PRACTICE OPENS WITH MANY VETS LOST TO SQUAD

Boys Open Spring Practice Sessions Tuesday

STIFF BILL CARDED

Nine Lettermen To Be Back Next Fall

Southwestern Lynx football team of 1928 will have an ambitious schedule next year, and from present outlooks will have to make free use of that old motto made famous by David, "the bigger they are the harder they fall."

Ole Miss, ancient foe both on the gridiron and in free-for-alls, will return to Memphis again on Nov. 18. The Hendrix Bulldogs will invade Fargason Field on Dec. 8, with the University of Arkansas Razorbacks here on Thanksgiving Day.

POS IN CHARGE

Pos Elam, coach of the Lynx since the departure of Jess Neely, has issued his spring football call, and a large squad has been out this week. Owing to the S. I. A. A. rules, all the eligible men of next season are on hand now and a new team will have to be developed.

The letter men returning are "Chi" Waring, end; Crawford MacGivaren and Lorin King, tackles; Flint Liddon, guard; Wilson Foote, center; Bobby Lloyd, Captain Frank Trelawney, Dode Farnsworth and Havron Parnell, backfield men.

MANY VETS LOST

The team has lost ex-captain Arthur Dulin, Joe Davis, Vern Baumgarten, Warren Smith, Milton Hawke, Harold Gillespie, and T. M. Garrott. The spring session will last about six weeks.

Elam has a host of last year's Bobcats to develop into varsity material, including George Hightower, Lamar Pittman, Harry Walton, Russell Briganee, Jeff Davis, Norman Thornton, Frank Thomasson, John Porter, Robert Logan, George Elder, Chauncy Barbour, "Doochy" Sherman, Robert Veirs, Neil Rogers, and a number of last year's varsity squad who failed to make letters.

NIGHT SESSIONS FOR THE KITTENS

Play Preliminary Game to Boys' Saturday

Night practice must be in style these days.

Southwestern's Kittens will soon start night practice—Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights at 6:30. They feel that they have risen in the world recently.

Bit by bit the Kittens are getting more and more in their possession. They now have a locker room in the gym, which belongs exclusively to the girls' basketball team.

Tuesday evening the Kittens took on the girls from Humes high in a practice game. It is very probable that they will have another practice game with this team before the week is over.

Saturday night the girls play the Elkettes as a preliminary to the boys' game.

NEW ARRANGEMENT IN CAGE PANELS

Faculty and senior class panels for the Lynx are being prepared this week, and will be sent to the engraver some time in the near future.

The annual photographer will be out some time this week and take the pictures of all the lettermen in the girls' and boys' basketball squads.

The basketball players' pictures, instead of being arranged around the edge of the page, will be arranged in the shape of the letter "S."

Freshman Takes Zeke's Position

Zeke, popular member of the colored college attendants, and especially numerous about the environs of the gym, has severed his relations with the campus life.

Johnny Rollow, superintendent of grounds and buildings, assigns no definite reason for Zeke's departure. But Zeke has departed.

Freshman Emile Roth has been appointed janitor of the gym.

THREE FROSH SAVE VALUABLES AS HOME BURNS

Brave Burning Building To Save Clothing

BEAT FIRE TRUCKS

Virginia Mercere's Home Totally Destroyed

"Fireman, fireman, save my clothes!" was the frantic cry from inside a burning bungalow at 1399 Agnes Place last Friday night.

"Calm yourself, we have come," breathlessly yelled "Doochie" Sherman and Battle Malone, as the two freshmen surged thru the stifling smoke and intense heat as they groped their way to Virginia Mercere's bedroom.

While Freshman Neil Rogers waited with open arms outside the window, the two doughty freshmen threw fur coats, dresses, shoes, other clothing, perfumes, powders, and female treasures to their waiting partner outside.

After sacking Virginia's room the two boys helped save clothing belonging to other members of the family, but were forced to abandon the blazing structure before they could save any of the furnishings.

SKY WAS AGLOW

The strange episode of three freshmen turning heroes was the result of a midnight ride, having just left one fire. Riding about to catch a bit of night air before going home after a movie, the trio saw a reddened splotch on the sky. Speeding to the fire they recognized it as the Mercere residence. They also discerned Virginia's voice from within the blazing building.

Members of the family were asleep and were unaware of the flaming tinder above them. Virginia had been to the cinema display with Moore Moore. He had departed but 15 minutes before the fiery darts broke thru the roof into the night air.

Altho she had not retired for the night, she smelled smoke and discovered the conflagration in time to waken her parents and escape. Without aid from neighbors because of the dense smoke emitting from the doors and windows and the roaring flames above, no one would venture in to save the loose belongings.

Rare Costumes Adorned The Reckless At Chi Omega "Pirate" Party Monday

Nifty Outfits Worn by Faculty and Students Fail to Scare Dusky Orchestra. Liddon Helps Clean Up Debris

Pirates, cutlasses, calloused looks and a hi-jacking swagger were everywhere, but there was no scrapping. Everybody looked mean, but they were docile. A negro band strummed forth doleful tunes, but everybody was happy. A fire sizzled on the hearth, but there was no cauldron heating.

Chi Omega sorority pledges were hosts to their upper sisters last Monday night at a "Pirate" party in the chapter house. With typical ingenuity, the house resembled a pirate lair—skulls, tapers, empty bottles (vinegar specie), booty, charts and quips.

