GIVE NUMERALS AND SWEATERS AT BANQUET

COACH TACITURN
ABOUT BANQUET
AND LETTERMEN

Second-Year Men Decide
On Sweater-Coats

WHO GETS LETTERS?

Banquet To Be Held After
Sweaters Arrive (?)

The scheduled time for the annual Southwestern football banquet, which is held after every football season, is indefinite as yet. No satisfactory news as the date, place, or the lettermen for this year has been announced by Coach Jess Neely.

Last year the banquet was held in the school dining hall and the letters and sweaters were presented to the men at this gathering. In all probability the same procedure will be gone thru again and the banquet will be held shortly after the sweaters arrive.

CHANGE IN SWEATERS

A slight change will be made in the sweaters this year. All the players who have already earned their football letters will be allowed to select the style of sweater they desire. This number includes Captain Arthur Dulin, Henry Waring, Joe Davis, Lorin King, Crawford MacGivern, Warren Smith, Flint Lidlon, Vern Baumgarten, Bobby Lloyd, Frank Trelawney, Harold Gillespie, Dode Farnsworth and Milton Hawk. These men met with Coach Neely on Tuesday and agreed to get all the sweaters alike, black coat sweaters without collars.

What new men will make letters is unknown, as Coach Jess Neely has been taciturn so far. These men will receive the regulation black slipover sweater, the same as were given out last season.

WOMAN SUES CHURCH'
CHICAGO, NOV. 23.—Because Edgar E. Murphy, Purdue university football captain in 1922, decided to enter the Catholic priesthood on the eve of his proposed marriage to her, Ethel Jean Masden, of Dallas, Tex., has sued him for $50,000, alleging breach of promise. Murphy is now in a California seminary, she said.

"His ideals were offended by an incident she said occurred in 'a moment of worldly weakness' while they were waiting to be married, she said. 'I was sorry after it happened but was willing to forget,' she said. 'He proposed that we both don the cloth of the church to atone. He was such an idealist. As I was not a member of his faith I could not consent to his plans.'

A woman may become a man at will wear a man's clothes and lead a man's life. Furthermore she may change back if she decides she wants to marry.

However, her husband is then required by local etiquette to kill any man to whom his wife was engaged before she changed her sex.

S. A. E.'S HONOR DECEASED
LARAMIE, WYO.—Fred Berner, 20, who underwent an operation after surgeons told him he probably would not survive, is dead.

Berner, a medical student, had been suffering from sinus trouble. A few days ago he became ill after unpacking zoological specimens from formaldehyde. The fumes had affected the sinus and caused a brain abscess.

Informed yesterday that he had no chance to live without an operation and small chance to survive such an operation, Berner decided to take the latter chance.

His mother, Mrs. J. J. Berner, Redondo Beach, Calif., was with him. His father is en route here.

Several Reasons Why The Lynx Fared So Well Against Their Football Rivals This Year

Here are some of the chief reasons for the Lynx's showing in football this year. Coach Jess Neely and Pos Elam, line coach, between them turned out a fast team this year. Both of these coaches are responsible for developing practically all the players and have taught them a great deal of football since they have been on the Lynx squad. Captain Arthur Dulin, stellar guard, and Joe Davis, last year's captain, both had big seasons, their last season with the Lynx as both graduate in June. Arthur and Joe have played four years with the Lynx and have starred each year. "Gip" Gillespie played his best football this season and his great punting and line plunging have been high lights all year. Coach Neely and Pos Elam will be in charge of the team again next year and Gillespie will probably be back in the fold. Davis and Dulin, the last of the old guard, will be sorely missed. Dulin had perhaps his best season while acting as captain, and has been a stone wall on defense all year and a good offensive man. His work has won the praise of every opposing coach the Lynx have met this season. Joe Davis has been somewhat handicapped with a bad knee but played great football both defensively and offensively and was a wizard at snagging passes. Neely will have a hard time finding two men to fill their shoes when next football season rolls around as these boys had everything it takes to make a football player.

