Southwestern Students Dream Of Various Wonderful Things

Psychology Class Finds All Dreams To Be Explainable Thought Processes

Psychology I class has been speculating in the matter of dreamlore, and as a result of their observations and confessions, have found some amazing revelations. All dreams are explainable. They are not mysterious apparitions making supernatural discoveries, but rather are the continuation of the mental activities of the previous day. They are stimulated by external conditions such as bed clothes around the neck which gives the sensation of being hanged, or by internal conditions such as fatigue or food in the stomach. They are not repressed thoughts of the subconscious mind, and seem ridiculous because they are removed from the real external world.

Here are some of the more interesting dreams that were handed in. One young lady dreamed she was a trapeze jumper, and that she was jumping from a hospital bed. Each time she jumped she felt a terrible pain in her side which went through her whole body. The explanation for this is that the dream occurred while the subject was recuperating from an appendicitis operation.

One of the varsity football players on the night before his first college game dreamed that he fumbled the ball every time he got it. Another imagined he had won the trip to the Rose Bowl game.

Going up in aeroplanes is a frequent subject for dreams. One person thought he was flying about with a parachute on each foot and a fan in each hand. Another dreamed he was falling through space, and woke up to find himself on the floor.

One ardent reader of gangster stories thought he saw three professors engaged in a gun battle in Palmer Hall. Another had a very gratifying dream. He imagined that he was bawling his girl out when actually she had bawled him out on the preceding night. One student thought he had been shipped from college, and did not know what to do.

Many dreams are about fears especially about fires and storms. They are usually prompted by latent natural fears which are impressed upon by some event of the previous day such as seeing a fire or being caught in the rain. These are only a few descriptions of dreams that the class of 72 had in. So! it would be best to end the article here or else it could go far, far into the night.

BS And SAE Win In First Debates

Winning teams of Wednesday's debates will also enter the semi-finals against each other. Finals will be Thursday.

The subject, "Resolved; That powers of president of U. S. should be substantially increased as a stated policy," is creating much interest among the debaters.

Other interesting features will be a short story, "Easter Music," by Josephine Barry; "The Stone Monkey" by Louise Carroll; "Coulter of Coulterville" by Henry Oliver; "Toy Murder" by Rodney Baine, and two opposing views of Ezra Pound, one by Carlson and one by Oliver.

Poems of Rodney Baine, Henry Oliver and Richard Thomas will also appear.

Norma Lee will preface the duet with a talk on the opera and its composer. Then John Hines and Louis Nicholas will present Scene VI of Act II of The Bourgeois Gentilhomme by Molire. This scene will be introduced by Miss Jane Belcher who will discuss Molire and the Bourgeois Gentilhomme.

CLEAN-UP WEEK

O.D.K. is sponsoring a clean-up week. Trash containers will be placed in convenient places for the disposal of wrappers, cigarette-butts, apple cores, papers and other trash that has been strewn on the campus. All should cooperate to keep our campus beautiful. It will take only a little extra effort to throw trash in the containers. Let's get the habit and keep it up all year.

CHAPEL ANNOUNCEMENTS

Complaint has been made that students sitting in the rear of chapel have difficulty in hearing the announcements, some of which are missed altogether.

We can remedy this by enunciating more clearly, speaking louder, and standing in a way to face the greatest number of students.

If an announcement is worth making, it is worth being heard. Let's be fair to those in the back by stopping the undercurrent of conversation while an announcement is being made.

Just a Bit of Dorm Life

Evergreen Hall

The Evergreen lunatics have all come back after their Thanksgiving holidays. Each has gained about ten pounds. Mary Merhle can be seen jumping rope at any hour—trying to gain weight. WE HOPE she does.

We have a little new inmate in the dorm, Virginia Alexander. The dorm girls entertained Miss Alexander with a Pincwinch party. This is a new game and is very popular in the dorm.

There is a drive on right now sponsored by Eva Carroll and Mary McEddins to collect enough money to have the ground floor made into numerous sitting rooms. Already two cents, an old shoe, and five empty cracker boxes have been contributed. At this rate, within a year the girls will be living in a new cracker box with innumerable sitting rooms.

The Evergreen Hall telephone has been abandoned for the last few days. We hope it will soon be in use by all the girls.

