SEWANEE INVADES LYNX LAIR

U. OF TOLEDO TO BE MET BY LYNX DEBATERS

Initial Meeting of Two Colleges

MEET NEXT SPRING

Will Debate On Farm Control

The Southwestern debating team will be hosts to the debating team from the University of Toledo, when the Ohio college sends its representatives on an extended southern tour. They will reach Memphis in the latter part of April, as Southwestern will be the half way mark of the tour which will have New Orleans as a terminus.

The University of Toledo always has an efficient team representing the college, and their visit here is anticipated with a great deal of interest. An effort was made last year to encourage forensic relations between the two schools, but as the date of the proposed meeting conflicted with the Lynx schedule, negotiations were dropped.

The question has not been decided on but as the northern college is working on "Advisability of Federal Farm Control," it is likely to be the issue.

CHUNG GIVES LIBRARY BOOK

Volume Written By John's Guardian

John Chung, Ministerial student from Korea, graciously donated a copy of "Spoken English," by Eung Tyun Cho, to the Library last summer.

The book was written by John's guardian, who is a Ph.D., living at the Y. M. C. A. Graduate School in Nashville, Tennessee. During an interview with John it was learned that that which was intended to be emphasized most was pronunciation and inflection.

SUB TITLE

The sub title, "Teach Koreans English," gives one a clearer idea of what the book's contents are. In "Spoken English" the two languages, Korean and English, are compared, but after one peek into same it would be advisable to master English rather than attempt Korean.

Lynx Blazers To Arrive Tomorrow

The blazers for the Lynx club will arrive tomorrow, Ralph Booth, president, announced yesterday. The coats have been ordered for over two weeks and should have been here earlier.

The coats will be the same that the old Lynx club members wear about the campus. New members are asked to be sure and get their coats for the game tomorrow.

Dr. Cooper Speaks

Dr. Cooper read a paper concerning the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown to the Commodore Perry chapter of the D. A. R. last Tuesday afternoon. Miss Julia Marie Schwinn also rendered several readings for the D. A. R.

Miss "X" Creates Stir In Men's Dorms By Her Modernistic Antics

Brazenly Walks In Robb and Calvin Halls To Surprise Both Professors and Students

Current conversation around the campus concerns the mysterious young lady who spent about an hour Tuesday night roaming around Robb and Calvin Halls, knocking on the room doors for permission to enter. The unknown "Miss X" was smartly dressed in a tailored ensemble of maroon wool with beret to match.

Tho her identity is not known exactly, it would seem that she is one of the most popular young ladies on the campus, for as she made her way from door to door in the dormitories, the crowd of fully-dressed and of half-dressed male students continued to grow in number.

SEEN AT 8:30 P. M.

The young damsel was first seen in the library about 8:30 p.m. with Duff Gaither and William Walker. She was so lovely that Clark Porteous and Virginia Fisher, among others, gazed upon her in open-mouthed admiration.

VISITS PROF

Next the young lady was found knocking on the door of Dr. Cooper's room. She walked gracefully in, but, seeing the amazed expression on the professor's face, hastily made her departure.

Fred Bearden was QUITE surprised to see the beautiful female stroll in the room where he was reading a newspaper intently. He was hardly at that moment what one would call delighted to see her, but he graciously escorted her on the remainder of her journey, completely recovered from his earlier embarrassment.

Council Considers Free Phone Issue

The student council will again consider the proposal of installing a free phone for the students at the college. Mr. Sarafin, bursar, said that the telephone company had made stringent regulations and conditions for the installing of a free phone and that he did not think that it would be possible to have the phone put in.

However, the council will consider the telephone company's suggestions and try to get a phone installed. This will be decided Monday at the meeting of the council.

Big Bonfire And Parade To Be Held Tonight At 7 P. M.

Box Pile To Be Ignited By Dr. Diehl

Mid the leaping of the flames, Southwestern students will gather at University and Tutwiler tonight at seven o'clock, to cheer the football team and let them know that they are backing them to beat Sewanee tomorrow.

The freshmen have been working hard for a week gathering boxes and crates to heap the pile high, until now there is a formidable looking "structure" in the field opposite Evergreen Hall.

START AT 7

The ceremony will begin promptly at seven o'clock, at which time the freshmen will do a "war dance" around the blazing boxes in defiance to the "Tiger of the Mountain" who will invade the "Lynx lair" on the morrow. Various members of the football team will be called on to speak, and Coach Haygood will say a few words to the student body.

After the fire has burned down, the scene of activity will shift to Court Square where the students will gather for a parade. The freshmen, clad in pajamas, will lead the procession which will proceed down Main street. Stops will be made at the various hotels and the "old Lynx yells" will ring from one end of the business district to the other.

