TRY-OUTS HELD

Interest Manifested In Journalism Here

Assignments were posted Monday morning for the new group of journalists and would-be journalists that have recently been given jobs on the Souwester. The Publications office was filled Monday and Tuesday with the new reporters pecking their stuff out on the typewriters. Needless to say there was many a slip between the thought and the key.

Tryouts were held last week, members of the newly-formed journalism club being eligible to write. Aspirants for jobs on the paper were asked to write a feature story, a news story and an editorial. Those that did not succeed in making the staff have no cause to feel discouraged. It is always permissible to try, and if one tries sufficiently hard to perfect his English and newspaper style there is always hope.

Those chosen are Marion Painter, assistant sport editor; Garrett Ratcliff, exchange editor; Ralph Booth, Elbert Hoffman, John Hughes, Jim Hughes, Virginia Friend, Hazel Edmunds, Martha McFerrin, John McFerrin, Reeves Manker, William Frazier, Lorinne Mitchell and Elizabeth Williams, reporters.

John Rea is sport editor, and Charlotte Bruce and Pauline Barton, society editors. They have held their positions from the first of the year.

Through the recent activity of the journalists a large amount of interest has been aroused in the subject, more than forty students having joined the journalism club.

"Beat Sewanee"

Girl Tumblers To Give Exhibition

Southwestern co-eds are not willing to admit the supremacy of men in any branch of college activity.

The boys' tumbling team will receive a stiff bit of competition between halves at the game with Hendrix-Henderson College. At that time a group of girls under the direction of Miss Louise Stratmann, will give an exhibition of pyramid building and stunts.

The girls in this group are: Louise Nowlin, Nelwyn Ortenbach, Grace Carkeet, Emma Frances Robinson, Gladys Gibson, Martha Bancroft, Alicia Keisker, Elizabeth Beasley, Glenda Rice, Margaret Smith, Effie Lee Ingram, Floye Buford, Mildred Everet, and Elise Ellison.

Minor Changes In Cast of Play

Two changes have been made in the cast of "Am I Intruding?" which will be given by the Southwestern Players Dec. 6, at the Mazda Theatre. William Wright will play the part of Ernest Rathburn to have been played by William Berson. Berson will play the part of Dickie Waldron, which was the roll given Fritz Heidelberg. Heidelberg is withdrawing from the play entirely.

Practices are being held three times a week in preparation for the play.

STUDENTS MAY BUY RINGS NOW

"Senior class rings will be sent for as members indicate their desire for one," said Morris Ford, president of the class, Wednesday. A standard ring bearing the seal of Southwestern was selected last year and students may get them before they become seniors if they so wish. The rings cost $17.50.

KIDDIES PLAY AT WRESTLING

Wells and Bynum Put On Good Show

Why pay a dollar to watch some cheap professional wrestling match when all you've got to do is to drop in the social room at Palmer Hall and see Battlin' Joe Wells take on P. Bynum, the Terrible Titian, in a no-time-limit drag down knockout? Don't be silly!

These boys are in good shape, and from present indications, their next encounter will be a humdinger. Betting is about even with young Wells a slight favorite. Neither grappler would issue a statement regarding the coming bout nor would they reveal the exact time, but hang around the social room if you don't want to miss anything!

RESPONSE TO EFFORTS FINE

Campaign in Mississippi Well Under Way

Rapid progress is being made in setting up and carrying forward Southwestern's $400,000 campaign in Mississippi. Dr. George Booth, the director, has associated with him Dr. Fred R. Graves of Sumner, and Dr. W. S. Lacey, executive secretary of Southwestern.

Actual canvassing will begin Nov. 16 at three points in the Synod, viz: Clarksdale, Corinth and Cleveland.

Dr. Lacey will be in charge at Cleveland; Dr. Graves at Corinth, and Dr. Booth at Clarksdale. The work will then follow at three points a week until Dec. 18.

All work in the northern part of the state will be done before Christmas. After the beginning of the year the campaign will be resumed in central and southern Mississippi.

Dr. Booth has had gratifying response to the initial efforts, and the Campaign Committee is hopeful of ultimate success. The campaign office is located at Natchez, Miss., to which point mail may be addressed.

A. P. O. Pledge social club takes great pleasure in announcing the pledging of Pat Barrett, Bill Daniels, Schuyler Lowe, William Frazier and Frosh Perry.

'WORK ESSENTIAL' TEACHERS CLAIM

By JIMMIE HUGHES

"Do you think a student is entitled to at least a 'D' if he attends every class every time during a grading period and pays attention to the lectures, yet doesn't do any outside studying?"

Armed to the teeth with a pencil and a notebook I cornered nine of the leading pros on the campus and with a learned air "popped the question." Divers and peculiar were their several replies.