On one of Olga's letters last week she received a picture of herself. It looked very much like one of the old dinosaurs.

Robb Hall

With Thanksgiving gone, there remains only the memory of how we spent the day.

Newton White went home to Pulaski, Tenn. "Shorty" Simmons, Alex Gilliam and "Prince" Heidelberg went to Clarksdale for the day and returned early Friday morning. "Disney" Strickland went back to Dubbs, the metropolis on only one side of the road. The Cain brothers stayed here and had Thanksgiving turkey with their parents.

Harvey Jones, Bearden, Durant, Edington, Benton and Lumpkin went to Mobile. Jesse Sowell went to Olive Branch and his roommate, Gauchet, also made a trip home.

Watts, Christian and Brock spent the day in Ole Miss. All the rest stayed in Robb and slept—except Baine, who fiddled and wrote on the Journal.

On account of illness, Frank Goodlett has had to withdraw from school until the second semester.

Personal Nomination-of-the-Week-for-the-Cinema: Betty Bruce as Bette Davis and Richard Turner as Skeets Gallagher to appear in a Rummy and Jillyet farce entitled, "Too Much Harmony at the Bureau of Missing Persons."

Even Humpko is losing her power. What's all this we hear about our ONE and INDIVISIBLE socialite from Yazoo City? It seems that Mr. Graeber was giving Mr. Gilliam's chic sister quite the bum's rush Friday night and the melody lingers on. What cause, may we ask, SAE allegiance or GRAEBER pregnancy?

Little AOPi pledge, noted for her tapdancing, whose surname lends itself too frequently to punners, is giving our PiKA junior the runaround. How about the young man-about-town whose last name is transparent substance formed of silica and certain metallic oxides?

The little Chi O pledge whose last name is the same as that of a Chi O active (both are tres petite and the active has just had her bustup with the red-headed biology assistant) is still very much thataway about the Kappa Sigma sophomore whose first name has been veritably done-away-with in preference to the hackneyed "Skinny."

Our very recently-initiated Chi O sophomore (see last week's column) is singing sweet love songs all the time to our golf-playing SAE soph from Meridian. The affair has been embryonic for weeks and weeks, dear chillun, but the young man has even sworn onto the water wagon for his laydie lover. We have always heard that these cardinal-and-straws had power.

The Beta Sigs and the KA's are at it again. The young lady's first name is Virginia and despite the earnest efforts of the KA pledge whose first name is that of a Lumber Company in Memphis, the basketball champs seem to have the upper hand. Steeck in there and fight 'em, keed.

The eternally Peppermint Apple pie soph has snagged herself a member of the literati. The young man is a Beta Sig pledge and he conducts the Southwestern Dial column of the Sunday Commercial. "Wheeps" as the paper said last week.

Quiz for Inquisitives: Will someone kindly explain to our moronic mentalities what John Hines was doing last Sunday afternoon running around the Villa Monte (Pahdon us woiking gals) in his underwear? This door-blowing-shut gag doesn't sound so convincing to us.

Two Stewart satellites will again flash across the football scene. "Chick-en" High, the Bessemer Bullet, and "Blind Annie" Newton, the Amite Antelope, will again don their football togs for the coming "All-Memphis" vs. Boblyns encounter. High, often hailed as another "Rabbit Curry", and Newton, kicker, passer, and ball-carrier par excellence are bound to put on a good show.

Who said unemployment? Not Stewart Hall, for "Big Mac", White, and "Truck" Wilson are all employed after school. "Mac" sells toys, as is only proper; White sells clothes, and Wilson has gone back to his task of working up to be a truck driver. N. Clark Wright steadily refuses all offers of work. He says: "I came to school to study and nothing can swerve me from my purpose."

Some wise guy said, "you can find whatever you want when you want it by looking where it wouldn't be if you didn't want it." That guy should try to find his collar button some nice cold morning. But you'll find that that's neither here nor there, and by looking thru some old Sou'westers I FIND:

FOX ELECTED GRID CAPTAIN OF LYNX

And no joke, deah people, Fox was a swell captain.

CHICKEN HIGH IS NOW A HEN

Here's the story: A fowl enthusiast had a swell hen. He wanted a swell name for this swell hen. So he called this swell hen "Chicken High." He entered this swell hen into a swell poultry contest, but all "Chicken High" did was to have a lotta swell little chickens. And all the little chickens did was—Oh well, figure it out for yourselves.

