Robert Mebane Is Promoted To Postal Supervisory Post

LEE LAUDS UPGRADING.
A former Negro parcel post carrier has been upgraded to a supervisory post with the local set up, the Memphis World learned earlier this week.
The duties and full responsibility of a postal supervisor were handed to Robert E. Mebane, effective Jan. 26, the Memphis World learned.
Mr. Mebane, a former parcel post carrier at Davis Station Post Office, was promoted to the position of foreman, assigned to Davis Station, and placed in charge of integrated personnel with duties of supervising movement of mail between stations and depots.
Mebane's new position was formerly held by William F. Owen now superintendent of the George W. Lee Station.
According to Republican leader, Lt. George W. Lee, "this promotion of a qualified Negro who has merited his promotion thru the outstanding performance of his duties as a parcel post carrier, and has passed the qualifying examination, merely reflects the American concept of equality of opportunity which we believe in, and which has made America the true land of opportunity for all."

Memphis ranks first among the cities of the South in recognizing the abilities of Negroes in the Post Office, and promoting them on this basis.
"This pronounced improvement has taken place in the last four years. However, I will not be complacent until a Negro can attain and is promoted to positions in every bureau on the District and Regional level."
Mebane is a native Memphian. A graduate of the local public schools and an honor graduate of Rust College.
A veteran of World War II, Mebane served four years as a staff sergeant in the U. S. Army, with overseas duty in the Pacific theater of operations.
He is a deacon and general superintendent of the Sunday School Department of St. John Baptist Church, Vance and Orleans, the Rev. A. McEwen Williams, pastor. Former Boys' Work secretary of the Abe Scharff YMCA, Mebane has served for three years as secretary of Branch 27 of the National Association of Letter Carriers.
An Elk and a member of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, Mebane resides at 837 Boston. Married to the former Miss Ola Green, the couple has two sons.

Weathers Latest Honoree On "Meet The Leader"

Luke J. Weathers, Jr., head of Luke J. Weathers Associates, an advertising agency, was honored on WLOK's public service feature, "Meet The Leader," Sunday.
The program featured a recorded interview by Richard Cole, WLOK air personality and producer of "Meet The Leader." During the interview, Mr. Weathers, a native Memphian, recalled his early school days here, and his graduation from Xavier University, New Orleans, Louisiana. Then followed a long period of active duty with the Air Force, where Mr. Weathers rose to the rank of lieutenant colonel. He still holds this rank in the Air Force Reserve, and spends as much of his spare time as he can flying.

Mr. Weathers, his wife, Laverne, and their three children attend St. Anthony's Catholic Church. It was the pleasure of Banner Laundry-Cleaner, sponsor of "Meet The Leader," to send a floral offering to St. Anthony's, in the Weathers name.
On the Sunday Mr. Weathers was honored on the program. In addition, Mrs. Weathers was sent a beautiful orchid to wear. Later on in the week, Mr. Weathers was presented with a recording of "Meet The Leader" to keep as permanent reminder of this great day in his life.
"Meet The Leader" is heard Sundays on radio station WLOK at 1:30 P. M.

Keel Education Program Turns To Polio Problem

Polio is a subject of vital interest to everyone. It is so important that it cannot be told too often. That's how the Keel School P. T. A. felt as they listened to Mrs. Lenore Riey, executive secretary of the Memphis Polio Chapter as their guest speaker. Through Mrs. Riey's office at the March of Dimes has come the hospital care and the necessary appliances needed for students with polio at Keel School.
Mrs. Riey presented the serious problem of our youngsters (those that are not school age) and adults up to at least 45 years of age that should have their shots of Salk vaccine as protection against paralytic polio.
High praise was given to the parents of the 22 students whose names appeared on a "perfect Health Chart", which was displayed on the cafeteria wall under an appealing colored poster of the 1957 POLIO GIRL entitled "Remember Me".
Mrs. Riey also announced to the group that a picture released by the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis office in New York, was used in connection with one of the four big jobs of the National Foundation; that of professional training. The picture shows Mrs. Dorothy Holloway Mitchell, a certified physical therapist in the therapy room at Keel School, as she watches Johnnie Earl Haynes 5th grade son of Mrs. Beulah Haynes, 280 A. Edie Mall, on a bicycle exercise and Carolyn Duncan 3rd grade, daughter of Mrs. Laveria Duncan, 1547 Pope Street as she sits on a treatment table to await her turn.
The parents were very pleased with this honor and proud to have had their children and school appear in the 1957 polio news release.

YMCA Membership Drive On; Over $800 Already Reported

More than two-thirds of the workers organized for the 1957 Membership Enrollment were on hand last Friday evening in the gymnasium of Abe Scharff Branch Young Men's Christian Association to receive final instructions for an unprecedented drive for 1000 or more adult members of the organization.
Prof. Blair T. Hunt, chairman of the board of directors, and head of the Special Gifts Committee, sparked the big push with a financial report of over $800 during the kick-off meeting Friday. With J. T. Chandler, Sr., board secretary serving as co-chairman, the Special Gifts Committee is also composed of a cross-section of community leaders who are out to secure $1250 of the overall goal of $8,000.
General Chairman of the 1957 Enrollment is L. Alex Wilson editor of the Tri-State Defender, and Dr. C. M. Rouhuff, Sr., long-time member of the board, is serving as co-chairman.
"We don't expect to fall short of our goal," Editor Wilson said. "This is a campaign that is so comprehensive in its outreach for members we cannot miss."
Other speakers during the kick-off meeting included Dunbar Reed, associate secretary, Area Council, YMCA, with headquarters in Atlanta, Ga. who is in Memphis giving technical direction to the campaign; Prof. Floyd M. Campbell principal of Melrose High School and leader of Section A; Joseph L. Nelson, manager of Cleburn-Foot

Homes, chairman of Section B; Executive Secretary L. O. Swinger and John Benson Program Director, representing the Metropolitan YMCA.
Music for the program was rendered by Madam Florence Cole McCleave and one of her accomplished students, Miss Lanetha Collins; and members of the Booker T. Washington High School Band.
Boy Scout Troop 104 served as Color Guard with Andrew E. McIntyre, scoutmaster, in charge.
First report in the general campaign will be made Friday night of this week, Feb. 1, at Abe Scharff Branch.
This year's campaign, marking the 20th anniversary of the formation of the Negro YMCA Branch, is based on card assignments. Only contracts through assigned cards are being made with the hopes that for the first time since 1937 the branch will have a representative membership.
Campaign organization is made up of a special gifts committee, a chairman and associate chairman.

BOMBINGS PROBED IN BEAUMONT, TEXAS BUT MOTIVE IS WITHHELD

CHURCH, HOME, BUSINESS ALL HIT BY BOMBS

BEAUMONT, Tex. — (INS) — Possibility of racial trouble loomed in Beaumont Tuesday as authorities pieced together possible explanations of three dynamite blasts which shook the city Monday night.
Police declined to express an opinion on motive of the blasts as they continued to check possible clues and suspects. They said no arrests have been made and none are imminent.
Officials of the National-City Lines, which owns the local bus service as well as those in Montgomery and Mobile, Alabama, said they expect to confer next month in Beaumont with U. S. Attorneys on the question of integrating City Bus Lines.
Meanwhile a Baptist minister, Rev. Eugene Dickey, appeared Tuesday before the city council urging that the council take a stand on integration.
He said that the bombings of a church, a storage company and a private residence Monday night was "just a little preview of things to come if the race question gets any worse."
Dickey said he was speaking as an individual and not for the Baptist Church.
Two mysterious calls from a woman, one to the police and the second a short time later to the pastor of the damaged St. Michael's Greek Orthodox Church, warned that "this is no amateur. I'm sorry we missed on Magnolia (near the residence bombed). We wanted to get the foreigners!"
C. R. Smith, owner of the blasted residence, expressed the opinion that the bomb was meant for him because he has taken "a middle of the road stand on the question of integration."

MISS MEREL ANDERSON, a Fisk University Junior, arrived here Friday from Nashville and was the house guest of Bishop and Mrs. J. O. Patterson at their Mississippi Blvd. home. Miss Anderson came to Memphis at the invitation of James O. (Teddy) Patterson, Jr., a friend who is also a student at Fisk. The very attractive young co-ed is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Leon V. Anderson of Wilmington, Delaware.

BOMBED BUILDING

The bombed Kilpatrick flash storage company is owned by State Rep Rufus Kilpatrick of Beaumont who voted last week to send to a legislative committee a bill backed by anti-integration forces.
A group of citizens, members of the Beaumont Citizens Council, picketed the campus of Lamar Technological College last October protesting the attendance of Negro students. The disturbance ended when pickets were ordered away at the request of white students. Several Negroes still attend the college.
"Appointments are made by the marshal in the district where the vacancies occur," the spokesman said.
The position by the Justice Department came following a local Republican dispute over the appointment of a Negro to the Deputy Marshall post here.

