RUSHING SEASON PERIOD IS UNDER FIRE

LYNX PREPARED FOR HARD TILT WITH 'NOOGANS

Mallory And Elam Take Large Squad

MOCCASINS MEAN

Capt. Farnsworth Back In The Line-up

The Southwestern Lynx, with three straight victories to their credit, will stomp their cleats on foreign soil Saturday and do their best to prevent the University of Chattanooga from stomping their cleats on the Lynx' goal line.

The Lynx and the Moccasins should provide plenty of action and gore in what should prove the hardest S. I. A. A. tilt of the season for the Southwestern lads. From all reports the Chattanooga outfit has a team that is a team composed of eleven players whose one desire in life is to smear their opponents about the gridiron in sundry fashion. So far they have only found one opponent who was able to prevent them, and that opponent was Vanderbilt. Vandy was only able to score 20 points on the Moccasins. In turn the Chattanooga team has humbled Furman, Birmingham-Southern, Louisville, and Centenary, three of these being among the best teams in the S. I. A. A.

The Moccasins have a powerful line and a fast stepping backfield. Ken Strong, their speed merchant, and Lautzenheiser rate among the best backs in the South. Phipps Magevney, center, is a former Memphis University School product and made the All-Memphis team in 1922.

TAKE LARGE SQUAD

The Lynx took a large squad to Chattanooga in charge of Coaches Neely Mallory and Pos Elam. Mallory is set on winning this tilt as a victory would give the Lynx a strong claim to the S. I. A. A. title considerations and a big reputation in the South as well. The team is in excellent shape. Those making the trip were Captain Dode Farnsworth, Alternate-captain Henry Waring, John Porter, Percy Brown, Flint Liddon, Robert Russell, Carthel Elder, Crawford MacGivern, Lorin King, Jeff Davis, Wilson Foote, Bob Logan, Hank Thomason, George Hightower, Bobby Lloyd, Lamar Pittman, Harry Walton, John Hagan, Russell Brigrance, "Brick" Viers, Charley Diehl, and Buck Roberts.

The team will return Sunday morning.

The probable lineup will be:
Southwestern Pos. Chattanooga
Liddon L. E. Braidwood
King L. F. Johnson
Logan L. G. Heywood
Thomason C. Magevney
Davis R. G. McCoy
Elder R. F. Kopcha
Brown R. E. Thompson
Lloyd Q. B. Overmyer
Farnsworth (c) L. H. Barrett (c)
Hightower R. H. Lautzenheiser
Pittman F. B. Ward

STAFF CHOSEN FOR THE LYNX

Year Book Editors Now Hard at Work (?)

A full staff of editors for the 1928 Southwestern Lynx annual has been chosen and the year book is now well along the way to completion.

The staff is composed of Mike Wailes, editor; Moore Moore, associate editor; Catherine Underwood, class editor; Paul Caldwell, art; John Hagan, sports; John Crofton, photographs; Vern Baumgarten and Paul Jones, artists; Dick Monk, features; and Billy Hughes and Leroy DuBard, business managers jointly.

