Southwestern's "Alma Mater" Song

Dear Alma Mater, kind the fate
That links our lives with thee,
For God's own pow'r that made thee great
Is the Truth and makes us free;
Thy torch has touched our hearts with flame,
Our yearning souls refined;
Through thee we learn the higher aim
And train the truer mind.

Thy stalwart towers of solid stone,
Thy vaulted arches strong,
Inspire our loyal hearts each one
To fight against the wrong;
Our lives reflect the beauty
Of thy stately cloistered halls,
And characters grow genuine
That dwell within thy walls.

O, Leader to the larger light,
Southwestern, 'neath thy wings,
Thy sons in reverent love unite
And each his tribute brings;
And dreams, such dreams as old men dream,
And visions young men see,
Keep lighted in our hearts the flame
Once kindled there of thee.

Like a jewel in a new and beautiful setting Southwestern begins in Memphis a new cycle of her honored career. Past cycles have been symbolized by integrity and wisdom and the presence of God. The new cycle, gathering up in itself the traditions and experiences of the past, is symbolized by the lotus flower, the emblem of immortality. With honest purpose Southwestern confidently faces the dawn of an enlarged opportunity, and unreservedly dedicates every power to her high and holy calling.

Classes

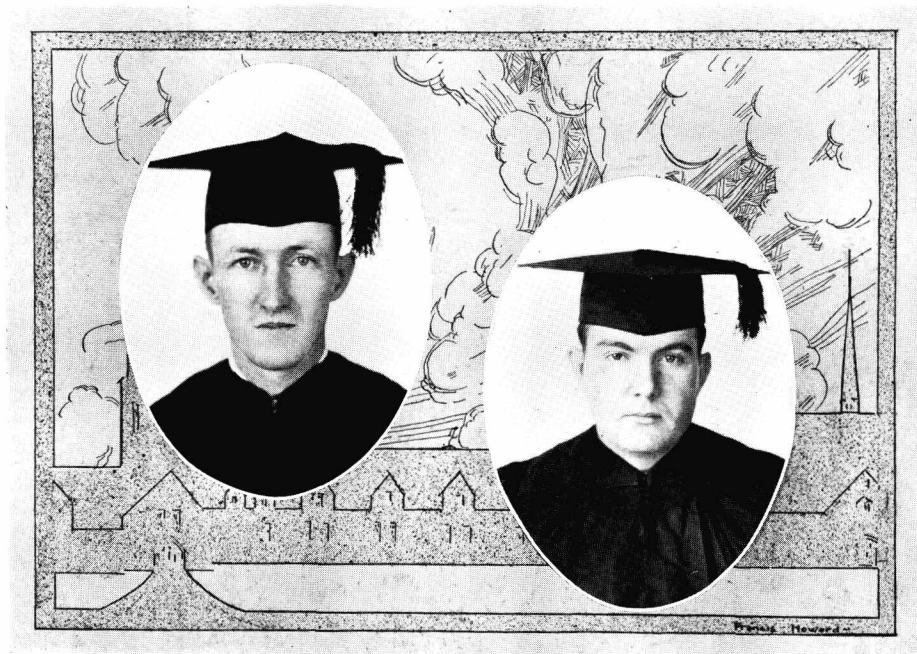

SENIORS

Admiral

HENRY WINBON BACON

Vaiden, Miss. B. A.

Kappa Alpha; Stewart Literary Society; Mississippi Club; Track Team '23-24.

"Ham" is one of the "charter members" of the Class of '26. He is one of the few who have weathered successfully the storms of four years of Greek, so wherever determination and persistency are needed, Henry W. can be counted on.

By his excellent track performance Bacon has acquired the sobriquet of "Achilles," and his work on the basketball floor stamps him as a deserving athlete.

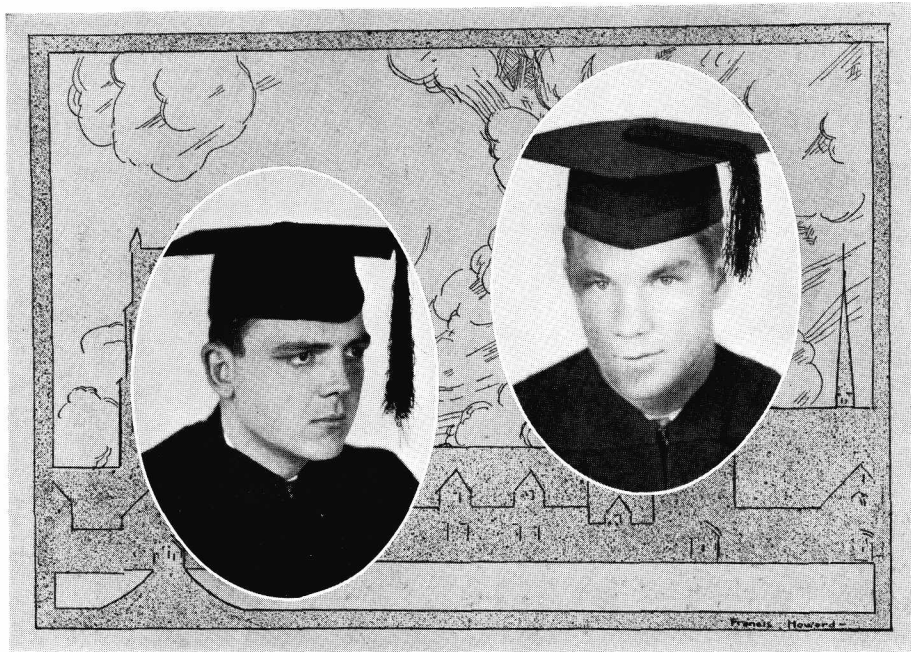

Behind a somewhat reserved bearing one finds a keen and enjoyable wit, a friendly nature, and a sincere personality.

EBEN MONCRIEF BEE

Brookhaven, Miss. B. A.

Kappa Sigma; Sigma Upsilon; Alpha Phi Epsilon; Alpha Theta Phi; A. P. O., Mississippi Club; Tennis Association; Secretary-Treasurer Y. M. C. A., '25; Editor "Handbook" '25; Varsity Football '24; "S" Club; "Sou'wester" Staff '23; Southwestern Serenaders '26; Math Prize '24.

The above list of honors will speak for itself. "Major" has won himself a place in all branches of school activities. Whether it be playing football, or working calculus; strumming the banjo, or writing for the "Sou'wester"; wielding the tennis racket, or making "A's" on his report—it matters little to Eben. He's big enough for them all, and his success will be in the field he chooses.

BRADY HARVEY BELCHER

Centerville, Ala. B. S.

Alpha Tau Omega; Alabama Club.

"Dad," or "Shiek," came into his own as a Lady Killer during his freshman year, and he is still content to stand and let them gaze at his handsome countenance for just a minute, and then walk nonchalantly away.

Brady left us his junior year and pursued his studies at Birmingham Southern, but returned to graduate from the school of his choice.

He intends to continue his studies in medicine, and as a doctor Brady should be a success, with his unexcitable temperament, his capability, and his reassuring eyes.

Quiet, likable, full of fun, yet assuming a certain dignity; handsome, and a true gentleman.

GEORGE DONAGHEY BREED

Gloster, Miss. B. A.

Pi Kappa Alpha; Varsity Baseball '23-'24-'25; Baseball Captain '26; Pan-Hellenic Council '25-'26; High Priest San Hedrin '25-'26; "S" Club; Secretary-Treasurer "S" Club '25-'26; Secretary-Treasurer Mississippi Club '24-'25; A. P. O. D. T.

It is an unwritten law that in every graduating class of Southwestern there must be a resident of Gloster, Mississippi. In the present case Geo. D. Breed is the man.

Before coming to our campus "Chick" held a berth on the same prep school team which boasted of "Bootie" Johns and Nolan McClean. He has performed excellently on the diamond for the past four seasons, and in his senior year is pilot of Jess Neely's Wonder Nine.

The man for all occasions, the truest of friends, the Ladies' Delight—is George Donaghey.

NEWTON CALDWELL

Hazlehurst, Miss. B. A.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Alpha Phi Epsilon; Stewart Literary Society; Orchestra '23-'24, '25-'26; Honor Council '23-'24; Chief Robb Hall '24-'25; Pan-Hellenic Council '25-'26; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet '23-'24, '25-'26; Vice-President Junior Class; Tennis Association; "Sou'wester" Staff '23, '26; Mississippi Club.

"Newt," as we call him, has been the Handy Man around Robb Hall for four years. Who can remember the old room in Clarksville where all you had to do to turn on the lights, close the door, or stop the alarm clock was to pull a string or press a button? As long as Newt was around everything was kept in good repair but since the removal to Memphis where the lights already have wall switches and the doors have good locks on them he has had little to do—except study.

His various talents have won him a place in many activities of the college, including the orchestra, literary societies, and publication staffs, and he has left a place on the campus to be filled by no other.

IRENE CLARDY

Clarksville, Tenn. B. A.

Chi Omega; A. P. O.; Sophomore English Prize '23-'24; Education Prize '24-'25; French Prize '24-'25; Vice-President Chi Delta Literary Society '24-'25; President Chi Delta Literary Society '25-'26; Vice-President Shakespeare Club '24-'25; President Shakespeare Club '25-'26; Honor Council '25-'26; Secretary and Treasurer Senior Class; Co-ed Editor "Sou'wester" '25-'26; Pan Hellenic Council '25-'26.

"Rene" or "Mistress Mulligan" as she is known among her fellows, is one of the best known and best liked of the co-eds at Southwestern.

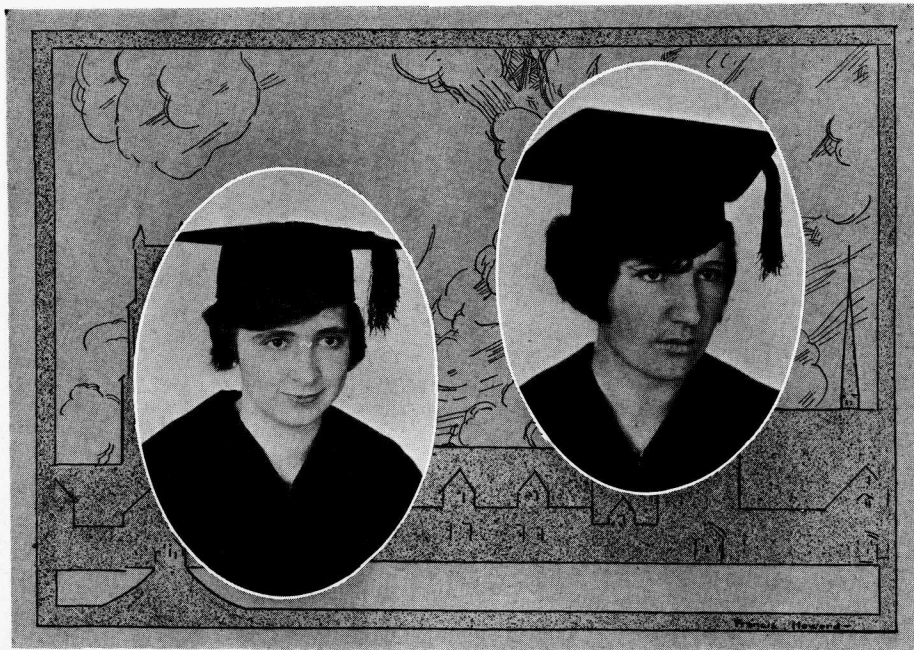

She entered Southwestern after her graduation from Clarksville High School and made a host of friends.

Her ability to laugh heartily at everyone's jokes and her kindness to freshmen has made her popular.

In society "Mistress Mulligan" is no back number. She holds the position of Social Editor on the "Sou'wester" staff as well as helping a certain professor while away his leisure hours.

We predict success for 'Rene in the teaching of English and she will long be remembered on our campus.

HAZEL COKE

Clarksville, Tenn. B. A.

Kappa Delta; Chi Delta Literary Society; French Composition Prize '25; Secretary and Treasurer of Honor Council '25-'26.

"Little Sister" came to us in Clarksville after a year at West Tennessee Teachers' College. The characteristic toss of her head is familiar as well as the characteristic constancy of "A's" on her report. Many a freshman will miss Little Sister when the Latin gets hard and a few words from her would make it easier. Whether it be making "A's" or keeping books, or deciding profound questions on the Honor Council, Hazel is right there with the goods.

MARY CATHERINE CULBERSON

Durant, Oklahoma. B. A.

