Convention Agenda Announced For Atlantic Federation Meet

Constitutional Measures Will Be Investigated

The agenda for the model Atlantic Union Convention has been announced. Two topics of the proposed federation's constitution will be discussed by the student delegates.

Topics selected are (1) the division of powers between the federation and the members of the federation, and (2) taxation rights of such a federation.

Model Convention

The student model convention which will meet at Southwestern November 1-3 is a pattern meeting. It is designed to illustrate the type of meeting which Atlantic Union groups all over the United States are trying to get the Congress to summon. The purpose of the proposed international conference is to expand the North Atlantic Pact to include social and economic measures as well as military affairs. A federation similar to the one which framed the Constitution of the United States has been suggested to effect the union of the western nations.

The convention delegates at the Southwestern meeting will be divided into six committees, each one of which will consider a different phase of the powers under investigation by the convention. Floor discussions will be held to assimilate the committee findings.

First Day

The steering committee will hold its final meeting at 10:00 A.M. Thursday, November 1. Registration of delegates will begin at 1:30

November Deadline Set For Initial Publication Of Stylus

Stylus met Thursday evening to consider material submitted for its first publication. The deadline for this issue is November 16. Material must be turned in by this time to Miss Marsh, the librarian, or to Ed Francisco.

Poetry, short stories, essays, and plays will be accepted.

Idlewild Will Sponsor Wiener-Roast, Hayride

A wiener-roast and hayride will be sponsored for Southwestern students by the young people's group of the Idlewild Presbyterian Church Friday night, Oct. 26.

Students who wish to attend should gather in the cloister at the entrance of the dining hall at 5:30 p.m. Friday evening. Transportation to and from the party will be provided.

The wiener-roast and a get-together will take place at the home of Will Johnston, president of the young people's group, and the hayride will start immediately after the party.

Dormitory girls are reminded that they will have to take one of their nights out to come to the party. Students of all faiths and their friends are most cordially invited to attend.

French Club Forms Strict Requirements

The French Club has elected officers for the 1951-52 school year. The club met last Wednesday, October 24.

David Morelock is the club's new president. Carey Stanley is vice-president, Nancy Carrell is secretary, and Anne Marie Davis is treasurer of the club.

A new policy was selected at the meeting for the club's operation this year. Membership will be by invitation, and only students who can speak French will be included. The club hopes that the loss in membership will be compensated for by the participation of the advanced students who wish to refine their spoken French and study about French literature and history.

Rene Lemarchand at the same meeting gave a talk on French schools in French. The use of the English language is strictly forbidden at French Club meetings.

Next Wednesday the advanced students will meet at 4:00 p.m. in Forrest Hall to read French plays.

The French Club meets regularly every fourth Wednesday afternoon at 4:00 p.m.

Senior Class Will Meet In Hardie Auditorium Tomorrow

A senior class meeting has been announced for Saturday, October 27. The class will meet at 10:30 a.m. in Hardie Auditorium.

Activities for the year will be discussed. Committees will be appointed by the class president, Ed Francisco, to work on the following projects: class dance, class gift, graduation invitations, senior class vesper program, and graduation robes.

Skinner Leads Worship Week

Religious Emphasis To Start Sunday

Four Days Of Religious Activity To Come

Dr. W. Sherman Skinner will lead the Religious Emphasis program Sunday through Wednesday, October 28-31. Dr. Skinner is pastor of the East Liberty Presbyterian Church of Pittsburgh, Penn.

Sunday evening worship at Evergreen Presbyterian Church will start the college's series of religious services. The topic of Dr. Skinner's sermon will be "You Can't Shrug It Off." The Southwestern Singers will replace the regular Evergreen choir at this service.

The theme for chapel Monday morning is "Who are you?" Prof. L. F. Kinney, assisted by Frances Freeman, will preside at this convocation. A discussion meeting for all women students is planned to be in Voochies Social Room at 7:30 p.m.

Henderlite To Address Ministerial Club Girls

Dr. Rachel Henderlite will speak to the ministerial club today, October 26, at 4:15 P.M. in the Bell Room. This meeting is for women students only. A regular supper and business meeting will conclude the program.

Last Wednesday Dr. C. D. Fulton addressed men and women students interested in religious work. Dr. Fulton is executive secretary of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., and former moderator of the Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Frank H. Caldwell, President of Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary, is also scheduled to talk to the pre-ministerial students on seminary life sometime during the next week.