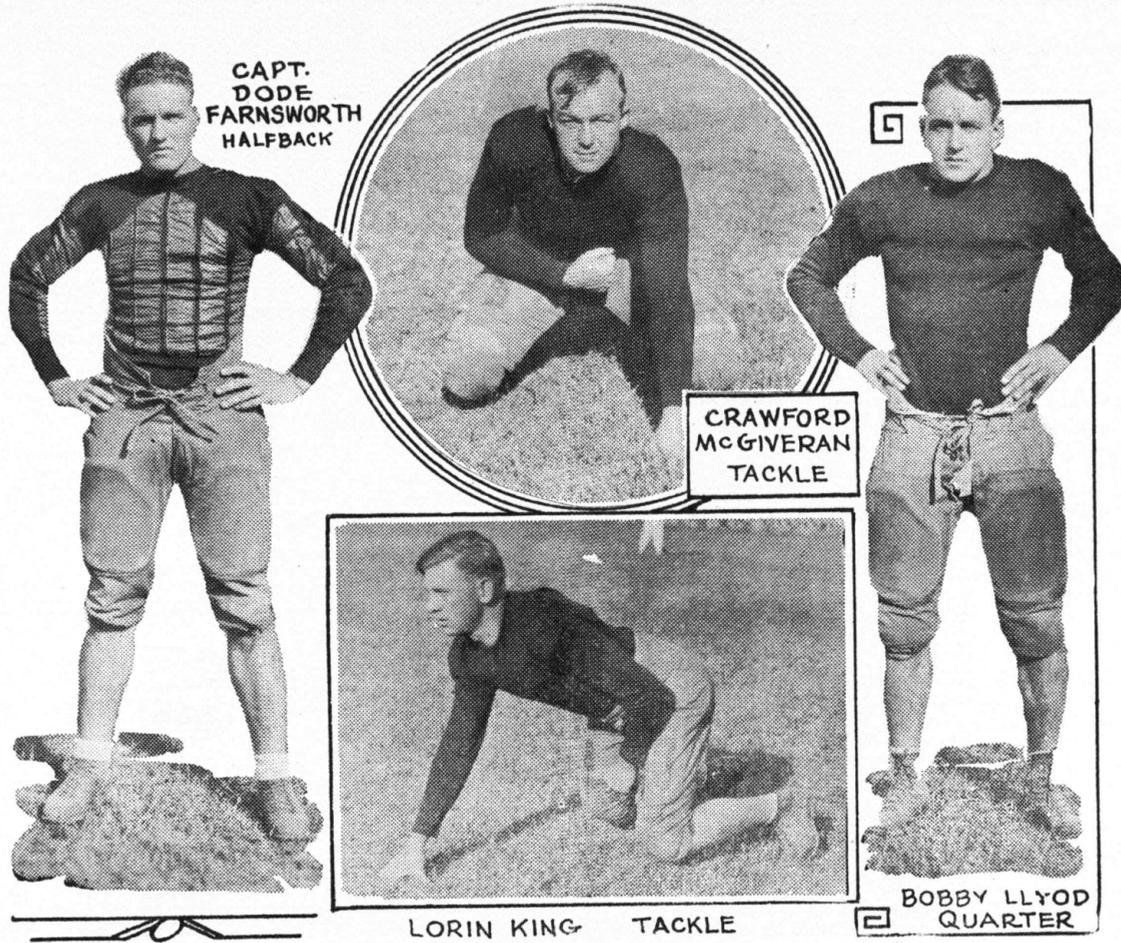

The theme of the book will be Civil War days. College views, campus scenes and a large beauty section will be features of the new annual.

Sorority to Honor Affianced Member

Alpha Omicron Pi sorority at Southwestern will entertain on Nov. 20 with a buffet-luncheon and informal dance in honor of Miss Louise Russell, an active member last year, and her fiance, Mr. F. Barton.

Miss Russell and Mr. Barton will be married on Nov. 21.

Four Big Guns In The Lynx Varsity Team This Year

CAPT. DODE FARNSWORTH
HALFBACK

CRAWFORD MCGIVERAN
TACKLE

BOBBY LLYOD
QUARTER

LORIN KING TACKLE

When the Lynx and Moccasin warriors line up Saturday at Chattanooga for their first tilt, the Chattanooga will get a nice view of this quartet of stellar gridmen. Captain Farnsworth and Llyod will cavort to the displeasure of the opposition from backfield positions. McGivern and King, tackles, will take great pleasure in opening up gaps in the enemy first-line defense. Each of the four has seen much service on the Lynx varsity, with each having been Lynx Cats for at least three years. Farnsworth has been on the "barred" list for the past two weeks, and will be in there Saturday whooping it up to atone for moments lost in the last two games. Llyod will officiate with the signals and will general the team.

MEN'S COUNCIL AND FACULTY GRIP ON DATE

Faculty Says "During Thanksgiving"

WANT IT SOONER

Fratmen to Meet and Decide On Plans

The Men's Pan-Hellenic Council at Southwestern and the faculty are at grips over the date for the coming "rushing" season. The faculty has decreed that all rushing, both by fraternities and sororities, must be held during the Thanksgiving holidays on Nov. 29 to Dec. 1.

At a recent meeting of the faculty a delegation from the Men's Council asked that the privilege of "rushing" be given prior to Nov. 29, but the faculty refused.

CALL MEETING

Moore Moore, president of the Council, has called a special meeting of fraternity representatives for Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock to thrash out plans for "rushing" season which will accord with the faculty ruling.

"If we must wait until the Thanksgiving holidays to rush, all new students will be prevented from going home," argues Moore Moore. But the faculty has turned a deaf ear to this argument.

Fraternity men will likely recommend that the faculty hold regular classes during Thanksgiving, and do away with the holidays which are stipulated in the catalogue. If the faculty grants this request then the annual pledging of new members to Greek-letter fraternities will be held on Dec. 1.

ORDER CHARM FOR 'PREACHER'

Student Body Remembers Rev. Gordon

The following resolutions were presented to the Rev. U. S. Gordon, formerly assistant pastor of Second Presbyterian church, and now pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Gainesville, Fla., when he preached his farewell sermon last Sunday night.

"Whereas, the Reverend U. S. Gordon, a graduate of Southwestern, and President of the Alumni Association, has been called to other fields of service, leaving his charge in Memphis to accept the pastorate of the First Presbyterian Church of Gainesville, Florida,

"Whereas, the Rev. Mr. Gordon has rendered invaluable service both to Southwestern Presbyterian University at Clarksville, and especially to the New Southwestern at Memphis, and has proved himself a true friend to the institution itself and to every member of the student body,

"Whereas, he is esteemed for his high ideals of Christian fellowship, splendid energy and devotion to duty,

BE IT RESOLVED: "First, We, the student body of Southwestern, make this public expression of regret to the Rev. Mr. Gordon at his departure, realizing full well our loss,

"Secondly, that the First Presbyterian Church of Gainesville, Florida, and the University of Florida be congratulated upon having him in their midst,

"Thirdly, that a copy of these resolutions be presented to the Rev. Mr. Gordon, that a copy be sent to the First Presbyterian Church of Gainesville, that a copy be sent to the Second Presbyterian Church of Memphis, and a copy be filed in the archives of Southwestern.

Respectfully submitted,
Warner Hall,
Earle McGee,
Catherine Richey.

