M. V. P. A. GROUP CONVENES HERE MARCH 29 AND 30

Second Annual High School Press Meeting

GROUP TO WITNESS
APRIL FOOL FROLIC

Best Papers In Valley To Be Chosen At Meet

Southwestern will be the host to the delegates of the Mississippi Valley High School Press Association convention, which will be held on the campus March 29 and 30.

Registration will start at 10 a. m. in the directors' room, at Palmer Hall. Adjournment will be Saturday night, after Southwestern's annual April Fool Carnival, at which the delegates will be guests.

A cup will be awarded to the school having the best paper. Student editors are urged to enter issues of their paper dated prior to March 1. All copies must be in by March 15. To receive the award the school must be represented at the convention.

A registration fee of $1 will be charged each school sending delegates to the convention.

A complete program for the convention, which will include entertainment as well as journalistic studies, will be announced in The Sou'wester in a later issue.

READERS TO GET GOOD COMMENT

Editorial Policies Will Be
In Hands Of A Board

A board composed of three representatives of the student body has been chosen by the editor of The Sou'wester to formulate the editorial policies of the student weekly newspaper. The idea to give to the students broader editorial comment on campus subjects led to the establishment of a board composed of MacLemore Elder, Norma Lee and Henry Watkins.

In former years the editorial section of The Sou'wester has been limited, due to the many other phases that the editor must attend in the publication of the paper. With the assistance of representative students who are qualified to speak knowingly on topics of student interest this handicap is expected to be avoided, and broader comments given for your reading.

The board will be responsible to the editor.

A weekly feature, beginning this week, on the editorial page, will be an outstanding editorial from other college papers. Selections will be made with the interest of the Southwestern student in mind. A better view of the situation at other colleges and universities as compared at Southwestern will be given students through this feature.

Chi Omega Initiates 14, Gordon Has Charge

Chi Omega announces the initiation of fourteen neophytes. Ceremonies were held Monday night in the sorority lodge for Betty Hunt, Marian Spencer, Mary Brewster, Billie Mills Bush and Sara Louise Tucker.

Those inducted Tuesday night were Katherine Matthews, Florence Matthews, Mary Elaine Lipscomb, Margaret Winchester and Betty Foley.

Those initiated Wednesday night were Lola Sale, Betty McMahan, Josephine Ingram and Rose Lynn Barnard.

Helen Gordon, president of the chapter, was in charge of the ceremonies.

CHOOSE COURT MONDAY

Carnival To Be On March 30th

Fifth Annual Frolic Date
Announced By Council

Southwestern's fifth annual April Fool Carnival will be held Saturday, March 30.

While the motif of the carnival is to be kept a secret, Carroll Cloar, general chairman, promises the best carnival ever staged on the campus.

Presiding over the carnival will be the King and Queen with their court of six couples.

Following the carnival the "S" Club will give a dance.

Southwestern will have as its guests at the carnival, delegates to the Mississippi Valley High School Press Association convention.

Assisting Carroll Cloar in arrangements are Norma Lee and Jack Crosby. Decorations for the carnival are in charge of Thelma Worthington, chairman, Kate Galbreath and Duff Gaither.

HUNT REPRESENTS FRESHMEN ON C.U.

At a recent election, Betty Hunt was elected as a freshman representative on the Christian Union Cabinet.

The four Christian Union delegates to the Jackson, Miss., conference, last week end—Jameson Jones, Thomas Fuller, Thelma Worthington and Adele Bigelow—report that the same problems found on the Southwestern campus are prevalent on the other college campuses. The theme of the conference discussion was "Making Humanity Real on the Campus."

Prof. Gear was one of the speakers on the two-day program.

A O Pi Holds Initiation; Laughlin Gets Award

Alpha Omicron Pi held initiation ceremonies for nine pledges Monday night at the sorority lodge following a banquet.

Rebecca Laughlin received the ring awarded annually by the group to the best pledge. Rebecca succeeds Elizabeth Harvey who was selected as the best pledge last year.

Those initiated were Margaret Stockard, Ann Jeter, Ann Clark Miller, Alice Hagler, Eugenia Tully, Elizabeth Cobb, Virginia Cunningham, Jean Dolan and Rebecca Laughlin.

