LYNX-DUBLIN DEBATE TO BE HELD NOV. 30

Quibblers Open Season Against Irish Arguers

Southwestern debaters are planning the opening of the Lynx forensic season when the local debaters meet the forensic team of Trinity College of Dublin, Ireland, on the evening of Nov. 30 in Hardie Auditorium.

The Southwestern team will be composed of John Henry Fishbach and Francis Benton, both of Bessemer, Ala. These students were chosen from a number of aspirants who tried out Thursday evening in the auditorium.

TRINITY GRADS

The Irish team will be composed of two graduates of Trinity College. They are Gerret Gill and James Auchmuty. The Irish team will have the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved That the True Interests of Ireland Lies with America Rather Than with England."

The Irish team will have a very capable pair of debaters to represent their college. Auchmuty won numerous honors while at Trinity. He received the honor of auditor of the college historical society, and is considered an authority on the acts of Ireland abroad. He also represented his college at the international debates held last year at Manchester, England.

A BARRISTER

Gill is now a practicing barrister. While at Trinity, he was a member of the Dublin literary society, of which W. B. Yeats and George Russell are members. Last year, he won the club's award for meritorious work. He also won the silver medal offered for the best orator of the college's historical society.

The Irish debaters are being brought to America under the auspices of the National Student Federation, of which Southwestern is a member.

MUCH INTEREST

The debate marks the third in as many years with a foreign college for the Lynx debaters. Last year they debated Oxford University and the year before they met Cambridge University. The debate this year promises to be the best of the schedule of the Lynx, and a large crowd is anticipated. Last year the auditorium was filled to capacity for the Oxford debate.

PRE-MEDS TO TAKE EXAMS

Dr. Huber In Charge Of Tests

This year, as has been the custom for several years in the past, the American Medical Association is conducting a series of examinations all over the country for students expecting to go into the medical profession. These tests are given with the idea of preparing the student for what he will go up against when he leaves his preparatory work behind.

The exact number of students that will take this examination is not yet known, but Prof. Huber, who will be in charge and will conduct the tests, says that he expects to examine at least 10 Lynx students.

The examination will be held in room 202 Science Building at three o'clock, Friday, Dec. 9. A fee of one dollar ($1.00) will be charged, payable at the time the tests are taken.

DR. DIEHL WILL PREACH AT WINONA

Pres. Charles E. Diehl will occupy the pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church of Winona, Miss, Sunday in place of the regular pastor, the Rev. H. L. Villee.

LYNX GOTHICS IN EXHIBIT

Brooks Gallery Has Lynx Drawings

The current exhibit at Brooks Memorial Art Gallery is of much interest to Southwestern students. Two water colors: "Front Door, Palmer Hall" and "Cloister, Southwestern," by Myrtle Smith, Art Director of Snowden School, are in the exhibit of the Palette and Brush Club of Memphis.

There are many local subjects of interest to Lynx students, such as "Jimmy" and "Cotton Picking" by Mary V. Moore, and "Cabin on the Macon Road" by Annabel Moore. Miss Myrtle Smith has, besides her pictures of Southwestern, a study, "Court Square," in which the fountain is suggested beautifully.

The directors of the Brooks Memorial are anxious to have Southwestern students visit the gallery. Not long ago an exhibit of Indian tribal arts was presented—but to few Southwesterners. There will be a Southern exhibit. A notice of it will appear in this paper.

Tri-Deltas Have Founders' Dinner

Celebrate Tonight At Peabody

The Tri-Delta sorority will hold its annual Founders' Day banquet tonight at 7 o'clock at the Hotel Peabody. Members of the active chapter, pledges, and alumnae will attend the Founders' celebration.

Miss Lyle Stange, a former member of the Southwestern chapter, will serve as general chairman of arrangements. Mrs. Charles Beatty, newly elected president of the alumnae chapter, will preside at the banquet.

Miss Corinne Gautier, president of the active chapter, has charge of the plans for the chapter at the college. Miss Margaret Chism will have charge of the program at the banquet. Decorations are in charge of Miss Margaret Gunn, Mrs. J. H. Tole, and Mrs. W. S. Craddock.

"S" Club Sponsors Dance At Casino Thursday Evening

Large Crowd To Attend Prom. Collegians To Play

The "S" club will entertain with a dance tomorrow evening at the Casino from 8 to 12. The dance proceeds will be used by the "S" club in fixing up a clubhouse for the use of the members and also will be used to entertain the members of the visiting athletic teams. There will be four no-breaks, two specials, an All-Greek leadout, and an "S" club leadout.

Red and black streamers, pennants, and balloons will be used for decorations. The dance will be informal and Bill Taylor and the Royal Collegians will furnish the music. The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of Harvey Drake, James Daimwood, and Charles Crump.

Officers and their dates who will receive are: Sid Hebert, president, with Virginia West; Harvey Drake, vice-president, with Zelda O'Brien;

LYNX TO MEET SPRINGHILL IN GRID FINALE

Ten Veterans End Grid Careers On Turkey Day

Lynx gridders will ring down the curtain on the 1932 football season tomorrow afternoon when the Southwestern team meets the aggregation from Springhill College of Mobile, Ala. The Turkey Day classic will write finis to the grid careers of 10 warriors of the Lynx team. Those who finish are Capt. High, Alternate Capt. Perrette, Newton, Womble, Knight, Love, Fortenberry, McCormick, Kimbrough and Hebert.

