BOBCAT-ALL-MEMPHIS TILT ON TOMORROW

Student Tickets May Be Secured For 25 Cents

GAME TO BE PLAYED AT CRUMP STADIUM

All-Memphis Team Has Central High Coach

Southwestern Bobcats take on the 1934 All-Memphis team tomorrow at 2 p.m., in Crump Stadium.

Student ticket may be bought at the game for 25 cents.

The tilt, sponsored by the Lion's Club, promises to be fast and hard as both teams line up practically the same. Proceeds of the game will go to charity.

Bobcats In Shape

Coach Edington of the Bobcats says that his boys are in top form with the exception of Morton and McLendon. This week has been spent in polishing up both the Bobcats pass and running plays. Such backs as Pitt and Chappell are certain to come through with points.

The All-Memphis team, coached by Magevny of Central High, is confident of making a good showing against their more experienced opponents. Harrison, Bradford, Burns, are slated to do most of the ball carrying.

Frosh Determined

The Bobcats, while taking the place of the underdogs, are determined to take the honor eleven without the aid of Newton and High and add another victory to their record.

A O P I FOUNDER'S DINNER TOMORROW

Alpha Omicron Pi will celebrate Founder's Day tomorrow night at 6:30 with a formal banquet in the Rose Room of Hotel Claridge.

The banquet table will be in the shape of an "A" and will be decorated in the sorority colors, red and white. The center piece will be a bowl of jacquimnot roses, the AOPi flower. Betty Jane Bloomer is in charge of the decorations.

Ione Adams will preside as toast-mistress. The novel arrangement for the toasts will take the form of "The Good Ship AOPi."

TAPPING CONCLUDES ODK WEEK

Men's Reception At Parkview Last Night An Outstanding Success; Dinner To Honor Neophytes Today

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA climaxed its week of events this morning with the first tap service of the year. Four Southwestern men were selected to become members of the national honorary leadership fraternity. They are: Robert Brown, and Rodney Baine, seniors, and Harvey Jones and Richard Dunlap, juniors.

The men's reception held last night at the Parkview was one of the highlights of the events taking place prior to the tap service.

Vesper Speaker

The REV. W. J. MILLARD, pastor of Evergreen Presbyterian Church, and an Alumnus of Southwestern, will speak at the second Vesper service on Dec. 16.

ALUMNUS TO BE VESPER SPEAKER

Second Service Planned For Dec. 16 By Juniors

The Reverend W. J. Millard, pastor of the Evergreen Presbyterian Church, will be the speaker at the second Vesper of the year to be held Sunday, December 16.

Rev. Mr. Millard is a graduate of the class of 1920. He came to Evergreen Church from a pastorate at Belcher, La. He is a graduate of Louisville Seminary and an active member of the Southwestern alumni association.

The junior class of which Harvey Jones is president will be in charge of the service. The chairman of the decoration committee is Richard Mays who will be assisted by Curtis Johnson, Adele Bigelow, and Lucile Woods. Ushers are Francis Benton, Louis Duffee, J. O. Wallis, Bob Williams, Sidney Strickland, and John Baker.

BEST STORIES

The Sou'wester staff voted Richard Alexander's feature story on Grace Moore and Marion Cobb's news story on the debates the two best stories in last week's paper.

An enjoyable program of entertainment was carried out and refreshments served. A true feeling of friendship and harmony was manifested by the male members of the student body. Speeches by Dr. Diehl, Coach Haygood, Tom Jones and MacLemore Elder were enjoyed by all present.

Conducted in Chapel

First of the two tap services held by ODK each year was conducted in chapel this morning.

Rodney Baine, senior from Tupelo, Miss., has distinguished himself while at Southwestern in various fields, outstanding of which is his high scholastic record. Besides reading for honors, Baine is editor of the Senior Year Book for 1935. In his junior year, Baine was editor of the Journal, quarterly literary magazine. He is president of Sigma Upsilon, and attained first honors in 1932, and second honors in 1931. He is a member of the Nitist Club and the Music Club.

