By Elvira Snodgrass,
Raving Reporter

The second semester of the African Trade School ended, and we had three glorious months to spend in travel. So on one hot, sticky day in June we started from Bongo Bongo by safari.

Possessing the inability to ascertain the essence of skilled horsemanship, my ride was a difficult one. Besides I wasn't riding a horse; it was a bareback jackass. And to top it all off—I'm knock-kneed. After crushing the ribs of three donkeys, I decided to finish the journey on foot. This was dangerous because you really have to watch your step in the jungle with the thousands of wild animals, especially if you are barefooted. Some say it's more hazardous than going barefooted in a chicken yard.

Heavens! Trouble Ahead.

In order to get to Congo Land we had to travel through the territory of hostile pygmies. To be on

Eta Sigma Phi Elects Officers

Elected President of Eta Sigma Phi, National Honorary Classical Languages fraternity, was Carolyn Shettlesworth, Memphis sophomore. Other officers, elected Wednesday, March 8, are Jerry Evans, Vice-president; Ann Vines, Secretary; Charlotte Hogsett, Treasurer, and Young Kul Roh, Sergeant-at-Arms.

Eta Sigma Phi each year selects students for membership who have done outstanding work in Greek or Latin. Those selected for Greek must make at least a "B" in Greek 21; for Latin, a student must be enrolled in Latin 35 and have a "B" average. Those filling these requirements must also be recommended by their professor and approved by the members of Eta Sigma Phi.

The Bridge Tournament has been postponed indefinitely due to the prior scheduling of a discussion group Thursday. The tournament will probably be held sometime in May.

Quartet-Sextet Sing Trophies Won by Kappa Delta, Sigma Nu

Winners of the Student Council-sponsored Quartet-Sextet Sing Thursday night were Kappa Delta sorority and Sigma Nu fraternity. Engraved loving cups were presented as trophies. These were accepted by Joan Waggoner and Larry Kennon, presidents of the two winning groups.

The activity was sponsored in order to raise funds for Southwestern's proposed Student Center, and is the first of a series of planned events planned for this purpose.

The program was emceed by Allen Reynolds and judged by Mr. Harlo McCall and Mr. Earl Morland. The sophomore class was in charge of the proceedings. Additional entertainment was provided by Jerry Duncan at the piano before the program began and while the judges were deciding the winners.

Winning Entries

Winning songs for Kappa Delta were "While Strolling Through the Park One Day" and "In the Still of the Night." "Laura Lee," "These Foolish Things" and "Coney

Parties Held Tonight By Frosh and Sophs

Tonight the long awaited Freshmen and Sophomore Class parties will be held after weeks of planning and preparation.

"Let's Go Calypso"

The freshman party, under the direction of chairman Marily Davis, will be held in the gym from 7:30 until 11. Their theme is "Let's Go Calypso," and in accordance with this idea Bermudas are considered appropriate attire. Margaret McGavock, Judy Glisson, and Colin Heath will provide the entertainment and Marcy Ruyl is in charge of refreshments. Other committee chairmen include Mary Elizabeth McCaren and Leslie Smith, publicity, and Suelyn Scott, decorations.

New names on the "Sou'wester" editorial staff this semester are Jocelyn Agnew, Barbara Swaim, and Joan Adams. Jocelyn, freshman KD from Atlanta, Georgia, will serve as News Editor. She has formerly been Music Reporter and Office Manager on the Sou'wester staff.

'Sou'wester' Staff Gains New Blood

New names on the "Sou'wester" editorial staff this semester are Jocelyn Agnew, Barbara Swaim, and Joan Adams. Jocelyn, freshman KD from Atlanta, Georgia, will serve as News Editor. She has formerly been Music Reporter and Office Manager on the Sou'wester staff.

New Circulation Manager, Barbara Swaim, is a Chi O from Pine Bluff, Arkansas. A freshman, she has worked in the Circulation Department during the past year.

Joan Adams, who has been a member of the Sou'wester office staff, will serve as Organization Editor. She is a freshman KD from Little Rock, Arkansas.

Also added to the Sou'wester staff this semester are Mike Stoakes, Bill Talmage and Butch Kimbro in the Sports Department, Mickey Wooten, and Marily Davis in the Circulation Department, and Alice Norvell, Susie Bracewell, Becky Davis, Pat Eason, and Sandra Hubert.

