Marjorie Wild Is Selected As SW's 'Best Dressed'

Marjorie Wild, a senior from Huntington, West Virginia, was named Southwestern's "Best Dressed Coed," Wednesday night in competition with nine other girls at the Delta Delta Delta lodge.

Other coeds in the contest, who were nominated by their sorority or independent group, include Sheila Cruse, Sally Denton, Jeanne Fraser, Nicole Holmes, Sally Kindig, Eleanor Lawrence, Lynne McDow, Linda Traywick and Jeanne Wertz.

Art Major

A member of Delta Delta Delta, Marjorie is an art major, a member of Who's Who, Pi Intersorority and W.U.B., and is Commissioner of Publications.

Two members of the Southwestern staff joined two off-campus fashion experts, the four of whom acted as judges for the contest. They were Mrs. E. G. Ballenger of Southwestern News Service; Mrs. Joye Cobb, modern dance instructor; Miss Mary Alice Quinn of the Commercial Appeal society staff; and Mr. Seymour Weiss, supervisor of the sportswear and college department at Levy's Clothing Store.

Katie Bartels coordinated the fashion show which formed the first half of the contest, and Blair Gilmer served as commentator during the style exhibit.

Two Parts of Contest

The contest was divided into two sessions. In the first half of the contest each coed modelled three of her own outfits: a campus outfit, an off-campus daytime outfit, and an evening party dress to demonstrate her practical knowledge of fashion. The interviews were conducted by the judges and were designed to bring out further each contestant's "fashion sense" and personal dressing and grooming habits.

Nine fashion points were considered by the judges in deciding the winner. They included posture and figure, grooming, use of makeup, understanding of one's personal

Reveley Resigns as Admissions Dean; Accepts Post on Presbyterian Board

DEAN OF ADMISSIONS, Dr. W. Taylor Reveley, who will leave Southwestern in June to accept a position with the Southern Presbyterian Board of Higher Education.

Dr. W. Taylor Reveley, dean of admissions and records and a member of the Southwestern Bible faculty since 1946, has resigned and will leave the college at the end of June, Dr. Peyton N. Rhodes, president, announced last night.

Simultaneously the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education, meeting at Richmond, Va., announced that Dr. Reveley was named yesterday as secretary of its Division of Higher Education, succeeding Dr. Hunter Blakely who retired in December after holding the post for 12 years.

Reveley's Work Praised

Dr. Rhodes said the college greatly regrets Dr. Reveley's leaving.

"He has not only served with distinction on the faculty, but has been the key person in the committee on admissions and student aid and has helped greatly in attracting to Southwestern some of the finest high school graduates in the South—the kind of students we want, who contribute most to and get the most from a Southwestern education.

"We wish Dean Reveley every success as he goes to broaden the scope of his work geographically and to serve all Presbyterian (U.S.) colleges and the church at large."

Campus Vote Names April Fool Royalty

Elections for King and Queen of the April Fool Court were held today.

Nominees for Queen of the Court were Carolyn Cooper, Margaret Johnson, Eleanor Lawrence, Sarah Pickens, Beth Poe, Anne Smith and Barbara Yost. Nominated for April Fool King were James Riley Crawford, Joe Duncan, Howard Edgington, Bill Potts, K. C. Ptomey, Steve Richardson, and David Watts.

These candidates were chosen in an election Wednesday when each member of the student body voted for five juniors or seniors of the opposite sex. In today's election each student voted preferentially for the seven of the opposite sex.

The winners of this election will not be announced until a few days prior to the April Fool Dance. The King and Queen will reign over the dance, while the other candidates will serve as members of the April Fool Court.

Scope of Higher Ed Division

Among the responsibilities of the Division of Higher Education are the coordination of work in the 28 colleges and seminaries associated with the denomination, the campus ministry at some 300 state and independent colleges in the South, the Presbyterian Guidance Program which operates 12 vocational guidance centers (one of these at Southwestern) in aiding young people select careers, and the enlistment of candidates for church careers.

Dr. Reveley, a native of Knoxville, received an A.B. degree from Hampden-Sydney, a B.D. from Union Theological Seminary in Richmond, and the Ph.D. from Duke University.

Mr. and Miss Southwestern To Be Chosen Next Week

Mr. and Miss Southwestern of 1963 will be elected by the student body next Wednesday, from a list of seven male and six coed candidates, the Student Council announced Tuesday night.

Candidates for Mr. Southwestern include James Riley Crawford, Joe Duncan, Wayne Goldsworthy, Doug Meeks, Bill Potts, Steve Richardson and David Watts.

