Governor Vows To End Segregation In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Pa. — (SNS) — Gov. George M. Leader Wednesday vowed to end segregation in three state school districts. The Governor, a former civil rights champion, became concerned over the issue when it was disclosed that Negroes were segregated from white students in two schools located at Coatesville and one at Steelton-Highspire. Local school superintendents said the schools should be integrated in six months to three years. This deliberate separation of the races was discovered when the Governor made a survey to determine how the Pennsylvania school districts were faring on the segregation issue.

(Special to Memphis World) CLINTON, Tenn. (SNS)—On Friday, May 17, the third anniversary of the U. S. Supreme Court's ruling on public school segregation, Bobby Cain, a soft spoken 17-year-old Negro youth, earned a niche in Tennessee history when he became the first Negro to be graduated from a state supported high school since the 1954 ruling. Bobby, along with 95 white seniors, Friday received his diploma from Clinton high school, the first state supported school to be desegregated. Quoted by a newsmen on how it feels to get through the year and make a little history, Bobby replied: "I am just glad to graduate. That's about the only way I feel."

MR. GEORGE TOLES SR.

George Toles, Senior's Passing Shocks Friends

BY JEWEL GENTRY A sudden heart attack at the residence, 949 Texas Saturday, left the community bereft of one of its outstanding Christian leaders in Mr. George Toles Sr. Mr. Toles was a railroad employee for over 40 years and was enjoying retirement at the time of his death. He was devoted and worthy member of Salem Gilfield Baptist Church where for many years he served as chief usher. He was the possessor of a very personable disposition to his very many friends in the Tri-State area, and loving father to his three children who survive him. He leaves to mourn: one sister; three children, Mr. George Toles Jr., affiliated with Service Appliance Co., and husband of the late Mrs. Beatrice Toles who taught at Florida School; Miss Elizabeth Toles, faculty member of Porter School, and Mrs. Lucille Washington of Pittsfield, Mass. A grand daughter, Miss Jean Washington of Pittsfield, Mass., is a student at Lane College in Jackson, Tenn. Final rites were held Wednesday afternoon in Salem Gilfield Baptist Church, Rev. A. L. McCargo, pastor, officiating. T. H. Hayes and Sons, funeral directors, in charge.

Mother, Three Children Found Stabbed To Death

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — (INS) — A mother and her three small children were found stabbed to death this afternoon in their well-to-do South Bend home. South Bend police chief J. Charles Duetriux identified the dead as Mrs. Helen J. Conley, 33, and her three children, Rebecca, 6, Matthew, 4, and John, 2. DISCOVERED BY FATHER He said that he is investigating the possibility of quadruple murders and has not found any immediate evidence of suicide being involved. The terrible crime was discovered by the father, George W. Conley, when he came home from work shortly after noon Wednesday. Newsmen and all persons except police were barred from the home in an upper middle-class South Bend neighborhood. But police said that the bodies of the children were so covered with blood that they were not immediately able to determine where they had been wounded. The officers found a butcher knife thrust into the front of the mother's body when they turned her over. The body of the mother and two of the children were found on the floor of the living room. The third child's body was in a bedroom. Police said reason for barring all newsmen was to give the father time to regain coherence. They said he was distraught and incoherent.

Poor Summer Job Outlook Here For Youth, Says Urban League

SUMMER JOBS ARE ESPECIALLY SCARCE IN NEGRO COMPANIES BY J. A. McDaniel (Executive Secretary) Each year about this time, I am made aware of how little Memphis has to offer its young people in employment, for those who need work only for the summer, as well as those who are seeking permanent employment. The greatest opportunities, that have been called to our attention has been in the sales field. But we find it hard to interest, even our more qualified young people in field. Insurance companies, appliance dealers, and cosmetic manufacturers are constantly in the market for sales people. There are a few opportunities in this community for competent young women in the clerical field. This does not mean typist or file clerks, but opportunities for young women in stenography and bookkeeping. A few months ago, a staff person from the Urban League surveyed one hundred Negro businesses, representing a cross section of Negro business. To our regret, not a single firm was able to employ any of our young people for summer work. Some stated that they just could not afford additional help and those who could have, stated it was too costly to train young people just for summer work. What do we expect our young people to do? I feel that it is good business

FEDERAL JUDGE RULES OUT BUS SEGREGATION

Order Will Be Permanent Injunction In Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS — (INS) — Louisiana laws and city ordinances requiring segregation on New Orleans buses and streetcars and in a city park were declared unconstitutional Wednesday.

Federal District Judge J. Skelly Wright, in two separate decisions, said he will order a temporary injunction issued to prohibit the laws from being enforced. He said he will order the injunctions made permanent but did not say when. The ruling involving the City Transit System was handed down on a suit filed by two Negro plaintiffs who had previously sought to have the city's buses and streetcars desegregated "without recourse to the courts." In his ruling, Judge Wright said: "This matter (bus segregation) is ripe for decision. All State statutes requiring segregation on public transportation facilities in New Orleans are unconstitutional." In the city park case, the judge declared his ruling was based on desegregation cases involving parks in Atlanta and Baltimore in which the U. S. Supreme Court ordered them opened to all races. The judge also cited a recent court ruling ordering the Orleans Parish (New Orleans) School Board to desegregate "with all deliberate speed." The ruling was made after assistant Attorney Gen. William P. Schuler sought to have the suit, filed by the plaintiffs, dismissed. The decision involving the City Transit System was made on a motion for a declaratory judgment involving the State racial laws by A. P. Tureaud, attorney. Named as plaintiffs in the suit were the Rev. A. L. Davis, Jr., president of the New Orleans Interdenominational Alliance, and Dr. W. R. Adams, president of the New Orleans Improvement League. Both men headed a group who urged City and Transit officials last January to desegregate the public carriers in view of the U. S. Supreme Court's ruling striking down bus segregation in the historic Montgomery, Ala., case. But they were informed that since Louisiana law prohibits the mixing of the races on public carriers, segregation would continue on them "until a court of competent jurisdiction ruled otherwise." City attorney sought to have the suit dismissed on the grounds that the plaintiffs had never been actually forced to sit behind signs on buses and trolleys which separate white from Negro patrons. He also maintained that neither had been arrested for not sitting behind the segregation signs. However, the judge contended: "ARRESTS NOT NEEDED" "It is not the court's view that in our civilization it is necessary to have incidents, to have people arrested, to have their rights declared."