"Island Baby" proved the winning combination for Sigma Nu.

Other Fraternity Entries

Other fraternity entries were Kappa Alpha and Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Kappa Alpha's numbers included "Deep River" and "Surrey With the Fringe on Top." The SAE quartet sang a medley, beginning and ending with "In the Evening by the Moonlight," "Laura" and "My Funny Valentine."

Other Sorority Songs

The other sororities that entered the competition were Delta Delta Delta and Chi Omega. The Tri-Deltas sang "Hello Young Lovers" and "Got Along Without You." The Chi O sextet sang "How High the Moon" and "My Heart Stood Still."

Inadvertently omitted from last week's listing of those who have been given parts in the April Fool play, "Harvey," was the name of Mike Cody.

Cody will play the title role of Harvey, the seven-foot-tall imaginary rabbit.

It was the opinion of the play's director, Ray Hill, that Cody's past performance as champion runner of distances and prolific producer of ideas amply qualified him for the part. In addition, Hill said, he even looks like an imaginary rabbit.

"Harvey" will be presented in Hardie auditorium at 8:00 p.m., March 28.

Student Center Fund Misunderstood Reality Rather Than Joke or Dream

by Allen Reynolds

I had just thought to write this note in a great fit of irritation, but the longer I consider it, the more it seems to me that I might be at fault for not making my point clear in the last Student Assembly. What concerns me is the now popular saying about the campus which goes something like this: "Let's all support the Student Center Fund so our grandchildren can have a Student Center."

This is said jokingly, but numerous questionings have shown me that this is a sincere statement of belief for most students. Few people seem to realize how close we are to making the Student Center a reality. Let me review the facts.

Dining Hall Project

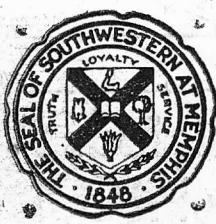

Last spring a Student Council Committee did its best to make contact with the board of directors and express student feelings about the need of a Student Center. They were unable to make this contact. At that directors' meeting the members were confronted with the need of a new dining hall—this fall we had one! The same Mr. Burrow who gave us a library got behind the project of a dining hall and found four people to help him finance it. This year President Rhodes has gone out of his way to invite the Student Council to the Board of Directors meeting to present any pressing campus needs (Student Center). If at this meeting we can present them a good case backed by student enthusiasm, we might be fortunate enough to interest the right people and get the necessary funds for such a building.

The Peacock's Tale

by Bates Peacock

(A story of frustration)

This is just to say that the weeks of March 2nd-15th can be marked off the calendar, and I just won't care. At least 5 tests, 4 BIG papers plus the before and after effects of Stunt Night. "O sleep O gentle sleep!" "Wherefore art thou?"

And speaking of stunt—congratulations to the KD's for producing one of the cutest and most professionally executed skits I've ever seen. It was near perfection.

Nancy, where did you learn to can-can?

Stunt Night Unwinner

Also, may I speak a word of praise for the KA's? Winners, or no, the prize for originality plus is yours. I'd say it challenged some of our better Broadway adoptions.

In fact, one of our professors was overheard suggesting that Mike Lupfer go into the business professionally! Also congrats to the Sigma Nu's, Chi O's, and the SAE's for their especially wonderful adoption of "Peyton Place" and the $17.00 toward the Student Center Fund.

More Religion

The Religious Arts Festival starts Sunday and for the sake of being better able to communicate in Sr. Bible, I'd recommend it. Incidentally, as chairman, I'm begging people to be interested—so PLEEEZE—you might just enjoy it.

The question of the sack has had some amusing results—most girls love 'em, most boys despise 'em. "When you buy something you like to know sorta what you're getting"—unquote.

With this I close. See you next week.

Carole Clark left a pair of long elasticized dancers' stockings in the Social Room of Voorhees after Stunt Night. If anyone knows where they are, please contact Carole.

Your Student Council

by Charlotte Hoggsett

Bob Kiley, Student Government Vice-President of the United States National Student Association, visited the meeting of the Student Council Tuesday night. Student representatives from LeMoyne, Siena, Memphis State, and UT Medical School also attended the meeting. The Student Government Vice President yearly visits as many of the colleges which belong to USNSA, now totaling 360 members, in order to answer questions and help the student leaders with problems.

