COACH SHOOT SCRIMMAGE TO LYNX GRIDDERS

Signal Work, Blocking and Tackling Begin
NO PLACES CINCHED
Installs Alabama System In Lynx Machine

The metamorphosis of Southwestern's gridiron policy into the system made famous by Wallace Wade at the University of Alabama will be no civil service progression whereby seniority rules and last year's assistant manager will be promoted to fill the tackle vacancy left by Joe O'Goofy.

According to Athletic Director Jimmy Haygood who, as a leading disciple of Wade during his four year sojourn with the Crimson tide, knows football from the president's office down to coaching the captain in freshman English, the problem of solving next season's football equation will depend very much upon the power of some of the present unknown quantities.

It's a "show me I'm from Missouri" situation to Mr. Haygood, who takes little stock in the press and the campus "hearsay" movement. It's a question of producing the proverbial goods now or taking the dole on the sidelines next fall.

Coach Haygood has intimated that there are no less than seven positions in his first string line up which will be placarded "see Chief for further information." In addition there are numerous vacancies for players who can shed a blanket in a cold, rainy third quarter and remember that 51-to-the-right is an off tackle thrust and not a Tennessee State Highway sign on the road to Moses' Grove. In the brief of it, Southwestern is short on reserve strength and good, solid first string linemen.

Coach Haygood has become very much of a recluse after 25 coaching seasons spent between Arkansas and

Tri Delta Will Install Soon

The local Delta Theta Pi sorority, recently promised a Tri-Delt charter, will hold elaborate installation services beginning Monday, April 6, and lasting through Thursday, April 9. Both the national president, Miss Pearl Bonisteel, and the editor of the Trident, Miss Amy Parmalee, will be present for the ceremony.

On Monday Miss Bonisteel is to go over the examinations taken by the prospective members on the ideals of Delta Delta Delta. Following this, the two national officers will be entertained with a luncheon given by the alumnae chapter under the direction of Mrs. H. G. Philips, president. Tuesday afternoon they will be guests of honor at a tea given at the home of Mrs. W. H. Willey on Goodwyn. This will be followed by the granting of the Tri-Delt degree to the members of the local chapter in the tower room of Palmer Hall. Initiation will be held all day Wednesday, after which a formal banquet will be held for alumnae members and new initiates at Hotel Peabody.

Thursday afternoon the officers of the new chapter will be formally elected and installed, and a model meeting will be held.

Prominent Eds Give True Confessions Concerning Girls Smoking In Public

Aged Negro Pastor Warns White Chillen Against Evils of Women Smoking Fags.

The opinion of the majority of the eds at Southwestern seems to be that a girl has just as much right to take a drag on a fag as has the lordly male. There are still many men on the campus who disapprove heartily of seeing a cigarette dangling from the lips of a co-ed, but times are changing and women and men are becoming standard sized. Ten years ago the question of a girl smoking in public would have brought nothing but emphatic disapproval from the boys.

Several of the prominent men on the campus were interviewed on the question, "What do you think of a girl's smoking cigarettes in public?" More than a few refused to issue a statement for the press out of fear of what might happen if their opinions were aired about the campus. However, eleven of the more courageous men answered the query.

Horace Howell, well versed in the ways of the fairer sex, says: "I can see no moral wrong in girls smoking. If they really get a kick out of it, it is O. K. with me, but if they merely smoke to put on, it's disgusting."

The opinion of most of the boys seems to be that the great majority of girls smoke out of affectation rather than for the pleasure derived from the inhalation of the soothing

Boosters Club Will Back Two Tourneys

Now that the basketball tournament has come to a close, the Boosters Club is making preparations for the mixed debating tournament and also the inter-mural track meet.

In the debating tournament the various dormitories and the town students will have teams. Calvin Hall will be represented by Miles Freeman and Allen Cabaniss; Stewart Hall by "Chief" Moore, Fishback, Clarke Porteous and Henry Oliver. The remaining teams have not as yet been chosen.

The subject will be something of local interest on the campus.

The inter-mural track meet will be held March 21. Everyone will be eligible to take part in this. Much interest is already being shown in the daily workouts.

A beautiful loving cup will be awarded by the Boosters Club to the winners of both the above contests.

Zeta Pledges Sling Novel Sailor Party

The pledges of the Zeta Tau Alpha sorority entertained the active members Tuesday night with a novel sailor party in the campus lodge. The house was decorated to represent a ship, with life-savers and improvised portholes. The girls, dressed to characterize "sweethearts in every port," appeared in Dutch, Spanish, Oriental, Russian, and many other types of costume.

Representatives from other sororities were: Lyle Stannage with Joe Rand, Mildred Veasey with Lawrence Hood, Margaret Ashley with Herbert Newton, Roder Trigg with Johnny Hughes, and Mary Moore with escort.

A. O. Pi's Have Luncheon

Harriet Shepherd, former president of the A. O. Pi sorority, entertained the Southwestern chapter with an informal buffet luncheon at her home on Forrest Avenue at 1 p.m. last Wednesday.

