Talented Freshmen Feed Student Center Fund

The Freshman Talent Night, sponsored by the Student Center Committee, was held in Hardie Auditorium Friday night, October 7, 1960.

The show was shot into orbit with "The Roaring Twenties." Ann Autry, Nan Bell, Carolyn Brasher, Christine Brosell, Kitty Bryan, Judy Crow, Liz Currie, Jeanette Elliot, Ann Evans, Floyd Humphries, Margaret Lovitt, Sharon Lupfer, Alabel May, Lynn Powell, Maggie Schlubach, Anne Smith, Dudley Weaver, and Patricia Whyte danced, sang, and danced again. With the "Twenties" out of the way, Boyd Ellison blurted out with "Mountains O'Mourne."

"Don Brown's Body" with Francis Cooper, Jerry Dawkins, Scott Hallford, Joe Howell, and Larry Thomas, kept the crowd rolling in their seats. The next number, a duet by Ed Sheffield, and John Bryan, could have very easily been called "Jazz For An Autumn Evening." But it wasn't called that, so forget it!

"Scotch & Soda" by Mary Lynn Cooper soothed the audience. What did you expect with Scotch & Soda. Joyce Clippard played with "Malaguena" while Linda Bunn, Malinda Clayburn, Ann Crowell, Jean Gregory, Marty Hinson, Hannah Richards, and Montez Thomas "Let It Snow."

AEC Plans Program On Politics, Play

Southwestern's Adult Education Center has a most pleasing program outlined for the coming week of October 17-22. Each student should find something of interest in this varied schedule.

Wednesday, the 19th, John Henry Davis is heading a "Conference on National Purpose" which will be from 9:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. At this time it has not been decided whether students may attend, but you will be notified soon. Let us say that if you are able to attend, this will be a most enlightening experience.

On Friday, at 6:30, the TV debate between Presidential candidates Nixon and Kennedy will be televised and the AEC television will be available to all interested students.

"S" CLUB TO ANNOUNCE PRINCESS SAT. NIGHT

"NIGHT RIDERS" COMBO TO MAKE FIRST APPEARANCE ON CAMPUS

Lou Johnson, president of the Southwestern "S" club, will announce the selection of their princess at the club's annual dance October 15. The dance is to be in Neely Mallory Gymnasium from 8 to 12 p.m. The Night Riders, a Negro combo from Oklahoma, are to provide the music.

Cogswell, Pritchard Show Christianity's, West's World Role

"The Cross is the crisis," emphasized Mr. James A. Cogswell in his Religious Evaluation speech on Tuesday. Carrying out the Biblical theme of this week's topic "Christ and a World in Crises," he further explained crisis with a quotation from the book of John, "light is come into the world, and men loved loved darkness rather than light."

Christianity, he further stated, is not only Biblical, but also timely in that it has changed the world from the objectivity of the Greek world, the mercenary attitude of the Roman world, and the isolationist policy of the Jewish nation to individuals offered the hope of redemption and eternal life. A "sick and sorry" world but nonetheless the object of God's love.

Mr. Cogswell believes that the current problem is nothing less than the "preservation of mankind" because of the unneighborliness of a shrinking world, the destitution of a rapidly increasing population, and the power of a few to destroy others through "a self-wrought extinction." He dramatized the scene by picturing a reasonable Eisenhower and a ranting Khrushchev who "rattled rockets in his

Southwestern To Launch Campaign For Top Men

Plans are now being made by Southwestern to enroll the most highly qualified men in eleven key cities in next year's freshman class. Alumni advisory committees located in Birmingham, Dallas, Fort Worth, St. Louis, Jackson, Miss., Little Rock, Mobile, Nashville, New Orleans, Shreveport, and Chattanooga will assume major roles in locating the outstanding boys in their high schools.

The committee in each city will sponsor a dinner for the boys and their parents to better acquaint them with Southwestern.

Dr. Alfred O. Canon, dean of alumni and Jim Curtis, field representative, will be present at each dinner. Mr. Curtis, a 1960 graduate of Southwestern, who was president of the Honor Council last year, a member of the Hall of Fame, and Who's Who in American Colleges, will stay in each city several days devoting much time to meeting prospective students and answering any questions they might have.

Others of the Southwestern staff attending each dinner are Dr. P. R. Richardson, Mrs. Quincy Wolf, Goodbar Morgan, and a member of the faculty who will be a dinner speaker.

The "S" club select their princess by secret vote of its membership. This organization consists of all lettermen and it helps to promote a spirit of achievement.

Following the announcement Mr. Johnson will crown the new princess and present her with a bouquet of red roses. The princess will reign over homecoming activities with the Homecoming Queen and Football Princess.

This will be the first campus appearance for the Night Riders. Featuring a quartet and a soloist, this group has been performing in the Memphis area for the past several weeks.

