

FARLEY HEADS STUDENT BODY FOR 1936-37 TERM

May Vice-president, Warden
Secretary-Treasurer

CANNON ON BOARD

New Heads To Be Installed
On May 15th

John Farley was named president of the student body in a run-off held Wednesday between Farley and Robert Armstrong. The count showed 179 votes cast for Farley, and 172 votes for Armstrong. In the same voting, Walter May was elected vice president. Nancy Warden will be the new secretary-treasurer.

Woody Butler and Thayer Houts were nominated for president along with Farley and Armstrong after the chapel exercises Monday morning. They were defeated in the primary voting held Monday.

Farley is a member of Alpha Theta Phi, local scholastic fraternity petitioning Phi Beta Kappa; ODK, national leadership fraternity, and is at present president of ATO, national social fraternity. Farley this year served as master of ceremonies of the April Fool Carnival.

For vice president Walter May defeated Bill Lapsley 187 votes to 162. Louis Chenault was a third member of the student body to be nominated for vice president. He was defeated in the primary voting.

May is member of the Southwestern Players and is a member of SAE social fraternity.

Nancy Warden, a Chi Omega, was elected secretary-treasurer of the student body, getting enough votes in the primary voting to give her the seat over Dorothy Jackson, a Tri-Delta, and Ellie Powell, of AOPi.

The new president of the Publications Board is Dunlap Cannon. He defeated Charles Taylor by 52 votes. David Gibson was also nominated.

Cannon is a star tennis player, playing today in the state tennis tournament at Sewanee. He is a member of ODK and ATO.

According to Curtis Johnson, the retiring president, the new officers will be installed Saturday after the chapel service.

Dorsey Barefield is the retiring vice president and Lucille Woods retires as secretary-treasurer of the student body.

The Elections Commission was in charge of the voting. Ralford Herbert served as chairman of the commission.

The voting booth was changed from the store to the second floor of Palmer Hall as there was too much confusion concerning the voting in the store.

NEW CATALOGUE TO BE RELEASED SOON

The Southwestern 1936-37 catalogue will be off the press about May 16, announced Dr. Storn. The new courses for next semester will be announced then.

BOTANIZATION OF CRYPTOGRAMS SLIGHTED FOR REELFOOT'S CATS

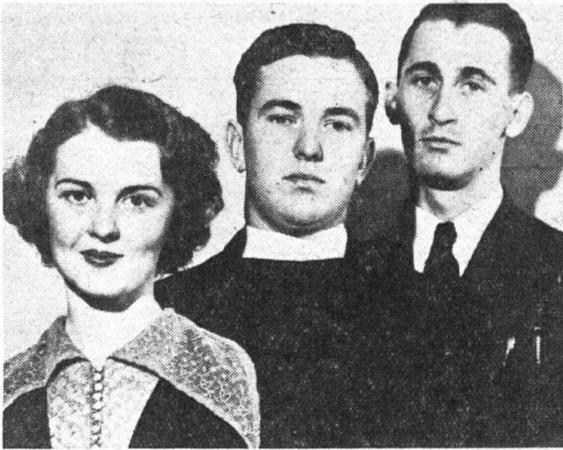

By NORMAN SHAPIRO

Southwestern's tree, snake and bird hunters hied themselves off to Reelfoot Lake the last week-end, only to find that they were much more successful as insect finders. Mosquitoes, gnats, chiggers and other household articles were very prominent among the collection.

Roland Hazlewood lived up to his nickname of "weed" by wearing several strands of water plants gracefully draped about his neck for several minutes. The plants were placed very artistically by Paul Freeman during a violent sea-battle in the middle of the lake. Freeman himself was the ungrateful recipient of a large wad of algae in the left ear. The combat ended with the crew of Morton, Shapiro and Hazlewood emerging (no pun intended) victorious over the tandem of Freeman and Chappell, whose boat was overturned. The vanquished duo, left struggling in the water, gained more practical knowledge of the nature of the water in ten seconds than the rest of party did in several hours of intense study.

