Council Party To Be May 20 At Maywood

Date and place for the student body's swim-dance-picnic party, sponsored by the Student Council in cooperation with Charles Pack, dining hall manager, have been set definitely for May 20 at Maywood.

Maywood, just over the Mississippi State Line, has been chartered for that day for Southwestern students only, and no one but students of the college will be permitted to attend. Bob Crumby, retiring student council president, said that all Southwesterners—including students and faculty members—will be given tickets for the party.

He added that the council will try to provide cars to take everyone to the party and asks that any student who has a car available for Maywood transportation see him.

Students will leave in two groups May 20. Those who have no afternoon classes will leave the college at 2:30 and those with labs will leave at 4:30. There will be swimming and other forms of recreation until dinner time and after the picnic dinner, there will be a dance until 8 that night.

The picnic supper will include barbeque, slaw, potato chips, cokes and ice cream. Dorm students will pay nothing for the entire day, while the only charge for town students will be a .50 dinner fee.

Bob has urged that all students and faculty members make definite plans to attend the all-Southwestern party.

Council To Be Installed

Southwestern's new student council will be installed in ceremonies during student assembly Wednesday. Bob Crumby, retiring president, will swear in Bill Hughes, new president, who will in turn install Tommy Crais, Jean Enochs, Pat Riegler, Esther Jane Swartzfager, Reg Germany, Tom Cunningham, Albert Evans, Chandler Warren, Truman Nabors and Joe Eades.

Bettie Worthington Is YWCA Leader

Bettie Worthington, Southwestern junior from Shreveport, has been elected president of the college's YWCA. Other officers for next year serving with her will be Peggy Fitch, vice president; Jean Enochs, secretary; and Mary Helen McLeod, treasurer.

Additional YWCA cabinet members who have just been elected are Joan Momack, Louise Aiken, Margaret Jones, Margaret McKee, Mary McDonald, Emily McKay, Mary Williams, Anne Hebert, Wade McHenry and Carolyn Williamson.

Dorm Heads Chosen

The three men's dormitory heads for next year have recently been elected. In Robb Hall, the new leaders are Sidney Vise, president, and Bill Stricklin, vice president. White Hall has selected John Mays as president and John Howie as vice president while Lane Erwin and Chandler Warren are the president and vice president of New Dorm.

A Penny a Vote for Your Favorite Prof

If you could choose your favorite professor, who would it be?

Well, here's your chance. The YWCA is sponsoring a "Favorite Professor" contest beginning Monday and ending Thursday. Purpose of the contest is to raise money to support the YWCA war orphan.

Here's the contest procedure. Monday through Thursday, jars will be lined in the cloister, each with a professor's name on it. One vote will cost only a penny, and you can vote as many times as you like—depending on how much you appreciate your candidate.

When the campaign is over and the favorite is chosen, he or she will be presented in chapel with a reward for popularity.

Pat Riegler Named Counsellor Prexy

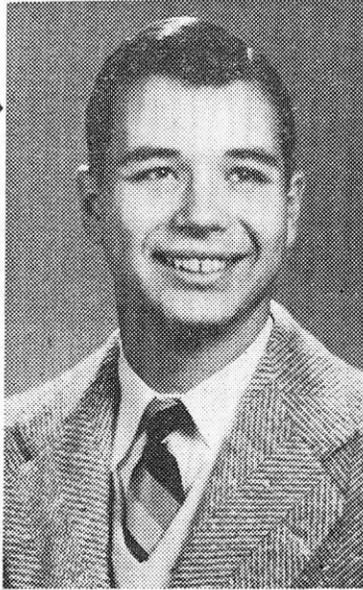

Patricia Riegler has been elected president of the 50 student counsellors — upperclasswomen whose job is to orient new freshman girls.

These counsellors, working through the Dean of Women's office, assist new women students in acquainting themselves with the Honor System, Southwestern traditions and campus life. Pat's job will be to assign new girls impartially to the counsellors. A student counsellor for three years, Pat succeeds Mary Nell Wendt as president.

