Who's Who Chooses Fifteen Southwestern Seniors

Publication Bestows Awards On Nine SW Men, Six Coeds

By DALE SEAY and JACK KNOX

Fifteen Southwestern seniors have been chosen for membership in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, a yearly publication honoring outstanding students, the Southwestern News Service announced today.

The group of nine men and six women students ties with the groups of the past two years as the largest in the history of the school to be selected for this honor.

Men students chosen were Lee Brown, Howard Edington, Cyril Hollingsworth, Challace McMillin, Lee Marshall, Henry Pope, K. C. Ptomey and Howard Romaine.

Women selected were Ann Autry, Anne Crowell, Liz Currie, Gail Hoover, Eleanor Lawrence and Mary Lou Quinn.

Ann Autry of Little Rock, Arkansas, is a Spanish major and on the Honor Council. She has an Honor Scholarship and is treasurer of Torch. Executive president of the Dorm Board, Ann has been a student counselor, FOS leader and REW Discussion leader. She was brought out as Founder's Day STAB and currently is vice president of the intersorority. Ann is a member of Pan-Olympics and La Cordura.

Holder of both a National Merit Scholarship and the William Spandow Scholarship in mathematics, Lee Brown is reading for honors in mathematics. A Sigma Nu from Marianna, Arkansas, Lee is a member of both the Honor Council and the Student Council and is vice president of the PRC. An REW and FOS discussion leader, Lee is a member of both ODK and Chi Beta Phi. He is an Honor Roll and Dean's list student and participates in the Danforth program.

Sociology major Anne Crowell is a Kappa Delta from Mobile, Alabama. In her sorority she has been pledge treasurer, best pledge, and president. Resident head of Voorhies Hall, she is secretary-treasurer of the Student Council, vice president of the Panhellenic Council, and Hi Pi of Pi Intersorority.

Anne has been a student counselor, FOS leader, REW leader and a member of both WUB and SAU. Chosen Torch Outstanding Sophomore, she was also selected for membership in Pan-Olympics.

Holder of an Honor Scholarship, Liz Currie is a history major from Houston, Texas, and a member of Chi Omega. She is a member of the Honor Council, and president of Torch and the Voorhies Hall Governing Board. Liz has been

Synnestvedt Heads New Music Group

Peter Synnestvedt, professor at Southwestern's College of Music, was elected the first president of the Tennessee chapter of the American String Teachers Association in an organizational meeting last Sunday at Nashville.

Attending this first meeting of the group from Southwestern were Mr. Synnestvedt and Dr. Vernon Taylor, head of the College of Music.

Membership in the organization includes string teachers of the public schools, colleges, universities, and private studios. One of the chief services of the organization is the development of teaching methods and promotional practices designed to stimulate interest and participation in the playing of the type of stringed instruments needed in American symphony orchestras today.

U. S. Senator, State Governor To Speak Here Next Saturday

By HARVEY CAUGHEY

U. S. Senator Herbert S. Walters and Governor Frank Clement will speak at Southwestern a week from tomorrow, January 18, the Chairman of the Democratic Committee of Shelby County, James Irwin announced yesterday.

In town to attend two important functions in Memphis, the Tennessee Democrats will speak at 10 a.m. next Saturday in a special convocation to which the public is invited.

Dr. David M. Amacker, chairman of the Free World Issues Series, stated that the topic would be "Free World Issues Number Nine: The Democratic Process in the Nation and the State."

Dr. Amacker also announced that the two statesmen would meet with any interested students between 9:30 and 10 in the Directors Room of Palmer Hall.

Mr. Walters, the junior Senator from Tennessee who is serving out the term of the late Estes Kefauver, will be the featured speaker. A native of Morristown, Tennessee, Senator Walters is generally classified with the conservative wing of the Democratic party.

Senator Walters is in town to attend the installation of officers at the Builders Exchange banquet. The Builders Exchange is a group of construction material dealers in the area.

