Klansman Gets 20 Years For Ala. Mutilation Attack

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — (INS) — An all-white jury convicted a Ku Klux Klansman of Mayhem and assault with intent to kill Thursday, for a mutilation attack on a Birmingham man. Joe P. Pritchett, the first of six Klan members to be tried for beating and emasculating Negro Judge (CQ) Aaron, was found guilty by the white male jury after only 20 minutes of deliberation. WORSE CASE Judge Alta King, who sentenced Pritchett to the maximum 20-year imprisonment penalty, described the crime as "the worst case I've had in my experience as an attorney and during the ten years I have been on the bench."

The attack on the 32-year-old Negro, was said to be an "integration warning" to Birmingham Negro leaders who sought to break the public school segregation barrier.

Trial date has not been set for the five other Klansmen. Each faces the same charge as Pritchett, but two have turned state's witnesses against him. John N. Griffin, testifying for the second time in the trial of an alleged accomplice, said he stood guard while the attack on 32-year-old Negro Judge (CQ) Aaron took place, and was "shocked" to learn what had happened.

SELECTED AT RANDOM Griffin said Aaron was selected at random, simply to warn Birmingham integration-leader F. L. Shuttlesworth not to proceed with plan for mixing of races. He said earlier, he had heard the defendant, Joe Pritchett, give the order to emasculate the Negro. "I believe the men intended to give Aaron a good beating," Griffin said before an all-white jury. "I impress Shuttlesworth not to integrate the schools."

The accused are being tried separately, since some of the men have turned state's evidence. Each is charged with mayhem and assault with intent to murder — punishable with 2-20 years in prison.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—The Rev. J. B. Crenshaw, 74 year old pastor of the Mount Pleasant Baptist Church and president of the Little Rock chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, is free on bond but still faces charges brought by the city council. Rev. Crenshaw surrendered to police Friday after allegedly refusing to comply with a city ordinance requiring the NAACP to produce its records. The ordinance was said to be so new that city officials were unable to determine what charges to place against him. He posted $300 and went home. The NAACP earlier last week filed a suit in federal court challenging the constitutionality of the ordinance. The new rule requires organizations which claim tax free status to reveal records bearing their membership and financial status. Officials apparently knew the names of only two NAACP officers. The other is Mrs. L. C. Bates, president of the Arkansas NAACP, who was in New York and not scheduled to return to Arkansas until Monday. (Mrs. Bates surrendered Saturday night and was placed under $300 bond.)

Roy Campanella Rumored To Get Axed By Dodgers

BY AL WHITE For (ANP)

NEW YORK — (ANP) — Before departing for their initial spade work in Los Angeles, Brooklyn Dodgers officials admitted they were looking for a catcher to take over the number one spot on the staff. This means that Roy Campanella, for years, the top mask and "hit man" in the National League, has had it. Two years in a row, Roy had had bad seasons. Last year was a slight improvement over the year before, when he hit .214 but not much. Apparently, his .249 last year was the tip off. Roy has been plagued with poor hands ever since he came up with an injured hand four years ago and a costly operation. (10,000 it was) got him back in the groove and Roy went on to become the MVP for the third time. Then chips in the hand began bothering him and he couldn't wield "Old Betsy" with his old time authority-like the year he set a home run record for catchers — and it told on the Dodgers. His slump for the second year was even more costly, coming as it did with similar slumps from

Pleasanton, Texas Integration Is Peaceful Affair

PLEASANTON, Tex. — Nine Negro pupils have been admitted to Pleasanton High School, with a welcome by white students who joined in to implement peaceful integration. It was the first integration under a new Texas law requiring a local option election. The new law, which was urged by pro-segregationists in efforts to slow down integration, has not been tested. However, the Dallas School Board, under a federal court order to integrate schools, has asked for a federal ruling on its constitutionality.

But this had no effect on the Pleasanton School district, which consists of 150 white and 37 Negro students. Integration was brought about after Supt. J. D. Kingsman, the high school principal, and the principal of the student body revealed a canvass had been made of white students and no opposition to their entrance was found. Both officials welcomed Negro students when they attended school for the first time.

The remaining Negro students in the town are elementary school pupils, and will be moved Monday to former white schools where they will be taught by Negro teachers in separate classes until contracts for those teachers expire in January.

