Southwestern at Memphis

44th Year

MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE, FRIDAY, MAY 3, 1963

Vol. 44, No. 24

Fowler, Caughey to Edit 1963-64 Lynx, Sou'wester

Eddie Fowler of Memphis Central and Harvey Caughey of Dallas, Texas, both sophomores, will edit the Lynx and the Sou'wester next year, Marjorie Wild, outgoing Publications Commissioner, announced today.

Business Manager

Business managers for next year will be sophomore Ronnie O'Mell of Marianna, Arkansas, for the Lynx and Chris Drago, a junior from Mobile, Alabama, for the Sou'wester.

Fowler and O'Mell succeed Dan Gilchrist and Pat Dixon respectively on the annual. Caughey and Drago will both be serving for the second years as managers of the school newspaper.

Experience of Annual Men

Fowler served as sports editor and columnist for the Warrior, Central's high school paper, for two years. O'Mell brings a special knowledge of photo engraving expenses into his post as business manager, having been Sou'wester photographer for the past two years and having been business manager of his high school annual.

Caughey took over the Sou'wester in mid-stream first semester, when former editor Alan McKee resigned. In high school he edited a paper which won city, regional and state awards. Caughey himself won regional and state awards in copy-reading and feature writing.

Drago Is Business-Minded

Newly elected Senior Class representative Chris Drago is known for his business-like qualities. He formulated his own recording company and is presently in the process of taping the Madrigal Singers with which to press a record. Drago used subscriptions as well as advertisements to supplement the Sou'wester's income during the past year.

DOCTOR RAY MAXWELL ALLEN, who will replace Dr. Taylor Reveley as Southwestern Dean of Admissions beginning July 1.

Allen to Replace Reveley As SW Admissions Dean

Dr. Ray Maxwell Allen of Jackson, Tenn., a former Memphian, will return to become Dean of Admissions at Southwestern July 1, Dr. Peyton N. Rhodes, Southwestern president, announced today. Dr. Allen graduated from Southwestern in 1944.

The new dean attended Central High School, and after graduation from Southwestern went on to Duke University where he earned the B.D. and later the Ph.D. degrees.

Methodist Minister

An ordained member of the Methodist ministry, he served in several rural churches in North Carolina and in Memphis as associate pastor of St. Luke's Methodist Church and director of the Wesley Foundation at Memphis State University. At Duke he directed the Methodist Student Movement, 1950-52, and at Wofford College in Spartanburg, S. C., he was assistant professor of religion and director of religious life, 1953-56.

He comes to Southwestern from Lambuth College at Jackson, where he has been a professor of religion and philosophy since 1956. At Southwestern he will also be an associate professor of Bible and Religion.

Civic Minded

Dr. Allen also has been active in the civic life of Jackson, serving as a member of the board of directors of the United Fund, president of the Jackson Community Relations Council and the Jackson Little League Baseball program, a member of the Ministerial Association and the Lions Club.

While a student at Southwestern he was an outstanding campus leader, a member of the Honor Council, president of the student government, a member of O.D.K., and was named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Southwestern's Hall of Fame.

Torch Taps Seven Members, Selects Two Top Sophomores

Torch, senior women's honor society, tapped seven new members in chapel Monday and Tuesday.

Those chosen include Ann Autry, Liz Currie, Pat Dickson, Gail Hoover, Mary Mansell, Marilyn Meyers, and Rebecca Moore. Membership in Torch is a means of granting recognition to the women who have attained a high standard of scholarship or of leadership in campus activities.

Invitation to Torch is extended on the basis of character, scholarship and activity points. Only those in the upper twenty-five per cent of the Junior class in scholastic rating are eligible.

Two Win Soph Honors

Torch president Sarah Pickens also announced the selection of Torch's Outstanding Sophomore award, which this year was awarded to two girls who are representative of Torch standards: Judy Moody and Jacquelyn Dowd.

Ann Autry, a Spanish major from Little Rock, is a member of Chi Omega sorority, and has served as vice-president. She is a four-year member of the Honor Council, and was her sorority's representative to the Elections Commission. Ann has served on the dorm board, as a student counselor, and a discussion leader for REW and Freshman Orientation Seminars. She is a member of the Spanish Club and was recently selected as Founders Day S.T.A.B.

Currie, Dickson

Liz Currie, a Chi Omega from Houston, Texas, has been active in Westminster Fellowship, serving as its current president. She was Commissioner of the Protestant Religious Council and is in the Danforth organization. She is a student counselor, a past member of WUB, and had the dubious honor of being selected Miss Beta Upsilon Tau Tau in 1961. She was recently

Feltus to Head Campus Journal

David Feltus, Memphis sophomore, has been appointed editor of the "Southwestern Review" for next year, Roger Hart, Commissioner of Education, announced today.