In addition, on Saturday morning the Senator and Governor will breakfast with the mayor, the city and county commissioners, and engineers planning the new Memphis bridge to go over plans on the bridge and discuss ways of speeding up an O.K. of the bridge by Congress.

Virginia Lowry Selected by Pi

Pi announced its newest member, Virginia Lowry, Alpha Omicron Pi, Wednesday in student assembly. Virginia, a junior from Roanoke, Virginia, is a Christian Education major. She has served her sorority as representative to the Panhellenic Council, the social commission, WAA, and the Pep Club. In her freshman year, she was project chairman of her pledge class. Currently, she is serving AOPi as vice-president and pledge trainer and rush chairman.

Virginia, cheerleader last year, is currently co-captain of the cheerleaders. She has participated in the Danforth program and in SAU. An outstanding athlete, Virginia was chosen for the softball All-Star "A" team and the volleyball All-Star "B" team.

She has also been a member of WUB, the Sou'wester Staff and the Modern Dance Club. She is also a student counselor.

Students Enter Debate Tournery At Millsaps Coll.

Two teams from Southwestern will represent the school in the twenty-third annual debate tournery at Millsaps College, Jackson, Mississippi.

Charles Osborn and Eddie Pruitt are one team; Bill Evans and Joe Alford make up the other.

Southwestern's delegates will leave Friday for the weekend contest, January 10-11. The subject of the debate is: "Resolved that the Federal government should guarantee an opportunity for higher education to all qualified high school graduates." This resolution is the national college debate topic.

IN RE CHRISTMAS LETTER

The school Christmas party held before vacation came (to express this reservedly) as a surprise. It left most of those there embarrassed for themselves and for each other. Any time individuals are exposed in public to the satire of some campus wit, we are likely to feel uncomfortable; but usually the joking is light, humorous, and stops short of what could be called real slander. When it is carried on in this spirit, most of us enjoy it. But the Christmas letter, with the exception of the first section written by some of the girls, was a vicious and stupid excess. In a group of two or three hundred the individuals maligned had no defense against anything the author of the letter chose to say, and if he chose to spice his letter with character assassination, there was nothing to prohibit it.

Like several of the Junior Class officers who were in charge of the party, I have felt the need to apologize for having been associated with it ever since I heard the last few minutes of the Christmas letter. Most of us had read only a part of the letter before we heard it in the dining hall and we were sorry we had not had a chance to censor. Even some of those who had read it had not thought: "Santa and his helper" were perhaps too busy "fortifying" themselves for the evening to think, and maybe the author of the letter had gotten too carried away with a desire to say something far-out to have thought.

It is a shame the Christmas party cannot be changed now, but we can do better next year by not having one.

TIME TO GROW UP?

"Sticks and stones may break my bones,
But names will never hurt me."

Why do we, as college students, keep clinging to such childish practices as the "gifts from Santa?" Regardless of the above rhyme, which is the six-year old's way of being cool, names do hurt.

At the Tuesday night Christmas Party everyone could feel the genuine, child-like excitement that filled the hour, as nuts whizzed and laughter reigned. Who would want to do away with this "child-like" fun? As we listened to and joined in singing Christmas Carols, we sensed the glow of shared enjoyment. The laughter remained, but with a biting tinge as the cuts were dished out. True, most of us laughed; but wasn't it more of a nervous, embarrassed giggle rather than the warm, uninhibited kind?

Every year we seem to forget how deep and penetrating the cuts were. I would imagine that those who were fortunate enough to receive presents this year won't forget. Being adult doesn't mean losing a genuine thrill with life, but it does mean becoming big people who don't criticize others anonymously.

Campus Ministers Association Plans Three Social Projects

By ROGER HART

Exciting and encouraging new directions for the Presbyterian Church, U.S., were indicated at a meeting in December of the Study and Service Committee of the Campus Ministers' Association.