Suggested For Nashville Parents

NASHVILLE, TENN. — (INS)—The Nashville City-School Superintendent suggest that parents and teachers use "A Sense Of Humor" in dealing with school desegregation problems.

Referring to announced plans of adopting integration in a Nashville Public Schools this fall, Superintendent W. A. Bass told a PTA meeting: "Your school board adopted this system with regret. They felt that the Community is not yet ready for this step, but they were under compulsion to comply with the Supreme Court's decision. The city school system is doing our best to conserve what is best in our public schools while at the same time complying with the court order against bus segregation in the historic Montgomery, Ala., case. But they were informed that since Louisiana law prohibits the mixing of the races on public carriers, segregation would continue on them "until a court of competent jurisdiction ruled otherwise." City attorney sought to have the suit dismissed on the grounds that the plaintiffs had never been actually forced to sit behind signs on buses and trolleys which separate white from Negro patrons. He also maintained that neither had been arrested for not sitting behind the segregation signs. However, the judge contended: "ARRESTS NOT NEEDED" "It is not the court's view that in our civilization it is necessary to have incidents, to have people arrested, to have their rights declared."

Beale Residents, Businesses Petition For Bus Service Here

Business firms and residents of Beale Street, between Main and Lauderdale, are circulating a petition that is to be presented to the Memphis Street Railway Company, asking restoration of bus service in the area. When the new transit program was put into effect last year, the No. 8 bus which was routed down Beale to Main was eliminated and combined with the 4-Walker into the 4-Walker-8-Chelsea bus. Elimination of the service has caused a drop in business, Beale businesses complain and residents claim an "undue hardship" by having to walk to Vance and Lauderdale in order to get to town. One proposed plan that is expected to be presented to transit officials would have the 8-Chelsea (going north), instead of turning at Lauderdale and Vance to Main, extend its lines from Lauderdale and Vance to Beale and Lauderdale and then down Beale to Main and out. The proposed plan also calls for the 4-Walker (going south) to turn down Beale to Wellington to Vance and out on the usual route. Proponents of the plans describe it as "feasible and economical," pointing out it would be only necessary to install lines on Wellington and Lauderdale between Beale and Vance. ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia. — The Duke of Harar, second son of Emperor Haile Selassie, was fatally injured this week in an automobile accident on a mountain road fifty miles south of Addis Ababa. The 34-year-old Duke was on his way to visit his father, who was touring in the province. The chauffeur of the Duke's car tried to pass a truck, saw an oncoming car and drove off the road in an attempt to avoid a collision. The Emperor returned to Addis Ababa by plane. Government offices were ordered closed for three days and the Emperor and his court went into mourning.

Wise Critiques Article By Ga. Minister Friend

FELT LOOK MAGAZINE ARTICLE BY REV. R. B. McNEILL — AND WAS CORRECT BY ALYSON E. WISE Term it psychic, mental telepathy, or what have you—but when we were reading Wednesday morning's paper, we came across an advertisement, "Salutation For The South," by a Georgia Minister in the current issue of Look magazine. Without continuing to read any further, I informed a co-worker that this might be written by none other than the Rev. Robert B. McNeill, pastor of First Presbyterian Church of Columbus, Ga. A hasty trip and return from a nearby newsstand reaffirmed my conviction. Before venturing further, may I add that I met Rev. McNeill while working on the Columbus World in that Georgia city. My first suggestion was Carver Heights, the first really expansive negro sub-division constructed during the post-war boom. A REALITY A number of months later, this dream became a reality thanks to the cooperative efforts of the late E. E. Farley, Carver Heights founder and realtor, P. L. Taylor, publisher-editor of the Columbus World, and S. P. Charleston, principal of Carver Heights High School. Today, Carver Heights Presbyterian Church, complete with education plant and daily nursery facilities, at an estimated cost of $95,000, rests majestically atop the highest brow of Carver Heights. Rev. McNeill's graphic articles—as you may learn—is written by a Southerner, steeped in the traditions of his native habitat. Yet, his calm, direct approach to this white hot cauldron known as "segregation," typifies the leadership which Christianity must (Continued on Page Eight)

COTTON MAKERS' JUBILEE TAKES SOFTLIGHT IN SOCIAL ACTIVITIES THIS WEEK

The elaborate and beautiful South Parkway home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Currie was the setting for a royal gathering and for the opening of the Cotton Makers' Jubilee Sunday afternoon.

The well planned event was a "Fashion-Tea" given by the Ladies of the Royal Court late in the evening on the especially attractive lawn where shubbery, roses, hony suckers and other blossoms that took on Spring tones, made for a perfect environment.

Guests stood on the front where they awaited the Senior and Junior Royalty procession that went up the long winding drive-way to the front door where Miss Barbara Griffin, the cute "Miss Jubilee," cut the ribbon and made a short talk welcoming the royal family.

The large crowd that stood around for a peep of the Royal Court, went through the modern and newly decorated home to the back patio and on out to the back (closed in lawn) where organ interludes were given all evening by Frank Lockard from St. Augustine Catholic High School.