Freshmen To Be Free From Rules

Day Of Hazing And Festivities To End Month Of Signs

Freshman Day is tomorrow, October 27.

Freshman regulations will be terminated at the close of an afternoon and evening program of intensive hazing and campus-wide celebration.

Festivities will begin officially at 2:00 p.m. with the opening kickoff of the Leroy Dodger—"All-Star" football game. The Dodger team is composed of varsity football players who were not eligible for intramural competition, and the "All-Star" team was chosen from

Wellford Fills Board Position

Mr. W. L. Wellford has been named to the Board of Directors of Southwestern as the Memphis representative of the Synod of Louisiana.

The appointment was made to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Mr. T. W. Lewis, who served on the board as the Memphis director for the Synod of Louisiana for the past eleven years.

Mr. Wellford, a Southwestern alumnus of the class of 1929, has long been active in Southwestern student and alumni affairs, as well as in church and civic affairs in Memphis. He was elected to two one-year terms as president of the Southwestern Alumni Association from 1938 to 1940. While an undergraduate at Southwestern, he was a member of the Southwestern Players and of Alpha Theta Phi.

During World War II, Mr. Wellford served with the U. S. Army Engineers in Brazil, and he is now a member of the Engineers' Club of Memphis. He is also an elder in Idlewild Presbyterian Church.

Three other Memphians have been reelected to four-year terms as local representatives of the Board of Directors for the other

Organ-Piano Recital Will Be At Calvary

Mr. Adolph Stutterman and Mr. Myron Myers of the Southwestern music department will present a joint organ-piano recital at 4:00 p.m. Sunday, October 28. This second faculty recital of the 1951-52 college year will be held at Calvary Episcopal Church, Second Street at Adams Avenue.

The program by Mr. Stutterman, organist, and Mr. Myers, pianist, will open with the Handel-Goldsworthy Suite from "Water Music," which will be followed by the "Classic Concerto" by Sowerby.

Third on the program will be "Nocturne" by Ihrke and "Ballet" by Debussy. Rachmaninoff's concerto No. 2, op. 18 will conclude the recital.

These recitals are brought to the public at no charge as a cultural contribution to the music lovers of Memphis and the Mid-South by Southwestern and the College of Music.

fraternity league teams by the Intramural Board. This is not the official All-Star team chosen each year at the end of the intramural tournament.

Cheering sections and cheerleaders will encourage both the Red Dodgers and the White "All-Stars."

The traditional shoe race will be held at the half-time recess. All freshman boys must wear their pajamas and participate in the paddle-spurred race for the shoe pile.

An hour-long variety show will be presented by the freshman class immediately after the game. Robert Deupree, freshman class president, is director of the program, and Mary Rodriguez is mistress of ceremonies.

Supper at the hearth will be served at 5:00 p.m. Town students, as well as dorm students, will be fed.

A bonfire will be lighted behind the tennis courts after supper, and cheer leaders will lead group singing. Freshmen may burn their signs, caps, and bonnets then.

An informal dance will begin in the gym at 8:00 p.m. The Student Councilors will handle coke sales. Dancing will continue until midnight.

No admission will be charged for any event.

Torch Invites Mary Faulk Into Society

Mary Alice Faulk has been invited to membership in Torch, Southwestern's honorary society for senior women. Miss Faulk was tapped in a chapel ceremony last Tuesday, October 23.

Twenty Torch activity points and an academic average of 2.9 qualified Miss Faulk for the honor.

Mary Alice is secretary of her sorority, Zeta Tau Alpha, and a member of Pan Olympic. She is also working as a library assistant and as an assistant for the Psychology department.

LYNX PICTURES

Lynx pictures will be made in the annual office in the basement of Palmer Hall Monday through Friday of next week.

Boys are asked to wear coats and ties. Identical blouses will be furnished for the girls' pictures.

All students are asked to have their photographs made during this one week for which the photographer has been engaged.

Lewin-Miller Studios are taking the class pictures this year.

Bacchelli Memorial

Professor Mario Bacchelli was killed in a motorcycle accident Thursday night, October 18.

Southwestern professors have started collecting a fund in memory of the late artist. Anyone who wishes may contribute to the fund. Contributions should be given to Mrs. Ireys Martin in the business office. Professor Raymond S. Hill is working on plans for the memorial, which will probably be a scholarship fund or one of Bacchelli's paintings for the library.