This committee was set up by the CMA with the realization that our denomination lags far behind others, particularly the United Church of Christ (Congregationalist) and the United Presbyterians, both in co-ordinated attack on social problems and in opportunities for student voluntary study and service. A historical-theological reason for the lag may be found in the doctrine of the spirituality of the church, taken up a century ago by Southern Presbyterians unwilling to face the slavery issue squarely; their only escape was to proclaim that the church should confine itself to "religious" realms and not meddle in the "secular" world. This doctrine, combined with other factors, has had the result of making the Presbyterian Church, U.S., as a whole, quite irrelevant to the contemporary South and its revolutionary crises.

In its first year the committee has planned three projects. A Student Academy for Theological Study, hopefully to continue in future years, will gather about 15 non-pre-ministerial students in Atlanta for six weeks in the summer for intensive study under three outstanding theologians. The 1964 curriculum for SATS will center around the theological, Biblical, and contemporary aspects of the concept of community. Students will be nominated by campus ministers or local pastors, who will be expected to help raise part of the $105 necessary for room and board.

September is the target date for the inauguration of a Voluntary Service Order, which will hopefully attract graduating college students willing to give a year or two to serving in a church agency in areas of child care, foreign mission, urban church, and others. The agencies will provide room, board, and $20 per month; VSO will handle transportation and pre-job training. Members of the Order would be committed to a program of study in their field of work and in the Bible in addition to their work.

The third project area for 1964 will be a Campaign for Responsible Citizenship, largely aimed at voter registration as well as fostering a realization of Christian responsibility in the democratic process. Although the location for this project has not been finally selected, the interracial team will work through local churches, both white and Negro, to encourage responsible citizenship. The National Student Christian Federation will help recruit team members.

Anyone interested in these projects or in the general direction of the Committee on Study and Service is urged to contact Roger Hart or Reverend Gene Ethridge, 449 Patterson, in Memphis.

'Review' Due In February

Editor Dave Feltus revealed today that the next issue of the Southwestern Review can be expected about February 15.

This issue will include a variety of articles varying from the Supreme Court prayer decision to Southwestern as a college. This will be the second issue of this school year, and two more issues are planned this year.

Those interested in entering an article of their own are encouraged to do so and asked to turn in these articles to Dave Feltus or Roger Hart by the first week of next semester. Articles answering the attack on fraternities of the last issue are highly encouraged, Feltus said.

Free World Issues Speaker Analyzes Rise and Threat of Chinese Communism

"Mao's menace, as I see it, is just beginning," stated Dr. Arthur S. Y. Chen, Free World Issues speaker, in Tuesday's convocation. Dr. David Amacker, in introducing the speaker, lauded him as "one of the nation's outstanding specialists on conditions of internal China."

"A sleeping giant during the nineteenth century . . . present China . . . has exerted her influence vigorously." Her four thousand year history is "so vast and intricate that there is difficulty in looking back on the whole of it."

"Mao's China," Dr. Chen's topic, has been in existence since 1949, and "is without doubt a totalitarian dictatorship which negates individual freedom completely." Six hundred and fifty million people are overruled within the boundaries of China by this dictatorship.

Continental to Play At ATO Open House

The ATO's will have an open house tonight from 6 to 8. Music will be furnished by the Continentals.

According to signs scattered across the Gothic walls, students are requested to bring their own (dates) as the jolly, fun-loving wholesome ATO's will not furnish entertainment other than that of the Continentals. However, to live up just another night at the dear old monastery, (root) beer will be served.

Commissioners To Be Elected In New Student Constitution

The Student Council decided that commissioners should be elected by the student body rather than appointed by the president of the council under the new constitution by deleting section two of Article III of that document Tuesday night.

The new constitution is presently being debated by the Council, and will provide for a Student Senate and Executive Council, with the former handling the legislative and the latter the executive functions of student government.