Fashionably dressed guests saw a fashion parade of cottons shown off by participants (many whom you will admire all of this week in different roles.) Miss Geraldine Burke, instructor of Dancing at St. Augustine, was there with her Moonmaids who gave three numbers. Cotton fashions were shown by Miss Barbara Griffin, a student at Washington High School; Miss Earline White, a Manassas High School student; Miss Katie Ward, Barrett Chapel student; Miss Julene Odum, Barrett Chapel; Miss Evelyn Gabsby and Miss Jerry Folk, both popular young city teachers.

The pretty young Queen, Miss Dorothy Smith who wore a long white bouffant skirt with blue taffeta sash, was escorted by King, Richard (Dick) Ople to front seats on the back lawn. The Queen is a student at M. L. College and a native of Hernando, Miss. King Richard has been popular in orchestra realms and for his radio shows over a long period in Memphis.

Other members of the Royal Court to reign this week and who were conspicuously present Sunday are: Miss Earline White, Manassas High School student and just alternate to Miss Jubilee; Miss Lois Hampton, second alternate to Miss Jubilee; Miss Katie Ward, Miss Julene Odum, Miss Joan Mayo, all Barrett Chapel students and Miss Cowan; Miss Fannie Hurst, Booker Washington student who is guest attendant.

Ladies of the Royal Court are Princess Barbara Scott, LeMoyn College student; Princess Ann McNamee, Fayette County Training School; Miss Evelyn Miles, Princess to the Queen; Miss Josephine Jones of Henderson's Business College; and Mr. William Atkins and Mr. Elmer Henderson are members of the Kings Club and Court escorts. Mr. T. L. Marzette is Prince to the King. Royal Pages are J. F. Estes, Jr., Ralph McCoy, Paul Pruitt and Emmitt McCutcheon.

Ladies assisting the Royal Court are Miss Elsie Thomas, chairman; who welcomed guests along with the Currie family Sunday; Miss Erma Laws and Miss Erma Clanton who registered guests; Miss Geraldine Burke, Mrs. Ann Mitchell, Miss Mabel Bynum, Miss Evelyn Gabsby, Miss Ann Cousins and Miss Denise Rochelle.

Others seen greeting guests were Mrs. Claberta Ishmael who is in charge of the Junior Royalty; Mrs. Susie Hightower, Mr. Frank Scott, Mr. L. O. Swingle, Mr. and Mrs. J. Currie and Mrs. Barbara Currie (all who are playing a prominent role this week in the Jubilee activities).

Anti-Bias Group Steps Up Gov't Compliance Program, Adds Office

Chicago Field Unit To Be Manned By Margaret Garrity

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Recent steps by the President's Committee on Government Contracts to strengthen its compliance program and to open a regional office will result in greater progress toward the elimination of racial and religious discrimination in employment on Government contracts, the Committee said Monday.

Vice President Richard Nixon, Chairman of the Committee, has asked the heads of the 26 principal Government contracting agencies not to award additional contracts to contractors who have given "clear and convincing evidence" of their failure to comply with the nondiscrimination clause in contracts they have concluded previously, the Committee has announced.

The Vice President also asked that in determining the award of contracts to businesses and industries which have not had previous contracts, the Federal agencies "consider whether the (prospective) contractor has an employment record which indicates he will be able to conform to the requirements of the standard nondiscrimination clause."

The clause provides that there shall be no discrimination against any employee or applicant for employment on the basis of race, religion, color or national origin. The provision covers upgrading, promotion, apprenticeship and on-the-job training and rates of pay, as well as initial hiring.

Earlier, during a series of meetings the Committee held in Chicago April 30 and May 1, Mr. Nixon announced the establishment of a regional office in Chicago, to cover the states of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin. The four-state region was selected as the location of the Committee's first office outside of Washington because the area has the largest concentration of Government contract work in the Midwest.

The office will serve the Committee as a working liaison with Government contracting agencies, Government contractors, labor organizations and social agencies concerned with the elimination of discrimination in employment.

The Vice President announced that Miss Margaret Garrity will be Regional Director. Before joining the Committee in Washington in September, 1955, Miss Garrity served as Race Relations Secretary for the National Catholic Welfare Conference in Washington.

Detective Honored For Risking Life To Stop Desperado

BROOKLYN — (ANP) — Detective Nathaniel H. Greer, 40, won hero awards from two metropolitan dailies and an upgrade in rank for risking his life to capture an armed desperado.

He was walking his boxer dog near his home about 1:15 A. M. when he heard a woman's screams coming from a doorway. Hastening to the spot, he discovered a thug holding a woman by the throat and pressing a knife against her back.

Detective Greer grappled with the man, who broke loose and ran four blocks where the officer cornered him on the roof of a five-story tenement. There the fugitive battled his pursuer and tried to push him off the roof. The detective finally subdued him with a pistol bolt blow, but on the way down the stairs, he "jumped" his captor, slashing him several times. The detective finally brought him down with a bullet in the left side.

The captive was identified at Kings County Hospital as Harvey Richardson, 21, of 802 Greene Ave. His intended woman victim was found to be Sunday Robinson, 23, of 727 McDonough Street.

The hero's wife, Mrs. Nathaniel Greer, and three children, were present when he received The News and The Journal American Awards from Police Commissioner Kennedy.

Middle States Association Reaffirms Howard Accreditation

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Howard University President Mordcaid W. Johnson announced Monday that the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools has reaffirmed the accreditation of Howard in language strongly commending the progress of the institution.

The action was taken in a letter from Ewald B. Nyquist, Commission Chairman, dated May 9th and received at Howard yesterday (Saturday). The letter stated in part: "It is a most gratifying responsibility for me to report to you that the Commission voted to accept your report and to reaffirm the accreditation of Howard University."

