

Southwestern Mourns Death Harry Tipton

Young Football Player Dies Of Blood Infection

Southwestern was cast into deepest mourning, Harry Tipton, star Bobcat football player, died last Friday at 10 a. m., at Methodist Hospital of blood-poisoning.

Tipton, a member of the freshman class, had started an enviable record as an athlete. All-Memphis prep selection at Tech High last year, he was playing brilliant ball with the baby Lynx when injuries to boils and general rundown condition forced him out of the game.

Young Tipton was working his way through school. He had a night job at a filling station. The strain of this, along with an injury received there, so lowered his resistance that he was unable to survive the malady which attacked his blood stream.

Harry was a pledge to Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Tipton, and a brother, Ralph.

Funeral services were held at 1:30 Saturday at Cole-Wilson funeral home, with the Rev. Walt Holcomb officiating. Tipton is buried in Memorial Park Cemetery.

O.D.K. PLANS "SPEAK WEEK"

Hope To Create Feeling Of Friendliness

Pi Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa is sponsoring a "Speak Week" beginning Monday. Feeling that some of the students occasionally forget to be cordial, ODK is hopeful of creating a better and more friendly spirit on the campus.

Speeches, placards, and posters will be used in an effort to gain the cooperation of the student body.

David Edington, president of ODK, is in charge of the movement.

French Club To Meet December 13

French Club will meet Dec. 13 at 4 p. m., at home of Mrs. Will Jones on Cowden Avenue.

Jane Belcher will read an original essay on Moliere, John Hines and Frank Goodlett will present a scene from Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme by Moliere.

A rendition of French songs by members will complete the program.

O.D.K. Favored In Students Poll As To Preferred Campus Honor

Favor Honors Ranging From Making Five "A's" To Being Dean Of Women

Election to Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary fraternity, is in the opinion of Southwestern eds, the greatest honor to be obtained at the College of the Mississippi Valley. And, indeed, it is a worthy choice.

Several Southwestern men were made the subjects of a straw vote Wednesday to decide the question, "What organization or office at Southwestern would it give you the greatest pleasure to join or to hold?"

Out of 21 interviewed, seven voted for ODK. The others voted at random for such things as making five A's to being Dean of Women.

Among those who were asked to give their choice and the reason for their selection were Dorsey Barefield, John Barnes, Tom Huckabee, Jack Kelly, Earl D. Christian, Bill Cobb, Dicky Dunlap, Bright Horton, Lee McCormick, Paul Freeman, Sidney Strickland, Harvey Heidelberg.

Louis Graeber, John Hines, Louis Weeks Logan Hughes, Hiram Todd Max Usrey, Jim Davis, Fred Bearden and Reed Brock also contributed. "Runner-up" votes were cast for be-

LYNX TO TANGLE WITH WILDCATS

Southwestern will meet the University of Kentucky Wildcats on Fargason Field in a football game next year Nov. 10. It will be the first time that the Lynx and Wildcats have met.

Harry Gamage, youthful Kentucky mentor, announced his resignation at the same time, thereby leaving doubt as to who would lead the Wildcats against the Lynx. Kentucky is always a strong contender in the Southeastern conference.

COLLEGE CLUB HAS FROLIC AT 9:00 SATURDAY

Collegians Furnish Music For Parkview Dance

College Club will have its Saturday night frolic at the Parkview Ballroom beginning at 9 p. m. Taylor's "Collegians" will furnish the music.

Among those who plan to attend are: "Sis" Portlock with Jim Carey, Peggy Walker with Joe Arnold, Sally Griffin with Charles Maxey, Mary Laughlin with Dabney Crump, Olga Hartmann with Roy Shepherd, Lucille Woods with John Streete, Virginia Fisher with William Hawkins, Cornelia Henning with Davis Biggs, Eva Gene Bruce with Walker Turner, Charlotte Berlin with Lucius Cook, Ellen Canale with John Baker, Beverly Booth with Sidney Strickland, Phoebe Randolph with Preston Sights, Mary Anne Poston with Hubert Fisher, Betsy O'Brien with Billy Gibson, Jane Belcher with Louis Duffee, Norma Lee with John Hines, Olivia Reames with Alan Cody, Elizabeth Buxton with Beverly Buckingham.