Le Moyne Students Told To Have Faith In God

The students of Le Moyne college were told by Dr. Allen Hackett the solution to man's problems is to be found in faith, in a renewal of love of God, and in the removal of those things which keep his conscience from being clear and pure. Dr. Hackett, pastor of Pilgrim Congregational church in St. Louis, Mo., was guest speaker at the college's chapel services last Wednesday. He posed three questions to his audience: 1. "How does a man find the courage to stand up to suspicion and mistrust?" 2. "What is the solution for the man who feels he receives no response to prayer and who finds that religion does not give him warmth and joy?"

After Chairman Bruce, introduced the other members of the board, Dr. Hooper read the citations. Mrs. Eastman was unable to attend.

The gratitude of the students was expressed by Miss Gloria Wade of the senior class. LeRoy Van Johnson, president of the Memphis chapter of the Alumni Association, spoke for the alumni. Walter Chandler, a member of the board, spoke of the history of the institution, of its contribution to the community, and of the concern of the board to provide Christian liberal education.

Roy Wilkins Tells Film World To Be Realistic

LOS ANGELES—The NAACP doesn't propose to censor movie or TV scripts; it has no rule requiring the use of a Negro maid or menial appears and it is not opposed to the use of Negroes in comedy roles as such, Roy Wilkins, executive secretary, told a luncheon meeting of producers, directors, writers and actors at the Beverly Hills Hotel last Friday.

Wilkins, who met with Negro actors and actresses at the Broadway assembly room Thursday night, quoted from a letter written by Daryl Zanuck after a 1942 meeting with the late Walter White to drive home the point that the Association has been consistent in its demand that the movie makers depict the Negro in a realistic manner.

SIX MONTHS OF MEETINGS The luncheon conference was the result of six months of meetings, letter writing and conferences on the part of Rev. Maurice A. Dawkins, president of the Los Angeles NAACP, with actors and actresses here-locally, with members of the Negro Actors Guild in New York, and several conferences with Roy Wilkins in New York in August.

Among those present at the luncheon meeting were the top executives of the Hollywood Motion picture industry.

The NAACP executive Wilkins blasted rumors repeated by Negro actors that the Association has demanded withdrawal of scripts or has intervened to select particular actors for roles in pictures or TV.

German Editor Finds Jim Crow Like Hitler Days

ATLANTA, GA. — (SNS) — In many ways segregation practices towards the Negro in the South resemble oppressive tactics towards Jews and other minorities in Germany by Adolf Hitler, a former Nazi paratrooper said Thursday.

Karl Lankau, chief editor of the Lubecker Nachrichten, a metropolitan newspaper of Lubeck, Germany, made this observation Thursday while visiting Atlanta on a U. S. State Department-sponsored tour.

Lankau had been to Little Rock and talked with Gov. Faubus, while trying to get the broad perspective of America's integration-segregation picture. The German editor, who was captured in the Battle of Normandy and was a prisoner of war in the United States during the last years of World War II commented that the Little Rock affair had made Gov. Faubus "the best known American in Europe."

Boxer Wins Case On Race Status

NEW ORLEANS, La. — (INS) — Ralph Dupas, third-ranking lightweight boxing contender, emerged victorious Thursday in his lengthy legal battle to prove he is of the white race. Civil District Judge Rene A. Viosca ordered the New Orleans city health department to grant the 21-year-old boxer a delayed birth certificate listing his parents as white. The judge's decision left Dupas with a clean victory over individuals who have charged he was of the Negro race and therefore ineligible to fight white boxers in

Louisiana because of a state racial law. MASSIVE ATTEMPT The law, passed by the state legislature last year as part of a massive attempt to thwart integration efforts, prohibits racial mixing in sports and social events. The judge said his study of testimony made at a trial on Dupas' suit to obtain a white birth certificate showed the boxer's parents, Peter and Ethel Dupas to be white. ## White House Refuses To Say Stevenson Eyed For Rights Group

WASHINGTON, D. C. — (NNPA) The White House Tuesday refused to confirm or deny a report that Adlai Stevenson, twice defeated Democratic Presidential candidate, has been sounded out by the Eisenhower Administration for appointment to the new Civil Rights Commission.

Asked about the story which named Mr. Stevenson and four other nationally known men as being under consideration by the White House, James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, declined to indicate how much truth, if any was in it.

The story appeared in the New York Herald Tribune of Tuesday and said Mr. Stevenson had discussed the matter with close associates and was inclined to turn it down. As he had previously stated, Mr. Hagerty said, he expects and hopes that the commission will be appointed soon.

He remained reporters that in the past when the status of commission was pending he had not discussed with them the number of the commission until they were actually appointed and the White House was ready to announce the appointments.

The White House press secretary suggested that reporters talk with each person named in the story.