"This recognition by Howard University's peers in the Middle States community of higher education is well deserved. We appreciate the spirit in which you have cooperated with the Commission and achieved the commendable and, in some respects, even remarkable improvements which have been called to our attention."

The action of the Commission was taken as a result of a three-day joint evaluating survey of Howard conducted by the Commission and participating agencies related to particular schools, colleges and departments in the University. The survey covered the entire University including (1) the organization and general administration of the University; (2) the finances, plant and equipment of the University;

(3) the student personnel services, admissions, registration and records and (4) the program of all 10 of the schools and colleges and of the libraries of the University.

Bishop Clair Lauds Carver At Youth Meet

COLUMBUS, Ohio — (ANP) — A Negro scientist and a Negro missionary couple were pointed out as examples of individuals who found God through service by Bishop Matthew W. Clair, Jr. of St. Louis, in the closing address of the Ohio Conference Youth Convocation held here Saturday at Ohio Wesleyan University.

Speaking on the subject "Finding God Through Service," Bishop Clair, who is the resident bishop of the St. Louis Area, of the denomination's Central (Negro) Jurisdiction, mentioned the work of Dr. George Washington Carver, late famous agricultural scientist of Tuskegee Institute and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harris, Methodist agricultural missionaries in Malaya, to the more than 500 white and Negro youths from the Ohio Conference and the Columbus District of the Lexington Conference in attendance at the convocation.

"George Washington Carver went to Malaya and gave his life in service to the people of the school and community," turning down an offer from Thomas A. Edison to work with him — as he made use of the talents that God had given him," Bishop Clair said. Bishop Clair met the Harrises when he and Mrs. Clair visited the missions in Malaya last year.

Network Salutes United Negro College Fund May 19

NEW YORK — A salute to the United Negro College Fund will be telecast and broadcast over the ABC-TV and ABC Radio Networks Sunday afternoon, May 19, when a student from Bennett College will participate as a panel member of the "College News Conference" program.

The Conference, produced and moderated by Mrs. Ruth Hagy, in Washington, will be televised from 4:00 to 4:30 P. M. Eastern Daylight Time, and broadcast over the ABC Radio Network from 5:30 to 6:00 P. M. the same evening. Check newspapers for exact time of local radio re-broadcast.

Miss Gwendolyn Elaine Harris, a senior at Bennett, one of the Fund's 31 member colleges, joins four outstanding students from other American colleges and universities on the Conference panel. The students will interview the Hon. Walter Williams, Under Secretary of the Department of Commerce, with the President's Budget and the proposed "Right to Work" rider on the Civil Rights Bill high in the news, a lively discussion is anticipated.

Multi-Millionaire Backing A Must For Sports Promotions

NEW YORK, — (INS) — The sad plight of the Washington Senators reminds us that only a multimillionaire can carry the financial burden of any big-time sports promotion these days.

The time has gone when a fly-by-night operator could get by either in promoting fights, football or any other sports event. A great deal of verbiage has been wasted on the old time hit-and-run sports promoters, who have been nostalgically acclaimed as pioneers of various sports. In our estimation — and we have known a lot of them — they were mostly bums of the first water.

We have known chiselers in the fight racket who would drop into a small town, hustle some free publicity, get tickets printed on the cuff, hustle up a few palookas to fight — and then skip town, taking all the receipts without paying the fighters or anybody else.

Every now and then we still get a lurid poster from one of these fakers. It invariably is from a small town, and it may be from any state in the union. He like many of the others always skips two jumps ahead of the local sheriff.

A big league club, like a little fight, is a big-time operation these days. No longer can a club operate as did the Phillies a generation ago when their owner had to borrow dough to send the club on a spring training trip. And invariably they had to sell their stars to the rich clubs.

Nowadays the once moribund Phillies are owned by Bob Carpenter, a member of the Dupont clan, who, we can assure you, is not worrying about where his next meal is coming from.

Prayer Pilgrims To Hear Clergy, Solons Rights Spokesmen

WASHINGTON — The nation's leading clergymen will be joined by civil rights leaders, including two members of Congress, as speakers at the Prayer Pilgrimage for Freedom which is expected to bring 50,000 persons from all sections of the country to the Lincoln Memorial here on Friday (May 17) for spiritual guidance and inspiration in the struggle for human rights.

On call of the three co-chairmen — A. Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters; Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., president, Southern Christian Leadership Conference; and Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary — the people will assemble at high noon before the Lincoln shrine to "renew our strength, communicate our unity, and rededicate our efforts, firmly but peacefully, to the attainment of freedom."

In addition to the co-chairmen, speakers will include Adam Clayton Powell, the clergyman-congressman from New York City, and Representative Charles Diggs of Detroit, Ill. In the Naval Hospital, William H. Dawson of Chicago, the third Negro congressman, will be unable to attend.

Four veterans of the Fight for Freedom in the South will report on conditions facing Negroes in that region. The Rev. William H. Borders, pastor of the famous Wheat Street Baptist Church in Atlanta, will tell of his experiences in efforts to bring about integration in the buses of that city. Joining him in reporting on the bus integration movement in their respective cities will be the Rev. K. C. Steele, leader of the movement in Tallahassee, Fla.; and Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth, of Birmingham, who challenged transportation segregation in his city.

There will be prayers and scripture readings by the Right Reverend Sherman L. Greene, of Atlanta, senior Bishop of the AME Church; the Rev. W. H. Jernagin, president, National Baptist Sunday School and Baptist Training Union; and other clergymen.

Buffalo First Over Top In Fund Drive

NEW YORK — (ANP) — Buffalo is the first city to report "over the top" in the 1957 United Negro College Fund Campaign. Lee H. Bristol, president of Bristol-Myers Co., and national campaign chairman, announced this week.

Volunteer workers reported 102.6 per cent of Buffalo's share of the $2,000,000 national goal, at their victory dinner.