TWO COUNCIL SEAT PETITIONS CAUSE COMMENT

Woman's Undergraduate And Lynx Club Petitions To Student Council Reproduced

Two petitions for council seats, presented at the Tuesday meeting of the Student Council, are causing widespread campus comment.

The Woman's Undergraduate Society believes that their campus influence is strong enough to warrant a seat on the Council. Their petition will be voted on at the next monthly meeting of the student governing body.

The Lynx Club, campus good-will organization, feels that they too, should have a representative on the Council and have set out their reasons in a petition to be voted on at the next meeting.

Both petitions are reproduced below.

Lynx Club
To the Student Council:

The Lynx Club wishes to petition the Student Council for a seat in that body.

The Lynx Club's aims as stated in their constitution are as follows. Article 2, Section 1:

(1) To welcome and act as hosts

WHY ADOLESCENT HAZING?

Southwestern Fraternities Asked By ODK

Phi Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa wonders why Southwestern lags in so many student phases. Especially in the outworn organized hazing that still holds on at Southwestern. Eastern colleges and the thinking universities and colleges of the South did away with this adolescent wantonness as they outgrew it. Southwestern, we believe, has outgrown this frivolous pastime. Is our college going to retain this earmark of childhood and encourage our neighboring institutions to snicker at us?

Is it asking too much of college men to give up military school and prep fraternity pleasures? If not, why doesn't the Student Council dissolve the Sanhedrin?

ODK will have its annual national convention in Cincinnati, O., March 21, 22 and 23. A candidate or candidates from Phi will attend. In another article in this edition of The Sou'wester, O D K has presented a program for the developing of a better relationship between the fraternities and the college. Before there can be a fraternity there must be a college. The college, and especially Southwestern, has ideals. The existence of a fraternity on our campus is evidence that groups acknowledge support of Southwestern ideals. Entirely too often the attitude of our fraternities appear to be at variance with those of the college. The success of our fraternities depends upon their ability to draw themselves in line with the college. The ideals and principles of Southwestern have not been just talked about or indorsed, but in the past have been policies which actually served as bases of action. In all student activities the fraternities have a duty to the college. Southwestern is not satisfied with fraternity policies which fall short of those of our college. Check up, fraternities and sororities.

ELECTION BOARD IS APPOINTED

Will Have Full Control
Of Student Elections
This Year

An election committee has been appointed to have charge of the Carnival elections and the Spring elections by the Student Council. Jimmie Meadow was made chairman.

Assisting Meadow will be John Barnes, Sarah E. Gemmill, Olive Black and Robert Brown.

Full control of student elections was placed in the hands of the committee, appointed by Student Body President MacLemore Elder, with the approval of the Council. They will be responsible for setting of dates, balloting, counting of the ballots and announcement of results.

EPISCOPAL CLUB MEETS

The Episcopal Club will meet on Tuesday, at the home of Billy Mitchell, 1455 Peabody, at 7:30 o'clock.

The meeting will be a social meeting, with entertainment in charge of Jean Reid and Mary Anna Stockard.

RE-EXAMINATIONS ON MARCH 18, 19

Re-examinations will be given all students March 18 and 19 who made E grades on the final report of the first semester.

Today and tomorrow are the last days that re-examination cards can be purchased. They may be secured in the Bursar's office.

Journal Receives Englishman's Praise

The Journal, Southwestern's quarterly literary publication, has elicited high compliment from one of the most prominent English critics.

In a letter to Maurice Carlson, Edward J. O'Brien, anthologist and writer of Oxford, England, spoke highly of the magazine and requested additional copies. Mr. O'Brien has just completed his selections for the "Best English Short Stories of 1934."

FIRST FAILURE LIST

Professors will turn in a list March 5 of all those students who are failing any of their subjects. This will be the first failure report of the second semester.

King, Queen, And Six Court Members To Be Chosen

The primary election for the King and Queen and their court for the April Fool Carnival will be held Monday in chapel.

The court will be selected from the seven boys and the seven girls receiving the largest number of votes. The two girls and the two boys receiving the largest number of votes in the election held Monday will be in the runoff to be held Tuesday in chapel.