"Register Early" Advises Evans

Pre-registration for next fall will be held Monday through Wednesday, Malcolm Evans, Southwestern registrar, announced. Schedules of classes for the first semester will be available in the registrar's office. Juniors and seniors will work up their fall programs with the chairman of their major department and sophomores and irregular freshman will go to their present faculty advisors.

"The faculty will keep office hours both morning and afternoon on those three days, so that students can get in touch with them easily, and we hope that everyone will pick up a schedule and registration card in the office Monday. Classification during these three days will be easier and quicker than at any later time before fall," Mr. Evans added.

Charles Andrews

TOP STAFFERS—These three will be among those guiding Southwestern's annual and newspaper, The Lynx and The Sou'wester for next year. They were chosen Wednesday by the Publications Board, headed by Pat Riegler, Commissioner of Publications.

Alpha Psi Initiates In Balcony Scene

Six new members were tapped into Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatics fraternity, in assembly Wednesday. They are Anne Thomas, Andy Orr, Charles Andrews, Malcolm Whatley, Jim Bernard and Bob Pate.

Today during chapel time, these six will as part of their initiation present the balcony scene from "Romeo and Juliet" in front of Palmer Hall.

Goucher Offers Teaching Awards

Goucher College in Baltimore is offering 20 fellowships for graduate study in elementary teaching training for next year. The fellowships, in varying amounts up to $1725, are open to women graduates of liberal arts colleges who have no prior training or experience as teachers.

Deadline for applications is June 15 and the applications should be addressed to Director of Admissions, Towson, Baltimore, 4, Md. The new program of fellowships has been made possible by a grant from the Ford Fund for the Advancement of Education and leads to a degree of Master of Education in one year.

Publications Board Selects Editors, Business Manager

EMILY McKay of Lewisburg, Tenn., has been named editor of the 1954 Lynx, Southwestern annual, and Mary Rodriguez of Monroe, La., has been chosen Lynx assistant editor. Charles Andrews of Memphis will serve as next year's business manager for The Sou'wester.

These three selections were made by the college Publications Board at a meeting Wednesday. Still to be named are a business manager for The Lynx and an editor for The Sou'wester.

Names Qualifications

In submitting her application for the editorship of The Lynx, Emily offered these qualifications:

"... I was business manager, treasurer, literary editor, make-up editor and assistant editor of my high school annual. The year I served as assistant editor of the annual, the editor-in-chief was forced to resign before work on the publication was completed, so I actually edited the annual my senior year... Since I have been at Southwestern, I have served on the business staff of The Sou'wester, and for a semester this year held the position of managing editor of The Sou'wester. In my freshman year, I worked on the business staff of The Lynx and have this year been a member of The Lynx staff.

"Even though I will be a senior and preparing for comprehensives next year, I have attended summer school for two summers and will consequently be taking only the minimum number of hours both semesters and thus do not feel that the editorship of The Lynx will require more time than I am able to devote to it."

Edited Faculty Section

Mary Rodriguez, a sophomore, was editor-in-chief of her high school annual her senior year and has this year served as editor of the faculty section for The Lynx. She and Emily are both members of Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority.

The new editor of The Lynx commented, "With the assurance that Mary will be working with me, I do not hesitate to say that the two of us will attempt to the best of our abilities to present for the students and faculty a colorful and interesting picture of the life and activities of Southwestern."

Memphis Student

Charles Andrews, a sophomore and a member of Kappa Alpha Fraternity, said in his application for business manager, "I was on the business staff of my prep school paper and was also on the staff of the Vanderbilt paper. I am a Memphis student and have a car at my disposal. I also know many of the more influential business men in town and feel that through these contacts in the business world of the city I can get enough ads to more than pay for the paper... I would work very conscientiously next year and I realize the great responsibility of the job and would do my best to live up to it."

Tri-Delts To Award Trophy To "Ideal"

Southwestern's Delta Psi Chapter of Delta Delta Delta will initiate a new tradition this year—awarding an engraved trophy to the "Ideal Tri-Delta" at the group's annual Pansy Dessert, May 9.

