Southwestern at Memphis

43rd Year

MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1961

Vol. 43, No. 1

Hunter and Wilkins Top S-W Masthead

The scandal sheet you now hold in your hands is officially labeled "The Sou'wester." Off the record, it has probably been called several other things. Numerous individuals are responsible for this weekly conglomeration. Among them you'll find Susan Hunter, our editor. Susan, a junior, hails from New Orleans. Editing a prize-winning literary magazine in high school and reporting for the Sou'wester qualify Susan for her present position. She also holds membership in Sans Souci and is active in Intramurals. Susan serves as treasurer of Alpha Omicron Pi and was elected Outstanding Sophomore by Torch.

John Wilkins, our Business Manager, is a sophomore Alpha Tau Omega from San Saba, Texas. John served as Managing Editor as a freshman and also played in the Southwestern Orchestra.

Our new Managing Editor, Gerald Holter from Birmingham, served as second semester president of his fraternity on the Interfraternity Council and authored last year's April Fool Play.

Reporting on the romances around campus will be Diane Lobaugh, Society Editor. A senior, Diane is holding this position for the second straight year. She has served as a Freshman Orientation Seminar Leader and as a Student Counselor for two years. Elected May Day Pi last year, Diane currently holds the office of President of Alpha Omicron Pi and is reading for honors.

Circulation Manager is sophomore Katherine James, a Memphian. Katherine acted as Feature Editor of her high school paper and assisted last year's circulation manager.

The position of Sports Editor remains a toss-up. Billy Johns, a junior from Memphis, is temporarily filling the position. Billy will serve as Sports Publicity Director from Southwestern to the Commercial Appeal and Memphis Press-Scimitar. His fraternity is Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Rounding up the news will be News Editor Marilyn Meyers, a sophomore from Memphis. Marilyn, the 1961 recipient of the Belk Bible

Bill Davidson Calls For Student Aims

As this new academic year begins it seems to be the proper time for all the students of Southwestern at Memphis, as well as other college students, to dedicate themselves to the purpose of American colleges and universities. American colleges and universities have a public purpose, whether in domestic or world affairs, founded upon the traditions of our American society and the heritage of other great universities in history. This purpose is the advancement of human welfare through the enlargement and communication of knowledge in a spirit of free inquiry.

When you step within the educational community at Southwestern, whether you are a returning student or a freshman entering college for the first time, you share the burden of fulfilling this purpose.

Beginning its 113th session as a college fostering the cause of liberal education, Southwestern has in the past, and will continue in the future, to be known as a college which produces the honorable, well-rounded man.

Our college always aspires towards excellence and often it is said that we have reached this goal—in its present faculty and administration. When you enter our world on this campus you are expected to continue this fine tradition. Excellence in your every en-

Jimmy Finley Tells Of Hazing Plans

"Get off the grass, Freshman!" This is a cry that will ring out across the Southwestern Campus within a very few days. The speaker will be an irate upperclassman who feels that his duty as official Southwestern grass protector demands that he reprimand some beanieed freshman who has chanced to leave the straight and narrow. Hazing has begun.

Hazing is a tradition that moved to Memphis with the school in 1925. Through the years, this tradition has changed in many respects, but the idea behind it is still the same. All the hazing activities are carried out in an effort to welcome and orient the new students to our campus life. The total effect is an enfolding of the new into the old. From the freshman's point of view, there might be better ways to present this welcome. However, we make all possible attempts to keep our hazing on a college level and

NOTICE

In the interest of public and private health, you are asked to observe the following rules to curtail the spread of mono at Southwestern.

1. Do not eat, drink, or smoke after anyone.
2. Try to get ample rest and nourishment.
3. Go to the Infirmary at the first signs of this dread pestilence.
4. Remember its nickname! Your reputation is at stake!

Chapel Attendance Required For All

Because Hardie Auditorium, which seats approximately four hundred, has been too small to accommodate the whole student body and faculty, changes in attendance rules have occurred several times in recent years. The student body for the 1961-62 session is expected to number close to eight hundred. It is hoped that the following regulations will provide a workable arrangement until the day comes when the college has an auditorium capable of seating one thousand or more persons.

