“Art Theme”

IF WE could for a moment reverse the movement of the wheel of time and spin it backward some hundreds of years, we should see a great primeval forest overgrowing the bluffs that the City of Memphis now occupies. We should see the red-skinned savages hunting the deer, fishing in the muddy waters of the Mississippi, or sitting about the embers of their nightly camp-fires, but should see no sign of a white man.

If we could let time's magic wheel lift the curtain of years, we should see the heroic Hernando DeSoto as he first stretched his sword out over the Father of Waters and in the name of God and the king of Spain declared the future site of Memphis to be a part of the Spanish domain. We could see him as he planted the briar-torn, blood-splashed Spanish flag in the soil from which was to spring, like a morning flower, our city of Memphis and our College of the Mississippi Valley. But DeSoto with all his dreams never dreamed what was to come.

Then, let the wheel speed us rapidly through events of the past. Long after the passing of DeSoto we might have seen a few scattered log cabins occupying little cleared spaces along the bluff; simple, rugged little cabins that seemed dropped from the calm sky by the threads of smoke that pierced the heavens---the white man had come to stay.

After that the Indian wars, and then the great Civil War, the Reconstruction, the plagues, the building of the Harahan bridge, the World War, and the coming of Southwestern, the College of the Mississippi Valley.

Little did the savages know what the future had in store for the bluffs which their moccasined feet tread, nor could DeSoto pierce the veil of the future to anticipate the glory and culture that was to come, nor Jackson, the greatness and wealth of the city of which he was the father.

Now the wheel has brought us to the present; now may we dare to cast an eye to the future to anticipate the wonders that await our children and those who are to come after, the building of the future Southwestern, and the wealth of greater Memphis that is to be. Ah! perhaps we may be satisfied to muse upon the beauty and majesty of the present College, the foster child of Memphis, the great city of the Mississippi Valley. Aye, even now we may see the great city taking its foster child to its bosom, and turning with the eyes of a seer toward the East and the rising sun, awaiting confidently the coming of the years that shall span the gulf of progress unknown and yet to come.

That has been our theme.

CLASSES

SENIORS

WESLEY P. ADAMS

ΔΤΩ Brownsville, Tenn. B.A.

ΟΔΚ; Pan-Hellenic Council '26-'27; Honor Council '26-'27; Spanish Club; "S" Club; Varsity Football '24, '25, '26.

Wesley, the boy from Brownsville, came to us as a sophomore from Washington and Lee University to jump right on the football team. "Wes" has been a steady backfield regular for three years.

That is not all, for he is a regular all around fellow, and he rendered excellent service on the Honor Council and the Pan-Hellenic Council his last year. He didn't stop there either, for he went right ahead and beat "Art" Dulin's "time" with Winkie.

Joking aside, he is dependable and few have gathered more friends than he.

THOMAS APPLETON, JR.

ΣΑΠ Goodlettsville, Tenn. B.A.

Sou'wester '25-'26, '26-'27; San Hedrin Council '25-'26; '26-'27; Greek Prize '25-'26; Tennis Team '24, '25, '26, '27; Singles Champion '24-'25; Runner-up '25-'26; Doubles Champion '25-'26; President Tennis Association '25-'26.

"Long Tom" might seem an appropriate title, but others have seen fit to give him the name of "Daddy App," because of his fatherly ways while a member of the San Hedrin Council.

"App" hasn't confined his conquests to Freshmen, but has won laurels on the tennis courts and in the classroom, as a glance of his list of honors will suffice to show.

He and "Alfred M." toured the wooly West last summer and they came back stronger than ever. "App's" multitude of friends will literally carry him to success.

MARION BLALOCK

ΧΑ Como, Miss. B.A.

Chi Delta Literary Society; Chi Delta Phi, Secretary and Treasurer '25-'26, President '26-'27; Journal Staff; Girls' Tennis Tournament, Semi-Finals '25-'26.

Coming from Blue Mountain College with a record to uphold, Marion has done well. Her excellent showing in the Girls' Tennis Tournament was presaged by her success at Blue Mountain.

Likewise, she had a literary reputation to sustain and has upheld it in Chi Delta and Chi Delta Phi. She has also contributed to the Journal.

Few are more enthusiastic for Southwestern and few are better liked than Marion.

ROBERT M. BUCHANAN

Charleston, Miss.

Mississippi Club; Ministers Club; Quibblers Forum.

"Buck" is the neophyte of the class, but everyone knows "Buck." After spending three years at Mississippi A. & M. he decided on his life work as a minister and came to Southwestern to complete his preparatory course.

He came to us not without honor, for he distinguished himself at A. & M. by winning the Sophomore debating medal, and by three years of activity in the Y. M. C. A.

"Buck" has already made his "debut" as a preacher, and with marked success at that.

EDWARD EUGENE BUDER

KΣ Columbus, Miss. B.S.

A. P. O.; President Senior Class; Mississippi Club; Pan-Hellenic Council '25-'26, '26-'27; Lynx Club; San Hedrin Council '25-'26, '26-'27; Staff of Sou'wester '25-'26, '26-'27; Assistant Business Manager Sou'wester '24-'25; Scrub Football '23-'24; Scrub Basketball '23-'24, '25-'26; Inter-fraternity Track Team '24.

Really a leader and a well rounded man, "Ed" has shown his ability in class room and in other activities.

"I am the master of my fate," and perhaps of—but anyway for the past two years Ed has seen to it that a certain young lady did not get lost on the campus. He has been faithful to his task, guiding her everywhere.

He lets nothing worry him, and only a man can bear the weight of duty and love and still be the scientist that "Ed" is.

LAURA BYERS

XΩ Clarksville, Tenn. B.A.

Chi Delta Literary Society; Shakespeare Club; Sophoclean Club, Secretary '27; French Prizes '23, '24; Prettiest Girl '23-'24.

Laura didn't come to Memphis with Southwestern, but she heard so much about it that she just had to come back for her senior year. She started with us in Clarksville, but went to school in Washington last year.

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever," and we can appreciate that in Laura. Nevertheless she confides that she was never called Laura until she came to Memphis, as everyone in "The Old School" knew her as "Potsy."

She is accomplished in literature and language, and who knows what else?

SIDNEY CAMERON, JR.

ΔΧΑ Memphis, Tenn. B.A.

Stray Greek Club; Assistant Business Manager Sou'wester '25-'26; Charter Member Spanish Club; Student Assistant Psychology '26-'27; "Nitists."

Sidney is a conscientious student and has reaped the reward for his studious turn. Everyone with whom he has come in contact has recognized his ability, but he is no bookworm. "One of the Three Best Students in Southwestern," is what the student body thinks of him, and he certainly deserves his share of the title.

Southwestern is Sid's third Alma Mater, Cumberland and Sewanee claiming him first. Really a versatile man, Sid has been actively interested in the Sou'wester, an ardent worker in the Spanish Club, and an interesting expounder of logic and philosophy for the benefit of the "Nitists."

MARTHA CARNES

ΧΑ Memphis, Tenn. B.A.

Chi Delta Literary Society, Critic '25; Chi Delta Phi, President '25; Theta Alpha Phi; Alpha Theta Phi Scholarship Fraternity; Freshman French Prize '24; Spencer Greek Prize '24, '25; Journal Staff.

Martha is a Memphis girl who went to Clarksville to bring the school down home, and she did it. She started and stuck with Southwestern for four years.

"Tell me not in mournful numbers, opportunity knocks but once."

That's Martha all over. She has won every prize for which she competed.

Literary societies have been her stamping ground, and she bids fair, if we may judge the future by the past, to become quite a poetess.

She may be remembered as one of the most conscientious students ever produced by Southwestern.

JEFERSON DAVIS CAUSEY

ΣΑΕ Gloster, Miss. B.A.

Sigma Upsilon '25-'26, '26-'27; Orchestra; Glee Club; The Pals; Spanish Club; President Sigma Upsilon '26-'27.

"Jeff" just blew his way to success, but he did not confine his tooting activities to the saxophone, as he has won fame for his speaking parts in The Pals and Alpha Phi Epsilon.

"Nothing so rare as a December day,

With Jefferson Davis Causey tooting away."

However, Jeff does not have to do all the tooting of the horn. His accomplishments speak for him, and the ladies ask about him.

MARGARET COBB

XΩ Blythesville, Ark. B.A.

Chi Delta Literary Society '25-'26, Secretary and Treasurer '26-'27; Vice-President Senior Class; Honor Council '26-'27; Vice-President Sociology Club; Girls' Basketball Team '25-'26; Tennis Association.

Demure Margaret left Arkansas College where she spent her first two years, to come to Memphis and Southwestern in 1925.

Despite all the time she has spent in outside activities, she has accomplished much, being a good student and a fine all round girl. She has been prominent in literary circles for the past two years as is attested by her vice-presidency of Chi Delta.

She was one of the stand-bys of the "Kittens" in the '25-'26 season, and wields an educated tennis racquet, too.

SIDNEY FANT DAVIS

ATΩ Indianola, Miss B.A.

Order of the Torch; Pan-Hellenic Council '24-'25, '26-'27; San Hedrin Council '24-'25; High Priest San Hedrin '26-'27; Honor Council '24, '25, '26, '27; Varsity Football '23, '24, '25, '26; Captain Football '25; President, Sophomore Class; President, Mississippi Club; Vice-President "S" Club '25-'26; Chief Waddell Hall '25-'26, '26-'27; Assistant Instructor in Gymnasium '25-'26, '26-'27; OΔK.

Here is a big man about the campus. Four letters in football and offices in almost every organization for which he is eligible. "Sid" is the boy that everybody knows and that the "Frosh" shun, for he held office as the High Priest of the San Hedrin.

"Sid's" popularity is well earned by sheer merit, and his election as one of the two members of the Order of the Torch was the highest honor that could be conferred.

EDWARD C. DIRMEYER

Memphis, Tenn. B.A.

Sigma Upsilon '27; "Nitists;" Sophoclean Club; Athletic Editor Sou'western '25-'26; Associate Editor Sou'western '26-'27; Journal Staff; Alpha Theta Phi Scholarship Fraternity, Secretary '26-'27; Four Year Honor Student.