Rebecca Laughlin with Paul Freeman, Elizabeth Pentress with Henry Watkins, Jane Erskine with Thurman Crawford.

C.U. Makes Money For Charity Work

Departing from the usual way of raising funds for its Christmas charity work, the Southwestern Christian Union is finding its new method very profitable. It seems that the Southwestern students have a liking for apples since an average of one box of apples is sold each day on the campus. Incidentally, one box contains 88 apples.

Tom Jones declined to say exactly how much was being cleared from the apple sales, but did say that there would be sufficient money for the Union to have its annual Christmas Tree for unfortunates.

Jones said that the same plan will be used this year as last in entertaining the needy children. Investigators will be sent to the various homes, and if they find the family sufficiently needy, will get the parents' permission to bring the children to Southwestern for the Christmas tree. The children will be given a dinner and then taken to the cloister where they will receive shoes and other gifts from the tree.

KD Alums Entertain

Kappa Delta alumnae are entertaining with a luncheon tomorrow at the Peabody. Several of the actives and pledges of the campus will attend.

Honored By O. D. K.

O.D.K. TAPS THREE MEN

Elder, Oliver, Porteous Honored

Pi Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa, national fraternity for the recognition of campus leadership, tapped three men Monday. McLemore Elder, Henry Oliver and Clark Porteous were honored.

Membership is limited to three percent of the men students of the college, and members are selected biannually at a tap service in chapel.

McLemore Elder, a junior, received the cup for the sophomore nearest approaching ODK ideals last year. He was president of the sophomore class, is president of junior class, Student Council, varsity football player, "S" Club, member of Honor Council, Panhellenic Council sophomore year, active in Political Science Group, and a member of ATO.

Henry Oliver, a senior, is editor of the annual, was editor of the Journal his junior year; tennis team, capt. '32; Honor Council; Student Council, Debating team '31, '32, manager '32, president Forensic Society '32-'33; vice-president Alpha Theta Phi, Panhellenic Council, Commander Beta Sigma fraternity, Nitist Club. In addition to this he made first honors in his class his freshman year, second his sophomore year, and first in junior year. He is reading for honors in Political Science and Economics.

Clark Porteous, senior, is editor of The Sou'wester; varsity track '32, "S" Club, president of Panhellenic Council, Stylus Club, Varsity Debater, president of Press Club, Lynx Club, vice-president Boosters Club '32-'33; Southwestern Players, Annual staff '32, Journal contributor, Student Council, Christian Union Cabinet, and Nitist Club.

Seven Seniors To End Grid Career

Seven seniors will play their last football game for Southwestern when they meet Springhill. They are: Capt. Gordon Fox, Fred Bearden, Jimmy Wilson, Bill Pickens, Jack Kelley, Andy Edington and Grover Durant.

Fox and Bearden are star guards and Coach Haygood will have trouble in replacing them. Wilson, although handicapped by injuries, has given valuable service this season. Pickens, a versatile player, has played center, and backfield for three years. Kelly is a great punter and star defensive back. Edington and Durant have given much service as reserves.

Rev. Brantley Is Oldest Lynx Grad

Rev. Erskine Brantley, D.D., of Antlers, Okla. is now the oldest living Southwestern alumnus. Rev. Brantley, now in his late 80's, graduated in the class of 1873.

Dr. Brantley succeeds the late Thos. H. Elliott as oldest graduate. He will be sent the O.D.K. cane which remains in the possession of the oldest alumnus. The cane has the following inscription: "O.D.K. of Southwestern congratulates its oldest living graduate."

Pirate Party Dec. 9th

Chi Omega pledges will entertain the actives with the annual Pirate party on Dec. 9.

BS Meets ATO In Cage Finals

Final round was reached in the Inter-fraternity basketball meet last week, with the Beta Sigs and the ATO's arriving on top, true to predictions.

A three-game series will be run off on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights to decide the championship.