A committee of one representative from each class will meet to determine qualifications for the award. To be eligible, a girl must have been a member or an affiliate of Delta Psi Chapter for two years, putting her time, energies, and abilities into chapter work, either as a pledge or an active. The winner will be chosen by the vote of all members.

The trophy will remain in the sorority lodge and will be inscribed with the name of each year's "Ideal Tri-Delta." According to Patsy Braswell, Delta Psi president, purpose of the trophy is to recognize service to the chapter and to inspire all chapter members to live up to the traditions and ideals of the sorority.

Chi Beta Phi Taps Six On Wednesday

Southwestern's Tau chapter of Chi Beta Phi, national honorary scientific fraternity, tapped six new members in assembly Wednesday.

They were Dr. David Matthews, physics professor; Luther Adams, chemistry major; Jeff Justis, biology major; Bernie Larr, physics major; Mary Rodriguez, math major; Johnnie Sudduth, math major. In order to be tapped, a student must be a science major or a pre-med student and have completed at least 20 hours in his major and a total of 60 academic hours with at least a 3.0 average.

New officers of Chi Beta Phi at Southwestern are Henry Mosley, president; Roy Coats, vice president; Shirley Melton, secretary; and Martha Holcomb, treasurer. Dr. Matthews is the chapter's new faculty advisor.

Selective Service Names Deadline

The last Selective Service College Qualification Test to be given this school year will be on May 21, according to Col. John B. Elliott, State Director of Selective Service.

Applications for the May 21 test must be postmarked no later than midnight May 11 and may be obtained from any local Selective Service Board. Applications must be sent to the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey, and the admission certificates will be mailed directly to the students.

Col. Elliott stressed that students who have a certificate of admission for the April 23 test which they failed to use must submit new applications to take the May 21 test, which is being given for students prevented by illness or other emergencies from taking it on April 23.

Danger, Little Boys At Play

Last week, a gang of fine, wholesome Southwestern boys, having some spare time on their hands, searched about for ways to divert themselves. Tired of "Ring Around The Rosy," "London Bridge," and "Skip The Rope," our heroes invented a game called "Move It Or Wreck It."

They wrecked everything in sight.

They wedged a wheel barrow in the door of Voorhies and backed it up with a roller from the tennis courts.

They barricaded the stairs in Palmer Hall with benches brought in from outside.

They tore loose and broke part of the fence around the dry fishpond outside Palmer Hall.

They broke off at the base the bird bath outside Neely Hall and broke some of the stone benches on the campus.

Then they ended the game by turning over trash cans and scattering trash and refuse around in front of the dining hall.

After parading around, telling everyone who would listen how proud they were of their ingenuity (after all, they were big men on campus,) they went off to the sleep of untroubled consciences.

In spite of the trends taken by modern child psychologists, it would seem that a good spanking is in order.

Installation Set For MSM Officers

Mary Ann Hackleman is the new president of the Methodist Student Movement, and she and other new officers will be installed in the group's last meeting this year, Wednesday, at the home of Mrs. Edwin Diggs, the adult counselor.

To be installed in ceremonies then will be Mary Ann Wachal, vice president; Sandra Ellis, secretary-treasurer; Annelle Albritton, worship chairman; Carolyn Milton, recreation chairman; Roy Coats, publicity and membership chairman.

Fellowship Elects Nine New Officers

Peggy Fitch of Shreveport has been named president of Southwestern's Westminster Fellowship, which meets at Evergreen Presbyterian Church.

Other Fellowship officers are Mary Williams, vice president; Mary George Beggs, secretary; Ray Tanner, treasurer; Carl 'Jip' Walters, worship chairman; Holly Mitchell, outreach chairman; Esther Jane Swartzfager and Henry Mosley, citizenship chairman; and Dot Henning, fellowship chairman.