A new feature is to be instituted this week. Tables will be placed around the dance floor, whereas in the past couples have had to sit in the bleachers when not dancing. If this is successful, it will be used for future functions.

Fullbright Deadline Comes November 1

Only three weeks remain to apply for some 800 Fulbright scholarships for study or research in 30 countries according to the Institute of International Education. Applications are being accepted until November 1.

Inter-American Cultural Convention awards for study in 17 Latin American countries have the same filing deadline.

Recipients of Fulbright awards for study in Europe, Latin America, and the Asia-Pacific area will receive tuition, maintenance and round-trip travel. IACC scholarships cover transportation, tuition, and partial maintenance costs. IIE administers both of these student programs for the U.S. Department of State.

General eligibility requirements for both categories of awards are: 1) U.S. citizenship at time of application; 2) a bachelor's degree or its equivalent by 1961; 3) knowledge of the language of the host country; and 4) good health. A demonstrated capacity for independent study and a good academic

SW Professor Recuperating

Professor David M. Amacker, chairman of political science department who entered Campbell's Clinic on September 29th, is now convalescing after having a leg operation. The purpose of this operation was to remove a cyst from his right leg bone.

Dr. Amacker has now been in the clinic approximately ten days. He expects to be up and around by Friday and hopes to be back in class by the middle or end of next week. We sincerely wish him a complete and speedy recovery.

Most Typical, Freshest Froshes Chosen By WUB And Sanhedrin

After the Southwestern-Centre football game Saturday, an informal dance was held at Mallory Memorial Gymnasium from 8:00 to 12:00 P.M. Music for the dance was by the Mad Lads. All proceeds went to the Southwestern Student Center Fund.

Awards were given to the Freshest Freshmen and the Most Typical Freshmen by Jenny Yates, President of WUB, and Bert Tuggle, President of the Sanhedrin.

Freshest Freshman girl was Anne Smith, a Chi Omega of Dyersburg, Tennessee.

Freshest Freshman boy was Bill Benfield from Shreveport, Louisiana. Since coming to Southwestern, Bill has become an ATO pledge and performed in the Freshman Talent Night.

The Most Typical Freshman girl was Hannah Richards, a KD pledge, from Chattanooga. She attended the dance with Don Jenkins.

Most Typical Freshman boy was Jimmy Kitchens, an SAE pledge, from Montgomery, Alabama.

About Campus by Susie Bracewell

This week no one came to the garden alone (not that they usually do, but I'm talking about during the morning this time) and the Lair wasn't exactly deserted either. So did your religion hold up under the test, or did it fall over clay feet, or over the bed for an hour and a half of sleep? Or, for you older Christians, were you still thinking in terms of simplicity to complexity. Well, brethren, you missed the boat if you weren't there to swat the flies and scratch the ants and creak the chairs and absorb godly ideas as well as moisture in your discussion groups.

This week life has not been extremely complicated by activities in the Pan Hellenic-Interfraternity Council area. However the Sigma Nu's have come through and elected pledge officers who are: President, Cyril Hollingsworth; Vice President, Ed Hankins; Secretary, Bill Milner; Treasurer, Bill Milner; Treasurer, Larry Bucy; Chaplin, Joe McCown; and Social Chairman, Henry Pope.

Many congratulations go to Zeta Tau Alpha and their additional new pledges Lynda Raspberry, Donna Slaton, Donna Conroy, Hazel Kirkpatrick, Frances Freeman, and Libby Davis.

Also the Zeta's are having the eternal celebration of Founders Day. It will be held Saturday night at the Parkview Hotel. The banquet will be followed by a slumber party at the lodge. I have been holding for years a one woman crusade against that social horror of slumber parties, but alas, I am a voice crying in the wilderness.

And Friday afternoon the Chi Omega Mother Club will honor the mothers of their new initiates with a tea at the lodge. The Chi O's are also indulging in a slumber party on Saturday night.

The ATOs have requested that a paragraph be dedicated to the praise of their new addition. Actually it does look tres nice and the inside is especially attractive with Danish modern furniture, etc.

This week-end many, many people were pinned. Congratulations to John McCharen and Fran Murchison; Mary Worth Burton and David Chestnut, a PiKA at the university of Alabama; Diana Reil and John Rice; Elizabeth Stansel pockets" arguing before relatively uneducated peoples who were not being led for they actually have the power to lead the other one-fourth of the population.

The West, Mr. Cogswell asserts, has upset "the static equilibrium of the world." It has "thrust the world into materialism" and into the idea of man in the image of God. Therefore, this "bubbling on the surface" is "from a seething fire beneath," the idea of a nation free from Western domination.

Mr. Cogswell, missionary to Japan, sketched that country's particular problem as a "precarious prosperity" depending on trade relations.