SNOZZLE DURANT LIKES TO BE CALLED SNOZZLE. HE URGES EVERYONE TO KEEP IT UP

Keep what up, Snozzle? The Nose?

Alvan Tate deserves honorable mention or something. He can impersonate Dean Hartly, David Bloom, Kimbrough, Deedie, and Ella Kate. He is now trying to impersonate Mahatma Ghandi. Depression, you know.

Snozzle Durant: "I shall never marry until I meet a woman who is my direct opposite."

Ann Galbreath: "Well, there are a number of intelligent girls on the Campus."

We don't know about that last crack, Ann. Snozzle isn't married yet you know.

Pigskinners Plan Post-Grid Pursuits

Pigskinners were reluctant to commit themselves as to how they will spend their spare time after football season is over. They will probably all wander over to the field and get up a good game of pass ball.

"Tunica" Tapp mumbled something about having made tentative arrangements for a trip to the Hawaiian Islands, but that was after several days of hard scrimmage. Captain Fox is going to inhale one large tubfull of golden suds, and Crosby's mind runs in a parallel track.

Tom Huckabee wants to sleep every day from lunch to supper time. Henry Hammond says: "I'm going to get in shape." Jimmy Haygood and Grover Duran are going out for basketball.

Jack Lloyd says he is not going to do anything—he has reformed. Managers Crump and Metcalf will taper off by going to the "Y." They don't want to become stale from the rigorous schedule.

They forgot to mention Freshmen Bether and Taylor.

Good-bye to you ole man prohibition. You left our country in SOME condition.

You wrecked prosperity and all our joys; You made our girls wanna be like boys. You made our cops rich, but they didn't stop crime; You started, "Brother Can You Spare a Dime?"

You made honest people have to steal So come on prosperity! Welcome Re-peak!

A College paper is swell The college gets the shame The printer gets the money. The editor gets the blame And the poor staff gets—Aw, it isn't even funny.

GREEK GROWLS

—HIRAM GREEN.

Hiram was so excited when he came into the office that he couldn't even pun. He had been to the Women's Panhellenic meeting, listening in while the backwards dance date list was being compiled. But let him tell it in his own inimitable way.

"I sorta had to crane my neck to see down the chimney, but it was fun. All the women were fussing as to who was to get who and who could get out of taking who. Some of these campus big shots would have felt like cap pistols if they could have heard what they said about them."

The Panhellenic Council decided not to send pansies to their dates, but a real boutonniere or something like that. And the other poor gals can't send their dates flowers or poison ivy or anything."

"Were my ears red when they decided not to invite me. They said I was too nosy, but it's big ears that Tate and I are affiliated with. But I'll fool 'em. I'll be there anyhow."

"It was too funny when they put "Big Mac" and Annie Laurie Pentecost together. Somebody vetoed that, though. I thought our frat meetings were bad, but these women can wrangle and cuss each other out with lady-like debonair better than anything I ever saw."

"Had trouble deciding who to put Bob Armstrong, Charles Crump, and John Streete with, but somebody finally thought of a girl they had dated once. When they got to wrangling about whether to call Tate "Fletcher" or "Al" in the date list, I got disgusted and left: Anyhow, I didn't hear about refreshments, so I'll have hope when I crash in at the Parkview next week."

TNE was founded in an outhouse in Iowa during a blizzard, which accounts for Scudder Smith. Anyway, they usually reach for a hag instead of a sweet. They initiate two men each year, even if it's the same two men. They think beer busts are good for the order and the brothers will do anything for the order. Some of them will do anything anyhow. Anyhow, they are not "Joiners" and can stick out their tongues (all three of them) at the "sissies" who join the Orchestra, Glee Club, Ministerial Club, Press Club, to say nothing of all the Greek Letter ones.

"That is a FARLEY decent paper, eh, chap?"

"Yes, it wouldn't be PATTON our own backs to say so."

"There could be some changes made, thought. We GOODLET Bill do Doe's work since he is not able to DUEEASE very well."

"Can you COOK up any other changes?"

"HUGHES (who is-heh, heh) writing freshman sports?"

"Let Smith, he is OLIVER time asking me to let him."

