Top Historian Says Past Useless Guide

Thursday night Dr. C. Van Woodward lectured in the Adult Education Center on the topic, "Is History Obsolete?" He was sponsored by Phi Beta Kappa. Dr. Woodward, a professor of history at Johns Hopkins University, is considered one of the top three men in history in the country.

In his talk he presented the problem of modern interpretation of history, and attempt to prophesy according to it. He said that history was obsolete if one viewed its interpretation in the light of the time-honored theory that history repeats itself. According to Dr. Woodward, interpretation on this basis is false in our day, for there are no precedents for the events that are going on now. We have come to a break in history, continuity has stopped. The past can no longer guide, neither its arts, its literature, nor its politics. These are no longer meaningful to modern historical prophesy.

Dr. Woodward said the main concern of history at the moment is with anachronisms. His definition of this word is, "people repeating themselves after history has ceased to do so. The history professor who commits this folly is the most anachronistic of all."

On the other side of the coin, Dr. Woodward has no time for those who say history is meaningless. He agrees that it has great meaning, but must be understood and interpreted correctly to be useful.

A noted author, he has written a number of books, many of which may be found in Burrow Library. Among these are Tom Watson, Agrarian Rebel, Reunion and Reaction, and Origins of the New South.

Music Department Presents Soprano In Varied Recital

Southwestern's Music Department presented Margaret Marshall Crutcher, soprano, in recital last Tuesday evening in Bohlmann Hall. A graduate of Southwestern, Mrs. Crutcher has continued her voice studies with Professor Leighton since her graduation.

The program opened with two very moving arias by Handel, followed by Die ihr den Schopfer ehrt, the only solo cantata written by Mozart. This first group was flawless and one sensed from the first note that what would follow would be well worth hearing.

The second group consisted of a cycle of six songs by the contemporary Scandinavian composer, Kilpinen, the title of which was Sommersegen. The singer's warmth of tone and keen interpretive sense was amply demonstrated in this work as well as in the delicately phrased Fetes Galantes of Debussy which followed.

To close the program, Mrs. Crutcher chose an English group of which the Three Mystical Songs by Alec Rowley, left the large audience wishing for more.

Five languages were represented in the program, proving the artist's versatility and her distinct pronunciation of each language. Mrs. Crutcher's mother, Mrs. Clara Marshall turned in a superb job as the soprano's accompanist.

When a recital is so perfect in every respect as was this program, it is very difficult to praise it enough without getting carried away with adjectives, however, it must be said that recitals of this high calibre are indeed few and far between.

Library Notice

Members of the Burrow Library staff have asked that the students read carefully the following requirements regarding the use of the library carrels.

No personal belongings can remain in the carrels overnight and students are asked to take their things with them when they leave. If personal belongings are left in the carrels overnight they will be put in the cloakroom and their owner may look for them there. Library books may be left in the carrels if they have been checked out at the circulation desk. Otherwise they will be reshelfed each morning.

These rules are necessary for the reason that there are a limited number of library carrels and these cannot be used by a few students exclusively. In order that more students may have use of the carrels, individuals are requested to follow the above regulations.

Second Lecturer Shows Russian Slides, Comments On People's Way of Life

The second of the University Lecturers spoke in the Adult Education Center Tuesday night. He was Thomas T. Hammond, who has recently done an illustrated story for the National Geographic Magazine on Russia, the topic of his talk. He presented color slides taken in all parts of Russia, with commentary.

He pointed out many interesting and rarely known facts about the Russian people, their amusements, their clothes, and their beliefs. Slides showed sumptuous hotel rooms that looked fit for royalty in the better hotels, Russian people congregating and dancing in ballrooms. He said there are no burlesque or "girlie" shows offered as amusements, and there is little drunkenness at parties. Opera and ballet are very popular, and are extremely well done.