DOCTORS WARN AGAINST EARLY CURE OF CANCER
MEXICO CITY. — (INS) — The International Surgery Society closed a week-long meeting in Mexico City Saturday with a strong word of caution against false hopes for the early cure of cancer — man's most dreaded killer.

VERY HIGH
Dr. Manuel Velasco Arce of Mexico pointed out that the mortality rate "is still very high." This summed up the sentiments of all doctors at the congress.

He colleague, Dr. Horacio Alize, said that despite the use of new surgical and hormonal techniques in treating breast cancer, results have not been as encouraging as expected and hoped for.

Referring to another weapon in the cancer-fighting arsenal, Greek professor Oecononinos said radiation "temporarily" reassigned, "pending further consideration" of the case, to a desk job in the bureau of International organization affairs.

WATCH THAT DRIVING DURING WINTER SEASON

NEW YORK—Winter driving on roads piled with ice sleet and snow can be dangerous choice. Too often the accident rate rises as the temperature drops. But with proper care and precaution winter driving can be safe. Thousands of motorists drive all winter without accident adapting their driving habits to the hazards of slippery roads and freezing temperatures.

To make driving safer and easier this winter, the makers of Prestone anti-freeze have two important suggestions:
1. If the storm is raging or the roads are deep in snow or ice stay at home if you can. Avoid any unnecessary driving.

WATCH THOSE BRAKES
Try your brakes after you have driven a few minutes. Even if they are in perfect condition, moisture may have condensed on the linings and drums; trying them out will dry them. Keep a high quality, heavy duty fluid in the brakes for efficient winter performance.

EXERT CARE, STAY ALERT
Winterizing your driving habits means you must exert more care stay alert on the road and maintain slower speeds.

Before you start, make sure your windshield and windows are clean. If you can't see, you can't drive. Make sure your wipers work properly a windshield washer solvent in the water jars will help the squirts work in cold weather. Wipe off the inside of all windows before you start. Don't leave snow on side or back windows.

Test the "feel" of the road as you start to find out how icy and slippery it is. On icy pavements, tires lose all but a fraction of their grip, making it impossible to break to a sudden stop. Watch out for melted snow or ice. Remember what happens to an ice cube: when you first take it out of the refrigerator, it is sticky but after melting a few minutes, its slippery. It can take over twice the distance to stop your car at 32 degrees than at zero temperatures.

Stay safely behind the car ahead of you on the road. Hugging the car in front merely cuts down your vision. It takes a 12 times as far to stop on snow and ice as on dry pavement so give yourself plenty of room in case you must make a quick stop.

To prevent spinning your wheels in snow or mud, accelerate gently if your car has automatic transmission. On gear shift cars, start in second gear, this cuts down the power applied to the wheels and allows smoother acceleration.

If you skid, don't freeze and jam your breaks this will only increase your skid. Pump your brakes gently and turn the steering wheel in the direction of the skid.

Shortage Of Teachers Noted By Government

WASHINGTON — Half of the young men and women who began teaching in the United States last year expect to stop teaching within five years, a nationwide sampling by the U. S. Office of Education has revealed.

"In view of the serious teacher shortage, such a high rate of loss among younger teachers poses a serious problem," Commissioner of Education Lawrence G. Derthick said in commenting on the survey. "Not only is the country losing a large number of qualified teachers after just a few years of teaching but many young men and women who are trained to teach fail to take teaching positions, Commissioner Derthick added. Thirty percent of those who were graduated in 1956 with qualifications to teach did not enter the teaching profession.

PARTIAL SOLUTION

"Some of the teachers who leave the profession will return to teaching," the Commissioner said, "but that is only a partial solution. At the beginning of this school year, there was a shortage of approximately 135,000 qualified teachers, a fact that has serious implications for education of America's boys and girls."

Only 28 percent of the men teachers and 14 percent of the women teachers involved in the survey said they planned to make a life work of classroom teaching. A much larger proportion of the men — 49 percent — said they planned to remain in the teaching profession but hoped to move on from classroom teaching to other positions, such as administration and supervision. Only 8 percent of the women indicated such plans.

Marriage was teaching's strongest competitor among the women questioned, 53 percent saying they expected to leave teaching in order to devote their time to homemaking but that they would want to return to teaching eventually.

The survey shows that of the teachers who began their careers during the 1950-57 school year, 38 percent were men and 62 percent women. Of the men 65 percent were married, as compared with 44 percent of the women. The median age of the men was 25.5 years and of the women 22.8 years. The survey showed a marked preference among the men — 68 percent — for teaching in secondary schools, and an even stronger preference among the women — 71 percent — for teaching at the elementary level.

