Station WLYX To Begin Broadcasting Here

Operational Plan Is Outlined By Price

"This is a business organization, and is going to run smoothly and efficiently like a business organization," John Price, originator and manager of station WLYX, commented to his associates at their first board meeting, held Thursday in the Bell Room of Neely Hall.

Seated around the oval table were the station's chief engineer, Fred C. Pritchard Consulting Engineer Prof. J. S. McCartney, Associate Engineer Jimmy Marks, Program Director Professor Raymond C. Hill, Associate Program Director Bill Rawlins, Public Relations Man Toby Horn, and Allen Jacobson, Director of Publicity.

The organizational plan of WLYX is composed of those who were interested and also helpful in building the station. Price said in closing the meeting that there are still positions to be filled, particularly in the business and advertising departments.

AOPi Seeks Gym For Stunt Night

AOPi is seeking permission to hold their annual Stunt Night program in Fargason Field House this year instead of in Hardie as in years past. The performances are scheduled for March 16.

Because of the large number which have been turned away from the performances in past years, the gym, with its larger seating capacity, would better suit the purpose of the sorority which donates the proceeds from ticket sales to the Frontier Nursing Service of Kentucky.

As fire regulations forbid the use of standing room in Hardie, audiences are limited to the 450 who can be seated in the auditorium. It is believed the 650 can be seated in the gymnasium.

On the Stunt Night program fraternities and sororities present original skits which are limited to ten minutes running time.

David Miller Solicits Student Missionaries

David Miller, Davidson graduate now connected with the Student Volunteer Movement which recruits missionaries from colleges and universities, interviewed prospective missionaries of the college student body last Friday in the Christian Union Office.

Mr. Miller, who had spent Thursday interviewing students at Seawance, also spoke at the January Christian Union Forum which was held last Friday after being postponed from Wednesday.

Kappa Sig Elects New Officers For Semester

Roy Gwin has been elected president of Kappa Sigma fraternity for the second semester of this year, the fraternity announced Monday. Karl Rhea is vice-president.

Facilities Are Approved By President Rhodes And FCC

By Al Jacobson

Radio station WLYX, broadcasting on a frequency of 640 kilocycles with a power output of 40 watts, will begin operations at Southwestern on January 30 at 5 p.m. according to John Price, sophomore who will manage the station.

To be operated in cooperation with the speech and physics departments, the station, now being housed in the Speech Shack, will serve the aspirations of students desiring practical radio experience, either audio or technical.

"The equipment is a gift from the War Assets Administration," said Price, "and after considerable converting, we now have a workable transmitter and generator which we have built from spare parts." The station will also have tape, disc, and wire recording facilities.

WLYX will at first broadcast programs beamed for the campus. In extensive tests last week it was found that programs could be picked up in every campus building except the girls dormitories and the fraternity and sorority houses. Chief engineer Fred Pritchard says that he expects to be able to cover the entire campus by the time regular broadcasting begins.

Southwestern's station was finally approved by the Federal Communications Commission on January 15 after already having been received favorably by college authorities. WLYX hopes to become a member of the 72 station Inter-Collegiate Broadcasting System, but present facilities will have to be expanded.

Programs will consist of speakers, plays, choral groups and soloists from the College of Music, faculty and student news commentary, and recorded and transcribed music. Professor Raymond C. Hill is program director.

Loan Prints To Be Placed On Exhibit

The Library's collection of prints available for loans to dormitory students will be on exhibition for the first two weeks of the second semester in the Library.

The prints may be borrowed by dormitory students for one semester. No fee will be charged for the use of the pictures. It has previously been announced that a fee would be charged. On each picture will be found a card which the student may sign in order to reserve the particular print of his choice for hanging in his room at the close of the exhibit.

A special effort has been made to select prints from a wide variety of artists' works in order that each student might find something suitable to his tastes. The collection includes prints in as wide a range as from Raphael's "Madonna" to William Gropper's "Paul Bunyan."

If sufficient interest is shown in this collection it will be supplemented later with other prints. There are not now enough prints for every dormitory student to have one for his room, so first come, first served will be the rule, Miss Mary Marsh, librarian, said.