Susan Hunter, Margaret Johnson, Sarah Pickens, Beth Poe, Marjorie Wild and Barbara Yost are nominees for the Miss Southwestern title.

Nominated By Council

The thirteen nominees were selected by the student Council in a meeting Tuesday night. Voting will be preferential and the winners will be announced Wednesday night.

In other Council action, Elections Commissioner David Watts reported that there was a possibility that the Memphis Elections Commission would agree to set up a tent to house voting machines along the walkway behind Palmer Hall, for Student Council elections in April.

Study of Constitution

A committee was selected by President Richardson to study the existing Student Council constitution and suggest changes. The committee is headed by Tommy Durff, and includes Wayne Goldsworthy, Oliver Dickens and Thurman Ragar.

Richardson also asked that any

Shoes Are Taboo At Tri-Delt's Pad Tomorrow Night

Girls who failed to get a date with their dream man at the Torch Backwards Dance in December will get another chance to ask out their "prince charming" for the annual Delta Delta Delta backwards Sock Hop tomorrow night from 8 to 12 in the Tri-Delt lodge.

A Memphis band, "The Blue Jays," will play for the dance. An admission charge of one dollar will be assessed, and pizza and cokes will be sold. Proceeds will go toward a yearly scholarship offered by the Tri-Delts to a Southwestern woman student.

So girls, find a boy, wash out his socks, and bring him to the Delta Delta Delta Sock Hop.

Williams Takes Title In 'Beta Upsilon' Poll To Climax Wild Night of Electioneering

A lifelong ambition became a reality for one Southwestern coed Wednesday morning.

At that time, Miss Lynn Williams, a sophomore member of Alpha Omicron Pi, was named winner of the traditional Beta Upsilon Tau Tau poll.

History of Chapter

A brief discussion of the five years' history of Alpha Sigma Sigma chapter of Beta Upsilon Tau Tau preceded the announcement of the winner. The master of ceremonies, William L. McColgan, then introduced the principal speaker, William Van Arnold, Jr., who told of the intensive search to find the woman who most typified the ideals of the fraternity.

As tension rose among the contestants and student body, the Eminent Grand Head of the group, John Dudley McCharen, presented the Eminent Deputy Head, J. Packer Arnold, who described the odyssey of BUTT's Tapping Stick.

The Famous Stick

Mr. Arnold next entrusted the Stick to Eminent Tapper Billy McKay, who advanced through the crowd of hopeful young ladies, when he reached Miss Williams, the Tapping Stick descended and a new queen reigned.

First runner-up was Miss Linda Jackson, who figured prominently in last year's contest. Next was Miss Joanna Cheek, the only freshman so honored. Third runner-up was Miss Munnie Raspberry, and fourth was Miss Judy Moody.

Secret Ballot

The men students selected the winners by secret ballot in Robb Social Room on Tuesday night. Commissioner McCharen advised the voters to consider quality, not quantity, as they made their choice from among twenty-five nominees. The men were reminded of the election by eye-catching posters placed in various sections of the campus, and in the Robb Social Room.

Top Scholar Groups Include Senior Class, Sigma Nu, Tri-Delta

Sigma Nu and Delta Delta Delta took top honors in fraternity and sorority scholarship competition first semester, while the Senior men and women scored highest in class competition, the Records Office announced this week.

Sigma Nu's 2.47 aggregate average was four hundredths of a point better than ATO's 2.43, while the Tri-Delt's topped Kappa Delta by the same margin, 2.70 to 2.66.

Third in fraternity scholarship was SAE with 2.30, followed by Pi Kappa Alpha, 1.96; Kappa Alpha, 1.94; and Kappa Sigma, 1.93. The all-fraternity average was 2.19.

Following close behind the sorority leaders were Chi Omega with a 2.62, AOPi with 2.55, and Zeta Tau Alpha with 2.54, thus placing the lowest sorority average above the highest fraternity average. The all-sorority mean was 2.61.

Senior men posted a 2.72 average and their coed counterparts averaged 2.88 to give them a clean sweep in class competition. The junior men averaged 2.33, followed by the sophomores with 2.28 and the freshmen with 1.91. The sophomore girls were second to the seniors with a 2.56 average. The juniors posted a 2.51 mark and the freshman coeds averaged 2.36.

The total women's average was 2.55, which combined with the men's 2.22 score to give a total college mean of 2.37.