Under the present system the two functions are not separated, and both are performed by the Student Council, contrary to most governing bodies.

Student Council President Cyril Hollingsworth appealed to students Wednesday to voice their opinions if any on the type of constitution to be adopted by Southwestern.

What is generally believed to be an increase in activity among student leaders and among students as a whole is usually attributed to be the reason Southwestern needs a new student constitution.

Southwesternites have become increasingly aware of their role as students in recent years and have begun to take on the added responsibilities this role entails. Thus some students in the past urged a separation of the executive and legislative functions of student government so that each will be performed by a body which will be able to

The party-state machine is the first of these features and operates by the rectified constitution of 1954, under the control of the China Communist Party, or CCP. The constitution, supposedly establishing a "people's democratic dictatorship," actually is "merely the legislation of the will of the CCP."

Mass organizations are used to propagate the party's "mass line," means of stirring up the "politically inexperienced" masses. There are over one hundred of these mass organizations, which incite demonstrations by means of such slogans as "It's Glorious to Eat Less Than One's Food Ration" and "Guided Consumption." The New Democratic League, one of these groups, is composed of the student leaders in all student organizations.

Thirdly, "the regime has devoted special attention to what people think as well as to what they do." Indoctrination, or re-education, includes teaching people "to be incapable of reacting to anything Maoism says."

Southwestern to Represent Sierra Leone at Mock U. N.

Sierra Leone is the African nation which the Southwestern delegation will represent at the Midwest Model United Nations held under the auspices of the University of Illinois on March 18th-21st in St. Louis, Missouri.

Four students will be chosen as U.N. representatives from members of the student body who write short essays on their reasons for desiring to attend. These should be given to Judy Simono no later than Monday, January 13. A student-faculty committee consisting of Professor Hemphill, Professor Hill, and the delegates of last year will then select the four persons after reading these papers and talking with these students.

A great deal of preparation will be necessary, for delegates are expected to accurately represent their country, to present and debate resolutions of particular interest to it, and to vote as it would vote on economic, social, and political questions which affect the world community.

Each nation will be allowed one delegate on the five U.N. committees which will discuss the following: the Political and Security Committee—a permanent UN Armed Forces, the Berlin question, the question of China; the Special Political Committee—the peaceful use of outer space, the question of Oman, the question of the withdrawal of foreign troops from South Korea.

The Economics and Financial Committee—population growth and economic development, the availability of capital development funds in the developing nations, the role of industrialization in economic development; the Trusteeship Committee—the question of Southern Rhodesia, the question of South West Africa, the non-compliance of Portugal with Chapter II of the Charter.

The Social, Humanitarian, and Cultural Committee—the race conflict in South Africa, the question of the crown colony of Aden, Charter review and revision.

The Student Council and the Debate Club have pooled their resources in securing this delegation to the Midwest Model United Nations. Further information can be obtained from Professor Hemphill or Judy Simono.

Honor Council Holds Chapels

K. C. Ptomey, president of the Honor Council, will speak to the convocation groups in Hardie Auditorium Monday and Tuesday, January 13 and 14. He will remind the students that the honor system is especially important around exam time.

Dr. John Henry Davis, professor of history at Southwestern, will lead the congregation in worship at Evergreen Presbyterian Church Thursday, January 16.

Negro Student Addresses WF

In view of the forthcoming integration of Southwestern-at-Memphis in the fall of 1964, the Westminster Fellowship asked a Negro student from Memphis State University to speak on the problems which might arise and the possible preventions or solutions. Joe Purdy, chairman of an organization called, "Students For Equal Treatment," presented his ideas in a personal manner to the Presbyterian denominational group, Sunday, January 6, at 6:15 p.m., at Evergreen Presbyterian Church.

The talk was given from the angle of the feelings of a Negro entering an all white place. Two main ideas were emphasized. First, the Negro faces an identity problem. He often thinks in terms of a white man's aspirations, since he lives in a predominately white society.