DR. HUME WILL LEAVE COLLEGE

Chosen President Branham and Hughes Academy

Dr. Alfred Hume, head of the mathematics department at Southwestern since last September, and former chancellor of the University of Mississippi, has been elected president of Branham and Hughes Military Academy at Springhill, Tennessee. He will assume his duties next September.

Dr. Hume notified President Charles E. Diehl immediately upon accepting the presidency of Branham and Hughes. Dr. Hume is one of the best liked professors at Southwestern and his departure is regarded with much regret by students and faculty.

Branham and Hughes Military Academy was founded by Dr. Hume's brother-in-law, who died several years ago. Dr. Hume's sister, Mrs. Willie Hume Branham, is living. Colonel Batts, past academy dean, resigned to take charge of the Columbia Military Academy, Columbia, Tennessee.

Dr. Hume has expressed his regrets at departing and his appreciation of Southwestern in the following statement:

"I am leaving Southwestern with considerable reluctance. They could not have treated me better and I have been very happy here.

"Southwestern has a great future and I shall always feel kindly toward it. It is an ideal Christian institution.

"It was partly the sentiment attached that induced me to accept the presidency of the military academy. It was founded by my brother-in-law, who was a classmate of mine, and a very dear friend."

The academy has an enrollment of approximately 200.

Dr. Hume's announcement of accepting the presidency of Branham and Hughes came as a complete surprise to Dr. Diehl.

"We are profoundly sorry," Dr. Diehl said, "because we felt that his coming here was a great asset.

"Of course, we realize and appreciate the reasons for his going, but we regret it. He is a magnificent man and a great mathematics teacher. We are going to miss him."

Singers Practice Operetta Choruses

The choruses of "The Pirates of Pensee" are beginning to take form under the direction of Professor Eric Haden. A large number are turning out regularly for the practices.

Those who have leading parts are working with the personal assistance of Professor Haden.

Cabaniss and Hall Talk Before Stylus

Allen Cabaniss read selections from three medieval poets at a meeting of the Stylus Club of Sigma Upsilon, national literary fraternity, in the Bell Room Thursday evening. Thad Hall reviewed "White Buildings," by Hart Crane.

Dinner was served the members and a business discussion followed the meal.

Plans for electing new men into the club were given attention. A weeding out of papers turned in for membership in Stylus Club is in progress, and those who have been accepted will be given due notice in the near future.

HARRY WALTON AND MEREDITH REIGN SUPREME

Royal Court Of Ten Will Assist Regal Pair

CARNIVAL APRIL 1

Each Class Will Stage At Least Two Acts

Harry Walton and Meredith Davis were elected King and Queen of the annual April Fool celebration to be held on April 1 in the Southwestern gymnasium under the auspices of the Student Council. The election of the King and Queen of Fools was held after chapel on last Monday morning and the election of a court was held on Tuesday morning after chapel. "Pee Wee" Hines was almost unanimously elected Court Jester, and the courtiers and ladies-in-waiting elected were: Tommy Drake, Johnny Hughes, Jimmy Hughes, Marion Painter, Paul Jones, Jennie Burford Puryear, Katherine Reid, Anna Hudson, Mildred Veasey, and Miriam Heidelberg.

A feature of the April Fool celebration this year will be a faculty burlesque and other entertainment consisting of two acts from each class which will be sponsored by the Southwestern Players. There will be no fraternity or sorority acts this year as there were last year.

Everyone attending will be required to wear a costume of some sort and a prize will be given for the best costume and for the best stunt. All faculty members are invited and everyone else connected with Southwestern, but none will be admitted unless he is in costume.

A master of ceremonies is to be selected by those in charge of the affair and it will be his duty to see that everything is kept moving and that a good time is had by all.

Sig Alphas Observe Frat Founders Day

Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity held its annual Founder's Day banquet Saturday night at the Elks Hotel in celebration of its seventy-fifth anniversary. Preceding the banquet, an initiation was conducted. The new members are Comus Kelley, Lucius Cook, Guy Mitchell and Billy Brinkley.

There were more than seventy members present. Mr. Ed Barrow, president of the Memphis alumni, was toastmaster for the occasion, and Police Commissioner Cliff Davis was the principal speaker. Mr. Eric Dawson, national secretary of the fraternity, was present, and made a short talk. Several numbers of dancing were given by students of the Mickey O'Hara School of Dancing. Music was furnished by Bill Brinkley and his Royal Collegians, who played several of the fraternity songs.

Kappa Delta Initiates

After undergoing three weeks of preliminary rites, eight girls were granted full membership in Kappa Delta sorority last Tuesday night. The new K. D.'s are Louise Barbee, Nell Martin, Kathryn Davis, Frances Cairns, Martha Costen, Dixie Mae Jennings, Mary Kennedy Hubbard and Virginia West.