The entire student body will be divided alphabetically into two equal groups. One group will go to chapel on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, and the other group will go on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday. The Student Council will have

Cordially yours,

Opening Convocation To Be In Fisher Gardens

"COMMUNITY OF LEARNING" REVELEY'S TOPIC FOR LARGEST CONVOCATION IN HISTORY

President Peyton N. Rhodes will preside at the convocation opening the One Hundred and Thirteenth Session of Southwestern at Memphis. The opening services will be held in Hubert F. Fisher Memorial Gardens at 8:15 a.m. on Wednesday, September 20, 1961.

Dr. W. Taylor Reveley, new Dean of Admissions, will address the faculty and Student Body on "The Community of Learning." A native of Knoxville, Dr. Reveley holds the W. J. Millard Chair of Bible and Humanities at Southwestern. After receiving an A.B. degree from Hampden-Sydney, where he was invited into membership by Omicron Delta Kappa, he received his B.D. degree from Union Theological Seminary of Richmond, Virginia. He was awarded his Ph.D by Duke University.

During World War II, Dr. Reveley served as an Army Chaplain overseas, and came to the Southwestern faculty in 1946.

In 1956, he visited sixty-three American college campuses representing the Board of Christian Education of the Presbyterian Church in the United States. Through his efforts and visitations, he helped to advance the Faculty Christian Fellowship Movement.

The 1961-62 session of Southwestern at Memphis will include 776 students. Three hundred of these will be freshmen, and fifty more will be transfer students. The largest enrollment in Southwestern's history will meet in the Neely Mallory Memorial Gymnasium for the convocation if rain should make it impossible to hold the exercises in Fisher Gardens.

Student Counselors Greet Frosh Women

Approximately 180 freshmen and transfer girls and their seventy-eight counselors crowded into the Fellowship Hall of Evergreen Church on Monday night at 7:30 for the annual Student Counselors' party. Linda Lawrence and Beth Poe, co-chairmen of the Student Counselors, were in charge of this "get-acquainted" party for freshman girls. Break-the-ice games and decorations representing the girls' home states were the result of hard work by several committees. Fred Ford and Patience Moore took the girls on a musical tour through the coming school year. Radford Hopper, Bettye Claire Eaton, and Betty Carol Thomas executed a modern dance to a fall theme. Gretchen Smith, Mary Lynn Cooper, John White and Charlie Rich also contributed their talents. A Christmas air in September was created by the Madrigal Singers. Fred and Patience summed up the year's events with their rendition of "Moments to Remember." Dean Caldwell, Mrs. Cable, Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Rhodes and Mrs. Rollow were introduced and cookies and punch brought the evening to a close.

Preregistration Rules Announced By Turpin

Every preregistered student must report to the Adult Education Center on September 18 in order to have his schedule approved by the classification committee. Students who fail to report at the appointed time will lose their preference for the classes indicated at preregistration. You must bring your student copy card with you to registration.

The following schedule and copy of your preregistration are intended to save you time in the Registration Center. When you report to the classification committee, you will be able to make schedule changes at that time. Remember—this is the only time schedule changes can be made.

If you have paid your fees before you arrive and wish to make no changes in your program, you will be free to leave after Dr. Benish has approved your schedule.

If you have NOT paid your fees and wish to make no changes in your program, you will be free to leave after Dr. Benish has approved your program and you have paid your fees.

If you find it necessary to change your schedule in any way, you will report to the classification committee where your schedule will be revised. You will find that you will save considerable time if you have worked out your new schedule before you go to the committee. After the new schedule is completed, you will be processed through the line where the changes will be recorded. Registration will be completed when you go to Room 11-L where Miss Martin will recompute your bill. It would be to your advantage if you paid your account before you arrive and make no changes.

the responsibility for the chapel meetings on Fridays and Saturdays; from time to time special convocations for the entire student body may be called in the gymnasium.