COLUMBUS, Ga. — (INS) — A Columbus high school, with 1,380 students was evacuated Friday because of a phony bomb scare.

Memphis Republicans Back Negro For Marshall

WHITE GROUP BACKS IT LEE'S NOMINATION OF LA MONDUE FOR DEPUTY U. S. MARSHALL
Old Guard Republican Leader Lt. George W. Lee's efforts to have a Negro appointed to a vacant Deputy U. S. Marshall post received the support of white GOP leaders here Wednesday.
Both old and new Guard leaders Wednesday announced their support of Lee's choice who is Eloyne F. LaMondue, Jr., of 1902 Carver. LaMondue is presently working with the Postal Transportation Service as a mail clerk.
"Appointments are made by the marshal in the district where the vacancies occur," the spokesman said.
The position by the Justice Department came following a local Republican dispute over the appointment of a Negro to the Deputy Marshall post here.

Marshall Williams said that the Justice Department has not as yet recommended anyone. He (Williams) said that he is "going to stand pat" that he does not believe the Justice Department will force a Negro appointment on him.
"I do not believe this is the time to appoint a Negro," Williams said. He further pointed out that "it is not that I have anything against Negroes."

TWO GUARDS BACK LEE

Guy L. Smith, Knoxville, chairman of the Republican State Executive Committee, wired the Press-Scimitar saying: "This is to advise that the Tennessee Republican organization several months ago endorsed E. F. LaMondue, your city, for post of deputy U. S. Marshall to fill the vacancy in Memphis office created by retirement on Dec. 31 last. LaMondue's appointment by Justice Department expected shortly."

Ala. State Prof. Serves As Jackson College Consultant

Dr. H. L. Van Dyke, Head of the Science Department and Professor of Chemistry at Alabama State College, Montgomery, Alabama, visited Jackson State College two days recently in the role of consultant. A graduate of the University of Michigan, Dr. Van Dyke has been a member of the Alabama State faculty for more than 25 years. The noted educator has written several articles for professional magazines. His specific interest is organic chemistry. He is a member of Beta Kappa Chi Scientific Honor Society. Dr. Van Dyke was the guest of honor at a tea which was given Friday in the science library.

Woman Editor Speaks Her Mind

By O. C. W. TAYLOR
NEW ORLEANS — (ANP) — Residents of the Delta area rejoiced last week over an unusually frank editorial written by Mrs. Annette C. Carmichael, white woman of Bay St. Louis, Miss., who edits the newspaper The Light published in that community about 75 miles from this city on the Gulf Coast.
Negro leaders of her paper consider the editorial the one bright light in real liberalism in all of Mississippi, which reeks with race hatred and bitterness.
Though small, the paper wields

CENTENARY METHODIST MEN ENTERTAIN - The Methodist Men's Organization of the Centenary Methodist Church entertained the church membership with a buffet supper last Tuesday night in the Recreation Room of the Church. Approximately 250 members and friends were on hand for this first church-wide entertainment by the Methodist Men's Group.

Among the prominent members and visitors present were the Rev. J. J. Snipes, pastor at Waynesboro-Goodlett; the Rev. L. W. Redmond, pastor at Capleville, and Dr. J. W. Golden, Associate Secretary, Board of Evangelism of the Methodist Church (retired).

During the evening of fellowship and fun various games were engaged in by many of those present. The Methodist Men's Group of Centenary is planning to make this an annual affair. James A. Bradfield is president of the group, the Rev. D. M. Grisham is pastor. Shown in the picture are some of the members of the Methodist Men's Group of Centenary Methodist Church and visitors who were present at the Fellowship Buffet Supper sponsored by the group at Centenary Methodist Church last Tuesday night.

ASSIGNMENTS: LEMOYNE COLLEGE BY MELVIN GREER

'REVITALIZED' FRAT OUT TO TUMBLE LEMOYNE'S NO. 1 FRATERNITY CHAPTER FROM 1ST PLACE For years now the LeMoyné campus branch of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity has been recognized as the No. 1 fraternity here at LeMoyné by a seemingly majority of would-be-raters. There is little dubiety that this fraternity is not the tops in popularity, if nothing else.

Heretofore the Alpha's incessant popularity has retained this fraternity in the No. 1 slate and no other frat has been able to ride in to the Alpha's apparently impregnable No. 1 rating. And that includes the Omegas, too. However, these days of 'ups in popularity' for the men of the Alpha clan may be terminated. An inactive frat chapter on the campus, the Phi Beta Sigma branch, in the process of being rejuvenated, and even before being completely reorganized the yearling members are threatening to 'kick the high-flying Alphas off the perch.'

The yearlings met recently with the graduate members of Phi Beta Sigma at the home of Omar Robinson, 1509 Brookins St. Attending this meeting were Johnny LeRoy Johnson, Harry Truly, Benjamin Ward, Nesbit Blanchard, Frank Lockhart, Benjamin Peindexter, Granville Neil, James Willibart, and David Ivory.

LOCKHART FOR PRESIDENT It is rumored that Frank Lockhart who is allegedly strongly anti-Alpha, will get the nod for the presidential seat of the soon-to-be revitalized chapter. THERE IS, of course, the argument that popularity doesn't really matter too much when it comes to rating fraternities (or sororities).

where they can see the potential danger of their sinking into oblivion, it might possibly be too late to curtail any undesirable retrogression. This would mean victory for the prophets of doom who have foretold that some G. L. O.'s (so-called fraternities) will slowly but surely diminish from the LeMoyné scene. All of the National Greek Letter fraternities believe it or not have chapters on the campus, and all allegedly stress scholarship, character and fraternal fellowship. But most of them to be truthful about it, don't appear to be very active, and some give the appearance of almost being inert. This is ludicrous from the standpoint that if these sleeping fraternities don't awaken to the point where they can see the potential danger of their sinking into oblivion, it might possibly be too late to curtail any undesirable retrogression. This would mean victory for the prophets of doom who have foretold that some G. L. O.'s (so-called fraternities) will slowly but surely diminish from the LeMoyné scene.

Activities Summary: Hiawatha Art Club

The Hiawatha Art and Social Club stayed from its regular procedure by having a breakfast on Thanksgiving Friday morning at the Orleans Hotel. Mrs. J. T. Chandler and Mrs. J. A. Seward served as hostesses. The hostesses provided lovely favors for each person attending. The Educational Committee led by Mrs. L. G. Powles conducted a lively discussion which resulted in a resolution, that Negroes stress the importance of preparation in every field of endeavor, particularly in the areas of the teaching profession.

The December meeting was held Jan. 2, 1957, at the residence of Mrs. F. H. Page. Mrs. T. H. Wadkins and Mrs. F. H. Page were the delightful hostesses. This meeting was deferred from its regular meeting date because of the "Eternal Life" more meaningful and dearer.

THE MAG HAGICIANS are on another losing streak after winning two consecutive games. Well, their winning streak couldn't last forever is all I have to say. The Purple Waves have two more home games on schedule, with both of them to be played this weekend. Tonight the LeMoyné cagemen tackle Xavier of New Orleans which has an impressive basketball reputation, and tomorrow night (Sat.) they encounter the Tougaloo College team from Mississippi.

It would appear that some of the basketball players have been getting "all of the publicity" all year long "thoughtfully" according to some of the players who haven't been receiving the headlines. David Acy claims that his "terrific" defensive play should not have been overlooked, regardless of the alleged fact that he hasn't amassed too many points. Arlander Boyd and Augustus Johnson have no reason to kick, though, for they have been standouts on offense in the last few Magician games. And the man who makes all the points, unfortunately to some, is the only man the sports-writers see. This could be termed unfair.

And Constance Boyd doesn't find the game of horsehoes as exhausting as she used to. But that was before someone told Miss Boyd that you are supposed to remove the horse before you pitch the shoe. Tuesday - Margaret Johnson.

Lula Byas Service Club Inducts Three

The Lula C. Byas Service Club held its regular monthly meeting Thursday Evening, at the Lella Walker-Club House President Ruth Reeves presided. There were eighteen members present. Three new members were accepted, namely: Mrs. Beauty Thompson Mrs. Ethel Watkins and Miss Susie Blackburn. Guest Speaker of the evening was William Fleming, life-time chairman of Junior High School Teachers of West Tennessee and instructor at Carnes Junior High School. He gave a very inspiring lecture on "Service Through Cooperation."