Robert Brown, Memphis senior, is president of the Senior Class. He has been active in all campus affairs and has a high scholastic rating. Brown is president of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. In 1933 he was president of the Publications Board. He is a member of the Nitists Club and Lynx Club.

Jones Received Cup

Harvey Jones, president of the Junior Class, is from Montgomery, Ala. He received the ODK sophomore award for nearest approaching the ideals of that organization. Jones is outstanding in athletics, having been a member of the varsity football team since he has been at Southwestern. Last year he was honored by being elected king of the April Fool Carnival Court. He is president of the Publications Board and a member of the Honor Council.

Richard Dunlap, a junior from Paris, Tenn., is an honor student and star tennis player. He was a member of the 1934 varsity football team. He is a member of Sigma Upsilon, national honorary writers fraternity, and The Sou'wester staff.

A dinner will be given in honor of the neophytes by the active chapter of the fraternity in the Bell Room of Neely Hall today.

WOMEN'S PAN TO BE TEA DANCE FRIDAY

The Women's Panhellenic Council will entertain with its annual backwards dance Friday, December 14, if the Student Welfare Committee approves.

The affair, which will be a tea dance, will take place at the Parkview Hotel from 5 until 8 o'clock. Bill Taylor and His Royal Collegians will furnish the music. There will be four no-breaks and three specials.

Members of the Council are arranging the dates, and the list will be published next week.

Price of the tickets will be fifty cents for stag or couple.

SPANISH CLUB TO ELECT HEAD

Club To Meet Wednesday At Home Of Dr. Storn

Officers of the Spanish Club will be elected at a meeting Wednesday night at the home of Dr. Storn. Following the election, a special program illustrating how modern Mexico celebrates Christmas will be given.

The club is planning several means of getting in a great deal of conversational Spanish this year by short talks on Spanish customs and an occasional debate.

Dr. Storn will also sponsor some illustrated talks on Spanish speaking countries and articles from Spanish newspapers will be regular features.

PLAY TICKETS GO ON SALE

Funds To Be Used In Christian Union Activities

Tickets went on sale Wednesday morning for four plays the Southwestern Players are going to present on the evening of December 18, in Hardie Auditorium. The tickets are 25c, and students are asked especially to buy them since the proceeds will be given to the Christian Union to help carry on welfare work.

The cast of "Who's Money" includes Tom Jones, Hinky Jones, and Betty Hunt; Maurice Carlson, Marion Keisker, and Betty Foley appear in "My Tailor"; Marion Spencer, Frances Smith, Tommy Fuller and Dan Wingo are in "The Eligible Mr. Bings"; and in Don Johnson's original skit, "I've Been Looking for Somebody Like You" are Bob Williams and Edith Chesebro.

OUTSIDE READING REQUIREMENTS TOO DIFFICULT - SAY STUDENTS

Maybe social aspirations are too high; or perhaps professors are a trifle hard about their special courses, but the work at Southwestern is too decidedly hard—too hard—according to the majority of the students questioned on the subject.

The general consensus of opinion—excluding the ideas of the more brainy among us—is that the reading courses and the outside reading requirements are especially "stiff" for the average college student.

Leading the protests against the amount of work required, Jean Reid expostulates, "The professors seem to forget that students are taking other courses which require as much or more work." She feels too that the reading courses are not highly beneficial to the average student, who needs the competitive spirit to make him do his best work.

Professors 'One-Classed'

Ethel Taylor echoes Jean's statement with her opinion. "Each professor thinks his class is the only one, therefore he can ask you to do an extra large amount of outside work," she says.

Be that as it may, Norma Lee, pulchritudinous intellectual, vehemently declares that she does not think the work is too hard, especially as compared to other colleges. She admits that the reading courses may be a little heavy but feels that the student need not spend more time on them than on any other course.

Mary Frances Baker laments the fact that Southwestern requires so much more work than Texas A. & M. which she formerly attended. She says that she has repeatedly complained to part of the faculty about this, but it doesn't seem to have done much good.

