Four Talk to Seniors

Tommy Crais, Ann Barr, Esther Jane Swartzfager and Kenneth Silvey, accompanied by Julian Nall, Southwestern's Director of Admissions, last weekend motored to Selma, Ala., and Nashville to publicize Southwestern and to talk to high school seniors about attending the college.

Stylus Taps 6

Six new members were tapped into Stylus, campus literary organization, in student assembly Wednesday. They were Esther Jane Swartzfager of Laurel, Miss., for a short story; Jerry Bennett of Mayfield, Ky., for poetry; John Turpin of Memphis, for a short story; and Memphians Larry Bone, Sheryl Eardley and Anne Thomas, all for poetry. John Richards, Stylus president, conducted the ceremony.

Students Select Their Favorites For Lynx; Pictures Of Six To Appear In Annual

THREE SENIORS, and a junior, sophomore and freshman took the top titles in Southwestern's popularity contest run-off election Wednesday, announced the Elections Commission this morning.

Helen Swartzfager, senior, of Laurel, Miss., was elected "Miss Southwestern" and Allen Cooke, senior, of Memphis, was named "Mr. Southwestern."

Others Listed

Joan Stewart, senior, of Lexington, Tenn., was chosen "Most Stylish Co-Ed"; Bill Hughes, junior, of Memphis, "Best All-Round"; Claudia Owen, sophomore, of Covington, Tenn., "Most Attractive"; and John Lawhorn, freshman, of Lebanon, Ky., "Most Handsome."

Helen Swartzfager "Miss Southwestern," is president of Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority and last week was elected to the Hall of Fame. She is president of the Pan-Hellenic Council, High Pi of Pi Intersorority, member of the Honor Council, the YWCA, and Torch.

Hall of Famer

Allen Cooke, "Mr. Southwestern," was also elected to the Hall of Fame last week, and will reign as King of the '53 April Fool Court. He has served as president of Sigma Nu, and is now vice-president of the Student Body and a member of Omicron Delta Kappa.

Joan Stewart, "Most Stylish Co-Ed," is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi, retiring president of S. T. A. B. Intersorority, and will be one of the Princesses in this year's April Fool Court.

Two-Year Letterman

Bill Hughes, "Best All Round," is president of the Honor Council, treasurer of Kappa Sigma Fraternity, a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, and a two year letterman in football and track.

Claudia Owen, "Most Attractive," is a member of Kappa Delta Sorority, S. T. A. B. Intersorority, reigned as this year's Homecoming Queen and was a member of last year's April Fool Court.

John Lawhorn, "Most Handsome," is an Independent, and won his letters in basketball and football.

These six popularity winners were elected in two runoffs by the entire student body and will be featured prominently in the 1953 Lynx, college annual.

Rhodes To Receive Honorary Degree

Dr. Peyton N. Rhodes, Southwestern's president, will deliver the commencement address at Sewanee's University of the South, June 8, and will also be awarded an honorary doctor of civil law degree.

This was announced by Sewanee's Vice-Chancellor Edward McCrady. Dr. Rhodes, who has been president of Southwestern since 1949, has taught at the University of Virginia, his alma mater, for his A.B., A.M., and Ph.D. degrees. He holds membership in Phi Beta Kappa, the American Association for the Advance of Science, the American Physical Society, the American Association of Physics Teachers and the American Meteorological Society.

Willie Bow, Wheatley Beard Chosen April Fool Authors

Willie Bow and Wheatley Beard are the co-authors of Southwestern's April Fool Play, "The Snowbird," which will be staged at 7:30 April 10, in Hardie Auditorium, before the gala April Fool carnival dance in Fargason Field House.

Pat Riegle is directing the production and has been holding reading for the parts this week. The play, in two acts, with two scenes in each act, is a farce on college life, satirizing certain well-known campus characters.

Chosen From Four

The thread-thin plot concerns two frustrated professors and four students—plus the eternal triangle situation. The play was chosen from four others submitted to a Student Council committee headed by Chandler Warren, Commissioner of Social Activities.

The two authors will split the $25 awarded by the Student Council to the playwright of each year's comedy. This is the first attempt at playwrighting for both authors, who decided to collaborate only a week before deadline for entering play manuscripts.

Stylus Member

Willie Bow, senior, from Cotton Plant, Ark., is a member of Stylus, campus literary organization, and for four years has written humorous features for The Sou'wester.

Wheatley Beard, of Memphis, is junior class president, a letterman in football and track, and had a leading role in last year's April Fool Play by Bob Starr. Both Wheatley and Willie are Independents.