Ed put in two years at Vanderbilt and then decided to stay at home and attend Southwestern. He has been in the rush of activity since the first day he put foot on the campus of Southwestern. Not only the Sou'wester and The Journal claimed much of his time, but the "Lynx" also claimed his services.

He has been equally at home pondering far into the night with the "Nitists" or reading works of his own composition to the "Stylus."

A conscientious, gifted, and practical student.

JAMES P. GLADNEY

ΚΣ Baton Rouge, La. B.A.

Pan-Hellenic Council '26-'27; Business Manager "Lynx" '25-'26, '26-'27; Alpha Phi Epsilon; Vice-President Louisiana Club; Quibbler's Forum; Debating Team '27; Student Delegate Blue Ridge '26; ΟΔΚ.

"Jimmy," coming from Davidson, jumped right into the midst of things to manage the business end of "The Lynx," which he did for two years.

Aside from these duties he has occupied himself with debating, not to mention an occasional date with the fairer sex.

An excellent mind, a likeable personality, and a business head are his chief assets.

ELIZABETH HART

ΚΔ Birmingham, Ala. B.A.

President Girls' Pan-Hellenic '26-'27; Chi Delta Literary Society; Vice-President Chi Delta Literary Society; Vice-President Chi Delta '25-'26; Alabama Club; Sec'y and Treas., Treasurer, Alabama Club '25-'26; Inter-Sorority Club; "The Pals;" Shakespeare Club; President Sophoclean Club.

Little but important, as she proved by amassing the above honors in her two years at Southern. She came to us from Agnes Scott.

This little miss from Birmingham has enlivened the entire class with her laughter and heartened more than one fellow with her happy smile. Despite all her presidencies and secretaryships we just bet she will settle down and make some big man happy.

ALFRED M. HICKS

ΚΑ Leland, Miss. B.S.

Order of the Torch; ΟΔΚ; Assistant in Biology '25-'26, '26-'27; Editor, "Lynx" '27; Alpha Theta Phi Scholarship Fraternity '25-'26, '26-'27, Vice-President '27; Sigma Upsilon '25-'26, '26-'27; Vice-President '26-'27; Galileo Club '25, '26, '27, President '26-'27; Student Council; "Lynx" Club '26-'27 Staff Catalink '27; Law Club; Pre-Medical Club; Nitists; Founder, Lambda Upsilon (Pre-Medical Fraternity) '26-'27; Quibblers Forum '24, '25, '26; Biology Prize '24-'25; Mathematics Prize '23-'24; Tennis Council; Sec'y-Treas., Junior Class '25; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet '24-'25; Editor, "Scraps," Philosophy Magazine; De Molay Club; Honor Council '24-'25, '25-'26; Four Year Honor Student; Pioneer Staff '24-'25.

A familiar figure about the laboratories, a contributor to the literary magazines, an ardent discussor of philosophy, science, and literature, editor of the '27 Lynx, Order of the Torch, and elected "One of the Three Best Students," and "The Biggest Liar," he was one of the big men on the campus.

ALEXANDER S. KAHANSKI

Memphis, Tenn. B.A.

The real cosmopolitan of the class, and the master of five languages, he came to us after spending several years in France, Germany, and other foreign lands. He then came to Memphis and entered Southwestern as a sophomore last year. He graduates with an excellent record this year.

He is also an accomplished musician.

He is a very deep student of philosophy and in his graduation the college loses one of its excellent students.

JOHN MILTON LOONEY

Amory, Miss. B.A.

Scrub Football '23; Secretary and Treasurer Freshman Class '23-'24; Sou'wester Staff '23-'24; Tennis Club '23; Mississippi Club; Minister's Club; Quibblers Forum; Stewart Literary Society '23; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet '27.

John Milton is one of the faithful few of the sixty who matriculated in the fall of '23, to stick by and graduate as a member of the class of '27.

If we were searching for an appropriate title for him, it would be difficult to find one more appropriate than "Old Steady."

His candidacy for the ministry has given him interest in the Y. M. C. A., and he served as religious reporter for the Sou'wester in '23-'24.

If you've got a job that must be done, just give it to Looney.

LOUIS DENTON MARKS

ATΩ Memphis, Tenn. B.A.

Alpha Phi Epsilon; Sigma Upsilon '27; Business Manager Journal; Secretary and Treasurer "Nitist" Club; Spanish Club '26, '27; "Pals;" Quibblers Forum; Pan-Hellenic Council '27; O. D. K.

The above record is sufficient to tell the story, when it is remembered that this is the result of only two years with Southwestern. Louis attended Sewanee his first two years, and then chose Southwestern.

"One of the busy men on the campus" is a phrase suited to the occasion, for he has shown an active interest in publication and club work. Much of the Journal's success may be attributed to him.

His level business head will carry him to the front, and this likeable personality leaves many friends to regret his loss.

RALPH EMERSON McCASKILL

ΠΚΑ Shreveport, La. B.A.

ΟΔΚ; President Boosters' Club '27; Theta Alpha Phi; "Pals;" San Hedrin '26-'27; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet '26-'27; Student Council '27; Sociology Club '25, '26; Cheer Leader '25, '26; Louisiana Club, Vice-President '26-'27; Ministerial Student.

"Mac" cast his lot with us after having spent two years at Centenary College of Louisiana, and the United States Naval Academy. His record proves his success, and few have won so many honors in so short a time.

He has always been right in the midst of things, and is right there when the big questions are at stake. His work while president of the student body has shown him to be unusually capable.

His smile is always handy, and he will be missed in all activities in which the student body is interested.

He leaves us, holding the respect of the entire student body as only few men have.

EDWIN LEE MORGAN

Memphis, Tenn. B.A.

Vice-President, Sophoclean Club; Ministers Club; Pastor Stevenson's Chapel and Longview Heights Methodist Church.

During his two years at Southwestern Mr. Morgan has successfully held two pastorates, and these have taken a great deal of his time. Though he has done excellent work in this field, we envy the time it has taken from his school activities.

He has been one of the biggest members of the Sophoclean club.

Before coming to us Mr. Morgan had taken three years of the medical course at the University of Tennessee, in preparation for medical missionary work. A change of plans resulted in his coming to Southwestern to prepare for the ministry.

He is a member of the Alpha Kappa Kappa fraternity.

CLAUDE MACKIE NEWTON

KA Seminary, Miss. B.A.

Track Team '24-'25, '25-'26; College Orchestra '25, '25, '27.

Mackie's fame as a tooter of the trombone has spread far and wide, and his musical accomplishments do not end with that. He is quite an artist with the violin and has no disdain for producing an occasional tune on the piano. It is partly due to his untiring efforts that Southwestern has succeeded in producing an orchestra that has come to stay.

His art did not end with the trombone, for he has won fame on the cinder track.

We shall miss Mackie.

ROBERT PARKER PARISH, JR.

ΣΔΕ Greenwood, Miss. B.A.

Baseball '25, '26, '27; "S" Club; Spanish Club; Pan-Hellenic Council '27.

As the "sheik," Bob has remained king all these four years, and the girls have nicknamed him, "The Crimson Tied."

Bob lets nothing worry him, and that attitude has carried him to success in college. Everyone knows him, and he has made numerous friends.

His ability as a tosser of goals from astounding angles is common knowledge, and he has been the "Waterloo" of many an aspiring tennis enthusiast.

Bob is the "Boy of the Campus"—whatever that means; always ready with the gab, laughter and fun, but not at all lacking in real seriousness.

JAMES BAIRD POPE

ΚΣ Columbus, Miss. B.S.

Honor Council '23-'24; ΟΔΚ; President Junior Class; Student Council '27; Vice-President Boosters Club '27; Pan-Hellenic Council '26-'27; A. P. O. (Founder); Mississippi Club; Scrub Football '23.

One of the co-founders of A.P.O., he has not limited his duties to that field. Jim has shown an unusual interest in athletics and club work, besides being a good student.

A scientist by nature and choice, he has been a familiar figure about the laboratories for four years.

His interest in athletics is indicated by his membership in the Lynx Club, and the tennis courts have found him more than an occasional visitor.

"Jim's" place will be hard to fill.

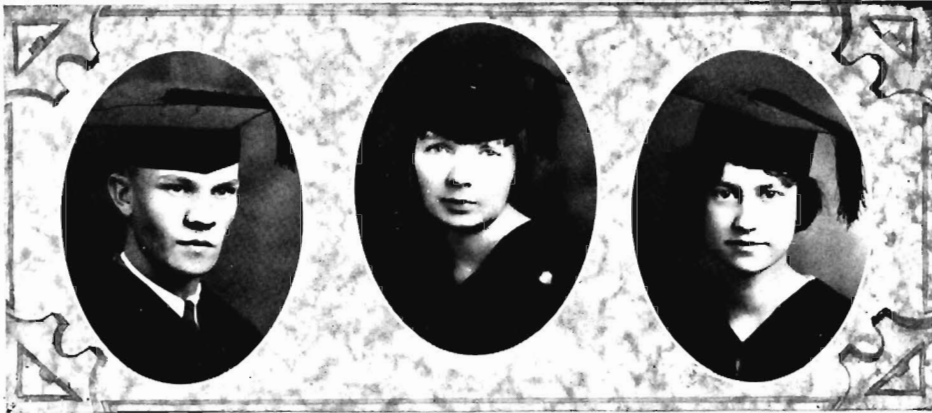

CORNELIA KITURA PHILLIPS

ΧΩ Memphis, Tenn. B.A.

Chi Delta Literary Society; Chi Delta Phi; Girls' Glee Club; Sociology Club '25, '26.

Such is the record of honors amassed by Kitura after a short two years with us, but these do not tell the whole story. She has been extremely active in literary circles, and at the same time has pursued a course leading to the B. A. degree. She has been one of the familiar figures about the laboratories for the past two years.

Needless to say, we shall miss her happy smile. We have no fears for Kitura's future.

