Students Form Dance Band To Add New Beat To Campus Life

First Performance Will Be Tonight At The Kappa Sigma Open House

Southwestern has a dance band. The new crew is composed of, supported by, and strictly for the students of Southwestern. The combo features Buddy Whiteaker, sax, Tom Huff, trumpet, Dick Baldwin, trombone, Graham Hicks, drums, Dan Adams, bass, Harriet Byrd, piano, and Charlie Burnett, guitar.

Their first dance engagement is scheduled for Friday evening at the open house at the Kappa Sigma lodge. All students are invited to join the dancing from six to eight.

Pep Band

The idea for a campus dance band was an outgrowth of recent discussions among the students concerning the annual lag in collegiate enthusiasm. A couple of boys experimented by furnishing music at the varsity basketball games. When the spirit caught on, they began building a dance repertoire and increased the instrumentation.

Lair Sessions

Rehearsals were begun after the Christmas holidays. Following the recess for exams, the combo is ready for its first public appearance Friday. Tentative plans call for bi-weekly dance sessions in the Lair, with special engagements added from time to time.

Not Official

Southwestern's new dance band has no official connection with the college and is directed solely by students. The organization's performance at the Kappa Sigma lodge tonight is open to the public.

OPEN RUSH

Bids for Second Semester will be extended by sororities on March 1st.

1955 Heart Fund Campaign Started

The 1955 Heart Fund campaign got underway in Memphis and across the nation Tuesday (Feb. 1) as thousands of men and women began soliciting funds to "Help Your Heart Fund Help Your Heart."

$50,000 Goal

Goal of the local drive is set at $50,000, not including contributions the Heart Association hopes to collect in a citywide solicitation on Heart Sunday, February 20.

Bruce S. Ford, Memphis insurance man, is general chairman of the Heart Fund campaign. Edward C. Boldt, assistant cashier of the First National Bank, is serving as initial gifts chairman.

Tom O'Brien of United Service and Research, Inc. is heading the general business division. Heart Sunday chairman is Jack Pipkin of the insurance firm, A. E. Pipkin and Sons.

Stays at Home

A major portion of the funds contributed in the local campaign will be kept in Memphis to advance the local program. The remainder will go to support national research, education and community service programs of the American Heart Association.

In Memphis, as throughout the nation, heart and circulatory diseases are responsible for over 50 per cent of all deaths. This fact is proof that heart diseases are the foremost national and local health problem today.

Union Carbide Co. Offers Scholarships To Students Here

Southwestern at Memphis has been chosen as one of the eleven new colleges at which 68 Union Carbide Scholarships will go into effect in the fall of 1955.

This new allocation of scholarships marks the first time since the inception of the Union Carbide Scholarship fund in 1953, that liberal arts colleges and universities above and below the original size limitation of 500 to 1500 men have been selected.

To give significance to the Union Carbide Scholarships offered by the large universities, which include California Institute of Technology, and Cornell, Duke, Princeton, Stanford, Notre Dame and Pennsylvania Universities, the Boards of Admissions of these universities

Carter and Swartzfager Appointed to Magazine's National College Board

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Southwestern at Memphis will be represented this year on MADEMOISELLE's national College Board by Suzanne Carter and Esther Jane Swartzfager. They are among the 700 students who competed with applicants from colleges all over the country to win places on the Board, according to MADEMOISELLE.

Three Assignments

As College Board members, they will represent their campuses and report to MADEMOISELLE on college life and the college scene. Each girl will complete three assignments that will help her explore her interests and abilities in writing, editing, fashion, advertising or art, in competition for the twenty Guest Editorships to be awarded by the magazine at the end of May.

The Guest Editors will be brought to New York for four weeks next June to help write, edit and illustrate MADEMOISELLE's 1955 August College Issue. Their transportation will be paid to and from New York and they will receive a regular salary for their work.

Activities

In addition to their work on the magazine, Guest Editors will interview outstanding men and women in their chosen fields to help clarify their career aims, will visit fashion showrooms, publishing houses and advertising agencies and will be MADEMOISELLE's guests in a round of party and theatre-going.

When completed by September the new dorm will contain modern facilities for approximately 61 girls. All girls now residing in Evergreen Hall will be relocated in the new building.