Both teams have displayed sensational play throughout the tourney, and the deciding series should provide plenty of action.

While the Beta Sigs seem to have a slight edge due to the fine work of former Central High stars playing together for the past four or five years, the ATO's will put forth a serious threat in their scoring aces, Lapsley, Sherman and Cannon, besides being able to put two good teams on the floor due to having plenty of capable reserves.

Inter-fraternity volley-ball will get under way beginning the week after the finals of the basketball meet.

Dance Postponed

AOPI tea dance has been postponed until Dec. 9. It will be at Nineteenth Century Club from 5:00 until 8:00.

First Panhellenic To Be Given Dec. 1 At Casino Ballroom

BEARDEN BEST GUESSER

Fred Bearden, Lynx star guard, won the football contest last week with only six games on the wrong side of the ledger. Close seconds were D. Edington, and Crawford. Boobies were Sherman and Tom Jones, who missed 14 apiece.

SCHEDULE IS PLANNED FOR DEBATING CLUB

Hope To Make Two Trips And Several Home Debates

Southwestern Quibblers are making extensive plans for next spring's inter-scholastic debating program. Two trips are being planned as well as several home debates.

On one trip the team plans to include Howard, Auburn, Spring Hill, Loyola, Centenary, Hendrix College and possibly Birmingham-Southern, University of Alabama and L. S. U. This will be the longest trip taken by a Southwestern debating team in recent years and will open up an almost entirely new territory. Only Loyola of all these schools has been debated before.

A second team will tour Mississippi and will debate Ole Miss, Mississippi State, Millsaps and Mississippi State Teachers.

Besides these trips there will likely be a double debate with Union in which each party will send a team to the other school for a debate the same night.

Davidson College and Dayton University are scheduled to meet Southwestern here. There is also a possibility of Millsaps bringing a team to Memphis.

Six men are returning who have already won keys and are expected to debate again this year. These include Alvan Tate, John Fischbach, Henry Oliver, Clark Porteous, Robert Walker and Francis Benton.

Stylus Club To Be Tested Tuesday

Members of the Stylus Club will be given a literary intelligence test Tuesday at 1:00 p. m., in the Bell Room in lieu of their regular bi-monthly program.

Students who wish to submit writings for membership must do so before this meeting. Dr. McIlwaine is to judge papers for the Stylus Club which is giving $2.50 prize for the best prose and poetry contributed.

Articles winning prizes and honorable mention will appear in the Journal, which comes out next month.

Orientation As A Requirement To Be Discussed In Faculty Meeting

Students Voice Views On Benefit Of Course And Its Possibilities As Requirement

Suggestions for the betterment of Southwestern's curriculum are now being considered by the brains of the institution. So it seems most timely that this voice of the students should express some would-be opinions of the lesser lights (just upperclassmen, to you, who in their freshmen daze were so busy becoming socially prominent or luminaries on the gridiron that they neglected the more important student activity and so found themselves enrolled in freshman orientation.)

At present this course in orientation is the subject for much discussion and debate. In keeping with the progressive steps that are being taken in other colleges, notably L. S. U. and Union College of Schneckady, N. Y., the attention of Southwestern's faculty has been turned to some general foundation course of freshmen, to be taught by someone trained in the field or by members of the present faculty, each taking the course for a given period. Be that as it may and regardless of the plan adopted, from the opinions of ex-orientation students gathered at random, it seems that this is a course valued highly who have been exposed to it, for practically all of those questioned favor making orientation a required course for freshmen.

Walter May, SAE pledge, appeared yesterday wearing the purple and white garb of SPHINX, secret interfraternity organization. May is the third man to be brought out this year.

Bob Pfangle describes it as one of the most thorough and cultural courses on the campus from the general educational standpoint. "Certainly it is no waste of time for anyone," he says, "and as for freshmen, they should be required to take it because of the general outlook that it gives on national, educational, and social problems not received from any other course."

Bob, however thinks that all other freshmen courses and that orientations should be added as a sixth and one-hour course.