Letter To The Editor

To the Sou'wester:

Regardless of the fact that I am undoubtedly laying myself open to the charge of making a mountain out of a molehill or committing some such fallacy of behavior, I wish to make a few comments upon the apparent moral level and status of the Honor System now prevailing at Southwestern. Admittedly, this has been brought home to me as a result of the fact that I have been personally subjected to the deprivations of a violator of that system. But, nevertheless, I wish to point out that, regardless of the personal over-tones, my comments may have some significance for the student body as a whole because the situation itself, divested of those over-tones, would be of school-wide import.

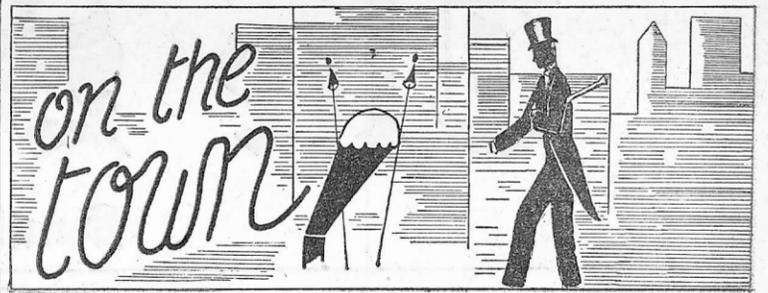

The first charge that I wish to levy is that there is a growing tendency toward petty thievery and disregard of property rights on this campus. There have been any number of small thefts, if my information is correct—thefts of money, clothes, and the like, occurring in the gym, the dormitories, etc. The particular form of theft that has been brought so forcibly to my attention, and which I would guess to be the most widespread, is the theft of books. It is my strong suspicion that not all of the books that 'disappear' at Southwestern are 'lost,' 'misplaced,' or 'taken by mistake.' I am fairly sure that there is a lot of irresponsible and thoughtless 'borrowing' (what a euphemism!)—that is, picking up a book which one knows not to be his own and keeping it until one is damned well through with it—with not a hoot in hell cared as to whether the book's legitimate owner suffers in the interim from the fact that he does not have the book.

Moreover, when a book is 'borrowed' in this manner, it is impossible to tell when, where, how, or in what condition it will be returned. Indeed, it is impossible to tell if it will be returned at all! Some books are actually taken without any intention, apparently, of even eventual return ('eventual return' usually means return after the owner himself has no longer any pressing need for the book, and, indeed, may have been reduced to the expedient of buying another—but let us be thankful for even small blessings). In other words, there is in existence at Southwestern a state of conditions in which there are several ways to say it, but they all denote taking that which does not belong to one's self and connote a disregard of the prevailing legal and moral standards. In short, if this were universal among the student body, the Honor System would be an even more ludicrous parody of an ethical and legal code than it apparently already is.

These individual acts in violation of the Honor System would not in themselves be a condemnation of the general moral level of the student body, but the fact that the student body as a whole seems ready to disregard the whole affair or (worse!) exhibit animosity toward the victim for protesting—instead of toward the culprit, whom they should assist in apprehending—is such a condemnation. Petty thievery can be undertaken by a very small number of individuals, but it cannot long endure without either the active aiding and abetting or, as is more likely, the passive sufferance and indifference of the group as a whole, or of large segments of that group.

This is the more serious change that I levy—that in these matters there is a tendency for the student body, or groups within it, to place a kind of schoolboy's 'gang' ethics

You'd better hurry!

Do you all realize that we've got only a matter of three weeks or so before exams and the end of school? The time is drawing nigh when it would be advisable to refrain from going "On The Town" and sit back with the books. I still don't know if this column will continue during exam week—probably the editor will cut it in favor of a piece called "How to Study" or something; but if you don't know by then, brother, you've had it—anyway we'll sit back and await further developments...

The Ballet Society of Memphis, headed by our own Prof. Ray Hill, will give its second concert in the Bellevue Junior High auditorium tonight beginning at 8:30. As I have mentioned before in the column, the Society is an organization founded to stimulate the interest of ballet in the Mid-South, and through its concerts it raises sufficient funds to help some talented Mid-South dancers continue their studies under some of the famous teachers in the large Eastern cities. And it has done a good job. The talent in Memphis is far better than I ever imagined, and the performance last fall was quite professional.