THE COLLEGE CLUB

Try as they may, the Southwestern students have never found an exclusive place where they could gather on Saturday nights without the presence of thugs and undesirables. Various ballrooms about the city have been tried by the college crowd with only temporary success at the most. It has been found to be absolutely impossible to give an exclusive Southwestern dance at any of the public ballrooms since the managements thereof are averse to turning away potential customers, even though the dance has been advertised as All-Southwestern.

Believing that the Southwestern students genuinely want exclusive dances, Bill Brinkley and his "Royal Collegians" have opened up the College Club at the Paragon Club, 711 Breedlove. Catering only to Southwestern students, Bill has made a reality of the theory of the students that they can be absolutely sure of clean, wholesome parties only so long as they have control of the attendance.

The great majority of the students will seek entertainment on Saturday nights, come what may. With the College Club offering a refined gathering place for the students, there is no reason why they should split up and scatter out all about the town.

CONDUCT IN CHAPEL

Living here in the South, most of us have been brought up with the ideal of courtesy firmly stamped in us. It is the earmark of a lady or a gentleman, the heritage of the South. Not only are we to be courteous in private but also in public.

Conduct in chapel is a keynote to the character of the student. Inattention to the speaker, be he professor or visitor, speaks ill for the student and the school. Even when the speaker is irresistibly ludicrous the student should control his mirth and keep a decorum suiting the nature of the occasion.

Unsuppressed laughter and talking in chapel are decidedly out of place.

STAY OFF THE TRACK

After weeks of hard work hauling and grading cinders, Razz and his crew have finally brought the track up to a high standard. Their work is not finished yet by any means. Before the track is ready for the S. I. A. A. Meet to be held here in the Spring, many hours of hard manual labor will be required.

In the meanwhile, a few thoughtless students are tearing down the track as fast as the cinder boys build it up. Especially is this true of the men who are going out for spring football, who warm up by jogging a lap or two before practice starts. The big rough cleats on their shoes dig holes in the cinders and ruin the foundation of the track. It is hoped that the football men will refrain from running on the track.

Above all, no car should ever be driven on the track at any time. Last week two unidentified Barney Oldfields created havoc with the cinders in their rattletrap Ford.

DR. HUME WILL LEAVE

It was with mingled feelings that the students read of the election of Dr. Hume to the presidency of Branham and Hughes Military Academy. The announcement came as a surprise to the school since no rumors had been floating about the campus.

The students are glad for Dr. Hume to assume this important position, but they regret deeply the fact that such a popular professor will soon leave a school in which he has attained so many lasting friends.

Dr. Hume has made a name for himself as a prominent educator in the South. Everywhere he has located his ability and personality have been recognized. He will leave this college with the good wishes of the student body.

EVERGREEN HALL

Kate Cleveland writes from William and Mary College that she prefers Sunny Tennessee and may be back next year. Here's hoping you don't change your mind, Kate.

Imogene and Mary Woosley have been "down" several days of this week with flu.

Hardy, the Arkansas Mecca for happy vacationers, has already started drawing its devotees. Grace Rowland journeyed over for the week-end.

Ione Walls spent the night in Evergreen last Saturday. That may or may not have been the occasion, but she and Allison, Jimmy Danewood and Coon Sanders were seen holding a most enjoyable boners' meeting.

Ministers Hear Dr. Green

Dr. Green, professor of Homiletics and of English Bible at Columbia Seminary, was the guest of the Ministers Club this week. Each year Columbia sends a representative to Southwestern to interest ministerial students in that seminary. Unfortunately, Dr. Green did not know that there are no senior ministerial students studying for the Presbyterian ministry graduating this year. He was welcomed, nevertheless, and in his talk pictured Columbia Seminary in the highest terms. Stanford Parnell, a former student at Southwestern, and at present attending Columbia, also spoke in behalf of that seminary.

SUE TO LOU

Dear Lou:

I just got back from Alaska in my airplane in time for the Zeta dance. It was a sailor party and a grand one. Janie Ussery was having a big rush. She would have made any sailor's heart flutter. I noted a great lack of veils and shorts, thanks to Rev. Lowe.

Hawk gets the cut glass bicycle for being the world's worst punner. I caught her voting for "Jester Gigolo."

Meredith seems to have drawn down the applause from the gallery again. She and Harry will preside over the April Fools Day Carnival as queen and king. They are to have a court of five ladies-in-waiting with escorts. Guess most everybody had enough court life during the Cotton Carnival, but then this is a livelier court so it ought to be more fun. From the way everybody is planning April Fool's Day is gonna be a live wire occasion.

Jack Chambliss and Jenny are going together quite a bit nowadays. Can it be they've both met their match?

Speaking of breaks, Harry pulled one himself the other day after chapter. It was only a slip, though. Tell you more later.

You ought to see the K. D. pledges who were initiated Tuesday night. Never saw any bunch look so proud and happy. SUE.

"What are you writing?"
 "A joke."
 "Send him my love."