Doctor Says Day-To-Day Diet Factor Back Of Length Of Life

By WILLIAM LEVY

CLEVELAND, (INS)—A prominent Cleveland doctor asserted Thursday that a person's day-to-day diet plays a principal role in determining how long he lives.

Dr. Joseph T. Goodman, medical director of the Cuyahoga County Nursing Home, declared at the 10th Annual Scientific Meeting of the Gerontological Society in Cleveland that both obesity and malnutrition play a large part in the disabilities of later life.

OBESITY APPEARS

"Obesity appears to increase significantly the occurrence of diabetes, gangrene, congestive heart failure and possibly cerebral-vascular accidents," Dr. Goodman said.

"It has been recognized for some time that excess weight exerts a deleterious effect upon cardiac function. Overweight must be viewed as a serious problem in the aged population."

Dr. Goodman said there is no doubt that malnutrition also is an important factor in the elderly. "The causative factors involved in undernutrition are multiple — physical, psychiatric and sociologic," he said.

"In every community, there are old or infirm people living alone, who time after time, must be readmitted to the hospital or other institutions simply because they are unable to obtain proper food or care for themselves at home.

"Most people care nothing about either health or nutrition as long as they feel reasonably well and can satisfy their tastes."

Earlier, in a symposium on biological sciences, Dr. Morris Rockwell, associate professor of physiology at New York University, said he believes the future will produce its share of centenarians, but mankind cannot hope for any "Methuselahs."

He said that in the case of human populations, little change has resulted in the life expectancy of individuals entering the period of so-called later senescence (over 65) despite the fact the medical profession has been able to suppress childhood diseases frequently leading to death or permanent ill effect.

SOCIAL WELFARE

Meanwhile, Dr. Ellen Winston, Commissioner of the North Carolina State Board of Public Welfare, pointed out in a social welfare section that "the deficit in personnel with special training for understanding the particular needs of older people is tremendous."

"We have not yet geared our training programs to any extent to preparing people for specialized services to older people," she said.

"If we can begin through specialized training and experience to build up a large group of persons with special skills in this area, we will be able to promote more realistic and effective programs to meet the wide range of problems faced by older people."

"Meals on wheels," home nursing and day centers are the types of specialized services that deserve increasing attention in assessing and planning community welfare programs for the aged, she said.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — (ANP) — For the past five years the inhabitants of the Province of Cyrenica, Libya have looked to a Florida A&M University graduate for guidance and supervision in improving their livestock industry which provides their principal income.

Since 1952 James W. Ford, son of Mrs. Lula Ford of Tallahassee, Fla., has served as livestock adviser to the Cyrenican Department of Agriculture under the auspices of the U. S. sponsored by the International Cooperation Administration. Ford is now on a three-month leave, having completed his second tour of duty in Libya which began in February, 1955.

Prior to Ford's arrival in Benghazi, capital of Cyrenica, in September, 1952, nothing existed in terms of a livestock program or organization, although the department of agriculture had for a number of years recognized the need for one. Lack of action was prompted by two principal factors — the shortage of Libyans trained in the field of animal husbandry and the shortage of funds for a livestock program.

In 1953 the United States technical aid program provided the Central Libyan Government with funds with which to launch a functional livestock program designed to introduce improved practices to growers to guide them in developing and raising better stock. Ford was appointed livestock adviser.

Insurance Executive Re-Elected Chairman Clark Advisory Group

ATLANTA, GA. — (SNS) —

An Atlanta insurance man has been re-elected chairman of the Clark College Advisory Council, and six other persons have also retained their posts in the organization of business men and women which assists the college in various capacities.

They are: O. Ray Moore, chairman; George Goodwin, vice chairman; and Mrs. Stephen G. Pugh, secretary. J. C. Shelton, W. E. Mitchell, Henry Bowler and R. J. Whitaker were re-named to the executive committee of the council.

The purpose of the six-year-old council is to stimulate interest in the college and its work. Dr. James P. Brawley, Clark president, said it has been most valuable to the college to have a group of top businessmen of the city of Atlanta having the college and its work known by them.

with another name, makes homelessness, unsatisfied hunger, needless sickness and most of all havoc and chaos, immediately due to ignorance. What then?

We disciples of Christ, must attack selfishness. We must throttle the beast and free the angel in us. How? The answer is "through Christ." Jesus mastered selfishness in His own soul. He has empowered others to fight a winning war with selfishness in their souls. His power is not spent. He offers His power to all. He offers His power upon the sole condition that we trust and obey Him, that we honor and worship Him.