He made a particular point about the contrast of old and new seen everywhere in Russia. Field workers use combines to gather their grain, but they handwrap it and send it away from the fields in ancient ox-carts. Women do hard labor, even as street workers operating pneumatic drills. There are many lovely state places, but few of the common people ever see them. Libraries have copies of foreign newspapers and periodicals, but only professors and officials with permission can use them. He

Torch's Backward Dance To Disclose Dream Man

EVERY GIRL HAS DATE OPPORTUNITY AS SOCIAL CUSTOMS ARE REVERSED

Saturday night at 8:00 sharp is the time of the big event for this weekend, namely, the Torch Dance. The houses of Chi Omega and Tri Delta will be decorated festively as sites of the dance, where beautiful music will be provided by the Shifters.

This annual event is the only one that insures every girl a date; it is backwards. Dancing will also be backwards for those who didn't ask a date and want to have fun on somebody else's money. The tickets for the dance may be procured from any Torch member and are 75c a couple, 50c stag.

The big event of the evening will be the announcement of the 1960-61 Torch Dream Man. The top three candidates can be seen at left, any of which, as you can see, would make a delightful Dream Man. Torch members will line up happily after the announcement to kiss the lucky guy.

Money from the event will go to pay the band, and to provide food at the annual Torch "B" Luncheon, held after semester for all women who made a 3-point or better average. Torch was established at Southwestern in 1927, and membership in it is extended on the basis of character, scholarship, and activity points.

Jenny Yates Named As SN Sweetheart

Miss Jenny Yates, a junior from Mayfield, Ky., has recently been chosen Sweetheart of Sigma Nu fraternity. Jenny is a member of Kappa Delta sorority, currently president of the Women's Undergraduate Board, and active on the Lynx staff. Besides her duties as a Student Council member and a Danforth participant, Jenny edited this year's Student Council Handbook. She was also this year's Homecoming Queen.

Faculty Staff To Hold Yearly Yule Gala Friday

The annual Faculty and staff Christmas party will be held in the Refectory Friday night, Dec. 9. Each year our faculty and staff gather their wives and collect for this festivity. The Refectory is decorated in gay Christmas motif, this year with gilded pine cones, green ivy and magnolia leaves and flowers.

The Southwestern wives will prepare delicious desserts which will be displayed on the buffet table. These ladies are famed for their culinary talents so many of our eminent profs will come away heavier for sure. Dinner at 6 p.m. will be followed by a musical program featuring new members of the college's music faculty and its newest singing group, the Madrigal Singers headed by Miss Anne Reiners. Vocal numbers will be given by Miss Reiners and violin selections by John Wehlan. The Madrigal Group will then sing Christmas Carols. Perhaps with persuasion Dr. Davis and Prof. Greene will perform on their recorders.

Especially invited guests will be emeriti members of the faculty and staff and their wives, including Dr. and Mrs. A. P. Kelso, Dr. and Mrs. Martin Storn, Dr. R. P. Strickler, Mrs. W. O. Shewmaker, Mrs. India Rutland, Mrs. R. S. Pond, Mrs. Raymond Cooper, and Dr. and Mrs. Burnet C. Tuthill.

Freshman Girl Wins In Essay Contest

Carolyn Ferrill, a freshman from Little Rock, Arkansas, has recently won first place in the annual United Daughters of the Confederacy essay contest in Arkansas. Carolyn wrote her essay on States Rights while in the twelfth grade. She received $12.50 as prize money.

The contest was part of the educational program of the UDF and is administered in Arkansas by the second vice president of the Arkansas Division.

Pi Picks Dottie McCaleb

Miss Dottie McCaleb, a senior from Savannah, Tenn., was brought out by Pi Intersorority. Her membership was announced in Chapel Wednesday. Dottie is president of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority, on the Pan-Hellenic board, and a participant in Intramurals for women. Before this year she was on the Elections Commission and music and magazine chairman for her sorority.

Partin Joins SW Staff As Associate Business Manager

George E. Partin, CPA, joined the staff of Southwestern Dec. 1 in the newly created post of associate business manager, C. L. Springfield, comptroller, announced last week.