The Lynx will be the favorites to cop the game tomorrow as the Springhill team hasn't been a very formidable foe for its opponents this year. However, they have shown a decided improvement the last few weeks and should give the Southwesterners plenty of competition.

The Springhill boasts a pair of good backfield men and if the Mobile line clicks, the Lynx forward wall should have a hard time stopping them. However, the Springhill bulwark isn't as formidable as some that the Lynx stalwarts have encountered this year.

The Lynx will go into the fray determined to improve their Dixie Conference standing as the Springhill team is a member of that athletic group. Thus far the Lynx have won but one Dixie victory.

Probable lineup:

Springhill	Position	Lynx
Riley	L.E.	Wilson
Richards (c)	L.T.	Fortenberry
Smith	L.G.	Fox
Spafford	C.	McCormick
Blount	R.G.	Hebert
Shirk	R.T.	McCullum
LeCompte	R.E.	Perrette
O'Shea	Q.B.	High (c)
Dynas	H.B.	Newton
Kearns	H.B.	Womble

A. O. PI'S PLAN CHARITY WORK

Entertain Children At City Hospital

The A. O. Pi Alumnae have made plans to entertain the children at the General hospital on Thanksgiving. Mrs. A. B. Cooper is in charge of the arrangements.

Early Thanksgiving morning quite a few alumnae and also members of the active chapter will go over to the hospital and take candy and fruit to the children. Each child will be given apples, oranges, little cornucopias filled with chocolates, and lollipops wrapped in brightly colored cellophane paper.

It is a custom for the A. O. Pi alumnae to do something to cheer the children at this hospital on Thanksgiving, Easter and Christmas.

Entertain Teachers With Tea Saturday

The members of the National Teachers of English Association who are holding their convention in Memphis this week, will be entertained by the wives of the faculty members Saturday afternoon. The guests will be taken for a drive after which they will return to the campus and tea will be served.

Pi Announces Two More New Members

Pi, national inter-sorority society, has announced two new members. Virginia McCaslin, a transfer from the University of Virginia, and Priscilla Painter are the new wearers of the green and white.

Free Phone To Be Installed—Maybe

The Student Council meeting last Thursday brought about a very important result—students to get free phone. "Yes, we're gonna get a free phone," said Chicken High, "and I think it's a good idea."

The constitution was discussed and a few changes made. St. Nick failed to turn in an account about the money he wants for the choir. The "S" Club didn't turn in their petition to get a seat in the council, so the motion was tabled.

The Publication Board Committee, under Harte Thomas, reported on the plans for the Senior magazine.

Library Closed Over Holiday

Miss Mary Marsh, librarian, announced that the Library will close Wednesday at 6 P. M. and will not reopen until Friday morning at nine.

Alumnae Assn. To Convene Nov. 29

The Southwestern Alumnae Association has postponed its meeting until Tuesday night, Nov. 29, since the Southwestern Players presented three one-act plays last Tuesday, which was the date previously set for the meeting.

This month the Zeta Tau Alpha sorority will be hostesses to the association. Professor Sam Monk will read a paper, and a discussion will be held about the proposed scholarship for girls.

Alumni Visit

Two alums of the college visited on the Southwestern campus during the past week. William Berson, grad of '32, paid the students a one day call last Monday.

Henry Brown, class of '33, and now a member of the workmen of the nation, dropped in for a few days to say "hello" to his classmates and friends on the campus last Monday and Tuesday.

Merely a Bit Of Nonsense

The excited citizen rushed into the little bank and slapped a $50 bill down upon the cashier's window ledge. "Gimme two cases!" he cried. "What?" asked the astonished cashier. "What—two cases of what?" "Two cases—this ought to cover it."

"What sort of a place do you think this is? And of what do you want two cases?" "Anything—I'll drink it, whatever it is. I saw a sign outside that said '4 per cent!'"

Mr. Pewee—"Why did you buy these shirts four sizes too big for me?"

Mrs. Pewee—"They cost the same as your size, and I didn't want the clerk to know that I married such a little shrimp as you are."

1st Prisoner: "What are you in for?"

2nd Prisoner: "Want to be a warden so thought I'd start at the bottom."

"Why so much mail today, Mr Postman?"

"Well, the Correspondence School is having a pep meeting and they have mailed each student a bonfire."

"What be you thinkin' of Co-ed Malone?"

"Nothin' much."

"Why, worn't ye thinkin' of me?"

"I were, Mr. Gilliam."

"Didn't some brainless idiot propose to you before we were married?"

"Yes."

"I wish to goodness you'd married him."

"I did."

Addie Mae: "Oh, Amacker, I've been stung by a wasp!"

Here's one on your Tampa manager, Mr. Dave Halsey. He was telling a customer how good our pure ground pepper is. With a roguish look in her eye which Dave didn't catch, she said:

"Why, Mr. Halsey, this pepper is half peas."