Reading Courses Interesting

Laura Lee Cooke, also a transfer from a Texas college, feels that the reading courses are intensely interesting but rather heavy.

"Red" Davis complains that he has to give considerable time to his outside reading, but he finds time to do his part for the team.

Louis Weeks feels that Southwestern does not expect too much from its students. He approves of the reading courses and feels that he gets more from this type of work than from any other.

Lucile Wood was most emphatic in stating her opinion. "I certainly do think the college expects too much! I am taking three courses and a junior reading course and I am worked to the fullest extent." "I wonder," she added with a mournful sigh, "what I will do when I have to take up another course next year."

Elder Places O.K. Stamp

That Southwestern requirements are certainly "o.k." is the statement which President Mac Elder has to make to the press. He may, perhaps, study more than some of his friends, but that is because he is not as smart as they are, he says.

Martha Bailey says, "The amount of work should be cut down. It's a good idea for them to assign a great deal, but it should not be compulsory."

Prof. John Henry Davis, speaking from a faculty member's point of view, admits that probably too much work is assigned, but he thinks that a certain amount of outside work is necessary. The thing to do, he advises, is to organize one's time so as to get everything in. This is up to the student, not the faculty.

Marion Cobb thinks there is too much outside reading connected with the Bible course. The requirements are all out of proportion, he feels.

Hardest Attended

Mollie McCord and Elizabeth Teft declare that this is the hardest school they have attended, but Hope Brewster (of the child-prodigy Brewsters, my dear) thinks the school does not require too much (Continued on Page Four)

Potter's Clay (Dirt)

Ye olde dirt slinger is up to his elbows in grime this week, and what's more he's in a slinging mood. So-o-o-o! Fortify yourself with ammonia and cling to the rail, Ye Hearties. The storm is brewing (which reminds us of the Pan-Hellenic) so on with the music... can you face it?

All the freshettes who have been diligently powdering their noses during chapel when the Gene Raymondish usher takes the roll can put away their compacts with a sigh. He's all wrapped up in cellophane with a "Do Not Open Until Christmas" tag on him. She's one of the home town sirens and 'tis said on good authority that a letter a day keeps the blues away—with a few specials thrown in for good measure. By the way she was here for the Pan with him.

Which reminds us that the Mississippi gals were well represented. The football man who made the sensational run in the Springhill game had a date with the sister of a former local SAE now at Ole Miss, and the Kappa Sig who has taken Harte Thomas' place at back-slapping had the girl friend from Tunica up.

The past few weeks have brought forth two interesting "red" situations... one the news editor and the other the senior biology assistant. Just a glance around the Chi Omega radiator will reveal the former gentlemen paying special attention to the society editor of this honorable publication. About the same corner will be the latter, even biology forgotten, as he talks to the freshette from Somerville. "We always did like boys who smoked pipes!"

That strange far away look on the Amocha's face can be explained by the fact that the University of Virginia had only four days for Thanksgiving. The most amusing thing at the Pan was the gentleman in question walking along by everyone who broke watching for his chance to break back and all the while continuing his conversation with her.

The freshette who has a record of "beauty and brains" in an older sister to live up to seems to be going places with freshman Kinky.

Looks kinda' had seeing the gal from Mobile and Harvey turn up all bumbled up after the Thanksgiving Day upset. Anyway it can be explained when one considers that a former AOPi was with her last year's shadow who was driving the car.

The Shot-Heard-Round-Meridian doesn't seem to be holding his ground so well with the daughter of Memphis' foremost librarian. Seems as if

I'm The Gink

O Boy! Did I go at the Pan. Course I didn't take anybody, but I always have a couple of girls on my strings and nearly anywhere I go one of them is there so all I got to do is rush 'em off their feet. It's a lot of fun to cramp their date. The most fun of course is breaking on the date everytime he comes up. It's harder to do, but listen, I have even swiped a date on a possum hunt. I guess about the only person that can do that is A GINK.

there's interference from a couple of the good brothers—the Smith Brothers (no beards—just kids).