Dr. E. D. McDougall says, "I think that without a certain amount of outside reading and studying no student would be capable of carrying on an intelligent discussion of the subject in class."

Don't try to slip by Dr. S. H. Monk. He says that although a student might learn enough to pass an exam without outside study, he wouldn't deserve a 'D'. He is sure, however, that a good many have skinned through his courses without preparation. He blames the professor if this type is allowed to pass.

Have Roles In Production

THOMAS DRAKE

Louise Nowlin will have the part of Mona, the maid, in the play, "Am I Intruding?", which will be given by the Southwestern Players at the Mazda Theatre the night of December 6. Thomas Drake, president of the Players, will play the part of Blair Hoover, a young adventurer. Mrs. Terrell Brame is directing the production.

Council Is Lucky In Securing Music

"The Mississippians" have been secured by the Men's Panhellenic Council to play for the first formal of this year, which will be held at the Elks' Club the night of Nov. 19.

The Council feels unusually fortunate in securing this 11-piece orchestra, because its calendar for the winter season is almost completely filled.

The "Pan" promises to be one of the high lights in the collegiate social season. Panhellenic members and their dates will be in the receiving line. The dates will wear corsages of white roses and the Council members will wear a white rose.

The first no-break will be called at 8:30. Everyone had better come in time so as not to miss the good music.

"Beat Sewanee" Nitists To Meet

Prof. H. B. Davis of the economics department will read the paper at the next meeting of the Nitists Thursday night, Nov. 14, in the Bell Room of Hugh M. Neely hall.

Dr. A. P. Kelso read an interesting paper on "Cause" at the last meeting of the club. A lively discussion arose among those present.

Due to the more than unusual interest shown in Nitist Club meetings the men students and professors are invited to come listen to the discussion, and drink coffee.

KEEN RIVALRY IN CO-ED SPORT

Archery, Hockey Teams Well Under Way

A keen spirit of inter-class rivalry among the women students has been aroused by the Undergraduate Society through the introduction of the point system in athletics and other college activities.

The major sports for which points are given in the fall are hockey and archery. Miss Louise Stratmann reports that good crowds have been coming out for the practices.

Archery practice is from 2 to 3 o'clock on Monday and Thursday. Plans are being made for an inter-class archery tournament.

The hockey sticks arrived only last week; so the hockey teams have not been picked yet. Practice is on Tuesday and Thursday from 3 to 4 o'clock. Jane Barker and Lucille Work have shown a great deal of ability in this sport.

The Undergraduate Society has decided to discontinue the use of the Nineteenth Century Club pool until spring because of the small attendance at the swimming hours since the weather turned cold.

THETA ALPHA PHI TO INITIATE EIGHT

Eight pledges will be initiated into Theta Alpha Phi, national honorary dramatic fraternity, Thursday night, Nov. 14 in the studio in the basement of Palmer Hall.

Membership in Theta Alpha Phi is based on work done in Southwestern dramatics. Parts in three plays or the equivalent in production work such as arranging wardrobes, painting sets, lighting, ticket sales, makes one eligible to be initiated. The active chapter includes Fritz Heidelberg, Thomas Drake and Addie Louise Murray. The pledges are Hazel Edmunds, Charlotte Bruce, Janet Moody, Mary Evelyn Wailes, Meredith Davis, George Booth, Bob Sanders, Richard Monk.

Contest Draws Interest

Unusual interest is being manifested in the contest which Sigma Upsilon, Chi Delta Phi are sponsoring. A $10 gold piece will be given to the student writing the best prose work consisting of an essay, a short story or a play, and a $10 gold piece will be given to the student composing the best work in poetry. Further information concerning the contest may be obtained from Abe Fortas, Elizabeth Williams or Dr. A. T. Johnson.

FLARE TO LIGHT SKY AS FROSH DANCE & SING

Freshmen Push Ye Old School Truck

YELL AT ORPHEUM

"Beat Sewanee," Slogan of Arthur Halle

By REEVES MANKER

When the clock strikes six and one half bells tonight a great flare will light the eastern section of Memphis and reveal hundreds of pajama-clad freshmen doing a war dance and giving the war whoop in the vacant plot opposite Evergreen Hall. The war is that with the Tigers from Sewanee Saturday on Fargason field.

Cheerleader "Pee-wee" Hines will pull the big electric switch which will send the current through wires to the can of gasoline in the center of the immense pile of boxes. There will be a momentary hush before the big explosion and flare. There will be thousands of people present to watch the big conflagration and hear the speeches made by Hines, members of the Lynx football squad and former Lynx captains. A special car from the Memphis fire department will be on hand to see that buildings nearby will not be endangered.