BEING HANDY WITH A NEEDLE AND THREAD is essential for coeds seeking dates for the Tri-Delt Backward Sock Hop tomorrow night. Here, sophomore Linda Jackson sews up the hole in senior Bill Taylor's sock, so they can attend the dance without experiencing that "social blunder" feeling when Bill pulls off his shoes.

Top Scholars Announced; Memphis to Receive Honored With Banquet Foreign Visiter Group

In honor of the top five men and women in each class, Torch and ODK will hold their annual scholarship banquet in the Catherine Burrow Refectory at 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, February 26.

The grade-average standings were determined by taking the averages for only the last semester. In the case of a tie, the average over the greatest number of semester hours was chosen.

The speaker for the evening will be Robert Heros. Mr. Heros is a native of Cuba. He was in the Bay of Pigs invasion and was held prisoner in Cuba until December of last year. He is now living in Memphis while studying Business Administration at Memphis State.

Leading their classes with perfect 4:00 averages were Seniors Janice Baker, Ann Mathieu, and Robert Hunt Morris; junior Edward Miller; sophomore Charles Brandon; and freshmen Carolyn Crane and Susan Mayer.

That organization which sent Professor John Hemphill to Sweden and Student Bill Davidson to India will be in the spotlight Sunday, as the founder of the Experiment in International Living, Donald B. Watt pays a visit to Memphis.

Watt will be honored by a tea in the Adult Education Center Sunday afternoon from two-thirty until four-thirty.

National Tour

Mr. Watt is touring the nation, explaining the principles of his experiment to various communities across the country. Memphis has been chosen as a spot where ten foreign experimenters will spend this summer.

All town students who would like to have an experimenter stay in their home for four weeks this summer are invited to come to the Adult Center on Sunday afternoon so they and their parents may meet Mr. Watt and discuss the possibility of their participation in the program, Watt has announced.

Brotherhood Week Speakers Stress Open-Mindedness

Four chapel speakers stressed open-mindedness as a means of achieving a closer unity of mankind during Brotherhood Week services at Southwestern this week.

Prominent Speakers

Lecturer for the series included Dr. Hollis Price, president of Le-Moyne College; the Right Reverend Monsignor M. F. Kearney, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church; Rabbi James A. Wax of Temple Israel; and Dr. Paul Tudor Jones, pastor of Idlewild Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Jones summed up the series this morning with his address, "The Role of the Church in Developing Brotherhood." Earlier in the week the other three speakers expressed views on the concept of man's relationship to other men.

Three Points Advocated

On Monday Dr. Price stated that "the role of the church is that of reconciling man to man," and added that "we must come to learn to live with people with different values, who see things differently than we do." He offered three points for the advancement of brotherhood, urging students to exchange ideas with people who are radically different from them to avoid dogma, and always to be ready to examine one's own position.

Monsignor Kearney explained the work and importance of the Ecumenical Council on Tuesday. He quoted Pope John as saying that the council needed to go far beyond the needs of the Catholic church and to revamp the Catholic message in order to reach more souls in an age of crisis.

Indictment on Religion

To think objectively and to apply the question "Is it moral?" formed the crux of Rabbi James Wax's message yesterday morning. Wax asserted that the need for having Brotherhood Week was in itself a serious indictment against religion.

Danforth Group Begins Program

The Danforth Society has begun its organizational program for the 1963 season.

An opening meeting was held on Wednesday, February 20, and Steve Richardson explained the purpose of Danforth and told what is expected of members.

A second meeting of the Society will be held on Wednesday, February 27, at 6:15 in the AOPi House. This meeting will be used to help prospective members decide in which particular facet of the program they will be most useful.

All students interested in participating in the Danforth Program are invited by the participants to attend. Further information may be obtained from Stephen Richardson or Susan Smith.

Students to Receive 'Peace Corps News'

The Peace Corps News, a four-page newspaper published by the Peace Corps which gives various information about the organization's activities, will be available to all students next week as a supplement to the Sou'wester.

The newspaper contains on-the-spot news of happenings in the Peace Corps, accounts of personal experiences written by Peace Corps members, aids for prospective volunteers, and an analysis of the group's immediate future plans.

The Peace Corps provides copies of the News free of charge to all college newspapers who request them, and is published quarterly.

Free World Unification

It's one of the most controversial issues facing the free world. In many ways it's the most important political idea that has come about in hundreds of years. It's the concept of Atlantic Unification.