Florida, but he will tell you this much: "I have about a dozen boys who I'm sure are good players, but . . ." It is needless to say the halt signifies that the rest of the squad will have to do more than merely wear cleats and heavy underwear.

It is still too early to do more than say Jack looms as the logical candidate to fill the shoes of Bill who was graduated. However, plenty of scrimmage is on the boards for the next three weeks, and in that time it is not unlikely that the Lynx grid machine will be assembled completely for next fall.

to keep them in a gay humor, no aspect of a true Court of Fools will be omitted. A grand march will be led by the King and Queen and favors will be presented to them. Plans are under way to obtain an orchestra to play between numbers and add to the general feeling of gayety, but this detail has not been definitely decided as yet. The Boosters Club is in charge of decorations for the event but no committee has yet been appointed to arrange for refreshments. Programs will be printed for distribution to students attending.

The student council is making every effort to assure the students a highly enjoyable evening of rare entertainment which will stand out as the high point of campus entertainment during the whole year. Classes will soon begin work on the planning and preparation of the acts which are to be put on by them.

GIRLS MAY SMOKE
smoke. Bill Frazier shows this belief in his answer, "Let 'em smoke all they want to as long as they don't hurt their health. But for Pete's sake, make them learn how to smoke before they affect it in public." Marion Painter answered the query in the following statement: "I don't approve of their smoking in public. It looks like an affectation."

George "Snooks" Hightower, the big blond brute, has his views, too. Says George: "I think it's all right for girls to smoke if they really get a kick out of it. If they smoke to show off, it's a crying shame."

Earl Howry issued the following wisecrack to his public: "I think it is O. K. for girls to smoke at any time except when I am furnishing the cigarettes."

Jeff Davis doesn't approve of cigarettes for girls. "They have a perfect right to smoke if they want to, but it detracts from their personality."

Tommy Drake replied to the question in this statement: "If men can smoke, women should be allowed to also. I do not believe in a double standard of morals."

Harte Thomas doesn't like the idea. The young frosh presidnt says: "Personally, I don't like for them to smoke, but it's a matter of their own judgment and no business of mine. I think it detracts from their personality."

The most interesting reply was that of Brother Hollis, aged Negro pastor of Mt. Nebo Baptist Church. The old darkey says: "Lord help the innocent child whi has to kiss the tobacco-stained lips of a cigarette smoking mother. Lord help 'em."

Bus Dial wants a smoker built for the smoking co-eds. "I think it's fine. If they want to smoke they should be allowed to. A smoker should be built on the campus."

Coach Razzberry, than whom there ain't no than whomer in the matter of women, replies: "I think they should not smoke, from a physical rather than a moral standpoint. It lowers womanhood to the level of man."

With the opinions of these eds now known to the public, it is expected that many of the co-eds will revise their habits.

What the NEW HUMIDOR PACK means to Camel Smokers*

COMPARE a package of Camels with any other cigarette and note the difference in the technique of packing.

Note that Camels are completely enclosed in an outer transparent cover of moisture-proof cellophane and sealed air-tight at every point.

We call this outer shell the Humidor Pack. It differs from the ordinary cellophane pack and while it is egg-shell thin, it means a lot in terms of cigarette enjoyment.

It means, for instance, that evaporation is checkmated and that Salt Lake City can now have as good Camels as Winston-Salem.

While Camels are made of a blend of the choicest Turkish and mellowest domestic tobaccos, it is highly important, if you are to get full benefit of this quality, that these cigarettes come to you with their natural moisture content still intact.

The Humidor Pack insures that. It prevents the fine tobaccos of Camels from drying out and losing any of their delightful flavor.

Aside from cheap tobacco, two factors in a cigarette can mar the smoker's pleasure:

Fine particles of peppery dust if left in the tobacco by inefficient cleaning methods sting and irritate delicate throat membrane.

Dry tobacco, robbed of its natural moisture by scorching or by evaporation gives off a hot smoke that burns the throat with every inhalation.

We take every precaution against these factors here at Winston-Salem.

A special vacuum cleaning apparatus removes dust and now the new Humidor Pack prevents dryness.

Camels and other ordinary dry cigarettes.

First of all you can feel the difference as you roll the cigarettes between your fingers. Camels are full-bodied and pliable. A dry cigarette crumbles under pressure and sheds tobacco.

If you will hold a cigarette to each ear and roll them with your fingers you can actually hear the difference.

The real test of course is to smoke them. And here's where the new Humidor Pack proves a real blessing to the smoker.

As you inhale the cool, fragrant smoke from a Camel you get all the mildness and magic of the fine tobaccos of which it is blended.

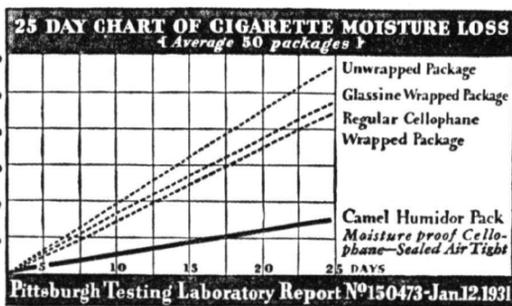

But when you draw in the hot smoke from a dried cigarette see how flat and brackish it is by comparison and how harsh it is to your throat.