LYNX GRIDDERS PREDICT SCORE

EXPECT HARD GAME

The inquiring reporter was told to find out what the football players thought of the Sewanee-Southwestern game tomorrow. Who would win and by what margin? Making our modest grid heroes talk is sometimes hard, but here is what the hefty lads think of the situation.

John Barnes: "I don't know who'll win. It will be a close game with victory going to the one who fights the hardest. It might even be another tie game."

MCCOLLUM SAYS TWO

Cecil McCollum was prompt to declare that the Lynx would win. Probably by at least two touchdowns.

Sid Hebert, the stocky tackle, declared that it will be an exceedingly close game. "However, we ought to win by a touchdown," he opined.

WATCH EXTRA POINT

Red McLarty said that the game is liable to be decided by the extra point. According to Red, the score will probably be 12 to 7 or 13 to 12 in favor of Southwestern.

Bill Pickens said of course we are going to win. He refused to give any "bull" to go in the paper and said that he was not interested in being interviewed. No matter, if he blocks like he did against Millsaps, we'll run up a big score.

COTTON OPINES

Alternate Captain "Cotton" Perrette said that the game would be awfully close, with victory going to the team that fights the hardest and gets the breaks.

BY ONE SCORE

The reporter found Herb Newton, Jack Crosby, Claude McCormick and Tom Huckabee in a session on the Robb Hall rail. They seemed to agree that there would be only a touchdown difference, probably in fa-

A Gift

Freshmen Hawkins and Haygood presented some goldfish to Captain "Chicken" High. This present placed the Bessemer lad in quite a dilemma. It was not that he did not appreciate the gift of the finny prey. He liked them very much, as their gleaming sides remind him of the steel mills of Bessemer, Ala.

However, young High had a Persian cat. This feline monster showed a decided tendency to add fish to his menu. "Chicken" tore his hair in despair. Finally, he decided to give up the cat. Coach John Miller's family is now increased by one as a result, for Harold made him a present of the cat.

STEAK ROAST ON TUESDAY

Leave Campus At 5 P. M. In Cars

The Southwestern Christian Union will give its annual Steak Roast at Raleigh on Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 18, 1932. Cars will leave the campus at 5 o'clock and will return somewhat after 8:30.

TICKETS GO

Russell Cross, ticket chairman, says the sale of tickets is progressing beyond all expectations, and it is clearly indicated that Professor Haden will have to go out about two hours early to get all the steaks grilled in time for the hungry eds and co-eds who shall eagerly devour them in the most romantic part of the secluded woods.

A very impromptu program will be presented including some readings by the more talented, some songs by the Southwestern songbirds.

STRONG PURPLE TEAM TO FACE FIGHTIN' LYNX

Tigers Have Never Won Over S'western

SECOND S. I. C. FOE

Fourth Meeting Between Two Teams

One of the grid highlights of the 1932 football season in Memphis will be unreled tomorrow afternoon at Fargason Field when the Sewanee Tiger evacuates its lair and comes to grapple with the Lynx of Southwestern.

YEAR'S CLASSIC

The Sewanee-Southwestern game is always the big game of the year for the Lynx. The Tiger has never been able to defeat the Lynx and in three years of competition, twice the Lynx have been victorious and once held to a tie. The tie having been played last year.

IN GOOD SHAPE

A week of hard work by both teams has put the opponents in the proverbial pink of condition. The Sewanee team boasts a strong team with a heavy line and a set of fast backs. Led by "Doc" Cravens and Joe Gee, the Sewanee running attack is something that the Lynx will have considerable trouble stopping.

GOOD ENDS

Morton, longated end of the Purple, was one of the best wingmen to show on Fargason Field all last year, and this year he will again be a barrier to the Lynx end and tackle sweeps. Henry Hanson, a local boy, plays tackle alongside of Morton. Last year, he played the pivot post against the Lynx.

GAME AT 2:30

The Southwestern team is in good shape for the encounter and a real battle will start at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow. The Tigers will hold their final workout this afternoon at Jackson, Tenn., and move into Memphis tomorrow morning.

Probable lineup:

Sewanee	Position	Lynx
Morton	L.E.	Barnes
Hanson	L.T.	Fortenberry
Thompson	L.G.	Fox
Egleston	Center	McCormick
Clarke	R.G.	Bearden
Nelson	R.T.	Hebert
Lawrence	R.E.	Perrette
Castleberry	Q.B.	High
Wellford	H.B.	Newton
Cravens	H.B.	Pickens
Gee	F.B.	Knight

"S" Club To Meet At 1 P. M. Today

The "S" club, composed of all students who have made varsity athletic letters in any of the three major sports, football, basketball, or track, will hold its weekly meeting today at 1 p.m. in the private dining hall.

Sid Hebert, president, said that all the members are urged to be present as the meeting is important.