Bobcats Meet Central Champions

Saturday In Annual Grid Battle

Local Prep Champions Priming for Tilt with Southwestern Freshmen. Frosh Victors in Past Over the Best of the Preps

The Southwestern Bobcats will play their annual game with Central High, chief claimants to the city prep school title, Saturday at Fargason Field.

Last year, the Bobcats nosed out Central, city champions for that season, in a hard fought game, 13 to 12. The game this year is expected to supply plenty of fireworks as the Bobcats are having a big season, having lost but one game, while Central has not been defeated in the city conference, but was tied twice.

Coach Wes Adams will have a strong line-up and will use George Hightower, Lamar Pittman and Harry Walton in the backfield, the big three of the Bobcat attack. This backfield will face Coach Hugh Magevney's galloping backs who ran so well against C. B. C. on Turkey Day.

Eaton Elder, Billy Mason, Bert Pouncey, Bob McClure and Nevitt Henderson are all somewhat small but have speed to spare. Three All-Memphis players will be on the Central line-up in Eaton Elder, Captain Whittaker and Bill Voss. Whittaker is quarterback and a heady field general besides being a good ground gainer.

Coach Adams will probably use "Red" Veirs and Elton Heard at ends, John Porter and Elder at tackles, "Chief" John and John Logan at guards, and "City Slicker" Thommason at center.

"Buck" Roberts or Chauncy Barbour will hold down the other backfield position.

The game will be called at 2:30 p. m.

Fifty cents admission will be charged in order to raise money to buy the Bobcats some sweaters and numerals.

Harold Ehrensparger, of Chicago, will talk on, "Some Unusual Aspects of Modern Drama," this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Mr. Ehrensparger is a lecturer at Northwestern University.

MEMPHIS TEAMS

OPEN CAMPAIGN TO RAISE FUNDS

Four 'Armies' Mobilize for Money Drive

WOMEN HELPING

Out to Raise $537,000 for the Institution

Southwestern's campaign army started mobilizing in earnest Wednesday, with the announcement of 40 members of Division "A," the large gift division, of which C. D. Smith is general.

The teams announced for division "A" will comprise only about half the divisional membership, as other teams are being paired up by campaign executives.

Work will start immediately, as upon the large gift committee depends the responsibility of raising $350,000 of the $537,000 which Southwestern asks for.

Four divisions will comprise the campaign army. Divisions "B" and "C" will be citizens' divisions, while division "D" will handle the quota of $137,000 allotted to Memphis Presbyterians. The large gift division will apply the funds it raises either to the Presbyterian or Citizens' quotas, depending on the source.

Two American flags will be the daily flag for which campaign workers will strive. The general of the division making the best showing will be given custody of one flag following each day's report, and the team making the best report will get the other.

To the large gift division's work has started, no contributions will be announced until the official opening of the campaign between Dec. 5 and Dec. 7.

A "flying squadron" heads the large gift division, members of which will work interchangeably. It is composed of C. D. Smith, Frank Fisher, Bayard Snowden, T. K. Riddick, G. T. Fitzhugh and Leslie Stratton.

Freshman Sou'wester Staff Primes

For Annual Frosh Issue On Dec. 16

Special Staff of Neophytes Sharpen Wits and Scissors In Preparation of Demoralizing Expose of Upperclassmen

Freshmen of Southwestern are wearing that smile of satisfaction because they are going to issue the Christmas special edition of the Sou'wester, student weekly publication.

The smile is not so much in recognition of the annual honor thus given to the freshman class by the regular staff of upperclassmen, as in recognizing it to be the best way to get even with the haughty upperclassmen by publishing stinging remarks and caustic stories.

Freshman Richard Monk has been named by his class to edit the "desecration number." He will be aided by Freshman Houston Minniee as assistant editor. Both freshmen have done good work on the Sou'wester this fall.

While the boys occupy the leading editorial offices, the girls hold sway over the business department. Headed by Pauline Barton as business-manager Charlotte Bruce, as assistant business-manager, the girls plan to make the issue a paying number. Louise Russell will assist Misses Barton and Bruce in rustling up the necessary advertisements and in collecting for them after they are run. Jeff Davis, president of the class, is the only male member in this department, being the only accountant elected.