Since Tuesday freshmen boys have worked prodigiously on the pile. "Ole Liz," the school truck, has been kept busy running between Sears-Roebuck and the field opposite Evergreen. Boxes of all sizes and shapes have been secured for the bonfire, and under the direction of Hines have been piled together to an enormous height.

"Beat Sewanee" is the slogan of Chamber of Commerce committee, of which Mr. Arthur Halle is chairman. Mr. Halle paid chapel a visit Tuesday morning and outlined to the students the plan of the committee, and his enthusiasm immediately ignited a flame of Southwestern patriotism that has been smoldering all year.

The committee has planned a big night shirt parade of the "proletariat," that is students on foot, following the bonfire. The parade will terminate at the Orpheum theatre where all the students will sit in a body in a reserved section. With the students will be the band and cheer leaders.

Sewanee's student body has received a special telegram inviting them to the celebration tonight. Beneath the Southwestern students at the Orpheum will sit the Sewanee students and their local backers. They, too, will have a band and their cheerleaders will strut their stuff between the acts. Some of the actors on the stage will lend more to the collegiate atmosphere by leading the students in cheers.

Tonight will be a night long to be remembered by Southwesterners!

Saturday morning at 11 o'clock students will parade the uptown district. Each of the classes will have three stunts, and by noon if all the business district doesn't know about the game it won't be because Southwesterners don't make noise.

Another feature of the celebration will be the sale of ribbons. Southwestern girls will sell the red and black and also Sewanee's colors.

Because of the kindness of Mr. Halle and his committee and because of the team all Southwestern students are expected to hold up their end of putting the game over. Each student should enter into the celebration with his whole heart.

Report Period Ends

The mid-semester report period will end next Tuesday, November 12. The reports will be given out as soon as they can be arranged by the office.

No student will be given his report until he has filled out a church attendance card.

BOBCATS GIVE UNION BEATING

Freshmen Offense and Defense Good

True to their old form and tradition, the Bobcats stepped out and trimmed the Union Bullpups' tails last Saturday 27 to 0. Ever since their defeat last year, the Union freshmen have sworn eternal vengeance against the Bobcats. They left Jackson determined to come back with the Bobcats' hide, but instead, they left their own here in Memphis.

The game last Friday was a great one—worthy of any man's money. The Bobcats functioned perfectly, both on the offense and defense, and had the ball in Union's territory most of the game. The Bullpups were outplayed, outfought, and outgained by three to one. They just couldn't stand up before the Bobcats' fury—cause you know a Bobcat is the fight-inist thing "they is." Nevertheless, Union put up a good fight throughout the game, and several times had the Southwestern supporters "on their toes."

The whole game was "lit up" by the stellar performance of High and Newton in the backfield and McCormack, Jones, and Perret in the line. It was first High and then Newton who took the ball around the end and through the line for substantial gains at Union's expense. Then when the first team got tired of tearing up the Bullpups, Coach Adams sent in the reserves and the famous "Pony Express" backfield, who did some more ground gaining. The final score doesn't show the ability with which the Bobcats played the game.

WORK ESSENTIAL

but I believe the system would be successful only in regard to lecture courses. Try to get through biology without outside study."

I caught Dr. W. R. Cooper as he emerged from the College Store, whence came the haunting strains of "Smiling Irish Eyes." I didn't know whether Doc's nickel was responsible for the piece or not, but you know he toured Europe last summer. Maybe Russell Brigrance knows about the eyes. Well, I forgot all about the music and asked him the question. "I think the student who tries to get through without outside study deserves an F and it should stand for 'foolin'," he said in reply. Maybe that explains some of the F's he hands out to the disciples of history.

Dr. C. L. Townsend says, "That might be done in an easy foreign language but it cannot be done in English or history. Of course, it would be an exceptionally bright student who could pass even the easiest subject on these terms."

I stopped Dr. A. P. Kelso in the cloistered hallway and confronted him with my query. With eyes a-twinkle he said: "If a student can make a 'D' at Southwestern without outside preparation he deserves an 'A' for having such a brilliant mind." That "at Southwestern" has an ominous note, though. Maybe it isn't so easy to make a 'D' on these terms where the scholastic standard is so high. I could cite him several cases where it has been done.

Witness the next.

Here's what Oscar Hurt, pretty and 21, has to say about it. I found Oscar strolling reminiscently about the campus with a far away look in his eyes as he thought of the days that are no more. I was surprised not to find him shooting his usual bull to an open-mouthed audience, but I fell in step with him and spoke my piece. "Listen," quoth Oscar, "don't let any of these profs tell you that it can't be done! I did it for four years straight, and I got by, didn't I?" I nodded, and he went on, "I never cracked a book but paid good attention in class and when judgment day came I passed my exam with flying colors." Yeh, flying colors.