"I hear Ray was fired?"

"Yeah, and I wonder how REHFELDT?"

"Stop ERSKINE questions and let's get down to work."

"Well, where is that phone book?"

"Hey, ALEX-ander that book."

"These lazy people around here, I'm going to get mad and GILLIAM!"

"Sou'westers" Sent Both Far And Near

Seattle (Washington, to you) has the distinct distinction of being the most distant city of which copies of The Sou'wester are sent every week. The school is the University of Washington, and Southwestern has been exchanging papers with it several years.

The nearest school to which are sent copies of our weekly newspaper is State Teachers' College at Normal. The Tiger Rag, we might add, is one of the most interesting papers sent to The Sou'wester office.

As Duff Gaither and George Willis, circulation managers of The Sou'wester, admit, the Lynx literary effort is mailed even to all-girls' schools, such as Agnes Scott, near Atlanta, Ga.

The Sou'wester is sent to such well-known institutions as Northwestern, University of Kentucky, Vanderbilt, University of S. C., University of Idaho, Wesleyan College, Ole Miss, Fordham University, U. of T., University of Arkansas, U. of Alabama, Birmingham-Southern College, and Auburn University.

The state which receives the most copies of the Red and Black's paper is New York which has over fifteen schools to which our weekly editions are sent. Over 100 exchanges are made every week.

Ask Offering For Disabled Ministers

A collection will be made at the Christmas Vespers service for the benefit of disabled ministers. This is an unusual procedure, and it will be the only collection made at a Vespers this year. Dr. Diehl believes the cause to be deserving, but he requests that no one stay awake from the service or feel embarrassed if they have no money to give.

Ministers who are retired on pension or otherwise disabled will be helped. Lack of funds will cause a drastic cut to be made in their pensions if money is not raised in this manner.

K.D.'s To Entertain

Kappa Delta Pledges will entertain for the active members with an open house Dec. 16 at the lodge. It will be a Christmas party and Bill Taylor's orchestra will furnish the music.

WHO'S WHO

Malline Lyon is Davidson College, North Carolina's contribution to Southwestern. Malline has been very energetic in various lines of activity while a student of this institution, namely, religious, dramatic, and literary. She is a member of the Christian Union Cabinet and Y. W. C. A., and was president of the "Y. W." last year. She is secretary and treasurer of Cap and Gown and vice-president of Chi Delta Phi, national Honorary Literary Society, and is a member of the Southwestern Players and a pledge to Theta Alpha Phi. The Sou'wester is fortunate in having her on its staff, and the Lynx Yearbook is abetted by her in the capacity of Assistant Business Manager. She is president of the Delta Delta sorority.

FREDERICK BEARDEN

"It happened in Little Rock, a long time ago"—the birth of Frederick Bearden. Since then he has lived in lots of places, the most recent of which is Wichita, Kansas. Fred came to Southwestern three years ago and at the end of every semester he has sworn that he was leaving, but was somehow prevailed upon to stay. Now he plans to take the advice of the renowned Horace Greeley at the end of this semester and "go west" (Calling California). Watch out for the notorious Freddy Bearden who is heading your way. He is an S.A.E. and was president of the chapter last year. He was voted the best-looking boy in his class (farmers enroute, keep daughters inside), and was king of the April Fool carnival. He played Bobcat football, and has been a star guard on the varsity for the past three years. He has been High Priest of the Sanhedrin for two years, and on the Student Council, is vice-president of the Glee Club, and a member of the "S" Club, Southwestern Players, Panhellenic Council, and A.P.O. fraternity.

Prof. Davis Wears Green Pajamas Suit

A Sou'wester reporter made a startling discovery. Prof. John H. Davis, he of the tweed suits with patched elbows, wears green pajamas in lieu of underwear. 'S'a fact!

He explains this phenomenon by asserting that his rough tweed clothes hurt his tender skin, thus requiring the added protection. He demonstrated by pulling up a trousers leg and disclosing emerald green pajamas.

sticking to one girl for very long. It gives a variety to life in school which it wouldn't otherwise have.

(6) Girl: I couldn't stand ANYBODY for four years. I like several deep crushes during the year. Yes, razzing breaks up romances out here and I've never heard of another school "which rubs it in" more than Southwestern does. Most romances here, however, are not the real thing but only two lost souls seeking diversion.