The whole party was introduced to the intricacies of rowboat manipula-

HAVE LEADING ROLES

Doris Bowden, Herbert Bingham, and Randall MacInnes will take a leading part in the three one-act plays to be staged tonight in Hardie Auditorium at 7:30 o'clock. The plays are the second and last performance of the year to be given by the Players.

Two Students, Two Professors Chosen

Dr. C. L. Baker, resident biologist and associate director of the Reelfoot Lake Biological Station, has just announced the appointment of two Southwestern students and two professors to scholarships there for the coming summer, to enable them to pursue certain biological studies. Dr. Baker is also associate professor of biology at Southwestern.

Wendell Whittemore, Southwestern sophomore, is to collect data on the fish of Reelfoot Lake, and to make a survey of the insects and birds in that vicinity. Malcolm Parker has received a scholarship to pursue research along the line of taxonomic herpetology of Reelfoot Lake; he will also study the wanderings of amphibian reptiles, and work on a manual of the taxonomy of fishes.

Dr. J. H. Davis has been awarded a scholarship to enable him to study aquatic plant communities of Reelfoot Lake, and the kinds of zonation and ecology of the lake aquatics. Dr. Ogden Baine, the fourth recipient of a scholarship, will study the chemical composition of the lake water in relation to rainfall and temperature during the summer season.

QUICK RICH

Some, oh so clever, person hereabouts has suggested a get-rich-quick plan for some of these budding young musicians that infest the campus. They should hie themselves away to Terrace Fountain there to play at a nickel per rendition the songs that are now being cranked out of that ungrateful victrola.

PLAYERS PRESENT LAST PROGRAM OF SEASON TONIGHT

Curtain Call On Three One-
Act Plays At 7:30

CRITICS WILL ATTEND

Southwestern Singers Will Have Program

The Southwestern Players, under the direction of Professor J. M. Linton and Randall MacInnes, will present their final show of the season tonight in Hardie Auditorium at 7:30 o'clock, in the form of three one-act plays. The Southwestern Singers under the supervision of Professor Burnett C. Tutthill will give a selection of songs.

Notable among the critics who will attend the opening show tonight are, Mr. F. W. Roth, program director of Radio Station WMC; Mr. Crick, publicity manager of the Memphis RKO Distributing Corporation; Eugart Yerran, director of the Memphis Little Theatre, and William Fielding, prominent Little Theatre star and WMC announcer.

Ralph Brown, as the awkward hill-billy in search of a woman to "take care of him," at the rehearsal held last night, gave an excellent performance. Nell Thompson, the blushing young maiden whom Brown, as Orry Sparks, finally wins, likewise gives an able performance. Both are supported by Martha Shaeffer, a crabby, old hill-billy, and by Frances Weaver, who portrays the part of Brown's about-to-be-acquired mother-in-law.

Leslie Buchman and Marjorie Walker, in ARIA DA CAPA, very vividly portray the part of people who are bored to death, while Selby Bobzien, costumed in death-like robes, gives background to the play as the "Mask of Tragedy."

The final play of the evening, "The Valiant," by Hall and Middlemass, is set in the warden's office of a modern prison. Randall MacInnes and Dorris Bowden carry the leading roles, and are supported by Frank Campbell as the warden, Herbert Bingham as the prison chaplain, and Murray Gattis and David King as jailers.

Tickets will be on sale at the book store until seven o'clock, and at the doors leading into Hardie Auditorium. The winners of the $5.00 prize to be given to the sorority or fraternity selling the largest numbers of tickets will be announced next week.

Others taking part in the program are Steve Frazier, Nell Thompson, Cameron Clough, Molly McCord, Selby Bobzien, Peyton Sibley, Bess Brazzel, Jane Bray, Warren Prewitt, Hi Lumpkin, Ralph Brown, Frances Weaver, Marjorie DeVall, and Sam Hill.

Next week the program will be held on Tuesday at 6 p.m. The program will give the history of Southwestern for the last 100 years.

COMMUNION FOR EPISCOPAL CLUB

There will be a Corporate Communion of the Episcopal Club Sunday morning, May 10, at 7:15 at St. Luke's Episcopal Church. After the service the ladies of the St. Luke's Guild will entertain the club with a breakfast. This will be the last meeting of the club for the year.