Mr. Partin, a native of Parsons, Tenn., attended Lambuth College at Jackson and got his B.S. in Commerce degree from Athens College, Alabama. He did additional accounting study with the International Accountants Society, Inc., of Chicago and at the University of Tennessee Extension Division in Memphis, and he is currently attending Southern Law University.

He was graduated from the USNR Midshipmen's School at Columbia University and served with the amphibious forces in the Pacific during World War II. He was recalled to active duty during the Korean War and served in communications in the Far East.

Mr. Partin was on the auditing staff of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in Washington and Detroit in 1941-42 and since 1946 has worked for the Lichterman-Loewenberg interests serving in several capacities including comptroller for Southern Leather

About Campus

by Susie Bracewell

Lo, Baumgarten has moved in and taken over the Sou'wester office, and once more our vehicle of public opinion is controlled by feminine hands. Actually it appears to me that something strange has taken place when Publications Commissioners become Sou'wester editors.

I note a centralization of power. Did a coup d'etat take place; was it the result of office intrigue; or just another policy of the USNSA? Is Baumgarten just beginning her rise to power? Is Peyton Rhodes' position in danger? Will the new girls' dorm be named Baumgarten Hall? Will she attempt to set up her own Dream Man and if so will he be Warren Nance (great sympathizer with Tri-Delts)? These are all questions serious Southwestern students must ask themselves.

But no matter what happens, I will truthfully report all sorority and fraternity news, not even the names will be changed to protect ... etc.

Alpha Omicron Pi will celebrate its Founders' Day on Thursday, Dec. 8. There will be a banquet for actives, pledges, and alumni in the Louis XVI room of the Hotel Peabody at which Blair Gilmer will be the speaker. AOPi actives and pledges will meet their dates for dancing at the Skyway.

On Tuesday night the entire student body is invited to the annual Zeta Tau Alpha Open House honoring the basketball team and cheerleaders. The Open House, which will come complete with combo, will last from six to eight.

This week there is a nice long list of people to be congratulated. Maribeth Moore and John Frazer, Kay McKnight and Charles Beavers, and Leslie Smith and Barbara Robertson are pinned. Congratulations also to Phyllis McFarland and John Ruse, and to Beverly Bryan and H. B. Russell who are engaged. Finally a bouquet to Jenny Yates who has been chosen Sweetheart of Sigma Nu.

The Errant Bourgeois

by Sallie Meek, Sr.

Thanksgiving is over and ennui and term papers have set in. I, Sallie Meek decided to relieve the boredom of Senior Bible class (this is my fifth year, you know. I don't think you can really comprehend the course until you've had ALL the professors) by following Dean Jones around. I knew he wasn't coming to class Wednesday, so slyly I followed him to town and found myself in the midst of hundreds of scholarly looking men and was told that this was the Southern Association of Colleges. Hoping to find some Torch dream man material (I turned in my vote late that night and was crushed when I found out they had already been counted, I found a lil Dean from Texas who would have been great. I wandered around the Hotel Peabody and bumped into a lot of people including Peyton N., who looked like he disapproved. Well, along about 5:30, I found a good party going on in one of the rooms and that just proved what I've always suspected about professors, deans, etc. at Southern Association meetings. (Dean Jones wasn't there, of course). I wandered in (I feel that I am better acquainted with academic life than most of them—after all, none of them have had five years of Senior Bible — and I thought I could give them a few nice pointers). Out of the erudite conversation I managed to glean one goodie and I came back to campus without a dream man but with this:

Old Deans don't die. They don't even fade away. They just lose their faculties.

Anyway, so much for bizarre type experiences, and back to the good ole Southwestern faculty. The history department has been reading Van Woodward books all week like mad and I don't know about anybody else. May I say that the boys nominated for Dream Man are sweet and all and I have nothing against them personally, but I cannot understand the taste of our girls in this school that they would not include Mr. Greene. Let it not be forgotten that I ALWAYS am willing to include Mr. Greene.