Dr. R. P. Strickler says "A student deserves an 'A' if he can make it by passing daily quizzes, tests and the other impediments of college life."

Prof. Charles Robertson, newest addition to the faculty, still clings to his old beliefs. "Just keep your eye and ear on the prof. during lecture hour and you'll know your onions," was his terse comment. Drawing me aside he confidentially whispered to me that he never had read his freshman biology notes over. Don't ever tell anything confidentially to a newspaper man, Charlie!

Dr. W. O. Shewmaker ends this story up explosively. He spoke thus, "BY NO MEANS! I'm in favor of abolishing the 'D' grade altogether; it's too degrading."

Joe College wants to know who has time to be good when he is having a good time.

BEAT SEWANEE, TEAM!

We're going into that game on Fargason Field tomorrow gritting our teeth, knowing that we're fighting for the finest school in Dixieland, for the finest parents in Dixieland, for the finest friends in Dixieland, and for the finest teammates in Dixieland. We're fighting for a cause. We're not merely fighting to win; we're fighting to put Southwestern over, because we know that if we win this game it will mean a bigger future for Southwestern in an athletic and financial way. We've got a lot to carry on our shoulders, team, and student body. We've got to put Southwestern over, and the only way we're going to do it is by putting our shoulders to the wheel and "SHOVING." One great, great push, will be the defeat of Sewanee tomorrow. That's what we're working and fighting for, and with a great purpose in mind, who can defeat us? Our slogan is "Beat Sewanee" and "Southwesternize Memphis!"

OUR SYMPATHY IS GIVEN

As we take our way along life's pathway we often find obstacles to overcome and sorrows to meet. It seems that the more we overcome, sometimes, the more we have to meet. Some one has said and truthfully said, we think, that trials bring to the surface the true man, the true being. Every trial is a further advancement towards ultimate perfection.

Within our midst the parents of two of our collegiate family members have recently passed on. To Mrs. I. A. Rutland, resident head of Evergreen Hall, and to Mrs. Woodson Harrison, wife of our House Manager, the Sou'wester staff voices the words of sympathy of the entire student body of Southwestern, in the loss of their fathers.

The loss of a dad is a hard one to meet, but in our life the only thing to do when such trials come is to buck up, put on a smile and try to meet the situation.

College News Of The World

By GARRETT RATCLIFF
Even the goats love a co-ed. A fair young Idaho maiden, wandering thru an orchard in the small hours of the dawn, was forced to receive the attentions of an admiring herd of goats, until gallantly rescued by a romantic though senile farmer, says the "Idaho Argonaut." How she happened to be in the orchard was not explained.

Ohio State University will be host to the Intercollegiate Aeronautic Association early this month. Lindbergh and Orville Wright will attend the meeting, and fourteen universities will be represented.

University of Tennessee is to have a school of aviation as soon as it can be installed. Plans are also under way for a new engineering building.

"Ka Leo O Hawaii" from the University of Hawaii is a peppier paper than most colleges in the U. S. publish. The whole sheet is interesting, with editorials by Hiram Leong Fong. Other names on the staff are Mew Soeng Chock, Hon Sam Hiu, Alyce Chang-Tung.

Two Ohio State students with their dates were almost killed in a recent auto accident when their car overturned and caught fire. The girls had to be rescued as per usual, and the whole party is still living happily after.

Speaking of Ohio, the students there have a perfectly functioning traffic court, where offenders are fined and penalties imposed as in any regular court. Business seems to be coming along fine. This is a new movement in the colleges in which Ohio is a pioneer. Good luck.

Herman Bevis reviewed "Arms and the Man" at the meeting of the Stylus Club of Sigma Upsilon in the Bell Room of Hugh M. Neely hall Tuesday night. Abe Fortas reviewed "Saint Joan." Both of the plays were by George Bernard Shaw.

SPORT LIGHTS

By MARION PAINTER

Well, well, our boys have at last found their stride. Don't think there'll be any costly penalties to keep them from murdering the Tigers this Saturday. If there's anything to campus opinion, Sewanee will be sunk from the minute that whistle blows tomorrow. How about, it gang?

There's one fightin' Lynx you can always count on. That's "City" Thomason. City's always in that game and fightin' for all be's worth.

Looks like we've got a mighty good "understudy" for end in "Junius" Davidson, from the great game he played against the Panthers. Better watch him, Bob—he might cause you a lot of worry.

Speakin' of the backfield—they were all there—too much so to be of any comfort to the Panthers. "Light-Horse Harry," "Four Yard Pittman," and "Snookums." Anything that had to be done, they did it. Each of 'em carrying the ball up and down the field. Nothin' could stop 'em.

