Lynx-Howard Game To Decide Leadership Of Dixie Conference

Team Up Against 3rd Straight Jinx In Bulldog Clash

Southwestern Never Has Defeated Howard

SQUAD WORKS HARD

Seek Revenge For 6 To 0 Defeat of 1936

Fighting for the leadership of the Dixie Conference, Southwestern's surging Lynx clash with the Howard College Bulldogs of Birmingham, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in Crump Stadium.

Defeated by Howard 6-0 last year, the Lynx still seek their first win over the Bulldog eleven. There have been ties in the past but never a Lynxcat victory. Each team boasts three conference wins and no defeats, and the championship may depend on the outcome of tomorrow's battle.

Lynx Fight Jinx

If the Cats overcome the Howard hoodoo tomorrow it will mark the third successive jinx they have dispelled in the last three weeks. The 26-7 triumph over Birmingham-Southern was the first victory any Southwestern team has ever scored on a Birmingham field since Coach "Shorty" Propst took charge. Last Saturday's 20-13 win over the Chattanooga Moccasins was the first time a Southwestern team has ever beaten the men from the mountain city.

In preparation for tomorrow's tussle, Coach Propst devoted this week to hard scrimmaging. Monday, all those men who played at least two quarters of the Moccasin game were given a rest, but beginning with Tuesday the whole squad went to work in earnest and each man received his usual share of offensive and defensive work against the freshmen.

Practically the same team that faced Chattanooga will open against Howard. Bergfeld and Chappell at the ends; Croom and Ellis at the tackles; Parker and Hebert at the guards; Self at center; Nickells at quarter; Smith and Sasser at the halves; and Jennings at full.

Jennings at Full

Captain George Jennings, last year a quarterback and used at that position in the earlier games this year, will continue at fullback through the rest of the season. Jennings is one

Freshman Study Hall Scheduled

O.D.K., Alpha Theta Phi, Will Start Coaching Tuesday

Plans for a study hall sponsored jointly by Omicron Delta Kappa and Alpha Theta Phi were completed Wednesday. Instruction will be given for all who feel they need aid in the subjects offered.

Help will be given in Biology 1 by Norman Shapiro, and in Chemistry 1 by Wallace Mayton on Tuesday nights, in English 1 by Frank Campbell on Wednesday nights, in French 1 by William McBurney on Thursday nights, in trigonometry by William Nakajima and William Maddox, and in college algebra by Henry Mobley on Friday nights. The classes will last from 7:30 to 9:00 o'clock and will begin Tuesday night in Palmer Hall. The rooms will be announced in chapel. A special study hall for girls in freshman English will be conducted in the afternoon, the time and instructor to be announced later.

The time will be devoted to the past week's work, individual problems, and an explanation of the general principles.

These study halls will be conducted as long as they are deemed advisable by the sponsors.

Peppy Barbecue Scheduled Tonight

A barbecue followed by a pep meeting will be given tonight at 5:45 o'clock at the campus hearth. The Southwestern Band, under the direction of Prof. Burnet C. Tuthill, will play for the pep meeting. Fred Dickson, assisted by Bland Cannon and Charles King, will lead the cheers.

Permission for the band to lead a parade down Main Street at 7 o'clock has been granted. Students with Southwestern banners and horns will weave in a "snake dance" behind the band.

Tickets for the barbecue must be obtained before tonight. The price is 25 cents. It is not necessary to have a ticket to attend the pep meeting. The faculty, staff, student body, and all others interested are urged to be there.

Chi Beta Phi Adds 5 New Members

Whittemore, Slaughter, White, Turner, Smith, Elected To Fraternity

Wendell Whittemore, Tom White, Henry Turner, Robert L. Smith, and John Slaughter have been selected for membership in Chi Beta Phi, national honorary scientific fraternity, announces Fred Dickson, president, today.

The fraternity chooses members bi-annually from men students who have made outstanding records in scientific courses during at least 20 semester hours.

Tau chapter of Chi Beta Phi was established at Southwestern in the spring of 1935. The purpose of the fraternity is to further a "scientific spirit" on the campus. Bi-monthly meetings are held at which demonstrations and talks are given by members and by visiting scientists.