In the death of Professor Bacchelli, Southwestern has lost an outstanding faculty member—a great teacher, as well as a great artist.

Exercise-Lots

The enthusiastic participation in intramural sports indicates, even this early in the school year, the success of the intramural program. In providing athletic competition in which the whole school can take part, the intramural set-up performs an invaluable service. When competition is keen among the social organizations on our campus, the attention of every student is drawn to the sports skirmish.

Coach Glenn A. Johnson in chapel yesterday compared the relative merits of varsity and intramural athletics. He emphasized the importance of varsity sports at the expense of the intramural program.

Coach Johnson relegated intramural playing fields to the status of exercise-lots for inferior athletes while carefully transposing the "red blooded American boys" of the varsity level to a field of shining glory.

Many more people get to play in intramurals than in varsity games. The fellowship, the rivalry, the cheering, the hard work, and the head-bashing are all parts of a big event in which everybody who wants to can take part.

Varsity sports are vital in the overall account of school reputation and school spirit, but intramurals should not be considered undergraduate classes for the manufacture of varsity athletes.

Dead-Heads

Letters To The Editor

To The Editor:
Dear Madam:

I wonder if you or any other students noticed the ironical comedy which took place on Hardie's stage last Thursday when Omicron Delta Kappa (Leadership organization—so called) tapped its new members.

Perhaps it was a case of coincidence, but when two KA's and an ATO pick two ATO's and a KA (discounting Crumby who as outstanding sophomore was a must) something smacks of the Denmark odor to me.

ODK has been a leadership organization in name only for a couple of years now. It's time they quit passing up outstanding people for people they happen to like. Such a group should rise above petty politics. They missed some real leaders on this go-around.

Name Withheld
By Request

Editor, The Sou'wester
Dear Betty Lou,

A belated pat on the back for your excellent "Cloudy Minds" editorial and follow-up. You certainly made the restive monster which is the CUC stir in its bed of exile.

Of the letters you published criticizing you, only that of Douglas Marsh echoes average college intelligence, and he is as vitriolic in his condemnation of your editorial as you were of the chapel services.

We are able to excuse Mr. Pate as he is a freshman, and we can excuse Bennett too.

However, Pate's allusion to an anonymous writer reeks of prejudice and stupidity. A sixth grader can tell you who writes the editorials in a newspaper, at least one of the weekly variety. (Doesn't seem like there was any question on anonymity last year.)

And while Pate criticizes your flowery language, he falls into the same pit himself with his "cheap sensationalism and crude crusading."

Now for Mr. Bennett, who, it seems, outdid himself in making a myriad of cliched defenses for something which he claims needs no defense.

Bennett, my small insignificant friend, when as many people complain, particularly at Southwestern where complaining is a minimum, something must be wrong, and, while the editors of the Sou'wester may not have the right idea, they are at least in favor of new ideas which, I judge from your staunch buttressing of institutionalized religion, you are not.

And of course it was in accord with your ethics as a Christian gentleman when you called the Journal a heretic's magazine. Remember, the publishers of that magazine are not only Christians, but they call their church by the same name as yours. I do not believe that Christ would have condoned such a statement.

Perhaps we disagree in what Christ would have wanted. I believe that the essence of Christianity is in striving to be as Christ-like as possible. And I doubt if anyone can accuse Christ of building a hackneyed tower of religious propaganda to be hurled at helpless congregations.

The religion founded by Paul on the personality of Christ was a vibrant and living one. And there are those of us who believe that it must be kept that way. Bennett,

Crescendo and Diminuendo

On the musical calendar for the coming week an organ-piano recital by Myron Myers and Adolph Steuterman to be given next Sunday afternoon heads the list. This will be the second of the Memphis College of Music faculty recitals this fall. The concert will begin at 4:00 p.m. at Calvary Episcopal Church, Second at Adams.

The program opens with the Handel-Goldworthy Suite from "Water Music." This is followed by the "Classic Concerto" by Sowerby. Third on the program will be "Nocturne" by Ihrke, and "ballet" by Debussy. The concluding number is Rachmaninoff's "Concerto No. 2, Opus 18." If in the past you have failed to take advantage of these free concerts, now is the time to begin.