The convocation of UNCF's 31 college presidents, held in Buffalo in March, helped alert local citizens business and industry to the importance of the appeal, according to LeGrand F. Kirk, Buffalo attorney, who heads the Fund's Western New York Committee. "This is the first time Buffalo could announce that its goal had been reached at the final dinner," Mr. Kirk said, "and there is more to come."

An extensive publicity program also served to bring the Buffalo campaign to a successful conclusion on schedule.

Governor Prefers Closing Schools Over Integration

RICHMOND, Va. — (NNPA) — Gov. Thomas B. Stanley made it known Wednesday that his administration would prefer to see the public schools of Arlington County and Charlottesville closed rather than integrated, if a choice has to be made.

Stanley told a press conference and wherever parents object to their children attending mixed schools which may be operated by the localities without state aid.

PROMPT RETORT

Gov. Stanley's comment brought a prompt retort from Albert A. Smooth, a former Alexandria, Va., vice Mayor, who is seeking the Democratic nomination to the Virginia House of Delegates.

"The truth has been admitted at last," said Mr. Smooth. "The cat is out of the bag."

Mr. Smooth added that the schools will be closed in Alexandria if Stanley and James Thomson, the Democratic incumbent who is opposing Smooth, have their way. He charged that Stanley and Thomson are willing to close Alexandria schools regardless of the desires of the people of the community.

Drowsy Drivers Becoming Number One Accident Cause

NEW YORK — Drowsy drivers are fast becoming the No. 1 accident cause on virtually every turnpike and superhighway in the country, according to Paul W. Kearney, a veteran safety writer and author of the new book, "I Drive the Turnpike," the current selection of the Men Age Book Club.

"The sleepy-head who dozes off at the wheel and causes an accident, even if nobody else suffers injury or damages, is driving out of components of white or colored children wherever public schools are closed, a menace to others," Kearney said. He is a frequent contributor to other Magazines.

Kearney and his wife are completing a 8,000-mile tour of the major turnpikes. To date they have made round trips over the Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, West Virginia, Massachusetts and Maine turnpikes, the Garden State and Wilbur Cross Parkways and the New York Thruway.

"So-called monotony of the expressways is not the real reason for sleepy-head driving because it also prevails on the shorter pikes like those in West Virginia, Maine and New Jersey," the author explained. "Carbon monoxide in the car from a leaky exhaust system is an obvious cause but a more insidious cause is the fact (demonstrated by Motor Vehicles Research, of Boston) that driving with a front window open allows the vacuum from the car's forward movement to suck fumes inside."

From his long driving experience which includes piloting a car in every state in the Union at least twice and eight crossings of the continent without a relief driver, Kearney feels that it is necessary for drivers to consistently work at staying alert. Some of his proven expedients for fending off "highway hypnosis" and drowsiness include such tricks as:

Chewing a big wad of gum (a whole pack at a time).

Singing loudly (the worse voice, the better result).

Kicking off your right shoe to let the gas pedal vibration stimulate you.

Sitting on something hard for a while like a thick magazine.

Keeping your eyes roving instead of looking straight ahead mile after mile.

Looking in the rear view mirror every few seconds.

Cole Case Ends As Parties Agree On 1953 Will

CHICAGO — (ANP) — Litigation over the two wills left by the late Robert A. Cole, founder and financier of the Chicago Metropolitan Mutual Assurance Company, came to an end last week in Judge William J. Touhy's circuit court, when all parties involved agreed to accept the will dated Jan. 15, 1953 as the one to be probated.

Mrs. Mary Cole, widow of the late insurance tycoon, her two children, Robert Jr., and Roberta, and two company trustees, Theodore Hawes and Atty. Edward Toles, were involved in the final settlement. Mrs. Cole will immediately receive $24,750, representing money due her from the estate dating from the time of Cole's death on July 27, 1956 and other sums.

Under the 1953 will, the estate consists of the funeral home and the garage for which Mrs. Cole, Hawes and Toles are named as trustees and executors. Mrs. Cole is to receive $250 per week and maintenance and education expenses for the two children.

After 13 years, the estate is to be divided equally among Mrs. Cole and the children.

Roy Wilkins Cites Act By Southerners

NEW YORK — The claim advanced by southerners seeking to weaken the pending civil rights bill on the ground that it deprives election officials, who bar Negroes from the polls, of a "constitutional right" to trial by jury is "transparently spurious," Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, charged Monday.

In a letter to units of the Association throughout the country, Mr. Wilkins warned that foes of civil rights by bringing up this issue are seeking to sabotage the bill which is now bottled up in the House Rules Committee and the Senate Judiciary Committee. The bill, designed to protect the right to vote, has bipartisan support. It would enable the U. S. Attorney General to initiate civil action against local officials and others who interfere with the right to vote. Persons found guilty would be held in contempt if they disobeyed the order of a federal district court judge to discontinue such interference.

AMENDMENTS FLOUTED

It is now contended that the provision for civil action and injunctive procedure by the Attorney General would deprive election officials who disfranchise Negro citizens of their "constitutional right" to a trial by jury," the NAACP leader asserted.

"The state and regional governments which have shamelessly flouted the 14th and 15th Amendments to the U. S. Constitution (as well as sections of the Bill of Rights), which have encouraged and defended the registrars in the flouting, and which have come to power at home and in Washington by reason of this flouting, have now the unmitigated gall to advance the transparently spurious claim that the proposed bill would violate a 'constitutional right'."

"The truth is that the bill would deprive no one of any constitutional right," Mr. Wilkins told local leaders of the Association. "The constitutional right to a jury trial in a criminal action remains. Any one charged under the criminal code will have, as in the past, the right to a jury trial."

