A.T.O.'s Will Hunt Possum At Turrell

Group To Be Guests Of Oliver Sanders On Sat. Night

The Alpha Tau Omegas, actives and pledges, will be entertained with an outing on the plantation of Oliver Sanders at Turrell, Ark., Saturday night. Due to the great need of exterminating possums in order to save the persimmon crops on the Arkansas farm, these animals will probably be hunted and massacred accordingly.

In charge of arrangements are Joe Moss, Carroll Cloar, and Grover Durant.

The date list is as follows:

Joe Moss with Ethel Taylor; Carroll Cloar with Mabel Frances Gray; Grover Durant with Effie Reid; Andrew Edington with Ann Galbreath; Goodlet Brown with Katy Reid; Bunny Brown with Kathryn Dickinson.

Pledges:

UNION PLANS STEAK ROAST

First Of C.U. Parties To Be Tuesday

The Cabinet decided to give the first of a series of Christian Union parties next Tuesday at the home of Mrs. R. L. Lilly in Whitehaven, Tenn. It will be a steak roast, with the genial Prof. Eric Haden, the faculty culinary expert, having charge of the cooking.

The grounds of Mrs. Lilly's home are beautiful, and the setting is ideal for an outing of this sort. The party will be limited to the first 50 who purchase tickets. A nominal fee of 25c will be charged to take care of expenses. Transportation will be provided in the school truck and by private cars.

Mary Kennedy Hubbard, chairman of the program committee, is in charge of arrangements. Clark Porteous has charge of the ticket sales, assisted by Francis Benton, Jameson Jones and Bob Pfrangle.

Further business of the Cabinet meeting consisted in the reports from the Bible class, Y. W. C. A., and Ministerial Club.

A.O.Pi Girls Plan Gay Social Events

The A. O. Pi sorority entertained Thursday night with an attractive open-house for the active chapter and their dates, the pledges and their escorts, and stags from the different fraternity groups upon the campus.

Within the next week the active chapter will entertain the pledges with a weiner and steak roast and at a dance, planned for the near future.

The actives and pledges will entertain the 1933-1934 Debutante Club with an elaborate dance, the place to be decided upon after rushing. Several members of the sorority are making their debut to Memphis society this winter.

COLLEGE CLUB TO MEET AT THE PARKVIEW

First Of Dances To Be Saturday Night

The College Club will open at the Parkview Hotel tomorrow night at 8:30, ushering in the social season for the year. Bill Taylor and his "Royal Collegians" again will furnish music for the College Club series of dances.

An additional feature of the dance this year will be a prize of $5 to the fraternity or sorority who has the most members present.

Coach and Mrs. John Miller and Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Baker will act as chaperones at the first dance.

The Debutante Club has been invited to the dance, and the new debs will attend with their escorts.

TRYOUTS FOR PLAYERSGROUP TO BE SOON

Kate Galbreath Is New Vice-President

Tryouts for membership in the Southwestern Players will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. All new and old students are invited to read for membership. The judges will be Alvan Tate, Kate Galbreath, Margaret Clay Faulhaber, Julia Marie Schwinn, and Gene Stewart.

At a recent meeting of the Southwestern Players, Kate Galbreath was elected vice-president. She succeeds Margaret Tallichet, who failed to return to school. Alvan Tate is the president of the Players and John Hines the business manager.

Professor Monk Discusses Highlights of Trip to England

Professor Works In Dairy, Visits Pembroke College And Sees Several Good Plays

While dozens of Southwestern students and professors were trekking away to the piercingly bizarre Century of Progress, Dr. Sam Monk, erudite faculty-member, was barging slowly across the Atlantic on a cotton boat to Litchfield, the birthplace of Samuel Johnson.

Bunking in the deportee cabin with two University of Missouri students, his voyage was pleasant as could be expected on a coal-burning freighter in mid-summer. To taste of a seaman's life he tried his hand at stoking furnaces, and surprisingly enough, found it none too warm.

