STUDENTS MAKE CONCENTRATED LIBRARY DRIVE

Effort To Bring About Better Conduct In Library

STUDENT LEADERS BACK MOVEMENT

During the past week a concentrated effort has been made by leaders of the student body to make the students take notice of the fact that something must be done by them to improve the conduct in the library.

Points stressed during the past week were that if the students would not improve the order the faculty would be forced to take a hand in the matter. Student assistants have stressed their side of the question and expressed a willingness to cooperate on any action taken by the student body. As a further help it was suggested that the Men's and Women's social rooms in Palmer Hall should stay open the same hours as the library.

The Sou'wester stressed the importance for better student conduct in the Library in an editorial last week.

Rules Adopted

The following are the rules which govern conduct in the library as passed by the council last year and will be voted upon by the student body tomorrow:

Since the Library is the most convenient place for students to use as a study hall;

And since there is an increasing large number of Honors students and reading students who of necessity must use the Library;

The Student Council and the Librarian have approved and adopted the following rules:

(1) The Library assistant who is on duty shall request any student or students who are guilty of creating a disturbance or in any way annoying those wishing to study or read to be quiet. If the warning is disregarded he shall then ask the offender or offenders to leave the Library.

(2) Any student not complying with such a request shall be reported to the Student Council, and if found guilty shall forfeit his right to use the Library for study the remainder of the semester.

(3) Three such expulsions from the library, even when complied with, cause a student to forfeit his privilege of using the Library for study the remainder of the semester.

The Council also looks with disfavor upon the practice of calling students in the Library, because it disturbs those studying, and should such disturbances continue, the Council will take the necessary steps to eliminate such occurrences.

SOUTHWESTERN STUDENT COUNCIL,

Approved by Mary Marsh, Librarian.

The resolutions which have been posted in conspicuous places about the campus will be found at the top of this page.

ADAMS TO FINISH A.B. REQUIREMENTS

Ione Adams will be the only student to finish her degree requirements in February.

She will leave soon after mid-term for a Caribbean Cruise from which she will return in time to take her diploma at the June graduating exercises.

Learn In A Week—So Strick Starts In

Have you seen the Mark Anthony from Dubbs, Miss., limping about the campus with a very painful look on his face lately?

Well, it all started in SAE meeting when the Brothers decided to do something different and have a skating party.

"But I can't skate," objected Strickland in a small voice. (The first time he ever spoke in a small voice).

Learn In A Week!

"You can learn in a week, can't you, Moron?" asked some of the affectionate brothers.

So Strick has been learning. Every afternoon he diligently sprawls from the gravel driveway through the campus to the door of Palmer Hall. He does just suuuuh—well until he has to turn around, then he stops, calls the nearest person and clinging to his or her shoulder, as the case may be—he whirls around and then—he's off—off balance again.

No Sidewalks

Don't be amazed that some one as old as said gentleman doesn't know the fine art of skating. If you came from a puddle the size of his fair city, which has no side walks, and if you were an SAE and had to pay out your good money for a skating party—well, then—you'd probably be bruised too!

SCHOOL PRESS PLANS MADE

Second Annual Meet To Be Here; Seifkin And Meadow In Charge

Plans are being completed for the second Mississippi Valley High School Press convention to be held at Southwestern, probably the second week in April, it is announced by Prof. Gordon Siefkin, adviser to the Press Club.

The Press Club, with Jimmie Meadow as president, will serve as hosts. An extensive program of entertainment has been planned. Several men prominent in the newspaper field will discuss the fundamentals of newspaper work with the delegates.

A contest will be held to select the best high school paper and prizes will be awarded to the winners.

The exact date and program will be announced at a later date.

KAPPA ALPHA TO OBSERVE LEE DAY

The birthday of Gen. Robert E. Lee—the "godfather" of Kappa Alpha fraternity—is an event of importance to members of the fraternity. Saturday night the active chapter at Southwestern and alumni members in Memphis and the Tri-States will give a banquet at the Peabody.

Election of officers for the alumni association also will take place. Robert M. Gamble has served as president during the past year. John Gaither is president of the Southwestern chapter.

Judge Charles N. Burch will deliver the address on the life of General Lee. Governor Conner of Mississippi, one of the guests of honor, also will talk.