The purposes of this publication will be, first, to encourage students to write on current political, social, and moral problems, both on and off the campus, in order to formulate, organize, and present student opinion; and second, to stimulate student thought and discussion on current matters of importance, Hart stated.

He added that students are encouraged to think during the summer about satires, essays, or articles they could contribute. The first issue of the Review will be published early in the fall semester, and will be available to all students without charge.

Anyone with questions is urged to contact David Feltus, Roger Hart, or Judy Moody, Publications Commissioner.

The Review is intended to serve the whole academic community, Hart added. It is hoped that the faculty will interest themselves in this opportunity to enter into a dialogue with the students or with each other.

Senior, Junior Reps Selected

Three Senior Student Council representatives were chosen in a special run-off Monday.

Following a protest which nullified the results of the previous election, the constitutional procedure was followed, resulting in the selection of Eleanor Lawrence, Chris Drago, and Lee Brown.

In the earlier election, Liz Currie, Lee Brown, and Eleanor Lawrence were proclaimed winners. Other candidates were Frank Luton, Sue Hearn, Lee Marshall, and Roy Selvidge.

Susan Smith, Jim Fall, and Bo Montgomery won the run-off for Junior class representatives. Others on the slate included Rick Baker, Flo Blake, Vivienne Guest, and Ben Frank Ward.

Liz Currie, a junior from Houston, Texas, was elected to fill a vacancy on next year's Honor Council Wednesday.

Liz defeated Gail Hoover of Memphis for the Senior Girl's Representative post. She is replacing Anne Crowell, who recently resigned.

Freshman Picnic Set Next Week

Southwestern freshmen will enjoy a last youthful fling before assuming the dignified roles of sophomores at the Freshman Class Picnic beginning at 1 p.m. next Saturday, May 11, in Shelby Forest.

Sponsored by the Freshman Council, the picnic has been dubbed the "Grub Party," and will feature various relay races, cream pie fights, baseball games and walks in the woods. Free buses will leave Science Hall at 1 p.m. and return to the campus before 6 p.m.

Cokes will be sold at the park, and grills are available for anyone wishing to try out his cooking skill.

As one Council member put it, "This will be a chance for all the cool freshmen to be grubby for a few hours. Let's enjoy our youth while we can."

Senior Musicians Schedule Recitals

Six graduating seniors of the Memphis College of Music at Southwestern are scheduled to give their final recitals this month. Students and faculty are invited.

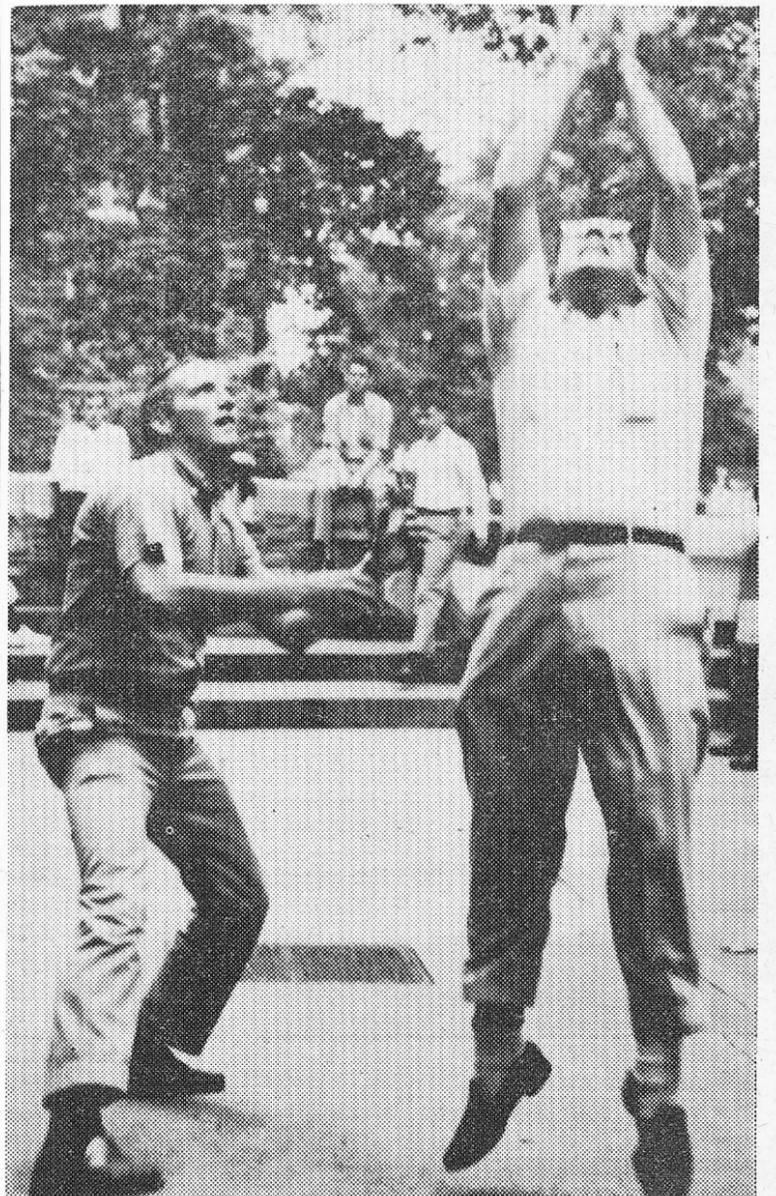

Janice Lowi will commence with a piano recital, given at the College, tomorrow at 4 p.m.