This concept has spawned the Common Market, NATO and the Organization of American States, but its proponents look to the future when the entire free Western world will be fused into a federal union. Its critics on the other hand are afraid to give up their country's national sovereignty, even in the face of the massive Communist bloc, which disagrees on the means to achieving its ends, but not on the ends themselves.

In recent months we have been confronted with actions and reactions on various fronts regarding a closer unification of the West. In order to join the Common Market, Britain appeared willing to ditch the Commonwealth nations, whose economies depended on British trading privileges to a large extent. DeGaulle, valuing the power and prestige of France over the need for unification of Europe, vetoed British chances of entering the Market because of the controlling power that nation could exert. Other nations in the Market voiced sharp criticism of DeGaulle and doubted that the Market could continue to be successful.

In the United States, Congress last year passed President Kennedy's trade bill, which could serve to pull Europe closer to the U.S. economically by giving the President power to lower tariffs on Market commodities if Europe complied with similar tariff reductions on U.S. goods. Kennedy has thus far been in favor of the Market with Britain as a member, probably feeling that a unification of Europe with Britain at the helm would eventually widen into a federation, first with other English-speaking countries, and later with the rest of the free world.

In Canada, Conservative Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's regime tumbled recently over the issue of using U.S. nuclear warheads for the defense of Canada. Diefenbaker's fall seems due to the fact that he did not recognize the dependency of the free world on the U.S. for its freedom and security.

Southwestern students are getting a generous taste of the Atlantic Union concept. Last week Dr. David Amacker spoke on the necessity of a federation of free states. Next Tuesday, Clarence Streit, one of the nation's foremost exponents of the Atlantic Union concept, will again address students in chapel. In these two men students have an opportunity to view different aspects of the same problems: how to convince free states that unification is imperative, and what the nature of such a federation should be. Streit tends to oversimplify the problem and the ease with which a solution may be reached. Amacker might be said to place security above civil rights in his emphasis on the need for unification, and may lay too much stress on differences in culture as deterrents to a workable federation of free states.

Nevertheless, both men have the same ultimate goal in mind that many other great Western figures have. It is to the best interests of the West that this goal be reached as quickly as possible, but it will not until men realize the dangers of a divided free world are greater than the fancied dangers of surrendering national sovereignty. Since the U.S. must necessarily play the leading role in such a movement, it is essential that Americans not only realize the necessity of the Atlantic Union, but be able to assume the leadership role with tact and without an overbearing manner in order to minimize the "Colossus" image that has been built up around the U.S., and which will no doubt prove one of the most persistent bottlenecks to the formation of a free world federation.

SW Infirmary Remains Busy; Requests No "Moore" Visitors

By EMILY HOLLOWAY

The new infirmary certainly is being used to full advantage.

On Tuesday, Mrs. Haener reported treating 49 patients, including students and faculty members, most of whom were treated for the infectious flu which is floating around campus.

However, Mrs. Haener stressed the importance of "No Visitors." She said that she must insist that the few patients have no visitors, in an effort to minimize the contagious disease.

Kissing Disease

Another prevalent disease on campus is mononucleosis. "Mono," according to Mrs. Haener, "is a virus which attacks the glands and goes into the blood streams." Though it is not contagious by merely breathing the germs, it may be gotten by using unwashed eating utensils, drinking and smoking after others, and by kissing.

Mrs. Haener said cleanliness is the best "Mono" preventive one can take. Plenty of sleep and a balanced diet also are important.

Invalid List

In an effort to begin an "invalid list," this week Mrs. Haener reports: Susan Chalfant and Judy Simono at home and recuperating from mono. Those who have been in the infirmary for several days, but who may not have visitors are: Rose Mary Hoye, Bill Maebert, and Ted Wynne.

Chi Omega Open House Begins at Six Tonight

Chi Omega's new officers for 1963-64 will be announced at its open house tonight from 6-8 p.m. at the Chi Omega lodge.

Music will be provided by the "Jesters."

Reveley: What to Write?

When we learned of Dean Reveley's resignation, those of us who felt we knew him well probably experienced the usual mixed emotions that one feels upon finding that a close friend is leaving to take on a higher responsibility or a greater position.

It is now fitting that an editorial be written which extols and praises Dean Reveley and the work he has done for Southwestern, not merely to fill up newspaper space, or because it is expected, but because men feel a need to sum up the character and accomplishments of other men who have departed from the scene after having grown close to those whom they leave behind. But bearing in mind that repetition and sentimentality are to be avoided at all costs if one is to praise credibly, we encounter a difficult obstacle in writing such an editorial.