Each student will be allowed a total of ten cuts each semester with no penalty. Unexcused absences exceeding ten will result in loss of credit hours. Thus there will be a loss of a credit hour on the eleventh, sixteenth, twenty-

About Campus

by Diane Lobaugh

A hearty welcome to all freshmen and transfers, and hullo again to you ol' dyed in the fur Lynx Cats. How was your summer? I imagine the seniors were busy earning "coffee-money" which they'll spend gleefully every day at chapel time. And I'm sure the frosh spent a delightful summer reading so they'll be able to participate intelligently in early discussion groups (chuckle, chuckle). The sophs were probably occupied with the inventing of happy hazing tortures, and the juniors were no doubt busy in summer school acquiring those all-important "senior hours" which will exempt them from chapel. 'Twas a busy summer for all, I see.

I suppose by now you new students think that all we do here at Southwestern is take tests and stand on line; well, you're right! Seriously, there are other things: for instance, you can spend many interesting hours watching our modern construction crew erect a Gothic tower and infirmary. The six-story addition onto West Palmer will officially be called Halliburton Tower as a tribute to the late Richard Halliburton, famous world traveller and author. I suspect it will be given some affectionate nickname, such as "Rapunzel's Retreat" (because of its great height), or perhaps the "Tower of Bable" (since it will house administrative offices). A still, small voice told me that all Bible Profs will have their office on the uppermost story of the tower so they will be in easy reach of the "Boss." Along that line . . . all professors of Alchemy will be placed in the basement to provide facile rendezvous with the red-one. The other new building is going to be Moore Moore Infirmary, willed to Southwestern by the late Dr. Moore. Needless to say this new infirmary will allow moore and moore students to get moore and moore better! and now to moore pleasant things . . .

Those of you going out for rush have a real treat in store for you. The red carpet will be rolled out and you'll be treated in regal fashion for several days. The fraternities, ATO, KA, KS, PIKA, SAE and SN will entertain with a series of open houses and parties. The sororities have a similar schedule with the addition of a skit party.

AOPi will take you where lolly-pops grow,
To their Candyland on sorority row.

Chi Omega will skim you across the seas,

Where you'll have tea with the Chi-o-nese.

Next you'll go where the Tri Deltas stoppe,

Paris, of course, at Fifi's Perfume Shoppe.

With the KD's you'll fly over the rainbow,

And meet the Wizard of Oz, Dorothy, and Pogo.

To the South Pacific with Zeta you'll go,

Where Hula girls dance, and coconuts grow.

Then home again, home again jiggity jog,

And you'll decide where you will lodge.

Good luck in all your travels!

Congratulations to Patience Moore and Fred Ford who are pinned, and to Joyce Foushee and Snowden Day, and Helen Jackson and Alan Strautman who are married.

you should have no fear of what to expect. The entire hazing period can be enjoyable, and it will remain with you as a high point in your first year of college.

Two organizations are responsible for the planning and the execution of the hazing program: the Women's Undergraduate Board (WUB) for the women, and the Sanhedrin for the men. The two function together to insure that both freshmen and upperclassmen participate in the right spirit. Meetings are held by both organizations throughout the hazing period. Special invitations are issued to those freshmen who "desire" to attend.

You have all received letters explaining what is expected of you during hazing. We hope that you have studied your Student Council Handbooks, and that you are ready to give your full cooperation in the events we have planned.

The schedule given below will be followed unless further notice is given.

Davidson

deavor is the goal of Southwestern students.

To a great extent you will be left alone, responsible for your own conduct, but you should always remember that our Honor System requires you to be responsible for the entire campus.

Our Student Government has been regarded as one of the finest, perhaps the best, of colleges having less than 1,000 students. It is my hope that this will remain true throughout this year and for many years to come. I hope that you become interested in Student Government work and engage yourself in its activities. The Freshman Orientation Seminars will provide the first opportunity for your participation. You should recognize soon that the effectiveness of your Student Government depends on your active support, interest, and participation.

Spend your years at Southwestern wisely for they can well be the most important yours of your life.

With these few thoughts in mind, I welcome you all to Southwestern at Memphis for the 1961-62 session.

Your Student Council

by Margaret Johnson

"We the students of Southwestern at Memphis, in order to provide for student welfare, organization of Student activities, and student government under the authority delegated by the college administration, do hereby establish this constitution of the Student Body of Southwestern."