CONVENTION MOVE FOR PRESS FREEDOM PASSES AMIDST BEDLAM

By JOE STUART

Ho—hum. The M.V.H.S.P.A. convention is all over! (In fact, the word "over" requires a great many exclamation marks.) But it was a great fight while it lasted—two hours and twenty-three minutes.

Speakers came and speakers went; open forums came and open forums went; discussion groups came and discussion groups went; the final luncheon came, and the members of the Sou'wester staff thought it never was going to went.

The dynamite was planted the night before when Harold Burson, editor Humes High Herald, suggested that a resolution be put before the delegation which demanded that censorship of the high school publications by members of the faculty be immediately suspended. Elizabeth Hurley, of the Cen-

Dr. Bassett "Duckiest"

Dr. Bassett "venit, vidit, vicit" his audience at the gridiron banquet last Friday night. For those few benighted individuals who do not know their Latin, that means that those who were present were so overwhelmed by his personality that they unanimously elected him to the high office of the "Duckiest Duck." For some time after it was known that Dr. Bassett had come to the banquet, it was doubtful if he would see his audience, a difficulty which he solved by standing on the table; and once he had started enunciating a stream of Ciceronian verbosity, there was no doubt that he had conquered the votes of all hearers.

now are the justly proud leaders of a real players group.

The one-act plays tonight cannot help but be successful with so much work, goodwill, and interest behind them. They have been cast well and the directors are certainly competent.

Spirit Of Your Convictions

It was refreshing indeed to sit back and watch a group of high school students battle it out for supremacy over questions that to them were of vital importance. Delegates to the Mississippi Valley High School Press Association Convention held here last week lacked nothing when it came to spirit, intelligence and a desire to accomplish something worth while.

Probably the high light of the meeting came when the body, after much wrangling and lively discussion, ratified a resolution denouncing all faculty censorship over high school papers. Knowing that the passage of such a resolution would cause no little comment, and personal harm in some cases, such action took serious thought and then spirit of conviction in a score of individual instances.

To you who stood up for what you thought right in the face of a frowning faculty—of the local high schools particularly—we salute. Southwestern could use students of your type.

Courtesy—Not Found Here

On more than one occasion, the writer has heard it said that Southwestern students cared little for the feelings of a visitor to the campus and were, on the slightest provocation, extremely discourteous.

We heartily agree to such a statement.

No later than last Friday, a young woman approached a group of pseudo-sophisticated Southwestern co-eds in the book store and asked the direction of Palmer Hall.

Did she get the needed information? Certainly not. All she got was a series of cold stares, which conveyed the idea that they didn't want to bother with her.

Such action is not uncommon and on several occasions the college has been injured by such thoughtlessness. Student opinion is the only remedy for this deplorable situation.

Such Horns

Of course this doesn't apply to all of you, as we all don't have fond relatives, parents, friends, chauffeurs, and what not, who persist on riding up to Ashner Gateway and blowing a high-powered horn for some fifteen minutes.

However, some few students have friends who do this regularly.

Such noises disturb a studying student very much and several have asked that such action "be discontinued at once." Their request is not too much.

ON THE AIR

By RANDAL MacINNES

Congratulations this week go to the stage crew of the Southwestern Players, supervised by John Quanthy. On Wednesday of the week there wasn't a usable stage prop on the campus. Tonight when the curtain goes up at 7:30 in Hardie Auditorium, the audience will see three completely new sets. Good going, Johnnie.

And now another word of explanation concerning radio. This afternoon's radio program at 3:45 will be Southwestern's last afternoon one. On May 12, next Tuesday, Southwestern will take the air at six o'clock, and will keep on this time until the close of school. Unfortunately this is the only hour that could be obtained, inasmuch as we only have three more programs before the close of school. So be sure to listen in at 3:45 this afternoon, and at 6:00 o'clock on next Tuesday.