Each year Chi Beta Phi sponsors a demonstration in some scientific field, to which the public is invited. The demonstration centered upon physics in 1936. Last year, biology was the subject. Plans for 1938 are incomplete.

Present members are Fred Dickson, president; Jack Pilkington, vice-president; William Maddox, corresponding secretary; Norman Shapiro, recording secretary; and William Nakajima, treasurer.

Phantom Horn Tooter Puzzles Grid Fans

One of the major Southwestern mysteries is who the grey-haired gentleman is who brings his horn to every football game and plays with the band.

No one knows who he is or why. Prof. Burnet C. Tuthill said that last year he brought his mouthpiece and borrowed an instrument from some member of the band. This year prosperity having arrived he brings his own instrument.

Seniors Sponsor First Of Vesper Services Sunday

The Rev. J. N. Brown Will Deliver Sermon

PEACE TO BE STRESSED

Prof. William O. Shewmaker Will Preside

The first vesper service, sponsored by the senior class under the auspices of the Southwestern Christian Union, will be presented in Hardie Auditorium at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The theme of world peace will be stressed throughout the program, since this vesper is the annual Armistice Day service.

The Rev. J. N. Brown, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Gulfport, Miss., will be the speaker. The Rev. Brown is a friend of Mr. S. E. Howie, alumni secretary and director of public relations at Southwestern, and was formerly pastor in Lafayette, La.

The Rev. Dr. William O. Shewmaker, professor of Bible, will preside.

Frederick Dickson, president of the senior class, is the chairman of the committee in charge. He is assisted by Frances Gladney, of the Christian Union. Other officers of the senior class are: Vice-president, McKay Boswell, and secretary-treasurer, Nell Thompson. ### DECORATION CONTEST

A fraternity and sorority house decoration contest will be held on Homecoming under the auspices of the Sou'wester and the Alumni Association. Announcement of the winner will be made at the dance Thursday night.

Decorations should stress a motif such as a Lynx Cat gobbling up a Loyola Wolf with the "Welcome Old Grads" idea also brought in.

Bingham, Jackson Attend Conclave

Southwestern Sends Delegates To Christian Conference At Cookeville

Herbert Bingham and George Jackson have been selected to represent Southwestern at the Tennessee Student Christian Conference to be held at the Tennessee Polytechnic Institute, Cookeville, Tennessee, November 5-7. Dr. R. T. L. Liston, professor of Bible, will be the faculty adviser of the group.

The conference is held each fall for an exchange of ideas by the leaders of the religious life on the various campuses throughout the state. The general theme of the conference this year is "The Christian Issue Today." Included among the speakers will be Dr. Henry Edmonds of Birmingham, Ala.; Dr. Wm. Crozier of Tusculum College; Dr. Noel Mayhew and Mrs. Henry G. Hart, both of Vanderbilt; Dr. C. V. Bruner of T. P. I., and Dr. Frank Ward of the University of Tennessee.

Bingham, a junior, is president of the Christian Union Cabinet, member of the Service Club, the Proscenium Guild, and Tau Kappa Alpha, honorary debating fraternity.

Jackson, a sophomore, is vice president of the Christian Union Cabinet, member of the Players, the Sou'wester staff, Kappa Sigma fraternity, and is president of the Presbyterian Young People of Tennessee.

Registration Of Alumni To Follow Game

Elected by a plurality of the student body Wednesday, Margaret England will reign as Southwestern's first queen of Homecoming next Thursday. With George Jennings, football captain, she will be formally presented at the Homecoming dance and will lead the grand march. The election was sponsored by the Sou'wester and the Alumni Association.

Miss England was elected "Most Attractive" in the popularity election last year, and was a member of the court of the April Fool Carnival. She transferred to Southwestern in her junior year from Gulf Park College. Miss England, whose home is in Greenville, Miss., is a member of Chi Omega sorority.

Homecoming activities will begin with the football game Thursday afternoon at Crump Stadium when Southwestern will meet Loyola University. The kickoff is scheduled for 2 o'clock. All alumni will sit in a body and cheer their team.

After the game alumni and former students will return to the College for registration from 5:30 to 6:30 o'clock in the alumni office. At 6:30 the sororities and fraternities will honor the alumni with a dinner in Hugh M. Neely Hall.