Rev. Gordon, who is an alumnus of Southwestern and a member of the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, was presented with a jeweled fraternity pin by members of the active Southwestern chapter before.

A gold watch chain pendant bearing the name "Southwestern" is being made and will be sent to "Preacher" Gordon by the student body as a testimonial of the esteem with which he is held and as a remembrance from his many friends on the campus.

FRATMEN BEGIN THIRTEEN CLUB

Open Social Activities With Tea-Dance

About the newest thing in the way of fraternities is the new "13" Club.

According to Dode Farnsworth, Exalted Neophyte of that worthy order, the "13" Club is entirely a social organization composed of the outstanding men in all of Southwestern's national fraternities.

Dode Farnsworth is the Exalted Neophyte, Richard Monk, Junior Overseer, and T. M. Garrott, Captain of the Guard.

As a means of introduction, the "13" Club gave a tea dance last Saturday afternoon at the Chi Omega sorority house. Music was furnished by Oscar Hurt's syncopating Cotton Pickers. The whole school was invited and many took advantage of the free coffee and sandwiches that were served at intermission.

Death Calls Father Of Dr. A. T. Johnson

It is with extreme sorrow that the faculty and student body has learned of the death of Mr. P. J. Johnson, father of Dr. A. T. Johnson, last Thursday at his home in Paris, Mo. Funeral services were held last Saturday morning.

Mr. Johnson had been in ill health for some time. His sudden death was unexpected, as he seemed much better after a recent sinking spell.

Flowers were sent by the faculty, student body and members of the business department.

Co-Ed Hurts Leg Walking On Hands

Louise Stratmann, co-ed gym director at Southwestern, is the victim of a strange accident last Saturday which has put her on the disabled list for a week.

While standing on her hands Miss Stratmann pulled a ligament in her left leg.

Being able to walk on her hands is one of the few stunts that she has been unable to master in the gym. Her attempt recently is the finale to her effort to walk inverted-fashion.

Sorrow Reigns Over Dormitories As Little Enoch, The Chameleon, Dies

Last Rites Said For Mascot Amid Scene Of Utter Desolation And Sorrow

Little Enoch, mascot of dormitory boys at Southwestern, has changed color for the last time, and will continue unto eternity in his present shade of green.

The most elaborate funeral in the history of the local campus was held recently by the freshmen of the college. In life Little Enoch delighted his admirers by changing from green to brown, and vice versa, before their very eyes. Science classes him as a chameleon, but the freshmen loved him, nevertheless.

Billy Fountain, a sophomore, bought Little Enoch at the Fair and gave him the campus as his domain. Each day dormitory freshmen had to catch a certain number of flies for Enoch's meals. But like all animals, Enoch got sick. He turned brown, then green, then back to brown, which worried his admirers. Medicine could not be forced down him, for he always changed his color when the attempt was made.

His long fast was almost broken when he attempted to swallow a large moth, which became lodged in his throat, and he strangled to death.

While the campus bell was tolling eight, the funeral dirge was sung. The Reverend Freshman Simmons officiated at the last rites to Little Enoch.

Mayor Overton To Speak Here Nov. 11

S. Watkins Overton, mayor of Memphis and a World War veteran, will be the principal speaker in the special Armistice Day service which will be held in the chapel at 5 p. m. November 11.

Mayor Overton has not announced his subject.

Special musical numbers have been selected by Albert Johnson, chapel pianist, for the choir program, including:

Processional Hymn, "God of Our Fathers Whose Almighty Hand,"
Anthem, Kipling's "Recessional" with music by De Koven.
Recessional Hymn, "Oh, Beautiful My Country."

Interment was near the base of the right stone Lynx at the gateway to the college.

Freshman Davidson and McKinnon were active ballbearers, and carried the body in a casket composed of a typewriter ribbon box lined with tin foil. Fountain and Richard Monk were chief mourners. They carried candles as the procession wended its way to the grave, dug by Freshmen Barrett and Jones. Freshman Hines softly played taps while the body was lowered into the grave. Freshman Enoch Webb, who donated the name for the chameleon, was among the mourners.

The beloved reptile turned his last color after death. He died brown, but immediately after his last breath he turned to a dark green.

Chi Omegas Plan 'Deep Sea' Party

Chi Omega sorority at Southwestern will be host at a unique party next Thursday night in the log-cabin chapter house when a "Deep Sea" dance will be held.

More than 150 invitations have already been extended to the student body, faculty and Memphis friends. Sailor clothes will be the prevailing fashion, including pirate, regular sailor and officer outfits.

The Cotton Pickers will furnish music for the occasion, which will start at 9 and end at midnight.

Chaperons will be Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fourmy and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fulk.

Chi Delta Phi To Pick Members Soon

Prospective members were discussed by Chi Delta Phi literary society at the home of Margaret McKinstry, on Cowden, Monday afternoon. Papers had been submitted and these were read and criticised. Only those girls showing marked literary ability will be admitted to the organization.

RITCHIE TALKS FOR AL SMITH

Plans to "Carry" Home County for Nominee

Malcolm Ritchie, Southwestern sophomore and holder of the highest collegiate oratorical honors in Tennessee for the past two years, will deliver three campaign speeches for Al Smith Friday and Saturday.

