SOUTHWESTERN
LIBRARY
Memphis, Tenn.

The SOU'WESTER

Volume 7 | MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE, OCTOBER 30, 1925 | Number 4

Lynx Cats Primed For Millsaps Tomorrow

Lynx Cats Invade the Wilds to Bring Down Formidable Prey

After a three hundred mile trip deep into the sticks Coach Neely's men trodded out on a wet field determined to outfight the heavier Henderson-Brown squad.

Southwestern received the ball and punted safely into the Reddies' territory. Upon the second exchange of punts, Doc Price received the ball on the 30-yard line and made a pretty 70-yard run down the sideline for our first touchdown. Farnsworth kicked for the extra point.

Southwestern again received and after a punting duel in which Farnsworth outpunted his opponent, Al Clements tossed one of his most renowned passes to "Dode" for our second score. Farnsworth again kicked goal.

The Lynx Cats took the offense once more and after another nice punt to Henderson-Brown, Dutton intercepted a pass and placed Southwestern in the scoring distance for the third time. Southwestern tried two passes and got the ball on the one-yard line as a result of the penalty given Henderson-Brown for interfering with the men eligible for the pass. Farnsworth plunged across the goal line for the third touchdown, but failed to kick goal.

Beginning with the second quarter the Reddies stiffened their defense and opened up their offense, but they could not penetrate the Lynx' line for more than a few first downs. The remainder of the game was fought in enemy territory or in midfield and was nothing more or less than a punting tournament in which Farnsworth held the upper hand.

The outstanding player of the day was none other than "A" Dulin. "A" tore his way through the opposite line time after time and got into most of the tackles of the game until he was forced to retire with a bad knee. Koonce and Dutton tore through several times to throw Henderson-Brown for considerable losses. Adams deserves much credit for the generalship shown in running the team and Hooker for the way he returned punts.

The lineup was as follows:

Southwestern.		Henderson-Brown.
Clements	L. E.	McClendon
Dutton	L. T.	Woods
Myrick	L. G.	Sewell
S. Davis	C	Kason
Dulin	R. G.	Berry
Koonce	R. T.	Gibbs
J. Davis	R. E.	Cobb
Adams	Q. B.	Parker
Farnsworth	L. H.	Fisher
"Doc" Price	R. H.	Duncan
Hawk	F. B.	Hill

Substitutions: Scott for Myrick; Wilson for Hawk; Hooker for Price; Hawk for Wilson; Myrick for Dulin; McGiveran for Myrick.

Touchdowns: Price 1, Farnsworth 2; extra points, Farnsworth 2. Total score, 20 to 0.

Time—Two hours and twenty minutes.

WANTED: A NAME

The Annual is to have a new name. Eben Bee, editor will appreciate students suggesting a suitable one. "The Lynx" and "The Trident" have been suggested. If you can suggest a better one bring it to the publication room right pronto and receive reward.

She: Can you drive with one hand?
He (passionately): Yes!
She: Then pick up my compact.

Carpenter to Address Y. M. C. A. Sunday

Large Number Heard "STOUT" Gordon.

The Rev. J. B. Carpenter, D.D., who is the pastor of the Evergreen Church, will address the Y. M. C. A. at the regular meeting. Many students having attended this church know that they will receive a good message.

The Rev. U. S. Gordon talked on the life a Christian should live. Our Lord calls men to every field of service. Some points to students were developed. Be patient. Do not hurry so much that you miss what you should experience. Don't worry too much. Do not procrastinate.

"Happy is he, who knowing how to wait, still knows how to take advantage of the opportunity when the clock strikes."

A Christian should feel a particular dignity in that he is working for an Almighty God.

Dr. Diehl led in prayer. After the singing of the hymn, Rev. Gordon dismissed the meeting. "Stout" Gordon is known and loved by A. & M. men, we grant, but the more we know of him the more Southwestern loves him. He is always welcome back.

PLEASE DON'T READ THIS

Now if you really want to you can, but if you do you must also take in what is said here. The theme of this article is "You Tell 'Em." It sounds interesting, doesn't it? Well, let's ramble.

The Sou'wester is a publication which is owned, controlled, edited, managed, etc., by and for the student body of Southwestern. The only known sources of revenue which it has are the subscriptions and money derived from advertising sold to local merchants.

Now just why should a merchant want to run his ad in our paper? There are two answers: First, that he wants to help our paper out. Second, that he expects through the columns of the paper to sell some of our student body the particular commodity, product or service he has to offer. We will discount the first reason right pronto, because we are not soliciting that class of ads. Now as to the second answer, we would like to get our mouth wide open and say that the only way an ad can be of benefit is for it to be read.