DIEHL, SHEWMAKER TO ATLANTA

Dr. Diehl and Dr. Shewmaker have been attending the annual meeting of the Association of American Colleges in Atlanta.

MID-SEMESTER EXAMS CLOSE ON THURSDAY, 31ST

Registration For Second Semester To Be On Saturday

FEE OF $2.50 FOR LATE REGISTRATION

Examinations will be concluded on Thursday, January 31, and the next day will be an inter-semester holiday. Saturday, all students will register for the second semester. This includes paying all fees and making any necessary changes. A delayed registration fee of $2.50 will be charged after 1 p.m., Saturday. Any student who wishes to pay his fees before the day of registration may do so at the Bursar's office.

Grades From Professors

Grades for the first semester will be disclosed at the discretion of the individual professor. The Registrar's office will not be allowed to give out grades during or prior to the registration period.

Students will be automatically classified in the same courses for the second semester unless a change is made officially through the Dean's office. This applies to discontinuing a course even though the course is concluded as well as changing to a new course. The only case in which it does not apply is when the student continues under the same professor at the same hour on the schedule.

Week To Change Course

After the first week of the semester a change of course involves a fee of $2.50. Any student who knowingly makes an unofficial change of course is automatically suspended from college. Requests for changes which involve irregularities in classification must be made in writing to the Dean.

Sophomores will be required to change to another reading course group. Juniors and Seniors will not be allowed to change their reading courses without special permission from the Reading Course Committee.

Members of the faculty will be in the library from 9 until 12 during the day of registration for consultation with students.

Classes will begin for the second semester Monday, February 4.

PAN COUNCIL OPEN TO EDITOR

Sou'wester Chief Made Ex-Officio Member Of Council

At a recent meeting of the Men's Panhellenic Council it was decided to make the editor of The Sou'wester an ex-officio member of the council.

This move was made so that The Sou'wester could get the news of the council from direct observation. Heretofore it has been necessary for the paper to get its news second hand.

Jimmie Meadow, editor of The Sou'wester, will attend all meetings of the council so as to insure a correct presentation of the news of the council to the students through the paper.

Notice

Modern language tests will be given to those students who wish to satisfy the modern language requirement for a degree, on Friday, January 18, at 3 p.m., in room 108, Science Hall.

RESOLVED: (1) That the rules governing student order in the Library (as shown and passed upon by the Student Council and approved by the Librarian, 1934) be put into effect beginning immediately;

(2) That said rules shall continue to be in effect until abrogated or amended by formal vote of the Student Body;

(3) That amendments to these rules may be recommended by any party concerned, but that such suggested changes shall not be considered as binding upon the Student Body until approved by it;

(4) That neither these rules nor any subsequent amendments to them be interpreted in such a way as to conflict with the policies of Southwestern.

ODD INCIDENTS

A notice in the Boston University News asks all co-eds to keep away from the football team until after a certain game and is signed by the coach . . . The women at William & Mary have an annual manless dance . . . Directors at the University of Oxford in England once voted not to install baths in the dormitories, because the students only attended school eight months in a year . . . For the first time in seventy years dancing is to be permitted at Texas Christian University . . . At the University of California at Los Angeles, candidates have to be heavily guarded to prevent their being kidnapped by their opponents . . . At Denver University male freshmen are thrown out of football games if caught bringing a date with them.

PRIVILEGES FOR INTELLECT

This year more than a third of the freshman class at Yale will be permitted to skip some regular work under a system whereby unusually bright students advance more rapidly than their duller classmates.

A very good idea it seems and should be adopted by more colleges. Either do this or devote more time to individual instruction. It is a notorious fact that most of the Universities in the U. S. are noted for their mass production of students. This could be eliminated by the addition of more reading courses whereby the smarter student would be allowed to advance according to his ability.

NEW PLAN ADVANCED

In one of their informal "bull sessions" a group of students at the University of Washington elevated their discussion to a plane higher than usual in such forums and worked out a singular plan of education.

Five points were outlined in their plan:

1. Class attendance will not be compulsory.
2. Only one final test will be given.
3. No grading system; either pass or fail.
4. A 25-hour week; five-hour day, and five-day week.
5. One subject will consume all

"BRUNO HAUPTMANN GUILTY?"
"YES!"--MAJORITY OF STUDENTS

"Too Much Publicity Given Trial"—Opinion Of Many Southwestern Students

Is Hauptmann guilty? Is the evidence strong enough to convict him if he is guilty? These questions are international topics for discussion as the world focuses its eyes on the little town of Flemington, N. J., where the famous trial is taking place.