Ritchie will go with the "Flying Squadron," composed of Judge M. R. Patterson, Senator K. D. McKellar and others, to Fayette county for the rallies.

"Party Allegiance" will be Ritchie's subject at his first talk in Macon Friday at 3 p. m. and at Williston at 8 p. m. Saturday he will speak in Somerville, his home town, at 1:30 p. m. on the same subject.

Publication Board Officers Are Named

Officers for the Publication Board for the coming year are Harman Ayers, president; Dr. A. T. Johnson, secretary, and Mr. D. W. Gordon, treasurer.

The new officers took over their duties when the Board met last Friday. Among the first official acts was the naming of the Journal editor and business managers.

PI K. A. HOLDS CELEBRATION
Theta Chapter Formed In October, 1878

Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity at Southwestern celebrated recently the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Theta chapter at the old S. P. U. in Clarksville. This is the oldest Greek-letter fraternity on the campus and was founded in October, 1878. Theta chapter is one of the oldest units in the national group.

Members of the active and alumni chapters are making plans for a fitting celebration in the near future in honor of the founders of Theta chapter.

Johnston Garrott, a senior this year, is president of the active Theta unit of Pi. K. A. at Southwestern.

Weekly Novelette

The church was gorgeously emulated with hysanthemums and chrisdrangeas, yards and yards of white ribbon bows being scattered everywhere. The smell was simply snifferous. The bride looked elegant in her white gown de daye caught up with bunches of mollies-of-the-alley while sprays of lemon blossoms covered her dainty head. Everything was going along just swell. Then the minister spake: "If anyone knows any reason why this woman should not marry this man, let him speak now or forever hold his peace." Or words to that effect. There was a stir in the last row. A pale-faced thin man rose to his feet. "I know a reason," he said. The entire 19 spectators turned their eyes on the speaker as the eyes of one specked tater. "Name it!" thundered the minister. "I'm his tailor," said the little man, "and he's owed me $41.29 for six years, and if he's been unable to pay me in all this time, how can he pay it when he has a wife to support as well as himself. And the ceremony did not proceed until the tailor had passed his hat among the guests and collected all but $1.78.

Only Editors Know This Drama

A full moon swung up in a black and fathomless sky. The wind was rustling thru the leaves of a nearby elm. A penetrating hush settled over the campus. All was still. Such was nature.

Thru closed windows shone a steady light. The Sou'wester office was in a bustle. Three men were talking excitedly. One wore an eye shade and seemed more perturbed than the other two. After a while one left and the other two started writing on a typewriter. This lasted for several minutes. Finally the third member re-joined the group.

"Did you get it?" asked the one with the eye shade. "Naw. He's got a date," replied the member who had just returned.

"What about the girls, get the dope?" "Naw. There's a bunch over at Evergreen Hall having a big time and they said they really couldn't bother about it now."

More argument followed. All three then fell upon a stack of exchange papers and coned them closely. Frequently scissors rent their printed pages. Joke books were pored over, and extractions were taken from each.

"How about Chi Delta, Nate?" "Sorry, but I couldn't get the story. Won't break until next week."

"What about the football story, Vern?" "Couldn't find Wes. Guess he's got a date too."

"Well, what are we going to do—print the catalog?" hotly retorted the ed with the eye shade. "Suits me," returned Vern. "No one would notice the difference anyway."

"Say", popped White, "did you hear about _____?" "Why in the devil didn't you tell me before this?" bawled the one with the eye shade.

Three hours later an easy atmosphere seemed to settle over the publication office. Something had happened. The moon was still floating lazily across the heavens, beaming in thru the small windows of the office. Presently the lights were turned out. All was quiet.

Three figures were seen to emerge thru a door of the building. They were silent. Each went a different direction. The moon was starting on its downward descent as the car started and soon left the campus.

This is an actual picture which students never see, nor think of when they read the Sou'wester each week. Some weeks there is an abundance of news, others there is practically none. When such lean weeks make their intrusion on the staff, the same drama is enacted. The Sou'wester columns are greedy and must be filled. They must reflect student life, but if the students show no life during the time between issues—the same scene is re-enacted. The column must be filled with news!—or something else.

FOES MEET BY GRID

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.—(IP)—Fate is being blamed for the trick that placed Gamma Phis to the Pi Phi and the Chi Psi in better seats than the Theta Deltas for the rest of the home football season at the University of Minnesota.

Two men, with honest faces, an editor and a council president, acted as special representatives of that Fate when they drew football ticket numbers to assign seats.

Each block of seats turned in by students, irrespective of sex or religion, was numbered and placed in a borrowed hat.

Rows in the stadium were filled, block by block, as the two men pulled the numbers from the hat.

Mortal enemies have been doomed to sit next to each other for the whole season of football. Women are scheduled to sit next to the rudest gang of campus men at Minnesota.

"We ask you, how do you expect us to sit with the Phi Sigs' feet on our necks?" comes a query over the phone at the ticket office.

BEST GUESS GETS "A"

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—(IP)—"Students who are the best guessers get the 'A's' declared Dr. Herbert N. Shenton, head of the sociology department at Syracuse university, in a recent lecture.

"Those who cannot guess quite as well," he said, "get the 'B's', and those who guess, but not with any degree of accuracy, do not pass."