The idea of USNSA was first formed when, in 1946, American students were invited to attend a meeting of the International Union of Students in Prague. At that time there was no national organization representative of U.S. students. The need for one was obvious; in the summer of 1947 a constitutional convention made up of representatives from several outstanding American colleges was held. It was decided that the USNSA should be an organization of college-elected representatives only and that it should not affiliate with the I.U.S., which had communist leanings. Later the USNSA joined the International Student Conference, which puts emphasis on student problems and relationships rather than on political issues.

The USNSA is divided into four commissions. Three are headed by commissioners just out of college elected at yearly conventions. The International Affairs Commissioner deals with the organization's relationship with the I.S.C. The Educational Affairs Commission works toward evaluation of student opinion and solutions for such problems as teacher recruitment, student guidance, federal aid to schools, and integration. The Student Affairs Commissioner is not a full-time worker, but instead a college student. He deals with various areas of the student's life such as athletics, social life, and religious affairs.

Following the introduction to the USNSA an open discussion was held. Such problems as the need for more USNSA members in the South, better USNSA leaders in southern schools, the organization's attitude toward integration, and the USNSA's new project for exchanging student leader with other countries were discussed. Bob emphasized that the USNSA tries not only to collect and represent U.S. student opinion, but also to put forth many concrete programs in the area of student life and world educational problems.

Exclusive Dates—Help Or Hindrance?

A problem which recurs as a vexing handicap to the planning of all social functions could easily be erased. As our social calendar now stands, many groups find it more cumbersome than helpful.

Why must large functions crowd out small meetings which would not detract from the attendance of the big event? Why should small groups be allowed to sit on a date when a big campus function might also occur on the same night?

Inconvenient Dates

Because of the present organization both large and small groups are often forced to select an inconvenient date in the midweek which slashes their attendance even more than it would be lessened by scheduling two activities for the same night.

Multiple Scheduling

Obviously everyone may not attend every event even if they so desired. Double scheduling would, however, increase the incentive to make activities even more interesting and alive.

Frat Houses

As the system is now organized those who do not wish to attend the scheduled event must either go off the campus or stay in their rooms. Why may these people not be allowed to go to their sorority or fraternity houses? No one who really wishes to attend the function would not do so.

Many Advantages

As for scheduling a large social function on the same night as a smaller discussion group, it would often be possible for interested persons to attend both. We are not so lacking in judgment that we may not discriminately choose which function we would rather attend. Not only might groups plan their activities more easily, the calendar contain many more events, and students have a wider variety of entertainment, but also students competing for a new high in interest and entertainment might give our campus more life and activity.

Student Center Fund

Such worthwhile projects as the Student Center Fund might obtain better dates for money-raising activities. The Quartet-Sextet Sing could have been held on a better night than Thursday when many students had Friday morning tests. The Bridge Tournament need not have been postponed for a discussion group whose maximum attendance could not have endangered attendance at the tournament.

Your Opinions

More might be accomplished by securing your opinions on this matter. Do not hesitate to write us your ideas. Just pop them through the slot in the window of the office.

Summer School

April 5 courses for which there has been little or no demand may be dropped from the schedule. It may also be possible to add new courses to the schedule if pre-registration shows a sufficient need for them.

Regulations

If a student has any doubt as to his eligibility for the courses he expects to take, he should consult his major professor or faculty adviser in advance. Bible 51-52 is not open to students whose total semester hours at the close of the present semester are less than 86.

Members and Dates

Two hundred and fifty prospective students from the Memphis area have been invited by the freshmen in order to make them better acquainted with the Southwestern student body and social life on the campus.

Ghoul Party

The SAE house will be changed into a scene of horror for the sophomore class ghoul party. No dates are allowed, and class members are to come in costume. Mickey Wooten has planned the decorations; Diana Lheureux is in charge of refreshments. A skit will be presented under the direction of Ann Vines and dancing, pool, T.V. and cards will provide additional entertainment.

Junior Party Postponed

The Junior Class party, originally planned for this week-end, has been postponed until later in the year. At that time a bar-b-que will be held at Riverside Park.