We are to make disciples of all men. Thus to win men and women, boys and girls everywhere to Him is to bring them to "the hate of hate, the scorn of scorn and the love of love."

Yes, make disciples of all men and Jesus will be with us to the end of time and throughout eternity.

WOULD ANYONE LIKE THIS KIND OF LIFE?

Atlanta—Thanks for such maturity of thought and flawless presentation which has been exemplified in Ralph McGill's columns.

May I propose a game for the segregationists? Suppose you are a Negro in a Southern progressive city — search the ads for employment, board a bus, report efficiently to work realizing that there is no advancement for you, bear the brunt of insulting remarks. Or explain to your children why you don't take them to the zoo or to a local TV children's program.

Send your children to inferior schools, receive a yellow tax slip, wonder what the white clergy is saying to their "converted" members as to the Golden Rule, love the South and entertain no thoughts of leaving.

Desegregation to me means freedom from such restrictions and full participation in community activities — not intermarriage or being invited to your home.

MRS. A. J. GORDON.

UGLY INCIDENTS IN MIXING RECALLED

The Editors: As a Southerner who lived in the North a couple of years, I saw integration in the schools there and also some ugly incidents.

As for Southern tradition being moldy, as a letter said, I believe that is used in the medical world to made penicillin. Maybe it would do our Northern friends good to have a shot.

LAURA SIMPSON.

DOES ALL THIS HELP COLORED ADVANCE?

The Editors: To me the most tragic consequence of the segregation problem is what it is doing to our young people, black and white.

Hate is being bred on both sides, and from hate comes war and crime.

No parent with a vestige of love for his child would force him into an situation where he would be subjected to tears, catcalls and even blows. The colored parents are making martyrs of their children for a misguided cause propagated by politicians seeking the Negro vote.

It is not for the so-called noble reason of "advancing" the colored race.

The colored race has made and will make great advancement—with help of the white race. But with existing conditions, they will get no help.

MRS. BESS BARBER.

Atlanta.

Bantamweights Dominate Weekly TV Boxing Card

By International News Services

A world bantamweight title bout between champion Alphonse Halimi of France and Raul (Raton) Macias of Mexico City, features this week's nationally televised boxing program.

The 16-round title bout takes place Wednesday night (ABC) at Wrigley Field in Los Angeles.

The 25-year-old Halimi who has been in North Africa but has lived in France since he was 10, is making the first defense of the world crown he won last April 1 when he defeated Mario D'Agata.

Halimi, making his U. S. debut, has won 20 of 21 fights. Macias won the NBA title when he beat Chamren Songklrat in 1955. Ramon, 23 has won 31 of 32 of his bouts since turning pro in 1953, 19 by knockouts.

Middleweights open the week's program Monday night (Dumont) at St. Nicholas Arena in New York. Ace Armstrong of Elizabeth, N. J.; unbeaten in 12 fights, meets veteran Randy Sandy of New York in the featured ten rounder.

Featureweight contenders Davey Moore of Springfield, O., and Jose Coto of Los Angeles, fight a ten rounder Friday night (NBC) at the new Capitol Arena in Washington, D. C.

Jamaica Land Plan Gives Govt. Share

By Wilbert E. Hemming For (ANP)

KINGSTON, Jamaica — (ANP) — One of the most drastic land laws described as the Land Development Bill, is to be enacted by the People's National Party government of Jamaica. The law is designed to dig into the profits of land-owners who sell their properties for much more than they bought for, and will chop a 25 percent hunk off the gross selling figure for the Government.

Monte spoke from knowledge. Athletics have more democracy than the church on Sabbath morning. Integrated competition has blazed paths that our churches are unwilling to tread. . .

Athletics have keynoted the highest type of Americanism. It is only in sports where a man generally is rated of his ability to handle ball, stick, glove, complex play and rugged situation without the factor of color being involved. . .

What would be the lot of the Negro in the United States if he had waited for the church to dramatize his struggle for firstclass citizenship? It is an exhilarating reflection that athletics have for a long time emphasized the concept of the Sermon on the Mount while our psalm-singing, bible-toting stand-patters cry the time is not ripe. . .

In the land of the brave and the home of the free the surest qualification for success is ability. Sports have found this to be so. Monte Irvin is right. . .

Savannah State Plays Favored Albany State Rams To 6-6 Tie

By James L. O'Neal

SAVANNAH — Underdog Savannah State played favored Albany State to a 6-6 tie as the arch Georgia rivals renewed their traditional series in slugfest-style here on Saturday.