Mr. John Pritchard offered a direct appeal to his audience on Wednesday when he asked, "What is your attitude?" He emphasized that America, judged as a product of Christianity, should care and should "stand up for the true faith." Americans should individually sponsor the education of Africans, thus filling the gap left by the disintegration of the tribal system.

What Mr. Pritchard analyzed as the aim of the Africans was not only political freedom, but also self expression. Made to feel inferior by a materialistic society which they admire, they revolt from inferiority and establish what Mr. Pritchard called the "cult of independence." This "cult of independence" has at its foundations a desire for liberty, for brotherhood, and for equality.

Several religions and philosophies, Mr. Pritchard continued, could be chosen by the Africans. There is Islam which offers ritual, brotherhood, and faith, but it lends itself to the "status quo." This does not appeal to the people. Communism is another alternative, but it lacks any conception of the supernatural. Materialism, another form, gives things but lacks God. Synchronism, Mr. Pritchard explained, is a rather incongruous system of putting Christ in the African system. Finally there is Christianity. A religion which appeals to the soul, personality, body, and mind. Mr. Pritchard maintains, however, that America has not done enough. An understaffed missionary group and America's crime rate, he submitted, have not justly represented Christianity in the Congo.

Your Student Council

by Jenny Yates

The Southwestern Student Council held a short meeting in Science Hall on Tuesday night, October 11th. The meeting was called to order by the President Jerry Duncan. He welcomed Mary Adams as the new Pan representative to the Student Council. After a prayer by Lela Garner the minutes were read by Mary Elizabeth Streete.

Bert announced that the Homecoming Queen elections will be held on Friday in the East end of Palmer. There are eleven girls on the ticket. Announcement of the winner will be made sometime next week in The Commercial Appeal.

Wes said that he has sent letters of welcome to both the captain of the Mississippi College football team and track team. There will be a pep rally Friday night and everyone is encouraged to support the team. The band of Mississippi College will be here to provide part of the half-time entertainment Saturday.

The Commissioner of Education, Bob Barret, announced that the High School Visitation team is working on their speeches. Dr. Pritchard will speak to the freshmen Thursday night on "National Purpose."

Bette announced that the Publication Board will hold its first meeting as soon as the freshman delegate is elected.

Lela said that the next PRC meeting will be held next Wednesday night for the purpose of discussing Religious Evaluation Week.

Social Commissioner, Dan Bowen, announced that the sororities and fraternities voted to discontinue Derby Day.

Jenny announced that a complete evaluation of hazing will take place next week. The sororities, fraternities, and independent groups will all be concerned.

NSA chairman, Bill Davidson, said that an NSA committee for the coming year is now being formed.

Pan, IFC and the Library Committee were all present but had no report.

Jerry announced that the Student Center Fund now has over $2,000.00 in it. El Albright, Chairman, and his committee are now planning their trips for the spring.

Bill Davidson said that the freshmen will provide the half-time entertainment this week.

There was no more business so the meeting was adjourned. All of you students are reminded that the Student Council would like for you to visit the meetings at any opportunity which you might have. We represent YOU, and we welcome all suggestions and ideas which you might have!

Southwestern

Indicating that Southwestern is entering into serious competition with the best colleges and universities for these men, Dr. Canon said, "Our teaching program is admittedly designed for the superior student, and we want to draw the students with the greatest potential in every department—science, international studies, business administration, mathematics, as well as the humanities." Dr. Canon also pointed out that the new men's dormitory will enable Southwestern to accept more men.

Preliminary meetings of the advisory committees have already been held in each city and about six alumni have been named to each local committee. All alumni are urged to help by suggesting the names of any good prospective students.

Across the Desk

We are happy to announce that the campus national election will be held on Thursday October 20. Voting machines will not be used as they will have been distributed to the precincts by that time. Voting will be by ticket on paper ballots.

Campaigning will begin Monday noon and will continue through Thursday. No campaigning will be allowed within Palmer Hall on election day. The polls will open at eight a.m. and will close at four p.m.

Any mass media methods will be acceptable with no limit on numbers or types of signs, circulars, etc. We do ask, however that pains be taken not to deface the buildings or grounds. All campaign publicity must be down by Friday noon as Saturday is homecoming and we want the campus to look nice for that occasion.

We feel that this election can be the best training ground for workers for the coming national election. It is our hope that the representatives of both parties will do their utmost to make the campaign vigorous and informative.

"The Three Jolly Coachmen" appeared with Coach-women, Elaine Holbrook, Lynn O'Neal, and Susie Rudder. The three departed with "Jamaica Farewell."

A new Combo "The Merry Men," made up of Bill Benfield, Dick Gear, Mike Hutchans, and Don Jenkins played two tunes . . . ! Then Mary Rinehart hopped on the stage with a short, short skirt on and a stuffed animal under her arm and pantomimed "Eloise."