The childhood romance of Rose-dale which was quite noticeable last year seems to be awakening again. The question is has the Debutantes Delight had his full of debuting and settled down to the things of fire-side nature. Anyway something is detaining the lady in question from returning to her Delta domicile.

Van Neste was quite concerned this week when he heard that the gal from Cleveland (Ohio) might have the measles. He was really relieved when he found the malady was not contagious???

And so—not to bed, but out to peer behind trees and watch for your slip-up of the next week. Be on your P's and Q's or the Dirt Slinger will catch you.

"NATIONALISM" PRESENTED BY A. C. E. TO HEARST TO DISCUSS

Publisher's Answer To College Editors' Group Is Given For Students' Consideration

Recently the Association of College Editors through the medium of their newspapers sent an open letter to William Randolph Hearst. This letter grew out of the idea proposed by Beverly Nichols in his recent book, Cry Havoc. The idea was to get to the bottom of the controversy between "internationalists" and "nationalists" and Mr. Nichols proposed to bring together a recognized spokesman for each side. Sir Norman Angell, outstanding author on international affairs, consented to state the case for internationalism and Lord Beaverbrook, owner of the London Daily Express and associated newspapers was asked to state the case for nationalism. Lord Beaverbrook wrote to Mr. Nichols: "If you will get Angell to ask me questions, I will answer them" and so Sir Norman Angell drew up a set of questions and Nichols sent them to Beaverbrook. Beaverbrook refused to answer them.

Questions Fit America The A. C. E. seeing that the questions could be asked an American as well as an Englishman and that the questions were as significant to America as to England sent them in an open letter to Hearst.

Here are some of the most significant questions: "Does William Randolph Hearst agree that if we pile on our already shaken and disordered economic system the further dislocations, unpayable debts, revolutions, which we now know are the necessary legacy of war and which so shook the relatively sound system of 1914, then it will probably finish off the present order in chaos.

Is it William Randolph Hearst's general view that the best way to prevent that recurrence is to continue the old armament competition and decline to discuss international agreement or organization?

If so, on what grounds does he believe that the old method will not produce the old result?

Drawn to Europe From the time of George Washington to Lindbergh there has not been a single century in which America has not been drawn into the affairs of Europe. Does William Randolph Hearst really believe that, if isolationism was not possible... even in ancient times, a great power, a CREDITOR NATION SUCH AS AMERICA, in the days of the aeroplane, can continue to pursue isolationism?

If, on grounds of national security, America cannot accept the preponderance of a foreign combination, why should Americans expect foreigners to accept theirs, especially as their preponderance (the Allies) resulted in imposing upon their rivals a Treaty which Mr. Hearst himself refers to as the UTTER INJUSTICE OF THE VERSAILLES TREATY?

Hearst Replies

Mr. Hearst, who is perhaps one of the most ardent nationalists in the U. S., did not refuse to answer the letter as did Lord Beaverbrook; instead, he blared his answer over the front pages of his many owned and controlled newspapers. Here is part of his reply which was under the head of "Internationalism and Nonsense." "I do not feel obligated to answer categorically disingenuous, specious questions propounded on the recognized "Have you stopped beating your wife?—answer yes or no" basis.

Nevertheless, I have no objection to stating clearly and comprehensively my beliefs as to what constitutes visionary and what patriotic internationalism. I personally believe in nationalism, each in its proper place.

I believe in benefiting all the people of the earth, whenever and wherever we can do so without sacrificing the interests of our own people.

"Love Thy Neighbors"

I believe in loving my neighbor as myself, but I have not yet reached the point where I am ready to sell all I have and give every precious personal and national possession to covetous neighboring nations who desire them but do not deserve them.

I believe in good faith and common honesty among individuals and also among nations.

I believe in honor among thieves. I believe in peace and in all sane measures to promote peace at home and abroad and among nations—but particularly at home.