Everybody go to the Torch Dance anyway. We can't all of us go with Mr. G.—in fact, we can't any of us go with Mr. G., but there's lot of good fish in the sea. (But is there anybody to ask to the dance?)

Your Student Council

by Jenny Yates

At the November 15th meeting of the Student Council Bert announced that the Elections Commission was working on the amendments to its constitution.

Wes said that the cross-country and football teams had finished their seasons and that the supports of both had been good this year.

Bette Baumgarten said that she is working hard at getting more publicity for Southwestern. Letters are going out to all organization heads soon about more publicity. It was also announced that Bette would replace Bob Watson as Editor of the Sou'wester.

In the work of the Intra-City Council Bill Davidson has been elected as the co-ordinating secretary. Joe Duncan will be Southwestern's junior representative to the group and Bert Tuggle will serve as the senior representative.

Since the other members of the council had no reports the council adjourned and then discussed the National Student Association. Several students were present for the discussion.

On November 22, 1960, the Student Council held its weekly meeting in Science Hall.

Lela Garner said that the Thanks-thru-Giving Drive was doing fairly well. She said that the sophomore class would be in charge of the vespers on the Friday night before we go home for Christmas.

Lynn Finch announced that the High School Visitation speeches had been written and that the team would visit Whitehaven on December 9th.

All other council members were present but had no reports. NSA was discussed by the council. It was decided to have a debate in assembly next week and have discussions in the dorm that night for all interested persons. It was emphasized that the students should take part in these discussions as much as possible.

On November 29th the Student Council held its regular meeting. Jerry announced that on the second Thursday of each month there would be an informal meeting in the Bell Room of all campus leaders to discuss problems, etc. The first luncheon meeting will be held on December 18th and, 1) campus participation and 2) the academic side related to other campuses, will be discussed.

Wes said that our basketball season begins on Dec. 1st with Tulane. Our first home ballgame will be Monday night, December 5th.

Bob B. announced that the National Purpose discussion has been postponed until one week from Thursday night.

Lela said that the Thanks-thru-Giving Drive had gone over the $1000.00 and will continue through Sunday.

Jenny announced the results of the hazing evaluation. Further evaluation will be made and a complete report will be given soon.

Student Center Nearing Reality

Southwestern's dream of having a student center is rapidly becoming a reality. In considering the next building the college plans to erect, the Faculty Committee on Development and Planning has consulted with the school's architect, Dr. H. Clinton Parrent, and a half-million dollar structure is envisioned.

Our enrollment will reach one thousand in the next few years, and our facilities must be expanded to meet the demands of new students. The plans made for the proposed student center will meet the needs of the students. The building, which will be in a line due north of the clock tower on Palmer, will house an auditorium which will seat a thousand and boast a stage suitable for theatrical and musical productions. Another large room will seat from eighty to one hundred people and will have three partitions for smaller groups to meet simultaneously. There will be five student offices for the Sou'wester, the Lynx, the Student Council, and other groups. A large, completely equipped bookstore will move into the new center, as will a snack bar and student lounge which will enable the students to have short order meals and snacks, play bridge, and listen to music. There is a possibility that a room will be equipped with stereo apparatus that will pipe popular L.P. records to any part of the building. A post office is included that will serve all the students, both from Memphis and from the dorms. Another boon to town students will be lockers in which they can leave books and wraps.

The Development Committee feels that these facilities of the student center best accommodate our growing college and it urges your enthusiastic support and interest to the proposed addition to the campus. The members of the Committee include Dr. Cannon, Chairman, Dr. Richardson, Dean Jones, Dr. Amy, Dr. Jack Taylor, Dr. Vernon Taylor, Dr. Scott, Dr. Conrad, Ed Albright, and Susan Hunter.

Preregistration Now Due

Preregistration is now in progress, the final deadline being Dec. 10. All students are asked to take part. Changes, where necessary, can be made later, but if each student is preregistered, the changes can be made in much less time than it will take to register on February 7.

The procedure is as follows:

Your adviser has been given two copies of the blank program card for each of his advisees, together with a copy of each advisee's first semester program showing courses now being taken. He also has copies of the second semester schedule, and additional copies are posted on the bulletin board.