Immediately upon arriving at port he proceeded to Litchfield, and there met and visited with friends he had known in his previous travels and studies.

To possibly get Angel Clare's slant on life, Dr. Monk worked in an English dairy for two weeks. He vigorously denied, however, finding a prototype of the fabled Tess.

One of his most interesting trips was to the Stratford Memorial Shakespeare Theatre. There he saw in what is considered the most perfectly planned, beautifully constructed theatre in the world, the famous bard's Taming of the Shrew.

In speaking of the London Economic Conference, which was in session at that time, he said, "The English people for the most part held no resentment against Roosevelt for terminating the conference; they were mostly disappointed, and perplexed at the turn of things." When questioned as to the British press comments on the Hull-Moley difficulties, he declared that "they were greatly amused to see Moley enter as the saviour of the conference, then have it explode in his face."

"Macdonald has proven a virtual failure, there is so little material available for leadership, and the Liberal party with its Lloyd George is wrecked to bits," he said when asked about the seemingly hopeless condition of English politics. "Also," he added, "one frequently sees 'black-shirts,' members of Sir Oswald Mosely's Fascist group, but it is hard to think that England would ever be won over to that type of government."

To Oxford he made one trip, and there visited acquaintances in Pembroke College and viewed the proceedings of the famous Oxford Centenary of the Anglo-Catholics, which was in session then.

During his two weeks in London, he saw what cream there was of the summer dramatic season, and viewed the famous Gwen Davies in Richard of Bordeaux, Diana Wynward, and Edith Adams in the Late Christopher Bean. He said that the theatre-going public of England was much relieved upon George Arliss' return from Hollywood to find that he had not lost his English accent.

A finely-appointed English freighter afforded him return passage, and although the trip was somewhat slow due to the necessity of dodging hurricanes, he said it was, roughly speaking, "most enjoyable." He debarked at Port Tampa in the midst of the recent tropical disturbance there, and proceeded by a wind-rocked train North.

Lynx Engage Bulldogs Tonight; Bobcats Open With Baptist Saturday

Coach High's Gridders Stack Up Well In Practice

Coach Harold High's 1933 Southwestern Freshman team, a strong combination of brawn, brains, and speed, on paper promises to be one of the college's most outstanding elevens. The squad boasts of All-State and All-Prep players from various places.

Jesse Sowell, guard for four years on the Olive Branch, Mississippi, team; Jim Tompkins, Fishburne Military Star for three years. All-Arkansas tackle "Red" Herman Davis, and Thayer Houts, Chattanooga star, are some of the prominent footballers who should shine tomorrow against Baptist. Harry Tipton, Tech High star, tips the beam at 165 pounds, and has several years of backfield experience in high school. Cy Williams, Beebe, Ark., is the 190-pound full-back that served as captain of his home town team, and received honorable mention for a place on the All-Arkansas squad. Ed Hodges, Whitehaven high luminary, is bidding for space in the lineup. All eyes should turn to see Rudy Gartside trot out on the field with the regulars Saturday, since he has put up a real scrap to get there. He is an excellent defensive man, and does some prime line plunging.

Other men that might have a chance against Jonesboro Baptist College are: Jim Merrin, Central High; David Gibson, Central High; Billy Mitchell, Central High, and all of Memphis. Eddie Wellons, French Camp Ace, is lacking in weight, but can be safely listed with the men eligible for honors.

William Evans, Tech High center, Gordon Medaris, Tech High, and Reuben Lester have done some excellent line work on the practice field, and have had plenty of experience to back them against all competition. Woodrow Jones looms up as a likely candidate for a guard position.

No dope on the Jonesboro lineup has been attained as yet, but the team will be here tomorrow afternoon to meet the Frosh at 2:30.

Fall Tennis Play To Start Monday

The men's fall tennis tournament will be a part of the big intramural sports program this year. All men students are eligible to enter the meet, which starts Monday. Dickie Dunlap will defend his title, and is topheavy favorite to repeat. Other favored entries are Ledsinger, Cannon, Oliver, Butler, and Stewart.