If you are a regular Camel smoker you have already noticed what proper condition of the cigarette means.

But if you haven't tried Camels in the new Humidor Pack you have a new adventure with Lady Nicotine in store.

Switch your affections for just one day, then go back to your old love tomorrow if you can.

Children Offer To Help Build School

When schools burn down, children ordinarily throw their hats into the air and shout for the vacation caused by the catastrophe. An instance of an exactly opposite reaction has just come to our attention. The Hessian Hills School, a progressive school in Croton-on-Hudson, New York, burned to the ground the other night, and within twenty-four hours every child in the school had offered to help rebuild it. One offered pennies; many pledged allowances; one club of pupils offered to double the dues paid by every member so that the school might have "between $8 and $9 a month for the place where we will study next year." Another class voted to be "self-supporting" and buy paper, pencils, and a black-board out of money in its possession. Here was the reaction of a new generation to a new type of education. No less exceptional, in view of the uninspiring character of much public and formal education, was the spontaneity with which the teachers seized upon the catastrophe for educational purposes. When some youngsters scratched down on paper plans for the new school, they were made the basis for lessons in arithmetic, geometry, mechanical drawing, and discussions on architecture. "What are schools for?" was one question asked. "How should the rooms, shops, auditorium and so on, be located with respect to each other? What are the building problems of a school?"

Fountain Pens Ahead in Lost Articles Race Over Keys, Compacts, and Gloves

"What articles seem to be the easiest to lose?" was the question put to Harry Walton the other day. "Fountain pens by far," was the answer. "I've had thousands of them. And gloves, keys and compacts are not far behind. The funniest thing about it is that the students seem so reluctant to claim the things that are turned in. They stay on my hands day after day, and some are never called for." There seems to be no logical explanation for the time that lost articles remain unclaimed. They must be lost by the students, for there are very few visitors, and most students are in chapel when the announcements are made. Therefore, it must be that all have so many gloves and fountain pens that they don't miss the ones they lose, or, perhaps they are too wealthy to mind so negligible a loss. It is certain that none could be asleep in Hardie Auditorium. Perhaps if a second-hand shop were established to dispose of such unwanted property, the losers would be more concerned, and hence, more prompt in coming forward to protect their rights. It is probable that pure laziness is to blame for the incredible amount of things that lie idle in the office for so long a time.

PING PONG NOW IN SECOND SET

Striking the celluloid ball with everything from forehead smashes to reserve English, the ping pong players have advanced into the second round of the Men's Singles Tournament sponsored by the Sou'wester. The brackets have been drawn up and posted in the college store. At this early date it is impossible to predict which of the players will meet in the finals. There are still many steady players left to guarantee a close race for the championship cup. Any players who have not finished the second round of the tournament by 5 o'clock today will be automatically disqualified for further participation in the tournament. To facilitate publicity and to insure accuracy the contestants have been urged to fill in the results of their matches on the tournament schedule as soon as they have been played.

FIRST ROUND.

The first round of the tournament resulted in a series of easy winds for the most part. Several of the matches were closely contested, but in the majority of cases, the winner showed distinctly superior skill.

Aged Yale Man Dies

Cincinnati, O.—(IP)—Edward P. Bradstreet, the oldest graduate of Yale University, died at his home here recently at the age of 100. Until about two years ago Mr. Bradstreet maintained his law office and was active in community affairs. He was a member of the famous class of '53 at Yale which had 111 members at graduation. When he celebrated his 100th anniversary on June 5 he was honored by the Cincinnati Yale Club at a banquet. Before going to Yale, Mr. Bradstreet was a student at Western Reserve University in Cleveland, O. In 1858 Mr. Bradstreet and his wife were playing chess in a public room of a hotel in Hannibal, Mo., when they looked up to find Abraham Lincoln watching the game. Lincoln was invited to join the game and did so.

Rugby Adopts Pass

Toronto, Ont.—(IP)—The Ontario Rugby Football Union has gone on record as favoring the adoption of the forward pass, as used in football in the United States, without any alterations. The resolution has been sent to the Canadian Rugby Union.

Lynx Track Men to Have Seven Meets During the Spring

Looking forward to the most strenuous campaign of track engagements any Southwestern team has ever attempted, the candidates began their conditioning work last week under the tutelage of Coach W. C. Rasberry. The program calls for three home engagements, one of them a triangular meet, and two foreign invasions. Rasberry will have direct supervision of the track team during the coming season, as he has in the past, with Jimmy Haygood, newly appointed coach, working with him. Haygood has been head track coach at Alabama for the last few years, and he is one of the most capable coaches in the south. He worked wonders with the Alabama team while at the Capstone. With Rasberry specializing in training the distance men and Haygood working with the sprinters and weight men, the Lynx should have a winner this year. Southwestern will open the present season with a dual meet at Jonesboro, Ark., on March 28, with Arkansas A. and M. as the foe. Mississippi Teachers will come to Memphis on the 4th of April, with Centre College following them into town on April 11 to meet the Lynx in track combat. The team will journey to Nashville on April 25 to meet the Vanderbilt Commodores. The annual triangular meet between Union, Mississippi College and Southwestern, will be held on the Lynx track April 18. Southwestern is in the third district of the S. I. A. A. and will probably enter a team in the district meet at Alexandria, La., May 2.