In an interview with Southwestern students this week, a reporter found a variety of opinions ranging from "positively he is guilty!" to "the evidence is not strong enough to convince."

A few of the opinions of students follow:

Had An Important Part

Sara Louise Tucker: "I think Hauptmann had a very important part in the kidnapping, but I'm not sure at all that he committed the murder. I think he should be dealt with severely if he is found guilty."

Francis Benton: "Both sides are using false evidence. I think more people are involved with Hauptmann than have been mentioned. There is plenty of evidence to convict him but a lot of it is hokey."

Grace Waring: "I think it is absurd of Lindbergh to say he is positive it was Hauptmann's voice he heard, when he heard it only once and then he was 70 yards away and it was nearly three years ago."

Believe In Conviction

Lucile Patton: "I believe he will be convicted on the evidence produced. The prosecution has put up so many people who apparently positively recognize him that I really believe he is guilty."

Bobby Highsaw: "I believe he is guilty of the kidnapping, but he hasn't been convincingly proved guilty of the murder. I'd hate to trust his life to this particular jury. I think Reilly (Hauptmann's lawyer) is too blustering and creates hostile feeling."

Elizabeth Pearce: "It would be a good thing if Hauptmann is guilty if drastic means of punishment are used. He should be used as an example for all other kidnappers in America."

Trial Should Not Be Public

Dr. Wilson: "It's disgraceful that the trial is being made so public. Filming it should be prohibited. It's morbid and it encourages crime."

George Williss: "I think he's guilty, and I believe he will be convicted on so much overwhelming evidence. I'd like to be on the jury and I think Hauptmann's iron will crack over."

of the student's time until it is completed.

The first three suggestions are not unusual. They have been argued about many times. But the last two are sufficiently new and interesting to be worth comment.

The request for a 25-hour week sounds like the ultimatum of a heavily over-worked group. However, it might be a neat bit of dramatic irony if the sequel of such a plan proved more onerous than the present system.

Their last suggestion seems better motivated, especially at the present time. When the press of finals necessitates a frenzied packing of five subjects into one brain, one has the feeling of attempting to select a lunch in a cafeteria in five seconds, and finally getting hash.

Hash may be better than starving on nothing, but reason suggests the inexpediency of everlasting compromise.—Minnesota Daily.

When one thinks of gossip these days a precarious moment is wasted, but nevertheless there is still a strong undercurrent around the campus. A few words to the wise should be sufficient to those young men (or are they children?) who were so impressed by a picture show that they must run around and yell "Union". Current opinion has it that the women on the campus are losing all love for their "man" Graeber.

Admires Mrs. Hauptmann

Richard Thomas: "I believe he is guilty but can't be too positive yet. The evidence is very strong against him. I admire Mrs. Hauptmann for her faith in her husband and her courage."

Edna Barker: "I hope he is guilty because I'm sure he will be convicted and I'd hate to see an innocent man suffer for something he didn't do."

Martha Shaffer: "It's too early in the trial to form any opinion. The defense hasn't even presented its case yet. I'd hate to be on the jury, it's too great a problem and too involved."

Hasn't Read About It!

Dr. Townsend: "I haven't read newspapers about the trial but I will read it when it is put in book form."

Savilla Martin: "At first I didn't think he was guilty at all. I suspected Jafis of being connected with it. Now since the evidence is piling up on Hauptmann I believe he is guilty of being a party in the case."

Jimmy Meadow: "There's an awful lot of circumstantial evidence, but it will be a hard job to convict him. He has held up remarkably but whether he is guilty or not he is bound to break before the trial is over."

I am searching for the girl of my dreams. She must wear hair rollers and cold cream all day so she will be beautiful when I return home from my day's toil. Where can I find such a girl?

Must she be able to cook like Grandma and turn out Vionnet models, too? You are asking a lot but maybe the girl down in Mobile will qualify.

Sport Scribble

Why not a boxing team for Southwestern? Practically every other school that the Lynx compete with in athletics has some form of boxing, or wrestling, team. We note that Millsaps has decided to add boxing to their athletic program. This is not the only school to do this in the last few years, but they are merely placing themselves with Sewanee, Chattanooga, Miss. College, and State. A venture of this sort could not be harmful as there is an adequate supply of material on the campus, and several men in town who would be glad to give some time to Lynx boxing. Why not think it over?