The SSC Tigers picked to lose by a two-touchdown margin stunned the favored Rams with a second quarter 80-yard pass interception and although the Rams knotted the count with a tally of their own in the fourth stanza, savagely slammed through to send the apparent winning conversion bywide of the goal posts.

Savannah State had been felled by Florida Normal 32-6 and Morris College 9-0. The Tigers best effort has been a 6-6 tie with Edward Waters, but the souped-up Tigers refused to play dead for Albany State who suffered its second defeat last week to Claflin 6-0. The Rams bowed to Edward Waters 13 to 9.

The Tigers anxious to please a partisan campus crowd showed they meant business as Moses King intercepted Ram quarterback Frank Ferrell's errant heave and picked up a horde of downfield blocks and galloped 80-yards to score with 50 seconds remaining in the second quarter. Sammy White's run-option play for the extra point was grounded and the Tigers had a 6-0 halftime advantage.

The Tigers and Rams played a scoreless third period although the breaks repeatedly smiled on the Savannah Eleven. Playing for the Game-cracking advantage the team exchanged kicks that were always shy of scoring yardage.

Albany State got its big chance in the fourth quarter. John Smith of the Rams broke through the baffled Tiger defense to block Moses King's quick kick on third down, and the ball was placed down on the 5.

On the next play Farrell, quick-hit the end for five yards and a TD. As the crowd waited with suppressed anxiety, halfback Willie Lester lofted a placement kick. It was wide and the score remained deadlocked 6-6.

Savannah State mounted the pressure on the Rams in the remaining minutes of the game. King, after the Tigers had fought off a Ram scoring threat with some two minutes left in the game, kicked to Albany, where a fumble on the eight gave Savannah possession of the ball. Four thrusts against the Ram line failed to net a first down and the Tigers' Golden-chance to win with seconds to play went overboard.

Outstanding for Savannah State were Willie Bachelor, who carried nine times for 90 yards, and Henry Wesley, who had six tries for 31 yards.

On defense, John Johnson, 210-pound senior tackle and 230-pound Floyd Walker, and Linebacker John Price, were outstanding.

Frank Farrell, Willie Lester, and Willie Troy were outstanding for the Rams.

Scoring by Periods:
Savannah State 0 6 0 0 - 6
Albany State 0 0 0 6 - 6

Promising newcomers include: George Bookard, of Hempstead, N. Y.; John Lowe, Chattanooga, Tenn.; and Marvin Thomas, of St. Louis, Mo. Ike Parker and James Middlebrooks will join the squad after football season ends.

MORRIS BROWN OPENS AT FORT VALLEY STATE

Coach Greenley's Morris Brown Purple Wolverines will embark on their 1957-58 hardwood grind by pairing-off with the Fort Valley State College Wildcats on December 2, at Fort Valley, Ga., and will clash with the Tuskegee Institute Golden Tigers on December 4, at Tuskegee Ala. After the Georgia Invitational, the Wolverines play Allen University, at Columbia, S. C.; and Fisk University, at Nashville, Tenn., on December 9 and 11. Missing from the new Morris Brown quint will be George Williams and Howard Glover, high-scoring last year's varsity, so Coach Greene will build the 1957-58 team around Curtis Bell, Robert Myles, Willie Rivers, John Alexander and Harold Menefee. Russell Ellington and Charles Bolden will join the squad when the current grid season is over.

LUCY LANEY TOPS TURNER WITH 14-0 WIN

Atlanta, Ga. - (SNS) -

The Lucy Laney Wildcats from Augusta, harassed by penalties and bad breaks, downed Turner High 14-0, to toll the Wolves' homecoming celebration in Herndon Stadium Friday night.

Lucy Laney triple-threat quarterback Jesse Woodward plunged into the end zone late in the second quarter for the first score. Rayford Kelly kicked the extra point. Woodward, assisted by halfback "Gallop" Dinkens set up the second marker and scored at the beginning of the fourth period on an 8 yard run. The Laney signal-caller also ran the extra point.

William Walker sparked the Wolves to several mild threats, but they were nipped in the bud by a strong Laney line. The victorious Wildcats, staging several fancy line-ups on the field, received applause from the partisan crowd.

During halftime ceremonies, Turner High saluted its homecoming queen, Miss Shirley Willingham, and her attendants.

Getting Down To The Appointment Of A Civil Rights Commission

Rightly so, the President of the United States is taking some time out in a study of the proper persons for the important post of the Civil Rights Commission.