(7) Boy: None of these young fools out here know what love is. It is all just a passing fancy. No romances at Southwestern COULD develop into marriage with the attitude the eds and co-eds take.

(8) Girl: Whether love is campus love or doesn't matter. If it's only campus love it's not the real thing. Several of our campus romances will very likely develop into marriage and I like and approve of that sort of romance. Girls at Southwestern, however, are more likely to admit liking only one man than co-eds of any other school I've ever heard of. The trouble with love here is that boys try to sew the girl up and tighten her down to themselves only, thus destroying what little chance she could have for popularity. That's why most romances out here fade and pass away.

(9) Girl: Men are much too interested in themselves and what they can do to have a good time and how they can shine for the past three years. He has been High Priest of the Sanhedrin for two years, and on the Student Council, is vice-president of the Glee Club, and a member of the "S" Club, Southwestern Players, Panhellenic Council, and A.P.O. fraternity.

(11) Girl: Love is swell. It has the nicest feeling. But I admit that girls play around more than boys, although I do believe that the average girl is far more capable of enduring romance and of giving her all for her sweetheart than the average man, don't you?

(12) Boy: Believe me, sister, I'm immune. Campus love isn't permanent and usually doesn't mean a thing. It just serves to give you something to do when not going to classes (and may we add, while in classes, too).

And with that parting shot, Ye olde rambling reporter picked up his tender hoofs and made straightway for the seclusion of The Sou'wester office where he could not only pound out this array of opinions on "our grimmest joke of nature," as one bright ed said, but could lie upon the editor's desk in gloomy contemplation of the cynical attitudes taken by eds and co-eds to "our greatest and most sacred institution," as another ed said. Ah me! 'Tis truly a crewel wurruld.

O.D.K.

In last week's issue, the social activities of the delegates to the convention at the University of Alabama were aired, much to the regret of the two faculty members attending. This week we will show some of the more serious business transacted at the convention.

It was decided that such provincial conventions should be held biennially, alternating with the national conventions. The next conclave will be held in the fall of 1935 at L. S. U., which is the baby circle of the fraternity, having been installed only last spring.

Another matter of importance brought up was the publication of a province bulletin to all circles in the province in order to bring them in closer contact with each other.

More than 70 members were present, the largest gathering of ODK's ever assembled, with the exception of the national convention at Duke last spring.

Initiation of the three men recently tapped will be held shortly before the holidays. At that time the group will dine in the Bell Room before the ceremony.

Following in the wake of "Speak Week" O. D. K. will sponsor a "Clean-up Week" beginning next Monday. Our attention has been called to the fact that students carelessly throw bits of paper and other trash about the campus and in the halls. Trash baskets will be placed in inconspicuous places on the grounds and the students are asked to aid in keeping the campus neat. Let's try to remember this and cooperate with the authorities in making our campus a spot of beauty and not like a city park after a Fourth of July picnic.

nent and usually doesn't mean a thing. It just serves to give you something to do when not going to classes (and may we add, while in classes, too).

GIRL CAGERS START WORK

Louise Stratmann, head of co-ed physical education, held first basketball practice Wednesday. A large group was on hand for the initial session and regular games, both class and sorority, will begin after the holidays.

Weekly practices will be held Mondays and Wednesdays, at 3 p.m., and Thursdays at 2 p.m.

To be eligible for either class, sorority, or pledge teams, the girls must have a minimum of ten practices. Each practice counts for one point and these points will count towards the class, sorority and individual scores.

Every girl is expected to practice twice weekly and to sign up for practices on the bulletin board in the social room.

Student Volunteers Will Meet Sunday

Student volunteers will meet Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in Prof. Orr's classroom. China will be the topic of discussion. Students interested in Chinese missionary projects are invited.

Open a pack of Luckies and lay the 20 cigarettes side by side. You can't tell one from another. Every Lucky is round, firm and fully packed—with choice Turkish and domestic tobaccos. And every Lucky is free from annoying loose ends. The tips are clean-cut—the tobacco doesn't spill out. That's why Luckies draw easily, burn evenly—and are always mild and smooth.