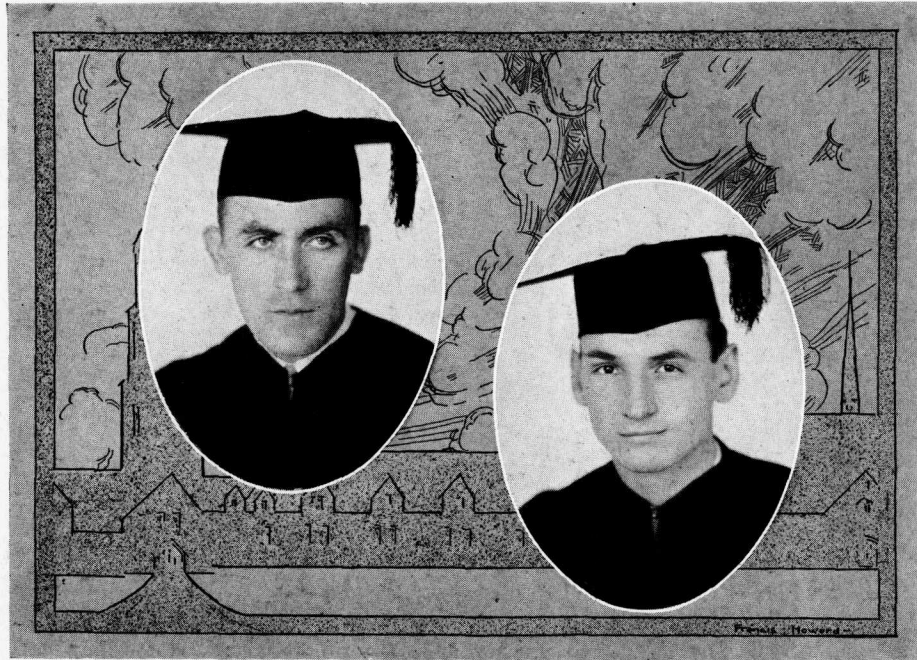

Kappa Delta; President Junior Class; Secretary-Treasurer Sophomore Class; Secretary-Treasurer Boosters' Club; Treasurer Chi Delta Literary Society; Vice-President Chi Delta Literary Society; Winner Women's Tennis Singles '24; Shakespeare Club; Spanish Club.

"Mamma," as she is familiarly known to the other co-eds, came to us from an Oklahoma Teachers' College and was classified as a Junior. Teaching school one year, she returned to take up her work as a Senior and to graduate from Southwestern.

Her advice and philosophy and constant anxiety about the pranks of Polly and Liz have well earned her the name of "Mamma."

Aside from being one of the most popular co-eds she is a good tennis player, a debater, and a constant worker in Chi Delta.

JAMES OLEN FINLEY
Lewisburg, Tenn. B. A.

Pi Kappa Alpha; Varsity Baseball '22-'23, '23-'24; "S" Club; President Sociology Club.

This is a man of wide experience. Having finished the Morgan School, he played the role of History Prof at Guthrie, Ky. To learn a bit more of the world, Jim travelled for two summers with the White and Brown Chautauqua and it is extremely interesting to hear his tales of the road.

He has played his part in school life. He wears the coveted "S" for holding down a berth in the outfield for two years, and had it not been for accidents, would have graced one of the flanks of Ralph Kenny's eleven. His work as a student shows consistency, and he is now President of the Sociology Club.

A hard worker; a man who takes care of his own business; a man with a future and a wife.

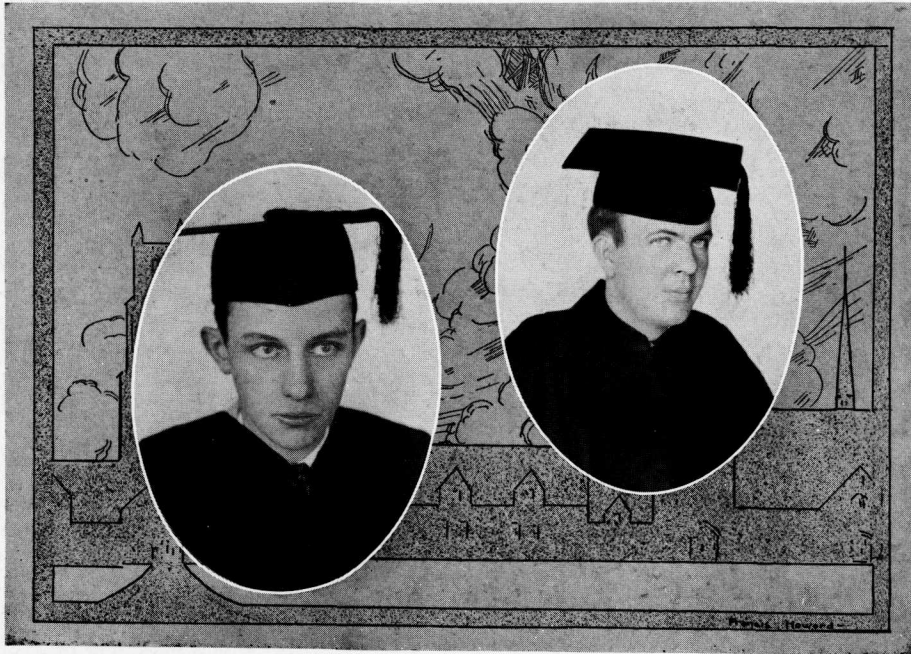

ROBERT CLAYTON FLEMISTER, JR.
Birmingham, Ala. B. A.

Alpha Tau Omega; Sigma Upsilon; Order of the Torch; Honor Council '23, '24, '25; Varsity Football '22-'23, '23-'24; Football Captain '24; Varsity Basketball '23-'24; Captain-elect '24; Varsity Baseball '23, '24; President "S" Club '24; President Freshman Class; Vice-President Sophomore Class; President Senior Class; Shakespeare Club; President Boosters' Club '25-'26.

That tall, handsome boy who finally decided that the College colors were: Cardinal and navy blue under a pretty brunette face with dark bobbed hair. This is what moving to Memphis did to him. We have, however, touched herein on his only weakness, and even here we find him full of constancy.

The above list of honors tells its own tale. He has interested himself in all activities and is equally in his element whether leading the pigskin squad to victory, helping the Honor Council to render a decision, or in delivering his inspirational talks before the Booster's Club.

NEBRASKA EVERETT FREY

Guthrie, Ky. B. A.

Alpha Tau Omega.

This Kentucky lad came to Southwestern after having spent his first two years at Bethel College and Washington and Lee; whose loss has been our gain.

Only those who were privileged to listen in on his discourses in Prof. Atkinson's memorable Public Speaking class can realize what possibilities are buttoned up under this man's vest. He is equally fluent whether defending Prohibition or the Necessity of Root Beer—which means that Nebraska bids well for a high place in his chosen field, the legal profession.

A very amiable disposition, a head of his own, and a way with the ladies, characterize this popular young man.

WAYNE WALLACE GRAY

Tutwiler, Miss. B. A.

Beta Sigma; Alpha Phi Epsilon; President Alpha Phi Epsilon '25-'26; Honor Council '24-'25; Stewart Literary Society; Pan-Hellenic Council '25-'26; "Sou'wester" Staff '25-'26; Mississippi Club.

This man came to Southwestern via the Chickasaw College route. During his three years on our campus he has been known to his friends, affectionately, as "Windy." Members of the Calvin Hall clan of 1923-24 can well attest to the poetic truth of such a title—for evidence, recall the multitudinous musicless saxophonic sounds emitting from Room 12. The next year our friend "Windy" was more docile, and contented himself with the receiving end of a radio set.

He has proved himself a forceful public speaker and in his senior year heads Alpha Phi Epsilon, the national forensic fraternity of the campus.

SAMUEL DAVID HALL

Selma, Ala. B. A.

Alpha Tau Omega; Varsity Basketball '23, '24, '25; Varsity Baseball '24; Honor Council '22-23; A. P. O. D. T.

"Little Sam, the Boy from Alabam," was proud of his native state, and started off as a Freshman to do it honor.

As the Midget Forward in basketball he showered himself with glory his first two years; then, after the "Land of Sunshine" had, turned his "curly locks" a "golden red," he turned his steps toward the social world, and has been one of its leading aspirants since that time.

Full of pep, good natured, sincere; and a capable and competent young gentleman—with a bright future.

GEORGIA CROSS HODGSON

Clarksville, Tenn. B. A.

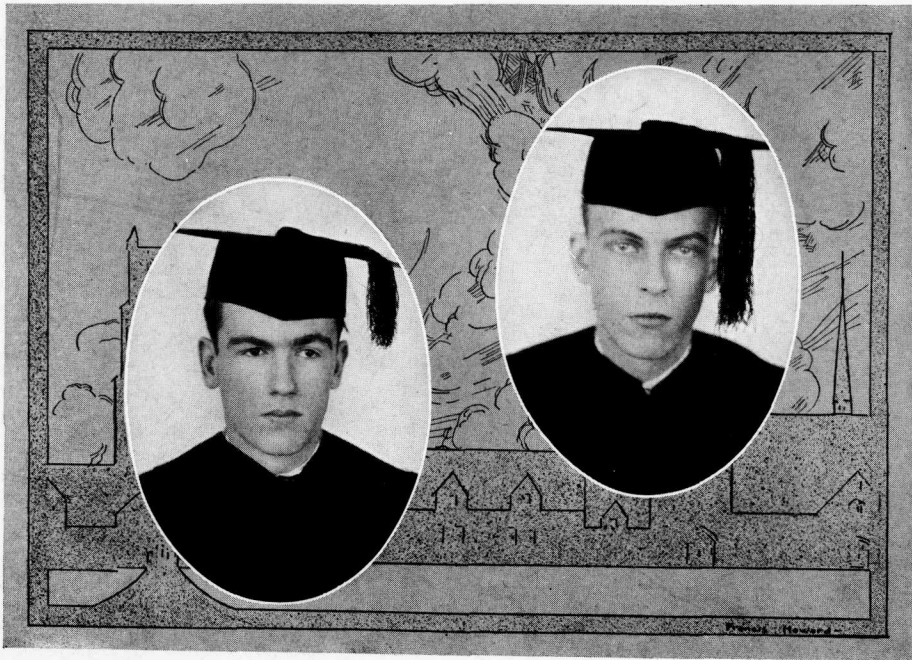

Kappa Delta; Alpha Theta Phi; Alpha Phi Epsilon; President Chi Delta Literary Society '23-'24; Vice-President Chi Delta Literary Society '24-'25; Treasurer Chi Delta Literary Society '25-'26; Class Historian '25-'26; Secretary Alpha Phi Epsilon '25-'26; Comparative Literature Prize '24.

"Genius is its own excuse for being"—and if this were the only excuse Georgia had for being, she would be justified.

Some day we expect to be reading her poems, or a "best seller" at least. But Georgia has other excuses for being; ranking high in all her studies, she has the honor of being the only girl at present belonging to Alpha Theta Phi, petitioning Phi Beta Kappa.

Loved by all who know her, her charming personality will be one of the greatest losses to Southwestern at Memphis.

WALTER KNOX JOHNSTON
Memphis, Tenn. B. A.

Kappa Alpha; Pan-Hellenic Council '24-'25, '25-'26; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet '24-'25; San Hedrin Council '24-'25.

For the wit of the class look to this man. If you haven't enjoyed a session of his spicy thrusts—do it the next chance you get.

Walter rendered his service to Southwestern as a member of that revered Bench of Elders, the San Hedrin. And his name is held in painful memory by the freshman of '24.

This man with the curly hair (we haven't seen one of those curls out of place during the past four years), has the good-natured disposition which always wins a way—without a doubt, he is the long-sought answer to that maiden's prayer.

SAMUEL FRANCIS HOWARD, JR.
Iuka, Miss. B. S.

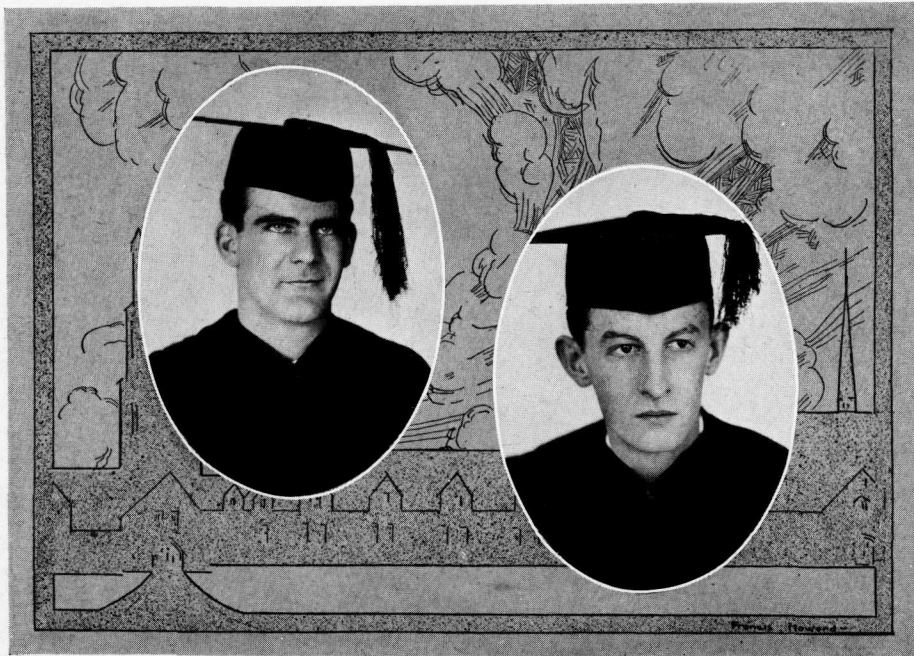

Pi Kappa Alpha; Editor-in-Chief "The Lynx" '26; Alpha Phi Epsilon; Shakespeare Club; Vice-President Galileo Club; Honor Council '22-'23, '23-'24, '24-'25; Student Assistant in Chemistry; Assistant Art Editor "The Pioneer" '24, '25.