Roy Twaddle appeared with his guitar and sang "Scarlett Ribbons" and "Old Shep." From the applause of the audience, he was certainly enjoyed. He really shook the young ladies.

Eleanor Lawrence and Kay Reynolds brought the audience out of their daze with "The Movie." I believe Eleanor was having great fun poking Kay with the umbrella. Poor Kay!

"To the Woods, To the Woods" was probably the most serious act of the whole show. It made each one present realize that regardless of the change of seasons, THE SAP RUNS ON." Joyce Clippard, Louise Currie, Carolyn Ferrill, Judy Hollingsworth, Margaret Rowe, Terry Skinner, Susan Tate, Leigh Townes, and Meredith Wilson were the trees, flowers, and bushes. Rita Eddington was the Narrator.

"Running Through The Everglades" with Barbara Eberbaugh was very amusing. Try it sometime!

The show ended with "Mariah," sung by Boyd Ellison and Roy Twaddle.

Mr. Eddie Gaines, Master of Ceremonies, should be mentioned for the tremendous job he did. Now I can understand the following statement: "It takes all kinds of people to make up Southwestern."

A special thanks goes to Carolyn Cooper and Lee Carroll for their time, energy, and enthusiasm.

Students To Get First Look At "Babes In Arms"

Front St. Theatre will open its forthcoming musical, Babes In Arms, with four special student previews to begin on Wednesday, October 19th, and continue through the following Saturday. Curtain time will be 8:30 pm.

Tickets for students during these previews will be only $1.50 instead of the usual $2.50 and $3.25 prices.

Miss Dixie Carter, a Southwestern student, will play a leading role in this gay and romantic musical by Richard Rodgers and Lorenz Hart.

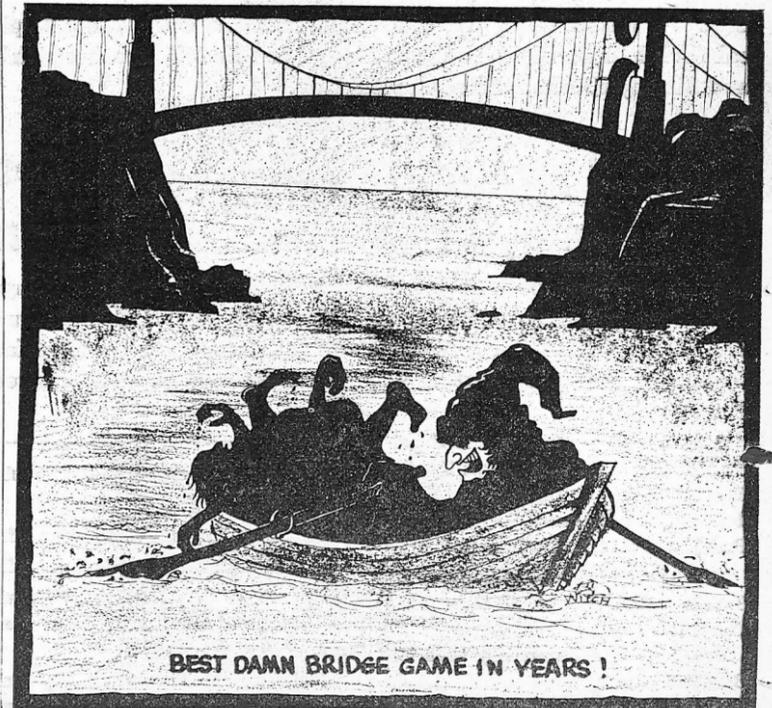

Babes In Arms will open to the general public on Monday, October 24th at 8:30. Also starring in the show will be a newcomer to Memphis, Miss Joan Fagan. She comes to Front St. from New York.

Tickets are available at Front St.'s box-office in The Book Shelf, Poplar Plaza during the day, or at the theatre box office located in the Hotel King Cotton during the evening. For reservations call SL 8-0911.

Original Cover Designs Requested For Stylus

Stylus, campus literary magazine, plans to include art work in this year's issue. Simple designs by student artists for use both on the cover of the magazine and as illustrations for various poems and stories will be welcomed by Stylus members.

Designs should be in India ink on heavy white paper. It will not be possible to use color. Art work may be turned in to Jocelyn Agnew, Bette Baumgarten, Susie Bracewell, Sandy Winter, Harvey Jenkins, Baird Callicott, Bert Ringgold, or Professor Roper. Stylus would appreciate contributions for the cover as soon as possible so that the best design may be chosen.

Board Of Directors Convene On Campus

The Board of Directors of Southwestern, the governing body of the college, will hold its semi-annual meeting on Thursday, October 20, at the college. At this meeting a new member of the Board will be announced. On Wednesday evening, October 19, the members of the Board and the President's Council will attend a dinner in the Catherine Burrow Refectory.