Julia Schwinn doesn't know of any freshman course of so little importance that it should be dropped from the curriculum but considers orientation an important additional course elective to those who have not as yet decided upon their majors as it is a complete survey of all college courses. ## SPEAK WEEK

Omicron Delta Kappa is sponsoring a "Speak Week" at Southwestern, beginning Monday.

Perhaps unjustly, Lynx men and women have been accused of being "snooty" and high-hat.

This is a good chance to dispel such ideas. Cooperate with ODK by being cordial. Don't simply act cordial, but smile when you see your school-mates. Soon you will feel so good that it will cease to be an effort to be friendly.

Try this for a week. We believe that the atmosphere created will be so much better that "Speak Week" will stay with us.

Just a Bit of Dorm Life

Evergreen Hall

The good ship EVERGREEN has steered a straight course thru the first half-semester of her maiden voyage. Skipper Rutland and First Mate Virginia West selected four admirals to act as a board of control. They are Mary Mc Eddins, Kate Otey Eddins, Mary Merhle and Olga Hartmann.

The "night watch" has been kept by a few mates this week. This Phenomena is probably due to report period end. Consequently there have been few squalls. Things promise to change in the future however.

Chief mechanic Rollow has put the radio in order once more and all mates are very grateful to him—also the nightly visiting crew.

"Man Overboard" was heard Monday when Lyda Lyon didn't come back from her weekend. Rescue work was accomplished however and he is again on deck.

Cabins are being kept in good order—thanks to Stewardess Ida. Stoker Aaron is having a job keeping the mates comfortable in this changing weather but he's doing the job O. K. Martha Burton, Miriam Heidelberg, and Edith Graff have all been sighted on the high seas lately. They were once members of the EVERGREEN crew.

Some rest ports have been noted—the ship is headed for the good port Christmas and if all goes well—it won't be long now!!!

The Hour Strikes—Four Bells—All's well.

Calvin Hall

Calvin Hall is right proud of Young Wallace who made the Honor Roll. Also Henry Oliver, as usual.

Moss and Gee are rapidly becoming math sharks. Several nights a week they may be seen in the former's room plotting curves, drawing figures, solving equations and what-not. Gee says studying figures is certainly fascinating.

There was no little excitement last weekend. Jimmy Meadow came in to find that some one had taken up his bed and walked. He finally found it in his closet. Atkinson's bunk was also demolished. He suspects his arch-enemy, "Pop-gun" Kelley. Then someone doused the sleeping Graeber with a bucket of water. But imagine Fuller's surprise and chagrin upon awaking to find two other persons in bed with him.

Calvin Hall's nomination for the Funny Paper: Dunlap Cannon as Mickey Mouse (Minnie Mouse to be chosen later, by him).

Robb Hall

OR SAE COLUMN

Frank Oliver Goodlett has went again. As Freshman Jones so aptly expressed it: "Here today and gone tomorrow." Evidently having taken such a liking to "rest-cures." Goodlett is resting in the peace of Tupelo, the city beautiful, and has been doing so since last Wednesday.

Living up to his reputation as being the most sought after man on the campus, Johnny Baker went up to Knoxville for the football game the other day. Baker says he had a fine time, but who wouldn't when you are the only man in a car full of such fascinating females as Baker was.

Roommates Strickland and Heidelberg seem to be taking time about on getting sick. Last week it was Sidney's time. This week it was Heidelberg's time to get well on the doctor's prescription of plenty of good water, etc.

Room 303 has most disappointing news for us. The fine play they were going to give us has at last fallen through. They also want to tell their friends that they have fixed their door and are ready for visitors again.

The boys on the third floor want everyone to know that they are not ashamed of Stewart (15 cheers for the student body)! but are really proud of him—There you are, loyalty in its highest form.

Shorty Simmons has attained manhood. With 21 years to his credit since Tuesday he says he now is ready to conquer the world.

Reputations Lost At Alumni Gridiron

Reputations were lost and insinuations were plentiful at the first annual gridiron banquet of the Memphis Alumni held last Friday evening in Neely Hall. One hundred twenty-five alumni braved the roasting dealt out by Walter Stewart, roastmaster, and his corps of roasters.