Open Houses

Fraternity and sorority open houses with coffee being served will precede the Homecoming dance which begins at 9 o'clock in the gymnasium. Clyde Trask's N.B.C. orchestra will play for the student body and the alumni.

The presentation of the queen at the dance and the grand march will climax Homecoming activities.

Tickets for the dance are $1 per couple. All alumni are invited to the dinner in Neely Hall whether they attend the dance or not.

The result of the fraternity house decorating contest will be announced at the dance.

An Announcement To Former Students

The Alumni Association is mailing this issue of the Sou'wester to the 2,000 former students who addresses are on record. It is our hope that alumni will take due heed of the plans for Homecoming. In the past years, although the alumni have been welcome at Southwestern, no concerted effort has been made to attract them back to the campus. On November 11 the faculty and the present student body will unite in greeting those who do return, and since Southwestern numbers its alumni in the city of Memphis alone by the thousand, the College is not unduly optimistic in hoping that at least half that number will be present at the Loyola game and the subsequent festivities.

Elsewhere in this paper you will find the details of Homecoming. After the game, alumni will register in the Alumni office, and at 6:30 they will be the guests of the fraternities and sororities at a supper in Neely Hall. Afterwards, the group will inspect the fraternity and sorority houses, and the active chapters will be there to welcome their predecessors. At nine is the Homecoming dance in the gymnasium, for present and past student body alike. Southwestern urges you to attend the supper and the tour of inspection if you cannot stay for the dance, and the entire college will be sincerely disappointed if your name does not appear on the registration book.

Necessary Utterances

Since Volume 19 of the Sou'wester had its inception, a number of editorials that ought to be written have been accumulating. The trouble with most of these editorials that ought to be written is that they are high schoolish in nature and usually incapable of being developed (without the use of bull) into more than one sentence. So far we have not been able to screw up enough courage to attack these items, but this week, just to test the mettle of our readers, we have decided to lump them all together in one bitter dose.

In the first place, dormitory students should take especial care to keep their rooms locked. Already the contents of a gym locker and an athletic office typewriter have been stolen. There is no point in straining the honor system by leaving your room wide open anyway.

In the second place, students are complaining that one thing the matter with the chapel service is that the song numbers are never announced audibly.

Another unpleasantness is caused by the relentless honking of automobile horns which vie with our professors' oratory each morning. It is logically absurd for the honker to suppose that out of the 550 people his raucous message will summon just the right one.

Congratulations are due to Abe Pletchnow who sponsored the movement to secure sidewalks along North Parkway on the edge of the campus. The success of his efforts is now being enjoyed by all those who tread North Parkway.

The fact that the north drinking fountain in the cloisters of Palmer Hall is yielding water for the first time in a decade seems worthy of mention. This is an achievement of the Student Council.

Perhaps to early to mention but nevertheless a phenomenon is the fact that six whole weeks of the session have elapsed with the dormitory telephones still intact.

Party Line

At the "S" Club dance only the heat was worse than the orchestra, but even this couldn't keep the crowd away. Everyone, especially Steuer, was much elated over Mike Pepper's appearance. The arrival of a taxi at an "S" Club caused quite a commotion—we all thought they had the wrong place when out rolled Big Ben Hart and Ann Williford. Fred Gage was sporting popular Lorraine Matthews in spite of icy glares from Jimmy Winchester, who has it bad. The boys' swarm to one corner of the room far surpassed that of any bees to a honey comb. It was a "honey"—none other than Fabrin, "well-fitted" for the dance. Intermission scattered the dancers far and wide. Dominating at the Pig were Betty Wells and Eldridge, Kelly and Manire, Boothe and Farley (this looks like a match.) The Porter home was all aglow to greet an intermission party—need we say there were Bill and Ruth playing host and hostess to Agnew, Clough, Doris Rucks, Irby Seay, Sheats, and Rose Lynn. By the way, we hear the object of Irby Seay's trip home, Ann Ragsdale, had to be postponed to a late date. Back at the dance we found Sheats cornering Draper in an attempt to get a late date.