Inside this lair were so many pseudopirates it was hard to tell the "faculty" from the "students." All were diked for the occasion: frazzled pants, boots, torn shirts, sashes, tattoos, and bandana handkerchiefs.

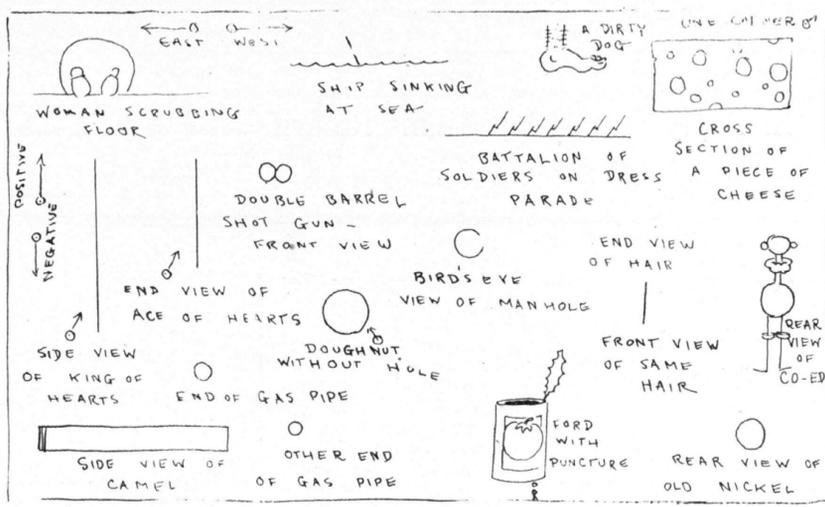

Of the faculty present there were Dr. and Mrs. Berwind Kaufmann. He, being headman of his household, had his trusty fencing rapier with him—long, thin and a fit weapon for any occasion.

There was Dr. W. R. Cooper, in corsair regalia, with cardboard hearts hanging from each ear. (You must remember that this is leap year).

There was Prof. W. C. Watkins in his conservative attire—neat, clean, and natty.

But Prof. Ernest Haden pulled a fast one which went over many heads. He came to the "Pirate" fest with a base-

SPECIAL COURSE GIVEN FLUNKERS

Dr. Kelso To Teach Class in "Civilization"

An "orientation course" for the benefit of those students failing in a subject the first semester, has been started, with Dr. A. P. Kelso as instructor. "Contemporary Civilization" is the subject that will be offered.

WEEKLY SERVICES IN SOCIAL ROOM

Every Tuesday night in the social room of Calvin Hall the college Y. M. C. A. holds its weekly song service. A number of new song books have been bought, which have several popular songs in them.

Every member of the student body is cordially invited and urged to attend these services.

The meetings are held immediately following the evening meal at 6 o'clock.

Goodness! It Is Simple, Say Budding Frosh Who Know

Ha! It takes "goofy" people to appreciate the ultra-modern art which you see above. It is real art to some people—especially Southwestern freshmen, but real artists differ.

Three freshmen, Edmund Berry, Charlie Garraway and Erle Howry, having time drag heavy on their hands, are inventors of the "single track illustrations."

Credit for the artistic find goes to the trio of frosh only, because nobody else will claim the honor. They stumbled on the genus in attempting to prove that it doesn't take brains to be a cartoonist. They have received wide approbation on the campus.

The trick is simple. The artist bums a pencil from the onlooker, and also his chemistry book. "Look," the artistic one says, as he draws a straight line, "what is that?"

The spectator is supposed to say "I dunno."

Then the freshman says "That's a hair." Then he draws another line just like it and repeats the question. "Simple," says the spectator, "that's a hair."

"Wrong again," quoths the freshman. "That's a side view of the king of hearts." Then the freshman draws a circle. "What's that?" he ventures.

"The last figure of a million dollars," the onlooker says.

"Nope, that's a doughnut without a hole," the freshman retorts.

The game has unlimited possibilities. By learning how to draw a few simple lines and curves even the dumbest egg can fool the professors.

Then, by axiom nine, it doesn't take a wise man to dupe a professor.

Servile Freshmen Pursue the Narrow During "Hell Week"

"Hell Week" has broken out again in fraternity ranks.

Pledges of Beta Sigma fraternity are walking the long and narrow line this week, as the first introduction to initiation into the order.

To prove that they are "dubs," each of the 12 freshmen must salaam to their upper brothers when they meet them, and must carry paddles attached to their belts to signify an ancient custom, as well as to oblige the upperclass men with other amenities.

The "trouble" will be over next Saturday night.

The freshmen who must be particularly servile this week include Ronald Hayhoe, Charles Garraway, Sam Jackson, Roger Wright, Malcolm Ritchie, Emile Roth, Arthur Bill, Schuyler Lowe, Burt Patton, Malcolm Gibbons, Jack and Bill Alexander.

Exams And Withdrawals And Initiations Feature

John Howard "Dumpy" Beall has left Southwestern, having completed the amount of work necessary for his degree. Dumpy will attend Mississippi A. & M. the second semester to study farming and will take charge of a large delta farm on completion of his course at the institution.

Bob Redhead is another to leave the old school for A. & M. Bob took his exams, passed the required number, and left unassisted.

A. T. O. Fraternity takes pleasure in announcing the pledging of Franklin Kelly, transfer from Sewanee, and Charles Oliver McBride III, transfer from the University of Tennessee.

