Meeting No. 4

Clarksville, Tennessee
September 15, 1888

The Executive Committee met at the call of the Chairman in the office of D. N. Kennedy, Esq. The Chairman presented a request from the members of "Robb Hall" to purchase a new range or cooking stove. It was represented that they old one was too small and too much [?] to do the cooking for so many. After consultation among the [?] the Committee authorized the Chancellor to have the stove examined and if the cost of repairing should approximate to the cost of purchasing [?] one to buy. The Hall proposed to pay twenty-five dollars towards a new one, but [?] to repair the old one.

The Committee adjourned,
C.C. Hersman