Choir Will Depart On Three State Sing Tour Next Friday

A merry group of Singers will leave the Southwestern campus next Friday, February 2 on the annual choir trip. Not wasting any time, they will sing in Greenwood, Miss. Friday noon, and in Greenville that night. Saturday will bring them to Chemberlain-Hunt Academy and Natchez.

After remaining in Natchez for a second performance Sunday morning, the choir will reach Louisiana and Baton Rouge for the evening service. The next night will find them in Shreveport, home town of several Southwesterners and choir members. The next night's stand, moving into Arkansas but not quite reaching Texas, will be in Texarkana, after having seen El Dorado at noon.

Wednesday, February 7, the Singers will not be back at their classes with the less fortunate students, but singing in Hope, Hot Springs, and Little Rock. Little Rock also rates a second appearance Thursday morning before the well-experienced group returns for a home concert in Memphis Thursday night.

The program for the choir tour will vary from several early polyphonic compositions to the most recent works of our own music faculty. Mr. Edwall has only recently completed his musical setting of a portion of the book of Zachariah which will be sung on

Price Leads Ministerial Club In Discussion

Prof. James L. Price, Jr., college chaplain, led the Ministerial Club in a discussion of the new theology of Barth, Brunner and Hromadka in a meeting held last night in the band house.

Leading Roles Filled For February Plays

Professor Raymond Hill, Jen Covington, Buddy Allison, and Anne McGehee will have the leading roles in the February double-play presentation of the Players, it was announced early this week.

Professor Hill will have the title role in "Jeppe of the Hills", and Jen will be cast as his wife. Anne will portray Mrs. Popoff in "The Boor," while Buddy will perform in the title role.

"Jeppe" is a Danish farce, written by Ludvig Holberg, and tells the story of a drunk and what befalls him. "The Boor" is a romantic farce by Anton Chekov.

The plays will be presented together on February 15 and 16 in Hardie Auditorium. David Morelock is designing the sets and Ed Francisco is student director for "The Boor."

Sue Renshaw Named Kappa Alpha Rose

Sue Renshaw, blond AOPi sophomore, was named 1951 Rose of Kappa Alpha at the fraternity's annual formal held last Saturday night at the Memphis Country Club.

The announcement was made as Sue stepped through a large paper heart with her escort, Richard Flowers as the Swingsters played the KA "Rose" song.

Although the Kappa Alphas did not wear their Civil War uniforms as they used to do when their dances were held on campus, a huge picture of Robert E. Lee was hung behind the bandstand, flanked by small Confederate flags.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

This editorial is addressed to the sophomore class, the luckiest sophomores in any college anywhere.

You sophomores are sleeping through the chance of your lifetime in missing out on the sophomore tutorials being offered here. There is no method of learning that can excel the tutorial method and a modified form of the tutorial has been worked out especially for you. It consists of one hour's consultation with a professor and approximately two hours reading or outside study a week for one hour's credit. That's the same hours spent to credit gained ration you get in other courses.

Look over your schedule for next semester. If you are carrying a light load, take a tutorial. If you are already carrying the limit in hours, petition for an extra one. Take a tutorial. You will never regret it.

The Missing Lynx Starrgazing

There are some of us who think, and that's not so good. It's better just to wade through the snow and pick holes in frozen ground and hate. That's a lot better. Hate Truman. Hate the Chinks. It doesn't matter.

Maybe I haven't been here long enough. The sergeant doesn't seem to mind so much and our lieutenant doesn't stay drunk all the time like the replacement C.O. they got over in Dog Company. That one hasn't been here much longer than me. I wish I could get some whiskey.

It's not as hard to kill as I thought it would be. It's just like pulling the trigger in a shooting gallery only here they don't set the ducks back up after they fall. Maybe that's the best time . . . when they're coming, because then there's not time to think . . . about cold feet, about hunger. There's only time to shoot. Shoot and wait for the screaming to stop. They scream when they're coming at us and they scream when they're dying. I think that's what scares me the most. The screaming.