Girls will vote for the boys, and the boys will vote for the girl members of the court.

All matters pertaining to the election will be handled by the recently appointed election committee composed of Jimmie Meadow, chairman, Robert Brown, John Barnes, Olive Black and Sarah Elizabeth Gemmill.

Each week a couple elected to the court will be announced in The Sou'wester. The edition of March 29, the day before the carnival, will announce the King and Queen.

Student Council Committee Going
Limit

The Student Council has appointed a committee of Harvey Jones, Tom Jones and Robert Brown to take up the telephone question with the Bell Telephone Co.

Dr. Rhodes, of the Welfare Committee, has given the students permission to carry on negotiations.

The Bell Telephone Co. has made an offer of a phone at a charge for the first 500 calls and 3 cents for each additional call. The students feel that this is too expensive.

Several plans are under consideration. If cheaper phones cannot be obtained for the dormitories, the committee will try to see that telephone booths are placed in each dormitory. It is planned for the phone in the book store to be moved to the vestibule outside of the bell room.

If the phone cannot be moved, J. H. Rollow will be asked to build a booth in the book store.

$10 Prize Will Be Given For Essay

A $10 prize, given by the Commodore Perry Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will be awarded to any Southwestern student who writes the best essay entitled, "The Contribution of the College to Good Citizenship."

The paper should be about 1,500 words, reading time 12 to 15 minutes. It is due April 1, and will be read at the regular meeting of the Commodore Perry Chapter on April 9.

Only Southwestern students are eligible. Dr. A. T. Johnson has charge, and papers may be given to him. He will give any needed information.

Janitor Aaron Is Pneumonia Victim

Aaron Swope, janitor for two years in Evergreen and Stewart Hall, died of pneumonia late Tuesday afternoon in the General Hospital.

Aaron was an old-fashioned southern dandy whose type is rapidly vanishing. He found his greatest happiness in serving those for whom he worked. His "white folks" were grieved at the news of his passing.

LYNX CLUB AND WOMEN'S GROUP REQUEST SEAT

Both Organizations Desire
Seat On Student
Council

BOTH REORGANIZE,
NEW CONSTITUTION

Petitions To Be Acted On
At Next Meeting Of Council

Petitions from the Women's Undergraduate Society and the Lynx Club have been received by the Student Council requesting a seat on the Council.

Both groups have reorganized and drawn up new constitutions. These constitutions are printed elsewhere in this issue.

The Lynx Club is asking for a seat on the Council so as to be in closer contact with the student body. It is pointed out that the Lynx Club has proven its value to Southwestern, and that as an integral part of the student body it could offer even better services.

The petition of the Undergraduate Society points out that the main objection to this society having a seat on the Council has been removed. This objection was that the officers of the Women's Undergraduate Society were not elected by the women of the student body, but by the Senior class.

The Society feels that only through the President of this organization can all the women students be represented and have a voice in the direction of student affairs.

These petitions will be acted on by the Student Council at the next regular monthly meeting.

WOMEN VOTE 59 TO 36

Women students voted 59 to 36 in favor of a men's and women's assessment to bring a big orchestra here for a spring formal.

The vote was sponsored by the Men's Panhellenic Council to cause a reconsideration of the matter by the Woman's Council.

PI KAPPA ALPHA HONORS FOUNDERS

Pi Kappa Alpha will celebrate Founders' Day tonight with a stag banquet at Hotel Gayoso, at 7:30.

The fraternity was founded March 1, 1868, at University of Virginia, Lexington, Va.

The banquet table will be decorated in the fraternity colors, garnet and gold, and the lighted fraternity pin will be hung at the head of the table.

Ben Bogy, president of the local chapter, will serve as toastmaster. Charlie Ledsinger and Hi Lumpkin are in charge of arrangements.

Preceding the banquet initiation will be held for Francis Benton and Bobby Highsaw.

After the banquet, the members and their dates will adjourn to the Colonade for dancing.

Co-ed Stair-Sitters Hinder Education

Another co-ed problem was introduced at the last Student Council meeting, and it was one which has often blocked the students' way—girls sitting on the stairs.

The stairs are fine places on which to sit; but during class intermission, especially, students are in a hurry to change classes, and such a situation often causes delay.

