Nine Are Announced By Phi Beta Kappa

High Scholastic Averages And Good Moral Character Are Requirements

Nine seniors have been named to Southwestern's chapter of Phi Beta Kappa and were initiated into the scholastic fraternity last night.

To be eligible for membership in the oldest Greek letter organization which recognizes scholarship, a student must have a 3.5 or high B average on 106 semester hours and must be of high moral character.

Dr. A. Theodore Johnson, Secretary-Treasurer of Gamma of Tennessee chapter, one of three in the state, announced the following new members:

Sherman Baggett, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Baggett, Route 10, Memphis, an English major and winner of the Seidman Award as a freshman.

Sarah Jane Bryant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Bryant, Milan, Tenn., a member of Torch, senior women's honorary society, and a 1951 beauty in the Lynx.

John S. Cochran, son of Mr. W. A. Cochran, Bessemer, Ala., winner of third place scholastic honors as a junior and member of Alpha Theta Phi honorary fraternity.

Donald William Feldman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Feldman, 1488 Hollywood, holder of the Spandow Scholarship in physics, winner.

Bandages Are Rolled At YWCA Gathering

Over one thousand bandages for use at Kennedy General Hospital were rolled last Tuesday, February 19, by the members of the Southwestern YWCA. The project, supporting one of the Y purposes, "Women in Community Service," centered around this social service program as led by Rosemary Nelms.

The devotional, given by Mary Frances Steen, was on the theme of Brotherhood Week. At the beginning of the meeting the group enjoyed cokes and cookies.

Bridge Tourney's First Round Played Here By Two Tables

Eight Southwesterners played eighteen hands of bridge each yesterday in the first round of the International Bridge Tournament which is being played off this spring. All eight will have a chance to compete in the finals, if their scores from yesterday's play are among the upper sixteen pairs from all colleges.

The games started at 1:30 p.m. Thursday, February 21, in the Sigma Nu lodge and continued until all hands had been played.

Eta Sigma Phi's Tap Three More

Three undergraduates were tapped into Eta Sigma Phi, national classical languages fraternity, in student assembly last Wednesday. Mary Beth Davidson was tapped for her work in Latin and Wayne Todd and Carey Stanley for their work in Greek.

Gifts Rise Higher In Funds Drive

Pledges and checks amounting to $177,377.79 have been reported by the Advanced Gifts Committee of the Southwestern Development Fund. This total was made public on February 15.

Recent contributors are the Memphis Publishing Company, $20,000; the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, $10,000; the Trippeer Foundation, $5,000; and the Leader Federal Savings and Loan Association, $3,000.

All reports to date have come from the 115-member Advance Gifts Committee. The Initial Gifts Committee was organized on February 14.

Players' Pageant Will Point Day Of Prayer

In observation of the World Day of Prayer on February 29, the Southwestern Players will present two performances of Welthy Fisher's pageant, "Mother Liberty's Children."

The first performance will be given at 10:30 a.m. at Grace St. Luke's Episcopal Church; the second performance, at 7:30 p.m. at Linden Avenue Christian Church.

IRC Features U.S. Frontlines In The Orient

PROGRAM SERIES Ling Hong Lee Will Present Discussion

By Jimmy James

"The U.S. Frontline in the Far East" will be emphasized by the International Relations Club during the second semester. Through a series of six programs the group hopes to ascertain and criticize the policies of our government in the Orient.

A concentrated attempt will be made to satisfactorily answer the burning question of why we are sending thousands of our soldiers to icy graves in the mountains of Korea.

The initial program will be led by Ling Hong Lee of Fatshan Kwantung, China, who will discuss the question "Can We Depend on Southeast Asia?" on the evening of March 19.

"The Oriental Mind" will be explained on March 26 by Tu "Timothy" Hsin Liu of Tainan, Formosa.

Twelve Girls Model Zonta Benefit Show

A fashion show featuring twelve sparkling Southwestern models was given at the Grace-St. Luke's Episcopal Church Wednesday evening, February 20.

The show was sponsored by the Zonta Club, a civic business and professional women's club, for the benefit of the Memphis Home for Incubables.