If one of these same merchants, who is interested in our school, was to talk to you about his store you would certainly give him the courtesy of an audience. My point is that he is attempting to talk to you through your paper. For goodness sake listen to his concise message in The Sou'wester. It will take you only a few minutes each week to read the paper from "civer to civer" and give the ads the once over. After you have done that, if everything else is equal, give those merchants who advertise with us preference when buying and by all means "YOU TELL 'EM" that the Sou'wester told you about them and that you want to tell them that you appreciate their interest in our school and paper.

It is a simple thing to do and if every student will do it the advertising solicitors won't have half as many gray hairs or look like monkeys when they get old. It was a shame to trick you into reading this and we apologize, but please remember—"YOU TELL 'EM."

Henry: Does your wife pick all your suits for you?
John: Just the pockets.

JUBILEE INAUGURAL CELEBATION

Bids Fair to Be the Greatest Educational Event in the History of Memphis.

November 26 to 28 are the days set apart for the celebration of Southwestern's Fiftieth Anniversary, and its opening in Memphis.

Approximately three hundred and fifty colleges, universities, learned societies, and foundations have been invited to send representatives to this celebration, and up to date well over one hundred have accepted.

The complete program has not been given out, but the celebration will include speeches, a football game, a reception, and a formal meeting at which delegates from other institutions will present greetings and felicitations.

This promises to be the greatest educational event that has ever taken place in Memphis. A score of imminent college presidents from all over the country, as well as professors, distinguished alumni, and other men of note will be present on this occasion.

Among the leading colleges, universities, and learned societies to be represented are the following: University of Alabama, Amherst College, University of Arkansas, American Classical League, University of Chicago, Colorado College, Dartmouth College, Davidson College, University of Florida, Georgia School of Technology, Harvard University, Macalester College, University of Mississippi, Modern Language Association, College of the City of New York, University of Notre Dame, Pennsylvania State College, Princeton University, Southern Methodist University, University of the South, University of Tennessee, Vanderbilt University, Vassar College, University of Virginia, Washington and Lee, Yale and the University of Southern California.

The faculty committee, which is arranging the various details of the celebration, consists of Dean Cooper, who is chairman, Profs. W. R. Atkinson, Marion MacQueen, S. H. Monk and A. P. Kelso.

Our board of directors will be guests on this auspicious occasion.

CAN YOU WEAR IT?

The Sou'wester needs several live-wire advertising solicitors who are willing to give about four hours a week for the suc cess of the paper. We are not carrying enough volume of advertising now to pay the cost of printing, to say nothing of stamps, stationery, illustrations, pencils, office rent. Any member of the student body who has had experience in this type of work or who would like to learn, please see Robert York or John Simmons today, or leave your name on the desk in the publication room.

We want the student body as a whole to solicit ads from men you know can benefit by advertising in our paper. Just because you are not on the staff, don't feel that it is not your place; for this paper is yours and must be supported by you if it is to be a success.

The kind of paper the staff puts out is dependent to a large degree on the amount of advertising we carry. If you want lots of original cartoons and other things that cost money to get, please kick in with a little lift so the staff will have time to think of something else besides bills and how to pay them. IF THE BROGAN FITS PUT IT ON.

Neely Predicts Hard Game With Undefeated S. I. A. A. Team.

COACH JESS NEELY

The team from Mississippi comes here with high hopes of victory, having beaten Mississippi College 6 to 0; and in previous weeks having taken down L. P. I. and Louisiana College. Their entire line averages 186 pounds, with a 152-pound backfield. In their leading victories, aerial tactics was their feature.

The fact that her goal line is yet uncrossed by a S. I. A. A. team, and that she has "chalked up" three victories with no defeats, proves that Millsaps has undoubtedly the best eleven that has ever been gathered by Coach Zimoski. Millsaps is strong—and no mistaking. There is a possibility of their beating Neely's squad—but that possibility hinges on their playing their very, very best football.

After working the men till dark Tuesday, Coach Neely has been easing away from the harder fundamentals and drilling his men on new plays and the perfecting of old lines of offense.

The Lynx Cats will go into the game with the same lineup and with a determination to win—just as they did last week. They are in fine physical condition, as was shown when not a man received an injury in the tilt with Henderson-Brown. Some that have been "laid up" are now out in "full swing." They have the fighting spirit pepped up to the nth degree. However, there is no danger that the boys will be overconfident. They have seen the results of that too many times.