Closing his remarks, Dr. Shenton said, "Scientific advancement and intellectual awakening are in direct proportion to people's ability to guess correctly, and make the right choices."

FORGET HONOR CODE

NEW HAVEN, CONN.—(IP)—Yale has abandoned the honor system in examinations.

This fall in all classes except those of academic freshmen and the Sheffield School, examinations will be carefully supervised.

There will be no more examinations given in which there is not at least one instructor present in the capacity of proctor.

REVISE HONOR CODE

AUSTIN, TEX.—(IP)—By a vote of 1,109 out of 1,494 cast, students of University of Texas have voted for the retention of the Honor System, with the exclusion of the "reporting" clause.

Well, Well, Well

City Thomason says he's never had a chance to see much of Memphis on account of all the tall buildings. City ought to take an air ride and get a bird's-eye view. According to psychology there ain't any noise, merely vibrations. Let's set up heap big vibrations when the Teachers and Lynx tie up at Fargason next week. Freshman Hinson says college life just seems to be one thing after another; usually one thing after a co-ed. Bacigalupo says they ought to distribute the touch-downs evenly at each end of the field so everyone gets to see one made. "Ole Lady" Liddon has announced that his class in bull sessions will meet the first Monday after football closes. Make your reservations early. The faculty has announced after considerable study that the main reason students flunk classes is that they don't attend. Two freshettes said they liked to attend chapel to hear Dean Hartley pronounce the names. Freshman Fulenwider says a rising vote of thanks is nice but it don't pass your studies for you.

WHO'S WHO IN SENIOR CLASS

Eleanor H. Beckham

Eleanor H. Beckham, a Chi Omega sweetheart, first smiled on this world February 4, 1908, at Atlanta, Georgia, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burt Belton Beckham. She received her grammar school education at Knoxville, Tenn., and spent her high school days at "Notre Dame of Maryland," in Baltimore. She has spent the entire four years of her college life at Southwestern.

"Beckie" has always taken a large part in all the activities of the Chi Omegas, and is president of the chapter this year, and is also vice-president of the Pan-Hellenic Council. She was captain of the varsity basketball squad '26-'27-'28 and a member of the Tennis Council in 1925. She was secretary and treasurer of the Golf Club '27-'28, and of the A. P. O's, a society with a strictly social aim, during '26-'27-'28. She was treasurer of Chi Delta literary society '25-'27, and was a member of the Sou'wester staff '25-'26.

This year "Beckie" is the august High Priestess of the woman's Sandhedrin Council, the vice-president of the Y. W. C. A. and a member of the Student Council.

Four Southwestern co-eds are tied for first place in the high jump contest held recently between rival groups of gym students.

Misses Georgia Colby and Anne Shewmaker tied for first honors in one class, each jumping 48 inches. Miss Jane Barker cleared 48 inches in her division, and Miss Anna Hudson did the same in her group.

No finals were held to pick the champion high-stepper of Southwestern.

Lady Evangelist Bears Up Under Derision

GLASGOW, SCOTLAND—(IP)—Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, California woman evangelist, earned a reputation for persistence here recently when she managed to make a ten minute sermon in the face of the most unmerciful heckling ever received by a woman preacher.

The students of Glasgow University remained unconverted, but they paid tribute to the California evangelist. The students, waving whisky bottles, playing cards and blowing cigarette smoke at the preacher, cheered her when she finished.

Whisky and beer bottles decorated the platform. Screaming posters extolled the virtues of whisky. "Whisky is good for your complexion," said one. "Have you brought your chewing gum?" asked another, making fun of the great American habit.

"Ladies may smoke," another poster read, and co-eds, sitting in the front row, blew smoke from the cigarettes into the evangelist's face. When she coughed, students came forward offering beer to clear her throat.

Mrs. McPherson, wiping the tears from her eyes, courageously tried to make herself heard above the din, and finally achieved a brief sermon.

Choice Bits Of Humor May Be Found In The Columns Of Our Newspapers

Even Serious-Minded Editors Are Prone to Err Even in Correcting Blunders

I read the papers. So do you. So does everybody.

The first thing we notice in the paper is the headlines. All newspapers have headlines. Some papers are all headlines. Some funny interpretations of life are imported by these headlines.

Headlines are not supposed to state the writer's personal political opinion, but look at this one:

CONGRESS BLOC-HEADS MEET IN CONFERENCE

Sometimes the headlines are a little too strong for the story:

TO TAKE PICTURES OF SALVATION ARMY COOKING STUDENTS

Erroneous conclusions might be drawn from these bald words:

Brevity sometimes lends itself to paradox:

COOLNESS IS KEYNOTE OF FIRE IN ADELPHIA HOTEL

Fair warning was given by the following announcement:

$5,000,000 REALTY TAKEN FOR BRIDGE

Rare newspaper humor is not confined to bulls in the captions. Here is a classic bone that has found its way into all high-toned and reputable rhetorics and works on literature:

"The unfortunate woman was killed while cooking her husband's breakfast in a horrible manner." Here is a striking finale a rural reporter tacked on to the big story of the week in his section:

"As he flung the blazing oil stove out of the window, Mr. Perkins stumbled over a chair and sat down amidst some ignited shavings on the floor, the flame from which caught his clothes. By quick action and a ready wit he escaped with his life, but his trousers were burned almost beyond recognition."