Union Eleven Reported to Be Strong; Game to Be Under Lights

Tonight a doughty band of Lynx grid warriors take on a big and heavy Union University eleven at Jackson, Tenn., under the arc lights. The Bulldogs defeated Bethel last week 18 to 0 and have a classy outfit.

Coaches Haygood and Miller have worked hard ironing out the rough places shown in both the offense and defense of Southwestern against Ole Miss last week. The sophomores on the varsity have now had their baptism of fire and have not been found wanting. The experience garnered in the Flood battle will be of great advantage to them.

Lloyd has apparently won the regular center berth. Whitaker showed himself to be a real star at quarterback. The redhead can run, kick and pass. Much depends on what he does tonight. Neil Tapp is a deluxe blocker and a whale of a good defensive man. Hutsie Harwood has been showing lots of drive and is a good defensive player.

Henry Hammond, though he did not start last week, probably will tonight. He is good at diagnosing plays, and gets away with unorthodox plays which make him a star. Harvey Jones, fast and powerful, will see plenty of action.

With such veterans as Fox, McCollum, Barnes, White, Bearden and Elder flanking them, the sophomores should prove steady enough. Indications point to a good, hard-fought game without either team having a decided advantage.

Probable line-up:

Lynx	vs.	Union
Barnes	E.	Armstrong
Hammond	E.	Mullins (c)
McCollum	T.	Hale
White	T.	Burks
Fox (c)	G.	Wright
Bearden	G.	Phillips
Lloyd	C.	Perry
Whitaker	QB.	Pudor
Tapp	HB.	King
Harwood	HB.	Alexander
Elder	FB.	Marshall

MISS McDANIEL FIGHTING HARD

A Southwestern co-ed is fighting for her life in the Methodist Hospital. When you receive this paper, she may have lost her battle, but she is putting up a real struggle and has a fighting chance to live.

Whatever may have been the cause of the accident, she now wants to live. This will gladden the hearts of her friends at Southwestern.

The campus is stunned. All her schoolmates know is that they miss Frances, who was always quiet and unobtrusive, yet ready with a helpful suggestion or a kind word in her soft, cultured voice. She was a brilliant scholar and could discuss the latest book or an old masterpiece with equal fluency, yet she never paraded her knowledge before people.

Those who saw her in the three appearances that she made in plays last year remember her as a capable actress. Her English professor called a theme that Frances wrote last year the best piece of writing ever done by a member of one of her classes.

We at Southwestern all join with Mr. and Mrs. McDaniel in hoping that Frances will recover speedily, and again be her own sweet self.

MEET THE WHITE COATS

Part of the most colorful life on the Lynx campus is completely unknown to most of the students, or at the most, is only a vague, hazy mystery. The white-coated crew of waiters in the dining hall affords enough glamor, comedy, and pathos to last the whole student body for the entire nine months, if its inner workings could be revealed to all. Unfortunately though, they cannot. The waiters show off to best advantage only when, in the privacy of their own group, they gather to partake of nourishment.

A crushing blow was dealt to the group by the loss of such natural comedians as "Bugs" Womble,

"Love Katherine" Gregory, "Blonde Butterball" Bornman (the funny little fat man), "T. P." Porteous, and "Apollo" Booth at the end of last semester, but the new recruits show promise and if they continue to develop as rapidly as at present, they will also be ready for Bolivar upon leaving Southwestern.

Louis Duffee, champion cookie-pusher of the campus, is fast learning to push out tray loads of beef and potatoes for starving football men. "Whistle Breeches" Williams, although still apt to bring out the dessert before the soup, is fast getting into shape to challenge Harvey Jones' eating championship of the school. "Little Burhead" Sherman and "Hinky" Jones make perfect companions for each other in their childish prattle and pranks. Hero John Fishback has been promoted from the kitchen crew and now gets his exercise carrying trays of milk to and from the kitchen several times each meal. So don't worry "Chief" Pfrangle, the prestige of your brigade will be upheld.