ELSEWHERE—

NEARING THE END

Perhaps, we should first pay tribute to the outgoing seniors as they enter upon their last month of college. Four years of activity will be culminated for them during this month but they will have the consolation of many pleasant and loving memories, of friendships and experiences to take with them when they leave.

The undergraduate will awaken from his case of lassitude and lethargy. Term papers, book cramming and burning the midnight oil will again come into their own during this month. Resolutions made at the beginning of the semester and other good works that we promised to do months ago will be brought to a close. —L. S. U., The Reveille.

ROOSEVELT OUTSMARTS FUTURE WAR PROFITEERS

Will President Roosevelt's "Take the Profit Out of War" commission succeed? Did Ex-president Hoover's "War Policies" commission cripple the war profits system? Has the Nye Senate Munitions committee accomplished anything to date? Aside from the intangible value of propaganda and publicity, both personal and in the interests of war prevention, we conclude that Mr. Hoover's commission failed. President Roosevelt's crusade has indirectly succeeded in the form of a temporary neutrality bill. More to the point in the basic economic foundation of causation is the investigation conducted by Senators Nye and Clark. They have accomplished nothing to date except valuable ballyhoo on the surface. —Los Angeles Jr. Collegian.

CAN A LAUGH DO IT?

The rally of the Bryn Mawr Home Fire Division of the Veterans of Future Wars on Saturday night had, despite its clowning, an undercurrent of seriousness. At the end of the speeches it became apparent that this new organization which has caught up the colleges of the country in a whirlwind of enthusiasm, has a doubtful future ahead of it. It may easily continue the nonsense until it is no longer funny, and die the death of all popular jokes. On the other hand, it may, as one speaker suggested, turn itself into a serious movement for world peace. —Bryn Mawr "The College News"

PERPLEXED ROSE LYNN LEARNS FROM BULL HOW TO POUR HONEY

Francis "Bull" Benton has gained for himself a new title—M. F. E. (Master Food Etiquetter).

He just knows how to eat properly, that's all. And the good man doesn't mind one bit giving his amazing knowledge to other people.

At the M.V.H.S.P.A. convention banquet they served honey and buns. Rose Lynn Barnard was at a loss to know what to do with the remaining bun on the table. So she asked "Bull" and she had everything on the table sticky with the honey.

There's one other little tale about this famous honey. Prof. Siefkin was at the speaker's table. There were some flowers on the speaker's table. Also there was some honey. Now the flower petals had fallen in the product of the bees, so Prof. Siefkin pipes up: "Gosh, these flower petals in the honey reminds me of the good old days in Rome when it was a custom to put flowers in honey to make it taste better."

EVERGREEN HALL

There really IS an Evergreen Hall even if nothing much is happening here—that is, anything that one could write about. In the spring a lady's fancy also turn to thoughts of—well, at least, infatuations. The topic of conversation has changed decidedly to "crushes," not least of who are Drs. Baine and Charles Taylor, Harry Webb, and the "Bull" himself. Mary Lane says she has to grab her chair when Foster plays "Sugar Blues." Betty Jones and Willard have made up and peace reigns again. Virginia Fite and Eutelle Crow journeyed to Mississippi state for the week-end. They were seen sitting on the roadside and contentedly eating crackers and cheese while their dust-covered dates struggled with the flat. Just ask Sarah Gracey what kind of a week-end she had. She lost a typewriter, you know. Curtis doesn't hang around the hall any more. I WARDEN be knowing why! Since Dorothy Walker and Frances Gladney have gone home to stay there isn't any kind of garments she wears. Very, very common cries "Pay your coke bill" and "Wanta buy some candy."

and corks for machine guns and steel-jacketed bullets in the next war, the object, of course, being to place war in a ridiculous and preposterous light.

Moreover, it's a safe bet that the future, present and past mothers of the nation are in favor of more "peaceful wars" whether they be fought with boxing gloves, pop guns, or water pistols! —The Drury Mirror.

FORUMS

Students understand what is meant by the term "Bull Session." All students have participated in at least one of them, and some people are so constituted that they are involved in one of these lengthy and incoherent discussions several times each week. It is estimated that more time is wasted in "bull sessions" than in any other type of indoor activity.