Students: Let's show our pep in strong fashion Saturday. Let's make the air ring for miles around with our yells. Let's be behind our team to the last ditch. We have a hard game but with both team and students fighting we can win. STRUT YOUR STUFF!

RECEPTIONS FOR FACULTY

The faculty were guests at a reception given in their honor by the Memphis Academy of Arts Tuesday, October 20, at the academy building on Adams Avenue.

Thursday afternoon from 3 to 5 our president and faculty were honor guests at a very beautiful reception in the halls of the Brooks Memorial Art Gallery.

Mayor Paine very warmly welcomed the educators to Memphis and introduced President Diehl, who made an address of appreciation, after which he introduced the members of the faculty in turn. A delightful musical program was rendered by members of the faculty of the Memphis Conservatory of Music.

Yea! Team---We Crave Millsaps' Goat!

THE SOU'WESTER

Published weekly by the student body of Southwestern, Memphis, Tennessee.

VOL. 7 OCTOBER 30, 1925 NO. 4

EDITORIAL STAFF

Faculty Adviser.....Prof. W. R. Atkinson
Editor-in-Chief.....John P. Simmons
Associate Editor.....Luther Southworth
Associate Editor.....James P. Gladney
Athletic Editor.....Ed. E. Buder
Assistant Athletic Editor.....C. T. Hudson
Joke Editor.....Wayne W. Gray
Co-ed Editor.....Irene Clardy
Y. M. C. A. Reporter.....H. G. Wise
Exchange Editor.....James Washington
Staff Cartoonist.....H. A. Chrisman
Staff Typist.....Jack Prichard

BUSINESS STAFF.

Business Manager.....J. Robert York
Asst. Business Manager..Sidney Cameron
Advertising Solicitor.....Harold Trinner
Advertising Solicitor.....E. P. Palmer
Advertising Solicitor.....Jeter Eason

A staff meeting is held by the Sou'wester every Monday morning at 8:15 o'clock in the publication room.

All matter must be in by 2 p.m. Tuesday before date of issue.

Subscription Price Two Dollars the Scholastic Year in Advance

FRIENDSHIP

HAVE YOU EVER BEEN BROKE? A little deposit in the Bank of Friendship will compound daily, and insure you against the rainy day of despair. There is no danger of you going "bankrupt," either, so long as you don't "overdraw." A safe plan is to deposit a little more of the "friendly coin" than you intend to "check on."

Have you ever wondered what placed Sewanee on the map? Don't you think it was due, in a large measure at least, to the wealth of friendship that was in circulation all over the campus? When their football team "hit the line" it was as though the whole school charged, because of the friendship that bound the student body as one.

Southwestern is not wholly lacking in friendliness among the students. But what of it? What if we are on a par with other colleges? Does it satisfy you for YOUR Alma Mater to remain just one among many, or would you like to see it THE college of the Mississippi Valley? I ask you, were the men who toiled unceasingly to give us our magnificent buildings and equipment, were they satisfied with mediocrity? Ah, no! Then we ought to bend every effort to give them a student body even higher above the average than are the buildings which we occupy.

To many of you students the friendship of the majority remains as a jungle, you don't know what it's like. A little stroll through the dense undergrowth would reveal many beautiful things. The soil is doubtless rich, and with your cultivation it may "blossom as the rose."

The greatest factor in building real school spirit is friendship. Let's forget our "local" fraternities, while we are on the campus, and all be brothers and sisters in a great international—the Friendship Fraternity. You know the fine spirit that is manifested in a school of, say seventy-five students. Can't we have that kind of spirit here, only on a larger scale? For a moment mount upon the wings of your imagination and soar to the loftiest heights—there ponder what Southwestern would be if EVERYONE should resolve to practice real friendliness toward others. Now, come down to the earth again and do YOUR part on the campus. Be FRIENDLY!

KEEP YOUR SOU'WESTERS!

We have noticed several copies of the Sou'wester left in the boys' social room after they had been read. It has been our experience that your school paper is just as interesting if not more so, several months or even years after it is published.

Our advice to you is that you put the Sou'wester away when you have finished reading it. You will find that you will enjoy looking it over again.

Widows are like old motors—they want new rings.

ANNUAL STAFF PREPARES BUILDING OF YEAR BOOK

Eben Bee.

James Gladney.

Call Is Made for Student Solicitors to Procure Advertisements.

Preparation for the building of the first annual to be published by the students of Southwestern College in their new home has begun. Hopes are being entertained by the staff to give to the students a first-rate, peppy annual, one they will be proud of.

Holding the reins of the undertaking are Eben Bee, editor, and James Gladney, business manager. Their job is exceedingly hard in that they have nothing to build from. All pictures from the freshman class through the senior class must be made anew. There are no funds with which to start the ball rolling.