Incidentally, John "Ug" Streete (the Goof) is again taking the leading role this year and forms a nucleus around which anybody could develop a force. He is being assisted by "Moss-brain" Moss, Tom Jones and "Duke" Benton in whipping the newcomers into shape.

THE HONOR COUNCIL

There were two parts to your Honor Council Pledge. In order for the Honor System to function as it should at Southwestern, both of these pledges must be kept. You have sworn to both refrain from dishonesty in academic pursuits and to report anyone whom you see performing a dishonest act. Remember your pledge. The Honor System works at Southwestern.

TO THE NEW GREEKS

You are entering a new period of your development, that of a fraternity pledge. However, just because you have formed a connection with a Greek letter group, don't get the idea that you have any claim of superiority to those who have not. There is no room on the Southwestern campus for snobbishness. Don't cheapen your new relation with a false conceit. And don't forget that you have to pass your work to get initiated into your chosen frat.

You who are not yet members of a fraternity, don't feel badly about it. Chances are that you were merely overlooked in the mad scramble or that someone in the home town neglected to send a recommendation on you. Just go on being your own cheerful self, and you will have plenty of opportunities to join the modern Greeks.

Just a Bit of Dorm Life

EVERGREEN HALL

Evergreen has been a hectic place this week due to rushing and everyone was in a perfect whirl but that is over now and all are happy.

If strange noises of mingled shouts and thumps are heard coming from the vicinity of Evergreen don't be alarmed. It will mean that the teams of the north and south ends of the hall have challenged each other to another football game. The enthusiasm runs high at these events and the games are most exciting. Too bad a public demonstration of the ability of these players as well as the gymnastic feats of the co-eds cannot be staged.

A neighborhood feud has begun. The opposing factions are "dainty Ellie Mae," "Piggy," "Buttercup," and the "roaring Lyon" on one side and the small boys of the neighborhood on the other. The most dangerous enemy is the small boy who's on the lookout for the "gal" who tore his shirt last Sunday evening.

CALVIN HALL

Glimpses of Calvin Hall taken at random: Goof Streete Haunting the halls—Herbert Williams, Bill Hunt, Henry Oliver, and Raford Herbert studying—Cloar and Graeber vieing for laundry, cleaning and pressing—Barefield holding long conversations over the telephone—Charley Sherman muttering senseless things—Freshmen Scott and Galloway answering the telephone—Dunlap giving Dunlap Cannon a tally for insubordination and negligence—Joe Moss going out—Porteous seeming very busy and preoccupied—Raford Herbert being led off toward Evergreen Hall, as well as Freshmen Bethea and Atkinson.

ROBB HALL

"Music hath charms"—so believe the boys in Robb Hall; especially do those on the second floor. With the addition of the new radio in Freshman Jones' room, the quota for radios on the second floor is brought up to "one in four out of every six rooms."

Saturday's football game and dance at the Casino brought several Robb Hall Alumni back to the dormitory for a visit. Among them were Guy Mitchell, Shorty Simmon's roommate in '31, "Jinks" Joyner and Paul Calame. Several other visitors from Ole Miss were in and about the dormitory.

Freshman Turner, on the first floor, has been sporting an honest to goodness "shiner" ever since the game. The story he tells is that "just as I was about to scalp a group of Ole Miss frosh for their caps, some one slipped up from behind and pasted me right in the eye." At least the latter statement bears out evidence.

Those boys who were in Robb Hall last year and who did not return will be greatly missed this year. Hunter Scales George and Julius Klaus have enrolled in the University of Alabama for this year. Ed Turner has become a "big business man" and is holding down an important position with the Outdoor Advertising Co. Howard Ramsay and Bill Gammage have also become business men. Howard is employed in an Ice House on Crosstown and Poplar, while Bill is working at Marx & Bendorf uptown. Tom Woods has forsaken his Alma Mater and his Evergreen Hall for the quiet and restfulness of Ole Miss. Charlie Powell and Paul Calame are others who disappointed us by not returning. But Paul will be back in Memphis enrolled in Miss Wylie's Business School.