"Little men can certainly get in the way sometimes"—them must have been the exact sentiments of Arkansas when "Shorty" Brigrance went in the game. Everywhere the ball was, "Bru" was there too—they just couldnt get rid of him.

Jimmy Hughes looked good at tackle the other day. He and Detwiler have just about got that position "sewed up."

Got a mighty hard game Saturday—Sewanee has reserved 450 tickets for their student body already. We're gonna have to go some to out-yell that mob. Let's show 'em what we can do—FIGHT.

SCALPING by SHERRY-KEE

Dear Sherry—
Why didn't you answer my letter last week? Just because you are one of the fairer sex don't think you can get by with it. I want no more of the such.

Have you noticed the latest affair on the campus? If not, all you have to do is to come to the store almost any time and see no other than our esteemed coach, Webb Burke, and Mary Gardner Patterson. Maybe coach won't be so hard on us boys now that he has a sample himself.

Ask Nate about the car that was stolen in front of Pauline's the other night. Was it really stolen or merely an excuse to stay later? Guess the famous detectives, the Hughes twins, better get hot on the scent or better yet get a hot scent on the case.

You know every once in a while I break down and read the Chatterbox. Last week, if you ask me, I'd say there was a nasty crack made. The writer (unknown to me) said that the debbies were special sponsors for the Sewanee game and that he or she was glad Southwestern was taking on a bit of social life along with what she already has. I hope what we have don't feel hurt.

Say, if you ever go out to a party on a night before Prof. Cooper's history class, let me give you some advice. Don't tell him or let him find it out or he will really make your life miserable next day.

Mr. Lucien Smith sent out an SOS today in chapel for pretty girls to sell ribbons for the game. Hardly any stood up. Now, girls, you shouldn't be so bashful.

The green hat was very much in evidence on Jefferson Street, the other day. No one but our own Dr. Diehl was struggling over a flat tire.

As ever,
Kee.

"Well, I spent a golden hour in history this morning."
"Wot d'ya mean 'golden hour'?"
"Well, you know, silence is golden."

NO DRINKING
U. K. MEN SAY

Student Council Takes Commendable Stand

EDITORIAL
From The Kentucky Kernel

Last year at the beginning of the University session, officials and students were confronted with the question, "Shall Drinking Continue?" There was only one course for the University authorities to follow and that plan was adopted when all University dances and social functions before Thanksgiving were curtailed.

Students interested in regaining for themselves the right to hold dances took the situation in hand and formed a concerted drive against drinking at the University. Led by The Kernel, Scabbard and Blade, Omicron Delta Kappa, and supervised directly by the Men's Student Council, the whole situation came to a head when The Kernel on December 1, 1928, in a special edition carried the following resolution of the Men's Student Council:

WHEREAS: The constant infraction of the United States Prohibition act by a minority is encroaching upon the social rights of the majority and endangering the future of the reputation of the University and the provision for social life of the students, and

WHEREAS: The Men's Student Council was granted, by the Constitution ratified by the University Senate, the power of punishing the infringement on good conduct by students; the said Council now deems itself obliged to the well-mannered majority to exert that authority in the management of University functions:

BE IT RESOLVED: By the power granted to the Men's Student Council by its constitution that it does hereby ordain and establish a court composed of members of the said Council, and for the purpose of administering the punishments of reprimand, suspension, or expulsion from the University, of any student under the influence of intoxicating liquors at any University of Kentucky function. Appeal from the court shall be only to the University Senate.

AND; this resolution shall be published in the student newspaper and shall serve as notice and warning to all above mentioned offenders.

MEN'S STUDENT COUNCIL,
(Signed) Jas. R. Hester, Pres.

Upon the strength of this promise of faith, of a representative branch of the student body, dances were permitted upon the campus once more. Of course there were offenders, but those men who could not obey the law were effectively punished by the Student Council.

With the beginning of the session this year the Student Council retains power to prohibit drinking at University dances. The Student Council remains ready to enforce its sentence of expulsion upon students who persist in disregarding the law.

Up to the present the Council has not been forced to take any action in regard to campus drinking. At the SuKy dance held after the Washington and Lee game, it has been intimated that there was some drinking. This regrettable fact leads The Kernel to issue this word of warning to students who are apt to imbibe liquor too generously. There is a punishment for this infringement of the University laws, and it is the duty of the Men's Student Council to minimize drinking at the University by imposing the punishment.

the Pacific," our own University is conducting an oratorical contest with a view to developing interest in the study of "Pacific problems."