Southwestern's Board of Directors consists of twenty representatives selected from the four synods which support the college. These synods, Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi, and Tennessee have five members each on the Board.

The President's Council is composed of one hundred Memphis business and professional leaders, about half of whom are alumni of the college. This Council serves in an advisory capacity, and the members also act as ambassadors for the college, helping to create good relations between the college and the community.

Mr. Poole of the Lynx Lair would like to extend his sincere thanks to all those persons who have asked about his wife and especially to Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity for the bouquet they sent to the hospital. Mrs. Poole is progressing very well and is now at home with the family.

Meditations

by Sallie Meek, Sr.

Woe and lamentations. It has come to the ear of Sallie Meek, Sr. while eavesdropping at the faculty table in the Lair that false rumors are circulating concerning her identity. It seems that Mr. Greene thinks another of his admirers, Fran Steward, writes my column. My heart is broken. What is worse, Mr. Roper thinks so too. This is really a blow because he is always being woeful about America not having any myths and here I am, a true living mythos right on this campus and he doesn't even believe in me. I believe in Professor Roper. People must stop trying to figure out my identity. I am that I am, you might say.

This week, I, with the help of a couple of friends of mine about campus, am going to present the Sallie Meek and Cohorts Plan for Political Perfection.

We are worried, my friends and I, for fear Kennedy is going to get elected. You know what that will mean. When you send your dollar to Washington (and you will send your dollar to Washington), how much is going to come back to you? I'll tell you how much. Five cents, that's how much. What can you buy nowadays with five cents? Bubble gum, that's what. Are we going to raise our kids on bubble gum? Now I ask you. And where is our money going? To Teddy and Bobby and Eunice and Rose and Old Joe and Baby Caroline, that's who. Who's going to be Secretary of State? Peter Lawford, probably. And who's really going to be running things? Frank Sinatra. SOMETHING HAS GOT TO BE DONE.

Here is our plan to remedy all evil:

First off, we've gotta have a king and there's only one person in this country who's qualified to be a king and that's Barry Goldwater. Well, no place in the nation has as many qualified people for public office as Southwestern. Right off, King Barry would reorganize the government, and if he followed our suggestion, select the following:

- 1) Prime Minister (PM)—Dr. John Henry Davis.
- 2) Ambassador to the Hapsburgs, Bourbons, and Hohenzollerns—Dr. Wright.
- 3) Committee in Charge of Setting up New American Mythos—Dr. Lowry, Dr. Rober, and Dr. Benish.
- 4) Secretary of Defense (Water Bombs)—Mark Scoop.
- 5) Secretary of the Treasury—Dr. Rhodes.
- 6) Director of Population Explosion—Dr. Pritchard (Christmas cards by Dr. Wright)
- 7) Immigration Control—Mr. Evans.
- 8) Our Man in Havana—Bert Ringold.
- 9) Honorable Inventor of the Wheel—Paunchy Turpin.
- 10) Director of Foreign Aid—Mrs. King.
- 11) Director of Social Events and National Festivals (Sub-Committee on Rapture and Passion) — Mr. Greene.
- 12) Leader of the Minority Party—Mr. Hemphill.
- 13) Director of Religious Evaluation Week—Dr. Patterson.
- 14) Director of Black Tulip Week—Susie Bracewell.

record are also necessary. Preference is given to applicants under 35 years of age who have not previously lived or studied abroad.

Applicants will be required to submit a plan of proposed study that can be carried out profitably within the year abroad. Successful candidates are required to be affiliated with approved institutions of higher learning abroad.

Students at Southwestern should consult Prof. J. O. Embry, campus Fulbright adviser, for information and applications.

Competitions for the 1961-62 academic year close November 1, 1960. Requests for application forms must be postmarked before October 15. Completed applications must be submitted by November 1.

Southwestern Youth for KENNEDY

During the administration of Franklin Roosevelt, an enlightened and progressive Democratic Congress approved the executive proposals which constituted the New Deal. A frightened and backward Republican party cried that the death of capitalism and our free enterprise system was upon us, until even the Republicans saw that social security, collective bargaining, minimum wages, maximum hours, conservative and public housing actually accomplished their two-fold purpose of raising the national standard of living and alleviating the suffering of a stricken business community.

How remarkable the parallel with 1960!

Today our nation is in need again of concentrated and responsible federal action. Our educational system lingers in a nineteenth century quagmire of crowded rooms, half-days, and under-paid teachers. Our cities deteriorate into vast slum areas with little done for prevention. The nation's most vital industry—steel—produces at barely one-half its capacity. Unemployment clings stubbornly at a disastrous six percent. General Madeiras, the Gaither Report, the Rockefeller Brothers' Report, and the accomplishments of Soviet scientists tell us that we are dangerously slow in providing for the nation's defenses.