Dave was indignant and insisted that our pepper is absolutely pure. After he had got thoroughly worked up, the lady smiled and said:

"Well, spell it for yourself and see if it isn't half P's—P-e-P-P-e-r."

Lady: "How could you find the penny I gave you so quickly?"

Beggar: "I am not the blind man. I am just sitting here while he has gone to the movie."

"Pop, will I look like you when I grow up?"

"Everybody seems to think so, son."

"Well, I won't have to grow up for a long time, will I Pop?"

Disappointed Candidate—"And I thought I heard the voice of the people calling me."

Friend—"It must have been yourself talking out loud."

Ike Bernstein set up a hot dog stand next door to the bank. Another Arabian, a chronic borrower, came to the stand. "How's business, Ike?" "Fine! Fine! Just dis morning I deposited it in de bank next door, fifty bucks."

"Fifty bucks in de bank!"

"Dot's every day I put it dat moch in."

"Fifty bucks a day in de bank! Say, Ike, couldn't you lend me fifteen bucks—I could make it a good investment."

"I can't do it," said Ike. "I got an arrangement mit de bank."

"An arrangement mit de bank?"

"Sure! De bank agreed if I don't lend no money de bank don't sell no hot dogs."

Brown—What broke up the country club?

Green—A lot of country people got in.

PATRONIZE THE STORE

The Southwestern Supply Store, located in the basement of Hugh M. Neely Hall, is operated for the benefit of the students. The profits accumulated are used to aid worthy students. Students do not appreciate this effort of Southwestern's to help them. When you need something which the store sells, buy it there. You will be helping a fellow student when you do so. If the store does not have what you want, tell the manager, and, if possible, the desired article will be gotten for you.

Especially does the store deserve and solicit your co-operation this year. Patronize your store.

BIG OAKS FROM LITTLE ACORNS

We doubt that any great good will come from attempting to impress upon Southwestern students, particularly the freshmen, that their careers will be vitally affected by the degrees of excellence in their scholastic attainments.

All new students by now should have their extra-curricula activities selected and their regular courses in full swing. The importance of concentrating effort on consistent study cannot be too strongly emphasized. A glance at the startlingly large freshman mortality figures should readily convince one of that necessity.

Out of the four hundred and fifty students enrolled in the college, a certain few are destined to greatness. Graduation places one in a class which contains ten times as many erstwhile citizens of prominence than the group of students that never finish their education. When scholastic ambitions wane, a study of these statistics produced by the long grind of experience should bring back the ebbing tide of diligence:

Out of 1,000,000 high school graduates, 622 attain distinction.
Out of 1,000,000 college graduates, 5,768 attain distinction.

Just a Bit of Dorm Life

Evergreen Hall

There seems to be an over supply of Shredded Wheat this year. It is not only found in the dining hall every morning but generous supplies have been found in Evergreen Hall nightly.

A big-hearted bus driver has offered to take all the girls in the dormitory and their dates riding. This offer holds good provided—???

That anxious and furtive expression Mrs. Rutland wears in the dining hall is not because of worry over her girls but fear that she, too, will suffer our sad fate. By the end of the year all dormitory students will be experts in eating speedily for if they can't manage to eat faster than Gene and Dutch can take away the plates they simply starve themselves.

Always something to break the regular routine. One night it's a handsome stranger, another the girls running around firmly convinced that the furnace is about to explode, and, then, this year's first snow was quite thrilling to some that weren't used to it.

Calvin Hall

The social room of Calvin Hall has come to be a gathering place for Memphis students as well as for out-of-town students. Freshmen Harwood, Hammond and Whittaker can be seen every day perusing the pages of their books in Calvin's inviting social room. Maybe they habituate Calvin in hopes of hearing Charles Beecher croon with Freshman Hamilton accompanying; for these two fellows have become quite popular with Southwestern lovers of music.

It seems that Bob Sigler has been rushing from one dance to another the past week. Wednesday night, he attended the A. O. Pi's barn dance; Thursday, it was the Double X dance; Friday, the Phantom Crew's blow-out; and Saturday, Bob made an appearance at the dance at the Casino. But Bob is not the only Calvinite who has been running around.

Raford Hebert, too, has been doing some fast stepping. He attended the A. O. Pi affair, he attended the U. D. C. ball the following evening. Having had two strenuous nights, Raford decided he would go to bed early Friday and get a good night's sleep. But there was no sleep in Calvin. No sooner had the poor boy gotten in bed than bedlam broke loose. Now he says he wished he had gone out Friday instead of trying to sleep.

Russell Cross is a benevolent soul. Thinking that the Little Theatre was a fit place to take a freshman, he undertook to escort Herman Bass to the work-shop productions. Don't forget, Russell, there are some more freshmen who would like to go.

Stewart Hall

The whole of Stewart, that is with the exception of a few weary football players, put on their glad rags and took in the Southwestern-Ole Miss dance Saturday night. It was a swell affair, so much so that even Ned Wright, the dormitory pessimist, was jubilant.