I'm not bitching for myself. There are a lot of guys worse off than me. They say the cold doesn't really start hurting until you're wounded. Buck's still at his post with half an arm. No, I'm not bitching for me. I'm here. I'm bitching for the guys who got to come.

The scuttlebutt sheet says they're gonna decide on a cease fire in the U.N. this week. That's what they said a month ago. My dad's oldest brother got killed in Germany four hours after the armistice was signed.

They got a radio back in the B.H.Q. I heard last night that Taft has said that Truman had no right to send us here. I heard that Russia has half the world believing we're the aggressors in this thing. We aggressing right back into the China Sea now. I heard that England was advising the United States about how to conduct the war just like the U. S. was fighting the war alone and nobody else was in it. That Tommy we passed on the road the other day was just as dead as the negro who lay in the same ditch.

Maybe I haven't got a right to question what they're doing, but from where I lay, waiting for a Chinaman to poke his head over the hill, we're fighting China. I'm just a dogface like the other guys who don't mind so much. But there are some of us who think, and that makes a lot of difference.

I ain't no d---- world policeman. I'm Joe Smith, and I'm wishing that someone would act like they knew I was over here. It's cold.

SAE Names "Pug" Bruce Second Semester Head

Russell Bruce was elected president of SAE and John Austin was named vice-president. Elected to other offices were Ham Smythe, recorder; Lester Graves, treasurer; Wayne Deupree, correspondent; and Ed Wills, Bobby Gillman, Ben Shawhan, and Bill Metzger.

Storn Tells Spanish Club About Mexico

Dr. Martin F. Storn, professor of Spanish, spoke to the members of the Spanish Club about his experiences in Mexico during the Christmas holidays at the regular monthly meeting of the group held yesterday in the Chi Omega lodge.

All this controversy about whether or not Memphis State should become a University of Tennessee at Memphis is a jolly argument. Old Browning is caught right in the middle of it because he has voters in Memphis as well as in East Tennessee so he's got to be real kind to everybody. Not like the members of the legislature who are elected from certain districts.

It was quite a while back that the story broke about the proposed elevation to university status, and from the rigamorole I thought that the change was most imminent. But here they've been monkeying around with it almost as long as the U. N. has been trying to decide what to do with Korea.

Me, I think the people who are opposing the move are being a little selfish. After all, the people of Memphis kick quite a goodly sum into the state treasurer, which should warrant a good turn. Of course they moved the medical college down here some years ago, but that was more a matter of expediency than doing Memphis a favor. It isn't in every town that you can find a hospital center like Memphis has on Madison.

Ole General Neyland, he's most upset, because he can see all that good football material he's been building bowl teams with siphoning into the waterworks. He don't want dat. Uh! Uh!

Memphis could well support a university if it is a good one. Too many Memphians hie elsewhere to school because neither Memphis State or Southwestern offer what they want.