The Democratic party recognizes the existence of these gnawing needs and scarcities and its leader, John Kennedy, presents a program of positive national action to conquer them. On the other hand, the Republicans have reverted to their ancient cries of federal control and protestations of government encroachment.

Any reasonable person would assume that, after the exposure of the falsity of these charges against the previous Democratic proposals, the GOP would have dropped the old chant, but not even the success of the New Deal or the absence of federal control from such programs as school lunch programs, the GI Bill of Rights, and the very program which allows Southwestern to build two new dorms this year have convinced Richard Nixon and his Republican cohorts against trying to make a campaign issue of federal controls that exist only when necessary and just, and a socialism that exists not at all!

competition, Dr. Hugh Taylor, president of the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation, estimated that well over 9,000 students will be nominated by the closing date of October 31.

Designed to reduce a nation-wide shortage of qualified college teachers, the program annually awards 1000 fellowships for first year graduate study at any university of the recipient's choice in the United States or Canada. Candidates are elected only after rigorous screening and personal interviews by one of fifteen regional committees of educators. Each elected fellow receives a $1500 stipend for living expenses plus full tuition and family allowances.

The Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation does not accept applications directly from students. Every candidate for the award must be nominated by a faculty member. Nominated students are invited to declare themselves active candidates for the award by sending the necessary application forms to the chairman of the selection committee for the region in which the prospective candidate is now located. A list of fifteen regions and the names of the regional chairmen may be ob-

Southwestern For NIXON & LODGE

By Charles Inlow

Vice President Richard Nixon, the Republican nominee for president, with full backing of the Republican Party chose Henry Cabot Lodge as his running mate.

At the convention headquarters on July 29, 1960 Mr. Nixon outlined for the press the plan through which he intends to expand the duties of the vice president. The activities dealing with the non-military aspects of the world struggle:

- 1) exchange of persons
- 2) information
- 3) technical assistance
- 4) loans and grants are to be unified under the supervision of the vice president. Mr. Nixon will delegate "to the vice president the chairmanship of a group which will undertake not only coordination but also direction of these activities."

He sees that we need to take upon ourselves new initiative and not simply react to the moves the Communists make.

Henry Cabot Lodge has the imagination, understanding and ability to fulfill the position of vice president. He began his political career in the state legislature, thus being aware of the local government situation; he then went to the US Senate, has served in the Armed Forces, and is at present United States representative to the United Nations, thus having a knowledge of the international situation we find ourselves in today.

Mr. Lodge served on the Foreign Relations Committee while in the Senate. He supported the National Defense Reorganization Act for he fully realized the importance of having defense under a clearly established chain of command.

His imagination enabled him to see the need for government re-organization and he was co-author of the Lodge-Brown Act which created the Hoover Commission for Government Re-organization.

His understanding of the people of the United States is seen in his action in the introduction of a bill to set measures to prohibit discrimination in employment because of race, religion, or national origin. He also introduced a bill to reform the electoral college in order that each state's electoral vote be divided according to its popular vote. These are but a few examples of how Mr. Lodge stands on domestic issues.

Mr. Lodge's keen political ability saw him appointed in 1952 as permanent United States representative to the United Nations. He was given ambassadorial rank and had cabinet membership. No vice presidential nominee has had experience which surpasses or equals Mr. Lodge's in this area. He has served as a presidential advisor and is well aware of the duties and responsibilities he will have as vice president.

Mr. Lodge spoke directly to us as students when he said: "My years at the UN convinced me that many of the peoples on the sidelines—in Asia, Africa, and the Middle East—do not by any means take it for granted that the Western style of freedom is better than communism. They don't listen much to what we say about communism, but they care a great deal what we do for the national independence and better material life which they desire . . . Able students preparing for the professions . . . might organize themselves into a nation-wide foreign-service reserve, preparing to spend perhaps five years of their careers working in the hospitals, industries, and universities of foreign countries."

Lynx Battle Choctaws Landers, McAfee Out

by Oliver Dickins

Southwestern's Lynx smash head on into the powerful Choctaws of Mississippi College Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Fargason Field.

Only Austin has been able to handle Mississippi College by setting them back 20-18, and the Choctaws have rambled through their other three opponents in impressive fashion.

Mississippi College's offensive power, paced by quarterback Greenlea, has never failed to produce three touchdowns a game, and the Choctaws back up Greenlea with a big experienced squad.

Three for Truscott

But the Lynx also have lost only one game. Last week's 19-6 blasting of Centre was the first Southwestern victory over the Praying Colonels since 1899, and the Lynx made it a good one.

Mike Truscott kicked two field goals, one in a pouring thunderstorm, and added an extra point to tie Tommy Clinton for scoring honors for the Lynx this year. It is the first time in Southwestern football annals for one man to kick three in one year.

Clinton was unanimously elected Player of the Week for his offensive efforts, including a 55-yard jaunt to set up a Lynx touchdown.