Pi Names Two

Pi, inter-sorority group and wearers of the green and white, "brought out" two new members last Tuesday. Tuesday is Pi day.

Mary Allie Taylor and Grace Braun were the proud wearers of the colors. They were all dressed in white and even though it was rather cold, neither could be made to admit that they felt it.

KAMPUS KRAX

Kate Galbreath: "Gracious! There are not enough hooks on my bathing suit."

Tom Underwood: "Never mind, there will be lots of eyes."

"Nice new blind you have in your window, Isaac."

"Yes, Aaron."

"Who paid for it, Isaac?"

"The customers paid, Aaron."

"What, the customers paid, Isaac?"

"Yes, Aaron, I put a leedle box on my counter 'For the Blind,' and they paid for it."

"The difference is a man'll put on arctics, a five yard muffer an' a buff'lo coat t' go out t' the pump," sez Philosophizing Pete, "but a woman'll roam around all day with a V-neck low enough to give her car-larrh of the stomach an' a slit in her skirt high enough t' give the minister inspiration fer a sermon."

A little boy with a basket in his hand got on a train and sat down beside a bald headed gentleman. The gentleman kindly offered to put the basket in the rack above. Presently he felt something trickling down on his head.

"My boy," said he, "your pickles are leaking."

"Them ain't pickles," replied the boy. "Them's puppies."

Lucius Cook: "Prof. Kelso, I know how to settle this unemployment problem. If we put all the men in the world on one island, and all the women on another, we'd have everyone busy in no time."

Prof. Kelso: "Well, what would they be doing?"

Lucius Cook: "Why, boat-building, sir."

Steward (to man leaning over rail): "Stomach a bit weak, sir?"

Exasperated: "Weak! I get lots more distance than most of the others."

The train had demolished an auto. One dead and two hurt. Soon afterwards along came Isaac.

"Vot happened?" said Isaac.

"Train," gasped the injured lady.

After a few minutes—"Has the ad-juster been here yet?"

"No."

"Vy didn't you say so?" said Isaac as he lay down beside her.

K. Harris: "Why is a nautical mile longer than a land mile?"

Lip (with an air of authority):

"Well, you see, of course things swell in water."

Ole: "Tillie, will ya marry me?"

Tillie: "Yes, Ole."

A long deadening silence falls. Finally it is broken.

Tillie: "Vy don't you say something, Ole?"

Ole: "I tink I say too much already."

Little Girl—"Package of pink dye, please."

Merchant—"For woolen or cotton goods?"

Little Girl—"Its for Ma's stomach. The doctor said she'd have to diet."

It was Christmas Eve. Two maiden ladies were planning for the holiday.

"Mollie," said the younger, "would a long stocking hold all you want for a Christmas present?"

"No, Elvira," said the elder, "but a pair of socks would."

"Does your dog chase cows?"

"Nope, bull dog."

Judge: "Name?"

Defendant: "Sparks."

Judge: "Occupation?"

Defendant: "Electrician."

Judge: "Charge?"

Defendant: "Battery."

Judge: "Put him in a dry cell."

"Dr., do you think I'll pull through this operation?"

"Oh, of course."

"But, why are you so sure?"

"Well you see nine out of ten die and the last nine I have operated on have died."

Tuddy: "But Ben, why is your car painted red on one side and blue on the other?"

Ben: "Oh, it's a fine idea. You should hear the witnesses contradicting one another."

BOOST SOUTHWESTERN FOOTBALL

Southwestern has entered into one of the most strenuous football campaigns. To make this season a success, the co-operation of every student of the college is necessary. The players are doing their share by representing the college on the gridiron. The rest of the students have an even bigger job than the players.

It should be the goal of every student of Southwestern to see that Memphis knows that Southwestern has the best team in the history of the institution. Everyone should do his or her bit to try and get the people of this city interested in seeing the games.

A large number of Memphis men have been conducting a ticket campaign for the past three weeks in order to help the college get a large crowd for each game.

Just a Bit of Dorm Life

Robb Hall

Sonny Robinson and several of his reshen buddies ran amuck Sunday night and desired to tally the first upperclassman they saw. Their unsuspecting victim was Big Bob Pfrangle, who took it with a smile, but what a smile.

He is sure to have revenge. Freshman Robinson wielded the board while the others held him. Holding him was by no means an easy task, but he finally succumbed to their overwhelming numbers.

Several boys coming in from the dance Saturday night were not as quiet as they should have been. Their noise disturbed and annoyed Dr. Cooper, who intervened in behalf of the inmates and demanded peace.

A goodly number were present at our first prayer meeting. The meeting was held in the room of Fishbach and Gregory and will be held in a different room each night with a different man presiding.

Several freshmen are leading Shorty Simmons a dog's life. They sass him and he beats them, and the odds are even as to who will stick by his guns the longest.