Night Out

by Mississippi

Well, the Snakes came through again. Why Jerden was selected for the part I'll never know, there are so many more it would have fit better. GiGi was good entertainment and 3D showed much leg and attractiveness though not placing, due no doubt to Chi O originality. SAE was nasty with a point. KA was fouled upon—Scuttlebutt says there was a funeral wreath on their door; "Sorrow at your great loss."

Lafayette Escadrille should be tops this weekend. Good guy Tab Hunter is a cocky don't-give-a-damn sort. All Old Air Corps men should enjoy this.

Gift of Love

Another feature is "All a Woman Can Give, The Gift of Love." As to the truth of this statement, I'm not sure—some call it love, others . . .

Cattle Empire

"Paths of Glory" is still going but soon to be replaced by "Cattle Empire," another good old westerner. "Farewell to Arms" is also still around.

Brotherly Affection

You'll have to check some less illustrious publication to find where these are being shown. But also downtown is "The Brothers Karamazov" who really like each other and try to get one another killed—not at all the true brotherly affection of the type existing between Dan and Jim McGrew.

Quartet-Sextet Sing

The Quartet-Sextet sing should be good and I'm picking the Snakes to win it, on Goodbar's selection of the judges. Of course I don't know that. This is true. But—the SAE's really did collect money after Gandy's sales pitch last week. What will become of it shall probably be never known.

Student Center

The majority of the student body seems to be too interested in study and the like to really get behind a Student Center. If we would awake to the fact that this really is a worthwhile project, we might get somewhere.

Parties

All frustrated frosh girls can polish up the old come-hither glance which has fallen into disuse and maybe hook some high school kid who doesn't know the score yet. And one final item—Didn't Tuggle and Blair look good, tough in fact—Some stunt.

the safe side we journeyed by night and slept during the day. This proved to be a great mistake, since the pygmies did the same thing. On the second night we were surrounded by a whole host of the strange creatures.

"My Lord," I said. "I've never seen so damn many squirts in my life."

"Take me to your leader," I demanded.

Of course, that is what they were planning to do in the first place, but it was the bravest statement I could think of at the time.

The leader was short and black, as was the rest of the tribe. He ordered the chefs to place a large pot of water over a fire. I then knew that we were up a well-known tributary without requisite means of locomotion. Suddenly I happened to think of the deck of cards in my purse. It was a wild idea, but it just might work!! We started playing bridge on an ebony tree stump, and all the pygmies gathered around in utter amazement. Soon they desired to try their skill at the game and were fascinated by it. So I simply ex-

Saturday afternoon at 1:30 on Fargason Field the Lynx cindermen meet Harding College of Searcy, Arkansas in a pre-season meet. Coaches Marr and Lawson are using this meet as a tune-up for the first official track meet next Saturday afternoon against Mississippi College at Clinton, Mississippi.

Intramurals

by Punch and Butch

The Intramural boys have really messed up the badminton tournaments this year. We think team play is fine, but we just can't figure out how they plan to run the tournament. I guess we're just too dense. Anyway they plan to do something like this—each team plays all the other teams once, with the number one and two men playing the corresponding men on the other team and the doubles team playing the other doubles team. The person with the most victories at the end will win the individual trophy and the team with the most victories all told will win the team trophy. The tournament starts next week sometime and the pairings will be up a day or so before then. Rumor has it that the SAE's will not be allowed to participate because they will be used for the birdies.

The handball tournament is underway. Be sure to play your matches before the deadline.

changed my deck of playing cards for our lives, and we continued on our journey. I left feeling confident that anyone can play bridge but it takes a cannibal to throw up a hand!

Pretty Cheap Food

Finally we got to Congo Land, and as we strolled around the capital city, Cucamonga, I began to have a strange feeling in my stomach. I was hungry, but I just couldn't express myself in that African dialect. I went into a tavern and ordered crackers and rat cheese with a large belly washer. The bill was only three cents!!

History of Cucamonga

Cucamonga is a seaport town on the eastern coast of Congo Land. There are many various legends about the first settlers of this city. Some say that in 300 A. D. The Chinese came here by junk and stiff breeze; but as I gazed about at the features of these Africans, I began to wonder where the yellow went.