What can be said about Dean Reveley that has not been said already about hundreds of equally capable men? It is certainly nothing new that Dean Reveley has worked tirelessly and served superbly as a professor and administrator at Southwestern since 1946. As Dean of Admissions his goal of attracting students who will be a credit to Southwestern and will contribute most to the student community is not unique, nor is his large success in achieving this goal. He is not the first professor who was never too busy to help out students who came to see him, nor the first man to throw himself so completely into his work with the members of the campus community that the college will realize the difference that his absence makes for years afterward.

In a way it is probably good that there is nothing new which can be added to Dean Reveley's record. Instead we can be thankful that there have been, are, and will be many other men like Dean Reveley, and can hope that our next Dean of Admissions will be as capable, so that when he retires we will be tempted to apply the same trite and sentimental phrases to him.

SOUTHWESTERN'S MOST TALENTED

IT WAS A HAPPY NIGHT for these two talented seniors last Saturday. Miss Blair Gilmer of Alpha Omicron Pi and Chris Mays of Sigma Nu won the titles of "Miss Talent" and "Mr. Talent" in the 1963 Southwestern Talent Night competition sponsored by Zeta Tau Alpha. At the left, Miss Gilmer performs the dramatic monologue which won her the coveted trophy, entitled "The Women's Club President." At right, Chris Mays has just ended his piano number, "Preludium," by Edward MacDowell. Group trophies were awarded to Chi Omega and Alpha Tau Omega.

'Atlantic Unionist' To Speak Tuesday

Clarence K. Streit, one of the world's foremost promoters of a federation of European and American states, returns to Southwestern Tuesday to address students in a chapel program.

Fourth Visit

Streit has spoken to Southwestern students three times since 1948, his most recent visit being in October, 1961. His book, Freedom's Frontier—Atlantic Union Now, which illustrates his desire for a union of free-world nations following the outlines of the U. S. Constitution, was discussed during the 1961 Freshman Orientation Seminars.

In explaining his belief that union of the Atlantic community is necessary, Streit, who is also the editor and publisher of the magazine, Freedom and Union, asserts that such a federation will preserve peace within the Union, establish a better means of preserving security against an outside threat, and create economic prosperity within the federation.

Derived Idea from 'League'

Originally an ultra-isolationist during the 1920's, according to Southwestern's leading authority on international unification, Professor David Amacker Streit derived his idea for an Atlantic Union from the old League of Nations, but changed it to a federation of English speaking nations during the '30's.

After World War II Streit recognized the future danger of Russia, and once again turned to a union of the free world. He quit his post as correspondent for the New York Times and since has devoted his life to the furtherance of the Atlantic Union concept.

Best Dressed—

Southwestern's "Best Dressed Coed" will now compete in Glamour Magazine's national contest to select the ten best dressed college women in the country. Wearing the same three outfits which she modelled Wednesday night, the Southwestern winner will pose for three photos next week, which will be mailed to Glamour.

National Winners

Contest winners will be announced in the spring, and will fly to New York as the guests of Glamour, where they will be photographed for a summer issue of the magazine and will be eligible for many prizes. This is Southwestern's first year

TALENT NIGHT

ATO, Chi Omega Win Group Awards; Mays, Gilmer Top Single Performers

Alpha Tau Omega and Chi Omega captured the group trophies in Zeta Tau Alpha's annual "Talent Night" last Saturday in Hardie Auditorium.

The Tau's were represented by the "Pea Peelers," a folk-singing group featuring Charles Weber, Mike Hutchinson, Phil Baer and Harvey Caughey, and tenor soloist Jeff Troxler, who sang "If I Loved You."

Chi Omega took top honors with Pinky Mueller's "Baby June" number from the musical, Gypsy, and an ensemble selection from Little Mary Sunshine, entitled "Mata Hari." Dineta McCormick led the group, which also included Susan Beaird, Joan Herbert, Sally Mixon, Kay Mounce, Munnie Rasberry and Kay Willis.

Individual Winners

The title of Mr. Talent went to Chris Mays of Sigma Nu, who displayed his ability at the keyboard with "Preludium" by MacDowell. Miss Talent was Blair Gilmer of Alpha Omicron Pi, who delivered a monologue as president of a woman's music club.

Other participants included Boyd Ellison of Sigma Nu, with a flamenco guitar number; Suzanne Burns of Kappa Delta who dramatized a "First Date"; Sigma Alpha Epsilon's Roy Twaddle, guitarist and folk singer; Perry White, who sang two baritone selections for Kappa Alpha; Beth Daniel of Delta Delta Delta, who did an interpretive dance; and Martha Dunmire, also a Tri-Delt who sang two soprano solos.