New Entrance

The new dormitory will be three stories high and will follow the style of architecture featured in other Southwestern buildings. Plans call for the main entrance of the new dorm to face the drive which connects the campus with Charles Place. There will be another entrance opposite Palmer Hall, and a small tiled patio will be constructed here. A low wall will partially surround the new wing.

There will be a reception room and a parlor on either side of the downstairs foyer. Both rooms will be paneled in wood and tastefully furnished. A lounge for residents will be located on the second floor. Each room will contain two beds, double desk, two dressers, two closets and a lavatory. The floor will be asphalt tile.

Air-Conditioned

Space has been allotted in the basement for eventual installment of air-conditioning.

A wall of the existing dormitory will be broken through to provide easy access to the new dormitory.

The school will retain possession of Evergreen Hall. Present plans call for it to be used as a dormitory for men next semester.

General contractors for the Voorhies dormitory annex is the firm of Omicron Delta Kappa, and Scarbrough. This firm also constructed the balcony in the dining hall and the recently dedicated Neely Mallory gymnasium.

Kaylor Installed As Vice President

In student assembly chapel Wednesday David Kaylor, recently elected vice-president of the Student Council, was officially installed. He succeeds Reg Germany, who will leave Southwestern to serve in the Marine Corps.

David, a senior from Reform, Ala., is president of Robb Hall, pledge trainer and sentinel of Sigma Nu fraternity, and is a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary leadership fraternity. David is a letterman in basketball, and is a starting forward this season. A pre-ministerial student, David serves as assistant minister and youth director at Norris Memorial Presbyterian Church.

In his new office, David will serve as head of the Elections Commission. He formerly served as vice president of this commission.

Shall E'er The Twain Meet?

Last week we had the rare honor and privilege of a private interview with the Moderators of both of the leading branches of the Presbyterian Church. Dr. Ralph W. Lloyd, the U.S.A. leader, and Dr. Wade H. Boggs of the denomination which runs Southwestern were in Memphis for a service at the Evergreen Presbyterian Church. Dr. W. J. Millard, the Minister of our "Campus Chapel," kindly arranged this interview.

Technically speaking, Drs. Boggs and Lloyd are the foremost Presbyterians in the nation today. They were elected by their General Assemblies as the spokesmen and presiding officers of the two largest groups of Presbyterians in the country. It was interesting to hear them tell of the unanimity of the Northern Church, of the support of youth groups in the Southern Church, and of the great majority of the Ministers of the U.S. branch favoring union.

Southern Defeat

The blame for its defeat they laid on the Elders of the South. A small, well organized group in the U.S. Church spent unknown thousands of dollars flooding the mails with literature and traveling to speak in rural and urban Churches. Many of the arguments were directed not against the plan of union but against the Northern Church itself.

The idea of union is exemplified by a Communion Service held in Washington last month. The two Moderators administered the Sacrament in the National Presbyterian Church and joined in prayer and confession with President Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon, three fourths of the Cabinet members, and several hundred others. Among those serving the Elements were two Elders, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles of the U.S.A. Church and Mississippi's Senator John Stennis of the U.S. Church. As Dr. Lloyd put it: "There, at the Lord's table, we were one—there were no differences between us."

Hope Springs Eternal

It is the belief of both Moderators that the committees set up to work toward union will not be abolished and that eventually the various branches of Presbyterianism will be united. Dr. Boggs summed it up: "If Christ be the head, let us fuse ourselves into a unity to function, that the world may believe."

Heart Fund

Since 1948, more than $8,000,000 has been spent on heart research projects including the study of causes and controls of rheumatic fever, high blood pressure and hardening of the arteries.

The American Heart Association has two major educational objectives. The first is public education designed to eliminate fears and misconceptions and to encourage early diagnosis. The second is professional education designed to make new knowledge about heart diseases quickly available to physicians.

The aim of the community service projects is to protect healthy hearts and better enable heart sufferers to live as normal lives as possible.

Contributions should be sent to Memphis Heart Assn., 600 Hickman Bldg., Memphis.

The banana is an herb, the largest-growing in the world.

Re-Pate-tion

Twice annually, at the beginning of each new semester, it becomes the self-imposed burden of most parents, professors and various and sundry other specimens of the more aged generations to attempt to uplift the sagging willpower and flagging ambitions of that inveterate scapegrace, the college student.