—"Beat Sewanee"—

Evergreen Hall

Tomorrow is the Sewanee game and many visitors are expected to be here. Martha Burton, in particular, has aroused much curiosity with her "Specials," etc., and has everyone waiting to get a glimpse of HIM.

DANCE REHEARSALS

Hazel Corley and Susie Ellen claim that they'll soon be able to give an exhibition of the dance they're practicing and if you want to know more about it, well—listen to the music and practice, too.

Saw Russell Cross around here again the other night. Looks like his visits are getting more frequent. Watch your step!

Thelma Worthington was chasing all around "looking for an inspiration" last Sunday. She claims that it was only for a story. Someone suggested that she try to find it in the manner Poe found so effective.

ABSENTEES

Bob Sigler and Tom Woods were missed around here this week-end but their absence was soon explained when we were told that Mary Mac and Adelia had gone away for the two days.

And now Ann Sullens has something new to explain—this time it's those mysterious phone calls that she's been avoiding.

Stewart Hall

Stewart Hall, that haven of noise and bedlam of yesteryear, is strangely quiet these days. Battered down doors, water fights, torn up telephones are no longer the delight of Stewartites. It is all very sad.

THE REASON

And why all this change? Big "Sheriff" Knight is the reason. Sheriff is head of Stewart this year and he has strict orders from Dr. Diehl to keep the dormitory intact. "Sheriff" unfortunately is carrying out those orders and with a vengeance. Oh, well!

Among the visitors of last week end was Claire Coe, erstwhile Southwestern student. He brought along several Millsaps visitors.

Stewart Hall upperclassmen joined in the chastising of rebellious freshmen on that memorable night last week.

—"Beat Sewanee"—

Calvin Hall

If the residents of Calvin Hall do not have an answer for every query that the "profs" thrust at them, the professors should be very lenient with them as this has been one hectic week at the dormitory.

The freshmen discovering that they could not take the upper-classmen under their sway decided to take the punishment out on one of their number. Berry Holt and Sam Ussery chose as their victim Herman Bass. And he was some victim for there was a knot on his head as a result of the disciplinary freshmen.

But this is tame to what is now going to be related. It seems that there was one corpulent upper-classman in the "dorm" who decidedly agitated a group of five freshmen. Said freshmen met the corpulent one and told him they intended to tally him.

Like anyone else of his position he rebelled but the frosh were not to be outwitted. Now what do you suppose the intended victim did? He politely compromised with the five and took them all to a show.

They saw a show, and he did not see the paddle. The names of those in this escapade must be kept a deep, dark secret.

There have been two on the sick list this week. They are Richard Dunlap and John (no relation to Dorothy) Jordan. Glad to report they are hale and hearty once again.

Campus Candle

The A. O. Pi's had a weiner roast last Sunday eve out at Piney Woods. The weiners were very tender, and everybody had a lovely time the only casualty occurring when Bill Thomas and Margaret Faulhaver started home. Tillie's car died "the death" and much confusion resulted. We forgot to mention that the hornets took a violent dislike to Dick Whittaker and went to work on his hand. Reports say he will live.

Another group gathered over at Nelle McMahan's Sunday night. People kept dropping in 'til Nelle was both pleased and surprised to find she was giving a party.

The suppressed excitement in Martha Burton's eyes is due to the fact that the Boy From Home is to hove in some time tomorrow. According to Martha, he is brunette, attractive, and oh, so nice! Magnanimous Martha has agreed to introduce him to all her friends. Line form to the right, please.

Charley Ledsinger is the owner of the red-wheeled coupe you have all been wondering about. He took a young lady for a ride in it the other day.

After the ride, awaiting the usual thanks, Charley beard, "Thanks for the ride, Charley, and say, where do the peanuts come out?" Which is our idea of a nasty crack.

Have you ever noticed the movie stars' doubles on the campus? Dot Smith is slightly reminiscent of Sue Carol, Eloise Brett is thought by some to resemble the great Garbo (adv.) and it is a well established fact that Goody Brown could be taken for Clark Gable anywhere. Marie Dressler's twin is yet unchosen, the winner to be announced next week.

Ella Kate Malone and Bill Gammage went touring Sunday and landed at Ole Miss. Just for the ride apparently as they said they turned around and came straight back.

This column wants to take official notice of Jimmy Haygood's striped pants. With publicity like that, he could hardly have escaped being elected president of the freshman class.

MISS "X"

SEES BASSETT

Dr. Bassett and good old St. Nick were both so astounded upon seeing our heroine in the privacy of their respective rooms that they almost fainted dead away. The shock was really so great to St. Nick that he ran into his adjoining room to hide.

None, however, were as astounded as was John Chung to discover in his room such a beauty. For fully five minutes he could neither say nor do one single thing, and his face was as deep a red as is the proverbial beet.