The hearty co-operation of the student body is absolutely necessary if a successful book is to be published. Right now is the time to display your school spirit. Now is the time to lay your plans for the securing of those ever-essential advertisements.

A large percentage of the student body hails from Memphis and environs. To them largely falls the task of procuring these aforementioned advertisements.

A great many have participated in the publishing of a high school annual. You know what work is entailed. You know how expensive such books are. You know the urgent need of soliciting and securing your ads before other schools get in the field. You have a great argument should the prospective advertiser spring the news on you that he has already bought space in several annuals this year. A snappy retort, one that he will respect, is that this is a college annual, not a piddling high school edition.

It is vitally important that Southwestern ad solicitors get in the field before the high school mobs. All ad procurers are requested to speak with Gladney, that there might not be any misunderstanding of rates.

I'M THE GINK

I'm the college gink who thinks I am a "Shiek." I go around bragging about how many girls are in love with me at the present. When I'm with the ladies I make wise cracks and they think I am the cutest thing on the campus. Whenever I see a crowd of co-eds hanging around, I make it a point to get with them. It never occurs to me that the girls may look upon me as having an "empty attic." I know I am a shiek and any one else who thinks otherwise is simply jealous of my cute ways. I am hot stuff, I am.

HAIL TO THEE

Lynx Cats, you left us, hearts brave and strong.
Lynx Cats, we prayed for you, to sing the conqueror's song.
Prayed the foe would not defeat you;
Prayed that vict'ry's smile would greet you.
Lynx Cats, we love you, God bless you, every one.
Lynx Cats, you would have all, e'en had you not won.

Some girls are so dumb they think the Turkish atrocities are a brand of cigarettes.

QUIPS AND SKITS

BY THE COLLEGE HUMORIST

A freshman recently entered college accompanied by a note to Dean W. R. Cooper from an affectionate father. "My son," said the note, "has one bad habit. He will bet with anybody on most anything. I desire greatly that he shall be broken of this habit."

"Young man," said the austere Dean. "Your father tells me that you are prone to gamble. Is this true?"

"Yes, sir," admitted the freshman.

"About what do you bet?" demanded the dean.

"Almost anything," answered the freshman enthusiastically. "For instance, I'd be willing to bet five dollars that you have a mole on your left shoulder."

Dean Cooper seemed shocked for a moment, and then in his emphatic manner said, "Young man, I'll teach you a lesson. I'll take that bet." Then locking the door to his office the Dean stripped off coat and shirt and showed the unperturbed freshman an unblemished shoulder. The freshman handed over five dollars. "Now," snaped the Dean, "let that be a lesson to you."

The wayward freshman retired, and Dean addressed a letter to his father as follows:

"I just interviewed your son about his gambling habits. He had the affrontery to bet me $5.00 that I had a mole on my left shoulder. I took his $5.00 just to teach him a lesson and am enclosing this amount in this letter. I think he will act more wisely in the future."

A few days later Dean Cooper received the following note from an irate father:

"We both lose, that young scalawag bet me $25.00 before he left home that he would have your shirt off your back fifteen minutes after he met you."

CLASS ROOM NOTE

"The first witness of most miracles of the Bible were Hebrews, who are the most skeptical of all people. Perhaps all the Hebrews came from Missouri."

Scythe of Death Stalks Into Clarskville Hall

"Old Faithful," one of the most prominent and familiar figures on the campus, passed away Sunday evening at 10 o'clock. Death was due to an unsuspicious looking piece of chocolate candy, but whose outer appearance was not justified.

"Old Faithful" is better known as the co-eds' mascot and occupied a prominent place in the front porch swing at Clarksville Hall. This spot will always hold a memory to the many friends and otherwise of our departed member.

A holiday was expected for the interment, but owing to an unusual rush, it was not given. However, the members of Clarksville Hall wish to express their gratitude for the kind and sympathetic messages of relief which were sent, and to Mr. Harrison in particular.

Some Difference

"I vant some peppah."
"What kind, cayenne or black?"
"I vant some writing peppah!"—Ex.

A Proud Moment

"Well, I came down with flying colors, anyhow," remarked the painter who had just fallen from the scaffolding with a pail of paint in each hand.—Ex.

J. Robert York

CAMPUS REPRESENTATIVE OF

BEASLEY BROS.-JONES-RAGLAND, INC.