Other guest of the evening were: Prof. J. D. Springer and daughter, Carol Ann, Mrs. Riley Thompson, Mrs. Crowder Mrs. Fred Williams, Jr., all guest of Mrs. Hobson. Also present was Mrs. Ethel Loving, guest of Miss Louise Irwin. Miss Irwin was presented a birthday gift by Mrs. Ida G. Pape on behalf of the Club Members who joined in singing "Happy Birthday, Miss Irwin." Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Alma Hobson, Miss Lottie V. Irwin and Mrs. Edwina Patrick.

AGED MAN VANISHES IN ARKANSAS EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) - Sheriff O. E. Bishop reported Friday that no trace had been found of West. ## LITTLE MISS JANET PATTERSON IS COMPLETED ON EIGHTH BIRTHDAY

Over 40 kiddies, all good friends to cute little Janet Patterson, have learned to look forward to the elaborate party given every year by the Parish Club of Pentecostal Church honoring Janet's birthday.

Again this year the party was given at the palatial Mississippi Blvd. residence of Bishop and Mrs. J. O. Patterson who were just as thrilled and gracious as usual to each child.

Highlighting the evening were real sound movies shown by Mr. L. B. Hobson who brought his two little daughters. After all of the party foods were served and over 50 gifts were opened by Janet herself. Mr. Hobson, deciding that the kiddies (not even his little Clarice) would leave until they saw the third picture. So the third picture was on for the evening.

There were many useful, unique and luxurious gifts. The last one to be brought out was a pink and white automobile that was set off with a horn and real lights given to the little honoree by members of the White Lily Club of Pentecostal. Eyes of the little guests showed that they too were just as thrilled as Janet who is quite popular among her small set because of her friendly easy-to-know manner.

Janet was a picture in a pink brocaded taffeta frock that stood out over three stiff pentecosts and was set off by a large back bow. Her two little cousins (both by her side all night) Sharon Lewis wearing a pretty red check with a peeping green taffeta slip and a green velvet bodice and Sandra Mason who wore a very full blue and white printed frock that featured a full skirt, also helped to entertain the little friends.

Home for his sister's birthday was James O. Patterson, Jr. who is a student at Fisk University. Assisting at the party were Bishop and Mrs. Patterson, the pastor of Pentecostal Janet's three aunts Mrs. Leland Atkins, a member of the Parish Club who acted as hostess of the evening; Mrs. Robert Lewis, Jr., Mrs. Arthur Mason, Miss Merle Anderson, the Patterson's house guest; Miss Jessie Jimlison, Mrs. Mattie Wigley, president of the White-Lily Club of Pentecostal and "Your Columnist."

LITTLE GUESTS
Other youngsters attending were Charles McChristian, Joe Lee Nelson, Jr., Huben Sandridge, Jr., Reggie Pippin, William Lewis McChristian, Gregory Best, and Mrs. J. O. Patterson. Miss Anderson, who has been shown many courtesies by Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Atkins and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis, Jr., along with the Pattersons, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Leon V. Anderson of Wilmington, Del.

MISS ANDREWETTE WALKER, a former Memphian who now resides in Milwaukee, left Sunday after spending two weeks with her father, Mr. Andrew Walker on South Lauderdale.

DR. LELAND ATKINS, Bluff City's Medical Society president, and Alpha Phi Alpha's local president, was noticed by his friends in his pretty new white Coupe de Ville last week.

MRS. JAMES HERNDON IS HOSTESS TO LAS FABULOSAS BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. James Herndon was the charming hostess to members of the Las Fabulosas Club at her pretty Greenview home on last Saturday evening.

Highlighting the meeting was the election of officers who are: Mrs. Lena Woodson, president; Mrs. Russell Sugamron, Jr., vice-president; Mrs. Rose Marie Davis, secretary; Mrs. Vernetta Watson, assistant secretary; and Mrs. Juanita Lewis, reporter. Other members present were Mrs. Verdell Northcross, Mrs. Dorisline Humphrey, Mrs. Eloise Flowers, Mrs. Virginia Blair, Mrs. Zerna Peacock, Mrs. Nina Brayon, Mrs. Ruby Jean Lewis and Mrs. Mary E. Jones.

A lovely dinner service followed a cocktail hour after the meeting when members mingled and chatted with guests who were Mrs. Martha Galloway, Mrs. Warless Horne, and Mrs. LaVerne Weathers.

MRS. LILLIAN LARRY BRIGGS IS HONORED ON BIRTHDAY
A birthday dinner party was a pleasant surprise for Mrs. Lillian Larry Briggs Tuesday evening when her husband, Mr. Will Briggs and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Counts honored her on her birthday Tuesday evening of this week.

The party was given at the Briggs' beautiful and spacious Laclede Street home from 6:30 to 10. Guests enjoyed every corner of the Briggs and Counts apartment, of the pretty place. Assisting Mrs. Count (the former Nellie Larry) in receiving was another sister, Mrs. Hattie L. Harrison.

Guests included Mrs. Helen Shelby, Mrs. Charles Etta Brandom, Miss Bernice Ruffin, Mr. and Mrs. James Moore, Mrs. Lillie Threats, Mr. Andrew McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Lewis, Sr., Mrs. Susie Hightower, Miss Susie Blackburn, Mrs. Bennie Morris, Mrs. Rosie Mickers, Miss Alberta Mickens, Miss Alberta Winston, Mrs. Vivian White, Mrs. Odell Jones, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Jones, Mrs. Bernice Winston, Miss Aline Blackwell, Miss Harry Mae Simon, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Perkins, and Jewel Gentry.

ALUMNI DAY WILL BE OBSERVED AT LEMOYNE FEBRUARY 10
Changing from the traditional speaker type program, members of the Lemoine Alumni have decided on an Alumni Faculty Talent Program for Sunday, Feb. 10. The program will be held at 5 p. m. in Bruce Hall. Mrs. Charles P. Roland, a member of the Lemoine College faculty, is general chairman of Alumni Day, is asking that you remember to drop the little yellow envelopes in the mail before February 10.

SWEETHEARTS BALL, FEBRUARY 14
JR. CLASS PROJECT
Following in the footsteps of those who have come before them and seemingly doing a much better job, the Juniors of Douglass will present their biggest dance of the year, the Sweethearts Ball, Feb. 13, at Currie's Club Tropicanna. The admission will be seventy-five cents in advance and one dollar at the door.

MRS. MINNIE MAE WOODS is home and doing nicely after having been ill in E. H. Crump Memorial Hospital. Arriving here to visit her last week were her mother, and a sister and brother who flew in from Detroit.

LITTLE MISS JANET PATTERSON IS HONORED ON 8TH BIRTHDAY BY PARISH CLUB OF PENTECOSTAL CHURCH

Little Miss Janet Patterson, young daughter of Bishop and Mrs. J. O. Patterson, was honored on her 8th birthday last Friday evening at the stately and massive Mississippi Blvd. home of her parents. It is significant that Janet's mother played and had birthday gatherings on this same site. ## Calls Inaugural Parade March Of Progress In Human Relation

BY ALICE A. DUNNIGAN

WASHINGTON — (ANP) — The march of progress in human relations, as well as in scientific advancement, was demonstrated to the hilt in the colorful inaugural parade which marched before the President's reviewing stand Monday.

The two-and-a-half hour march down Pennsylvania Avenue from the Capitol to the White House was distinguished by the absence of any "all-Negro" units. This gay panorama of American life included Negro citizens cleverly integrated into the overall scene of American activity.

E. Frederick Morrow, an aid to President Eisenhower, occupied a diplomat's car in the Executive section of the parade along with cabinet members, little cabinet members, and other top ranking officials of the White House Staff.

Governor Walter Gordon of the Virgin Islands, and his party, held a prominent place in the section of Governors, officially labeled "Parade of States." The colorful float of that section was occupied with a group of handsome, brown-Virgin Islanders with their steel band.

The military section, which displayed every branch of service was completely integrated. This included the women's divisions, WAC,

WAVES, and WAF.

The school bands from many states included Negro children. The last section of the parade which included the Eisenhower Bandwagon portrayed an integrated American life. The bandwagon was graced with both white and brown beauties wearing identical costumes. Their white dresses were figured with groups of three-red letters spelling "Ike". They carried matching parasols and wore red shoes.

Only groups from the southern states were conspicuous by their all-white participation. This feature might be more easily overlooked when it was observed that many of the Southern governors did not have the courtesy to stand up in their convertibles as they passed the reviewing stand and properly salute the President of the United States.

Among those who refused to salute was Governor Stanley of Virginia, a leader in the anti-inte-

HUSBAND STRIKES WIFE WITH AXE; SHE SUES

WASHINGTON — (ANP) — Mrs. Barbara Vanison, who was felled with an ax two years ago, recently won a 25,000 suit against the United States. Mrs. Vanison charged the officials at St. Elizabeth mental hospital with negligence in permitting her mentally ill husband to escape in 1954.