Cucamonga Night Life

Actually the Cucamongians didn't have much night life until our safari came, but they learned quickly. The Cucamongians, like the Spaniards I told you about last week, are not shy. And so when fourteen Cucamongian sailors saw us playing monopoly in a restaurant, they came right over. They thought we would make jolly companions, and we certainly did. (We weren't shy either).

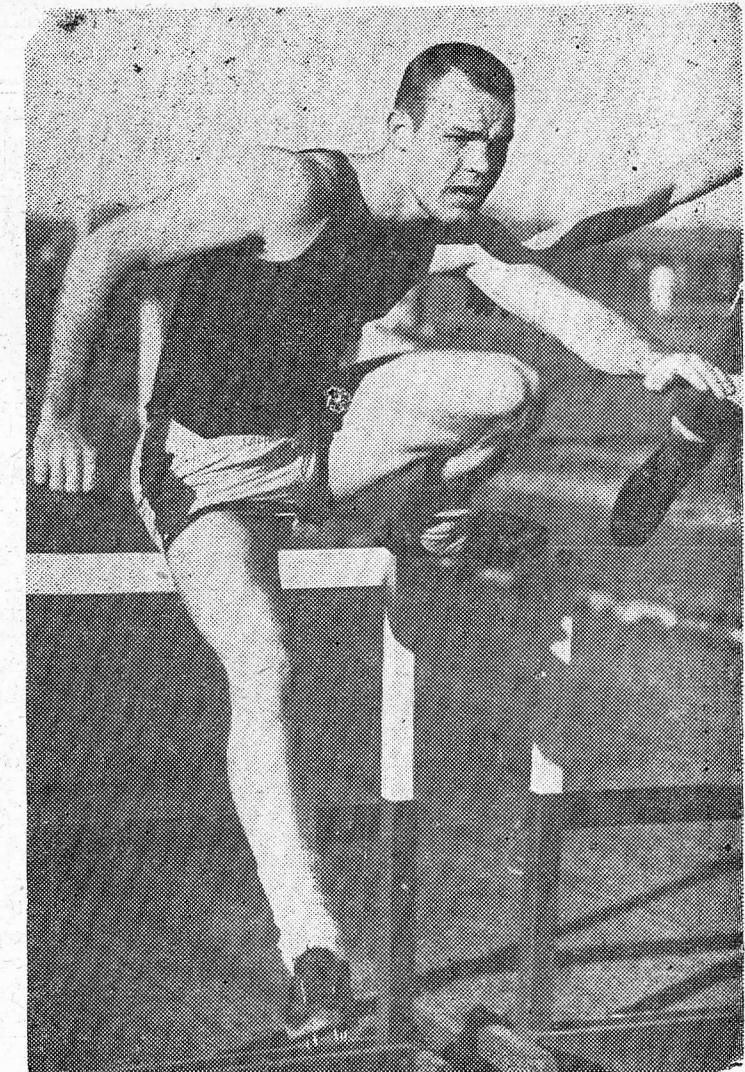

The Shoppe

We went into a small shoppe and bargained for a quaint ivory backscratcher. When I finally got through bargaining with the shoppe keeper, he was fifty cents in the hole. I hadn't been going to trade school for nothing.

The Return

The time finally came for us to depart from the Congo Land, and I was very sad. As we left the outskirts of town, all the little children of Cucamonga followed close behind us. They were throwing small pebbles and carrying large sticks. The Cucamongian children take a tremendous pride in "railriding."

We arrived in Bongo Bongo just in time for my eight o'clock class. I knew that this was a trip I'd never forget. Of all the countries in Africa, it's Congo Land two to one.

SOUTHWESTERN'S BILL CARRELL, Captain of the track team, goes over a hurdle here as he prepares the Lynx pre-season meet with Harding College of Searcy, Arkansas. The meet will begin at 1:30 Saturday afternoon at Fargason Field.

Action Needed

The sneering statement: "Let's get a Student Center for our grandchildren" makes me sore. Should we not work for a Student Center even if we ourselves might not get to enjoy its benefits? One thing stands certain, if we don't try to stir up some action, our grandchildren might still be wishing Zoo U. had a Student Center.