"We will start with the president of the student body and go on down to the meanest sophomore in our expose of this so-called upperclass intelligentsia," says Monk, as he gathers his ideas for his enlightening issue, which comes off the press of Dec. 16. "The freshmen have swallowed insults all year, but we will show these dense upperclassmen that we are not such loggerheads, after all."

75 Cents Collected On Amount Pledged

Four hundred and fifty generous Southwestern students have pledged a sum total of $60 with which to send a student delegate to the national Student Volunteer conclave, which will be held in Detroit from Dec. 28 thru Jan. 2.

Students were requested Wednesday to pay their pledges, and 75 cents was collected. The cost of one delegate is $75.

There will be two delegates from Southwestern—one student and one faculty.

Discuss Party For Freshmen-Juniors

"The Human Family" was the subject of a talk by Dorothy Eddins last Wednesday before the regular Y. W. C. A. meeting in Hardie Chapel.

The meeting was opened with a devotional service, led by Anne Shewmaker.

Songs were practiced for the initiation ceremony which was held last night.

All For Love Of The Game

One must have many of the cherished requirements to be a football player. It takes not only brawn, stamina and a mean look, but also courage, fortitude and perseverance.

The season just closed demonstrates the necessity of each. We had a long, tough schedule this season. Our team met opponents that were the pride of their sections—regular big-time machines. We need not refresh your memory that Alabama tied for championship of the United States last year, or that Ole Miss has a moleskin aggregation that was raised with a football instead of a bottle, or that the Quantico Marines are composed of All-American players and other almost All-American men.

In view of such stubborn resistance this year, we marvel at such a creditable showing made by our pack of Cats. It is true the team played poorly in two of their tilts, but consider the remaining nine games. It is human to have an off-day. Perhaps you have those seasons of lethargy or apathy toward work. So it is with gridmen, for their lot is a daily grind from early afternoon until after dark.

It is a wonder they do not weary of the game long before the season is half over—but that is the fascination of sport that real sportsmen cultivate thru love of a sport.

A man that will practice hard each day in the week, climaxing the weeks' struggle with a hard tilt, and then starting the grind over the next week—all being time spent outside the classroom, is deserving of appreciation.

We think that any man that has gone out for football thruout the season, whether he played any game or not, should be given a letter and sweater.

We Boys Must Protect Ourselves

If someone would convince the sorority girls that they are not fraternity girls, we would be grateful.

It is a source of pity on our part to think that our girls should be suffering from the misapprehension that they are fraternity girls.

The girls contend that there is no adjective form of the noun "sorority," consequently they must perforce use the word noun "fraternity" and its adjective form "fraternal."

We contend that if there is no word in the English language to suit the thought, one has the privilege of coining such a suitable combination of letters as to suit the end in views.

If we may be permitted to venture a coinage of our own, how does "sororitorial" suit as an adjective of "sorority?"

We boys desire to have that word "fraternity" remain as it was intended by the Romans without skirts perverting its meaning.

I'm The Gink

I'm the gink who starts rushing three-weeks before the legal time. I know it takes a smart man to hedge-off a freshman and talk fraternity to him until he is sick with nausea. I am especially adept at flim-flamming the campus, because if they knew I was rushing they would frown on me. But I have protected myself and my bunch, if it comes to a showdown, because I have a good excuse. If I was charged with the official council with "rushing," I could deny it with grace and, although they know the charge to be true, could keep an adverse vote in the council from expelling my bunch. But after awhile I got so open in my tactics—after I had sounded the campus and found that nothing was done except frequent castings of mean looks for my pettiness, that I spent money on "THE MAN" and dared anybody else to play with him. I know I'm smart, but anything will do to get "THE MAN," whether it is legal or not. Boy, can I pass out the salve—why I would shine the shoes of "THE MAN" to get his oath that he would go my way. I got "THE MAN" and I did worse than shine his shoes.

WHO'S WHO IN SENIOR CLASS

Ethel Brown

Student organizations at Southwestern will miss one of the most consistent of workers thru graduation next June. Ethel Brown, affiliated with all the leading girls' organizations, will conclude her college course by accepting a sheepskin attached thereto.