Please report directly to your adviser as early in the period as possible and make out your program with his help. Please fill in the information asked for on the reverse of the program card, as many changes of address, telephone number, etc., have occurred since this information was last obtained. Please also copy your program, when completed, onto the Student's Copy card, and leave both copies with the adviser. He will turn them in at the registrar's office for checking.

You may not change sections or drop a required course without first consulting the Dean or the Registrar.

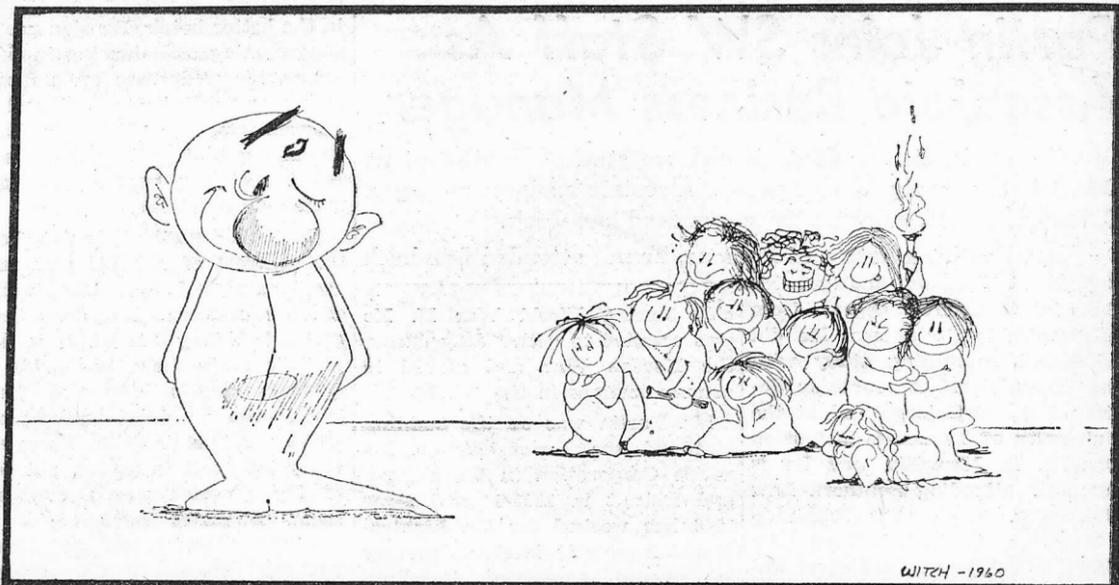

Special Note for Science Students: Those of you who expect to register in a second-semester science course should consult the department concerned in advance of preregistration regarding your laboratory schedule.

J. M. Jones, Dean
Malcolm Evans, Registrar

She also announced that the WUB will meet at 5:00 p.m. Thursday night to discuss hazing and plan the annual Christmas party. Since there was no other business, Jerry gave out eight weeks reports and the meeting was adjourned.

WITCHER - 1960

The Errant Aristocrat

Unfortunately the campus population is back on campus and holidays are over. Such is life—good things never last long enough. But according to some eminent authority character is built by doing something odious every day. We do it; we attend classes. My character, for one, should be sterling.

Having perused some old Southwesterners for the first time since September I find that it is vogue to talk about Professor Greene and say, "Yum!" and "Ahhh." Sallie Meek does it, Bracewell does it, evidently everyone who is read does it, so I shall join the happy throng. "Professor Greene, Yum! Ahhh! Whee! Etc.!" I have heard freshman girls standing starry-eyed in the Cloister clutching their math books passionately and saying, "Doesn't he give you IMPETUS for study!" I have also noted a great amount of these same young ladies headed for third floor Palmer with unsolvable problems clutched in their palms. Prof. Greene, you're in, I believe. I hereby join your fan club. Soon I will appear in your office disguised as a freshman girl and ask you the probability of math tutorials in integer addition.