NO CONSTITUTIONAL GUARANTEE

"But there is not and has never been any constitutional guarantee of a jury trial in the type of civil action provided by the bill. One cannot be deprived of something that does not exist. These court orders are issued only after a hearing before a judge in which witnesses are heard and the accused has counsel and the right to cross-examine. If the injunction should be issued and disobeyed the defendant is found in contempt and the punishment is assessed by the judge who issued the order. The defendant would have the right to appeal."

Meanwhile support for the NAACP position came from Mitchell Franklin, professor of law at Tulane University in New Orleans. In a letter to the New York TIMES published on May 5, Mr. Franklin cited Assistant Attorney General Warren Olney's condemnation of attempts to nullify the bill by providing for trial by jury.

George Lee, a respectable citizen of the common-

Woman Lives With Watch Spring Maintaining Steady Heartbeat

DETROIT — (ANP) — Mrs. Mabel Streeter wasn't given a chance in the world to live more than six months last year, but today, with the main spring of a watch maintaining her heartbeat, the 34-year-old mother of five, faces a near-normal life.

Wayne State University doctors say that Mrs. Streeter last year became the first person in the country whose heart was sustained by a metal spring. On April 8, 1956, Mrs. Streeter's leaky heart valve was replaced by the main spring of a watch, which was predicted to last 300 years.

The valve was developed by doctors from Wayne University college of medicine and the Elgin National Watch company from an alloy used in watch main springs.

Eighteen months ago Mrs. Streeter was seriously ill, able to do no household or walk up steps without aid. Today, thanks to the main spring of the watch which replaced a leaky heart valve, she does her household, some shopping and can climb eight steps without undue fatigue.

House Approves Bill To End Vet Beneficiary Confusion

By THE NPFA NEWS SERVICE — The House has approved a bill to amend the World War Veterans' Act of 1924 to provide for the disposition of certain benefits which are unpaid at the death of the intended beneficiary.

The principal purpose of the bill is to provide that payments of gratuities to guardians or other fiduciaries of veterans or their dependents because the intended recipient is under a legal disability shall, if the intended beneficiary dies leaving no wife, husband, child, or dependent parent, revert to the United States after payment of the just dues of the deceased beneficiary, and of the expenses incident to the administration of his estate.

Representative Olin Teague, of Texas, chairman of the House Veterans Affairs Committee, had called to his attention the fact that there exists a large number of estates which are being continually augmented by payments made on account of incompetent veterans.

Mr. Teague wrote to managers of all Veterans Administration neuropsychiatric hospitals, all 67 VA regional offices, each of the three VA district offices, and the central office in Washington.

Alabamans March Enmasse, Demand Right To Suffrage

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — (ANP) — More than 300 Negroes from two counties here marched on their respective voting registration boards last week in an all-out effort to exercise their constitutional privilege of becoming voters.

Meanwhile the boards, operated by whites, came up with a variety of tactics designed to keep Negroes from qualifying as voters.

Negro citizens from Montgomery and Elmore counties swarmed into their boards of registrars and made application to vote in the two counties. Some 60 Negroes were reported to have made application in Elmore county.

MANY APPLICANTS — The chairman of the board here, Mrs. C. B. Willis said there was a "steady stream" of Negro applicants last week. A Negro businessman and chairman of the Voter Registration Committee of the Montgomery Improvement Association spent the entire day ushering the applicants in. He is Rufus Lewis, who gave the voter applicants last minute instructions.

At the same time stalling tactics were employed by the Elmore County board and a board in Tuskegee's Macon County. The chairman of the Television Program To Feature School Case Plaintiffs

NEW YORK — Five young pupils who participated as plaintiffs in the historic public school segregation cases will be featured on Chet Huntley's NBC-TV "Outlook" program which will be telecast over the network from New York City at 5:30 P. M. (EDT), Sunday, May 19.

Prep Sports Wrapup

The prep league closed out its sport activities for the 1956-57 season with the conclusion of the state track meet in Nashville two weeks ago. In that meet, Booker T. Washington was noosed out in their attempt to nail down their third consecutive cinder championship. They were up-ended by a narrow one point margin. Howard of Chattanooga copped the title with 35 points. The Chattanooga counted heavily with points garnered from second and third places.

It marked the second state championship for Howard in as many months. The Tigers won the state basketball tournament in March. Washington lost its dominance when their sprinters failed in the shorter dashes. However, the Warriors still rule over the Bluff City, despite limited competition from the local schools. Melrose was the only school to contest the Warriors in track as compared to all six schools in basketball and football.

The prep league fans around town enjoyed a much tighter football season than in the past years. St. Augustine was the surprise of the league as they preceded to dethrone Melrose who had held the iron hand for three years in a row. T. Bolts had to do it the hard way, storming back from a two touchdown halftime deficit to rack up a 13-12 decision.

Displaying a tremendous amount of team spirit and determination, despite being undermanned, St. Augustine swept through its league slate undefeated. Only a 13-13 tie with Clarkdale, Miss., stood to mar the Catholic's record. The Thunderbolts added the district to their laurels and defeated Washington of Chattanooga to annex their first state championship.

The basketball season was no contest as far as perennial champ Washington was concerned. The Warriors made shambles out of the league as they shot their way to 33 wins without a defeat before dropping a close verdict in the semi-finals of the state tournament. The Warriors were favored to take the tourney but the lack of good consistent competition took its toll.

Washington was invited to participate in the National tourney. Washington won its first game from Tuscaloosa, Ala. In the next game Ft. Worth, Texas brought to an end the Warriors' best cage season on record. Probably the most outstanding thing about the Warriors was their ability to score.

They scored 100 or more points on seven different opponents including a record setting mark of 121 against Newport, Ark.

Next year's prep program promises to be just as exciting with many of the top performers returning for action.