Dr. W. R. Atkinson was the "principal" speaker of the evening, and after his speech, few people had any "principles" left. The most enjoyed roasting of the affair was the scorching dealt out to "Fire Chief" John Miller, football coach. The psychology prof also gave some interesting facts on the early life of Coach Haygood.

Sam Rhem and Charles Rond, Memphis attorneys, were other speakers. Frank Trelawney, president of the Memphis alumni, was in charge of the meeting. Three skits written by Luther Southworth, former Sou'wester editor, were presented. The banquet was the second get-together of the alumni of Memphis.

This'n That On Campus

Personal-Nomination-of-the-Week-for-the-Cinema: Dr. Strickler as Warner Oland and Norma Lee as Norma Shearer to appear in a sophisticated mystery entitled, "Fu Manchu Smiling Thru."

It is our humble opinion that the W. C. T. U. Chi O sophomore whose last name means to peruse would be content forevermore to sit dreamily in the panting motah of the sanguine frosh president, listening to the soft strains of Guy Lombardo over the raddio therein. But two Chi O ravens have already quothed, "Nevermore."

The baby-faced Apple-pie Junior who is noted for her pro-Sewanee tendencies is apparently reciprocating to the benevolent attentions of the blonde ATO whose surname is identical with the famous marcher-thru-Georgia-to-the-sea.

A Kappa Sig junior whose nickname is the lunar constellation seems to be doing right well at this old cave-man's game of hooking two young ladies successfully and simultaneously. One is a Chi O transfer and the other, one of this season's debs, one of the best rushers for said sorority. Always remember, young man, two fiddles can't be played by one beau.

The amicably-disposed Chi O pledge whose surname is a Pullman occupation is another of those young ladies who have deserted the AEKDB's for the Sorries-at-Everyplace. The young lady really has no need of social-climbing and therefore her perennial Sabbath night visits to the Country Club in company with the barrel-shaped SAE soph must be prompted by the darts of cupid. Hotcha, Unkie, success at last!

Tennyson's Brook Club Members: The popular AOPi pledge whose surname is two nouns and the young SDP man-about-town with the Ford coupe; the little big-shot president of the Boosters' Club and the young and winsome SKS fille whose sister has national reputation as a piano virtuoso; and the Chi O self-elected general who has given her former suitor the RAZZ for LOVE of someone else.

The AOPi junior whose surname is THE Easter flower has fallen from her pedestal of misanthropy. PHARR all we know, it may be very permanent. We hope so.

Our well-meaning, if unsuccessfully so, Apple-pie Duchess seems to have procured unto herself a worthy member of the genus homo. He is an Ole Miss frosh, bristled dome et al, from Jackson (Miss.) Long distance rates AREN'T expensive, are they, pal? But whatabout that Helena "Mike"-rophone who has been and is now, judging by society notes, your inter-dances hookup.

The more-or-less popular Chi O blonde who is a past president of SKS, having run up against stone WALLS, is enjoying life frequently in the company of one quite a bit ELDER than she. My, how we SAE's do rate here at Southwestern near the trolley tracks.

"Le roi est encore tombe." The young man with the physique and expression of a lion who has just enjoyed a hearty meal is again in pursuit of silk stockings. He is, we admit, remaining true to the cardinal and straw, but he is, we add, also trying the cave-man's game. Be careful Kate dear. And don't EVER go to a dark-town strutter's ball. BRETT she IS in Washington, at that.

Maybe I am wrong, but nevertheless I might prove I am right by the following circumstantial evidence: It was about the second no-break at the College Club dance (new way to tell time on Saturday night—we got there about the first special, etc.) when Jean Reid tipped up to Bill Taylor, the guy with the orchestra, and asked him to play her favorite song, "Stardust," for the third special.

Then when the third special came along, we were particularly anxious to discover that she was dancing with none other than Bob Armstrong.

Says Jane Erskine to this slick-top Ole Miss freshman: "John Noblin, I think you are hiding something from ME!"

"Those are not cigarettes, that is a plug of tobacco."