This exchange of ideas, however, has a remarkable tendency to educate. Opinions are invariably changed or strengthened after hearing the viewpoint of others. The University of Kentucky has recognized the need for an exchange of viewpoint, and there are a series of glorified "bull sessions" now available each Tuesday night. —The Kentucky Kernel.

Heigh-ho, everybody. Here's ye old reporter back once more and this time to bring you the story of the sleepy-headed Freshman who had the audacity to go asleep on one of his profs. Jimmy Ashley walked into Professor Linton's class one day last week, sat down, opened his book, and fell fast asleep. Several of Jimmy's friends tried to awaken him but to no avail. Finally the prof discovered the sleeping student, gave an understanding nod to the class and proceeded on with the work of the day without interrupting Jimmy. When the closing bell came, the whole class got up as one man and quietly tip-toed out of the room. Imagine Ashley's surprise upon awakening to find a young lady shaking him back to consciousness, in an empty classroom. Ho-hum, I don't guess Jimmy will do much sleeping in the day time from now on.

DR. RHODES ATTENDS

Lynx Tops In Previous State Contests

The Southwestern tennis team, composed of Dorsey Barefield, Woody Butler, Dunlap Cannon, Dicky Dunlap, and David Flowers, left yesterday morning for Sewanee, to participate in the annual elimination of the Tennessee Inter-collegiate Athletic Association being held there today and tomorrow.

Dr. P. N. Rhodes, faculty member in charge of tennis, will accompany the team to the meet at Sewanee, after which he will return home, while the team continues on its tour.

It visits Birmingham-Southern on Monday and the Birmingham Country Club on Tuesday; then it plays Mississippi State at Starkville, Miss., on Wednesday, and returns home on Thursday, the 14th. Dunlap and Cannon will constitute one doubles team at the meet, and Butler with either Flowers or Barefield the other.