It was the New York reporter who dashed out to a neighboring town to cover the murder of a millionaire. As he fell upon details he put this paragraph in his smear of facts:

"Fortunately for the deceased, he had deposited all of his money in the bank the day before, so he lost virtually nothing but his life."

An Australian paper in an account of the launching of a ship said:

"It was christened the 'Somase Queen' by Mrs. Stevens, who broke a bottle of wine over the stem and then slid gracefully down the ways into the water."

A London newspaper condensed a long-winded last-minute story thusly:

"The Earl took a Scotch highball, his hat, his departure, no pursuers, a revolver out of his pocket and, finally, his life."

A social note in a small town newspaper reads as follows:

"On Saturday of this week, July the 12th, Mrs. Canfield invites her friends to call between the hours of four and six in the afternoon to commiserate her on having a birthday and being nearly a century old. Will the men who may chance to come remember that she despises tobacco more than most people do the ways of the transgressor, and if they cannot keep from smoking, the graveyard is close by and they can find sanctuary there."

Here is another choice society crime:

"The bride is a young lady of wondrous fascination and remarkable attractiveness, for with manners as enchanting as the wand of a siren, and a disposition as sweet as the odors of flowers, and spirits as joyous as the caroling of birds, and mind as brilliant as the tresses that glitteringly adorn the brow of winter, and with heart as pure as dew-drops trembling in violets, she will make the home of her husband a paradise of enchantment, like the lovely home of her girlhood, where the heaven-toned harp of marriage with its harp of love striking chords of devotion and fond endearments sent forth the sweetest strains that ever thrilled the senses with the rhythmic pulsing of ecstatic rapture."

A man with a queer name had an equally queer experience:

"Mr. Laura Stump, who lost his car in Oklahoma City, was found the other day standing in the middle of the road with several parts missing."

"A bargain in Blank's upright pianos. Made of crepe de chine. These dainty silk underthings are not an extravagance at this price, $145. Action and mechanism in excellent condition; mahogany case in fair condition."

"Annual sale now going on. Don't go elsewhere to be cheated. Come here."

A short excursion to the classified ad page reveals these:

FOR SALE — Bulldog: Will eat anything; very fond of children.

FOR SALE—Eighty pure bred White Leghorn hens and two roosters; all laying.

FOR RENT—Lovely furnished room in private family with bath on car line.

WANTED—A butcher who must be able to cut and serve customers.

WANTED—We want your eggs, and we want them bad.

COMING RIVALS HAVE BIG TIME

Some Win, Some Lose and One Ties

Southwestern's future opponents of the football season had a big week the past Saturday with the exception of the Hendrix Bulldogs. The Bulldogs took on the Henderson-Brown Reddies in what was touted as a great game and were trampled under foot by a 47 to 0 score in what proved to be a stampede.

Chattanooga, at present rated as the likely S. I. A. A. champions, strengthened their claims considerably at the expense of Centenary. The Moccasins eked out a 21 to 14 victory, which makes things look stiff for the Lynx who invade Chattanooga Saturday.

The University of Arkansas, the Lynx's Turkey Day opponents, humbled Texas A. & M. 27 to 12, which means a real Turkey Day battle on Fargason Field.

Ole Miss, ancient and honorable rivals, traveled to New Orleans to meet the Loyola Wolf Pack. The Wolf Pack was right and chawed up the Mississippians 34 to 14.

And, last but not least, the West Tennessee Teachers, where Zach Curlin runs his Tigers, entertained the Middle Tennessee Teachers at Memorial Field. The undefeated and unscored on Tigers were held to a 13 to 14 tie, but showed they had a football team. They meet the Lynx a week from Saturday for the city college title and the battle should be a real one.

Open House

Chi Alpha sorority will entertain with an open house next Tuesday evening from 10 to 2 at the home of Miss Jeannette Spann, a recent pledge, on Peabody avenue.

Both the faculty and student body of the college are invited.

"Doubled and redoubled"

A leading bridge expert once said, "The aces and kings play themselves; it's the little spots that make games."

What's true in bridge seems equally true in the cigarette business. Aces to deuces, spades to clubs—from the very first deal, Chesterfield made every card good!

No risky finesses, no sharp double squeezes — Chesterfield rose to world-wide popularity by straight honest selling with a straight honest product — an outstanding success in cigarette history.

So Chesterfield can bid high. Tobacco quality, perfect blending, purity, mildness, natural sweetness — with a hand like that, Chesterfield can redouble your smoking pleasure...and today, next month, next year, keep right on fulfilling the contract.

Lynx Caterwaul Paean Of Victory While Panthers Acquire Goose Egg

Lads From Arkansas College Get Chinese Cookie From Locals As Southwestern Wins 19-0

Arkansas College football team may be Panthers in the wilds of their native state but they were nothing but tomcats when the Southwestern Lynx went on the prowl last Saturday. The Lynx caught the Panther in his own backyard and for the second straight year sent him home clawed and battered carrying the goose egg end of a 19 to 0 score.