Perry White is the only senior to present a voice program. His recital has been set for 8:30 p.m. Friday, May 10, by Dr. Vernon Taylor, Director of the College.

Susan Ramseur will play the piano Saturday, May 11, at 8:30 p.m. Another piano performance will be given the following day, May 12, at 3 p.m. by Mary Lou Growdon.

Janice Thomas plans to present her piano musicale Saturday, May 25, although the time is undecided and the date itself is subject to change.

Calvary Episcopal Church is the setting Sunday, May 26, for an organ presentation to be given by Paul Hicks at 4 p.m.

Dudley Weaver, Jerry Vaughn and Bette Cloar were named first place winners in the annual student art show by Art Professor Lawrence Anthony last Saturday.

The wide selection of paintings, woodcuts and sculptures is currently on display in the main foyer of the library, under the supervision of Professor Anthony, first place winner in the 1963 Mid-South Exhibition.

Three Judges

The art works were titled and judged by Professor Anthony, Dean Jameson Jones and Ray Hill, Chairman of the Drama Department. Selections were made before students' names were attached to their products.

The three first place winners, whose work is indicated by a gold star, will each receive a purchase prize of $35 from the college. They are Dudley Weaver for her oil painting, "Still Life"; Jerry Vaughn for his wood sculpture, "Woman Reading"; and Bette Cloar for her woodcut, "Agnes."

PHYSICAL FITNESS DEPT.

'Roofball' Gains Campus-wide Recognition As SW's Most Popular Spring Pastime

By BOB GILBERT

Southwestern's campus, due to its unique architectural design, has, in recent years, witnessed the initiation of a new pastime in the lives of its male students. Although the disinterest in this sport is not as widespread as it is in . . . say . . . student government, it is still possible that there will be a few who read this article and who will not fully understand exactly what roofball is. For those, this brief word of explanation.

Southwestern's only roofball court is located south of the refectory and the Lynx Lair. The game is played with a roofball, amazingly similar to a tennis ball. The two, two-man teams are situated on opposite sides of the arch between the refectory and White Hall. The object is to bounce the ball off the roof of either of these buildings into the opposing court in such a manner that it will not be caught by the opposing team before it hits the ground and without throwing it out of bounds (an area very much disputed among the recent adherents to the sport.)

In order to get a more comprehensive, "inside" look at the game, the Sou'wester interviewed the oldest and most experienced pioneers of the game, David Lindsey and Rusty Vance, who compose Southwestern's championship roofball team.

David Lindsey had this to say about roofball: "Yes, I feel that roofball has definitely become an integral part of college life to many Southwestern students. I have considered suggesting to the administration that the physical fitness program be replaced by roofball because it makes you tough. Once you have run into the wall, slipped over the manhole cover, and tripped over the steps a few times, you get tough."

Other suggestions by Lindsey include holding a National Invitational Roofball Championship match with the Ivy League colleges (the only other schools with roofball facilities); removal of certain strategic patches of ivy ("we've lost several roofballs in the ivy and they're a rare commodity, hard to come by"); a rerouting of the walk to the Lynx Lair to prevent constant interruption; installation of another court near the new student center; installation of lights for "night" roofball; and the drafting of a set of rules "so Browne Mercer can understand the game."

When asked if his wife had any resentment toward the game and if she felt she was a "roofball widow" Rusty Vance replied in a whisper, with the faintest glimmer of a smile, "she doesn't know I play."

His only two suggestions were that the students be told to keep their windows closed ("we've lost several roofballs in the windows and they're a rare commodity, hard to come by") and that a set of rules be drafted "so Browne Mercer can understand the game."

Election of Cheerleaders Set for Next Wednesday

By WAYNE WEBB

Cheerleader Elections will be held next Wednesday in chapel, Henry Pope, President of the Elections Commission, announced Tuesday in Student Council meeting.

The Student Council voted Tuesday night to reduce the number of cheerleaders to six. Terry Tidwell, speaking for the cheerleaders, explained that it was not practical to have over six girls on the field at a time because a line longer than that requires practice every day and throughout the summer. Since this is impossible at Southwestern, the Council consented to their proposal.

