DIEHL ENEMIES LOSE FIGHT TO REMOVE PREXY

Beloved President Wins In Lengthy Controversy

PRESBYTERY ACQUIT

Southwestern's Way Is Clear for Future Progress

Students of Southwestern and a host of friends of Southwestern's beloved president, Charles E. Diehl, read with joy the recent accounts of his acquittal by the Nashville presbytery of charges of heresy. Although his foes have tried to move heaven and earth to oust him from his presidency, excoriating him as a heretic and a "reckless financier," the eleven Memphis Presbyterian pastors who brought up the charges have at last been soundly thrashed and an overwhelming Southwestern victory has been won.

ATTACK BOARD

Pres. Diehl's opponents have sought to remove him by replacing his supporters on the Board of Directors with men of their own caliber. They were decidedly defeated at the meeting of the Synod of Mississippi when Mayor Watkins Overton, staunch supporter of Dr. Diehl, was reelected a member of the board. Only by the action of the board can Pres. Diehl be removed and since the present board is unanimously behind him there is no immediate danger to his position.

FRIENDS ARISE

With the indignant arousal of his many supporters brought on by the lashing verbal and pamphlet attacks of his enemies, Pres. Diehl's position is now stronger than ever.

All indications now point toward Southwestern's unhampered pursuit of her ideal, a Christian college in a Christian atmosphere.

MUSIC LOVERS ORGANIZE CLUB

More Than 20 Students in Novel New Group

Organization of a music appreciation club was effected Monday when more than 20 students met in Prof. McQueen's class room and indicated their enthusiasm to know more of music.

Louis Nicholas, choir leader, was elected president and Julia Marie Schwinn was chosen secretary.

The club has not yet decided on a name by which it is to be referred to, but it has decided to meet in chapel on the first Sunday afternoon in November and the first Sunday of each month until the end of school.

The original charter members of the club are 15 performers and as many auditors. The membership will be increased from time to time as the club sees need.

DRAMATIC CLUB HAS ONLY TWO

Smith and Sanders Are All of Theta Alpha Phi

Theta Alpha Phi, the college dramatic society, has returned two members to school for this year. The returning members are Elizabeth Smith and Robert Sanders.

For admission to Theta Alpha Phi, a student must have had at least two major roles and one minor role in some production put on by the Southwestern Players.

New members for the club will be selected later on in the year after some of the present students have made themselves eligible for admission.

Campus Co-Eds Exclaim and Proclaim Their Personal Opinion On Marriage

Girls Have Varying Ideas Concerning Event. Some Call It Adventure, Others Monotony

BY ELIZABETH HAMPTON

And what are the views of some of the campus queens on that ever-interesting subject of marriage? An effort made to secure some significant data reveals the fact that all of the girls consider it a rather inescapable part of the ordinary scheme of things. It will come sooner or later, but why hurry? Of course, none really wants or expects to spend her days fussing over cats and canaries or quietly plying her knitting needles in some chimney corner.

POST SCHEDULE FOR RE-EXAMS

Black List Is On Bulletin Board of Palmer Hall

A schedule of re-exams was posted on the bulletin board on the second floor of Palmer Hall this week for the benefit of those who were unable to take them at the close of the last semester or who took them and did not pass them.

Two subjects seem to have given more trouble than the others, these two being History and English. Re-exams are being given in three classes in both of these courses.

FRENCH HARD

French, Mathematics and Education come next with two each, with Biology, Spanish, and Psychology following with one each. There seems to be no special failing among the students but only a general deficiency in all lines of endeavor with the exception of all but one of the natural sciences. This probably proves something that is not important and very uninteresting.

SET FOR NEXT WEEK

The re-exams will be held on next Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 12 and 13, at 2 p.m. on each day. Those being held on Monday are Biology 2, French 22 and 53, History 2, 22 and 59, Mathematics 2, and Spanish 2. Tuesday's re-exams are Education 21 and 24, English 1, 21 and 22, Mathematics 22, and Psychology 2.

Chi O Pledges Elect

Pledges of the Chi Omega sorority elected the following officers at a meeting held Monday in the lodge on the campus: Virginia Hussey, president; Kathrine Stratton, vice-president; and Mary Hughes, secretary and treasurer.

Wine, Dine, Pine, Fine

"Who loves to lie wi' me Under the greenwood tree And, gormandizing, make Sweet music with the steak?" —An old query.

Wednesday, October 14, has been duly set aside by the Southwestern Christian Union for its annual steak roast at Piney Woods, popular picnic haven.

Under the green canopy of whispering pines bright fires will crackle, the luscious aroma of juicy steaks will permeate the pine-scented air, and the fun and frolic of a hundred college men and women will fill the deep woods with the murmur of mirth.

Chef Eric Haden, connoisseur of steaks and a master man over the grid, will deftly broil the steaks. Several harmless students will wait on him hand and foot until the tasty viands are fully prepared.

There will be songs and fun around the big camp fire after the elemental gastronomic desires of man have been fully satiated. It all promises to be great fun.

Tickets have been put on sale at 50 cents each which is decidedly cheap considering what the buyer will get for his investment. Purveyors of tickets are: Paul Jones, president of the Union, Albert Erskine, Jimmy Hughes, Margaret Mason, Mary Powell Abbay, Julia Marie Schwinn, Franklin Kimbrough, "Dutch" Bornman, Ralph Booth, and Elbert Huffman. No coveted admissions to the roast will be sold after noon Monday. The number of tickets has been limited to fifty for men and fifty for women.

