

Energy & Empires

■ An Earth Day Lecture by Professor John McNeill ■

Thursday, April 22 - 7:00 PM

Blount Auditorium

free and open to the public

J. R. McNeill is a Professor of History at Georgetown University. He currently serves as President of the American Society for Environmental History. His book, Something New Under the Sun, was a co-winner of the World History Association book prize.

Rhodes College
—1848—

Sponsored by the Rhodes College Environmental Program