The foregoing is the preamble of the constitution of the Student Body of Southwestern which in 1947 inaugurated the student government now in effect. Before, all student body affairs had been handled by a Booster's Club, a democratic organization whose membership consisted of the whole student body, and later by the Student Assembly, the first step toward our present form of government. The Student Council is the executive committee of the Student Assembly and has become synonymous with representative student government at Southwestern. It is a legislative body and operates under a constitution approved by faculty and administration.

The main purpose of the Student Council is to represent the students in considering all matters pertaining to welfare of the students and in promoting student body projects. It endeavors to express student opinion fairly and accurately and acts as a liaison agency between faculty, administration, and students in all matters of common interest and concern.

The council is made up of the president, vice president, and secretary-treasurer of the student body, and six commissioners, all elected by the entire student body. The president and one representative of each class are also members of the council. The Pan Hellenic Council and Inter-Fraternity Council are represented but have no actual voice.

The president of the Student Council presides over all meetings of the Student Body and Council, and is an ex-officio member of all committees of the Student Body. He also serves—along with the vice president and secretary—on the Student Welfare Committee. It is his duty to be official representative of the Student Body in all matters affecting the interests of the Students. Bill Davidson, president for the 1961-62 term, realizing that his responsibility calls for maintenance of a strong bond between students and council, seeks a higher percentage of representation on the council. He would have more positions made available for interested persons to fill. Bill's willingness to listen to the students is exemplified in the fact that even though he himself is avidly in favor of USNSA, he proposes a referendum of the student body to determine our membership status.

As vice president of the Student Council, Jimmy Finley serves as president of both the elections commission and the Sanhedrin. The elections commission is responsible for conducting all elections and is made up of representatives from each sorority, fraternity, and independent group. It insures fair elections, supervises balloting, and penalizes individuals or groups indulging in unfair practices. The Sanhedrin takes charge of men's hazing in order to create school spirit during the orientation program that will last throughout the year. Jimmy has undertaken to make the Sanhedrin the powerful instrument of hazing that it should be and has properly organized it.

The secretary-treasurer must keep a permanent report of proceedings of the council and student body. Ann Fumbanks is responsible for all the council's correspondence and financial business, both of which are vital to the life of this organization. She also serves on

Across the Desk Category: Citizenship

In this first hectic, confused week the new students are being told, minute by minute, what Southwestern can do for them. The gospel is being spread by upperclassmen and by the administration in hopes that newcomers will perhaps want to do something, in turn, for Southwestern. Motivated by a sense of school spirit, loyalty, and a willingness to further the ideals of Southwestern, a student can serve the school in a variety of ways.

Classes will commence in a week; look alive, stay alert, do not overcut, and apply yourselves to mastering the courses. If friendly, appreciative relationships are maintained with professors, you will benefit in many more ways than by knowing only textbook facts.

In a short time athletic events will claim attention, both varsity and intramural, for men and women. By supporting the teams of Southwestern one can enjoy interesting and action-packed "study breaks." Throughout the year various organizations sponsor dances and open houses; these events could be patronized and enjoyed by all the students, not merely by the few who are involved in their production.

For the first semester, at least, a great interest will be diverted to the Greek organizations. But one of the most important groups at Southwestern that deserves the students' interest, loyalty and enthusiasm is the Student Council. Try to follow its progress closely on all issues, not just the controversial ones; pay attention to how we are being governed. It is beneficial to each student to belong to a religious organization, language club, or to contribute to one of the publications. Plan to participate but do not become engaged in too many extra-curricular activities.

As students of Southwestern, we can contribute greatly to furthering personal goals and those of the school in these ways. By being good citizens we shall enjoy a good year.

the Student Welfare Committee. In accepting this office, Ann brings with her a pledge of tireless effort in fulfilling the demands of her position on the executive council.

Six commissioners of various student activities fill indispensable positions on the council. These are elected by the entire student body at the same time the other three officers are.

The Commissioner of Athletics acts as chairman of the Student Athletic Commission which includes the presidents of the "S" Club, Men's Intra-Mural Board, and Women's Athletic Association, and coordinates intra-mural sports on campus. In this capacity, Keith Arman's main concern is arousing more student participation in Southwestern's sports events, whether cheering or playing. The Pep Club and Pep Band have been recently instigated to revitalize school spirit and Keith plans to work through these organizations.