MARRIAGE A GAMBLE

Frances Durham looks at the matter very philosophically. Says she, "We all have to settle down to a life of monotony sooner or later. May as well be through marriage as anything else." But she also thinks that marriage is something of a gamble and offers an intriguing challenge to those of sporting blood.

Peggy Henderson thinks that there is nothing like good clash of wills, opposition, and a bit of argument for putting spice in life. This marriage affords ad infinitum, ad nauseum. But Peggy intends to enjoy yet several more years at college, then travel, and then—

WOULD MARRY

There are still some charmingly old-fashioned girls like Mary Powell Abbay and Ione Wall, who feel that while "love is of man's life a thing apart, 'tis woman's whole existence." Mary Powell believes that a woman can make more of a success of marriage than of anything else—or should. And Ione, too, thinks that marriage is woman's forte, and is every woman's chief aim in life.

LIKES IDEA

"Anything that's so talked about I'd like to try," says Nell Jones. She considers marriage a big venture and adventure.

Ella Kate Malone insists that she has positively no views on the subject. And Alice Rogers as positively refused "to be interviewed."

As a parting crack one pretty cynic observed: "True, marriage is a great old institution. But who wants to live in an institution?"

Goldsby Ponders Law

Rollin Goldsby, last year's graduate of Southwestern, has entered Columbia University where he will study law and international law.

Students Given Free Telephone

This may sound phoney but a telephone has finally been installed in the vestibule of the Publications Office. Wednesday morning was the hallowed time when the great event occurred.

No longer will the lonesome lovers, and other idle students pinch their pockets for the elusive nickle to thrust resignedly into the maw of the pay phones which have tormented the campus in past times. This phone is free.

But amid the general rejoicing the Sou'wester pleads that students using the telephone do so as quietly as possible. A newspaper staff works every now and then.

Also there must positively be no long distance calling over this telephone. The penalty will be the wrong number.

LITERARY LADS EAT TOGETHER

Stylus Club Hears Campus Original Writings

The Stylus Club will meet and eat Thursday night at 6:00 in the Bell Room.

At the last meeting of the club it was decided that programs should consist as much as possible of original writings of the members.

Bill Berson read a short short story and a poem. Earle Howry treated the club to a hearing of his campus-famous lengthy poem which has been styled an epic poem by critics.

Bill Berson seems to be the most prolific writer in the group, having written some twenty thousand words of original composition this summer.

SUNDAY CLASS STUDIES BOOK

"Manhood of the Master" Is Class Study

The second lesson in Fosdick's "Manhood of the Master" was read and discussed at the regular meeting of the Southwestern Bible class Sunday morning. Allen Cabaniss was the leader.

Three members besides Cabaniss discussed the work of the week. Tom Jones, Russell Cross, and David Edington led in what was destined to be a round table discussion.

Norman Gibbs will be the leader of the class next Sunday morning. The class is studying "Manhood of the Master," by Fosdick and the books are on reserve in the library. Paul Jones, president of the club, asks that all members make an effort to study the lesson for Sunday.

VOCAL EXPERTS PRACTICE NOW

Choir Works for Vespers In Mid-November

The Southwestern Choir under the direction of St. Nick has started practicing for the first vesper service of the year which will be sometime in the middle of November.

St. Nick has already selected the music and the choir holds daily sessions to get their vocal organs in trim by the time of the first service.

The choir is planning on doing some social service work as the opportunity presents itself.

LYNX GRIDDERS TAKE MILLSAPS ON AT JACKSON

Southwestern Out To Get Revenge on Majors

21 MEN MAKE TRIP

First Dixie Conference Game For Lynx

Led by Coaches Jimmy Haygood and John Miller, Southwestern's scrapping Lynx have invaded Jackson, Miss., and will do battle with the militant Millsaps Majors this afternoon on foreign soil in the first Dixie Conference tilt of the tough Lynx schedule.

The team left last night at 11 o'clock and arrived in Jackson early this morning where they immediately took up quarters to rest for the game. They will return tonight after the fray and will arrive home early tomorrow morning.

OUT FOR REVENGE

Stung by the 0-0 tie of the Sewanee game and out to avenge the showing of their offense, the Lynx gridders are all set to cut loose with a brand of ball that will sweep the Majors off their feet. The urge to win is still more keen since the Majors have defeated Southwestern two years straight. Last year they won 14-0 in a heart-breaking struggle. This year the Lynx vow the tale will have a different ending.

LOVE IS OUT

Hurt by the loss of "Butch" Love, flashy quarterback, the Lynx will nevertheless muster one of the fastest backfields in their history. Changes have been made in the offense and there should be none of the clogging up that spoiled the offense last Saturday. Coach Haygood believes the backs will be able to get away quicker under the new scheme.

Hard work this week has put the Lynx in the pink of shape for the militant Majors and all indications point toward a hard battle with a win for the red and black waiting if the boys go out for it hard enough.

Whitten Wins 1st In Voice Contest

Dorothy Whitten, junior and Zeta, won the one year voice scholarship under Miss Ray Moore Tuesday night at eight o'clock in the Hardie Auditorium. Dorothy was the only girl entered in the contest.

The other entrants were Sheldon McNeill, Albert Ford, Robert Sanders, and Joe Mobley. Accompaniment was furnished by William Bensberg, pianist.