Thus we who are emerging from the cocoon-like state into which we lapsed after bumbling battle-scarred and semi-victorious from the eternal armed conflict between canny pupil and omniscient faculty must unwillingly be subjected to those same age-old bits of wisdom and morally sound advice which our stern-browed elders have always been wont to drum into us, ad infinitum, ad nauseum.

In effect, they would have us undergo two post-exam periods of pained resolution-making without even allowing us the mixed blessings of what would amount to two extra New Year's Eves.

Please sirs, we ask only to be let comparatively alone in our blind and happy procrastination. We claim the ancient and irrevocable right of the seeker after knowledge to continue the frenzied pursuit in our own inimitable and stumbling way.

Lowering ourselves into flights of poetic fancy, we submit a few disconnected thoughts on the subject—thoughts which we promise to have plagiarized from only the best of our bridge partners.

Oh fair student, errant boy,
Thy vexed teachers' doubtful joy,
With thy wondrous leaden feet
And thy matching leaden seat,
Just ignore thy profs' despair
O'er thy bridge games in the Lair
And that editorial gassing
On the courses thou aren't passing.

Ah sweet prince, college man,
Thy prof is only pedestrian.
Though you may want, longingly,
To be, some day, wise as he,
Enjoy those frat house stags
And the Saturday nights with drags.

This is thy last chance to shirk—
Afterwards you'll HAVE to work.

After reading over the first part of this column we found that we understood only about half of those high-fallutin' words. Just goes to show that we play with some mighty smart bridge players.

We have just heard that a group of Southwesterners have organized a little dance combo. For some obscure reason that reminds us of the oldie about the band at a college dance which was so bad that when one of the chaperones fell over a chair, everyone got up and started dancing.

THE LAIR PHILOSOPHER says:

About that senior girl who claims to be writing a book on "My Four Years in a Dormitory" — subtitled, "I'm Only a Bird in a Gilded Cage." Just ignore her, she's stir crazy.

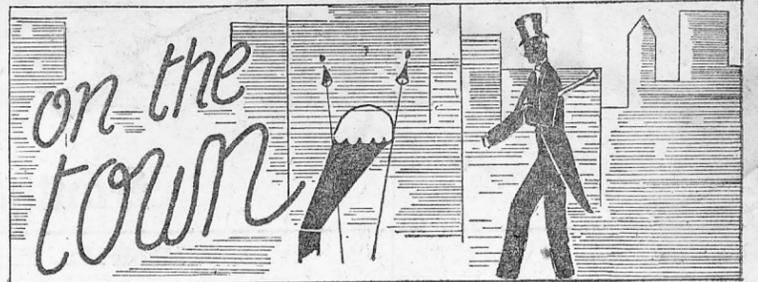

Scholarships

have been asked to limit their selection to students showing a particular interest and exceptional ability in research.

Full Tuition

As in the case of all Union Carbide Scholarships, the selection of the students and the administration of the scholarships is entirely in the hands of the participating colleges, technological institutes, and universities. Each scholarship covers the full four-year undergraduate tuition plus an allowance, set by the college, for necessary books and fees. In addition, each scholarship carries an annual grant-in-aid of $500 for the college, plus a $100 allowance toward the expenses of a faculty advisor.

(Guest columnist. Byrd has flue.)

Well here we are back again and all ready to go ON THE TOWN! There's absolutely no excuse for not living a little because it's eight weeks before we need to worry about tests. (If you aren't still worrying about the one you just finished.)

The Warner is featuring "Battle Cry" which should be of interest to all in the PLC. However, I hear that it just can't be as good as the book, if you know what I mean. There are eight big stars, I won't bother mentioning them all — Aldo Ray (hurry Poochie), Tab Hunter, and Mona Freeman.

Russell, Russel Everywhere

Jane Russell goes Underwater at the Pallace.— No, girls she hasn't drowned. It's not in Cinemascope but Superscope. I'm sure a larger screen was necessary for this film.

Frances Langford and the Fellas (if you know who they are you know more than I do) are appearing in person at the Malco. Also showing, and this was at the bottom of the ad, is West of Zanzibar. I'm not recommending this one—ten minutes of Frances Langford is not worth two hours of bad movie.