The main responsibilities of the Educational Commissioner are directing High School Visitation, Freshmen Orientation Seminars, and fostering cultural activity on campus in general. Stephen Richardson has improved on the FOS program to make it really valuable instead of a time-waster. He has also taken steps for better student-faculty relations and plans to make the High School visitation team a more active representative of Southwestern. Stephen realizes the importance of this relatively new branch of the Student Council and has undertaken to fulfill its obligation to the students.

"To effect a more potent publication program," the student body elected Bob Norton Commissioner of publicity and Publications. In this capacity, Bob is automatically president of the Publications Board and Chairman of the Student Publications Committee; he is also campus correspondent to the Commercial Appeal. Bob is working for a more organized board with specifically defined duties. He would further coordinate Southwestern's news office and coverage by Memphis papers, and see that students are confronted with not only campus happenings, but national events, too.

Since religion plays such a vital role in Southwestern's life, it is only fitting that a branch of the student council be dedicated to it. The Commissioner of Religious Activities for 1961-62 is Charlie Landreth, who also heads the Protestant Religious Council. He is an ex-officio member of the Chapel and Religious Life Committee and is in charge of the religious activities on campus such as biannual Religious Evaluation Weeks, PRC plays, and the Thanks-Thru-Giving Drive. In order to enhance our religious program, Charlie suggests having a central theme around which REW, chapel, and discussion groups might revolve. He also plans to work closely with the college chaplain in promoting better and more directed chapel services.

Perry White, Commissioner of Social Activities, is chairman of the Social Committee, which consists of representatives from each sorority, fraternity, and Independent group. His main responsibility is the arrangement of the social calendar. All events of a social nature must go through this commission to be approved by the Student Council and then put on the calendar. Perry is looking forward to the formation of a Jazz Society at Southwestern for those interested in Modern music with the hope of presenting several concerts.

The Commissioner of Undergraduate Women and the president of the Women's Undergraduate Board are synonymous with Margaret Johnson. The main obligation of her office to Southwestern is in Freshmen orientation and Hazing. With the vice president of the Student Council, she plans the hazing program and then, through the WUB, enforces the regulations and is responsible for all women's hazing. The WUB functions throughout the year as an organization to foster school spirit and serve the needs of the women of Southwestern. In her plans for 1961, Margaret has concentrated on getting away from individual hazing and steering it toward groups in the form of organized entertainment. She feels that hazing can be a success only if upperclassmen as well as freshmen realize its purpose. Thus each class will have a special meeting at the beginning of orientation.

Council

Besides the executive council and the commissioners, each class is represented by its president and one representative. These members are elected to serve by the separate classes. For this year they are: Senior Class — Jerry Welsh and Lynn Finch; Junior Class — Joe Duncan and Beth Poe; Sophomore Class—Howard Edington and Mary Lou Carwile.

The Student Council has regular weekly meetings at 6:15 Tuesdays (101 Science Hall) which are open to the entire student body. You are urged to attend these meetings and enter into any discussions, for the student government can only function with all the students behind it. A strong effort needs to be made to arouse spirit and interest in it; we all need to fulfill our obligation to it.

Upperclassmen Meet To Make Hazing Plans

With hazing just around the corner, some timely class meetings will be held by upperclassmen this Saturday, September 16. At nine-thirty, the illustrious upperclassmen will meet in their respective arenas to discuss plans for the individual parties they will be holding for the freshmen. Veterans will get name tags, and get a briefing on the techniques which will be used in hazing this year. The seniors are to meet in 101 Science, the juniors in 105 Science, and the sophomores in the basement of Palmer Hall. The meetings are very important, and all upperclassmen are urged to attend.

Torch Takes Eight; Hunter Outstanding

Torch, honorary society for senior women, tapped eight new members in the late spring of this year. This organization recognizes outstanding women who have attained high standards of leadership and scholarship throughout their college careers. An average of 2.8 is required for membership, which is limited to ten women who are tapped in May of their junior year. The new members are Carol Bradshaw, Rachael Clothier, Lynn Finch, Bunky Haigler, Delma Klotz, Lyn Melvin, Marilyn Stewart and Peggy Welsh.