The scholarship will consist of two lessons a week at Miss Moore's private studio on Snowden Ave. The regular price of $3.00 a lesson has been lowered to $2.00 a lesson for Southwestern students in an effort to encourage singing in the college.

K. D. Pedges Elect

The election of officers for the Kappa Delta pledges was held Monday with the following officers chosen: Dorothea Schoolfield, president; Mary Converse, vice-president; Rosalie Keenon, secretary, and Nancy Dinsmore, treasurer.

A. T. O. Pledges Ballot

The pledges of the A. T. O. fraternity elected the following men as officers of the group: Thomas East, president; and Elliott Perrette, secretary and treasurer.

SUE TO LOU

Dear Lou:

There is so much to say that I hardly know where to begin. First, as always, comes the football team. They are playing Millsaps this afternoon and believe me those Majors have their hands full. The team left last night and I have been wondering why Chauncey was in such a hurry to be gone, was it Millsaps he was so anxious to see or was it Martha? Who knows?

The Chi Omegas are having a dance in honor of their pledges Saturday night and from all I have heard everybody will be there. Bill Taylor and his hot Collegians will add to the enjoyment.

Guess what has happened? Some noble friends of humanity caught our good pal, Scudder Smith, on Tuesday and made short work of the mustache which was his pride and joy and so becoming to his manly beauty(?) Too bad.

Thad Hall and his family will have guests over the week end. Winona Bates, Toto Mosby, and Tom Holloway are going to drive down to Magnolia.

I saw Julia Marie Schwinn calling out of the Library window to someone the other day. Julia Marie ought to know better than that. Anyway, I guess she was glad Miss Gilbert wasn't there.

I am SO glad that City Thomason is back I don't see how I could get along if he should ever leave. I heard a big bunch of the girls saying the same thing. City, now is your chance!

The freshmen tried to get smart the first of the week and rebel but they got their reward in the end.

The Chi Omegas had their bi-annual Elusian banquet on Wednesday night. That is why they were all riding through the campus about six o'clock that day. We thought it was a parade.

It is getting late and I feel it a duty to feed the ten thousand cats left over after the game Saturday. I must go. Write soon.

Yours,

SUE.

SEND A TELEGRAM

The fighting Lynx cats are down at Jackson today battling for the gridiron glory of Southwestern.

Jackson is a "fur piece" from here and the vast majority of the student body will not see the game.

But students back here at home can make up for their absence by a telegram to the team telling them they are behind them and pulling strong for a victory.

It will mean a lot to the boys down there to hear a cheery word from the gang up here.

THE PEP WAS GOOD

The student body is to be congratulated on the fine show of spirit they showed in putting over the Sewanee game. The chapel yells, the parade, the attendance at the game, and the cheers from the sidelines contributed much to the success of the team.

Although the game wasn't won it wasn't lost either and the Lynx had decidedly the better edge in yardage. As long as the student body puts out for the team the team will put out for the student body.

SAY HELLO, AT LEAST

The freshmen are still a somewhat unknown quantity. There are many of these harmless creatures who still walk around lost amid their surroundings and scarcely spoken to by their fellow man. There are many freshmen whose names are not known by upperclassmen.

This is no plea to get out and memorize methodically the names of the freshmen but it is a plea for all upperclassmen to speak to the freshmen and if possible learn their names.

Upperclassmen scarcely realize the gracious boon it is to a freshman to hear a good word and see a good smile from them.

JUST A BIT OF DORM LIFE

EVERGREEN HALL

The Sewanee game brought quite a few old students back again to their former haunts. Those noticed around Evergreen were: Lorene Mitchell and Alison Cole, who are spending the winter at their homes in Tupelo and Amory, Mississippi; Margaret Ashley, who is doing Y. W. C. A. in Greenville, and Maria Hunt Negus, who finds teaching Math at Lake Washington, Mississippi, just lots of fun; Mary Woosley, who is also teaching Math, but prefers to be at home in Paragould, Arkansas. None of them stayed nearly long enough, but it was good to see them again.

Frances Mitchener and Kate Cleveland seem to be quite busy these days, with the Kappa Sig's as attentive as ever.

FRESHIES CUTE

Ethel Mae Reeves and Olga Hartmann, freshettes, looked quite knock-out last week when they rushed off to the fair, accompanied by two freshmen, dressed in their unmistakable head attire.

"Walker," the rejuvenated 1926 Essex, owned by the three Alexandria, La., lads, favors Jimmy and Red quite often with rides. They haven't had to walk back—yet.

If you want to hear some good jazz, you should listen to Marjorie Hutton some evening after dinner. Does she know how to play blues!

CALVIN HALL

A labyrinth of confusion is the most apt phrase to characterize Calvin Hall during the past week. With the Sewanee game only a matter of a few hours off the inmates began a great campaign of noise making. Cow bells were clanging, brass horns blaring, and the students themselves were making all the noise possible with their natural equipment.

RACKET BOOMS

Saturday night the racket was undiminished. Most of the lads went to the fair and as if to broadcast the fact they whooped and hollowed until everyone anywhere close around was quite obviously aware of their intended visit to the Fairgrounds.

Monday night the freshmen rose up in revolt and the news spread through the dormitory with lightning-like swiftness. The freshmen and upperclassmen were dashing hither and yon seeking aid and doing a lot of announcing.

NOISE ANNOYS

Add to all this the usual noise made in any dormitory, and that is a lot, and the rest of the time being taken up with the whining and meowing of some score of cats and you'll see how utterly quiet this hall has been this week.