Germany, Horton Named Captains

Captains for the Southwestern football and basketball teams were named last Thursday night by Coach Glenn Johnson at the athletic banquet in Neely Hall, sponsored by the Southwestern Men of Memphis.

Reg Germany, junior, of Memphis, was elected captain of the football team, and Frank Horton was chosen basketball captain.

Highlight of the evening was a talk by T. Walker Lewis, Memphis businessman, who described his past football experiences at Virginia Polytechnic Institute in Blacksburg, Va., and climaxed his talk by urging Southwestern athletes to stay in training and obey their coaches.

Rick Mays, president of the Southwestern Men, presided over the banquet and told stories of past Southwestern athletic heroes.

APRIL FOOL AUTHORS—Their satirical comedy, "The Snowbird," will be seen at Hardie before the April Fool dance April 10.

Speaker Was Missionary 30 Years

Dr. Frank W. Price, Southwestern's Spring Religious Emphasis speaker Monday through Wednesday, has survived three revolutions in China—those of Sun Yat-sen, Chiang Kai-shek and Tze-tung.

Missionary Parents

Born in China of missionary parents, he served 30 years as a missionary of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., and was the last of 80 Presbyterian missionaries to leave China October, 1951. In fact, he had to wait 22 months in Shanghai for an exit permit from Communist China.

Dr. Price's prominence in the Christian missionary movement made him a shining target for the Communists when their anti-church campaign began in April, 1951. He was accused of heading a secret spy ring and using missionary work as a cover for subversive cultural aggression by the American government.

Loyal to Faiths

In spite of Communist threats, Dr. Price believes that most Chinese Protestants and Roman Catholics are still loyal to their faiths, and many young Chinese are tired of propaganda.

His first address here will be at the 5 p.m. service tomorrow afternoon in Hardie, when he will talk on "Christians at the Crossroads." He will be available for individual conferences during the Religious Emphasis Period and will speak in chapel and at afternoon group discussions.

Follow Their Lead

Last week's athletic banquet, sponsored by the Southwestern Men of Memphis, did more to advance the cause of athletics on this campus than anything that has happened in a long time.

The program was excellently planned, and the presence of outstanding Memphis business leaders added to the importance of the occasion. The whole affair was a tremendous success—and we urge that it become an annual, or even a semi-annual event.

In sad contrast was the recent "S" Club initiation. Only about half the boys who earned their letters expressed any desire to join the student athletic letter club. Why? The initiation isn't rough enough to warrant staying out and the dues certainly aren't too high.

Why? Maybe it's because the "S" Club in the past hasn't been doing too much on the campus. Now that its membership has increased, however, and now that definite plans have been made for it to function as an active campus organization, attitudes toward it should change.

We urge new "S" Club members to support their club vigorously and to follow the lead of the Southwestern Men of Memphis in fostering the cause of athletics on this campus.

Drop That Halo!

Are you one of the chosen few who seem to think you're chosen to wear a halo? Think it over—then, if the halo fits, wear it; if it doesn't, take it off.

This Spring Religious Emphasis period is an excellent time to get campus religious affairs out of the hands of a few groups who predominate in all religious organizations. It's a good opportunity for everybody to take part in intelligent, interesting discussions—and it's also a good opportunity to develop new campus religious leadership.

Any student who really wants to should be invited, even urged, into active participation and leadership in campus religious life. It shouldn't be just the pre-ministerial students who volunteer for the jobs of president and program leaders, and take the initiative in Religious Emphasis discussions—it should be any student, man or woman, who proves a sincere and capable interest.

Let's emphasize religion by all means—and allow all Southwesterners to emphasize it too.

What's Your Answer?

The Question: What do you like least and best about Southwestern?

The Answers:

"Most: Everybody you meet talks to you whether they know you or not. Food is good and music department is excellent. Least: Nothing except homework but they have that everywhere."—Tommy Clayton.

"Most: Sincere friendliness of everyone. Least: So many activities of the same kind go on at once."—Mary Mainord.

"Most: I like the professors best. Least: Hazing!"—Gwen Warren.

"Most: Campus life. Least: too hard for me."—Vernon Ware.

"Most: People. Least: Requirements for graduation. They are a little bit too stiff."—Jerry Bennett.

"Most: Time I am out of class, particularly nights. Least: Time in class."—Jack Poss.

"Most: Its friendliness and Christian atmosphere. Least: I'm perfectly satisfied."—Holly Mitchell.

Did You Know This About Students?