International relations can never be maintained on a friendly basis if all men are liars and all nations repudiators of debts and duty.

I believe in disarmament when nations are willing to disarm. I believe that the best way to insure peace at home is to keep out of wars abroad and out of unnecessary international complications which may lead to war.

Don't Become Short-sighted

But I do not believe that a rich and envied nation like our own should place itself in the position of a short-sighted and misguided nation like China, and leave itself open to attack and exploitation by other nations which are ambitious, unscrupulous, and ARMED.

I believe in abandoning our military forces when our people can be safely and surely defended without them.

I believe in disbanding the fire department when all the houses of non-inflammable materials and in closing the idiot asylums on the day when there is no longer such an obvious and urgent need for them.

But oftentimes I am compelled to

Princetonian Comments

The Daily Princetonian has commented editorially: "In reply to honest inquiry he has given a Hearstian harangue intended for 'People who think.'"

"He has not answered a single fundamental issue in the letter which we sent him.

"For our humble part we hate the system that Hearst upholds, and hope with all the fervor of which we are capable that those whom Hearst does not sway will some day smite the system such a terrible blow as to leave nationalism and competitive armaments only a bitter and nauseating memory."

What do the students of Southwestern think about the matter? Do they find favor in Hearst's answer? Are they willing for the nation to sacrifice a little of its self-esteem to become better associated with other nations? Do they agree with the Princeton paper's comments? What's is their opinion?

We know that smoking a pipe is different from smoking a cigar or cigarette... and in trying to find the tobacco best suited for pipes...

We found out that the best tobacco for use in a pipe grows down in the Blue Grass Section of Kentucky, and it is called White Burley.

There is a certain kind of this tobacco that is between the tobacco used for cigarettes and the kind that is used for chewing tobacco.

This is the kind of tobacco that we use, year after year, for Granger Rough Cut. We got the right pipe tobacco, made it by the right process... Wellman's Process... we cut it right... rough cut.

The big Granger flakes have to burn cool and they certainly last longer, and never gum the pipe.

Sport Scribble

Several have suggested that the Lynx take on an easier schedule next year. The coaches may have this in mind, as the latest "grapevine rumors" have it that Southwestern will play Hendrix College in 1935. This school, located in Conway, Ark., has had several successful seasons and should give the Lynx a good game.

Nevertheless, the retrenchment program is certainly counter-acted by the Tennessee game, which is almost sure. The signing of the Lynx-Tennessee game makes the Ole Miss-Tennessee tilt practically a certainty. The battle will probably take place Nov. 9 in Memphis.

Dennis Harrison, Central High School halfback, received more votes for the All-Memphis honor than any other player. He is a good runner, and blocker, and will give the Bobcats more trouble than any other man. This fine back, added to the overconfidence of the freshmen, should cause the latter plenty of sorrow tomorrow.

Red Grange, famous collegiate and pro gridder, will take off his "77" for the last time at the close of this season and turn his interest to the running of a night club. Maybe he prefers "high-balls" to footballs.

The Kingfish's team went down in defeat at the hands of the Green Wave last week, much to the joy of many students and some of the faculty. The Senator and his aggregation don't seem to be so popular with many Tennesseans. This should be settled tomorrow in Knoxville when L.S.U. and Tenn. meet. In spite of the fact Abe Mickal, future All-American, has been handicapped by an injured knee for several weeks, he will undoubtedly do the Knoxville team plenty of damage.

The Sugar Bowl game coming off on New Years Day promises to be a very fast and interesting contest. It is interesting to note that two All-Americans will be in there fighting against each other. Smukler, of Temple, and Simons, of Tulane, have both made several mythical elevens, both play the same positions, and both weigh practically the same. The full-backs are expected to play a large part in every play.

TOMMY FULLER.

The inter-frat basketball games have been the means of discovering a good referee. Bill Lapsley is the boy. In one of the games he refereed, players from both teams came up to congratulate him, which I think is something unusual.