Several alumni were seen in the Calvin Hall rooms this week. Schuyler Lowe, Thad Hall, Jeff Davis, Malcom Richie, James Jackson, all came back for the game and to see if things were still going as usual in the dormitories.

ROBB HALL

One of Southwestern's most dignified and sober seniors who should know better was seen one night this week sneaking around the halls of the dormitory with a wicked gleam in his eye and an engaging smile on his handsome face and making strange noises which seemed to have a great power over the stray cats that were haunting the hall as a result of the Freshman forays previous to the Sewanee game Saturday.

BEGUILES CATS

After successfully beguiling about six lonesome and innocent cats and carrying them off to some dark spot where he was keeping them prisoner he then further subjected them to the indignity of being tied together as any ordinary slaves and hauling them off to a room wherein two young Freshmen were dreaming the dreams of peace that come with the feeling that Dr. Cooper is in his room and all is right with the world. They were rudely awakened by cats fighting and struggling on their beds (the

Gandhi Gives His 10 Commandments

Simla, India.—The ten commandments which he says have guided his own conduct were given as follows by Mahatma Gandhi:

Truth: Ahimsa, which may be translated into English as love; Brahmacharya, which may be inadequately expressed as chastity; Restraint of the palate, which he elaborated as eating for the mere sustenance of the body, abstaining from intoxicating drinks and drugs such as opium and tobacco; Abstaining from the possession of things for themselves; Adherence to life's law that one's bread must be earned by the sweat of one's brow; Swadeshi, the belief that man's primary duty is to serve his neighbor; Belief in the equality of all mankind; Belief in the equality of all the great faiths of the world; Fearlessness.

Freshmen's) in their efforts to release themselves from the bonds imposed upon them by the senior.

Realizing that the struggles of the felines had probably caused them to become over-heated the kind freshmen decided that what they would like most would be the refreshing night breezes so the cats were obliged by being gently lifted and held out of the window where they could get more air.

CATS PRANCE

Since the freshmen could take care of only one cat apiece at a time they were forced by the laws of feline justice to give attention to the remaining cats and therefore had to turn the cats loose while they gathered up others to cool off. The cats were gently lowered to the ground by the night winds and there continued their song and dance under the light of the waning moon.

Freshettes In Chi Delta Fun

Chi Delta, women's literary society, was entertained Monday afternoon by an informal program given by freshette members.

Olivia Reames, musical freshette, played several piano selections. Charlotte Stange, program chairman, created the first line of a poem, and was followed by an original line from each member until an amusing but nonsensical end was reached.

GREEK GALS IN SUMMER DOINGS

Sororities Work and Play During Hot Months

The sororities on the campus, far from being idle during the summer months, all have interesting bits of news to report since their meetings in June.

TRI DELTS

The Tri Deltas entertained two visiting sisters from the University of Tennessee, Myrtle Keltner and Mabel Gotten, with an attractively planned swimming party and supper given by Margaret Gunn. Several other informal get-togethers were held during the hot months.

Lyle Stange, president of the chapter, attended the national convention at Chateau Frontenac, Quebec, from June 19 to June 26. One of the many novel features of the convention was the special trains from Chicago, the cars spelling out the words, "Tri Delta."

K. D.'s WANDER

The Kappa Deltas held informal weekly meetings during vacation but the high light of the summer for at least six of them was the national convention at the Wardman Park Hotel, Washington, D. C., from June 29 to July 4. The delegates were Elizabeth Smith, president of the chapter, Frances Durham, Julia Marie Schwinn, Frances Cairnes, Nell Martin, and Margaret Kimbrough. They had several interesting side trips during their stay in the capital among which was a motor trip to Mt. Vernon, the return journey being made by boat. They made a visit to the White House to have their picture made with President Hoover.

After the business of convention was over, Frances Cairnes entertained the other five girls with a house party at her home in Fort Du Pont, Delaware.

A. O. PI'S PLAY

Members of the A. O. Pi chapter entertained with a bridge party every other week during the summer to raise money for the house on the campus. Many improvements have been made—"Lox-in" windows installed, new furniture bought, painting done, and last but not least, the rug cleaned and grass cut.

Virginia Richmond, president of the chapter, was the delegate to the convention held at Troutdale-in-the-Pines, Colo., from June 21 to 26. Many interesting plans were made and a new song book adopted. Three of the four founders of A. O. Pi were present at the convention.

CHI O'S CLEAN HOUSE

The Chi Omegas have been busy renovating their lodge on the campus. The kitchen has been painted, the steps repaired, the laundry retrieved from storage, general cleaning-up done, and it has even been rumored a new trash can is to be bought and installed immediately.

ZETAS MEET

The Zetas have had one or two meetings during the summer and have met with the alumnae chapter several times. The house has been freshened up and all is in readiness for the new season.

Blames Colleges

South Hadley, Mass.—Speaking before the tenth annual meeting of the International Student Service at Mount Holyoke College here, Dr. Walter M. Kotschnig of Austria said he believed the unemployment situation could be blamed on the colleges for their failure to cope with vital economic problems.

WE WONDER

If Nick knew what was wrong in chapel the other morning when he made his startling announcement.

If Bill Berson has at last subsided to silence after his record breaking number of chapel announcements.

If there were as many tight Sewanee men Saturday as there are rumored to be.

If Clara couldn't write a hot article on what she knows.

If Angelo could beat Tony in a knock-down-drag-out fight to the finish.