Marilyn Stewart, who is a Tri-Delta, will be president of the organization this year. Vice-president is Carol Bradshaw, who is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi and Sweetheart of Kappa Sigma. The new Secretary-Treasurer of Torch is Peggy Welsh, the resident head of East Hall. Rachel Clothier is the new president of Kappa Delta. Lynn Finch was a favorite in the 1960-61 Lynx and is the new president of Tri-Delta. Last year's president of Tri-Delta, Bunky Haigler, was also chosen for Torch membership. Lyn Melvin was a cheerleader last year and is vice-president of Chi Omega. Also picked for membership was Delma Klotz, the new president of Zeta Tau Alpha.

Each spring Torch honors the most outstanding sophomore woman. Susan Hunter was given this honor for the 1960-61 school year. Susan, who is the editor of the Sou'wester, is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi.

Antoine Calvin To Reappear

After a single appearance in the columns of the Sou'wester last April, Antoine Calvin, noted critic of things musical, things artistically (or, frequently, inartistically) performed, and of things general, will return to this sheet this year.

During a surprise visit late Tuesday night to the Sou'wester office, Antoine reluctantly agreed to have his services available for miscellaneous perfunctory remarks on various performances of the arts on the campus and on the town.

"There is a need for more intelligent interest in, and appreciation of, the performing arts on the Southwestern campus. After all, there's good, there's bad, there's better, there's worse. Why give them all the same journalistic eulogies? To do so is injustice."

At this point he shook out a cigaret from a blue Galoise pack and lit it. "It makes me sick," he snorted through the smoke.

"The music people are the ones to do the job, though. They're more able to know what they're talking about more than anybody else, but if the choice is between having people who know what they're writing about writing and having pertinent, intelligent, and critical reviews"—at this point he winked at Susan Hunter—"an editor will do well to choose the latter."

Hoisting himself to his feet, this great-great-grandson of the founder of Presbyterianism yawned enormously. "It was a long flight from Paris, especially non-stop in a DC-3." With that he stepped out into the night, presumably headed to the unknown whereabouts of his quarters.

first, twenty-sixth, thirty-first, etc., unexcused absences.

Students who miss chapel can not make up their absence by attending on a day assigned to the group to which they do not belong. Students who, because of extended illness, have to miss several meetings may see the Dean of Men or Dean of Women for excuses.

Frosh Mixer Socializes New S-W Men, Women

On Tuesday night at Mallory Memorial Gymnasium freshman girl met freshman boy, socially. The Freshman Mixer was held from eight till ten-thirty with music supplied by a glowing jukebox. In the old "John Paul" fashion the frosh men and women formed circles and picked their partners.

Three cheers were led by the 1961-62 squad, captained by Radford Hopper. Adding their voices to Radford's were Mary Lou Carwile, Ann Evans, Patricia Whyte, Rita Edington, K. C. Ptomey, Henry Pope, and Bill Benfield. The members of the incoming Student Council were also introduced.

You are cordially invited to attend all Student Council Meetings to be held on Tuesday evenings, 6:15 p.m. in 101 Science.

Entertainment was provided by Mary Rinehart, who performed a pantomime. Blair Gilmer presented a dramatic reading and Roy Twaddle, last year's "Mr. Talent," played the guitar and sang.

At ten upperclassmen were admitted to dance and to try to predict what this year's crop of eager freshmen might produce.

Woody Johnson Starts Coaching Lynx Squad

The Southwestern football team, under the direction of its new coach, Woody Johnson, is out for its first winning season in three years. Johnson, in his first year as head man of the Lynx football team, succeeds Rick Mays who was drowned early in July. Mays was head football coach at Southwestern for seven years, and during that time he constantly played to win. That same spirit still prevails at Southwestern.

Johnson's material seems to be capable of holding its own against most of its foes, but the material runs thin in the middle of the line. Coach Johnson feels that his front line men are quite able to match anyone that might be sent up against them. But the lack of reserves could mean the difference in a ball game.