"Four-Yard" Pittman, who could have been dubbed with equal accuracy "Eight-Yard" or "Ten-Yard" or however many yards were needed to make first down, and Hiram Lee "Buck" Roberts, plunged and plowed over the Arkansas College line to pile up a total of 21 first downs to the invader's 3.

Behind a line that swept onward like the roll of a tidal wave, these two backs roared and stormed up and down Fargason Field with steady, constant gains of five and six-yards at a time. Bobby Lloyd, the little giant quarterback, stood like Jove on Olympus and hurled his twin thunderbolts—Pittman and Roberts—thru and around the invaders.

The Southwestern line exhibited some of the best defensive football of the year. They stood like the Spartans at Thermopylae and none were there who could pass. Only once did the Arkansas break loose, and "Brick" Viers saved the day. What few backs broke past the forward wall found themselves nailed by the fierce tackling of Lloyd, Pittman and Viers.

On the Arkansas side, "Butch" Schlater came here rated highly as a defensive fullback and he held his honors well. Time and again he met the plunging Lynx backs, hit them like a steam hammer to prevent long gains and drove them back, but it was like one man trying to hold back a typhoon.

On the Southwestern line, the famous "Kast Iron Kids," Flint Liddon and Lorin King, played great football, while the entire line battled and fought to keep the invaders from passing.

Southwestern got off to an early start. After holding the Panthers for downs, the twin death-and-destruction gang of the Lynx backs started to function. First, Roberts would race for 7 or 8 yards and then Pittman would duck his head and plow for four or five or six to make it first down. Sixty yards this pair galloped off, tearing the line to shreds until Pittman went over for a score. The try for point went wild.

The second quarter gave the Panthers the best showing they could make. "Red" Fizer, the fleet-footed young back, and "Butch" Schlater stormed at the Lynx line without results. Then Fizer took to end runs, breaking loose once for 25 yards and was apparently long gone as he sidestepped Lloyd only to be nailed by "Brick". The line held and the worst threat of the day was over.

The third period saw the "Sophomore" Thunderbolts again let loose. They stormed and tore for a steady march down the field, Roberts cutting loose with 10 and 12 yard gains. With the ball in the shadow of the Panther goal, the Lynx drew a 15-yard penalty, making second down and 25 to go. In three attempts Roberts made 5 and 10 and again 10 for first down and a few more plunges took Pittman over the goal line. A pass, Viers to Pittman, made the extra point.

George "Snookums" Hightower entered the game in the second period and broke loose for 5 yards but was injured a few plays later and was not needed bad enough to venture risking further injuries. In the final quarter another march started with the "Thunderbolts" again ripping thru for Pittman to again plunge across the goal. The attempt for extra point failed. The reserves took the field in the final minutes of play and showed plenty of ability but were unable to score, the game ending 19 to 0.

The Lynx truly showed ability Saturday and fought as few Southwestern teams have fought. The entire team deserves credit as they worked together like a machine, every man doing his part.

Introducing "Four-Yard"

Courtesy The Commercial Appeal
Lamar "Four-Yard" Pittman, the battering ram of the Lynx backfield, is giving public exhibitions this year of how a line should be crashed. Pitt is a sophomore and is playing his first year on the varsity—and how! His line plunging has been brilliant in every game, and last Saturday he scored all 19 points made against Arkansas College. Pitt is big and powerful and when he starts out for the goal he acts real determined about getting there. He has fully lived up to the "Four-Yard" part of his name.

Bobcats And Sunflower Juniors Mix On Fargason Field This Afternoon

Freshmen Determined To Keep Goal Line Uncrossed For A Season's Record

The Southwestern Bobcats will entertain the Sunflower Junior College, from Sunflower County, Miss., on Fargason this afternoon. Coach Wes Adams' team has an undefeated record in three games, and their goal line has not been crossed.

They defeated Tupelo Military Academy and the Tate County, Miss., Aggies 6 to 0 and trimmed the Union Freshmen 19 to 0. The Bobcats are particularly eager to down the Sunflower team as this same team lost to the West Tennessee Teachers early in the season by a 19 to 0 score.

Coach Adams will have his full lineup available, with June Davidson and Johnny Hughes at ends, Jimmy Hughes and Ed Detweiler at tackles, Walker and Hall at guards, Berson at center, with Hinson, DeLay, Titus and Gurard in the backfield.

PERSONALS

Ann Roach has returned to the campus from the University of Illinois where she attended Home-Coming Day there.

The Equestrian Club had to postpone its first outing on account of rain until next Monday.

Mrs. T. B. Cook, from Canton, was a recent visitor of May White.

Altho Miss Stratmann is disabled this week, her gym classes will be held as scheduled.

Barbary Embury was a visitor on the campus Tuesday.

Dorothy Cobb's sister spent the week-end with her.

Allise Cole's mother visited her during the past week-end.

Martha Kersee spent the week-end at her home in Helena, Ark.

Matter Reynolds had her sister, Annie Laurie, as her guest last week-end.

Mrs. Howard Pritchard and Mrs. Verd Slaughter visited the campus Tuesday morning.

Mrs. John T. Pullen, nee Miss Frances Gregg, is being feted with a series of parties on her return to Memphis from Birmingham.

Charles Garraway, who underwent an operation for tonsils and sinus last Saturday morning, has returned to his classes.