By PATSY BRASWELL

Intensive research has provided your reporter with more hitherto unknown facts about these creatures—our Southwestern Colleagues. For instance, did you know that...

Kite Champs

Ann Barr's mother (author of "Monk in Armor" and others) is also a lawyer... Speaking of authors, Mrs. Finley's latest book is dedicated to Mary Pelham... Elizabeth Price sat on the lap of a Japanese general when she was 8 years old... Jip Walters and Don Ramier are fighting it out for "kite flying" champ...

Jean Enoch was Mississippi State tennis champ... Don Morgan can read palms... Professors Gordon Southard, E. Llewellyn Queener and James Webb have joined the ranks of "proud fathers" this year. All three have sons.

25th Anniversary

Prof. and Mrs. C. L. Baker recently celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary... Tommy Strong is building his own sailboat... Ethel Harrell plans to be a doctor... Buck Looney is ambidextrous... James Crow takes singing lessons... Tommy Cunningham has perfect pitch... Catharine Coleman has in a ring the stones which belonged to Queen Wilhemena's Lady-in-waiting...

Mary Frances Steen lived and worked in a Quaker project this past summer... The Pi Kappa Alpha national office is here in Memphis...

Alpha Psi Omega Pledges 11 Here

Eleven Southwestern students were pledged to Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatics fraternity, in ceremonies at the Delta Delta Delta lodge last week. President Mary Ellen Chambliss, assisted by Anne McGehee, read the service.

Pledges of the group are Yvonne Burns, Anne Thomas, John McKinney, Charles Andrews, Jim Bernard, Dot Harris, Ruby Sloan, Mary Margaret Storck, Robert Pate, Paula Richardson, Don Wilkins.

—with Buddy Allison

Sure hope you cats enjoyed Duke Ellington last Saturday and Sunday nights—the Duke was one of the finest showmen to appear in Memphis in a long time. His show was good, too; every member of his band was an artist within his own right, and the young singer was excellent. I sure hope he comes again, soon. This Sunday night, the Handy is gonna have another great stage show, although it will be on a different plane than last week's. Wynone Harris, Larry Darnell, and Frank Humphrey are going to battle it out (with saxophones) in the famous "Battle of the Blues." A frantic evening seems to be in store for Ramble-goers who like their music out of this world. Better get there early...

"Holiday On Ice"

"Holiday On Ice" will bring its 1953 extravaganza to the Auditorium starting Thursday, and continuing for a week. In this show, you will see things done on ice that cannot be done by everybody on the ground. Dancers, comedians, and the usual great line of chorus girls will display their various talents each night, with matinees Saturday and Sunday. The tickets are a little steep: $3 for the first floor, $2.50 for the first Balcony, $2 for the second Balcony, and $1.25 for the gallery; but you get top-flight entertainment for your dough, so it's really worth the cost.

Floral Still-Life

I certainly hope you art lovers got to see the exhibit of floral still-life that showed at the Memphis Museum all this week. All stages of art were represented, from the twentieth century to the seventeenth. There were works from such old masters as Pieter Binot, J. van Pielier, Willem van Leen, and Elias Van Den Broek. You missed some fine floral painting if you missed this show.

Movie Uptown

I'm sorry I messed you up on the movie coming to the Palace this week. That's the trouble with not being able to write more than once a week—if a schedule is changed, I've had it. I hope none of you went down to the Palace to see Dan Dailey in "Taxi" because he wasn't there. The Palace decided to hold over "The Bad And The Beautiful" (and rightly so) and changed their minds on "Taxi" after "B.B." went off. So, this week you will see "City Beneath The Sea" at Loew's Palace, a drama of gold-hunting in the Caribbean...

The management of the Strand sure went out on a limb by predicting that Shirley Booth would win the A.A. for "Come Back Little Sheba," didn't it? He thought so much of his opinion that he held it over this week. If you haven't seen it, you're missing a marvellous picture. Another real good one is at the State—Humphrey Bogart and June Allyson (no relation, darn it) are holding forth in "Battle Circus," an interlude in Korea. "Bwana Devil," the 3-D thriller, is still at the Warner; in color, no less, and very good, too. The only fly in the movie ointment downtown is "The Lawless Breed," a shoot-'em-up at the Malco. Oh, well, three weeks is a pretty long time after all...