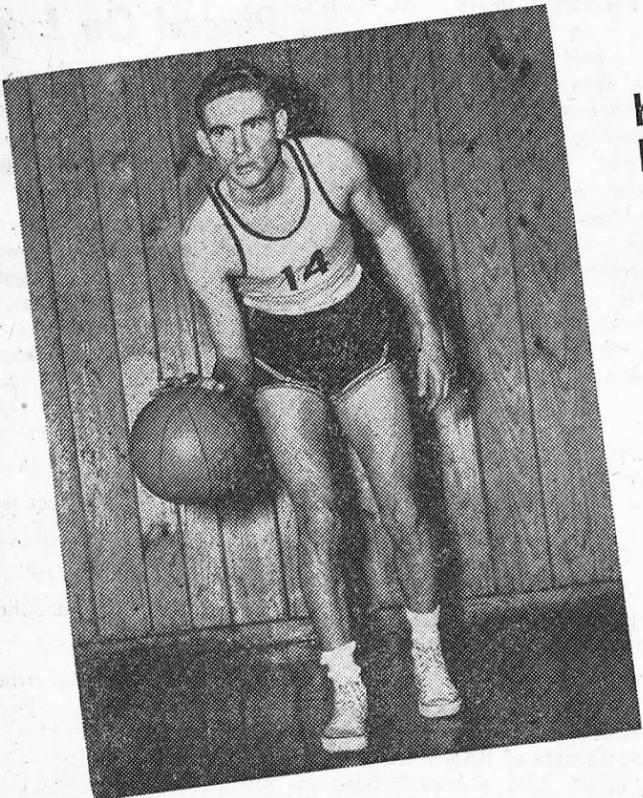

Southwestern will be affected only to a minor degree if State is elevated. We'll still get the students we get here even if they move the University of Chicago to Memphis, because there are things offered here that would be hard to find anywhere. A state university cannot offer the tutorial courses we have here. Old man taxpayer would think that was going a little too far. The professor-student ratio may approach ours, but it will never equal it. Also prohibitive because of monetary reasons.

Therefore I think that the best thing for the State Legislature to do is to approve the move to improve Memphis State.

K.C.'s Choice For Lynx of the Week

Roy Gwin, standout at guard for the Lynx cage squad is King Cotton's choice for the "Lynx of the Week."

Roy, who hails from Hayti, Missouri, made the Lynx first team as a freshman and played two years with the outstanding 1950 team.

He was the only returning first team member this year, and he is Captain of the squad.

His talents are not limited to basketball, however, as he is first baseman on the baseball team and is a standout in several intramural sports for Kappa Sig.

Is On INTRAMURALS

By Jack Worthington

This week's intramural basketball games left the league with only two undefeated teams—SAE and ATO. Most of the games to date have been fast and exciting for the spectators as well as the players.

The Independents edged out Sigma Nu in the opener last Friday night 33-30. The Sigma Nu quintet made constant threats at breaking the Independent's lead, but couldn't make them stick. High scorer for the game, with 15 points, was Sigma Nu's Threlkeld; the Independents' Daniel ran a close second with 14.

In the second game, the Old Men held Kappa Alpha down to a 39-29 score. High scorers were Palmer of KA with 14, and Maybry of the Old Men with 13.

Alpha au Omega fielded 13 men in a swamp over Pi Kappa Alpha of 63-11 on Monday afternoon. Landrum and Kinsinger were high scorers for ATO with 18 and 17. Whitley and Freund split the Pike's 11, 6 and 5 respectively.

Kappa Sigma felt the absence of Karl Rhea in Monday evening's game with Sigma Alpha Epsilon and lost 44-30. Fox of SAE was high scorer with 21 points.

Wednesday night, due to the fact that Maybry played for the PIKA's, and Beard did not play for the Independents, the latter won 64-37. High scorer for the game was Peters of the Independents with 22.

So far this column is batting 1000 in prediction, but the teams are moving closer together. Nevertheless, here goes—

This afternoon: KA in a close one over Sigma Nu. Tonight: KS over the Old Men, and SAE should edge out ATO.

Monday night: Sigma Nu should snow under PiKA. KA in a close one over KS; how close will depend on whether or not Rhea gets into the game.

Leading scorers:

Player	Team	Points
Daniel	Ind.	42
Fox	SAE	34
Vick	Ind.	29
Peters	SN	29
Whitley	Ind.	28
Maybry	PIKA	28
Landrum	OM	27
Bugbee	ATO	23
Palmer	SN	22
Threlkeld	KA	22

Triple Deltas Lead Way In Women's Volleyball Play

Delta Delta Delta showed strength in the first rounds of the Girls' Intramural volleyball tourney and turned back both AOPi and Chi Omega to advance into the finals. Kappa Delta defeated Zeta to earn the other final berth. The games were played Tuesday night.

With Dianne Dennison, Nancy McKinstry and Frances Nix leading the way, the Tri-Deltas had little trouble in disposing of AOPi to a tune of 37 to 6. The Deltas took an early lead and were never in danger. Marlene Baker, Marzette Smith and Sue Reinsaw were outstanding for AOPi.

In the second game Kappa Delta whizzed past Zeta with almost as little effort, 34 to 11. Cool play and splendid cooperation as a team spelled their victory. Mary Woods, Marlene Weigel, and Jean Enochs starred for the winners while "Mops" McGehee, Ann Morrow and "Speedy" Faulk carried the mail for Zeta.