This man has identified himself with several of the varied phases of college life. He feels equally at home analyzing an unknown in the chemical laboratory or using his pen and brush on sketches and cartoons.

Francis has given unstintingly of his time to thankless jobs; he has devoted his energies to the interest of Southwestern; and all his work is characterized by a certain thoroughness and perfection.

As part of a versatile personality he possesses a friendly manner, a capable head, and, above all, he is a gentleman.

JOSEPH TUTTLE KITCHELL

Greenwood, Miss. B. S.

President Galileo Club; Mississippi Club; Sociology Club; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet '22-'24; Stewart Literary Society; Glee Club.

"Tuttle" is an old Scotch-Swiss name which runs back in genealogy to the most famous family of yodelers the world has ever known. But that is usually forgotten when we think of the seventeenth Robb Hall fire of the good year 1924 in Clarksville; here we have the hero of this great conflagration. His praises will be sung to the Sons and Daughters of the Class of '26 from generation even unto generation.

Nor is he famous only as a yodeler and fire hero. His figure has been a familiar sight around the laboratories of Southwestern for four years, and he can boast of having taken more math than any other man in school. His talents lie along the line of machinery and things scientific, and we predict success for him in the world of whirring wheels.

HENRY BRANDON LEMMON

Greenville, Miss. B. A.

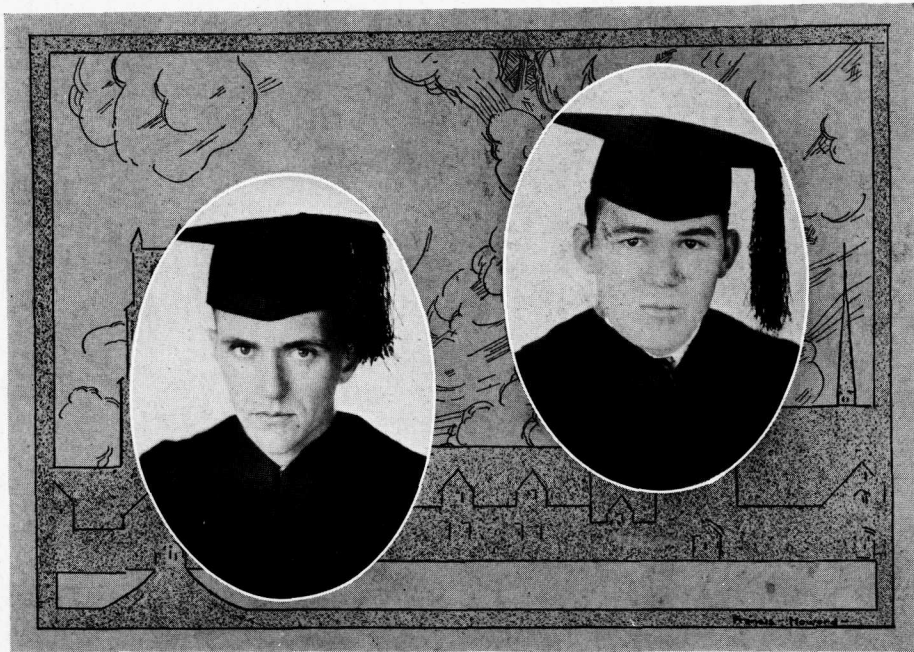

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Vice-President Mississippi Club '24-'25; Member San Hedrin Council '24-'25; Y. M. C. A. Attendance Committee '24-'25; President A. P. O. D. T. '24-'25.

Somehow, somewhere, this man has acquired the sub-title of "Noisy." Debates featuring Henry Brandon Lemmon vs. The Opposing Party have won a place in the annals of Robb Hall History. And Noisy usually wins the fight, carrying it into the wee hours, if need be.

One finds a certain dignity in this man's bearing; a certain friendliness in his manner; and a definiteness of purpose in his steady eyes, which lead us to assume that cotton magnates will find him no mean competitor.

He won his fame at Southwestern as a member of that austere body, the San Hedrin. Since its passing, he devotes his time to golf and girls.

ROBERT PENN MOSS

Iuka, Miss. B. A.

Pi Kappa Alpha; Student Assistant in Biology '24-'25; Track Team '24; Scrub Football '23; Scrub Basketball '23, '24; Honor Council '25; Spanish Club; Mississippi Club.

This tall, handsome young man hails from the Magnolia State, and has graced Southwestern's campus for the past four years.

His athletic figure has shown up well whether in football or basketball practice, and he is no mean wielder of the discus.

Penn's interest in the promotion of science has won him a place as Assistant in Biology, and the zeal and earnestness of the scientist has characterized him during his stay on the campus.

With his congenial manner and sincere personality he has won a host of friends, and is the sheik par excellence.

GOODWIN TURNER MYRICK

Columbus, Miss. B. S.

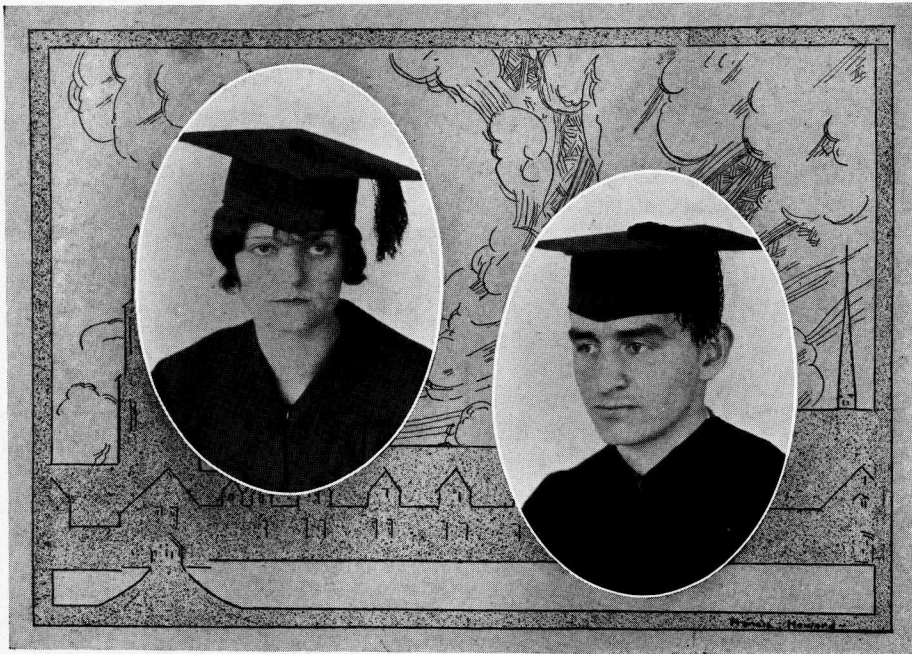

Pi Kappa Alpha; Varsity Football '22, '23, '24, '25; Secretary and Treasurer "S" Club, '24-'25; Mississippi Club; A. P. O. D. T.

"Good" came to us in the guise of the "Columbus Flash" in the realm of football. Making good his enviable record as a linesman, "Shorty" has proven a very valuable man in the Lynx machine for the past four years.

He is one of the best liked boys on the campus and always has a welcome because of his generous, likeable manner and because he has always shown himself a true sportsman.

Next year some school will be fortunate in having "Shorty" the coach of their winning team, and Southwestern will be minus some one hundred and sixty pounds of fight.

LOUISE ORRELL
Clarksville, Tenn. B. A.

Kappa Delta; Theta Alpha Phi; Chi Delta Literary Society; Secretary and Treasurer of Theta Alpha Phi '23; President Theta Alpha Phi '25-'26; A. P. O.; High Priestess San Hedrin '23-'24, '25-'26; Secretary and Treasurer Boosters Club '24-'25; Education Prize '24-'25; Secretary and Treasurer of Girls' Pan-Hellenic Council '24-'26; Junior Class Historian; Secretary and Treasurer of Junior Class.

"Doo She" heralded her arrival on Southwestern's campus with cries due to the sting of upper classmen paddles. She was a "Freshette" in every sense of the word.

Her interest in athletics and dramatics has won wide spread popularity for her. She is a Math Shark, having captured a prize in the field.

As High Priestess of the San Hedrin she did her duty ably—striking terror to the hearts of the "Freshettes."

JOHN A. REDHEAD, JR.
Woodville, Miss. B. A.

Kappa Sigma; President Sigma Upsilon '25-'26; President Alpha Theta Phi '25-'26; Alpha Phi Epsilon; Order of the Torch; Assistant in English '25-'26; Freshman Bible Prize; Freshman Greek Prize; Football '23-'24; Basketball '26; Vice President Freshman Class; President Junior Class; Business Manager "The Pioneer" '24-'25; Business Manager "The Sou'wester" '24-'25; Honor Council '22-'23, '23-'24, '24-'25, '25-'26; Vice-President Honor Council '24-'25; Shakespeare Club; President Stewart Literary Society '23-'24.

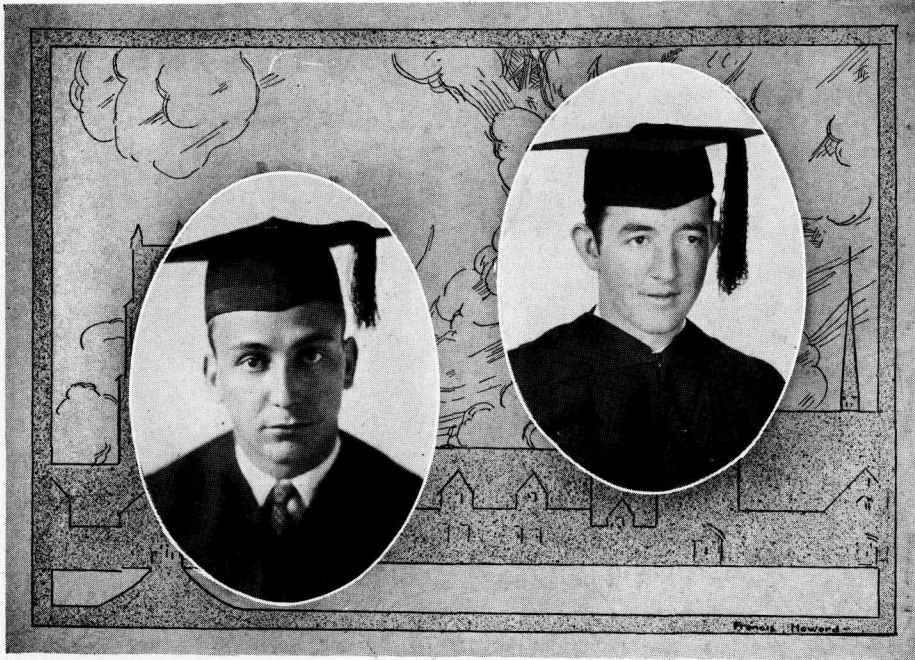

The title of "The Best All Around Man in School" seems to fit Jack better than any other description that could be given him.

He is one of those rare combinations of scholar-athlete and at the same time is the recipient of a wealth of well-deserved respect and popularity.

Jack has made letters in both Football and Basketball and has led his class in scholarship for four years, as well as coming second in the State trials for the Rhodes Scholarship. He has also taken an active part in literary and publication work.

Jack is going to be a "Parson," and we feel he will be a great success if he follows the standard he has set in college, and we know that he will.

JOSEPH RENNIE, JR.
St. Joseph, Mo. B. A.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Varsity Baseball '23, '24, '25; Captain Baseball '25; Varsity Football '23; Pan-Hellenic Council '24-'25, '25-'26; Vice-President Freshman Class.

This man has been the pride of Southwestern on the diamond for the past four years. His interest has been centered chiefly in athletics, where as an elusive halfback he has bewildered his opponents time after time, and his sensational stops at short have repeatedly brought down the stands.

Joe is a most likeable fellow, a man always to be depended on. His friendly smile and congenial manner, his knowledge of practical affairs, and his ability to get things done all go to make him a real man.

JOHN ARCH ROLLOW
Clarksville, Tenn. B. S.