If it is true that Prof. Storn's moustache is glued on.

If Scudder Smith will ever grow another moustache.

If Goof Hinson knows what the Chinese sailor said.

If anybody reads the Sou'wester when there is a free ad in it.

If Dean Hartley could do a horn-pipe in chapel some day.

If some of the pros don't like to hear the sound of their own voices.

If this hooley makes any sense.

Y. W. C. A. Plans A Year Of Activity

Expand Membership In Drive for Organization

The Southwestern Y. W. C. A. is making plans for a season of campus activities that have never been equalled in the history of the organization.

Under the direction of Nell Davis, president, the Y. W. C. A. has established a desk in the Palmer Hall cloister and registration of new members is progressing rapidly.

The registration has so far reached the mark of 37 members. A goal of at least 50 is expected by the end of the month.

The organization has planned to have a meeting every week at one of the sorority houses and at every fourth meeting a spaghetti supper will be held. The Y. W. C. A. will meet every Wednesday afternoon.

The registration dues for new members is 50 cents per semester. The officers for this year are Nell Davis, president; Mary Carolyn Lee, vice-president; Elizabeth Richey, Secretary; Virginia Richmond, Treasurer.

"Why is the sewing machine like C. McGee?"

"I'll bite."

"One sews seams nice and the other seems so nice."

MINISTER CLUB LAYS PROGRAM FOR YEAR WORK

Will Visit Hospitals And Other Institutions In Deputations

At the second weekly meeting of the Ministerial Club last Wednesday Prof. Eric Haden gave a short talk to the members after the completion of luncheon in the Bell Room of Neely Hall.

Five new members have joined the club this year, among them being the interesting John Chung of Korea, who is a student of Southwestern and a candidate for Christian service upon the completion of his college career.

The outstanding service planned by the club for the coming year is a series of weekly deputations or visits to local institutions such as the Home for the Aged and hospitals in the city for the purpose of holding services for the inmates.

Another plan formulated by the Ministers is the holding of weekly prayer meetings in the dormitories of the college. In speaking of the plan, Bob Pfrangle, a member of the club, stated that the full co-operation of the dormitory students was desired in this prospect as the meetings were to be held for the benefit of all the dormitory students and not for the members of the Ministerial Club alone.

Tentative plans have been made for

Three Men Out For Manager Positions

It seems that in this day and time everything and everybody must have a manager. The Southwestern football team is not exempt, and the aspirants, Leon Mapes, Charles Crump and Albert Ford are laboring hard these days trying to land the job.

Coach John Miller issued a call for managers of the team a week ago and these three men reported for duty. The duties of a football manager are many and varied, ranging from handling the entire team to filling the milk bottles.

The manager will receive a monogrammed sweater such as received by the varsity players.

Student Slain

the bimonthly broadcasting of hour programs over one of the local radio stations. Plans have not yet been completed for this venture but it is hoped that they will be able to begin in a short while in the actual broadcasting.

All members are looking forward to a big year in the work of the Ministerial club and ambitious planning is the order of the day with plenty of hard work being done to make all plans successful.

ORCHESTRA HAS CAMPUS TALENT

Bill Taylor's Collegians Ready for Season

Bill Taylor's Collegians, campus dance orchestra, has been organized to take the place left vacant by the resignation of Bill Brinkley, organizer and leader of the Royal Collegians last year.

The Collegians bid fair to be as popular and as entertaining as the versatile Royal Collegians were last year when they regularly played for campus dances and over the radio at a regular hour weekly.

Taylor, who was a member of the Royal Collegians with his well-played trumpet, has organized the six piece Collegians Orchestra and will lead it and direct it throughout the coming school year. Members of the orchestra are Louis (St. Nick) Nicholas, chapel pianist and purveyor of haunting popular melodies at the Steinway; Clough Eaton, tromboning his way through college; Claude Capers, banjoist; Harold Simmons, who coaxes the sax until it laughs and cries, and Jim Watson, a town boy at the drums and wood blocks.

The sextet has arranged to play for house dances and the Christmas dances on all occasions and are expected to put out a high class of rhythm.

ORGANIZE BAND TO PEP UP ALL GAMES, PARADE

15 Piece Blaring Outfit Leads Into Battle

TAYLOR IS LEADER

Only Southwestern Men In Lynx Music Brigade

Bill Taylor, leader of the Collegians orchestra, has organized a pep band of 15 pieces which will play at all the football games and on all occasions when the rhythm of collegiate battle songs is needed.

BAND NEW THING

There has not been a band of this sort at Southwestern in recent years except on special occasions when one was temporarily organized for the special occasion only. Taylor, feeling the need of a regular band for this purpose has taken the initiative and organized a pep band which will

Southwestern Team To Be Orpheum's Guests

Southwestern's football eleven will be guests Saturday night of the RKO Orpheum Theater to see the football classic picture, "The Spirit of Notre Dame," starring Lew Ayres and dedicated to the beloved football coach, Knute Rockne.

The student body is urged to attend in large numbers as their team will be honored guests on Saturday night. The party is sponsored by The Evening Appeal. Southwestern also will send its star long distance football kicker to compete against West Tennessee Teachers College best football kicker at Hodges Field Saturday afternoon preceding the M. U. S.-Catholic High game. The award is a silver loving cup, to be given by Press-Scimitar in tribute to Rockne.

"The Spirit of Notre Dame" runs Friday, Saturday and Monday. "Rebound," with Ina Claire and Robert Ames, adapted from the popular stage play, is the movie attraction at the Orpheum beginning next Tuesday.—Adv.