GILLIAM CHARMED

Alex Gilliam took quite a fancy to our heroine when she ambled into his room, inquiring the time of night. He carried on a rather impersonal conversation with her and made her promise to return. Some of the vast horde of the young lady's admirers, who happened to be listening, were so rude then as to burst out laughing.

POOR PERRETTE

Since Miss "X" surprised Cotton Perrette in a slightly nude condition, he was perhaps justified in slamming the door in her face. The liberties these modern women take!! Not so hasty was Charlie Beecher, however, for, although he was taking a violet ray bath, he forgot to be embarrassed and, living up to his politeness, invited her, as Alex did, to come again.

After visiting the supply store where she disturbed considerably a doubles ping-pong game by her repeated adjustment of the tops of her stockings, Miss "X" decided that it was time for her to go home. This she promptly did, leaving in her wake over a hundred ardent admirers who sadly regretted her necessary departure.

Rumor has it that this "lervely critcher" was none other than Robert Neill, and that her adventure in the dormitories came as the aftermath of a skit put on by the pledges of Kappa Alpha for the members. For all we know, however, Miss "X" might just as well have been Zeldia O'Brien herself (whom rumor says Robert in the skit was impersonating). Who can tell?—

FIRST VESPER SERVICE NEXT SUNDAY, 5 P. M.

Leap Year Dance Planned By Girls

Party To Be Given In Near Future

At a meeting held in chapel Wednesday morning, the Women's Pan-Hellenic Council made tentative plans for a Leap Year dance. It will be remembered that the council gave one last year which was a huge success, and many students have been anxious for another.

THE PLAN

As the name implies, the girls reverse convention and make the dates, do the breaking and supply the gum, cigarettes, and other essentials. Plans are in charge of Corinne Gautier, president of the council.

John Jordan, Cousin of Famous Movie Star, Puts Stop To All Idle Rumors

Inquiring Reporter Finds He Hardly Knows Dorothy, Who Was Former Lynx Co-Ed.

"Do you hear from your sister very often?" "Did you ever go around with her much before she became famous?" "How well do you know her and what kin is she to you?"

These apparently commonplace and yet idiotic questions are daily hurled at John Jordan, freshman, by interested Southwesternites, who have heard the rumor currently being circulated around these revered halls that Dorothy Jordan, well-known cinema actress, is a very near relative of his.

FOURTH COUSIN

How this unusual idea ever began and who started it, no one seems to know, but the truth is that John Jordan and Dorothy Jordan are only fourth or fifth cousins, and he has seen her but about four times in all his life.

The reason for this unhappy state of affairs is partly the fact that John has always lived in Franklin, Tenn. (while Dorothy's home is, of course, Clarksville), and partly because there is about five years' difference in their ages.

ATTEND SOUTHWESTERN

"You see," Jordan laughed, when asked the truth about this publicized relationship, "I was just a kid in grammar school when she was ready to enter Southwestern (she studied here for two years and was a Chi Omega). She entered musical comedies after college, and then the movies followed. To be frank about it, that's all I know about her. Our families never visited and rarely saw each other. So you see, my relationship, such as it is, doesn't amount to much."

NOT A SCOOP

He grinned again and walked off, leaving his interviewer in a slightly bewildered and extremely melancholy state of mind. For what he had hoped would be a "scoop" turned out to be nothing but a sad mistake.

Student Council To Meet Monday Noon

To Draft Constitution At Meeting

The Southwestern student council will meet Monday, according to Harold High, president. Contrary to expectations the discussion as to the seats appointed will not be held. This is caused by a necessary report being unavailable.

However, the council will adopt a constitution that is to be submitted by a committee.

Bobcats Meet Holmes Jr. College

BOBCATS WIN OVER T. M. I.

Harwood Scores Lone Touchdown

The Bobcats of Southwestern clawed their way to a hard fought victory over the Tupelo Military Institute football team last Friday. The final score was 7 to 0. The Lynx yearlings had numerous opportunities to score, but seemed to lack the necessary goal line drive. However, credit must be given to the sturdy defense put up by the Cadets.

HARWOOD SCORES

The freshmen did not score until the fourth period, when Hutsie Harwood crashed over center for the touchdown. Hilliard Jordan kicked the extra point.

Bobcat luminaries were McKendrick and Hammond, who practically played in the Cadet backfield. Hutsie Harwood really has a lot of drive and could usually be depended on for the required yardage for first downs. Lloyd and Tapp played their usual stellar games, while Whittaker, Jordan, and Mays looked good in the backfield. Woods, Evans, Grissom, and Springer were outstanding for the Cadets.