A question was brought up by the rising Sophomores on the Council about a place for freshman cheerleaders. Tidwell spoke against this because so much of their activity is planned and practiced in the summer or at the beginning of the fall semester. After an hour of wrangling a compromise provision was finally made for four freshman cheerleaders to be elected in the fall to serve under and with S.A.U. Exact provisions about their duties and dress will be worked out later.

Students wishing to try out for cheerleader should turn their names in to Henry Pope or Terry Tidwell by midnight tonight. There will be a practice session with this year's cheerleaders before preliminary tryouts in front of WUB and the Sanhedrin Tuesday afternoon. Those candidates remaining will perform in chapel Wednesday and at that time the entire student body will be allowed to vote on six candidates and two alternates.

Pope also announced that there was no restriction this year on boys' trying out.

Contemporary Art Displayed in AEC

The paintings of thirteen contemporary American artists are now on exhibition in the Adult Education Center, under the direction of Professor Raymond Hill. The paintings are on loan from the Columbia Museum of Columbia, South Carolina.

"Unlike the Mid-South Exhibition," Professor Hill explained, "the display is part of a bi-annual show for, not just one area of the country, but the entire nation."

Well-known in art circles are the following names, all of whom have work in the exhibition, John Waddell, Howard Thomas, David Van Hook, Doug Huebler, Hooft, Visser, Don Ties, Magafan, Bob Courtright, Margo Hoff, Gador Peterdi, Sigmund Abeles, Okimoto and Hermer Raymond.

TO HELP SIXTY PER CENT

Council to Examine Student Placement Due to Favorable Report from Dickens

Oliver Dickens reported to the Student Council Tuesday night on the possibility of having a placement service on Southwestern's Campus to help the sixty percent of Southwestern graduates who do not further their education to find jobs.

Dickens Outlines Plan

A general outline for such action was included in Dickens' report to the Council. He explained that Mr. Morgan's office, theoretically concerned with placement, was unable to handle an extra burden without another employee whose main concern would be alumni and summer placement. Southwestern could receive much more material and channel it to the student body if such a person were employed even on a part time basis.

President Hollingsworth promised that the Council would consult with the Administration on the possibility of hiring such a person.

Earlier in the year Bert Ringold had visited the Tennessee Employment Agency and was told that the office at Memphis State was supposed to handle Southwestern students' applications for summer and full time employment. On visiting the campus, however, he found that the agency there was unwilling to process such applications on an equal basis with theirs.

After Long Study

Dickens decided to see if anything like the Memphis State program could be established here.

After several trips to Memphis State and Christian Brothers Colleges he came to the conclusion that such a project is feasible.

In other action the Council voted to send Liz Currie to the All-South Human Relations Conference sponsored by the Young Adult Council to be held this weekend at Chapel Hill, North Carolina. President Hollingsworth stressed the fact that this was a selective three day conference in which young adult representatives from the college community, business, labor, professional groups, and the clergy will participate.

Joan Baez to Perform In Memphis Next Friday

Under the auspices of LeMoyné College, Joan Baez, the current toast of the folk-music world, will appear in concert in the Music Hall of Ellis Auditorium next Friday night, May 10, at 8:30.

Tickets priced from $1 to $2.50 are available at LeMoyné College and at Goldsmith's Central Ticket Office.

Miss Baez, who made her first big splash at the Newport Festival in 1960, was chosen by Time Magazine for a cover picture and five page spread in the issue of November 23, 1962. After the Newport Festival she was signed by a small recording company called Vanguard and has recorded four albums.

Torch Initiates —

elected Honor Council representative.

Pat Dickson, a biology major from Memphis, has been Kappa Delta's scholarship chairman, rush chairman, and current membership chairman. She has worked on the Sou'wester staff and is the Lynx business manager. She is a member of SAU, Pi Intersorority, and has been on the Dean's List.

Hoover, Mansell

A Memphis French major, Gail Hoover has been pledge vice-president and scholarship chairman of Delta Delta Delta, and is currently vice-president, pledge trainer and acting chaplain. She is secretary-treasurer of the Junior Class and was re-elected to an identical position with the Senior class. Gail is a student counselor and member of WUB, Sans Souci and Eta Sigma Phi.

Mary Mansell is an English major from Vicksburg, Mississippi. She is a Tri Delta and is the new president of her sorority. Mary has been on the Lynx staff and the Dormitory Governing Board, and was a member of the Spanish Club. She is a member of S.T.A.B. intersorority.

Meyers, Moore

An AOPi from Memphis, Marilyn Meyers is spending her junior year at Aix-en-Provence. She has worked on the Sou'wester staff and with the Danforth organization. She has been on the Dean's List and received the Belk Bible Medal and the Phi Beta Kappa Scholarship awards. She participates in intramurals and is a WAA representative. Marilyn has been treasurer of the Spanish Club and majors in Political Science.

Rebecca Moore, also at Aix, was assistant treasurer for AOPi. She participated in intramurals and the Lynx Beauty Revue. She was on the Lynx staff and is a student counselor and member of Danforth. Rebecca is from Rolling Fork, Mississippi.