Against Mississippi College Southwestern will start without the services of Billy Landers, and Buddy McAfee, who are out with injuries, but the rest of the squad is at top strength.

"They'll definitely be favored, but we've played three great games against good teams. We have a fine team, and they'll have to match us to win it," says Coach Mays.

Harriers Meet Mississippi Col.

Southwestern's distance runners face Mississippi College tomorrow at 10, north of the William Neely Mallory Gymnasium. It's difficult to predict a victory for the Lynx, since their first meet with Mississippi College ended with Mallory Chamberlin, Keith Arman, and Roy Wrather finishing fourth, fifth, and sixth respectively.

Chamberlin and Arman

However, the Harriers will be on familiar ground this week on Southwestern's campus and they ought to have a big surprise in store for the past victors. Runners to watch will be Broughton, Hoena, and Keesling from Mississippi College and Arman, Chamberlin, and Wrather of the Lynx. Southwestern's Dossett Foster, Larry Kinney and Bill Howard ought to give a good account of themselves too.

The course is longer and therefore more suited to the Southwestern long-winds, so the competition could take on a different aspect and is a cinch to be well-worth watching. A considerable crowd in the bleachers with well-oiled vocal chords could conceivably spur the team to outdo itself.

Second Victory

Last Friday the Lynx won a well fought race against Lambuth here by the score of 15-55 (low score wins in cross country). There was a pretty good turnout spectator-wise in spite of the rain.

The Lynx put on a good show with Chamberlin placing first in a record time of 24 min. and 9 sec. followed by Arman, Wrather, Foster, and Howard. This meet was the first to be run on the new course and therefore the winning time automatically set a record.

This past Tuesday the squad journeyed to Jackson, Tenn., and took the first two places from Union University but lost the meet 25-38. Chamberlin won over Ken Gault with a winning time of 19 min. and 20 sec. for the 3 3/4 mile course and Arman made a splendid bid and took second place with an all-out sprint in the final yards of the race.

Outstanding Meet

Union's closely packed group took the next seven places, thereby winning the meet. Wrather was the third Lynx runner, followed in order by Foster, Kinney, Pete Cornish, Howard, Roy Selvidge, David Cooper, and Bert Ringold.

Southwestern now holds a 2-2 record and is improving steadily. Tomorrow's meet with a powerful Mississippi College squad should prove to be one of the most outstanding cross country meets of the entire year.

Pigskin Predictions

by Prof. Prognosticator

A rather haughty, bumptious-looking sort of a guy scraped toward us across the paper office while we were dreaming up last week's predictions. Arrogantly he guffawed, "Missouri over Air Force? Penn State over Army? Ohio State over Illinois? Man you're way out! You won't even get 50% with that kind of garbage."

Missouri, Penn State, Ohio State all came in, so did Southwestern, so did ten more. We modestly raked in a respectable 78% on last week's guessing. Resultingly our fractious critic has calmed down a little.

However, in order to restore disorder, invective, and further variance, we have arrived at the following misconclusions:

Air Force-Navy at Baltimore: Missouri rather impolitely plucked the flyboys' wings a week ago while the Middies continued to roll. With an explosive offense triggered by field general Richie Mayo, the Falcons were the preseason pick over Navy. But the Midshipmen have come up with a surprise in Joe Bellino, 185-lbs. of dynamite at halfback. In fact the Navy has much more, a little too much in this case. Hence, NAVY in a tough one.

Oklahoma at Kansas: Except for a close defeat at the hands of powerful Syracuse, the Jayhawks are unscathed so far this season. Meanwhile the once-omnipotent Sooners haven't been exactly finding things to their liking, not near so much as they did a season or two ago. Confident that this season no longer finds a one-team Big Eight Conference, pick KANSAS to help wreck the tradition.

Miss College at Southwestern: The Lynx finally got their football machine really rolling last Saturday in the mud brawl against previously unbeatable Centre. Miss College turned in a 24-20 victory over Howard. They also shaded Southwestern 14-7 down in Clinton, Mississippi, a year ago. Now that the Lynx are in their own backyard and really in high gear, the story ought to be different. So, give SOUTHWESTERN the nod to rack

TOMMY CLINTON, Player of the Week

shape-up

by Sports Staff

CLINTON SELECTED PLAYER OF WEEK

The outstanding player of the week, Tommy Clinton, holds the honor of being named key man in what was an almost history making game.

Centre College met its match last Saturday, and with that meeting gained a more healthy respect for this spunky senior.

For the first time in fifteen years Southwestern overthrew the Colonels.

Drive and Determination

Tommy came to Southwestern after an outstanding career at Southside. He was named All-Memphis as a Scrapper and didn't slow down once he hit college.