Lineup:

Bobcats	Position	T. M. I.
Rasberry	R.E.	Bussey
Hammond	R.T.	Grissom
Lloyd	R.G.	Jenkins
Haygood	Center	R. Wright

DIXIE CONF. TEAMS COMBAT

Intersectional Games On Tab

Southwestern beat Millsaps 20 to 0 to tie for the Dixie Conference leadership with Mercer and Chattanooga. All three have one victory against no defeats in the conference. This week the Lynx meet Sewanee, an S. I. C. opponent.

Centre takes a long jaunt to play an intersectional game with Boston College at the Beantown. The "Praying Colonels" licked Transylvania 21 to 7 last Saturday.

MOCCASINS STRONG

The Chattanooga Moccasins, who appear to have another powerhouse team, will have a real test in Catholic U. at Washington, D. C., this Saturday.

Howard bowed to Ole Miss last week 26 to 6. This week they will journey to Grand Forks, N. D., and will endeavor to improve their record at the expense of North Dakota State. It will be interesting to see if the extreme cold of that region will bother the Southern lads.

MERCER RESTS

Mercer rests after swamping Presbyterian 52 to 0. They are tied for the Dixie leadership. The Millsaps Majors engage Spring Hill who lost to L. S. U. by the score of 78 to 0. Both teams are anxious to make up for their defeats last week.

Mississippi College lost a hard-fought battle to Miss. State 18 to 7. They will attempt to wrest a victory from Birmingham-Southern, who rested last week.

LYNX DEFEAT MILLSAPS, 20-0

Knight, Newton, Perrette Score Points

Southwestern had enough power to defeat Millsaps 20 to 0 last Saturday without opening up her bag of tricks. The stands were crowded with Sewanee scouts, but Coach Haygood's boys were able to punch across three touchdowns. Newton kicked two placements for extra points.

LYNX MARKERS

Sheriff Knight drove the first Lynx score across in the second period. Herbert Newton and Cotton Perrette snagged passes for the other two touchdowns, both of which came in the third stanza.

LYNX HOLD

Millsaps made a determined effort to score in the first period. They advanced to the Southwestern four yard line after a quick kick that was fumbled by High. The sturdy Lynx line, however, hurled them back successfully, and they were never able to penetrate beyond the twenty yard stripe afterwards.

BRILLIANT RUN

The Lynx made a 78 yard drive to the Majors' two yard line, only to lose the ball. However, they went over early in the next quarter. High made a beautiful 58 yard return of a punt, but Dase Davis pushed him out of bounds on the two yard line.

Perrette, McCormick, "Burly" Bearden, shone defensively for the Lynx. Needless to say, High, Newton, and Knight shone in the backfield. Both Pickens and Womble did some excellent blocking. For the Majors, Dase Davis, Felder, Holloman, and Anderson looked good running with the ball. Their line was particularly impressive on goal line defense, Pierce, Morrison and Tynes starring.

Lineup:

Southwestern (20)	Position	Millsaps (0)
Barnes	L.E.	Stone
Fortenberry	L.T.	Koenig
Fox	L.G.	Tynes (c)
McCormick	center	Pierce
Bearden	R.G.	Morrison

Perrette	R.E.	Frank Davis

BOBCATS GIRD FOR BATTLE NEXT FRIDAY

Mississippians Have Strong Club

AFTER THIRD WIN Defeated Goodman Last Year

The Bobcats meet Holmes County Junior College, Goodman, Miss., one week from today on Fargason Field. The yearlings have been busy all week running Sewanee plays against the varsity. If the freshmen keep learning new offenses every week, they will develop a versatile attack, to say the least.

FOUR QUARTERBACKS

The yearling squad is well equipped with quarterbacks. They could use a different field general each quarter, all of whom are experienced under fire. Dick Whittaker seems to have the inside track at present, although he may be shifted to a halfback position.

Hilliard Jordan, a mighty mite who promises to follow in the footsteps of Harold High, showed up well against T. M. I. Dick Mays is a cool little quarterback who can also do a good job as a blocking back.

GOOD FULLBACK

Harwood is a line plunger de luxe. Harvey Jones has recovered from his shoulder injury and is ready to return to his position of blocking back. J. R. Mann is looking good in practice, and Ed Hutchinson is another fast little back who is rapidly gaining much needed experience.

Hammond seems to be one of the best freshmen linemen ever to play for the Bobcats. He is equally good at end or tackle. "Dean" McKendrick is fast getting down on punts and is a good defensive linesman. Tapp, Lloyd, Haygood, Benton, Grymes, Hawkins, "Little Razz" and others are improving by leaps and bounds in the daily scrimmages against the varsity.

Psychology Class Conducts a Door To Door Canvas On Value of Adv.

Students Collect Data As To Reliability of Slogans Used By Advertisers

Which do you remember longer “It floats” or “Have you a little fairy in your home?”

Memphis housewives remember the former 50% better according to the experiments being made by Dr. Atkinson's psychology class the past week.

The experiment is being conducted by the American Psychological Corporation of New York in 5 colleges throughout the country.