Ethel was born at Chattanooga, Tenn., on July 18, 1906. She received her initial introduction to books and pencil boxes when she entered the first grade at Notre Dame, graduating from this educational unit with honors some eight years later. Then she entered the St. Agnes Academy, completing her high school education there.

Southwestern opened in Memphis one year too late, and while waiting for a year to lapse, she spent her freshman year at Normal. And then she entered Southwestern during her sophomore year, and will complete her three-year course next June.

While here Miss Brown has been prominent in Kappa Delta sorority work, has represented her chapter on the Girls' Pan-Hellenic council, is a member of the girls' San Hedrin, president of both Chi Delta and the Glee Club, was vice-president of Chi Delta Phi last year, co-ed address on the Sou'wester last year, on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet this year.

Alice Rodgers and Elizabeth Hobson, of Laurel, Miss., visited Alice Patrick last week-end. Louise Cole, of Jackson, Tenn., also visited Miss Patrick over the week-end.

Lynx Pull Down Grid Curtain

Lynx Drub Majors
In Turkey Event
By Score of 19-6

Cats Rise in their Natural
Wrath to Cop Classic
In Easy Manner

Turkey Day was well celebrated by Coach Jess Neely's Lynx who accepted an invitation to entertainment in Jackson, Miss., with the Millsaps Majors as hosts. The Lynx dined royally and right well having Major meat for the main meal and ditto for dessert. The final score was 19 to 6, favor of the Lynx.

These Millsaps Majors were battled in their own back yard and, altho they gained more ground and made more first downs, as Dago Trelawney expressed it, "when the Lynx did gain it meant something."

Mt. Dode Farnsworth was the guest of honor, Mr. Farnsworth crossed the Majors goal line three times during the fray and then ended a perfect day by kicking one try for point, scoring all 19 of the Lynx score. The eminent Mr. "Nigger" Hawk also galloped hither and yon for great gains and, in fact, the whole team played well after the first quarter.

DODE GOES OVER

Millsaps started off the fireworks, Hawk returned the kickoff 50 yards, but the Majors gained the ball on downs and staged two marches by hitting the line and by passing. The first was halted but the second ended in a touchdown. In the second quarter the Lynx started battling. Hawk, Bobby Lloyd and Dode made several first downs and then Dode plunged thru the line and galloped 23 yards to tie the score.

In the third quarter the Lynx took the lead. Hawk tossed a pass to Farnsworth who again galloped over the line and then kicked goal. The final tally came in the last period when Farnsworth took another pass from Hawk and raced about 25 yards for the final score.

T. M. "Chained Lightning" Garrott made the feature play of the game when he intercepted a pass and raced (?) 23 yards. He had perfect interference in front but the Lynx failed to block from behind.

Lorin King, Chi Waring, Dode, Dago and Nigger all played well as did Captain Dulin.

SPEAKING
ATHLETICS

By Baumgarten

Football season has come and gone as far as the Southwestern varsity is concerned. The season has not been a howling success but neither has it been a rank failure. Only two games stand out that should have been better—these being the Henderson-Brown and the Hendrix game. Both these teams, however, have formidable elevens.

The Bobcats have still a few games to go. They are enjoying a great year and should get more praise than they do. They work as hard as the varsity, get as many hard knocks but do not get near the returns in awards, praise or attendance. Let's support them in their final games.

Four Southwestern players pulled black and red jerseys of the Lynx football team off for the last time Saturday. These were Captain Arthur Dulin, ex-captain Joe Davis, T. M. Garrott and Ora Johnson. Dulin and Davis have been starring for four seasons on the Lynx. T. M. Garrott, after a few years of scrubbing, which takes plenty of perseverance, did some real playing when he broke in the lineup this season. Ora Johnson, diminutive back, has been battling on the reserves for four years, handicapped by a lack of weight but not by lack of nerve, battle or love of the game. Perhaps Ora deserves more credit than any for he has stuck with it, tho only getting a few chances to get into the lineup, but when he did get in he put out everything he had—and what more can you ask of anyone?