Outstanding Sophs

One of Torch's outstanding Sophomores, Jacquelyn Dowd, is the newly-elected Commissioner of the Protestant Religious Council. She is a member of the Honor Council and WUB, and participated in the high school visitation program. Jackie was an REW discussion leader and one of the co-chairmen of the Student Counselor program. She is from Pauls Valley, Oklahoma.

Judy Moody is an AOPi from Nashville. She is a member of the Honor Council and Danforth. Judy was freshman representative to the Publications Board and is the new Commissioner of Publications. She is a cheerleader and recording secretary of AOPi. She has been in the Modern Dance group and on the Sou'wester staff.

Amacker Plans TV Appearance

Southwestern professor, David M. Amacker, will appear on a TV debate-discussion program, "Issues in Action," Sunday at 2:30 p.m. on WHBQ-TV, Channel 13.

U.S. in U.N.?

The question to be discussed is whether the U.S. should remain in the United Nations. Each of the two participants will give a short introductory speech and then answer questions from reporters.

Professor Amacker will uphold the affirmative position on the question, and Mr. James Brasfield, Head of the Americanization committee of the American Legion, will argue against U.S. participation.

Not a Peacemaker

In defending the role of the U.S. in the United Nations, Professor Amacker told the Sou'wester that "the U.N. is not of vital importance right now, and it can't be expected to accomplish great feats of pacification."

But he added that the U.N. serves a vital role as a forum for expressing the American point of view on world issues.

"It would be folly to cease to support the U.N. or to pay most of the costs. We must use the U.N. as our own propaganda sounding board like Russia does.

U.N. to Develop Slowly?

"The U.N. will develop in strength and importance and take on more and more vital tasks. It is and will be worth a great deal more than the relatively small amount of the cost to us," he concluded.

Opera Will Be Featured At Phi Beta Kappa Tea For Top Area Students

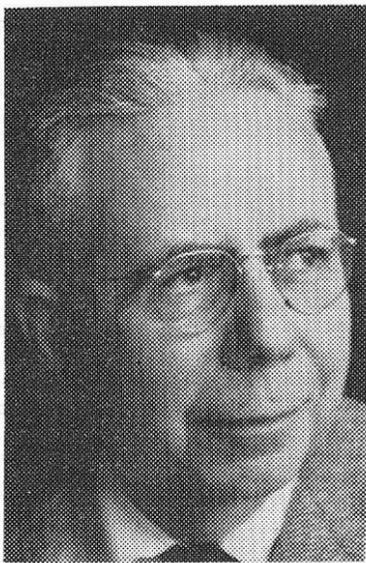

A taste of opera, Metropolitan style, is in store for honor students in the senior classes of Memphis and Shelby County high schools, both public and private, who have been invited to the Phi Beta Kappa Honors Tea at 4 p.m. Tuesday, May 7, in the Adult Education Center at Southwestern.

Benjamin Goodman, president of the Memphis Association of Phi Beta Kappa, has arranged for Francis Robinson, assistant manager of the Metropolitan Opera, to address the group on "Opera: A Biography." The subject is appropriate for a Memphis audience which has heard Mr. Robinson on WREC.

With him will be Miss Gladys Kriese, a young mezzo-soprano who will sing, and Victor Trucco, one of the assistant conductors, who will accompany her.

Mr. Robinson, a native of Henderson, Ky., grew up in Mount Pleasant, Tenn., attended public schools there and later Vanderbilt University, where he was graduated cum laude in 1932. He worked for five years on the Nashville Banner and also was a writer and producer on Radio Station WSM. He served as an officer in the Naval Reserve for three years and joined the Metropolitan company as tour director in 1948. He has been assistant manager since 1952.

Mr. Robinson also has handled press relations for Katharine Cornell, for the Boston Symphony's Berkshire Festival, for Raymond Massey in "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," Walter Huston in "Knickerbocker Holiday," Paul Muni in "Key Largo," and for Burgess Meredith and Cornelia Otis Skinner. He also handled the tour of Judith Anderson in "Medea."

DELIVERING 1963 COMMENCEMENT ADDRESSES at Southwestern will be Dr. W. J. Millard, who will deliver the baccalaureate sermon and Dr. Samuel Monk (right), who will give the commencement address. Both are Southwestern graduates.

Two SW Graduates to Deliver '63 Commencement Addresses

Two Southwestern graduates will give the main addresses at this year's commencement. President Peyton N. Rhodes announced recently.

Former Professor

Dr. Samuel H. Monk, who was a member of Southwestern's English Department from 1924-42 and is now on the faculty of the University of Minnesota, will give the commencement address at 10 a.m. on Monday, June 3, in Fisher Garden.