String Quartet

Tuesday night, Southwesterners will get a chance to hear the only visiting string quartet of the season. The new Music String Quartet is a New York group brought to Memphis by the Patrons of Music at Southwestern, and they are known far and wide as one of the best. The program will consist of: Quartet in D minor, K421 (1783) by Mozart; Quartet No. 2, Op. 43 (1947) by the contemporary composer Wallingford Riegger; and following the intermission, Quartet in F major (1902-03) by Maurice Ravel. The concert begins at 8:30 in Hardie and is free.

Congratulations to the Southwestern Singers for a magnificent job in St. Louis!

See you—On The Town!

Poochie's Patter

THINGS were kinda quiet last weekend with the choir gone—but the stray ones have returned after their hit in St. Louis and the campus calendar is jammed.

Tonight's the big night for Kappa Delta—at 9 in the gym their annual formal will be held. Theme of the dance is "Hawaiian Ball." The music will be furnished by Bob Morris and his band . . . Palm trees and tropical flowers will give a South Sea island atmosphere. The ceiling will be covered with blue balloons and glittered stars. From an archway covered with tropical flowers, the new KD officers will be announced. General chairman for the dance is Vi Deavours and Mary Kay Lindsay is in charge of decorations.

Retiring Officers

Retiring KD officers and dates attending will be: Marilyn Mitchell, president, with Bennie Lamberth; Vi Deavours, vice-president, with Andy Orr; Betty Sue Wilcox, secretary, with John Butterworth; Betty Wade, treasurer, with Don Wilkins; Patricia Riegle, assistant treasurer, with Lane Erwin; Becky Blanton, editor, with Gerry Bugbee; Betty Lou Collins, membership chairman, with Ben Dewbre, Jr. . . .

Last Monday the AOPis held the first in a series of after-dinner parties for fraternities . . . The ATO's were invited over for Cokes and light refreshments . . . and the group sang sorority and fraternity songs, played bridge and danced.

At the same time the KDs were entertaining the KAs with a dessert party. Ann Caldwell was in charge of the party, which included dancing and singing . . .

Real Gone Music

The Duke was at the Handy last Saturday and Sunday with some real gone music . . . To help him beat it out were quite a few Southwestern fans who said he was terrific . . . only to be surpassed by Re-Bopping . . .

Pi Kappa Alpha announces these officers: Gus Schmitt, president; John Kurts, vice-president; Bernie Larr, treasurer; Henry Freund, secretary; Kirk Osoinach, pledge master; and Rod Green, house manager . . . Congratulations!

Don't forget — coming up — the Kappa Alpha formal next Saturday and the April Fool Dance April 10, after we get back from Easter vacation . . .

Disc Show Salutes Southwesterners

A program dedicated to Southwestern will be heard at 3:00 p.m., April 25, over Radio Station WHBQ, as Dick Covington, WHBQ disc-jockey, salutes the college and plays records requested by Southwesterners.

Appearing on the program with him will be either Bob Crumby, Student Body president, or Bennie Lamberth, Commissioner of Athletics.

Mr. Covington will read requests from Southwestern students on the program, and he asks that they be turned in as soon as possible to The Sou'wester office or to Bob Crumby.

Play Has Finale

Last performance of "The Cabalist of Dorrance," new poetic fantasy by Maurice Tei Dunn, will be presented at 8:30 tonight in Hardie Auditorium. Tickets at .50 for students and .75 for others.

Baseball Team Begins Season With Aurora

By JOE EADES

The Lynx baseball squad opens its 19-game schedule Monday and Tuesday, meeting Aurora College's Spartans of Aurora, Ill., in a two-game series. Last year, the Southwestern nine turned back the Spartans 13-7, and 13-10.

Not Much Practice

Neither of the teams have had much outside practice this year because of bad weather.

Coach Glenn Johnson is very optimistic about the prospect of this year's Lynx team's improving last year's record of seven wins and 10 losses.

Nuclei of the 1953 squad will be returning veterans Al Boyd, Bill Allen, Frank Horton, Tommy Jones, Clark Young, Lee Weed, Buddy Allison, Ron Davis and Bill Williams.

Freshman Talent

The team is bolstered by a vast wealth of freshman talent, including some potential starters. Especially impressive in practice sessions have been John Lawhorn, Mark Waters, Jim Gillis and Jack Bugbee. Rounding out the squad are Malcolm Anderton, Dick Flaniken, Bobby Allison, George Fisher and John Kurts.

Todd, Nabors Elected

Newton Todd was elected president and Truman Nabors vice-president in the Honor Council's election yesterday. The 1953-54 heads are both Sophomores now.