The grand finale to the track season will be the S. I. A. A. meet at Southwestern May 9. Due to the location of the scene of competition, the meet this year will probably be the biggest that has ever been held by the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association. Heretofore, the meet has been held at Presbyterian College in South Carolina, far removed from the location of many of the schools. More than 20 of the 34 schools in the association will enter teams.

Several veterans are returning for another year of track competition, and have been working out every day during the past week. The men returning are: Roger Wright and Perry Bynum, distance men; Tommy King and Aubrey Dial, dash men, and Ogden Baine, weight man.

Rasberry is depending on the recruits from the freshman team to strengthen the dash department of the track menu. Harold High, Herbert Newton and Sheriff Knight should add much to the strength of the team. Marcus Tansey and Jinks Joyner are hurdlers, and Sid Hebert is a weight tosser of no mean ability. Riley McGaughran, who could find no one in the freshmen meets last year to give him any competition, will strut his stuff for the Lynx in the two-mile race this year.

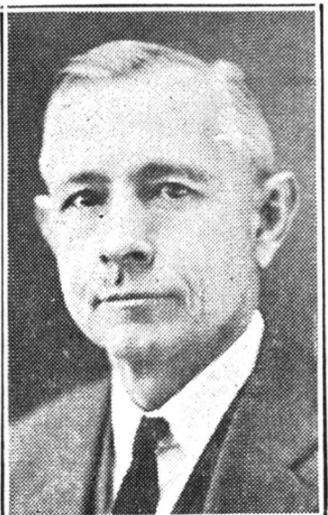

Rasberry is anxious for clear skies and warmer weather so his pupils can get down to the business of getting into shape by the time of the opening engagement. He is urging everyone who has any track ability at all, to come out and try to make the team.

"I want everybody who can even trot around the track to come out," said the coach.

Penn Reforms Athletics

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—(IP)—Radical changes, including the discouragement of athletic proselyting, elimination of highly paid coaches, training tables, spring practice, training camps for football squads, and most of all, athletic scholarships, are to be instituted at the University of Pennsylvania in the most sensational reform ever attempted by an institution of higher learning at one time. The reform involves the formation of a new department of physical education, copying the fashion of a number of smaller colleges.

Free Phones Unlikely

Free telephones for the Southwestern dormitories do not seem to be very likely at any time in the near future. One of the main-objections raised by the telephone company is that the students would not be able to prevent some of their number from using the free phones for long distance calls.

Jaszi Becomes Citizen

Oberlin, O.—(IP)—A former Hungarian cabinet member, a leader in the first Hungarian revolution after the World War, recently became a citizen of the United States. He is Dr. Oscar Jaszi, professor of political science at Oberlin College, formerly Minister of Minorities in the Republican government of Count Karolyi, which overthrew the Hapsburg reign in that country. When the communists took control of Hungary, Dr. Jaszi became a political exile, and his exile was continued by the Horthy dictatorship which overthrew the communist reign. He has been a member of the Oberlin faculty since 1926. Formerly he was a professor in the university at Prague.

New Brunswick, N. J.—(IP)—A hard claystone pipe, buried in a stratum of glacial gravel since a date estimated at 1100 A. D., has been discovered near South River, about eight miles from here, by Granville A. Quackenbush, instructor in geology at Rutgers University.

WHO'S WHO

Harry Walton, who has attained the highest honor that Southwestern students can bestow, that of president, was born at Yazoo, Mississippi, on December 11, 1930. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Walton.

In addition to being president of the student body, Harry is a member of S. A. E., the Honor Council, the Student Council, O. D. K., the Thirteen Club, "S" Club and the Boosters Club. He has made his football letter for the past three years, and he earned a numeral his freshman year. Last year Harry was the president of the junior class.

"King of the April Fools" is the latest honor earned by this young man. Memphis newspaper sports writers will certainly be denied much spectacular news next year, because Harry is certain to be in Hollywood if any of the movie directors get a glimpse of his latest pose (of bulletin board fame.)

FRANK THOMASON

"The Pea Ridge Tattler" makes the following announcement: "Home town boy makes good—City Thomason is popular Biology assistant at Southwestern." "City" was born in Pea Ridge, Miss., on April 10, 1907.

City has been for the past three years one of the Lynx's best football drawing cards and he also made his freshman numeral. He is a member of the "S" Club.

Mitchell Hodges Airs Views on South And Far-Famed Southern Hospitality

Northern Lad Just Can't Get Over Pulchritude Of Feminine Element Down Here.