It is a truism that no one individual has all the essentials to a happy fully developed life—cultural and otherwise. This applies, in a larger measure, to the races of mankind. Each country has something definite and of value to contribute to the world. Realizing this, educational circles have adopted the practice of exchanging professors and students between countries. This practice, which is becoming more and more common, is a right step and a very effective one in the direction of fostering a spirit of international friendship.

BOOK REVIEW

By
Martha McFerrin

The Civil War has furnished many interesting plots for books, and one of the most unusual of these stories is "The Wave," by Evelyn Scott. This book gives very vividly the effects of the war on both the North and the South, the attitude of both parties and the results of the war on both sections involved.

Although there are no definite and outstanding characters in the book, the various types of characters presented are what make the book interesting. Miss Scott has shown a very thorough knowledge of human nature. She has portrayed all classes of people and she has each person doing and thinking exactly what such an individual should do and think.

"The Wave," which is a Literary Guild selection, merits this distinction. Anyone interested in Civil War history should obtain valuable information from this book, and anyone interested in people should thoroughly enjoy "The Wave."

Red Cross Roll Call Will Begin Nov. 11, Ends 28

Addressing an audience at Harvard last summer, an official of the American National Red Cross observed that multitudinous forces were striving continuously to penetrate the surrounding walls of the country's educational system, to impress it in some way, influence its trends, or utilize it otherwise.

The fact that these well springs of education are so guarded makes it especially significant that the American Red Cross is accepted at increasingly numerous points of contact between its services and those of educational bodies and institutions throughout the nation.

This association of the Red Cross with the nation's educational programs begins with earliest school years, and flourishes in the highest institutions. It ranges through a variety of Red Cross services of intense practicality.

Today, in Physical Education departments of leading universities, the American Red Cross course in Swimming, Life Saving and First Aid is standard. Some of these courses originally were conducted by Red Cross representatives, and are now continued under experts trained and qualified according to Red Cross requirements. Some of the best instructors in these subjects who have served on the Red Cross staff formerly were college athletes, members of swimming teams, crews, etc.

Women's colleges not alone have adopted the Red Cross courses in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick and Nutrition, but many give credits for completion, including extension credits to teachers who take these courses.

Summer courses in the fundamentals of Junior Red Cross administration were given the past summer in 197 State universities and normal schools. The Junior Red Cross "credit course" was given this year at Teachers College, Columbia University, New York; George Peabody Institute, Nashville, Tenn.; University of Wisconsin, and University of California.

Another Red Cross summer course in the atmosphere of a center of higher learning was afforded at the University of North Carolina, where Red Cross Representatives gave First Aid instruction, first to a Police Officer's group, which so impressed the heads of the institution as to lead them to request special lectures to a class of athletic coaches, composed of students from nine states.

These university contacts of the Red Cross are fitting cap-stones to foundations laid in the primary grades, and extending through high school and preparatory years, modifications of the aforementioned Red Cross courses being used, with credits granted by a number of schools for completion.

Strength of Red Cross activities is measured by general Red Cross membership, enrolled annually from November 11 to 28.

Students Spread Good Will Around

Honolulu, Hawaii—Takeo Miki and Shinkuro Nagao, two graduate students from Meiji University, Tokio, Japan, who are on their way around the world on a good-will and study tour, were visitors last week at the University of Hawaii.

They arrived in Honolulu Saturday, October 5, and will remain in Hawaii until November 5. While here they will visit the rural sections of Oahu and as many of the other islands as possible, speaking to Japanese audiences and making a detailed study of the political, economic and social conditions in Hawaii.

Their itinerary will take them through the continental United States, Canada, South America and Europe. They are paying their own expenses.

The purpose of their tour is similar to that of the team from the University of Hawaii which visited the Orient last summer. Miki and Nagao will endeavor to promote good-will and understanding and incidentally to study the conditions in the countries which they visit.

While in Hawaii the visitors are being guided by Walter Mihata, graduate of the University of Hawaii and member of the team which toured the Orient last year. The other members of the university team were Dal Ho Chun and J. Stowell Wright.

The Flame Of Freedom

I
Why spend our days
In Wisdom's ways,
And store up learned treasure,
When all around
Us can be found
Such means for play and pleasure?

II
If all were dumb
And not just some,
Why, who would miss dull learning,
Or spend their time
In reading rhyme
And for more knowledge yearning?

III
No one would be
Smarter than me
Nor I than any other.
Intelligence
And common sense
Would make us friend and brother.

IV
So list to me
And hear my plea,
It will perhaps remind us
The stress and strife
And strain of life
Can all be left behind us.

Let's all quit school,
Forget each rule,
And all be dumb but happy,
And cut each class,
Step on the gas
And make our lives more snappy.