Sou'western Student Teachers Enforce Honor And Discipline

By MARY DEVLIN

For the past month Southwestern has had a large number of new students under her influence. Fifteen of her seniors are now doing practice teaching in three Memphis public schools.

This is a practical course which gives three semester hours credit in education. Five days a week, one hour a day, each of these students does practice teaching in Snowden Junior High, Fairview Junior High, or Humes High School.

Fifteen hours credit in education are required of practice teachers: six in psychology; six in education; and three in a tutorial, Methods in Teaching. The student observes for a period of time and then takes over the class and the regular teacher criticizes.

'Teachers' Listed

Ann Raines, Ann Taylor Walker, Anne Talley, Mary Myers, Virginia Ozier, Betty Martin, Emily McKay, Betty Sue Wilcox, Betty Lou Collins, Elma Lee Wylie, Betty Jo Doyle, Ann Feemster, Joan Stewart, Joan Smith, and Cyril Pipkin are the seniors who are practice teachers.

I asked Ann Raines what she thought about teaching. "Oh—I just love it, I've never had so much fun. I teach at Snowden, ninth grade English, and I have the cutest little boys you ever saw."

Sleuth Also

Betty Sue Wilcox is the only student teaching at Fairview. She explained it this way. "I asked for Fairview because it is near my house; so I can sleep a half hour later." Betty Sue is sleuth and teacher combined; she must chase down and trace to the writer any note she spies being passed around the room.

One day she was left in charge of the class taking a quiz. Forgetting that they were not under the Honor System, she sat gazing out of the window. When she turned to the class, she found them all over the room in clusters. "All of you get to your own seats and sit down," she commanded. One little boy returned, "Oh, you wouldn't make us do that would you?" "Oh yes I would," she was quick to inform him as she grabbed his paper and tore it up. This had a sobering effect on the entire class; so all sat down. The regular teacher appeared on the scene about this time saying, "I heard a little noise!"

Perfect Order

Emily McKay is teaching tenth and eleventh grade world history at Humes High School. After observing for ten minutes the first day, she took over the class and has been teaching it ever since—and she's a regular battle-ax. She has the reputation for having perfect order, but the credit really goes to six-foot Charlie. When she tells the class to be quiet, he immediately gets up and orders them, "Listen to what the woman says."

Until Emily came, the class had no homework assigned, but she gave an assignment the first day and has continued to do so. Each day at the beginning of class she gives a quiz. Grades are steadily improving. As the paper goes to press, Emily is giving her first big quiz. Emily feels practicing teaching is "The most rewarding thing I've ever done. The students appreciate a conscientious teacher."

Prof. Osman Resigns

Prof. John Osman, on leave of absence from Southwestern since June, has resigned to take a permanent position with the Ford Foundation. Prof. Osman was formerly associate professor of art, assistant to the president, and director of the college's Adult Education Program. He and Mrs. Osman will continue to make their home in Memphis.

SAE Puts Bequest Into House Fund

The $1000 bequest received by Southwestern's chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity will go into the chapter's building fund, announced Bill McClure, president.

The building fund is supervised by alumni of the chapter, and its funds are used for house repairs and decorations. The money was recently willed to the chapter by Lt. Comdr. Robert W. Quindley, Jr. of Memphis, president of SAE at Southwestern in 1946.

Bebe Mosby, Louis Wener is in charge of the choreography for the number.

Summer Students Register Now

Registration for the first six-weeks term of the summer session will be conducted Monday through Saturday in the registrar's office. Fees may be paid at the time of registration or later; but if they are paid before June 8, the student need not report until Tuesday, June 9, the day classes actually begin. A penalty for late payment will be assessed if the fees are not paid by 5 P.M. on Monday, June 8.

"It is most important that all prospective summer school students now attending Southwestern register during this period, as after

Cadet Team Here

An Air Force Cadet Selection Team from Moody Air Forces Base, Ga., will be in the Lynx Lair Monday and Tuesday to discuss aviation cadet pilot and aircraft observer training with students.

March 28, courses for which there has been little or no demand will be dropped," Malcolm Evans, registrar, said, adding, "If a student has any doubt as to his eligibility for the courses he expects to take, he should consult his major professor or faculty advisor in advance. Bible 51-52 is not open to students whose total semester hours are less than 86."

AOPi Chooses Theme

Theme for AOPi's "Stunt Night" April 1 will be "AOPi Broadway Production of 1953." Fraternity and sorority skits will be preceded by an opening skit which will include Elizabeth Carter, Anne Talley, Joanne Patten, Phyllis Peters, Martha Ann Spruell, Gene McFarland and