LEWIS ELMER PIERCE

ΚΣ Clarksdale, Miss. B.S.

Alpha Phi Epsilon; A.P.O. (Founder); Cheerleader '23-'24, '24-'25; Mississippi Club.

"Luther" is a member of that famed scientific combination of Hicks, Buder, Pope, and Pierce, who have fought an unending battle with test tubes, microscopes, and the like, since first they put their foot on the historic campus of the old Southwestern.

But the fumes of the laboratory did not injure "Luther's" voice, for more than once it has helped to cheer Southwestern teams to victory.

We may remember him as the founder of the A.P.O.'s.

Characterized as a steady and dependable man, we need hold no fears as to his future.

ELEANOR RICHMOND

ΔΔΤ Memphis, Tenn. B.A.

Chi Delta Literary Society; Sociology Club; Spanish Club; Journal Staff.

Eleanor came to Southwestern from the University of Mississippi, following so many others to the new "College of the Mississippi Valley."

Her interests have been chiefly literary, her accomplishments along this line being many. She has helped Memphis to become acquainted with Southwestern through her editorials and news articles in one of the city's big dailies. Eleanor has demonstrated her literary ability by taking active part in several of the literary societies.

We see her future as a member of the American Pan-women.

HILDA SCATES

ΧΩ Memphis, Tenn. B.A.

Chi Delta Literary Society

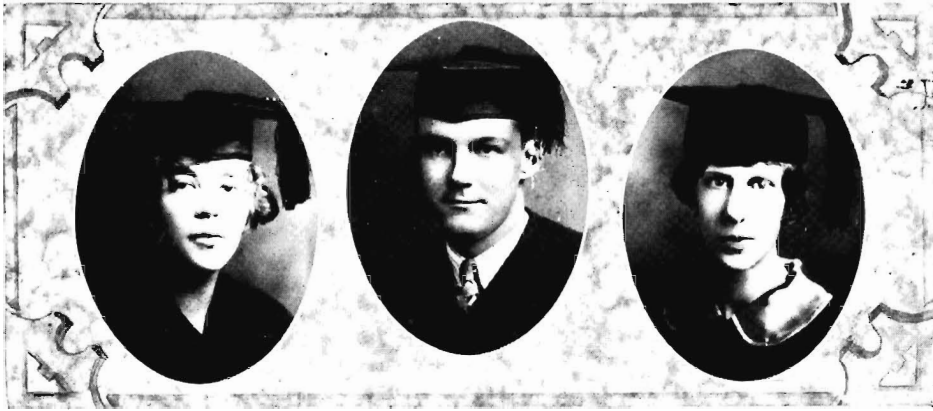

"But hold your peace,
And the world is yours."

Hilda is one those demure and easy going girls, and enjoys a lot of friends because of her bland manner.

Southwestern is her choice after two years at West Tennessee State Teachers College, and she opines that she likes the change—so do we.

Aside from standing high in scholarship, she was one of those few girls who dared to match wits with the professors in the chess tournament.

Her drawings have appeared from time to time in various college publications, and this is but another indication of her versatility.

VIRGINIA NORTHINGTON SMITH
 XΩ Clarksville, Tenn. B.A.

Chi Delta Literary Society; Girls' Basketball Team '25-'26, '26-'27; Business Manager, Girls Basketball, '25-'26; Girls' Tennis Tournament '26-'27; Law Club, Vice-Pres. '26-'27.

Like many others, she had to come back. Virginia, after spending her Freshman year at Clarksville, journeyed to Westhampton College, but the lure of Southwestern in its new setting brought her back to her first Alma Mater.

As an athlete she starred on the girls' basketball team the last two years, and piloted it successfully through financial difficulties during its first year of meager existence.

The fact that Virginia has been abroad, perhaps accounts for some of her success at Southwestern.

CHARLES FRANKLIN STEWART, JR.
 KA Hamilton, Miss. B.A.

OΔK; Associate Football Manager '25; Stewart Literary Society, President '25-'26; Mississippi Club; Ministerial Club; Vice-President Y. M. C. A. '25-'26; President Y. M. C. A. '26-'27; Chief Robb Hall '26-'27; Debating Club; "Nitists;" Glee Club '24, '25; Honor Council '26-'27; Vice-President Alpha Phi Epsilon '25, '26; Alpha Theta Phi Scholarship Fraternity.

"Firpo" is another of the charter members of the class who have stuck by through wind and storm. Two years at Clarksville and two at Memphis—four years crammed full of activity. Being a candidate for the ministry, he has already begun his life work, having preached regularly for the last two years. Even at that, he has never been too busy to philosophize in the famous "Room 300, Robb" discussions.

His good fellowship has won for him many honors that we expect him to add to in the years to come.

MARY MARGARET TATE
 XA Memphis, Tenn. B.A.

Pan-Hellenic Council '26-'27; Chi Delta Literary Society '25-'26, President '26-'27; Chi Delta Phi, Associate Member '27; Shakespeare Club; Four Year Honor Student; Journal Staff; Alpha Theta Phi Scholarship Fraternity, President '26-'27.

"Peggy," as Margaret is more generally known, came to Southwestern in her Junior year after having attended Hope College, Michigan for her first and second years. Upon her arrival our Alma Mater gained an extremely conscientious student. She led the Junior class in scholarship.

Aside from activities of a strictly scholastic nature "Peggy" is the organizer of XA, Southwestern's newest sorority, which has since claimed some of the best students on the campus.

The Lynx

LITTLE need be said in regard to the yearly publication, as the book itself tells the story, be it good or bad. The 1927 Lynx is the first issue of the Lynx Publication to contain color work, and quality was considered before cost in every case. At the same time the expenditure was successfully kept within the budget.

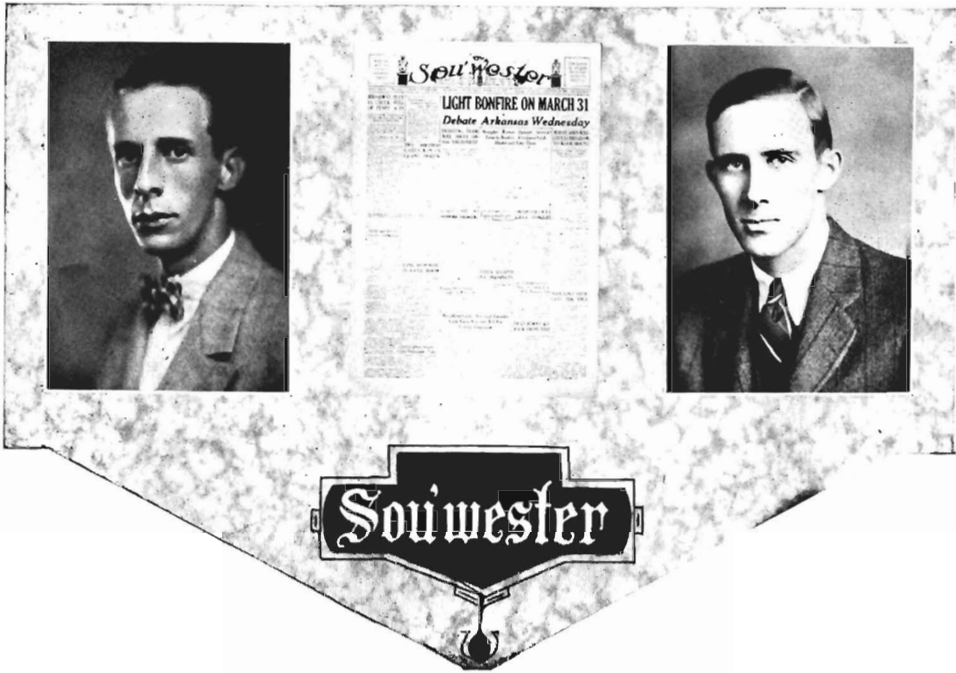

For the first time in the history of the publication the Lynx sponsored the popularity, beauty and other feature contests. It is with great pleasure also that the '27 Lynx presents an official sponsor, appearing elsewhere in the book.

The color division pages and some of the sub-division pages as well as all panel designs and layouts are the work of A. M. Hicks, while a large number of the sub-division pages are credited to Carrington Bacon. E. C. Dirmeyer is responsible for a large number of the senior write-ups. Charles Lewis rendered excellent service in classifying photographs and in reading proofs, and A. L. Hicks also handled a part of the editorial work.

James P. Gladney handled the business end of the publication efficiently, with Hiram King as his assistant.

The 1927 Lynx is largely the work of the above mentioned, though the staff wishes to express its appreciation of valuable service rendered by persons not officially on the staff.

It is hoped that future staffs may profit by our mistakes to the end of producing a year book even more representative of Southwestern.

The Sou'wester

THE story of the Sou'wester for the year 1927 would be a history of Southwestern for that year. It is the student weekly publication and issues news and human interest stories that are of interest to the students.

The popularity of the paper among the students is proof enough of its success, and Charles E. Diehl says: "It is an accurate epitome of Southwestern life."

There were thirty-three editions of the paper this year. December 3, 1926, saw the first six-column Sou'wester, and as time has passed it has been improved in make-up, scope, pictures, editorial work, and popularity.

The city editor of the Memphis Press-Scimitar says that the Sou'wester is the only unrecognized Scripps-Howard newspaper in the United States.

There have been several faithful workers to cooperate with Managing Editor York, and Editor Southworth. Chief among the editorial assistants were Ed Buder, Thomas Appleton, Edward Dirmeyer, Lindsey Gunn, Ramsey Russell, Ethel Brown, Marcelle Yard, Eleanor Backham, Vern Baumgarten, and Charles Robertson. A. L. Hicks, Sidney Cameron, and F. M. Perry, under Robert York's direction, rendered valuable service on the business end of the staff. Ethel Hutkin, Miriam Frehling, and Walter Johnson were also valuable assistants.

The Journal

THIS year saw the first edition of a literary magazine at Southwestern. The first Journal was distributed among the students in December of 1926, and since that time there have been three editions.