The husband returned home and struck his wife on the head with a hatchet causing a skull fracture and brain damage. Judge Rose Ritzley, who heard the case without a jury, ruled in favor of Mrs. Vanison, who was 19 at the time of the incident.

Maurice S. Vanison 25 was found of unsound mind by the Municipal Court judge and committed to St. Elizabeth two years ago. He was accused at that time of assaulting his wife and his mother-in-law.

When first committed, he was kept in maximum security. Finally when doctors decided he was no longer dangerous he was transferred to a minimum security ward.

Three weeks after Vanison escaped he attacked his wife with the hatchet. His wife contends that the Government was negligent in permitting a patient to escape and on notifying police of the escape or making any effort to apprehend him.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Edward O. Fennell claims that the hospital does not notify police of an escape not considered dangerous.

SOME WANT BIAS TO LEAVE BUSES BY EASY STAGES

MIAMI, Fla. — (ANP) — A heated situation among Negro leaders was brewing here last week as two factions were at odds over the recent bus integration ruling handed down by Federal Judge Emmet C. Choate.

Negro leaders split into two groups one being the "Liberals" who are pressing for immediate bus integration in light of Judge Choate's ruling that segregation on state buses is illegal and the other group being the "conservatives", who are willing to let desegregation of buses come by easy stages.

The "conservative" faction led by Father John E. Culmer, rector of St. Agnes Episcopal church are alleged to be strong supporters of anti-Negro Democratic Senator George A. Smathers of Florida. Last week, the "conservative" group met with City Manager E. A. Evans and appealed to the city to accept the federal order desegregating buses without further delay in the interest of preventing violence.

Father Culmer said: "Miami is ready for this thing. Any delay would give the lawless element time to organize."

The "conservative" group asked Evans to lend assistance in integrating Miami's buses at the earliest possible moment. Evans said the decision would be up to the City Commission after Judge Choate's final decision is made.

Choate already has said he will hand down a final and official order declaring the city's bus segregation laws unconstitutional.

But he allowed the city an opportunity to file an answer to the suit, brought about by four Negro bus riders.

The judge has set Feb. 4 as the date for hearing a motion for immediate decision on the suit.

Liberal factions of Negro leadership want immediate desegregation of buses. This faction is headed by the Rev. Theodore Gibson, president of the Miami NAACP and also an Episcopal minister. Rev. Gibson and Father Culmer are often on opposite sides.

Meanwhile, the Miami City Commission has promised to meet with all Negro factions before deciding whether to carry its fight for bus segregation to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Commissioner Otis W. Shiver expressed a willingness to meet with Negro leaders, but specified that the leaders must represent the more liberal element as well as the conservatives who called on Evans.

ASA Spaulding Gets Post With Federal Govt.

WASHINGTON — (ANP) — Asa Spaulding of Durham, N. C. — one of the country's foremost Negro authorities on insurance and banking — has been appointed a member of the National Committee of the Voluntary Home Mortgage Credit Program.

The 15-man committee, composed of leaders in banking, mortgage and insurance, and building, is the policy making body of the VHMOP — a program established by the present Administration to facilitate the flow of Government insurance. This coincidence sent the photographers scurrying across the street for the unusual picture.

Governor Gordon got a warm wave of welcome from both Chief Justice Warren and his wife, and friends from California as his convertible passed along.

There were several floats of brown and yellow people from the territories of the United States. These included people from Puerto Rico, Hawaii, Guam and Samola.

Juvenile Delinquency

BY THE NNPA NEWS SERVICE

The school is second only to the family in being responsible for preparing the child for life. That includes, of course, teaching children to get along with others, to observe society's rules — as well as the deliberate cultivation of the basic intellectual tools.

One of the most important of such tools is the ability to read, comprehending the full meaning of the printed page.

The school, too, may reproduce some of the features found in the home, but it supplies a social setting in which new and varied experiences are inevitable.

If the schools are to fulfill their responsibility in helping youth to law-abiding adulthood, the schools must assist society in devoting sufficient energy and resources not just to rehabilitate young people after they get into trouble but also to those programs that serve to prevent their getting into trouble in the first place.

The schools are centrally involved in any program designed to prevent juvenile delinquency.

Since children enter school with their behavior patterns not yet crystallized, there is a substantial need for the school to provide the necessary values and support that they must have to function in our society as law-abiding citizens.

Outside of the family, the school has the potentiality of being the major means of developing and strengthening the "internal controls," the social conscience, so necessary in the mental and emotional development of children.

The school can serve, too, as a means of external social control by motivating the child toward socially constructive behavior and by operating as a central community institution which exerts pressure toward social conformity.

Not only does the school have a role to play in insuring that every child experiences some success but that the schools can often help to compensate for a child's lack of acceptance and achievement within the home.

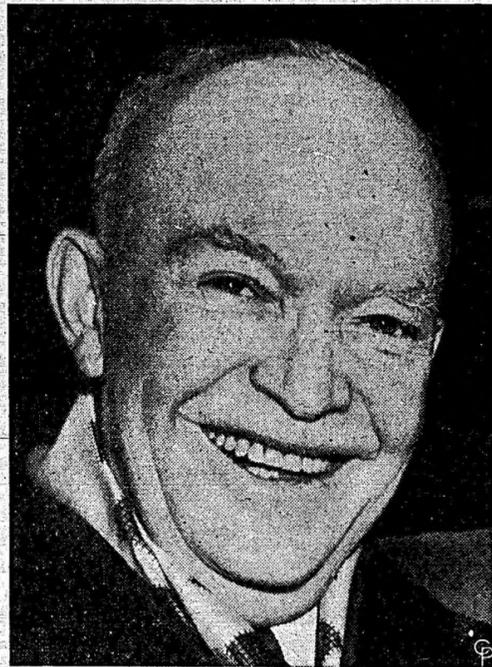

Conformity in this sense means the following of society's rules of conduct.

Important as it is to have an emotional balance in the family, it is also important to have it in the school system.

The schools want to create children with rounded personalities. A well-integrated personality has to have a certain basis. It is necessary, therefore, that schools foster basic values as their goals.

In addition to factual information on pertinent subjects, the school must give children moral and spiritual values.

Negro Newsmen Mourn Death Of Illinois Solon

WASHINGTON — (ANP) — Washington newsmen regretted the death of A. Wayland Brooks, a former Republican Senator from Illinois.

He might best be remembered among members of the Fourth Estate for removing the bars against Negro correspondents in the Capitol Press Galleries.

While serving as chairman of the Senate Rules Committee, Senator Brooks held hearings on restrictions against representatives of weekly newspapers. From these hearings he made the decision that the original rules for membership in the press galleries would be modified so that some Negroes could become members.

The old rule which required accredited Capitol correspondents to be representatives of daily papers was amended to admit also representatives of news services.

As a result of this ruling, Louis Lantier, representative of the National Newspaper Publishers Association, became an accredited member of both the Senate and House of Representatives Press Galleries in March, 1947. A few months later Mrs. Alice A. Dunnigan, a representative of the Associated Negro Press, received accreditation to both Galleries.

These two representatives of news services were the only Negro Accredited Press Gallery members for several years, when Roscoe Simmons received his accreditation as a representative of the old Washington Times Herald, a white daily. He died, however, before becoming an active member.

Sometimes just before the close of the 84th Congress last August, Miss Ethel Payne, representing the Chicago Daily Defender, was accepted as an accredited Capitol reporter by the Standing Committee of the Press Galleries.

Soon after "Curly" Brooks had paved the way for Negro reporters to become members of the gallery ten years ago, his picture along with Lantier, Mrs. Dunnigan and Griffin Bancroft, then chairman of the Standing Committee of the Galleries, were carried in Negro newspapers throughout the country.

Sen. Brooks was affectionately known around Capitol Hill as "Curly," a nickname acquired because of his short, curly hair.

He is the second friend of Negro newsmen who recently passed away. The other was Charley Campbell, director of the British news service in Washington.

It might be recalled that Campbell engineered the reception given in Washington some years ago by the White House Press Association in honor of Queen Elizabeth. This reception was attended by some 500 people, all clamoring just to get in arms-length of the Mother Queen.

Campbell made an all out effort to see that the Negro newspaper women attending, not only get in reaching distance of the Queen but had an opportunity to shake her hand and chat with her a few seconds, a privilege not given any other guests.

These women who had the usual honor of shaking hands with a queen were Miss Ethel Payne of the Chicago Defender, Mrs. Lois Taylor then with the Afro-American and Mrs. Alice A. Dunnigan with the associated Negro Press.