VI
Though dumb as hell,
If none excell
We'll all be on the level.
Who disagrees
With thoughts like these
May go straight to the devil!
—By Jimmie Hughes.

ATTEMPTS MADE TO OUTLAW YO-YO

Attempts have been made at some of the schools of the country to outlaw the "Yo-Yo." One school went so far as to try to make it a shipping offense to be caught yo-yoing, but the plan was vetoed. Many schools have objected to the practice on the grounds that it was an undignified pastime for students to engage in.

It happened on the campus at Ohio State the other afternoon as soccer teams composed mostly of members of the Chinese Students' Club enjoyed a friendly game of their favorite sport.

SEWANEE HOLDS OLE MISS TO 6-6

Sewanee Tigers held Ole Miss to a 6-6 tie last Saturday at University, Miss. It was home-coming day for Ole Miss. Worrall, Kellerman and Phillips forced the Mississippians back to the 32-yard line and Worrall then slipped around end for 25 yards before he was downed on the eight-yard stripe. Worrall made two yards and then passed to Goodman across the Ole Miss goal for the counter that gave the Tigers a deadlock.

Worrall was the Tigers' main offensive weapon. Boyd also played brilliantly in the rear wall. French, Stimson and Sterling were brilliant in the line of play.

14 Men Start Cross Country Race On Nov. 11

American Legion Meet to Start at Russwood;

Coach W. C. Rasberry will enter 14 men in the American Legion cross-country race Nov. 11. The race will start at 9:30 in the morning. It will begin at Russwood Park, go west to Second, north to Washington, west to Main and down Main to McCall. It will precede the regular Memphis Armistice Day parade. A loving cup will be given to the winning team and valuable prizes will be given to the individuals winning first, second, and third places. Competition is expected to be strong because of the number of teams entered by other clubs of Memphis. Rasberry will enter the following men: Roger Wright, Elbert Huffman, Malcolm McMillan, Perry Bynum, Malcolm Gibbons, Enoch Webb, Joe Wells, Fiore Caltigirone, Harvey Drake, H. C. Levitch, Riley McGaughran, William Cobb, "Dutch" Bornman and Douglas Brown.

Trackmen have been training long and diligently for this race. McMillan showed up good this week in practice. Wright is showing his usual winning form in every practice run. Among the freshmen, Levitch seems to be the best.

After the American Legion run the trackmen look forward to the Y. M. C. A. meet that is to be held later on in the season. Southwestern easily won it last year.

Following the Y. M. C. A. race will be the big race of the season, the meet with Mississippi College Thanksgiving Day. The Choctaws have three good men that are expected to give the Lynx plenty of opposition. Rasberry is pointing all of his activity toward the meet with Mississippi College.

After Thanksgiving the second annual intra-mural race will be run. It will be put over in big fashion this year.

The trackmen are planning on entering the National meet in Chicago next spring. McMillan, Wright, Ford and Huffman are likely to be the participants in this race, depending upon their ability during the present season. Great things are expected of the track team this year. It had a successful season last year and aims to come through undefeated this year.

Lynx Are Ready For Tiger Onslaught: Kirkpatrick Brings a Fightin' Team

Walton, Hinson, Hightower, Delay, Girard Show Great Form in Scrimmage with Freshmen

By JOHN REA

Coach W. D. Kirkpatrick, mentor for the Sewanee Tigers, will bring his squad of men to Memphis to meet the Southwestern gridders Saturday at 2:45 on the Fargason gridiron. Sewanee boasts four Memphis boys in her line-up. The Memphians on the Tiger squad are Robert Stimson, Warfield Rogers, Chauncey Butler, and Carlisle Page. All of these men have seen service in the past games and are sure to draw assignments in Saturday's fray.

Coach Webb Burke of Southwestern has been prepping the Lynx for the Tiger battle by giving them an assortment of new plays and drilling them on the ones already in use. Burke has been sending his men through ardent scrimmages against the freshmen, and the Lynx have been showing up better than at any part of the season so far. The Lynx passing attack has been altered somewhat, and an effective aerial game has been evolved.

In the scrimmages, Walton, Hightower, Delay, and Girard have been ripping great holes in the freshman line and making substantial gains that have been lacking so far this season. Southwestern's passing attack, which has failed so miserably in the games of the past, has taken on new life. Hightower, Hinson, and Delay have been flinging the ball for the varsity against the frosh, who have been pressed hard to break up any of the long or short throws that have been loosed at them.

The Lynx victory over the strongest eleven that Arkansas College has ever boasted last week shows the calibre of the fighting Lynx. If Burke can develop a passing game that measures up to the running attack, Sewanee will be pushed to the limit to stop the Lynx drive.