Lad Sadly Loses Gay Mustachios

Scudder Smith, dealer in hirsute appendages, did some tall scudding Tuesday afternoon when members of the "Allah" club, avowed enemies of such appendages, set out to trim him literally.

A gay party of fifteen males gave chase to the offending moustache and after a dash from Science Hall to University Drive, Coach Jimmy Wilson downed the culprit.

Gasping for breath Joe Wells, Perry Bynum, Joe Mobley, Martin Agan, and others of the club hove into view and with a dull razor hacked off half the hair.

The bare side of the lip was dyed red with mercurochrome and the lonesome remainder was tinged a delicate blue.

The question now is when with Drs. Lackey and Bassett fall prey to the "Allah" club.

hold regular practices and will be available whenever needed.

THE ROLL CALL

The band is composed entirely of Southwestern students and includes six trumpets, three trombones, an alto, four clarinets, and the drums. It has functioned successfully on two occasions this year at the football games.

The Pep Band eliminates the necessity of depending on the Rotary Boys Band which has been called upon in the past for the Southwestern games and has proven such a valuable asset in the promotion of good spirit at such times.

SPORT SCRIBBLE

It took the editor a long time to dig me up. I'm the only guy in school who dares to try to fill P. Shaffer's Sport Scribble job left vacant this year by his departure. But if there's one thing I've got it's brass and so I'll just ramble along each week commenting on this and that and voicing my own opinion which, by the way, may not be yours.

Don't take me too seriously. I just spout off and say what I think. I'm no more harmless than that. And so I begin.

The affair Saturday was grim and gruelling but not so spectacular. Two lines tussled all over the turf and had more fun than a barrel of monkeys. The backs couldn't get going though and to the spectator the running game is the only game. A tie with Sewanee won't improve future crowds.

Say what you will about the Tiger but he sure bottled High and Newton up and that's a job for any team.

Those first two weeks of hellacious practice put the Lynx in shape for the big tilt all right. Praise be to Allah for the hot weather!

The boys take on Millsaps today. It'll be a fight. The Militant Majors scrap sixty minutes of any game. But the Lynx should win by at least one touchdown and probably two.

We like the two coaches. No sham, no show, no pretense. They do their job well. They are quietly efficient. They appeal to the fellows and the student body.

Tough luck about Butch's shoulder being dislocated but he'll be able to carry the mail 'fore long.

USE MILES OF TAPE FOR MEN

It took almost 54 miles of adhesive tape to bind and bandage the 1930 University of California football team!

Of this amount, Charles Volz, varsity trainer, and his assistants wrapped 13 miles of two-inch tape around the limbs and bodies of the Bear Gridiron players. The balance of the wrapping was done with one-inch tape, 41 miles of it.

In addition to adhesive tape, the football men had their injuries swathed in 2.2 miles of bandage and 17 pounds of cotton.

LOTS OF BALM

Zinc ointment and capicum vaseline vied for high honors as the balm for the bruises incurred during the last football season. The ointment won out when 14 pounds of the stuff was gently applied to injuries. Only 12 pounds of vaseline were used.

LONG AWAITED SEWANEE GAME IS SCORELESS

Strong Lines Hurl Backs From Goal Markers

NO LONG RUNS MADE

Lynx Line Matches Heavy Tiger Forward Wall

A battle of the lines. Such could the strenuous encounter which graced the turf of Fargason Field last Saturday be termed. The offenses of both sides could not sift through the strong forwards which held like a stone wall to repel all advances of the backs.

The Southwestern line although somewhat outweighed by the heavier wall of the Purple Tigers gave a fine account of itself. The Sewanee boys gave an account that was no less outstanding. It was truly a great fight.

The game was outstanding in the fact that only a very few spectacular runs were unreeled during the afternoon. The Sewanee line succeeded in bottling up the threats of High and Newton while the Lynx forwards gave very little ground to the backs of their opponents.

High succeeded in getting loose for a run of about 25 yards at the early stages of the game, and this was the longest run cracked off by either side. Newton pulled off a good jaunt for some 17 yards and Love also unreled a similar trip.

The Sewanee backs were led by Jefferies and Gee who made several cracks at the Lynx line which seemed dangerous to Southwesternites. The passing attack of both teams was somewhat disappointing to the crowd. Neither team was able to break through the sturdy pass defense of the other. However, Sewanee was able to complete three passes to Southwestern's one. None of the passes were dangerous.

Only once was the Sewanee Tiger able to pierce the Lynx 20 yard line and only once was the Lynxman able to do so. The Lynx line gave a fine account of themselves in the second quarter when they repelled an advance of the Tigers and held them for downs on the 11 yard line.

To pick outstanding players would be impossible but the entire line of the Lynx deserves the highest praise for their fine work against the heavier line of their opponents.

Lineup and summary of the game:

Southwestern	Sewanee
Sanderson ..... L.E.	Morton
John Hughes ..... L.T.	Patton
McCormick ..... L.G.	French
Jim Hughes ..... C.	Hanson
Welts ..... R.G.	Clark

Officials—Referee, Pete Siler (Tennessee); umpire, Alex Cunningham (Vanderbilt); headlinesman, Wilson Collins (Vanderbilt); field judge, Bob Loving (Arkansas).

For that tired feeling and headaches received in practice and on the playing field, the Associated Students were called upon to furnish only three bottles of headache remedy.