Lapsley says that his high school coach made the candidates for his team learn all the rules. This is a good thing to do for all games, for naturally a player can't keep from breaking rules if he doesn't know what they are. Lapsley will be a big help to this year's varsity basketball team, which will be strengthened plenty by last year's crop of freshmen. The basketball schedule is not yet complete, but it is certain that the Lynx will be hard to stop.

The Freshmen will come through tomorrow easily enough if they keep up the drive they have shown in practice. McLendon has a bad sprain; and coupled with Morton's being out of the lineup, it may handicap the Bobcats plenty. But Nickles' ability to dodge tacklers and Chappell's running and passing will be enough to keep the Bobcats out of danger. In the line, Ray, Freeman, Hillis and Maury should show up well. The Freshmen have been coached enough with three or four coaches behind them yelling "drive" all the time.

If Chappell plays football as well as he can play "Tarzan" everything will be 'okey' tomorrow. Chappell gets in one end of Stewart and pretends his "mate" is in a room at the other end. He gives a loud yell and goes after his mate, who has by that time hidden "herself" in a clothes closet behind locked doors. But doors mean nothing to Chappell; so there follows one of the best wrestling matches you have ever seen. Porter usually picks little McLendon for his mate.

First Team Remains Same Four Additions On Second Team

Following the usual custom, the sports department of The Sou'wester in conjunction with the coaches has picked the '34 all-time Lynx team. Four members of the '34 varsity were given places on the second team. The first team is the same as last year.

John Barnes, alternate captain of this year's Lynx, is one of the new men on the second team. Moon White and Cecil McCollum were given tackle jobs and Mac Givens is a guard on the same team.

Jeff Davis and Teddy Johnson, last year's second team tackles and Joe Pickering, guard, were given honorable mention.

PROESSORS TO MEETING

Dr. Diehl, Dr. Cooper, and Professor Siefkin left Tuesday night for Atlanta where they will attend a meeting of the Southern Association of Colleges.

Crosby Omitted From Senior Football Story

Jack Crosby, senior, was omitted from the senior football men story in The Sou'wester last week through error.

Crosby, who has played four years of football with Southwestern, is from Mobile. He graduated from McCallie Military Institute in Chattanooga where he played prep football. Beginning football as a lineman, Crosby was shifted into the backfield because of his blocking ability.

Crosby, a Kappa Sigma, is president of the Golf Association and vice president of the Panhellenic Council. He is senior member of the Publications Board and vice-president of the Stylus Club.

His scholastic record is high and he is reading for honors. After graduation, Crosby plans to enter Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration after which he plans to go into business.

RASBERRY LEADS LYNX TO 7-6 VICTORY OVER SPRING HILL TEAM

Wiggles 18 Yds. To Cross Goalline Standing; Pass For Point

Murray Rasberry scored 7 points late in the fourth quarter, giving the Lynx a 7-6 victory over Spring Hill before 5,000 Thanksgiving Day fans at Hartwell Field in Mobile. Rasberry wiggled 18 yards through the entire Badger team to score standing. Jones passed to Rasberry for the extra point.

The Badgers took the lead early in the third quarter when O'Shea took a 15 yard pass from Palmes and scored. Try for extra point was wild.

Late in the last quarter, the Badgers threatened when they drove to the 35, and a pass put it on the 15. After three plays failed Traynor dropped back to try a field goal. His kick was inches short of the bar.

Jones and Harwood did a good job of plunging the line. Dunlap was taken to a hospital after he dislocated his right shoulder.

"S" CLUB PLANS FOR DANCE, INITIATION

Plans for the initiation of new members were made at the first "S" Club meeting of the year. John Barnes, president, appointed White, Harwood, and Crosby as the initiation committee.

Plans for an "S" Club dance and for making the club more active were discussed. "They will have to earn their letters all over again," said Moon White when asked about the initiation.

Bogy Blows Bugle, Hits Wrong Note - As Usual

It's a smart girl who can fool Bogy, but there's a tall dark gal from Laurel who turned the trick. If all reports from various members of the team are true, here's what happened.