This'n That On Campus

Our Personal Nomination-of-the-week for the Cinema: John Baker, as Gene Raymond, and Boyce Leigh Sadler, as Ruby Keeler, to appear in a seven-reel musical, entitled "The 42nd Street Zoo in Budapest."

Quiz for the Inquisitives: Did you ever see Clint McKay without a stick of Wrigley's bouncing hither and yon among his molars?

No keyhole (known among the vulgar horde as "dirt") column is complete without a fraternity and sorority tall tale. This week's concerns the O. D. K. alumnus of a certain Greek letter club, who, knowing that another fraternity's president was approaching him to see about breaking a date with a mutually-rushed freshman, hid for half an hour behind the door of a room in the gymnasium. Cynic's Note: A third fraternity pledged the rushee.

The sorority tale concerns a very popular freshette who was locked in the lavatory of the sorority house until she consented to the pledge button. So that's how they work it!

The daisy chain for humor goes to the fraternity pledge who couldn't make up his mind. On the preferential card Saturday night he wrote down two fraternities for first choice. He was received joyfully and madly by both groups, given a pledge button by each. A half hour later, after due deliberation, one button was meekly returned.

Jack Turley seems to have fallen head over heels in love with Helen Gordon. I've never seen anyone get overcome so quick. I doubt if the feeling is mutual, though time works miracles. I've noticed that John Baker has been very attentive to that cute gal, Elizabeth Ford lately. Has there been a bust up between John and his Clarksdale girl? I hear that "Tilly" Thomas has a very guilty conscience over that paragraph about that reddish blond young lady which was in last week's column.

Savilla Martin and Sally Griffin are now having a free for all over Charles Maxey. He must have some hidden power! Ned Wright, so I hear, has deserted the line following Mabel Frances Gray and has changed to that pretty little Mary Eva Carroll. Dickie Dunlap still has a yearn for that blonde on Lombardy even if he won't admit it. I hear there is something over at the girls' dormitory that draws the attention of Raford Herbert. Johnny Bethea and Atkinson seem to like it over there, too.

Thass all.

—HIRAM GREEN.

Wednesday—Dear Diary, Oh, boy, am I a popular guy around here, dropped by the SAE house this afternoon. You see they came by and wanted me to come down and meet the student body. I went down back of the dining hall and found a cute little place there with a pool table. They had some pool sharks down there, but, gosh, I could beat 'em all. They would run through the first few balls, and then play around until I got all the high ones. I played several games and won all of 'em, and I hadn't ever played before. That is what I ought to do for a career. Somebody must have told everybody that I was gonna play, because a whole crowd was there watching me. They all had big badges on their sweaters and shirts—they must have been passes into the place or something. I gotta run along now to an ATO date, but I'll join SAE without a doubt.

Wednesday night—Dear Diary, My mind is kinda on the fence. I thought at first I'd like to be an SAE, but these boys would sure make a football star out of me. I played a little in high school, and they said that would help me a whole lot. I would rather hunt o'possums than play pool anyway, and they sure do that here—out on one of the brothers' big plantations. That sounds good to me. Maybe I better stick with my pool career, but, well, I better get some sleep right now.

Thursday afternoon—Dear Diary, Went out to Colonel Gaiter's place this heah aftuhnoon. Ah, had a couple of mint juleps, and, sir, they were mighty fine. Colonel John Hines said he would help me design mah famly C'ot of Ahms. They mentioned the fact that mah great grandfather was a Kappa Alpha, and that ah should endeavuh to keep it in the family. Ah picked up a Southern drawl there as yuh might notice, sir. Must run along now, ah have a date with, uh, the Beta Sigs. Ah, sho am anxious to keep KA in the family, since the way the folks feel about it and all. But I certainly would make a fine football player, yes, suh.