How about parking on the outside? Spring is here, practically, and fresh air is fine for the constitution.

Existence A Privilege—Not A Right

Fraternities and sororities as a whole have failed to appreciate the fundamental truth that their existence is a privilege—not a right—granted by the college.

The continuance of this privilege is conditional and may be withdrawn whenever the beneficiaries cease to be of aid to the college in the realization of its aims and ideals. When seeking permission from the college to install a chapter on its campus, fraternities and sororities make two definite claims: (1) that they work with the college and cooperate with it to accomplish its aim; and (2) that they instill high ideals of character and service in their members.

It is high time the fraternities and sororities at Southwestern pause for reconsideration and evaluation of themselves. Too long they have scanned the searchlight of self-criticism. Too infrequently have they compared their actual record with their avowed aims. Members should ask themselves, "To what extent does my fraternity fulfill its obligations to the college? ... What is my sorority (or fraternity) doing for the college in return for the privileges granted it? ... Are the good works and services rendered sufficient to overcome the evils inherent in fraternities and sororities?"

Southwestern needs and has a right to demand the unqualified cooperation of every organization on its campus. Fraternities and sororities should work individually and collectively to foster the aims and ideals of Southwestern.

By redirecting their energy and activities along lines of self-criticism and constructive service, fraternities and sororities could vindicate themselves and, at the same time, be of material aid to Southwestern.—M. E.

A WOMAN WRITES

To The Editor: Last week the letter from "One Who Is Ashamed To Tell The Folks Back Home," was obviously from a boy. This week here is one on the same subject from a girl.

As far as I have been able to see the reason for the girls' refusing to accept the plan offered was because the Southwestern boys didn't take them places, and they were afraid they wouldn't have a good time.

Of all the assinine ideas I ever heard, this is the silliest.

When it comes right down to it, it's simply sour grapes. What I want to get across is the fact that the student body would be doing something for Southwestern.

If you think that when Sewanee had Jan Garber, other colleges around the country didn't know about it, you're wrong. They sat up and took notice, and if Southwestern started having a decent orchestra once in a while it would help campus life in the estimation of prospective students.

Admittedly the price is a little stiff, but every girl in the school knows some boy she could come with and enjoy the dance. No one expects the dance to be a whirlwind of breaks, and when even the most popular girls don't get a rush the less popular certainly have nothing to bother them.

I hope, for the sake of Southwestern, this matter can be reopened—and I sincerely hope that the girls will consider the prestige it would mean in having a nationally known orchestra.

DISGUSTED.

A FLAG POLE

To The Editor:

They call me "Betty," but I think this is a pretty good idea. Last Friday, George Washington's birthday, American flags were waving from practically every institution in Memphis, except Southwestern. Why this great oversight? It signifies, to me, a lack of patriotism.

If we can have a lighted Christmas tree in front of Palmer Hall for two weeks, we can certainly have a flag every day in the year. After all, it means much more.

May I suggest the erection of a flagpole somewhere on the Southwestern campus as a means of showing our patriotism?

BETTY FOLEY.

PI SELECTS HAGLER.

Alice Hagler, freshman, appeared last Tuesday wearing the green and white badge of Pi inter-sorority group.

Protect Shrubbery

Attention of students is called to the forthcoming buds of spring on the campus shrubbery. It is requested that students will not destroy the beauty of the campus by trampling and plucking the budding flowers.

Much care is taken in weeding and upkeep. Students should show their appreciation by taking pride rather than hindering the beautification of the buildings.

THREE YEARS OLD.

Walter Winchell slipped recently, when he gave a "hot tip" to Washington, D. C., papers. He said that a George Washington University coed was earning her way through school by driving a taxi. The University Hatchet, university paper, ran a feature about the co-ed three years ago, and she is no longer in school.

—Brown and White.

SHORT LIVES.

A columnist at the University of Oklahoma points to the discovery of psychologists at Western State College, Sunnison, Cal., that a kiss, by causing extra palpitation of the heart, shortens the average human life by three minutes. This apparently explains the phrase, "Dear, you'll be the death of me."

—Wick.

AN INCENTIVE.