The truest test and the most honest evaluation of a player's ability comes from his teammates. Clinton's fellow Lynxcats have described him in glowing terms as extremely "fakey," a player with great drive and determination, and as the toughest competitor on the squad.

Very Likable Guy

Clinton accounted for twelve of the Lynx' 19 points. In the third quarter he romped 55 yards for the first touchdown. He bulled four yards in the last quarter for the second Lynx-Clinton touchdown.

At first glance Clinton is a far cry from a typical football team captain. He is 5' 8, weighs 155 pounds, and is an easy-going, very likable guy.

The description doesn't tell the whole story, however.

up victory #3.

And to add insult to injury:

- Tennessee over Alabama
- Texas over Arkansas
- Army over Nebraska
- Georgia Tech over Auburn
- Clemson over Maryland
- Florida State over Miss Southern
- Florida over Vanderbilt
- Georgia over Miss State

Memphis State over Hardin-Simmons

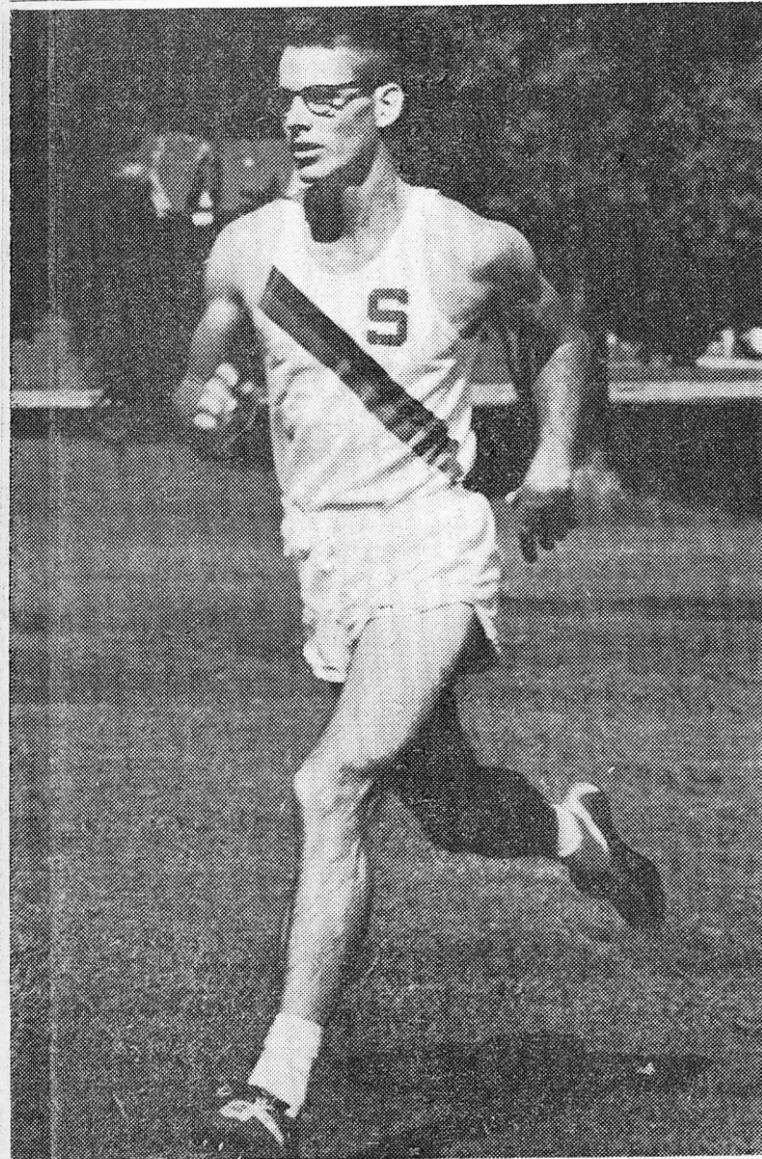

- Michigan State over Notre Dame
- Illinois over Minnesota
- Ole Miss over Tulane
- Ohio State over Purdue
- Syracuse over Penn State
- Pittsburgh over West Virginia
- and . . .
- We're over Abarrel

Intramurals

The intramural tennis tournament moved into the third round yesterday, and already one of the seeded players has fallen by the wayside.

John Rice, ATO, highly touted racketman from Miami, Florida, was upset in the second round of play by Perry Cowden, Independent. Top-seeded Phil Baer, another ATO, is still in the tournament.

Intramural flagball kicks off the 1960 season on either October 17th or 18th, with last year's champion SAE slated to make a powerful bid to retain its number one rating. ATO appears to have the most improved squad this season.

BILL HOWARD prepares for the tough Mississippi College meet scheduled at Southwestern tomorrow. The Choctaws defeated the Lynx earlier this year at Clinton, and the Harriers hope to even up the season series. Howard also runs the high hurdles on the Southwestern track team in the spring.