Thursday night—Dear Diary, If I could just join all these fraternities I would be the biggest man on the campus. Since I am interested in journalism I could take Clark Porteous' place next year, and I could probably be business manager of the annual, if I join this Beta Sig bunch. They are gonna be a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity before long. I could be a charter member of this chapter, and editor of the paper. I was editor of my high school paper in my senior year, and I know enough about it to make a good one. But being a Southern boy and all I ought to keep KA in the family. Gosh, this thing is bothering me.

Friday night—Dear Diary, I think I'll join Kappa Sigma. That thing certainly is exclusive. I went by the house and there were only three Kappa Sigs there. That must have been all or they would have been out to help rushing. I could have the whole house to myself most of the time—oh, boy, radio and everything and nobody to bother me. The three members were Alvan Tate, Harte Thomas, and Ned Wright. Us four could get along just fine, maybe there would be a couple of other freshmen, but that wouldn't matter. But, what about being editor of the paper? Heck.

Saturday night—Dear Diary, Guess what I did. I joined TNE. Yessir, they are the only ones who said anything about studying and that is what dad sent me up here to do.

Why—

Tobaccos grown in this country are "seasoned" with tobaccos from Turkey and Greece

THE ANSWER IS VERY SIMPLE:

TOBACCOS to taste right in a cigarette need to be flavored or seasoned just the same as you might season a steak or a pudding.

No tobaccos have ever been found that equal the spicy aromatic tobaccos of Turkey and Greece for this purpose. That's why we send 4000 miles for aromatic tobaccos from Samsoun and Smyrna, Xanthi and Cavalla.

When blended and cross-blended in just the right amounts with Chesterfield's mild ripe Domestic tobaccos, the result is a rich flavor and a fine fragrance.

Chesterfields are seasoned right—they taste right. May we suggest you try them.

Turkish tobacco is packed thousands of tiny leaves to the bale. It averages 400 leaves a pound.

ONLY HOPE

Clark Porteous and his paste pot assistant, Fred Rehfeldt, barely missed starvation Monday night when the wind blew the door to the publications office shut. The door locked and could not be opened from the inside. Hope Brewster, who was sitting on the steps of the Science Hall proved to be the "only hope" on the campus, when she heard the agonized screams of the trapped writers. After a gallant dash up the three flights of stairs the two were saved.

ACE LYNX BACK

McLemore Elder, 170 lb. fullback, should star tonight. Mac has overcome his weakness on pass defense and has been hitting the line for yards with regularity.

PICK THE WINNER

The Sou'wester will conduct a contest each week for the students so that they will have a chance to pick the winners of the various standout football games throughout the country. The one who picks the greatest number of winners each week will be awarded a brace of tickets to a local theater.

Check the team that you think will win tomorrow. Place the slip in the box that has been placed in the College Supply Store. All slips must be in by noon tomorrow. Be sure to put your name at the bottom of the slip.

MITCHELL WINS INITIAL RACE

First Ten Men To Run At Grid Game

Billy Mitchell pulled a surprise and scampered home with yards to spare in a thrilling mile and a half road race Wednesday afternoon. Mitchell was within striking distance of the leaders throughout the race, but did not assume the lead until about a mile of the distance had been traversed.

Tommie Jones and John Bethea put on a spirited duel for second place, with Jones coming in ahead. Charles Crump finished fourth.

The first ten to finish will run a race at the half of the Birmingham-Southern-Lynx football game next Saturday. In addition to the first four, Dunlap, Wallace, Breytspraak, Fuller, Hunt, Douglas Johnson will run. Waldemar Smith and Scudder Smith, brothers, were eleventh and twelfth.

There will be no team award for each race, but points will be kept towards the intramural trophy to be awarded the winning frat at the end of the year. Additional points will go to the men who run at the football game.

ENROLLMENT IS ABOUT SAME

Several Old Students Return to Campus

This year's enrollment is very little under that of last year. A much larger than usual, proportion of returning sophomores, together with a large freshman class has kept the enrollment up, even though the wolve's howling has grown louder each year.