Dr. W. J. Millard, pastor emeritus of Evergreen Presbyterian Church in Memphis, vice-chairman of Southwestern's board of directors, will give the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday morning, June 2, at Second Presbyterian Church. Dr. Millard, in addition to the B.A. and the honorary D.D. conferred by Southwestern, holds the B.D. degree from Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary.

War Hero

Dr. Monk left Southwestern in 1942 to enter the Air Force, served as combat intelligence officer in the European Theater of Operations, and received six Battle Stars and a Presidential Unit Citation.

His academic work has been equally distinguished. He held a Rockefeller Post-War Fellowship in 1945-46 and a Guggenheim Fellowship in 1956-57, has been Professor of English at Minnesota since 1946, serving as chairman of the department 1948-50, and has been a visiting lecturer at Columbia University, New York University, and the University of California at Berkeley.

Author of Two Books

While at Southwestern he wrote "The Sublime: A Study of Critical Theories in Eighteenth Century England," which was reissued in 1960 in a paperback edition. His second book, "John Dryden: A List of Critical Studies," appeared in 1950. He has contributed to other books and authored numerous articles, essays, and reviews in learned journals and literary quarterlies.

Director of Optics at Rochester U. Plans Lectures at SW Next Week

Professor Robert E. Hopkins, director of the Institute of Optics of the University of Rochester, Rochester, New York, will serve as a visiting lecturer at Southwestern at Memphis next Thursday and Friday, May 9 and 10.

Part of AIP Program

He will visit under the auspices of the American Association of Physics Teachers and the American Institute of Physics as part of a broad, nationwide program to stimulate interest in physics. The program is now in its sixth year and is supported by the National Science Foundation.

The American Association of Physics Teachers is one of the five member societies of the American Institute of Physics. Other member societies are: The American Physical Society, Optical Society of America, Acoustical Society of America, and the Society of Rheology.

Dr. Taylor to Plan Visit

Lectures, informal discussion, assistance to faculty members concerning curriculum and research problems in physics, and talks with students will feature Professor Hopkins' visit.

He has studied the use of synthetic sapphire in optical elements,

'Dex' Doesn't Do the Job, States UT Pharmacologist

By DALE SEAY

Student users of "stay-awake" pills claim that their abilities to concentrate and to learn are greatly heightened by the use of such tablets.

Tests Show Bad Results

Yet laboratory tests have proved otherwise. "Performance is below par," stated Dr. Robert A. Woodbury, head of the University of Tennessee division of pharmacology. No amount of these drugs—usually amphetamine (trade name: Dexadrine)—may be taken safely. "The cell gets into a stage of over-exhaustion," continued Dr. Woodbury, "and it no longer is able to insist upon its needs for the restoration of sleep."

Cells affected include irreplaceable brain cells, whose future potential is limited. The blood pressure goes up, the eyes dilate, and mental confusion can result. Retention is low after the effects wear off.

Not Habit Forming

"In the true sense, they are not habit forming," said Dr. Woodbury, "but they do cause an after-depression." This resultant state is the reason some do consider the use of the pills a habit formation, since cells function poorly without it after usage.

Math, essay, and true and false tests are among those which have been administered in experiments comparing the effects of "Dex" with those of both "No-Doz" and a placebo (sugar pill). With "Dex" the subjects "lose the art of fine discrimination," stated Dr. Woodbury, and are subject to the mistakes caused by the body's poor functioning. Delicate jobs are cumbersome for the user. "No-Doz" is, in great moderation, about the same as a large number of cups of coffee; it can cause the jitters, but other effects are not so bad. For example, the eyes do not dilate.

Cases at SW

Two examples on the Southwestern campus were given by Mrs. R. H. Haener, Resident Nurse. One, a boy, suffered from a case of the "exam jitters" amplified greatly by the use of pills. His pulse, even after a full day of rest, was 104 to 110. Normal pulse rate for a man is 72 to 78. One girl was reduced to weeping, because she had taken a conglomeration of tablets and was unable to sleep or study.

One distasteful part of the after-effect is caused by the fact that smokers tend to smoke even more. And even after the pills wear off, sleep is difficult, though the senses are dulled.

Lynx Baseballers to Meet Delta State Nine Monday

The Lynx baseball team faces Delta State Monday in the last home game of the year before journeying to Lexington, Virginia next weekend for the College Athletic Conference Tournament.

Sporting a 6-5 record, the Lynx took to the road today to meet Howard of Birmingham, Alabama in games today and tomorrow.

Lacking On Defense

The heavy-hitting Lynx have suffered defensively from pitching and fielding troubles. In the last five games, Lynx opponents have averaged nine runs per game. Charley Killinger and Jerry Manley have been strongest hitters in recent games. Tommy Johnson has shown signs of breaking out of an early season slump, and Ken Brunson, David Miles and Bert Chafin continue to powder the ball at a good clip.