Katherine Lockwood and Frank Heiss, as Editor-in-Chief and Assistant Editor, respectively, have handled the larger part of the editorial work. Louis Marks, as Business Manager, has made the Journal a success, financially.

The Catalink

THE hectic history of the Catalink need not be recorded in full here, beyond saying that it has suffered several changes in staff since it was first issued to the students of Southwestern.

As recorder of witty sayings of students, however, it is unrivaled, and its twenty pages have thus far been filled with the most healthful humor obtainable.

James P. Gladney was the first Business Manager, while Sam Rhem served as the first Editor. After several editions of the magazine, this staff resigned to devote their time to other duties.

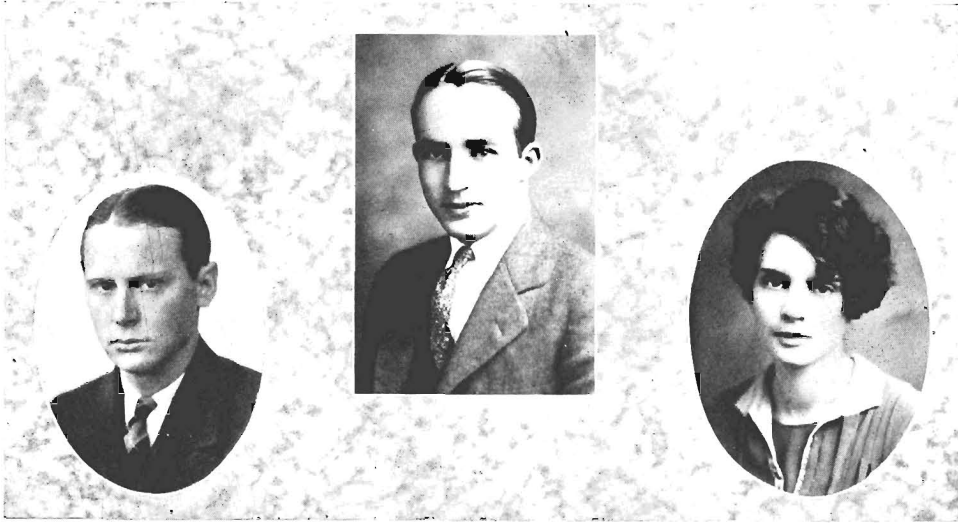

Alton L. Hicks, as Editor, and Edgar Church, as Business Manager then took over the Catalink to make it a recognized student publication.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The Boosters Club

R. E. McCASKILL . . . . . President
 JIM POPE . . . . . Vice-President
 ELISE PORTER . . . . . Secretary-Treasurer

THE BOOSTERS CLUB is synonymous with student government at Southwestern, and is a democratic organization whose membership consists of the entire student body. It is presided over by a President, Vice-President, and a Secretary and Treasurer. All matters to be passed on by the student body are brought before the Boosters Club, and each member of the student body is entitled to one vote.

The formation of the Student Council, which at the time of this writing has just been announced, represents the latest addition to the system. It is the function of this Council to consider all matters of importance and to pass on their worth before these are formally presented to the Boosters Club.

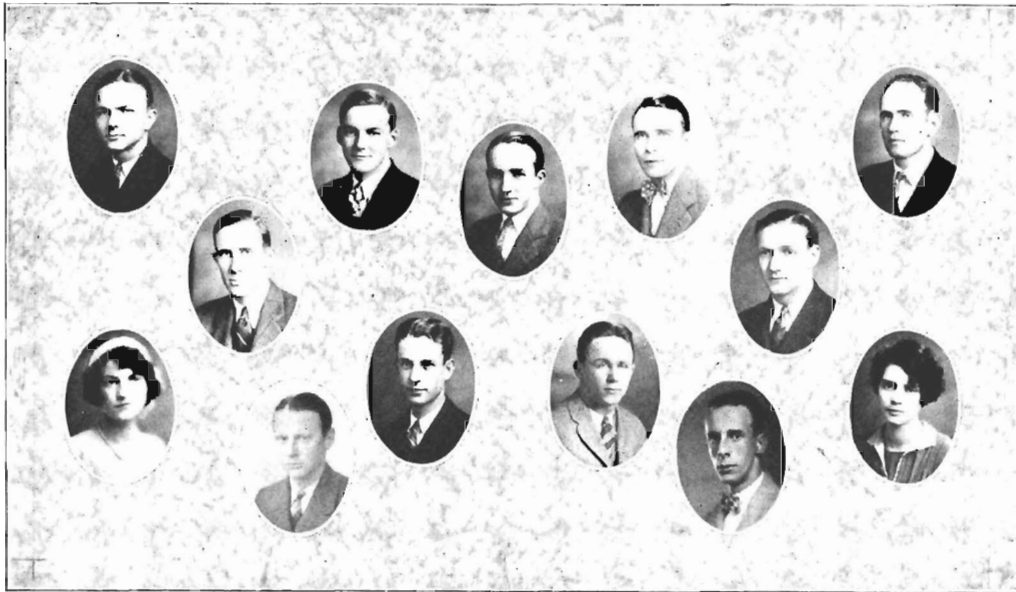

The 1927 Boosters Club has been extremely active, and it is responsible for the election to such honors as the most popular girls, the best all around athlete, the best students, the biggest liars, and the like. Many of these elections are recorded in the feature section of The Lynx.

Interest in athletics has been greatly magnified by regular Boosters meetings in which the cheer leaders have taken the leading part.

At the opening of the second semester of this year, the Boosters Club voted to various causes a sum amounting to approximately $900. This was fairly equally distributed among such causes as Girls' Athletics, The Lynx, Insurance Fund, Campus Fund, and Memorial Fund.

Early this fall the arrival of a new publication, the Journal, called for a new addition to the tuition fees, amounting to $1.00 per semester for each member of the Boosters Club.

Undoubtedly much of the success of the Boosters Club of '26-'27 is due to the untiring efforts of its officers together with the hearty co-operation and good spirit of the student body. Ralph McCaskill is due much credit for the successful introduction of the measures mentioned above and for others which cannot be tabulated for the lack of space.

Student Council

THE formation of The Student Council marked the beginning of a new era in student government at Southwestern. It is the function of this council to pass on all important questions before they reach the student body. This simplifies the handling of such questions. This council in no way infringes on the right of the student body to render its own decisions.

The Honor Council

THE HONOR SYSTEM has been in force for several years at Southwestern, and the success that it has enjoyed has warranted its retention. During the year 1925-1926 the functions of this body were reduced to the duty of handling cases of dishonesty in scholastic work. Sufficient it is to note that The Honor Council is a representative body, the various groups of the student body being represented as follows:

For men: Three Seniors, three Juniors, two Sophomores, and one Freshman. The men elect their own representatives.

For girls: One Senior, one Junior, one Sophomore, and one Freshman. The women elect their own representatives.

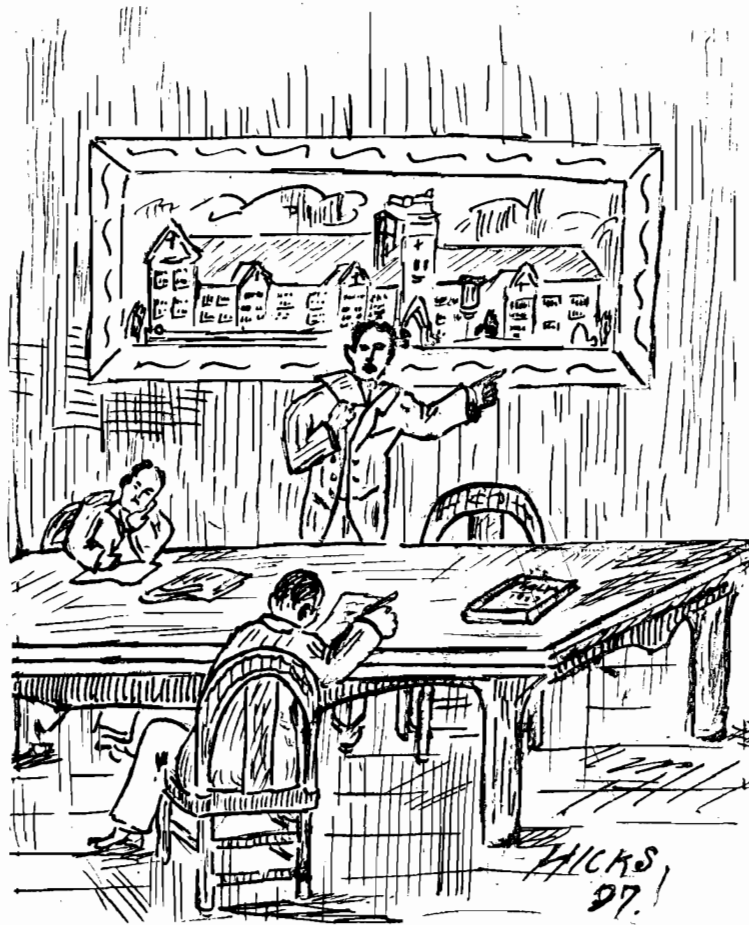

The total membership in the Honor Council, therefore, reaches thirteen, of which nine are men and four are women.

OTHER ACTIVITIES

Debating at Southwestern

DEBATING has taken a great stride during the past season, and is rapidly becoming one of the major activities. Aside from the regular debating schedule, J. C. Frist won the Tennessee Oratorical Contest over a large number of entries.

The season's record follows:

Arkansas A. & M. (Represented by Co-eds)

Gladney and Haden lost a 2 -to-1 decision, question: "Resolved, That the United States should take the lead in establishing a Pan-American Court of Adjudication."

University of Arkansas

Frist and Orr won the decision; question: "Resolved, That the Prohibition Amendment is a sound governmental policy."

Dual Debate, University of Mississippi

Rhem and Bullock lost both times. Debated on McNary-Houghen Farm Relief Bill.

Birmingham-Southern

Heiss and Thompson won. Question: Resolved, That the present jury system should be abolished.

Alternates: YORK, HALL, SCOTT, FLOWERS.