Tri-Delta returned to the floor to polish off Chi Omega in handy fashion, 42 to 15. The X and Horse-shoe girls were out of the game shortly after it began, but with Jean Arnold and Betty Jo Carter batting the ball around, they kept Tri-Delt moving.

Finals in the tourney were played last night and the results will be announced next week. Besides the Tri-Delt vs. KD first place tilt, the loser of this game will play Chi O for second place.

Stylus Club Chooses Final Manuscripts

Stylus members debated for three hours Monday behind locked doors concerning final cutting of material submitted for publication in their journal.

It was found necessary to hold two additional meetings later in the week because of the difficulty in deciding how much good material had to give way to the excellent short stories and poems which are to be printed.

The work of at least eight new authors will be included in the winter Stylus. More poetry than prose has been accepted. Several finely written short stories had to be rejected because of their lengthiness.

Tri-Delta District Prexy Visits Local Chapter

Mrs. Robert Price of Tuscaloosa, Alabama, district president of Tri-Delta, visited the Southwestern chapter during the past week for conferences with actives and pledges.

Tri-Delta honored Mrs. Price with a tea held yesterday at 3:30 p.m. in the lodge to which the president of all campus Greek groups were invited.

Last Monday night the sorority held a supper in the house also in honor of Mrs. Price.

KD, Zeta Entertain Frats At Lodge Suppers Monday

Kappa Delta and Zeta Tau Alpha entertained campus fraternities Monday night, January 15, with suppers in their lodges.

KD had as their guests the members and pledges of Sigma Nu. After supper Gloria Brown sang "The White Star of Sigma Nu" and then led group singing.

ZTA entertained members and pledges of Alpha Tau Omega at a spaghetti supper. John McGettrick performed with his ukelele, and there was dancing following the meal.

Marzette Smith Named AOPi Vice President

Marzette Smith has been elected vice-president of AOPi to fill the unexpired term of Martha Hebron Russell who resigned January 8. Marzette will also continue to serve as pledge mistress until the election of new officers in March.

Lynx Go To Mississippi For Tilts With Majors, Chocs

The Southwestern cagers embark today on a two game road trip through Mississippi, with games slated with Mississippi College and Millsaps. Both contests are return games, as the Lynx have already met both squads in Memphis.

The clash with Mississippi College will take place on the Chocs' home floor in Clinton Friday night. The Indians will be trying to repeat an earlier 71-63 victory scored over the Lynx in Fargason last month. Chief thorn in Southwestern's side in that game was a lanky forward by the name of Dukes, who

Tenth Loss Handed Lynx By Millsap

The Lynx were handed their tenth straight setback Monday night in Fargason Field House by the Millsaps Majors. The final score was 56-43.

Southwestern got off to a slow start in what turned out to be a comparatively low-scoring ball game, and were never able to recover. Millsaps, sparked by the shooting of Forward Robert Pruitt, advanced to a 27-12 lead at halftime. In the second half, Coach Clemens kept up a steady stream of substitutions in an attempt to find the combination which could stem the tide. However, all Southwestern rallies fell short.

Leading scorer of the game was Millsaps guard Bob Gorday, who racked up 15 points on seven field goals and one free shot. Following him were teammates Pruitt and Jimmy Allen with 13 each, and a lanky 6'6" center, Phil Wallace, who had 12.

For the Lynx, it was Dave Thomas and John Austin who paced the offense. Each dropped in nine points, Austin on three field goals and an equal number of free shots, and Thomas on four shots from the field and one from the charity line.

poured 32 points through the nets. It is expected that the Lynx defense will be set to concentrate on him this time.

On the following night Millsaps will provide the opposition for the Cats in Jackson. Southwestern will be returning a visit the Majors made to Memphis Monday night, and will be seeking to avenge a 56-34 loss incurred that night. The Lynx were faced with a zone defense for the first time this season in that game, and will probably be better prepared to face it the next time.

Next Tuesday in the gym Lambuth will meet the Lynx in the second of a two game series. In the first contest a few weeks ago, the Eagles overcame a height disadvantage with speed and ball-handling ability to emerge with an 80-56 victory.

