Course Description: Chinese 201 is the continuation of the beginning level Chinese courses and aims for helping students achieve greater proficiency in listening, speaking, reading, and writing. By the end of the semester, the students are expected to be able to converse with Chinese native speakers on topics of social life, to write long descriptions and comments, and to achieve the corresponding capability of listening and reading.

Textbooks:

Integrated Chinese (Level 1, Part 2, by Yuehua Liu et al.), including the workbook, the character book, and the CD.

Homework:

The regular homework includes:

1. Preparing for the class. Listen to the tape for the target lesson and repeat after it. Get familiar with the new vocabulary for target lesson. Go through the glossary and grammar notes for the new lesson.
2. Writing the new characters in the character book
3. Completing exercises in the workbook or other assignments

Note: 1. Learning a foreign language is time-consuming and even painstaking. You are expected to spend a lot of time. But you will find it rewarding in the end.

2. The Honor Code must be honored.

3. The Weekly Schedule may be subject to change.

Grading:

10%--attendance and performance;

15%--homework and assignments (No late turn-in is accepted without a 25% penalty);

5%--character writing (No late turn-in is accepted without a 25% penalty);

15%--quizzes (No make-up quiz unless there is a reasonable excuse; three lowest scores may be dropped at the end of the semester upon full attendance)

30%--weekly test (The score for a late test will be reduced 10%; two lowest scores may be dropped at the end of the semester upon full attendance)

10%--mid-term exams (oral and written);

15%--final exams (oral and written).

Note: A: 95-100 A-: 90-94 B+: 85-89 B: 80-84 B-: 75-79
C+: 70-74 C: 65-69 C-: 60-64 D: 50-59
F: 49 or lower

- Absences would adversely affect your grade. An unexcused absence will lower your final grade by one degree. A total of 5 absences or more will lead to a final "F."
