31 SOUTHWESTERN SINGERS LEAVE SUNDAY ON TRIP

Will Visit Tupelo and Holly Springs

AWAY TWO DAYS

Directed By Prof. Tuthill; Bingham President

The Southwestern Singers, with a personnel of 31, under the leadership of Prof. Burnet C. Tuthill, will leave on a two-day trip to Tupelo and Holly Springs, Mississippi, next Sunday morning, May 9, at 9 o'clock. Their itinerary includes concerts Sunday morning at the Presbyterian Church in Holly Springs, Sunday evening in the Tupelo high school auditorium, under the auspices of the Presbyterian Church there, and Monday morning at the Mississippi Synodical College in Holly Springs.

The program to be presented is as follows:

- Doxology.
- Invocation.
- Hymn by congregation.
- O Rejoice, Ye Christians, Loudly (Bach).
- Scripture Reading.
- Prayer.
- Hymn by congregation.
- (a) Meditation (Brahms).
- (b) Farewell to the Forest (Mendelssohn).
- (c) As Torrents in Summer (Elgar).
- Offering and Anthem—Send Forth Thy Light (Balakireff).
- Nunc Dimittis (Arkhangel'sky).
- Hymn.

Those members of the Singers who will go on this trip are: Jane Alvis, Dorothy Crutchfield, Doris Cullings, Evelyn Hurst, Ruth Johnston, Betty Jones, Ardelle Livesay, Marjorie McEllroy, GERALYN ALLEN, Elizabeth Day, Sarah Gracey, Harriet Pond, Catherine Schabel, Priscilla Shumaker, Lillie R. Walker, Grace Wunderlich, Hal Ball, Herbert Bingham, Chester Carden, Alec Cortner, Jack Ferris, Everett Mobley, Joe Bell, B. A. Brady, Jim Ferris, David King, Tom Mobley, Penney Pearson, Campbell Sharp, Bob Watts, and John Woolsey. The bus carrying the singers is scheduled to get to the campus by 1 o'clock Monday afternoon.

With this tour, the Singers complete their second year since their reorganization under Prof. Tuthill's leadership. Herbert Bingham is the president of the organization. Incidentally, the church in Tupelo for which they are going to sing is the same one of which Mr. Howie, Southwestern's public relations director, was formerly pastor, and whose building was torn down in the tornado of a year ago.

KAPPA SIGMA TO ROAST WEINERS

Entertain Saturday Night At Klyce's Krest

The members of the Kappa Sigma fraternity will meet at their lodge on the campus tomorrow night at 6:30 o'clock. From there they will go with their dates to Klyce's Krest, the country home of one of the members of the fraternity, for a weiner roast. John Spence is in charge of all arrangements.

Among those planning to attend are: Billy Martin with Elizabeth Carey; Harry Waring with Betty Jane Clafey; Billy Kelly with Frederika Moore; E. T. Hunt with Diana Wallace; Cecil New with Jane Lederer; Eddie Yonts with Margaret Mahoney.

PSYCHIC CAMPUS GHOST PICKS DICKSON, SMITH, BARNARD TO WIN

Jim Farley may be pretty good at predicting election results, but none other than the all-wise campus ghost would be all agog if he should do as well as the Democratic boss. The time has again rolled to spring elections which will be pretty anemic this year because that "Lamb from Paris" is absent. But, none-the-less, there will be some vote slinging and ripping politics that will enable some one to win what he couldn't get by himself. (This is off color; the ghost asks pardon.) How could there be anything low or sordid with a brave Elections Commission. Trust in the commission and you will have nothing to fear, my prospective candidate!

The race for student body president won't just be anybody's election. The run-off, the ghost would say, will be between Fred Dickson and one of Erskine Falls, Clark McDonald, and Carol Varner, with Fred leading by a wide margin. But as for those second day results—well, history proves that many a slated election has gone haywire at the crucial point. A dark horse may nose ahead and it can happen here.

Macon Smith has been throwing his weight around quite a bit in campus affairs. Dubs on him to come out in front for vice-president of the student body. However, there's Steve Frazier and Henry Mobley who will undoubtedly poll some several votes for that office.

A. T. O.'S TO HAVE INFORMAL PARTY

Maywood Will Be Scene Of Gathering

The Alpha Tau Omega fraternity will entertain tomorrow night with an informal party at Maywood. Charlie King, in charge of arrangements in the absence of Erskine Falls who is participating in the Tennessee Intercollegiate track meet at Knoxville, announces that this will be a weiner roast with all the trimmings.

Among the ATO's and their guests who are planning to attend are: John Farley with Virginia Jett; Charlie King with Nan Bloodworth; Lauren Watson with Courtney White; Eugene Grissom with Helen Enslley; Wallace Mayton with Jane Grymes; Tracy Harris with Stacey Shelby; Eldridge Armistead with Betty Wells Selby; Bobzien with Marjorie DeVal; W. J. Hearn with Dale Batto.

SOME NEW IDEAS ON PRE-AVIATION

Orono, Me.—(ACP)—Football and ski-jumping are good pre-requisites for anyone who wishes to fly an airplane.

At least, that's the opinion of Rod Elliot, All-Maine halfback and winter sports performer for the University of Maine. Four hours and one-half of instruction in the air was all he needed to make a solo flight and a perfect three-point landing.

Measurements will be taken Tuesday in the Book Store for senior cap and gowns. All seniors are requested to attend to this matter sometime during that day and to pay the required fee to Mrs. Holloway.