Back on the campus just outside of Coach's office, Freddie was seen fondly embracing Toto while "ring bearer" Sasser stood enviously by. . . . After a long distance call from Chapel Hill, N. C., Potts seems to be at the height of expectations for the coming weekend. . . . the explanation is Dave Mosier whose pin she wore up to the breaking point. Rumors are that this visit will smooth things over. (P. S.—a warning to all Pottologists—the one majoring in this subject at present is Leonard Ellis.) It looks like the Bernadine Taylor-Prewitt romance is giving the Keisker-McInnes one a run for its money. Worth mentioning in this category is the way Amelia Manogue gets so delightfully confused at the mention of George Gage.

Could an out-of-town boy like the one to whom Anne Tuthill sent her picture be the explanation of the wall around her heart which Judson McKellar is trying so hard to break down.

Stewart Hall is complaining in vain about Longinotti's confiscating their "Sunday Duds" just to beat Rex's time with "Cricket". Rex had better close

Chi O Pledges "Ah" Drama Proves Tragic

"Ah" was the title of a super-dramatic pledge melodrama presented before the Chi Omega actives last Thursday night. Conversation was restricted to different intonations of the word "ah." The wife, Mary Elizabeth Harsh, having "Ahed" her husband away on his journey, received all her lovers. She "Ah's" and embraces them each, the ice man, policeman, fireman, sailor, poet and professor. Each lover having been hidden behind the sofa is shot by the returning and "Ah"ing husband. The wife is shot and then the husband shoots himself. After a definite pause there was a long meaning "Ah" from all actors.

Cow-education is the word for it, it seems, at Eastern New Mexico Junior College. Bossie is helping put several youths through school. Bringing their cows to the campus, they are selling milk to pay expenses.

in from this distant admiration of said lady if he expects to hold his own. . . . And they were best friends, too.

For the benefit of the vanity of the femmes on the campus who have tried and failed to rate a date with "Kitty-face" Morton—his attentions are entirely centered on a high-school girl—she answers to the name of Billie Price. "Kite" has been Billie's "hero" at a distance for about two years, and now it looks like the shoe is now on the other foot.

Having a Homecoming Queen has added a little spice to that event, and it seems that the campus is rapidly pairing off for the dance. A few are: Anne Potts and Larry Thompson, Smithwick and Bob Lee, Stella and Hylton. To get back to the Queen—from the murmurs which arose during voting in chapel it looks like Mamie Parker will wear the crown.

MORDKIN BALLET PERFORMS TONIGHT

Director Once Danced With Pavlova, Maitre de Ballet To Czar

The Mordkin Ballet, under the personal direction of Mikhail Mordkin, will be presented by the Cortese Brothers tonight at the auditorium. It is a special attraction not in the regular Cortese series.

Mikhail Mordkin is now director of a school of dancing in New York. He was chief maitre de ballet to the late Czar of Russia and at one time the dancing partner of Anna Pavlova. It is said that that temperamental artist once slapped his face in public for letting her fall during the performance of a "pas de deux." For the past six years he has been selecting and training his troupe, the majority of whom are American. It is his intention to establish, in this country, an organization equal to that of the Imperial School of Ballet in St. Petersburg.

The ballets to be performed here are: "Giselle," one of the five classical ballets, "La Fille mal Gardee," "The Goldfish," and "Dionysius."

Mr. W. N. Mallory Elected To Post Of Dr. John W. Orr

Director Of Last Year's Drive Named

REPRESENTS ALABAMA

Dr. Orr, a Former Student, Served 6 Years

Mr. William Neely Mallory of Memphis has been elected representative of the Alabama synod in the executive committee of Southwestern.

A member of the Thousand Club, Mr. Mallory is associated with the Memphis Compress and Storage Co. During Southwestern's first year in Memphis, he coached the football team.

Mr. Mallory fills the vacancy left by the late Dr. John W. Orr, who died last week. An alumnus, Dr. Orr had been a member of the committee since 1931. Two sons of Dr. Orr who were graduated from Southwestern are Dr. John W. Orr, professor of theology at Western Theology Seminary at Pittsburgh, Pa., and Dr. Robert Orr, who is serving as an interne in Chicago.