Among the visitors up for the Ole Miss game was Bobby "Shifty" Logan, formerly Lynx football star for three years.

"One Play" Pickens, who was knocked cold in the game Saturday, is up and about again, little the worse for wear.

Dorsey Barefield spent the week-end in Chattanooga.

This 'n That On Campus

Alvan Tate, one of our "keener wits," got off this honey. Somebody was heard to say he didn't care whether he was descended from a man or monkey. "Ah, but the monkey," smiled Alvan, "he cares."

Wasn't it just too gratifying the way Bill and all the lads outshone the Mississippians Saturday night? Yozzir, Bill and we mean that.

Can you beat it, a holiday tomorrow. After all there is something in having them so few and far between—we evermore enjoy them when they do come.

Everybody is getting out their glad rags for the "S" Club "shindig" tomorrow night. Sid Hebert, the Mr. President of the order, promises the best "hop" of the year, and we're betting our money he's right.

Boyce Leigh Sadler and Jean Reid have a new language which is a vast improvement over the old-fashioned dog-latin, being much louder and funnier. It is called the "ogle" language, and we guarantee you'll go nuts if you listen to it more than three minutes at the time. Boyce says you have to hold your mouth just right to do it. Yeah, just in-side-out or wrong-side-out or somepin'.

Graeber confesses reason for great power over women—it's his ability to play "peek-a-boo!"

Loyal sisters and admirers were giving Miriam Heidelberg a big welcome back to the campus Saturday.

DEBATERS TO MEET STATE

Mississippi Quibblers Ask For Date

The Southwestern debating team will act as hosts to the forensic team from Mississippi State College sometime in the latter part of April. Plans are under way to bring the teams together and Thomas Berkin, debating coach at the Mississippi College, has written asking that they meet at this time.

The college at Starkville was one of the schools visited by the Lynx debaters when they made their southern tour last year. They are a member of the national debating fraternity and are making an effort to persuade the Quibblers Forum to apply for membership.

Navy Sets Limit For Marriages

Can't Wed Within Two Years After Grad

Marriage within two years after graduation from Annapolis has been outlawed for young naval officers. Josephus Daniels, secretary of the Navy under President Wilson, has asserted that he thought the action of naval officials was "pretty high handed."

Dealer—Now, isn't that too bad! The 300 years must have been up.

A woman driver ran into an embankment and bent a fender. It worried her. She went to a garage and asked the mechanic: "Can you fix this fender so my husband won't know it was bent?"

The mechanic looked at the bent fender and then at her, and said: "No, lady, I can't. But I tell you what I can do. I can fix it up so that in a few days you can ask your husband how he bent it."

Girl, Boy Tie In Contest

In one of the best and largest contests yet conducted by "The Sou'wester," Dixie Hess became the first co-ed to guess the most winners. She and Henry Hammond tied for first with 27 correct.

As there were four tie games, this was a very good record. Earnest Sawrie was close behind with 26 right. Edna Barker, Ned Wright, Alvan Tate, and others had good records this week.

Sophs Are Banned From Ruling Frosh

Rutgers Places Control Elsewhere

New Brunswick, N. J.—Because they were lax in the enforcement of freshman rules, members of the sophomore class at Rutgers College here last week were deprived of their traditional right to control the activities of the first year students.

The Student Council delegated the enforcement of campus traditions to Cap and Skull, senior honorary society.

Dorothy Jordan, Movie Star And Lynx Alumna, Makes Short Memphis Visit

Stops Over Between Trains. Large Crowd of Students Greet Famous Ex-Student

Met by Chi Omegas, both actives and alumnae, several old classmates, faculty members, and other Southwestern admirers, Dorothy Jordan arrived Sunday night at ten o'clock to spend an hour renewing old friendships and winning scores of new ones.

Professor and Mrs. A. S. McIlwaine received a telegram from Clarksville stating that Dorothy would arrive in Memphis on her way from New York, so they immediately notified her old acquaintances as well as several Chi Omegas. Like wildfire the word spread until a sizeable crowd was on hand as the train rolled in.

Cleverly clad in a tan tweed sports outfit, Dorothy lightly stepped from the train, the very picture of refined, youthful animation, eager to see her friends. Immediately upon seeing Dr. Cooper, her former History prof, she entrusted to his care an anaemic little pup that had been given to her in Clarksville, a gift from a California friend who also had orchids sent upon her arrival there.

She stated that she had been making personal appearances in Washington and New York and that it was at the Capitol theatre that she received the greatest ovation. She appeared over the Capitol Theatre Family Party radio hook-up there, and Major Bowles of that program recalled how she had appeared in several shows prior to her screen career.

Speaking of her visit to Clarksville she said in her characteristic vivacious manner, "I saw everybody—had the grandest time—ate and ate!" The Chi Omega alumnae gave her a luncheon. She declared that "Devil May Care," with Ramon Navarro, was the work that gave her the greatest thrill.

When Dorothy was about to be pulled out of the station by the throng, someone asked if she would like to see Dr. Monk, her classmate, who was at the time too shy to come near.