BI-MONTHLY meetings on Wednesday night, at which one-act plays and original sketches are presented under the direction of student-members. Two major productions are given before the public in Hardie Auditorium each year. The main play this year is "Rollo's Wild Oat," casting Price Patton and Ellen Thomas in the leading roles, with Charles Rond, Catherine Underwood, Dick Clinton, Mary Allen, Nolan Pierce, Allen Haden, Matilda Gal, Rebecca Dean, Tom Weiss, and Bill Meacham as the supporting cast. This play was given under the direction of the officers of the club, Prof. Samuel Monk and Prof. Haden assisting.

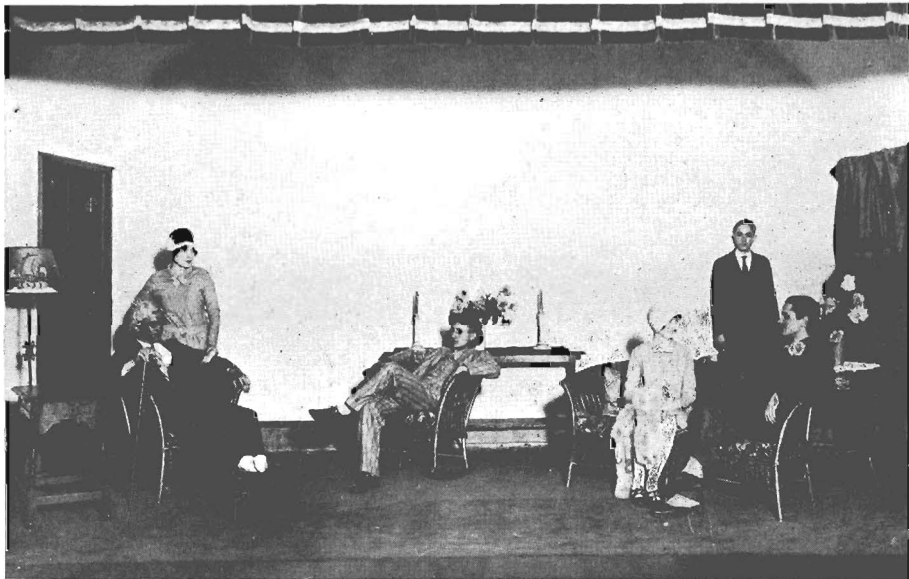

Ellen Thomas and P. A. Patton in "Rollo's Wild Oat"

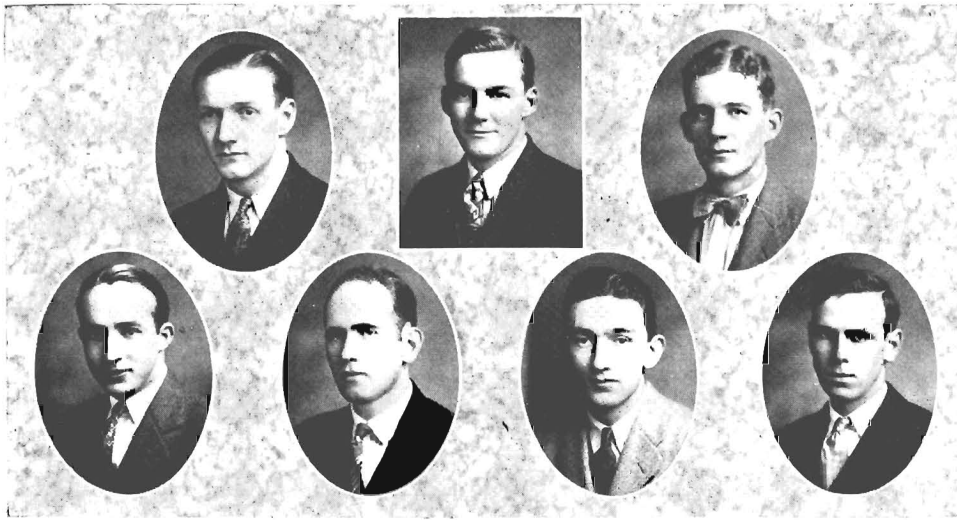

The Pal Players enjoyed an unusual financial success for the year '26-'27, there being two full houses present at each major production. At the time of this writing the Pal Players are planning to sponsor a play writing contest for the colleges of Tennessee. A prize will be awarded to the winner, and the play will be presented by The Pals in the Hardie Auditorium at the latter part of this year.

Y. M. C. A.

CABINET MEMBERS

CHARLES STEWART	President
JOHN CHESTER FRIST	Vice-President
RICHARD TAYLOR	Secretary-Treasurer
CHESTER DENHAM	Chairman Program Committee
JOHN MILTON LOONEY	Chairman Attendance Committee
P. A. PATTON	Chairman Music Committee
RALPH MCCASKILL	Chairman Lookout Committee

THE student Y. M. C. A. is a veteran campus activity, being the oldest college Y. M. C. A. in the state. The entire student body and faculty are eligible to membership. This organization during the past year was responsible for the appearance of such notable speakers as Dr. C. H. Williamson, Dr. J. V. Johnson, President Vandermeulen of Louisville Theological Seminary, and Rev. U. S. Gordon.

During the week of January 10th, Gypsy Smith, Jr., noted evangelist, conducted a revival. Few speakers have used as much common sense and at the same time have appealed to the audience so effectively as did Mr. Smith.

Soon after school opened in September the Y. M. C. A. was host at a reception in Palmer Hall. This reception was given in honor of the new students and faculty members. This get-together meeting is an annual occurrence.

Again on February 17th the "Y" sponsored a general get-together meeting that was designed to bring the dormitory and town students into a closer understanding. This entertainment was held in the dining hall, and smokes, campus scandal, jokes, and cats were enjoyed by all attending.

The regular weekly meetings are the chief function of the Y. M. C. A. These consist of a short prayer and talk and have proved of great benefit to those who attend regularly. Charles F. Stewart and an able cabinet have successfully guided the "Y" through the past year.

The San Hedrin

NOT one Freshman will ever forget the San Hedrin and the jurisdiction which that august body exercised over them. Long will be remembered Sid Davis' numerous rampages.

The spirit of the old San Hedrin which functioned in the days gone by has been effectively preserved. In consequence each "Frosh" cherishes a respect for the upper-classmen that is phenomenal. Thanks to the San Hedrin, each Freshman knows his place and keeps it, and holds that distinction between the Upper Classmen and "Frosh" as a tradition that must ever be preserved.

So the present San Hedrin, as a survival of the Old School, has continued in its good work. The High Priest and his elders continue to mete out punishments for misdemeanors of Freshmen, and never yet has there been the slightest indication that the spirit of Southwestern of Old is not as strong as ever.

The Nitist Club

THIS club has as its purpose the discussion of important questions of the day. The discussions are open, and the faculty and student members take an equal part in them. The aim has been not necessarily to solve these problems, but to bring them to the minds of that portion of the student body which is interested in discussion of scientific, philosophic, or economic nature.

Fraternities and Sororities at Southwestern

THIS opportunity will be taken to say a word about fraternities and sororities at Southwestern.

There are at the present time five fraternities, including one local. They function with the idea of sustaining the scholastic and moral ideals of the college, and at the same time seek to offer certain social advantages that would not be obtainable otherwise.

In no case, however is there any conscious distinction made between fraternity and non-fraternity men, and the same applies to the sororities.

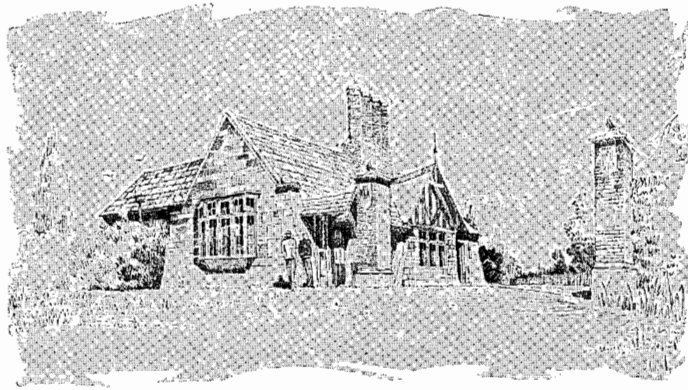

There are four Pan-Hellenic dances given each year and the entire student body is invited to these.

Most of the sororities have been engaged during the past year in constructing houses on the campus, or in making plans for such houses. These are not dwellings, but merely to serve as meeting places. Likewise, the fraternities have laid plans for houses of similar nature.

The fraternity system has been a part of Southwestern through the greater part of its history most of the nationals having been established in the seventies and eighties. Furthermore, it is believed that fraternities play a very essential part in preserving the college spirit of brotherhood at Southwestern.

Season of 1926

WHEN Coach Neely issued the call early in September for "pig-skinners," he was answered by over forty huskies from Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Arkansas, and Illinois. The curtain of the greatest football year in the history of Southwestern was about to be raised. Such foes as Birmingham Southern, Vanderbilt, and Ole Miss, were to furnish the meat for the Lynx, and the Cats, realizing the bigness of their task, got down to work. In the three weeks that followed, the foundation for the smoothest working football machine in the history of the college was laid. Farnsworth, as a triple threat man, and Sid Davis as veteran center, along with Arthur Dulin, furnished the cogs around which this machine was built.

The result was the best football team ever produced by Southwestern, and when it is remembered that the team was composed largely of raw recruits, its record is amazing.

A resume of the season is given in the following pages.

HAWK

EVERYONE was wondering what Southwestern football of the season '26 would be, when the Lynx met Will Mayfield College from Missouri. The Lynx showed them what they had and easily piled up a 59 to 0 score. The Mayfield Mules showed little of the drive that had characterized them when they held Southwestern to a 6 to 0 score in '25. But the Mules had encountered what was to prove the most superior football aggregation in the history of the College.

The next to fall before the Cats was the heavy and widely feared Birmingham Southern combination. Although Freshman gridsters were ineligible to play in this contest the old men turned the invaders back with the short end of a 16 to 14 score. The Panther's defeat at the hands of the Lynx upset all predictions, and it immediately became evident that Southwestern had taken a great stride forward in the football world. Dode Farnsworth, with his steady punting and accurate passing, may be remembered as the star of this affray.