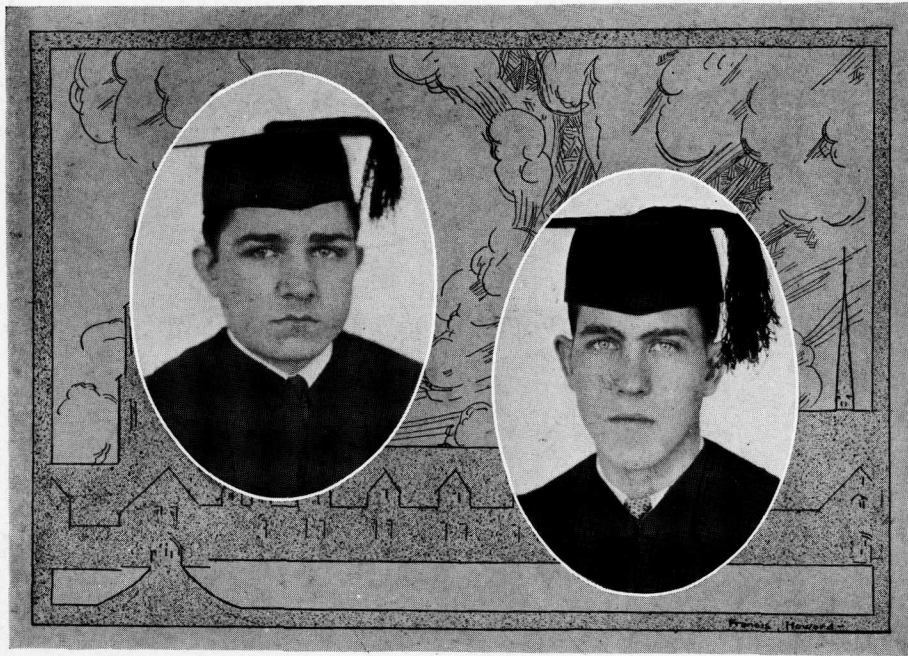

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Theta Alpha Phi; Secretary-Treasurer Galileo Club; Honor Council '24-'25.

"Opposites attract opposites" is an old adage that holds true in the case of our friend Rollow from Clarksville, but—we don't blame him a bit.

John, and his colleague, Doc Kitchell, rendered invaluable aid to Dr. H. M. Derr during his three years at Southwestern. In geology class problems would arise concerning the law of gravitation. "Mr. Rollow," says Dr. Derr, "didn't we prove in Physics class yesterday that everything which goes up must come down again?" "Yes, Doctor," answers Mr. Rollow, and there's no use going any further.

If John is as successful in capturing success as he is in—well, his course on the campus—we have no fear for his future.

JOHN RILEY

Bridgeport, Texas. B. A.

Stewart Literary Society.

The senior member of the firm of Riley and Blair, General Merchandise, politely termed the Southwestern Supply Stores Company, Incorporated and Copyrighted in all countries, including the Scandinavian and Texan territories, the last mentioned being the locality which produced our hero. In spite of the fact that he hails from such a wild and woolly section, John has always been quiet, steady and dependable, and we feel sure that he will be able to meet any situation which life may bring up. We wish him all the success possible.

ROBERT RIFE SAUNDERS

Greenville, Miss. B. A.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Theta Alpha Phi; Varsity Football '22, '23; Pan-Hellenic Council; Mississippi Club.

The Senior Class has always been proud of this man, chiefly for his sterling work on the grid-iron and his praiseworthy performances on the stage. That manly figure and smiling face win for him a place wherever he goes.

Rife possesses a goodly store of the proverbial "line," and with it has won many friends of both sexes. With the consistency which he has shown as a student one may predict for him a safe future in the business world.

JOHN PRESTON SIMMONS
Long Beach, Miss. B. A.

Kappa Alpha; Sigma Upsilon; Secretary-Treasurer Sigma Upsilon '25-'26; Honor Council '24, '25, '26; President Honor Council '25-'26; Editor-in-Chief "Sou'wester" '25-'26; Instructor in Physical Education '25-'26; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; Student Representative Blue Ridge Y. M. C. A. Conference '25; Shakespeare Club; Secretary-Treasurer Shakespeare Club '25-'26; Scrub Football '25; Scrub Basketball '25-'26; Scrub Baseball '25; Mississippi Club; Tennis Association.

John joined "26" in its Sophomore year, having freshmanned at Chickasaw. Space does not permit our chronicling all his many achievements. He did much to make the "Sou'wester" a regular and spicy weekly. The Stylus and Shakespeare Clubs claimed him as their own. He played basketball with skill, and as an announcer in chapel he was as regular as the Doxology.

MRS. W. O. SWAN
Memphis, Tenn. B. A.

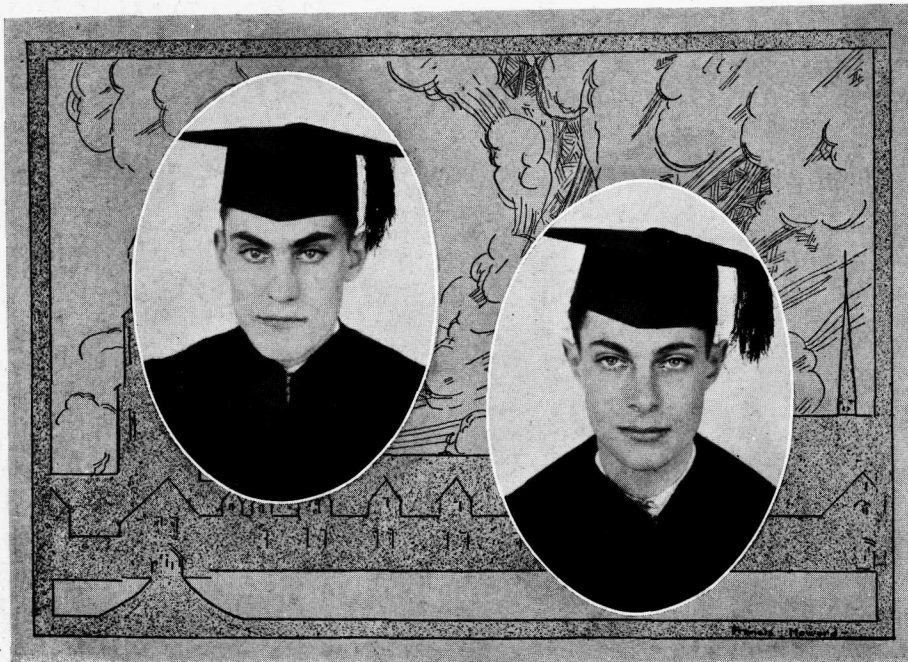

Transfer from University of Mississippi.

Mrs. Swan came into our midst this year entirely new but interesting. Out of the six Senior co-eds Mrs. Swan is the only one who has the good fortune to be married, and this, by the way, is also the good fortune of our chemistry Professor.

Mrs. Swan is friendly and has a very likeable disposition. She is reserved, yet once you know her, you like her.

She is conscientious and faithful in her studies, a real student.

CHARLES EMMONS TABER

Charleston, Miss. B. A.

Mississippi Club.

For four years Charles has held high the banners of Calvin Hall, and there, early and late, one can hear the strains of Verdi's "Rigoletto," or Gounod's "Faust" permeating the atmosphere. His intense love of classical music has distinguished him as a rarity on the campus, and we confidently expect to hear something of him in the future.

Charles is known to some of his friends as "Moon-Eyes,"—he best can explain that. It seems that he is not quite so invulnerable to Cupid's dart as would first appear, for his shadow has been seen lurking around, and after dark, too.

But such does not count against him. His good work as a student, friendly manner, and ability to take care of his own business, mark him as a real asset to the class.

FREDRICK SQUIRES TABER

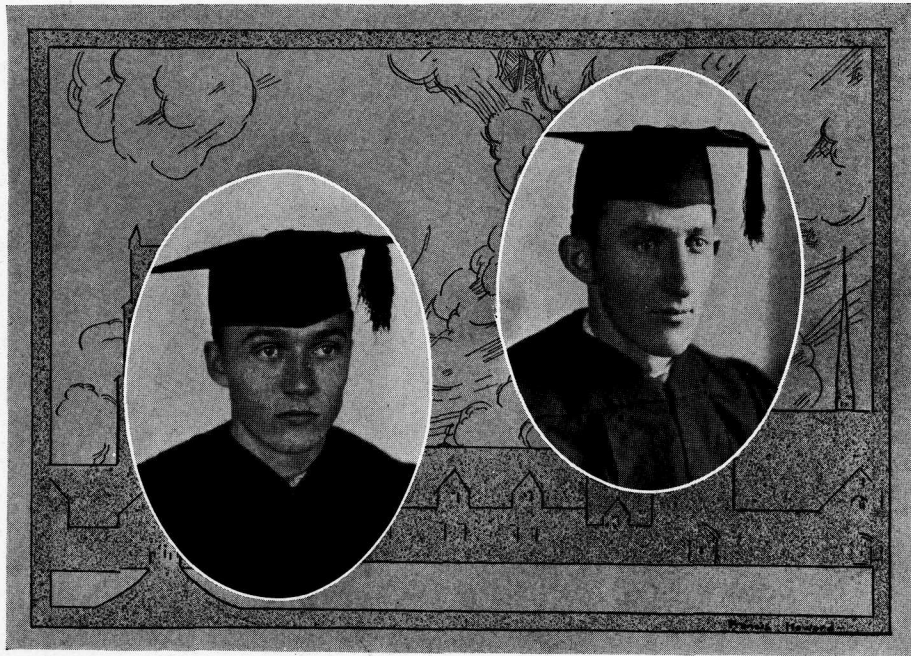

Charleston, Miss. B. A.

Kappa Sigma; Alpha Phi Epsilon; Sigma Upsilon; Theta Alpha Phi; Alpha Theta Phi; Pan-Hellenic Council '24-'25; Secretary San Hedrin '24-'25; Mississippi Club; Stewart Literary Society; Scrub Football '22; Assistant Business Manager "The Pioneer" '24-'25; Student Manager Athletics '25-'26; "S" Club; Student Assistant in Psychology '25-'26.

Something about Fred gained him the name of "Ikey" soon after he came among us. He is the most widely known character of the class, having won fame as a tragedian in Chau-tauqua. As assistant in Psychology he often provoked the query: "Vere iss Ikey"?

He is the proud possessor of nearly every Greek letter on the campus, and is known to have wept when there were no more frats to conquer.

JAMES ALVIE THOMPSON

French Camp, Miss. B. A.

Pi Kappa Alpha; Student Representative to Blue Ridge Y. M. C. A. Conference, '25; President Y. M. C. A. '25-'26; Vice-President Y. M. C. A. '24-'25; President Glee Club '25-'26; President Pan-Hellenic Council '25-'26; Debating Club; Scrub Football '23-'24-'25; Mississippi Club.

"Tack" is another Chickasawan. He entered Southwestern in his sophomore year and soon sang his way to fame. As a singer of chapel hymns he was as faithful as the faculty itself. In 1925-1926 he led the Y. M. C. A. through another successful year. On the football field he has shown pluck and determination equalled only by his misfortunes, which brought him two broken bones in as many seasons. Oxford bags and double-breasted suits have won him envied favor with the co-eds.

Among the most renowned of our Seniors is our beloved "Hawkshaw," a man of broad personality and ability to analyze the charms of the fairer sex.

A diligent student—steeped in the intricacies of Math, who has lent much encouragement and enlightenment to the unfortunate Freshman Math students.

He has participated in all phases of college activities, from the sweat of the gridiron to the pink tea of social circles. A friend to all and a sure success in the future.

HAROLD GORDON WISE
Jackson, Tenn. B. A.

Squibblers Forum Debating Club; Stewart Literary Society; Tennis Association; "Sou'-wester" Staff '24-'25.

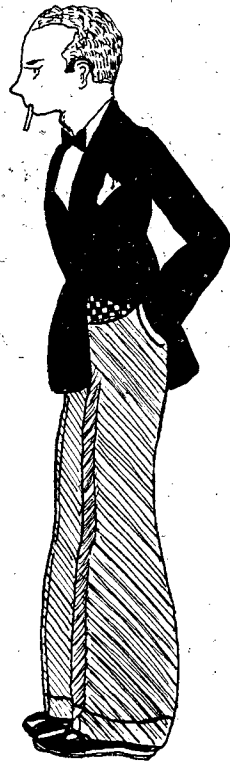

For the past four years "Goldfish" Wise has represented the fair city of Jackson, Tennessee, on the Southwestern campus. During this period he has taken advantage of every opportunity to serve others, whether it be to help on an interesting conversation, to supply his friends with excellent stationery, or to haul trunks from the station.

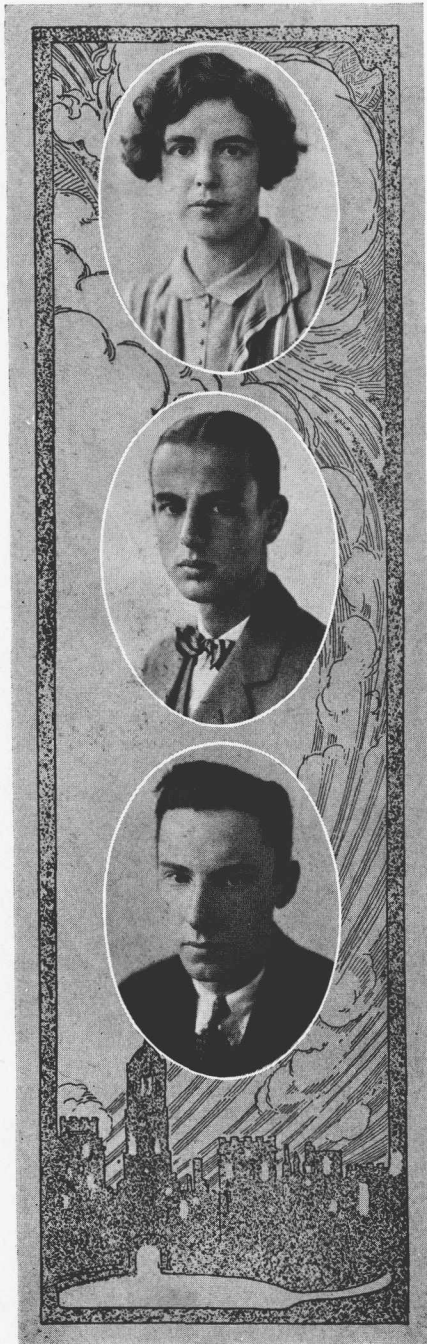

When it comes to the ladies, though, Harold appears very reticent to lend his company. The only explanation we can offer is that he must be loyal to that little blonde back in the city of his birth.