The Southwestern girls, two from each sorority and independent group, were Rebecca Spencer and Barbara Mann, AOPi; Katherine Hinds and Eleanor Brown, XO; Ann Henderson and Ann Feemster, DDD; Betty Lou Collins and Marilyn Mitchell, KD; Barbara Curtis and Katherine Hughes, ZTA; and Betty Garrett and Joanne Danielson, Independents.

The clothes were from the Martin Box.

ODK Sponsors Faculty's Parties Throughout Year

Open houses given by faculty members will be sponsored by Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership fraternity for men, throughout the rest of the year. Since the beginning of the second semester ODK has been sponsoring this program in which two or three professors open their houses to the students of Southwestern on Sunday afternoons.

These informal parties given by professors are for all students who would like to come, not just for majors and advisees.

The purpose of the program of open houses is to foster better relations between the faculty and the student body. Whether one is an advisee or has a class with one of the professors makes no difference at all. There are no pre-requisites for attending these open houses.

Every Student

Every student is urged to get in touch with either Bob Crumby,

Bill Boyd, or Wayne Todd for information about the open houses to be given in the near future. Professors Osman, Gibbs, Tuthill, and Bosworth are some of the faculty members scheduled to have open houses during the next few Sundays.

Open houses on the past three Sundays have been extremely successful.

American Leader Failed In China

On February 22, 1947, Dr. J. Leighton Stuart, our United States Ambassador to China, addressed a large luncheon meeting of the American University Association of China. There were present that day American men and women, Chinese graduates of American universities, and other nationals who had attended American colleges and universities sometime during their life. China was seething with revolution, and there were present that day, among others, Dr. H. H. Kung, Mr. T. V. Soong, Madam Kung, and Madam Chiang Kai-Shek. These people were high up in the nationalist government.

The Call To Sacrifice

Dr. Stuart mentioned that day one of the characteristics or qualities of Washington which is not usually referred to on such an occasion. He told his educated, wealthy Chinese friends that George Washington was a well-to-do man for his day. He had land, crops, sheep, and cattle. In the interest of patriotism, independence, freedom, and the love of country, George Washington laid on the altar not only his service as a soldier but also his wealth and all that he owned. If he had lost in the war for independence, his home would have gone as well as his stocks and bonds and his money. Dr. Stuart urged his Chinese hearers to place on the altar of sacrifice their living which had to do with money in the bank and lives of ease and comfort and luxury.

Reputed To Be A Democracy

As I listened that day to this advice to wealthy Chinese friends, I was quite impressed and wondered what would be the outcome. Unfortunately, the Kungs and the Soongs and the Chiangs and others in places of influence and of wealth and position did not heed this advice but continued along the road of selfish individualism and corruption. In less than two years the opposition, Com-

Convocation Schedule

Dr. J. H. Davis, Professor of history, will conduct the chapel service on Monday, February 25. Rabbi James A. Wax of Temple Israel in Memphis will speak to the students on Tuesday morning, February 26. Dr. Henry Wade DuBose, President of the Presbyterian General Assembly's Training School in Richmond, Va., will speak at the convocation hour on Thursday, February 28.

Dr. I. Frank Tullis will give the first in a series of health talks on Friday morning, February 29. Regular student assembly will be held on Wednesday.

Recitals And Concert Presented Next Week

Southwestern Orchestra Will Have Vocal And Instrumental Soloists

by Vera Burns

Bettie Jane Boland, pianist, will be presented in recital at 8:30 P.M. tonight at the College of Music. Miss Boland is on the faculty of the college's Preparatory Department and has been doing post-graduate study with Myron Myers for several years.

Her program will include a Bach fugue, Beethoven's "Sonata Pathetique", Ravel's "Sonatine", a Chopin "Ballade", and a group of three numbers by Debussy and Griffes.

On Sunday, February 24, at 3:00 p.m. Helen Traubel will be presented in a recital at Ellis Auditorium. The great dramatic soprano will present a program of art songs, lieder, and arias which are her specialty. This will be the final concert in the current Memphis and Mid-South Piano Scholarship Association series.

On the same afternoon music lovers will have the rare opportunity to hear the seldom-performed "Orfeo" by Monteverde performed by the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra over CBS at 2:00 p.m.

Southwestern Orchestra

The Southwestern Orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Burnet C. Tuthill, will present its second concert of the season at 8:15 p.m. on February 26 in Hardie Auditorium.