According to the American Weekly, a recent graduate of Cornell is planning a nudist colony on a South Sea isle where clothes, cigarettes, the Bible, and the bottle are banned. Everything else, though—including love—is free. This proposal is open only to college graduates. A very good incentive to go to college—eh, what?

—The Davidsonian.

WITH PLEASURE.

A very good story—fish, perhaps. A college student, after hours of arguing about resolutions at a peace meeting, went to the bank to cash a check. They asked him to indorse it. In a mental fuz, he wrote on the check: "I heartily indorse this check."

—The Davidsonian.

GOLD ON THE BRAIN.

The Gertrude Stein influence has at last reached the class room at W. & L. A student took some economic notes and here's how they looked: "A bill of exchange is a bill of exchange is an order of the drawer through the drawer to the payee in pounds for dollars for pounds Britain pounds are backed by gold pounds and gold dollars are gold. The President fixes gold you fix gold does gold need fixing why fix it we never use it. ... and so on on and so."

—The Davidsonian.

ANOTHER PLEA FOR PRESS.

On the heels of The Sou'wester's editorial last week on college journalism comes an interesting editorial from The Davidsonian, where they face a similar situation.

Quotes from parts of the editorial:

"Davidson's claim to recognition and whatever fame she may enjoy rests entirely on those extra-curricular activities in which she comes in contact with other schools or the world outside. Her vaunted reputation for sportsmanship has been gained by her athletic teams. Her Y. M. C. A. has stimulated interest in the field of social service. The literary societies and debating team have fostered interest in forensic matters.

"An adequate coaching staff supervises the efforts of all athletic teams. A competent "Y" secretary directs religious and social missions. But The Davidsonian—?

"Is it not strange that the one medium by which all these accomplishments are recorded, the college weekly which goes to all undergraduates and hundreds of friends and alumni throughout the country, the journal which through its exchanges reaches in one week more campuses than all our teams visit within a school year, is it not strange that The Davidsonian does not have the service of even a part-time faculty director?

"Each year between thirty and forty men serve the editorial staff in various capacities. The reporters, drawn from the two lower classes, comprise more than half of this number, and of these a majority are freshmen with no previous journalistic training or experience. These men serve anonymously, and ask for no other reward than a place on the staff. Willingness, unfortunately, however, does not make up for the lack of experience, or zeal for lack of training; hence, many of the errors which subject us to criticism.

"The high rating which this paper has been accustomed to receive from the national accrediting agencies shows clearly the amount of journalistic talent which may be found in the student body. What we are trying to express in these few lines is a plea for the opportunity to develop this talent. If our predecessors have done so well under handicaps, what might we dare to hope for those who come after, should they be given the benefit of proper guidance?"

"The status of The Davidsonian is analogous to that of a football team that without any coaching, other than that given by its members, attempts to compete with a large number of highly trained squads.

"Within the past few years, all of the so-called "liberal arts colleges" have moved towards the establishment of more widely varied curricula. There has been a marked trend away from the cut and dried educational formula, and an increasing demand for courses that have not only cultural, but practical, advantages—a "carry over value."

"The addition of a journalism course would by no means mean an encroachment on the fields of professional schooling. It would, however, offer a breadth of experience and training that would prove of value to men in any walk of life.

"For, aside from the stereotyped formula of the news story and the playboys and they are found everywhere, no matter where one may look.

Can we not then safely say that the attitude with which some persons regard college is not one free from unbiased opinion, but rather the result of prejudices gained from warped or otherwise distorted information passed on to them by certain well-known ballyhoo agencies, and that the college student of today is just as practical, if not more so, than the student of the past decades?"

The library seems unusually well stocked with new, and, if we would believe the titles, interesting, books that should in some measure interest certain of the Lynx students.

Those among us who think their personalities should be rebuilt, will find just what they need in Arthur G. Melvin's new book, "Building Personality." It tells just what it takes to have that winning charm.

There is a new book that would be of considerable interest to our embryonic medical students. It is Joseph Collins' "A Doctor Looks at Love and Life." This is not a book that would appear to the student body as a whole.

Ford Maddox Ford has a new book, "Some Do Not," on the shelves. What the characters do not we don't know, but it is something or other.