Other Groups

The other groups were SAE's folk trio with Roy Twaddle, Lee Pevsner, and Bill Allen; Kappa Delta's "Lil Abner" skit, led by Judy Ries and Jeanelle Lowe; and a soft shoe routine by Virginia Lowry and Betty Claire Eaton of Alpha Omicron Pi.

The judges were Harlo McCall, band director at Treadwell High; Dean Obenson, radio announcer of WMC; and Miss Dorothy Lancaster, a music teacher at Snowden School.

SAE Downs Snakes, 40-38 In 'A' League Playoff Tilt

The "A" League Intramural champion was decided yesterday afternoon as the SAE's overcame a ten-point third-quarter deficit to win 40-38 over Sigma Nu in overtime.

With four seconds left, Gordon Taylor put in the winning shot from five feet out, after the Sig Ep's had stalled for 1:47, waiting for the last shot.

Smith Scores 20

Frank Smith of SAE took individual scoring honors with 20 points, including 12 out of the Lions' 17 points in the first half. John Ashcraft with 10 and Buddy Doyle with 7 were tops for the Sigma Nu's.

A three way playoff scramble between Sigma Nu, SAE, and Kappa Sigma for the "B" League crown begins today. All three teams tied for the second half title after Sigma Nu had won the first half.

SAE's Drop Snakes

SAE, sparked by Frank Smith's 23 points, pulled away from a half-time deadlock to defeat SN 57-47 Wednesday night and capture the second round "A" League championship. Roy Twaddle added 12 for the winners, while Phil Green led SN with 18.

ATO's Romped by SAE

In the stretch drive that earned them a playoff berth, the Sig Eps downed ATO 72-44 and KS 41-34. Smith led both games with 30 and 14 respectively, while Twaddle scored 23 against ATO.

Of utmost importance in the "A" League was Kappa Sig's 43-42 triple overtime upset of the Independents who had jolted SN just three nights before. John Flippin dropped in a charity toss after two scoreless extra periods to derail the GDI's drive for a playoff spot and gain KS a second place tie for the latter half of the campaign.

Kappa Sigs Top KA

KS ended their season with a 38-27 win over KA as Ronny Splann pumped eight fielders through the nets for his 16 points. Francis Davis notched 14 for KA. The loss of leading scorer Don Snow for two of the last three games weakened KA as they dropped three in a row.

John Cherry dropped in 18 against GDI and Snow hit for 16. Davis scored 12 in a 54-21 loss to Sigma Nu.

The "B" League finished its regular season in a flurry with several hotly-contested thrillers and a wild 110-26 romp by SAE over PiKA.

Conrad Scores 52

Lynn Conrad's 52 points and the SAE point total surpass any performances on current intramural records. Conrad hit for 24 field goals and four out of five free throws for the incredible tally, while Challace McMillin poured in 31. SAE's 36-point third quarter and the combined score also stand as season highs.

In the fight for the trophy, SAE beat KS, SN topped SAE, and the Kappa Sigs turned the tables on Sigma Nu.

Three-Way Tie

The Wednesday night 51-43 victory by Kappa Sig knotted the league in a three way second half tie, necessitating a series of playoff games to determine a champion. Ray Bye's 15 points led KS in crushing the Snakes' hopes for wrapping up the title.

SAE's two final "C" League victories, 44-20 over KS and 25-15 over SN, kept its record spotless and made it the only team to cop a title within the regular season's schedule. The ATO "C's" won their first and escaped the second-half cellar with a 25-15 victory over KS.

Tyree Captures Scoring Crown

David Tyree, the Independent's talented center, captured the "A" League scoring championship by netting 148 points in nine games. Roy Twaddle of SAE and Don Snow of KA tied for second with identical 14.0 averages.

Washington Picked to Win First CAC Cage Tourney

An elimination match between Southwestern and Washington and Lee opened the first College Athletic Conference basketball tournament last night at Sewanee, Tennessee.

The winner of the Lynx-Generals game advanced to tonight's semi-final game against tournament favorite Washington University of St. Louis at 7:30 p.m. The other semifinal contest pits Sewanee against Centre College at 9 p.m.

The championship is set for 9 p.m. Saturday with a consolation game preceding it at 7:30.