The second point, highly stressed, was that Southwestern should open all facets of campus life to the incoming Negro student immediately, thereby preventing conflicts and tensions. If students will adjust right away, he said, no barriers will be built up, which would later have to be broken down.

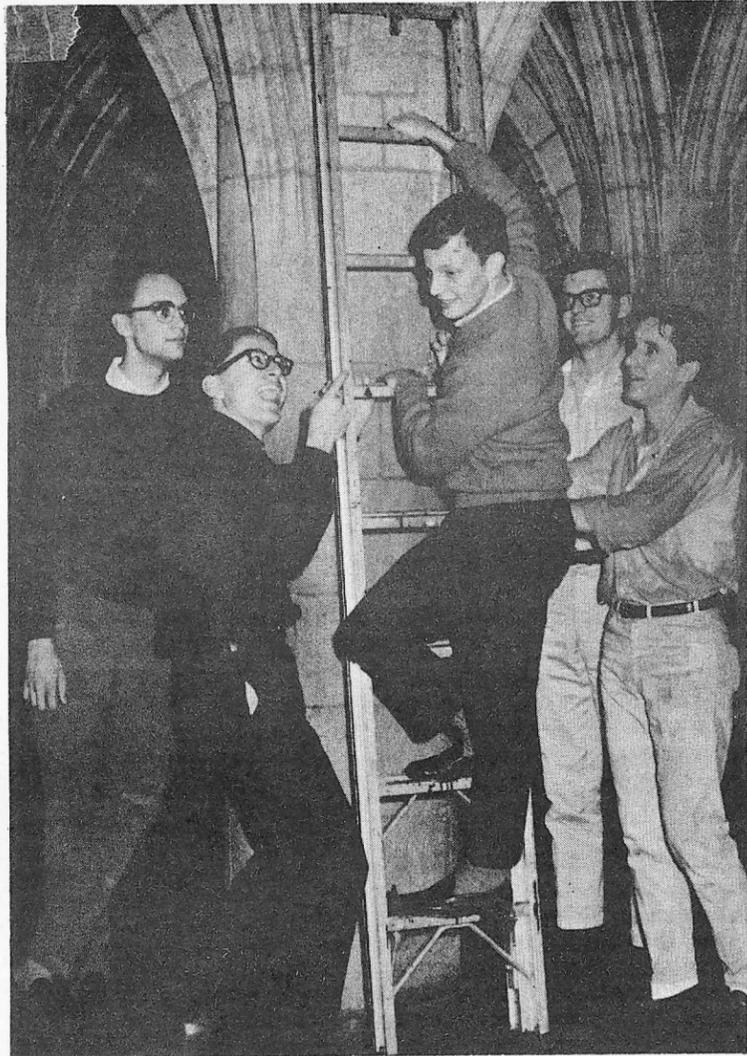

Summer Job Guides Available in Library

The library has recently received two new student employment directories for use by students in finding summer jobs. The books can be used only in the library as reference books and can be obtained at the circulation desk.

Both directories contain many domestic and foreign job opportunities with pay, type of work and living conditions mentioned in most listings.

Special discount tickets for the French comedy "The Suitor" Southwestern Campus in cooperation with the Alliance Francaise of Memphis and the Guild Art Theater where the film will be shown.

Dorm students may find the tickets in their mail boxes and town students may find them in Palmer Social Room or in the Lair.

DEADLINE SET

Excerpts of April Fool Plays Will Be Shown in Assembly

The deadline for turning in manuscripts for this year's April Fool Play is February 7. A prize of $50 is being offered for the best student-written play, which will be presented in Hardie during the April Food Weekend.

The plays in the past have generally been musical comedies with song parodies from Broadway shows set misplaced to the Southwestern campus. Last year's brilliant play, for instance, was "A Funny Thing Happened On the Way to the Panty Raid" by this rag's beloved Chief, Harvey Caughey.