She immediately ran over and grabbed the hand of the popular professor and exclaimed, "Hello, Sam!" They chatted for several minutes while the crowd looked admiringly on. Likewise Dr. and Mrs. Diehl, Freshman Sawrie, Dan Ross particularly, and others who had known her in Clarksville were greeted by the diminutive Southwestern "alum" in the most ecstatic manner.

Eloise Brett, president of the Chi O's, presented the scintillating member of the sisterhood with a beautiful sheaf of yellow chrysanthemums. After a short ride with the McIlwaines she boarded the train for California, leaving a host of Southwestern students enthusiastic over having seen and been with such a charming alumna of the college.

Many Prodigies At Hunter College

New York—If the seven freshmen 13, 14, and 15 years old who entered Northwestern University this year at the behest of President Walter Dill Scott are properly termed prodigies, then Hunter College is overrun with prodigies.

About 45 per cent of the 878 freshmen at Hunter are under the normal entrance age this year. Five of them are 14, and 84 15 years old.

Why I Didn't Make The Honor Roll

The Inquiring Reporter made the rounds this week to find, if possible, just why Southwestern students didn't make the honor roll. The result was astounding—no one but a college student could think of such elegant excuses.

Harv Drake, the collegian among collegians, when asked why he didn't make the honor roll said that he "intended to make it, but just forgot to take the quizzes."

Harvey Creech, Southwestern's own Culbertson, says that "Too much studying interferes with his bridge."

Ralph Booth registers a complaint. He says that "The library should be on the first floor—as is, it's too high up. Gimmy a lower library and I'll give you higher grades."

Margery Davis said, "What d'ye mean by the honor roll? Do they have one?"

Charles Ledsinger said that "It was just a matter of five—just a matter of five."

Clough (Whattaman) Eaton said that he "could honestly state that he didn't have to even try,—besides he made too many F's."

Dixie Mae Jennings' only and final answer was "Why, you dirty name!!" Tate, far-famed for his yell-leading, said that he has been too busy thinking up new yells for the Southwestern-Springhill game.

Margaret Tallichet's only excuse is that Dr. Townsend just wouldn't give any grades.

Bob Sigler says that he is required to spend too much time telephoning 2-5193, and, after that, he just can't study.

Dixie Conf. Ends Season Tomorrow

Chattanooga vs. Centre In Feature Tilt

Seven Dixie Conference teams will write finis to the 1932 grid race tomorrow afternoon, when they meet conference and non-conference teams to climax a most successful conference year. The results of the games will have no bearing on the determining of a champion for the conference as the title has already been won by the powerful Birmingham-Southern eleven.

In the feature of the league, Centre will meet the eleven of Chattanooga at Chattanooga. Last week Centre won over Georgetown, 21 to 0, while Chattanooga enjoyed a rest day.

ANCIENT FOES

Mercer will end the season against Oglethorpe, when the two foes meet in Atlanta. Millsaps and Mississippi College, neighborly rivals, will meet in the closing game of the season. Miss. College has the edge and is the favorite to win, although the Majors are considered serious contenders for the victory.

Springhill and Southwestern will meet in the season's climax at Memphis. The game last year ended in a victory for the Lynxcats. Two Dixie teams have already concluded the season. They are Howard and Birmingham-Southern. The ancient city rivals met last Saturday in Birmingham and the game ended in a victory for the Black and Gold of Southern.

The season marks the conclusion of the second year of Dixie conference football. The newly organized loop has proven a valuable addition to southern football and is a decided improvement over the S. I. A. A. Prospects point toward a very powerful conference within the next few years, and if present indications mean anything, the new conference is the biggest step taken towards the advancement of S. I. A. A. athletic relations.

CHAUNCEY BARBOUR TO COACH CAGERS

Girls To Play Hockey Game

First Tilt Scheduled For Nov. 23

The first big hockey game will be played on the campus November 23. This is the first time in the history of Southwestern Girls' athletics that the co-eds have taken a liking to this sport. Before this it has been one of the things that was greeted with dislike by the fair athletes, and Louise Stratmann tried in vain to find players. Elizabeth Pearce and Sara Naill are the chosen captains of their respective teams and although it is early they already have their line-ups almost complete.

Playing with Sara Naill will be Eva Gene Bruce, Virginia Watson, Audrey Townsend, Margaret MacNicol, Olga Hartmann, Edna Barker, Peggy Walker, Cornelia Henning and Mary Stockard.

ENDS GRID CAREER

ARTHUR WOMBLE (H.B.)

Ten Gridders End Careers Tomorrow

Lynxcats To Be Hard Hit By Graduation

Ten Lynx gridmen will don the Red and Black for the last time when Southwestern takes on Springhill tomorrow afternoon. Five of these men have made letters for three years and constitute one of the best athletic classes that ever attended Southwestern.

Captain "Chicken" High, Hebert, Newton, Claude McCormick, "Cotton" Perette, Sheriff Knight and Sid Hebert compose this group with High and Newton attaining All-S. I. A. A. positions.

The Lynx were strengthened last year by the addition of Toxey Fortenberry, Butch Love, and Art Womble, three Jr. College men who have fitted well into Coach Haygood's machine and who will graduate with two years of football to their credit. Franklin Kimbrough is the last of this group, who, although handicapped by a lack of weight, has fought hard and proven himself to be a valuable reserve this season.