Women, Women, Everywhere

Attention Grace Kelly fans—I assume this includes all males—Bridges at Toko Ri is still at the Strand. Don't miss it if you haven't already seen it. Another movie admirers of feminine pulchritude must not miss is Beauties in the Night, starring Gina Lollobrigida—even if I didn't spell it right, I'm sure you get the general idea. Oh yes! This is showing at the Ritz.

The fun and thrills of the Shrine Circus start Saturday, and I know you are just bursting to go. I do hope Mary Max finds someone to take her.

Slums, Slums Everywhere

If anyone has a car, an interesting excursion is a visit to all those terrible slums we've been reading about in the Commercial. If you don't have an automobile, a walk to the band house will suffice.

Now for weekend fun. The Bahamas prove a magnet to many Memphians (quote the Press Scimitar). Why don't we all plan to fly down some weekend this month? I can't think of any thing more fun than an all school party at the modernistic Emerald Beach Hotel.

Well, bye now! I'll be seeing you ON THE TOWN and in the sunny Bahamas.

Campus Challenges

In Proverbs 22:1 we find that "a good name is rather to be chosen than great riches." When the name of Admiral Dewey was being acclaimed after his victory at Manila Bay, his son was offered two hundred dollars a month to sign his name to a daily article which an experienced newspaperman was to write. He was then earning only twenty dollars a month at his first job, but he refused to be a party to deceit and dishonesty. He could not be false to his father's name and lose his own self respect.

We might well ask ourselves what our names mean here at Southwestern. Every day we are endorsing or not endorsing things that we encounter in life. In a sense we are given a chance to sign our names or to link ourselves with practices, ideas, organizations, groups, and individuals. What are our interests? What groups do we support? Who are our friends? When our names are mentioned the hearers connect us with something. What is it? Is it worthwhile? Is it Christian? We want to be proud of our names. Can we be?

Then too, we must remember a name far above our own which we are exalting or degrading.

"We bear the name of Christian,
His name and sign we bear."

 Dr. Ralph W. Lloyd, Moderator of the Northern Presbyterian Church, and Dr. Wade H. Boggs, Moderator of the Southern Presbyterian Church, were in Memphis last week for a Service at Evergreen Church. It was the first time the two leaders had been together since the plan for the merger of the Churches was defeated.

Presbyterian Moderators Express Disappointment As Union Is Rejected

The Moderators of the Northern and Southern Presbyterian Churches were the guest speakers at a joint service held here last week. Dr. Ralph W. Lloyd, Moderator of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, and Dr. Wade H. Boggs, Moderator of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, both expressed disappointment that the merger proposal for the two Churches had been rejected. The Memphis meeting was the first time the two leaders had been together since the Southern Church voted against the plan of Union.

North Attacked

Dr. Lloyd, a Tennessean by birth and now President of Maryville College near Knoxville, was particularly distressed by the reasons given in opposition to the plan during debates in some U.S. Presbyteries. "In spite of the vigorous attacks on the U.S.A. Church, we feel there wouldn't have been these attacks if they had known the facts," he insisted. "U.S.A. people are distressed at charges that they are not true to the faith and not true to the Presbyterian government. It is unfortunate that so many of the arguments against union were not worthy."

The vote in the U.S.A. Church thus far has been unanimously in favor of union. Dr. Lloyd said that he would continue to urge his people to show their willingness and exercise patience. "There is evidence that hope is greater than history," he added. "All have a sense of new dedication to the mission of the Church."

Apology Not Accepted

Dr. Boggs compared his disappointment to the "rejoicing of the win side." He expressed admiration of the conduct of the U.S.A. Church in the face of very pointed provocations in many cases. As an example of the Northerners' willingness to do everything possible to avoid ill feeling, he cited a letter sent by the General Assembly of the U.S.A. Church in 1951 apologizing "for anything which may have been said or written that caused ill will."

"As Moderator," Dr. Boggs concluded, "I regret all the unkind and un-Christian things that were said and done. This is a situation that calls for Christian forbearance, and many of us in the U.S. Church need to exercise Christian penitence for the attitude we have assumed."

The service, held at Evergreen Presbyterian Church, had been planned many weeks before the vote on union was begun. The Memphis Presbytery of the U.S. Church rejected the plan by a vote of 65 to 42. West Tennessee Presbytery of the U.S.A. Church approved union unanimously, 28 to 0.