Four Cagers Above Ten

With four starters averaging better than ten points per game, the Lynx feature a well-balanced attack. Aubrey Smith continues to lead the team in scoring with a 16.7 average and a 49.5 field goal percentage. Carl Fisher, with a 14.3 average, has hit 86% of his free throws, and David Miles (13.7) leads Southwestern in rebounds, averaging almost eleven per game.

The hottest scorer on the Lynx squad is John Welch (10.8), who scored 46 points in the last two games, and has hit just under a 20-point average for the last three contests. Howard Edington has a 5.4 mark, but has averaged just under ten points for the last three games.

Bears Hold Top Record

Washington brings the only winning record to the five-team event. The Bears have sailed past 11 of their 17 opponents and two of their six losses have come at the hands of the number two and number four teams in the major college ranks—Loyola of Chicago and Illinois. The University of Missouri, Indiana State, Valparaiso, and William Jewell are the only other teams that have managed to collar the high-scoring Bears.

Sewanee, the host team, brings a 7-8 record to the tournament. Centre is 6-10; Southwestern is 6-13; and Washington and Lee is 4-10.

In regular season play, Centre beat Sewanee (55-52) and W & L (82-78). Sewanee owns a pair of triumphs over Southwestern.

Pomerantz Averages 20.7

Washington's Sandy Pomerantz, a 6-6, 210-pound senior from University City, Mo., could be the outstanding individual performer in the tournament. Pomerantz brings a 20.7 scoring average, a 10.9 rebounding mark, a .461 field goal percentage and a .763 free throw accuracy to Sewanee.

The Sou'wester is in dire need of sports writers for the spring athletic season. Experience is desired but not necessary. Anyone interested is asked to contact Harvey Caughey, Sou'wester editor, late this week or early next week. Students who desire to write for the paper in other capacities are also invited to notify Caughey for details.

JUNIOR SPEEDSTER BOB WEST is back for his third year with the Lynx thinclads. A letterman last year, West is a veteran performer in the 220, 440, mile relay and broad jump, and is being counted on to produce a goodly number of points this year. West, a native of Memphis, came to Southwestern from White Station High School.

Athletic Meet Set for Tonite

The Indoor Intramural Athletic Meet, originally scheduled for last night, has been postponed until tonight at 8:15.

The competition is divided into three groups, with each contestant being allowed to participate in one event from each group. Scoring will be on a 10-7-5-3-2-1 basis for the first six places.

Standing broad jump, chinning, and push-ups are included in the first group. The second group consists of a basketball dribbling and shooting relay, a basketball free-throw contest, and a ten-man physical training relay, in which each contestant will run four laps using the straight sprint on one lap, the one leg run on the second, and the backward crab and the backward run on the subsequent laps.

The third group consists solely of one team event: a battle ball game in which the fifteen men on either team attempt to eliminate those on the other team by hitting them with a thrown volleyball.

Comeback Try Stifled As Lynx Lose at Line

The Southwestern Lynxcats lost 80-76 to the Belhaven Clansmen last Friday night in Jackson, Mississippi, in a game that was decided at the foul line.

Both teams scored the same number of points from the field and SW had a better free throw percentage, but Belhaven had more chances at the charity stripe and made them count for four more points than did the Lynx.

Lead Shaved

The Clansmen, leading by one point at half time, built up a comfortable 12-point lead only to see it whittled down to three with six minutes remaining in the game. This was the closest the Lynx came and the game ended with Belhaven ahead by four.

Terry Mood of Belhaven led the scoring in the game with 37 points. Top scorers for Southwestern were Aubrey Smith with 21, David Miles with 13, John Welch with 13, Howard Edington with 12, and Carl Fisher with 11. Fisher and Miles led the team in rebounds with 13 apiece.

Statesmen Defeat Cagers by Fifteen

Southwestern lost a heart breaker Monday night in Mallory gymnasium 83-68.

The Lynx gave their best performance of the year, according to Coach Winfred May, only to lose to the Delta State Statesmen.

The first half was dominated by Delta State who held a 12 to 19 point lead throughout with the half time score 39-20. But the Lynx returned in the second half to battle the Statesmen on even terms and led second half scoring, 48-44.

The top scorer of the game was John Welch with 26. Also in double figures for Southwestern were David Miles with 14 and Carl Fisher with 11.

Council—

NSA Activities

Reporting on the activities of the NSA committee, Wayne Webb stated that plans are being made for a Memphis International Student Seminar to be held in the middle of April. Further plans are being formulated to arrange for a debate between the Young Democrats and Young Republicans on the pending medicare legislation, the debate to be accompanied by a panel discussion among professors. The committee report was closed with the suggestion that a detailed study of Southwestern's admissions policy be undertaken by the student council. The suggestion was accepted by the council, and information will be gathered on the policy both here and at other schools of comparable size.