CLOTHIERS HATTERS FURNISHERS

99 S. MAIN ST.

"IT PAYS TO BUY OUR KIND"

FRESHMEN, SOPHOMORES, JUNIORS, SENIORS, ATHLETES

Do You Know?
"HOW TO STUDY"

The Students' Hand-Book of Practical Hints on the Technique of Effective Study
By WILLIAM ALLAN BROOKS

A GUIDE containing hundreds of practical hints and short cuts in the economy of learning to assist students in securing MAXIMUM SCHOLASTIC RESULTS at a minimum cost of time, energy, and fatigue.

EPECIALLY RECOMMENDED for overworked students and athletes engaged in extra curriculum activities and for average and honor students who are working for high scholastic achievement.

Some of the Topics Covered

Scientific Shortcuts in Effective Study
Preparing for Examinations.
Writing Good Examinations.
Brain and Digestion in Relation to Study.
How to Take Lecture and Reading Notes.
Advantages and Disadvantages of Cramming.
The Athlete and His Studies.
Diet During Athletic Training.
How to Study Modern Languages.
How to Study Science, Literature, etc.
Why Go to College?
After College, What?
Developing Concentration and Efficiency.
etc., etc., etc., etc., etc., etc., etc.

Why You Need This Guide

"It is safe to say that failure to guide and direct study in the weak point in the whole educational machine." Prof. G. M. Whipple, U. of Michigan.

"The successful men in college do not seem to be very happy. Most of them, especially the athletes, are overworked." Prof. H. S. Canby, Yale.

"Misdirected labor, though honest and well intentioned, may lead to naught. Among the most important things for the student to learn is how to study. Without knowledge of this his labor may be largely in vain." Prof. G. F. Swain, M.I.T.

To students who have never learnt 'How to Study,' work is very often a chastisement, a flagellation, and an insuperable obstacle to contentment." Prof. A. Inglis, Harvard.

"HOW TO STUDY" will show you how to avoid all misdirected effort.

Get a good start and make this year a highly successful one by sending for this handbook and guide NOW.

You Need This Intelligent Assistance

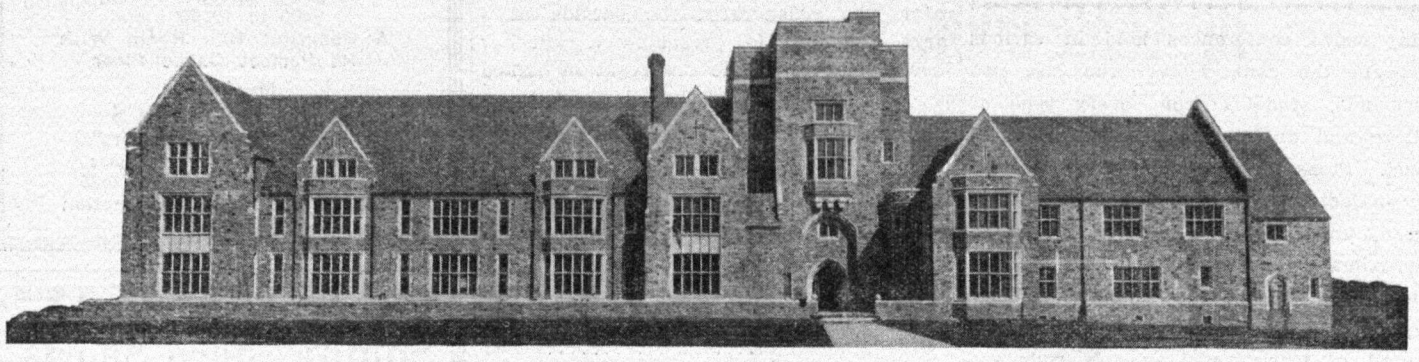
CLIP AND MAIL TODAY.

American Student Publishers,
22 West 43rd St., New York.
Gentlemen:
Please send me copy of "How to Study" for which I enclose $1.00 cash; $1.10 check.

Name .....

Address .....

THINGS WE SHOULD BE PROUD OF



It is true, perhaps, that a thousand years is but as a day. Therefore, in the course of a very short time, comparatively, these buildings will be old and weatherbeaten, and they will be scarred by age. In the years that are to come these buildings will crumble into ruins; they will have played their part toward making humanity better. It is true that these buildings are destined to crumble under the continuous onslaughts of time, but there are things about our school which we hope will not be subject to deteriorating agents of any kind. As we have stressed previously the ideals, the customs, the spirit of honor that has for many years characterized us will not die. These are some of the non-material things that we should be proud of; these are the things that will grow, not deteriorate, with time.