Of course entries do not have to follow this pattern and any show of enthusiasm will be welcomed by the Publications Board.

To generate interest and to show students "How Not to Write an April Fool Play," the Publications Board will present excerpts from the last two April Fool Plays, written by Caughey and Gerald Holter. Bill Allen, Lee Pevsner, Lester Goodin, Wayne Webb and Jim Houston will appear, as will Stan McNeese, Roger Hart and K. C. Ptomey.

Gerald Holter, Jean Wheat and Karen Hardy will also take part in the program which will be narrated by Judy Moody.

BULLETIN

Irwin From, notorious campus "Jew," of the past several years, will return to the campus "some-time soon" the Sou'wester learned today. Students are advised to keep close watch on their valuables during Mr. From's stay.

1964: YEAR OF DECISION

Well sir, here we go into 1964, which shows every sign of being quite a distinguished year. First off, it is the only year since 1954 which ends with the Figure 4. Of course, when it comes to Figure 4's, 1964, though distinguished, can hardly compare with 1444 which, most people agree, had not just one, not just two, but three Figure 4's! This, I'll wager, is a record that will stand for at least a thousand years!

1444 was, incidentally, notable for many other things. It was, for example, the year in which the New York Giants played the Philadelphia Athletics in the World Series. As we all know, the New York Giants have since moved to San Francisco and the Philadelphia Athletics to Kansas City. There is a movement afoot at present to move Chicago to Phoenix—the city, not the baseball team. Phoenix, in turn, would of course move to Chicago. It is felt that the change would be broadening for residents of both cities. Many Chicago folks, for example, have never seen an iguana. Many Phoenix folks, on the other hand, have never seen a frostbite.

There are, of course, certain difficulties connected with a municipal shift of this size. For instance, to move Chicago you also have to move Lake Michigan. This, in itself, presents no great problem, what with modern scientific advances like electronics and the French cuff. But if you will look at your map, you will find Lake Michigan is attached to all the other Great Lakes, which in turn are attached to the St. Lawrence Seaway, which in turn is attached to the Atlantic Ocean. You start dragging Lake Michigan to Phoenix and, willy-nilly, you'll be dragging all that other stuff too. This would make our British allies terribly cross, and I can't say as I blame them. Put yourself in their place. What if, for example, you were a British costermonger who had been saving and scrimping all year for a summer holiday at Brighton Beach, and then when you got to Brighton Beach there wasn't any ocean? There you'd be with your inner tube and snorkel and nothing to do all day but dance the Lambeth Walk. This, you must agree, would not help make you NATO-minded!

I appeal most earnestly to the residents of Chicago and Phoenix to reconsider. I know it's no bowl of cherries going through life without ever seeing an iguana or a frostbite, but I ask you—Chicagoans, Phoenicians—is it too big a price to pay for preserving the unity of the free world?

I feel sure that if you search your hearts, you will make the right decision, for all of us—whether we live in frostbitten Chicago, iguana-infested Phoenix, or narrow-lapelled New Haven—are first and foremost Americans!

But I digress. We were speaking of 1964, our new year. And new it is! There is, for one thing, new pleasure in Marlboro Cigarettes. How, you ask, can there be new pleasure in Marlboros when that fine flavorful blend of tobaccos, that clean efficient Selectrate filter, have not been altered? The answer is simple: each time you light a Marlboro, it is like the first time. The flavor is such that age cannot wither nor custom stale. Marlboro never palls, never jades, never dwindles into dull routine. Each puff, each cigarette, each pack, each carton, makes you glad all over again that you are a Marlboro smoker!

Therefore, Marlboros in hand, let us march confidently into 1964. May good fortune attend our ventures! May serenity reign! May Chicago and Phoenix soon recover from their disappointment and join our bright cavalcade into a brave tomorrow!