Virginia Prison Officials Probe Knife Slaying

RICHMOND, Va. — (ANP) — A 30-year-old convict in the State Penitentiary here was being held this week in connection with the slaying of a fellow inmate, while prison officials launched an investigation into the killing.

Dead in a fight that followed a reported argument between two convicts is 33-year-old Ezekiel Walker, who died within five minutes after 15 wounds pierced his body. Roger R. Pegram, a 30-year-old prisoner, serving a 10-year robbery sentence is being held in the incident.

W. Frank Smyth Jr., prison supt., said Walker was stabbed to death in the prison courtyard and was unconscious when guards reached him.

Pegram reported Walker pulled a knife during an argument, according to Smyth, and that Pegram had taken the weapon from Walker and stabbed him.

Pegram was being held — Smyth said, "where he can't talk with anyone," while the investigation is underway.

Man Dies, Two Suffer Injuries

COFFEYVILLE, Miss. — (ANP) — One man was killed and two persons injured last week here in a school bus wreck that overturned the vehicle.

The dead man was identified by state highway patrolmen as 38-year-old Willie Sykes of Coffeyville. Two teenage girls suffered injuries. They are:

Anna Ruth Bland, 16, who suffered a broken hip and Annie Bell Winters also 16 who sustained a fractured knee. Both were admitted to the hospital.

Police said all three were passengers in a school bus on Route 3 here when it turned over on Highway 7, two miles south of here.

4 BROTHERS DIE IN HOME BLAZE

CLINTON, Ia. — (TNS) — Four small brothers perished Friday when fire swept a second floor apartment in Clinton while their mother was visiting neighbors.

A fifth child, four-year-old Lee, leaped to safety after calling to a neighbor from a window.

"Get mama, the house is on fire," The mother, Mrs. Harrison Guy, rushed home and into the house in a vain attempt to rescue the other children but was forced to leap to safety herself, suffering a possible hip fracture.

Lee was hospitalized with burns and injuries suffered in the fall. The bodies of the four victims, Dwight Wesley, 5; George, 3; Roy, 20 months, and Jason, six months, were found in their beds when firemen brought the blaze under control after a one-hour battle.

The blaze was centered in the Guy apartment above the Clinton Athletic Club which was extensively damaged. Cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

Lincoln On His Knees

By BISHOP FULTON J. SHEEN The United States will never produce Abraham Lincoln's equal until another knows his trials, his defeats, and his trust in God.

Lincoln once said: "I have been driven many times to my knees by the overwhelming conviction that I had nowhere else to go. My own wisdom, and that of all about me seemed insufficient for that day."

In one of his earliest campaigns for political office, Lincoln was attacked on the grounds of being an unbeliever. He vigorously denied the accusation, and went on to say, "I do not think I could myself be brought to support a man whom I knew to be an open enemy of God and scouter at religion."

Six years later after another defeat for the Senate, he consoled himself saying, "Though I now sink out of view, and shall be forgotten, I believe I have made some marks which will tell for the cause of civil liberty long after I am gone."

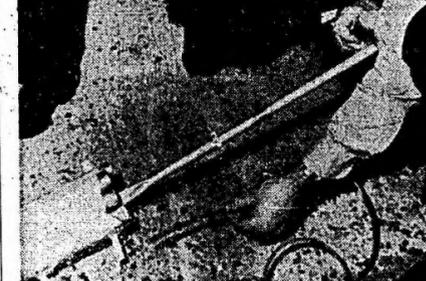

Added to political defeats were the personal sorrows in his married life. Nasty rumors about Washington that Mrs. Lincoln was a spy were circulated as to be discussed at a Congressional hearing.

Abraham Lincoln's last defeat was planned for Good Friday, 1865. Lincoln spent the afternoon signing pardons, and pleading for gentleness and mercy to those who had deserted during the war...

This great president, bearing a nation's sorrows, carrying the cross of national unity, and trying to heal the wounds of civil war, died on the very day on which the Saviour of the world died!

In these days when sacrifices and self-discipline are rejected as hindrances to "self-expression," it behooves the world to look back to a man in political life who exemplifies the great Christian law...

Abraham Lincoln has risen in the memory of the American people to be the greatest patriot this country has produced. Lincoln's life teaches us that there must be a defeat before there can be a lasting victory — there must be a cross before there can be a crown.

Chicago GOP Group Honors V. Washington

WASHINGTON — (ANP) — Val Washington, Consultant on Minority Groups of the Republican National Committee, was pleasantly surprised last week when he was presented with a fabulous plaque by a group of top-ranking Chicago Republicans.

The presentation was made by William Booker, a Chicago attorney at a cocktail party given at the Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity House, Monday night.

Washington was so happy and so surprised to receive the award that he couldn't find words to say in accepting it. All he could think of saying was a polite thank you then urged his guests to have a good time at the party.

Later, Washington said that the presentation was one of the nicest things that had ever happened to him. "It was such a complete surprise," he added. "That was one of the happiest moments of my life."

The cocktail party where the presentation was made was given jointly by Val Washington, Bill Alexander and Biddle Woods as a climax to a busy week-end of Inaugural activities.

Washington's compulsory retirement age of 70. Today Allen watches Wilt's amazing performances from the stands. He says, admiringly, "I could win games with two sorority girls, two Phi Beta Kappas and Wilt Chamberlain."

The only team to beat Kansas this year was Iowa State and they did it by ganging up on Wilt and holding him to 17 points. But the Stilt leads the nation in scoring with 30.6-point-a-game average, and deserves an assist for many points his teammates score. Kansas currently is in mid-season hiatus due to exams. But in February, the team will resume its quest for the nation's number one ranking. Key to that drive will be Wilt Chamberlain.

Often rumored the donor of cash, under-the-table deals and trust funds to Wilt and his family to get Chamberlain to Kansas, Allen says: "Let's be realistic. Until 1944 I never had any help. Then alumni started to sweeten the pot. Well, I heard that another coach charged us with giving Wilt $5,000. Well, if he charges $5,000 -- and he's sort of about it -- why then that must mean someone was dickering for less."

Today, LIFE says Wilt openly gets standard athletic help -- free board, room, tuition and books, plus $135 for selling football programs and sweeping the stadium. The majors in business administration and is an average student.

Along The Sports Trail

BY SAM BROWN

The Booker T. Washington High School eagles continue to romp towards an unbeaten season in the Prep League. Not only are they the only unbeaten team in the league, but also, the only unbeaten five in the district.

Led by their sensational scoring center, John Gray who is leading the league in scoring the mighty Warriors turned back the fighting Melrose Golden Wildcats 61-44 at Melrose gym Tuesday night, with Gray leading the scoring with 18 points.

The team is well balanced and play the game for all it is worth from start to finish. All of the regulars are hustling at all times, taking advantage of their opponents' mistakes and utilizing them to their own advantage.

Although, Gray has been showing the way in scoring, the other members of the team have come in for their share of the glory. In scoring 61 points in the Melrose game, four players accounted for 49 points including the 18 by Gray, Rick's Mason scored 11, Howard Mathis and Larry Williams 10 each. L. C. Gordon, another leading scorer, was held to 6 points, with Charlie Fobbs adding the other 6.

Our prediction on the basis of the showing the Warriors have made the team will be the one to beat for the state title. It has been several years since Memphis won a cage championship so, it will be good to see the 1957 title come to the Bluff City.

We have often attempted to analyze a winning combination in a lot of sports including baseball, football, basketball, tennis, swimming, horse racing, boxing and others where the human element plays a prominent and significant part. There is that something that holds true in all winning performances, whether individual or team achievements.

In discussing success in sports with coaches and trainers of athletes, they all agree that one of the main prerequisites for success is good physical condition. Many of them rate condition over natural ability, size or a great determination.

We are cognizant of many of the difficulties prep school coaches encounter in trying to keep their charge in condition, and we realize along with them that many times games are lost because of poor condition on the part of some of the players.

It is true that many boys with plenty of natural ability necessary to make an outstanding athlete have been just mediocre in action because they failed to keep themselves in condition.

It would help a lot of high school youngsters if they would realize the importance of physical fitness. This is one of the lessons that cannot be stressed too much.

Natural ability, determination, the will-to-win, good coaching and training, teamwork and the boosting of the crowds can all come to naught because of poor physical condition. Athletes should be impressed with the importance of alcoholic beverages, cigarettes, sleep, rest, proper foods, the evils and how they affect their bodies and performances.

Not only will a boy find these things affecting his play and performance in a game, but they also will affect his health. These things should not be passed up lightly. Many a game is lost by some players the night before the game is played.

BTW Takes Melrose Cagers 61-44 Tues.