Members of the senior class will be featured as soloists, both vocal and instrumental. The Saint-Saens Concerto in G Minor will serve to present two pianists—O. D. Yancy, who will play the first movement, and Mary Joyce Inman, who will offer the remaining two move-

Prints Of Masterpieces For Loan In Library

Only ten prints remain untaken in the Library's print-loan collection. These pictures are now on exhibit in the library and may be checked out for the semester by dormitory students to hand in their rooms.

To obtain a print, select one from the exhibit, and check it out at the desk. No fee is charged, and first-come-first-serve will be the rule.

Prints have been selected from a wide variety of artists' works in order that each student might find something suitable to his tastes.

ments.

Andy Orr will be soloist in the first movement of the modern piano concerto by William Schuman.

The two vocal soloists will be Gloria Brown singing "Dove Sono" from "The Marriage of Figaro" by Mozart and Jacqueline Roland in "Ah fors e lui" from Verdi's "La Traviata."

The orchestra's wind players will be featured in the Mozart Serenade in E Flat for two oboes, two clarinets, two horns, and two bassoons. This number will be directed by Michael Semanitzky, new violin instructor.

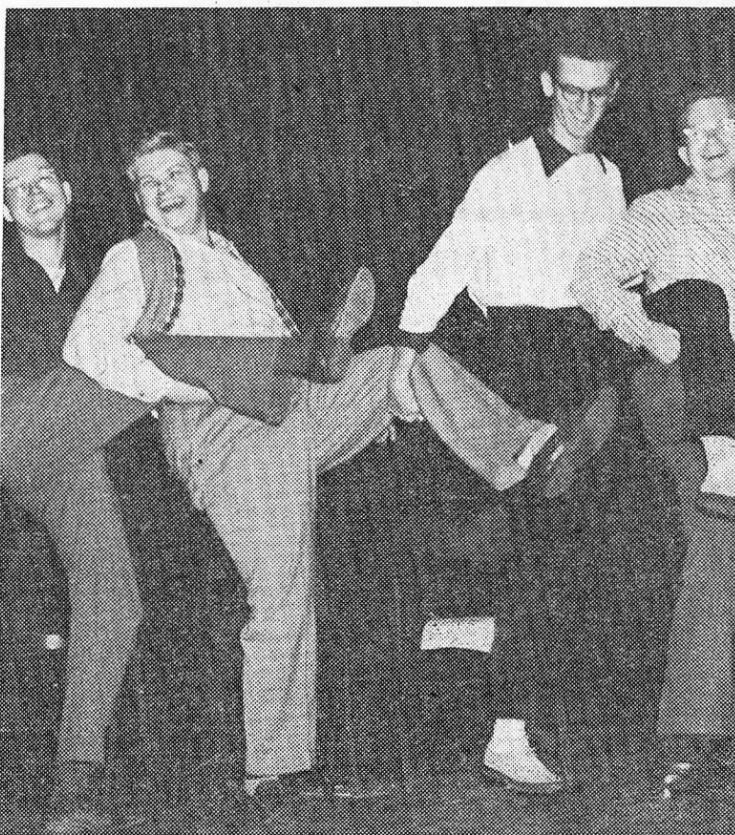

Purely orchestral selections will include the slow movement of the "Nordic" Symphony by Howard Hanson and Beethoven's overture to "Fidelio."

Coke Party To See Education At Work

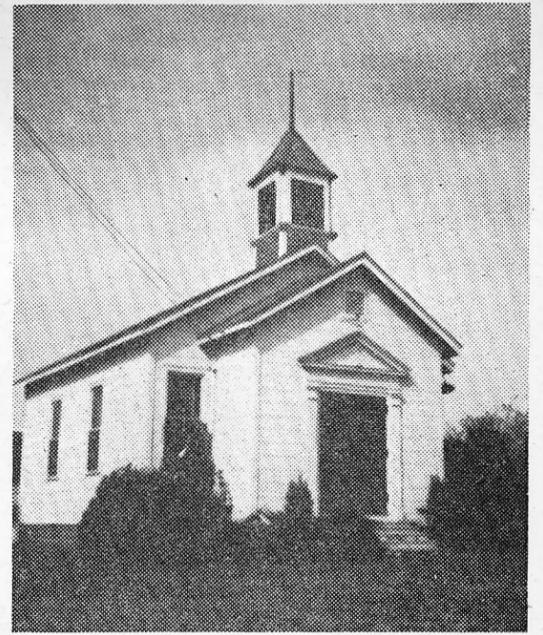

The Undergraduate Board's annual "Coke Party" will be given in Voorhies Playroom next Tuesday, February 26, at 4:00 p.m. Three outstanding young women of Memphis will entertain with personal accounts of the effects of liberal educations upon their lives.