But the time not lost on women is put on his work—this man is a consistent student, a willing helper, with ideas on every subject and a solution for every problem.

OFFICERS OF THE BOOSTERS CLUB

The Boosters Club is the democratic organization of the student body of Southwestern. Each year it attempts to initiate its new members into the fellowship of the college group, and to instill them with the old spirit and ideals so dear to the hearts of all Southwesterners. It is concerned with all activities and problems which in any way affect the student body as a whole. The executive administration of affairs is vested in a chosen committee consisting of a president, vice-president, and secretary and treasurer.

The honor system has been used in our institution for more than fifteen years, and until December, 1925, its scope included not only honor in academic work, but all conduct "unbecoming a gentleman" as well. Of course this included drinking and other questions of morals. When a student enrolled at Southwestern he automatically assumed the obligations of the honor system. While this system was by no means a failure, a plan was conceived of which was thought would call forth a higher sense of honor from the students. This plan was formulated in December, 1925, by a joint committee from the Honor Council and the faculty working on the principle that a student will give more serious thought to an obligation which he voluntarily accepts. Accordingly the voluntary acceptance has replaced the automatic assumption of obligations. The new system provided that the obligation should apply to academic work alone.

Students supporting the system signed individual cards bearing the following pledge: As a student of Southwestern, I hereby pledge my full and hearty support to the Honor System of student government. I agree not only to be honest myself, but to report all cases of dishonesty in academic work, which may be observed by me.

In order that students might fully realize that the pledge was inviolate, and in order that council members might truly appreciate the tremendous importance of their decisions, it was deemed best to invest the Honor Council with supreme power in decisions. Should a student care to appeal to the faculty, the faculty shall voice its approval, or inform the Council of its reason for not doing so. With such additional information the Council may choose to reconsider. If it does not, their former verdict stands. This system shall continue until the students prove themselves unworthy of such a trust.

Formerly, fraternity men made up the greater part of the student body. Accordingly, the Honor Council was organized on a fraternity basis which allowed each fraternity, sorority, or non-frat group to have one representative for each ten of their members. With a much larger student body it was decided to reorganize the system on a class basis. In the present system, one girl from each class is elected by the girls of her class. Nine men are chosen as follows: Three Seniors, three Juniors, two Sophomores and one Freshman. The thirteen members elect officers from within the group. After election, the president of the Honor Council is presented with a beautiful shield, on which his name is engraved. Membership in the Honor Council is one of the highest honors to be gained at Southwestern.

Until its reorganization in December, 1925, the Honor Council was composed of the following members: J. A. Redhead, Newton Caldwell (vice-president), W. W. Gray, R. P. Moss, Hazel Coke (secretary), Irene Clardy, John P. Simmons (president), Sidney Davis, Alfred M. Hicks, Polly Minor, J. M. Looney, R. A. Taylor, Elizabeth Carnes, J. C. Frist and J. H. Beall.

THE LYNX

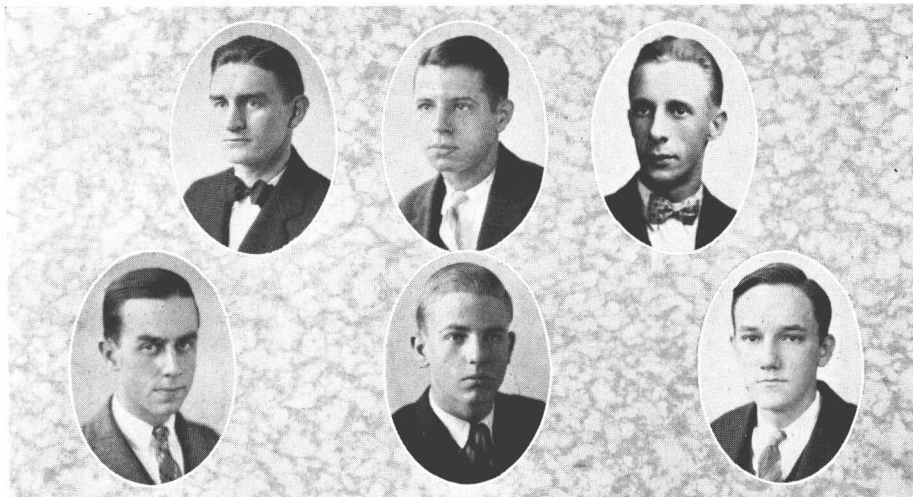

STARTING out in the Spring of 1925 as "The Pioneer," with Bill Rollow as Editor, and Fred S. Taber as Business Manager, this publication underwent many changes before it became the book it now is.

As Mr. Rollow did not return for the present session a new editor had to be elected, Eben Bee receiving this honor. Because most of his time was taken up with duties as Athletic Manager, Mr. Taber had to resign his position, and James Gladney was chosen to succeed him. The next change was in the name. As the location, name of the school, and most of the student body were all new, it was thought that the Annual should fall in line and have a new name. "The Lynx" was the title chosen as fitting to the athletic "Lynx Cats" and the Ashner Gateway.

Things moved quietly until December, when Mr. Bee offered his resignation as Editor-in-Chief, which was accepted by the Publication Board. The Board then asked Francis Howard, at that time Art Editor, to take over the book, which he consented to do. Thus The Lynx had three editors and two business managers before things became stable enough to allow any real work to be done.

Chaos followed. Pictures were made, printers, engravers, and photographers interviewed, advertising firms canvassed, and questions were answered. Due to the fact that the Editor and Business Manager succeeded in making all classes during all of this, the former was summoned to the Dean's office. All this continued for two months or more and then the seemingly endless jobs of photography and engraving were completed and the attention of the Editor was turned to the reading matter of the book.

Jack Redhead, ever reliable, rendered efficient and invaluable service in the matter of Senior "write-ups," an important part of the work. Luther Southworth handled the text matter for the Athletic Section, with the exception of Girls' Basketball and Tennis, which were written by Miss Eleanor Beckham. Frank Heiss consented to take the thankless job of compiling lists of names and addresses of the members of the various classes and organization, no small amount of work. Alonzo Chrisman, Paul Caldwell, and Carrington Bacon drew a number of cartoons to enliven the sub-division pages, while the various displays of wit, humor, and sad truth found scattered through the Advertising Section are the products of Sam Rhem's fertile brain. Joseph Norvell assisted greatly in the advertising campaign by furnishing the Business Manager an efficient and ever-ready means of transportation about the city. We wish to here thank all others of both faculty and student body who assisted by their work in getting up the various pieces of statistics and reading matter assigned them.

The 1926 Lynx represents an outlay of approximately $3,500, about $1,600 of this coming from the students and the rest from the sale of space to advertisers and organizations. A complete financial statement may be found on page 172. Much credit is due the Business Staff for the successful financing of this stupendous undertaking, and to our loyal friends of the Memphis business world for their support.

Though we can not help but think of this volume of The Lynx as almost a last minute makeshift, due to conditions beyond our control—we feel that it may serve the purpose expressed in the Foreword, and it is our hope that future staffs, being given a fairer opportunity than has the present one had, may produce a Greater Year Book for a Greater Southwestern.

THE SOU'WESTER

"Sou'wester" was born in Clarksville, Tenn., of noble parentage. When, while quite young, he was orphaned, Stylus Club chapter of Sigma Upsilon adopted him and has played the role of fairy godfather to him ever since. When it was learned that most of Clarksville would move to Memphis, the child was placed under the guardianship of John P. Simmons and James W. Drane. When the latter did not appear at the Southwestern mansion, Mr. Simmons quietly looked about for a successor, a man capable of protecting the finances of the infant millionaire. Like the Canadian Mounted Police, he "got his man"—in the person of J. Robert York. He then observed that the frisky chap needed a constant attendant, and secured one in the patient, unassuming Luther Southworth. The three mentioned above, Simmons, York and Southworth, were charged with the lad's welfare. Under their well-balanced influence he grew in stature, and in favor with the faculty and students. The chap frequently got into mischief, and in spite of the six eyes that were upon him, he sometimes got away with things that "nice little boys" shouldn't do. He was forever waiting until the last minute before school to dress, and his anxiety to be on time sometimes caused him to stump his toe, so that he was often tardy. We mention these things to show you that the boy was only mortal after all. "To err is human; to forgive, divine." It is hoped that you all will be divine in your ability to forgive the young fellow for what he has failed to accomplish in the past nine months. But "Sou'wester" has grown tremendously, has absorbed a wealth of knowledge, and has made a host of friends. Furthermore, he is a deserving chap and with these magnificent surroundings and with the continued influence of students of the best higher institutions of learning in the country, we predict that someday the boy will be "President of the Whole United States."

The "Sou'wester," on its arrival in Memphis, found different conditions from those under which it operated in Clarksville. The student body was much enlarged, with varied interests; the paper demanded that more time be given by a larger staff; and a splendid publication room had been provided in which the staff could work. Those deserving of mention for assistance during the session, aside from the present staff, are as follows: Herman A. Chrisman, for sketching; our typist (your "lovin' Bill") Prichard; Ed Buder, for athletic write-ups; Thomas Appleton, for "I'm The Gink" contributions; Eleanor Beckham, for "Lily" letters, and H. G. Wise, for Y. M. C. A. reports. Our paper has grown from a four to a five-column edition, exchanges with the leading college publications of the country, and compares favorably with the best. It has been the editor's aim to issue a paper of interest to every type of reader. The extent to which this has been accomplished is due largely to the work of Mr. York on the managerial side, and to the energy and varied talents of Mr. Southworth on the editorial side. The "Sou'wester" has meant few hours of sleep for two or three members of the staff, with much toil and worry, but if its publication has met the needs of the campus we rejoice in the privilege of having thus served our Alma Mater. All hail, and faréwell!

DIRMEYER, CALDWELL, CLARDY, SOUTHWORTH, WASHINGTON

DEBATING

With the opening of the last year of Southwestern at Clarksville, in the Fall of 1924, a new interest in debating was aroused. Although there existed in the student body a literary society and several honorary literary and forensic fraternities, no very active interest in this art had been shown during the past few years. Feeling that there was latent talent along this line in the student body, which only needed the right stimulus to bring it out, a group of students interested in debating organized a club, giving it the name of "Quibblers' Forum." The present membership of this organization is given on page 89.

With the removal to Memphis, the membership and interest in the club grew, which resulted in the establishment of a regular program of weekly meetings, in which debates are held on subjects of interest to every student. The officers of the Club are: Chester Frist, President; Frank Heiss, Vice-President; and Richard Taylor, Secretary and Treasurer. Dr. Kelso holds the position of Faculty Advisor.

The first intercollegiate debate of the year was a dual affair, held on April 23 against Bethel College of McKenzie, Tenn. The subject was, "Resolved: That a Separate Department of Aviation should be established to rank equally with those of the Army and Navy." York and Draper went to McKenzie to argue the affirmative side of the question, while Whitfield and Heiss supported the negative at home. Southwestern won the negative side of the contest but the affirmative met with defeat at Bethel.

HEISS, WHITFIELD, YORK, DRAPER

On April 30 came the big event of the season, a dual debate with Birmingham-Southern on the question, "Resolved: That a Department of Education should be established with a Secretary in the President's Cabinet." Frist and Orr represented the affirmative side for Southwestern at Birmingham, while Rhem and Bullock upheld the negative in Memphis. The Quibblers were more fortunate this time, winning in both contests, which gave Southwestern a score of three debates won out of the four held, a creditable record.

Plans are being made by the Forum for a more extensive program of activity for the year 1926-27, including a number of intercollegiate meets in addition to local practice debates.

The Y. M. C. A. stands out as the most inclusive organization on the campus, having for its membership the entire student body and faculty. The program of activity includes many special features as well as the regular weekly meetings. Such prominent men as Rev. L. J. Sherrill, Rev. A. B. Curry, and Dr. C. E. Diehl have been speakers during the past year.

On the first Friday evening of the college year the Y. M. C. A. entertained the freshmen and other new students with a reception in the cloister of Palmer Hall. The members of the College Community and friends of the College were present.

In the middle of the year the Rev. U. S. Gordon of Starkville, Mississippi, a favorite of young men, conducted a series of evangelistic services.