Joy Shoemaker As Guest Dancer

We are lucky this time to have as guest dancer Miss Joy Shoemaker, who has just recently returned from touring Europe in "Brigadoon." She will dance in Memphis in "A Scottish Fantasy," inspired from "Brigadoon," together with a Southwestern alumna, Dorothea Britt, and a current Southwesterner, Lou Wener. Joan Armbrust, who starred in the ballet in "The Cabalist of Dorrance," put on in Hardie last month, will dance in a "Pas de Trois" with Charles Kirby, and Joanne Dixon, for the second presentation. The best news of all comes when it was learned that the terrifically popular ballet from the December concert, "La Repetition," will be danced again by the previous participants; Miss Britt, Miss Armbrust, and Manolo Agullo, Memphis' best and most well-known male dancer. The Society is still offering a special inducement to prospective new members: free admission to this concert as well as full membership for the coming 1953-54 season for the price of a single year's membership. Student memberships, especially attractive to Southwestern students, are priced at only $3. Membership in the Society entitles one to admission to all Ballet Society-sponsored events such as the two annual concerts, the party for the Ballet Theater Company, and the various dance film programs. Anyone wishing to join may contact Prof. Hill or sign up at the box office the night of the concert. Single tickets are $1.20.

Southwestern Singers in Concert

Tuesday evening at 8:15, our own Southwestern Singers, admittedly the best choral music group in the South, will give its annual Spring Concert at Evergreen Church. The Singers have been working long and hard on J. S. Bach's "The Magnificat," a truly magnificent piece of music. This concert certainly should not be missed. It is free.

And Wednesday and Thursday evenings the Metropolitan Opera Company will hold forth at Ellis Auditorium. Memphis' music enthusiasts have been eagerly awaiting their arrival for some months now, for this is always the height of any musical season. All the great voices of the world will be here, and the Met has never failed to give a fine performance. As you probably know, they will do "Samson et Delilia" by Emile Saint-Saens, Wednesday, and Verdi's great opera "Aida" will be given Thursday. If you can possibly spare the price of admission I urge you to drop everything and attend one, if not both, of these masterpieces of music. It will probably be a sell-out, so I suggest you hurry and get your tickets.

"Moulin Rouge" At Loew's Palace

With the movies—The long awaited "Moulin Rouge" with Jose Ferrer and Colette Marchand begins today at the Palace. Winner of several academy awards, this picture has broken many attendance records in New York, Chicago, and other large cities. It is every bit as good as the reviews say—I hope you see it.

See you—On The Town!

CHOPSTICK CHORES—Mary Devlin (1), Southwestern sophomore, decided it would be fun to have the college's five Chinese exchange students over to her house at 5374 Park for an authentic Oriental feast. Last Saturday at the party, David Chang (2) of near Shanghai, showed his hostess how to manipulate the chopsticks while watching the instruction were Frederick Wang (3) of Formosa; Don Morgan (4) of Jersey City, another Southwestern student; Timothy Liu (5) and Andrew Lin (6) of Formosa; and Ling-Hong Lee (4) of Canton. Chopsticks and Chinese finger bowls for the international good will party were furnished by Dr. and Mrs. R. P. Richardson.

KNIGHT AND HIS LADY—Bill Hamer of Dyersburg, new president of Southwestern's chapter of Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity, and his guest, Sue Carter of Laurel, Miss., were presented during the lead-out of the fraternity's "Knights of Malta" Ball last Saturday at the Gayoso Hotel. The ATO dance decorations featured a medieval theme centering around the Crusades.

BEST BOWLER—John Kurts, Jr., of 1517 Jackson, Southwestern senior, won the Memphis bowling championship Monday night at Southern Lanes and copped that huge trophy with a 1,793 actual pin count. He went into the final day of play in the Memphis Bowling Association tournament with a team mark of 637. He threw a 586 in doubles and followed with a 570 in singles. His 1,793 total is a little better than a 198 per game average.