The chapter only lost one man this semester. Hiram King, the lost member, is studying interior decorating.

Kappa Alpha fraternity lost four brothers at the close of the first semester. These are Richard Holliday, Nolan, Pierce Leo Favrot and Warren Smith.

Pledges of Kappa Alpha will be initiated next Monday night.

Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity announces the pledging of Hugh Carter, who comes from Bolivar, Tenn.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity takes pleasure in announcing the pledging of Cliff Hemming.

At the meeting of Tenn. Zeta Chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon on Thursday night, Jan. 19, the following were elected to serve for the coming semester: Charles D. Snapp, head of the chapter; John Chester Frist, assistant head; Robert Lloyd, secretary; Oswald McCown, corresponding secretary.

At a meeting of the chapter of A. T. O. fraternity held Wednesday, the following were elected to serve for the coming semester: President, Arthur Dulin; Vice-President, John Johnson; Treasurer, Warner Hall; Secretary, Flint Liddon.

SHELLS EXPLODE AS ARMORY BURNS

LAFAYETTE, IND.—(IP)—To the accompaniment of exploding howitzers, tank trucks and gasoline tanks, $180,000 worth of equipment and building went up in smoke recently when flames practically destroyed the Purdue university armory here.

It was thought that the blaze, which Purdue students helped to fight, was caused by spontaneous combustion in a pile of refuse in one end of the building.

Outlaw "Booing"

NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY, Chicago.—"Booing" is about to become taboo at Northwestern, if campus leaders and authorities have anything to say about it. The practice of booing at games is "a blot on the conduct record of the Purple rooster" and "smacks of professional athletics."

LOTS OF FLUNKS FAIL TO DAUNT EAGER STUDENTS

317 Students Registered Wednesday Noon

MANY TRANSFERS

Chief John Returns To Local Haunts

There is weeping and wailing and many broken hearts at Southwestern these days. Reports for the last semester, which ended with exams last week, have been issued.

The generous sprinkling of "F" marks, meaning failure, were seen on many a report as the final average in a subject for the preceding half of the year.

The new semester started last Tuesday with registration of students for the second half of the scholastic year. The enrollment for the new term will almost reach capacity, says Sydney Cameron, assistant registrar.

Three hundred and seventeen students had paid their fees Wednesday afternoon. The total registration will likely run close to the 400 mark, Cameron stated.

While there will not likely be an increase in students over the number attending the first semester, there will be a very slight loss. Several students have withdrawn voluntarily, and others have been required to leave because of low scholastic grades. But there have been numerous transfer students from other schools to fill the vacancies left by old students not returning. There are also several who have joined the student ranks, having graduated from high schools this February.

MANY TRANSFERS

Among the new students who are classified as freshmen are Cliff Hemming, of Meridian, Miss. Freshman Hemming toured Europe during the first semester. Neva Hussey, 1894 Central avenue, who graduated from Miss Hutchinson's school last year, is now a freshette. Sidney Carter, of Parkin, Ark., is a transfer from the University of Arkansas. Thomas Burke, 233 S. Watkins avenue, comes to Southwestern from the February, 1928, graduating class of Central High school.

Hugh E. Carter, of Bolivar, Tenn., attended Columbia Military Academy last fall. Miss Len Elizabeth Bunch, 1558 Linden avenue, is an upperclass transfer co-ed from West Tennessee Teachers' College.

Miss Lina Hughes, 1433 Peabody avenue, and valedictorian of the February, 1925 Central high school class, is a mid-year entrant. Miss Dorothy Edna Beasley comes to Southwestern from the February graduating class at Messick high school. She lives on Highland avenue.

Miss Martha Roseborough, 3605 Carnes avenue, sister of Miss Billie Roseborough, has joined her sister on Southwestern's campus. Harry Alexander John, full-blood Choctaw Indian, has returned, having voluntarily retired two months ago. Chester Lacy, Eldorado, Ark., is a transfer from Hendrix College. Freshman Lacy is a nephew of Dr. W. S. Lacy, college executive secretary.

M. O. Nixon, junior, is a transfer from Cumberland University. Nixon lives at Alexandria, Tenn.

Miss Therese Louise Solomons, 1906 Court avenue, Central high grad of the February, 1928, is a freshette. Monroe Goodbar Morgan, 1072 Linden avenue, is a transfer from the University of Alabama. Albert Morton, Bessemer, Ala., transfer student, attended Birmingham-Southern at Birmingham last semester.

Six new students who attended Southwestern for a short period prior to the recent exams are Hugh Alfred Lumpkin, 233 North Waldran boulevard; Fred John Menzer, 945 Roland street, transfer from University of Tennessee; George McMillan, Jr., former member of the Hotel Peabody "Seven Aces" orchestra; Charles McBride, Covington, Tenn., transfer from University of Tennessee; Donald Kern, 1898 Madison avenue, transfer from University of Minnesota; and Franklyn Walter Kelley, Wynne, Ark., transfer from Sewanee.

ECHOES FROM THE MORGUE

Choice News Excerpts of Past Years As Revealed By Sou'wester Files

FEBRUARY 6, 1926

James O. Finley, Southwestern senior, has announced his marriage to Miss Nannie Garrett, of Centralia, Mo., on last December 25.

Members of the Co-operative Club of Memphis, and their wives, were guests of Southwestern last Wednesday.