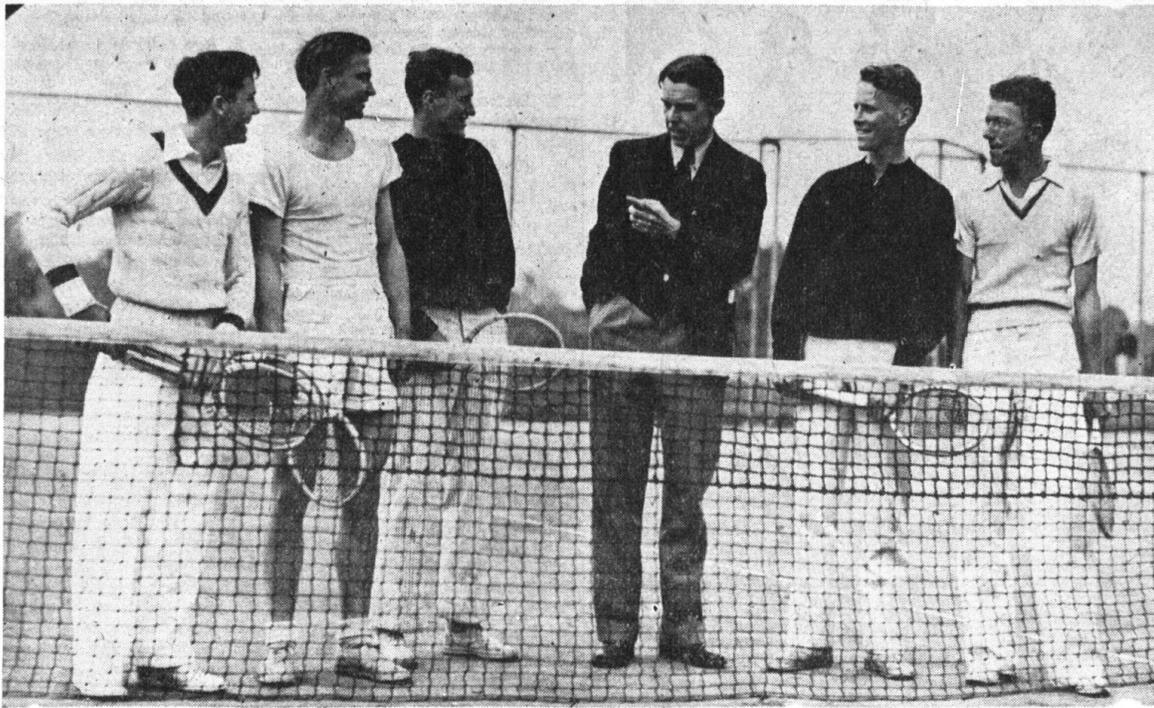

For the last two years, Dunlap has won the state singles championship. At last year's TIAA meet, Dunlap and Charly Ledsinger won the doubles championship for Southwestern. At that time, Southwestern enjoyed the peculiar honor of having its two doubles teams go into the finals against each other for the doubles championship of the state.

FOR SENIORS ONLY

The oft-quoted motto of an old Roman sundial still pertains: "It is later than you think." You seniors who have put a few weeks of academic grace and glory—do you face graduation with the sure knowledge of a job well done? It is little more than an idle question, more suited to juniors and sophomores and freshmen, for they yet have time to mend.

most certain to repeat this year. His main trouble would come from his own team-mates Dorsey Barefield, Dunlap Cannon and Woody Butler.

Since Dunlap can't be at the tournament to defend his title, Barefield will probably be his successor. Cannon and Butler also have good chances of being crowned champ. The odds favor Barefield as he was runner-up to Dunlap in the past. However, both Cannon and Butler have put the skids under Barefield this season and its "even-steven" that they will do it today.

The team, which includes David Flowers along with Cannon, Butler and Barefield will move on to Birmingham from Sewanee where they will swap swats with the Birmingham-

Southern racqueteers and with the Birmingham Tennis Club team. Then will follow Mississippi State and possibly Ole Miss.

Sewanee will also be the host for six other Lynx athletes who will perform in the State Intercollegiate Track Meet tomorrow.

Herman "Red" Davis, who is a master at the old Greek sport of chunking the discuss around, has the best chance of knocking a medal for that event. Gold, silver, and bronze medals respectively will be given for first, second and third places in each event. We expect to see Davis pull in Monday with a silver medal.

Wave McFadden, who runs the 880; Sherman "Poggun" Kelly, a distance man; McKay Boswell and Erskine Falls, two hurdle men, will be the other men on the team.

The big track meet of the season will be held on Fargason Friday when stars from all over the South will assemble here to take part in the AAU Meet. The Lynx will definitely enter a team according to Coach High.

Davis Has Fine Chance To Win Discus

Six Southwestern track men leave today for Sewanee where the State Inter-collegiate Track Meet will be held tomorrow afternoon.

The Lynx will compete with the strongest colleges in the state, including the Vols, from Tennessee, who are favored to win the meet. Harry Anderson, famous in local prep meets, will be one of the outstanding stars for the Vols.

Marion Cobb, Erskin Falls, and McKay Boswell will run the hurdles in the meet for the Lynx. Sherman "Poggun" Kelly will run the distances; Henry Hammond, the dashes; and Herman "Red" Davis will throw the discus.

Davis has the best chance of coming through with a victory. His championship form has made it easy for him to win the discus throw in the meets the Lynx have had thus far.

ROBB HALL

Have you noticed how the Robb Hall dwellers have been nursing their eyes for the past few days, guarding them from bright lights and from strain? The illustrious writer of this noble column has himself just returned from a visit to the oculist's, who almost gave up hope of saving his eyes but managed to do so after a hard fight. Said the oculist, "What a sight it must have been!" Said the writer, "You don't know the half of it." He couldn't have. There should be a law against such things. The owner of the atrocities has been inflicting them on every one he has been able to entice into his room. The Robbites, having had previous experience, dread the day when "Bull" Benton comes forth arrayed in all his glory with those—those—those—(words fail me)—yellow socks.