Southwestern students are justly proud of freshman Dave Osburn who teamed up with Roy Bendall of Memphis State for a novelty song and instrumental act on the Ted Mack show last week. They went to the top and joined the 18 Memphis amateurs who went all the way to New York for the TV presentation of Amateur Hour last Tuesday night. Best of luck to both boys!

It is unfortunate that the Memphis public did not hear the concert given by Pere Prado's orchestra at the Memphis air base last Wednesday. The concert, at the Non-Com's Club, was open to Non-commissioned Officers and their guests. Prado is the stocky Cuban creator of the Mambo, a rocking dance rhythm that has taken both Americas by storm. One might describe the Mambo as "mayhem set to music."

The Memphis Beethoven Club will open its artists series with a concert by Guiseppi di Stefano, Metropolitan tenor, at the Auditorium on Thursday evening, Nov. 1. Di Stefano, a 28-year-old Italian, is making his fourth concert tour.

Last but not least is the vespers program to be presented by the Southwestern Singers in Hardie Auditorium Sunday, Oct. 28, at 7:30 P.M.

you are, of course, entitled to your own opinion.

But the crowning insult in Bennett's letter is his accusation that you are resisting a new type of worship. I suggest that he reread your editorial and discover that you were campaigning for a new type of service and not the vain repetitions which cause students (not inside the CUC hierarchy) to remark, "Attend one chapel service and you attended them all."

Finally in regard to Bennett's closing remark that Christianity is an intellectual religion, I say that if it is not, we should make it that way and the best way to do this would be to follow some of the "vitriolic" but in some ways wise ideas you laid down in your two editorials.

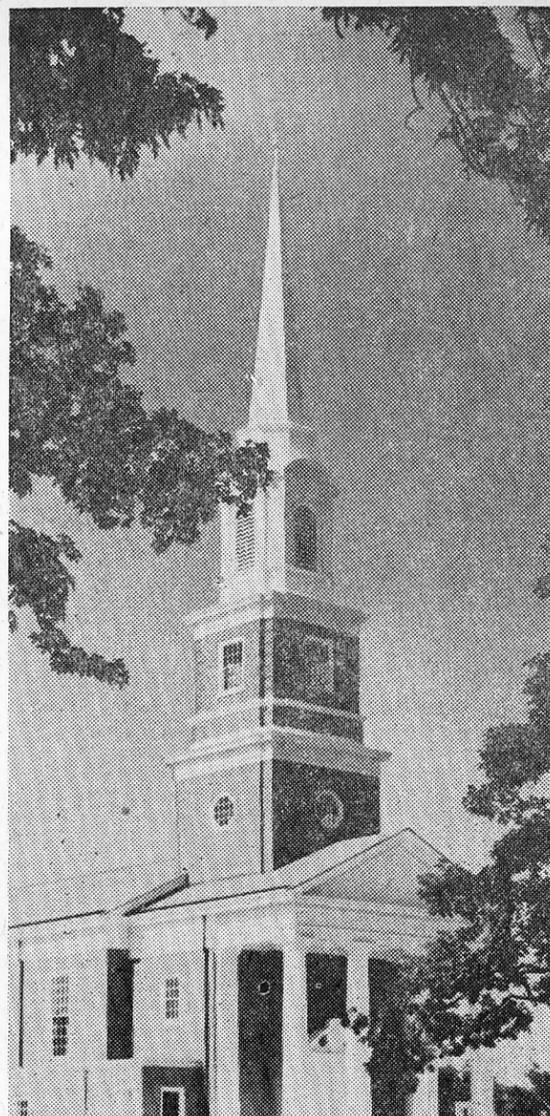

Bob Starr

To the Editor:

I would like to call attention to Bob Bennett's indignant reply to your recent editorial, "Cloudy Minds".

One of the main reasons for Christ's coming to earth was to make religion more alive. He protested vigorously against the forms and liturgies which had become so mechanical that the spirit of religion had been entirely lost. All that remained was a skeleton of repetition, called Judaism.

Chapel Chimes

Religious Emphasis Week will begin officially with Southwestern's annual Fall Sunday, October 28. All town students who have not yet arranged for dormitory students to attend church and eat Sunday dinner with them should extend their invitations right away.

In the cloister a blank sheet has been posted. If each Memphis host lists his name and the name of his guest, confusion about who is going where can be eliminated, for the most part.