This group of 10 men will no doubt be missed when the 1933 season rolls around. The fact that they are playing their last college game tomorrow will no doubt cause them to fight that much harder for a victory.

Girls Will Hold Swimming Meet

Nineteenth Century Club Scene Of Swim

The swimming meet has finally been decided upon and all plans completed. It will be held at the Nineteenth Century pool on Friday, December 2.

The judges will be one alumnae from each sorority and Louise Stratmann, Margaret MacNicol and Jimmie Kate Johnson have announced nine events and all girls interested in entering will sign up as soon as possible and make sure about eligibility. There will be both individual events and sorority teams.

Girls' Basketball Plans Formulated

Must Attend Practice To Play

As soon as the hockey game and the swimming meet are over basketball practice will start. This is a good time for the sorority captains and class captains to start working it up and get the girls interested. It will also help gym grades and that alone should entice many out at least twice a week.

The games will be played during January, starting as soon as everyone has returned from Christmas holidays. No girl will be eligible to play in the games unless she has attended the required number of practices.

"S" Club To Meet At 1 P. M. Today

The "S" club will meet today at 1 P. M. in the private dining room to make final plans for their dance to be held tomorrow night following the game. The coming initiation will be discussed. It is hoped that the club will have ten men to put through at the ceremony which will take place about two weeks after football season is over.

This will give the club time to be sure as to who will make letters. Sid Hebert, president, announces that three track men, Clark Porteous, Carroll Cloar, and Jimmy Wilson, will be among those admitted at this time.

Ole Miss Passes Way to Win, 7-0

Red and Blue Scores In Final Seconds

With the sound of the final whistle only 20 seconds away, Ole Miss completed a pass from Curtis to Rounsaville and scored to win a bitterly contested game from the grid-ders of Southwestern Saturday. The Lynx team continually checked Ole Miss scoring threats throughout the tilt and but for the untimely heave would have held the Mississippians to a scoreless tie.

Ole Miss completely bottled up the Southwestern offense and during the entire fray the Lynx were able to earn only two first downs against 17 made by the Oxonians. The Ole Miss backs, Burke, White, and Hutson, made many gains during the afternoon to place the ball within the shadow of the Lynx goalposts, but each time the locals stiffened their defense and held for downs.

Twice in the first half the Ole Miss team drove within the 10 yard line, but each time they were repulsed. The Lynx defense played excellent football and inspired by Capt. High's fine defensive performance they made things tough for the opposition as they came within scoring distance.

The feature of the game was the punting duel between Newton and Turnbow. Newton got the better of the contest, averaging 49 yards on 17 punts, while Turnbow averaged 43 yards on 11 kicks.

Sid Hebert, who was switched from tackle to guard, played a whale of a game for the Lynx. Time after time he broke through the Ole Miss forward wall to make tackles behind the line of scrimmage and spill Ole Miss backs for losses. Perette, Fox and McCormick also played well in the line.

Lynx Scrubs Meet Jonesboro Today

Battle Junior College This Afternoon

Southwestern's "B" football team will engage the Jonesboro Junior College team this afternoon in Jonesboro, Ark., at 2:30 o'clock. The Lynx scrubs have adopted the name of "The Airmail Pressers" and have promised to show the varsity how to win a victory.

The team will be composed of the "scrubs" of the varsity and perhaps some of the freshmen will be used in the game. Coach John Miller will have charge of the squad.

Grid Star Finds Uninvited Guest

Stanford University, Cal. — Bob Reynolds, 215-pound tackle on the Stanford football squad, was perplexed recently when he approached his dormitory room after football practice to hear what sounded like the voice of a girl in his room.

Heavy footsteps followed, and he broke into the room, the door of which had been locked, thinking someone was holding a party there, uninvited. Upon entering he found a horse tied to his bed.

LYNX EXHIBIT AT CONVENTION

Shows Work Of College English Dept.

In connection with the twenty-second annual meeting of the National Council of Teachers of English at the Hotel Peabody this week, there is to be an exhibit. The theme of the exhibit is "International Understanding."

Southwestern has been invited to contribute material, and is doing so under the leadership of Professor A. S. McIlwaine.

EXHIBIT

The Southwestern English Exhibit, as prepared by Professor McIlwaine, is in three parts: (1) Views of the college with comments showing national recognition of its collegiate Gothic architecture; (2) Publications of the college: history bulletin, "Parson Brownlow" by Professor Cooper; Alumni Magazine; the Journal, December, 1931, issue; the Sou'wester, November 11 issue; (3) Tutorial Reading Courses; (4) Freshman English Project; "International Readings For Themes."

The freshman project was planned by Professor McIlwaine and carried out by Section A of English I taught by Dr. S. H. Monk. These students read from a syllabus, books of travel or social description and then some fiction about a given country. The reactions to the opinions of this material were written into themes. The A-section frosh had a great time reading and writing about Gandhi, child marriages in India, the China of Pearl Buck, and O. Henry's Honduras.