The middle men will be interchangeable on the Lynx squad. The centers, guards, and tackles will be able to fill in at any of those three positions. They can relieve each other in rough games or fill in as regulars in case of injuries.

Seniors Frank Coyle, Mike Rowland, and Buddy Tollison, captain, have pleased Coach Johnson during the early practices. Rowland and Tollison have been regulars since their freshman year at Southwestern. Coyle came to Southwestern as a sophomore and has been a starter ever since.

Sophomore transfer David Bird, and returning letter Lee Carroll have impressed the new Lynx coach with their hustle and determination. Roy Twaddle, Doug Meeks, Larry Cox and Tom Lowry are improving on offense and have shown that they will be tough defenders for the Southwestern gridmen. Jerry Fong, the Lynx's 249 pound tackle, has been sidelined for the past few days with a leg injury. It is hoped that Fong will be back in action soon.

Before the start of fall practice it was thought that the end position would be the weakest part of the Lynx line. Now, after some manipulation, the terminals could become a pleasant surprise to the Southwestern coaching staff. Frank Weathersby and Challance McMillin, two converted backs, seem to have found a home at their new positions. Bob West and Kenneth Gann have displayed exceptional speed and pass catching ability, and Mike Doughty, a newcomer, is a hard worker and could be "the man to reckon with."

John Ashcraft, a starter at end last season, reported to practice with an injured elbow and has been kept out of the fall drills.

Another transfer, Vance Strange, will be carrying the main responsibility of quarterback. In early practice sessions Strange has given evidence of being a fine passer and play caller. He will be backed up by freshman Warner Calhoun and returning squadman Ronnie Splann.

The deep back positions, halfback and fullback, will be interchangeable. Coach Johnson is well pleased with all of the candidates for these positions. Bill Harwood,

Chamberlain and Arman Head Lynx Cindermen

The Southwestern cross country team, under the direction of W. R. Maybry, athletic director at Southwestern, will open its season against Millsaps College of Jackson, Mississippi, on September 22, on the course located on the Southwestern campus.

The Southwestern Harriers, strengthened by veterans and newcomers, are looking forward to another successful season. Coach Maybry is very proud of the way the Lynx runners have been running this fall, and he feels that the team is stronger than those of the past few years.

Captains Mallory Chamberlin and Keith Arman head the list of returnees for the Lynx this season. Last year Chamberlin ran in the number one spot while Arman was close behind as the number two man. Both men are fine runners with plenty of experience behind them. Chamberlin, one of the finest runners in the South, placed number 45 in the NCAA cross country meet in Wheaton, Ill., last year. At that meet 150 of the finest cross country men in the United States gathered to participate in the largest cross country meet of the year.

Lettermen Dossett Foster and Larry Kinney, along with squadmen David Cooper and Roy Selvidge, have greatly improved after a year's experience and are adding depth to the team.

Southwestern's cross country team has gone from a good team to a fine team due to the strength of three fine freshmen. Jimmy Couch, a fine runner from Memphis' White Station, has shown good promise and has been running close to the front during the early season workouts. Terry Deaton, a runner from Memphis' East, looks to be a strong runner and shows along with Jerry Manley, Mickey Powell, Grover Bowers, Pat Burke and Glenn Hays, has shown outstanding ability as a ball carrier and pass receiver. Co-captain Robert Echols, moved from quarterback to halfback, ran extremely well but was sidelined for a while with a leg injury.

JERRY MANLEY, Southwestern's veteran fullback, will be one of the mainstays in the Lynx backfield this fall. Manley, a 180-pound junior from Memphis, has earned two football letters at Southwestern.

evidence of being one of the top runners on the Southwestern squad. Jim Fall from Florence, Alabama, although hampered by a pulled muscle in pre-season practices, is looking good and is constantly bettering his time.

Increasing the depth of Southwestern's cross country team are four other newcomers to the squad. They are Howard Romaine, John Poolman, Bobby Trotter, and Jimmy Doyle.

Coach Maybry once again plans to close the season by taking his team to the NCAA meet in Wheaton. He has set the qualifying time as 23:00 minutes. Any runner equaling that time, or bettering it, will make the trip.