TWO SELECTED ASCANDIDATES

Hughes and McGee Bid For Scholarship

Billy Hughes and Earle McGee, both seniors at Southwestern this year, and graduates of Central high school, of Memphis, have been chosen as candidates of the college to compete for the Rhodes Scholarship from Tennessee this year.

Fourteen men have applied for the application thus far, and one will be chosen by the state selection board when it convenes in Nashville on Dec. 8.

Among those competing, University of Tennessee, Knoxville, will have four; Union, one; Vanderbilt, four; Sewanee, one; Princeton, one; West Point, one, and Southwestern, two.

The Rhodes Scholarship provides for a stipend of $2,000 a year for three years tenable at Oxford University, England. To win this honor a student must be outstanding both in academic work, leadership qualities, athletics, and high moral character.

Dr. R. P. Strickler, professor of Greek at Southwestern, is secretary of the committee on selection. Dr. Strickler is a Rhodes scholar.

Host To Visitors

More than 200 delegates to the Tennessee Congress of Parents and Teachers were guests of the Southwestern Woman's Club Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock when tea was served in the cloister.

The visitors were from all parts of Tennessee, and participated in the state-wide gathering in Memphis this week.

A. & M. MEET IS TAKING SHAPE

Local Sprinters Face Miss. Team Nov. 24

Tentative arrangements have been made by W. C. Rasberry, coach of the Southwestern track squad, with Mississippi A. & M. for a cross country meet to be run here on Nov. 24.

Rasberry has been dickering with the track coach at Mississippi A. & M. for several days, and Thursday received acceptance to his offer for a meet.

The entire corps of Lynx runners will enter, according to Rasberry. But only a team of six sprinters will be counted as the official opponents of the Mississippi team. By allowing the entire squad to run, Rasberry will be able to get a line on the men he will use in the S. I. A. A. meet which will be held in early December. Several football men will run in the S. I. A. A. meet, says Rasberry, as the Lynx will not play on the date of the meet.

Plans for the intramural contests between classes and fraternities are being settled, with the only remaining problem that of a definite date. Both classes and fraternities are forming teams, and captains of each group will be chosen next week.

The coming events will be Southwestern's first attempts at both intercollegiate and intramural races.

What's the Charm Of This Man Al?

A group of freshettes favored students with a program last Thursday morning in chapel. The opening chorus was none other than "Eastside Westside," and it seems like Al Smith has quite a number of staunch backers in Southwestern if his popularity is to be judged by the applause that his favorite ditty received. After the tumult and shouting died, Crawford McGivaren furnished the inspiration for that old favorite, "Oh My Man I Love Him So!"

Freshette Elizabeth Smith gave a reading, and then came those "St. Louis Blues," with Mary Gardner Patterson doing the Frisco. A slight geographical error was made here, but the combination went over big, anyway.

The performance ended with the grand finale, "Boola Boola." The cast included Freshettes Frances Owens, Marion Pape, Mary Gardner Patterson, Josephine Zimmerman, Courtney Smith, Elizabeth Smith, Katherine Reid, Martha Gowans, Lyle Stangane, and Margaret Sweeney.

Is that stuff potent? Ask me. I just saw two headlights on the Ford going down the street.

SPORT LIGHTS

"Brick" Viers, the sorrel-topped half-back of the Lynx, did some nice tackling. Viers nailed "Red" Fizer and saved a touchdown after Fizer had broken loose and outstepped all the other Lynx. Fizer ought to know better than to try and outrun another redhead.

The Kast Iron Kids (Liddon and King) were in the thick of the battle Saturday. King tossed "Butch" Schlater for a loss on three occasions, ruining the first time the Panthers got the ball. His flying headlock from behind on Fizer was 100 percent better than any that he has exhibited this season.

It only took two downs to make ten-yards in the final period. Roberts would step off six and then Pitt would see how much more there was to go and step it off, usually throwing in a few yards extra for good measure. Pitt, by the way, scored all 19 points: three touchdowns and caught a pass from Viers for the extra marker.

Bob Logan and City Thomason, who started their first big game, played like veterans and earned their jobs. They held like Arkansas mud on the defense and carried their men back on offense.

Big Jeff Davis improves every game and is going to be a sweet football player by'mbye. He filled in Arthur Dulin's guard position and is living up to the reputation his brother Sid Davis made here a few years ago.

And this little Bobby Lloyd is one nice quarterback. Bobby seldom totes the ball, but boy! what interference he gives the rest of the gang.

Students Trounce Profs. With Sticks

The Overton Park golf course has been the scene of unusual activity as the qualifying rounds of the Southwestern Gold Tournament started this week.

Matches have been played in the regular flight only, but the consolation flight will get under way in the near future.

Results in the regular flight to date are: Long defeated Rhodes 7 up 6 to go; Sanders defeated Haden 8 up 6 to go; Cromwell defeated Atkinson 4 up 3 to go, and Ramier won his match from Glass by default.

Visitor Is Speaker

Mrs. C. D. Head was a guest and speaker at the Y. W. C. A. meeting held Wednesday afternoon in Hardie Chapel. The devotional was led by Mary Evelyn Wailes, and a talk was given by Dorothy Green on the subject of "Blue Ridge." A few appropriate songs concluded the program.