Faculty members and their families were entertained by President and Mrs. Charles E. Diehl last Monday evening in the college commons. At the meeting which followed it was decided to revive the Faculty Club.

Donald Bode, freshman, sustained a broken left arm last Monday when he was brushed by a sagging limb, from the horse he was riding.

Southwestern's Lynx cagers will tackle the Teachers Tuesday night, and then will journey to Arkansas for three tilts.

Miss Eleanor Forshay, popular member of the freshman class, was painfully injured on Jan. 29, when the car in which she was riding crashed with another machine and turned over.

A recent election held in Student Assembly resulted in the choosing of Misses Mary Frances Young, Deatrice Mathews, Polly Minor and Billie Burnett as the four co-eds to be included in the sponsor section of the 1926 Lynx.

FEBRUARY 11, 1927

Cigars, cheroots and cigarettes will be exhaled in the Commons Thursday night, Feb. 17, at 7 p. m. The occasion will be the first of the college Y. M. C. A. annual smoking affairs.

Embryonic philosophers will learn how to philosophize at the next meeting of the Nitists. Dr. A. P. Kelso will read a paper on "The Art of Thinking."

The long dormant Glee Club of Southwestern is beginning to function once more. It is under the leadership of Prof. Ernest Haden.

Southwestern was guest to three visiting college dignitaries Wednesday afternoon. R. G. Boger, president of Weatherford College; E. M. Stanton, dean of Lou Morris College, and K. C. East, president Sue Bennett Memorial college, were the delegates visiting our campus.

Quite a few students from Ole Miss enjoyed festivities at the Pan-Hellenic dance.

Football will be back again on Fargason Field Monday, Feb. 14, according to Coach Jess Neely.

Henceforth readers of the Sou'wester will enjoy perusing the Intercollegiate Press news service. Membership in this college news service was signed recently.

After the appearance of the last issue of the Catalink the management changed hands. Harold B. Collins, former managing editor, and M. C. Thomas, editor, resigned. Freshman A. L. Hicks is the new editor, and Freshman Charlie Lewis is the new managing editor.

The Earle Cardinals defeated the Lynx by the score of 45-23 on last Wednesday.

Test This Recipe

A recent bride asked her husband to copy the radio recipe one morning. The husband did his best, but got two stations at the same time. One was broadcasting G. M. C. A. setting-up exercises and the other the recipes.

This is what he got: "Hands on hips, place one cupful of flour on shoulders, raise knees and depress toes, and wash thoroughly in one-half cupful of milk. In four counts raise both legs and mash two hard-boiled eggs in a sieve. Repeat six times. Inhale one teaspoonful of baking powder and one cupful of flour, breathe through the nose and exhale and sift.

"Attention! Jump to a stride, stand and bend the white of an egg backward and forward overhead, and in four counts make a stiff dough that will stretch at the waist. Lie flat on the floor and roll into a marble the size of a walnut.

"Hop backward and forward in boiling water, but do not boil into a stationary run afterward. In ten minutes remove from the fire and dry with a towel. Breathe deeply, put on a bath robe and serve with a fish soup."

Sandy (to his wife): Stop sewing for a minute and lend me your thimble. Our guest wants a drink.

We may be dumb, but we don't see how Leap Year can make any difference.

Memphis, Tenn.

Dear Lily: This sure is a pretty campus, but I can't say that about the co-eds. A feller named Ridley Wills said the Normal girls were better looking than Southwestern girls and these here co-eds ain't got over it yet. First thing, a feller they call T. M. starts to tell me a joke about a Theta Kappa Nu; it was a dum joke. This here T. M. also tried to "rush" me to his frat called Pie K. A., but they have a girl in that bunch called Edna.

The S. A. E.'s had a kid named Charly Snap rush me.

Next, the Kappa Alpha rushes me, I reckon their bunch is all right except for the bunch in it.

Next, a guy approaches me and told me about his gang having the football captaincy for 13 years. I didn't pledge A. T. O. because I don't think it right that they have all the GOOD men.

A bunch of stray greeks called Beta Lambdas also rushed me—my gosh what a tribe, they has the five ugliest bozos in school. No wonder they strayed, I wouldn't associate with them guys either.

Both Beta Sig and Kappa Sig rushed me. The Beta Sigs rate with the Cow Omegas, probably caus they lent them a wornout victrola. I couldn't consider Kappa Sig 'cause they is building a house and they might ask for a donation.

Consequently, I am going to leave the whole outfit flat and pledge none of them.

Sincerely, Toofy.

In Reply

In order that the student body may see both sides to the question raised recently in an editorial in the Sou'wester entitled "No Caption Needed," we reprint in this issue (page four) the part of a letter written to Dr. W. O. Swan in answer to the published article.

The remaining parts of the letter dealt with other matters, says Dr. Swan. Nothing pertinent to the question was omitted from the copy given the Sou'wester editor in respect to his request.

We are not ashamed of the issue which we opened in the last issue. We did not delete any mention made to the editor in Mr. Neely's letter. We are playing fair in the only way we know how.

Coach Neely says: "I am used to dealing with men face to face when a thing like this comes up and I regret very much that the Editor of the Sou'wester was not man enough to tell me his grievances before I left there."

In explanation permit us to say that Coach Neely had already left town before the subject of Hall not getting his sweater became campus talk—and that is the channel through which the matter was brought to our attention. If we have the audacity to express student sentiment thru the columns as we did, we also have the audacity to talk the matter over with the person or persons in question, if they can only be reached. Unfortunately, tho, Coach Neely was not in town.

