartford.

ELEANOR

(Write your problems to Eleanor at 210 Auburn Avenue, N.E., Atlanta, Ga. 30303.)

Dear Eleanora:
I am a girl 19 years of age. I have gone with a married man for two years and seven months. From the outset of our affair neither of us dreamed that things would have turned out as they now are. I have two children by him. Since the birth of the children, we have become rather serious in our relations.

I love him very much and he feels the same way about me and wants to marry me. His wife who cannot bear children for him, understands how he feels about her; she understands him too, but she refuses to give him up.

My aunt whom I have tried to make understand, does not like this man. I want to leave here and drive to Chicago with him. Am I wrong to be thinking of this? My sweetheart says if we leave here, we can get married.

Please help me. Tell me if I am wrong or right.
Dixie Lady

ANSWER:
A girl or woman makes a serious mistake whenever she starts going with a married man. A married man belongs to another woman; he is someone else's husband. Of course he played his part in the "taking" and so did you. You contributed to his delinquency as a husband.
I cannot see how going to Chicago would enable him to get a divorce. And it would be necessary for you both to live together at least two years even to establish what can be called a common-law marriage.

In the game of love and life, if one does not adhere to the strict rules of the game, then he finds himself so often in a quandary technically involved - a victim of his own lustful and very selfish cravings.

When one takes what he wants regardless of whether it belongs to another or not, remember one must pay and sometimes the price may prove too great.

Dear Eleanora,
Please advise me. I am 28 years old and would like to get married. I would like to find a good husband.

I work very day, do not drink and do not like bad companions for association. I go with a man who lives in New Jersey. His wife is dead and he has two children who live here. He has requested me to come up there to live, but I refused - because I would rather live here. I wonder if he will marry me if I go there. I love him so much.

ANSWER:
If the gentleman is really sincere it seems to me that he would at least come here, spend a while, and marry you here if that is your

Pres. Johnson Aids Girl, 18, To Enter College

Joyce Turner of Pricard, Ala. is a freshman at Morris Brown College because she wrote a letter to the President of the United States requesting financial help.

Joyce 18, is a member of a family of seven. Her father, Willie E. Turner, Sr., works as a laborer for the Alabama State Docks in Mobile. Her mother does not work. When Joyce was graduated, with honors, from the Mattie T. Blount High School in Mobile County, Alabama, she knew that she wanted to enter college, and she also knew that her father's meager earnings were barely supporting this family of seven, but she was undaunted in her quest to continue her education.

Time was closing in on Miss Turner. She was aware that the government is in the business of aiding needy and worthy students; so without going through all of the red tape of contacting several agencies, she penned a letter to President Lyndon B. Johnson, stating her case, and requesting aid. The President had the necessary general information, and appropriate application forms sent to her.

After certain negotiations with the President of Morris Brown College, Dr. John A. Middleton, Joyce was flown to Atlanta one day before the registra deadline, and is now a member of the freshmen class at Morris Brown College.

Public Pulse Sought On Safety Proposals

Atlanta area citizens will have an opportunity to express their views on proposed traffic safety legislation at a public hearing in the Old Supreme Court Chamber at the State Capitol on Thursday Oct. 12, beginning at 10 a. m.

The proposals under consideration of the Legislative Traffic Safety Study Committee. Eight items affecting drive education, drunk driving drive re-examination, a point system, motorcycle safety traffic court procedures, radar speed timers, and reflective tags are included in the Committee's traffic safety "package."

Similar proposals presented before the General Assembly in previous sessions have been defeated due to a lack of public support. Some legislative leaders have expressed doubts that any traffic safety legislation will pass in the 1968 session unless the public shows more concern.

An overwhelming public outcry in favor of reducing traffic deaths and injuries likely will lead to successful enactment of recommended safety legislation. Public agency could spell defeat for years to come.

The Atlanta hearing, on October 12, will be the last of a series of nine such meetings over the state. The Chairman of the Legislative Traffic Safety Study Committee, Representative W. M. Williams of Gainesville, has urged all interested people to attend the hearings or face the fact that legislators will assume the public is still indifferent to safety legislation.

The hearing will open with a brief explanation of the eight proposals, and then by meeting with the public. The Committee will receive personal testimony, petitions and resolutions concerning the proposed legislation. Original testimony will be limited to the

Bids White Americans To Adopt New Approach To Negro Problems

JAMAICA, N. Y. — A Jamaica resident who is a veteran of the civil rights movement, recently advanced a proposal calling on fellow white Americans to adopt a new approach to solving problems of the Negro which he calls a concept of "Self - Interest Not Stupidity."