MANY SLOGANS

The class has discovered that certain slogans get better results than others and that an advertiser can never tell how good a slogan is until it has been greeted by the public.

Members of the class are given a series of questions which they in turn ask housewives as “What soap stresses a velvety skin?” or “What product advertises ‘Drink this and you'll sleep?’”

FIND PER CENT

The problem is to find the percentage of women being affected by the advertising. The experiments will be conducted throughout the semester once a week by the five members of the class.

Try these on yourself: What soap stresses fewer runs in stockings?

What program advertises with the “fire chief”?

What product uses the numbers 10-2 and 4”?

What is “America's Most Famous Box of Candy”?

What radio program are the Boswell Sisters on?

Who is “Her Hero”?

Here and There

What is this new game which is being introduced to the campus—couples eating matches in telephone booths!

Dirt Just Leaking Out. Some youths of the campus are curious to know if one of our fair coeds (a keen basketball player) still has a Pi K. A. pin belonging to a student at the University of Arkansas.

Seen buzzing about the campus recently—Tuttie West in a becoming red dress acting as peppy as she looked; Reeves Manker in a deep conversation with Calame; Albert Erskine declaring his love for Vandy so soon; Mary McCallum looking spiffy in a dress she knitted herself; Buddy Davidson, whom all the freshettes think looks like Joel McCrea; and Monk Dabney up for the weekend unable to speak to all his many pals.

Marie Louise Trigg and Chrystine Gilmore are taking tapping, cooking, and many more such subjects at the Nineteenth Century Club. We expect to see them standing over a stove scrambling eggs and doing a peppy step any minute now.

Then there's the Kappa Sig freshman whom everybody says is Marion Painter's double!

Lewis Graeber deserves his title, don't you think?

Joe Moss is some ping pong player! If he isn't the champeen he is not far from it.

Our sponsors, Kate Cleveland and Dorothy Smith, certainly did Southwestern justice in the parade Saturday in a little red and black Austin. I heard, though, that they were afraid of being stepped on by the army of freshmen.

Some will appreciate this—some won't. Mary Fay alias “Foots,” alias “Tapey,” alias “Cluck,” alias “Annie May,” ate not only her cracker jacks but the prize in them also.

Mrs. Howard Caraway (Mary Hughes), a Chi O pledge of last year, is among the number of Southwesterners working at Lowenstein's.

All honor to the Tri Delt pledges who threw a lovely party for the other members last Wednesday afternoon!

INTRA - MURAL DEBATE CARDED ON WEDNESDAY

Hoover Administration to Be Argued

TEAMS ARE SELECTED

Forensic Club To Elect Members

It will be Republican against Democrat when the debating club holds the first of the intra-mural debates, next Wednesday night. The question is “Resolved that the Republican party should be returned to power in the November election.”

TEAMS

Morys Hines and Robert Walker will orate in favor of the Hoover administration, while Richard Dunlap and Earl Christian will “preach” that Democratic control is the country's only salvation.

There will be other debates of a similar nature during the year. It is hoped that in this way the old members will be given an opportunity to refresh their memories and the new students learn the art of debate.

The club not only sponsors debates but gives valuable training in the various phases of public speaking. Everyone interested in debating or the questions at issue is invited to attend the meetings.

LIMIT MEMBERSHIP

The membership of the club however, will be limited this year, as greater results can be accomplished with a small group. The club has decided to adopt the policy of voting in new members. Those attending the meeting next Wednesday will automatically become charter members, and all others desiring entrance after that date will be voted on by the active members of the club.

COMMITTEE

As it is always the policy of the home team to suggest a number of subjects when writing for debates, a committee has been appointed to compile such a list. These subjects will be brought before the club for discussion. The committee is composed of Bill Dueease, John Fishbach, and Alvan Tate.

ENGLISH PROFS HOLD NATIONAL MEETING HERE

Dr. McIlwaine Chairman Of Exhibit

MEET NOV. 24-26

Distinguished Speakers To Orate

The twenty-second annual meeting of the National Council of Teachers of English is to be held at the Hotel Peabody, Nov. 24-26. For three days meetings and conferences in which English in all its phases and relationships will be discussed by leading educators the country over.

HOLD CONFERENCES

Conferences will be held on Speech, Reading and Dramatics, on problems concerning the college under-graduate, on journalism, on high school methods and problems, and on numerous other subjects of a like nature.

SPEAKERS

Among the distinguished speakers are: Charles J. Finger, Fayetteville, Ark.; Edwin Mims, of Vanderbilt University; Percival Symonds, Columbia; O. J. Campbell, of University of Michigan; and Bishop Gailor.

McILWAINE CHAIRMAN

In connection with the meeting there will be an exhibit of which Professor McIlwaine is the chairman. The theme of the exhibit is "International Understanding." High schools all over the country are invited to send material. It is especially desired that local schools, including Southwestern and Teacher's College be well represented.