But, though we realize, as a general principle that it is dangerous for a man to consider his achievements of too great importance, we cannot refrain from expressing our pride in our new school, a school which we hope will become a truly great school in the near future. We realize that the school, as it is now, is but a nucleus of the future school; and we furthermore realize that those of the future would doubtless smile at our feeling of pride could they know of it.

Nevertheless, the fact remains that we are justified in being proud of this noble beginning, this beginning that will result in a great school, a school renowned in history.

The buildings of our school are equal to most other college buildings at the present time; but more than that, they have been planned and constructed with an eye for the future. Therefore, the students of the Southwestern of the future will be able to look upon these strong and sturdy pieces of architecture with almost as much pride as we do now.

There are other things of which we are proud. We are proud of the fact that this school represents the greater part of the lower Mississippi Valley. Many have had a part in making it, and even a greater number will have the pleasure of taking advantage of the opportunities which it offers now and will continue to offer in the future. We are proud of the fact that it is a Christian school; it represents an ideal of an educational institution, and it is largely due to the interest of Christians that the present school owes its life.

Again we are proud of the fact that the school has such an excellent location. The campus is one such as is not possessed by many other institutions of the kind. We are also proud of the spirit of the Memphis people. They have shown us that they are back of us. We are proud of that.

As to the faculty, little need be said. Among them there are P.H.D.'s, Rhodes scholars—and we are proud of that also. But the greaest thing about the faculty is the fact that they are men who are not afraid of work; they are men of sincere conviction; they are broad-minded, and we believe that they are really working for the good of the institution. Therefore, we are justly proud of our faculty.

There are many other things that we might mention, but there is no need of going into detail. It is enough to say that we are proud of our institution and all that goes to make it a great school. We are proud of it, not alone for what it is now, but for what it will be in the future.

A thousand years is but as a day, but before that day has hardly dawned we will make this one of the greatest schools of this section, and indeed of all the land.

WHERE MEN ARE MEN

Sam H.—"Where I live people start to town in a wagon, and it is only a question of how far you can go before you get stuck. Sometimes even the mules get stuck."

Sid D.—"Down in Sunflower County where I live, the shadow of birds get stuck and the birds often starve."

A man begins growing sage after he has sown his wild oats.

Identified.

We—Who is that fellow with the long hair?

She—He's a fellow from Yale."

We—Oh, I've often heard of those Yale locks.—College of the Pacific Weekly.

Missed.

"Your son just threw a stone at me."

"Did he hit you."

"No."

"Then he wasn't my son."—Oklahoma Seabag.

The Lazy Janitor

A countryman on holiday in the city was walking past a high building. He saw the following notice: 'Please ring the bell for the janitor."

He rang the bell furiously, and the janitor, who lived at the top of the building, hurried down, and, out of breath, asked the man what he wanted.

The man pointed to the notice and said, "Why can't you ring the bell yourself?"

A Sure Sign

Married man (early in the morning)—"It must be time to get up!"

Wife—"What makes you think so?"

"Baby's asleep!"

Words, Idle Words

"Did you have words with your wife?"

"Yes, I had words, but no opportunity for using them."

Prof. Cooper (in history class): "Miss Laughlin, how big is a battleship?"

Liz: "What size battleship?"

Prof. Cooper: "Oh! a big one."

Liz: "How big?"

WANT AD COLUMN

WANTED—Just one more girl. Must have teeth and at least one good eye. Apply to A. Dulin.

WANTED—Information on how to make a "spit curl." See Mary Culberson.

WANTED—Students who desire lesson in "shieking," to form a class. Cave-man stuff a specialty. Call or phone Robert Penn Moss.

WANTED—Some method of softening "Noisy" Lemmon's disposition. Refer to entire freshman class.

WANTED—A girl in partnership. See Freshmen Purvis and Murphy.

The Right Kind

Waiter: "The gentleman says his chop isn't fit for a pig."

Proprietor: "Then take it away and bring him one that is."

Doctor: "I can cure your husband of talking in his sleep."

Woman: "Couldn't you just give him something that would make him talk more distinctly?"

A Success in His Failing

Husband—Telling lies is not one of my failures."

Wife—No, dear, it's one of your few successes."

Real Tolerance

Jackson: "I have a Ford; what car have you?"

Everett: "A Packard."

Jackson: "Well, that's a good car, too!"

One On the Teacher

Johnny had come to school with dirty hands.

"What would you say," the teacher asked him, "if I should come to school with such dirty hands?"

"Nothin,'" answered Johnny. "I'd be too polite."