BY BILL LITTLE
The Booker T. Washington Warriors swept by their sixth straight prep league victory by methodical gunning down the Melrose Golden Wildcats 61-44 Tuesday night at the Melrose gym. The Warriors presented a well balanced attack at four different players accounted for their first 10 points. Center John Gray led the scoring for Washington, hitting the hoops for 18 tallies.

20 points. The Golden Wildcats manifested a late spurt at the close of the stanza to cut Washington's margin to 33-48. The Orange Mounders never gave up hope as they hustled throughout the contest, hoping vainly that somewhere along the way the Warriors would falter.

With Melrose behind by 14 near the end of the final quarter, their ex forward George Martin got a hot streak going and with a little under two minutes left Washington held its shortest lead since the first period. Melrose's chances sank at this point as the Warriors kept plugging the hole in the basket. Gray's lay-up with four seconds left pushed the wedge to 17 points.

Martin topped the Melrose scorers with 13. The Washington B team remained undefeated also, pulling away in the last two minutes for a hard earned 53-43 triumph. The game between Hamilton and St. Augustine was postponed.

Oklahoma Racing Meeting Opens At Hot Springs, Ark.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. — Post time is less than a month away and preparations are in high gear for the opening of Oklahoma Park's annual 31-day racing meeting February 23.

Over 600 thoroughbreds are in training and new arrivals are appearing every day. General Manager J. Sweeney Grant said recently.

Several top-ranked stars are working out, including Sir Tribal, winner of the $50,000 Baltimore Handicap and the $28,400 Stars and Stripes Handicap at Arlington Park last year.

"Quality of horses should be at an all time high here this year," Mr. Grant said. "We are offering $592,500 in purses, a boost of $16,000 over last season. Minimum purses will be raised from $1,700 to $1,800, a figure more than comparable with any track our size in the country."

"With our improved plant and increased purses, we are expecting an excellent meeting," Mr. Grant said. "Public interest is high and our advance sale of boxes and reserved seats is moving briskly."

Alabama A & M Credit Union To Pay Dividends

NORMAL, Ala. — (SNS) — A five percent dividend was declared and officers were elected at the third annual meeting of the Council Federal Credit Union at the Alabama A. and M. College January 21.

The dividend of five percent was two percent greater than that declared at the annual meeting one year ago, and represented earnings on 99 loans amounting to a total of $24,872.00.

Three officers were reelected to positions on the board of directors and one new officer was named. Those reelected were Dean R. A. Carter, president of the board; Alexander R. Patton, treasurer; and Dr. Winifred Thomas, secretary. Miss Virginia Brooks replaced Miss Mary A. Smith, who is on a study leave from the college.

The Big Push For YMCA Members Now On

Scores of campaign workers in the 1957 Membership Enrollment were on hand last Friday evening at Abe Scharff Branch, 254 South Lauderdale Street, to receive their cards and then take the field for a record-breaking number of 1000 adult memberships, or more.

Misses Jean Townsend, and Annie Mae Williams, shown behind desks, and Mrs. Lillian Newman, forefront, holding white sheets, greet staff members shown issuing out cards to some of the key workers. In this group can be seen Messrs. D. J. Thomas, II, Lawrence Wade, and Prof. R. J. Roddy.

Star Studded Acts Coming In Shrine Circus Feb. 9-15

With a blend of spine tingling new acts, 29 in all, and the familiar raucous razzle dazzle of the "Big Top" the Shrine Hamid Morton Circus will move into the Memphis auditorium for 14 performances, starting Saturday, Feb. 9 thru Friday, Feb. 15.

This is the 15th year that Al Chymia Temple has presented the nationally famous Hamid Morton Circus.

An army of workmen will start two days before the opening to transform the auditorium to a "Spangle Land." The familiar smell of sawdust, pink lemonade and popcorn and the snarling of wild animals, plus the noisy barkers and funny antics of the clowns all quicken the pulse of young and old alike because it is "Shrine Circus Time Again."

James A. Conner, Illustrious Potentate of Al Chymia Temple, met with George A. Hamid president of the Hamid Morton Circus, in New York City recently and brought to Memphis a list of outstanding acts for the 1957 Shrine Circus.

There will be 15 new foreign acts and amusement lovers are promised a real performance this year packed with thrills and chills.

Members of Al Chymia will staff the auditorium as ticket-sellers and ushers. On Sunday night, Feb. 10, a benefit performance will be given at the Millington Naval Base for hospitalized veterans.

Opening performance will be Saturday Matinee, February 9 at 2:15 p. m., continuing through Friday night February 16th. Matinees Tuesday through Friday at 3:15 p. m. Saturday and Sunday matinee at 2:15 p. m. Night performances at 8:15 p. m. No performance Sunday night. (Circus goes to Millington Naval Hospital.)

Upwards of 8000 Orphaned and Underprivileged children, regardless of Race, Creed or Color, will be entertained at the Circus during the week, according to J. C. "Bill" Hankins, Chairman of Underprivileged Children, as guests of Al Chymia Temple and Business Firms. Clifford Legg, Shrine Commissioner, states that again this year 3000 Junior Safety Patrol Boys and Girls will be guests at the Sat. Matinee. (There will be 3 shows for Negroes on Monday, February 11th at 10:30 a. m., 1:30 and 8:15 p. m. Colored Safety Patrol Boys and Girls, guests on this day.)

Children and Adults can purchase Shrine Circus Tickets for any of the 3 performances on Feb. 11th from students of any Negro Grade or High School or thru the Principals office for only 50 cents. This is a saving of 10 cents on children tickets and a saving of 70 cents on adults tickets. Plus the Shrine refunds 10 cents a ticket to each school for every ticket sold for their School Fund. If tickets are purchased at the Auditorium for the 3 shows on Monday Feb. 11th -- the admission is 60 cents for children and $1.20 for adults. So buy your tickets from the Students -- Save Money -- plus help the local School Fund.

Jackie Says Feud With Campy Is Off

LOS ANGELES — (INS) — Jackie Robinson said Tuesday he prefers to drop his latest "feud" with ex-Brooklyn Dodger teammate Roy Campanella, and strongly indicated he would return to baseball for a manager's job.

Robinson insisted that his retirement as an active player had been settled in his mind long before he was traded to the New York Giants by the Dodgers — a deal that was cancelled when he announced he was quitting baseball.

Robinson, in Los Angeles on a nationwide tour in behalf of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, told a new conference:

"I don't want to get into a mud-slinging battle with Campanella." Jackie, who previously had been quoted as saying that Campanella was "washed up," added:

"Let's say that I know two guys who were 'sucked' into making statements by a smart reporter. And I refuse to carry them on any longer."

Campanella had countered with a charge that Robinson was "shootin' off his mouth" again. Of his managerial aspirations, Jackie said:

"While I'd never return to baseball strictly as a player, I'd certainly feel differently about it."

"The word of God" — "And he said, 'A certain man had two sons. And the younger of them said to his father, 'Father, give me the portion of goods that falleth to me. And he divided unto them his living.'"

St. Luke 15:11-12

Why Lock Yourself In A Private Prison

By ILKA CHASE
Courtesy Spadea Syndicate, Inc.

This is published in the interest of Brotherhood Week, February 17-24, sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Since life itself will always impose restrictions upon us it seems foolish to go about creating needless limitations of our own. And yet through ignorance, superstition and fear, and the angry rationalizing which we all resort to defend our weaknesses, we voluntarily narrow our horizons, enclose ourselves in prisons of our own manufacture.

Probably we don't think so. When we create districts of any kind for peoples of other races, creeds, or colors, we shrug off the obvious fact that it is hard on them. So what? The answer is that we do a far more subtle damage to ourselves for it is, as much as our victims, who are closed out of the joys of a full and colorful life.

We suffer from the same kind of claustrophobia besetting those who are forever denied a magnificent view of a great city because they cannot bring themselves to go above the third floor.

When we find Catholics or Jews, Protestants or Negroes, French, Germans, or Chinese "peculiar" when it's a case of "You can't deny it, they're just different from us, that's all" — we are on our way to that small cell in our private small dark prison.

Whether all these groups are fundamentally different from one another I'm not sure. Different philosophies, different religious tenets ride the human race. But if a basic difference does exist, that is the fun. That is what should whet our curiosity, provoke us into wanting to know more about these people. Maybe we are more similar than we think; possibly not, but why put on blinders and plug up our ears instead of finding out?

I do not mean that to know people is automatically to love them. Indeed, many people when you first meet them seem very nice; they deteriorate on acquaintance. Like the time I said to a friend of mine about a man whom he knew and whom I had recently met, "Why I don't think so and so is bad at all." "Ah," said my friend, "you have to know him to dislike him."