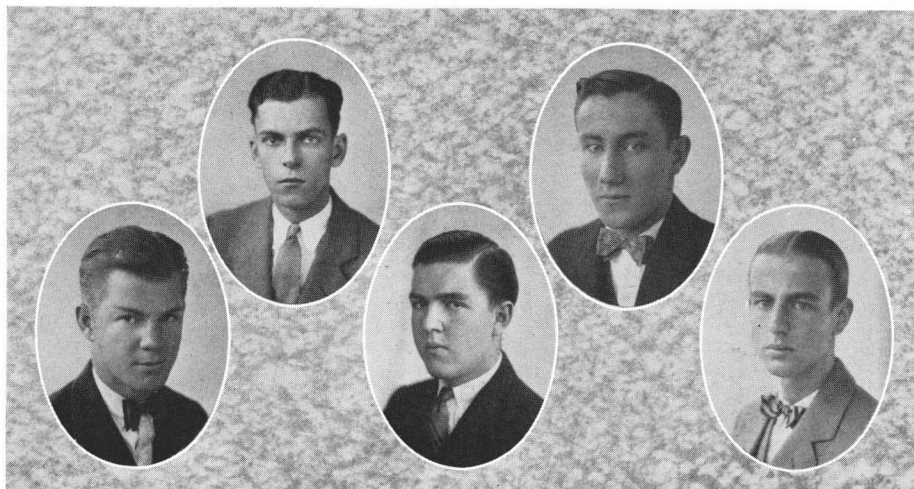

Elaborate plans have been made for a social survey of Memphis, to be conducted by this organization. Such work has been started and furnishes a continuous program of activity from year to year.

The Y. M. C. A. sponsors athletic contests between the rival Halls, these being entirely independent of intercollegiate athletics and varsity men are excluded from the teams. A cup is being offered the winner of the inter-mural baseball league championship, which, however, has not been decided at the time this goes to press.

As one of the customary features of the Commencement program, the Y. M. C. A. will conduct a morning meeting, at which time the Reverend E. D. McDougall, B. D., D. D., will address the association.

This is the oldest college Y. M. C. A. in Tennessee. It is affiliated with State Headquarters, where it ranks as one of the best.

The regular weekly meetings are of deep spiritual value, and generally consists of a short talk, song service and prayer. The organization has been led for the past year by J. A. Thompson as President, together with the Cabinet Members and Faculty Advisors.

The San Hedrin

In the old school system of "Frosh Control" formerly practiced at Southwestern there was no definite organization, but merely a general blood-thirstiness on the part of the upper classmen at large. Some humorist, with a surprising amount of Biblical knowledge, hit upon the name of San Hedrin for this body some time in the dim past. As a Master of Ceremonies was needed to preside over operations during the regular visits paid to the freshmen by the murderous multitude, a leader was elected each year and called High Priest, to keep the system of nomenclature consistent. The man elected was supposed to be the most heartless of the lot, and woe be unto the lowly Frosh should they cross his path. We still shudder when we think of the bloody deeds of Ted Rogers and "Preacher" O'Neal.

But as the advent of the New Southwestern was hailed the Original San Hedrin died out and took its place among the things of the Old S. P. U., along with the Castle Building and Shearer Field. But just as the old Robb and Calvin halls have been given a new lease on life in Memphis, so has a new San Hedrin sprung from the ashes of the old, with a greater field of usefulness before it.

Although the names of the organization and its leader have not been changed, the New San Hedrin is entirely different from its ancestor. It now consists of a High Priest and a Bench of five Elders, who are supposed to see that the Frosh are properly instructed in the ideals and traditions of Southwestern, and that they observe such time-honored customs as the wearing of straw "farmer" hats in the fall and rubbing down of football men after practice. Theirs is the task of planning and overseeing the various freshman activities, such as pajama parades, straw hat burnings, and "snake dances."

CAPTAIN SID DAVIS

T H E S E A S O N O F 1 9 2 5

HE CLARION CALL for gridgers sounded with the beginning of the Fall semester of college work on September 23. Coaches Jess Neely and Cooper Litton found themselves to be mentors of untried strength, for this was the auspicious opening of Southwestern college in its new home in Memphis, and much formidable material was on deck making bids for regular berths on the varsity eleven.

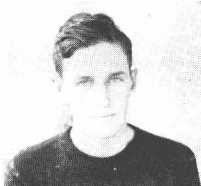

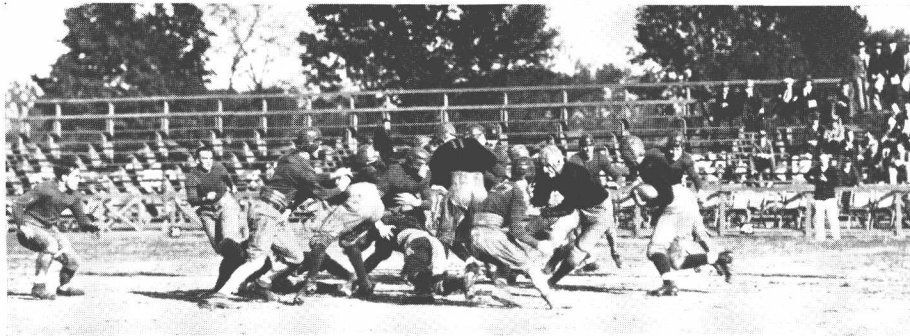

Captain-elect Sid Davis greeted a squad of 40 aspiring Lynx Cat candidates. Included in that aggregation were some of the veterans of Southwestern Presbyterian University of Clarksville, grid stars from other colleges, high school satellites who entered with the incoming Frosh, and men who had never before attempted the classic American sport.

Probably the stiffest schedule of games ever arranged for Southwestern pig-skinners was the 1926 program. The menu featured affrays with several powerful varsities.

To present a team that would acquit itself well in its Memphis debut was the Herculean task cut out for Coaches Neely and Litton. To better instruct the players, Neely elected to coach the backfield aspirants and Litton to lead the line men in football tactics.

A large squad of men and several road trips to handle required a student business manager that could devote much time to the welfare of the team. John P. Simmons, business manager-elect from the 1924 elections, found himself intrusted with the reins of too many other student activities, and resigned, in consequence. A called meeting of the Athletics Committee chose Frederick "Ikey" Taber to succeed Simmons. To assist Taber in the work, the Committee chose also W. K. Fort, J. H. Beall, Nolan S. Pierce and Charles F. Stewart.

Building a line that would prove invincible to the onslaughts of the strong elevens who would oppose the Cats during the season was a big item for Coach Litton to handle. Around Captain Sid Davis at center and Goodwin "Shorty" Myrick at left guard, Cooper built as a nucleus. Al Clements and Joe Davis, both veterans ends, were on hand to resume their old places as wing performers. They showed their stuff, though, and remained enthroned in their old positions throughout the season except toward the end when Clements was laid low with an attack of appendicitis.

Outstanding among those who reported for opening session of practice were Captain Sid Davis, linesman; Horace "Happy" Wilson, backfield; Goodwin "Shorty" Myrick, linesman; Al Clements, linesman; Joe Davis, linesman; A. Dulin, linesman; Wesley Adams, backfield; T. M. "Mink" Hooker, backfield; Tinsley Connell, linesman; George "Dode" Farnsworth, backfield; Spencer Ellis, scrappy Christian Brothers' College linesman; Crawford McGivaren, linesman; Otis Koonce, linesman; Milton Hawk, backfield, an All-Memphis prep school luminary; T. M. Garrott, linesman; Charley Dutton, linesman and former member Bo McMillan's famous Centenary team; A. M. Scott, linesman; John Cooper, linesman; Warren "Hiram" Smith, backfield;

Arnell McMillin, linesman; Charles Walsh, linesman; Robert McKinnon, linesman; Brice Draper, linesman; Donald MacDonald, backfield; Harry Treva-then, linesman. When the season had progressed most to its halfway mark, Henry "Chi" Waring donned football regalia and filled the gap made vacant by the untimely appendicitis stroke of Clements. Waring finished the season at end, and starred in every contest. Jack Redhead also fell victim to the grim scythe of old man appendicitis. He was lost to the team before the season had hardly gotten underway.

A bountiful supply of classic backfield men—line plungers, ends skirthers, broken field runners—somewhat brightened the prospect of the Cat mentor. The lair of the felines seemed to be fairly teeming with bright hopes and hopefuls.

"The Four Horsemen", composed of Wesley Adams at quarter, Hooker and "Doc" Price at halves, and Redhead at full, proved a veritable bone of strength to the team. It was soon apparent that there was more than one good backfield combination among the candidates. Alvie "Tack" Thompson piloted the second combination at quarter, Hawk and Farnsworth at halves and "Happy" Wilson at full. Other men were available to fill any gaps made open through injuries or other causes.

PRICE

The opportunity soon came for Coaches Neely and Litton to test the mettle of their purring Cats. The Lynx lusted for fur; they demanded it; they got it, and in the opening game. Jonesboro College trailed into the Lynx lair as enemies, and departed as docile and tractable as ordinary creatures. No shame was felt by the Southwesterners as they downed this first foe, score 57 to 0. The team scored consistently throughout all four frames. During the first period, 12 points were made; 12 in the second; 20 in the third, and 13 tallies in the final chapter.

By far the most dangerous antagonists during the early stages of the season's play was the Birmingham Southern varsity. The Frosh were to burn their straw "katie's" if Southwestern won, but they had to continue wearing them. The miners from Birmingham won the game by the margin of one touchdown, the final score being 10 to 3.

Not dismayed by the setback given them by Birmingham Southern, the Cats met the Jonesboro Aggies on Fargason grid the following Saturday and trounced them considerably. The Southwestern football artists painted a score of 14-6 on the scoreboard, as the final whistle resounded. Thus far they were batting .666, having won two and lost one game out of three played.

The team then embarked for their first road trip to Arkadelphia, Ark. There they met the Henderson-Brown team, highly touted as star performers. But the Lynx disillusioned their press agents and, if anything, left many stars behind as mementoes of their tour. The invaders of the proverbial "wilds of Arkansas" came from under the heap with a 20 to 0 score. The Arkansans saw the Lynx had them, the outcome proving the point.

Millsap Majors found the welcome at the Lynx rendezvous to be rough and hectic. They too found that they couldn't make orderly soldiers out of Cats. A sadly and sorely array of gridsters boarded the high-stepper from Memphis for the Millsap campus after the game, carrying with them the haunting score of a shut-out. Their helping was nought, while the gods of Fortune dished to the Lynx 6 points, not much, but enough to clinch the game.

"Mules" from Mayfield College of Marble Hill, Mo., journeyed to the Lynx stamping grounds. And right royally were these obstreperous mules saddled before beating a hasty retreat from these parts. They were recipients of a 6 to 0 drubbing by the Cats. Thus far the Southwestern varsity had staged six games—won five and lost one. Not so bad for a strange and unknown combination of new players.

With the laurels of victory dangling from their shanks, the Cats added more blue ribbons to their already bedecked personages when they downed the Bethel College footballers by the score of 27 to 6. This was the first game that Clements failed to participate in. During the week preceding the contest he was operated on for an ailing appendix.

A special train, a large contingent of Southwestern faculty, students, townfolk, alumni, and Rotary Band, made a great impression on the inhabitants around Oxford, Miss., where the Lynx departed for their game with "Ole Miss". This constituted the second and final road trip of the season. Although they arrived with train, vim and noise, and although defeated—what mattered that, they were sports, and departed on train, with more vim and noise. "Ole Miss" copped the fray by a 31 to 0 score. This proved the first shut out which the locals had been subjected to. That bunch from "Ole Miss" is no piddling crowd, and that's not prevarication.

Skipper Curlin of West Tennessee State Teachers' Normal led his outfit of Tigers onto Fargason field for the Thanksgiving Day classic game and curtain affair of the season. He led them off the field tamed, scrubby and forlorn. Evidently the Lynx were smiting from the defeat handed them at the hands of "Ole Miss," for they started with a rush and were still rushing when the final whistle tooted.

The playing of the Thanksgiving Day game concluded the season's schedule for 1925. And, incidentally, it proved to be the most successful that Southwestern had ever closed with. With nine games played, seven were won and two lost. It is an enviable record for coming Lynxes to shoot at.

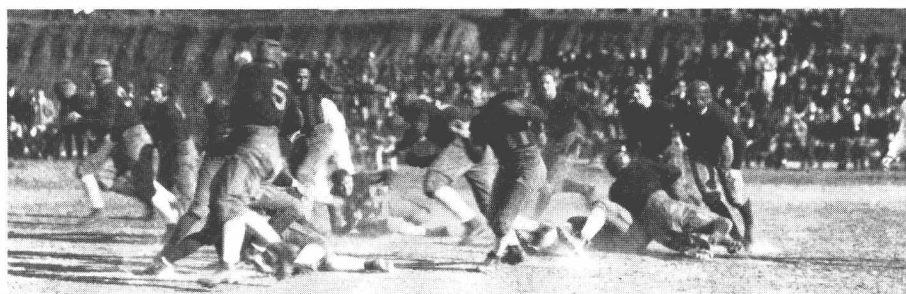

The grand finale to the 1925 grid season fell December 9, when the team dined at Hotel Peabody in the annual banquet observance. Letters were awarded Captain Sid Davis, "Chi" Waring, A. M. Scott, Goodwin "Shorty" Myrick, Arthur Dulin, Otis Koonce, Joe Davis, Al Clements, Wesley Adams, Chas. "Doc" Price, Milton Hawk, George "Dode" Farnsworth, Jr., T. M. Hooker, Fred Taber (manager).