Coach Clemens will probably use his usual starting quintet in these games: Dave Thomas and Charley McAllister at forward, John Austin at center, and Roy Gwin and Mose Simon at guard.

1950 Freshmen Are Brightest Class Ever To Enter First Year At Southwestern

By Prof. David Sprunt

According to the Registrar, Mr. Malcolm Evans, who has just received the scores of the 1950 Freshman testing program, our new students are, apparently, the most intelligent freshman and freshettes ever to have worn Southwestern's traditional caps and bonnets. Their rating indicates with certainty that Southwestern's customary high standard in comparison with that of other colleges in the country will be continued.

The group's average score on the scholastic aptitude test placed it in the upper 30% of all students taking the test, several thousand from all parts of the country. In some sections of the achievement tests—notably in vocabulary and habits of correct English usage—the group was in the upper 25%. Thirty-nine in the class are rated "superior" by the national organization that designed and scored the tests. That designation means they were in the upper 10% of the national norms.

This splendid showing, however, was to be expected, considering the unusually fine high school background of grades and extra-curricular activities. 80% were from the upper half and 70% from the upper quarter of their classes.

Twelve graduated first in their class, and seven were in second place. On the basis of its aggregate ability both in and out of the classroom, the class of 154 should make a decided contribution to campus life. It appears to have everything needed.

A statistical glance at its past reveals such choice items as these (and the list is far from complete): an even dozen newspaper and annual editors; half a dozen Honor Society Presidents; 10 Valedictorians; four debate champions; five DAR. "Best Citizen" awards; an ROTC commanding officer; The princess of the West Tennessee Strawberry Festival; several senior class and student body presidents; five who have yet to find less than 'A' on their report

Choir Trip . . .

the tour. V. P. Davis has contributed a unique piece in unisons and octaves on the order of medieval plain-song. Dr. Tuthill's "Benedicete Omnia Opera" was sung by the choir several years ago and is a general favorite with the Singers.

"The Peaceable Kingdom", sung last year, is well worthy of repetition. Taken from the book of Isaiah, it is one of the best of modern composition of church music.

Completing the program is a group of spirituals for which the Singers are famous. With this well-rounded repertoire, the choir is promised a highly successful season, and a program more than worth the listening.

cards; three presidents of local and state Beta Clubs; a $500 Civitan essay winner; two head cheer leaders; three "best allaround" students; and so forth.

Yes, the Freshman Class is, in fact, a highly intelligent group of students—and the most intelligent thing they ever did was to come to Southwestern.

Crescendo and Diminuendo

The band concert last night was the best we've heard here. Orchids to soloists Betty Basom and Richard Barnes and to student conductor Jack Funkhouser. Although marred by several hazy entrances and some on-stage swapping of music, the program as a whole topped any of the band's work last year.

It is still a regret to harp upon the fact that so few students turn out to hear these productions by our music department. The students who heard the band last Tuesday agree that more such numbers as "Broadcast from Brazil" and "Piccolo Pic" should be played more often for just down-right pleasure.

In spite of rain and the KA dance, quite a few Southwesterners attended the violin concert by Isaac Stern. The performance was good as violin music goes, but as one of the professors put it, "Give that cat back its guts!"

Choir rehearsals have seemed ragged as Papa is working out the last details. Nevertheless, there is promise of an excellent tour program, when fitted together. Pieces by each of Southwestern's three eminent composers will be sung. Papa Tut's "Benedicete Omnia Opera" is already a favorite with the Singers.

V. P. Davis has contributed "Alleluia and Sequence" which is sung in unison and octaves on the order of medieval plain-song. "Ask Ye the Lord," Edwald's latest composition, is taken from the book of Zechariah.

The Singers have worked doubly hard since the Christmas holidays for a tour that will not take them to New Orleans and Dallas. It seems that Dallas is in a synod that doesn't help to support Southwestern, and New Orleans is celebrating Mardi Gras that week. But the tour will go to Greenville, Natchez, Baton Rouge, Shreveport, Texarkana, Little Rock, and other points of interest.