PICKERING

Psychologically reinforced by this victory the LynxCats next met the "Reddies" of Henderson Brown, and much to the surprise of all critics, went down in defeat to the score of 13 to 0. The brilliant work of several Reddie stars was partly responsible for the victory of the Arkansans. The failure of the Lynx to function in the machine-like way that had characterized their first two games was also responsible in part for the defeat.

Aroused to more determined efforts the Cats held Arkansas college to a scoreless tie. The game was uneven from the start but the Lynx lacked the necessary drive at crucial moments. The ball was kept in Arkansas territory practically the entire game, and the failure of the Southwestern aggregation merely served to show that much of their latent power still remained undeveloped.

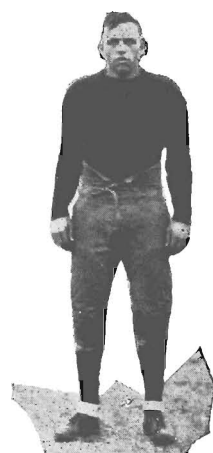

Then came the biggest game of the season, and, although crushed 50 to 0 by Vanderbilt's Commodores, the defeat was the first step in bringing out the latent drive of the Cats. An unheralded attack twice carried the pig skin to the Commodore's five-yard line only to be lost on fumbles. The Lynx weathered the vicious attack of the Vandy backs for two quarters, and the half ended 6 to 0 for Vandy. The Lack of reinforcements caused the Cat defense to wilt in the second half before the brilliant field running of Spears and Hendrix (Spears has since been unanimously chosen All-Southern quarterback.) The final score of 50 to 0 lowered the curtain on a brilliantly and hard-fought game.

Then came the old story repeated again, but not so emphatically. Again a Southwestern football team was destined to fall before an Ole Miss grid machine. The Lynx allowed the Mississippians to count a score of 26 to 7 in the first half, but came back strong in the second to run up 20 points in almost as many minutes. The final whistle found the score at 27 to 32 in favor of Ole Miss, with the visitors glad enough of their eked out victory. Two minutes of play would probably have told a different story, for the game ended with the ball deep in Mississippi territory. Throughout the game the outweighed Lynx fought an up hill fight and gathered momentum as the game progressed. Though they suffered defeat, it was the greatest moral victory of the season.

Bethel was next tackled with the second string men, and though the Bethelites were held scoreless for two quarters, the regulars were forced to come to the rescue. The result was 19 to 7. Southwestern's consistent gains on line plunges accounted for the win.

The reserves got another opportunity against the Tennessee Teachers and accounted for two touchdowns against the Normalites. The opposition was unable to gain over the Lynx reserves but the Lynx varsity was given the opportunity of ending the affray. Not up to their usual standard the regulars were able to put over only two counters and allowed the Teachers to score over them. The game ended 27 to 6 in favor of the Lynx, and credit for the win should go to the reserves.

The third Arkansas team to be encountered by the Lynx was Hendrix College and the invaders were destined to win, 9 to 0. Hendrix outweighed Southwestern and was probably the more experienced of the two teams. The Lynx were unable to stem the tide of their consistent gains over the line, and again Southwestern went down in defeat at the hands of an Arkansas eleven.

Season of '26

THE plentiful supply of football material made a first class Freshman team possible, and this team crystallized in the form of the Bobcats. Recruits were taken from the second and third string varsity in the form of Hicks, Stewart, Redhead, and others. Under the coaching of Elam and Mr. Halle the team was rapidly whipped into shape, and came home on the big end of a 13 to 7 score from their encounter with the Whitehaven High School gridders.

The following game proved a different tale, and the Tate Aggies marked down a victory over the Kitties, to the tune of 6 to 0. The game was evenly played, and the Bobcats were considerably outweighed. This turn of the tide merely prepared them for a second victory when Blytheville fell before their passing attack, taking the short end of a 12 to 13 score.

Then it began to appear that fate was playing tricks on the "Bobbies," for they came home from an encounter with Tunica High, bearing the light end of a 6 to 13 score. Never disheartened, however, they retaliated with a well earned victory over Central High. Line plunges accounted for this winning streak, and when the curtain fell on the feature of the season the Bobcats found that they had beaten the Centralites 13 to 12.

Then came the great climax, and although it held a defeat for the ambitious youngsters, we record it as one of those moral victories. Against the field of All-Memphis stars, the Bobcats played brilliantly, and upset all predictions when they outplayed this machine for three quarters. The score of 3 to 0 chalked up against the "Bobbies" is no indication of how the teams were matched.

Thus ended the first season of the Southwestern Freshman team.

Much credit must be given to Mr. Halle who assisted in coaching this team, and who had such a great part in its success.

The success of the Bobcats does not all lie in the wonderful record it made. There was a greater aim than that, and that aim was fulfilled. In the course of the season some real varsity material was developed. The line drives and line backing ability of Hicks were features. Little, Stewart, Redhead, Foote, Harris, and practically the entire team showed themselves capable of future varsity work.

BASKETBALL

WHILE there have been better years in the history of Lynx basketball, there have been worse.

The Lynx cagers started off big with a lineup consisting almost entirely of stars. Chi Waring and Billy Hughes at forward, Doc Price and Gillespie at guards, and Waring at center were the main stays of the team. The first few games were won easily, and the prospects looked bright for the greatest basketball year ever. Then, at the end of the first semester, the college authorities clamped down on the men, scholastically, and they were asked to give up their positions on the team.

A complete reorganization of the team followed, and the resulting combination of Hughes, Looney, Charles Terry, Ora Johnson, Joe Davis, Hammond Smith, and Bill Ford finished the season. This team, though handicapped by lack of experience, made a reputable showing.

The season ended with Hughes, Terry, Ora Johnson, Smith, Ford, and Joe Davis getting the coveted letters. Joe Davis served as captain.

BASEBALL

Baseball

IF SOUTHWESTERN baseball is to be a repetition of past years we have little fear as to the outcome for this year. The prospects indeed look bright, though the team suffered the loss of several stars of long standing last year. Al Clements is missed and his place will be hard to fill.

The steady playing of Sammy Hall is something that will be hard to duplicate. Alexander, who held down the catcher's end of the game for two years is no longer with us.

Nevertheless, Coach Neely, casting about for men to fill these responsible positions has found a plentiful supply of material, and the team is rapidly rounding into shape.

The pitching staff looks good. "Lefty" Garrott, the only southpaw hurler on the squad, showed up well in a practice game recently. Neely also has Lee Rehse and Oscar Hurt, from last year, together with "Deacon" Buchanan, Jack Fite,

J. M. McMaster, C. B. Phelps and Maurice Moore. The latter five are new candidates.

A host of players are out for a garden position. Arthur Dulin and Ora Johnson, veterans, are certain of two of the three outfields. Jack Anderson, Hammond Smith, Frank Trelawney, Ernest Taylor, Crawford McGiveren, P. L. Hutchison, Billy Flowers, Leslie Harris, Frank Montgomery and Fritz Heidelberg are putting up a fight for the other position.

Three candidates are fighting for first base. Bob Redhead, T. M. Garrott and Charles Terry all look good, and it will be hard choosing between them.

Seven men are out for second base. Gerald Capers, Stanford Parnell, Edmund McGiveren, Pete Melvin, Bob Parish, Ed White and Billy Hughes are the candidates. Parish and Hughes have impressed with their early season work.

Three likely looking shortstops are out in Johnny Allen, Karl Nickle and "Shorty" Weiss.

Third base also has three candidates hot on its trail in Cotton Thomas, E. Craven and M. Craig.

The catching problem appears to have been solved with four classy receivers fighting for a regular berth. Buster Smythe, who caught for the University of Arkansas freshmen last spring; Harold Gillespie, former Central catcher; Lambert Dial, and William Walters, all look capable behind the bat.

The hitting strength of the team is somewhat of a mystery. Johnson hit well last spring, while Dulin also turned in a heavy average. The fielding end, especially the infield, also has to be proved. The players are a little green, and have been wild in their throwing to bases, but this feature is expected to improve with practice.

Tennis

THE result of the matches cannot be given at this time. In fact, little more than the prospect of a big tennis year can be noted.

At the time of the present writing the four clay courts are in excellent condition, and they are in constant use by numerous aspirants for net honors.

Tommy Appleton, Billy Hughes, and Dumpy Beall still continue to wield educated racquets, and have added even more skill to their last year's form. There are also numerous candidates for the team, but elimination matches have not progressed far enough to allow prediction as to the final outcome.

Among the contests scheduled are matches with the University of Mississippi, and the Memphis Tennis Club. Arrangements are being made for other matches also. The greatest tennis year in the history of Southwestern is predicted for '27.

Last minute reports show Hughes as singles victor over Lippett, 6-0, 4-6, 6-2. Ole Miss defeated Southwestern 6-3 and 5-4 in two contests.

Golf

THE golf situation at the present time is much like that of tennis. No details can be given as the final matches have not yet been played. It is very probable, however, that matches will be played with the University of Tennessee Doctors, and the University of Mississippi. The elimination matches are being played at the time of this writing.

T. M. Garrott, as president of the Golf Club, has done much to stimulate the interest in golf. The interest of the faculty in this sport has also done much to make it one of the leading forms of athletics.

The Overton Park links, which are very near the campus also serve to stimulate interest in this sport.

With the matches as scheduled, and the elimination tournament well under way, this should be a very successful golf year at Southwestern.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

Girls' Basketball

SOUTHWESTERN'S girls' basketball team, like every other undertaking, had to go through its pioneer stage.

In December, 1925, a squad of 15 girls organized a basketball team. At first they were coached by Jess Neely, but his other duties prevented him from giving much of his time to the co-ed basketeers.