The total enrollment to date is 386 students. By classes this number is divided as follows:

Seniors .....	55
Juniors .....	63
Sophomores .....	118
Freshmen .....	143
Special Students.....	7

Within this total are numbered several old students who have returned to Southwestern to complete their courses. Martha West, Mary McCallum, Theresa Lilly and Ione Adams have returned after having wandered in the wilds of Normal for two years.

Other transfer students are: Norma Lee, Soph., from Agnes Scott College; Sherman Kelly, Soph., from Miss. State College; Sue Hooper, Junior, from Vanderbilt U.; Evelyn Hester, Soph., from M. S. C. W., and Rolland Hazelwood, Soph., from Michigan State.

Teacher (warning her pupils against catching cold): "I had a little brother seven years old, and one day he took his new sled out in the snow. He caught pneumonia, and three days later he died."

Silence for ten seconds. The voice from the rear "Where's his sled?"

WHO'S WHO

The strains of "praise God from whom all blessings flow" signify again that we have come to chapel service, wherein the music of Louis Nicholas reigns supreme. Probably the first thing that happened to the Trimble, Tenn., lad at Southwestern was the changing of his name to St. Nicholas, later shortened to just plain "Nicky." Of course, Nicky does not resemble that famous yuletide personage in physique, but generosity and geniality are certainly traits in common.

For the past three years, Nicky has played the piano and made wisecracks in chapel. During that time he has busied himself with directing the choir of Southwestern and Evergreen Church, acting in Southwestern productions—his performance in "Pirates of Penzance" was of the highest order—heading the Stylus Club, and Music Club, playing in the College Orchestra and generally making friends on the campus. He is a member of O.D.K.

Students To Get Rides To Studio

Transportation will be furnished those students who wish to have their pictures taken for the annual. Henry Oliver, editor of the Lynx, has arranged to take students over to Cassaday's studio twice a week. Only a few pictures have been made as yet, and the staff is anxious that as many students as possible visit the Gray Studio within the next few days.

Subscriptions for the annual will be taken in the Bursar's office immediately after chapel, or at Room 202 Calvin.

New Rules Govern Lynx Club Awards

Memberships in the Lynx Club, formerly awarded by selection only, will be offered as rewards next year to the ten high point men in Southwestern's Intramural Program.

For the benefit of Freshmen and new students, the Lynx Club is an organization composed of outstanding members of the upper classes who assist the Athletic Association; especially in welcoming visiting teams and guests to the college.

At the end of the academic year, the total points of each student will be counted and the ten highest will automatically become members of next year's Lynx Club, receiving the blazers at the beginning of the fall term next September. In case a senior is among the first ten, then he will receive his coat before he graduates and the eleventh place man will be elected to the Club for the next year. Individual competition will be counted in track, tennis, and cross-country runs.

John Chung, '33 Grad, Returns

John Chung, Southwestern graduate of 1933, has returned to college to complete his Science course prior to entering Vanderbilt University next fall to pursue his Master's Degree in Science.

John has one of the stiffest courses in school, requiring laboratory work in each. His subjects are two kinds of Chemistry, Physics, and Biology.

Upon obtaining his degree at Vandy, John will sail for Korea, his native home, to teach school.

REVIEWS

Tranquil Moments, by Richard A. Thomas, Jr., Southwestern undergraduate, is a new book of verse published by the Dickie-Dux Press, and is now in its second edition.

Though the verses show a slight immaturity, they are, on the whole, rather smooth. God and his greatness is the theme of most of the poems. The influence of Thomas Gray is predominant, and "First Views on Old Bethany" might well have been turned out by the author of the famous elegy.

The influence of nature is shown in such lines as these found in "I Love My Garden":

"I love my garden in the evening;
When twilight falls
I am there beside the little pool,
There by the walls
Am watching the lilies of the night
Opening full,
White lilies, cups of pure snow
white,
More wonderful
Than any dream of prophet old."