What happened to this Judson Palmer that appeared on the Southwestern campus on the weekend that Millsaps played here? Several of the skirts around have asked about him. Rehfeldt is the only one that seemed to know anything about this Millsaps Kappa Alpha.

"He was thinking about coming to school here after he saw some of those Chi Omegas. When he got out to the Casino, he was darn certain he was going to change. Out there he met some of these KA's, and well, he said he was going back to Jackson.

Well, Beta Sigmas, so you think that I have been purposely omitting you from this column. You think I haven't had anything to say. You think . . . well . . . listen what about Ed Turner! (silence filled the room, you could hear a pin drop—you could drop dead, but who wants to) Yeah, and what about this party recently? (more silence, Warden coughs, Broadfoot squirms) Thought you could start the old Turtle Club game and avoid that third question? Well, you got yours. How about that Postoffice game. Thought they closed on Sunday.

That is a terrible BAKER they have in this kitchen!

WATTS that? It sounds like he has put some STRICKLAND in this RASSBERRY pie.

If it is poison, let's HOPE it gets the Jones brothers, and other Joneses.

From the desert song we find a swell song for these obnoxious players—
PUN ALONE.

What about:
GIVE ME SOHM-THING TO REMEMBER YOU BY?

Beverly Buckingham, yeah, he makes the Intramural announcements in chapel, certainly pulled the "foxes paw" (do you speak french) t'other day.

He went rushing up to the gate exactly at the stroke of the 2:30 bell, flashed out his pass book, and ducked to enter. Boy, did our pal at the gate grab him. Instead of "I'm sorry, Mr. Buckingham, wrong book." we heard a bloody "Hey, what do you mean trying to get in on this last year's book?"

Apology broke through his look of nonchalance. He retired bowing, only to bump into other people, in making his sanguine exit.

He returned shortly to exhibit proudly his new pass book.

We had hoped that this wouldn't be mentioned. This is really not printable, but nevertheless it is just some more of the choice gossip that is being suppressed, and we just got socked in the eye. The only reason you don't know who the other participant is that Walker didn't lose his temper.

Bobcats Will Have Strong Cage Team

Twenty Southwestern freshmen reported to Coach John Miller Tuesday afternoon for the initial basketball practice for the Bobcats. A wealth of material was on hand to insure the Southwestern cagers one of the best freshman teams in years. Coach Miller is planning a long and difficult schedule against the standout teams in the tri-states.

Cagers who reported for first practice were Gordon Medaris, Robert Johnson, Lee Hardison, Frank Preston, Arthur McDonald, Dunlap Cannon, William Bethea, Don Owens, Eugene Agnew, Paul Freeman, Billy Barr, Douglas Johnston, Lynn Broadfoot, Bill Lapsley, Harry Webb, Woody Butler, Herman Davis, James Breyt-spraak, Emerson Galloway and Rudy Gartside.

Two former All-Memphis prep cagers are on the Bobcat roster. Gordon Medaris and Rudy Gartside both made the mythical team. One of the leading basketeters of the squad is Herman "Red" Davis, a six-foot two giant, who was selected as All-Arkansas prep for two years, while playing at Pine Bluff. He is a guard.

Several other players who were prominent in cage circles with Memphis teams are Lynn Broadfoot, Paul Freeman and Jim Breyt-spraak, former Central High players, and Woody Butler, ex-M. U. S. cager.

Bill Lapsley of Uniontown, Ala., is another cager who is considered a fine prospect. No games have been scheduled as yet, but Coach Miller is planning to enter his team in one of the independent leagues in the city in addition to playing inter-collegiate contests.

Postpone Initiation Of Chi Delta Phi

Initiation of the girls to Chi Delta Phi which was scheduled for last Thursday night was postponed until Nov. 23, due to the illness of Savilla Martin.

LYNX PROFS HAVE MUSICAL TALENT

The Southwestern faculty has drawn to the ennobling cause of pedagogy many who probably would have been a Spaulding, Sousa, Piccolo Pete, or even a gurgling Schipa.