I was frankly skeptical. And I think I had a right to be. Though my grandmother and cousin had regaled me with tale after tale of the many beauties and delights of the South—especially feminine, my first experience with one of the Dixie belles temporarily nipped my enthusiasm.

During one of the many summers my grandmother spent in the mountains of North Carolina, she sent me word of some extraordinary miss who was a guest in the same hotel. According to her description of the girl, she lacked nothing but wings.

So my curiosity was quickly aroused and I imagined myself soon to be in communication with one of the unsurpassed creatures my relatives had been continually telling me about.

I had the temerity to send a photograph of myself to my grandmother, which she was to present to the lady upon promise that the fair creature would send me one of hers in return.

Well, I never heard from her; either she got the picture or she didn't—if you know what I mean! And I was left a bit chilly and uncomfortable.

Then one day last fall, I lost my job, and had just enough money to get down here. I had never been south of the Mason and Dixon line before.

Well, I'm glad I lost my job—and came.

I think the North is a good place—but the South is better. I like it so well that, if nobody has any objections, I shall probably settle down here and do the usual thing—marry and raise a family. My mother has even said she wants me to marry a Southern girl—when I get the money to support one. And my father's only objection will be that he isn't young enough to start all over again himself!

Memphis has more pulchritude and charm than any other spot I have ever been in, and I've been abroad, too, but over there attractive girls are rarer than 1913 nickels with the buffalo head. That's one reason I didn't stay there very long; the family wasn't the only thing I was homesick for.

And, fellows, to my chagrin, I must admit that I had heard some queer things about the Southern boys, which I found to be pure fiction or malice aforethought the first day I met you. There'll be a few readjustments of opinions made when I next go North, or my name isn't Mitchell Converse Hodges.

"Veni. Vidi. Venus." But that isn't all.

You all are so very congenial and hospitable. From the time I stepped off the train in Nashville, and was met by Mary Gardner, the "wittiest girl in the south," and Virginia Hunsaker, I have marveled at, and thoroughly appreciated the many kindnesses and welcomes shown me everywhere.

You know, when I arrived the first of November, I planned to stay only a week or two, but the Pattersons, and others, made me feel so at home, that I just stayed on and on at "Maryham" for five weeks. (I think they daily expected to see the expressman drive up and deposit my trunks and furniture.)

Then I got acquainted with Southwesterners and liked them immensely—as I did the college, its size, atmosphere and grounds. I enjoyed the parties that I was invited to; I finally decided there was nothing for me to do but enroll. And never once have I regretted it.

In citing any differences I have noted between the North and the South, I am inclined to name just one atmosphere. I believe the people up there are just as cordial, but they don't have as much time to be cordial: Business is the all-important thing.

Being crowded together in cities—cities which are almost as high as they are long, tormented by a million noises and pressed by speed, they naturally can't enjoy the peace one can get down here—find time to live more quietly—with less show and strutting.

Money will only buy certain things; it can't buy friendliness and time—things which Southerners know a good deal about.

Personally, I think New York is a hell-hole and it hardly gave me one minute's peace the entire year I was there. I might visit it several weeks each winter just to see some plays, hear some concerts, and view art exhibits, but I'd have a round-trip ticket in my pocket all the time.

No, I'll amend that statement about atmosphere being the only difference: Morality is most decidedly another. A school of higher and more adhered to moral qualities than Southwestern could not be imagined. This condition also is contrary to what I had been told to expect down South. Instead, the tables are just reversed.

However long I stay at Southwestern or in the South, I want you all to know that the North has heard and shall continue to hear of the very kind and cordial treatment one of its sons received at the hands of the South, and be made to feel ashamed of any slighting reflection it cast on this part of the country.

And my home address up there is Doylestown, Pennsylvania. Whether I am there or not, my family will be—and this invitation is extended to everyone of you any time you are up that way.

A. T. O. WINS IN WICKER FINALS

Kappa Sigma Quintet Consolation Tourney.

Alpha Tau Omega fraternity won the final game of the inter-fraternity basketball tournament from the non-frat team Tuesday night by the overwhelming score of 43-15, with the Kappa Sigma five winning the final game of the consolation round, score 17-11.

The A. T. O. team jumped into an early lead, with the non-fraternity team making a total of 17 points to be high scorer for the night. Wesley Busbee lead the non-frat team in scoring with 10 points. The game was marked by a lot of action and wild shooting.

In the consolation game the Kappa Sigs won a hard fought game, with the S. A. E.'s fighting until the last minute of play. The game was played fast and furiously with fouls being committed rather often and one or two members of the teams being excused from play because of excessive fouls.

The Kappa Sigs had a 14 to 4 lead at half-time, but their opponents came back strong in the final period to cut the lead to 6 points. Palmer Shaffer led the Sigma Alpha Epsilon team in scoring, making 6 points in the course of the game. Pickens and Kimbrough were the stars for the Kappa Sigs.