His fairness is evident in that he is desirous of having a cross-section of the country represented by the best men available and who, by their peculiar fitness would bring up the dignity of this well intentioned commission.

There is also the requirement that both parties will be represented on the commission. In that no partisan politics should creep in to mar the effectiveness of the mission designed to meet a long-felt need in this country.

While the President can be depended upon in the wisdom by which he will appoint the personnel, it would not be out of place for a suggestion that the Negro group be represented on the commission on a cross-section basis.

The President has already expressed concern of Southern representation; the having of an impartial voice from the South, understanding southern problems and appeals. It would be therefore consistent with his aims and purposes for our racial group to come in on such an important agency meant to represent both sections and parties.

It is hoped that the commission will be set up and ready to sit on questions and inquiries immediately after the next convening of the Congress.

The President is biding his time in an effort to get the best persons available for this important task.

A Call To Scientific Minds

It cannot be denied that the Russian "Sputnik" touched off a virtual renaissance in which science will hold the spotlight for quite a long time. In the race of nations, spurred by the psychology of this strange portent of the sad news of impending war, it is but natural that their every resource be alerted to finding the most inventive minds to cope with the serious situation so obvious on every front.

The papers are carrying somewhat of a call for those inventive minds which might be applied to the study of uninvited gadgets and implements suited for the prosecution of defense campaigns. Such appliances as would keep soldiers warm in zero weather, and machinery suited to climb ice glaciers are among the inventions wanted.

Here truly is a feast for inventive minds; genius of this nature will hum on this field and there is bound to come more visitors like "Sputnik" and her satellites.

The culling for these minds naturally would be at the local level; at many of those levels only those who could be trained in the technical schools of the states and who, in spite of their inventive prowess would conform to certain color schemes.

With one group seeking out inventive minds on one hand and on the other, those inciting racial strife and hysterically crying "it will never happen here," how is it conceived that such an objective as is sought can come into reality for the defense of a philosophy and a way of life, already at war within themselves?

A Court Decision Washed Him White

When the strange freaks of human intuition and ambiguous redundancy are rehearsed to such a future as we face, there will be found one involving a ranking lightweight contender who won a suit in a court battle in New Orleans enabling him to live and contend for his title as a white man. Otherwise, he would have encountered a Louisiana law which forbids mixed-bouts.

For the records, somehow the boxer had been listed where he was brought up in New Orleans French Quarter as colored. His contest in the courts brought a ruling in which the birth record was changed to white.

Had the decision been otherwise, declaring his parents Negro, he would not have been allowed to contend for his title in the state of Louisiana.

The boxer's name is Ralph Dupas, his character was not questioned, neither his religion, his politics nor his size. What mattered, he had been listed as the son of Negro parents, something over which he had no choice of control. Nevertheless there was a penalty up for somebody because of this social infraction — maybe the reprisal was meant for God, who doubtless took the blame.

Anyway, the only point at issue is the listing of this incident which might cause still further mystery in that the same record will disclose that segregation of the races had long been outlawed; that no citizen under the existing Constitution was to be denied these rights, privileges and the pursuit of happiness on the grounds of creed, color or previous condition of servitude. As to his title, that some law held that no person be deprived his rights without due process of law. The Dred Scott decision held that he (Scott) was not a person at that time — under the law; but Ralph Dupas was "made" a person under the 14th Amendment, and in addition to that under the decision outlawing segregation, May 17th, 1954, he was fool-loose and free and unrestricted in his circulation in a free society. Still, those who come to live after us might further ponder how on earth could a court decision made a man white. Well, it did.

Russian Woman Reports Discovery To Cure Asian Flu

By ED DIAMOND

WASHINGTON — (INS) — A Soviet woman doctor Wednesday claimed Russia has developed a quick acting, cheap and highly effective "cure" for the Asian flu. Dr. A. K. Shubladze, of the Institute of Virology in Moscow, said the cure is a powder made from horse serum and inhaled in the nostrils, like snuff.

Dr. Shubladze said drug stores in the Soviet Union have ample stocks of the powder right now to take care of the needs of Russia's 205 million citizens.

She said the powder is sold without a prescription and costs one ruble (25 cents) for three doses. It is sniffed in sufficient quantities when the flu is just getting started, she said, the virus is quickly and effectively knocked out.

ACADEMY OF SCIENCE The doctor made her claims at a news conference at the National Academy of Sciences in Washington. The conference was held for a delegation of six Russian scientists visiting U. S. Medical institutions under a state department exchange arrangement.