Curling Iron Titles To Be Given

The annual Curling Iron banquet, sponsored by the Y. W. C. A., will begin at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday, in Neely Hall. The installation of officers for the coming year will precede the banquet, beginning at 5:30 o'clock in Hardie Auditorium.

The highlight of the evening's entertainment will be the election of a number of outstanding co-eds, each of whom will be honored with a suitable title. There will be the Haggiest Hag, the Duckiest Duck, the Gooniest Goon, Honey Pouring Polly, and several others.

The program will include "The Tennis Court Wedding," a skit by Ann Potts, Nancy Donelson, Elizabeth Jones, Jane Lederer, and Carol Kreusnick; a reading by Betty Jones; a parody on the opera, "Julius Caesar"; and speeches by a few of our famous student orators. Johnny White's orchestra will furnish music. Elizabeth Cobb is chairman of the program committee.

New officers who will be installed are Dorothy Givens, president; Elizabeth Cobb, vice president; Jane Alvis, secretary; Harriet Pond, treasurer, and Frances Gladney, chairman of the Vesper Services committee.

Admission fees will be 50c for town students and 25c for dormitory students. Tickets may be obtained today at the table in the cloister. Jane Alvis will direct ticket sales, and Dorothy Givens has charge of the banquet.

TALLULAH BANKHEAD GRANTS INTERVIEW

By STEVE FRAZIER

Probably no actress, or actor, or other personage of reasonable note who has visited Memphis in the past few years has valued his or her time more than our recent visitor—that vivacious star of the stage; (notice that I do not say screen), Miss Tallulah Bankhead. She had absolutely no qualms of fear of lack of publicity when she very definitely refused interviews with all Memphis reporters all day Tuesday, and the only reporter who had an interview with her worthy of print was one who had a very few minutes with her Wednesday afternoon, after she had completed all performances here except one.

By reason of a very distant relationship and a well-timed telephone call I was able to have a few minutes with her after the Tuesday night performance. If beauty is an essential qualification of a great actress, then Tallulah may well be relegated to the realms of the obscure, especially if her beauty is to be judged from the condition she was in when I saw her. She had just left the stage, and as she removed her make-up in the last scene of "Reflected Glory," was absolutely void of that element so necessary to the feminine sex—with the exception of a heavy coat of pure white powder, which naturally made her appearance more ghastly than it really is. Tallulah is getting along in years, you know, and the first thing she told me was that she suffered terribly from anemia. She had, up to the time I saw her, completed one hundred and forty-nine performances in the last six months, which is in itself quite an accomplishment considering the strenuousness with which she acts the part of Muriel Flood, a tempestuous actress, in "Reflected Glory."

From what has gone before you have probably drawn the conclusion that Tallulah is a rather bedraggled person who might be termed "at the end of her row." If that is the case I ask your pardon for causing a wrong impression. She is, on the contrary, the most "alive" person I have ever met. She was planning to attend a reception at the Peabody, and was talking and making up simultaneously with an accomplished air that indicated long practice. The words tum-

Editor, Business Mgr. Chosen For Next Year

KAPPA SIGMA HAS NEW OFFICIALS

Phi chapter of Kappa Sigma fraternity held its election of officers for the school year 1937-38 at a meeting Monday night. Sam Hill was selected as president; Ed McCormick, vice-president; B. T. Hunt, master of ceremonies; Billy Kelly, assistant treasurer, and Billy Martin and Jack Ferris, guards. Clark McDonald was elected Panhellenic representative and is secretary of the fraternity. Henry Turner is treasurer.

ARCHER EDITS SOU'WESTER

McCormick, Burrow, Hill and Holcomb Selected

Editors and business managers for the Southwestern publications next year were chosen this week by the Publications Board. Ward Archer, a junior, and an assistant editor this year, will succeed Lauren Watson as editor of the Sou'wester. Ed McCormick, this year's business manager, will continue in that capacity for another year.

Gerald Burrow was selected editor of the Annual with Sam Hill as business manager of that publication. Burrow is a member of the rising senior class and has served on both the Sou'wester and Annual staffs during the past year. Hill, a junior next year, worked on the business staff of the Annual this year and secured the largest amount of advertising obtained by any representative for that book.

H. R. Holcomb, another rising junior, will have charge of the Journal, Southwestern's annual literary publication, for the 1937-38 college year.

President Dunlap Cannon, Alfred Page, Gerald Burrow, Andy Myers, Professors A. S. McIlwaine and Ogden Baine, and Treasurer C. L. Springfield compose the board which made the selections.

STUDENT BODY ELECTIONS DUE

Nominations Friday and Sat.; Voting Mon., Tues

Elections for the four major offices of the student body for the 1937-38 session will be held Monday and Tuesday of next week, under the direction of the Southwestern Elections Council. Nominations will be made today and tomorrow for president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer of the student body, and president of the Publications Board.

All Southwestern elections are held under the direction of the Elections Council, which is composed of one member from each fraternity, sorority, and the non-fraternity group. It sets the date for elections, prepares the ballots, conducts the elections, and counts the ballots. The purpose of the council is to insure fair elections and to discover and punish any individuals or organizations using unfair tactics.

A new system is being inaugurated by the council beginning with these elections. The honor system, which has proved unusually satisfactory at Southwestern, will be tried in elections. An oath will be passed out to each sorority and fraternity and to each non-fraternity group, which will sign an agreement that no combines or other unfair methods will be used during the elections. This oath will be signed by the president of the organization in the presence of the members and turned in to the Elections Council. Elections for the other offices of the student body will be held the latter part of next week.