CITY IS COACH FOR BOBCAT II

Veteran Center Reenrolls And Will Lead Frosh

Frank "City" Thomason, Lynx center for the past three years, will assist John Miller with the Bobcat team this year according to an announcement given out by Coach Jimmy Haygood Monday.

"City," as he is familiarly known to all of his associates, played three years of consistent football at the center position for Southwestern. He is well qualified to coach the first year men.

TAKES SCIENCE

Thomason has registered again in Southwestern after having graduated in the class last spring. He is taking a science which he failed to get while in school so that he can register in a medical school.

He scouted the Millsaps team last Saturday and brought back an interesting supply of material to Coach Haygood Monday.

"HOW THE GAME LOOKED TO ME"

Witty Guy Gets off Some Humor On the Fray

By A SPECTATOR

It was a colorful game, with all the players and most of the spectators leaving the field with large spots of red smudged across their faces.

No one was trying to make a score. The idea of the whole game was to keep the other team from making any cleat prints behind the goal line. The game ended with two Sewanee men tugging away at each other in a bear hug in order to keep the other one from making a score.

The referee was the biggest ground gainer of the afternoon.

The teams couldn't decide which was to pay the referee the most money. Consequently he wouldn't let anyone make a score. Many times he killed a score in the embryo stage by a well measured penalty.

Southwestern really won, though, eight fumbles to five.

The game ended happily with no one annexing any cash from anyone else.

The best exhibition of blocking was shown between halves when Freshman Sherman piled a dozen Sewanee supporters in a neat bunch for shipping home.

The big casualty of the party was the unsuspecting mechanical tiger.

Toward the end the referee stopped the game to see if the ball didn't have wings on it. It was doing a lot of flying.

ARGUE OXFORD ON DECEMBER 5

Lynx Forensic Leaders In Readiness for Fray With Britishers

On the night of December 5 at eight o'clock in the Hardie Auditorium Southwestern debaters will meet English debaters from Oxford on the question, "Resolved that American Civilization is a greater danger to the world than that of Russia." Southwestern will take the negative side of the question in support of American civilization. The English will try to prove why Russia's system of Communism is better than a democracy. A decision will be given by three judges to be picked at a later date.

The Southwestern try-outs to pick the two men who will meet the Britishers will be held October 20 in Hardie Auditorium. The campus forensic society is all pepped up over the prospect of an international debate and report that more than fifteen members will try out for the honor of upholding America.

Upperclassmen will remember mid chuckles the uproarious debate between Cambridge and Southwestern last year in the auditorium on the question, "Resolved, That the Emergence of Women from the Home is a Regrettable Feature of Modern Civilization." The men from England displayed a sense of humor not at all compatible with the English reputation for thick-headedness.

The debating club has not completed the rest of its schedule for the year but plans are being made for numerous home debates and an extended trip to neighboring colleges.

Angelo Peddles Red Rosy Fruit

"Come along with your money in your hands And buy your apples from the apple man. Ellic—apples!"

Once again the shaded campus of Southwestern will be the scene of a human interest story as Angelo, wizened Italian gardener of better days, returns to the haunts of his former employment and peddles "apples" to obliging students who buy for the pleasure of buying rather than for that of eating.

Like his fellow-countryman, Tony, Angelo is a little more broken and bent this year. The ravages of time sit heavy on the brow of age. But Angelo's smile, though a bit faded, is still cheery.

Buy an "epple" from Angelo. He has a family to support and he will appreciate your nickle and your smile.

First A. B. C.'s

Prof. Martin Sprengling of the University of Chicago believes that a Bedouin foreman of a mine, working for the Egyptians in the half-century between 1850-1800 B. C., first used the characters which have developed into the modern alphabet.

Romancer Romances

Austin, Texas.—Professor Alfred Kennigott, instructor of romance languages at the University of Texas, while on a visit to Germany this summer, met a woman salesman in a hat shop, liked her looks, and three days later married her. The couple made a wedding trip to Locarno, then returned to the United States Aug. 12.

Treasure Hunt Thrills

The clever co-ed who thinks Will go where she finds the double Lynx

With this couplet the treasure hunt sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. was begun Tuesday afternoon in the cloister of Palmer Hall. More than forty girls ran rough shod over the campus in a thrilling chase that lasted the better part of an hour with the treasure a light luncheon of sandwiches and drinks served in the Bell Room. The hunt was won by Alice Kirkpatrick.

It took some time for the huntresses to find the first message which was hidden on the stone Lynx at the Ashner gateway to the campus. Some of the fair sex are reported to have gone out to Fargason Field looking for a couple of football players.

The next message was a crip. It ran somewhat as follows:

"This treasure hunt will be a cinch If you will look beneath the bench."

As soon as this message was read the co-eds made a wild dash and did all sorts of acrobatic stunts as they craned their necks to read the message which was glued upside down on the bottom of a stone bench.

Number three was easy for the older girls who were well acquainted with campus slang and terminology but was a puzzler to the freshettes. It read:

"All of you should rush pell mell Over to look at Little Nell."

Of course, Little Nell referring to the bulletin board, it didn't take the upperclassmen long to find the next clue which was:

"You clever little thing, Go where you'll find a concrete ring."

From the tree just to the north of Palmer Hall the trail led to Evergreen Hall with the following insulting message:

"A Hall there is which you have seen Whose inhabitants are always green."