"The Confessions of a Scientist" sounds interesting, but the title is misleading, since it has to do with merely discoveries in the biological and chemical fields.

"The Essential Preparation for College," by Cole, seems a bit out of place since we are already in college, and this is for those who have not yet entered.

We point with pride to our new inmate, Lib Pearce, who moved in Monday morning.

Saturday night was Chi Omega night in the dorm. Guests of the Chi Omega inmates were Muff Gordon, Edna Barker, Savilla Martin, Jean Reid, and Bernice Cavett. There was a heap big feast and much goings on until the wee small hours.

Betty Jones and Agnes Paine spent the week-end at "Ole Miss" while Frances Smith and Hooker had a most delightful time in Starkville.

WHERE'S JOE COLLEGE?

What Other Editors Say On Collegiate Topics

(Kentucky Kernel)

In years past there has been a tendency on the part of the public to regard college as more of a playground for youth than an institution of learning. Much of this was caused by the wide ballyhoo given to the rah-rah college boy, better known as Joe, College, and certain pranks such as the well-known fraternity "hell week."

The movies also may come in for a fair share of criticism along this line. They do not give us pictures of college which show the struggle made for learning by the majority of the students, but rather an exhibition of "hey-nonny-nonny" in order to produce a successful "musical comedy" box office attraction.

The lack of seriousness and attention to studies claimed for the college undergraduate is belied by recent "worry" surveys conducted in several leading schools throughout the country. These surveys or polls attempted to find what the college student of today is most concerned about. They list a number of subjects such as sex, education, the future, examinations, graduation, appearance, drinking, grades, proficiency in athletics, failure, etc.

Beside each of these subjects are three brackets with the headings: "Not at all worried", "Weakly worried", and "Intensely Worried". Through these surveys it was found that 70 per cent of the student population was intensely worried over the future and that more than half showed anguish over the thought of failure.

Such polls do reflect the true spirit of the college student of today. The large number of students who are working all or part of their way through college will substantiate this statement. The demand for more practical courses, courses which will give practical training for future work is also evidence of the sincerity of the student body of today. The increase in placement service bureaus, operated principally by students and which attempt to secure a position for the university graduate by listing his various qualifications, particularly his college record, also illustrate the fallacy of the "rah-rah college" theory. The fact that hazing and fraternity "hell-weeks" are dying out in strength is also indicative of a dislike for "horse play" on the part of the undergraduate.

Of course there are facts which belie the above statements, but are they truly paradoxical? Are the rumors of "wild parties" not nearly always exaggerated? On the other hand, does the college student "play" any more than the man or woman of the business world, particularly the "tired business man" who is known for his moments of weakness?

There are others who will point out outstanding exceptions, but with any theory there are always exceptions to the rule. Besides, is there any grounds for the belief that the college student plays more than the average individual? Life has its

BARNES LOST TO TRACKMEN

Physician Advises Star Pole Vaulter To Lay Out

Lynx track hopes were dealt a serious blow when Dr. Moore announced that John Barnes, Lynx track star, would not be in condition to take up track until late in April, due to his recent attack of pneumonia.

Barnes thinks it inadvisable to try any competition this season, since he could not get in shape before it is over.

Barnes hopes for an S. I. A. A. record in pole vault are lost, but he intends to get in good shape by next year for the Olympic tryouts.

Red Davis, already a point winner in discus, shot and javlin, and Porter Chappell will substitute for Barnes. Porter is a fair high jumper and Red is a good pole vaulter.

The number of trackmen out give coaches good material for a winning track team.

Operation to Detain DeHart Indefinitely

As the result of a major operation, Coach Jimmy DeHart will be detained in Winston-Salem for an indefinite length of time before taking over his coaching duties.

Mrs. DeHart, phoning his condition in to Dr. Diehl, left no cause for serious worry but said that his trouble was of the lingering nature and would require a long period of convalescence.

GOLF IN 2ND ROUND MATCH

Seeded Players Still Favorites For Tourney

Southwestern's second annual golf tournament advanced from its first stages this week. Practically all matches of the first bracket have been played.

At present, the seeded players still seem to be the favorites, as no outstanding golfers have shown up in the first round matches.