ALL-TIME LYNX TEAM PICKEDOnly Those Playing At Memphis Chosen

The Sou'wester has chosen an all-Southwestern-at-Memphis team, selected from the ranks of Lynx gridders since the time the school opened in Memphis. Harold High, '32, was chosen captain of the aggregation and "Dode" Farnsworth alt. capt.

The line averages 181 pounds and the backfield 162. The line makes up for what it might lack in weight with aggressiveness, and the backfield average is only brought down by High, the 130 pounder.

The team is as follows:

Lorin King, Tackle	190
Gordon Fox, Guard	185

Fourteen Varsity Cage Stars Report

Fourteen men reported for the 1933 basketball team. "Chicken" High is coaching the team until Coach Hayes gets back.

The first game will probably be with Catholic Club, Dec. 16. The coaches will have no easy time in getting a winning team together, as all the letter men graduated.

Barnes, Haygood, Wallace, Mays and Rasberry have basketball experience and will probably be in the starting lineup.

Boothe New Pi

Beverly Boothe, Memphis freshman and AOPI pledge is the new wearer of the green and white of Pi, inter-sorority group. Beverly was "brought out" Tuesday.

Sou'wester Picks All-frat Cage Team

The Sou'wester selected an all-fraternity team from among the participants, with the closing of the Intra-fraternity Basketball season Monday night. Champion Beta Sigs and runner-up ATO's each placed two men on the mythical team. Dick Mays was named captain.

The selections are as follows:

Rick Mays (c) BS	Forward
Dunlap Cannon, ATO	Forward
Red Davis, PIKA	Center
Billy Lapsley, ATO	Guard
Lynn Broadfoot, BS	Guard

Honorable mention goes to Freeman, Beta Sig; Moss, ATO, and Raspberry, SAE.

Bobcats Win First Basketball Game

Southwestern's Bobcats opened the basketball season Tuesday night with victory over Izzy Rosen Shoes team in Varsity Basketball League, by a score 32 to 26.

Gartside was outstanding in the freshman victory with Newton playing well for the losers. Cannon, Davis and Lapsley aided materially in the Bobcat victory.

Secret Sins Of Gridders Bared

Grover Durant: "Little did I realize that I was playing my last game on Fargason field in my sophomore year."

Scotty Edington was commenting on some of the little known features of football. "You can punt a ball at any time during a game." And Sawrie said, "when?"

And by the way, if you don't know what to do on a certain play or are in doubt as to some rule or technicality, ask Scotty about it. The Mobile Bay lad has more football sense stored in that pinhead of his than most of us would acquire in a decade.

Believe it or not, but Harvey Jones never carried the ball during his high school days, but was a star blocking back.

Every time John Barnes gets his hands on a football in practice, he tries to dropkick it. Yet, after years of practice his kicks still hover close to the ground or go off at 45 degrees angles.

The managers have even acquired that football complex. Farley and Metcalf both complain of "bad knees" Bobby says he got his wrestling with John. The latter has had water on the knee ever since last year when, after a twenty-yard run, he tripped over himself and spilled all his water. (Who Farley?)

Did you know—Coach Haygood would rather hear the crack of a vicious tackle reverberate through the stands than see a thirty-yard run.

When Henry Hammond saw his picture in the paper, he said that it looked like he was looking through a plate glass window.

This happened a long time ago: Coach Haygood was telling the ends to cut down the interference and forget about the ball-carrier, and John Barnes said, "Coach, if the ball-carrier is in front of the interference, how am I going to get to them?"

You pay for Christmas Seals but once, but they work for you all the year round.

LYNXMEN PICK ALL-STAR TEAMChoose Best Performers From Opponents

By consulting various members of the Lynx football team and taking a consensus of opinions, The Sou'wester has picked an All-opponents team from the lineups of teams played this year.

Selections are based solely on performances against Southwestern, and not on any other newspaper rating.

Barnes opined that Birmingham-Southern had the hardest blocking backs. Herrington of Mississippi State, and McKay of Birmingham-Southern received the most votes for individual distinction.

The selections are as follows:

Player	Pos.	School
Armstrong	E	Union
Clark	T	Mississippi St.
Britt	G	Ole Miss
Wilson	G	Mississippi
Morrison	T	Chattanooga
Merritt	E	Chattanooga
Haley	E	Chattanooga
Herrington	Q.B.</