Mrs. Leslie Buchman will discuss marriage and the importance in home-building of college study. Miss Jane Soderstrom, a Southwestern student not very long ago, will talk on a much debated subject around the campus: why music majors should have to take liberal arts courses.

Commercial Appeal Society Editor Irma Waddell represents the business world as she speaks on the demands of journalism and how a liberal education prepared her to meet them.

Pre-Preachers Work At Pulpit Filling Job

One important function of the Ministerial Club is aiding churches without ministers in and around Memphis by preaching. Some of the ministerial students have regular pulpits while others preach only occasionally.

The Ministerial Club works closely with Dr. Charles S. Ramsay, of Arlington, Tennessee, who is the Home Mission chairman of the Memphis Presbytery. Mr. Ramsey helps the Southwesterners locate churches.

Many of our pre-preachers have preached at the Curry Memorial Presbyterian Church, which is located about ten miles from Memphis on the Nashville highway. These are Jim Henderson, Jack Worthington, James L. Jones, Alvey Marques, and Bill Mitchell.

Bill Boyd preaches once a month in Red Banks, Mississippi; Wayne Todd and Malcolm Anderton preach on alternate Sundays at the Mt. Carmel Presbyterian Church, about thirty miles from Memphis on the Nashville highway.

Bob Crumby and Claire Albright have preached at the Kerrville Presbyterian Church; Claire preaches somewhere twice every Sunday.

Bob Stewart crosses the river every Sunday to preach at the Bassett Arkansas Presbyterian Church.

Jack Kennon preaches once a week at the Memphis Union Mission for Youth for

SW Traitor Debunks Slurs Cast At MSC

Dear Editor,

The article concerning "Water-Works U", in the last issue of the Sou'wester, will undoubtedly be taken in just the spirit in which it was written. But, just what spirits prompted Mr. Marsh and Miss Riegel to take pen in hand?

Before we talk... let's remember that we have a railroad right here on our campus (especially at election time), and that the waterworks doesn't smell! Also, how can any normal human being be expected to lead a happy life without knowing how to feed his goldfish properly? Besides, it costs less to feed old goldfish than to buy new ones.

Perhaps the MSC gymnasium is the most important building on the Memphis State campus! Our gym is undoubtedly the most ostentatious building on our campus! As to the remarks about the "Tiger Roundup", the program seems to have a right good "H"-rating and is good advertising for the school. We ought to buy time for our own radio show. We might call it "The Lynx Cats Chapel of the Air."

Yes, Brotherhood Week has begun, but with one strike against it.

Golfers Smell Spring Outside, Start Straightening Out Slices

The track boys were the first to begin limbering-up, but the golfers (I should say dubbers) have followed their example by taking to the links to re-train their hooks, slices and shanks, in an effort to beat "ole man par."

They have been swinging for the past few weeks and turning in some amazing scores. One or two of the scores were amazing low for the first part of the season, but mostly they have been amazingly high.

This team, characteristic of all this year's athletic teams, is extremely raw and inexperienced, containing but two returning letter-men. There is a fine bit of material with which Coach Maybry can work, but it is not yet certain whether or not this material will come through to form a very good team.

Intricately Precise

Golf is an intricately precise sport and it demands hour after hour of practice. Those who get out on the links and work the hardest will no doubt round into shape and shoot some good golf.

The team consists of Jack Hudgens, Tom Crais, Bill Oates, Don Ramier, James Scanlon, Tom Beasley, and Jimmy James. The workhorse of this group is Mr. James who is strictly not a fair-weather golfer. This man, who has a golfing style all his own, has been working steadily since Fall, while the other members of the team have been enjoying the traditional winter lay-off.

Strokers

Matches for our "Strokers" have been scheduled with Wisconsin, Ole Miss., Memphis State, Sewanee, Lambert, Wabash, N.A.T.T.C., Air Force, plus a few more to be arranged later, and the Tennessee Intercollegiate Tournament to be held in Sewanee. Here's hoping they hit the ball long and far and win a few decisions

GERRY WAITS AT AUSTRIA'S GATES

Liebe Freunde!