Among those advancing as the result of last week's play are Dunlap, Ledsinger, both taking their matches 3-2; Smith and Churchill. All second week matches will be played by Monday afternoon.

Dr. Baker: "What is the shape of the world in which we live?" J. McCoy: "Dad says it's in a hell of a shape."

Sport Scribbles

Plans for the 1935 Lynx track schedule are almost completed, and promise a full season for the cindermen. So far only one dual meet has been definitely arranged for — the one with Ole Miss, which will come off April 14.

As usual, the Lynx will secure meets with Sewanee and Vanderbilt. The contests will, in all probability, take place at Sewanee and Nashville, respectively. The special features of the track season will be a triangle meet between the Lynx, Millsaps and Mississippi College, probably to be held in Jackson, Miss.

Friends and students of Southwestern may be interested to know that Coach DeHart is the father of three future students of this institution. Two of his children are twins.

Track plans aren't the only ones under foot. According to the tennis moguls, we gather that a good many schools throughout the South have heard of our tennis club, and wish a meet. Although nothing definite has been arranged, it is certain that a long, hard schedule will be developed.

What other school can boast of such an array of good men? Our list includes Dunlap, Barefield, Cannon, Ledsinger, Stewart, Flowers and Mays. With these men in tow, the Lynx should have no trouble with strong teams of the South. Meets with Tulane, Alabama, etc., are not out of the question.

Coach Millers Mix on Date

Coach Miller may be able to keep a football team straight, but when it comes to keeping his dates straight—he'd make a good concrete mixer.

Last Friday Coach and Mrs. Miller received an invitation to attend the formal opening of the University Club. After stuffing himself into a tuxedo (it only took about two hours), with Mrs. Miller looking like a queen, they arrived at the Club in style.

But alas, not a person was there, and everything was dark. Miller retreated home and grabbing the all-too-innocent invitation, he noticed that the date for the Club opening was to be a week later.

BOBCATS LOSE ONLY ONE GAME

The Bobcat season ended with only one loss.

Six freshmen, including Frank McClendon, W. Blackwell, Ray Hassell, Clay Nichols, Porter Chappell and Murrah Gattis, will receive numerals.

League teams played include Union twice, Senatobia twice, First Baptist, Stevenson Chapel, Union Baptist, Highland Heights and Whitehaven, scoring a total of 385 to opponents' 250.

According to Dr. Rhodes, we would have to buy a bus and travel continuously for the rest of the year if Southwestern should fill all the applications for meets.

LYNX NETMEN OUT MARCH 1

Schedule Is Now Being Arranged; Many Turn Out

Aspirants for the Lynx varsity net team will don their tennis togs about March 1, according to Dr. P. N. Rhodes, director.

The arrangement of a schedule is now under way.

About ten or twelve men will vie for positions on the team this year, with the members of last year's freshman team threatening to gain a ranking place.

The regulars of last year's varsity are all back, with the exception of Henry Oliver. Among these men are Dickie Dunlap, Dorsey Barefield, David Flowers, Gene Stewart, Rick Mays and Capt. Charles Ledsinger.

Two outstanding racquet swingers from the freshman team of last year are Dunlap Cannon and Woody Butler.

Last year's team was one of the best in the South. The marked improvement and experience of the regulars, and the addition of Cannon and Butler should make the Lynx 1935 net team the best in the history of the college.

The selection, buying and preparation of the right kinds of Turkish tobaccos for making Chesterfield Cigarettes is a business in itself . . .

WE have buyers in all the tobacco markets of Turkey and Greece, including Xanthi, Cavalla, Smyrna and Samsoun.

And at Smyrna Chesterfield has built the most modern tobacco plant in the Near East.

Here the spicy, aromatic Turkish leaf is sorted and graded under the eyes of our own tobacco men.

Then it is put away to age in its own climate for two years or more to make it milder and better-tasting.

When you blend and cross-blend the right kinds of aromatic Turkish tobacco with mild ripe home-grown tobaccos as we do in Chesterfield you have . . .

ALLEN TATE CALLED BEST CRITIC IN AMERICA TODAY

Louis Untermeyer, Distinguished Poet, Showers Compliments On Lynx Professor

Salving the stings inflicted by H. L. Mencken and others of the effete East, distinguished poet and critic Louis Untermeyer showered compliments upon Professor Allen Tate and Southern literature in general during his visit in Memphis Wednesday.