I see it's time for preregistration again. That means I have to go find somebody to be my faculty advisor (nobody will do it twice in a row) and try once more to sign up for quantitative analysis of intoxicating liquids, sec. 3. Alas for seniors, Dean Jones has fallen prey to infinite resignation and will no longer teach senior Bible classes. And right when I was beginning to worship him with infinite passion.

Drive May End Short Of Goal

The Thanks-Thru-Giving Drive for 1960 will end Sunday night. Those of you who have contributed have not only our thanks but also the satisfaction that you have invested your money wisely. Those of you who have not contributed may do so tomorrow. We have not reached the goal and we will not unless we have your support.

Some of you may refuse to give because of the shadow cast on World University Service through which we are giving to the Bombay Cooperative Enterprises. Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru commented concerning WUS: "I think that the World University Service has done very good work. I particularly welcome its stress on cooperative and self-help techniques in the university community." The money which we will sell will be used in self-help and cooperative projects at Bombay University. It will not be used in any other way by the WUS.

My sincere thanks to all who have helped in this 1960 Thanks-Thru-Giving Drive. Let's try to reach the goal.

Frank Weathersby

Second Lecturer

showed pictures of Yalta, the Russian play-ground on the sea, which he said was every bit as pretty as the French Riviera. However, only the very elite can afford to go there, and workers manage the trip only if they receive awards for extra hard work.

One slide was of the only Baptist church allowed to stay open in Moscow. He said it was very well attended, showing that the Communist attempt to stamp out religion has succeeded only partly. He said there are many lovely old cathedrals left intact, but most of them have been turned into museums. Russia has youth camps that look surprisingly like Christian youth camps in the United States from the pictures. However there are dedicated to the production of ideally communistic men and boys. One of these had a plaque displaying certain young communist heroes. One of these was revered for having turned his father in to the police during the cooperation movement of the 1930's. His father had attempted to resist, and because of his son's report, was jailed and executed.

Mr. Hammond talked at length about the clothing, fashions, and food of the Russian common folk. His slides of styles showed very old, baggy, and long-skirted dresses for women, in rather hideous patterns. Shoes, even the most chic ones, looked like our American walking shoes, with thick heels and rounded toes.

After the lecture Mr. Hammond answered many questions from the audience. One of the most interesting concerned the Voice of America broadcasts. He said the most influential programs from the free world were those broadcasting American jazz. Everybody listens to them and is anxious to talk about the leading jazz musicians with Americans. The regular American programs and the BBC are not jammed as are the rest of the Voice programs. Evidently the government feels that if people are learned enough to understand English, they are of the higher class and therefore can afford to listen. The government's main aim is to protect its working class from outside information.

Mr. Hammond's lecture was extremely informative, and he spoke to a huge audience. In fact, people were standing all along the walls, and out into the hall. It is unfortunate that the school doesn't have a larger place to accommodate such speakers as they are attended not only by adults but by many students. There would have been more of both Tuesday night, had there been room, but many left because they could not get in. If Southwestern is going to trouble to acquire excellent speakers, something should be done to find space enough for them to be heard by all interested.

The next scheduled University Lecturer will be on Dec. 13.

Girls' Intramurals

Delta Delta Delta, seeking their second intramural crown this year, needed a victory over Zeta Tau Alpha this afternoon to clinch the volleyball championship. Led by Kim Vollmer, Dorothy Hicks, and Carolyn Cooper, they piled up an impressive record of eight wins and one loss. A Tri Delta win this afternoon would place the Kappa Deltas in second place with a 8-2 record, and the Zetas in third place with a record of seven wins and three losses. AOPi and XO finished in a tie for fourth with the Independents filling the cellar.