There are two types of basketball teams: one composed of four short men with a tall center, and one made up entirely of tall men. Certain advantages fall to both types. The short team has a better chance of passing the ball around and under their more loftier opponents, while the higher men can do much damage with their overhead passing game. Southwestern has material of both types. Such men as Barnes, Davis, Medaris, Lapsley, and Rassberry should not be topped, and Gartside, Mays, Cannon and others are known for their passing ability. With this material on hand Coach High should, and probably will, develop a team that will click regularly.

Our defeat at the hands of Mississippi State should not be looked on as a very bad thing, because of several reasons. Bad lighting, an unfamiliar floor, etc., always plays havoc with the visiting team.

The new ruling of the athletic committee stating that no person on probation, because of grades, will receive an athletic award of any kind is certainly one fine thing. Scholarship is the main objective of this school and should continue to be. Such rules not only encourage studying but make classroom work a constant thing in the minds of most athletes.

Turning to an old time, non-fixable, water faucet in a Starkville, Miss., hotel, Red Davis asks, "Wonder how long this thing will leak?"

Dick Mays pops up, "Just as long as it'll take Big Mac to learn Freshman English."

STATE DEFEATS LYNX TWICE

Cassibry Is High Point Man; Gartside, Ray, Mays Star

Southwestern basketeers opened the season Monday and Tuesday nights, losing to Mississippi State to the score of 57-17 and 64-29 respectively.

State got off to an early lead and was not in danger at any time during the first game. They led 23-9 at the half. Fine shooting by Stone and Cochran kept the Lynx snowed under. Gartside showed up well in the initial contest, leading the Southwestern scorers with 9 points.

Although defeated just as decisively in the second tilt, the Lynx gave a better account of themselves in regard to their floor work in this tilt. The Lynx were unable to keep the score down for more than one quarter and were swamped in the remaining three periods.

Clem Cassibry led the State scorers by tallying 17 points, being pushed by Walters who scored 15 points.

Raspberry, Mays, and Gartside played well for the Lynx.

Dumas once remarked, after an evening spent in dull company, that "he would have been fearfully bored if he had not been there himself . . . sounds like Weddington."

Displaying a fast breaking offense with a clever passing attack, the Freshmen won their third game in the Church League from Linden Avenue Christian Church in the YMCA gym. The score was 33-31.

The game was fast from the start to finish. It also became rough after the first half; Gattis and Jennings fouled out.

Hassell was the star of the game. He tied the score at the end of the last quarter; then he scored the winning goal in the extra playing time.

Will Take Part In AAU Meet Here In Crump Stadium

Southwestern's track team will be built around two of the best track stars ever to perform for the Lynx: John Barnes and Red Davis. Barnes is one of the best pole vaulters in the South. Last year he also took numerous firsts in broad jumping and high jumping.

Davis Has Record

Red Davis broke records in discus, javelin and shot while in high school. He is the outstanding discus twirler of any Lynx track squad.

These men will be backed up by Rassberry in the sprints; Medaris, Mitchell and Baker in the middle-distances and Womble and Jordan in the distances. Other good track men will be out for the team, and taken all together, the Lynx should have a successful track season.

First Meet Against Sewanee

The first meet will be here against Sewanee. Then follows a triple meet with Miss. College and Millsaps at Jackson and a dual meet with Ole Miss at Oxford.

The Lynx will perform in the Mid-South A.A.U. meet held at Crump Stadium this year on May 10.

YEAR BOOK EXTENDS TIME

Pictures May Be Made Until After Exams; Jones Chosen

Time to get Year Book pictures made has been extended to after examinations. Only about half the student body has had pictures made.

According to Rodney Baine, editor, work on the Year Book cannot start until all the students who signed turn in pictures. It is imperative that students get their pictures in.

Work on the faculty page has already begun.

Tom Jones was appointed associate editor. Other officers will be appointed later from the staff. They will be picked according to quality and promptitude of their work.

Again Mrs. Rutland has won her battle. She has reclaimed Herbert Cain and Frank Goodlett to the ranks of good health. Three cheers for the lady from Evergreen. Speaking of the girl's dorm our boys seem to be holding their own over there or at least that is the news from the scene of action.