BLOODWORTH MAY DAY PI

Nan Bloodworth was especially honored by Pi inter-sorority by being brought out last Saturday, May 1, as May Day Pi. She is a freshette from Memphis and a pledge of the Alpha Omicron Pi sorority.

SCIENCE GROUP CONVENES HERE

40th Meeting of Academy Opens Today

Southwestern today plays host to the fortieth meeting of the Tennessee Academy of Science, with sessions scheduled today and tomorrow. Registration opened this morning in the science building with about forty members of the Academy present.

The morning session, opening at 9:30 A. M., was welcomed by Dr. Charles E. Diehl, president of Southwestern, and featured addresses by J. C. Ayres of Memphis, J. R. Endsley of Freed-Hardeman College at Henderson, Tennessee, J. M. Shaver of George Peabody College at Nashville, and A. R. Cahn of the Tennessee Valley Authority at Norris Dam. A brief business session followed the reading of the papers.

This afternoon at 2:00 P. M., the members will again convene in the science building to hear W. M. May, National Park Service at Nashville, J. M. Shaver, University of Tennessee Medical School at Memphis, J. Victor Monk, U. T. Medical School, D. S. Pankratz, U. T. Medical School, and L. A. Diggs, U. T. Medical School.

At the same time the physics section of the meeting will hear addresses by Newton Omberg, Vanderbilt, at Nashville, C. R. Fountain, George Peabody College, A. C. Omberg, Vanderbilt Medical School, and Philip Rudnick, Vanderbilt. Dr. P. N. Rhodes, Southwestern, will have an exhibit of lecture-table demonstrations.

Afterwards W. W. Taylor of U. T. Medical School will demonstrate a "Cleared Lung for Microscopical Examination" and Malcolm V. Parker, Southwestern graduate, will exhibit some of the reptiles and amphibia of Reelfoot Lake.

The Academy will have its official dinner tonight at the Peabody Hotel at 7:00 P. M.

Tomorrow at 9:00 the final session of the meeting will be held, with addresses by Dr. M. L. McQueen, Southwestern, Dr. R. W. Hartley, Southwestern, and Dick Boehme, Memphis Photo Supply Co. C. L. Baker, Southwestern, will make announcements concerning the summer session of the Reelfoot Lake Biological Station.

bled so fast that, had it not been for her remarkable, "husky" enunciation, I would not have been able to catch half the words. When I asked her her relative likes and dislikes for American and European audiences it seemed to strike a tremendously resplendent chord, and she sprang up and gave it to me in a manner that to say was surprisingly eager would be to grossly understate. I will not attempt to quote her because the attempt would be just too futile, but the gist of her barrage of words would be something like this: She was not able to say exactly which she likes to play before most because of the fact that she has never played the same play in both countries. She is definitely established in England, having played "The Fall of Angels," "Green Hat," "They Got What They Wanted," and the play which she said, "everybody has done," "Camille" with tremendous success. She is, however, very certain of the fact that for comedy and satire American audiences are unsurpassed, and then, too, "America, especially Alabama and Tennessee, is home."

Tallulah is unequivocally an expert at the technicalities of the stage and all the little tricks which so completely capture an audience and make her a great actress. It is easy to see that every one of her lines have been studied and torn apart to find some element which will get a laugh or a gasp of admiration from those beyond the footlights. Her actions are timed perfectly, and are so spontaneous that she achieves an unbelievable amount of naturalness.

After the performance she was called back time after time; the last time she appeared she took a baby picture of her mother off of the dressing table which she had used in the play, showed it to the audience, and asked forgiveness for the streak of sentimentality in her which made her mention the fact that Memphis held a tender spot in her heart because her mother, who died when she was born, was born and lived here. Perhaps, in view of that action of Tallulah's, it will not be superfluous of us, at this time, to wish her a continuation of the success which she has enjoyed for so long a time.

THE PRESS CONVENTION

The Sou'wester extends sincere thanks to all the many organizations which helped in making the recent high school press convention not only possible but highly successful. Those on the campus who aided are: the Student Council, which gave a dance for the delegates; Zeta Tau Alpha, which lent its lodge for the dance; the Publications Board, which donated a prize; and the Service Club, which arranged transportation for the trip to the Commercial Appeal. Thanks are also due to the individuals who entertained delegates in their homes, and to those who surrendered their dormitory rooms on Thursday night.

Further, we wish to acknowledge the generosity of the members of the staffs of the Commercial Appeal and the Press-Scimitar who appeared on the program of the convention. They are Mr. George Carmack, Mrs. Dixon Robinson, Mr. Jack Bryan, Mr. Clark Porteous, Mr. Luther Southworth and Mr. Ewing Johnson of the Press-Scimitar and Mr. W. C. Teague, Mr. Robert Gray, and Mr. David Bloom of the Commercial Appeal. Also taking part as a judge was Mr. Dayton Moore of the United Press.

We also wish to express hearty thanks to the George T. Brodnax Co., Kelley & Jamison, S. C. Toof & Co., and the Gayoso Hotel for their donation of prizes which were awarded at the convention.

Along with these multitudinous "thank you's" the Sou'wester wishes to point out the value of the convention to the college. Delegates who came from 21 high schools in four states will undoubtedly increase the prestige of Southwestern in their communities. The establishment of the convention as an annual institution was undoubtedly of mutual benefit to the guests and the host.