New officers were announced by ATO fraternity at their Knights of Malta Ball held in the Forrest Room of Hotel Gayoso last Saturday. Worthy master is Bill Hamer, a junior from Dyersburg, Tennessee. Other officers are: Henry Mosley, Worthy Chaplain; Worthy Keeper of Exchequer, Sidney Vise; Worthy Scribe, Lawrence Cater; Worthy Sentinel, Newton Todd; Worthy Usher, George Hearn; and Worthy Keeper of the Annals, John Mays. Congratulations, boys!

Tri-Delt Sock Hop

The girls had their chance again last Thursday night with the boys at their mercy at the Tri-Delt Sock Hop in Voorhies basement. The dance was given to raise the sum needed to complete their scholarship fund. The evening started off at 6 with everyone in most informal attire dancing to favorite records. The feminine stags caught right on the the tricks that the boys have been using for years. Seemed that all had a great time. Economical, wouldn't you say, boys?

KD entertained Monday with a dessert party for Sigma Nu. Carmel cake and hot chocolate were served. Dancing and group singing were on the agenda for an enjoyable time. Next door, the SAE's were guests of the AOPi girls. The two parties were joined when the AOPi's and SAE's sang "You Are My Sunshine" in response to the singing in the KD house.

The annual May Festival for the very young sub-debs of Memphis was held in Fisher Memorial Garden Thursday. The festival is sponsored by Chi Omega and alumni. . . .

Chi O Pirate Party

Yesterday, Southwestern was invaded by pirates—as the Chi O's held a costume party on the pirate theme. The fun began with a scavenger hunt at 4:30 p.m.—with a prize given to the winning couple. This followed by food and dancing made an interesting time. Chaperons were Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Hon, Dr. and Mrs. Arlo I. Smith, and Dr. and Mrs. Burnet C. Tuthill.

above the Honor System, to which it gives lip-service. Levying such a charge is not a particularly popular sort of thing to do, but popularity be hanged! If we're going to have an honor system, let's abide by it! If not, let's do away with it, so that poor suckers like myself won't be prompted to credence in its efficacy.

Roundup For Spring Sports During Week

Here's a roundup of spring athletic activities at Southwestern during the week.

The week ends with the baseball team holding down a 5-7 record and the tennis team proudly posing a 5-6 record.

On the diamond recently, Southwestern has dropped two games—one to Union, which was really a heartbreaker. Bill Williams pitched a one hitter and was beaten 4-2. The only thing that kept him from a complete shutout was a fluke hit by the pitcher. Monday, the team traveled across town to Memphis State and was defeated 11-6.

The tennis team has been doing very well for itself lately. They beat Memphis Navy 5-4 and now are within one match of having a 500 average.

The golf team left Tuesday to go to Athens, Ga., for the Southern Intercollegiate Tournament. Making the trip were Omar Smith, David Smith, Reg Germany and Jim Napier.

The track team has been forced to disband for the season because there don't seem to be enough men interested. However, a few will attend the Tennessee Intercollegiate Athletic Conference which is being held soon at Sewanee.

YEARS AHEAD OF THEM ALL!

Don't you want to try a cigarette with a record like this?

1. THE QUALITY CONTRAST between Chesterfield and other leading cigarettes is a revealing story. Recent chemical analyses give an index of good quality for the country's six leading cigarette brands.

The index of good quality table—a ratio of high sugar to low nicotine—shows Chesterfield quality highest

. . . 15% higher than its nearest competitor and Chesterfield quality 31% higher than the average of the five other leading brands.

2. First to Give You Premium Quality in Regular and King-size . . . much milder with an extraordinarily good taste—and for your pocketbook, Chesterfield is today's best cigarette buy.

3. A Report Never Before Made About a Cigarette.

For a full year a medical specialist has been giving a group of Chesterfield smokers regular examinations every two months. He reports . . . no adverse effects to nose, throat and sinuses from smoking Chesterfield.