Dr. Strickler, student and teacher of the classics, plays quite compellingly on what is to many the most beautiful instrument, the cello. With enviable interpretation he produces the most delicate, fluent tones, in the resonant range of that difficult mode of expression.

Probably the most versatile musician in the group is Dr. Davis. He is acquainted with the flute, organ, violin, piccolo, and piano. He is said to possess a fine legato in his piano work, however, at the zither he still has room for improvement. He prefers Bach and all 18th century composers, however he does profess an "interest in the new experiments of Gershwin and others of the new school."

Dr. Siefken, new midwestern addition to the faculty, reflects the musical leanings of Council Bluffs and other brass band centers of the Iowa corn belt. He plays the clarinet.

Dr. Cooper is a pianist of no mean ability. When he attended Southwestern as a student in Clarksville, he held the position now filled by Louis Nicholas. He has a liking for "Tuneful" music, apparently reflected all over Robb hall when he dials The Last Roundup on the lusty speaker of his radio.

Dr. Atkinson used to play with the famed "String Quartet" that was for many years the foremost group of its kind at Southwestern. He has forsaken the violin, however, and now devotes his whole to the realm of metaphysics.

Dr. Monk and Dr. Stora both have unusual knowledge of the piano, and although their technical skill has not yet revealed outstanding artistry, they do play with an amazing degree of pliability. Dr. Monk is partial to chamber music with a particular liking for Brahms and Bach.

Professor Hayden is quite a baritone, so it is rumored, and also bows a fiddle with the most subtle musicianship.

Dr. Wilson does not sing with extraordinary digital brilliance, however he has agreed to be dean if conservatoire is added to the Southwestern curriculum.

(5) I would rather be president of my fraternity. I have some good ideas on how it should be run. I don't say it is being run badly now but I would at least give everyone something to do at some time or another. Half of my fraternity brothers have no reason at all for attending meetings.

(6) I'd rather pass English. I don't seem to have much trouble with my other studies, but honestly it's all I can do to get by that English course. There must be something the matter with it.

(7) I'd like to write "Greek Growls" just one issue. Whoever writes it has surely had it in for us. If I could write it for about a month, I would be satisfied. And then we'd see how others would take it.

(9) I'd rather be in ODK. That is one of the few things associated with campus life which can still be called an honor. It is a tribute to how much school spirit and energy one has and to the ability and zest with which one has attacked college life.

WHO'S WHO

Joe Moss hails from Earle, Ark. (home of the famous Earle Cardinals). Though generally supposed to have a two-syllable name, Joe's full name is Joseph Alexander Moss, and he has lived up to this high sounding name by becoming distinguished on the campus.

After a year's service on the Publications Board, Joe was elected President of that organization last year. Similarly, he was elected president of the Lynx Club after two years membership therein. He now capably directs the activities of these two groups.

Joe is manager of the varsity track team, and a member of the "S" Club. He was an honorary member of this organization before he made his letter. He is prominent in the Law Club, the Glee Club, Choir, Alpha Tau Omega, and Tennyson's Brook Club.

GORDON FOX

Gordon Gibson Fox (a pretty name) received his prep school training at C. B. C. He enrolled in Southwestern three years ago and since then has been making football history. His proficiency on the gridiron has been such that no one was surprised when he was elected captain of this year's team, and throughout this season, Fox has been a capable leader and a constant batter, in defeat as well as victory.

Early in his college career, Gordon became a member of the Sanhedrin council, and ever since has devoted his efforts zealously to correcting wayward freshmen and imparting knowledge thereto.

Fox is a member of the "S" Club, Beta Sigma and AGN.

It had previously been decided to send representatives to the Christian Union Assembly at Tennessee Polytechnic Institute in Cookeville, Tenn., but this meeting has been postponed.

Luckies draw easily - burn evenly

It's easy to see why so many women prefer Lucky Strike. Luckies are fully packed with long strands of choice tobaccos, round and firm to the very tips. That means Luckies always draw easily, always burn smoothly. It also means no annoying loose ends to cling to lips or mess up the nice things in a woman's purse. And every day more and more women are showing their appreciation by saying "Luckies please".

Edna Barker: "No, it probably went in one ear and out the other."