A Guide To Our Profs' Doubletalk

For the benefit of the new students, the Sou'wester seeks to clarify the often confusing phrases used by our professors. Their private double-talk is explained by the italicized sentences following each saying.

There will be no unannounced quizzes in this course. Hah! Just wait until tomorrow.

Poochie's Patter

Hello again to the old students, and a most hearty welcome to our new students. Back again—it seems that we're always returning from holidays. I presume that of all the holidays these days between semesters were the most appreciated. We didn't need the rest very much—not very much!

Due to the fact that our intellectual editor didn't publish a paper exam week, I'm a little behind on news. First of all congratulations to Don Carnes and Pat Fritz, who are pinned. You upperclass women better get on the ball—the freshmen have gone pin crazy.

Away We Go

On the City of New Orleans heading points south for semester vacation were Ann Sizer, Skip Schoneberg, Kakky Whitsitt, Grace Morris, Margaret Ann Fagan, Nancy Carter, Joan Womack, Graham Hicks, Dickie Baldwin, and etc., etc., etc. (borrowed from the King and I), but the point I was coming to—Mr. Pack was on the train going to New Orleans for the holiday—but the Chamber of Commerce was not too accommodating and he returned after spending one night in, quote: "a fifth rate hotel after I taxied half the night looking for a vacancy." Just goes to show you—somebody goofed.

Heart Aches

Well, boys, guess what Monday is? February 14, Valentine's Day. Now, aren't you glad I reminded you, you now have time to run and get that box of candy for your best gal. From the looks of things, the majority of the beribboned boxes will be in Evergreen Hall—but chin-up, upperclassmen, we can always go to E'green visiting.

Here's a tip for the boys. I stole this from the Ladies' Home Journal—"Our town's most eligible hachelor has a tricky way of judging a girl at Valentine's Day; Would she prefer a dozen red roses to just one yellow rose with an Edna Millay sonnet pinned on?" Try it boys—and be sure to let me know the results.

Miss You

I guess the majority of you have heard by now about Diane Dupree's accident. She is in Campbell's Clinic and will be able to have visitors starting this Saturday. I know she'd appreciate all visits.

Well, good-by for this week. See you all at the KKS Open House. Remember, seniors, the end is near—only four months to go. 'Bye now!

Kappa Sigma Sweetheart To Be Introduced Tonight

Southwestern is invited to meet the Sweetheart of Kappa Sigma Fraternity tonight from six to eight at an open house at the fraternity lodge.

A feature of the open house will be the debut of the as yet unnamed campus orchestra which is composed of Buddy Whiteaker, Tom Huff, Graham Hicks, Harriet Byrd, Charlie Barnett, Dickie Baldwin and Dan Adams.

The Kappa Swig house will be decorated with red hearts and other colorful decorations apropos of Valentine's day in honor of the sweetheart.

Opportunity For Study In Scandinavia Offered

The Scandinavian Seminar for Cultural Studies announces an expanded program for the 1955-56 academic year.

Since 1949, both graduates and undergraduates have been offered the opportunity of living and studying for a year in the Danish folk schools or residential colleges. This year, as an alternative to Denmark, students may select Norway, Sweden or Finland as their country of study. They may also carry out research in their particular field of interest during their stay at the folk schools. Each student will be assigned an advisor in his field, and the February field trip will be used primarily for independent research or for visiting institutions which pertain to his study project in any or all of the Scandinavian countries.

Personal Contact

The Seminar members will, as previously, achieve an intimate contact with the people by learning a Scandinavian language while in the country of their choice. They will live with several families during the first few months and participate in a series of group seminars. These include intensive language study and courses on the cultural background of Scandinavia. During the five months at a folk school, students will follow the same curriculum as that of their Scandinavian classmates.

The folk schools were started in 1844 by Grundtvig, Denmark's internationally recognized educator and theologian and a contemporary of Kierkegaard's. They have proven to be ideal for the purpose of the Seminar, for they, perhaps more than any other single institution in Scandinavia, reflect the life and culture of the people.

The cost of the entire nine month program, including board, room and tuition, is $800 plus travel. Two $400 scholarships are available.