Cagers to Play Belhaven, Millsaps on Mallory Floor

The Lynx Cagers tonight meet Belhaven College, of Jackson, Mississippi, in the first of a two-game home stand in an attempt to even their season's record at 5-5. Gametime is 8 p.m. in Mallory Gymnasium.

The Belhaven squad, led by Charlie Wright, who some of the students may remember as the one-eyed wonder who can hit from everywhere, will bring to Southwestern a much-improved squad over last year's. Wright, a 6'6", can rebound and shoot with the best of them, and so an exciting and high-scoring contest may be in the making.

Tomorrow night, the Millsaps Majors, also of Jackson, Mississippi, will return in hopes of revenge in the rubber game of a three-game set with the Lynx. They beat the Lynx here in the Dixie Tournament by a score of 85-71, and then the Lynx got their revenge a week later in Jackson by an 87-79 count.

Probable starters for the Lynx will be the same as in previous games. Aubrey Smith will start at center with Currie Johnston and Jack Tilton at forwards and Carl Fisher and Gary Sharp at guards. Reserves sure to see action are Ed Taylor and Dave Tyree. These seven men have averaged over 80 points per game for the Lynx.

The Lynx feature one of the most balanced attacks in the country. All five of the starters are averaging in double figures and within four points of each other. A three-way "battle" for the scoring lead has ensued between Sharp, Smith and Fisher. Sharp, a freshman, is currently leading the two veterans in the lineup with 125 points. Smith has 124 and Fisher 122.

The sharpest eye on the team so far has been that of freshman Jack Tilton who has averaged 12.4

Little Rock Wins, Lynx Take Third In Dixie Tourney

In the Dixie Tournament held at Southwestern on December 13-14, Little Rock University, led by Freddy Eastin and Bob Dodson, dumped Lambuth 75-73 in overtime after trailing by 37-31 at the half, and went on to win the tournament championship by crushing the Millsaps Majors in the final, 69-45, in a well-executed but slow-moving defensive game.

Millsaps, led by guard Jack Ainsworth and forward Forrest Goodwin, had defeated the Southwestern Lynx in a sloppily-played opener, 85-71. However, the Lynx came back the second night to take third place in the tourney by pasting Lambuth 87-68.

Bears Retain National Ranking By Pasting Southwestern, 84-61

The Lynx fell to a nationally-ranked Washington University squad in St. Louis last Monday by a score of 84-61.

The Washington team, playing to pull up their 11th-place national rating in small-college circles, kept their big guns in almost all the way against the Lynx in an attempt to run up the point spread as much as possible. In this effort, they were led by Williams with 24 points as all five starters hit for double figures.

The Lynx, only four points down with three minutes left in the first half, saw their chances of winning fall when they failed to score again before the half and W.U. rang 9 points up for a 41-28 halftime advantage.

points per game. Tilton has hit 41 of 74 shots for a .554 field goal percentage.

The addition of John Welch and David Miles, 1963 lettermen, to the team should aid the Lynx cause greatly. Playing sparsely in two games thus far, Miles has made his presence felt under the boards, the spot where the Lynx are most heavily lacking, and Welch has averaged four points.

Last year, the Lynx split two games with the Belhaven squad, winning by 89-85 here and losing by 80-76 there, in a foul-marred second contest. The Majors of Millsaps captured two out of three games with the Lynx last year, losing in the first round of the Dixie Tournament and winning the two remaining contests.

Hendrix Tops Cagers, 94-87

On January the third, in Mallory Gymnasium, the high-scoring Lynx lost their fourth game of the season by a 94-87 score to a fine Hendrix College squad from Conway, Arkansas.

Trailing from the first, the Lynx enjoyed a lead only one time during the game, pulling ahead at 21-20, about half-way through the first half. From then on, however, it was an uphill battle, as Hendrix pulled out to a 24-21 lead and the Lynx could never come closer than a one-point deficit in the second half.