Fall Sunday is an excellent opportunity for town students to become better acquainted with the dormitory students. At the same time, dorm students find "homes for a day" in Memphis. The success of Fall Sunday depends on the town students, and to be completely successful every dormitory must be empty next Sunday.

Fall Sunday will usher in Religious Emphasis Week. A program of forums, talks, and conferences will offer rare opportunities for Southwestern students during the Emphasis period.

Professors usually do not give quizzes during Religious Emphasis Week, but we should not ignore academic obligations completely.

Idlewild Presbyterian Youth Fellowship is having a bang-up party tonight. Many students, both town and dorm, attend Idlewild, and the purpose of this party is to acquaint other students with the Idlewild Fellowship group, which meets on Sunday evenings at 6:00 p.m. Idlewild welcomes all students to attend an evening of fun tonight. Trucks will leave Southwestern at 5:30 p.m.

Apples are selling just as good this year as ever. Remember that while you are keeping the doctor away daily, you are also making next Christmas a happier one for someone else.

This poem by Dr. Osbert Warmingham is perhaps an appropriate prayer for the beginning of our Religious Emphasis period:

Wings, wings to our minds, O Lord,
For the lofty flights of vision.
Wings to our fainting hearts, we pray,
For the lifting winds of love;

Wings to our laggard feet, O Lord,
For the long, strong ways of duty;
Wings to our seeking souls, we pray,
That we find Thy face,—above.

The Sport Light

By Don Ramier

Tomorrow the nation's football machine swings into action with Georgia Tech scheduled to play Vandy, Ole Miss versus Miami, and Alabama visiting Miss. State.

There is another big-time game scheduled for tomorrow, that is sure to attract more attention than any of the previously mentioned tilts. This is of course, the meeting of Leroy's undaunted Dodgers and the undefeated, untied, and unscored upon Intramural All-Stars.

With such crowd-pleasers as "Chargin Chunk" Hamlet, Bill "Crusher" Crissamore and Tom "Twinkle-Toes" Crais on hand this will certainly be the number one game in the nation. Adding to the spectacle of the clash will be the annual half-time pajama race, sponsored by the Southwestern freshmen. I'm sure Fargason Field will be overflowing with fans from all over the country.

An interview with Coach Leroy Rasco of the slightly favored Dodgers gave me quite a surprise. One would think a coach of such high calibre would be a bit conservative in expressing an opinion as to the out-come of such an important game. One would expect him to render such a statement as "It's a tossup," or "It'll be tough, but I have confidence in my boys."

But not coach Rasco. He says, "It'll be murder for those Bums. Why, they'll be carrying All-Stars off the field all afternoon. If they've got enough men to finish the game with, it'll be a surprise to me," and on and on with praises of his team's ability.

I asked Coach Rasco about the possibility of his younger opponents wearing out and out-running his older team with their terrific speed and stamina.

To this question the strategical wizzard of the Dodgers answered, "Aah foowie; my players are men, not kids. They've had experience and besides, I've got some trick plays that'll have those All-Stars thinking they're playing magicians." And who am I to doubt the predictions of such a master tactician, who has been with the athletic department for so many years?

Another threat the coach made was that of employing Professor Osman as a secret offensive weapon. Prof. Osman reputedly can catch passes behind his back, over his head, with either hand, and even with his eyes closed. And as Coach Rasco added, "He has blinding speed."

You must admit, this game has prospects of being a thriller. Two of the top teams in the nation are pitted against each other in a real grudge battle. I hope I'll see everyone present at the game, which will be played at 2:30 p.m.

Thought of the week: "When you think you're good, you've quit thinking."

Cheer Leaders Are Elected With Alternates For Year

Nine cheer leaders have been elected by the student body for 1951-52. A system of alternations have been planned so that seven of these will be leading yells at every game and rally. Under this system two absences will not disrupt the yell formations.

Those elected are: Betty Jo Carter, Marzette Smith, Elizabeth Carter, Liza Rollow, Mary Rodriguez, Millye Bunn, Jerry Wood, Chandler Warren and Lindsay Stephenson.

Horseshoes Tourney Is One Third Over

The Horseshoes Tournament is not over yet due to the large number of people participating in it, but one of the three parts of the tourney is finished. Roy Page of KA won the No. 2 singles tournament. Bob Stewart (Independent) and Ham Smythe (SAE) placed second and third respectively.