Austria—the "little country"—the real core of Europe—well known through Wiener Schnitzel, the Anschluss, Sigmund Freud, and many other remarkable properties is re-opening her once badly dilapidated bright brass doors to all people who want to get to know the way of life, the beautiful countryside, the ancient towns and castles, the cultural centers. . .

Vienna the capital is dressing up for a great performance this summer. There will be a brand new "old" Opera House . . . St. Stephen's Cathedral, already rebuilt—thatched with two million vari-colored enameled tiles, one for each of the inhabitants of the sixty thousand acre city. . . The Ringstrasse—jam-packed with the most refined examples of baroque architecture. . . A thrill for musical gourmands—the Vienna Symphonic Orchestra. . .

The main attraction for students, who want to get the dope on European problems and meet representatives of all intellectual trends, is the Mayrhofen International Summer School and the Alpbach European Forum. Mayrhofen and Alpbach, two beautiful old villages, are situated in valleys of breathtaking glamour. The surrounding mountains (up to eleven thousand feet) are populated by the famous, ancient chamoix, which, as the saying goes, drop when being shot at. They are peculiar looking animals with heavy beards. The beards are used to decorate the Tyrolean hats.

Not very long ago a trip to Europe seemed to many students as impossible as a trip to the moon or any other more or less populated planet or planetoid. The reasons for this are quite simple because they are chiefly financial. Of course it would be a costly life for a student to be on his own in a foreign country among people whose language and attitude are completely different.

The urgent need for some agency to establish a bridge between the interests of the students and the offers of the countries they wish to visit has led to the foundation of Laborde Travel Inc., a corporation sponsored by the Cooperative Bureau for Teachers. Laborde Travel Inc. is able to offer trips at sensationally low prices to France, England, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Germany, Switzerland, and especially to Austria, which stands at the top of a long list of anticipated countries.

Outstanding components of the Austrian trip are:

Mayrhofen International Summer School . . . first session June 22-July 12, second session July 13-Aug. 2; round trip by air, $635. Program: twenty-day summer school conducted by the University of Innsbruck and the Austrian League of the United Nations where students and teachers from many countries participate in a lively study, lecture, social, and sports program in this well-known international center.

The Alpbach European Forum—International Summer session of the Austrian College Society, round trip, $635. Since 1945 the Alpbach European Forum has met for a series of lectures, seminars, and discussions conducted in English and German by eminent experts in the field of European and international affairs, social sciences, and arts. There is a stimulating social music and arts program.

Academic credits are obtainable and certificates of attendance are issued. There are optional German language courses.

The Forum, of special value to teachers and students of modern history—social sciences and the humanities, offers excellent opportunity for participation in an international community. Trips to Vienna, the Salzburg Music Festivals, Dolomites, and Venice can be arranged.

In addition to group travel, arrangements can be made for individual trips. Bookings are accepted for air-coach flights at official PAA, BOAC, KLM, SABENA, SAS, SWISSAIR, etc. rates.

Bookings must be made through Laborde Travel Service Inc. at least four weeks before departure. Information may be obtained by writing the agency in New York—1776 Broadway Ave. This is a radiant opportunity for students to satisfy their thirst for the ancient tradition-bound European culture. The prices are sensationally low!

A hearty "Gute Reise" and "Auf Wiedersehen" to the students and teachers of Southwestern whom I shall be happy to welcome in my home country.

Yours truly,

Gerhard L. Opel

Ed. note: Additional information about summer travel and foreign scholarships is available from the Dean Johnson, interested professors, and the Sou'wester.

Howard Swipes Game From Fighting Lynx Basketballers

Howard College jumped off to a 12-point lead and rolled to a 81-62 victory over Southwestern Monday night.

Forwards James Cunningham of Southwestern and Morris Jacobs of Howard ended in a draw for individual scoring honors. Each tossed in 22 points.

The Birmingham team rolled up a 15-3 lead in short order. Cunningham kept the Southwestern team in the running with 10 points during the second period, but Howard ended the half with a 40-27 advantage.

Southwestern narrowed the gap to 50-43 in the third quarter, but that was as close as it got the rest of the way.