The silver loving cup to be presented to the championship team by the Boosters Club was purchased and donated by the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Players Will Give Playlets March 20

On Friday evening, March 20, the Southwestern Players will present three one-act plays directed by Meredith Davis, Elizabeth Smith and Albert Erskine.

Elizabeth Smith will present "Knife," by Henry A. Jones. The cast will include Robert Sanders, Julia Marie Schwin and Bill Wright. "Apartments to Let" will be presented by Albert Erskine and a cast consisting of Alice Cahill, Adelaide Anderson, Virginia Reynolds and Cy Johnson. Meredith Davis is directing the play, "Rehearsal," by Christopher Morley.

Tickets will sell for twenty-five cents and will be available by Monday, March 16, Albert Erskine, the manager of the Players, has announced.

Queen Lem

The recent election for the King of the April Fool Carnival brought to light some interesting nominees for this important position. Evidently some of the voters were groggy that morning after the night before for Lem Banks received a vote for ueen of the carnival. What ho!

Some dumb freshie voted for Henry of Navarre for King and Elizabeth for Queen. The last name was left off doubtlessly from a feeling that Liz was so well known that her last name would be superfluous. "Old Doc Yak" received a vote for Queen of the Carnival.

PICK ALL FRAT WICKER QUINT

Out of the hubbub of interfraternity basketball five men have thrust themselves head and shoulders above the common herd to win positions on the mythical all-tournament team. Captains of all the fraternity teams and the Non-Greek team, selected the five outstanding basketeers of the tournament.

The roster of stars includes Jimmy Daimwood and Palmer Shaffer at forwards, George Hightower at center, and Sid Hebert and Wes Busbee at guards. This aggregation is capable of tossing some mean baskets and should they get together in one game would give anybody a struggle for supremacy.

A. T. O.'s earned three places on the squad to give them a majority of all-stars. Daimwood, Hightower and Hebert are all A. T. O.'s. Shaffer is an S. A. E. Busbee is non-

Miller to Coach Calif.

BERKELEY, Calif.—(IP)—Edgar (Rip) Miller, all-American guard on the famous "Four Horsemen" eleven at Notre Dame in 1924, has been named head football coach at the U. S. Naval Academy, succeeding Bill Ingram, who is coming here to replace Nibs Price as head mentor of the University of California gridders.

FROSH IN NEED OF TRACK MEN

Prep For Meets With Ole Miss and Union.

Prospects of the Freshman track team are rather dull at present. There are a few individual stars, but both quantity and quality are lacking, especially in the hurdles and jumps. Unless more Freshmen come out and show Coach Razz their wares, the team will have a hard time taking Ole Miss and Union into camp. Both these meets are pending, and will probably occur towards the latter part of April. However, the Freshmen would show up well in the inter-class meet on March 21.

Several of the thinly clad lads may be seen on the track working hard every day. Frank Key should make the team a very capable sprinter. Harold Sternberg is a hard worker and should be a good sprinter and quarter-miler. Sterling Porteous, built along the lines of a mule colt, may be seen prancing around the track every day. He is sturdy and ought to develop into a middle distance man. Clark Porteous seems to be in excellent condition and will make any of the rival distance men step. William Hunt and John Fishback are also working out as distance men. In the weights, Big Westley Busbee is the center of attraction. The Mississippi state high school discus king, has already bettered the S. I. A. A. record in practice and he should go far in his favorite event.

Buebee also performs very creditably with the shot and javelin.

There may be other good Freshman track men, but they have yet to come out and show it. However, as soon as spring training season is completed, a orde of prospective timber-toppers, weight chunkers, jumpers, and runners will undoubtedly report for track.

Atheists Call On Hoover

New York.—(IP)—The American Association for the Advancement of Atheism, formed five years ago, recently held its first annual convention here, and as one of its most important resolutions, asked President Hoover to dispense with the usual Thanksgiving proclamation, and set aside instead a day on which people could lay the blame on someone for all of their unfortunate circumstances.

Editors Meet

Princeton, N. J.—(IP)—Editors of college papers at Harvard, Yale, Dartmouth, Cornell and Princeton recently addressed the Princeton alumni here, each of them noting a growing spirit of conservatism among college students.

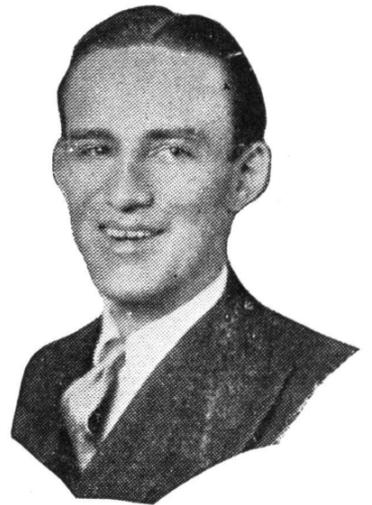

This is resulting, the editors said, in a decline of interest in athletics, class spirit and campus activities.