The Lynx had four men in double figures, led by Carl Fisher's 20. Currie Johnston had 18, Jack Tilton 16, and Aubrey Smith 12. Gary Sharp was held far below his season's average of 15 points, fouling out with only 8.

Larry Fincher, a substitute guard newly moved to a starting role, blistered the baskets with a 30-point total, which included a perfect 14-for-14 from the free throw line and 8-for-11 from the field. Also in double figures for the Warriors were Joe Murphy and Mickey Johnson with 15 each, followed by Wes Crawford with 10.

Coach Duckworth's picks for "Fighting Links" were: Offense—Carl Fisher and Currie Johnston; Defense—Carl Fisher. The Lynx' record stood at 3-4 after the game.

Most of the second half was spent in a futile effort to catch up in which the Lynx were forced to take shots which they would not normally attempt against the taller opponents.

High man for the Lynx was Aubrey Smith with 15 points, followed by Gary Sharp with 12 and Carl Fisher with 11. It was a cold night from the floor for the Lynx, as they hit only 31.5% of their shots as compared to 43.5% for the W.U. team.

Picked for the "Fighting Links" for the game were: Offense—Aubrey Smith; Defense—Gary Sharp. Coach Donald Duckworth especially lauded Sharp's ball-handling for the Lynx against the pressing Washington U. defense.

GDI Cagers Edge SAE 'A' Team To Tie with Sigma Nu for First

Intramural basketball swung into full action this week with games in all three leagues. SAE, SN, KA, KS, and ATO entered teams in all three leagues, while the GDI's entered A and B league teams, and PiKA entered B and C teams.

In last year's competition SAE captured the A and C crowns, and the Sigma Nus were B league champions. In the 1963 A league the Lions' title came from a two point win over the Snakes in a playoff. Both teams are strong again this year, but the GDI's and the KS's rate as darkhorses. This year's finish could conceivably be as close or closer than last year's.

In the B league the fight for supremacy will be hotly contested. The title held by SN is being challenged sharply by SAE, PiKA, and KS.

Some A league stars to watch are Donnie Dyer SAE, Ross Land ATO, Lee Brown SN, Ronnie Splann KS, Don Snow KA, and Bob Gilbert GDI. In the B league the men to watch are Tom Richardson ATO, Kelly Thomas SN, Danny Morgan SAE, and Wiley Cook KS.

The A and B leagues play a two round, round robin schedule. The winners in each round will meet to determine the championship of each league. The C league plays one round with the winner being crowned champion.

In "A" league play through Wednesday night the Independents and Sigma Nu were tied for first place with two twins each. SAE and KS are tied for second place with one victory and one loss each.

Arthur Klein of the Independent men is high scorer for the "A" league with thirty-seven points in two games, and Don Snow, of Kappa Alpha, is second in scoring with twenty-five points in two games.

In "B"-league play the SAE's and KS's are tied for first place with two victories and no losses. SN and Independents are tied for second with a victory and a loss each. KA and PiKA have one loss each, and ATO has two losses. Wiley Cook leads the "B"-league with eighteen points in one game.

The "C"-league has a three way tie between SAE, SN, and PiKA after Wednesday night. The other three teams, KA, KS, and ATO, have each lost one game.

Fisher Leads Lynx Past Millsaps Quint

On December 17, the Lynx Basketball players jumped out in front of the Millsaps Majors at Millsaps and were never even tied as they led all the way in an 87-79 triumph.

Despite the fact that three of the starting Lynx were lost to the team on fouls, Millsaps could never come closer than the Lynx' early-minutes 2-1 lead, even with a last-half surge which threw a scare into the revenge-minded Lynx. Millsaps had beaten the Lynx here in the Dixie Tournament, 85-71, the week before.

High point man for the game was the Lynx' Carl Fisher, who burned the cords for 27 points. With his jump shot clicking well, Fisher was almost impossible for the Majors to contain in either half.