In December, 1926, the girls again asked permission to have a basketball team. So the students of the fairer sex staged a rally, and 40 girls responded, yet permission to have a team was withheld from the girls. Finally Mrs. C. L. Townsend, dean of women, came to the girls' rescue and gained the permission from college authorities authorizing the team. Then the co-eds asked Henry Waring, a star athlete at Southwestern to shoulder the responsibility of coaching. "Chi" magnanimously agreed to coach the girls gratis. At the first call for practice, which was in the middle of February, 25 girls reported. Among those who reported were May Howry, Miriam Muehler, "Fritz" Montroy, Elinor Clinton, and Corinne Crenshaw, centers; Frances Crawford, Elizabeth Carnes, Elise Porter, Marguerite Pride, and Ernestine Wiggins, guards; Carolyn Stockley, Effie Lee Ingram, Mildred Rainwater, Amalie Fair, Elizabeth Baker, and Louise Ralston, forwards. Letter players from the previous year who reported were Eleanor Beckham, jumping center and captain; Virginia Smith, guard; Louise Stratmann, forward and business manager.

Since the funds of the co-eds were very limited, again they had to content themselves with playing only local teams. Since the Kittens were organized so late, they played their first game with the All-Memphis sextet at the Y. W. C. A. on February 25, and were defeated by the score of 32-17.

The next game was with the South Side team, in the Southwestern gym, on March 7. The collegiates won after a hard fight, by the score of 25-20.

Then again on March 12, the co-eds clashed with the St. Agnes team at the Catholic Club court. After a rough and tumble game the Kittens defeated the opposition, score 31-25.

The South Side team sought a return game with the Kittens. And the game was played March 16 at the Y. W. C. A. But the co-eds, handicapped by the small and foreign court, were unable to get good team work until the final quarter, and they went down in defeat, score 31-19.

On March 21, in the tar paper gym, the Kittens met the Y. W. C. A. sextet. This game was one of the most interesting games of the season. First one team shot forward into the lead, and then the other. But the Y. W. C. A. team, with its good co-ordination, succeeded in holding the big end of the score at the end of the game, triumphing over the Kittens, score 26-25. Southwestern was eager for a return match but were unable to arrange it.

On March 23, in the Southwestern gym, the co-eds played the Independents, who downed them by the score 18-8.

Taken as a whole, the Kitten basketball season was a marked improvement over the previous year. They received much more support from the students, both in spirit and in funds. This year's squad was much stronger than the one last year, and there was plenty of competition for each of the positions on the first team. The only financial support that the Kittens received was given to them by the student council and was used to defray expenses incurred and to buy letters.

The nine girls who won an "S" were: Virginia Smith, Ernestine Wiggins, Frances Crawford, guards; Eleanor Beckham, Elinor Clinton, May Howry, centers; Louise Stratmann, Carolyn Stockley, Louise Ralston, forwards. Amalie Fair did good work at forward.

The co-eds feel encouraged by this growth of interest in their undertaking of building up girls' athletics at Southwestern, and hope that in a very short time the girls can have a basketball team on the same basis as the boys.

Editor's Comment on Athletics

THE year 1927 has seen Southwestern gain fame by leaps and bounds in the Southern athletic world. A most successful season of football is largely responsible for this rise to fame. Southwestern's defeat of Birmingham Southern, an S. I. A. A. team, and the close score tallied against the "Ole Miss" aggregation played a large part in this rise to football recognition. Birmingham Southern suffered defeat at the hands of a team dreadfully outweighed, and "Ole Miss" came very near tasting the bitter dregs.

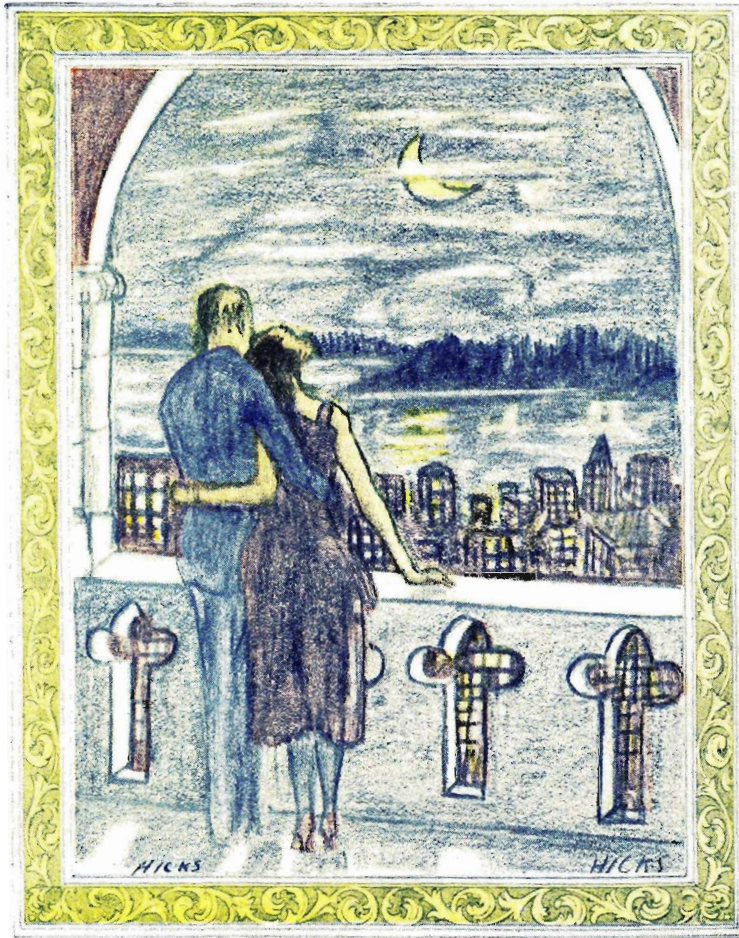

The loyal support which Memphis has given to Southwestern athletics, has also done much toward making Southwestern count as one of the big boys in the Southern intercollegiate sport world.

Basketball at Southwestern is also coming along well, and the next year or so should see a really strong Southwestern quintet.

Little need be said of baseball, as the college has always excelled in that sport. Last year we gave Linsenbee to the Memphis Chicks, and he is now with Washington. Clements, a Southern League star was also a member of Southwestern's pitching staff no less than two seasons ago. The prospects at the present time are for a winning season.

In regard to the minor sports, little need be said beyond mentioning the fact that these interest a large portion of the student body. Perhaps one third of the student body play at least one out of the three minor sports.

In summary, it is the opinion of the sport world that Southwestern is on the road to greater athletic accomplishment and that the near future will see it as well known athletically as it is known scholastically.

WE WONDER WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IF

Dr. Diehl was on the campus two days in succession.

If Dr. Townsend spoke to all the students when he met them.

If John Henry were elected dean.

If the "Sophs" were as bad as the "Frosh" say they are.

If we lost a football game without offering an alibi.

If an annual came out on scheduled date.

THE EDITOR COLLECTS STATISTICS

734,287 cigarets were smoked on the Southwestern campus in 1926-'27. It is estimated that if these had been strung end on end on a fishing line, some co-ed would have said, "Oh ain't that cute."

2.

Bills amounting to $1,082.00 were given to Southwestern students for the '27 Lynx. It is estimated that if these had been paid the staff would have died from the shock.

3.

During the year '27 the president of the college spoke 300,000 words to college students alone. The most accurate records available indicate that fully 200,000 of these were used in the phrase, "young gentlemen."

4.

4,333 permanent waves were administered to Southwestern co-eds last year, of which none are still waving.

5.

It is a noteworthy fact that Southwestern 'eds filled 8,001 dates last year, and a still more noteworthy fact that this resulted in an appreciable reduction in the consumption of Chesterfields.

6.

Ford says that Southwestern has the best B. A. course in the South. The writer suspects that the same would be said of the B. S. course if our scientific department could analyze a Ford and label it otherwise than Sn.+C.

WHY I AM ONE OF THOSE FRAT BIRDS

Bein' one of those ambitious natures, I determines early in life that the whole affair revolves on what we gets out of it. So it occurs that I packs my grip and decides to try my hand at that collegiate stuff. I wuz headed strait for Memphis to what them newspapers is always callin' the "College Down in the Valley," or sumptin'.

Well, I merged forth from the train loaded to the hips wid' directions of how to negotiate from Grand Central to that college place. First thing I knew a lotta guys rushed over to me, an' before I knew what it wuz all about they wuz whizzing me out'a the station. I thot I wuz about to be mobbed. Then they shoved me into one of them yellow painted machines, an' I had deduced it wuz sure 'nuff all up wid me when I began t' hear a lott'a thēm weird letters floating about in the "nicotinish" atmosphere of that bus. Yeah, I synthesized, these wuz some of them Greeks what I had been readin' about in one of them Lynx books. Species Aves Fratemitis, I prognosticated, all the while wondering where they turned this species loose at.

Pretty soon, when they begun to get noisier and noisier, and kept fluddin' those Greeky sounds on me, I lowed to one of them as how I wud like t' know what it wuz all about, whereon they began jabberin' them wild Greek letters, K, Π, A, Σ, B, E, Ω, X, T, Δ, and etc.

'Bout that time the bus drew to a halt before some of the prettiest buildings I had ever seen, an' it wuzn't a minute before them Greek guys wuz struttin' me acrost that campus, an' pretty soon they had me in what they called my suite, whatever that might be. That's how I came acrost them there Greek fellows an' my connection wid the Greek atmosphere of college began rite there.

'Hadn't been in school long before I began to look around at these fellows and divide them into groups. Fact, I couldn't help doin' that as I soon perceived that there were several species of them collegiate foreigners at large on the campus.

Havin' always hankered after the ideal of puttin' the rite value on things, it wuzn't no great time 'fore I heard it noised about that this here Price Patton was quite the stuff on this here collegiate campus. Well I looked this fellow up, an' shore 'nuff there hadn't been no mistake. This said Price knew his stuff wid the women, and besides that, had one of those tearfully dramatic voices that he used to such good exposition in "The Pals" and otherwise. Yeah, and I soon found that one uv his most cherished cohorts wuz that one Clyde Blair what strutted his stuff in the Galileo Club and etc. And I remembers how that Luther Southworth taught me to undulate the "Charleston;" this same Southworth what was so prominently connected with that recorder of atrocities, The Sou'wester. After all, these wuz the boys, and many is the time that I have twisted on that there phonograph in the famous room 301, an' these boys wuz always my friends. After all men are men no matter where you find them, and these Beta Sigma fellows made one strong impression on me rite from the start.