We are afraid that Coach Neely has taken our editorial to mean a reflection on his work while he was helmsman of the Lynx Cats, for he says: "I tried my best to do all that I could for Southwestern the four years I was there, and, altho I must admit that we didn't make the progress I had hoped for, I still have the satisfaction of knowing that I did all I could; and I don't believe that Southworth, with his petty editorials about me, can say the same thing."

We have never made a direct reflection or an innuendo against Coach Neely, and didn't in the editorial. We hold nothing against Coach Neely either as a man or as an athletic leader. In conning the editorial and sport columns of past issues of the Sou'wester we found many articles laudatory to Mr. Neely. If these were taken as slights, it is unfortunate, for we tried to give praise to one to whom it was due, for we said that he was a worthy director and a credit to the school.

In showing that we were sincere in the best interest of everyone, the entire matter is laid open to public perusal. Mr. Neely, in the last paragraph of his letter says: "Swan, I appreciate very much your writing me and trust you will show this letter to Southworth." Mr. Swan did and we pass the letter on to the student body.

If Mr. Neely thinks that we have done him an injustice, we humbly apologize. We regret that we cannot meet him face to face and tell him. The unfortunate aspect of the entire situation is that the students thought the omission of Hall from the sweater recipients was intentional, while Mr. Neely admits it was thru a mistake. This has brought on the discussion.

In view of the data from Mr. Neely, we retract our statements of the editorial in question, and accept his explanation of the matter as final.

But, Mr. Neely, your admitted oversight has caused a deep hurt to Hall.

Cork legs are so called, not from the material used in them, but from their inventor, Dr. Cork.

Why Alums Return

When Roger Babson, the statistical college professor, attends a Class Day, he probably carries home with him an impression like the following:

25 per cent of the visiting alumni are there because they are doing well in business and want to tell about it.

20 per cent who are not doing so well had new summer suits to wear and no better place to wear them.

15 per cent wanted to get drunk with old classmates whom they wouldn't cross the street to see on the other 364 days of the year.

10 per cent are ex-athletes visiting the scene of their former triumphs.

Another 10 per cent had no sales resistance to the follow-up letters from the alumni secretary.

8 per cent are insincere sentimentalists who (1) wish they were in college again—for about five minutes; (2) want to feel sorry for the graduating class.

6 per cent are still in the bond business and must keep up acquaintances.

3 per cent had nothing better to do and wanted to tell their stenographers they were "going up to the college for the day."

2 per cent are professional alumni waiting to bully the president.

1 per cent have a real respect for their alma mater as a seat of learning—C. B. W. G., in "Life."

If the American university doesn't teach a man wisdom, it at least teaches him how to loiter thru life gracefully, and how to make other men do his work for him, and how to laugh and sing, and how to make love, and how to remember just a little more romantically than any other men, and how to smile tolerantly and pleasantly to his critics—George Jean Nathan.

WHO'S WHO IN SENIOR CLASS

Joe Wallace Davis, Jr.

With the graduation of the present senior class this June will go one of Southwestern's best athletes, Joe Davis. Joe was born January 30, 1906, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Davis, at Smyrna, Tenn.—ever hear of that place? it will be famous some day as the birthplace of a great man.

The faculty of Smyrna high school drilled the first elements of knowledge into Joe's head. Leaving this high school, he went to Branham & Hughes Military Academy, where he remained for two years, still seeking knowledge, supposedly. In 1922 Joe entered Normal. No one holds Joe responsible for this, however, as he saw his mistake and entered Southwestern in 1924.

Since coming to Southwestern, Joe has played four years varsity football, being captain of the team in 1926. He has already played four years varsity basketball, being captain of the squad in '25. Three years of varsity baseball, with a fourth in the making, winds up Joe's athletic career with his Alma Mater.

Southwestern will confer the degree of Bachelor of Arts on Joe this June.

When asked what he intended to do after graduation, he replied that he did not know, but he might be a bond salesman or he might coach.

FLASHES College Life On OTHER CAMPS

NATIONALS PAY HEAVY ITHACA, N. Y.—(IP)—The Cornell Daily Sun in an editorial points out that the Cornell fraternities and sororities pay $50,000 a year to the national organizations for "traveling secretaries, publications and conventions," and wants to know what the lasting advantages of national fraternities over local fraternities are.

FRIGHTENED BY BOOKS HANOVER, N. H.—(IP)—Hugo Bezdek, Jr., son of Hugo Bezdek, famous football coach at Penn State, and a freshman at Dartmouth college, has been missing since Jan. 3, it was learned here this week.

Young Bezdek left for college on Jan. 3, after the vacation period, but never arrived. Shortly before leaving for home he had a conference with the dean in which it was made clear to him that he would have to spend considerable time studying during the vacation if he expected to remain in college. It is supposed that he did not do the studying, and disliked letting his family know of it.

LOVE HITS ROCKY WAY

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH—(IP)—"Not heart balm, but the return of the chattels, worth about $1,140," declared Maurice H. Barnes, former student of the University of Utah, in regard to his suit against Josephine Stookey, also a former member of the university and president of the Delta Epsilon sorority.

Four years ago the doting couple became engaged, Miss Stookey promising to marry within a reasonable length of time. Having repented since, she has refused to say the fateful words.

