

Parents Ask NAACP Help In School

LeRoy Clark, president of the local NAACP, revealed this week that parents of sev-eral suspended city school children have appealed to the NAACP for help "in getting their children reinstated." The suspensions grewout of recent school boycotts and dis turbances.

Mr. Clark said "These con plaints have been referred to our attorneys to be taken ... up with the courts."

He added: "It is the feeling of the NAACP that the students should be in school rather out while waiting for hearings. From the complaints filed in our office, it seems that some pupils are assumed to be guilty until proven to be innocent of charges that have been placed against them which is entirely contrary to our system of justice.

"It seems rather inconsis-tent that during the time when thousands of parents kept their children out of school, in protest of the school system's policies of racial discrimination, the Board of Education was then exhorting the import ance of children being in school while now at a time when parents are trying to get their children back in school the Board is barring their reentry." E. C. Stimbert, superintendent of the Memphis City schools, replied by saying: "No childhas been suspended without an investigation. Their parents, most of them, have been in consultation with of-ficials at the Board of Education. "Many, many children have already already been taken back in school. Those who are permanently suspended have been involved in vandalism, in insulting a teacher and other a sit-in last spiring in the of-fice of Dr. Cecil C, Hum-phreys, president of Memphis State University, are scheduled to be arraigned in Crimin-al Court next month. All of the 109 participants were indicted April 29.

Thirty-two of the indicted persons will be arraigned in Criminal Court, Jan. 13-14. Arraignment of the remaining 77 is expected to take place be fore the end of January, accor ding to Criminal Court Clerk James A. Blackwell. About 10 of the indicted students have now been graduat-ed, the MSU relations office reported.

Eight and a half months will have passed before the first ar raignment in this case. This legal procedure is a preliminy to the setting the trial date The 109 were indicted on the ary misdemeanor charge of "illegaily taking possession of a public school house ... or any educational building." The maximum punishment is

$1,000 fine and 11 months and 29 days in prison. The MSU disciplinary committee ordered deferred suspensions of the students after the sit-in, with the understand ing they could, with good behavior, continue classes. Atty. Walter Bailey, who re presents some of the indicted

students, is expected to test the constitutionality of the law under which the indictments were returned. The defense may also maintain that the de monstrators were exercising their constitution right of peti tion. If the defense asks a jury trial for each defendant, it would mean a bogged - down court for several months. The demonstration on nart of black student leade at Memphis State began after they failed to get a grant $1,750 from the University to bring Adam Clayton Powell here for a speaking engage -ment. Dr. Humphreys advised the leaders at the time the university did not have funds to bring in additional speakers. Other requests then grew out of this, including demands for more instructors, black athletes and black studies.

The most home e Library...The most b tiful thing I can tell you is that Miss Price was there, and sat on the platform with the college faculty ... wearing her academic robe.

The famed Metropolitan Star, who made history with the opening of the new Metropolitan Opera House at Lin-coln Center, New York, said that she was overwhelmed.... and it was easy to see that her eyes were filled with tears. She was humble with gratitude and said that she accepted the honor with the honor that also belongs to her beloved and pre cious mother..her late beloved father and to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holmes (a couple who assisted her in school) She dedicated the building to the hope of all of us., and I quote "Our Youth." She then sang "This Light of Mine, I'm going to Let It Shine." Miss Price was presented by Mr. Henry Clay, Jr. whose idea the libra

These two chapters at the beginning of Luke's gospel are a picture book story. The pictures are delightful. The appearance of an angel to the aged priest Zechalah; the annunciation to Mary; the meet ing of Mary and Elizabeth; the street scene in Bethlehem; no room in the inn, the nativity; the angels and the shep-herds. It is a lovely story because of the pictures.

It is lovely because it is told with tenderness and sym-pathy. Luke has the delicate touch of a great literary artist. Please read these two chapters.

an orderly fashion. Please read the first and second chapters of Luke,

It is a lovely story because of the charm of two Jewish women, Elizabeth and Mary. Mary was a peasant girl of Galilee. Elizabeth was theaged wife of a humble priest. They were humble cousins, not princesses in a palace, training and adoring their sons, Jesus and John. Please read Luke one and two. It is a lovely story because of its poverty, the magnificent song of Marv, bene-dictus the song of Zecharlah, Nunc-Dimittis, the Song of Simeon. Yes, before Christmas comes in 1969 read these two chapters.

It is a lovely story because of the elements of wonder and surprise. There is the mys-tery of the angel's appearance to Zechariah, his speechlessness, his recovery; the wonder of the annunciation to Mary; the surprise of the Shepherds at the appearance of the angels; the wonder of the night scene in the stable. Make it a must: read the first two chapters of Luke.

It is a lovely story because-the characters belong to thecommon people of the land. Please read this lovely story. It is a lovely story because of the joyous hopefulness of the angels' song: "Giory To, God in the Highest, And on Earth Peace, Goodwill Toward Men." Let all men, women and children read this wonderful story.

It is a wonderful story be cause it centers in a little child. Can it be that this little baby is to become the savior of the world? It seems impossible: but it is true. Wonder

IDEAS FOR XMAS COOKIE TREATS

For quick family treats, holiday entertaining or gifts, here are some ideas for decorating those cookies you have on the pantry shelf. With a little imagination and effort, you can change just plain cookies into exciting Christmas treats. And they make real treats for the entire family. (From Ethel's Cookery)

Cold days in Scotland make people come inside to the warm and friendly atmospheres of Scottish homes. And as everyone knows, you don't have to be in Scotland to have icy cold wea-ther. When family or friends come in from the cold, welcome them with warm Scotch Porridge Pudding.

True to Scotch Porridge, oats are used to give toasty nut-like flavor to Scotch Porridge Pudding. Apples, raisins and spices add further delicious flavor. Serve with milk or cream the way they do in Scotland.

- 4 cups peeled apple a (about ½ inch) 2 tablespoons butter 2 tablespo or margarine cup firmly pa
 - brown sugar 1/2 cup raisins 2 teacher

Heat oven to moderate (350°F). Stir oats into briskly bolling salted water. Cook 1 minute for quick oats, stirring occasionally; cook 5 minutes for old fashioned oats. Cover pan; set aside.* Saute apples in butter over medium heat 4 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add sugar; cook over low heat, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Remove from heat; stir in raisins and pumpkin pie spice.

Starting with the oatmeal and ending with the fruit mixture alternate layers of oatmeal and fruit mixture in a greased 2 quart baking dish or casserole. Bake uncovered in preheated oven (350°F) 20 to 25 minutes or until edges bubble vigorously Serve warm with milk or cream.

Serve warm with milk of cream. "The oatmeal may be cooked ahead of time, covered and refrigerated until used. If cold oatmeal is used, stir oatmeal before layering in casserole and bake 30 to 35 minutes.

Why does some hair break off when combing?

Your hair is precious and delicate... and none of us like to see it break off for any reason. Scientists tell us that excessive use of hot combs and over-processing of hair with chemicals often are major causes of brittleness resulting in hair breakage. But hair that is naturally currly and tangles easily frequently breaks off in everyday combing. Notice how irritated your scalp becomes when you comb in contrast to the way your beautician does? Your professional beautician knows that curly hair mats and tangles so easily that it should be softened before combing.