Team Up Against Jinx

of the hardest driving backs on the Southwestern squad and is a scoring threat every time he handles the ball, but the loss of Will Rhea Winfrey and Elbert Childress made it necessary to convert him into a blocking back. Along with Ed French, Captain Jennings gives the Lynx two of the hardest hitting blockers in the South. Coach Propst says there is little to choose between the two men but that French may be a bit stronger on the defense and Jennings better on the offense.

Injuries that have bothered the squad since the Vanderbilt game have slowly disappeared and the Lynx will face the Bulldogs with almost full strength. The ailing ends, Orley Nettles, "Skinny" Roth, "Red" Bergfeld, and Mark Hammond are ready to go and the weak spot of the last few games will be on a par with the rest of the line this week.

Morton, Neal Ready

Two backs who have not seen any too much action this year but who may break loose against Howard are "Kite" Morton and Clois Neal. Morton, who regained some of his last year's form in the game with Chattanooga, may carry the Lynx to victory on his powerful right arm. His spirit lowered by too much heckling from the coaching staff, Morton has been in eclipse all year. He is not the confident, sure-fire passer that he was last year, but he may hit his real stride against the Bulldogs.

Clois Neal's cold is gone and he should see much action in tomorrow's game. Judging from the drive and spirit he has shown in practice this week, Neal may be the man for Howard to watch. It is recalled that Neal did not do his best running last fall until the latter part of the season.

Executive

MR. W. N. MALLORY

At The Orpheum

Starting today for seven days the Orpheum Theatre presents the most unusual stage and screen show it has presented this season.

Two gentlemen of note on the stage in person, the original Veloz & Yolando, Maestro George Hamilton, and his Music Box Music; on the screen, James Cagney in "Something to Sing About," a first run hit, plus "20th Century Varieties," starring the instrumental comedienne, Joe Termini, assisted by Jean Hamilton and Joe Clayton; the "darling of dance," Ruthie Barnes, tap dancer, late star with Buddy Rodgers; the Continental Comiques, Fortunello, and Cirillino.

George Hamilton just returns from Hollywood where he played at the Trocadero and made several shorts, one of which appeared on the Orpheum screen last week.

He comes direct from the Baker Hotel, Dallas, where he fulfilled a four-week engagement on his way here from Hollywood. He also opens an engagement at the Peabody Hotel.

His charleyhorse about gone and his pulled cartilage improved, Gaylon Smith goes into the game tomorrow with a record of having been kept from scoring in only one game this year—the Hendrix defeat. Smith is the Lynx' leading scorer and is one of the best backs in the South.

Coach Billy Bancroft brings to town a Howard team that outweighs the Southwestern eleven in the fore wall and rates on a par with the Lynx in the secondary. The Bulldogs use the Notre Dame style offense and feature a versatile attack. Their three conference victories were at the expense of Mercer, Spring Hill, and Chattanooga. The 6-0 defeat of Chattanooga was a bit skeptical for the Moccasins contend that the pass that led to the Bulldog touchdown was caught out of bounds.

Reporter Compiles Origins Of Students' Campus Nicknames

Some campus nicknames hold interesting histories behind them. Mildred Lou Hubbard, better known as "Pill", because she is "good medicine but hard to take," so she says. Some call her "Poolcues." Anyone can easily understand why Sam Mays is called "Toke" because he is such a clown. Alex Streete asserts he got his nickname "Beaver" because he once stopped up a creek.

W. C. Rowan acquired his nickname while he was still attending grammar school. He was whipped so often by a professor named "Ripp" that the name as well as the whipping came to be a habit. You only have to look at Jim Breyspraak and imagine him wrapped in a sheet to understand how he came by the name of "Mahatma." Mary Katherine Ellis gained for herself the nickname of "Tuffy" because of the tuft of hair on top of her head that won't lie down.

Mildred Noce claims that she belonged to a "tough gang" when she was small and she being the "moll," they called her "Toni." Maybe you have heard the story behind Ila Joy Lenti's name. When she and Linda Terry were small and met for the first time, Linda didn't understand her name and the impression it left on her was "Out-of-joint."

Frances Smithwick's smile seems to leave its impression on people . . . that's how she came to be called "Buck"(teeth). Roy Littlefield has been quite a woman-chaser in his day, thus the acquired name of "Floozy." The name of "Canary" is very suitable for Marian Longenecker since she is accustomed to singing often.