Let's not erect high walls saying, "Here's me. Everybody else stays out." Solitary confinement isn't much fun.

We have enough built-in hurdles and obstacles to overcome as it is without shouldering huge outside prejudices. We have already, curious limitations of the mind that are hard to master and that pretty well confine us anyway. I speak of the phobias and allergies that sway our behavior.

Red Cross Locates Mother Here Of Injured Army Man

MOTHER NOW NEAR HIM IN CHICAGO

Thanks to the efforts of local Red Cross workers a Memphis mother is now at the hospital bedside of her son, Army PFC Charles Harris, who was seriously burned when a flash fire raked the barracks at an anti-aircraft post on Lake Michigan near Chicago.

Efforts on the part of the Army to notify Mrs. Lera Harris of 277 First Elee here proved unsuccessful. PFC Harris' home address was listed by the Army as 277 West however, local Red Cross workers established that there is no 200 block of West and succeeded in locating Mrs. Harris at the correct address through a neighbor.

Upon learning of her son's accident, Mrs. Harris immediately sought to go to Chicago to be near him. However, she lacked transportation funds.

Mrs. Harris and her husband are the parents of four small children in addition to Pfc. Harris and a daughter in Chicago. Mr. Harris earns $40 weekly as a porter and Mrs. Harris received $40 monthly allotment from her son.

Mrs. Harris pointed out that she would be able to live with her daughter Mrs. Grady Williams while in Chicago and upon learning the local Red Cross workers bought Mrs. Harris a round trip ticket to Chicago.

Pfc. Harris has now been transferred to the Naval Hospital, Great Lakes, Ill., and reported in serious condition suffering from second degree burns. Mrs. Harris will remain with her son until he is better.

Vance YW Slates Membership Dinner

The Vance Avenue Branch Young Women's Christian Association will hold its Annual Membership Dinner Meeting on Friday, February 8th at Booker T. Washington High School.

Miss Lucie E. Campbell, one of Memphis' leading citizens will be the guest speaker. As the Theme of the meeting is "The Forward Look," Miss Campbell will use as the topic of her address, "We Have Gone Far -- And We Have Far To Go."

Miss Campbell is a veteran teacher with fifty-five years of experience in the Memphis City School System. Forty-three of these were spent at the B. T. Washington High School.

Outstanding among her many activities is her affiliation in church organizations. These include her role as National Chorister of the B. Y. P. U. and Sunday School Congress, Assistant Chorister to National Baptist Convention Women's Department and a member of the National Music Association. She is an active member of Bethesda Baptist Church, Orleans Street.

Other organizations of which Miss Campbell is affiliated are: Ruth Circle Club, Daughters of Elks, Council of Negro Women, and President of the Muscott Club.

The membership meeting is open to members and friends of the Y. W. C. A. Dinner tickets are $1.15 each. A Turkey plate will be served. Reservations may be made by phone -- JA. 6-2340 and paid two days prior to the meeting.

Every member and friend is urged to attend this important gathering when reports of the past year will be distributed and plans for the year announced.

Of particular interest to the membership will be the announcement of the new members elected to the Committee on Administration and the Nominating Committee.

Mrs. Marie L. Adams will preside. Members of the Hospitality Club will be hostesses.

1957 promises to be an eventful year for the YWCA. You'll want to be present for this important meeting to help make a successful year. Plan now to attend and be sure to bring your husband, and friends.

UN Urges South Africa To End Race Discrimination

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS) — The United Nations Assembly Wednesday urged South Africa to end its discriminatory policies toward the union's native and Indian populations.

The two resolutions were strikingly mild compared with past assembly edicts in an attempt to persuade the union government to end its boycott of the U. N. South Africa walked out of the World Organization in protest against debate on its racial policies which the union claims are strictly a domestic matter.

The assembly by a vote of 55 to five with 12 abstentions endorsing the U. S., called on Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to use his "good offices" to persuade South Africa to end its policy of racial discrimination, known as apartheid.

The 80-nation forum also approved by a vote of 42 to zero with 12 abstentions a resolution calling for negotiations between India, Pakistan and South Africa to settle the problem of the union's treatment of peoples of Indian origin.

South Africa's racial discrimination, considered much worse than that found in the United States breaks its population mainly into three categories, whites, coloureds, and natives.

Minorities do not have any sense of freedom. The native much live in quarters outside of town, and carry a pass with him at all times, or face arrest for violation of segregation laws. The coloureds who are people of mixed background, have limited freedom, but are often cast into classification of natives, as punishment. South Africa still is controlled to some degree by England, but controls its own type of government which does not even hint that all men are created equal.

Like Urges Support In Fight Against Heart Disease

WASHINGTON — Public support of the nationwide heart-attack fund is being urged by the American Heart Association.

After calling attention to "remarkable advances" made by medical science in recent years in the diagnosis and treatment of heart diseases, the President said: "It is our privilege to promote these advances by assisting our research scientists and physicians. During American Heart Month we freely give our support to those working for the health of mankind in hospitals, clinics and laboratories throughout the land. In the Federal Government's National Heart Institute, and in coordination with the American Heart Association."

His statement, addressed to the American Heart Association was presented today at a luncheon of the National Press Club in Washington at which Dr. Paul Dudley White, eminent Boston cardiologist, was the principal speaker. Dr. White will leave Washington Friday and come to Atlanta where he will be principal speaker at the annual kick-off dinner of the 1957 Georgia Heart Fund on Feb. 1.

In his statement, President Eisenhower described the heart diseases as "one of the major health problems of our time," and pointed out that these diseases affect more than ten million Americans. He said there is now the expectation that medical research will lead to greater, cut out hearts.

Making Mountains Out Of Mole-Hills

It is hardly fair for those who are avowedly bent upon any system which would lead in the direction of circumventing the Supreme Court decision outlawing segregation in the public schools...

The making of the most of a "filler" word, such as "complexes," would in the light of a fair-minded person, bear nowhere the earmarks of something thrown out for political consumption...

The implementation of the court's order is well underway and hardly any public statement is made by the President touching the country's welfare but what the thread of sincerity runs through his reference to this measure which is gradually adjusting itself...

Time Ticks Away

In an open season for the qualification for the privileges and otherwise enjoyment of the rights of full participation, unrestricted in a civil society, too much can never be said on the front of the enlistment of our people in the great cause of suffrage...

In a large measure some of the remedies lie within our own grasp; we find ourselves somewhat accountable for many of the short comings in the direction of a fair distribution of what is stored up in the public crib.

Time ticks away and with it are passing the remaining registration days. All over the state, our people are giving in taxes and filing for homestead exemptions.

Never in all history have the citizens been called upon to pay as many taxes as are folded in our provisions of life.

In this state, there are going up many huge buildings for the housing and operation of state functions.

Time ticks away. Those who complain at the fact that in the statehouse and its accompanying building facilities only a limited number of jobs are in reach of the Negro, should become greatly disturbed.

In order to be ready to contend for what we often complain, let us implore those of our fellow citizens to get up and make one step toward what will make three in turn to us by increasing our voting strength.

Alabama's Assignment Law And The Virginia Ruling

The ruling of a Virginia federal judge, U. S. District Judge Walter E. Hoffman, that Virginia's pupil placement law is "unconstitutional on its face" casts a cloud over a similar law in Alabama - the pupil assignment law.

Alabama's law, the first major legislative effort to thwart forcible integration in state public schools, grants to local boards of education broad powers for assigning pupils to schools after consideration of a variety of factors, including intellectual capacity, of the child, social background, the possible psychological effects on him and other children, etc.

Although openly proposed as a way of defeating the Supreme Court's race-mixing order, the Alabama law makes no mention of race as a basis for assignment.

We have no legal understanding of the fine points of similarity between the Virginia and Alabama laws, but they seem basically the same. Judge Hoffman, considering the legislative intent behind the Virginia act said: "The pattern is plain. The legislature has adopted procedures to defeat the Supreme Court decision.

Should the Hoffman ruling be upheld, Alabama's counterpart would seem mortally wounded. Still untested of course is the state's "freedom of choice" amendment and act, but if legislative intent is to be the basis for invalidation, this measure too would seem in doubt.

Name By Name Inspection FEDERAL GRAND JURY INSPECTS VOTER LISTS

MONROE, La. - (INS) - A federal grand jury Wednesday began a name by name inspection of voter registration rolls from the North Louisiana parishes (counties) to determine if any Negro voters had been stricken from the lists illegally.

The grand jury was called into session to determine if Civil Rights had been violated as a result of a purge of some 2,000 Negro voters, from the registration rolls.

Some 54 persons, including voter registrars from the four parishes, have been subpoenaed by the Justice Department to appear before the Grand Jury. Many of them are members of White Citizens Councils.