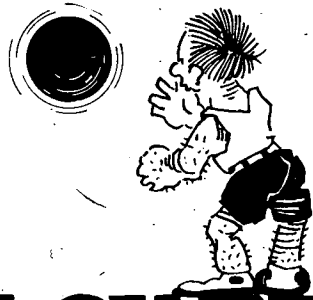

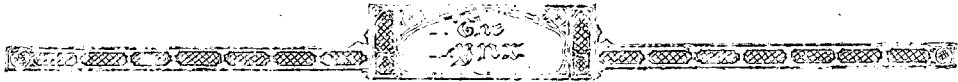

A poll of letter men following the banquet showed Joe Davis to be their choice for the pilot of the 1926 grid machine. Wesley Adams ran a close second for the captainship.

1926 BASKETBALL

LOOKING over the thirty or more aspirants for the basketball team at the opening of the season, Coach Jess Neely opined the chances were good for a winning combination.

Only two veterans of the team of 1925 were on deck—Sam Hall and Joe Davis. Captain-elect Horace "Happy" Wilson, who attended school prior to the Christmas holidays, departed from the campus, leaving the basketweavers without a helmsman. A poll of players proved Joe Davis to be the leader of the team for the 1926 season.

Two freshmen, George "Dode" Farnsworth and Henry "Chi" Waring, football stars, were towers of strength around whom were woven the basketball machinery. Farnsworth's position was guard and Waring's was forward. Both succeeded in compiling large scores during the schedule of games.

Captain Davis played the other forward station with Waring. Reavis Lindsey, center pivot for the Cats, played good ball, and was dangerous to the opposition in the matter of quick handling of the ball.

Waring, Farnsworth, Captain Davis and Lindsey were the mainstays of the team, all playing more than 14 of the 16 games scheduled. The remaining position on the quintet was played on occasions by Jack Redhead and Charles "Doc" Price, the former making the official "S" for the season.

The season opened with a contest with Jonesboro Aggies, and was played on the Arkansas court. Lack of training and co-ordination was evident in this game, and the Lynx squad suffered a 28 to 19 defeat.

"Ole Miss," thorn to Southwestern athletes, drubbed the Lynx with a 44 to 13 manhandling at Oxford, Miss., home of the "Mighty Mississippians."

Keeping within their sliding streak, the Cats lost to the "Flying Five" of Memphis by the score of 17 to 31.

At last Dame Fortune smiled upon the Lynx combination. The entourage departed for Bemis, Tenn., where they engaged the crack Y. M. C. A. quint in a two-game series. Dropping the first game, score 31 to 42, did not disconcert the hardy Southwesterners, for they came back in the second and won their first contest of the season, score 32 to 26.

Corporals from Bethel College pulled freight into the Lynx lair the following week and departed with the tail-end of a 35 to 17 score trailing them.

Pedagogues from the West Tennessee Teachers' College thought themselves quite strong and were disillusioned by gazing wistfully and dumfoundedly at the scoreboard, showing them to be claimants of a 31 to 19 defeat by the purring Cats.

Again the Lynx penetrated foreign territory. Playing the Union Trust Company team of Little Rock, Ark., they were trounced by a 34 to 43 defeat. They then journeyed to Hendrix College for a two-game series. Their first workout proved fruitless for them, being lost by a 30 to 48 score. They came back strong, though, in the second day of play and won by the margin of 36 to 26.

"Ole Miss" journeyed to Memphis and handed the Catamount the second drubbing of the year. They were subdued finally by the when they snatched the long end of a 23 to 19 result. A hard fought and honorable game to lose was the luck of the Cats as they met the "Flying Five" for the second time during the season's menu of games. They were defeated 23 to 24.

The final game of the season of play came as the basketeers met the "Y" Triangles, but they relinquished the affray by the score of 47 to 34.

And thus ended the first basketball season of Southwestern in her new Memphis home.

During the earlier part of the season the Cats were han-locals only after having scored 32 tallies to the home-folks' 20. The Normal Teachers came in for their second defeat of the season by the Cats on the following week after the "Ole Miss" game. They trotted their dismal way home with baggage slugged 35 to 22, the 22 meaning Normal.

Even Sewanee was but a match for the now functioning cagers. She won by the narrow margin of 23 to 20.

The Cats revenged over the Union Trust Company team, of Little Rock, the next week dicapped by the lack of a proper gymnasium on the campus for a practice place. The squad made daily trips to the city Y. M. C. A. floor, which was also used for most of the games played at home.

Although funds do not permit the erection of a gymnasium which will compare to the rest of the college buildings at present, a temporary one has been built of structural steel and wood which will serve until one of appropriate stone construction can be had.

1925 VARSITY MEN REPORTING FOR PRACTICE IN 1926

BASEBALL

BASEBALL enthusiasts were furnished with a delectable menu of diamond contests for the season of 1926. Answering Coach Jess Neely's call for pastimers, a flock of collegiates responded. Included among them were Captain George "Chick" Breed, third base; Oscar Hurt, Maurice Moore, Bill Rafferty, Johnson Garrott, Lee Rehse, Al Clements, pitchers; Joe Davis, first base; Sammy Hall, Ralph Hamilton, Robert Douglas, Billy Hughes, second base; Joe Rennie, shortstop; Robert Newton Alexander and T. G. Connell, catchers.

Pasture positions furnished the hottest fight of all the berths. Last year's outfield squad returned in force to claim their old positions. But there were some new men that had to be reckoned with, to-wit, Gene Carruthers, Milton Hawk. The veteran roaming outfit was composed of Bob Parish, Art Dulin and Ora Johnson. Carruthers won the right to romp in center field, being the slugging artist among the pastimers.

"Ole Miss" proved the insurmountable obstacle to the Lynx pellet pushers. In the four affrays staged against them, the Cats were downed in monotonous succession. The Mighty Mississippians registered a sum total of 31 tallies to the Cougars' 12, one game being a shut-out. As "The Lynx" goes to press the last two games of the season are as yet unplayed.

GIRL'S BASKETBALL IN 1926

HE removal of Southwestern to Memphis last fall prompted the revival of girls' basketball at the institution, after a withdrawal from participation in the sport of several years duration.

The newly organized sextette, although working under many difficulties, had a very successful year and a girl's basketball team at Southwestern is now firmly established with a very promising career in the future. Although the faculty was not willing to consent to games which would take the team away from home, the success with which the "Kittens" overcame almost all of the local teams makes it almost a certainty that intercollegiate games will be scheduled for the year 1927, and that some financial arrangements may be made so that the team may be able to play on foreign courts.

The gymnasium on the Southwestern campus was not completed until the basketball season was well under way, and the girls were compelled to practice on an outdoor court some distance from the college. Coach Jess Neely, athletic director of the Lynx football squad, kindly consented to coach the girls in their activities, but football and the boys' basketball teams engaged most of his time, so that the girls were practically unaided in their training and practice.

Much credit is due to Virginia Smith, guard on the varsity squad, for her interest and work in organizing the team. She was later chosen as business manager for the "Lynx Kittens." Virginia played center on the University of Richmond team year before last.

Eleanor Beckham, who played forward on the Notre Dame of Maryland team at Baltimore last year, was chosen as captain. However, her position was changed to jump center, and she played throughout all of the right games and two practice games with Messick High and Central High.

Louise Stratman and Julia Larkey played the forward positions, and were among the outstanding players on the team. Miss Stratman came from the Central High varsity, and the majority of the points scored were due to her splendid goal shooting. Miss Larkey played last year on the Messick team.

Mary Sue Moody, who had already won honors in basketball at Dyersburg, Tenn., added more to her laurels this year by her ability as an all-round player and side center.

Nadyne Klindworth, who captained the team at Centenary College last year, displayed her ability as a guard, playing with Miss Smith.

Among the outstanding subs who also played in several games were: Eileen Griffis, guard, from Oklahoma Presbyterian College; Elise Porter guard, from Ward-Belmont at Nashville; and Margaret Cobb, forward, formerly of Arkansas College.

The initial appearance of the Southwestern "Lynx Kittens" team crowned its efforts with success by scoring a hard-earned victory over the Saint Agnes Academy sextette with a score of 31-27. The tilt was very close and most interesting, and Southwestern "Kittens" played exceptionally well in their opening performance of the basketball campaign.

Southwestern encountered little opposition from Humes High. The Lynx ran up an early lead, and at the end of the game the score was 36-6. The game was contested on the home court, as was the next with Miss Hutchinson's School on Feb. 25, which drew a large crowd. In this latter game the "Kittens" amassed the staggering score of 56-0.

The next victory for the Felines was won over the Southside High School, with a score of 28-16. The Sextette encountered the undefeated West Tennessee Teachers before the season was well under way, and consequently met with their first defeat by the score of 53-23.

Tech High, champions of Memphis prep schools last year, inflicted another defeat upon the Southwestern girls, winning by a score of 24-14. However, Southwestern was handicapped in this game by the absence of two of her varsity players.

On March 13 came the battle with the Y. W. C. A. It was one of the most exciting and interesting, being hard fought from start to finish. The "Kittens" were in the lead most of the game, but in the last quarter Y. W. rallied and held the final score to a 28-28 tie. March 19 again saw the Y. W. play Southwestern, and cop the game by one point, the score being 25-24.

This ended the belated season for the Lynx girls, with better and brilliant hopes for the future basketball years.

TENNIS

THE TENNIS season for the year 1926 opened in April with a meeting of the old members of the Association and all new students interested in the sport. At this meeting 75 members of the student body and faculty enrolled, a very large per cent.

Thomas H. Appleton was elected President of the Association, with Professor W. R. Atkinson as Secretary and Treasurer. The other members appointed to the governing council were A. M. Hicks, John H. Beall, and Miss Eleanor Beckham.

The Association has charge of the four courts on the campus, which are well equipped and kept in good condition. Only members of the Association are permitted to use these courts, and a system of registering for certain hours of the day has been worked out, whereby all members may have an equal opportunity to play.

Although the publication date of The Lynx is too early to include the entire season, it promises to be a very successful one. A tournament has been planned to include men's singles, women's singles, men's doubles, women's doubles, and mixed doubles.

At the time that this goes to press the women's first tournament had not been played off, while those men making the team are: Thomas Appleton, singles champion; Will Holloman, Tom White Holloman, Oswald McCown, and Billy Hughes.

The first intercollegiate match was played at Oxford, Mississippi against "Ole Miss," with the following results:

Singles:

Appleton, lost—3-6, 3-6.

T. Holloman, lost—6-3, 0-6, 3-6.

Beall, lost—3-6, 4-6.

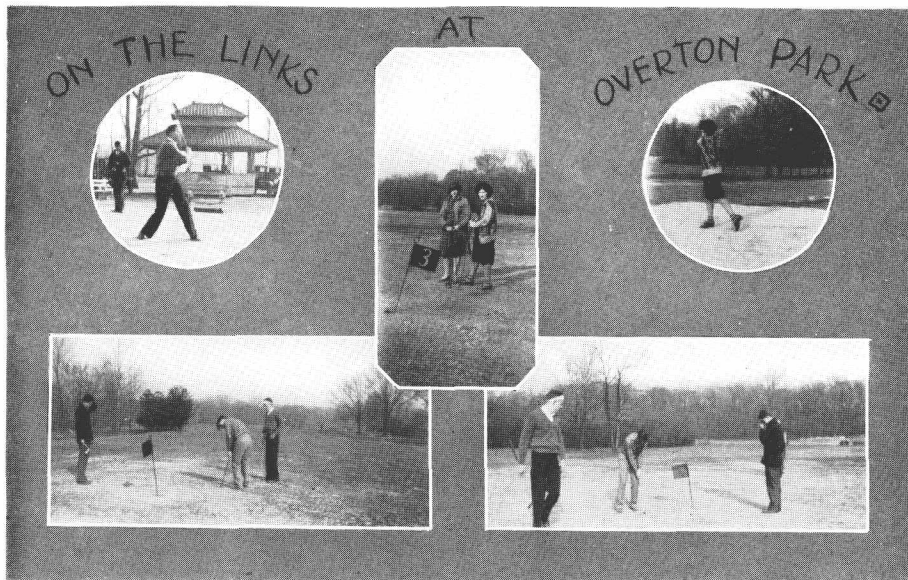

Weiss, won—6-0, 7-5.

Doubles:

Beall and W. Holloman, won—3-6, 9-7, 9-7.

McCown and Appleton, lost—3-6, 3-6.

Other matches are being arranged but will be played too late to be recorded here.