Kornik Millinery Co.
MANUFACTURERS AND WHOLESALE DEALERS IN MILLINERY
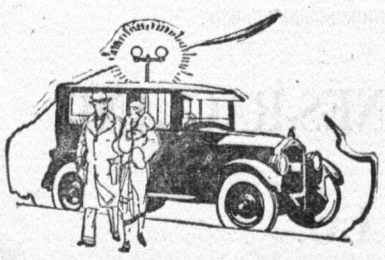
71 Union Avenue

KUHN'S PHARMACY
PAUL A. KUHN, Prop.
Prescriptions Carefully Compounded
Drugs - Soda - Cigars
Quick Free Delivery
KODAK SUPPLIES
One day service on film developing
Tutwiler and McLean
Phone 7-7710

Drive This Car Whenever You Wish



KEEP A CAR BY THE WEEK
Pay for the actual mileage you drive.
Saturday Nights and Sunday Excepted
THAT'S ECONOMY
FORDS OVERLANDS
DODGES HERTZ
Special Rates for Long Trips
"SIGN OF BETTER SERVICE"
JOLLY'S MOTOR LIVERY CORPORATION
213 Madison 6-0496
17 South Cleveland 2-2712
Southwestern Representative:
NOLAN PIERCE

University Park Beauty Parlor and Barber Shop
CLEANING AND PRESSING
611-613 N. McLEAN—PHONE 7-5851-W
All Work Done by Experts. We Solicit Your Patronage.
J. O. FINLEY, Representative on Campus.

THINK! FELLOWS!

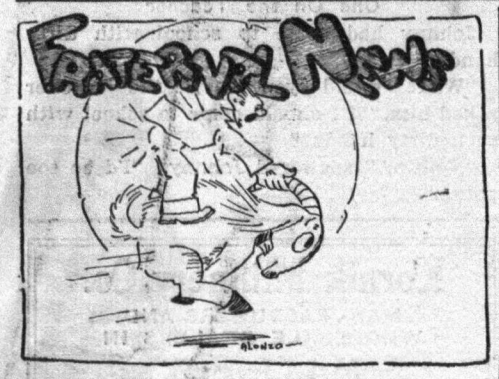
What that allowance will BUY at prices way below our competitors.

SNAPPY CLOTHES
for particular dressers at remarkably low prices.

Jacket Sweaters $5.45
All collegiate colors and patterns.

Smart Headdress $2.85 Up

MONROE HAT SHOPS
30 S. Main



RECENT PLEDGES

KAPPA SIGMA

Fred Underwood and Fred Mayo

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Ralph McCaskill

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

John L. Boynton

Studio Tea For Chi Omega

Miss Fredericka Magnus gave an informal tea at her studio on October 24th for the active Chi Omega Chapter and several of the out of town pledges.

A. P. O. Meeting.

The Alpha Pi Omicron Fraternity had a called meeting Monday morning for the purpose of electing officers. In order to eliminate politics, Mr. Eben Bee was elected G. S. and Mr. Luther Pierce was elected vice-president, secretary and treasurer. Long live the A. P. O.!

Chi Omega Pledges Honered.

The pledges of the Chi Omega Fraternity were honorees of a delightful theater box party at the Lyceum Saturday, given by Mrs. H. T. Bunn, alumnae member of the Psi Chapter of the Chi Omega Fraternity at the University of Arkansas.

The four boxes were beautifully decorated with the fraternity colors, cardinal and straw, and Chi Omega pennants. During the intermission attractive favors carrying out the color scheme were presented.

Besides the pledges were invited all members of the active Kappa Beta Chapter of Chi Omega and the Memphis Alumnae.

THE COLLEGE MAN
BUYS HIS OWN

He don't have to be told what they are wearing in the East or on English campuses. He knows!

That's why Bacherig's Suits and Topcoats require no sales argument.

The fabrics, patterns and models are the ideas of the smartest dressed college men.

Suits $35 and Up

Topcoats $25 to $45

Sam Bacherig
Nothing But Fine Clothes
4 S. MAIN ST.

Students Interested In World Court

In twelve conferences held in various parts of the country over the last two week-ends, students from every type of college and university studied the World Court. Plans for campus investigation on the subject were set up and the work is already under way in a number of schools. Approximately 450 of the keenest student minds decided that the educational campaign which is being sponsored by the Council of Christian Associations during the fall months is a worthy enterprise and that they will give their fullest cooperation.

The special World Court conferences of the past week-end included two in Nebraska, one in Oklahoma City, one in Galesburg, Ill., and one in Sioux Falls, S. D. An average of fifty students attended each of these regional and state gatherings and considered the World Court.

During the latter part of October and the first half of November, between thirty-five and fifty similar conferences are planned in line with the accelerated interest in international affairs focusing on the opening of the Senate debate on December 17th.