We don't know what these four are going to do when they graduate, but if they fight their way as they did in football they will reach the top in something.

There is a lost feeling when a gridman plays his last game of football. The game has a great power or fascination once it gets into the blood. Watch any football game when the old-timers flock around the side lines and you will see

He will be seen soon in the role of mentor of the basketball court.

Lynx Have Good Season After All,
Closing With 5 Won, 5 Lost, 1 Tied

Gridders Round Out Heavy Schedule with a Balanced Sheet, Scoring 146 Points Against 185, Altho Blanked in Four Games

Gazing back over the past three months of the Lynx football season, when all has been said and done, it appears the Lynx had a fairly successful season. They played 11 games, won 5, lost 5, and tied one, but remembering the caliber of the majority of their opponents, several of the games would have been unusual upsets if southwestern had won.

The season opened up with Lambuth College from Jackson, Tenn. This game was a workout for Neely's men who ran hither and thither over Fargason Field to beat the invaders 40 to 12.

The following week, the Lynx travelled to Tuscaloosa, Ala., to meet the famed Crimson Tide of the University of Alabama. For the first half the Tide surged and washed without avail, but the Lynx cracked in the final periods and went down before a much heavier and experienced foe, 31 to 0.

TROUNCE BIRM-S. TEAM

Fargason Field was the scene of the next battle against Birmingham-Southern, traditional foe. Despite a ruling which barred freshman players, the Lynx swarmed over the visitors, 19 to 7, in one of the best played games of the season.

Then came the big slump. Henderson-Brown, from the sticks of Arkansas, invaded the Lynx camp and carried off the long end of a 15 to 0 score. This game was a black spot in the schedule at the time but later looked somewhat better as the Reddies tied for the Arkansas state title, not losing a game all season.

More woe descended the next week. Ole Miss galloped over the Lynx at Fargason Field 39 to 0, while the Southwestern supporters wept in the stands as their bitterest rivals swamped the team.

HOT FOR ARKANSAS

Altho Memphis fans were beginning to believe the Lynx had stopped winning for the season, Neely's players came back the following week and after inviting Arkansas College to Fargason Field, romped over them 24 to 0.

Better times were at hand. The strong Ouachita eleven, from Arkansas, visited Memphis next. This team, with but one defeat in three years, narrowly escaped with a 12 to 12 tie, scoring the tie counter in the last few seconds of play. Ouachita later tied Henderson-Brown for the Arkansas title.

The next game brought delight to the Southwestern supporters. West Tenn-

Marines Shocked
At Bold Defense
Of Lynx Gridmen

Strong Service Team Held to 19-0 Score by Cats in Final Game

The Quantico Marines, 18 of them and the world's ugliest bulldog, invaded Fargason Field Saturday to meet Coach Jess Neely's Lynx. Uncle Sam's big boys stormed and tore at the Lynx defense the entire game and ended with the long portion of a 19 to 0 score. Incidentally, these Marines have not lost a game this season, have possession of the army corps championship, and the Lynx score was the second lowest they have been held to this year, which makes the Lynx feel much better than is usual in a case of defeat. It was the final game of the season and the last appearance of three Lynx in a Southwestern uniform, Captain Arthur Dulin, Joe Davis and T. M. Garrott.

The Marines staged several marches about the field but in most cases were unable to crack the Southwestern line when a touchdown loomed in the offing. The Lynx offense only made two first downs but they managed to threaten the Devil Dogs several times.

LYNX ALMOST SCORE

The Lynx got the first break and made the first threat. O'Neill fumbled a punt and Southwestern recovered on the visitor's 8 yard line, but were unable to break thru the mammoth line. The Marines began their march then but the Lynx held and held thru the first quarter. In the second quarter, however, the Devil Dogs staged another march helped out by a 35 yard gain by Mr. Levey and several line plunges by Brunelle and Woods, the latter finally plunging over to score. The half ended 6 to 0.

Another tally came in the third quarter on another steady drive, which ended by Woods again plunging across and then kicking goal. The last touchdown in the final period came as a result of two passes from Brunelle to Gottko and then Gottko plunged over for the score.