Nor can we think of a greater service which the student body might do for the college than to cooperate in a matter of this sort by demonstrating the friendliness and courtesy which, we believe, characterize the men and women of our campus. This, indeed, is a dignified form of college spirit.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE CHOIR

The Southwestern Choir has at last come into its own and has become an organization of which we may all be proud and of which it is a distinct honor to be classified as a member. The renditions given by this group at recent chapel services have been excellent indeed. In fact, according to some of the faculty who are qualified to "know whereof they speak," the presentation last Saturday was the best ever given on this campus by a choral group.

The choir, since its reorganization two years ago by Professor Tuthill, has come far. We are glad to know that the members of this group have evidenced enough interest in their work to make possible the trip which they are to make into Mississippi next Sunday and Monday. They are to be congratulated. Not only have they attained a goal for themselves, but they have opened up new fields of interest which may well attract prospective students of a desirable type to Southwestern.

As we have already said, the students who are taking part in this activity cannot be commended too highly; but, Professor Burnett C. Tuthill, director of the Southwestern Choir and Band, is equally worthy of mention for his work with both these organizations. Since his advent on the campus both have been revived and tremendously improved. Congratulations, Professor Tuthill. We trust that you and the members of your organization will continue the good work.

UNCLE SAM WILL HELP EDUCATION

Proposed Bill Provides $300,000,000 Yearly

Washington.—The millions that Uncle Sam has been spending on the NYA student aid program will be only a drop in the bucket if subsidy plans of the National Education Association are successful. This organization is seeking passage of the Harrison-Black-Fletcher bill which would put the government in the education business to the extent of $300,000,000 a year.

Three hundred million dollars is almost enough dough to build six battleships!

This money would pay the cost of a first class war for about two weeks!

The first year of its passage the Harrison-Black-Fletcher bill would appropriate $100,000,000 to be turned over to the states for education. There would be no strings attached and no Federal dictation as to how the money should be spent. The second year $150,000,000 would be appropriated; the third year $200,000,000; and increase at this rate to the fifth year when $300,000,000 would be split up among the states for education. From the fifth year on, the amount would remain at $300,000,000.

Thus, time-honored American traditions are being threatened. If this bill goes through, the U. S. government will, the first year of its passage, spend one-fifteenth as much on education as is spent on our war machine.

This obviously violates our sacred national precepts. What right-thinking American would fail to protest when his government considers the spending of one-fifteenth as much on education as is expended on the preparation for war?

But the real import of this subversive attempt to educate the people is seen best in the fifth year of its effect. Then the U. S. government would spend one-fifth as much for education as it did for battleships and stream-lined death machines!

The Senate Committee of Education and Labor has actually reported this bill favorably. The members have said; in effect, "This bill is okay, let's pass it."

Fair-minded Americans, however, will probably exert sufficient pressure to defeat this obnoxious legislation. Tradition shows that the value of war-mangled bodies, broken lives, and scrapped hopes exceeds that of a living, breathing educated youth, so, with tradition to guide us, we may yet overcome this threat to our institutions.

PACIFISM WILL GO TO ANY LENGTHS

Don't call freshmen "dumb!" Take the one at the Pasadena School of the Theater for example. He wanted to get out of taking military science, but there was no way out—apparently.

So he ate nothing but acid foods for two weeks. His face became as flushed as the tomato juice he drank. A hot bath ripened him to a brilliant catsup color and a chest rubdown sanded flakes of skin off; then he reported to the school physician.

"The Doc," he laughed, "took one look and said: Don't argue with me, young man. You just can't take military anymore!"

SERVICE CLUB ELECTS HILL

Sam Hill was chosen president of the Southwestern Service Club at a meeting held Saturday. Wallace Mayton was elected vice-president and Herbert Bingham, secretary-treasurer.

Somebody gave an answer to that age-old question: Why are men so dumbly gullible? . . . Because women are so appealingly dumb. . . A NEW ANGLE

Smoking in moderation might have a beneficial effect, says Dr. Arthur Binz, professor of chemistry at the University of Berlin. Coramine, a derivative of tobacco nicotine, stimulates the heart.

A GOOD IDEA

When lessons, meetings, plays and outside activities pile up on the calendars of the girls at Stephens College, the president calls a "Stop day," 24 hours during which students can do what they please.

There may be no connection in items but in the 1937 Summer Session catalogue of the University of Wisconsin under "courses for Men and Women," the first course listed is "Social Dancing" and the second, "First Aid to the Injured."

As for the women—well, this is their big chance to dabble in politics. They cast around for votes in the beauty and popularity elections but this is their big shindig for the femmes. On giving the campus the eye, the ghost finds that Rose Lynn Barnard has always been prominent in campus activities, and is a good bet for winner. Elizabeth Cobb has received some high-powered publicity of late and will undoubtedly be a triple threat gal. Then there's Pete Moore who works on the paper and is capable of swinging no end of votes. Bess Brazell is no dark horse and little Jane Alvis will be a bigger threat than her size indicates.

What about president of the Publications Board? Even the ghost is at a loss to predict the outcome of an election when even the high mucks of the fraternities don't know who may even run. The whole hitch is how the Publications Board selections came out, for you can't be an editor or business manager and run for the board. Well, at least that cuts down campaigning for one office 'til after the paper's out, and that's a help in these back-slapping (or should we say Charlie Taylor) days.