Coach Kirkpatrick has built his offense around Worrall, a fast triple threat back for the Tigers. Worrall is playing his first year in collegiate football, being a former star performer for the Montgomery-Bell Academy eleven. If the Lynx can take the sting out of Worrall, the greater part of the Tiger offense will lose its punch. Kirkpatrick has developed an attack that puts Worrall past the line in a broken field. Once this shifty back gets that far loose, it is mighty hard to bring him down.

Patton and Dean are also liable to give the Lynx considerable trouble, for these men have been Worrall's right hand helpers in the games that Sewanee has played so far. Sterling, star pivot man for the Tigers, may not get into the game against Southwestern as his leg, injured in the Ole Miss game, is still giving him trouble. Stimson will probably draw the center post.

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC. REQUIRED BY THE ACT OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1912, Of The Sou'wester, published weekly at Memphis, Tenn., for Oct. 1, 1929.

We believe that educated people should understand these truths.

Public Utilities render services that are essential to modern living standards.

These services directly contribute to the convenience and comfort of people hourly each day. They have raised living standards, brought us up to a new plane of material existence; and are, in fact, the agencies by which modern living standards are maintained.

Without these services, present-day conditions would be turned backward half a century, and we would revert to the days of the tallow candle and the ox-drawn cart.

In addition to their contribution to the convenience and comfort of people, utilities are economic factors of important worth to their communities—stimulating channels of trade and business activities with their large payrolls and immense purchases of supplies.

These are facts that educated people should understand.

ARKANSAS LADS TAKE 6-0 HOME

Lynx Win For Third Time This Year

George Hightower's flying feet were responsible for the lone touchdown in the last quarter that enabled Southwestern's Lynx to triumph over the Arkansas College Panthers by the score of 6 to 0 last Saturday afternoon at Fargason Field. On the two weeks before, the Lynx had gone down in defeat by the same narrow margin, but managed to turn tables on the Arkansas lads and turn in a win.

Hightower's edge on Schlater in punting was largely responsible for the Panthers being kept on the defense most of the game. Schlater was inconsistent in his kicking all afternoon, while Hightower got off some mighty fine kicks.

Walton and Pittman were the consistent ground-gainers for the Lynx, reeling off eight and ten yards nearly every time they were called on to tote the old pigskin. Hightower came in for his share of gains, but the Panthers seemed to be on the alert for this wily back, and kept him pretty well covered.

Arkansas made but four first downs to Southwestern's 11. Penalties were just about even, Arkansas receiving 20 yards in this manner and Southwestern 25 yards. Hightower far out-classed Schlater in punting, leaving the Panthers leading the Lynx only in the number of completed passes Arkansas completed four passes and Southwestern only two.

The spectators were treated with a freak play that is very seldom seen. Hightower lobbed a pass over the line, hitting Logan in the head and bouncing into Pittman's hands. Pittman couldn't hold onto it and dropped it, with Lloyd scooping up the elusive ball and carrying it to the ten-yard line. The Arkansas line held, however, and the ball went over on downs after four unsuccessful tries at the line.

GIRL SINGERS TO GIVE OPERA

Lead Has Been Cut Down to Four

At "Southwestern Night," which will be held at the auditorium some time in April or May, the girls' Glee Club will take part in the presentation of the Gilbert and Sullivan opera, "Trial by Jury."

Dick Monk is in charge of the plans for "Southwestern Night." Fritz Heidelberg is to see that the Southwestern Players make a contribution. And Marion Painter is to arrange the part which the men's Glee Club will take. The choir and the band also will participate in the entertainment.

Meredith Davis was elected to represent the Women's Glee Club on this committee at a meeting of that organization held Tuesday after lunch.

Heretofore the women students have been denied any musical organization on the campus, and only the men have been allowed to display their vocal talent. Now, with the formation of a Girls' Glee Club sponsored by Mrs. C. L. Townsend and Prof. E. G. Haden, the co-eds will take their proper place in the musical circles at Southwestern.

The choice for the role of leading lady in "Trial by Jury" has been narrowed down to four girls: Louise Mayo, Lucille Work, Fay Simpson, and Phyllis Brownwell. Each of these is working hard to prepare the part in order that a final selection can be made.

Y. W. C. A. Meets

An hour of music and poetry, in charge of Margaret Williams, vice-president, constituted the program at the Y. W. C. A. meeting Monday afternoon. "Work" was the theme of the program. Suitable poems were read by Mary Carpenter, Elizabeth Smith and Margaret Williams. Helen Pointer sang "My Task," accompanied by Mary Carolyn Lee.

Mrs. Eric Haden will speak at the next meeting on Y. W. C. A. work in countries of Europe and South America which she has visited.