Cagey veteran Ronnie Splann leads Lynx hurlers with a 3-2 record. Paul Cox, with a 2-2 record, has the best earned run average, and freshman Elwood Hamilton has garnered one victory without a defeat.

Brunson Leads Team

Hitting from the leadoff position, Ken Brunson continues to be a terror on the base paths. Brunson leads the club in hitting and stolen

The Sou'wester sports staff regrettably retracts the erroneous statement made in last week's paper that the Sigma Nu "B" softball team defeated the Pikes. Pi Kappa Alpha trounced the Snakes, 29-6, to move into a three-way tie for second place in final "B" league standings.

Due to various forfeitures and schedule difficulties during the first few weeks of the season, the intramural bowling results escaped mention in the Sou'wester. Winning first place, and the trophy, in this event were the Pikes, who regained the title they had won two years ago.

Linksters Fifth In TIAC Meet

By LONNIE EVANS

Sophomore Craig Goldate led the Lynx golf team to a fifth place finish in the ten-team Tennessee Intercollegiate Athletic Conference golf tournament held Saturday in Sewanee.

Goldate, who carded a 36 hole total of 151, needed a par on the last hole of the match to gain a first place tie and a spot in the playoff. But he had to settle for a bogey largely because of the heavy rain in which the last nine holes were played.

Jack Haley and Gary Head, both of Middle Tennessee State College, led their team to the championship and tied for medalist honors with identical scores of 150.

The Lynx were hampered by the absence of number two man Bill Tyson, who was forced to remain in Memphis for academic reasons. For the Lynx Donnie Dyer had a 161 total, followed by Terry Deaton with 170, Russell Gibbs with 171, Fred Sheppard with 173, and Doug Janss with 180. The team score was 653 compared with first place Middle Tennessee's 612.

The Lynx finished behind Middle Tennessee, East Tennessee State College, Austin Peay, and Chattanooga, but ahead of Sewanee, Tennessee Tech, David Lipscomb, Milligan, and Carson-Newman.

The Lynx will complete this year's home season with meets against Union today and against Millsaps on May 7. On May 10 and 11 the team will participate in the CAC tournament at Lexington, Virginia.

bases. Outfielder Dale Ledbetter has been a pleasant surprise for Coach Woody Johnson. A junior, Ledbetter is playing his first year of college ball, but has made vital contributions both offensively and defensively to the Lynx cause.

The CAC tournament could easily go to any of the five teams entered. The relative strength of teams can not easily be determined, since the Lynx have not played any of their tourney opponents in regular season action. Other member schools are Centre, Sewanee, Washington and Lee, and Washington at St. Louis.

ONE OF THE TOP DISTANCE MEN for the Lynx during the past two seasons is Howard Romaine, who will be counted on for valuable points tomorrow in the TIAC.

New Head Football, Basketball Coaches Comment on Next Season's Plans, Goals

By HARVEY CAUGHEY

To build athletic teams which Southwestern can be proud of were the promises made by both new coaches in special Sou'wester interviews Wednesday and Thursday.

Donald Duckworth, the new basketball coach, stated that next year's squad would hope to "earn the support of the student body."

"We hope to make the squad such that students will want to come to support the team," he stated. "We don't plan to beg for student support. If they don't get anything out of watching our games, we don't want them to come."

Jesse Johnson, who will take over in July as head football and baseball coach, pointed out that "athletic teams are an important part of Southwestern, and we want to feel like we can become a part of student affairs, not a separate entity to ourselves."

Neither coach felt that Southwestern's high academic standards would be detrimental to her athletic fortunes.

"Southwestern is widely known as an academic school," commented Johnson. "We feel like we can sell our program on this basis. A boy at Southwestern has a chance to get a fine education and be a part of a well-rounded athletic program at the same time."

"The boys we want are those who are both good students as well as top athletes," Duckworth explained. "A boy who is a good student is easier to coach because he is quicker to grasp new ideas."

Duckworth plans for the 1963-64 cage squad to play a fast-moving, running type of offense. "It takes the edge off the other team's attack if they have to worry about your getting the ball down court too fast," he pointed out, and added that the team had good enough speed to work the fast offense. The defense will be mainly a man-to-man, but will depend largely on the opponents, he added.

The gridders will run from the Multiple T offense, Johnson revealed. The "Monster Defense," characteristic of Arkansas University, which features a five-man line with three deep backs, will be used by the Lynx when the other team has the ball.

Johnson confided that he has big plans for the run-pass option play as a vital part of the Lynx attack, and will spend many hours drilling the gridders on this pattern. He plans to work on offense and defense in equal doses of time until the basic defensive patterns have been learned, and then to spend

Tracksters Top Howard In Dual

Southwestern triumphed over Howard in Birmingham Monday to end its dual meet season record at 4-1, and finished third to Mississippi College and Union in the Howard Invitational last Saturday.