Housing Suit Will Open In Savannah

SAVANNAH, Ga. — (SNS) — Thurgood Marshall and other N. A. A. C. P. attorneys will enter federal court here next week to represent 28 Negroes who filed suit against Savannah Housing Authority and the Public Housing Administration, charging that they were forced to move out of their homes to make way for a segregated housing project.

The plaintiffs are seeking an injunction to prohibit racial discrimination in the low-rent project, $5,000 damages each, ban on racial segregation in any public housing, and they are seeking to prohibit allocation of funds to PHA for the construction or operation of projects which exclude Negroes.

The suit was filed three years ago but was dismissed in 1956 on the grounds that the housing facilities provided were separate but equal. The fifth circuit court of appeals at New Orleans reversed the lower court's action and ordered the trial.

Ted Kluszewski May Play Again Without Surgery

BOSTON — (INS) — Cincinnati Reds slugger Ted Kluszewski was told Wednesday he does not require an operation on his spine and that he can continue playing baseball.

The good news after completion of tests at New England Baptist Hospital, and at Lahey Clinic, where he arrived earlier this week. So the big star headed back for home at once.

Dr. James L. Popkin, examining Neuro-Surgeon, said:

"Kluszewski has a protruded inter-vertebral disc, but he can play baseball and be of definite value to his club.

"There is no need for an operation now. I can not predict if there ever will be such a need, at least not at this time.

"All tests were completed and Kluszewski has been advised he can play if he will get himself into shape."

Ted headed for the airport and told newsmen he hoped to watch his teammates in the game with Philadelphia. He is on the disabled list and will be eligible to play in mid-June.

Tornadoes, Floods Leave Death And Destruction

DALLAS, Tex. — (INS) — Tornadoes, floods, blizzards and hail storms have left devastation, death and suffering in Texas this year, but there also is a bright side to this picture sketched by a capricious other nature.

The tragic drought which turned vast sections of the lone star state into near wasteland over the years has been eased greatly or broken for the most part. Only a few areas have received inadequate moisture.

Present moisture conditions are described as ranging from adequate to excessive throughout the state except for a few scattered areas.

Oddly, the rain has improved the overall agricultural outlook while at the same time harming it. Texas agriculture Commissioner John C. White says abnormally wet weather in April caused heavy damage to Texas farmland generally. Yet, he says, the damage is largely offset by the fact that potential farm production has been "multiplied several times" by the drought-easing moisture.

White says benefits of the rains to Texas farmers "will run into the billions of dollars, shrinking farm damage from floods way down by comparison." Another favorable aspect of the weeks' of almost incessant rain is the replenishing of municipal water supplies in the drought areas.

It is generally agreed among the owners and parties interested in Negro baseball, that the best and most lucrative fields for the success of the NAL will be in the South, and particularly in cities where no Negroes play on the local teams. Some even expressed the idea that because of the fact that there are Official opening day for the Negro American League is scheduled for Sunday with the Birmingham Black Barons entertaining the Memphis Red Sox at Birmingham, and the Kansas City Monarchs taking on the Detroit Stars at Charleston, S. C.

The biggest problem facing the league owners is the question of larger attendance at league games. They have discussed and devised several ways of trying to get the fans to patronize their games, and are still looking for a solution to the problem.

It has long been established that neither Kansas City nor Detroit can draw any crowds at home. They have become more or less outright road teams. With both cities being major league towns, Negro baseball as such is practically dead in those places. They might draw a few thousand fans once or twice during the season, but the owners are not too optimistic about playing in major league territory.

This can be understood with most of the major league clubs having Negro players on their rosters, and most of the Negro "Name" players with major league clubs. Their names spread on the sports pages of the metropolitan papers, all-Negro teams have no appeal for the fans in major league territory.

It is generally agreed among the owners and parties interested in Negro baseball, that the best and most lucrative fields for the success of the NAL will be in the South, and particularly in cities where no Negroes play on the local teams. Some even expressed the idea that because of the fact that there are no Negro players in the Southern Association, some of the Southern Association cities might prove the salvation of the league.

In the face of decreased attendance, some of the owners are locking forward to develop players, and make up their operating deficit by being able to sell certain players to organized baseball. It is reported that Ted Rasmussen of the Kansas City Monarchs was able to dispose of seven players to major league organizations last season.

Among some of the remedies adopted by the owners, one is to give the public more information about the members of the teams by various media of publicity. The public can expect to see more advertising, and newspaper and radio publicity than what they have been accustomed to in the past. Some teams have hired public relations firms to handle their publicity.

The Memphis Red Sox have been having their troubles in regards to attendance at their home games played at Martin Stadium. The Red Sox are the only team in the league that has its own playing field, but for some reasons the team doesn't have a very large following. This is something that is hard to explain, as a few years ago large enthusiastic crowds were on hand for all Red Sox games.

It is noted that there is more conversation and discussion of the Semi-Pro League games than one can encounter about the Red Sox. The Red Sox team, seemingly has lost connection, and especially the support of local fans. It is a situation that has the entire league disturbed. It is recalled that a few years ago, many team owners flat-

PATTERSON'S MANAGER, IBC PART COMPANY

BY TONY GALLI

NEW YORK — (INS) — Cus D'Amato, manager of heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, confirmed Wednesday that he has broken with the International Boxing Club and said Patterson probably will defend his title in July.

D'Amato was unable at a news conference to name a date, site or opponent for what would be Patterson's first defense since he won the championship last November 30. He said, however, he hopes the bout will be against Hurricane Jackson, the No. 1 challenger, in a New York Ball Park. If Jackson's manager is unwilling to shake off IBC ties, he said he will "go down the list of ranking heavyweights until I find an opponent."

D'Amato, whose feud with the IBC stems from his claims it would not find fights for lesser boxers under his management, said he expects to deal with promoter Emil Lence in New York, Jack Hurley in the northwest and "other independents."