Said girl was sitting alone in the same coach with the football team on the way to Mobile. Bogy decided that he's the big handsome hero for whom she is waiting, so he stumbles around and accidentally falls into the seat beside her.

Shoots Her Line
And then Bogy began: "I'm the captain and star of this undefeated team," he rumbles in his best tough-guy voice. The scene ended with Miss Laurel promising to meet Bogy with some cakes that she would make with her own little hands, etc.

Next scene: Friday morning Bogy played steam-roller when the train stopped at Laurel. But alas, nary a female was in sight. Bogy decided to invest a nickle and refresh the gal's memory.

"Who is this," asked the Laurel Miss, answering the phone.

"Don't Remember"
"Don't you remember me, the star—"

"I remember a wind bag that I met on train the other day; and I don't like wind, not even a zephyr."

As the train pulled out, Bogy made a dive for the last car; but much to the regret of team, Bogy's tackle was good.

Episcopal Club To Give Reception Sun.

The Episcopal Students' Club and the Episcopal Student Council of Memphis will give a reception Sunday afternoon at five for all Episcopal college students at the George T. Wright Memorial, Grace Episcopal Church, on the corner of Lauderdale and Vance.

Dr. Francis Huber, chairman of the Council, will preside at the meeting at which the Rev. Alfred Loaring-Clark will speak. A musical program and social hour will follow.

SOHM RECITAL HIGHLY PRAISED

'S' Co-ed Gives Brilliant Dance Recital At Auditorium

Making her professional debut, Mary Walton Sohm was presented by Emily Hadley in a brilliant dance recital at the Ellis Auditorium Wednesday night.

Dancing to a large audience, Mary Walton invoked great applause as she displayed her terpsichorean ability. She was assisted by Al Hamilton, dancer; Netie Sue Jayroe, pianist; Peter Marchisia, violinist, and A. T. Moore, cellist.

Among the guests were the season's debutantes and their escorts, Peggy Walker being especially complimented. The AOPi sorority was also there, occupying the front three rows.

OUTSIDE READING IS TOO DIFFICULT

work, except perhaps as compared to Southern colleges.

John Perry Gaither was full of praise for the reading courses, but he finally admitted that he wasn't taking one so perhaps his views were a little unauthentic. He thinks that outside reading holds the student back and does not give him time to do all the other things he must do.

So He Ends It

To clinch the argument once and forever, let us hearken to the words of Dickie Thomas, who says (quote), "It's terrible! The professors assign too much—more than a student can conscientiously prepare. Each

Side Glances

At that swell-elegant dance Friday night given by Colonel Gaither and his able Panhellenic council were: . . . Woody Butler, Doug Johnson, Bob Foley, Dunlap Cannon, and even ol' man Walker Lewis with their high-school flames . . . Rebecca Laughlin in a swanky swank wine-colored velvet . . . Alfred Page and Marion Keisker plotting to jump through the hoop of multi-colored lights . . . Tiddely Ingram wearing Leslie Buchman's hat . . . Ann Jeter dashing in rather latish . . . Benjie making remarks to Cunningham about the grand march . . . Babe Black looking super, super gorgeous during said march . . . Johnny Baker dancing around with his gal from Tupelo, Margaret Maynard . . . Ann Clark Miller bemoaning, as were many other fair ladies, the fact that the Lamb was indisposed . . . Jessie You're always so sleepy if you have prepared your work that you feel awful, and if you don't prepare it you still feel awful. But worst of all, I have absolutely no time to be a star in the field of society. Tsk! Tsk!" (unquote).

"Bah!" says Mr. Baine.

They ought to know—

MANY men of the South have been "in tobacco" for years—growing tobacco and curing it—buying it and selling it—until they know tobacco from A to Izzard. Now folks who have been in tobacco all their lives, folks who grow it, know there is no substitute for mild ripe tobacco.

And down in the South where they grow tobacco and where they ought to know something about it—in most places Chesterfield is the largest-selling cigarette.