A second book of verse by Thomas will soon appear. Tranquil Moments is extremely well bound, and is an attractive book. A few, quiet restful moments may be spent enjoying the little rimes, each of which will cause the reader to reflect a little, and perhaps drift off into a lovely vision or dream.

Jordan To Law School

John Jordan, S. A. E. freshman last year, is now enrolled in Cumberland Law School, Lebanon, Tenn.

LIBRARY FINES ARE LOWERED

New Rates Include Dues Since Sept. 15

The Library Committee of the faculty met Friday and decided on the following changes in the system of fines for overdue books:

Fines on regular books in circulation will be 2c a day. The former fine was 5c. Fines must be paid when the book is returned, or the old rate of 5c will be charged.

Fines on reserve books will be 15c for the first hour and 2c for each additional hour of the day in which the library is open. Reserve fines must also be paid when the volume is returned, or the old rate of 25c for the first hour and 5c for each additional hour will be charged.

The new system does not affect fines left over from last year, but is applicable to all fines accumulated since September 15 this year. If a person has already paid a fine this year, he will be refunded the difference between the old and new rates if he will see Miss Marsh, the Librarian, at once.

The new scheme has been adopted in order to lessen the burden of fines on the students who try to keep their records clear, and to induce those who do not to clear their accounts and not let their fines accumulate to an exorbitant figure.

SPORT SCRIBBLE

What a game! That's all that can be said about the Lynx-Ole Miss fracas. It's a cinch that Southwesternites will long regret that upright portion of the goal post that protruded just far enough to ruin Mac Elder's swell kick. It was quite a coincidence for the Flood to have their kick also carom off the upright.

The Mississippian (Ole Miss publication which appeared just before the game) predicted that their boys would at least treble their score of last year. Perhaps the fact that they were so far wrong is the reason for the paucity of Mississippians at the "hop" Saturday night. Few of them had enough money left to attend.

Union University's Bulldogs are reputed to be big and tough this year. They squelched Bethel last Friday night 18 to 0. Practically the entire Southwestern student body will migrate to Jackson, Tenn., to see the Lynx go on in their bid for an undefeated season.

About that pass that Neil Tapp caught. Our blocking back has been accused of being all thumbs. He was not supposed to receive the pass on that particular play, but Whitaker noticed him in the clear and whipped it to him. The result was a neat catch and a touchdown for the Lynx.

John Barnes and Mac Elder are sufficient reasons for the fact that the Mississippians could not gain around right end. The lanky end was whacking down interference and Elder's vicious tackles were a continual source of worry to the Ole Miss offense.

LYNX, OLE MISS PLAY 6-6 TIE

Both Extra Point Kicks Hit Goal Posts

It was a blistering afternoon, better suited to baseball than football, but two husky elevens battled up and down Fargason Field furiously before over 4000 howling fans. A noise like that of a vast army of locusts came from the noise-makers of the students. When the evening shadows came and the last gun shot, the two teams were tied at 6 all. Both extra point placement kicks hit the upright part of the goal posts.

Ole Miss, heavier and more experienced, outgained the Lynx, but were unable to show as much fight as the Red and Black team that wouldn't be licked. Brad White banged across from the one yard line to score for the Mississippians, while Tapp snagged a beautiful pass from Whittaker to tally for the Lynx.

Chess Tournament To Be Held Soon

In order to revive interest in the ancient and dignified game of chess, The Sou'wester is sponsoring a tournament which will start Tuesday morning. Everyone, including both professors and students, who knows what a pawn represents is eligible. A chart will be posted in the store Friday at 2 o'clock, and all entrants must sign up by Monday noon. A week will be allowed for each round. Three games will be played by each contestant in each round except the last in which five games will be played. There will be no entrance fee.

Soon after the termination of the tournament a chess club will be organized and a team to represent the school will be selected. Games will be sought with colleges in the surrounding territory.