Barnes demands the return of the housekeeping necessities which he lavished as gifts upon his traitorous inamorata, the list including three breakfast sets valued at $105, four sets of table linen worth $200, three luncheon sets which set the worthy swain back $125, a linen centerpiece worth $50, not to mention the ring which pledged their troth, valued at $650.

WEED OUT HONORARIES

LINCOLN, NEBR.—(IP)—With the exception of two senior sororities, the Innocents and the Mortarboard, all honorary societies at the University of Nebraska have been abolished by action of the Student Council. The Vikings, Silver Serpents, Iron Sphinx, Xi Delta, Green Goblins and Mystic Fish are the societies affected by the edict.

This action by the student government is the culmination of the activities of the Daily Nebraskan, which has contended against the honoraries for some time on the basis of their rule by fraternities and sororities and the difficulty with which a "barb" could obtain entrance.

The report of the council also attacked the "rough" initiations of the honorary and professional clubs and societies and suggested that the sororities be once more permitted to sell subscriptions to campus publications.

In the eyes of the committee of investigation, the existence of the senior honorary societies was justified by their duties and consequently the two senior clubs were given a clean bill of health.

I'm The Gink

I'm the gink who laughs and plays every afternoon. When I have money I go to the show—or whenever some one I know has money, I go to the show. And when I'm broke and can't borrow money, I just loaf. I ride around in cars and use up gasoline that someone else has bought. And when exam time comes around I don the glummed look; and haggle over little things that my roommate does or says. I try to study but can't because I'm not used to it. I worry and fret and make myself a nuisance during exams. And when I trod cautiously to the exam room, I tremble with mortal terror, because I know I haven't got the slightest idea what it is all about. And after the exams are over, and grades are announced, and I find that I have flunked out—why I low rate the college. What else could I do? I say that the exams were unreasonable; the profs had it in for me; I am misunderstood, and all that sorta thing. But secretly I know it was my fault because I was given the free air outside. I hate to leave because I have to work now. Disgrace from being shipped means nothing to me. Pleasure is the aim of my life. Yeah, pleasure.

We believe that thinking people should ponder these truths.

Public Utilities render services that are essential to modern living standards.

These services directly contribute to the convenience and comfort of people hourly each day. They have raised living standards, brought us up to a new plane of material existence; and are, in fact, the agencies by which modern living standards are maintained.

In addition to their contribution to the convenience and comfort of people so constantly, utilities are economic factors of important worth to their communities—stimulating channels of trade and business activities with their large pay-rolls and immense purchases of supplies, as well as being large tax-payers helping to defray expenses of government.

These are facts that educated people should understand.

at Bemis, Tenn., and two with the West Tennessee Teachers.

Dates for the games with the Teachers have not been set, but the tilts will be contested before March 1. The Southwestern Kittens and the Teachers girls will play preliminary games.

WON ONE—LOST ONE

The Lynx have indulged in two games to date, winning from the Teachers and taking a defeat from the Elks five. The latter game was played on the Elks court and the Lynx were somewhat handicapped by the small size of the cage and might have beaten the Antlers on a larger court.

The five, led by Henry "Chi" Waring has shown signs of potential strength. Practice last week was curtailed by the necessity of taking the exams, but Coach Reese will have his men on the floor resuming hard work for the important games impending.

LIDDON NOW ELIGIBLE

Flint Liddon, an excellent guard, who has been ineligible because of the semester rule of the S. I. A. A., will be restored to good standing on Feb. 1, and will materially strengthen the squad. Waring has been playing forward, along with Ford, with Billy Hughes at center and Dode Farnsworth and Joe Davis at guards. Terry has been alternating with Ford at the forward place, but with the acquisition of Liddon, Farnsworth may be moved to forward and Liddon fitted into a guard place with Davis.

Twin Negro Blondes, Housed in Galoshes, Adopted by Fratmen

SEATTLE, WASH.—(IP)—Sophisticated fraternity row opened its heart the other night and welcomed into its fold twin African infants, abandoned in freezing weather on the front porch of the Phi Gamma Delta house.

The twins, nestled each in an old golash, tagged with a crimson bow, slept peacefully thru the abandonment, little realizing their cruel plight until they were taken into the house by the University of Washington fraternity men, who answered the door after the bell had been rung.

A single scrawled note, attached to one of the infants, read, "Treat them kindly." A thoro search of the neighborhood, immediately instigated, failed to produce any persons connected with the little darkies.

"We are thoroly astounded," one of the fraternity brothers said in an exclusive interview, "as it is rather a stupendous task for 40 fraternity men to undertake the rearing of two abandoned black infants. But we will do our best."

And so, Phi Gamma Delta has in its possession twin Persian kittens, which it is willing to offer for Tolo dates, new ideas for fraternity rushing, or, what-have-you.

He: "Look! Our captain is going to kick a goal."
She: "What did the goal do?"

FIVE ACCIDENTS JINX DELEGATES

Miraculous Escapes Follow Trip to Detroit

EMORY UNIVERSITY, GA.—(IP)—Five accidents in one automobile trip is the record set by Whitie Craig, Emory University student, who with five other students, went to the Student Volunteer Conference in Detroit during the holidays in his Nash sedan.

Craig, accompanied by Mary Stuart Rice, Frank Gilmore, and Walter Blanks of Emory, and Alma Metcalf, of Agnes Scott left Emory on December 25. Late that night they were smashed in a head-on collision with a drunken driver, and were delayed for a day.