SNAGS 40 YARD PASS

The Lynx made few offensive drives. Just before the half ended Trelawney tossed a long pass to Davis who climbed up over two Marines to snag it for a 40 yard gain.

Havorn Parnell played a great game for the Lynx, breaking up passes and on defense. Trelawney, Waring and Joe Davis showed up well, as did Lorin King and Arthur Dulin. Dulin was not much in evidence as he usually was buried under a pile when he made his tackles but he presented a stone wall that the Marines found hard to crack.

The Lynx lettermen this year, hailing from far and wide, finally wound the season up playing together on the Southwestern football team.

Just take a glance over the lineup—Joe Davis, end, hibernates at Smyrna, Tenn., while "Chi" Waring, the other wing man, grew up in Chicago, Ill., that town of machine guns and gangsters.

Lorin King, tackle, is from Dyersburg, Tenn., where "men are mean." Crawford MacGivern, the other tackle, is from Vicksburg, Miss., Flint Liddon, guard, is a native son of Memphis, while Captain Arthur Dulin comes from Brownsville, Tenn. Vern Baumgarten, center, sprouted up in Port Arthur, Canada, where whiskey still flows over the bars.

In the backfield, Dode Farnsworth is another Yankee coming here from Robinson, Ill. Milton Hawk, Bobby Loyd, Dago Trelawney and Gip Gillespie are all Memphis products.

COMES FROM SLEDGE

T. M. "Chained Lightning" Garrott is another Mississippi product from Sledge.

Warren Smith comes from the wilds of Normal, and Wilson Foote puts another Yankee on the squad, claiming Chicago, Ill., as his home town.

Peculiarly enough Frank Trelawney, Bobby Loyd, Vern Baumgarten, "Chi" Waring, Harold Gillespie, Warren Smith, Flint Liddon and Milton Hawk all played in Memphis in their prep school days, most of them playing together.

All hailed from Central high school with the exception of "Nigger" Hawk, who galloped in the backfield for Memphis University School.

Glorification of Freshmen Ended Wednesday

THREE-DAY SEASON

Girls Occupy Limelight in Annual Pledging

Everything is Greek on Southwestern's campus this week. No one is talking the gutteral mutterings but everyone is either looking for him or he is dodging them.

Nay, brother, speak not so. It is nothing more than the annual glorification of the freshman, not a Greek influx to the campus. There is not a restaurant-owner on the campus, yet there are more Greeks here than elsewhere in Memphis.

Active rushing to Greek-letter fraternities opened Monday morning at 8:15 a. m., followed thruout the day with freshmen tied on to upperclassmen both here and yon. A derelict freshman was as scarce as a hunk of cheese at a rat convention.

SURPRISE TO SOME

The official order legalizing rushing was issued last Saturday by the "Pan." It came as a surprise to many, but it had been rumored during the latter part of the week that the first three days of this week would be given over to rushing.

The rushing season as outlined by the council was:

Rushing opens Monday morning at 8:15 o'clock.

Rushing ceases Wednesday afternoon at 6 o'clock, at which time quiet hour starts.

No freshman will converse or be seen with an upperclassman between the hours of Wednesday at 6 p. m. and Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

Dr. R. P. Strickler, faculty advisor on the council, will read out in chapel Thursday morning the names of those freshmen who will meet in Prof. Marion MacQueen's classroom at 7:30 p. m. that night.

ACCEPT BIDS THURSDAY

When these freshmen assemble at this designated place Thursday, slips will be passed out to them, and they will list the fraternities in order of their preference. These slips will be collected by Dr. Strickler. After they have been gathered up Dr. Strickler will go down each freshman list and will scan the different fraternity bidding lists to pick the fraternity to which the freshmen will accept an invitation, in order of preference.

There are six active chapters represented in the boy's Pan-Hellenic council. They are Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Alpha Tau Omega, Kappa Sigma, Kappa Alpha, Beta Sigma. A seventh fraternity, Tau Delta Gamma, has not as yet been recognized by the council, but participated in rushing.