Since both of the two singles tourneys and the doubles tourney are double elimination tournaments, a man or a team must be defeated twice to be out of the tournament. Chunk Hamlet (KA), with one loss, Frank Montesi (KS), who defeated Hamlet, and Willie Bow (Independent) are in the semi-finals of the No. 1 singles tournament.

No team has yet been eliminated from the doubles playoff. ATO's Bernard Hooker and Sonny Christie have advanced to the semi-finals, and the rest of the teams are still in the quarter finals.

Inter-Class League Will Initiate Rivalry

Coach Bill Maybry announced the initiation of a new type of athletic activity on the campus this year. Or rather, it will be a variation on an old form. Beginning November 27 a basketball league will be formed, consisting of teams composed of members of the four different classes. There will be one league game preliminary to each of the regular scheduled varsity games.

The teams will engage in a double round robin tournament with the league winner receiving a traveling trophy to keep for one year. This trophy will never remain a permanent fixture for any one class but will change hands every year. Game time for these contests will be 6:45.

In charge of coaching will be students out for varsity ball in the various classes. The seniors will be coached by a Southwestern alumnus and former Lynx great, Bill Coley. Roxie Lee will coach his junior team, Walter Gorman, the sophomores, and Frank Horton and Jimmy Cunningham will share responsibilities for working up the freshman quintet.

The athletic department will furnish uniforms for the teams. The frosh will have green shirts with their class name on it. The sophomores will dress-out in black, the juniors in red, and the seniors in white.

This league is designed to stir up interest and rivalry among the classes. The active participation already demonstrated by many students who are out for the class teams promises an exciting year on the hardwood.

Coach Leroy Rasco gives his Dodgers a last minute skull session before practice for the big game tomorrow.

Football Season Almost Over With One Game Yet To Play

Top Positions Are Definite; Middle Standings May Change

There were three games left to be played in the 1951 Intramural Football Season as the paper went to press. The last of these games is to be played this afternoon between Kappa Sig and the Independents. Two or three of the midway standings down the line may have been altered by these games, but the top two positions were secure.

In last week's games the favored SAE team defeated Kappa Sig's seven 19-6 and led the play 9-2 in first downs. Most of the teams have wavered throughout the season, but SAE has shown a steady increase in strength.

KD And XO Lead Basketball League

With the WAA sponsored tournament well under way, Chi Omega and Kappa Delta led the league with a record of two wins and no losses.

At the present time the record is as follows:

	W.	L.
Independents	0	1
Tri-Delta	0	2
AOPi	1	2
Zeta Tau Alpha	1	1
Kappa Delta	2	0
Chi O	2	0

KD picked up speed in the second half to take DDD on Monday and nosed out AOPi 14-11 on Tuesday, again with a second half spurt.

Chi Omega won both of its games by a top-heavy score, vanquishing Zeta Tau Alpha 35-15 and the Independents 41-11.

AOPi stopped the Tri-Delts cold in the second half of the game to take their first game 10-5, before losing two straight to Kappa Delta. The Zetas overcame AOPi 9-7 in the closest game of the season.

Next week's lineup of games: Zeta Tau Alpha vs. Delta Delta Delta.

Kappa Delta vs. Independents. Independents vs. Alpha Omicron Pi.

Chi Omega vs. Kappa Delta. One of the WAA's projects for the year is a varsity team to play neighboring schools. Miss Sue Wills, Physical Education director for women, will coach the team if the plan goes into effect.

The Independents plunged to a surprising shutout victory over KA as they scored 32 points and led 7 to 2 in first downs.

League-leading Sigma Nu defeated PiKA 20-0, but the loser led the field 7-5 in first downs. This was not the first time in the season that the winning Sigma Nu team had been found short on first downs.

In a closely played game with most of the action in the first and last quarters, second-place SAE edged out ATO 13-12 and led only 6-5 in first downs.

Kappa Sig and Sigma Nu were both expected to come out on top in their games on Monday, but not by the margins that they chalked up. Kappa Sig shut out PiKA 25-0 and Sigma Nu, the Independents 27-0. Both of the losers in these games had fallen from their peaks of performance.

The season was over for SAE, but each of the other teams had one game yet to play

INTRAMURAL STANDINGS

The games won, tied, and lost and the points on Tuesday, October 23, were as follows:

SN	5	0	0	10
SAE	4	1	1	9
Ind.	2	1	2	5
KA	2	0	3	4
ATO	1	1	3	3
KS	1	1	3	3

International House— Brazilian Student Arrives For Year At The Music College

By Thoburn F. Horn

Alvely Marques will study at the College of Music during this school year. He is the most recent addition to Southwestern's list of foreign students.