During the first two weeks of December, a national poll will be conducted by the New Student and the Council of Christian Associations' World Court Committee, which will be the culmination of weeks of study and discussion. In the poll, students will express their approval or disapproval of the entrance of the United States into the court.

This intensive series of meetings has grown out of the resolutions passed at the recent annual meeting of the Council of Christian Associations in which the student leaders from campuses from all quarters of the country expressed the belief that the United States should enter the World Court at the earliest possible date. This conviction resulted from a study of the situation as it exists and was followed by a plan whereby students all over the country may have a chance to educate themselves on the issue and to mobolize whatever thought may result from the study done on local campuses and in conferences.

The conviction that students should take a continuous interest in things international and that they should exert a vital force in shaping of policies led to the purpose that the intensive educational campaign should be only the first step toward the continuous influence of an intelligent and active student opinion on all matters of international concern.

Raymond Fosdick, Ivy L. Lee, Irving Fisher, Manley Hudson, and ex-Governor Sweet of Colorado are among those interested in the stand the student movement has taken on the World Court issue, and are lecturing and supplying expert help in the regional and state conferences. The full-time speakers for the campaign include Kirby Page, Mrs. Laura Puffer Morgan, chairman of the Women's National World Court Committee, Alden Alley, Frederick Snyder, J. Nevin Sayre and George Collins.

Those who have observed the interest springing up immediately among students wherever World Court has been mentioned attribute it to the fact that this is the first great national issue that has presented itself since the presidential election and that it carries a more vital interest since the presidential election was a more or less foregone conclusion. Student interest is increased by the fact that the outcome of the Senate debate may result in definite and far-reaching action on the part of the United States government toward the assumption of greater international responsibility.

CONGREGATION BALKS; BUT MAN GETS 100 MEN

It pays to have a system.

The story is told of an exterior decorator who redecorated the outside of a large church. He presented a bill for $100. Members of the congregation balked at its settlement. They demanded an itemized account. Here is the list of claims the decorator held:

Correcting the Ten Commandments	$ 7.10
Embellishing Pontius Pilot and putting new ribbon on his bonnet	3.02
Putting new tail on the rooster of St. Peter	4.18
Reguilding the left wing of the Guardian Angel	2.02
Washing the servant of the High Priest and putting rouge on his cheek	3.10
Renewing Heaven	1.00
Adjusting Stars	2.06
Cleaning the Moon	.10
Rebordering the robes of Herrod and adjusting his wig	1.43
Restoring lost souls	25.00
Taking the spots off of Tobias	1.00
Grooming Ballam's ass and putting new shoes on him	5.06
Putting ear rings in Sarah's ears	24.00
Putting new stone in David's sling	1.10
Enlarging the head of Goliath	1.03
Extending Saul's legs	2.05
Decorating Noah Ark	6.50
Mending the shirt of the Prodigal Son	6.35
Brightening up the flames of Hell	.60
Putting a new tail on the Devil	1.50
Putting a silver dollar over the poor box	.80
Doing several odd jobs for the Damned	1.00
Total	$100.00

Independent

"Will you give me a kiss if I give you a nickel?" asked the little boy's aunt.

"Nickel nothing!" he exclaimed. "I get more than that for taking castor oil."

SHRINE ROOF
DANCING
Nightly Except Sunday
9:00 to 12:00 p.m.
A Beautiful Ball Room With
Its Perfect Dance Floor
Music By
JOE BENNETT'S
"Moonlight Syncopators"
Special Hallowe'en Frolic
Saturday, October 31, 1925
Soda Fountain In Connection

Southwestern Sports Wear

BLAZIER JACKETS
BEST GRADE
$5.95 TO $7.50
Leather Jackets, $12.50 to $20

We specialize in
SWEATERS
The Finest Obtainable
$9.00 TO $20.00

Slip-overs in Southwestern Colors

Ensley-Carrigan Co.
8 N. MAIN
Premier Dealers in Sporting Goods, Guns, Ammunition

Patronize our Advertisers.

Hit 'Em Hard
LYNX CATS

WE ARE BACK OF YOU

BEASLEY BROS.-JONES-RAGLAND

BURK & CO.

GOLDEN EAGLE CLOTHING CO.

PHIL A. HALLE

OAK HALL

JOHNSTON & VANCE

WALKER M. TAYLOR

EASON PHARMACY
NORRIS EXQUISITE CANDIES
SOUTHWESTERN COLORS
N. McLEAN and PARKWAY - - PHONES: 7-2016 and 7-9311