In an interview with the local press he described as "surprising" the unusually belligerent work of Southern intellectuals in a region where there is such a tradition of fundamentalism and ultra-conservative schools.

Mr. Untermeyer had more than moderate praise for Prof. Tate. He declared, "And then there is your Allen Tate at Southwestern; he is the best critic in America today. I used to say he was the best young critic, but I've taken out the qualifying diminutive. Not only is he a critic of letters but a social critic as well. Don't forget Merrill Moore, the younger of the Agrarian group... they are all poets; it's amazing."

Music Club To Hear Mrs. Jordan

Sunday afternoon, March 10, at 3:30 p.m., in the SAE lodge, the Southwestern Music Club, under the leadership of its president, Ethel Taylor, will present in recital Mrs. R. L. Jordan, soprano, and Mrs. Ben Waller, pianist.

Mrs. Jordan is one of Memphis' prominent singers. She has studied under Herbert Witherspoon and Frank La Forge in her ten years of training. Soloist at St. John's Methodist and Calvary Episcopal churches, Mrs. Jordan has concertized throughout the South. She has been especially recognized for her duet recitals with Elsa Gerber.

This concern will continue the series of intimate recitals in which the club has presented Lois Maer, Herbert Summerfield, Virginia Sledge, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Henkel, the Cortese Trio, Wiktor Labunski, Patrick O'Sullivan, and other outstanding artists.

and to give a group affiliation especially to all co-eds not connected with any other group.

The freshman, sophomore, and junior classes each elect a president and secretary, and the entire organization elects a president, vice president and secretary-treasurer from the members of the Senior class to serve both as officers of that class and of the society as a whole. These officers constitute a board which directs the organization.

The Woman's Undergraduate Society gave a tea for the wives of the faculty and all the new women students at the opening of the College in September, and is planning another entertainment for its members this semester. Also the Woman's Undergraduate Society contributed very materially to the Christian Union Christmas Tree. It has offered to sponsor one of the teas given by various organizations in the city of the TERA workers of Memphis.

Because the Woman's Undergraduate Society has not been considered a particularly active organization in the past, its president was refused a seat on the Council this year. But the Woman's Undergraduate Society is now asking for its former place on the Student Council because (1) it is now more active than formerly, and (2) it is only through the President of this organization that all the women students are represented, and can have a voice in the direction of student affairs. The proportion of men members of the Student Council far exceeds their proportion in the student body. There are 139 women and 205 men students; or a ratio of 1 to 1.47. There are two women members of the Council and 12 men; or a ratio of 1 to 7. This does not seem a fair representation.

THELMA WORTHINGTON, Pres. TERESA LILLY, Secretary.

Quite a big problem has developed in our hall concerning the phone question. Not content with the present location of the free phone, which is only about twenty-five feet from Calvin, the inmates have found a method of conquering the pay situation. However, this came to an untimely end last Monday night, when Dr. Bassett pulled the phone off the wall when he dropped his nickel in.

LYNX CLUB, PETITIONING COUNCIL, IS GOOD-WILL GROUP

Organization Has Taken New Life This Year And Proved Worth

(Editor's Note: This is the third as the final number selected. The Student Council is expected to act on the recommendations of the club at its regular meeting next month.)

The Lynx Club has petitioned the Student Council for membership, adopted a new constitution, and expects a New Deal as an independent campus organization.

This new move, instituted by the president, Harold Simmons, will place the group no longer responsible to the Athletic Association, which recently sponsored the "Intramural Club". Under its plan the Lynx Club will receive financial support from the Student Council.

The new constitution describes the functions of the Club: (1) To welcome and act as hosts to visiting college teams and guests of the college. (2) To act as ushers at athletic contests. (3) To promote, encourage, and manage interclass and interfraternity activities and thus foster a stronger spirit of unity among student groups. (4) To act in an official capacity at college functions.

The membership of the Lynx Club is limited to twenty male upperclassmen, with the cheer leader and president of the student body as ex-officio members. The third week of the fall term new members are culled from a nominated list twice as large