S'WESTERN "BEEBES" TO PLUMB GULF STREAM IN TROPIC STUDY

Expedition To Florida Will Seek Specimens Of Rare Life On Key West Isles

By HARVEY HEIDELBERG

June in the balmy, sub-tropical Florida Keys is planned for a Southwestern field expedition, headed by Dr. G. L. Baker.

Twenty-three miles from the nearest village, Clint McKay, "Jeff" Hart, and Leslie McKee will lead the secluded lives of scientists at the ocean's edge. "There will be no native girls to wreck the purposes of our group," declared McKee. However, with a broad grin he promised, "I expect to be the playboy of the party."

Covers 500 Small Islands

Professor Puckett, Dr. and Mrs. Baker will use Key Largo as a base from which they will center their work in some of the five hundred small islands extending about one hundred and fifty miles from Miami to Key West.

"Because of the Gulf Stream, the temperature there is about seventy degrees Fahrenheit all the time. Consequently, in this region are found many animals which do not grow elsewhere," Dr. Baker commented.

Complete With Equipment

Diving helmets, several boats, cans of formaldehyde are only part of the equipment they will use. The formaldehyde will be used to preserve their finds, for the intrepid explorers have decided not to "bring 'em back alive."

"The two-fold purpose of our trip will be to find museum specimens and material for laboratory work here at Southwestern," declared Dr. Baker. "The students we have chosen will go because of their outstanding work in embryology," he added.

Professor Puckett, with an enthusiastic gesture of his white-clad arm, hurriedly assured that the jaunt will be "all in the advancement of science."

Has Eye On Travel

Hart, possibly with an eye for travel instead of organisms, expects to persuade the party to include the Bahamas, Bermuda, and Cuba in its itinerary.

A course in invertibrate zoology will possibly be added in the Biology Department if the trip is successful.

They expect to leave immediately after school is out and return shortly after July 1st.

Evergreen Hall

Elizabeth Fancher and Louise Morrow took off for Mississippi State last week-end, and report a most delightful time. Louise is now contemplating a trip to Forrest City.

Ellie and Tuck went on a rampage over the week-end. See Lucille Logan for details.

We note with interest the increasing frequency of Mills' visits to Evergreen.

O. D. K. Says—

ODK feels that the most valuable quality a man can have is a noble character. In college the best of a man should be brought out. The best in an individual should attract the best in others and on this mutual attraction college friendships are built.

The class room of course offers a place for expression, but a man is best known in a situation of complete freedom. In the Freshman year the building of the bon fire brings together men in a way which ties them with a common experience; the memory of which will bind these Freshmen together as long as it is recalled.

Gridiron Another Highlight

The Christian Union banquet is another highlight in the college year. A marked unity can be noted in the Student Body after a social of this nature, and new qualities in men are brought out which would have been unknown to fellow students if the banquet had not offered the medium of expression.

It was for this reason that ODK had its smoker: that the men might know each other better. It is tragic to think that men might live together in the same dormitory for four years and not truly know each other. College friendships should not be shunned, either should they be forced. A healthy beginning however is often made at smokers, banquets, etc. ODK hopes that the students will not let chances for college friendships slide through their fingers.

They Say In NEW YORK....

"TST . . . TST"

Paul Sabin must have a weakness for sweet Southern gals! Otherwise he'd never have taken one of New York's better orchestras "way down into the provinces to Memphis!"

But New York or no New York, Hotel Pierre or Tavern-on-the-Green notwithstanding . . . we've got him! —For a little while, anyway.

The COLONNADE IN HOTEL GAYOSO

Did you ever notice...in a roomful of people...the difference between one cigarette and another...and wonder why Chesterfields have such a pleasing aroma

Many things have to do with the aroma of a cigarette . . . the kind of tobaccos they are made of . . . the way the tobaccos are blended . . . the quality of the cigarette paper.

IT takes good things to make good things.

Someone said that to get the right aroma in a cigarette, you must have the right quantity of Turkish tobacco—and that's right.

But it is also true that you get a pleasing aroma from the home-grown tobaccos . . . tobaccos filled with Southern Sunshine, sweet and ripe.

When these tobaccos are all blended and cross-blended the Chesterfield way, balanced one against the other, you get a flavor and fragrance that's different from other cigarettes.