Alvely, who arrived Wednesday, is from Campinas in the state of Sao Paulo, Brazil. His father is a Presbyterian minister and teacher, and his mother teaches also.

In Brazil he studied for three years at the Faculdade de Teologia da Igreja Presbiteriana do Brazil, which is a Presbyterian seminary.

Alvely flew up to the United States during the summer, and was enrolled at LSU for the fall quarter. He has come to Southwestern on a full scholarship from the First Presbyterian Church of Baton Rouge, La., to study music. He will take piano and voice.

Before coming to the United States, the twenty-four year old Brazilian taught high school courses in Portuguese, latin, and physical education.

The new student remarked that he finds the United States "Just as I expected." Movies, magazines, and newspapers long-ago introduced him to our country.

Religious Week . . .

Dr. Skinner will speak four times Tuesday. "The Great Presumption" is his topic for chapel, and "Where Faith Comes In" will be discussed at the Christian Union Forum at 3:45 p.m. in the Chi Omega Lodge. Evening service will be held in Evergreen Church for students, parents, and town people at 7:45. Dr. Skinner will preach on "The Modern Miracle." A discussion will be held for men students in the lounge of the New Dormitory at nine o'clock, Tuesday night.

Chapel worship Wednesday morning will be the last service of Fall Religious Emphasis Week when Dr. Skinner will talk on "Making the Right Men." Individual conferences may be arranged with Dr. Skinner through members of the Bible department.

Dr. Skinner has been pastor of the East Liberty Church since 1947. He received his Master of Theology degree from Princeton Theological Seminary in 1931 and an honorary Doctor of Divinity degree from Temple University in 1941.

He was pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Bethlehem, Pa., and co-pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Germantown, Pa., before accepting the pastorate of the East Liberty Church. Dr. Skinner has been active in the educational program of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A. He has served on the boards of Princeton Theological Seminary, and Wilson and Beaver Colleges.

As to the "student whose moral life was not impeccable", I recall vividly Christ's own challenge to the accusers: "Let him who is without sin among you cast the first stone". I have heard of several students already whom people think are candidates for that person. Certainly their having been mentioned as such has not been good for them personally, for their reputations, or for the student body. Although the person whom Mr. Bennett meant was not named, the very mention has brought suspicions and hurt that is far from being beneficial.

Surely the success of the chapel services can only be measured by the way in which it is attended; and by such a criterion, what other possible conclusion can be drawn than the fact that many of the students are not getting what they want from Chapel?

Draft Board Will Give Tests

Applications for the December 13, 1951, and the April 24, 1952, administrations of the College Qualification Test are now available at Selective Service System local boards throughout the country.

All students now deferred to attend college should notify their draft boards that they are now attending school. Some draft boards require an additional statement from the dean of the college stating this information.

Perhaps the most outstanding social event of this past week was the Halloween Open House that the Tri-Delts gave for the student body, Thursday, October 25. Girls costumed as different kinds of animals and creatures to promote the holiday air met the guests and directed them to a room decorated with apples, pumpkins, witches, black cats and other festive symbols.

Betty Worthington was responsible for carrying out the motif in these decorations. The food committee headed by Elma Lee Wiley and Ann Feemster provided sandwiches, punch, cookies, and Halloween cake.

Incidentally, the Tri Delts had a supper Monday night at the lodge in honor of their new member,

Zeta Tau Alpha will begin the annual round of fraternity suppers by entertaining the members and pledges of Kappa Alpha in the Zeta house on Monday night. Mary Rush, social chairman, is in charge of arrangements. A real home-cooked meal will be served. Singing and dancing will follow the meal. On successive Mondays the Zetas will entertain the other fraternities.

Chi Omega will have a very busy week-end since their Chapter Visitor will be a guest of the Southwestern chapter during the turn of the week. On Saturday night the members are giving their pledges a slumber party at the house. Joanne Brown and Rita Cunningham are in charge of it.

Kappa Delta has recently pledged Gerry Hensley. Mary Williams pledged Zeta Tau Alpha, and Sarah Robinson pledged Chi Omega in open rush.

What about you fraternities? Aren't you doing anything worth talking about? Get that news in!