After said prophesies, the campus ghost withdraws pronto so that he will not get muddled by the political whirl. Just a word, you Lynxites; this week you will win some new friends who are in training in the school "How to win votes." Remember they are human, too. Next week it may be "I told you so."

McDONALD HEADS O.D.K.

Clark McDonald was elected president of Omicron Kappa Delta, national honorary leadership fraternity, at a meeting held last Wednesday noon, April 28. Fred Dixon was chosen vice-president, and Dr. Ralph C. Hon, secretary-treasurer.

CLASSES ELECT HONOR COUNCIL

Present Council Nominates Candidates

Balloting in the 1937 Honor Council elections took place yesterday, with sophomore, junior and senior class members of the 1937-38 Council being selected. Voting in the present freshman class was under the direction of H. R. Holcomb, in the present sophomore class under that of Fred Dickson, and in the present junior class under that of Jim Merrin. All are present members of the Honor Council.

The Council itself, using its privilege of nominating two persons for each office to be filled, nominated the following persons:

Freshmen: W. C. Rowan, Ralph Bethea, John Conway, John McGrady, Mary Hunt, Frederika Moore, Nancy Caradine. Sophomores: H. R. Holcomb, William Kelly, Sam Hill, Henry Mobley, Frank Campbell, Vera Ulrich, Betty Wells, Marjorie DeVal. Juniors: Fred Dickson, George Jennings, Gerald Burrow, Lewis Donelson, Clark McDonald, Wendell Whittemore, Effie Ola Anthony, Jane Leavell, Bernadine Taylor. There were also other nominations made from the floor.

Results were tabulated too late to be recorded in this issue of the Sou'wester, but will be announced next week.

FOURTH ANNUAL MVP MEETING VERY SUCCESSFUL

Knoxville, Paragould, Ripley Win In Classes

70 Delegates Representing 21 Schools Attend

With announcement of prizes, election of officers, and reports of committees, the Mississippi Valley High School Press Association concluded its fourth annual convention at a luncheon Friday, April 30, in Neely Hall.

In Class 1 the first prize went to the Blue and White of Knoxville, Tennessee, and second prize to the Clarksdale High School Spotlight of Clarksdale, Mississippi. The Paragould High School Echo of Paragould, Arkansas, and the Humes High School of Memphis won first and second places respectively in Class 2. In Class 3, mimeographed papers, the first prize was awarded to The Highlander of Ripley, Mississippi.

Misses Meredith Moorhead and Ruth Nixon, both of Little Rock, Arkansas, won first and second places respectively in the convention news story contest.

Climaxing the awards was the presentation of the Brodnax Plaque for General Excellence to the Paragould High School Echo of Paragould, Arkansas.

The convention elected David L. Hill of Corinth, Mississippi, president, and Albert Raymond of Little Rock, Arkansas, vice-president. Hill succeeds John Aden of Bartlett, Tennessee, who presided over this assembly.

The election followed the report of the nominating committee, which was made by John Aden, chairman. Previously the reports of the arrangements committee and the resolutions committee had been adopted by the convention.

The Friday luncheon completed a two-day program of activities which included two open forums with professional journalists, a banquet Thursday evening followed by a trip through the plant of the Commercial Appeal and later a dance in the Zeta Tau Alpha lodge, and discussion groups Friday morning led by members of the Sou'wester staff.

Mrs. Helen Hall, member of the faculty of Little Rock High School, was added to the program of the Friday morning forum which did not include Mr. Early Maxwell of the Commercial Appeal who had been listed on the program.

The convention, according to Professor A. S. McIlwaine, director, was the most successful of any of the four. The 70 delegates representing 21 high schools established a new attendance record. Also for the first time Missouri was represented.

MONA MONKEY

"Sees all evil—hears all evil—prints all evil"

The latest organization to make its appearance on the campus is the exclusive Tom Cat Club. Members who typify the ideals of this noble club were chosen from each fraternity. The club song? What else but "This, Is My Night to Howl." Saturday night was the first.

Two of the recent additions to our faculty went to the zoo last week, to visit the spider-monkey family. Prof. D. offered a nut to the head of the family. Ever the polite host, Mr. S-M picked up one of his own and insisted that Prof. D. take it. It has not been recorded whether Prof. P. was shown the same hospitality.

The above mentioned prof., who was last to arrive on the campus, is already counting the days till he may depart. The calendar on his door, neatly crossed for each day since he came, shows exactly 33 more days till school ends, then two more days to the red-letter mark. It takes two days by train to his destination. There's a girl . . .

Too bad the Press Convention isn't held weekly rather than annually, then these Arkansas girls could come to more than three conclaves, and Humko and the rest of the boys wouldn't be so rushed for time that they have to substitute the parking lot on the campus at noon for a moonlit garden.

A K.D. soph. is sporting a Sigma Chi pin from the U. T. chapter. Who knows Stanley? . . . Mamie Parker is out at dawn practicing a well-known game, these days. He recommends the center of Poplar Pike far past the city limits as the ideal spot. Concrete is so easy on the "bones".

Nettie hooked him at last, but we were so worried about Jim's love-sick looks when the mail box was empty that the shining Kappa Sig pin wasn't missed till now. Is that boy still worrying Jane Reid with phone calls at 7:30 A.M.?

LEARNED IS OBTUSE ANGLE IN LIBRARY'S ETERNAL TRIANGLE

Southwestern may no longer have a varsity baseball team but we do have one swell triple play combination—Cullings to Allen to Learned. And they play a stellar brand of ball, too. (The ball can be spelled with a "u.")