IZZY ROSEN'S IS HAVING A PLAYBOY CONTEST

This real live Playmate, as featured in Playboy Magazine, will be YOUR GUEST at a party given in her honor. In addition, to this, lovely lass, we shall supply you, also free of charge, all the party decorations that you can use, for a knocked-out Playboy Party. Of course, at no cost to you. For each dollar spent by a fraternity member, pledge, alumnus, parent, relative, or friend (1) one point will be given the fraternity specified by the buyer. A running total will be kept of the fraternity standings in the Madison Shop. And the winning house will have as their guest, A PLAYMATE from Playboy.

Izzy Rosen's Madison Shop, 109 Madison at Main in Memphis; in keeping with the highest traditions of clothing the young executive, the young professional and the college man demands, extends a cordial invitation to you all to visit with us when in Memphis.

The clothing, done by expert needlemen, the shoes by Craftsmen, and furnishings featured, are designed especially for the gentlemen with a discerning eye for fashion and a desire for recognition.

The suiting by CRICKETEER, for instance, is just naturally a part of the wardrobe of the individual who is to be successful in any venture he undertakes, whether it be in the world of the University or the world of business.

Furnishings and shoes of impeccable taste to complement you are, of course, available.

The gentlemen that assist you in the Madison Shop are men of experience, and are indeed candid in their opinions. They will be delighted to tell you what is fitting and proper if you choose to ask their advice regarding your requirements.

In addition to exceptional men's wear available at Izzy Rosen's Madison Shop in Memphis, they too, realize that there is time for work and time for play. In this vein, The Madison Shop wishes to inform you, that a contest is being planned with you in mind.

The fraternity with the greatest number of points amassed by January 1, 1961, will win, "A DATE WITH A PLAYMATE", one of the luscious lovelies from Playboy Magazine.

For over one half century, Izzy Rosen's Men's Shop has been purveyors of exceptional men's finery. Won't you visit with us, when next in Memphis? 109 Madison at Main in Memphis.

Arman, Chamberlin Chosen Captains Of Lynx' 1961 Cross Country Squad

by Sports Staff

Keith Arman, probably the Lynx' most versatile athlete since Billy Young, and Mallory Chamberlin, certainly one of the finest Southwestern distance men in school history, were elected co-captains of the Lynx' 1961-62 cross country team. Monday night's announcement of the election climaxed the 1960 cross country banquet and season.

Coach William R. Maybry had nothing but high praise for his team, which compiled a 6-3 record in dual meets and a 17th place in the NCAA meet at Wheaton, Illinois.

Five Letterwinners

Five members of the squad received letters for their efforts during the season. They include Chamberlin, Arman, sophomores Roy Wrather, Larry Kinney and freshman Dossett Foster. These men placed in the top five of the Lynx team in at least half of the meets.

During the banquet Phil Mulkey, who went to Rome as a member of the U.S. Olympic decathlon squad this summer, gave a very inspirational talk on the importance of sports in forming a man's character for later life as well as for the present.

Freeman Marr, coach of Southwestern's undefeated 1960 track team, seconded Mulkey's thoughts and gave his congratulations to the team for its fine record, sportsmanship, and desire for personal achievement regardless of ability. Incidentally, Coach Marr knew first hand of what he spoke, as Chamberlin, Arman, and harrier Bill Howard were key members of his phenomenal cinder outfit last spring.

Only a Sophomore

Other members of the Lynx' squad present were Howard, a senior, and the team's only non-returning member, juniors Pete Cornish, Bert Ringold, sophomore Charlie Rich, and freshmen David Cooper and Roy Selvidge.

Chamberlin, only a sophomore this year, presently holds Southwestern's record not only in cross country but in the cinder mile and half-mile as well. He placed first among Southwestern runners in every meet this season. At the NCAA meet in Wheaton, the lanky strider cut a whole minute off his previous best time for a four-mile run.

Arman, a junior, has been a backbone of the cross country team now for three seasons. In track he has been a standout miler and two-miler for two years.

Basketball Standout

But running events comprise only half of the Arman story. Even before the cross country season was half over, "Lefty" Keith was doing double duty as a distance man and one of Coach Woody Johnson's key basketball returnees.