Model themes submitted under the plan were selected and placed in the exhibit. These were written by John Jordan, John Hines, W. H. Walker and John Farley. After the convention, the themes will be placed on the library bulletin board.

Big Student Rally Against War Set For Thanksgiving Holidays

Norman Thomas Will Address National Student Convention. Delegates from Sixty Colleges Are Expected

Student delegations from sixty colleges are expected to gather in New York City during the Thanksgiving holidays to map plans for a mass student opposition to war preparations. Steps toward ousting the R. O. T. C. from all colleges will be in the forefront of the problems to be tackled by the convention.

Backed by a score of national student organizations, the United Youth Conference Against War is expected to be the largest anti-military assemblage ever arranged by students. Registration officials are preparing accommodations for 1,000 delegates.

Recent suspensions of students at the University of Maryland and the University of Missouri because of their refusal to enroll in compulsory military training courses was the leading factor in the decision to hold the nation-wide conference, explained Paul Porter, Conference executive secretary, at the League for Industrial Democracy headquarters, 112 East 19th Street, New York City. The League, in cooperation with the Committee on Militarism in Education and the fellowship of Reconciliation, issued the original conference call. The apparent failure of the World Disarmament Conference, which a year ago was hopefully greeted by many students, the continued crisis in the Far East, and talk by responsible statesmen of war as a possible way out of economic depression, were further factors in hastening united student action.

THOMAS SPEAKER

Norman Thomas, Socialist Candidate for President, will be one of the headline speakers. The keynote address will be delivered on Friday evening, November 25, by Fenner Brockway, chairman of the Independent Labour Party of Great Britain, and chairman of the War Resisters International Leader, with James Maxton of the "left wing" in the late Labour Government of England. Brockway is one of the best known labor and peace advocates in Europe. During the last war he was imprisoned for twenty-eight months as a conscientious objector.

Youth organizations backing the conference, besides the aforementioned, include the student Y. M. C. A., the student Y. W. C. A., the War Resisters League, the Green International, and the Young Peoples Socialist League. The League for Industrial Democracy has chapters or affiliated clubs on approximately 200 campuses.

Sorority Pledges Scrub Statuary

Columbus, Ohio—Statuary in the State House yard here was considerably better looking last week after 75 freshmen co-eds at Capital University had descended on the Capitol Building with brooms, mops, pails and scrub rags as part of their initiation into Kappa Sigma Theta sorority.

Here and There

Grace Braun can't decide whether to stay here Thanksgiving or to go to the Sewanee dances. Sewanee seems to have a way with Memphis girls.

Olivia Reames was seen tripping about the campus Saturday with a tall, handsome stranger. Some Ole Miss boys were power houses, too, you know!

At the big dance! Martha Chase looking sweet, pretty, etc.; Jinks Joyner trying to make the rounds among his Southwestern pals; the Ole Miss orchestra, which isn't half so good as Bill Taylor's; Peggy Walker looking supremely happy during a certain leadout; and, oh well, lots of other things.

A cop can't even stop Marjorie Davis! At the game Saturday one tried to keep her out, but what could he do against those looks Dutch Bornman's sister is coming up for Thanksgiving. This is great news to quite a few boys. Ella Kate Malone won the gold medal or some such thing for the most original and attractive costume at the A. O. Pi barn dance. Mary McEddins deserves mention.

The free telephone is going to help the financial condition of quite a lot of people—especially a certain A. T. O. freshman who calls up a little blond A. O. Pi each night.

People are already lamenting the fact that Zelda O'Brien is not going to be back next year, as she plans to make her debut.

Magazine Will Conduct Contest

Best Undergrad Work Wins $1,000

The editors of "Americana," national satirical magazine, are offering $1,000 for the best satiric contribution, literary or artistic, submitted to the magazine before March 10, 1933. The contest is being conducted by the magazine in an effort to discover some of the hidden literary genius in the country.

The contest is limited exclusively to undergraduates of American universities. Judges for the contest will be Gilbert Seldes, Hendrik Willem Van Loon, and George Grosz. Grosz and Seldes are associate editors of the "Americana." Contributions are not to exceed 1000 words, so the winner of the contest will be paid one dollar per word for the prize-winning manuscript.

BUY OTHERS

All non prize-winning manuscripts of merit will be purchased at regular rates by the magazine. Contributions should be sent to "Americana," 1280 Lexington Avenue, New York.

Several Southwestern students are contemplating entering the contest and have already begun gathering material for their work.

Depression Has Beneficial Result

One beneficial result of the depression, according to President Lewis of Lafayette College, is the recognition that the man with a well-trained mind commands a premium, while the go-getter is in the bread line.

Chesterfields are Milder

Chesterfields Taste Better

As smokers become more experienced, they demand milder cigarettes. Chesterfields are milder. Their mildness is just as much a feature as the beauty of their package.

The tobaccos are mild to begin with. Patient ageing and curing make them milder still. And Chesterfields contain just the right amount of Turkish—not too much—carefully blended and cross-blended with ripe, sweet Domestic tobaccos.

Chesterfields are milder. They taste better. That's why "They Satisfy."