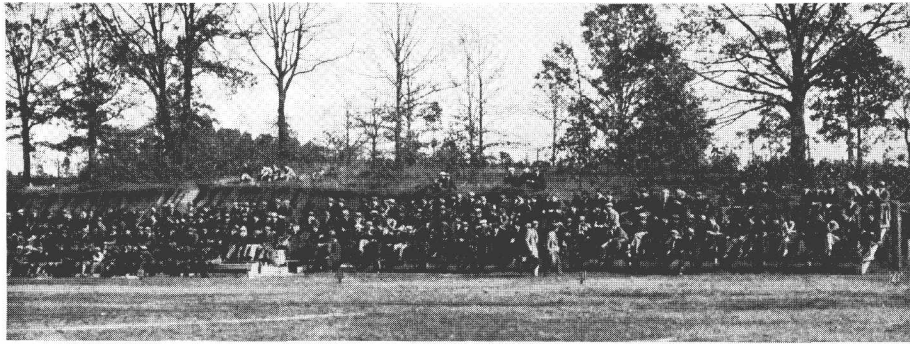

GOLF

AP UNTIL the time of the removal of Southwestern to Memphis there was little interest shown in golf, but the fact that the Overton Park links are practically on the new campus has acted as a stimulus so that now many of the students and faculty members play regularly.

Probably because the newness of everything gave the students little time to organize the various activities of the school at the first of the year, no definite steps were taken toward a regular association and tournament until Spring. At the time The Lynx goes to press, however, this is well under way. An association has been organized with R. R. Saunders, as president; J. A. Thompson, Secretary-Treasurer; and Dr. Kelso, as Faculty Advisor; and a tournament planned. The following have entered: P. A. Patton, Clinton, H. B. Lemmon, W. J. Garrott, T. M. Garrott, B. G. Hattler, E. M. Bee, Joe Davis, J. A. Thompson, Mayes Humes, R. R. Saunders, R. G. Brown, J. H. Beall, L. G. Carruthers, T. G. Connell, Dr. A. P. Kelso, S. D. Hall, J. B. Pope, McMaster, J. D. Causey, T. E. Buford, H. B. Collins, Walter Johnson, and Lewis Marks. The tournament will be played off by elimination and each match will be decided by first round score on 18 holes of match play. Phil A. Halle has offered the winner of first place a pair of golf knickers and the second prize will be a dozen golf balls donated by Ensley-Carrigan Co.

Several intercollegiate tournaments are being arranged with the University of Mississippi and other schools, but at this time nothing definite has been made known. There is every reason to believe that golf will become more popular with Southwestern students each year and will take its place among the other sports of the college.

*"It's not the advertising value—
I just want to help a good thing along"*

Time and again a public-spirited business man will advertise in a college annual when he honestly believes that its advertising value is absolutely nil. Such generous co-operation is greatly appreciated, but no staff likes to beg for financial support. A college annual should pay for itself!

Many of the advertisers represented herein are expecting little or no returns from their investment. Their only motive was to help Southwestern. Let's make it a paying proposition for all of them. Read the ads closely as you turn these pages. Keep alive as to who is backing the college. If your clothier has an ad in here, tell him you saw it. If you think some of these ads especially pretty, mention it to the advertisers. Talk up your school annual—it is a necessity.

In this way advertising space in The Lynx will soon come to be much in demand, and in succeeding years the financing of this rather expensive publication will become more of a pleasure than a problem.

Reporter: "Do you feel that the judge's decision was right?"

Convicted: "Well, I don't know, I'm not very good in grammar."

Bob F.: "Do you know how to spell the word matrimony?"

Hall: "That's not a word, that's a sentence."

Turley: "Jeter, why don't you get a trunk?"

Eason: "What for?"

Turley: "To put your clothes in."

Eason: "What! Me go naked."

Chick (Upon finding Means reading a letter with Simpson standing behind him holding his hands over Means' ears): "What's all this foolishness?"

"Well," said Means, "Simpson got a letter from his girl and he can't read it, so I'm reading it to him and he's holding my ears so I won't hear what his girl says to him."

Tinney: "Say, what do you suppose is the matter with that sweet little dame over there? An hour ago she was as smart a petter as you would want, and now she cuts me dead."

Bystander: "I think she sees me—I'm her husband."

Dr. Pomeroy (in Physics): "Who can tell me how a stove pipe is made?"

Ikey T.: "First you take a long round hole; then you wrap some tin around it"

"Do you think she'll miss me?" sang "Tack" in a cracked voice.

"If she does she ought never to be trusted with a gun again," yelped Brack.

THEN SHE SAID—

Buder: "Shall I give you a book or a kiss for your birthday?"

Maretta: "I have several books."

Cath U.: "Lizzie where'd you get all of these boxes of candy?"

Liz. Laughlin: "Well, you see, I went to a party where they played a kissing game. The men had to either kiss you or give you a box of candy."

Doctor (after examination): "You have some foreign substance in your eye.

Myrick: "That's what I get for studying under them wops."

Dena: "Au Revoir."

Penn: "What's that?"

Dena: "That's goodbye, in French."

Penn: "Carbolic acid—that's goodbye in any language."

Many have been the questions concerning Dode Farnsworth's start as a modern Romeo. It began when Luther Pearce told him to say something soft to his girl when he went to see her. It was then that Lockinvar Dode strode up to the door of Mary Sue's domicile. The demure lass opened the door and greeted the newly instructed swain.

"Mashed potatoes," coyly whispered Dode.

The services of these utilities are a part of the structure upon which modern living conditions are founded. The institutions are linked with the city's growth and progress at every step.

The personal convenience, comfort, and welfare of every individual in the community is served by us at every hour of the day.

The interests of the community and the interests of these two institutions are so closely linked that they are not only mutual but identical.

The dependence of the public upon the services of gas, electricity and street railway transportation lays upon us a corresponding obligation to give continuous service at reasonable rates, and this we are trying in good faith to do.

"A BUSINESS THE WORLD SHOULD BE PROUD TO HAVE"

Marshall Field Says:

Stock fire insurance has won its place in the world by that which it has accomplished for the people. A business that takes the small individual sums which no one feels the loss of and combines them into millions of value for the benefit of the unfortunate whom fire touches, be they individuals or cities of individuals, and re-establishes them again in the world, is a business that the world should be proud to have, and this is what insurance does, and no other business on the globe is capable of doing.

WHY I AIN'T NO FRAT MAN.

"Bein' such a hot guy as I is when I breezes into Memphis ever'thing was open wide for me. The faculty had fixed things up so's the band could meet me but they got the dates mixed 'n I arrives too soon for them birds. But as I steps jauntily onto the campus this gang of Greeks rushes up to me. Not these guys that sells hamburgers y' understand, but them babies what is designated as frats. But as fer 'at (I allus wuz good at witiclysms) I don't give none of 'em a tumble. Course I warns 'em not to gimme no bids, cause I couldn't lower myself to except 'em, but each one in they turn rushes me and so's I had to let 'em down easy.

First guy that approaches me when I lets my arrival be known wuz a bozo what looked like Bull Montana's second, and I ups and speaks to him and lets him know what a good fellow I is and tells him not to be bashful about speakin' to me. I finds out this guy is what they calls a Pi Ka Aye. Well, I reckins they bunch is all right 'cept for the guys that's in it. These guys is pretty witty. They calls one of they men Pin Moss 'cause he sticks so close to one girl. Well, I might hev joined them 'cept for they hansome faces. I never could trust any of these hansome brutes like that Chick Breed and Mink Hooker.

Then I spots some little nitty lookin' kids runnin' around the campus what looks they couldn't stand no hardships, so I ups and speaks to one of them to brace him up a little. We plays football, says he. Kin you tell me what time it is, I asks. Yeah, one of our mens is captain of the football team. I asks him could he show me where the dean was. Yeah, he says, captain of the basketball team is a office of our frat. Seein' as how I couldn't get no sense out of him, I tells him I'll see him later. He says, yeah, he specks they run athletics—and so not bein' no athlete I passes on.

I seen a lad studyin' out of a book around the campus and so just to try him out I asks him how to spell horse. And he ups and says h-o-r-S-A-E. I goes to look this up in Mister Webster's book and finds out this is one of them there frats and I remembers readin' in the college paper "S. A. E.'s Dine." Well it looks to me like they ain't only dyin' but is already dead. Seein' as how this frat ain't no more good one guy named Rollow even ups and gives his pin away.

"SMART SERVICE FOR THE SMART SET"

Glancin' over this college publication what's known as the Sou'wester I reads about a guy named Toofie Tishimingo Taber. And so I hunts up this Taber guy to see if everything's true what they says about him. They didn't say half enough. To begin with he is one of these Kappa Sigmas and them babies is as bright as light globes—busted ones. Course I couldn't be identified wit' no ignorant bunch and so I cuts 'em cold.

I hears some guy talkin' about a bunch of Kunnin' Apes with guys at head of honor councils. It didn't take me no time to spot these bozos. Course I didn't want to be pestered wit' no rushin' so I had to be kind of secretive about the way I looked 'em up. I hears a big noise and some guy yellin' vote for this man. Next I seen one come up to one of these co-eds. Come on and go to our party, says he, we don't mind takin' you if you vote for our man. Seein' as how I didn't want to get mixed up in no thick political graft I leaves this bunch flat.

I been bummin' around this campus for a few weeks when a guy ups and says Bet a Sigma. I wouldn't bet you a nickel on that gang, says another bird, so I catches right on they ain't so hot. These fraternities is all hot air and thats the way this here one got started. Some guy named Windy Gray got to blowin' around and pretty soon he had his self a fraternity. Course I aint sayin' nothin' about they treasury but I just couldn't put my money in no wild-cat scheme.

Seein' as how none of these here Southwestern fraternities wasn't no good I figured I'd do the school some service and be the head of a new one for 'em. But Dean Cooper was scared all these guys would quit they own frat to join mine, so he up and says he reckons air around some other campus would be better for my health. ODE TO OUR JANITOR

Our faithful janitor, Lonney Dean,
Keeps the halls of Calvin clean.
He sweeps the rooms and makes up beds
And dumps the sleepers on their heads.

He lights his pipe and takes a puff,
And says the place looks clean enuff.
He takes our laundry and sells our clothes,
But shoots the bull where'er he goes.

He's quite the swimmer in aquatic meets,
And tries his hand at various feats.
He bought a "Hup" on the 'stortion plan,
And runs around like Dapper Dan.

Now of all the janitors in Memphis town,
He's the one that's been the most around—
There is no doubt but what we mean
The famous janitor, Lonney Dean.

Yesterday
Our prof
Came into the Classroom
Smiling sweetly
For the first
Time in years,
And he looked
Into our faces
And said:
"You fellows
Know your stuff
So well that

I can assure
You all of Getting by.
And now the Class is excused
For the day,
And, remember,
Don't study
Too hard,
Because some
Of you are Delicate." And
Just then

The door Opened and
A few members
Of the faculty
Came in with a
Cop, and took our Prof. to the Nut house.
Just when
He was getting
Brains—poor
Prof!

"Trade in Memphis"

MEMPHIS MERCHANTS carry everything for the comfort of the people. Services up-to-date, prices right and styles the latest.

Memphis can be reached by ten trunk line railroads and many hard surfaced highways. Special attention is given to parking space for visiting automobilists.

Besides superior trade advantages, Memphis offers special inducement to the pleasure seeker. There are numerous large parks and play grounds, the third largest free zoological gardens in America, golf courses, swimming pools, country clubs, large municipal Auditorium, winter season of grand opera, summer season of light opera, theatres, moving pictures, steamers plying the Mississippi River.

If interested in trade development, manufactures or agriculture, full information may be had for the asking.

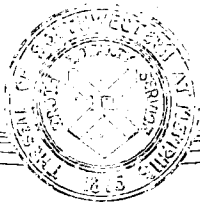

It will be a pleasure to give detailed information upon all matters pertaining to the splendid progress of Memphis and the Memphis territory.

WRITE TO THE
Memphis Chamber of Commerce

BALLAD OF THE RUM FLEET:

"This booze is good,"
Said William Wood,
"There'll be no morning after."
With which retort
He drank a quart,
'Midst revelry and laughter.

But life is tough—
'Twas bootleg stuff,
Sold by some hardened grafter;
But Bill was right—
He died that night—
There was no morning after.

HEATING AND EDUCATION

Good heating is the result of years of education, experience and research. In turn education is greatly facilitated by good heating. Good heating may be defined as a comfortable temperature automatically maintained regardless of outside atmospheric conditions.

A good heating system is dependent on:

Design - Installation - Operation - Materials

Heating systems should be designed by a firm of competent heating and ventilating engineers—should be installed by competent and experienced engineering contractors—operated under the direction of a competent executive to secure maximum economy of operation.

Comfort, dependability and economy of heating were insured to the New Southwestern University, by the selection of Chas. L. Reeder and Wallace Hoeng as consulting engineers—State Heating & Power Company, Inc., as engineering contractors—and Mr. B. B. Scarhrough, Supt. of Buildings and Grounds, as the executive in charge of operation.

Oil Burners, furnished and installed by the engineering contractors are semi-automatically controlled and furnish heat economically, eliminating all unnecessary labor, formerly required in institutions for handling coal, ashes and cleaning.

The modern boilers and heating system installed by the engineering contractors allow the heating medium to circulate to all parts of the building, insuring comfort and uniform temperature in the most extreme weather.

Max: "Why do they call that car Redhead?"

John S: "Because he is one of Willie's Knights."

Prof. Cooper: "How did the Germans win the battle of Jutland?"

Fresh McGivaren: "Named their battleships after jokes so the British couldn't see them."