ROBERT ANDERSON OK'S PRESENT SLANG

NEW YORK—(ACP)—Two slang phrases of the hour—"Oh, yeah?" and "He can take it"—were lauded by Robert Gordon Anderson, author and newspaper man, in a recent address to Hunter College students. "Oh, yeah" is not ridiculous, "Anderson said. "It is tragic in its implications. It is as eloquent of world wariness as the bitter cry of the disillusioned from Ecclesiastes down to Dreiser and Lewis.

LYNX STUDENTS ANSWER HARPER'S QUESTIONS IN SECRET INTERVIEW

(Editor's Note: Harper's Bazaar ran these questions with answers as discussed by famous lovers of today—and who are we to scorn something H. B. finds printable?)

Q. Do you like a woman to telephone you, or do you prefer one who waits for you to take the initiative?

A. Herbert Cain: Most of a certainty I do—otherwise we'd never get along. You see, I forget very easily and it's up to the lady to keep me cognizant of her existence.

Woodrow Scott: I am of the opinion that any girl who calls a gentleman is a disgrace to the glorious name of woman! Why, that would be positively forward of her!

F. Roy Littlefield, head of A. B. (always broke) League: You're dern tootin' the gal has to call me—where would I get a nickel to use the phone?

Leslie Buchman: Heaven forbid! My home is my sanctum—I do not wish to be disturbed by the noisy jangling of a bell! It interferes with my smokes—and after all—"A woman is only a woman—but a good cigar (pipe, pardon) is a smoke."

Sherman "P. G." Kelly: Gracious! Do young ladies do such things?

Q. Do you like to be sure of a woman, or are you intrigued by the somewhat unattainable?

A. Herbert Cain: I've always found that most women are somewhat illusive.

Woodrow Scott: Let her keep her distance, please. Modesty is the cardinal requirement for love.

F. Roy Littlefield: I want my women when I want 'em.

Leslie Buchman: "Familiarity breeds contempt."

Sherman "P. G." Kelly: As I recall, all those I have cared for have belonged to the second class.

Q. Granted it is funny, do you find rough talking amusing or unattractive in a woman?

A. Herbert Cain: I scarcely notice either way.

Woodrow Scott: I'd never ask a young lady for a second date if I found she used unbecoming language or told "snappy" stories.

F. Roy Littlefield: So long as she keep away from my favorite cuss words, let 'er snort.

Leslie Buchman: "Lips that touch curseness shall never touch mine."

Sherman "P. G." Kelly: Shocking question! Unmentionable horror!

Q. Would you rather go out with a woman so conspicuously dressed that people turn around to look at her, or one who is well but quietly dressed?

A. Herbert Cain: When I go out with a lady, I expect to be looked at.

Woodrow Scott: Quietly please!

F. Roy Littlefield: Shucks! I never thought about that, I just sit at home with my gal.

Leslie Buchman: Quiet and refinement is as becoming in dress as in manner.

Sherman "P. G." Kelly: Goodness! Are ladies ever conspicuous?

Q. Do you keep indiscreet letters that women write to you, or do you destroy them?

A. Herbert Cain: As I explained to the press last week, I always keep such letters—some tied with blue ribbons, some with pink—and some preserved in lavender.

Woodrow Scott: I never knew a woman who could do anything indiscreet.

F. Roy Littlefield: I use them to make fires with.

Leslie Buchman: Therein lies a tale, Sherman "P. G." Kelly: Heavens

NON-FRATS ARE TRACK CHAMPS

Winfrey Heads Scorers with 14 1/2 Points

In the finals of the frat track meet held last Monday, the non-frat thin clads easily led the field, running up the heavy score of 36 1/2 points. The Kappa Sigmas trailed with 15 points.

The ATO's ran third with 12 1/2, nosing out the Sigma Nu's, who garnered 12. The non-frats had practically no competition in the weights events and also took several of the sprints and the relay.

Winfrey of the non-frats was high point man with 14 1/2 points, followed by McKenzie of the ATO's with 12 points and Gaylon Smith of the non-frats with 9 1/4 points.

Q. Do you like for a woman to be a good talker or a good listener?

A. Herbert Cain: One or the other certainly.

F. Roy Littlefield: I'll do the talking, if there's any to be done.