Five players, three from Howard, fouled out in the waning moments. Score by quarters:

Southwestern	12	15	20	15	62
Howard	22	18	22	19	81

Beasley Beats Smythe

FARGASON FIELD HOUSE, Feb. 18.—Hamilton Smythe, champ of Southwestern's unofficial badminton tournament, was dethroned today. In a thrilling fight to the finish Rebecca Beasley, recently crowned WAA champ, added Smythe's defeat to her honors.

Mr. Smythe had no comment, and experts agreed that the results could not be considered an upset.

Naughty Kittens Are Beaten By Nurses

The Lynx Kittens were handed their second consecutive defeat Friday night when they entertained the girls from Methodist Hospital in Memphis.

Pitted against a more experienced team, the Kittens seemed to have hit a night when all their forwards were shooting wild. At one point in the first quarter the score stood 15-10, but the Nurses sank three quick baskets, and the gap was never closed. The final score was 47-20.

Line-up for Southwestern was Enochs, Bowes, McGehee, Beasley, Ragland, and Chambliss. Substitutes were Hebert, Walker, Worthington, Williams, Harris, Tipton, and Rooney.

Lynx Beauties To March Out

Southwestern's beauties will parade across the stage and down a specially constructed runway in Hardie Auditorium on Thursday night, Feb. 28, at the Lynx beauty review.

Entrants

The entrants are Betty Lou Collins, Mary Francis Forbes, Betty Johnson, Marilyn Mitchell, Claudia Owen, and Jackie Roland from Kappa Delta; Joan Poston, Montie McCall, Ann Marie Davis, Elizabeth Carr, Elizabeth Collins, and Rebecca Beasley from Chi Omega; Sara Jane Bryant, Peggy Crocker, Patsy Braswell, Ann Feemster, Ann Henderson, and Margaret Jones representing Tri Delta; Ann Mary Derrick and Regina Kitterman are the representatives from the Independent Women; Mary Curtis, Lenore Gilliam, Katherine Hughes, Carol Macklin, Mary Maniord, and Juliette Read from Zeta Tau Alpha; and Ann Hebert, Beverly Mayhall, Barbara Mann, Rebecca Spenser, Joan Stewart, and Esther Jane Swartzfager from Alpha Omicron Pi.

munism, had displaced the nationalist government. China was reputed to be a democracy, but when her patriots had become immensely wealthy while being patriots and occupying places of high position in government, democracy was threatened. It wasn't long before a totalitarian regime, a form of puritanical tyranny which was just around the corner, took over and supplanted corruption, ineptitude, and selfish individualism.

A Lesson For Americans

It seems to me that there are lessons in this incident for us. Corruption is the same, whether it rears its ugly head in Nanking, Peking, and Tientsin, or Washington, New York, and St. Louis. In remembering the birthday of the first president of our country, present-day Americans would do well to ponder these lessons to see if there is any meaning for us during the present crisis. Loyalty, conviction, duty, honor, a willingness to sacrifice for what we believe and for the things which have made our country and our people great — these are the lessons that George Washington left his fellow countrymen of every age.

The challenge of the crisis of our times means this to me: it means that if I love my country and my people that I ought to be a better American than I have been, a better son, father, husband, and employee, to be worthy of the heritage which our first president and others passed on to us. What does the loyalty, the conviction, and the willingness to sacrifice of George Washington mean to you?

ATO's Prance At Gay Nineties Ball

Sororities And Fraternities Pledge New Students, Hold Initiation Ceremonies

by Patricia Riegler

Once again we will have the opportunity to relive that wonderful, carefree time known as the "gay nineties" tomorrow night when the Alpha Tau Omega's entertain with their "Gay Nineties Ball". The Forrest Room at the Gayoso Hotel will be so artistically decorated that you will feel that you have been hurtled back in time to that era, and for three hours the spirit of the time will be revived.

From 9:00 till 12:00 Johnny Long will present his danceable music, and during the course of the evening the members, pledges and their dates will lead-out in a most novel way.

Pledges

Six girls and four boys were pledged by Greek letter organizations this week. Chi Omega pledged Betty Tatum Harris. Alpha Omicron Pi pledged Carolyn Williamson and Phyllis Peters, both of Memphis. Tri Delta pledged Ann Mundis of Bristol, Tennessee, Dorothy Davies, and Annette Vaughn Turner of Memphis.