In regard to Southwestern, the various publications, including the Journal, Lynx and Sou'wester will be exhibited. There will also be exhibits on those reading courses which show a trend towards internationalism. Among these is Dr. Johnson's course, "Great Books from Several Languages."

Section A of the Freshman English class has been given the opportunity of doing its reading and theme work along international lines. Reading of a popular rather than political nature is being done on those countries on which the great international eye centers at present, Russia, Italy, China, India, and others. From this reading the frosh gather material for their themes. The best of these themes along with the syllabus of the course will be exhibited.

CO-ED STARTS MUSIC TESTS

Nell Sanders Installs New Method

Nell Sanders, president of the Southwestern Music Club, has innovated a brand new system called the musical intelligence test.

TEST METHOD

Nell believes that much time, money, and effort is wasted on absolutely unproductive material, and and by this system, which includes tests of pitch, range, rhythm, and tonal memory, those adults and children incapable of ever becoming musically educated may be weeded out.

These tests have been used in the East, but Nell is the first to introduce the tests in Memphis.

Out of Gas. Oh, Yeah!

One of the stately sophomores, who has a typewriter named after him, was found out of gas on a dark and lonely road outside of the city limits last Friday evening.

But the truth of the story is that he really was out of gas and had to be pushed in to a gas station. However, after the passing autoist had helped him, and he had refueled his car, he became very selfish.

The helpers asked the fellow to introduce them to his girl friend. However, here was where our fair hero balked. He said, "No," and before one could bat an eye, had stepped on the gas and dashed in toward the city.

The dirt shoveller of this hack tried to find out all about it but was very unsuccessful. If anyone knows the name of the girl please send the name in and it will be published in these columns.

"Great Mice Trap" Tells Secrets of Royal Collegians In Interview

Popular College Organization Is Exposed By Talk of Leader, Who Tells Thrills, Etc.

Few Southwestern students realize that there is in our midst a group of "artists" such as few colleges can boast. These musicians are Bill Taylor's Royal Collegians. They are not a new organization, for they enlivened many of the college dances last year with their toe-tickling tunes, as well as most of the Thirteen Club affairs.

Nor is their introduction to radio audiences a new experience for them, since they went on the air a total of about fifteen times last winter.

DATED AHEAD

It is also insulting to class them as simply a local orchestra, since they have traveled widely through the tri-states, making music in many of the smaller towns. Two probable dates for the Christmas vacation are for dances in Helena and Clarksdale.

INCREASE

While last year's orchestra consisted of only seven pieces, this year's total numbers nine. The two new members are Harvey Heidelberg of Clarksdale, who toots a trumpet, and Milton Webb of Memphis who plays the saxophone.

OLD MEN

The seven remaining veterans are: Bill Taylor, leader, crooner, and a masterful trumpeter, a real triple threat man; Clough Eaton, trombonist, a native son of Memphis; St. Nick, from Trimble, Tenn., who forgets his piety and hymns long enough to bank out some of the lowest of lowdown rhythm at the piano;

Harold Simmons of Clarksdale and Jack Parks, from Chattanooga, whose saxes moan like hounds baying at the moon; Jim Watson of Memphis, A-1 drummer; and Claude Capers, also from Memphis, who plays the guitar and has been exiled to the second row because of his attempts to flirt with the dancers. Their present engagement is to play at the College Club every Saturday night and to broadcast from 9:45 to 10.

TAYLOR TALKS

An interview of the talented leader, Mr. Taylor, who is known to his players as the "Great Mice Trap," "Microbe," or more briefly as "Mickey" if they happen to be in a hurry, revealed the following facts: Mr. Taylor confessed to a feeling of extreme fear when first he approached a microphone, in fact his knees were shaking so that he had to grab hold of the mike stand for support.

PLAYERS WILL PRESENT THREE ONE-ACT PLAYS

Seven Directors Chosen For Plays

Arrangements have already gotten under way for the one-act plays to be presented by the members of the Southwestern Players. The actual performance will take place on Tuesday night, November 8, in the college chapel. Admission will be 15 cents.

NEW TALENT

The public is looking forward to these plays with unusual interest this year, due to the wealth of new talent which should be discovered among the thirty new members of the Players.

THREE TO BE CHOSEN

There will be seven one-act plays worked up, but only the three best will be presented. Some members of the faculty will elect the three final plays which are to be enacted. The seven student directors are Alvan Tate, Russell Cross, Malline Lyon, Harte Thomas, Anne Galbreath, Dixie Mae Jennings, and Julia Marie Schwinn. As yet, Miss Schwinn is the only one of the directors to have made a definite choice. The title of the interesting play she will direct is "Suppressed Desires."