After the freshmen accepted their bids Thursday night, they entered into that state of pledgeship which will continue until next Feb. 1, at which time they will have completed one semester's work, and will be eligible to initiation.

INQUISITIVE

The inquiring reporter will ask five students or faculty members each week, picked at random, their opinions of important questions of campus talk.

Question—Do you consider the past football season a success for Southwestern?

* * *

Prof J. A. Ross—I think that the past football season was a decided success; the team played a good and sporting game, won and lost in the best of spirits. Our opponents, even the most formidable, are more aware than ever that they can expect a good game and even a few surprises.

* * *

Capt. Arthur Dulin—Considering the caliber of our opponents this year, I believe breaking even a tribute to our coaches. I want to thank the coaches, men, and students for their co-operation during our hardest schedule.

* * *

Arthur Halle—from the viewpoint of Southwestern students, alumni, and ardent supporters emphatically yes. The schedule was long and hard and the squad of experienced players unusually small. The morale of the squad was good, and the experience the individual players gained this season will be invaluable next year as well as in the years to come. In my opinion Southwestern can do more for her football future by playing strong teams than by running over teams of little reputation.

HERA WAS THE BUNK AS A DIVER AND SHE NEVER DID FIND HER FISHY LEANDER

With the fame of the modern channel swimmers before the public archive sounds dug up the ancient record of Leander, one of the ancient Greeks who swam a mean channel in the days when people hoofed around the country instead of getting shook to death in a Ford, and when the only dry spot was the Sahara.

This guy Leander could give a fish a 99 yard start in a 100 yard splash and beat him over the finish. He would have made Johnny Weismuller, Frudie Ederle and Arne Borg look like Ben Turpin in an Atlantic City beauty contest.

Leander thought nothing of splashing across the Hellespont, a mean stretch of water, every morning before breakfast. However, he didn't get much publicity and the wise guys of the day didn't believe anybody could do a nautical jaunt over that particular stretch of water. Leander kept his ability quiet, as he was in love with a hot mamma who lived on the other side by the name of Hera. Now Hera's old man thought as much of Leander as Babe Ruth thinks of a strike out, and more than once had sworn to see how tough Leander's hide was by letting loose a double barrelled shotgun at him if he caught him dating his daughter. However, Hera herself was quite gone on Leander, so the kid used to swim the Hellespont every night and have a heavy date.

The main kick Hera's old man had was that Leander didn't have any more ready cash than a college boy has at the end of the month and his prospects were about as bright as the Boston Braves in winning the National League pennant.

Accordingly gobs of gloom hung over the kid and only lifted when he swam the Hellespont and did a little necking with Hera. He looked forward to these trips like a college student does to the Xmas holidays.

But the worm will backtrack once in a while and one day Leander picked up the Grecian Gazette and saw where they was going to stage a channel swim over the Hellespont, with a reward of 25,000 berries to the winner and exclusive movie rights and a tour in the Orpheum circuit. Well, Leander knew he could cop that prize like the Yanks copped the pennant and he wrapped up the paper and tore across the Hellespont in fast time. Hera whooped gladly at the news and grabbed the Athenian fashion book and

PERPETUAL FUND NAMED IN WILL

Woman Leaves $5,000 To Aid Needy Students

A perpetual scholarship fund of $5,000 to be known as the "A. L. Adelott Students' Memorial Fund," was created for Southwestern by a bequest in the will of Mrs. Josephine A. Johnson, who died Nov. 17, 1927. The fund is a memorial to her father, A. L. Adelott.

The bulk of her estate is left to her husband during his life and then goes to her adopted daughter, Lucille Johnson, and her heirs. The will provides that should Lucille Johnson die without children, the estate shall go to nieces and nephews now living and that $10,000 shall be given to the Southwestern Endowment Fund. The estate is valued at from $75,000 to $100,000.

The scholarship fund is to be left in the custody of the Bank of Commerce and Trust Company for investment. The net proceeds will be turned over to the college finance committee. The president of the school will provide the rules under which the income, estimated at $260 annually, will be given to the chosen student.