By this time the contestants were all "het up" and raring to be the first to the treasure. Undaunted by the run from Palmer Hall to Evergreen they streaked back to the wall in front of Palmer by orders of the next to the last message which read:

"Go where you'll find a concrete ball Delicately balanced on a wall."

Many of the participants had dropped out by this time and those left had their tongues hanging out as they swept in full cry to the Bell Room, guided by the hint in the last message:

"Bells, bells, bells, bells, bells, bells, bells, Where they're meeting you'll be eating 'neath the bells."

Yes, a good time was had by all.

Russia Learns

Government statistics recently published reveal that Soviet Russia's compulsory education campaign is running 110 per cent ahead of schedule. During the czarist regime the most ever in school was 7,235,000. Last year there were 17,612,000 in Russian schools.

GREEK COUNCIL PLANS PARTIES

Panhellenic Men Begin To Arrange First Frolic For Thanksgiving

The Pan-Hellenic Council is making plans to give the first "Pan" of the current year immediately after Thanksgiving. While no definite plans have been formulated as yet, the council always waits until after the last football game before giving its initial dance.

The council will give four dances this year as in previous years. Probably three of the dances will be at the Casino and the fourth will be given on one of the excursion steamers. Just before school is out in the waning days of school, the council will give a private party for the council representatives of the fraternities. This is the climax of the activities of the council's work for the year.

The representatives of the fraternities to the council and the officers for the year are: John Hughes, president, Kappa Sigma; Paul Jones, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, vice-president; James Hamilton, Alpha Tau Omega, secretary and treasurer; Harvey Drake, Kappa Alpha; Dabney Crump and Albert Erskine, Pi Kappa Alpha; Thompson Holloway and Oliver Cobb, Beta Sigma; William Berson, Alpha Tau Omega; Harvey Creech and Robert King, Theta Nu Epsilon; Russell Perry, Kappa Sigma; and Ralph Booth, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

A student was visiting in Chicago and decided to buy a new fall hat. Going into a store, he asked the price of one that looked good to him. A clerk replied, "Fifteen dollars."

The student asked, "Where are the holes?"

The clerk appeared bewildered for a moment, but managed to ask, "What holes?"

The student replied, "The holes for the ears of the ass that would pay fifteen dollars for a hat like that."

Old colored mammy—I wants a ticket fo' Florence.

Then there is the one they tell about a bashful young man who used this novel way of proposing to his sweetheart:

Taking her to the cemetery where his family plot was located he'd say, "Wouldn't you like to be buried there some day?"

Fast—"Let's stop here—this is a girls' school.

Past—"Oh no, it can't be. Didn't you see the sign back there, 'Slow School Ahead?'"

Mary—Keep your hands off of me. John—Aw, Mary, haven't you got a heart?

Mary—Sure, but you have been looking for it long enough.

"Now this is a nice thing to come to pass," said the young college professor as the sweet young co-ed nestled in his arms.

Walker—"Say you gave me a counterfeit note."

Hinson—"Now ain't that a belluva note."

Coach Haygood—I can tell you the score of the game before it starts.

Coach Miller—What? Coach Haygood—Nothing to nothing; before it starts.

A stout young lady drove up into the filling station.

"I want a quart of oil, please," she requested.

"What kind, heavy?" asked the attendant.

"Say, young man, don't get fresh with me," was the indignant response.

I'm The Gink

I'm the freshman gink who dashes round the campus in a perpetual social whirl duplicating in college those entrancing little affairs. I was so expert at in the small town high school from whence I came.

I camp on the trail of several women and I'm not content unless I'm holding one of their little hands. Then I am supremely happy, for what could be better?

I don't give a hang for studying and anyway the folks back home can't check up on me now that I'm away. Extracurricular activities are a nuisance and besides they take time from my social calendar. Football is so brutal too.

I may not make good marks, I may not make a good name for myself but there's one thing I will do and that's capture about umpty million fluttering feminine hearts that think I hung the moon.

I'm just an irresponsible, dashing, campus cavalier but anyway I'm O. K. cause—I'm the Gink!

Some people have to show off their motorcycles.

Upper Class Girls Pounce Upon Poor Freshettes Who Are Often Rebellious

Priestesses Sit Up All Night Devising Tortures To Inflict Upon Persons of Offenders

Baby caps, hot dogs on lease, dresses worn backwards—they are all making their appearance again as part of the ritual of Freshman hazing. And again the strong arm of the law is being felt by recalcitrant freshettes.

At the National Air Races in Cleveland this summer Lieut. Al Williams, stunted his plane as directed by the audience through a radio hook-up. Another stunter waltzed his plane in time with dance music broadcast from the ground.

Elizabeth Beasley, Margaret Gunn, Elizabeth Smith and Lola Ellis as competent helpers, the council is a powerful force for good on this campus. The noble priestesses sit up all night to devise means of keeping the Freshettes from that unpardonable sin—snootiness, and of inculcating in them that best of all virtues, humility.

Several arch offenders were duly punished the other day when they were required to come to school attired as meek maidens whom they would do well to emulate. Peggy Walker was perfectly S. S. and G. as Ophelia, Chrystine Gilmore was a typical Maggie, and Mary Elizabeth Trigg was an equally typical Maud.

With the exception of these three bold rebels the Freshettes have been

The sweet young things have been sufficiently overawed to submit to the ruling that they shall have no dates on the campus during school hours. Makes them concentrate on their studies, of course, and, incidentally, leaves the upperclass women a clear field.

Who said the Sanhedrin should be abolished?