The Registrars had previously refused to submit their registration lists to the Grand Jury, contending that to do so would violate a state law. However, the records were submitted on an order issued by U. S. District Judge Ben Dawkins, of Shreveport.

The Grand Jury probe, severely criticized by pro-segregation groups, stemmed from a lengthy investigation by the FBI of voter registration irregularities.

King Saud of Saudi Arabia -- on his way to Washington for an official visit at the invitation of President Eisenhower -- may run into embarrassment during his three-day stay here beginning Jan. 30.

There are said to be 500,000 slaves in Saudi Arabia. The Anti-Slavery and Aborigines Protection Society, in an official report used at the United Nations anti-slavery convention in Geneva last year, branded King Saud the world's foremost patron of slavery.

During his lifetime he contributed much to the gayety of social life in Washington. He was a member of the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity and of the "What Good Are We" club which made social history in the '20s and '30s. He was witty, had a keen sense of humor, and was a good conversationalist.

In recent years he became active in politics and was an ardent Democrat and kidded Republican biggies.

In addition, he was my dentist and friend for more than 30 years. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Williams (Thelma), who were here for the inauguration flew back to Chicago Thursday. They were guests at the Willard Hotel here.

Mrs. Williams is the president of the National Association of College Women.

FARM MIGRANTS

The Office of Migratory Workers of the Mexican Inter or Department predicts that a record total of 160,000 farm laborers will go to the United States for temporary jobs during 1957.

Members of Congress already have begun to bring up the question of the treatment of Dahrhan of American military personnel. Chaplains from the nearby air base at United States built dare not walk the streets wearing the cross and no Jewish GIs are allowed.

Saud reportedly wants $300,000,000 for six years rent for the base, plus 90 F-Sabre jets.

King Saud is one of the world's richest men. His country is the fourth largest producer of crude petroleum, being exceeded only by the United States, Soviet Russia, and Kuwait - an Arab State.

The Aramco Oil, which is owned by four of the leading American oil companies, is reported to pay King Saud about $300,000,000 a year in royalties. American companies also own oil concessions in Kuwait.

There has recently been a bitter quarrel between the Sheik F. Abu Dhabi, one of the political rulers of the Persian Gulf and King Saud.

The Sheik of Abu Dhabi is a sort of protege of Great Britain, and he hires British officers to command his troops.

The dispute between him and King Saud is over the oasis of Buraimi. It was being arbitrated in Switzerland. In the midst of the arbitration, the Sheik suddenly sent his troops into the oasis, took it by force, captured the Saudi police, some 20 or 30 of them on a boat and took them up the Persian Gulf to the town of Daman and set them loose.

That caused King Saud to be furious against Great Britain because he thought the British were using the Sheik as an instrument of British imperialism. He threatened to take the case to the United Nations.

If he does the United States might find itself again on the opposite side of the table from Great Britain because it looked as if strong-arm methods were used to interrupt the arbitration.

The British accuse the King of bribery. The case may make a lot of noise soon.

American oil companies have concessions in Saudi Arabia which extend through the territory of King Saud.

If the oasis of Buraimi is found to be in Saudi Arabia, the oil rights in the territory will go to the United States company. If it is not in Saudi Arabia, the oil rights probably will go to a predominantly British company.

Despite subtlety - if there's any doubt in anybody's mind, the description appearing in the "Guide Book" issued by the Hospitality Subcommittee of the Inaugural Committee, ought to be convincing.

Recipe of the Week by Louise R. Prothro PET MILK HOME ECONOMIST

There are all sorts of quick and easy foods on grocer's shelves these days, but the real fun of cooking is in making something out-of-the-ordinary and specially good from these time-savers. Take my Pet Milk recipe for HASH SLICES WITH CREAMED PEAS, for instance.

HASH SLICES WITH CREAMED PEAS 1 lb corned beef hash 4 tablespoons flour 1 teaspoon dry mustard one-fourth cup hot fat one-half teaspoon salt few grains pepper one-lb can peas two-third cup Pet Evaporated Milk

Cut corned beef hash into 4 slices 1 inch thick. Roll slices in a mixture of 2 tablespoons flour and the dry mustard. Brown slowly on both sides in hot fat. Drain peas, saving liquid. There should be one-half cup. If not, add water to make one-half cup. Remove browned hash slices to a warm platter. Keep hot. Blend into fat left in skillet 2 tablespoons flour, the salt and pepper. Stir in liquid off peas. Boil and stir 2 minutes. Stir in the milk. Add the peas. Heat until steaming hot, but do not boil. Serve over the hash slices. Makes 4 servings.

New Census For Uganda, Africa

KAMPALA, UGANDA - (AP) - The Uganda Protectorate will take a census in 1958, for the first time in 10 years. At the last census, taken in 1948, there were slightly less than five million people in the country. Next year's count will be held in two parts. The first will cover municipalities - Uganda has two townships and trading centers. The second will cover the entire African population.

THE BLONDE DIED DANCING by KELLEY ROOS

CHAPTER 18 THERE seemed to be two doors, small kitchen. In a moment he was back. He said, "There's a service door in there. Someone could have got through it out into the hall. He must have heard me climbing the fence or breaking in the window." "Yes, he must have been in here," Jack Walston? Wendell Kipp? "You think it was a man who hit you?" "I don't know. When I heard the sound I swung out my arm backwards, like this..." "I showed Steve how I had swung out my arm. "And then..." I stopped, staring at my right hand. On my glove was a smear of vivid orange lipstick. I looked at Steve. "It was a woman," I said. "I hit her in the face." "Dottie Harris?" "Maybe, but I don't think so. She's so short. I have the feeling it was someone taller." "Someone else," Steve said slowly. "Dottie Harris, Jack Walston, Wendell Kipp. And now still another person. What is it that's so damned fascinating about this apartment?" We looked around. The living room took up most of the apartment. It was a large, rather narrow room. The long side wall that held the door to the corridor was lined with waist-high bookshelves, decorated with a series of camera studies of New York City. The opposite end was broken by doors into two bedrooms, one into the kitchen. Between the two bedroom doors was a long, lush modern couch, flanked by modern end tables. "Still examining the room, I sat on the edge of the couch; I needed a little more rest. The end wall to my right was centered by a combination desk and table. To its right was an easy chair, beside it a telephone on a low circular table. The wall at the other end was filled mostly with the giant-sized cabinet of a radio-phonograph. On each side of it was a straight-backed, matching chair. All in all, it was a very pleasant place for a bachelor girl to live. I looked at Steve and found him staring at the end table at the right of the couch. I stared at it, too. There was a crystal ash tray on it, a cigarette box, a lighter, and that was all - nothing really to stare at. I looked back at Steve. Now his attention was focused on the couch's other end table. It held a lamp, a squat cylinder of pottery with a square wooden base. There was an ash tray, too, and an aluminum dish filled with books of matches. "Connie," Steve said, "wouldn't you think there'd be a lamp on that table, too?" "Well, yes," I said. "I guess so. It needs a lamp." Steve closed in on the table, bent over it. "Look," he said, "there was a lamp on it." I looked and I saw the clear shining circle on the table top; the rest of the table's surface was covered with a film of dust. "That's right. There was a lamp." He touched the clear circle, then examined his fingers. "No dust there at all. The lamp's been taken away lately. Maybe even by the person who knocked you out." "But why? Why would anyone want to steal a lamp?" "Maybe," Steve said, "she didn't want the lamp. Maybe she wanted something that was in the shade. And if she heard me, she wouldn't have had time to get whatever it is out of the lamp. So she took the whole thing; ripped out the cord and ran." Steve moved to the other table. "Would you say it's a good bet that the lamps were a pair?" "Possibly. You can see that the bases were the same size." Steve removed the shade. It was the kind of lamp where the cord is attached to the bulb socket. He picked it up, tried to unscrew the wooden base from the pottery urn. He succeeded. He lifted the urn off its base. In the center of the base was a brass spindle. On the spindle were one, two, three reels, about the size of home movie reels. Steve slipped one of the reels off the spindle, unwound about a foot of it. "Is it a movie film?" "No." "What is it then?" "Recording tape." "Recording tape... could that be what everybody was looking for?" "It must have been. And there probably was more of it in that other lamp. We didn't give whoever was in here time enough to get at this one." "Steve, I'm dying to know what's on that tape." "I can hardly wait myself." "There must be a recorder somewhere in the apartment. Let's look around." "No, I'll pick one up at the office and we can hear it at home. I wouldn't say it was very safe around here, Connie." "I felt the lamp on my head." "You're right," I said. "Let's go." Recorded evidence sounds off its clues Monday as Chapter 19 of "The Blonde Died Dancing" continues.