Arman picked up a basketball letter his sophomore year and should be a standout on this year's hardwood aggregation. The 5'10" southpaw makes up for his lack of height with exceptional speed, a hard-driving lay-up, and a deadly outside shot that cuts the opposition about a second before the opposition knows anyone has shot.

Girls' Intramurals

Competition in the "B" League was keen with Kappa Delta finishing with a clean 4-0 record to win the title. Freshmen and Sophomores dominated the play in this new league with Sarah Richards and Juanita Shettlesworth of KD, Kathi Moorhead of AOPi, and Ann Smith of XO leading their teams to victory.

Most Muscled Greeks To Win Fine Trophy

Which campus fraternity has the most athletes, meats, mesomorphs, rocks, bullies, sporting gentlemen, or what-ever-you-call-em?

Well, Southwestern is about to find out. And to the fraternity with the best varsity participation for the 1960-'61 season will be honored by the presentation of a fine trophy to be kept for one year. It will never be retired.

The trophy is a very handsome 2½ foot mantelpiece surmounted by an Olympic-style figure wielding a victory wreath. On four lower pedestals surrounding the central object stand figures clad in football, basketball, baseball, and track garb.

Mathematical Determination

The winning fraternity will be determined mathematically. The number in each fraternity is to be multiplied by seven (the number of Southwestern varsity sports). The number of the fraternity's participants in each sport is summed and the total divided by the product of its membership times seven. The group with the highest percentage wins the highest trophy.

As a result differences in the sizes of the fraternities will be provided for, and a man who participates in more than one sport will not be counted as just a varsity participant. He will score as many points for his group as the number of different sports he enters.

Varsity sports at Southwestern include football, cross country, basketball, track, tennis, golf and baseball.

Tennis

Bibba Holland of Chi Omega defeated Violetta Azocar in an exciting match Thursday afternoon to win the Tennis Championship.

Intramurals Flagball

Sigma Alpha Epsilon rolled over PiKA 54-12 and Sigma Nu 48-36 to finish with a clean 6-0 record and the Lions' second consecutive flagball crown. Kappa Alpha shaded ATO 30-26 in a battle for second honors.

In the scoring race, SN's Mark Schaap retained his season-long leadership and carried away the individual title with a total of 62 points, just a team captain-style safety better than the Lions' Tommy White and KA's Owen Middleton. All three men scored ten touchdowns apiece in six contests.

Cross Country

Speedy Jerry Dawkins retired from the flagball field long enough to streak SAE to the cross country championship Wednesday afternoon and tow in the Lions' second intramural crown this fall. Dawkins copped first place with a time of 12:53 for the 2.1-mile course over on the north side of the gym.

Kappa Sigma's Mike Galyean toured the course in 13:14, good enough for second place. The Independents' lone entry, Howard Romaine, finished in 13:24 and captured third money.

Joining Dawkins on the Sig Alph's winning combination were David Watts, Jimmy Kitchen, Scott Hallford, Joe Dycus, and Chal-lace McMillin. Their winning score was 45. In second place was an ATO team of Ronnie Gresham, Bob Wells, Mike Hutchinson, John Wilkins, and Bill Benfield, who totaled 66 points among them (low score wins).

The meet this year was one of the best, with more full teams (four) entered than in any pre-

AUBREY SMITH, lone returning starter on SW's '60-'61 hardwood gang, will carry a good deal of the burden into the winter campaign. Smith at 6'4" is a sophomore and will hold down one of the two starting pivot slots vious running. Unfortunately a combination of holiday celebrating and a sharp, chilly weather produced several over-wrought runners, some of which had to be helped off the field.

Volleyball

Volleyball kicked off Thursday night with three "A" League games followed by three more Friday evening. Sigma Alpha Epsilon will be seeking its third consecutive volleyball championship as well as the fraternity's third intramural crown this year.

For the first time a "B" League will be the center of volleyball competition. First games scheduled in the new league will be played Saturday afternoon.

Volleyball competition should wind up before the Christmas holidays. January is sure to find the wildest basketball competition ever with no less than three leagues scheduled for competition.