Narrow Loss

The Lynx' only loss has been to Union by the narrow margin of 67-64. The Bulldogs of Union piled up a heavy advantage in the field events and dominated the distance events, as Southwestern swept the sprints.

In last Saturday's Invitational, the Lynx captured three first places, with Bill Taylor winning the 440, Randy Kyle taking the javelin and the mile relay team of Taylor, Henry Pope, Bill Weber and Bob West retaining its perfect record. John Welch placed third in the broad jump and John Treace third in the low hurdles.

Hankins Wins Three

In Monday's meet Ed Hankins led the Lynx with three first places—in both hurdles races and the high pump. Henry Pope tied for first in the pole vault, was second in the 100 and 220, and ran on the winning mile relay team. The Lynx used a team of only 12 men to defeat Howard in a meet marred by rain and cold.

Cindermen Face Tough Sledding Against TIAC, CAC Competition

The Lynx cindermen will meet their two biggest tests of the season tomorrow and next Saturday in Murfreesboro, Tennessee and Lexington, Virginia.

Tomorrow in Murfreesboro, the Lynx will compete in the Tennessee Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Meet, where they will be a dark horse favorite. Next weekend Southwestern has a good chance to win its first CAC title in the Conference Meet at Lexington.

Injuries Could Hurt

The big question for the Lynx tomorrow concerns whether Buddy Ratcliff, John Welch and Roy Twaddle will be back in peak form, following injuries they received in earlier meets. Twaddle injured himself in the Southwestern Invitational, and Ratcliff and Welch pulled leg muscles last week. All three are top pole vaulters.

Ratcliff also runs the sprints and is an excellent broad jumper, as his 22-foot leap in the Southwestern Invitational indicates. Welch participates in the javelin and the high jump.

Out for the rest of the season is the Lynx' top hurdler, John Treace, who was operated on for bone chips in his elbow.

Taylor Rolls On

Bill Taylor continues to lead the Lynx assault, and will do so tomorrow in the 440, 220, mile relay and high jump. Other sprinters are Bob West, Henry Pope and Bill Weber. Ed Hankins is SW's lone hurdler, now that Treace has been injured. Hankins also participates in the high jump.

The Lynx distance trio of Dosssett Foster, Jim Couch and Howard Romaine are being counted on heavily by Coach Freeman Marr. Foster will run the mile and the two-mile, and Couch will run the 880 and the mile. Workhorse Howard Romaine has often ground out points in all three events in one day for the Lynx, and may be called on to do so again.

Kyle Tops In Weights

In the weights, Randy Kyle, with his javelin triumph in the Howard Invitational, will be one of the toughest to beat tomorrow. Tod Eustis and Russ Didelot have consistently added valuable points in the discus and shot respectively.

Intramural Track Slated Tomorrow

1962-63 intramurals draw to a close this week and next with participation in the final three sports of the year.

Thursday and Friday golfers took to the fairways for the intramural tournament. The clang of horse-shoes can be heard, as the individual matches are being played this week and next.

Track Meet Tomorrow

Providing a focal point for the closing of the intramural year is the track meet tomorrow. Field events will begin at 1:00 p.m. with running events following at 2:00 p.m. Last year the Snakes took the meet with the Lions of SAE a single point behind. Both are entering virtually the same teams as last year and competition should prove interesting.

Since last year was the first year that winning marks were recorded, all the standing records will be in jeopardy Saturday. Records for the field events include the shot put mark of 40' 10" by John Ashcraft; high jump, 5' 8" by Phil Green; broad jump, 19' 1/2" by Green; and softball throw, 264' 8" by Joe McCown, all of Sigma Nu.

Running Records

Records for the running events are the 440 yard relay, 49.5, by SAE; 440 yard dash, 58.1, by Bill Griffin of SAE; 60 yard dash, 7.2, by Scott Halford of SAE; 60 yard low hurdles, 8.8, by Tom Lowry of KA; 880 yard run, 2:18.3 sec., by John Poolman of Sigma Nu; 100 yard dash, 11.5, by Challace McMillan of SAE and John Arehart of PiKA; and the 880 yard relay (no time available) by SAE.

Johnson Is Chosen Head Football, Baseball Coach

Lynx athletic director W. R. Maybry announced the selection of Jesse Johnson, presently a member of the Arkansas State College football staff at Jonesboro, Ark., as Southwestern's new football and baseball head coach.

He succeeds Woody Johnson, who resigned in March to take a coaching job in Florida. The new Lynx coach will be serving for the first time in the capacity of head coach.

Johnson, a star athlete at ASC, joined the coaching staff there after his graduation, and has held the position there for six years.

In high school he was an all-around star for Blytheville, Ark., High. He lettered in baseball, football, and basketball there, then repeated the performance at Arkansas State.

When informed of his selection, Mr. Johnson said, "I am very grateful to Athletic Director Maybry and his group for selecting me for the position. I am looking forward to coming to the Memphis school."