This trio of twerps stages a practice game in the library daily. If you doubt my veracity just trip lightly up the stairs to the library some bright morning and believe your own eyes. There is no admission charge but pop-bottle throwing is prohibited.

Bob Learned sits there with his head buried deep in his hands poring over his Bible. Beside him sits Gerylalyn Allen with a wide-eyed, innocent sort of expression on her face, and holding a Greek text in her hands. Short, swift glances at the Learned young man prove Miss Allen is only half-conscious of what she is studying. (This statement may be taken two ways.) Across the table squirms Doris Cullings. She has books to the right of her, books to the left of her, even books in front of her, but she isn't studying either. She is drawing a picture. She is drawing a picture of a cave-man and a beautiful belle scantily dressed. (I mean the beautiful belle, not Doris.) Doris labels the cave-man, "Learned", and the fair maiden, "Gerylalyn".

Quite proud of her artistry Miss Cullings hands the drawing to Allen with a flourish. Allen giggles. Up jerks the Learned head. He snatches the paper and looks.

Pleased, the Learned chest begins to swell and he opens his mouth to give voice to an old-fashioned Tarzan yell, but Gerylalyn, quick to size up the situation, claps her hand over his gaping mouth and only a Razorback grunt comes forth.

"Lissen, 'Weasel'", begins Bob, as he wrestles loose.

"That's not my name. That's Steve Frazier's."

"Hmm, you know a lot about Steve Frazier, don't you?"

That holds the Allen tongue momentarily. Learned resumes his Biblical research. Cullings, slightly disappointed at no commendation of her artistic talents, slumps in her seat and does a little private swearing in German. Allen, a bit disconcerted, resumes her Greek.

Suddenly Learned straightens up. "Lissen, you red-headed woman, if you don't stop kicking me I'm . . ."

"I wasn't kicking you, Bob Learned! And anyway I'm not red-headed."

"O. K. You're pink-headed." "And I'm not pink-headed, either!" "Well then, what are you?"

"Oh, don't bother me. I've got to get my Greek."

Learned raises a quizzical eye. "Your Greek? So that's who you were out with last night! No wonder I couldn't find you. Just let me get my hands on 'im!"

"Bob Learned, don't be silly! I wasn't out last night."

"Oh, yeah? Lissen, I called up four times last night. The last time was around midnight and Mr. Allen told me he was gonna break my neck if I didn't quit calling."

"I wish he had!" "Tsk, tsk," speaks up the Cullings lass, "a lover's quarrel."

"Hmph!" hmphs Allen and concentrates on her Greek assignment.

There is complete silence for a full twenty seconds. Then the squirming Cullings can stand it no longer. She nudges Allen. They begin to whisper. "You gals shuddup!" says Learned, raising his head and glaring. "Can'tcha see I'm studying Bible?"

DEAN DELIGHTS IN "DAFFYNITIONS"

After dinner stories are a specialty of Jacob G. Lipman, dean of the agricultural college at Rutgers University. In one he gave recently in New York, he re-defined persons connected with higher education:

"A professor—Casts imitation pearls before real swine.

A dean—Not smart enough to be a professor but too smart to be a college president.

A president—Not good enough to be a professor but too good to be a dean.

An alumnus—One who holds the president and faculty responsible for the success of the football team.

A trustee—One who has nightmares about endowments."

"No great civilization ever has developed leisure and lived. There are few, if any indications, that America will be any exception. Given leisure, man will go to sleep—that is, he will let down, get soft, become an on-looker, cease to be vigorous and thus lose initiative." New York University's Dr. Jay B. Nash, professor of education, believes America will perish if people don't adopt hobbies.

ON OTHER CAMPUSES

"Students today know that the educational system is phoney. What they are getting is a mass of variegated and obsolescent information which is tossed at them in an apparently unrelated form and about which they do little if any thinking." The frank opinion of President Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago.

An "Anti-Corsage League" formed at the University of the South at Seawane claims a membership of 75 per cent of the student body. The organization's men will not dance with women who wear corsages.

A facetious philosopher at Michigan State College claims that "Life is one damfool thing after another and love is two damfool things after each other."

"College students produce two kinds of literature, neither of them good. Either they try revealing their own hearts, which are not very full yet, and which they are generally unable to interpret, or they decide to imitate some well-known author in describing artificial situations which they know even less well than themselves." Vassar College's Pres. Henry N. MacCracken short-circuits the literary lights.

"I'd have every student get a three-month job at a filling station to learn courtesy," Prof. Ross J. Griffith of Butler University's school of religion advises experience at the receiving end of the "fill 'er up" order.

The "Spinners' Skip" is the name of a "ladies only" dance to be held at Montana State College. The girls will don their most elusive finery and swing and sway amid the colorful setting of a Mardi Gras.

A new "entrance-exit" course in matrimony has been added to the Utah State Agriculture College curriculum. "Marriage and divorce" is the name of the study.

A "Thank-God-It's-Friday Club," Intercollegiate chapter 2, has been established at Washington University to promote "end-of-the-week relaxation with temperate beer drinking and scholarly discussion of the week's events."

STUDENTS ASKED TO MASKED BALL

Cotton Carnival To Include New Festivity

Following the Mummer's parade which will take place Saturday, May 15, of the Cotton Carnival, Southwestern students will be the guests of the Cotton Carnival Committee at a masked ball held in Ellis Auditorium, according to an announcement made in chapel last Wednesday morning by Mr. Seneca Anderson and Mrs. Frances Howard. The only requirement for admission is that the students participate in the annual Mummer's parade preceding the party. Those attending will remain in their masks and costumes until unmasking at twelve o'clock.