It was decided that a study, under the direction of Stan McNeese, would be made to determine the possibility of providing student identification cards at Southwestern.

FIRST MEET NEXT WEEK

1963 Lynx Track Hopes Will Depend On Top-Notch Veterans, Freshmen

Southwestern's cinder team will meet their first test of the season in just one week from tonight at the Memphis Jaycees Indoor Track and Field Carnival to be held next Friday and Saturday at the Fairgrounds Auditorium.

Southwestern will be competing in the College Division along with ten other smaller universities. Ten larger universities, thirty high schools and five college freshman teams will also be entered in other divisions in the meet. The preliminaries will be held Friday evening with the finals scheduled for Saturday.

Depends on Vets, Frosh

Although the Southwestern team has been hard hit by graduation and injuries, top veterans plus outstanding freshmen could provide the needed impetus for another successful year under Coach Freeman Marr, who has established a winning tradition in track at Southwestern. Marr is assisted by Glenn Hays, a recent graduate and track man from SW.

Last season Southwestern had a 5-2 record in dual meets, losing only to powerful Union University, and SEC member, University of Tennessee.

Serious Losses

From this strong team, the Lynx suffered several bad losses especially in the distances and weight events. Last year's captain Keith Arman, and mile and 880 record holder Mallory Chamberlin were lost by graduation, which leaves only Dossett Foster and Howard Romaine on the returning distance corps.

Hugh Harwood, best in the shot put and discus last year, has left Southwestern.

Taylor Returns

However, many standouts from the 1962 team will return. Captain Bill Taylor, who holds the SW 440 record and is present TIAC champion at that distance, will also participate in the 220, mile relay, high-jump, and broad jump. Bill Harwood, the other captain, may be out most of the season because of a football injury and operation. If he recovers fast enough he will be counted on to score points in the weights, dashes, and the broad jump.

Also running the 440 and mile relay will be Harry Burke, a junior transfer from Auburn, who holds a 51.3 to his credit.

In the weight events, freshmen will bear the brunt of the load. Tod Eustes will heave the discus, and plans also to throw the shot and javelin. Jim Ball and Russ Didelot, from Memphis Tech and Whitehaven respectively, specialize in the shot put, but may throw the discus.

Randy Kyle, the best javelin thrower last year is back and improving over last year, according to reports. In the middle distances besides Taylor, veterans Jim Couch, Henry Pope, and newcomers Tim Greaves, John Treace, and Bill Weber will give support to the Lynx cause.

In the sprints, led by Bob West and Harwood, the Lynx also have some top-notch newcomers in Buddy Ratcliff and Stan McNeese.

Strong in the Pole Vault

Ratcliff should also prove helpful in what is considered his best event, the pole vault, along with Roy Twaddle and John Welch. Welch, a prep-star at East High School, will also be in the high jump, and broad jump. Other broad jumpers are West, Taylor and Harwood. Ed Hankins 6'2" high jumper will join Treace, Ratcliff, and Welch in the hurdles.

Pikes, KA's Ahead In Handball Tourney

Kappa Alpha and Pi Kappa Alpha, with 40 points apiece, lead all other fraternities as intramural handball moves into the third round.

ATO and SAE have 30 points, and Kappa Sigma and Sigma Nu have scored twenty points each. Lee Forbes of PiKA, John Davis of SAE, and Jim McCain of ATO have won second round victories, and five second-round matches are left to go. McCain and Tom Lowry of KA are generally conceded to be the most likely to meet in the finals, while Kappa Alpha is favored for the team trophy.

Fouls Costly to Lynx In Millsaps Contest

Southwestern dropped its twelfth game last Saturday night in Laurel, Mississippi, to the Millsaps Majors 99-75.

The Lynx Cats were weakened greatly by the loss of Aubrey Smith on fouls early in the second half. During the first half the game was a toss-up. Southwestern led much of the period and trailed by only three points at half-time, 47-44.

Second Half Decisive

But the second half was decidedly Millsaps and the Majors won the game by a 24 point margin.

The top scorer of the game was Charles Smith of Millsaps with 23. Lynx cagers in double figures were John Welch with 20, David Miles with 17, and Howard Edington and Smith with 12 each. Miles was the game's leading rebounder with 15 to his credit.