Hearin' a whiz of a lot about this Ed Buder person, I decides I had better become acquainted wid him. Yeah, I did, an' he took all my cake. He even beats that Price Patton with the ladies. Sure 'nuff them KΣ's is some A. P. Onians, to say nothin' of Mr. James P. Gladney's winnin' way of sellin' ads for the Lynx. Then, notes I to myself, these birds has a eye for the future and they's rite on the dot when it comes to that studyin' bizness. Found they didn't make much noise, that "Luther" excepted, but they wuz rite there wid the work. Didn't take me long to conclude that this here Cole-man was quite a flame in the football world, and I was multitudinously influenced when I noticed that all these fellows, as depicted above, each wore one of them KΣ pins.

Well, I woulnd'ter look no further if it hadn't been for this guy, McCaskill, the same one who knew his stuff in runnin' those student body meetings. Uh huh, sure enuff he wuz one of them ΠKΑ's, and rite then an' there the complexity of the situation becum disturbingly magnified. Havin' laid eyes on one T. M. Garrott and likewise one Mr. McGiveran, who wuz such eddicated golfists an' footballists, I wuz left still more at large on the question. Havin' cognizatized as to how this Sam Rhem wuz one of the wittiest organisms on the campus, I concluded without further meditation that these Pi K. A'nadians wuz one of the big things on the campus. It was their winnin' way that I liked.

But secin as how I didn't want to be unfair to any concoction of these Greekonians, I just had t' let my eye wander over those S. A. E.'s, an' I didn't have no trouble doin' it either. There wuz always at least one of them wherever I wuz. Yeah, they wuz rite there. When I saw this rangy Tommy Appleton wending his way acrost the campus wid one of those dis-syncoated collegiate struts, an' wearin one of them pins, I says to myself, this is sure some bunch. Didn't take me long to get acquainted with that Chester Frist, what's president of that Honor Council, an' a lotta other things. Many is the time, too, that I have seen this phantom-like Hawk streak down the football field for a touchdown. Taint many a organization what can give the world a finished beau brummel like that shiek, Mr. Bob Parrish. Sure, an' no doubt about it, this S. A. E. thing was sure some species.

Again, it wuzn't no age fore I found where these A. T. O.'s stood, or rather, lay, for many is the time that I have seen that Art Dulin passionately hugging the leg of one of those star football opponents. An' Mr. Sid Davis wuzn't fer behind this said Dulin when it come to that. It made one grand impression on me when I found that this same "Barrel" Davis was the Grand somethin' of that San Hedrin organization what made us "Frosh" walk the rope. Soon heard about thi A. T. Onian, Mr. Louis Marks what wuz such a whip on that Journal magazine. Yeah, sez I, these A. T. O.'s wid all them football stars and etc. is sure quite the stuff.

Then K'illing A'donises what I had been hearin' so much about all the time wuz the next bunch I scrutinized. These wuz the birds what I identified hangin' around them co-eds, an' finally I began t' wonder if they wuz all engaged. But naw, I found later that this wuz the way they spent their spare time. Wuz this same bunch what introduced me t' them Philipses, an' Porters, an' Fairs, an' Rainwaters, etc. out at that East End Place. When I saw how some of these birds wuz so importantly connected with that Lynx, and Sou'wester, and Catalink, and Journal and so and so, I formulized as how this K. A. gang wuz sure some all around, owl-eyed, heterogeneous assimilation. Yeah, that there Warren Smith sure could hit that line in that football bizness, t' say nuthin' of them birds what got all them "A's." Sides up t' one of the dumbest lookin' of that gang, one day, t' find how I wuz too vote in one of them elections, an slap my head off if he didn't premeditate the situation just rite. Uh huh, says I, this bunch would be all rite if they had any sense, but anyway I guess they is a fair party.

This wuz the way them Greekonians looked to me, but as I ain't nuthin' but a "Frosh," what ain't got no sense, I ain't hankerin' after forcin' my ideas on nobody. Anyway, I knew when them bids come out I wuz in for some time figgerin' out what species of Greek I wud be.

But I figgers as a whole that these Greek circumstances wuz some important thing on the campus of this here universitate. Yeah, an' I remembers that I wuz in this here collegiate scramble for the sole benefit of No. 1, so sez I, one of these "pins" is gonna be mine. I didn't say nuthin, so when them bids at last come out I wuz the proud recipient of one from each of them organizations.

Well, you kud never tell "how I went," an' as I don't wanta have no undue influence on them incomin' "Frosh," I specks I better cease speakin' rite here. Anyway, when the bunch what I went with began congratlatin' me on my wise choice, I sez:

"Shucks, don't you birds get con-seated, 'cause you got such a peach as I. Yeah, I just flipped a nickel an' the thing went an' turned your way.

So that's how I got to be one of them Frat Men.

SOUTHWESTERN CREED

(Apology on page 46)

We believe that:

1. Co-eds are necessary evils.
2. If a person stays in college long enough he may become a student.
3. That the Greek language was intended for Greeks—not frat men.
4. That students never play bridge in college dormitories.
5. That ministerial students are only apparently less intelligent than others.
6. That the morality of our students may be attributed to the Bible courses.
7. That merit should play little part in the attainment of college honors.

Sports

8. That every student and member of the faculty realizes that editing a college publication is a "sop."

9. That the "bell" will continue to arouse sleepy seniors between 9 and 12 A. M. as long as there are seniors.

10. That the library is always crowded with thirsters after knowledge.

11. That the squirrels on the college campus have good eyes for "nuts."

12. That in less than thirty million years a slight advancement will be noticed in man, and the third dormitory will be under construction.

13. That in five years the Rhodes Scholarship will be awarded to those who can add 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 in half as many seconds, but who think a line drive is part of a co-ed's "line."

14. That a few notes from the Alma Mater Song will make the blood of any Southwestern alumni boil.

A Word With the Editor

You have turned these pages one by one; you have read the story there recorded; and perhaps you have had impressed upon you some of the spirit, and ideals, and beauty of Southwestern; you have rendered your verdict.

In the procession of years that are to come, some things recorded here shall fade into the shadow of past and distant memories, but some of them shall live as long as time itself. Our friendships, our associations, our loves shall be a part of the current of time when these covers are tattered and torn, and these pages rumples and and finger worn. Death, even, shall not erase these memories, and the majestic procession of years shall respect their preservation.

More than that; these dear things shall grow with the march of the days, and, perhaps, from time to time as these pages are turned again in a moment of leisure, we shall find that the memory of these associations, and friendships, and loves has gained a new and sweeter meaning.

When the Sun of Life approaches its setting for you, may you be able to say you have lived true to the ideals of Southwestern, that you have been a man worthy of the Old School, and that you still hold dear, the beauty, and truth, and glory that this book has sought to preserve for you.

The task, be it ever so imperfect, is done, and new fields of conquest await us.

Thank you.

A CALLING WORTHWHILE, AND A SCHOOL

Until there is found on earth something of greater value than a human soul, or in heaven a being higher than our God, the ministry will continue to be the highest of all callings, and there will be no educational enterprise so important as that of training ministers to save the souls of men and to teach the things of God.

LLOYD T. BINFORD, PRESIDENT

MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

May 1, 1927.

The Class of '27,
Southwestern,
Memphis, Tennessee.

Dear Boys:

Today you are college boys - tomorrow - men going out into the business world, each with the determination to succeed. For four years you have been laying a foundation upon which to build that success. Your Diplomas are evidence that your first big job has been well done.

You must soon choose your profession. There is none greater than that of LIFE UNDERWRITING - None in which you can better serve your fellow man nor in which the compensation is greater in proportion to one's efforts.

The Columbian Mutual Life is a Southern Company and the South's only "Old Line" Mutual Life Insurance Company, every policy holder being a share holder. Founded in 1903 it has been growing steadily since and today is a veritable "Tower of Strength in Dixie".

The South is on the threshold of an era of unparalleled growth and development. The Columbian Mutual Life will continue to grow and develop along with this great Southland of ours as it has not done before.

We want well equipped young men, such as yourselves, to enter the Life Insurance Profession and grow with us. Life Insurance is one profession in which you can "earn while you learn".

We shall be glad to have an opportunity to go into this matter fully with you. If interested, write our Agency Department, Postoffice Box 222, Memphis, Tennessee.

Wishing for each of you the success you deserve,
I am,

Cordially yours,

Lloyd T. Binford, President.

SERVICE

ELECTRIC - GAS

---

Successful utilities and progressive communities go hand in hand. The services of utilities like these are so much a part of modern living conditions that the utility and its community go forward or backward together.

Plainly, therefore, if a utility suffers, its community suffers also. And, stated the other way, when the utility prospers, the community benefits.

These utilities are anxious at all times to render good service. We recognize that the esteem in which we are held by the public depends upon the measure of service we render.

If varying costs impose larger expenses upon us, we must either adjust our rates or our service to meet the situation.

Whatever we do, however, affects the people. Which is a chief reason why we try at all times to render service that pleases.

"MEMORIES"

*Years on years, distant scenes hidden
By the fragile veil of time quietly spun
With the passing of brown autumns,
When crisp leaves fall, as years pass, one by one
To recall from the shadow old visions, unbidden.
We remember.*

*Thru veil of the past, grave, gray buildings,
Rising with oaks from ground and pointing heavenward;
Seeming built by God
To draw great dreams from out the sod;
Southwestern, living, from tomb of the past its "bell" still ringing.
We hear.*

*Trooping back at the sound, old occasions and memories,
Gentler hours and moments of careless play
Before Fall was come---a thought of "her"
To revert us to another day,
That, thoughtless, we forget not, in present ease,
Things immortal.*

ALFRED M. HICKS.