Lence formerly operated the Eastern Parkway arena in Brooklyn. Hurley is a longtime manager and promoter who frequently has bucked the IBC himself.

D'Amato said a television package for the projected July fight has been offered to all the major networks but that "there is no deal yet." A $200,000 price tag reportedly had been placed on rights to Patterson's first defense.

ly refused to agree for games here. The Red Sox management is attempting to do something about the situation at Martin Stadium. They have Arnold and Associates, a public relations firm, as one of the avenues they are using to get out the crowds. Publicity and news releases will be sent out regularly by this firm to help to arouse interest in the Red Sox games.

Don't Be A Polio Victim

The polio vaccine is among the greatest of recent medical discoveries. The vaccine is safe, marvelously effective, and it is now in abundant supply.

Yet, despite this, the national vaccination program is lagging. The situation is so critical that the trustees of the American Medical Association recently called a meeting of state and territorial medical association representatives to plan and promote a gigantic polio vaccine program.

It is certainly to be hoped that the medical profession is successful in this great undertaking — and that public lethargy will be dissipated once and for all. Some 80,000 Americans have been crippled by polio — legions more will be needlessly crippled in the future if the vaccination program continues to lag.

REVIEWING THE NEWS

BY WILLIAM GORDON

When Character Sits In Office...

He took me over to the window where the light of the Sun was strong. "Take a look," he said, "good look. This city is being run with men of character.

The thought has remained. It became alive again last week when we had two Negroes to run in the Atlanta primary election, both of substantial character.

I don't need to sell the names of Dr. Rufus E. Clement, president of Atlanta University and T. M. Alexander, Atlanta businessman to the public. They have already made their marks.

Both represent the calibre and kind of men seeking public office that the Mayor of a North Carolina town talked about a few months ago. In this particular Southern city Negroes are represented at almost every governmental level. They have been picked for various posts, without opposition.

Many other deep South cities are gradually beginning to accept the Negro public official for what he is, a capable, well trained skillful person, not narrowed by prejudice.

The Negro public servant can learn a lesson from his white counterpart. He will not make the mistakes of the demagogues, the corrupt-minded official seeking office for his own personal gains.

He knows the brunt of neglect, the poverty and the grind linked with being without. The Negro public official has too much at stake, not only his own reputation, but that of an entire race which rests on his shoulders.

The Negro public servant takes his lesson from history. Where dishonesty, corruption and inefficiency prevail, not a few but many people have lost and failed. Decisions in government cannot be made on the basis of race, color or creed.

Public office is a sacred trust and that principle cannot be sacrificed for the sake of expediency. Good government prevails only when character sits in office.

BY LEODA GAMMON CHICKEN, PAKISTAN STYLE

Plaf, Pilaff and Pilau are names used in Turkey, Pakistan and neighboring countries for a highly seasoned combination of rice, meat or poultry, spices and dairy products.

Generous proportions of tumeric, ginger and hot peppers are expected so that a cool-off chutney is the usual companion for Pilaf. There are many versions of chutney. In this Americanized uncooked recipe, the sour cream and yogurt substituted for the curd-base of very rich-buffalo milk used in Pakistan.

New Curriculum For Lincoln Journalists

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (ANP)—A new journalism curriculum will go into effect at Lincoln University (Mo.) with the fall semester of 1957, following a report by the College Policies Committee to the effect that the plan meets the requirements for a bachelor of arts degree.

Planning for the curriculum has been going on since two years ago when the decision was made to convert the School of Journalism into a department of the College of Arts and Sciences. The purpose is to integrate the curriculum into the college system in order to serve the needs of students in all departments as well as those anticipating careers in journalism.

According to Lee S. Cole, acting head of the department, the curriculum new look is an effort to provide students with courses which will better enable them to exploit skills developed in other areas of the university as business, the sciences, art, etc.

The program still provides for the cultural background necessary for successful careers in professional communications and specialized studies and practices that will fit students for work on business, advertising, news, and editorial staffs of publications; in teaching, public relations and research. The new program also offers a minor in journalism for students of all departments.

ing jobs in the broader industrial field in Memphis. But it is one thing certain, we must do something for ourselves; we must provide job opportunities for ourselves.

Negroes in this area of the country enjoy tremendous buying power. Those whom they patronize are not always aware of the Negro's contribution to their economic well-being. There are numerous businesses that would go out of business if they lost their Negro patrons, but these same firms employ only a very limited number of Negroes, in menial capacities.

Negroes have little or no opportunity to make nor distribute the millions of dollars worth of commodities that they consume.

Let's take a look at the other side. People must merit the opportunities they seek. The first requirement is preparedness, second a will to work, alertness, ability to think and cooperate with associates and manifest a loyalty to the organization, with which one works.

The future will really belong to those who prepare themselves. This is emphasized in every vocational guidance program conducted for youth. It is not enough to have limited training, "a little learning

Employee Earnings In South Advance

Average hourly earnings at straight-time for the 6,533,000 non-supervisory retail trade employees covered by a survey late in 1956 varied from $1.16 in the South to $1.63 in the West, according to Brunswick A. Bagdon, Southern Regional Director of the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

In releasing the report, Mr. Bagdon pointed out that the distribution of goods at retail is carried on through a vast network of industries with varying labor force requirements, methods of wage payment, and other distinctive characteristics. The survey revealed a wide range of earnings for men and women classified by weekly hours of employment, region, and size of community.

An estimated 611,000 employees, or 10 percent of the total, earned less than 75 cents an hour; 26 percent earned less than $1. About 60 percent of the nonsupervisory employees earned under $1.25 an hour; at the upper end, almost 900,000 workers, or 15 percent of the total, earned $2 or more an hour.