February 18, Bill Calicut and Bill Oates became pledges of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Sigma Nu announces that they have pledged Gerald Pierce and Bill Ford, both of Memphis.

Pan-Hellenic

The Men's Pan-Hellenic Council has chosen Henry Freund to succeed himself as president. David Alexander is the new Vice-president, and Chandler Warren has become Secretary.

Honors came again to Henry Freund when his fraternity, Pi Kappa Alpha, re-elected him their president. Other officers selected were Vice-president, Will Johnston, Secretary Louis Wener, and Treasurer Gus Schmidt.

The next few weeks promise to hold much for the social life of the Southwestern campus. March 1 is the date of the PiKA formal when their Sweetheart will be announced. The Sigma Alpha Epsilon Rose will be announced March 8 when the SAE's hold their formal.

Morris And His Dance Band Will Play At Musicians Ball

Southwestern's own Bob Morris and his orchestra will be featured at the Musicians Ball to be held at the Fairgrounds Casino on Wednesday, February 27, 8:00 p.m. The regular ten-piece orchestra will be expanded to fifteen pieces, and a girl singer (yet to be selected) will join the company for that night only.

The orchestra, following the Glenn Miller style, features two unusual instruments for a dance band, the flute and the french horn, which blend with an outstanding reed section.

Russ Heinz, a former Southwestern student, handles the vocals, the flute, and the tenor sax. Several members of the band have appeared with the Southwestern Orchestra.

Outstanding Band

Formed two years ago, Bob's orchestra has been voted Memphis's outstanding band by Bob Stich of WHHM.

The Morris orchestra has appeared on the television program "Dixie Bandstand", a roundup of Memphis bands over WMCF. It also played for the "Miss America" contest at the Warner Theater last December. He has been asked to make a television film.

All Southwestern students are invited to attend the Musicians Ball, which is a benefit show for needy people of Memphis.

Time and talent of the featured acts has been donated. Tickets may be obtained on campus from Bob Morris.

Two members of Professor Lowry's international relations class, Eleanor Brown and Roscoe Field, will debate informally the argument "Nationalist China — Bulwark or Parasite?" on the night of April 2.

At the morning college convocation of April 4 John Berry, Korean veteran, will present "A First-Hand Account of the Police Action in Korea".

Political Science

On the evening of April 23 "The Great Debate" will be revived by a panel of political science students including Elizabeth Carr and Rene Lemarchand. The influence of the fall presidential election on U. S. policy in the Orient will be stressed.

In the final program of the series, to be held at the chapel assembly of May 2, Hsioh-Chien Li will present "An Oriental's Reaction to U. S. Policy in the Far East". Li's home is in Hanoi, Nord Vietnam, Indo-China.

The student body and faculty are invited to attend these programs. They will be particularly interesting since the majority of the participants will be relating first-hand impressions.

Nose Bag Lunches To Spice Foreign Movies In Fargason

Two hundred girl scouts from north and north-east Memphis will meet in Fargason Field Souse next Saturday for a world friendship fund party. The seven- to fifteen-year-old girls will gather at 11:30 a.m. for a mid-day program of films, talks, "eats", games, and songs.

"Hands Across the Sea", a movie about girl scouts in foreign lands, and talks by foreign war brides and foreign students will be main features of the program, which is designed to instruct and create interest among the youngsters in foreign lands and international scouting.

"Nose-Bag" Lunch

Following a "nose-bag" lunch (Each girl brings her own lunch in a paper sack tied to her belt.), a ceremony will be conducted to collect funds for the World Friendship Fund. Each scout will contribute as many pennies as she is years old to the fund.

The World Friendship Fund provides finances for sending American girl scouts to foreign countries during the summer. It is also used to bring foreign girl scouts into the country.

Mrs. Patty Burnett, Girl Scout Field Director for the Edith Macy District, is in charge of the meeting.

Tuthill Directs Symphony In Corpus Christi Concerts

Dr. Burnet C. Tuthill directed the Corpus Christi Symphony Orchestra in a performance of his "Symphony in C" last Friday night, February 15. Both Dr. and Mrs. Tuthill flew to Corpus Christi, Texas, to attend the performance.

The program was rebroadcast over station KRIS in Corpus Christi at 9:30 p.m. Monday.