A vivacious, dark-eyed and matronly woman, Dr. Shubladze was described as the leading Soviet expert and the developer of a vaccine that has achieved modest results against the ravages of multiple sclerosis.

She, like each of the other Soviet women scientists who were dressed in a modestly cut but conservative dark blue suit with a contrasting white blouse.

Dr. Shubladze said Soviet scientists have developed a live-virus vaccine to prevent Asian flu, but it is not now available in sufficient quantities to give the public protection against the new virus. For this reason, she said Soviet scientists developed the horse serum powder.

and state health officials for the all-important birth certificate after the city health department refused to grant him the document, maintaining he was of the Negro race. Testimony at the trial brought out that the confusion over Dupas' race arose from the fact that his mother was attended by a mid-wife at the time of his birth and the event was not properly recorded with health officials.

STATE ATHLETIC COMMISSION

The question of Dupas' racial origin arose early this year when the charges were brought before the State Athletic Commission that Dupas was Negro. The commission at first refused to recind permits allowing Dupas to fight white boxers because there was "no evidence presented" to prove he was Negro.

However, the commission last April ordered Dupas to clear up the question of his race by presenting a birth certificate. In his court fight, Dupas maintained he was raised as a white person, attended white schools and that all his sisters and brothers were registered as white.

A Miss Lucile Gravalot, a former postmistress in Plaquemine parish (county) brought the original charges against Dupas, and other witnesses, that the fighter was related to persons of Negro blood.

Tubman Administration In Liberia Is Praised

WASHINGTON—David M. Thomas, cultural counselor and student advisor of the Liberian Embassy in Washington, D. C., said that the progress and development of his country under President Wm. V. S. Tubman's administration have been phenomenal, the Houston Post reported recently.

On a combination vacation and official business trip Mr. Thomas visited Liberian students in North Carolina, Texas and Minnesota.

Thomas was in Texas visiting the 16 Liberian students enrolled at the Prairie View Agricultural and Mechanical college, part of the 300 now receiving training in the United States under Liberia's foreign scholarship program.

WOMEN GET SUFFRAGE Schools and hospitals have been opened throughout the country, roads are being built, women have been given suffrage and the indigenous population has been brought into the political life of the country, Thomas told the Houston Post.

He pointed out further that Liberia is an active participant in the United Nations. President Tubman feels that Liberia does not have the skills or capital at this time to develop the country's resources, which are particularly untapped and is pursuing an open door policy to encourage the investment of foreign private capital. Thomas said PUREST IRON ORE Liberian iron ore, he pointed out, has an iron content of 70 percent, the purest in the world.

While at Prairie View Thomas spoke to 2,000 students assembled at vespers services. Thomas discussed Liberia's progress also before Houston's Chamber of Commerce, saying, among other things that Liberia is America's first and best friend in Africa and offers a classic example of the Negro's adaptability and ability to govern himself.

The guest in Houston of Dr. C. W. Pemberton, Liberian vice consul, Thomas visited the leading educational institutions there, including Texas Southern University.

money nor the inclination to act as "We have neither the time, the Planning Committee. He has been a censor bureau," he said.

At the same time Wilkins made it plain that the NAACP "does not propose to abdicate its responsibility to the Negroes of the nation" to criticize films or TV scripts which it believes to be offensive.

INDUSTRY SAID BEHIND Pointing to the fact that Negroes are participants in almost every phase of American life, Wilkins said that the movie industry was "lagging behind American life" in its sparing use of Negro actors in many roles.

"Negroes make up crowds on the streets, at baseball games, in the factories and in almost every place that Americans gather, yet we see such scenes on TV or in the films, we rarely see a Negro face," he said pointedly.

He added that integration in the armed services, in schools and in industry offer the opportunity for use of Negro actors in situations that will combat false communist propaganda.

"It would be worse than silly for us to object to the use of a Negro in a comedy role," Wilkins told the luncheon meeting. "Our past objections stemmed from the fact that these roles were stereotypes and that Negroes were never shown in a "yother light."

The National board will issue a policy statement in the near future.

Report 57 State Schools Closed By Flu Epidemic

ATLANTA, GA. — (SNS) — At least 57 schools in the state are now out of session because of the flu epidemic. Seven schools in Pickens County shut down Tuesday.

Other schools have been closed in Sumter County, Clayton County, Americus, Hogansville and Harris County. Several schools were opened Monday after being closed all last week.

State Department of Education officials met Wednesday afternoon to discuss the flu epidemic and its effect on education.