Without further mishap they arrived at Detroit.

Then on the return trip, between Detroit and Knoxville, they had four accidents in which fatalities were avoided only by chance.

At Lima, Ohio, the car was hit by a Ford which slipped on the wet road. Three miles further on, while rounding a curve, the car oozed off a 10-foot embankment and turned over on its side. A wrecker pulled the car out and the journey was continued.

Further south in Ohio they were stalled in the snow and had to be pulled in. While being towed by a wrecker, a Whippet sedan crashed into the rear end of the Nash.

As the party was nearing Knoxville they hit a large rock in the road which threw the car over on its side, breaking the windshield and smashing the fenders.

CO-ED LOSES COAT AT "PIRATE" PARTY

Some one carelessly picked up the wrong coat last Monday night as guests of the Chi Omega pledges left the "Pirate" party.

Miss Louise Clark asks that the person mistaking her coat for another, please return it immediately so that she will be protected from the chilly weather. It is her only coat, she says.

The coat is made of heavy black cloth, with fur collar and cuffs. There are white spots in the fur. The inside is lined with black satin.

UNION THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY Richmond, Virginia

IF YOU ARE GOING TO BE A PREACHER, YOU WILL FIND AT UNION SEMINARY A BODY OF TEACHERS UNUSUALLY WELL FURNISHED FOR THE TASK OF MAKING PREACHERS

A Professor in one of our great universities says of the Faculty of Union Seminary:

"If one has to meet constantly the problems raised by current Philosophy, Psychology and Biblical Criticism, his teachers must have been progressive scholars, men who have sifted out every grain of truth however deep the chaff of error. And Union comes nearer realizing this ideal than any institution with which I have ever come in contact. Not one of her professors lacks an essential qualification of the highest type of the teacher of ministers."

ORDER HALL'S SWEATER

NEELY REQUESTS TREASURERSWAN TO PLACE ORDER

Explains Position In Note
Sent to Dr. Swan

BRANDS 'PETTINESS'

"Due to Oversight Sweater
Was Not Ordered"

After receiving a copy of the editorial run in the last issue of the Sou'wester relative to Warner Hall failing to receive a sweater as student football manager last season, former Coach Neely wrote immediately to Dr. W. O. Swan pertinent to the impelling motive behind the editorial in question.

In his reply Coach Neely requested Dr. Swan to order a sweater for Hall. This will be done soon, Dr. Swan said Monday.

JUST AN OVERSIGHT

In explaining the reason, Coach Neely says that it was thru an oversight, and that he takes all blame for the inadvertence. Coach Neely states that he inquired about Warner prior to the banquet, but was told that Hall was still confined to his room with measles, thus explaining why he was not asked to attend.

The full text of the letter appears on this page, columns two and three, and is printed verbatim, in the sections dealing with the subject of the editorial.

20 GIRLS PAY $10 FOR FALL SEMESTER

Approximately 20 girl students have paid their $10 reservation fee to enter Southwestern next fall, according to the business office.

This number includes both girls now in school, and some who will graduate from high school next June and will attend here next fall.

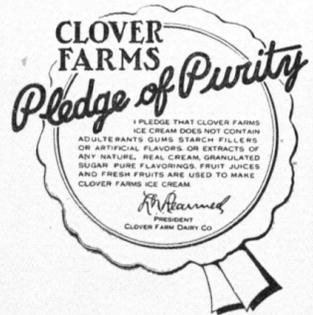

The college ruling is that the ratio shall be three boys to one girl. Consequently, there are more co-ed aspirants than can be admitted each year. The 20 girls are assured of entrance if they meet the entrance requirements.

Soaked For Cheering

ITHACA, N. Y.—(IP)—Twenty coats were dispossessed of their belongings and ten thousand dollars damage was done recently when a fire started in the basement of Sage College annex, Cornell University, and shot up the clothes chute to the roof, where it spread like a fan.

Cornell students were wet down when they thoughtlessly cheered the firemen in their work.

Coach Neely's Reply To Editorial

Dr. W. O. Swan, treasurer of the athletic association, is in receipt of a letter from Jess Neely, in which the former coach explains that it was thru an oversight that Warner Hall's sweater was not ordered.

Below is a reproduction of that part of his letter pertaining to this point:

"I want to say that it was an oversight that Hall did not get his sweater and I am very sorry that it happened. Would appreciate very much if you would order one for him and also tell him that it was all my fault. As for his not being at the banquet, I asked about him and was informed that he had the measles, so you see he was not overlooked on that occasion.

"I had nothing at all to do with the banquet as the Athletic Committee in town said they were giving it for me and the team. I only asked you men whom they told me to ask and had no authority to invite any one else. I was not told to invite Frist or Southworth, so naturally did not. I appreciated the bag they gave me more than I can say, but if the editorial reflects the spirit in which it was given, I can't say that it means as much to me as it did before. I tried my best to do all that I could for Southwestern the four years I was there, and altho I must admit that we didn't make the progress I had hoped for, I still have the satisfaction of knowing that I did all I could; and I don't believe that Southworth, with his petty editorials about me, can say the same thing. That in my mind is the one great trouble with the Southwestern student body. They all want some kind of compensation for whatever they do. You remember last year the band said they would come out and play, provided they were not made to pay the Student Activity Fee. The men out for football, and I never hope to meet up with a finer crowd anywhere, were playing their heels off for the school and yet the band thought they should be paid. You know as well as I that that kind of support doesn't help, and I am afraid that they only reflected the spirit of the editor of the paper.