COLLEGE OPENS PRESSING SHOP

To Use Profits To Publish Lynx Literature

There has recently been opened on the campus a cleaning and pressing shop operated by Sid Hebert and James Tally. Its office and plant is located just behind the garages, and is equipped to handle all the work of the Lynx students along pressing lines.

The plant was originated with the purpose in mind of using the profits to finance the printing and distribution of literature to be sent to prospective students. By this plan, it is hoped that boys may be interested in coming to Southwestern that otherwise would not come. It can be seen, therefore, that in patronizing the organization the students will not only get the benefit of good service at reasonable prices, but also will be doing their bit to further the progress of Southwestern.

An experienced presser has been employed, and for the last week the shop has been open for business. Its representatives on the campus are: Pfrangle, Jones, Turner, Durant, Thomas, Sherman, Dinwiddie and Rasberry.

In The Editor's Mail

Dear Editor:

Wake up Southwestern. Don't lose the greatest "big-little" athlete that has ever worn your colors. If you let another college get him you will regret it. He belongs to Southwestern. Don't wait until it's too late.

The Memphis football public do not want to lose him.

Just to see him on the bench would be an inspiration to future teams.

AN OBSERVER.

THANK YOU

Dear Editor:

I have read your recent editorial "Sportsmanship" with much interest.

Your student body never should have been blamed for this "deplorable incident." What a pity the facts were never published and our police so willing to permit such an affair to pass and let clean young men take the blame.

A SPECTATOR.

Lindsey Advises Early Marriages

New Haven, Conn.—In an interview published in the Yale Daily News, Judge Ben Lindsey, juvenile authority of companionate marriage fame, asserted that college students should marry while still in college.

Yale University does not allow its undergraduates to marry.

The judge said that he believed in many cases marriages of college students would stimulate emotional stability. He said the young married couples should have a knowledge of birth control and that their parents should continue to support them while they were in college.

ABSENT-MINDED BUSINESS MAN KISSING HIS WIFE—"NOW DEAR, I WILL DICTATE A COUPLE OF LETTERS."

High Priest Pulls Big Hoax On Roomies But Plan Falls Through

Bearden Tries To Entice Upperclassmen Out Into Cold and Dark Night But Fails

One of the biggest hoaxes ever pulled on the campus was that perpetrated by High Priest of the Sanhedrin Fred Bearden last week, but unfortunately it turned out to be a "flop." With freshman hazing about at its nadir (see "Blessed Event"), ye olde High Priest decided that some excitement should be created and he accordingly made proper preparations.

Early on the night selected for the adventure, an inmate of Robb Hall answered the telephone and was greeted with the following conversation: "Hey, freshman, run up to Bearden's room and tell his roommates that we freshmen are going to throw Bearden in the lake behind the Doughboy Statue in Overton Park. If you want to see us do it, come on over. Hurry up, freshman, and tell the others." And with that the party hung up.

DISCOVERY
A few minutes later, after waiting for what seemed hours for his fellow upperclassmen to appear, the High Priest, slightly bewildered and shamefaced, drove up to the campus to find out why his trick to entice Southwesternites out in the cold, chilly air had failed.

Strangely enough, no one had even heard of the supposed ducking in the lake, and everyone was going about his affairs perfectly unconscious of the "excitement" taking place in the park. Why? Yes, why?

SLIP UP

It was discovered by High Priest Bearden that the party who answered his telephone call was only Dr. Cooper, instead of a high and mighty freshman.

Anyway our High Priest has never since mentioned the Overton Park incident to his fellow students. It probably wouldn't be a good idea for anyone to say anything to him about it. It's one of those sore subjects, you know. And anyway why flog a horse after he is dead, as Dr. Monk says.

Virginia Finch Engaged

Miss Virginia Finch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Finch of Memphis, and a former Southwestern student, announces her engagement to Mr. Ben R. Waller.

Miss Finch attended Southwestern for two years and was a member of the Kappa Delta sorority.

A. O. PI'S WILL HAVE BANQUET

Plan Annual Red Rose Affair

The active and alumnae chapters of the Alpha Omicron Pi sorority are planning to celebrate Founders' Day with a formal red rose banquet Dec. 8 at one of the downtown hotels. The alumnae chapter met last week and started making plans for the celebration. Miss Margaret Mercer of the active chapter and Mrs. A. B. Cooper of the alumnae chapter were appointed chairmen of the arrangements for the banquet. Miss Ellen Goodman is the president of the alumnae chapter. Miss Catherine Underwood of the alumnae chapter has been appointed program chairman.

Frat Debates To Start On Nov. 30

The first round of the inter-fraternity debating tournament will be held on the Wednesday and Thursday following Thanksgiving. There will be teams representing the seven frats and also two representatives from the non-frat group.

There will be a critic judge at all first round debates and three judges at the finals. Plans are being made to put this tournament over in a big way and much interest is being shown.

THE PILGRIM'S FIRST WINTER

"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by Herbert Roese, celebrated painter...inspired by the bitter hardships endured by America's first settlers in their conflict with raw, wild nature (1620). "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes.

No raw tobaccos in Luckies —that's why they're so mild

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.