The ball will be ruled over by a King and Queen whose identities will not be known until unmasking. The King is a prominent business man and the Queen either a present or former Southwestern student. They will award a prize to be given for the most clever and unusual costume.

The Carnival Committee is securing a good orchestra for this event. It hopes to make the party an annual feature of the Cotton Carnival and to secure the support and interest of the college crowd both in this and in the Mummer's parade.

A SAD ADMISSION

Nine-tenths of all American college professors put their jobs before their thoughts, says Prof. Frank H. Jones, of the Southern Branch of the University of Idaho. "You can't tell the truth and keep your job in American universities."

"It's all in the mind and in the tradition of May frolics. The fact that it's spring doesn't mean a thing. A man can be just as romantic if the oil heater is turned to spring heat or if the car heater is behaving properly." The fancies of poet Tennyson's young man can turn lightly to love in any season, thinks Prof. M. A. Tinker of the psychology department at the University of Minnesota.

A New Racket, But a Help to Joe College

Love-making by mail is often a hard job for collegians. Some find it difficult to fill a few white sheets of paper with sentimental symbols.

"How can I put fire in my letters to Lulu when I have other interests here on the campus?" asks Fraternity Freddie. And Sorority Susie wonders about the same thing in regard to her correspondences with the grocery clerk back home.

Such worries are no longer necessary because a University of Chicago student, Roslyn Schenker, has organized a bureau to write tailor-made letters for students.

For just 50 cents, Miss Schenker will spare you the necessity of smoking a couple packages of cigarettes, wearing the nap off your rug and finally resorting to alcoholic lubrication to grind out a belabored mess of words.

No matter what kind of letter you want—long, short, boring or witty—she can produce it. Sonnets, odes, blank verse and free verse are also a part of her service.

If it's a tactful letter you want, one that acts as a shock absorber for your two F grades, she can fashion it so skillfully that Dad will think you're a great guy after all and tack some extra bucks onto the allowance.

WHAT A LIFE

The girls at Berea College, in Kentucky, are either poor or they don't hold hands or kiss in the dorm 'parlor.' They are allowed to entertain three times a week from the hours of six to seven. If caught hand-holding they are fined $10, and if caught osculating, they are fined $25.

By JOHN QUANTHY

Thirteen iron men will take the trail toward Knoxville this morning armed with spiked shoes and keyed muscles and plenty of confidence in preparation for a little "stress and strain show" known as the Tennessee Intercollegiate Track Meet. I open up with "iron men" because the 13, better known now as the Lynx track team, are a good bet to trim Vandy. And if the Lynx knock over Tennessee, the toughest foe, why then, when once we had 12, now we will have 13 iron men returning from the "East." And because I think that they will vanquish the Vols, I use the above appellation.

However, let's let more light on the subject: Coach Chicken (or should it be "hen") is optimistic in that he says that, "We will take five first places. But don't get me wrong," he continues. "I didn't say we'd win." Well, with five firsts, I don't see why he should have much to worry about that. But you know coaches; they worry about what to worry about. So we may as well let him have his fill.

About the five first places though; that requires a little looking into. It seems to me that Red Davis has just about the best chance of chalking up one of those firsts by taking the discus. "I expect to do 140 feet," he said; and in practice he has already done that distance. That mark should be good enough to win and then some. Orley Nettles, with a throw of around 130 feet in the javelin, should take that event. And of course, not to forget Will Rhea Winfrey. Let me say that his shot putting has been a feature of every meet the Lynx have had. He's won every time but he should get his best throw tomorrow, which will be between 46 and 47 feet.

After these three, I think the next best chance goes to Henry Turner in either the half mile or the mile. Turner's best time for the mile rests at about 4:40 which is pretty close to Clark Porteous' school record time of 4:35. Another first place should be registered by either Porter Chappell in the high jump or McKay Boswell in the low hurdles. Chappell has tied the school record at six feet so we know what he will do. It's telling what Boswell will pull. If he's right, there's nobody there that can touch him; if not, he may be looking at the rear end of some fellow. It all depends.

The other Lynx trackmen to make the trip—and don't let anybody tell you that they won't get points, especially Gaylon (Public hero No. 1) Smith—are: Andy Myers, Bob Lee, Jimmy Sasser, Wave McFadden, Erskine Falls, Gaylon Smith and Hylton Neill. Besides Vandy and Tennessee, there will be T. P. I., Maryville, Sewanee (whom the Lynx defeated in a dual meet here), Chattanooga, and two or three others in the meet.

Diminutive Richard Mays will probably, in fact very likely, leave the Lynx for good next season. It seems that it is pretty well understood that Mays will take an assistant coaching job at Tech High School, with Coach Charley Jamerson remaining as head coach of the Yellowjackets. Coach Jamerson could not be reached at the time of this writing but the rumors have been verified by Rick Mays, himself.

Rumor has it also that Red Davis and Neal Tapp will serve as assistant coaches with the Lynx next year.

Central won the regional track meet here Saturday. But with all due respects to you Centralites let me say that Tech could have won it if they wanted. So I'm all wet, eh? Well, I'll prove it.

Central won the meet, beating Tech by virtue of one first place. Well, let's look at the quarter mile event. Central's man, Kinzy, won it and if a Tech man could have won it the meet would have gone to Tech.