"I regret very much that I had to leave Southwestern, for my associations were so pleasant there. I will never be thrown with a man that I think any more of than Dr. Diehl, and it was worth all the time I was there just to be associated with him, for I know that I am a bigger and better man for having known him.

"Hall made two of the three trips that we made last fall, and the reason he did not make the third was that the guarantee did not warrant us taking him. It is a custom with most coaches to take the men that will do the team the most good and I thought a player would help us more than a manager on that occasion. I am used to dealing with men face to face when a thing like this comes up, and I regret very much that the editor of the Sou'wester was not man enough to tell me his grievances before I left there.

"Swan, I appreciate very much your writing me and trust you will show this letter to Southworth, as one of my friends sent me the editorial he wrote.

As ever, Jess.

F. S.—Also show my letter to Frist if you like.

Jess.

NICE MOTORMAN PICKS UP GIRLS WITH STREETCAR

Makes History With Lift
Given Co-eds

GIRLS OBLIGE HIM

Twain Ride From Dorm
To McLean Boulevard

Even the street car conductors have fallen under the charm of Southwestern co-eds. The first street car pick-up on record occurred the other night, and two Evergreen Hall inmates played the principal roles.

Elizabeth Watts and Julia Matthews were strolling peacefully down towards the drug store one balmy evening last week—the kind that A. Dulin picks for his escapades. When they got about half way to the corner, along came a street car and stopped beside them.

The innocent girls, not yet realizing their hypnotic influence on the motorman, did not know what it was all about. However, the "chauffeur" explained in very sweet and enticing language that it was his most earnest and sincere desire to give them a lift as far as the store.

PERSISTENT MAN

Altho the motorman was on his knees to them, the girls refused the ride and kept refusing all the time they were getting on the car. To their great surprise, the motorman really didn't take them any farther than they had intended to go.

In spite of their disappointment, they report a most enjoyable ride, and state with authority that street car rides are much safer than automobiles.

Just another proof that the modern generation is slowing up. It would not be surprising to see the papers come out any day with the headlines: "College Girls Organize Snail Club, Refuse Auto Pick-ups for Street Cars."

Sonny: For two cents I'd kiss you.
Elizabeth: Here's a dollar, boy, let's get going!

BULL-SESSIONS BEAT LECTURES

Northwestern Dean Favors Popular Sport

EVANSTON, ILL.—(IP)—Expressing the idea that a student gets more knowledge out of a so-called "bull-session" than many formal lectures or class room recitations, James W. Armstrong, dean of men at Northwestern university, is an advocate of informalism in education.

Dean Armstrong voiced his opinion at a recent fraternity luncheon. When questioned further he explained that when a group of students get together for a talk-fest, they reveal their hopes, their likes, their scepticisms, contribute their own ideas, and listen to others in a discussion. Then, he said, a student really gathers material that has been dormant in his mind and marshals it up into opinions and attitudes of his own.

He went on to explain that a "bull-session" is not a "smut-session." Only when a man takes part in a session with the wrong attitude of mind, according to the dean, does he fail to get material value from the talk-fest.

99-YEAR CONTRACT SIGNED BY FRATS

GAINESVILLE, FLA.—A contract to play an annual football game for the next 99 years was signed today by the University of Florida chapters of two national collegiate fraternities, Sigma Nu and Phi Delta Theta.

Only two football games ever have been played at Florida University between fraternity teams, and both of them were between elevens representing the Sigma Nus and the Phi Delta Thetas.

The contract, which runs thru 2027 A. D., calls for the game to be played the second Saturday after the football season.

STUDENTS FAIL TO PAY FOR JOURNAL

Students are reminded of their promise to pay 65c each for the support of the Journal. This money is being collected this week. If you have not paid your money, go by the registrar's office at once and do so. So far students have not been paying up as punctually as they should.

If sufficient funds are collected the first issue will appear about Feb. 15. All students who wish to contribute to the Journal, either short stories, essays, book-reviews, poems or other literary matter, will please turn them in to Allen Haden or Catherine Richey as soon as possible.

If sufficient funds are not raised there will be no issue of the Journal and the money paid by the students will be refunded.

Pay Training Costs

SEATTLE, WASH.—(IP)—Because they have not the wherewithal to pay a balance due on their training bills for the full quarter, 15 University of Washington muskies are denied their cherished "W" sweaters.

The warriors strenuously deny that anything more than participation in football games is necessary to secure the varsity awards.

German marks are so cheap that Scotchmen use them for tips.

INQUISITIVE

The inquiring reporter will ask five students or faculty members each week, picked at random, their opinions of important questions of campus talk.

Question: Would you rather be a sap or a professor?

Dick Monk: Don't make any difference, one is as bad as the other.

Dave Pipes: Being in school, I might as well say that I had rather be a professor. Ask me again next year.

Maurice Moore: After a weighty consideration of this momentous question, I would rather be a sap compared to a certain professor I know.

H. Minniece: I would rather be a professor. I would take ghoulish glee in giving long, hard, exhaustive exams.

R. Russell: I would rather be a sap, because a sap can use his head sometimes. Half of the professors are so narrow-minded they can look thru a keyhole with both eyes.