Women's Rifle Class Meets

This Week's Practice Will Be Followed By Supper

The women's riflery class, which meets every Thursday and Friday from 3 to 5 o'clock, is following its regular schedule this week. In addition, this week, however, after an early target practice the class will remain for a weiner roast.

The Riflery Club has been meeting twice weekly since college opened, when the weather permitted. The girls meet on the east side of Palmer Hall, and from there proceed to Rugby Hills, where the rifle range is located.

Three weeks ago the Friday class had a late supper over an open fire. Among those building the fire and carrying water were: Joy Newberger, Harriet Hollis, Martha Patton, Martha Forrest, Elizabeth Ricker, Marian Dickson, and Mary Margaret Wilson.

Pop Warner, the "old fox" of inter-collegiate football won his 300th victory in 43 years of coaching when his Temple University team beat Virginia Military Institute, 18 to 7.

Chattanooga Jinx Broken For First Time

HORSE SASSER STARS

Nardo, Kopcha Play Bang-Up Game For Invaders

Unleashing a fine passing attack which netted two touchdowns in the second quarter, the Lynx of Southwestern won their third Dixie Conference game by defeating Chattanooga 20-13 at Crump Stadium last Saturday before a crowd of 5,000.

The game was full of thrills for everyone. Everything which can happen in a game happened. It took one of the oldest plays in football to turn the tide for Southwestern. Sasser laid out toward the sidelines and as the ball was snapped he dashed down the field to receive a perfect pass from Morton and ran across the goal line.

Breaks decided the game, and Southwestern capitalized on them.

Jimmy Sasser turned in a stellar performance with his running, passing and punting. In the line Parker and Hebert proved to be the class of the conference.

Nardo and Kopcha of Chattanooga were the sparkplugs of the Moccasin attack. They never gave up and nearly turned defeat into victory with their inspired play.

This was Southwestern's first victory against the Chattanooga team in the history of the colleges.

REMODELING POSTPONED

Plans for remodeling the gymnasium have been under consideration, but no definite decision has been reached. It is understood that no action will be taken at present, because any changes would interfere with basketball practice.

The proposed construction includes 'celotex' insulation in the walls and the installation of dressing rooms under the grandstands. Permanent stands may then be built.

Sports Shorts

By JACK PILKINGTON

It seems that Southwestern has gotten the habit of breaking jinxes, and if they are able to defeat the Howard Bulldogs tomorrow it will be the first time, and the Lynx will be perched atop the Dixie Conference undefeated and untied; the only team in the conference with such a record, and only Loyola will stand in the way of a championship. . . . The boys took more of a beating from the hot weather last Saturday than they did from the Moccasins. . . . Morton's prize pun after the game was that he was snake-bit; you remember his blocked punt. . . . The right halfback from Chattanooga evidently didn't count on Morton's passing ability when he took one look at Sasser and turned away. . . . From the lack of noise which the student body is putting forth at the games, it seems that the only kind of team which would cause them to get excited would have to be invited to the Rose Bowl. . . . Seriously speaking, the uncanny ability of the students to remain quiet at the games has gained them some harmful criticism from people in Memphis, from a well known sports editor in his daily column and from members of the Thousand Club, and friends, that kind of criticism can certainly hurt. . . . so please come out to those games and bring any kind of noise maker that you can muster, and let the team and the fans know that you are behind the best team in the Dixie Conference. . . . Howard is attempting to get the Lynx overconfident by sending out reports that a flu epidemic has weakened their attack. . . . Parker and Hebert are certainly getting plenty of praise for their stellar performances at guard in each game. . . . When Sasser laid out on the sidelines for that long pass, Nickells had called for a punt, and it was not until after he had started calling signals that he located Sasser; it was fourth down and nine to go. . . . Henry Hammond is turning in a fine game with the Chicago Bears; after the tilt with the N. Y. Giants he is practically assured a starting role at left end. . . . Southwestern has scheduled Hendrix, Mississippi State, and Sewanee for 1938. . . . Be at Crump Stadium tomorrow and help the Lynx break that last jinx.