The point is that Tech could have won the quarter mile. The man that is the fastest in that event is J. C. Ray, of Tech. How do I know? Well,

TENNIS SQUAD TO MEET UNION

Bulldogs Will Arrive Here Tomorrow

The Southwestern tennis team will swing into action on Saturday against Union University on the Southwestern court. The Lynx, who have been strengthening rapidly with each match, will rule the heavy favorites. The team will be composed of Cannon, Butler, Smith, and White.

The match with the University of Mississippi which was scheduled for last Saturday, and later changed to Wednesday, was again changed due to the constant showers. This match will probably be played on Monday.

The Southwestern tennis team will start on its annual trip Wednesday. The team will play at Vanderbilt, Tennessee, and at Sewanee. The Lynx will compete in the Tennessee Intercollegiate Tournament. They will return on the following Wednesday.

WELL! WELL!

An anonymous contribution from Adrian College: "Going around with women keeps me young. I started going with them four years ago when I was a freshman—and I'm still a freshman."

Ray has consistently beaten Kinzy in that event. He did it in the district meet at Whitehaven two weeks ago besides winning the hundred and 220. But Ray didn't run the quarter here last Saturday. Why?

I wanted to know, too, so I asked Chicken High, coach of the Tech trackmen. "Yes, he said, 'Ray would have won the quarter just as he won the 220 and the hundred. However, the boy's young and rather than take even the slightest chance of hurting him, I didn't use him.'"

CHI OMEGA'S WIN IN VOLLEYBALL

Chi Omega sorority won first place in the Girls' Volleyball Tournament by winning six out of six games played.

Second and third place were awarded to Delta Delta Delta and Zeta Tau Alpha sororities, respectively.

TRI-DELTS WIN

Opening the Women's Softball Tournament, the Tri-Delts defeated the Zeta Tau Alphas by a score of 9-7. The N.Y.A. team defaulted to Kappa Delta. Tournament games between the other sororities will be continued as soon as the weather permits.

The good parties are the ones you miss.

SIT-DOWN STRIKES TRACED TO JONAH

Sit-down strikes can be traced back to Jonah, the biblical character who was swallowed by the whale. At least that's what a writer in the Michigan daily proves from the scriptures.

Jonah didn't belong to the CIO, nor was he troubled with labor difficulties. He was displeased because his prophecy that Ninevah would fall because of its iniquities didn't materialize:

"But it displeaseth Jonah exceedingly, and he was angry." (Jonah 4:1). "Then Jonah went out of the city and sat on the east side of the city, and there made him a booth, and sat under it in the shadow, till he might see what would become of the city."

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC A. HAS STEAK FRY

The Woman's Athletic Association entertained with a steak fry Wednesday, April 28, at the Tri-Delta House at 5:30. Rain prevented the affair from being held at the campus hearth as originally planned. This was the first party to be given by the organization but plans are being made to make this an annual affair.

Among the honored guests were Mrs. M. H. Townsend, Dr. Baine, and Miss Louise Stratman. Several boys on the campus who have helped further the athletic program were present. They were Rick Mays, Red Davis and Jim Merrin. Rick Mays, who has always been helpful by refereeing basket ball games and in many other ways, was presented with an award in token of appreciation for his services.

Another feature of the evening was the presentation of the basket ball cup to the Chi Omega sorority by Miss Louise Stratman.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the supper was composed of Frances Smithwick, Marjorie DeVall, and Rachel Beasley. Selby Bobzien supervised the frying of the steaks, which were delicious.

The guests were received by the officers of the Association: Kate Giuliani, Janet Tucker, Harriet Pond, and Ila Joy Lenti. The ticket committee was Margaret Jones, Virginia Hqshell, Mary Katherine McGuire, Maxine Halliburton, Marjorie Jennings, and Frances Flournoy.

Most Fashionable Coeds

Women at the University of California, Los Angeles, are more fashionably dressed than those on any other campus, explains Elizabeth Eldridge, style authority, because men at the university frequently date girls in Hollywood.

Corn-husking and hog-calling contests were featured at the "hick" dance of the freshman class at Southern Methodist University. Boys had to pay an admission fee of 1 cent for every inch they measured around the waist.

Intramural News

The cream of Southwestern's non-varsity athletes will don shoes and practice starts today when the annual intramural track meet is staged on Fargason Field. Fraternity athletes will compete in all of the events regularly engaged in during track and field competition, with the 100-yd., 220-yd., 440-yd. and 880-yd. dashes, the one- and two-mile runs, the pole vault, broad and high jumps, the 120-yd. high and 220-yd. low hurdles, the shot put, javelin and discus throws and the 880-yd. relay constituting the events.

The non-fraternity squad, champs for the past few years, are favored to annex another title, while the Kappa Sigs will be strong contenders. The non-frat ace, Freddie Closs, will run the two sprints and do the broad jump, while Ripper Rowan, star of the Kappa Sigs, will likely pace the field in the half mile. Preston Marion of the SAE's will lead the way in the pole vault. From present indications the rest of the events leave a clear opening for any dark horses which may be around.

NO LIPSTICK FOR WISCONSIN BADGERS

Lip-rouge second-hand—that's the only way University of Wisconsin men will smear it on.

An emphatic "phooey—never," went up on the Badger campus in answer to the appeal of the Columbia College Men's Make-Up Society that men use lipstick in order to prevent winter-chapped and summer-dried lips.

"There can be hardly any doubt about the fate of potential lipstick users at Wisconsin," said one student. "They would be hooted en masse."