Peter Saltz, an active leader of the Jamaica Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People for 15 years, said in putting forth his "Self - Interest Not Stupidity" concept, that "white people must learn to think and believe that every extra dollar, every educational enrichment, every advancement by black people benefits rather than harms white people."

"America does not need a professional or political do-gooder approach, to the black man, however well-intentioned," declared Mr. Saltz. "Neither does America need a number of clergymen preaching to an indifferent congregation about equality, fairness and brotherhood of man."

Basically, Mr. Saltz asserted, "America needs the really selfish approach that the life of each white American will be better materially in dollars and goods, in comfort and safety, if the black citizenry gets its fair share of the gross national product."

Sunday School Lesson

THE LORD OF HISTORY
International Sunday School Lesson for October 15, 1967
MEMORY SELECTION: "God reighneth over the heathen: God sitteth upon the throne of his holiness." — Psalm 47:8.

LESSON TEXT: Amos 1-2; 9: 7-8. Our lesson aim for today is to encourage us to see clearly that God is continually at work in His world, overcoming evil, and strengthening the good.

God called Amos from the quiet obscurity of the hill country to go among the people of Israel and warn them of the retribution that was to visit them because of their transgressions, unless they repented and turned again to His ways. No small task for a simple herdsman of sheep— a tender of the sycamore trees! But, most certainly, a challenge of infinite proportions!

In today's printed passage Syria was selected as one of the Nations that did not recognize the one true God. True, she had no knowledge of the Covenant that had been handed down to the people of Israel through Moses, while journeying through the wilderness; nevertheless, this ignorance did not remove her from the sovereign authority of God. She would be held accountable in His eyes for the evil deeds committed by her people.

Today, there are nations in the world who will have nothing to do with God, who deny His existence—but that does not mean that God will have nothing to do with them! For God is concerned with ALL peoples, and all nations are—in the final analysis—accountable to Him.

Such was the message Amos carried to the Israelites. Frightening? Yes! But, primarily a messenger of judgment and retribution, Amos, nevertheless, also had a message of hope and encouragement—for God's concern for mankind transcends even His sternest discipline. "And I will bring again the captivity of my people of Israel, and they shall build the waste cities, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards . . . make gardens . . . eat the fruit . . . and they shall no more be pulled up out of their land which I have given them, saith the Lord thy God." (Amos 9: 14-15.)

God's mercy is, indeed, a thing to behold! For it was it not expressed in the advent of Jesus Christ in the world—His only begotten Son? What greater demonstration of loving concern could anyone ask?

We might do well to pause and reflect: which of the sins attributed to Judah and Israel all these centuries ago, apply—in our day and time—to our own nation? An examination and an honest evaluation might surprise us!

In this highly complex and competitive age, do we not, too, stress the importance of the almighty dollar over our consciences, over the welfare of our less fortunate brethren; even over the good which can be done in the service of our Lord? How casual are we in our sense of justice towards our fellowmen? Even more important—how receptive are we to the quality of mercy? For mercy should always transcend justice. One is legal—the other divine. For we are saved in the blood of Christ, and He (nor His heavenly Father) stopped to reason as to whether or not mankind deserved such a sacrifice. Our just deserts might, indeed, be bitter fruit! But God's mercy tempered justice—and always will! Can we (who profess adherence to the concepts of Christianity) be less concerned with mankind?

Your professional beautician knows the answer..

Is peroxide needed to color unwanted gray hair?

Hair care and beauty experts know that the first traces of gray hair—and even slight fading of natural color after chemical relaxing—can dull a woman's appearance and make her look older than she feels. While most women hate these premature aging effects, many are hesitant about using permanent peroxide haircoloring which may change the natural hair color while coloring gray.

Professionally-trained hairdressers know the importance of their customers' preferences when unwanted gray becomes a problem. These experts also know that Clairol created semi-permanent Loving Care® hair color lotion without peroxide . . . to color only the gray without changing the natural shade. They also find Loving Care blends back color faded by chemical processing. Because of its mildness, Loving Care maintains healthy looking hair and lasts through a month of shampooing.

Whatever a woman's reason for wanting Loving Care for her hair, she is always wise to consult a professional beautician. Hairdressers are equipped with a family of fine Clairol products and the training to promise each patron the loveliest and most personalized haircoloring effects every time she visits her salon. If you dislike gray, and want no peroxide, why not ask your beautician to glamorize it with Loving Care?