Mrs. Hi-tone: "This chair goes back to Louis XV."

BOBCATS MAY MEET ALL-MEMPHIS TEAM

Bobcats may meet an all-Memphis grid team in a post season game. The proposed tilt will take place Dec. 9 on Fargason field.

If the all-Memphis opponents can not be obtained, it is probable that the Central High School Warriors will furnish the opposition. The Yearlings will be strengthened by the aid of Harold High and Herbert Newton.

Spring Hill Ready To Battle Lynx

Spring Hill is preparing to give the Lynx a warm reception in their Turkey Day gridiron contest in Mobile Thursday.

Reports indicate that a team with potentialities hitherto undemonstrated this season will click in its final game to avenge the 41-0 lacing it received here last year. As shown by holding Millsaps to a 0-0 tie, Spring Hill has a good defense, and four versatile backs boost a deceptive passing attack.

Traynor, quarterback, is shifty and the best kicker on Southwestern's schedule. Palmer and Brasswell, halfbacks, are line plungers, and Bill Ching of Memphis is a blocking fullback.

His brother, Roger, plays guard between Thornton a good tackle, and Spafford, All-Dixie center last year.

The local eleven is conceded a slight edge.

A special round trip rate for students of $7.75, good from Nov. 28 to Dec. 8 is being offered by the G. M. & N. lines, assisted by Frisco.

Spanish Club Admits Eight New Members

The following new members have been admitted into the Spanish Club: Hi Lumpkin, Kendal Reinhardt, Priscilla Painter, Martha Bailey, Hinky Jones, Harold Simmons, Robert Williams, Richard Mays.

Members of the second year class who make "A" and those of the third year class who make "B" are admitted into the club.

BOBCATS SHOW MUCH PROMISE

Good Material To Pass On To Varsity

Southwestern's Bobcats have ended their football season with three defeats and two victories. They dropped games to Ole Miss Frosh, Central High, and Holmes County, winning from Northwest Junior College, and Jonesboro Baptists.

PLAYERS PLAN FUTURE PLAYS

Encouraged by the success with which the plays were met Wednesday night, the Southwestern Players are planning to produce another group of plays sometime after Christmas.

Included in these will be: "The Florist's Shop," directed by Kate Galbreath; "Overtones," directed by Boyce Leigh Sadler; and "The Persian Poppy," directed by Julia Marie Schwinn.

Music Club Will Give Concert Series

Louis Nicholas, president of the Music Club, announces the presentation of a series of three artist concerts to be presented by the Club this winter.

The first concert will take place Dec. 2. Miss Lois Maer, artist piano teacher at the Bolling-Musser School of Music, will give this concert. Miss Maer is one of the finest pianists in the city.

SAE's have donated the use of their house for the concert.

Benevolent Old Lady (touring sanitarium): "Poor man! What happened to him?"

Guard: "He was the famous Dr. Atkinson."

Old Lady: "Well?"

Guard: "He went crazy trying to pass one of his own psychology tests."

Lynx Students Test Negresses

In cooperation with the civic project for employment of negroes, the tests and measurements class (Psych. 22) conducted the Simon-Benet test yesterday on a group of negro women at the C.V.A. headquarters on Jefferson and Second.

Negresses making the higher grades will be taught to sew and other more intelligent methods of employment. Those making lower scores will be given manual labor at the Marine Hospital.

SOUTHWESTERN TIES MOCCASINS

Battle To Scoreless Tie With Chattanooga

Southwestern's fighting Lynx proved again last Saturday that they can rise to the occasion against a team reputed to be superior. Although the Chattanoogaans gained more total yardage than the Southwesterners, the final whistle blew with the score tied at 0-0.

Though somewhat vulnerable in off-field and thereabout, the Lynx always managed to throw up an impregnable barrier when the goal line was in danger.

Dick Whitaker, who re-injured his leg in the course of the battle, was Southwestern's principal threat. Fred Bearden and Gordon Fox, playing their last games on Fargason field, were outstanding in the line. Hutsie Harwood was the defensive star of the backfield.
